McNAMARAS HAVE CHANGED MINDS ABOUT TELLING EVERYTHING

Severe Grilling Administered By Judge Bordwell in Passing Sentence Has Made Guilty Brothers Defiant.

EVIDENCE WOULD BE
VALUELESS ANYWAY

Federal Prosecutor of Opinion
It Would Not Be Worth While to Take Them Before the Grand Jury.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

Los Angeles, Dec. 6.—Whether or not John J. McNamara and his brother James, now awaiting commitment to San Quentin penitentiary, would tell enough about other persons to make it worth while to take them before a federal grand jury was a question under serious consideration by officials here tonight. Up to a late hour the grand jury subpoenas had not been issued, although Special Prosecutor Lawlor who has been especially assigned to this case by Attorney General Wickham, had a long talk with the two men earlier in the day, while Sheriff William A. Hammill sat by.

Question was raised today as to whether a confessed felon could be allowed to testify before the grand jury and if not, whether the testimony of the McNamaras if given, might invalidate subsequent indictments.

"My personal opinion is that it would not do any good," said Lawlor when asked about it.

"What is the law?" he was asked. "There probably is considerable law on it," he replied.

Attorneys connected with the McNamara case said there was no doubt on the subject and that the only reason for which the McNamaras might not be called would be that it would do no good.

"Any one can testify before a grand jury, state or federal," said Attorney Joseph Scott, off-hand. "However, a convicted felon, after testifying before a grand jury, could not go into court as a witness to substantiate what he had told the grand jury. The business of the grand jury is to get information and the members can get it where and from whom they see fit. The question of the sufficiency of the information on which indictments are returned cannot be raised."

Lawlor had a conference today with Malcolm McLaren, agent of the detective agency which arrested the McNamaras and Orrie E. McManis, at which the free and easy confessions of McManis were considered. McManis probably will appear before the federal grand jury whether the McNamaras do or not.

Men fairly close to the McNamaras said today that there was small chance that James B. McNamara, who received a life sentence, "rubbed in" by a scoring from Judge Walter Bordwell, would talk before the grand jury to an extent that would implicate any one else.

The usual course where grand juries witness refuse to talk, is to go ahead with contempt proceedings, but these would hardly do any good, because a full sentence is of small moment to a man already under sentence for life.

James B. McNamara would have to serve seven years at the very least before he can be paroled, which is a long time away from the present investigation. John J. McNamara on the other hand may be paroled after a year and of course, could be pardoned at any time the governor saw fit to let him go. There is nothing to indicate that a pardon will be sought, but it is a technical possibility.

"The McNamaras are not going to implicate any one," said one of the counsel. "They are not going to appear before the grand jury."

An official of the state also inclined to this view.

Commitments to take the men to the penitentiary are ready.

They were made up in a hurry yesterday, but were not served, because if they had been the brothers would have had to be started north last night. They will both wait until the grand jury problem is settled.

Clerk Monroe of Judge Bordwell's court appeared today before the judge with a big stack of telegrams and letters which have been accumulating since last Friday, when the McNamaras confessed.

"Do you wish to see these, Judge?" he asked.

The court smiled. "No," he said. "You may keep them."

Many of the letters demanded the death penalty for James B. McNamara and some bore signatures of local members of the labor unions.

They were destroyed.

What course the federal grand jury will take when it begins tomorrow its work on the alleged conspiracy to dynamite various buildings throughout the country may be confined to those explosions which have occurred on the Pacific coast, or be believed to have been actuated by residents of coast cities.

Indianapolis authorities, it was pointed out today, could take care of the rest.

A report that Milton A. Schmidt and David Caplan, indicted here for murder in connection with the Times dynamiting, were about to be arrested in the east, aroused great interest.

Washington Welcomes Newcomer.

Except James B. McNamara, himself, Schmidt is said to know more about the Times dynamite than any other man. Schmidt, Caplan and McNamara were together on various dynamite buying expeditions, it is said.

Attorney Joseph Scott, whose re-election to the school board, of which he is now president, was threatened because of his association in the McNamara defense, discovered today that he had been successful, though failing at the bottom of the list of candidates. In the preceding election he had led the ticket.

Three conferences were held today in Judge Bordwell's court chambers. District Attorney Fredericks called twice and late in the day Assistant District Attorney W. Joseph Ford was closeted with the judge for about half an hour.

Ford has charge of the evidence in the case of Burt H. Franklin, arrested for bribery in connection with the McNamara case, and at liberty under $10,000 cash bail. The case comes up next Monday for preliminary hearing before Justice W. P. Young. The only procedure there, it was said, would be to determine whether the evidence warranted holding Franklin to a higher court.

Whether this evidence will involve any one else has not been disclosed.

James B. McNamara had other troubles added to his lot today when he became defendant in a $50,000 damage suit. The suit is brought by Louise M. Sawyer, widow of Robert L. Sawyer, a telephone operator employed by the Los Angeles Times and who was killed in the explosion which wrecked the building October 1, 1910.

The papers in the suit were served on him late today by a deputy sheriff. He received them without comment and stuck them in his pocket. The service makes McNamara what is termed a "John Doe defendant."

The suit originally filed was against the Times-Mirror Publishing Company of which Harrison Gray Otis is president, et al.

The papers served today simply identify James B. McNamara as the "John Doe" mentioned in the indictment.

GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN SHADOWING GOMPERTS

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 6.—That the federal government has been watching closely the movements of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was made known here tonight when United States Attorney Miller told of a secret Washington conference held between the labor head and Prosecutor Baker of this county.

The visit was made about the time the county officials were attempting to prevent the federal authorities from gaining possession of the books and records obtained in a raid at the offices of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, when J. J. McNamara was arrested.

Prosecutor Baker admits that he conferred with Gompers and says he intends to make a second visit next January.

In reply to Mr. Gompers, who said the district attorney was impertinent, Mr. Miller said:

"Mr. Gompers insists that his position is secure and his attitude consistent, but he is very tender and touchy since his 'credulity' was imposed upon by the statements made by the McNamara brothers."

"Because I was quoted as saying that, in my opinion, 'Gompers is an unsafe leader,' he very passionately exclaims that he is not afraid of being prosecuted."

"Mr. Gompers need not necessarily concern himself as to my attitude in attempting to enforce the laws of the United States in this jurisdiction. He can be assured of the fact that in this jurisdiction will not consider it necessary to go to Washington to obtain the (Gompers) views."

"Mr. Gompers and the prosecuting attorney of Marion county, can, if they will, inform the people just what took place at their Washington conference about six weeks ago. A full statement made by these gentlemen may make it necessary for the Marion county prosecutor again to go to Washington to get Gompers' advice as to how the laws of Indiana are not to be enforced.

"Mr. Gompers can be assured that the United States attorney in this jurisdiction will not hesitate to prosecute any man if the facts and the law clearly justify the prosecution."

LABOR LEADERS HOLD CONFERENCE IN WASHINGTON

Washington, Dec. 6.—The McNamara ways and means defense committee, composed of a number of officers of the American Federation of Labor, held an extended conference here today, but failed to reach a decision as to what action they should take or what report they would make in view of the recent developments in Los Angeles.

F. M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, the association of which J. J. McNamara formerly was secretary, refused to make any comment whatever as to what had occurred in the meeting, and Frank A. Morrison, secretary of the federation, declined to give any information.

Preceding the meeting, President Gompers, in whose office the meeting was held, bitterly arraigned W. J. Burns, the detective in the McNamara case, because the latter had been quoted as saying that Mr. Gompers knew the McNamaras were guilty.

"Detective Burns evidently believes," said Mr. Gompers, "that if he repeats a falsehood often enough it may become truth. On no other theory would he repeat the falsehood that I knew the McNamaras were guilty."

CONCRETE EDIFICE COLLAPSES ON WORKMEN

Under Glare of Searchlights
Police and Firemen Search
Ruins of Indianapolis Building
For Victims.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 6.—Under the glare of searchlights, police and firemen tonight searched for the bodies of persons caught in the wreckage of a three-story building which collapsed today, killing seven workmen and injuring 21.

The building was being erected for the Prest-O-Light company, and the contractor believes that owing to the recent cold weather the concrete had not set properly. The dead:

FRED ASHER.
HENRY BARNES.
M. F. HEADLEY.
W. R. McCONNELL.
DAVID ROSE, steamfitter, Columbus, Ohio.

JOHN STRAUGHDER.
JAMES ELVERD.

The building collapsed at the noon lunch hour, when most of the workmen had gone home. Most of those caught in the debris were seated about the structure eating their lunches.

In one instance a priest gave absolution to a man thought to be dying, who a few minutes later was rescued uninjured.

CHINESE THRONE SURRENDERED BY REGENT PRINCE

Empress Dowager Issues Special
Edict Announcing Resignation of Chun and Its Acceptance.

TWO GUARDIANS ARE APPOINTED TO SERVE

Shi Hsu and Hsu Shih Chang
Who Succeed to Power Regarded as Personal Choice of Premier.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Peking, Dec. 6.—An edict announcing the resignation of Regent Prince Chun was issued today by the empress dowager. It is signed by members of the cabinet and points out that the administration has been unpopular and that a constitutional government has not yet been established, explaining this by the fact that complications arose, the people's hearts were broken and the country was thrown into turmoil.

The regent regrets that his resignation came too late and feels that if he continued in power his commands would be disregarded.

"He went and prayed to resign the regency at the same time expressing his earnest intention to obtain from politics. I, the empress dowager, living in the palace, am ignorant of the state of affairs, but know that rebellion exists and fighting continues, causing disaster everywhere, while the commerce of friendly nations suffers. The regent is honest, though ambitious. Being misled he has harmed the people; therefore his resignation is accepted."

The edict demands loyalty to the ministers from the people who "must now realize that the court does not object to the surrender of the power vested in the throne."

The regent has been granted 50,000 taels annually from the imperial household allowance.

As the imperial and revolutionary leaders at Hankow have not yet come to an understanding the armistice has been extended for an additional three days.

The regent sacrificed himself in a last effort to save the throne for his son, but unless all signs fail, it is too late. Premier Yuan Shi Kai has left Peking knowing that he has taken the British minister, Sir John J. Gordon, into his confidence. He has told the minister his plans and hopes much from the minister's mediation.

On the other hand the rebels tonight confidently declare that Yuan Shi Kai is their man. They describe him as a master statesman, because he is accomplishing the transition from the Manchui dynasty to a republic without a massacre or an attack on the legations.

