REGULAR SESSION OF NATIONAL CONGRESS CONVENES

Because of Approaching Presidential Election, Interest in Probable Action of Lawmaking Body Is Keen.

BOTH HOUSES SWEAR IN NEW MEMBERS

First Day's Doings Furnish Plenty of Excitement for Vast Throngs Who Occupy Seats in Galleries.

The Senate.
Senate convened at noon. Committee appointed to notify the president that congress was in session. Senators Smith (Ga.) and Gardner (Me.) were sworn. Senator Curtis elected to serve as president pro tem till December 12.

The House.
House convened at noon. Committee to notify the president that congress was in session was appointed.

Representative Littleton, on point of personal privilege, answered attacks on him, charging him with being a "steel trust ally."

Estimates amounting to $745,834,563 for the fiscal year were submitted for appropriation legislation.

Representative Sulzer introduced a joint resolution providing for the abrogation of the 1832 treaty with Russia.

Five new members were sworn in.

Scores of bills and resolutions introduced, including proposed repeal of Sherman anti-trust and Canadian reciprocity laws.

A resolution of Republican Leader Mann appointing a committee to investigate the attack on Mr. Littleton, was referred to the rules committee.

A resolution of condolence on the death of Representatives Madison of Kansas and Lott of Nebraska were adopted.

H. B. Martin of the American Anti-Trust league presented a memorial asking impeachment and expulsion of Representative Littleton.

Adjourned at 2:15 p. m., until noon tomorrow.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Washington, Dec. 4.—Both houses of the Sixty-second congress convened at noon today. Practically every member of each house was in his seat. The galleries were crowded and hundreds of persons were unable to gain admission. The speech of Representative Littleton of New York, regarding the steel trust inquiry, was the sensational incident featuring the opening day.

There was a flurry in the house just before it was called to order, caused by the distribution of copies of a newspaper which featured a mass meeting at which Representative Littleton and Young were attacked by Henry B. Martin of the so-called American anti-trust league. A copy was laid on the desk of each member of the house. Instantly Mr. Littleton indignantly rushed to the speaker's office and demanded to know by what right these copies had been allowed distributed in the house chamber. The copies were immediately ordered removed.

In the executive gallery of the house, guests of President Taft were seated, and the diplomatic gallery was well filled with card holders from the state department.

A battery of cameras was placed in the galleries to take a picture of the opening of the house. Outside a moving picture machine clicked off the entrance of the members to the capitol.

A scathing denunciation of the so-called American anti-trust league by Representative Littleton of New York, a democrat, was followed this afternoon by the presentation of a resolution by Republican Leader Mann, to appoint a committee of seven members to investigate the attack on Mr. Littleton.

Mr. Mann's resolution referred to the respect in which Mr. Littleton was held as a representative, and to the efforts to blacken his character. The resolution was referred to the committee on rules.

A sensational development was a petition by Henry B. Martin of the anti-trust league, for Mr. Littleton's impeachment.

Five new members were sworn in. Drowning of New Jersey, Alney of Pennsylvania, Stephens of Nebraska, Targert of Kansas and McKellar of Tennessee.

President Taft's annual message to congress will be sent in tomorrow. The senate was in session only 17 minutes. A committee consisting of Senators Gallinger and Martin was

RUSSIA'S INSULT NO LONGER TO BE TOLERATED DECEIT PRACTICED IN ATTEMPT TO FLOAT LOAN

United States Has Taken Up With St. Petersburg Question of Passports for the American Jews.

Washington, Dec. 4.—After months of uncertainty the United States government has taken up with the Russian government at St. Petersburg the question of passports for American Jews in Russia and the obligations upon Russia embodied in the much discussed treaty of 1832.

President Taft is awaiting a report from American Ambassador Guild at St. Petersburg which, if it comes tomorrow, will be discussed by the cabinet at its regular session. If it does not indicate a willingness upon the part of the Russian government to consider the question, Mr. Taft may recommend legislation that would accomplish the end desired.

Unaware of the action of the administration Representatives Sulzer of New York, and Garner of Texas, today introduced in congress resolutions providing for the abrogation of the treaty of 1832. Mr. Sulzer said hearings by his committee—that on foreign affairs—would begin next week.

The fact that negotiations have begun in St. Petersburg by the United States was carefully concealed and only became known here today. That Ambassador Guild might be successful in his undertaking was predicted tonight.

A sensation has been caused by the discovery that the national assembly, the Chinese foreign board and the board of finance held three different texts of the $5,000,000 loan agreement negotiated by Baron Cotti in behalf of a Franco-Belgian syndicate. This was discovered, it was said, when a representative of the Chinese foreign board appeared before the national assembly in secret session. It is on this loan that China's future form of government practically depends.

If reports are correct there is a strange association of Japanese with the rebels in south Manchuria. Heretofore fear of Japanese aggression has prevented the Chinese from accepting the assistance of the Japanese.

BRITISH SOLDIERS EN ROUTE TO HANKOW
Hongkong, Dec. 4.—Twenty-four men of the First battalion of Yorkshire light infantry (the King's own regiment), which is in garrison here, embarked today for Hankow.

GERMAN WARSHIPS LAND REINFORCEMENTS
Tien Tsin, Dec. 4.—The German warships stationed here have landed reinforcements for the troops on shore.

AMERICAN COMPANY'S CLAIM IS APPROVED
Washington, Dec. 4.—Echoes of the Boxer rebellion in China were heard today in the United States court of claims when that tribunal rendered judgment in the sum of $106,883 in favor of the American Trading company against the Chinese indemnity fund.

The trading company, which is engaged in an international brokerage forwarding and commission house business in China, declared it suffered losses to its business at Tien Tsin and Shanghai during 1901.

NATIONAL IRRIGATION CONGRESS OPENS TODAY
Chicago, Dec. 4.—The National Irrigation congress will hold its 19th annual session here beginning tomorrow and will continue until Saturday. Among the prominent speakers will be Gifford Pinchot, Dr. H. W. Wiley, Senator Borah of Idaho, and numerous delegates from foreign countries.

Secretary of the Interior Fisher, who was to have come, sent word today he probably would not be able to attend. A letter from President Taft, expressing his hearty approval of plans to reclaim the arid and swamp lands of the country will be read at the opening session.

State Seeks to Introduce Evidence of First Trial That It May Be Read to Jury; Defense Objects.

Kansas City, Dec. 4.—A crucial point in the state's case against Dr. R. Clark Hyde, on trial for the alleged murder of Colonel Thomas H. Swope—whether the physician's testimony in the former hearing can be used in this trial—probably will be decided by Judge Porterfield tomorrow.

An attempt was made by the state today to get before the jury testimony intended to contradict a statement made by Dr. Hyde in the previous hearing. Announcement also was made by Assistant Prosecutor Joseph E. Jost that the accused physician's testimony would be read to the jury.

The particular testimony introduced today referred to a charge that Dr. Hyde gave Stella Swope a capsule with instructions for her to pass it to Mrs. Swope, a nurse, to give to his former trial that he did not believe he ever did such a thing. It was never proved that the capsule contained any dangerous drug.

THOSE IMPLICATED WITH M'NAMARAS TO BE BROUGHT TO JUSTICE

Federal Government Will Run to Earth Participants in the Most Damnable Conspiracy on Record.

GOMPERS DENOUNCED AS UNSAFE LEADER

U. S. District Attorney Miller of Indianapolis Declares American Federation of Labor Chief Must Retire.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 4.—An earnest effort will be made by the government to bring to justice every man who was implicated in the most damnable conspiracy ever entered into in this country," said United States District Attorney Miller today in discussing the federal grand jury's investigation of dynamiting operations of the McNamara brothers and others alleged to have been associated with them.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was characterized as an "unsafe leader," by Miller, who said it was time for labor leaders "who stand on honest ground," to take charge of labor organizations.

"The investigation now being made by the government will be thorough and complete," continued Mr. Miller. "The people are entitled to know all the facts and all the facts will be known at the proper time. It is not a part of my duty to discuss the details and I will not do so. The time is at hand for me to act."

"There is no occasion for any person to be misled by false reports. This is not a contest between capital and labor. Capitalists and laborers who believe in law and order must and will stand together."

"Such unsafe leaders as Gompers must be retired. Let men who stand on honest ground come to the front. The destruction of life and property must cease. Acts of force and violence must be brought to justice."

SOCIALISTS BITTERLY CONDEMN BROTHERS
Duluth, Minn., Dec. 4.—Aroused by the confession of the McNamara brothers the central committee of the Duluth socialist party has prepared an open letter which in part reads as follows:

"One of the most tragic fiascos in the history of labor movements of the United States and perhaps of the world, has just taken place. The circumstances under which the McNamara brothers were kidnapped and deprived of their fundamental rights to a fair hearing before extradition, brought to the defense of these accused men the organized labor and socialist movement of the entire country."

"As socialists we went into this fight with clean hands and willing hearts. We have nothing to stone for nothing to apologize for."

"What we have done in the McNamara case we will gladly do over again should the occasion necessitate it. But we condemn the actions of the McNamara brothers."

"In our every day life we are too prone to forget that we are breeding such men by the score. We have them in the slums and ghettos of every large city in the country. To us it resolves itself into a replica of the Czoizglo and a Santo Cesario."

CALIFORNIA WILL PAY BURNS $10,000 REWARD
Sacramento, Cal., Dec. 4.—There seems to be no obstacle in the way of the payment of Detective W. J. Burns the $10,000 reward offered by the state for the capture of the Los Angeles Times dynamiter, according to Assemblyman A. H. Hewitt, speaker of the lower house. The reward was offered through an act of the last legislature in the passage of a resolution by Assemblyman Milton Schmitt of San Francisco. The resolution provided that the $10,000 should be paid after conviction of the guilty person or persons responsible for their capture.

"The money will be paid the moment the identity of the person entitled to it is proved to my satisfaction," said Speaker Hewitt today.

DETROIT MAY TAKE CHARGE OF M'NAMARAS
Detroit, Dec. 4.—Local police are considering the advisability of attempting to bring Orrie McManigal here to stand trial for the dynamiting of the Gie building a few years ago. Captain McDonnell, chief of the detective bureau said today he would confer with Superintendent of Police Downey tonight or tomorrow concerning the matter and would probably telegraph to Los Angeles for particulars of McManigal's confession, that he destroyed the building.

No action regarding the disposition of the balance of the McNamara defense fund here has been taken.

JOHN MITCHELL SAYS FEW WERE IN PLOT
Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 4.—In discussing the confession of the McNamara today John Mitchell said he did not believe the cause of union labor would be permanently hurt by the acts of the McNamaras, nor did he believe, he said, that men higher up in union labor councils were joined in the plot.

RYAN COURTS FULL INVESTIGATION OF ACTS

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Frank M. Ryan, international president of the Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, of which John J. McNamara, is secretary-treasurer, tonight gave out in Chicago the following statement:

"Not until I read today's press dispatches did I realize that I have been expected to make a public statement concerning the confession of the McNamaras. The news reached me Friday evening at Atlanta."

"As to the pleas of guilty entered in Los Angeles, I can only say, I was greatly surprised and shocked beyond description."

"John McNamara has been our trusted representative for the last six years, and I always had implicit faith in his integrity."

"Mr. McNamara's plea of guilty comes as a terrible personal blow to me, as I never had occasion to doubt his integrity."

"Immediately after the arrest of the McNamaras, we went on record through our executive board against the use of dynamite and other forms of violence, and this always will remain our position."

"Much has been said in the newspapers concerning an investigation of the 'higher ups.' If I am in that class, I welcome such an investigation, as I have nothing to fear therefrom."

(Signed) "F. M. RYAN."

