J. B. McNAMARA TRIED TO BUY DETECTIVES OFF

Offered $30,000 to Detective Malcolm McLaren and His Associates If They Would Let Him Go.

BOASTED HE COULD NOT BE CONVICTED

His Statements to Officers Aroused Anger of Ortle McManigal Who For Revenge Bared Wholesale Conspiracy.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Los Angeles, Dec. 7.—I've got hundreds of thousands of dollars and the American Federation of Labor back of me. It took only $30,000 to clear Vincent Altman of Chicago and if they could not convict him they cannot convict me.

This boast attributed today by Detective Malcolm McLaren to James B. McNamara as the latter was being taken on a train from Detroit to Chicago on the night of April 12, last, caused Ortle E. McManigal, then also under arrest, to quarrel with McNamara for his indiscreet statement and was the first circumstance that led McManigal to break from his companion and eventually confess his connection with many dynamiting explosions throughout the country.

McManigal's real confession had been saved for the trial of James B. and John J. McNamara, now under sentence, after their plea of guilty, to life imprisonment and fifteen years, respectively, but this evidence as well as all which had been gathered by the state was turned over today to the United States government. The federal grand jury heard McManigal's story all day and will hear more of it tomorrow, laying the foundations for the probe into the alleged dynamiting conspiracies that extended from coast to coast in the last three years.

The McNamaras were not brought before the federal grand jury and it may be that McManigal's story will be regarded as sufficient and the other two will be removed to San Quentin without further interrogation here.

Details of what McManigal knows of the alleged conspiracy were given to the grand jury today.

That his story implicates other men in the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers became known through various sources. McManigal alleges that persons other than John J. McNamara, the secretary-treasurer, paid him for the twenty "jobs" of dynamiting which he accomplished since 1907.

As question had been raised as to the competency of testimony from convicted felons it was considered unlikely that the revelations of the McNamaras, if any, would be of consequence for such testimony could not be used in court against those indicted.

The story of McManigal, however, who has not yet even been brought to trial, will be of great value to the government's investigators and the state will not try him on the indictments against him until the federal authorities are through. Even then, it was stated tonight on good authority, District Attorney Fredericks will recommend his discharge on account of the signal services rendered.

"McManigal never killed anybody. In fact he took good care never to endanger human life," remarked Assistant District Attorney W. Joseph Ford tonight.

Malcolm McLaren, the Burns detective, who arrested J. B. McNamara and McManigal and has been in close cooperation with Oscar W. Lawlor, the specially appointed prosecutor for the government concerning the federal investigation, stayed outside the grand jury chamber today waiting for McManigal. While thus waiting McLaren gave to the Associated Press a complete version new in many details of the evidence and circumstances which led up to the arrest of McManigal with McNamara in Detroit and how the thoughtlessness of J. B. McNamara on the journey from Detroit to Chicago, gave the detectives ground for persuading McManigal to confess his crimes.

The statements of McNamara were made, according to McLaren in the presence of Detective Sergeants Guy Biddinger and William Reed of Chicago, Raymond Burns a son of William J. Burns, and McLaren himself.

McLaren told in minute detail the dates, hours and places of his shadowing of McManigal for a long period prior to his arrest. When he confronted McManigal with the knowledge he had thus gained, the dynamiter decided to break from his companion and tell all he knew.

"About the seventh or eighth of April last," said McLaren, "I picked up McManigal at his home in Chicago. He had just arrived from Springfield, Mass., where he had blown up the Municipal tower. He had stopped at Indianapolis and obtained $400 from J. J. McNamara for the Springfield job and the one at Milwaukee.

"We shadowed him the next day as he went down town with his wife and went to the Hibernian bank. Our office happened to be right across the street and I told Mr. Burns that if he wanted to get a good look at McManigal here was his chance. Mr. Burns went north on Clark street and doubled back as McManigal came out of the bank. He got a good look at him. McManigal then went to the headquarters of the iron workers' union and finally went home.

News Item---Delegate Andrews and National Committeeman Solomon Luna called at the White House to make recommendations concerning federal appointments in New Mexico

"We trailed McManigal and his wife the next day as they walked with their children, looking into shop windows and finally visiting a shoe store next to the Federal reserve, a had been in McManigal's neighborhood for several days and was afraid his children, who had seen men, might recognize me and call their father's attention to me. I saw McManigal buy a pair of shoes which he is now wearing, and I remember he was amazed after I arrested him when I told him the size of the shoes he had on, how much he paid for them and who was with him when he bought them.

"McManigal left home carrying a suitcase and I took a Lake Shore train with him to Toledo, keeping well away from his sight all the time. When we arrived in Toledo, James B. McNamara was waiting for McManigal at the station exit. They shook hands and sat down in the station for a talk. McManigal pulled out a map which I saw was of Detroit and I passed by them. They traced over it with a lead pencil, but finally went to the Mayflower hotel. J. B. McNamara registered as F. Caldwell and McManigal as G. Foster.

"I had instructions to arrest J. B. McNamara as soon as I had located him so I called up Chicago on the long distance telephone for instructions and got Raymond Burns. He told me to call in half an hour and in the meantime get into communication over the telephone with his father who was in Boston. Raymond Burns came on from Chicago with Detective Sergeant Biddinger and Reed.

"We stopped at a hotel on the opposite side of the street but as the police in Toledo were not in sympathy with us we were afraid to risk an arrest there and determined to follow them to the next place.

"The next morning at 10:30 McManigal left the hotel with McNamara. McManigal had a suitcase and at the station while he bought tickets J. B. got a small grip from the check stand.

"They bought tickets for Detroit. The police officers there were our friends and we felt happy as we boarded a train at 11 o'clock that morning for Detroit. McManigal and McNamara sat five seats ahead of us in the same day coach.

"We reached Detroit at noon and they went to the Oxford hotel. We decided to make the arrests there. We did so at that hotel and took them to the depot, buying tickets for Chicago.

"J. B. kept hollering about being kidnapped and finally attracted the attention of some police officers, so we all had to go back to the police station. The rest of the afternoon we worked hard trying to get them away and finally McManigal who had his money in Chicago, persuaded McNamara they would be better off in his home town and J. B. signed a waiver to proceedings in Detroit.

"We left on the night of April 12, in a drawing room. Ben Johnson, Charlie Comiskey and other baseball magnates were on the same train coming from the opening of the American league season at Detroit. Of course they knew the detective sergeants with us and naturally we had to tell them who we had. We said they were a couple of yeggs whom we had gotten for safe-cracking.

"Later on James B. repeated that remark which he overheard and said to us in the drawing room that he had never blown up a safe or robbed one in his life and that every dollar had been paid to him by the man who had been paid to let him talkative then upstairs. He got a bit talkative then upstairs. He got a bit talkative then upstairs.

SCENTS DANGER IN PROGRESSIVE MOVEMENT

Governor Emmett O'Neal of Alabama Says Placing of Lawmaking Powers in Hands of People Invites Disaster.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Cincinnati, O., Dec. 7.—Denouncing the progressive movement that has taken form throughout the country and speaking in opposition to the initiative, referendum and recall, Governor Emmett O'Neal of Alabama, addressed the Cincinnati branch of the metal trades' association here tonight.

"This is the time when every man should pause and consider," said Governor O'Neal. "Representative government was laid out by our forefathers. Depart from this and you will certainly come to want politically. The adoption of the initiative, referendum and recall would destroy the power of a representative government and eventually result in the promotion of interests of the selfish elements."

"It would be wise for the lawmakers of this country to stop making laws and devote about two years to repealing bad laws that have been made."

RUSSIA SEES NO REASON FOR HYSTERIA

Semi-Official Newspaper Declares United States Cannot Interfere in Internal Affairs of Kingdom.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
St. Petersburg, Dec. 7.—The semi-official Russia, in a two-column editorial upon Representative Sulzer's proposal to abrogate the Russian treaty will say tomorrow:

"The news is no surprise as a similar motion was made in 1907. The prohibition of foreign Jews, irrespective of nationality from entering Russia, as well as Russian Jews who emigrated without permission, was established by law on March 23, and August 11, 1924. The Russo-American treaty—eight years later, contains no provision with respect to a modification of the existing law in favor of American Jews. American Jews are in supposing that Russia has introduced any restrictions in regard to them.

"On the contrary, Russian legislation of 1855-59 granted admission to certain selected categories. Resolutions adopted March 17, 1891, empowered the Russian consul to issue passports of heads of business firms and also their commercial travelers, representatives and clerks without limitation with respect to admission to the pole and without preliminary sanction by the minister of the interior. The passports of other Jews are issued with the sanction of the minister of the interior.

"Thus all Jewish business men and all others engaged in an occupation not regarded as undesirable, may enter and reside in Russia for six months. But the sovereign right not to admit undesirable cannot be disputed and is exercised very strictly by the United States itself.

"Only Jews emigrating through the agency of the Jewish colonization society are permanently excluded in accordance with the rules of March 21, 1892, of the eleven American Jews applying for a visa during 1910, only three were rejected.

"The laws for the re-admission of foreign Jews cannot be changed as a result of demonstrations of groups of American Jews nor as a result of friendly representations on the part of the United States. The United States government, of course, does not possess the right of interference in the home affairs of Russia."

"The repeal of the treaty of 1832 has been suggested but all the disadvantages of such a step would fall upon the United States. Russian customs statistics from 1904 to 1910 show that the Russian exports to America amounted to $1,000,000,000 and imports to $25,000,000,000. The figures of the department of commerce and labor at Washington put the Russian exports at 170,000,000 roubles and the imports at 227,000,000 roubles.

"Furthermore, the American imports into Russia are constantly growing. They amounted to 41,000,000 roubles in 1905 and 73,000,000 in 1910. It is to be regretted if the traditional friendly relations between true born Americans and Russians are disturbed. The views of a section of congress are not the views of the entire population.

"May the true born Americans persuade their new coming fellow citizens that the interests of the Jewish element which is four percent of the population, are not identical with the interests of the entire United States and that a bad peace with Russia is preferable to a good quarrel, even in the customs sphere."

SCHOOL CHILDREN DROWNED IN POND

San Mateo, Cal., Dec. 7.—Three small children, John Izard, aged 9, Edwin Daniels, aged 8, and Margaret McLennan, aged 8, were drowned here today when a raft on which they were playing, capsized in a pond. The children were on their way home from school and shoved out on the raft, leaving on shore a smaller brother of John Izard, who summoned aid. The boys were dead before rescue reached them and the girl could not be revived.

GUILTY BROTHERS ARE CONDEMNED BY AMERICAN FEDERATION

James B. and John J. McNamaras Branded As "Recrants to Good Name and High Ideals of Labor."