Yuan Shi Kai is now entirely powerless within the limitations of the disrupted government. The rebels say they expect him to manipulate the regiments until the Manchus are no longer capable of disturbing the capital, and then the Shanghai assembly of the representatives of the rebels and the loyal provinces soon to be held will decide in favor of a republic. The premier has promised to abide by the assembly's decision.

The legations of the larger powers are increasing their guards between 200 and 500. Mail advices just arrived from Sian Fu dated from November 14, make brief mention of the attack on foreigners at that place some time previously. The letters say that Philip Manners, the German postal clerk, who has been reported killed, was alive at that time and that W. Henne, district postmaster at Sian Fu, was recovering from injuries. No mention is made of other foreigners having been injured, but there are indications that the rebels have censored the letters.

MANCHU DYNASTY MUST GO ULTIMATUM OF REBELS.

Shanghai, Dec. 6.—The southern revolutionary army apparently are more than ever determined upon effacement of the Manchui administration, even to the child emperor, as the only terms upon which peace can be made. The abdication of the regent is regarded with suspicion, according to revolutionary leaders seen tonight and the dual guardianship is unsatisfactory.

Notwithstanding the peace negotiations at Wu Chang and Shanghai those at the head of the republican movement at a meeting tonight decided to float a loan for war purposes up to 10,000,000 taels.

The bonds will be issued in denominations of 100, 50, 10 and 5, the issue price being 90 per cent of the face value, the average rate of interest being twelve per cent. They are payable in six years by the agent of the new republican bank, which has a capital of 5,000,000 taels at the present time, subscribed entirely by Chinese.

Hope was expressed at the meeting that Americans could be induced to subscribe. One speaker said the United States was the only country to which China looked for sympathetic assistance, because the United States was the only disinterested friend of China's starving and oppressed people.

Arrangements practically have been completed for a meeting of delegates representing the Shanghai republicans and Yuan Shi Kai, to discuss terms of peace. Wu Ting Fang secretary of foreign affairs on the republican side, has been invited to go to Wu Chang to join in the peace negotiations there but has declined. He considers the negotiations at Wu Chang unofficial, as the center of republican government has been transferred to Shanghai, pending the declaration of Nanking as the capital of the republic.

NEW GUARDIANS ARE BOTH NOTED STATESMEN

Washington, Dec. 6.—The abdication of Prince Chun as regent and the substitution of Shi Hsu and Hsu Shih Chang as guardians of the throne, is regarded in official circles here as a substantial victory for Yuan Shi Kai, between whom and the retiring regent there has been much bitter feeling ever since Yuan was dismissed from the court in 1910.

Of the two new regents, Hsu Shih Chang is by far the more interesting personality. He is a distinctly Chinese in birth and training and aspirations, and has been one of Yuan's staunchest advocates, protesting against his dismissal in 1910 and memorializing the throne since then to cause his return to public life.

Chang was born in Chi Li and was grand counselor in 1908 when he was sent to Manchuria on a special mission and afterwards was retained there as viceroy until 1909, when he was made president of the board of communications. In addition he was appointed grand secretary, a very high position, in 1910.

Shi Hsu is one of the old line Manchus and was appointed a grand secretary in 1905 and grand chancellor the following year, since 1908 he has also occupied the office of junior guardian to the heir apparent and in 1909 he was president of the board of foreign affairs.

TWO DECISIONS IN SUPREME COURT

Conviction of Roosevelt County
Man For Second Degree Murder Affirmed; McBee Case is Reversed.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.) Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 6.—In the supreme court today decisions were handed down in two cases. In the case of territory vs. Oscar S. Cheney, convicted of second degree murder in Roosevelt county, the decision of the lower court was affirmed.

In the case of W. D. McBee vs. Pat O'Connell and Mrs. Pat O'Connell, a suit involving the title of some real estate in Curry county, the decision of the lower court was reversed and the case remanded to the Curry county court for rehearing.

Musical Tended Cardinals.

Rome, Dec. 6.—Mgr. Kennedy, the rector, and the students of the American College, gave a musical today in honor of Cardinals Farley and O'Connell. The audience included Cardinal Falconio and many prominent prelates, dignitaries of the papal court and members of the American colony.

Man Asks to be Arrested.

Elgin, Ill., Dec. 6.—"Arrest me, I am a thief," was the request made to Elgin police today by L. M. Amburn, 29 years old, of Waterloo, Ia.

Amburn told the police he had stolen $20 belonging to the Waterloo Tailors' union.

Part of the sum Amburn declared belonged to a Sunday school class, of which his employer was the teacher. He was taken into custody.

WOMEN DEFEATED PROHIBITION IN LOS ANGELES

Besides Swamping Socialist
Ticket, Fair Sex Registered
Disapproval of Drastic "Dry" Ordinance.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Los Angeles, Dec. 6.—Complete returns from 315 out of 317 precincts in yesterday's municipal election, give George Alexander, incumbent candidate of the good government league for mayor $3,975 and Job Harriman, socialist, 52,293.

Two missing precincts are in the suburb of Wilmington. They had a registration of a little over 1,500 and are expected to run about even between Alexander and Harriman.

The entire good government ticket was elected. No socialist candidate for any office came within 25,000 votes of winning.

Of the successful candidates for members of the board of education Joseph Scott, who was allied with counsel for the defense of the McNamaras, finished last. He is now president of the board.

Prohibition was defeated by a vote of 21,591 for and 37,344 against.

Mr. Harriman issued a short statement tonight, declaring the socialists had much encouragement from the vote cast for them and that a meeting of their executive committee would be called within a few days to begin a vigorous campaign for the next state election.

"We were defeated but from this defeat we will rise stronger than ever," declared one socialist leader. "Our next endeavor will be turned toward placing a governor in the state capital at the next election and a legislature that will back him up."

The nearly complete returns show that the socialists fell off in nearly every precinct in the city. In many where they carried the primary, they were scarcely a contender at the election. This is due, leaders of the good government forces declare, to the vote of the women who were not privileged to vote at the primary.

Of the women registered it is claimed 95 percent voted. Of the men registered, about 75 percent voted.

In many precincts the total strength of the women was over 50 percent. The vote was given as a high estimate on the vote of the men registered in any one polling place.

With an automobile for nearly every block in the city, the Women's Progressive league worked hard for the Alexander ticket. It took entire charge of seventy-four precincts and every one of these was carried for Alexander.

On the east side, where Harriman rolled up his largest pluralities in the primary, the women turned two-thirds of the precincts into the Alexander column at the regular election.

The election judges in many polling places reported that the women took up less time in the booths than did the men and did not ask as many questions. The women themselves declare this was the result of the "schools for women voters," established throughout the city.

"I think our showing," said Miss Jeannette Converse, one of the progressive leaders, "refutes completely the assertions of those opposed to suffrage that the women did not wish to vote. They not only wished to vote, but did vote and voted intelligently."

The taxpayers' league which opposed the prohibition amendment, made an especial effort to secure the support of the women voters. That the women played a prominent part in the defeat of the amendment, is not denied. Because of the amendment's drastic provisions, it was pointed out, the women who did not care to be classed as lawbreakers, if they had liquor in their own homes, voted strongly against it.

It was stated by the chairman of the temperance league today that an effort would be made to have a special election called at which a somewhat modified prohibition amendment would be voted upon.

WOMEN AGAINST LUXURIOUS ORDINANCE.

Los Angeles, Dec. 6.—The first real test of women's attitude toward prohibition, came in the prohibition election here when the amendment was defeated by over three to one. The latest available figures give prohibition 29,918 and against 82,111. The fight was waged far and against the adoption of an ordinance drafted by Attorney Nathan Newby, executive commissioner of the Good Government league. This is the first prohibition election in which the women of California have voted since they were granted the franchise. The women's political organizations formed to work for suffrage, and afterward to continue to educate the newly enfranchised women in their duties declared strongly against the prohibition ordinance and worked against it.

RUSSIA ANXIOUS TO GET THROUGH STRAITS

Constantinople, Dec. 6.—In view of the Dardanelles, Russia had expressed a desire to discuss the whole question of opening the straits to British warships. Russia suggests that her ships might be allowed to pass through the Dardanelles singly after notification had been given to Turkey, as agreed in case of ships of volunteer fleets. Turkish officials appear disinclined to agree with this suggestion.

TAF FAR FROM SATISFIED WITH LUNA

DISAPPOINTED WITH
SHOWING IN NEW MEXICO

President Declines to Allow Delegate Andrews to Offer Explanation of Republican Disaster Here.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.) Washington, Dec. 6.—President Taft has let it be known in no uncertain terms that he is far from satisfied with the showing made by the republican party managers in the recent campaign in New Mexico which resulted so disastrously to the party in the new state.

National Committeeman Solomon Luna arrived in Washington yesterday from New Mexico, where he had charge of the campaign. Mr. Luna comes to attend the meeting of the republican national committee, which is to fix the date and place of the next national convention. The gentleman from New Mexico, it is said, at the last meeting of the committee, solemnly assured his fellow members that New Mexico was solidly republican, and he now faces the rather unpleasant task of explaining just how it happened in the recent election that a democrat was elected to congress, a democrat was elected governor by a majority of approximately three thousand, and about one-half of the men on the republican ticket were defeated.

In company with Delegate Andrews, Mr. Luna called on the president this morning. Mr. Andrews was inclined to enter into an explanation of the party reverses in New Mexico, but the president was not disposed to hear any explanations, but said he might find time later in the week to hear the delegate's version of conditions in New Mexico. It is understood that the president indicated in no uncertain language that he believes a change in party management is necessary if the republican party is to succeed next year in carrying the new state for the republican ticket.

Delegate Andrews and National Committeeman Luna, before leaving the White House, left with the president recommendations for the appointment of Judge W. H. Pope as United States district judge for the district of New Mexico, and Stephen B. Davis, Jr., as United States district attorney. It is said that the republican organization in New Mexico is of the opinion that the admission of the state will vacate all federal offices in the state down to third class postmasters, and Messrs. Luna and Andrews have come to Washington prepared to recommend men for every position which will have to be filled by the president. It is not known that the president shares this view, but the opinion is general that the present federal officials in New Mexico will be allowed to serve out their terms. The office of federal judge, for which Judge Pope is recommended, is a new position not in existence under the territory, while that of district attorney has been vacated by the election of the present incumbent, D. J. Leahy as a district judge under the state government. Stephen B. Davis, who is recommended for district attorney is at present assistant United States district attorney, while Judge Pope is at present chief justice of the New Mexico territorial supreme court.