Mr. Ryan refused to answer any questions put to him, and would not discuss the report that the international union had appropriated $1,000 for the use of John J. McNamara without exacting from him an accounting therefor.

GOMPERS DOES NOT FEAR FEDERAL PROBE

New York, Dec. 4.—Samuel Gompers was asked tonight to what extent the American Federation of Labor of which he is president, would aid in further investigation by the government of labor troubles.

"Our books and such records as we have, will be open to the federal grand jury, to an investigating committee or to any responsible person of decent character and integrity. We have nothing to withhold," he replied.

"Would this offer include the books and records showing money received and paid out and for what purpose?" a reporter asked.

Mr. Gompers replied with some heat: "I tried to make my statement as specific and accurate as possible."

Asked if he knew whether he was under surveillance, Mr. Gompers answered: "I know I am. Two of Burns' men have been following me since my arrival in New York last Saturday night. I go and come openly and I have nothing to conceal. I intend to remain here until Tuesday and then go to Washington."

Mr. Gompers made a positive denial of a statement credited to Detective Burns that Clarence Burrow was present at the conference in Indianapolis in June.

"It is absolutely false," he said. "There were forty labor leaders from all over the country present to discuss plans for raising money for the defense of the McNamaras. No information of their guilt was given out at that meeting."

The labor leader indignantly asserted that he did not feel called upon to reply when one reporter asked suggestively if he had any expectation of giving up the leadership of the American Federation of Labor in the near future. He added:

"I was lately unanimously re-elected president of the American Federation of Labor."

CANVASSING BOARD STARTS ACTUAL WORK ON COUNT

Officials Decide Not to Wait for Ballot Boxes From Rio Arriba and Taos; Quay Forgot to Send the Keys.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.]
Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 4.—The official board canvassing the returns of the November election got down to real business this afternoon by commencing the actual canvass of the Bernalillo county returns. There are still a few precincts to be heard from, and these have been ordered to send in their ballot boxes. The delinquent precincts are located in Taos and Rio Arriba counties, both strong republican strongholds. The boxes are expected to be in the capitol before the board convenes tomorrow morning. Boxes from certain precincts in Quay county arrived this morning, but the officials neglected to send along the keys, so that they could not be opened.

The forenoon was spent in checking over missing returns and clearing the decks for final work. Counsel on each side reserved the right to object at a later date, and the clerical with which the actual count will proceed will depend almost altogether on the disposition of counsel for each of the parties, that it, if no unforeseen incidents occur.

Brothers to Make Clean Breast of Widespread Dynamiting Conspiracy Before Federal Inquisition.

FOLLOWING SENTENCE THEY WILL CONFESS

Judge Bordwell to Fix Punishment of Guilty Men When Court Convenes at 10 o'Clock This Morning.

BROTHERS DECIDE TO BAKE WHOLE PLOT
Los Angeles, Dec. 4.—James B. and John J. McNamara will appear before the federal grand jury here tomorrow morning and tell their stories. They will go before that body immediately after having been sentenced by Judge Walter Bordwell. This declaration was made here late tonight on unimpeachable authority.

The announcement afforded an explanation of the meager confession written late today by James B. McNamara in the jail corridors in the presence of his attorneys, attorneys for the state and his brother, John J. McNamara, in which "Jim" explained how he blew up the Los Angeles Times building, October 1, 1910, causing a loss of twenty-one lives.

District Attorney John D. Frederick admitted tonight that in addition to the written confession both brothers "had furnished information of signal value to the state."

It is practically assured that when the men appear tomorrow before Judge Bordwell the district attorney will recommend such leniency as the court may see fit to bestow.

The moment sentence is pronounced, according to plans completed tonight, the brothers will be served with summonses to appear before the federal inquisitorial body.

The decision reached by the McNamaras is regarded here as of vast importance to the whole country. If there is a gigantic dynamiting conspiracy, which is what the grand jury wants to know, the state tonight is convinced that tomorrow's developments will place on record the name of every man of importance and position in it. With this information it is believed the work of the federal grand juries here and in Indianapolis will be comparatively simple.

Los Angeles, Dec. 4.—James B. McNamara, who on Friday pleaded guilty of having committed murder through the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building, October 1, 1910, wrote his own confession of the deed tonight and gave it to District Attorney John D. Frederick.

His brother, John J. McNamara, secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, who pleaded guilty of having dynamited the Llewellyn Iron Works in Los Angeles, December 25, 1910, made no confession. It is said he was not asked or expected to do so.

Before James B. McNamara's confession was made, District Attorney Frederick declared that he would not give it out until after the men were sentenced, and tomorrow is the day set for that proceeding by Judge Walter Bordwell.

It was learned that the statement implicates no one besides the writer. It deals with nothing except the actual happenings in Los Angeles. It does not describe the trip from Indianapolis west, nor who McNamara saw after he got here, nor is the name of any other person brought into it. Clarence S. Burrow, chief of counsel for the defense, and LeCompte Davis, of counsel for the defense, visited the brothers in the course of the afternoon. They came away and later returned, accompanied by District Attorney Frederick. Observers waited for the almost inevitable addition to the party, an official stenographer, but none came.

"There'll be no statement," was the word which went around. Rumors of a complete readjustment of the situation, including renewed activity on the part of the prosecution against persons not named in any criminal connection, flew about.

Meanwhile, in the jail James B. McNamara sat with a block of scratch paper on his knee, writing his own confession, more or less in his own way. He did it deliberately, with care.

PAVING CONTRACT IS APPROVED BY COUNCIL, NOT BY MAYOR

lithic Company Submits Agreement and Bonds for Performance of Work at Last Night's Meeting.

SUIT IN MANDAMUS NEXT STEP IN PROCEEDINGS

Mayor Elder Declares Himself in Favor of Pavement and Explains Course in Present Contest.

What will probably be the last step so far as the city council is concerned, in the paving controversy, was taken last night at a meeting when the Texas Lithic company submitted and the council approved contracts and indemnity bonds for the commencement, prosecution and completion of the work of paving.

Immediately upon the passage of the resolution empowering the mayor to sign the contract and bonds that official promptly announced that he would do so; that he, however, would not sign until so ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction, owing to the persistent refusal of the city council to confirm his appointment of Judge M. E. Hoke as city attorney, it is said Mayor Elder holds that he is without a satisfactory legal adviser, and for this reason will sign no legal paper until it has been passed upon by the court.

The district covered by the contract approved by the council last night covers that portion of central avenue from Broadway to Sixth street, and that portion of Second street from Copper avenue to Silver.

By the terms of the agreement the Texas company binds itself to commence the work within thirty days after notification of the readiness of the city by the city engineer and to complete it within ninety working days thereafter. The company also guarantees that the pavement will be in good condition five years from the date it is laid and binds itself to make all repairs free of cost to the city within that period, provided such repairs are made necessary by default of material, methods, plans or process employed in the construction of the pavement. The contract price of the paving is fixed at $2.25 per square yard, and the company binds itself to replace any paving that may have to be removed for the putting down of pipes, etc., for a price ranging from 75 to 50 per cent over the contract price, the cost varying according to the area required to be laid, the larger the area the lower the price.

The contract is a formidable document, comprising some thirty-five hundred words and was listened to with interest by the members of the council as it was read by Chief of Police McMullen, who officiated at the reading desk in the absence of City Clerk McManus.

After the reading had been concluded and several of the provisions had been explained to Alderman Wroth, that gentleman moved that the contract and bonds be approved.

Upon roll call the following aldermen voted in the affirmative: Wroth, Reidy, Auger, Green, Conroy and Isherwood. There were no votes in the negative. Alderman Clarke and Thomas, who have hitherto consistently voted against any move toward paving under the 1907 law, being absent.

Following the vote Mayor Elder bluntly told the council that he would not sign the contract or bonds without an order of the court. There the matter stands.

The next step, it is expected, will be a petition in the district court on behalf of the Texas Lithic company for a writ of mandamus to compel the mayor and city clerk to sign the contract as approved by the council. What effect this action will have on the commencement of the paving is a matter for the court and the lawyers.

After the meeting last night Mayor Elder talked freely concerning his course in refusing the paving ordinance and his refusal to sign the contract and bonds as approved by the council. The mayor denied being opposed to paving or any other improvement in the city of Albuquerque, and was of the opinion that the work should have been long since completed. On the other hand, he was firm in his belief that provision should be made for a storm sewer, that proper connections should be made with the water and gas mains, and in fact all necessary underground work should be done before any pavement is laid. The mayor likewise ventured the opinion that the work of paving, when it is done, can best be done under the law of 1907. This is also the view of Aldermen Thomas and Clarke, who have consistently voted to sustain the mayor in his course of the paving proposition as it now stands.

"I am most heartily in favor of any improvement which will aid in building up Albuquerque," said Mayor Elder last night. "I would like to see every street on which the expense is justified paved, and that such streets as it is not expedient to pave be macadamized and treated with some one of the tar preservatives. One thing Albuquerque needs badly is a systematic plan for street improvement and care. Most progressive cities in the position of Albuquerque would have had this long ago, and not only a systematic plan for street improvement, but for general municipal improvement as well.

"There can be no discussion as to the immediate, and, in fact, long existing need for paving. In the haste to get the paving down, the need for other improvements is being thrown into the background. This applies to the care of storm water, the proper connection with water and gas mains, in short in everything which ought to go underground before the paving is laid.

"I want to see paving, but I would like to see it done right, so that in five or fifteen years every one will be satisfied that the best plan was followed. This is a case where it is not good business to say 'Sap a pavement down, and let the future take care of itself.'"

"In putting a pavement down under present conditions the point at issue is as to the law to be followed. The discussion has narrowed apparently to two bids, that for Bitulithic, at $2.20 per square yard, and that for asphalt concrete, at $1.50 per square yard, a difference of 40 per cent square yard.

There are a number of property holders who are not contented at the superiority of the Bitulithic, and are not willing to pay this difference.

"In this improvement the city does not pay any percent of the cost, and is not interested financially except as a property holder, and that for the property at Second street and Tijeras. The entire cost is to be paid by the abutting property holders.

"I have taken the ground from the start," said the mayor earnestly, "that the law to be followed should be that of 1907. This is the last law passed, there is no question as to its validity, and it gives to a commission of three selected from the property holders the duty of deciding upon the material, fixing the contract, and superintending the construction. As to the case at hand I will not join in legislation which attempts to dictate to the property holders what pavement they shall put down and the amount they shall pay for it when the law stands providing that the property holders make this decision for themselves. It is immaterial to me what pavement they decide upon. In the natural order of things they would decide upon the kind of pavement in which they felt they would get the most return for their money. This might be either concrete or asphalt, or night we consider other kinds of pavement than bituminous and might find that by selecting another one they could make a better investment, considering the satisfaction it is to use, the cost of maintenance, and the durability during the period of paving through which a good pavement is supposed to last. While I firmly believe that the law of 1907 should be followed, and have acted accordingly, at any time that the majority of the council have decided that they would take the responsibility upon themselves and act under this law of 1907, I certainly was their privilege to have done so.

"When I went into office, before there had been time for any conference as to the mutual relations and responsibilities of council and mayor, the members of council passed a resolution to me that they would not confirm any appointments which I might make looking to a change in supervisory officers. For reason satisfactory to themselves this policy has been adhered to. I will not go further than to say that this has left me without an attorney. As a matter of straight business a man will not sign a contract, or other paper, without being advised as to what it contains and what the contents mean. Consequently I will not sign this contract until ordered to do so by the proper authority.