CULPRITS HAVE BEEN ADEQUATELY PUNISHED

After Two Days' Secret Conference, Union Chiefs Make Statement Welcoming Investigation, Federal or State.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]

Washington, Dec. 7.—Branding James B. and John J. McNamara as "recrants to the good name and high ideals of labor," and expressing the satisfaction of organized labor that "the culprits have been commensurately punished for their crimes," the McNamaras ways and means committee of the American Federation of Labor after a two days' conference, late today issued a statement vigorously condemning the McNamaras for their "inhumanity" and declaring that organized labor should not be held "either legally or morally responsible for the crimes of an individual member."

The labor leaders assert that they will "welcome any investigation which either federal or state courts may undertake."

The statement is signed by every member of the McNamara committee, except F. M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, of which J. J. McNamara was secretary-treasurer. Mr. Ryan returned to Indianapolis today.

"Had he remained, however," said President Gompers positively, "I am sure Mr. Ryan would have added his name. He was called back to Indianapolis by pressure of business. He did not see the statement but I am sure he is in hearty accord with its sentiments."

As to their knowledge of the crime to which the McNamaras confessed, the committee in their statement assert:

"We here and now individually and collectively, declare that the first knowledge or intimation of their guilt was conveyed by the press in their confessions of guilt.

From the outset we assured all contributors and the public generally that we would publish an accounting of the monies received, from whom received and to whom paid. A report in full will be made January 8, 1912."

Further than this Mr. Gompers would say nothing in regard to the defense fund money.

"Organized labor of America," the statement continues, "has no desire to condone the crimes of the McNamaras. In joins in the satisfaction that the majesty of the law has been maintained and that the culprits commensurately punished for their crime."

Partly condoning the crime of the McNamaras, however, the statement says in the following breath:

"And yet it is an awful commentary upon the existing conditions when one man among the millions of workers can bring himself to the frame of mind that the only means to secure justice for labor is in violence, outrage and murder.

"It is cruelly unjust to hold the men of the labor movement either legally or morally responsible for the crimes of an individual member. No such moral code or legal responsibility is placed upon any other association of men in our country.

"If, as we have the right to speak in the name of organized labor, we welcome any investigation which either the federal or state courts may undertake. The sessions of the convention of the American Federation of Labor are held with open doors that all may see and hear what is being said and done. The books, accounts and correspondence of the federation are open to any competent authority who may desire to make a study or an investigation of them."

"The men of organized labor in common with all our people," the committee affirms, "are grieved beyond expression in words at the loss of life and the destruction of property, not only in the case under discussion but in any other case which may have occurred. We are hurt and humiliated to think that any man connected with the labor movement should have been guilty of either. The lesson this grave crime teaches, however, will have its salutary effect. It will demonstrate now more than ever the inhumanity as well as the futility of resorting to violence in the effort to right wrongs or to attain rights."

While not defending the crime of the McNamaras the committee denounced the "kidnapping" of the McNamaras, who, they say, "were arrested in Russian style, not American."

its condemnation of violence on hearing of the Los Angeles disaster," it is claimed.

"The universal condemnation of a murderous deed in labor circles ought to be a fact so far beyond question," the statement proceeds, "as easily ascertainable from accessible records, that no man with any regard for his reputation for veracity, could deny it. Violence, brutality, destruction of life and property, are foreign to the aims and methods of organized labor of America and no interest is more severely injured by the employment of such methods than that of the workers organized in the labor movement."

"Therefore, quite apart from the spirit of humanitarianism and justice which prompts the activities of the organized labor movement, policy and hopes for success, forbid the resort to violence. The labor movement and its men are loyal Americans and seek to obtain the abolition of wrongs and the attainment of their rights within the law."

The statement is signed by Samuel Gompers, president of the Federation and chairman of the committee; Frank Morrison, secretary of the federation and of the committee and six of the seven remaining members of the committee.

TENTATIVE JURY COMPLETED TO TRY PACKERS

Attorneys For Government Select Twelve Men For Service, Submitting Them to Defense For Challenge.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Chicago, Dec. 7.—Attorneys for the government late today tendered a tentative jury of twelve men to counsel for the indicted packers in the federal district court, after less than ten hours of actual court sessions.

Tomorrow counsel for the packers will begin cross-examination of the tentative jurors, seven of whom are farmers.

When court adjourned today Attorney James Sheehan for the government had questioned forty-two veniremen. Twenty were excused for various reasons and ten were peremptorily challenged. The government still has the right of twenty additional peremptory challenges, while the packers have thirty.

WOMAN WHO SHOT HUSBAND ACQUITTED

San Francisco, Dec. 7.—Mrs. Mari L. Sudall, who shot in the back and killed her divorced husband, Joseph Sudall, last July, was acquitted of the charge of murder by a jury in the superior court today.

Sudall had obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce after a showing in court in which Mrs. Sudall appeared in an unfavorable light. He called upon Mrs. Sudall and demanded back a ring belonging to his mother. Mrs. Sudall refused and a quarrel followed.

The jurors that tried Mrs. Sudall were men.

Would Appraise Railroads.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Physical valuation of all railroad property in the United States is proposed in a bill introduced in the house today by Representative Esch of Wisconsin. The bill would direct the interstate commerce commission to begin the investigation January 1, 1912.

NURSE'S EVIDENCE IS DISCREDITED BY DEFENSE

Counsel For Dr. Hyde in Cross-Examining State Witness Destroys Effectiveness of Testimony.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Kansas City, Dec. 7.—Much of the effectiveness of the testimony of Miss Elizabeth Gordon, a nurse who testified in the trial of Dr. H. C. Hyde for the alleged murder of Colonel Thomas H. Swope, was destroyed when Attorney Walsh cross-examined her late today.

Miss Gordon was the state's star witness regarding the injection, alleged to have been put into Swope, given Miss Margaret Swope by Dr. Hyde. The physician says the injection was camphorated oil, and the state's chief contradiction of this statement was Miss Gordon's testimony that she smelled the arm at the point the needle entered soon after it had been withdrawn and detected an odor.

"Have you ever given a hypodermic injection of camphorated oil?" asked Mr. Walsh.

"No," replied the nurse.
"Do you know what kind of oil is used in connection with the camphor?"
"No, but I think it is olive oil."
"Do you know what the amount of camphor used in a hypodermic injection of this kind is so small that its odor cannot be noticed?"
"No, I did not know that."

NEW MEXICO TO ENTER UNION PROSPEROUS STATE

Governor William J. Mills Submits Last Report Ever to Be Made By Territorial Executive.

COMMONWEALTH IS SOUND FINANCIALLY

Conservative Estimate of Population at Present Time 340,000; Reviews Conditions Generally.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]

Washington, Dec. 7.—New Mexico, on the threshold of statehood, is on a sound financial basis and will enter the union a prosperous commonwealth, according to the annual report of Governor William J. Mills. The governor submits to the secretary of the interior the last report which that official will receive from a territorial executive of New Mexico. Governor Mills fixes the population of the new state at 340,000, basing his estimate on the percentage of increase from 1900 to 1910.

The report of the governor reads in part:

"Taken as a whole, the conditions in the territory have improved materially during the last year. The only railway, save spurs and sidings, that has been constructed during the past twelve months is the building of a double track on the line of the Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad between Albuquerque and Gallup.

"Irrigation enterprises have proceeded vigorously during the past year. A considerable number of wells from which water is being pumped for irrigation have been sunk near Deming and a company near that point has very recently been formed for the purpose of sinking wells on a large area of land. It has been demonstrated that water for irrigation purposes can be pumped from the shallow wells at a profit in various parts of the territory, particularly in those portions where fruits can be raised and where truck farming can be carried on. There is much land in the territory which will finally be cultivated with water supplied in this manner. In the rich Estancia valley in Torrance county experiments have been made to ascertain whether or not water can be pumped for irrigation purposes, but sufficient work has not as yet been done to determine how much land in this valley will be finally susceptible to irrigation in this manner.

"The construction of the Elephant Butte dam, which is being built by the national government, has made substantial progress during the last year, although as yet no actual work on the dam proper has been done. It is now expected that the preliminary work is nearly completed and that the actual work on the construction of the dam will begin in earnest within a short time. The carrying of this work to completion is of the utmost importance to the territory.

"Irrigation projects in Colfax county have been carried on extensively and several are now in process of being built. In this county lands in the neighborhood of Lake Charrette were segregated to the state for a Carey act project. This project will irrigate about 10,000 acres and is the only Carey act project now under way in the territory, although several individuals and corporations have made application for land under this act. The Camfield enterprise near Las Vegas, which will irrigate about 20,000 acres of land, is being actively pushed, and it is confidently expected that by the coming spring a considerable quantity of land will be irrigated under it. In San Juan county work is being done upon one of their irrigation enterprises, and it is believed that it will be pushed to a successful conclusion. One of the largest irrigation enterprises in the world is in San Juan county. I refer to what is known as the Turley High Line Canal, which when completed will irrigate 1,250,000 acres. This enterprise can be built at a comparatively small cost, considering the amount of land to be reclaimed. A company composed of St. Louis capitalists has bought considerable land near Helen, in the Rio Grande valley, which they propose to irrigate either from the Rio Grande or from wells. There is every indication that this project will be a success. The act of congress approved August 22, 1911, allowing irrigation districts to bond themselves to an amount exceeding the 4 per cent limitation imposed upon municipal corporations in this territory, is bound to result in much improvement, as it enables promoters to raise money for the prosecution of their plans on large bodies of land which could not hitherto be bonded.

"The year 1911 opened with every prospect of success for the dry farmers of the territory. There was much more rain than usual until the month of August. At the beginning of August it was confidently expected that the dry farmers in all sections of the country would raise large crops, but from the 1st of August to near the end of that month a period of drought occurred and the prospects for large crops from dry farming became very poor. The dry farmers, will, however, raise very much better crops than they have done at any time during the last few years.

"In general, business in the entire territory was somewhat better than during the year which ended June 30, 1910, but I do not look for any material improvement in business conditions until there is a change for the better in the country at large. The railroads are reducing the forces used for maintenance and the running of their trains and this has materially injured the territory. At the same time, however, general business has not been materially injured, for examinations show that the deposits in our banks, both state and national, are larger than they were a year ago. There have been no failures of any considerable magnitude. One small bank closed its doors for a few days, when it reorganized and resumed business, its depositors losing nothing.

"Although business has generally been dull and the troubles in Mexico cut off much of the market operation in our coal camps, work in them has been actively pushed during the year. Several new openings are being made on the coal measures near Haton, and steps have been taken to reorganize a company which formerly did business there, which bids fair to be a success and which will be of much benefit to the country. The demand for railroad ties continues and prices are still going up.