MIXTURE OF GASOLINE AND COAL OIL DEADLY

Tucker, Utah, Dec. 6.—Whatever the citizens of Tucker may think of the oil trust, their trust in oil has been badly insured since last night when a half dozen lamps in various parts of town exploded. The residence of C. W. Butterfield took fire from his lamp and Mrs. Butterfield narrowly escaped cremation. A staid old family lamp at the home of E. B. Nason, the local dealer in oil, joined in the fireworks when Mr. Nason touched a match to it. He set an example for other investigators by demonstrating within fifteen minutes that a fifty gallon tank shipped to him as coal oil, contained a large percentage of gasoline.

REYES IS DODGING RANGERS AND RURALES

Alleged Instigator of New Revolution in Mexico Manages to Evade Capture; Madero Not Alarmed.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Mexico City, Dec. 6.—Somewhere between Roma, a little town in Texas, on the Rio Grande and Brownsville, opposite Matamoros, on the Mexican side, at the mouth of the river, General Bernardo Reyes is dodging the Texas rangers and Mexican rurales, if information sent to the national palace is correct. What the General's plans are is a matter of conjecture.

The government has been informed by its secret agents that Reyes has crossed the border. President Madero said Reyes had appeared at Madero, a small town opposite Roma, and that later reports indicated he was moving towards the Gulf, either on the American side or on the Mexican side of the river.

Minister of the Interior, Abram Gonzalez expressed the opinion that Reyes was trying to get to the coast to board a steamer that would transfer him to one going to Europe. President Madero declared that the government has absolute proof that Reyes is planning a revolution. He expressed confidence, however, that could get started.

"The revolution in Yucatan," said Madero, "is without doubt the work of Reyes. The uprisings in Durango also were instigated by Reyes. We have sent additional troops to the south and the army soon will have the situation under control."

Today there were a few developments in the Yucatan rebellion. Reports from the south indicated an increased number of points of insurrection and continuation of hostilities. The government has taken possession of the town of Xicocentlat.

Government officials, however, do not consider Reyes is counting upon the immediate support of Acosta. Most of them regard it as more probable that Reyes will cross the narrow strip of Tamaulipas territory, separating Texas from the state of Nuevo Leon and there attempt to rally the nucleus of his rebel army. He was the Governor of the state of Nuevo Leon for a number of years.

JOHN LEE CLARKE INVENTS USEFUL DEVICE

Patents Invention For Holding Heads On Tools; Has Already Been Offered Eighty-Five Hundred Dollars For It.

John Lee Clarke, of this city, has just perfected a device for holding the heads on such tools as hammer, pick, mallet, axe, and the like. He has had the device patented.

The name of the invention is "attaching wedge." It keeps the head from slipping off when once affixed to the handle of the tool. When once on there is no way to get the head off the handle except by sawing it off and driving the stub through the other side.

The patent has been granted upon the principle of the resilience in the wedge. The ingenious instrument is made of two pieces of steel clamped together and having small springs inside. When placed in the head of the tool, the shrinking of the wood causes the springs to expand and the head stays on.

Mr. Clarke already has been offered $8,500 for his patent, but has refused the offer, preferring to exploit the device himself.

ABROGATION OF TREATY WITH RUSSIA IS DEMANDED

Men of National Prominence Agreed That Time Has Arrived For United States to Take Drastic Action.

REFUSAL TO HONOR PASSPORTS AN INSULT

Representative Sulzer of New York Declares Czar's Government Has Acted Boldly and Shamefully.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

New York, Dec. 6.—Abrogation of the treaty of friendly relations between the United States and Russia, made in 1822, was urged in speeches delivered by a dozen or more men of national prominence and in resolutions adopted at a large mass meeting held in Carnegie hall tonight.

The meeting was under the auspices of the national citizens' committee, which plans a series of similar demonstrations throughout the country during the next month in protest against discrimination by Russia in her refusal to honor the passports of Jewish-American citizens.

As a means to break the long deadlock in diplomacy over the passport question, most of the speakers tonight advocated the immediate notice to Russia of the abrogation of the treaty, the terms of which they declared, have been violated by Russia.

Andrew D. White, former United States ambassador to Russia, was chairman of the meeting, and in his address dwelt on the relations of the United States and Russia. He was one of but few speakers who strongly urged that Russia be invited to arbitrate the question at The Hague before a movement was made to abrogate the treaty.

He said Russia was a nation of great pride and that peremptory demands would lead to indignation and reprisals, regardless of all justice.

Mr. White characterized the suggestion of war as altogether foolish.

"The two nations cannot reach each other at any vulnerable point," he said. "It would be like an elephant trying to fight a whale."

Preceding the adoption of the resolutions, speeches were made by senators, by the speaker of the house of representatives, by the head of Cornell university and by others. Conspicuous points in many speeches were made.

Speaker Champ Clark said the conduct of Russia has created universal horror and protest. "There seems nothing left for us to do except to abrogate this treaty."

William H. Hearst: "In the protection of its citizens, in the maintenance of its own self-respect, in the defense of its own honor, let the United States assert its dignity, and, if necessary, employ its power."

Representative William Sulzer, of New York: "There can be no arbitration, no delay. Russia has acted boldly and shamefully."

Governor Harrison, of Ohio, sent a letter of regret, in which he endorsed the spirit of the meeting.

The speech of Congressman Sulzer was especially forceful. He said, in part:

"The treaty with Russia says American citizens are entitled to the same rights in Russia that Russian citizens are accorded here. If these rights are not granted them then the treaty is violated. Russia does not deny that she discriminates against certain classes of our citizens, and when complaint is made, figuratively speaking, she shrugs her shoulders and asks: 'What are you going to do about it?'"

"We have carefully lived up to our treaty obligations with Russia. Every Russian coming to this country has been granted all the rights stipulated in the treaty, irrespective of race or religion. This is our conception of the treaty of 1822."

"What are we going to do about it? Our answer is: Abrogate the treaty."

"This is not a Jewish question. It is an American question. It involves a great principle. It affects the rights of all American citizens. Russia not only refuses to recognize American passports held by Jews on account of their race, but she also refuses to recognize American passports held by Baptist missionaries, Catholic priests, Presbyterian divines and others on account of their religious belief."

"Ridiculous the movement, which has crystallized under the auspices of the national citizens' committee, are the big men of every race working as brothers in common interest."

"The Russian treaty must be abrogated ere the adjournment of this session of congress. The people are aroused as they never have been before over the question, and the time for action has come."

"There can be no arbitration, no delay; the matter must be settled once for all time, and a new treaty arranged in which Russia can find no loophole to enable her to discriminate against any class of American citizens."

"We are a patient and long-suffering people, where the question involved does not touch us on our tenderest spot—our pocketbooks; but the awakening has come, and with it a keen realization of the affronts we have suffered at the hands of a government notorious for its lack of human sympathy."

"Freedom of religious belief is one of the cornerstones of our institutions, and the fathers wrote in the federal constitution, that congress shall make no law respecting the establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof. We must maintain this great principle inviolate forever. 'Not the religion, nor the race of a person, but his American citizenship is the true test of the treatment he shall receive, and the rights he shall enjoy, at home and abroad. This is fundamental. We must adhere to it tenaciously.'

"Russia's affront to us has not been unintentional; she has gone about it boldly, deliberately and shamelessly, breaking her given word, ignoring the fundamental principles which mark the relationship between nations at peace with one another."

"Diplomatic attempts from time to time have failed to secure from the czar's government even a promise that it would try to give as less cause for complaint. By her inaction Russia has openly refused to give the matter any consideration, confident that America's financial interest in her country would prevent us from taking any radical step."

"I am in this fight for justice to all to the end, and I shall make every effort to pass my resolution to abrogate the Russian treaty. I have every reason to believe that it will speedily be enacted into law. To that end, however, every true American must lend such aid as he can."

guilty. I have repeatedly emphasized the fact that I had every reason to believe the McNamaras were innocent. I had their assurance that they were innocent, and no one was more so-founded than I when I learned of their guilt."

Letters were sent out today from the headquarters of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers in this city to the members of the executive board in various cities, asking them to express their opinions as to whether it is advisable for the board to meet at this time to consider the effect of the outcome of the McNamara cases at Los Angeles and the official attitude of the association.

H. S. Hockin, temporary secretary, said he was acting under instructions of President Ryan. The expense of the board members assembling in this city was the principal consideration in the question, he said.

"If a meeting is called, it probably will be held in the middle of next week," he added.

It was said today at the office of the United States district attorney that the week from December 14 to 22 would be devoted by the grand jury to an investigation as to whether the association was concerned with the McNamaras in the unlawful transportation of explosives and that the inquiry might extend through January. The result of the examination of records and correspondence of the Iron Workers' association has been compiled in convenient form for the grand jurors' inspection.

NEW YORK LABOR LEADERS DISCUSS CASE

New York, Dec. 6.—At a meeting of labor leaders today in an endeavor to settle a dispute between the metal workers and carpenters and joiners, there was much informal discussion of the McNamara confessions and their effect upon unionism.

While it could not be ascertained whether the matter was brought up in the meeting, there was much talk of it outside.

One leader was quoted as saying that if the attempt to settle all strikes were successful, "labor would have a chance to offset the present cry against unionism."

Not only did the leaders seem to want to settle all existing labor troubles, but it was suggested in the informal talks that if all warring labor unions could hold a peace conference and perhaps settle their difficulties in an amicable way a world of good might result.

One of those who took part in the sessions today expressed his belief that the matter would be finally settled when Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, returns here tomorrow or next day to take part in the conference.

RECOMMENDS EXPULSION OF IRON WORKERS' UNION

Atholton, Kan., Dec. 6.—Expulsion of the structural iron and bridge workers' union from the American Federation of Labor if further investigations show the officials have knowledge of the dynamitings of the McNamaras is recommended in a resolution adopted by the Atholton Trades and Labor council here today.

The resolutions urge the California and federal authorities to bring all persons guilty of unlawful acts under the guise of unionism to justice, "no matter how high up they may be in the councils of organized labor."

NEWLANDS FRAMES LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM

NEVADA SENATOR TO INTRODUCE RESOLUTION

He Will Present It to Senate Today and Later Address That Body On Subject; Congress in Full Swing.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Washington, Dec. 6.—A resolution outlining a legislative program for the regular session of congress will be introduced tomorrow by Senator Newlands of Nevada, who announced today that he would later address the senate on the subject. He will take up the duties on wool, cotton and steel and enlarge on the free list bill. His plan also deals with the corporation tax, congressional provision for railroad valuation, banking reform, conservation of natural resources, construction of auxiliary ships and reduction of annual army and navy expenditures to $200,000,000.