Following the vote Mayor Elder bluntly told the council that he would not sign the contract or bonds with-

CITY PHYSICIAN IS DRAGGED INTO LIMELIGHT

CHARGED TOO MUCH FOR FUMIGATION IS CHARGE

Complications Over Burial of Negro Add to Grief of Dr. Burton; Board of Health to Investigate.

That City Physician Solomon Burton charged more than the law allows for fumigation and that he refused to issue a certificate of the death of the late George Brown were charges filed against the official at last night's council meeting. Both charges were referred to the board of health which will hold an investigation commencing this morning at 11.

Dr. E. W. Richardson and E. A. Moon are the complainants in the case where Dr. Burton is accused of exacting excessive fees for fumigation. According to the complaint, as filed with the council, the city physician has acted in violation of Section 415 of the Council Ordinances. It is alleged that excessive charges have been of frequent occurrence, and a specific instance is cited wherein, at 411 W. Santa Fe avenue, the head of the city health department, it is charged, used two gallons of formaline and eight pounds of potassium permanganate, more of each ingredient than was actually necessary, and charged $5 for the fumigation, a price which is also declared as grossly excessive.

For disinfecting the Highland Methodist Episcopal church, it is set forth in the complaint, the physician made a charge of $10, but accepted $3.00 and gave a receipt in full.

In closing his petition to the council, asking an investigation, Dr. Richardson complains of discourteous and unprofessional treatment at the hands of the said city physician. The matter, on motion of Alderman Wroth, was referred to the board of health without discussion.

The second charge against Dr. Burton came in the form of a complaint and affidavit signed and sworn to by Attorney A. R. McMillen. Mr. McMillen, according to his sworn statement, appeared before the city physician on behalf of a firm of Kansas City lawyers and, tendering the proper fee, demanded a certificate of the death of George Brown.

It is set forth that Dr. Burton refused to comply with the demand and, asked for his reason, stated, first: That he did not officially know that Brown was dead; second, that he thought he ought to protect Mr. Brown's undertaker, and third, that he ought to protect the city.

This complaint Mr. McMillen, in the first time in his experience that he ever knew of a physician refusing to grant and certify upon application by persons having right to the knowledge. In this case the application was made on behalf of a sister of the late Brown, who carried insurance on the life of deceased. Mr. McMillen expressed the belief that it was the business of Dr. Burton to know that Brown was dead, that in fact he did know that said Brown had expired as the result of acute alcoholism and that the body was being held in the hands of undertakers. The attorney could not understand just why Dr. Burton felt it his duty to protect the interests of Mr. Brown's undertaker, and expressed the belief that the city physician was best serving the city by performing his official duties.

All of which was listened to by the council in silence and Alderman Wroth was in the act of moving that the entire matter be referred to the board of health when Mr. Borders appeared.

The undertaker, who had not heard the reading of the charges, asked to be heard in the matter of the burial of Brown. Several councilmen objected, but Mr. Borders persisted and finally won his point.

According to the undertaker, Brown, who was a well known negro character about town and known as "Spot" died on November 29 last. The body was brought to the Borders mortuary and inquired at once made of the relatives of deceased. Finally Mr. Borders succeeded in locating a sister, Mrs. Anne Hurdle in Kansas City, Kansas.

In response to a message from the undertaker, the sister wrote that she was without means to pay for the interment of her dead brother, and requested that he be buried here. It was then decided that Brown, who left no effect of value, be given a pauper burial, but on the day set for the funeral Mr. Borders received a request to fill out an insurance blank certifying to the fact of the death in order that the sister might collect some five hundred dollars for which deceased was insured in the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

This set Mr. Borders to thinking. If a man had five hundred dollars or any other amount of life insurance in the pocket of the undertaker, he was not a pauper and the city should not be called upon to pay for his burial. Preparations for the funeral were halted and once more efforts were made to get into communication with the sister. These were unsuccessful and it was decided to hold the body and await developments. The developments came in the form of the demand of City Physician Burton for a certificate of death. This the city physician, Mr. Borders pointed out, was unable to give for the very good reason that he had never seen the man after death.

The meeting of the board of health, which is called for 11 o'clock this morning at the mayor's office, promises to be interesting, to Dr. Burton at least. Another little matter which he will be called upon to explain is a bill presented at last night's meeting by W. Y. Walton, the druggist. According to the bill, which bears the "O. K." of Dr. Burton, the druggist furnished fumigating material and other supplies, when with the freight charges, amount to a total of $145.63. The reading of the bill attracted the attention of Alderman Wroth who inquired softly as to who authorized the expenditure, whether it was the board of health or the city council, though a member of both bodies, the alderman could not remember that any such expense had been authorized. This, however, was no reflection on the memory of the alderman, as Dr. Burton freely admitted that he alone ordered the materials covered in the bill.

Alderman Wroth was astonished and asked out that the council did not even allow its own committee to incur indebtedness without the sanction of the whole body. He moved that the bill be referred to the board of health.

TWENTY-NINE DOGS SLAIN BY WARDE

Official Poundmaster Reports Activities and Rewarded By Council With Twenty-Nine Real Dollars.

That George Washington Warde, the official poundmaster, slew twenty-nine dogs during the month of November developed last night at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the city council. While there is no noticeable decrease in the canine population, the council did not question the report of the official, and "Colonel" Warde was awarded the $29 claimed.

The meeting was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock by Mayor Elder and with the exception of Alderman Thomas of the Third ward all the councilmen were in their seats.

The first order of business after the reading of the minutes of the last two meetings was the presentation of claims and bills. This is where Warde got his $29. The bills as presented were allowed with the exception of one by W. Y. Walton for fumigation material. This was referred, on motion of Alderman Wroth, to the board of health for investigation as to whether or not it had been legally authorized.

A claim from the Santa Fe railroad for $50 for wages of the watchman at the Tijeras avenue crossing was the cause of considerable discussion. Alderman Auger wanted information and got it. It appeared that the bill was the result of an agreement between the city, the Santa Fe railroad company and the Albuquerque Traction company. By the terms of the agreement the city stood good for the wages of the watchman with the understanding that it was to be reimbursed by the traction company. The bill was ordered paid.

It is expected that the watchman at the Tijeras avenue crossing will be dispensed with in a short time, or just as soon as the traction company can get in a derailing switch, which Manager Chadbourne informed the mayor will be within the week.

Alderman Auger was not exactly satisfied and expressed the belief that the watchman would be needed to protect users of the crossing even after the installation of the derailing device. He pointed out that even now a watchman was of little use in protecting cars, as the most stringent precautions were taken by the carmen, but that he was needed to protect pedestrians and drivers using the crossing. The council decided that it would be time enough to take up the matter when the railroad company decides to disband the watchman.

Petitions were received asking that lights be placed at Third and Silver avenues, Eleventh and Marble and Mountain road and Arno. One motion of Alderman Isherwood the petitions were all granted and the lights ordered installed at once. A petition asking permission to establish a shoe shining parlor in a wagon on Central avenue was also granted. A pawnbroker's bond, filed by Philip Wedeen was approved.

The report of the city chemist was received. Fourteen dairies examined during the month were all found in good condition. Professor Clark called the attention of the council to the matter of non-registration on the part of dairymen. He pointed out the danger from milk which some of the dealers purchase from persons outside the city, some of which comes from questionable sources, and urged that the council take steps at once to guard the purity of the city's milk supply. The council decided that Mr. Clark should put his recommendation in written form for presentation at the next meeting.

The marshal's report showed 116 arrests made during the month of November, and 461 meals served. Fines collected amounted to $1210.

The fire chief reported seven alarms during the past month with a loss of $4,545.35, with insurance of $2,545.35, leaving a net loss of $1,240.

City Clerk McManus reported $1,422.10 collected for licenses and from miscellaneous sources during the month.

Street Commissioner Martin Tierney reported seven blocks of streets graded during the month and Health Officer Thomas Merrin reported serving 125 notices to connect with sewer. This officer also collected 24 samples of milk which he turned over to the city chemist for analysis.

City Treasurer O. A. Matson's report showed a balance on hand in the city coffers of $12,545.29, which will be increased within the week when the city receives its share of the county taxes for the half year.

After Alderman Reidy, chairman of the street committee, had been given authority to rent lots for the storage of the steam roller and road equipment, the council adjourned. The lots are to cost $6 monthly for rent.

ANNUAL MEETING OF CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Y. W. C. A. Canvassed Netted $500 Over the Necessary Amount to Equip New Home on Third Street.

That the Y. W. C. A. canvassed netted over $500 above the amount required by the association for the equipping of the new home on Third street and to meet the $5,000 donation of Judge Ira A. Abbott, was the joyful news communicated to the directors and friends at the annual meeting held last night in the Congregational church. Of this amount there is still a large sum to collect, but the pledges are regarded as gilt-edged and no trouble will be experienced in getting them all in. This, with the magnificent donation of Judge Abbott, opens up the brightest possible prospects for the Y. W. C. A. in Albuquerque.

A large number of friends and members of the association gathered at the Congregational church last night to attend the annual meeting. The meeting held was for the purpose of electing six trustees for the association for one, two and three years, and for electing also six directors to serve for three years, and to hear the annual reports of the various committees of the association.

Prior to the taking up of the actual business of the meeting an entertaining program was rendered by the ladies, consisting of music both vocal and instrumental.

Dr. Margaret Cartwright delivered the president's greeting, and in a neat speech told how thankful the ladies of the association were for the assistance they had received in their work during the fiscal year. In this specific mention was made of the assistance of Hon. Ira A. Abbott, associate judge of the supreme court of New Mexico and judge of the Second district, who donated $5,000 to the association. The press and pulpit, the medical and legal profession as well as the business men of the city were also thanked.

Directors of the association for the three-year term were elected as follows: Mrs. P. G. Cornish and Mrs. J. H. Heald, re-elected to succeed themselves; Mrs. C. C. Minnis, Mrs. Mabel Stevens Himes, Miss Ida Elder and Mrs. E. G. Dunn.

The election of trustees for the various terms resulted as follows: Joshua S. Reynolds and Mrs. George L. Brooks, elected for three years; George S. Klock and Dr. Margaret Cartwright, for two years; and Rev. Dr. J. H. Heald and Sidney R. Rosenwald for one year.

The reports of the various committees were full of interest and showed the great amount of work done by the ladies in this most commendable cause. Over $5,000 has been disbursed by the association in the last year for the local work.

Miss Erna Ferguson, chairman of the social committee, reported the number of meetings held by her department during the year, and the outlook for the coming year.

Mrs. J. H. Heald reported the work of the religious department, of the social purity league, and the vespers services in the Y. W. C. A. home. The outlook for this committee was good, and proved a greater interest on the part of the members of the association in the religious work.

The educational committee reported 32 books in the library about equally divided between history, biography and sacred literature. A large number of magazines are kept on hand also. The work of the Current Topics club was also detailed.

The temporary house committee in charge of Mrs. Mabel McDonald reported the letting of the contract for improvements on the new home, and the furnishing thereof.

The house committee, Mrs. C. C. Minnis chairman, reported that from four to six transients and from four to seven permanent guests had found a home in the Y. W. C. A. during the past year, while 21,476 meals were served during the year.

The membership was reported by Mrs. J. C. Baldrige, showing there were 112 active, 24 associate, 16 sustaining, and 4 junior members of the association, making a total of 162. The receipts of this department were $155.85.

Harriet Buchtel Sax, general secretary, reported a general survey of the work in the field, as well as her own labors during the year.

The meeting closed with a benediction by Rev. Raymond B. Tolbert of the Congregational church.

LITTLETON MAKES STIRRING SPEECH BEFORE HOUSE

NEW YORKER RESENTS ATTACK ON INTEGRITY

Following Remarkable Address, Resolution for Investigation of Anti-Trust League is Presented.