"The good roads commission of the territory has done much work during the year. One of the most beautiful pieces of road engineering in the territory is the La Bajada Hill, on the line of the Camino Real between Santa Fe and Albuquerque. The beauties of this road are generally commented on and it is much used. The road from Silver City to the Mogollon mountains has been finished and a gang of convicts is now working up on the road through Bluewater Canyon immediately west of Socorro. It is designed to carry the road through to the Mogollon mountains and perhaps it will be continued to the Gila river so as to connect with the road which the territory of Arizona contemplates building down the Gila valley through its territory. A road has been constructed between Las Vegas and Mora and likewise a considerable amount of work has been done in the lower Rio Grande valley between the town of Lordsburg and the Texas line. In various parts of the territory work of minor importance has been done and the road commission has achieved a great deal in this line, considering the means at its disposal.

"The mining of the precious and base metals has been vigorously prosecuted. The mines near Magdalena, in Socorro county, are taking out large amounts of zinc ore. Some of these mines have been worked for the past 30 years, and with the new mines which have been opened in their immediate neighborhood more ore is now in sight than ever. In western Socorro county in the Mogollon mountains, much work has been done. These mines are showing up well and considerable amounts of precious metals are being shipped from them. These deposits give every prospect of being large in extent and will in the near future, I think, be of great value to the territory. In Grant county a large amount of development work has been done upon the Chino copper mine, which is located at Santa Rita, in that county. It is claimed that by means of chert drills some 60,000,000 tons of ore have been opened and are ready to be taken out. A part of this ore is to be extracted by means of steam shovels. This company is erecting a large smelter at a town called Hurley, near Santa Rita, to treat the ore which it mines. The smelter will have a capacity when completed of 5,000 tons, and it is thought that it will be put in operation about the 1st of January. A large amount of work has also been done on mines situated in the Burro mountains south of Silver City.

AID FOR THE AGED

The tottering feebleness of old age is pitiful, and is caused by the fact that the fires of life are burning very low. Yet many people of eighty are more vigorous than their twenty years younger brethren. They know how to keep up their strength.

We can truthfully call Vinol a staff of strength for the aged because it gives them new strength, makes the blood richer and causes it to circulate more freely. Vinol is our delicious cod liver and iron tonic that even the old and feeble can take with the greatest pleasure and benefit. Mrs. H. W. Avery, Norwich, N. Y., says when she was 89 she took Vinol and found it brought her strength and vigor. It is good for the weak and run-down of all ages. We sell quantities of it and always say, "Give Vinol does not please you, we give back your money." We make this offer because we know by observations how much good Vinol does. J. H. FABBRINI CONCERT TO BE HELD CHRISTMAS WEEK AT VARSITY

At a meeting of the student body of the University of New Mexico held yesterday during the assembly hour, it was decided to hold the Giuseppe Fabbrini concert during Christmas week, and to apply the profits of the concert to the Athletic association, to assist in wiping out the deficit.

Professor Fabbrini is one of the most famous pianists in the United States. He is a graduate of the Conservatory of Naples, and was a member there, during a part of which time Miss Eryplades, professor of music at the Varsity, was a student at Naples.

Since coming to the United States, Professor Fabbrini has been professor of music at the Minneapolis Conservatory. He is justly regarded as one of the best pianists now before the American public.

GORGEOUSLY GIRLY IS PARADISE OF MAHOMET

Grace Van Studdiford and Brilliant Company Sing Their Way Into Hearts of Albuquerque Music Lovers.

"It may be your beautiful curving throat."

Or it may be your eyes which have got my goat."

Such was the sentimental stuff of which "There's Something About You Dear That Appeals to Me" was made and that was the ruling motif of "The Paradise of Mahomet" and the big song hit of the show.

Just as "Madame Sherry" is "Every Little Movement" so is "Paradise of Mahomet" "There's Something About You, etc."

It was a gorgeous and a tuneful show. Scenery and song, much of the one and more of the other, made "The Paradise of Mahomet", starred in Elks theater last night with the peerless prima donna Grace Van Studdiford, starring, a stupendous production and a stupendous one.

And the vocal output was superb. Everybody in the show could really sing from Van Studdiford on down to the smallest chorus girl.

Be it understood that "The Paradise of Mahomet" is not musical opera but comic opera of the now nearly extinct brand. Those who cannot distinguish between the two have but to recall the overture which was tunefully real comic opera overture.

Further Van Studdiford is a genuine comic opera star with some of the airs and graces of the grand opera singer saved over from her career in grand opera.

She thrilled, coaxed, carried off a flute obligato number with grace and showed off all the tricks, trades and technicalities of the really finished prima donna. Her song numbers seemed apart somehow from the dramatics and humoristics of the play and all the popular stuff was left to the musical comedy talent, who took care of it remarkably well. The band brigade was out for most of the songs since all were good and well sung, but when Miss Van Studdiford opened her mouth and went to it on the long, warm, notes one felt she had a true, glorious and pure voice and that she deserved to be called queen of comic opera. But even without Van Studdiford it would have been a good show. There were Laura Hurt and John J. McCowan, a whole show in themselves. They handed out the comedy straight from the shoulder and got laughter and applause for their efforts. This team sang "There's Something About You Dear That Appeals to Me" and will be everlastingly remembered by local theatergoers because of the rattling good song number and great presentation.

The other comedians, Florence Kohl, did the heepped husband very cleverly and his song number, "Y. M. D." (Yes My Dear) took tremendously. Miss Hurt was really fine throughout and carried off the humorous part with honors.

Another girl who had rather an important part which she managed well was Florence Rother as the gypsy girl who did the heavy stuff—plots and revenge—in a not unpleasant way.

Edward Mora as the leading man had the usual requisites in the way of good looks and a pretty fair voice to cap it off. The chorus work was well in keeping with the lavish production and noteworthy for the beauty of the girls as well as charm of costume.

As stated it was a massive production, gorgeous in Oriental trappings, scenic effects, and general accessories. The music is by Planquette and the story was adapted from the French without spoiling the original, as the dash and sparkle is retained. Strongs as it may seem it is comic opera with a real plot.

The best song numbers most appreciated last night were "Look Out! Look Out! Look Out!", "When His Eyes Look Into Mine", "Life Orientation", "I Can't Get Enough", "The Rose of the Orient", "My Idea of Paradise", and last but not least, "There's Something About You Dear That Appeals to Me."

SPECIAL SESSION OF SCHOOL BOARD MONDAY

A special meeting of the Albuquerque school board will be held in the Central school building Monday evening to look over the plans that have been drawn for the new manual training building it is proposed to erect on a part of the high school lot on Central avenue. The plans are nearly completed, and it is thought that the cost of a permanent building will be moderate. This will make it possible to erect the structure as soon as possible so that the department can be started at the beginning of the second half of the present school year.

REBELS THREATEN TO ATTACK AND DYNAMITE PEKIN

Situation in Chinese Capital Critical Because of Possible Uprising of Imperial Manchu Troops.

OFFICIALS KNOWN TO BE PAYING TRIBUTE

Though Fearing to Sympathize Openly With Revolution They Are Contributing Secretly to Cause.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Pekin, Dec. 7.—The rebels are levying tribute on, and obtaining subscriptions from, Pekin officials who draw imperial salaries but fear to sympathize openly with the revolution. The rebels freely say they intend to dynamite and attack Pekin. Some arrests have been made but the government is practically powerless because of the timidity of the official class. The student class is powerful in China and is enforcing extreme demands because of the racial timidity of elders, who would be content with the limitations members of the court have already imposed upon themselves. Precautions are being taken tonight against a rising of the Manchus because of dissatisfaction over the regent's seeming compulsory retirement and the prospect of all Manchus losing their pensions.

Most of the Manchus troops have been moved gradually outside the city, the gates of which are closed every night. The premier's residence is guarded by Yuan Shi Kai's own Chinese troops.

Much interest has been manifested in the mediation activities of Sir John Gordon, the British minister, the extent of which is not known by the other legations. Chinese who are to be pelted upon, say representations have been made to the British legation with respect to a refuge for the emperor in case of emergency. It is also reported that the American, Japanese and German legations have been approached on the same subject. There is a doubt that a plan has been arranged for the court to take refuge in the legation quarter, should occasion arise.

Tang Shuai, the minister of posts and communications, has not yet accepted Premier Yuan's offer. The retirement of the regent in which he was largely instrumental, seems finally to have satisfied him and he will now proceed to Wu Chang, apparently with the hope of making peace on monarchial lines. He is, however, in a position to meet any rebel terms necessary to bring about a settlement.

NEW EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY BILL PROPOSED

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Washington, Dec. 7.—A tentative bill abolishing the present common law and statutory liability for the injury and death of employees in the service of interstate railroads and substituting definite compensation, irrespective of negligence, was completed today by the federal employers' liability and workmen's compensation commission.

The commission intends to recommend this measure to congress. It will, however, hear representatives of both sides on the merits of the bill, beginning next Thursday.

The bill provides that in all injuries, medical and surgical aid, not exceeding $200, shall be furnished by the employer and that where a disability extends beyond fourteen days, the employee shall receive this compensation.

Injuries resulting in total permanent disability, such as the loss of both legs, both arms or both eyes, fifty per cent of his wages during the rest of his life.

Permanent injuries such as loss of arm, leg or one eye, fifty per cent of his wages for a term of years extending from thirty months to seventy-two months.

In case of temporary total disability, he is to receive a like amount during the continuance of the disability; temporary partial disability, fifty per cent of the impairment of his earning capacity. All these payments are to be made in monthly installments.

In case of death periodical payments are to be made to the widow, children and other dependents.

Hand painted china of magnificent design will be on sale at the Woman's club sale this afternoon and evening.

Proposes American Legion of Honor.

New York, Dec. 7.—A "Legion of Honor" of the United States to reward "the heroes of peace," an honorary order to take a place in this country similar to the Legion of Honor of France and the Order of the Iron Cross in Germany, was proposed tonight by A. E. Stillwell, the western railroad man at the first annual dinner of Native Sons of the Great Northwest.

J. B. M'NAMARA TRIED TO BUY DETECTIVES OFF

and said, "I'm another Vincent Altman. I am. It took $20,000 to clear him and I've got hundreds of thousands of dollars and the American Federation of Labor behind me. Clarence Darrow will be my attorney. They didn't convict Altman and they never can convict me. Your fellows don't want me for no safe blowing. You want me for that job in Los Angeles."