The decision of the house committee on expenditures in the interior department to drop the Controller Bay investigation, produced a break in the committee at an executive session today. Republican members who insist that the investigation continue until all sides have been heard, probably will continue the fight on the floor of the house.

It is understood a formal demand will be made upon Chairman Graham by republican members of his committee to re-open these hearings and to call Miss M. F. Abbott, who claimed to have found the famous "Dick-to-Dick" letter, and government officials and employees who may give testimony regarding the Alaskan situation.

It is expected the democratic members will shortly formulate a report to be made to the house. The republican members will join in a minority report.

Scores of congressmen who applied to the sergeant at arms of the house today for their mileage were turned away empty handed, and when they appealed to the appropriations committee for information they were informed they could not "eat their cake and have it too."

All the appropriation for mileage, which averages about $150,000 for a session, was exhausted at the summer special session of congress. A deficiency bill will have to be passed before any mileage is obtainable.

A scheme to link some of the tariff schedules already passed at the extra session of congress, but vetoed by the president, into one omnibus tariff bill has been discussed by some of the leaders in congress, but it was insisted today that the system of revising schedule by schedule would be carried out. It was stated that no report from the tariff board to the way and means committee would be made before the middle of January.

BOARD OF APPEALS ANNOUNCES RULINGS

Chicago, Dec. 6.—The board of appeals of the American Trotting association concluded a two day session here tonight after ruling on 116 disputed cases, expelling officials of the Lansing, Mich., driving club and suspending officials of the Milwaukee, Wis., racing association. The Lansing officials were expelled for wilful suppression of time.

The Milwaukee officials were suspended until all unpaid premiums for its meeting of 1911 are paid or satisfactory settlement made.

Among the many cases decided were the following: The Tekamah, Neb., case, in which a demand for identification of horses and protested winnings were made against W. C. Ramsey, Greeley, Colo.; J. H. Titter, Greeley, and the bay horse "Laramie Lad," bay gelding "Billy H.," black mare "Helen Whitman," and the bay gelding "Orange Hall," was decided in favor of the plaintiffs. In this case the board ordered:

"That protest be sustained and the winnings of Billy H. be re-distributed under the rules, as the horse was ineligible to start at Tekamah and West Point, Neb., on account of the suspension of driver and nominator, W. C. Ramsey. There is no showing of fraud against J. H. Titter."

Spalding New Yale Captain.

Klaus and Dillon Draw.
Pittsburg, Dec. 6.—Frank Klaus of East Pittsburg and Jack Dillon of Indianapolis, middleweights, fought six rounds to a draw here tonight. It was a scientific fight throughout and neither man scored a knockdown or was in distress at any time.

'NO ORDINANCE TO REGULATE ROOMING HOUSE EVIL IN CITY.
The case against Pete Parenti, proprietor of the Annex rooming house on First street, was dismissed yesterday afternoon for want of a city ordinance covering the case.

Parenti was arrested Monday night for having a number of women staying in his place who were not registered. Under the circumstances it was impossible to charge him with keeping a disorderly house, as all the factors of the offense were not present.

An investigation, however, showed that there is no ordinance in the city covering keeping women in a rooming house without registering them, and it is understood that an ordinance to meet this need will be presented at the next meeting of the city council.

KNOCKOUT BROWN GOES THROUGH ON WAY TO COAST

George (Knockout) Brown, the Greek pugilist of Chicago, passed through the city yesterday morning on his way to the Pacific coast, where he expects to take on a number of fast men and enhance his chances of capturing the middleweight championship of the world, so lately relinquished by Billy Papke, the Illinois Thunderbolt.

The first fight he expects to engage in will be with Fitts Harland on December 29. On New Year's day he will meet Frank Klaus, another claimant for the title, and one of the toughest customers in the ring today. "If I defeat Klaus I will claim the middleweight championship and will defend it against all comers," said Brown yesterday.

NEW SECRETARY FOR NATIONAL LEAGUE

New York, Dec. 6.—In a letter made public tonight John T. Brush, president of the New York Nationals, announced that Joseph D. O'Brien of Milwaukee has been engaged for the position of secretary of the New York club in succession to William Gray.

Mr. Gray, it is understood, will sever his relations with the club after the National league meeting next week. Speaking of Mr. Gray, Mr. Brush says:

"Mr. Gray has performed the duties assigned him during the last year in a thoroughly satisfactory manner, and he has been found conscientious, painstaking and competent. It would be almost impossible and unexpected that he should master the intricacies of baseball procedure in the brief space of time he has been connected with the national game, and is because of the fact that it has been necessary to secure one who is in full touch with the baseball game throughout its many ramifications."

HESSELDEN CHOSEN CAPTAIN OF HIGH SCHOOL ELEVEN

At a meeting of the members of the high school football team held yesterday afternoon at the high school, Lewis Hesselnden, star halfback of the team, was elected captain for the season of 1912, succeeding William Zulcom, who will probably graduate this year.

The outlook for a winning team next year is good, as only a few of the present members will leave school. The experience of the men who will remain with the team in the games that have been played this year will be invaluable.

The high school athletic association elected Lewis Hesselnden manager of the boys' basketball team, and Harry Frank manager of the girls' team, at a meeting yesterday. This gives each team the services of two students who have had experience in athletics and in the management, assuring a successful season for the two teams.

STRICT ADHERENCE TO CONFERENCE RULES

Faculty Council of University of Minnesota Act in Case of Captain Earl Pickering of Football Team.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Minneapolis, Dec. 6.—Strict compliance with the conference rules even if it means the suspension or expulsion of the offender, is promised by the faculty council of the University of Minnesota, as a result of a meeting tonight to discuss the case of Earl Pickering, captain of the 1911 football team, barred from the team on the charge of professionalism.

Pickering had been accused of playing professional baseball with a Milwaukee (S. D.) team. "To discipline Mr. Pickering, further than to give publicity to this statement," says the council, "would be to make him the only culprit in a situation for which the responsibility is widely distributed."

"It is the unanimous conviction of the council, however, from now on that the rules must be aggressively enforced and that hereafter students who are guilty of deceit and dishonesty must be dealt with rigorously, even to the extent of suspension or expulsion."

PEONAGE PREVAILS IN BEET FIELDS OF COLORADO

Startling Assertion Made Before House Sugar Trust Investigating Committee By Resident of That Section.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Washington, Dec. 6.—Depicting conditions in the sugar beet fields of Colorado as approximating peonage, James Bodkin of Meade, Colo., today told the "sugar trust" investigating committee of the house that the derelicts recruited from the slums were kept in a condition of bondage.

Mr. Bodkin described a system of contract labor in the Colorado fields and detailed the hardships he charged were inflicted on working people recruited by the Great Western Sugar company. He said that a foreigner, his wife and several children, ranging from eight years upwards, went in from ten to sixteen hours a day at "back-breaking work" which an American would scorn to do.

With shrewd farm logic, Mr. Bodkin expressed his contempt for the "city claps" who were sent by the sugar company to oversee its operations. He also criticized the newspapers in his section of the country.

The committee took great interest in his description of the slum labor. Democrats, led by Representative Baker of California, sought to show by the witness that the tariff levied in the name of American labor did not reach down to the Russian and Hindoo who worked in the Colorado beet fields.

The republican representatives emphasized the point that Americans would not descend to the labor.

"How much does a woman earn in the field?" asked Mr. Bodkin.

"I don't know," answered the witness. "She is a better worker than the man—he's generally the boss—the women and the children do the work."

Mr. Bodkin expressed the belief of the committee of farmers, of which he is a member, that the sugar company was not paying a fair price for beets. He said his crop paid him about $5.75 a ton. The profit on an acre was small, he said.

He had asked the sugar company for a dollar more on the ton and was refused.

"If the tariff is of any benefit, the sugar company gets it," said the witness.

Mr. Bodkin told the committee that the farmers could not learn how much sugar was in their beets. He cast doubt upon the accuracy of the polariscope tests of the sugar company, but acknowledged he had no proof of their inaccuracy.

ROBBERS HOLD UP SALT LAKE SALOON

Salt Lake City, Dec. 6.—Two robbers held up the occupants of the Maxson barroom tonight. The robber at the register threw a lever which locked the machine. He then took a valuable diamond stud from the shirt front of the bartender.

The night clerk in the office of the hotel, which is at Fourth South and State streets, fired two shots from the sidewalk to attract the police, who arrived after the hold-ups had slipped out of the back door of the saloon.

FILES ALIENATION SUIT FOR $50,000

Fort Collins, Colo., Dec. 6.—Fred M. Wright, manager of the Independent sugar factory at Monte Vista and formerly manager of the plant of the Great Western sugar factory, was sued today by J. D. Williams, formerly manager of the Great Western sugar company's farm here, for $50,000 for alleged alienation of Mrs. Williams' affections. The complaint gives no details. Mrs. Williams left her suddenly last February for California.

NEW MEXICO WILL MAKE BID FOR HIGHWAY

Good Roads Association Stands Ready to Co-Operate With Government in Building of National Pike.

That the Territorial Good Roads association is ready to do its utmost in co-operating with the national government in the building of the Grant national highway through New Mexico and Arizona, as suggested by the members of the Albuquerque Commercial club, following the passage of the Cullum bill, which provides for seven great interstate national highways, one of which is to go to Los Angeles; and that New Mexico also stands ready to do its share in establishing the Arizona-New Mexico road, now being authorized, was the information brought to this city yesterday by Territorial Engineer C. D. Miller, who was here conferring with prominent local citizens about the Camino Real and the local road-building situation.

"In common with the citizens of Albuquerque, the Territorial Good Roads association is very anxious to see these highways built, and we also are much in favor of having the one to Los Angeles come this way," said Mr. Miller yesterday. "In order to do this I am at present conducting a campaign with the various counties in order that all the roads leading away from the national highway in New Mexico shall be of such a nature as to reflect credit upon this section."

"The largest task we have before us, however, is the construction of the Camino Real. There is so great a distance of road to be constructed and so little to do it with that oftentimes we are confronted with what seem to be almost insurmountable obstacles."