(By Morning Journal Special Licensed Wire.)

Washington, Dec. 4.—An investigation of the operations of the so-called Anti-Trust league, was demanded by Representative Mann in the house today after a remarkable speech by Representative Martin W. Littleton of New York, who charged Henry B. Martin, secretary of the league, with attempting to defame him.

It was the climax of a dispute between Mr. Littleton and Chairman Stanley of the house committee investigating the steel corporation.

Round after round of applause punctuated Mr. Littleton's defense of his integrity and denials of republicans assured him of their confidence.

Meantime Mr. Martin had handed to Speaker Clark a petition asking that Mr. Littleton be impeached on the ground that he had "co-operated and conspired with heads of the trust" to prevent a continuance of the steel inquiry. This memorial, however, was not presented to the house.

Mr. Littleton assailed Martin and others as in conspiracy to use the steel investigating committee to depress the value of stocks in Wall street.

Mr. Mann's resolution, which was referred to the rules committee, which expects to take early action on it is as follows:

"Whereas, Hon. Martin W. Littleton has on his responsibility as a member, charged that as a member of his house, acting on behalf of the house in the investigation of the United States Steel corporation, he has been subjected to a blacklisting attack in a New York newspaper made in behalf of the so-called Anti-Trust league;

"Resolved, that a sub-committee of seven be appointed to investigate the circumstances of the said newspaper attack, the relations of the said Anti-Trust league thereto and activities of the said league so far as they may be designed to effect the action of the house or any committee thereof and that the committee have authority to send for persons and papers and take testimony at any time in Washington and other places."

"I propose to fight to the death the defamation of house members in this connection," declared Mr. Littleton.

Chairman Stanley of the steel investigating committee remained silent during the speech of the New York member. The latter in no way attacked the committee, but said that

French Breakfast Rolls

(Recipe by Mrs. Sara Tyson Rorer)

One pint milk; two ounces Cornstarch; one teaspoonful salt; one pound flour; one egg; one-half cup yeast; or one-half cake yeast dissolved.

Scald the milk and put into it the Cornstarch, salt and when cool add the flour; beat well and stand in a warm place over night. In the morning form into little rolls, handling as little as possible, adding a very little flour. Stand in warm place three-quarters of an hour and bake in quick oven about fifteen minutes.

SPEEDY RECOVERY OF WOLGAST ASSURED

Los Angeles, Dec. 4. — Ad Wolgast, champion light-weight pugilist, who was operated on for appendicitis November 29, passed today what might be termed the crisis of his illness and from now on his recovery is expected to be rapid. Wolgast, it was predicted, would be out of the hospital within a week.

Manager Tom Jones, for the champion, said that as soon as Wolgast left the hospital he would be taken to Venice, Cal., where he would stay until spring. If his condition then warranted, said Jones, he would go into the mountains for two or three months, after which he would resume his pugilistic activities.

JENNINGS' RECOVERY PRACTICALLY ASSURED

Seranton, Pa., Dec. 4. — Hugh Jennings, manager of the Detroit American League baseball club, who was badly injured Friday night when his automobile went through a bridge guardrail into a shallow stream, showed further improvement today.

MAN CONFESSES TO BEING TRAIN ROBBER

Judith, Mont., Dec. 4. — Charles Adams, arrested Sunday night for drunkenness, confessed today to participation in the hold-up of a Northern Pacific train near Buffalo, N. D., on the 23rd day of last June. Six men, he swears, left Aberdeen for the purpose of holding up the train. Four of them boarded the train, Adams says, two at the front and two at the rear. He was at the rear and held up the passengers in the sleeper. When he had robbed a few of the passengers his companions in front signalled to stop and the four men got off the train near Buffalo, N. D., and ran south.

"We made for the swamps and went through Buffalo, where one of our men was shot, went from there to Fargo, N. D., and separated."

The Northern Pacific officials wired tonight to hold the prisoner.

REVOLUTIONS IN THREE MEXICAN STATES

Disaffection Existing in Yucatan Assumes Formidable Proportions; Trouble in Tamaulipas and San Luis Potosi.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]

Mexico City, Dec. 4. — Revolutions in Yucatan, Tamaulipas and San Luis Potosi are disturbing the Mexican government. Vice-President Pinar Suarez, a citizen of Yucatan, declares the insurrection in that state is due to Delio Moreno Canton, defeated candidate for governor, Canton is in New Orleans.

In Tamaulipas the rebels are led by Emilio Acosta, who recently escaped after being arrested in Vera Cruz. The San Luis Potosi band apparently has no leader.

The rebellion in Yucatan is almost state-wide, according to advices received today by the government. Serious is the situation regarding that a gunboat was ordered today to proceed from Vera Cruz to Progreso with a detachment of troops and a full supply of ammunition.

A dispatch tonight from Merida, the capital of Yucatan, says communication with the interior is hampered the wires having been cut, but reports brought to the capital by couriers indicate that the rising which began last week is extending rapidly throughout the state and into the Campeche.

Little news has reached the capital regarding the operations of the bands in Tamaulipas and San Luis Potosi.

SIX REYISTA SUSPECTS RELEASED ON BOND

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 4. — Six of the alleged Reyistas arrested in this city Saturday for alleged violation of the United States neutrality laws were released on bond this afternoon for their appearance tomorrow before the United States commissioner for a preliminary hearing. Among those yet confined in the county jail are Rafael Limon Molina, who is the alleged head of the Reyista junta here. MANUAL TRAINING IN ALBUQUERQUE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Board of Education Takes Initial Step Toward Enlarging Scope of City Educational System.

By the beginning of the second half of the present scholastic year, manual training will be established in the Albuquerque public schools and six classes a day will be given instruction by competent instructors in the present plans of the school board are carried out. The work will begin in the sixth and seventh grades, and be so inaugurated as to permit of the enlargement of the work to include the higher grades if it is deemed advisable.

This was decided last night by the school board. A special committee consisting of Dr. M. K. Wylder and Noa Hild was appointed to investigate and report at an early date, as to the advisability of the board constructing a special building to accommodate the work, upon a portion of the site now proposed for the new High school edifice on Central avenue. It is proposed that this special building be of such architecture as to conform with the general idea of the proposed High school. Should the manual training department afterwards be extended so as to prove too large for the building proposed, the latter can be easily turned into a high school gymnasium.

Further than this the board transacted much important business. That parcel of land adjacent to the city limits on the east and bounded by Mulberry, Marquette, Bell, South High and Coal avenues, was added to the present limits of the city for school purposes only, under the provisions of the present school laws of the legislature.

The school boundaries will therefore extend to the lines of the Old Albuquerque Town grant from the present city limits. With the increase in the future here of population a new ward may be erected, giving an additional member to the school board.

The action followed a petition from a majority of the electors of that district, which in its turn followed a notice given by the school board at its last monthly meeting that all pupils sent to the city schools from that section hereafter would be expected to pay tuition. The new district will be added to the second ward, and adds about $1,000 per annum in taxes to the city school board's income. The pupils from this part of the second ward number between thirty and forty, and they have been accommodated since the beginning of the year.

The resignation of George Getzold, as a member of the board from the Second ward was read and accepted, and after a careful canvass of the ward upon motion of Dr. J. W. Colbert, Rev. Herman P. Williams, pastor of the First Christian church, was unanimously elected to fill the unexpired term. The addition of Mr. Williams to the board is quite an acquisition as he has been connected with educational matters for a number of years, and was a member of the first Philippine legislature. Dr. Colbert was appointed a committee of one to notify Mr. Williams of his election, and to escort him to the next meeting of the board.

The matter of the remuneration of O. A. Matson for the collection of the poll tax for the year was taken up and it was ordered that a warrant be drawn for $43.25, the amount charged by Mr. Matson.

Beeman and Ayer were awarded the contract for the installation of 246 and 3-4 feet of three column radiation with five radiators, additional heating service required for the Fourth ward school. The amount of the bid was $162. This sum was awarded a contract of $20 to provide additional drainage for the drinking fountain.

The matter of changes in the heating plant at the second ward school was brought up and it was decided to allow the building committee to look into the matter and order the work done.

The regular monthly bills were allowed and warrants ordered drawn for the same.

Dr. Colbert, as chairman of the teachers' committee stated that when the annual increases in salary were being made Miss La Rue, teacher of Spanish in the High school had been overlooked, and he therefore moved that she be given the same raise in salary as the other teachers. It was so ordered.

In the monthly report of Superintendent Milne it was shown that the total enrollment of the city schools is 1,514 with an average attendance of 95.5 percent. There were 12 fire drills conducted during the month of November. Forty-eight visits were made to the schools by the superintendent, and thirteen visits were made by the school board during the month. The recommendation that the Christmas vacation begin on December 22 and continue to January 3, 1912, was accepted.

At this point the proposition of manual training was brought up and Mr. Milne showed that the same could be installed in a temporary manner for the last half of the present school year for $1,500. This would include the salary of the instructor, the rent of a building for the half year, the purchase of fifteen benches and sets of tools, the materials for the work and the fuel. The accommodations thus provided would be sufficient to allow classes of thirty each to be taught, and this with six periods of one hour each day, would provide for 180 pupils, slightly more than are now in the sixth and seventh grades in the public schools.

It was here brought out that if rent were paid for the building, additional rent would have to be paid for storing the property during the summer and with this as a basis the proposition was made that the board erect its own building on the High school property on Central avenue. This appeared to be the better proposition to the board and the committee was appointed.

M'NAMARAS TO REVEAL ALL

As to the forming of the letters, for J. B. does not take to writing as easily and handed it to Fredericks. The names of the witnesses were attached and Fredericks buttoned his coat over a single sheet of paper bearing perhaps 200 words.

The brothers nodded to Jalter Gallagher and filed back into their cells, after saying good-bye to the attorneys.

The limited scope of the confession aroused much excited doubt tonight. While it was assumed that nothing else was suggested at the time the confession was made, it was questioned whether this was all the state had expected to obtain.

There was also talk regarding its influence on further prosecutions. The position of District Attorney Fredericks has been and will be, he declared today, that so long as he was district attorney he would proceed with what he considered to be his duty and that, having information of additional criminal acts against anyone, he would investigate and, if warranted, prosecute the supposed offenders.

There remained, nevertheless, a widespread sentiment here tonight that the meager confession, if not a disappointment insofar as local officials are concerned, was far less than had been hoped for in other quarters, in view of the nationwide aspect of the situation, and would not be likely to deter more extensive prosecution here.

In this connection Fredericks asserted that he asked no more, and there the matter stood tonight, with opinion about equally divided as to whether later developments would force the district attorney regardless of his own preferences and simply as a public officer, to proceed against the men for whom he holds the highest admiration.

Bribery of Juror Revealed.

Today's developments included the publication of the deposition of Mrs. Robert P. Bain, made to the district attorney, that at the instance of Earl H. Franklin, investigator for the defense, now charged with bribery, she persuaded her husband, a taxidermist on the McNamara jury, to accept $1,000 if he would make sure that a verdict of guilty would not be given, and that $500 of this money was actually paid over.

In her statement Mrs. Bain tells of a visit paid to her house by Franklin on October 8, during which she told the detective that "we had bought the home for $1,800 and were paying $15 per month."

"I said: 'When Mr. Bain is 70 he will get more pension money,'" she continues. "Well," he said, "I think Mr. Bain, I can help you. I think I can put you and Bob in a position to pay for your little home and live easy for the rest of your life." I said, "You can?" He said, "Yes," I says, "How's that?" and he says, "I know that Bob has always been an honest man. I have worked by the side of him and I know him well, and I, too, have always been honest. My record shows that. I think, though, I can put Bob in a position to make it easy for him."