"Here it was that McManigal reached out from the top berth and grabbed McNamara by the hair, saying, 'Say, fellow, do you know what you are talking about?'"

"I know what I'm talking about, you pinhead," answered J. B. and McNamara dropped back into his berth with the remark, "All right if you do, go ahead."

"McManigal had nothing more to say. Along towards morning J. B. took a different tack. 'All your fellows,' he said to us, 'have your price now, what is it?' Biddinger told J. B. it would take a great deal as there were a lot of us."

"J. B. finally offered $30,000 if we would let him off before reaching Chicago and give him thirty-six hours to reach the 'man upstairs' of whom he had spoken. 'Remember, I've got a lot of backing,' he added, 'and if your fellows don't come across, we'll get you—and you—and you.' He pointed to each of us threateningly."

"After we reached Chicago Burns talked to McManigal and J. B. separately. I tipped my chief that McManigal was the more likely of the two to give up, as he had a family, whereas J. B. didn't. Burns talked to McManigal all afternoon, giving him details of what we had on him, how we had trailed his movements and knew everything he had done for some time. Then Burns told McManigal to send for him when he got ready to give his answer and left."

"I had a long talk with McManigal, too, and told him that I had seen him say good-bye to his wife and children. I detailed how he kissed them and informed him that there was a good chance that he never would see them again as a free man and that it was his duty to save them."

"That night at 9 o'clock McManigal sent for Mr. Burns and in the presence of a secretary gave my chief a long statement until 4 a. m. That is how the confession was made and of course the real details of it never have been made public. We were prepared to have him tell it on the stand in the trial but now the federal government can use it."

"I have been with him every night since last April and brought him to Los Angeles. I have talked a great deal with him. He is a good fellow at heart but reckless. He never would hurt anybody, but took his pay for the dynamiting jobs and did what he was told. He was on the inside on all that happened and learned from J. B. how the whole thing was planned."

Assistant District Attorney Ford, to whom had been delegated the task of handling the evidence and examination of the witnesses for the state, discussed McManigal's revelations tonight.

"All that McLaren says is so," he remarked, "for McManigal corroborates all of it. Of course when McManigal made his first confession in Chicago, time did not permit him to go into very many details. Since he came out here, we have taken him out nearly every day and have written down each day's new things he remembered, until today we know all that he possibly could recall."

"His story was valuable, not only for the facts themselves, but the clues it gave us to work up other ends of the case. We ran down all hints and clues and in every way his story was corroborated by us. We made a search of hotel registers, records of express shipments, railroad tickets and many other things which I am not at liberty even now to disclose, owing to the federal investigation."

From the district attorney's office today Deputy J. A. Hill accompanied McLaren to the federal building, carrying suitcases of evidence including books, papers and data of many kinds. When the federal grand jury adjourned McLaren walked back to the Hall of Records, where Mr. Lavelor has a room in the district attorney's office.

Mr. McManigal's story it is believed, will form the basis for any indictments returned, but as the only persons who could be indicted would be those who could not be shown to have been implicated in cases within the jurisdiction of the court or to have transported dynamite unlawfully to points within the jurisdiction of the court, it is said that the investigation can extend only to those conspiracies that are alleged to have resulted in the explosion of the Llewellyn Iron Works and the Los Angeles Times. John J. McNamara pleaded guilty to having directed the explosion at the Llewellyn plant. McManigal's mention of other persons who talked to him about the Llewellyn plant or of the persons whom J. B. McNamara may have told him would be possible silent subjects of investigation.

Samuel L. Browne, chief investigator for the state, waived today concerning a trip to San Francisco with possible arrests in view and finally did not go.

jury at Los Angeles called to investigate industrial dynamiting. Deputy United States marshals took possession of the books of the iron workers' local union this afternoon and a summons to appear before the grand jury was served upon J. F. Munsey, the business agent of the union. Munsey is known to have been intimate with J. B. McNamara and is said to have kept McNamara at his house after the Times explosion at Los Angeles.

The accounts of the union are wanted it is said on high authority to trace to their ultimate disposition large sums of money sent by the secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers (J. J. McNamara) to the local union, ostensibly for "organization in the west." Mr. Munsey as business agent of the local, handled the funds and the use he made of them may be one of the matters he will be asked to explain to the federal grand jury.

Although the accounts will be submitted first to the Los Angeles grand jury copies will be sent, doubtless, to Indianapolis for comparison with the books of the international organization which are under scrutiny of the federal grand jury there.

To Stop Fraudulent Advertising. New York, Dec. 7.—What is said to be the first positive action ever taken in the United States to abolish criminal proceedings was taken tonight by the Advertising Men's League of New York. A grievance committee of seven members was appointed to which members of the league will present complaints of dishonest advertisements, for investigation and prosecution.

NEW SANITARY DRINKING FOUNTAIN IS SATISFACTORY

A sanitary drinking fountain has been installed in the Second ward school for use of the larger pupils and has been subjected to a pretty thorough test during the past week, so far proving entirely satisfactory. The fountain is somewhat different from that used in the schools heretofore, in that it has an automatic cause, preventing the pupil from dashing water either all over himself or up to ceiling. It is in the form of an inverted faucet, the water being released by a lever which is pressed down by the drinker. At the release of the water it flows out just far enough above the muzzle to prevent the drinker from touching the faucet with his lips.

Heretofore the objection that has been found to the sanitary drinking fountain has been that the water flowed all day. Others became fastened in such a fashion as to make it almost impossible for the water to be turned on.

As fast as possible these will be installed in the whole school system. They have two advantages besides the hygienic, being both economical and practical. Professor Mine yesterday expressed himself as being well satisfied with the tests.

SPEEDING TAXICAB COLLIDES WITH AUTOMOBILE

Serious Accident Narrowly Averted Early This Morning at Corner of Central Avenue and Second Street.

A speeding taxicab driven by Louis Clifford collided at 12:45 this morning with a five passenger touring car driven by Oakley Clifford, at the corner of Central Avenue and Second Street. Fortunately no one was injured in the taxicab and the touring car carried but one passenger, Dr. W. D. Radcliffe, of Belen, who was uninjured.

The taxicab was proceeding west on Central Avenue and as it reached the junction of Second and Central, the motor car suddenly rounded the corner from the south the two cars colliding with considerable force.

The fender on the taxicab was jammed, while the front axle of the touring car was badly bent and other damage done.

Neither driver, who by coincidence, were father and son, was injured.

DERAILER INSTALLED AT RAILWAY CROSSING

Employees of the Albuquerque Traction company, under the supervision of the engineer, J. R. Farwell, were busy engaged yesterday in installing at the Tijeras street crossing of the street car and Santa Fe tracks, the derail device ordered put in by the city council some time ago. The installation is calculated to prevent accidents between the two systems at this point.

It is so constructed that the conductor must walk across the railway track before he can throw the lever lining up the switch. It is being put in on a concrete base. The derailer would have been put in sooner but for the cold weather. It was thought that the concrete would not set sufficiently if subjected to heavy frost and cold.

The job will be finished in the course of a few days.

TEAM SELECTION
COMMITTEE

James E. Sullivan of New York Will Help Pick Those Who Will Go to Sweden For Olympic Games.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] New York, Dec. 7.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the American Olympic committee tonight James E. Sullivan of this city was chosen chairman of the team selection committee for the games to be held in Sweden next year.

Matthew P. Halpin of the New York Athletic club, who served as manager for the American teams in Athens and London, was chosen to fill the same position at Stockholm, and Michael C. Murphy, trainer for the University of Pennsylvania, was selected as trainer for the American athletic team of 1912.

It was decided to hold try-outs in Boston, Chicago and San Francisco at a date yet to be selected which will not conflict with the inter-collegiate championships or any dual meets as far as possible. Try-outs will be held April 12 and April 19 and 20.

The National A. A. U. and inter-collegiate in-door swimming championships and the national swimming championships, outdoor, for 1911 will be taken into consideration when the team of swimmers is selected. It will not be possible to hold swimming try-outs outdoors as it will be too cold. For the first time the United States will be represented in all events, horse riding, fencing, cycling, etc.

The national team selection committee in part follows: West—A. A. Stagg, Chicago; Dr. A. Williams, Minnesota. Coast—W. P. Humphries, San Francisco; John J. Elliott, San Francisco; J. B. Franklin, Los Angeles; A. S. Goldsmith, Seattle; T. Morris Dunnet, Portland; Prof. E. O'Neill, Los Angeles; Dr. Frank Angell, Leland Stanford university. South—A. F. Dugosh, Texas.

Dartmouth May Play Minnesota. Hanover, N. H., Dec. 7.—No overtures have as yet been made to the athletic council of Dartmouth college by the University of Minnesota for a football game between the two institutions next year. It is the general opinion here that conditions are against the game.

Jeannette Knocks Out Smith. New York, Dec. 7.—Joe Jeannette, the negro heavyweight, knocked out Jewey Smith of England, in the third round of a scheduled ten-round bout here tonight. Smith hit Jeannette but twice during the three rounds. A wicked right to the jaw gave Smith his quietus.

Maloney and Canole Matched. Denver, Dec. 7.—Mike Maloney of Denver, and Willie Canole, a Pacific coast lightweight, have been matched for a ten-round bout at the Denver Athletic club December 19. It is said a movement is on foot to have a constitutional amendment proposed at the next election providing for a state boxing commission.

RACE RESULTS.

At Juarez.
Juarez, Dec. 7.—Pride of Lismore backed down from 12 to 1 to 8 to 1, at the close, easily won the five furlong sprint at Juarez today from a grand field of sprinters which included Folle Levy, Napa Nick, Harrigan and others. Pride of Lismore was fortunate at the start and getting a good break led the field by three lengths for the entire journey.

The stewards fined jockeys Malosworth and Rosen $50 each for hitting each other with their whips during the second race. Jockey Walsh was set down for ten days for rough riding.

Results:
First race, six furlongs: Chanticleer, 5 to 1, won; Judge Cabanna, 6 to 1, second; Judge Henderson, 13 to 5, third. Time 1:14.
Second race, mile: Anne McGee, 6 to 1, won; Miss Korn, 11 to 5, second; Black Mate, 2 to 1, third. Time 1:40 3-5.

Third race, six furlongs: Merle Hyde, 5 to 1, won; Flying Feet, 5 to 2, second; Rosamo, 8 to 5, third. Time 1:12 4-5.

Fourth race, six furlongs: Arasee, 7 to 5, won; Flying Wolf, 9 to 10, second; Oakland, 8 to 1, third. Time 1:12 4-5.

Fifth race, five furlongs: Pride of Lismore, 8 to 5, won; John Griffin, 5 to 1, second; Napa Nick, 5 to 1, third. Time 1:09 3-5.