"I am glad to report that the survey of the Camino Real south of Albuquerque has been completed from Socorro north to the Bernillo county line, and as soon as the convicts can be brought from the south, where they are temporarily employed, they will be put to work on this road. Socorro county and Valencia county have made a special levy for the construction of the road, and I am anxious that Bernillo county do its share, as I understand there is money in the treasury available for that purpose. What I want to know is just what Bernillo county is going to do, and where they want the road to join the other portions of the Camino Real."

"I expect to leave in a few days for Phoenix, where I am to confer with the Arizona authorities about the new interstate road. I am anxious to find out what Arizona is going to do, and where they expect to end their road. I am in favor of making this road of use to the country people and not run it in such a direction that they will get a minimum use out of it. Scenic roads are all right and have their place, but there are other things to think about besides that in building a road. There will, however, be a number of scenic sections to any road that can be put in. In this we are fortunate, because almost any route that can be devised has a great number of scenic advantages, so that both the utilitarian and scenic advantages can be made use of."

The Lion and the Mouse.
Probably no play has ever produced in America in the last fifty years that has created the profound interest as has Charles Klein's drama, "The Lion and the Mouse." It deals with politics and high finance and has in a measure set in motion many investigations in this country. The play will have a long life in America.

COLD STORAGE TO BLAME FOR HIGH COST OF LIVING

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson in Annual Report Recommends Publicity For Amount of Food Thus Held.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Washington, Dec. 6.—"The consumer pays a dollar for food; the farmer gets less than fifty cents of it. Who gets the rest?"

That is a question which Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture asked today in his annual report. The secretary does not attempt to answer it. He does explain in some detail the results of an investigation his department has just concluded into the effect of cold storage on the wholesomeness and cost of food. His investigation leads him to recommend publicity for the amount of food now in cold storage, just as the department now gives publicity to the condition of crops from month to month.

Instead of food remaining in storage for longer than a year or two years, as a rule, the secretary declares that his investigation showed that "receipts into cold storage are entirely or very nearly exhausted by the deliveries out of cold storage within ten months."

Long storage is the exception, the secretary asserts. Warehousemen claim that the department that excessively long storage was due to law suits and other circumstances of an uncommercial nature. The cost of storage, including storage charge, interest and insurance, is considered as a barrier to very long storage.

Cold storage, the secretary reports, has raised the cost of living by increasing the annual price level for butter and eggs.

The secretary says that an examination of the record of prices gives a "suspicion" that there has been much speculation in some years by the men who keep commodities in cold storage.

He refers to "an apparent mistake" of the storage men in overestimating the consumption of eggs by the public at exorbitant prices last winter with the result that in the spring the storage men had to sell eggs at remarkably low prices and send abroad the largest amount of eggs ever exported in order to get rid of the supply.

The secretary declares that the warehousemen ought to be required to send to Washington each month the amount of commodities placed in cold storage so that the public may be able to judge of the future trend of prices.

A great variety of subjects are dealt with by the secretary in the report. He says that the day is not far distant when the United States will cease to import potatoes. Florida, Kentucky, Tennessee and Idaho are mentioned as depositories.

Recommendation is made that all government agencies that conserve public health should be grouped together in one bureau.

The success of the department in the southern states, through object lessons in the fields, is pronounced to have been such as to justify the extension of the work to all states.

Secretary's Report Summarized.
Secretary Wilson sums up his report in the following brief comments:

When the cattle-fever tick is destroyed in the southern states the country will get much more meat from that section, and the producing of it will build up the farms there.

The hog-cholera serum developed in this department is successful where it is properly made and applied.

Would it be asking too much for our universities to have them educate more plant pathologists and road engineers?

Every country in the world that has discussed plants that can not be sold at home can ship them to us. This results in great loss. The chestnut disease here is an illustration.

After years of experimentation we find we can grow Egyptian cotton in southern California and bulbs in the state of Washington.

The finest dates from the Sahara desert succeed in our southwest. No seed is sent out from this department without being tested for germination condition.

The schools want more of our publications than we have to give them. Seven hundred and fifty million dollars is the best estimate for poultry products this year.

The day is not far distant when we will cease to import potatoes. A serious pest in the south is the crayfish; carbon bisulphide is a sure remedy.

We are sending explorers to the ends of the earth for new plants—and getting them.

The phosphates are abundant in our country for all possible uses. Florida, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Idaho may be mentioned as depositories.

If good roads from the producer to the consumer were general, the benefits to both would be considerable.

When a foreign insect invades our scientists seek its enemy where it came from. The natural enemy of the boll weevil was an ant that could not endure our winters, but the native ant is getting busy.

The experiment stations of several states are doing better work each succeeding year, the scientists are maturing, and the people are appreciating. The object lesson in agriculture is the best teacher; we have had 60,000 of them at work last year.

Six hundred thousand short tons of beet sugar were made last year in 67 factories. There is an estimated world's shortage of 1,600,000 long tons of sugar this year.

The consumer pays a dollar for food; the farmer gets less than fifty cents for it. Who gets the rest?

All government agencies that conserve public health should be grouped together in one bureau.

The department of agriculture has had success in the southern states through object lessons in the fields, where the best southern farmers in their counties were the instructors. This method should be organized in all

Plot company and other owners of land lying west of the section line upon which the county commissioners were to have built a road leading from Deming to Columbus. This injunction was asked for the purpose of getting the road built upon section lines and to prevent the using of the old Deming, Sierra Madre and Pacific grade, which runs upon private property due south from the foot of Spruce street to the "C. C. C." ranch. Those parties who are interested in this injunction do not desire to have their property cut into by a public road, and if it is built upon section lines this will be eliminated. The sum of 4,500 has been raised and appropriated by the territory, county and private subscription to build this proposed county road. When the road was first talked of it was, and is now, the intention of the county commissioners to use the old grade for a distance of about four miles south of town. By so using the old grade it would save a great expense. This grade was made in 1858 and has been used for 20 years as a public road. The case will be called in a few days before Judge Parker at Las Cruces, and it is for him to decide whether or not the county shall be enjoined from using the old grade as a county road.

Trail of Outlaws Is Lost.
John Real, of the territorial mounted police force, has returned from Santa Fe. Mr. Real, in company with Ranger Putman, of Engle, have been out in Socorro county trailing the two outlaws, John Gates and "Young" Greer. They took up the trail at the adobe house where the recent fight occurred and trailed them in a northerly direction for several days. They were on the right trail and found where one of the outlaws, John Gates, ate dinner. They lost the trail in the neighborhood of Hermosa. The outlaws were still afoot when last heard of.

Wounded Men Will Recover.
Jose Mallanilla, who received a bullet in the heel Sunday when he was arrested south of Columbus, had his wound dressed by Drs. Swape and Barbee. The operation did not require that the foot be amputated. He is resting easy. Jose Orocco, who received a severe cut in the abdomen in the fight Sunday morning, is expected to recover.

FIREMEN'S GRAND LODGE IS INVITED TO ALBUQUERQUE

City Council, Commercial Club and Members of Local Branch of B. of L. F. and E. Interested in Meeting.

The movement to secure for Albuquerque the next annual convention of the Grand Lodge of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, took form last night at a meeting in the Commercial club. It was decided to at once appoint a committee to start a campaign of the city for the purpose of securing the $2,000 which is necessary before the convention can be invited here. Mr. C. V. Cushman has been appointed treasurer.

The importance of the convention, if it can be secured for Albuquerque, cannot be overestimated, and it will undoubtedly be the greatest gathering ever held here with the single exception of the National Irrigation congress. There are some eight hundred lodges of the firemen's order with an aggregate membership of over eighty thousand men, besides a ladies auxiliary with a large membership. The order is one of the most prosperous in the United States and its conventions are usually attended by at least two thousand delegates. In addition to these, invitations are extended to the various other railroad orders to send fraternal delegates, and at the conventions the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors are generally well represented.

It is proposed, in the event the convention is secured, to hold an aviation meet and otherwise provide for the entertainment of the host of visitors. The social side of the convention is not to be neglected, and every effort will be made to make this feature one of the most brilliant in the history of the southwest. An excursion to the Grand Canyon at the conclusion of the business session will be one of the attractions offered the visitors.

It was decided at the meeting last night to at once send out invitations accompanied by literature descriptive of Albuquerque, to at least three of the officers of each of the 508 lodges of the order throughout the United States and Canada, and these men will receive a personal letter from the chairman of the committee, as will also the ladies of the Women's auxiliary.

Those who took part in the gathering at the Commercial club last night were: Messrs. Culver, McLaughlin, Odell, Roberts and Graham, representing the local lodge of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers; Messrs. Hubbs, Schutt, Hanley, Goodell and Loken, representing the Commercial club, and Aldermen Isherwood, Cook and Amze, representing the city.

The greatest enthusiasm was manifested at the meeting, the members of the firemen's order being particularly confident that by a united effort this great convention can be secured for the city of Albuquerque, while the members of the Commercial club and of the city council were equally confident that the visitors can be properly entertained and cared for in the event they decide to come here for their annual session.

YOUNG MAN DENIES GIRL'S CHARGE THAT HE SEDUCED HER

Justice Romero, of Precinct 13, Old Albuquerque, heard yesterday afternoon the case against Frank Ruiz, charged with seduction. The charges were made against the young man by Luisa Quintana, who alleged that on May 13, 1909, he promised to marry her, and under that promise seduced her. Since which time he has refused to have anything to do with her.

The arrest in the case was made on December 2, and the final judgment of the court will be announced this afternoon at 2 o'clock. In the meantime the defendant is out on a $200 bond.

Ruiz yesterday afternoon denied that he had had anything whatever to do with the girl at any time. He denied that he had promised to marry her, or had used that as a means of accomplishing her downfall.

Acute Situation Relieved.

Savannah, Ga., Dec. 6.—Anxiety regarding the result of the movement of the Veterans' association for the removal from public office of all persons formerly hostile to the cause of independence, which this morning reached an acute stage, was greatly relieved tonight by the passage by the house of a bill suspending the civil service for six months. This suspension empowers the president summarily to dismiss objectionable officers. The passage of the bill in the senate is assured.

HOLT ELECTED IN DONA ANA BY TWO VOTES

CANVASSING BOARD MAKES GOOD PROGRESS

Colfax, Curry and Dona Ana Completed at Yesterday's Session; Democratic Gains Still Continue.

Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 6.—With the completion of the canvass of the vote in Dona Ana county, the official canvassing board completed its sessions today. No changes were made in this county and the result stands the same as shown in the unofficial returns, showing the election of Herbert B. Holt, republican, for the state senate, by a majority of two votes. The democratic attorneys noted an exception to the ruling of the board because of a discrepancy between the tally sheet and the certificate as returned by the judges of Santa Ana precinct. The board, by a 10-9 vote, accepted the tally sheet.