The statement then tells of Franklin's promise that she secure the consent of her husband to work for the McNamaras.

"If he will serve on that jury I will give him $500," Mrs. Bain quotes Franklin as saying.

Then, afterwards, Franklin is declared to have said: "Have Bob qualify and vote an acquittal and there will be plenty of testimony to prove that they are innocent, and he need not have any conscientious scruples or anything of that kind, and money will be deposited, and he will receive $2,500 at the end of the trial."

"He afterwards told, Bob that I would be $2,500, but I am sure that he said $5,000," the statement continues.

Mrs. Bain then tells of her compliance and of her success with Bain, who afterward regretted he had gone into the thing, because of his lost honor.

"I cannot get my honor back," she said her aged husband declared, when it was suggested that he could return the money. "Bain is a civil war veteran. His great-grandfather fought in the war of the revolution and captured a British drum in a fight with the troops of General Burgoyne. This drum still is in the family, and Bain beat it in the parades which preceded the election of District Attorney Fredericks."

As was anticipated, a continuance was asked and granted in the case of his brother, and this was the supreme document of his life. When he had done, he passed it to Darrow, who read it with Davis looking on. Franklin, the investigator, when it came up today for preliminary hearing before Justice William P. Young, former Governor Henry T. Gage, Franklin's counsel, made a speech, expressing his hope that within a week the district attorney would find the charges against Franklin baseless. He dwelt upon the vast amounts of money spent by nations over the seas in their spying on their citizens, and declared that in America, "this land of alleged freedom of opinion," there is coming to exist a like state of affairs. Such prosecutions he likened to "retail war." W. Joseph Ford, assistant district attorney, agreed to a continuance for one week, and this was ordered by the court.

Franklin, hearing today of rumors that he had confessed, stoutly denied that this was so. Around his case center interests of magnitude, and its outcome may determine the fate of men whose liberty tonight lies on scales that a hair may tilt.

Complicated by an election to take place tomorrow, in which Job Harriman, one of the counsel for the defense, is the socialist candidate for mayor, and Joseph H. Scott, also of counsel for the defense is running on the good government ticket for membership of the school board, of which he is now chairman, Los Angeles tonight is beset by a confusion of rumors and assertions.

Rumor had it that Attorney Darrow was under arrest. This was traced to reports that he and District Attorney Fredericks were seen conversing on the streets.

It was said that Harriman was arrested. He was found at socialist headquarters, and he one found any particular foundation for this rumor.

It was reported early tonight that, by agreement of counsel, the McNamaras would be sentenced tonight instead of tomorrow. Attorney Darrow denied this as did Judge Bordwell.

A hundred other reports swirled about the jail where the McNamaras awaited the dawning of a day which it is expected will see them well on the way to the penitentiary. Every man had a different story, and new ones arose out of the pavements.

Government to Push Inquiry.

Another angle of the case opened up today with the convening of the federal grand jury. Although the government's case is temporarily in charge of United States Deputy District Attorney E. A. Reagan, it was said that as soon as A. J. McCormick returned from Washington, whether he was summoned by Attorney General Wickersham, he would take it in hand, and that an assistant from Wickersham's office might assist him. This latter statement could not be confirmed here. Malcolm McLaren, special representative in Los Angeles of the detective agency which brought about the arrest of the McNamaras, said he expected the federal investigation of the alleged dynamiting conspiracy to be begun within 15 days.

Reagan, as representative of the United States government, was in court last Friday when the McNamaras pleaded guilty and has been in communication ever since with District Attorney Fredericks, who has great stacks of evidence for which he seems to have no particular use in court at this time.

That the McNamaras would remain here to appear before this grand jury was one of the speculations tonight, balancing another that they would be taken to the penitentiary on a special train immediately after sentence.

What sentence would be imposed upon the McNamaras only Judge Bordwell knew tonight. Many telegrams have been received from eastern organizations, mostly labor bodies, urging the extreme penalty for both men. None of these has been read by the judge. The extreme penalty for James B. McNamara is death and that for his brother is imprisonment. It was not officially established tonight whether District Attorney Fredericks would urge clemency.

A writ of attachment was served on Justice Young today in behalf of Dr. J. H. Bullard, who attempted to collect a claim of $4,750 assigned to him by J. H. Levering, a civil engineer, who works for the land of $30,000 put up by Attorney Leocombe Davis for Franklin and also the $4,000 in bills secured by the district attorney's chief investigator, Emanuel L. Brown, when the arrests were made. Levering's claim is for the remainder of a bill for $6,000, which he says Attorney Darrow, Davis and Harriman owe him for what he declared to be a contract for certain plans and drawings of the Times building. He said he got $1,250, but was unable to collect the balance.

DREW URGES FRANK AND FULL CONFESSIONS

New York, Dec. 4. — In behalf of the National Erectors' association, which employed W. J. Burns to run down the perpetrators of the Los Angeles Times outrages, Walter Drew, as counsel, issued a statement here tonight urging that the McNamaras "make a frank and full confession." By Attorney Leocombe Davis for Franklin and also the $4,000 in bills secured by the district attorney's chief investigator, Emanuel L. Brown, when the arrests were made. Levering's claim is for the remainder of a bill for $6,000, which he says Attorney Darrow, Davis and Harriman owe him for what he declared to be a contract for certain plans and drawings of the Times building. He said he got $1,250, but was unable to collect the balance.

Long before the doors of the Orpheum theater were opened last night an enormous crowd pushed and surged about the box office, and within 40 minutes after the ticket window was opened every seat in the house was filled.

Change of Program Tonight.

At 10 o'clock today, in Mandell's window on Central avenue, a young man will be placed under hypnotic influence and will begin a 12-hour bicycle ride on a stationary racing machine. He will be brought to the Orpheum in the evening and will continue the ride on the stage in full view of the audience until 10 p. m., when he will be awakened.

One of the features of the entertainment this evening will be the great handcuff escape of Alburus, the celebrated handcuff king. General admission 10 cents, reserved seats 20 cents. Seats go on sale this afternoon at 3 at the Orpheum box office.

WINCHESTER

Loaded Black Powder Shells.

"Nublack" and "New Rival"

No black powder shells have so many strong points to recommend them as Winchester the red W brand. Their strong, uniform shooting qualities are due to the fact that the shells are made of high class, tested materials, and loaded with the best brands of powder, shot and wadding. The loading is done by machines, which measure exactly the powder and shot, seat the wads with proper pressure and crimp the mouth of the shells evenly and firmly. The patented corrugated head, and the solid gas-tight, fire-proof base construction used in Winchester black powder shells, coupled with a system of loading, which gives invariable results, produces a quality of shells that is unsurpassed.

"Second—The National Erectors' association does not join in the demand for the death penalty for the younger McNamara, believing him the weak, paid tool of others, and his actions the natural consequence of the doctrine taught by men who now repudiate him. We believe the punishment of both these brothers secondary in importance to the conviction of the men behind them, and we sincerely hope they will take advantage of the opportunity now presented to perform a signal service for society by making full and frank confessions."

"Third—Inasmuch as some of the demands for extreme punishment come from men who must have known of the guilt of the McNamaras, and one of them, at least, I know to be implicated in several outrages with them, I sincerely don't that such demands are being made with the sole desire of adding the ends of full and complete justice."

(Signed) "WALTER DREW."

Mr. Drew reiterated this evening that he believes that 20 or 30 labor leaders will be indicted as the result of the federal investigation now under way at Indianapolis, and said the ramifications of the inquiry would extend from Boston to the Pacific coast.

BIG EXTRAVAGANZA SATURDAY NIGHT'S ATTRACTION

"The Red Rose" One of Most Magnificent Shows Ever to Play Outside Large Cities of East and Middle West.

There are the metropolitan women to delight local theater goers this week. Following the Van Studdiford production Thursday night is the stupendous musical production, "The Red Rose," which comes here from Denver through to El Paso. Traveling in a special train this company of seventy-five people carry several carloads of equipment and the scenic effects are said to be magnificent. The wedding scene is one of the most beautiful ever shown on the American stage. It is entirely new, varying from the palest to deepest shades, both as to decorations and the costumes of the principals and the chorus which are carried out in the rose shades.

The songs are hits and the singers have good voices and are elegantly costumed throughout. Zoe Barnett, the prima donna of the production, is a very beautiful girl, has a magnificent voice and is a clever actress. Her songs are imported creations and one of the features of the gorgeous extravaganza. John C. Fisher, whose production of "Floradora" made over a million dollars for the producers, is the personal director of "The Red Rose." Fisher has an unparalleled record as a show producer and has never staged what might be termed a failure.

R. H. Burnside, the stage director, was until recently general stage director for the Schubert attractions.

ALASKA COAL LANDS CANNOT BE GRABBED

Washington, Dec. 4.—The government today won a sweeping victory in its campaign against Alaska coal land grabs when the supreme court of the United States decided that a person or association is limited to one coal land entry in Alaska. According to the court held valid the indictment charging Charles F. Munday and Archie W. Shields with land fraud conspiracy.

The decision today involved the effort to claim in the Bering river district, located in Alaskan straits, brother of St. Lawrence straits, member of parliament but now held on the charge of conspiracy by Charles F. Munday, a lawyer of this city.

"THE RED ROSE"

THE PARADISE OF MAHOMET GREAT PRODUCTION

Albuquerque Theater Goes Assured Treat in Appearance Here Thursday of Grace Van Studdiford.

Grace Van Studdiford, who as charmed theatergoers several seasons ago by her singing in "Red Feather" that her name is always mentioned as among the foremost of local comic opera favorites, will visit this city Thursday evening, when she will appear in the Parisian comic opera, "The Paradise of Mahomet," at the Elks theater. The seat sale starts today at Maison's.

—Miss Van Studdiford, a certain, to be greeted in a crowded house here, for, aside from her own great popularity, it is known that this comic opera secured a tremendous success at the Grand Square theater in New York city last season, and everything will be done here just as it was there. The book and lyrics were adapted for the American stage by Harry B. and Robert E. Smith from the French version of Henri Blumstein, while the music is by the famous French composer, Robert Planquette.

The story that the new Van Studdiford production is a tale of love in the Orient. It tells of the wife, the mistress of a prince, who has been fascinated by a young woman, of whom he has heard and a wedding ceremony is being planned on a tower of the palace.

BANK INSTITUTES SUIT TO COLLECT $4,000 NOTE

J. H. English and the English Manufacturing Company Are Made Defendants in Action; Other Court Notes.

The State National Bank yesterday through its attorneys, Messrs. and Wood, instituted suit against J. H. English and the English Manufacturing company for $4,000 with interest on a note and costs of suit.

The note is signed by the English Manufacturing company, 2 E. Franklin, president; J. S. Knott, secretary; and Milton Dow.

This bank also filed suit against J. A. Kelly of Estancia for $750, for which Kelly had given a promissory note due five months after date on September 1, 1911. This note is endorsed by Milton Dow and J. H. English. It is alleged that no payment has been made on the obligation and therefore judgment is asked, together with costs.

DISOBEDIENT BOY RECEIVES JAIL SENTENCE

Justice of the Peace Jose E. Romero Sends Incurable Youth to County Jail; Woman Also Committed.

Justice of the Peace Jose E. Romero, of Precinct 13, yesterday held a court session.

The first case considered was that of Samuel Montoya, charged with disturbing his mother. Samuel couldn't explain to the satisfaction of the court why he had refused to be bound by the parental authority, and was sent to the county jail for a period of thirty days. This commitment was based on Section 1474 of the laws of 1907, and its existence is not generally known throughout the territory.