Sixth race, mile: Lackrose, 8 to 5, won; Dutch Rock, 3 to 1, second; Bailron, 14 to 5, third. Time 1:39 4-5.

At Columbia.
Columbia, S. C., Dec. 7.—Ideal racing weather and an attractive card brought a large crowd out to the fair grounds this afternoon. The racing was above the ordinary, several results ending in close finishes.

Results:
First race, five furlongs: Ellabath, won; Doris Ward, second; Lord Denmore, third. Time 1:01 3-5.

Second race, five furlongs: Helen Scott, won; Sabotell, second; Mason, third. Time 1:00 3-5.

Third race, mile and an eighth: Flaxnet, won; Kildarkin, second; Spring Frog, third. Time 1:55 3-5.

Fourth race, five and a half furlongs: Thrifty, won; Casque, second; Merise, third. Time 1:07 1-5.

Fifth race, mile and an eighth: Nadzu, won; Haldeman, second; Warner Gravelle, third. Time 1:54.

Sixth race, five and a half furlongs: Jessup Burn, won; Anaxri, second; Fort Worth, third. Time 1:07 1-5.

Lightweight Wrestler Loses.
Battle Creek, Mich., Dec. 7.—John Elliter, lightweight champion wrestler, tonight lost to Christ Jordan of Detroit, claimant of the welterweight title. It took Jordan more than an hour to secure two straight falls.

FIFTEEN TEAMS TO START IN BIKE RACE
New York, Dec. 7.—Fifteen teams will go to the post in this year's international six-day bicycle race which starts Sunday night in Madison Square Garden. The entries include the winners of last year's race, Jimmy Moran and Eddie Root. Moran is teamed up this time, however, with Frank Kramer, while Root has Fred Hill of Boston, for a riding mate.

Lorenz and Sandow compose the German team; George and Breco the French-Italian combination and Laplace and VanHouwaert the Franco-Belgian pair.

"Pedlar" Palmer and "Jumbo" Wells are the Australian pair entered, while E. A. Pye, an Australian, is teamed up with Elmer Collins of Boston and Jackie Clark with Joe Fogler.

DeMara and Lawrence are two San Franciscans working together.

STOKES ATTEMPTED TO CHOKER MISS GRAHAM

Counsel For Accused Girl On Trial For Shooting Millionaire Says She Shot in Self-Defense.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] New York, Dec. 7.—Picturing his client, Lillian Graham, as an innocent young girl, whose life became dominated by a man many years her senior, whom she had learned to regard almost as her father, Attorney Clark Jordan opened the case for the defense today in the trial of Miss Graham and Ethel Conrad, charged with attempting the life of W. E. D. Stokes.

Mr. Jordan began by introducing a letter of Miss Graham to Miss Conrad in which she told of her intention to end her life because of this "man Stokes."

"He made me suffer," the letter continued, "for he is very cold blooded and heartless and refused me a paltry $500."

Taking up the shooting, Mr. Jordan declared that "Mr. Stokes went to the girls' apartment resolved to regain possession of his letters to Miss Graham at any cost. He attempted to choke Miss Graham, he said, "and then she shot him."

GATES TO APPEAR BEFORE STEEL

Makes Public His Intention to Accept Invitation and Explain Rockefeller's Dealings With Merritts.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] New York, Dec. 7.—Acting for John D. Rockefeller and himself, the Rev. Frederick T. Gates today announced he would in due time reply to the invitation of Chairman Stanley to appear before the committee of the house which is investigating the United States Steel corporation. He also made public a letter from C. W. Wetmore to J. D. Rockefeller, dated November 23, 1911, after Mr. Rockefeller had loaned to the Merritts all the money he ever furnished them. The Merritts were largely interested in the Mississippian fields and in his testimony before the Stanley committee Leonidas Merritt criticized Mr. Rockefeller for "calling" loans as a result of which, he alleged, the Merritts lost their interest in the properties and the railroad built to develop them.

Mr. Rockefeller recently denied calling the loans.

In the letter made public by Mr. Gates, which was written after all dealings between Mr. Rockefeller and the Merritts were practically over, Mr. Wetmore said:

"Every step that has been taken resulting in the combining of mining and railroad interests with the single exception so far as I can remember of the purchase of the railway stock by the consolidated company which I believe was first suggested by Mr. Gates, was planned and proposed by me and urged upon you."

"With the exception stated I do not recall any contract leading to the consolidation whose essential terms were not first suggested by myself and in every case you fulfilled, without question, every obligation which was imposed upon you by the contracts."

"The financial crisis last summer made it necessary to make further demands upon you than any of us anticipated. Had I foreseen the extent and severity of that crisis I certainly should not have attempted to execute the consolidation of mining interests which has been accomplished."

"All these extraordinary and unforeseen demands upon your time and resources have been met by you in my opinion most generously. This is the simple truth and I am glad to say it to you."

The Mr. Wetmore referred to was at the time business associate of the Merritts and is now president of the North American company in New York.

Affixed to the letter is the following note from Leonidas Merritt:

"I have read the above statement of facts signed by Mr. Wetmore and I cheerfully accede to their accuracy."

FEDERAL BONDS TO IMPROVE RIVERS
FAVORED

Governors and Other Advocates of Waterway Utilization Urge This Method of Financing Plan.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Washington, Dec. 7.—The issue of bonds by the federal government to cover the cost of improvement of rivers and harbors was urged before the national rivers and harbors congress here today. If the government declined to make such an issue of it congress should be slow to appropriate money for the improvements, the issue of bonds by the states was advocated by many speakers.

Mayor Gaynor of New York, Governor Hadley of Missouri, Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston, and Roy Miller of Corpus Christi, Texas, were among those who favored the bond issue plan.

Other speakers were Secretary of the Interior Fisher; General Hixby, chief of army engineers; Senator Fletcher of Florida, and August Belmont of New York.

Mayor Gaynor favored the issue of bonds but disliked the referendum method of getting it. Experience of his own state with the referendum, he said, did not hold out much hope to those who demand immediate improvement of waterways.

He added that the present high cost of living might be laid to rebates allowed by the railroads, which could be offset by the intelligent development of waterways to compel the reduction of freight charges.

LORIMER VICTIM OF BLACKMAILING
SCHEME

Senate Committee Told Details of Plot Hatched By Legislator to Extort Money From Senator.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Washington, Dec. 7.—George Gloss, a Chicago motorman, who was indicted for perjury for testimony given during the second Lee O'Neill bribery trial, delivered the session of the senate investigating committee today by detailing alleged plans of Charles White for extorting money from Browne and Lorimer.

Gloss testified that Frank Seems, confidante of White had told him that he (Seems) and White were preparing a story for the suppression of which they expected to make Senator Lorimer a victim.

Seems declared, according to Gloss, that White would get $150,000 or compromise on $75,000. He said Seems had declared that Ed Wright, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, had promised to take White to a newspaper which would buy the story.

Members of the committee questioned Gloss closely and developed that when he had been indicted, he had received counsel fees and bail bonds.

"Why didn't you tell this story before?" asked Senator Kenyon.

"I wasn't asked."

"Why didn't you tell Mr. Lorimer you thought he was about to be blackmailed?"

"I was afraid he would think I was in the scheme."

"Yet you stood by and saw a blackmailing scheme go on?"

"I was anxious to keep out of the trouble and I didn't want to get any one else in."

FEDERAL CONTROL OF CORPORATIONS
INEVITABLE

Judge Gary Reiterates Belief Before Senate That This Will Insure Development and Economy.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Washington, Dec. 7.—Elbert H. Gary, executive head of the United States Steel corporation, stated again today before the senate committee on interstate commerce his belief that the United States government must assume control of big corporations to protect the public and at the same time to insure the advantage of corporation, economies, and development.

Mr. Gary reiterated before the committee his recommendations for the creation of the federal corporation commission, the licensing of all corporations, the regulation of their agreements and conventions and public utility of affairs.

He admitted that the steel corporation could understand any of its two hundred competitors who do 52 percent of the domestic business, because of greater economies of production, but he said he believed in maintaining fair prices and fair competition instead of "cut-throat methods" that ultimately drive the smaller concerns to bankruptcy.

"The Hill ore lease is to be cancelled because it has been criticized by the department of commerce and labor and also at the hearings before the Stanley committee," said Judge Gary.

"George W. Harris of Cincinnati, urged the enactment of a federal law limiting the amount of profits of big corporations. He said a plan that would permit the larger combinations of capital to earn only six percent interest on their investment, while smaller corporations were allowed much larger returns, would speedily break up the aggregations of capital into smaller competing companies."

PINCHOT PREDICTS LAFOLLETTE WILL WIN

Former Chief Forester Says Roosevelt Would Be Choice, But That He Will Not Accept Nomination.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Chicago, Dec. 7.—Gifford Pinchot tonight told the members of the Chicago Press club that "party had lost its power, because an issue greater than party is here."

He defined the "greater issue" as the issue of social justice.

Earlier in the day he told a gathering of progressive republicans that Senator LaFollette would be nominated and elected president.

Senator Delivered might have been the nominee of the progressives had he lived, said the speaker.

Theodore Roosevelt still would be had he not refused to run, he added, and he told the newspaper men he was in a position to know the former president meant what he said.

NATIONAL LAWS ARE URGED IN FAVOR OF FARMERS

Executive Committee in Session at Chicago Wants Legislation to Help Rural Communities.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Chicago, Dec. 7.—National legislation for the improvement of conditions in the rural communities of the country was recommended by the executive committee of the Farmers' National Congress today.

Among the legislation urged is the following:

General parcels post.
Better facilities for agricultural education in rural schools.
Federal aid for country roads and inland waterways.

Conservation of soil fertility.
Demarcation between dairy products and limitations as the consumer may know just what he buys.
Federal pure seed law.

The committee is opposed to the free distribution of seeds by congressmen.

The members also expressed themselves against a ship subsidy and against interstate liquor traffic into dry territory.

SMALLER ACREAGE
SOWN IN WINTER
WHEAT

Almost Half Million Acres Less Than Last Year; Good Crop, However, May Make Up the Difference.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Washington, Dec. 7.—Winter wheat was sown on a smaller acreage in the United States this fall than last year, according to the department of agriculture's report issued today. The condition of the crop December 1, was 1 percent better than a year ago, but 3.3 percent less than the ten year average for that date. A total of 22,212,000 acres, 435,000 less than last year, was planted.

A continuance of favorable conditions may result in a good yield per acre over last year and make up the total production of the decreased acreage.