The canvass of the Colfax county returns was completed at the morning session. In this county the democratic candidates show a gain of 14 votes over the unofficial figures. The total county taken up was Curry in which the official canvass showed the unofficial figures to be absolutely correct.

So far as completed the official canvass shows a gain for the democratic candidates on the state ticket of 66 votes. This ratio of democratic gain, if continued, means the election of at least two democratic members of the supreme court. It insures the election of the democratic candidate, Alvan N. White for superintendent of public instruction, and probably a number of other candidates on this ticket.

This morning the related ballot boxes were received from Rio Arriba and Taos counties, so that nothing now stands in the way of the completion of the work of the board, which it is expected, will require a little more than a week.

The board is giving out no totals and all information and figures come from persons who are watching the count, among whom are quite a number of anxious candidates. It is the intention of the board to withhold all official information as its labors until the work is completed for the reason that the giving out of the figures at this time might prove confusing as changes may have to be made when the attorneys representing the different parties make their arguments on the points in dispute which come up from time to time. No time is wasted in argument during the progress of the count, the attorneys merely noting exceptions as the causes arise.

UNIFORM SCALE OF WAGES DESIRED BY MINERS

Operators of East and Middle-West Asked to Attend Conference in Chicago On December 14.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Cleveland, O., Dec. 6.—Ohio coal operators today discussed plans for an alliance with other powerful coal producing interests.

It is said the operators expect demands for higher wages from the mine workers and apprehend trouble next spring unless the demands are granted.

The meeting was held behind closed doors, but it is said the operators considered an invitation by J. P. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America for the operators of many states to forget old differences and gather in Chicago on December 14, to draw up an interstate wage scale. Such a scale was in force until 1906 when operators of Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Pennsylvania could not reach an agreement for its continuance.

The Ohio wage agreement expires March 1. Operators maintain that the Ohio workers are well paid in comparison with those in other states, but it is said that the workmen will insist on an increase.

LABOR CHIEF INVITES OPERATORS TO CONFERENCE.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 6.—John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America today issued a call for a conference of operators in the central competitive field, comprising Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and western Pennsylvania, to be held in Chicago on December 14. President White believes the wage scale should be uniform in a competitive district and will ask the operators to co-operate in securing such a scale when new contracts are made April 1. Wage scales have been uniform in the district since 1907.

ARMY OFFICER CAST OFF PORTUGUESE WIFE

New York, Dec. 6.—Decision was reserved in the supreme court of Brooklyn today in a suit for separation brought by Marie F. Taylor, a Portuguese, against Capt. H. A. Taylor, U. S. A. The captain is stationed at Fort Morgan, Ala.

Mrs. Taylor says she married the captain in July, 1908, while he was stationed at Fort Slocum. Soon after the ceremony she says, he told her she "did not have education enough" and suggested that she return to her former home in the Azores for a little schooling. She complied and stayed there ten months. The captain, in his defense, says that for a payment of $750 the plaintiff agreed to release him from all obligations.

FASHIONABLE FLAT BURNS; THREE PERISH

Philadelphia, Dec. 6.—Three persons were burned to death or suffocated tonight in a fire which destroyed the fashionable Marie apartment house at Sixteenth street, near Spruce street. Those who lost their lives were Samuel Halford, his wife and their 9-year-old daughter. The bodies were found on the fourth floor of the apartment house, where they had rooms.

Plunges 375 Feet to Death.

IT IS NOT ALWAYS WHAT YOU EAT THAT FORMS GAS IN YOUR STOMACH

It's the Nerves of Your Stomach That Produces the Gas.

Haven't you found that many times when you have eaten the most indigestible food you have no gas at all, and other times even a glass of water and toast will almost kill you with gas in your stomach? Well, that shows it's not dyspepsia—no, purely a nervous condition of your stomach.

And there is where BAALMANN'S GAS TABLETS invariably cure, because they are made particularly for that peculiar nervous, irritable form of indigestion.

DO TRY BAALMANN'S TABLETS.

These peculiar tablets are sold for 50c a bottle by nearly every druggist. If not in stock tell him to get them for you from his wholesaler, or send 50c in silver, stamps or money order to J. Baalman Co., 236 Sutter St., San Francisco.

An Innovation in Oil Heaters

The Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater, with its drums enameled in turquoise, is an ornament to any room, whether in the country or city home.

No home is quite complete without a Perfection Oil Heater. It is a necessity in the fall and spring, when it is too warm to start the regular heating apparatus, and too cool to be without heat. In the midst of winter it is often convenient as an auxiliary heater, as there are always some cold corners in a house.

The enameled heater always presents a nice appearance, as the enamel will not tarnish or burn off. It is not an "enamel paint," but it is the same as the enamel of your cooking utensils.

The Perfection is the most reliable and convenient table heating device you can find. An automatically-locking flame spreader prevents turning the wick high enough to smoke.

Dealers everywhere. Ask yours to show you the Perfection Heater enameled in turquoise, or write for descriptive circular to our agency of Continental Oil Company (Incorporated)

INDICTED PACKERS SMALL BOY SLAIN ENTER PLEA OF NOT GUILTY BY THUGS NEAR DEMING

After Eight Years of Legal Manoeuvring to Avoid Trial, Indicted Beef Barons Are Forced to Face Jury.

Thirteen-Year-Old Frank Orme Brutally Murdered and Body Left By Roadside By Heartless Highwaymen.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]

Chicago, Dec. 6.—After eight years' devious travel in the ways of grand juries and special pleas, the cases of 10 Chicago meat packers, indicted for alleged violation of the criminal provisions of the Sherman anti-trust law, reached trial today. Indications were that the early stages of the trial, at least, would be rapid, for the government's examination of the first part of jurymen was terse.

By agreement each side was entitled to 26 peremptory challenges, and by night the government had exercised 10. None of the veniremen had been questioned by the defense. Questions of Attorney Sheehan, for the government, indicated that the acceptability of a juror hinged chiefly on his willingness to accept it as part of the government's function to regulate affairs of private business.

All the defendants were in court immediately after the case was called. Personal pleas of not guilty were entered, and the examination of veniremen began. Attorneys here are of the opinion the trial will proceed without any further attempts of counsel for the packers to cause delay.

The 12 jurymen who had been passed by the government were ordered locked up tonight, and the rest of the venire were ordered in court tomorrow. None will be questioned by the defense until at least four have been finally accepted by the government.

SIX MEXICANS FIGHT; TWO OF THEM KILLED

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 6.—Six Mexicans engaged in a fight on the banks of the Pecos river southwest of here today over a dispute concerning their merits as water pump players. Two were killed, and a third so badly wounded the survivors believed he was dead. The three bodies were then thrown into the river. The wounded man revived and crawled to the bank of the stream where he was found and told his story. Two arrests were made.

ALBUQUERQUE NEW MEXICO

NERVE.

The spectacle of Delegate William H. Andrews and National Committeeman Solomon Luna presuming to advise the president of the United States on federal appointments in New Mexico is one that will appeal to the people of the new state as one of the most remarkable exhibitions of nerve in modern times.

Solomon Luna is the man above all others who is responsible for the nomination of the unspeakable republican ticket at Las Vegas which went down to defeat on November 7. He is the man who insisted that New Mexico was solidly republican and that the republican voters could be forced to swallow any ticket placed before them, no matter what the character of the candidates. The result of the election proved that Mr. Luna was wrong; and today he stands discredited, not only with the people of New Mexico, but with the members of his own party, and it is doubtful if he could today command sufficient influence in the party councils to even control a delegation from his own county of Valencia, which he has ruled so long and so arrogantly.

Of Delegate Andrews, the less said the better. As a standard bearer he reduced the republican majority, in three successive elections, from the 3,444 received by his predecessor, Bernard S. Rodey in 1902, to a barely 338, which he received in 1909 when he ran against probably the weakest man that could have been selected by the democratic party; and even this majority was tainted with suspicion of fraud. The idea of Mr. Andrews presuming to represent the desires of the people of New Mexico or the republican party of New Mexico, to the president of the United States is one that, were it taken seriously, would arouse the most intense indignation among the people here, and his recommendation would damn the very men he sought to favor.

Mr. Andrews is not in favor of Chief Justice Pope for federal judge of New Mexico, neither does he favor Stephen B. Davis, Jr., of Las Vegas, for the office of district attorney. These gentlemen are men of ability and integrity and enjoy the confidence of the people all over New Mexico, and in the very nature of things could have nothing in common with a man of the stripe of the present delegate from New Mexico, and no one knows this better than does the delegate.

But the wily delegate and Mr. Luna have discovered that President Taft has expressed his confidence in and appreciation of the work of Chief Justice Pope since that gentleman has been on the bench in New Mexico, and that he is likewise favorably disposed toward Mr. Davis for his work as assistant United States district attorney. They have sought to curry favor with the president by presenting the names of men they know will be favorably received and thus gain a certain amount of prestige with other men who may be candidates for federal appointments.

The slimy claim that all federal offices in New Mexico will be vacated with the end of the territorial regime is in line with the scheme of these slick gentlemen. They propose to create a panic in the ranks of the federal officeholders and then come to the rescue, providing the rescued will agree to rally to the support of the busted and broken Andrews and Luna machine. That there are any men in New Mexico, intelligent enough to hold a commission as notary public, who would for a moment believe that President Taft proposes to fall in with any such scheme, it is hard to believe.

In Albuquerque, for instance, does anyone believe that Mr. Taft would for a moment consider the removal of Postmaster Hopkins, whose term is but half expired, merely for the purpose of providing a little patronage for Messrs. Andrews and Luna? The condition in Albuquerque is the condition in Santa Fe; it is the condition in Las Vegas, in Roswell and in nearly every town in the state. The federal officials in New Mexico need have no fear that they will lose their positions on the technicality that their commissions are made out for the "territory," instead of "state" of New Mexico. It will require much graver reasons than these before the president removes any man before his term expires, and the desires of Messrs. Andrews and Luna will not be among these reasons.

THE TEARS OF MR. GOMPERS.

Mr. Samuel Gompers, we are told, wept when he heard of the confession of the McNamaras. The precise cause of his grief is left to speculation. Perhaps no injustice will be done in assuming it to be more subjective than objective. He probably wept more for his own distress and that of the close corporation, which he arrogantly calls "labor" than for the fate of those two friends of his whom he was only yesterday commiserating as the victims of a hellish conspiracy and whom he was quite prepared tomorrow to mourn as holy martyrs. In that, says the New York Tribune, he is surely right. They simply carried to its logical conclusion, according to their own apt interpretation, the propaganda suggestive of hatred and lawlessness of which he has long been the most conspicuous protagonist.