Francisco Baca was given thirty days in the county jail for vagrancy, over the objections of Modesto C. Cruz, her attorney. The woman was first charged with a statutory offense, being alleged that she was a woman of easy virtue, who allowed her home to be frequented by a boy under age. Justice Romero was of the opinion that the woman could not be punished on such a charge, but that she was guilty of vagrancy. He therefore ordered her committed to jail.

KANSAS TOWNS TO BE MOVED TO RAILROAD

Building of Colmar Cut-Off Across Virgin Prairie Will Necessitate Novel Transfer of County Seats.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
Topeka, Kan., Dec. 4.—The first Monday in May, June, July and August, 1912, will be moving days in southwest Kansas. On these days four county seats will be packed up on rollers and hauled to new locations on a new Santa Fe line now building between Dodge City and Colmar, N. M.

Former Lieutenant Governor W. J. Fitzgerald, who has obtained the right of way for this line through the railroadless counties of southwestern Kansas, and which is to be as straight as a rule for more than 200 miles, was telling the Santa Fe officials of the plan now under way for the moving of four county seats to new sites on the railroads.

The line is to be completed from Dodge City to the Colorado-Kansas line, at the extreme southwest corner of this state, by October 1 next, before which time the four towns, with their courts, houses, jails, churches, banks, newspaper offices, business houses and residences, are to be moved to new locations.

Santa Fe the county seat of Haskell county, will move six miles to the south on the first Monday in May. One month later New Ulysses, county seat of Grant county, in one great procession, will move twenty-five miles to the new railroad.

Then in July Hugoton, the county seat of Stevens county, will use the same big moving wagons and traction engines in moving to a new site ten miles distant. In August, Richfield, county seat of Morton, the extreme southwest corner county in Kansas, will load its business houses and its homes onto the big moving outfits and move eight miles to the railroad.

The entire region of southwestern Kansas is as level as a floor, and for more than 100 miles the new cut-off will be as straight as an arrow. It will be the main line for all through business between Chicago and the Pacific coast and will shorten the present route nearly ninety miles.

It was a case of two extremes meeting when Governor Fitzgerald met and chatted about moving his four Kansas county seats to new sites. "It won't be much of a job to do the moving once the buildings are jacked up and on wheels," Fitzgerald said.

The real problem, however, will be how to take care of county business while the procession is moving. You know there are a lot of things which the law says must be done at the county seat. Lawyers contend that there is doubt about the legality of business which could be transacted in the court house while it is on wheels and moving.

"And when the town is moved to the new location, though it is the same old town, with the same old buildings, the same old name and the same old people, it won't be the same town, and I don't know whether it can be a legal county seat until the people take a vote on it."

Notwithstanding these possible legal complications, the people of Santa Fe are going to move, and the big wagon to the new railroad on the first Monday in May, and the other three county seats will follow in their turn one month later.

Santa Fe intends to make its moving day a great holiday. There will be assembled enough traction engines in that great prairie section to pull the buildings of the town all at the same time. Editor J. P. Pierce of the Santa Fe Republican announces that he will print a special edition of his newspaper on his old Washington press on the way over to the new location. A special platform will be constructed on wheels, on which will be installed his entire country printing outfit.

Santa Fe has a court house a town hall, two newspapers, a good school house, a church, a bank and a dozen good business houses and probably thirty or more cottage homes. It is the plan to have every building on wheels ready for moving, and then to take the whole town over at the same time, in one long, spectacular procession, headed very properly by the town church, a Methodist edifice, with Rev. W. H. Stanley, the pastor, riding in front.

The two printing offices, the bank, the town drug store, the other business houses and the blacksmith shop, and last, but not least, the garage, would come in order. And trailing along at the end of the procession would be Sheriff "Bill" Lucas, with his empty jail.

The moving problem is not disturbing New Ulysses, in Grant county, for that town is ready with its skids and rollers and can start the procession for the new site twenty-five miles away on twenty-four hours' notice. Five years ago Ulysses stood on a site that was heavily mortgaged to New York and Philadelphia bondholders. There were less than 3,000 persons living in the county, and this debt of more than $200,000 was a burden the poor settlers could not pay.

One night an outfit for moving houses was hauled in Ulysses from Garden City, and the next morning the town, New Ulysses, occupied a new site, upon which there was no debt, four miles away.

They quietly put their court house, church, hotel, school house, business houses and homes all on wheels and moved over to the new location. It was an interesting trip across the prairie by moonlight, made joyous by songs and gospel hymns sung by some of the church people, who rode in the moving church outfit along with the local minister.

The second move to be made by this town in June, of next year, will require two days, but the people look forward to it as a great rating. Festivities and song services will be held on the prairie the first night out.

Thirty years ago Colonel Sam Wood, and a dozen other citizens of Stevens county lost their lives over county seat troubles when Hugoton and Woodside became a desert waste. Now, the irony of fate has decreed that the new railroad is to cross the old abandoned site of Woodside, and that there a new town will be built, to which Hugoton is to move, bag and baggage.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF MERCHANTS

The Albuquerque Credit Company has opened offices in this city at 111 South Fourth street. The objects of this concern, as outlined by Mr. R. W. Weidner, the manager, should be of great service to merchants of the city. It is the intention of the company to furnish weekly reports of all instruments filed for record in the office of the county clerk and recorder, and of all business of the different courts and to index the same twice a year.

The company will also do a general collection business, and being affiliated with some 14,000 offices in the United States, and with five years' experience, in this line of work, they should be able to give the best of service.

Representatives of the company will call on the merchants as soon as possible and explain the plan in detail. In the meantime, if they can be of service to merchants in any of the above mentioned lines, we invite them to call on us.

BANK AT COLUMBUS CLOSES ITS DOORS

Columbus, O., Dec. 4.—The Union National bank today posted a notice of suspension by a resolution of the board of directors. It was further stated that the bank was now in the hands of the committee of the creditors. Directors of the bank expressed the hope that depositors might be paid in full.

The last statement of the bank's condition, September 3, showed resources aggregating $3,669,390.

STAR TEAM OPENS AT CRYSTAL TODAY

Opening today at the Crystal theater, Bartlett and Collins have an act entirely different from anything ever seen in Albuquerque. Mr. Bartlett as a comedian is not only eccentric but his ideas of comedy are refreshingly original and funny. Miss Collins is the possessor of an exquisitely sweet voice, and her personality wins the good will of the audience at once. There will be no advance in the price of admission to the Crystal, the same standard, 10 cents to any seat in the house, prevailing at all times.

TEXAS PENITENTIARY AMAGED BY FIRE

Huntsville, Tex., Dec. 4.—Fire originating shortly before noon in the shoe shops of the Huntsville branch of the Texas penitentiary destroyed prison property valued at $200,000 before it was checked by dynamiting several buildings. Fire-fighting apparatus was brought from Houston. For a time the fire threatened to spread to the business section of Huntsville.

None of the prisoners escaped and with the exception of several who sustained minor burns, none was injured. Eleven buildings including the cotton and furniture manufacturing, machinery and an office building burned.

ROCKEFELLER LAYS DOWN PRESIDENCY OF STANDARD OIL COMPANY

Retirement of Man Who Built Up Giant Industry and Amassed Colossal Fortune Perfunctory.

ARCHIBOLD NEW ACTIVE HEAD OF CORPORATION

One of Few "Old Guard" to Remain Will Now Direct and Control Destinies of the Big Corporation.

(Re-Morning Journal Special Licensed Wire)
New York, Dec. 4.—John D. Rockefeller terminated his career as head of the Standard Oil company today. With him retired most of the conspicuous figures of the early days of the "oil trust."

Not a Rockefeller remains among the officers and directors of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, chief of the oil corporations, which was the holding company up to the time of the recent dissolution of the great combine.

William Rockefeller, William G. Rockefeller, C. M. Pratt, H. M. Flagler, E. T. Bedford and others whose names have been prominent in the oil business stepped behind the scenes today. John D. Archibold, one of the few members of the "old guard" to remain, became president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and will control its destinies.

The termination of the business career of the man who has acquired an unique position in history and amassed what is generally regarded as the largest private fortune in the world, was perfunctory. It had been planned in advance, although the plans had been kept secret.

Today's action affects not only the New Jersey company, but a number of other corporations in the Standard Oil group.

Although the list of officials and directors is virtually made over, the agreement will be changed but little. To what extent today's action is an outcome of the dissolution of Standard Oil was not authoritatively stated.

It is said the decision of the supreme court merely hastened the retirement of those whose advancing years made it certain they could not retain their places much longer.

Mr. Rockefeller for the past ten years has been only nominally associated with Standard Oil. He has visited 26 Broadway only once a year, and his stays usually are limited to a few minutes. After the death of H. H. Rogers, Mr. Rockefeller's visits became more frequent for a time, until gradually responsibility was shifted to Mr. Archibold.

John A. Moffatt, who was elected first vice-president of the reorganized New Jersey company, is one of the best known comparatively new men in the Standard Oil company. He was president of the Standard Oil company of Indiana when Judge Landis imposed his $25,000,000 fine upon that company.

W. C. Teague elected second vice-president, is under 40, but long ago acquired a reputation for marked ability in the oil trade. He was an independent refiner in upper New York state, when he sold out to Standard Oil and took a position as head of its export department, which is said to have developed enormously under his management.

From an unofficial source it is learned that the Standard Oil company of New Jersey will not change its present capitalization of $100,000,000.

Rochester Host to Governors.
Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 4.—Sight-seeing tours, an informal luncheon and trips to manufacturing establishments by the governors of western states preceded the annual dinner of the chamber of commerce tonight at which all members of the party that is touring the east were guests.

The Handy Heater

PERFECTION
SMOKELESS
OIL HEATER

You often need some heat in early Fall, when you have not yet started the furnace.

In whatever part of the house you want it, you can get it best and quickest with a Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater. The Perfection is the most reliable heater on the market, and you can move it wherever you please.

Start it in bedroom or bathroom, and you dress in comfort on the coldest morning. Take it to the dining-room, and early breakfast becomes a pleasant, cozy meal. A touch of a match at dusk, and all is snug for the evening.

The Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater is beautifully finished—an ornament anywhere. Drums of plain steel or enameled in blue, nickel, or chrome. A special automatic device makes smoking impossible. Burner body cannot become wedged. All parts easily cleaned. Damper top. Cool handle.

Dealers everywhere; or write for descriptive circular to any agency of the Continental Oil Company (Incorporated)

LANDSLIDE WRECKS RIO GRANDE TRAIN

Denver, Dec. 4.—One fireman was seriously injured and two passengers as well as five members of the train crew suffered slight bruises and cuts when Rio Grande passenger train No. 5, westbound, which left Denver at 9 a. m. today, ran into a landslide 60 miles west of Pueblo at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The train was a double-header. Both engines and two baggage cars left the track, one of the engines tumbling down the bank.

ALBUQUERQUE MAY PROBABLY NOW CONVERSE WITH ARIZONA

New Long Distance Toll Line Connecting This City With Nogales, Benson, Tucson and Phoenix Opened.

Albuquerque people who have occasion to transact business with Arizona towns, which might require more rapid facilities than either mail or telephone communication affords, may use the long distance telephone.

Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock the new long distance extension of the Mountain States Telegraph and Telephone company, connecting numerous Albuquerque cities with Arizona towns, commercial service was inaugurated.

ALBUQUERQUE NEW MEXICO
THE CHRISTMAS BUYER.

It is scarcely necessary in this enlightened year of grace to utter the usual perfunctory warning against the eleventh-hour invasion of the shops by the absent-minded purchaser who doesn't realize till Christmas eve that the great day is coming, and he is unprepared. But it may be profitable to consider briefly the philosophy of Christmas shopping and the why and wherefore of the cumulative storeward rush of Yuletide.