The acreage planted to rye is nine-tenths of one percent greater than that of last year. The condition December 1, was 93.3 percent of a normal, slightly better than last year, and also better than the ten year average.

Following is the acreage sown this fall and the condition December 1, with the ten year average in winter wheat states:

State	Acreage	1911.	Ten years.
Wash.	1,035,000	91	91
Texas	715,000	72	90
Oregon	640,000	98	95
California	418,000	75	94

BAILEY WILL RE-ENTER HARNESS HORSE GAME

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 7.—It was announced here today that Senator Joseph W. Bailey who retired from the United States senate on March 4, has re-entered the trotting horse game and has bought a string of light harness horses which he will campaign with next season. Bailey sold his farm and string of racers here last year, saying he would not race again.

GOVERNORS DINE WITH TAFT AT WHITE HOUSE

Western Executives Put in Busy Day at National Capital; Guests Also of National Press Club.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The nine western governors who are making a trip through the east, exploiting their respective states, arrived here at noon and spent a busy day at the time they left their special train until they departed after midnight.

Many of the governors attended the National Rivers and Harbors congress while others took night-seeing trips and called at the White House during the afternoon.

Tonight they were entertained by President Taft at the first dinner of the official season. In addition to the executive, three former governors, five senators, thirteen members of congress, the secretary to the president and his military and naval aides, as well as a few other guests, were invited.

Subsequently the governors were guests of the National Press club. Former Governor Brady of Idaho, presided and short speeches were made by nearly all the guests who told the newspaper men of the resources of the western states.

NATIONAL LAWS ARE URGED IN FAVOR OF FARMERS

Executive Committee in Session at Chicago Wants Legislation to Help Rural Communities.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Chicago, Dec. 7.—National legislation for the improvement of conditions in the rural communities of the country was recommended by the executive committee of the Farmers' National Congress today.

Among the legislation urged is the following:

General parcels post.
Better facilities for agricultural education in rural schools.
Federal aid for country roads and inland waterways.

Conservation of soil fertility.
Demarcation between dairy products and limitations as the consumer may know just what he buys.
Federal pure seed law.

The committee is opposed to the free distribution of seeds by congressmen.

The members also expressed themselves against a ship subsidy and against interstate liquor traffic into dry territory.

SUGAR TRUST IS BITTER FOE OF INDEPENDENTS

Congressional Committee Hears of War Between Refiners and Beet Growers of Colorado; Fled For Tariff.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Washington, Dec. 7.—The ramifications of the investigation of the sugar trust by the house investigating committee took it into the war between the sugar beet growers of Colorado and the Great Western Sugar company today. Witnesses for the farmers were not getting their share of the profits of the sugar industry.

James Rodkin, of Meade, Colorado, bitterly denounced the sugar refiners and its methods. He refused to retract statements previously made that the cheapest kind of labor was transported from the slums of the cities to the fields.

E. W. Coombs of Fort Morgan, Colorado, urged retention of the tariff.

"Keep the tariff on and protect us from the interests," said he, "and I will double the number of sugar refineries in Colorado in three years."

Mr. Coombs, one of a committee of three sugar beet growers from his state said that as a rule the farmers were hostile to the Great Western Sugar company.

"We can raise enough sugar," he said, "to supply the country. What we need is an assurance that the sugar interests cannot squeeze us out."

Mr. Coombs described the methods by which the sugar refiners stifle competition. He told of one independent refinery which failed because of lack of capital, caused by the failure of a sugar company official to advance money he had promised.

Oil Struck Near Alamosa.
Alamosa, Colo., Dec. 7.—Oil is reported to have been struck for the first time in the San Luis valley in a 2,300 foot well near Mosca, thirteen miles northeast of this city. After several barrels of oil had been pumped from the well a section below the casing caved in. A new well will be driven at once.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.
When Harriet Beecher Stowe wrote "Uncle Tom's Cabin" she little thought of the wide influence it would have in shaping events in the United States, nor that it would live so long. The same may be said of Chas. Klein's great American play, "The Lion and the Mouse," which will be presented in our city soon. It deals with politics and high finance and has created a profound sensation.

TOBACCO GROWERS WANT STATISTICS ON DEALERS

Bill Introduced in House Requiring Manufacturers and Retailers to Submit Figures, Vigorously Opposed.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Washington, Dec. 7.—Aimed at the domination of the so-called tobacco trust, a bill directing the census bureau to publish statistics every six months as to the amount of tobacco held by dealers and manufacturers was debated for hours in the house today and will be voted upon tomorrow.

Representative Cantrell of Kentucky, introduced the bill last summer explaining that it was designed for the tobacco growers who claim that the government statistics give manufacturers unfair advantage when the crop was marketed. He said the tobacco trust knew all the secrets of the crop and "can pound down prices, while the farmer has no way to ascertain the amount of tobacco stock on hand in the warehouses."

Republican Leader Mann and former Speaker Cannon opposed the bill.

Mr. Cannon declared that if any such bill were passed it should include all crops held by dealers in warehouses. The punishment of manufacturers who withhold statistics also was attacked as unconstitutional.

Senator LaFollette introduced a bill today to improve and preserve public grazing lands. It would divide the range into districts under the control of the secretary of agriculture for the re-seeding of worn out areas and the waging of a systematic war on plants and animals that prey upon cattle. Nominal charges are to be assessed to those using the lands.

The bill has the approval of the national conservation association of which Gifford Pinchot is president.

Simple Economies Sometimes Overlooked

In her anxiety to set a good table, many a housewife often incurs needless expense. For example: in the making of pastry, butter will often be used, which, at its cheapest is expensive and gives no better results than can be obtained by the use of Cottoleone—the vegetable-oil cooking fat; yet Cottoleone costs about the same as lard, and one-third less is required than either butter or lard. Lard is still more expensive because it contains hog fat and leads to indigestion. You can save on your doctor's bills, as well as on your cooking fat, by using Cottoleone in all your shortening and frying.

GENERAL REYES IN ALDERMAN REIDY IS WOMEN PLAN TO ST. LOUIS ON WAY EAST FOLLOW UP AUTHORIZED TO SIGN CONTRACT VICTORY

Telegram Received From Him, Dated St. Louis; Madero Government Equally Certain He Is In Mexico.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 7.—General Bernardo Reyes is not in Texas trying to cross into Mexico, nor is he over the Mexican border trying to induce a rebellion against the Mexican government, but is in St. Louis, according to information received here tonight and to all appearance authentic.

A telegram was received at the local Reyes headquarters tonight, according to those well informed, dated St. Louis and signed Reyes, which conveyed the information that the general is on his way to Washington and New York.

It is said General Reyes is on his way east to get in closer touch with Francisco Anzures, who is to act as the Reyes agent, and report at Washington.

REYES AND SECRETARY SEEN IN ST. LOUIS.
St. Louis, Dec. 7.—Two unidentified Mexicans, well dressed and distinguished bearing, arrived at Union station from Mexico today and departed for the east at 10:55 o'clock tonight over the Big Four, according to Union station employees.

PROCEEDING TO COAST DISGUISED AS LABORER.
Mexico City, Dec. 7.—Disguised as a desert laborer, walking with a stick, General Bernardo Reyes, once commanding general of the Mexican army, but now charged with inciting a revolution in his country, came into Brownsville, Tex., today, according to official dispatches received here. He had not shaved his beard as had been reported. What are supposed to be Reyes' plans or what was done on the trip, were not mentioned in the dispatches.

DENVER GOES AFTER REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Washington, Dec. 7.—New interest was added today to the contest for republican national convention when a delegation from Denver reached here and declared that Chicago and St. Louis which have been the leading contenders would have to do some hustling if they landed the convention.

The Denver people will tell the national committee next week that there are many reasons why Denver should be chosen. Chief of these is the fact that Colorado is a "close state" and as there are two United States senators to be chosen there next year, it would strengthen the chances of the republicans if the national convention were held in Denver.

The delegation is headed by former Governor Henry Hutchinson.

City Council Takes Another Step Toward Paying at Special Meeting Held at Chambers Last Night.

By a vote of six to one, at a special meeting of the city council held last night, Dr. A. J. Reidy, chairman of the street and grades committee, was authorized to sign the paving contract between the city and the Texas Bitulithic company. This action on the part of the council puts the onus of any legal action upon the shoulders of Mayor Elder.

The action of the council was taken in the form of a resolution offered by Alderman Wroth and seconded by Alderman Isherwood. After its adoption, Mayor Elder said:

"Gentlemen, I will not attach my disapproval to this resolution so that the paving matter will not be further delayed. At the same time I will not approve it."

Unless the mayor sees fit to change his mind in the matter and disapprove the resolution within three days, it becomes law, and another step toward the improvement of the city of Albuquerque will be taken.

After the close of the meeting, Mayor Elder stated:

"I am entirely satisfied with this arrangement. If the aldermen want to take the responsibility of paying under the 1903 law, instead of the 1905 law, as I have advocated all along, I am perfectly willing they shall."

The meeting was called for the sole purpose of adopting this resolution. All the aldermen with the exception of Alderman Thomas were present when the instrument was offered, and all with the exception of Alderman John Lee Clarke voted in favor of the resolution. Alderman Clarke announced his objection in an emphatic "No."

The meeting then adjourned. Prior to the adjournment, however, the mayor stated to the council, upon the suggestion of Alderman Wroth, that he would spread his objections to the action taken upon the minutes.

Alderman Wroth said that it could also be attached to the contract. The full text of the resolution follows:

Resolution.
Whereas, the work of improving Central avenue in the city of Albuquerque from its intersection with the west line of Broadway to its intersection with the east line of Sixth street and Second street from its intersection with the south line of Teller avenue to its intersection with the north line of Silver avenue has heretofore been let to the Texas Bitulithic company; and

Whereas, a contract for the construction of said work between the said company and this city was prepared and submitted to this council on the 4th day of December, A. D. 1911, and examined, approved and ratified by it on said day, and the mayor of this city was directed to execute the same in the name of the city and to be attested by the city clerk; and

Whereas, the mayor of the city has publicly stated his refusal to sign said contract. Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that John A. Reidy, chairman of the street committee, be and he is, hereby authorized and directed to sign said contract in behalf of the city and the said clerk of the city of Albuquerque is hereby directed to attest the same under the impress of the corporate seal of this city; and, it is further

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be attached to the contract aforesaid.

Russia Purposely Proceeding Slowly.
London, Dec. 7.—It is intimated in official circles here that the slowness of the Russian advance on Teheran is intentional. Russia has no desire to march beyond Kashan. She wants to give Persia time. Should the Russian demands be conceded, especially that for the dismissal of W. Morgan Shuster, it is understood the Russian government would waive her claim to indemnity.