It is not, of course, to be intimidated for a moment, continues the Tribune, that Mr. Gompers was privy to the McNamara crime, or that he directly suggested or incited it, or that he approves it or regards it otherwise than with horror and detestation. Mr. Gompers is a law-abiding citizen. He would never commit violence. He would not throw a brickbat at a "scab." If he saw some impudent friends of his manhandling one of their fellows he would probably beg them not to nail his ears to the pump; and when, next day, he saw the ears nailed to the pump he would protest, "I am astounded beyond expression!" and then go away and weep. Doubtless we should weep with him, because the credulity of this good man has been so wickedly imposed upon. Did not these men personally assure him that they were innocent? And did not that prove beyond all question that, in his own well measured words, "the interests of corporate wealth" were "contemplating the assassination of organized labor" and that "the whole thing was a deep seated frame-up, an outrage?"

To the law-loving mind of Mr. Gompers, amid his tears of distress, it may, however, be well to suggest certain pertinent inquiries. He would do well to consider the moral responsibility of a leader of men who persistently incites his followers to regard their fellow men with hatred. He might profitably look forward to discern the logical effect of the preaching of a social war. When riotous strikers have destroyed property and assaulted independent laboring men he has been quick to defend or to excuse them, or to pretend that, like the McNamara, they were the innocent victims of a "frame-up." Has he not the perception to see to what that must lead, and that men thus screened in minor misdemeanors will be tempted to expect similar protection in the commission of major crimes? The whole trend and tenor of Gompers' teaching for many years has been toward the condonation of lawbreaking when done in the name of "organized labor," and now, having sown the wind, he weeps at the reaping of the whirlwind.

Amid his tears, however, perhaps he may find opportunity and inclination to inform the world, if he can do so, upon one point of pertinent and intense interest. He denies that there was any such sum as a million dollars raised by "organized labor" for the defense of the McNamara, though he did promise that the American Federation of Labor would leave nothing undone and would spare no means in defending them. There is now no need of such expenditures and such defense. But what the world would like to know is who provided the McNamara with the means needed for the commission of their crime. It cost much money to travel as far as they did and to pay for the storage of the dynamite until it could be used, and what not else. Who financed the crime? From what treasury did that blood money come? It would be gratifying to have Mr. Gompers state his grief sufficiently loud to tell us if he knows anything about it. If he does not, who does?

RUIN BY EXPANSION.

There came a time in the history of Rome when her government must choose between retrenchment at home and limitless expansion—the riches of the East tempted her, and then Caesar led her armies into Gaul; so the Roman republic became impossible. Again it was learned by the experience that the Roman legions were not strong enough to hold the earth in subjection and Trajan fortified the borders to hold and civilize what would have been gained over the walls in Britain, across the Rhine and into Asia and Africa swarmed the herds of barbarians till Rome was conquered and Constantinople submitted to the Crescent.

After England had undertaken to put down Napoleon she could only go forward and she found money for immediate necessities might be drawn from conquests in India—she claimed the sovereignty of the seas as Rome had claimed the empire of the earth. Now comes the Trajan of her history and Sir Edward Grey, speaking for the ministry in the house of commons but a few days ago, proclaimed, "The wisest policy for Great Britain would be to expand territorially as little as possible further, especially in Africa." Defend what has been acquired—stand firm for rights claimed, but stop the march that has continued since the days of Elizabeth! The modern Trajan will find himself confronted by natural laws as certainly as did the elder one and to him also the impossibility will soon become apparent.

Russia is asserting her claims in contravention of England's in Persia—England must go forward or backward; she cannot be still. Russia watches the passes into India—any sign of weakness will be followed by attack. Germany stands ready to dispute England's sovereignty of the seas and England can only allow such doubt at peril to her life. Her colonies have grown into self-supporting nations and these will only accept dependence while protection is assured. The commerce of America will grow again as soon as her suicidal trade laws have been repealed—by her own act only has she been kept out of the competition for the rewards of commercial expansion. As little as could Rome in Trajan's day can England build Gibraltar on her borders and sit safely for long behind them; connections by fleets of iron-clads will prove as valuable as the stone walls the Romans built in their despair. It may be that England can no longer expand—it follows most certainly that she must contract.

Now the weakness of England would prove a loss to civilization and the fact is not disproved when we admit that she has not only sinned as all have done but she has sinned unwisely—the moral law may be violated without loss in politics but no forgiveness is accorded to folly. England's cause is that of freedom and civilization because the service she has given cannot be passed without grievous disaster into the hands of the unprepared and the unfit. Just as Rome by Englishmen could civilize and settle the continent of America, so none but Englishmen can stand for the law and for humanity in Asia or Africa. She has exterminated the savage and the unfit as ruthlessly as the Spaniard ever did, but she has given us results never before achieved by another. What did she find America? What is it now? What did she find Africa? Her colonies on that continent alone are self-governing and civilized. What was India and what is it now? What was Australia? Others have attempted projects as magnificent: what other has succeeded? Look at the German and Latin portions of Africa. Look at Latin America!

Civilization should see to it that the progress which is due to England does not fall because the little island like Italy has spent herself to exhaustion; when Rome fell centuries of darkness succeeded and from this welter of comparative failures, from this monstrous loss of time and opportunity we are now required to deliver ourselves. Let civilization join its forces—let the English-speaking races enforce the peace of the world and so maintain its civilization while it travels with the new birth and prepares for the coming of higher laws and greater progress than the world has yet known. Let what we have gained be added to what we inherited instead of falling again and beginning once more the slow climb from the bottom.

Recorder Goff a few years ago lectured some youthful desperadoes and told them that pirates and Indians no longer existed for them to kill. Since then the boys have read that the Italians had made a "piratical invasion" and the wild Indians figure quite prominently in the moving pictures.

CHRISTMAS BOOKS FOR CHILDREN.

Thanksgiving having only just gone by and Christmas being near, one's thoughts are naturally colored by the pleasant memories of one of these two holidays and by the expectation of the other.

That may be the reason why one feels inclined to comment on a gratifying fact in the matter of the Christmas books for the young readers, and to render thanks in that connection.

Here's the happy fact: The Christmas books for children—fairly tales and stories of adventures and of sports—for 1911 show a very marked improvement as to print and binding, style and pictures, over the juvenile books of former years.

Undoubtedly the print is better, far more clear, and printed on finer paper. And the illustrations—more especially the ones in colors—frequently possess no small artistic value, and have progressed a long way from the crudely gaudy things which were for many years and decades deemed to be the kind of pictures children liked and should like.

Now, whether the change be due to the discovery that children's tastes did not perforce run to the gaudy sort of illustrations or whether it comes in answer to a clear demand by parents—those who buy and pay—for better ware, or whether publishers of children's books have done the good act of their own good will—that is a question. We don't claim to know the answer for it.

But the fact remains and calls for a thanksgiving. Since it's true that, as the child's father of the man and the mother of the woman, and as it's exceedingly impressive, its young sense of beauty cannot but be more truly developed by means of tasteful and well colored pictures in its books and entertainment—not to speak of the physical benefit conferred upon its youthful eyes by big and clean-cut print.

Wherefore, lovers of childhood have a right this present year to think of Christmas children-books with thanksgiving.

The annual appeal to the generous and tender-hearted to do their Christmas shopping early may seem a bit tedious. Yet it is a very necessary duty. No shop girl who has stood on her feet from nine to twelve hours in the thankless task of pleasing hundreds of shop-mad persons who rush from one counter to another during the last days in a frenzy of indecision but would give grateful thanks for a relief from the strain and a chance to enjoy her Christmas in rest and peace. There are some who have a very good reason for waiting till the last moment before buying. But most persons haven't.

There have been times when religious feeling ran so high that one needed to be careful even at the family fireside in expressing opinions or convictions in France, in Spain, in England and in Massachusetts. But for the first time we have a man arrested in the United States for an opinion expressed to his wife at the dinner table with only one friend present.

A plaster cast of a girl in a barrel bearing the legend: "Clothes pressed while you wait," was covered with a cloth by the guardians of public morals in New York pending a decision from the court. But the winds blow and the cloth is ripped off every night, who is responsible for the wind that bloweth where it listeth and refuses to be moral?

Now can it be credited that the suffragettes of America have exposed the cause of those two chorus girls who "shot up" Millionaire Stokes by way of extracting coin from his pockets? Or are they merely interested in seeing that the accused enjoy all legal rights without regard to character or previous condition? It all depends on how you see it.

Flatterers praise President Taft for frankness but the Chinese emperor has his record beaten a mile and then some. Some day we may have a chief executive who will say: "I have done wrong and will now try to do better," but none of us will live to see that day.

"The fight has only just begun," says Walter Drew, chief counsel for the National Erectors' association. "What we want to find out is who were the men behind the McNamara, and this we purpose to do. The whole thing is a national issue and the sooner the country realizes that there is such an issue, the better."

Dr. Woods Hutchinson, who writes as much about foods and health as Dr. Wiley talks about them, says that a mince pie is "an easy assimilable polysaccharid carbohydrate of highly caloric efficiency." And to think we didn't know it in time for Thanksgiving!

A German paper insists that no one can reproach the crown prince for "holding an opinion out of harmony with imperial policies." Now what would have happened to the young Roosevelt who wanted to sleep when his emperor posed for a picture?

If Mrs. Patterson's future life is to be a poem of goodness as she says, isn't it a pity the jury didn't send her to it?

A Chicago woman wants to encourage poets—as though that were a class of people that need encouragement.

The Chinese republic will soon be formally recognized; already has it begun to borrow money.

The advance in steel won't affect Santa Claus' supply of rag dolls, anyway.

Feet So Sore Couldn't Walk Down Stairs--

TIZ Cured Her Quick

If you have sore feet, tired feet, sweaty feet, lame feet, tender feet, smelly feet, corns, callouses or bunions, read what happened to Mrs. Crockett, of Jeffersonville, TIZ DID IT. Mr. Crockett says: After the second treatment she walked downstairs one foot at a time. She has not been able to walk downstairs before in the past five years, except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes."

No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's different. It acts right off. It cures sore feet to stay cured. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. You will feel better the first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with TIZ for sale at all druggists, 25c per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

AMERICAN CIVIC ASSOCIATION CONVENTION

Seventh Annual Session of Important Body to Be Held in Washington This Month; Taft to Attend.