He buys best, who buys, not last,
but earliest. In the first place, he has by far the widest range of choice.
All that the diligent management has gathered from the far corners of the earth is displayed on the counters for his particular delectation. He is monarch of all he surveys; he may choose where he will, and he knows that the best has not been confiscated ere his arrival. Then, too, he is assured a painstaking courtesy of individual attention to his preferences which is hardly possible later on when the aisles are crowded and those behind the counter are preoccupied.

It is the part of business common sense as well as humanity to do one's Christmas shopping early. It is not reasonable to expect that any storekeeper will do anything to make the late comer feel that he is an interlo-per, for the soul of business today is hospitality and courtesy. But the shoppers should realize that it is in every way to their own best interests to make their visits seasonably to the great emporia of varied merchandise, and if this is done, both producer and consumer, in the long run,
will be far better satisfied.

It is only fair play, furthermore,
to make the strain of Christmas shopping distributive instead of concentrated for the army of those who minister to the needs of the greater army of customers. Those who sell are quite as human and as fatigable as those who buy. It is indeed an ordeal to stand on the mercantile firing line for consecutive hours in the "holiday" season—there is a fine irony in the epithet for some of us—
and though the purchaser may be as captious and querulous as he pleases,
the purveyor must never once display
the least sign of irritability, but must preserve the aspect of unflinching good humor. There is no form of altruism more commendable than a degree of merciful consideration for the human neutronics of Santa Claus.

THE PEOPLE'S POET LAUREATE

James Whitcomb Riley, when asked to write a poem for the coming Chris-mas season, declined on the ground that an increasing paralysis in the right arm rendered him unable to use
a pen and that he is incapable of dictating verse. He is quoted as adding:
"No more writing for me; the public will have to do without my efforts."

It is to be hoped this statement expresses nothing worse than a temporary despondency. Mr. Riley is not too old to learn to dictate in verse if he earnestly sets himself to the task, and it may be that the right hand will regain its cunning; or that he can learn to use the left hand with enough of skill to make it transcribe the thoughts of the brain. The American people are not willing to lose Riley's contributions to the poetry of the time,
for when Riley coaxes to sing there will be lost a source of genuine joy to thousands. His verse, like the "Cheerful Blossoms" of which he wrote, is forever associated with some of the kindest and tenderest feelings of the heart. It may be questioned whether any other minor poet has been so widely read during his lifetime by so large and so sympathetic a public.

If that story about the elopement of the Chinese emperor's mother with an actor proves to be a press agent's yarn, it will show conclusively that the Chinese drama is rapidly being elevated to the American standard.

The Chicago packers are not fond of the courts, but at the same time it is not likely that they will make complaint about the law's delay.

At least the president, when he is homesick, hasn't far to go from the White House to see a train of Pullman coaches.

THE TRUST QUESTION.

In the following editorial upon the subject of trusts the San Francisco Examiner sets forth some facts that are now becoming realized by many and in time will be realized
by all.

The great question in America and throughout the world today is the question of government control by the trusts or control of the trusts by the government.

A trust does that which men as a whole should do for themselves at this moment.

The trust, to a greater extent than we realize ordinarily, regulates employment and wages, controls the increase of wealth and the disposal of wealth.

The trust possesses and exercises
the taxing power that kings possessed formerly.

The trust controls credits, as it controls banks.

The trust controls the growth of the country, since it controls railroads, which are the arteries and veins of agriculture and industry.

The trust, to a great extent, controls politics and government itself,
since trust lawyers are transformed into judges, trust senators receive their checks and instructions from trusts, and trust owners decide in advance and calmly announce what candidates may be considered "safe."

—that is to say, trust owned—and what candidates must be considered
"unsafe"—that is to say, restive under trust government.

There is not a man, or woman, or child in this country without a very deep and real interest in the trust question.

The trust regulates the price of the food on the table around which the mother and children are gathered.

The trust decides whether the father shall have work or lack it, and what he shall be paid for his work—
very often.

The trust removes tens of thousands of independent business men and thousands upon thousands of commercial travelers and many other individual workers from the line of work to which they are accommodated, and says to them: "Your day of individual activity is over, you must be our clerk from now on."

EXPOSING THE EXPRESS BUSINESS.

The express companies seem to be in for the overhauling they have so long and so richly deserved. Upon the request of 211 business organizations in various parts of the country
the Interstate Commerce commission has started in New York an investigation of their methods of business and operations which will be continued in other cities.

Already the definite evidence received in New York justifies all the denunciations that have been hurled at these privileged common carriers.
Their "public-be-damned" attitude has been maintained even to the present time, even in face of the popular wrath they knew was gathering against them. Witnesses have testified that they send packages by roundabout routes and then exact additional charges therefor. Remunerations are of no avail. Overcharges are frequent and it is almost impossible to get restitution. The rates enforced are often unequal as well as extortionate. Starting with but little capital, the express companies are now capitalized for many millions, on which they pay huge dividends.

These rich corporations may have friends left in congress but they have few among the people. They have been too arrogant and unfair for that. The most popular disposition that could be made of them would be to put them out of business entirely by turning their work over to the railroads and the postoffice department.

Attorney General Wickensham says
we can solve "the whole trust problem when we can answer the question: What have the people given, and what have they received?" A saying that seems to imply the solution lies somewhere between everything and nothing.

Undoubtedly the only polite course with these Arabs who shot Italian soldiers in the back in the streets of Tripoli was to take them around the corner to the drug store and treat them to ice cream soda.

Men howled down a woman sutra-nist in Wall street; women howled down the prime minister in London—
but fortunately each side condemns
the violence of the other, and good manners are not without a defense.

A traveler who has been in China says Dr. Wu Ting-fang is not an able man but simply a triumph of American journalism. That traveler pays a high compliment to the creative powers of the American reporter.

A New Yorker was arrested the other day on a charge of stealing a steak. If the price charged for steaks at New York hotels furnish any criterion, he must be guilty of grand larceny.

A Pennsylvania physician recently described how it is possible to tell a woman's age by her pulse. As this physician is a woman, she will generally be regarded as a traitor to her sex.

President Taft's physician has instructed him not to make any more speeches for a while. That man ought to be made the official medical advisor of the senate and the house of representatives.

ACCEPTS PUBLIC REGULATION.

President Taft of the American Telephone company speaks in the enlightened fashion of corporation managers who appreciate and understand the signs and conditions of the times.
He loyally accepts government regulation for public utilities and does not like some of the more old-fashioned of the tribe, travel around with a perpetual groan about "interference with business."

Mr. Taft understands that a reasonable regulation in the interest of consumers and customers has become necessary to keep big business from assuming too much power and he realizes that the public has no desire to see the corporations treated unjustly. It is a policy of live and let live, made necessary by the fact that the individual consumer is quite powerless to compel fair treatment by a powerful monopoly.

It is fair to say that the telephone company has in most of its relations with the local public been conducted with a full realization of the conditions and obligations outlined by Mr.
Taft.

The Manchus are hereby warned that there is no chance for them, if they come over here, to get into the United States senate. The people have made up their minds to elect the senators themselves.

Senator Bailey has repeated his declaration that he will retire from the senate at the end of his term, March 4, 1912. He would add immensely to his popularity if he should fix the date
at January 1, 1912.

Bernard Shaw says that Americans are drunken, foolish and brutal.
More of Bernard's books are sold in this country than in any other. Still,
that may be only a coincidence, not a cause.

If Senator La Follette is willing to stand on his merits, let him come out in the open with his hair cut and wearing one of those flat derby hats
and a suit of collegian clothes.

A French scientist thinks that the sea should be turned into the desert of Sahara. Doubtless there are several Italian generals and colonels who agree with him.

Winston Spencer Churchill has been made first lord of the admiralty.
And now some one may be mean
enough to start a revival of "Pinafore" in England.

NEW CARDINAL WILL BE NAMED FOR WEST

Dr. Ernest Begni Predicts Pope
Pius Has Decided to Recognize This Portion of the Country.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
New York, Dec. 4.—Dr. Ernest Begni, editorial director of the "Catholic Church in the United States," the historical work on the growth of Catholicism in this country, sponsored by prominent dignitaries of the church, expressed the belief today that the West will shortly be able to felicitate with the East on the elevation of one of its notable ecclesiastics
to the college of Cardinals.

"If those who have expressed some disappointment because no member of the American hierarchy has been Western states was selected to be honored at the consistory on Monday,"
said Dr. Begni, "will have a little patience, they will soon share with the East in the signal honor that has been bestowed upon it by his holiness. The very father is keenly sensible of conditions in this country, both East and West."

"I am satisfied no honor with which Pius X can signify his appreciation of what has been accomplished here by the faithful will, in his opinion, be too great. But many conditions have to be considered in the selection of a cardinal and his holiness has necessarily to move slowly."

"The pontiff," continued Dr. Begni,
"is the greatest admirer of this country he ever occupied the chair of St. Peter. On my last audience with him he expressed himself as amazed and delighted with the achievements of the church here.
These have been a source of consolation to his holiness and have done much to soften the grief caused him
by the discordant conditions prevailing in other parts of the world. America is now regarded as one of the great civilizing forces of the church. The many proofs of its loyalty to the Holy See and the vitality of its institutions, which now claim 15,000,000 active communicants, depose the head of the church to accord the United States a measure of recognition never before shown it by the vatican."

YELLOW PINE IN HAGERMAN FARMER NEW MEXICO AND ARIZONA DESTROYS HIS ALFALFA CROP

Interesting Booklet Issued Relative to Care, Cutting and Development of Its Future Growth.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
Washington, Dec. 4.—Western yellow pine is to the southwest what
the long-leaved pine is to the south.
The methods of its preservation on the National forests of Arizona and New Mexico have been made the subject of a booklet that it is hoped will give those private owners information about care, cutting and the development of future growth of this useful timber. It should also serve to indicate opportunities for the purchase of government stumpage. The western yellow pine in Arizona and New Mexico is generally a smaller tree than on the Pacific slope, but it attains the average size of from 100 to 200 feet during its long life of almost 200 years. Its average diameter is about 20 inches on what is called black jack, but which is only yellow pine. As the trees grow old the conditions marking it as yellow pine develop.
Over mature trees are found all through these two states some estimated at from 418 to 483 years. It advised that this old timber not be growing or developing any more and possibly being more apt to harbor the insects and mistletoe that are so destructive to the growth of the younger trees should be marked for felling among the first to be cleared. In clearing the forestry bureau advises many things. First, not clearing of too much timber so as to open up spaces that will produce danger from windfalls; or the taking of so many trees as to endanger the future of reproduction must be considered.
These trees do well with some sun,
and demand much light and little shade, which is apt to produce "blu-ing" and "red rot," which are really growths of fungi and may be prevented by treatment described in the bureau of plant industry bulletin No.
28.