Progressive League to Take Important Part in Political and Social Reforms in Los Angeles.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Los Angeles, Dec. 7.—Leaders of the socialist party which was defeated in the municipal election on Tuesday announced tonight that their campaign to win control of the state legislature in the election of 1912 had already been put under way. Within a few days, they said, a meeting of state leaders would be called and thereafter the campaign would not be permitted to languish for one moment prior to the election.

No less active than the socialists are the newly enfranchised women. In fact the women's progressive league to which the "good government" party managers concede most of the credit for the victory of Mayor Alexander over Job Harriman, socialists, has leaped to the forefront as a leader in political and social reforms in Los Angeles. One of its activities was made manifest today when a request was sent to the state board of health for the names of all manufacturers or dealers in the state that have been penalized in any way for the sale of impure or adulterated food stuffs.

"We propose," said an official of the league, "to let our people know just who to patronize and just who not to patronize. Why should we, as mothers and wives, buy knowingly food that is impure and prepare it for our families? We will receive this information from the officials of the state and use it in a manner that will do the most good. The women of the whole state should take similar action. We believe this is good politics, just as it is good common sense."

Plans for the formation of more women's clubs to continue the interest of women in politics are under way.

"By the time the next city campaign rolls around," said one of the organizers, "we will have a women's political club in every one of the 317 precincts in Los Angeles."

A feature of the direct legislation plan on which the city amendments were voted upon, was the success of the project for the establishment of a municipal newspaper. It will cost $25,000 a year to publish this paper and it is to be issued once a week. The mayor will name a commission of three to manage the newspaper, which is to be for the use of the city departments under allotments of space and for all political parties.

HUB CLOTHING CO. INCORPORATES FOR $25,000

Albuquerque Clothing Firm Files Papers at Santa Fe; Million Dollar Oil Concern at Gallup Also Organizes.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal]
Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 7.—Two companies yesterday filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of the territory.

The Hub Clothing company of 110 South Second street, Albuquerque, was granted a charter to do a general clothing business. The company is capitalized at $25,000, divided into 250 shares, valued at $100 each. The incorporators are A. B. Loken, Dorothy S. Loken and E. R. Vaughn, all of Albuquerque.

Corporation Changes Name.
The firm of Ferguson & Collister, of 207 West Central avenue, Albuquerque, was granted permission by the secretary of the territory, to change its corporate name to Kistler, Collister and company.

Big Oil Concern.
The New Mexico Oil and Refining company, with general offices at Gallup, McKinley county, also filed papers of incorporation. The capital stock is given at $1,000,000, divided into one million shares, with a par value of $1.00. The purpose of the corporation is to purchase oil and gas lands, mineral spring deposits, and to buy, sell and transport oil and gas for lighting, heating and other purposes.

The incorporators and the number of shares each one holds follow: E. R. Vaughn, Grants, 500 shares; W. R. Fleming, Gallup, 500 shares; J. H. Vaughn, Santa Fe, 350 shares; H. F. Stephens, Santa Fe, 250 shares; E. E. Mohr, Santa Fe, 250 shares; R. H. Harr, Santa Fe, 250 shares.

TO TEACH SOLDIERS USE OF HAND GRENADE

Washington, Dec. 7.—Although this is an age of high explosives, armor-piercing projectiles, aeroplanes and other instruments of scientific warfare, the war department has decided to adopt some of the old primitive methods of fighting and will train the American soldier in the art of throwing the hand grenade. The grenade to be used is similar to the old sling and is thrown in the same manner. It is to be used when fighting at close range or when attacking an enemy behind a wall or other obstruction. Brigadier General Crozier, chief of ordnance, said dummies will be used for practice in this work.

NOTICE.
I am preparing a list of the worthy poor of Albuquerque for the Christmas dinner, and will be glad to receive the names of any such who will be personally visited. I am at phone 248 each day from 12 to 1, or a post card or letter will do.

ALBUQUERQUE NEW MEXICO

THE UNSPEAKABLE BILL.

That there are men and newspaper editors in New Mexico who have the temerity to advocate the election of William H. Andrews to the senate of the United States is a condition that will cause the blush of shame to mantle the cheeks of all true friends of the new state.

That Mr. Andrews has the remotest chance of being elected to the senate no one for a moment believes, but the mere fact that his election should be advocated by even a handful of our citizens is a reflection on the fair name of New Mexico.

During the ten years since Mr. Andrews first arrived in New Mexico his record has been one of trickery and deceit. Elected delegate to congress on the plea that he, through his wide acquaintance and friendship with members of congress from other states, could aid the cause of statehood, he has consistently and secretly fought statehood at every opportunity, and is even now seeking means by which delay may be secured.

During the recent campaign in New Mexico, Mr. Andrews devoted his entire time and effort to trying to secure the election to the legislature of men favorable to his candidacy. Money was spent lavishly in many counties financing the campaigns of weak men pledged to the Andrews cause. In some cases these men were elected, but it is very doubtful if they will have sufficient regard for public opinion to openly vote for Mr. Andrews in the legislature, especially in view of the almost universal belief, prevalent all over New Mexico, that a vote for Andrews is a purchased vote.

Several men there are in both houses who are known to have received as much as $500 to assist them in their campaigns, and a few received as high as $1,000. These men are now trying desperately to find some means to avoid paying the price for which they sold themselves. This chance of front on the part of these men is not due to any sudden conversion to the principles of right, but is due to the fact that they have heard from their constituents and that they will be afraid to return to their homes after voting in the legislature to send to the senate of the United States a man who has long disgraced New Mexico in the national capital.

Since the election of last month quite a number of candidates for the United States senate have more or less openly announced themselves, but in almost every instance the announcement is coupled with the statement that they would rather stay at home than go to the senate with Andrews as a colleague. Among the so-called stand-pat republicans the most prominent of the candidates are Governor William J. Mills, Hon. Thomas B. Catron, former Judge Albert B. Fall and Charles Springer of Cimarron. It is known that there is not one among these four men who would accept election to the United States senate were it offered him with the sole condition that Andrews be his colleague.

"THE ACT OF INDIVIDUALS"

Says Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, speaking of the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building:

"It was an act of individuals, not of a labor organization. I am not aware that any housecleaning (in the unions) is called for."

That the instant murder of two, to name men was the act of individuals, for which other individuals should not be held responsible except upon proof, no fair-minded man will deny. The mass of laboring men do not countenance murder.

But housecleaning is needed, if labor unions are to retain their standing and their usefulness.

In the course of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' strike there have been 112 violent "acts of individuals." In these "acts of individuals" millions of dollars' worth of property has been destroyed. The lives of 112 persons have been sacrificed in these "acts of individuals." With an average of one murder to every "act," it will not do to say that the "individuals" did not will any man's death. They will and wrought the means of death.

Who incited "individuals" to do these deeds of destruction, maiming and murder? Who deposited $1,000 a month in the Indianapolis bank to pay for the dynamite, clocks, railroad tickets and other expenses of "individuals" engaged in crime? Who furnished local guidance and assistance in "individual" violence in every part of the country?

The "individuals" who confessed at Los Angeles acted on behalf of labor unions. Labor unions incited them by contributing a great fund for their defense. They were not alone in their crimes, or in the guilty knowledge of crime. Organized labor cannot too energetically second and assist every effort to ferret out and punish other "individuals" than the McNamara's who have been guilty of such offenses. It cannot too quickly and thoroughly clean house.

A NATIONAL BOARD OF TRADE.

An effort is being made by the National Board of Trade to unite business throughout the country and to arouse general interest in the business and political problems of the day. The National Board of Trade was formed in 1883. At that time a declaration was issued, setting forth the purposes of the organization and stating that it was formed "for the purpose of promoting the efficacy and extending the usefulness of the various commercial and manufacturing organizations of the United States, securing unity and harmony of action with reference to business usages and laws, and especially the proper consideration of and concentration of opinion upon questions affecting the financial, commercial and industrial interests of the country at large, and to provide a concerted action regarding national legislative measures and governmental department affairs."

In the years which have intervened since the formation of this body little has been done towards interesting business men generally. Now a special effort is being made to unite not only business men as individuals, but commercial organizations, so that they may co-operate to their mutual advantage. The annual meeting of the National Board of Trade will be held in Washington on January 16, 17 and 18 next. January 17 to be Corporation Day. It is hoped to have a large representation of business men from all over the country present. For this purpose a pamphlet has been circulated by the National Board in which it is asserted that "lack of national co-operation and co-ordination of interest among business men supplies the only reason why business suffers the nagging it has been subjected to, and it will continue so long as the business men of the United States having the power of a giant use it like a pincushion."

The pamphlet also contains a direct appeal to business organizations throughout the United States, as follows:

"These are times when the industrial, commercial and political conditions of the United States require the combined wisdom and united effort of all the people, and particularly the business men, to keep the nation in the pathway of progress and highest development."

"In a few weeks the congress of the United States, as well as many of the legislatures of our forty-six states, will begin operations."

"Before congress and the state legislative bodies there will be hundreds of measures, many of which may involve the foundation of business. It is to your best interest to know just what all these proposed measures mean."

"The object of 'Corporation Day' is to take preliminary steps to harmonize the business opinion of the country along lines which will secure real reforms and hold them."

"Your commercial organization is invited to send five delegates to the Corporation Day Conference, unless it is a constituent member of the National Board of Trade, in which case see to it that you full quota of delegates is appointed."

There are to be two classes of membership in the national organization—constituent and associate. Any commercial or manufacturing association is eligible to constituent membership. Any business or professional man, who is an American citizen, and interested in the purposes of the board, can be elected to associate membership. The first effort of the National Board will be to get as many as many as possible of the commercial organizations of the country, such as chambers of commerce and boards of trade. In this way the scope of the national organization will be greatly extended.

Whether it will be possible to interest and unite business men in such a common organization remains to be seen. Certainly such an organization would have a great effect, both on legislation and in other ways.

The rakish tilt at which "Uncle Joe" Cannon wears his cigar will have to be changed or the republican party will be defeated in 1912, according to Rev. T. B. Thompson of Rockford, Ill. But if memory serves rightly, Cannon's cigar—long and black and strong—has been carried at just that angle for a quarter of a century or more. And the names of the democratic presidents during that time do not make an imposing list.

One thousand real English plum puddings, cooked at Buckingham Palace by a special staff of chefs, will be distributed by King George and Queen Mary among their Indian subjects during the coming Durbar. Indian already is seething with sedition. If the plum puddings cause indignation to unaccustomed stomachs, it is impossible to tell what may happen. The British rulers are taking a grave chance.

MR. LOUIS SPEELER'S WOOING.