(By Morning Journal Special Licensed Wire.) Washington, Dec. 6.—The Seventh annual convention of the American Civic association which will be held here on December 13th, 14th and 15th, promises what is probably the most elaborate program ever arranged for such a meeting.

President Taft will attend one of the sessions at which Walter L. Fisher, secretary of the Interior, will preside; Senator Smoot, of Utah; Ernest Thompson Seton, William Dudley Fouke, president of the National Municipal league; Irving K. Pond, president of the American Institute of Architects, and many others will attend or speak at the sessions of the convention.

"A More Beautiful America," is the slogan of the movement which the association is fostering. Questions which will be taken up at the convention range from the building of National Parks to swatting the fly. City planning from the business side as well as the aesthetic viewpoint; street lighting, shade trees, the smoke problem and other phases of municipal life will be discussed by many of the speakers. The feature of the convention will be a review of the civic betterment which has been accomplished by organizations of women.

Discussion of state and national parks will take up much of the first day's session. Addresses will be made by J. Horace McFarland, president of the association; Enos A. Mills, of Estes Park, Colo.; Senator Smoot, of Utah, and Herbert W. Gleason, of Boston, Mass. Senator Smoot will introduce a bill in congress at the coming session to create a Federal Bureau of National Parks. The rough draft of the bill will be presented at a conference during the first day's session.

Mrs. Philip North Moore, of St. Louis, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs will speak at the first session on "What Organized Women Are Doing." Ernest Thompson Seton, chief of the Boy Scouts of America; J. Lockie Wilson, secretary of the Ontario (Canada) Horticultural association; Samuel S. Thorpe, of Minneapolis, president of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges are among the other speakers. Irving K. Pond will speak on "The Architect and The Community."

On Thursday, the association will hold a business session.

BOULDER CITIZENS TO PROTECT THEMSELVES

Boulder, Colo., Dec. 6.—At a meeting of business men here tonight, called to consider what steps should be taken to preserve order in the coal camps in the northern Colorado fields, Rev. F. W. Kery, pastor of the Congregational church at La Fayette, said that if the state did not take adequate measures soon to preserve the peace, residents of Lafayette would take measures to protect themselves. Rev. Mr. Kery said: "We have come to the conclusion that if we cannot get help from headquarters we will take measures to protect ourselves. Conditions have been such at Lafayette that a man would be justified in going out to guard his wife and children with any weapon that would deal out death. If you have any idea of what hell is you may know what we have been enduring." Mr. Kery related instances in which his prayer meetings had been disturbed by strikers and said that women had been so terrified that they had come to him saying that they could no longer say the Lord's prayer with conscientiousness. OIL TRUST GUILTY OF ACCEPTING REBATES

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 6.—A jury in the United States district court tonight returned a verdict of guilty in the case of the government against the Standard Oil company for accepting rebates from the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads on shipments of oil from Olean, N. Y., to Burlington, Vt. during 1904 and 1905.

The railroads have been convicted and fined for giving the rebates. There were 143 points in the indictment upon which the Standard Oil company was convicted, each of which is punishable by a fine of $20,000. An appeal was taken to the supreme court.

FAIR BUSINESS ON BOSTON WOOL MARKET

Three Million Pounds Handled Mostly in Small Lots; Absence of Speculative Buying Noticeable Feature.

(From Braintree.) A fair business, amounting to about 2,000,000 pounds of domestic wools, was done this week, with the demand well distributed. Few large lots were moved, but buyers were numerous, and on such transactions as went through prompt shipments were requested. This reflects the absence of speculation from dealings and also the smallness of stocks of wool at most mills, which appear to be doing a much better business in goods for spring and in some cases at a slightly higher price. Owing to the heavy reduction in the supply, the movement of medium fleeces is diminishing and the higher prices asked, especially for quarter-bloods, tend to check demand for these grades. More interest is now displayed in fine fleeces, which have advanced to the maximum price of the range, and more is being done in territory wools of the clothing class. The firmer tendency in fleeces is partly in sympathy with the strength in all foreign markets, where there is considerable competition, some of it from America. Several small sales of merinos and crossbreds, both Australian and South American, were made during the week, manufacturers operating more freely because of the advancing tendency abroad. New England manufacturers are more active abroad, particularly in Australia, where dealers are also buying, though not as freely as agents of the mills. English and American buyers are active in Buenos Aires.

There is little danger from a cold or from an attack of the grip except when followed by pneumonia, and this never happens when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. This remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds and grip and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. For sale by all dealers.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Wall Street.

New York, Dec. 6.—The news from Washington affected stocks adversely. Throughout the session the market was slow until afternoon, when an active selling movement developed. The attack was aimed chiefly at the railroad issues. Many of them were sold back from 1 to 2 points.

The bills before congress seemed to give traders concern. They were providing for the abolition of the commerce court and for the hypothetical value of railroads. The former was cited as the reason for the severe explanation being that it was these lines which were benefited by the commerce court's action in preventing the time at least, the intervention in freight rates ordered by the interstate commerce commission.

Certainty as to what plan the senate reorganization will adopt and as to whether it will involve an assumption on shareholders gave an irregular turn to the market for these securities. Allis-Chalmers preferred stock to 3 and the 5 per cent. bonds to 11 1/2, the lowest prices at which these issues ever sold, and the common declined to 2 1/2, within a fraction of the lowest. Federal Mining preferred broke 8 points. The collapse in this stock weakened American Smelting, by which it is indirectly controlled. The figures of the November iron production showed a decrease of 65,000 tons, but the weekly average expressed the opinion that the long decline in steel products had ended.

Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—Wheat sank to day under liquidating sales by high-priced holders. The local capitalist alone cut loose from a line estimated at 1,500,000 bushels. It was a nervous close, varying from the same as last night to 3-8 down. Later trading left corn unchanged to 1-4 up, oats at a decline of 1-8 to 3-8 and hog products within 2 1/2 to either way from 24 hours before.

Depressing as the day's developments were in the main as to wheat, all the news was not of a sort disheartening to the bulls. Late in the session big sales of flour were reported at Minneapolis, and there was a good-sized decrease in the world's visible supply total. Assertions that the crop in the Northwest had been under-estimated and that nearly 30 per cent. was yet in farmers' hands, acted, however, as an offset. Statewide, the crop in the Northwest would reach 170,000,000 bushels, instead of the 142,000,000 bushels figured out by the government's experts, had some show of confirmation in the fact that Minneapolis stocks gained 1,150,000 bushels in the last four days. May ranged from 97 3/8 to 98 5/8, with the wind-up at 98 1/2, a net loss of 3-8.

Talk that the recent decline in prices would shut off the movement of corn brought about a rally in the market for that cereal. The Kansas state crop report proved an aid to the bulls. May fluctuated from 62 1/2 to 63 1/2, closing steady at 62 7/8, precisely the same as last night. Cash grades were easy. No. 2 yellow was quoted at 70 1/2 for earlows.

Oats exhibited considerable heaviness. Top and bottom figures touched for May 49 1/8 to 49 1/2 and 48 1/2 to 48 3/4, with a loss of 1-4 to 3-8 net.

Profit-taking by shorts led to a recovery from early weakness due to liquidating sales in the product market. In the end prices were practically unchanged.

NAVY ADOPTS NEW TYPE OF ENGINES

Washington, Dec. 6.—After comparative tests on a number of the navy vessels, the navy department has decided to abandon the turbine type of engines for battleships and to substitute the reciprocating engines. This change has been made in the face of the fact that practically all other nations of the world have adopted the turbine type of engine.

The reciprocating engine is claimed to be about thirty per cent more economical than the turbine.

Admiral Cress states, however, that the new turbines as installed in the fast cruisers and scouts, have materially raised the range of speed at which these vessels may be safely and continuously driven.

FOLKS PAST FIFTY MUST USE CASCARETS

What glasses are to weak eyes, Cascarets are to weak bowels—a 10-cent box will truly amaze you.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic, and the bowels are muscular.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect the bowels and to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

Information continues to come from the Seven Lakes oil districts confirming the original claims of the discoverers of the field. Yesterday it was reported that the Pomeroy Brothers are now on the ground with their new drill which is capable of penetrating the earth 2,500 feet. This is the best drill in the field.

Rosenwald'sBOARD OF HEALTH REPRIMANDS HYPNOTIST

Further Exhibition of Subjects in Store Window Forbidden; Professor Has Narrow Escape From Arrest.

The man who is conducting the hypnotic exhibitions at The Orpheum theater, narrowly escaped arrest on Tuesday evening on complaint of members of the city board of health, because of his temerity in placing upon exhibition in a central avenue store window, his hypnotic subjects in the cataleptic state.

On Tuesday morning, during the meeting of the board of health, the professor appeared and asked for permission to place the man doing the endurance bicycle race stunt, in the store window. At first he asked for permission to erect a cage on the street corner and exhibit his subject there, but withdrew that for the other proposition.

The board didn't see things that way and refused permission. When one of the members, however, came down town later in the day, he saw a young boy under hypnotic control riding a bicycle in the store window.

Only the absence of the chief of police from the central part of the city at that time prevented the immediate arrest of the "professor." As it was, he was again told such exhibitions would not be permitted in public and a further offense would be punished. The exhibition, however, was allowed to proceed at the theater.

Yesterday the subject was "Woman's Suffrage," the affirmative being supported by B. O. Brown, Miss Matilda F. Allen and E. S. Seder, while W. J. Higgins, J. C. Nichols and Fred Calkins defended the negative. The affirmative was given the decision by Professor Stephen, who acted as judge. The trials are being held in Dr. Silber's class room.

The next debate will be held next Monday afternoon upon the question of "Resolved, That the U. S. navy should be increased."

The assembly hour this morning will be given over to the weekly meeting of the student body. There are a number of important matters to be taken up before the body.

KASEMAN COAL ADVERTISED BY ELECTRIC SIGN

One of the most attractive electrical signs that has been erected in Albuquerque for a long time blazed forth from the top of Hahn Coal company's offices last night, bearing the slogan "Kaseman Coal." The sign is in the shape of an immense coal scuttle, and is one blaze of bright light. It lights up the whole of that block on East Central, and can be seen from the trains passing through the city.

Mr. Kaseman is an ardent advocate of the plan to light Central avenue with both the advertising electric arch at the junction of Central avenue and First street, as well as by goose-neck lights for five or six blocks down the avenue.