Some of the things that must be guarded against in protecting this timber are: reasonable fire protection,
the right disposal of the slashings so as to afford protection to the young saplings, but not to endanger the trees by fire, to which the mature trees, however, are not subject. Forests are the cause of the lack of reproduction in many areas. It is now proven. Drought is also hard on the saplings and stunts the growth of black jacks if of too long duration. In high altitudes it is thought frost injures the seedlings. Lightning, the growth of mistletoe, wind and fire and even the destruction of seeds and young plants by small mammals or by the trespasses of stock and sheep all prevent the most advantageous development of the biggest timber growth of these states. While supervised grazing may help prevent fire
by shortening the grass that usually undergrows the trees, if stock is permitted to damage the seedlings the regions will eventually be deforested.
This must be prevented at all costs
by removing stock from the park of water supply without which the southwest cannot progress. It must also be considered when cutting for timber that certain stretches afford protection from wind and avalanches
so that in such regions the cuttings should be protected by legislation to prevent deforestation. While the birds of the southwest are not numerous, it has been discovered that they save rather than damage the yellow pine growth by their fondness for the mistletoe berries and their ability to remove insects from the bark of the trees. It has also been noticed that the woodpecker will bore only trees that are attacked by insects and will not touch healthy trees. This is a guide to the locating of infested trees. The pine beetles in six varieties have been observed in Arizona and New Mexico and are perhaps the most destructive enemies of the yellow pine in that they attack and kill perfectly healthy pines. It is necessary that any evidence of an abnormal dying of the yellow pine must receive prompt attention to check the depressions from this insect. The bureau of entomology is now engaged in fighting this beetle in the south, so that much help can be gained by those locating the presence of these beetles from their bulletins, that advise such methods as clearing all stricken trees and disposing of the infected bark in order to destroy the larva of the pests.

This timber is valuable locally for ties, posts, interior finishes and many hardwood uses that it fills for the southwest admirably. It is undoubtedly suited to growth in semi-arid country. When grown it withstands the fire, drought and frost but fire-retard ought to be insisted on to all reproduction. Where natural regeneration is not complete plantings should be resorted to. Private owners may well count on from 5 to 6 per cent
for the correct rotation and cuttings
and the added revenue from grazing
rentals if properly supervised.

The best stands of yellow pine are found in the Zuni mountains and at Luna, N. M., and in Arizona at Flagstaff and Williams. The new states, however, must protect this valuable timber by right legislation in regards cutting and fire protection.

While Seeking to Protect Shed
Containing Hay From Prairie Fire, He permits Blaze to Get to It.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
Roswell, N. M., Dec. 3.—Seeking to protect from fire an open shed containing 40 tons of choice alfalfa hay,
A. W. Buening, a farmer living near Hagerman and south of Roswell, last night unintentionally caused the loss of the entire stack, which was valued at $1,100. Mr. Buening was burning the tall grass around the shed to prevent a prairie fire from spreading to the building, and when he went away temporarily, his own fire flared up and caught the building.

Digging Ditch With Dynamite.
The work of digging a 400-foot drainage ditch with dynamite was started yesterday by Roland Hamell,
of Denver, who represents the Dupont Powder company. The work is being done at the ranch of Charles de Bromond and will be finished within a few days. The expert will give an exhibition in ditch digging and tree planting with high explosives in Roswell on Thursday, December 7.

Baking Powder Manufacture.
The Sanitary Food company today bought out the Sunlight Baking Powder company and will continue the manufacture of baking powder in Roswell. The food company is a maker of butter and ice cream.

Delegates Go to Chicago.
The Pecos Valley delegation to the National Irrigation congress at Chicago left today and consisted of R. M.
Parsons, C. M. Daugherty and D. P.
Thomas. They will distribute much
New Mexico literature in the Windy City.

Held on Arson Charge.
E. Barrett was brought here today and lodged in jail to await the next grand jury's consideration. He had been tried and bound over by Justice
A. V. Hair, of Dexter, on the charge of arson and stands accused of setting fire to a box car that was burned in the Dexter yards. Barrett was a tramp and had been sleeping in the car that was partly destroyed. He could not furnish a $500 bond that was assessed.

Missionary Societies Consolidate.
At a meeting yesterday the Home and Foreign Missionary societies of the Southern M. E. church were consolidated, upon advice of the general conference. The following officers were elected for the coming year:
Mrs. James F. Hinkle, president; Mrs.
Hugh Lewis Jr., first vice-president;
Mrs. Robert McClenny, second vice-president; Mrs. J. F. Allen, third vice-president; Mrs. R. M. Parsons, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Clark D. Dille, corresponding foreign secretary; Mrs. Ben Urton, receiving secretary; Mrs. J. S. Kirby, foreign treasurer; Mrs. Mary P. P. Coburn, home treasurer; Mrs. Dan Wilcox, agent for our Voice, and Mrs. W. C.
Bachly, superintendent of the press.

To Feed Cattle at Roswell.
Henry Deats went to the slaughter ranches, east of Portales, in Texas, today, and will bring a bunch of fine cattle to be fattened on alfalfa this winter at the Roswell ranch of the C. C. Slaughter Cattle company. These cattle will be taken to the spring shows at the conventions which meet in El Paso and Fort Worth.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Wall Street.

New York, Dec. 4.—With a new session of congress today and a presidential message for tomorrow to inaugurate trading stocks did little today. When trading was begun the market looked heavy. Prices soon rose to levels Saturday's close, but later drifted downward again, slowly. Before the close the demand increased and the declines were largely made up. The hesitation at the time of the session of congress was due to recognition that at this session legislation of great concern to the business is to be considered.

Retirement of the old Standard Oil had a direct bearing on the securities market. Standard Oil stock remained unchanged at $39 1/2. The stock never had been listed, being traded in on the curb, and its high price has required speculation. It was generally understood that the change was largely a new one.

The unexpected poor showing of the bank statement on Saturday was reflected in the time money market. Rates for 60 and 90 days were higher and there was a better inquiry. Call money, however, was easier, normal being made at as low as 4 per cent, compared with the maximum of 6 per cent.

There was further heavy trading in the gold securities, especially Washah stocks and bonds, which displayed further strength. Washah preferred and the 4 per cent bonds at one time showed gains of 2 points or more.

Total sales for the day, 226,600 shares.

Bonds were irregular. Business was broad and dealings in the local markets continued on a large scale. Total sales, par value, $5,060,000. United States bonds were unchanged.

Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—With the United States visible supply increased more than a million bushels for the week and with Northwest receipts very heavy, wheat owners today became discouraged. Closing figures showed a decline of 1-4 to 1-8c net.

Corn finished 1-2 to 3-4c 7-8c down; oats off 7-8 to 1-4c, and provisions with a drop of 1-2 to 3-4c.

Holders of wheat found themselves confronted with the unwelcome announcement that the amount of the cereal in store in this country had reached a point where the total exceeded that of last year by 42,466,000 bushels. Arrivals at Northwest markets gave no sign of stoppage in the further piling up of stocks.

Besides there was favoring weather in the Argentine, and that country was credited with making more liberal offerings to Europe. World shipments, too, were above weekly requirements. Clearances from this side, though heavy, seemed to be all Canadian. May ranged from 99 1-2 to 100 1-8, closing steady, but 1-2c down, at 99 7-8.

In the corn crowd larger speculation, who had previously been inclined to stand for December delivery of the grain, were selling out today. May fluctuated from 61 1-2 to 61 1-4c, closing steady at 61 3-4c 7-8c. Cash grades were slow. No. 2 yellow was not even quoted.

Oats trading today was of a meager sort. Top and bottom figures touched for the May and 49 1-2c, with last sales 7-8 to off at 49 5-8c.

Hog products suffered a rather sharp break. One reason was that exports for the week were not nearly so large as heretofore. At the end of the session pork had fallen 25c, 27 1-2 to 26c, and other products 12 1-2 to 17 1-2c.

The Livestock Markets.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 4.—Cattle—Receipts, 23,000; market steady to 10c lower; beefs, $4.50 to $4.75; Texas steers, $4.10 to $4.75; Western steers, $4.10 to $4.75; stockers and feeders, $3.65 to $4.75; cows and heifers, $1.50 to $2.00; calves, $2.00 to $3.00.

Hogs—Receipts, 44,000; market generally steady; light, $5.50 to $6.00; mixed, $5.00 to $5.50; heavy, $5.00 to $5.50; rough, $4.50 to $5.00; good to choice heavy, $6.25 to $6.50; pigs, $4.50 to $5.00; bulk of sales, $4.50 to $5.00.

Sheep—Receipts, 10,000; market steady to 10c lower; native, $2.50 to $3.00; Western, $2.50 to $3.00; yearlings, $4.00 to $4.50; lambs, native, $3.75 to $4.00; Western, $3.75 to $4.00.

Superior, Wis., Dec. 4.—Two hundred men, desperate from hunger and the necessities of life, today fought for work in front of the Stevedore office on Tower avenue.

There were just four jobs open on the docks and 200 men sought them. Three of the tickets had been dealt out when the demand for the remaining one became so clamorous that the agent in charge threw the fourth one into the air above the men's heads.

As it fell the men in the crowd rushed for it, fighting desperately to secure possession.

SOME ASTONISHING 'FACTS' ABOUT ALBUQUERQUE

Californians Discover Population of Fifteen Hundred Here; Temperature 25 Degrees Below Zero.

That Albuquerque has a population of under fifteen hundred; that the winds blow most of the year and that the temperature frequently drops to 25 degrees below zero were a few of the astonishing things discovered by two observing young Californians who recently visited this section of New Mexico. These adventurers also visited Las Cruces and their account of conditions in that enterprising little town is far from flattering. The story of the trip into the wilds of the southwest, as swallowed whole by the innocent editor of the San Diego Herald, reads as follows:

"Mr. Frank Rogers and Mr. Bob Dougherty have returned from Las Cruces, New Mexico, the place where the government is building a mammoth dam. Seven hundred men are on the job. The population of Las Cruces is about 60 percent pure Mexican. The houses are adobe and brick. Americans live in the brick buildings. The rest are Mexican and live in the adobe. The wood is packed out by burros at 25 cents a load. The agriculture is limited and the land is not nearly so productive as the coast country. It is the price that is offered under irrigation, and a 40 per acre perpetual water right, equal to 175 per acre. The hotel rate is $2.50 per day, at the best hotel in the town. A 'dobe structure, with walls about two feet thick.

"Albuquerque, a population of under 1500, mostly of Mexican descent, climate cold and lots of Indians about the place. Old town people are pure Mexican. The streets are narrow and crooked like a cow trail, and not very interesting. Winds blow most of the year, and the temperature is often down to 25 degrees below zero. Messrs. Rogers and Dougherty were glad to get back to the coast, where the people are white and things are growing."

HIGHLAND PEOPLE OBJECT TO NEW CEMETERY

Council Asked to Rescind Action Authorizing Location of Burial Grounds Near Eastern Limits of City.

The action of the city council at a recent meeting in authorizing the location and establishment of a cemetery six blocks south of the terminus of the Highland car line does not meet with the approval of the residents of that section of the city.

The opposition to the proposed burial ground took form last night in a petition strongly protesting against its establishment. The council is asked to reconsider its action in the matter.

matter and its permission until such time as the petitioners can be heard.

The petition, which bears the signatures of 21 property owners, follows:

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council of the City of Albuquerque:

"Whereas, It appears that your honorable body at a recent meeting, has granted the petition of a number of prominent citizens asking permission to establish a cemetery six blocks south of the present terminus of the Highland car line on certain lands extending east from Broadway to the foothills, the northern boundary of which is 2,540 feet south of the present city limits; and

"Whereas, We, the undersigned residents in the immediate vicinity of the proposed cemetery, strongly protest against such location, we most respectfully ask that your honorable body reconsider the matter of said location and give us an opportunity to present our views in regard to the matter."

A dozen or more of the signers of the petition, both women and men, were present in the council chamber, and several of them urged that the council grant the prayer of the petition.

Action on the matter was deferred.

on motion of Alderman Wroth, until it can be ascertained just exactly the location of the property of the petitioners with relation to the proposed cemetery site. It is likely that the petition will be taken up again at the next meeting of the council. The petitioners are thoroughly aroused, and it is said that they are prepared to go into court in the event they fail to secure redress at the hands of the council.

AUTOMOBILE COLLIDES WITH SPEEDING TAXI

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 5.—An automobile in which Governor Joseph M. Carey of Wyoming and Charles A.