Suitors who find their ladies rather coy to their advances may perhaps get a valuable suggestion from the strange but successful way in which Mr. Louis Speeler, of Sterling, Ill., wooed and won Miss Anna Doimach, a charming young woman of the same town.

According to the story as told in the Chicago Inter-Ocean, Miss Doimach did not at first greatly care for Mr. Speeler. In fact, that amorous swain received a firm but friendly negative when he avowed his love and asked her to become Mrs. Speeler. She would be a sister to him, but no more.

But when Mr. Speeler signally demonstrated the fervor of his passions by drawing a revolver and emptying it into her prostate form, and then reloading it and going through the same operation, and then reloading and continuing his wooing until a total of fourteen bullets had been discharged, Miss Doimach succumbed.

As soon as the various bullets lodged in her person had been carefully removed, the lady expressed the wish that Mr. Speeler, who was at the time in jail, should not be prosecuted. She said that she now knew that she loved him and believed that he had proved his love for her by his conduct.

The romance thus happily begun went happily on, Miss Doimach never sufficiently express her appreciation of the fourteen bullets. They had opened her eyes to the great love that was waiting for her. Mr. Speeler no doubt pressed her hand in reply.

Last Sunday the marriage was celebrated, and Mr. and Mrs. Speeler are now a happy couple. Whether they will live happily ever after, of course, remains to be seen. But, considering the fact that cartridges are comparatively cheap, there seems no reason why Mr. Speeler should not retain his wife's affection in the same way that he gained it.

We holdly present Mr. Speeler of Sterling, Ill., as the most striking example of the successful violent wooer on record. He makes all the young Lochinvars that ever came out of the west, all the lovers breathing "like a furnace," as the poet puts it, all the dashing, daring, taking tribe of wooers on record, look like a troop of wooden Indians.

The danger of his method of course, lies in the fact that after such a wooing the bride may not be available for the wedding ceremony. Mr. Speeler shot either with rare skill or with rare good fortune when he lodged on those bullets in his lady love without seriously interfering with his matrimonial prospects. Perhaps nobody else could have done it.

But the fact remains that Louis Speeler did. He came down on his love like an artillery park in action and when the smoke of the engagement cleared away all that was left of her was his for life. This singular method recalls King Richard's well known soliloquy after his successful suit to the Queen:

"Was ever woman in this humor wooed,
"Was ever woman in this humor won?"

A PEOPLE WITHOUT A COUNTRY.

The people of Porto Rico are still people without a country. They are citizens of Porto Rico but the island does not exist as an entity in the family of nations. They are not citizens of the United States, but their country has been made a part of the United States.

Under American rule and free trade with the United States those people are prospering materially. Their exterior trade has more than quadrupled. Their two leading industries of sugar and tobacco production have expanded largely within the past year, and the production of fruit for export has increased one-third.

But something is still lacking for the contentment of the Porto Ricans. They are people of soul and sentiment. They want to be somebody as world citizens and they are nobody now—citizens of no recognized nation.

It is the one disturbing fact in the American government of the island, reports General C. R. Edwards, chief of the Bureau of Insular Affairs. It should be the only disturbing fact about Porto Rico with the American people. Congress should correct this injustice at the coming session. Make the Porto Ricans American citizens.

The labor men who demand an accounting from Attorney Clarence Darrow for the money raised for the McNamara defense fund have some reason for their indignation. Darrow issued a call on laboring men for $100,000 to see that the McNamara's received justice, yet, by his own admission, he knew at the time that they were guilty. If the law-abiding laboring men knew what Darrow knew, they would not have given him a cent.

The corrected census figures for Germany's population show an increase in five years of 4,254,564. This is considerably less than our own growth from the excess of births over deaths, without aid from immigration; but it looks portentously large in England and France.

A revolution in China, Italy making war on Turkey, Russia pouncing on Persia are actualities that are not calculated to encourage the believers in universal peace, but the desire for it is gaining ground and will ultimately win out.

It is to be hoped that Kipling waits a long time before he writes another poem like "The female is more deadly than the male." There are two harrowing features about such a poem. One is the poem itself, the other is the parodies written on it.

A Kentucky legislator has just made vehement complaint because some one tried to buy his vote for $4. He is justified in feeling insulted. In these days of high prices it's a mean man who won't offer an even $5 for a legislator's vote.

The Hashbun Trust would seem to be guilty of the double offense of being in restraint of trade and in restraint of cleanliness. It deserves the maximum penalty.

When the Sugar Trust magnates confessed, there was no general repudiation of them by their former friends and fellows.

Senator Guggenheim says that he will retire at the end of his present term, because he has neglected his private interests. Surely not while the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill was in the senate's hands.

The Washington Evening Star says the republicans "have practically agreed upon a candidate." If not violating a vow of secrecy, will the Star kindly tell us whom the republicans "have practically agreed upon?"

So many senators have come into the limelight to say they did not write that letter to Roosevelt that it is reasonable to suppose it must have been written by some statesman too modest to talk.

Those labor leaders who are referring to the McNamara's as Judas Iscariots and Benedict Arnolds should be more careful in making the betrayal apply to the deed and not to the confession.

Director of Traffic Stubbs of the Harriman system will retire on January 1st, on a pension of $18,000 a year. That ought to keep his declining days free from the worry of poverty.

What would have happened if Lincoln Steffens had not been there? Surmise and shudder!

Handwriting On the Wall

(From Las Vegas Optic.)

New Mexico has been a republican territory. Apparently it is to be a democratic state—if not wholly, at least in part.

At the first state election the democratic party has elected a governor and a considerable number of state officers, and to do so, they had to turn a republican majority of four thousand into a democratic majority of some twenty-eight hundred for the head of their ticket.

Some so-called politicians say that this surprising result was brought about by the "split" in the republican party in Bernalillo county and the spreading of the disaffection into the county of Sandoval. Any thinking man knows that such was not the real cause. The republican party, through its Las Vegas convention, tried to fly in the face of public opinion and failed. No other explanation will fit the facts however hard one may attempt to twist and warp them. The handwriting was faintly visible on the political wall before the Las Vegas convention; since November 7 it is written in letters of fire, and he who runs may read that the people of New Mexico will not submit to the kind of politics that has existed here in the past. They will not permit the republican party to be run by one, two, or three men who do not seem to care a rap what the people want and what they do not want. There is a very healthy public opinion in New Mexico today, and it must be taken into consideration, notwithstanding the fact that party leaders in the past have considered it a negligible quantity. Unless more regard of the rank and file in the republican party is shown from now on we may as well shut up the shop and let the democrats take charge for good and all.

To some it may seem a blessing that the first state legislature will be controlled by republicans. It may be a curse. Two United States senators will be elected by that legislature and it is reasonable to suppose that the republican majority will elect them. If good senators are elected there will be some hope for the republican party in New Mexico. If bad ones are chosen we might as well give up all hope for the future.

By the adjective good, we mean senators who will reflect some credit upon the state and its people, and not senators who by their presence at the national capital will cause us to be absolutely ashamed and sorry that we have been admitted to the Union.

The task of selecting United States senators is incumbent upon the republican party. We have made one previous, if not fatal error. Let us listen a little to the sentiment of the people of this state and elect two men to the national senate who will not be a drag at our party wheels.

Fowler Flies Into Storm.
Houston, Tex., Dec. 6.—Robert G. Fowler, traveled eighteen miles in his transcontinental airplane flight this afternoon, ran into a rainstorm and came down in a field near Sheldon, Tex.

Weather conditions permitting he will resume his flight tomorrow. Fowler had planned to fly from Houston to Beaumont today.

Where the Locality Does Not Count.
Wherever there are people suffering from kidney and bladder ailments from backache, rheumatism and urinary irregularities, Foley Kidney Pills will help them. Belvidere, Ill. E. H. Kelly, an ex-soldier, says: "Three years ago my kidneys became so bad that I was compelled to give up my engine and quit. There was a severe aching pain over the hips, followed by an inflammation of the bladder and always a thick sediment. Foley Kidney Pills made me a sound and well man. I can not say too much in their praise."—J. H. O'Reilly.

This is the verdict of H. J. Howell, Tracy, O., who bought Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for his wife. "Her case was the worst I have ever seen, and looked like a sure case of consumption. Mayor Declines Salary Increase.
Toledo, O., Dec. 6.—Mayor Brand Whitlock today refused an increase of $500 in salary as chief executive of the city. He so informed the chairman of the finance committee that was to have made the recommendation this evening.

Believes This will "Cure Lung Troubles"
Consumption is a baffling disease—that is one of its chief dangers. Those who have it are rarely willing to acknowledge the fact that they do anything for trifling. Don't waste time in argument. If a so-called "cure" has long perished, it is a cough is present that keeps you anxious or any of the symptoms are present such as fever or night sweats, weakness and loss of appetite, and perhaps, some twisting of muscles—the probable thing, take E-K-m-a-n's Alternative, as Mr. Betterworth did.

Lovell Green, Ky., R. No. 4.
"Greetings! I wish to say for Mr. Alternative that I believe it to be a medicine of unequalled value for all Bronchitis and Lung trouble."

"The Spring of 1908, I had a severe cough for six months. I tried all the medicine that my friends and doctors recommended to me, but no results came for the better. I had night sweats, and would cough and spit up every night until I got so weak I could hardly do anything. But at last, James Deering, of Glasgow, Scotland, insisted that I try your medicine, and I took it and in a few days began taking the same. In one week's time there was quite an improvement in my condition, and after I had taken several bottles I felt as well as ever in my life. I never wrote any firm or company a letter recommending their medicine before, as there are so many fakes that a medicine of genuine quality don't get credit or even tried."

I desire the world to know that I firmly believe that your E-K-m-a-n's Alternative will cure any case of lung trouble if taken before the last stage. I will gladly write occasionally to any party wishing information in regard to your wonderful medicine.—Signed A. Deering.

WORK ON FLUME PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

Excavation For Important Unit in Elephant Butte Project Will Be Completed By Middle of Month.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)

Elephant Butte, N. M., Dec. 6.—The work on the flume, which is to be an important unit in the Elephant Butte project, is progressing rapidly and the excavation work will be completed by the middle of this month. The concrete walks are already being put in on the inside of the flume at both the upper and lower ends and some of the floor has been poured at the upper end. Immediately after the excavators finish their labors the concrete gangs will be put to work. Jesse Jones has charge of one of the gangs putting in the concrete floors, while Z. D. Clark runs the concrete mixer.

The third number of the lecture course will be given in the mess hall Saturday night by Hattie Elaine Gassaway, who will present "The Little Minister." This is expected to be one of the best numbers of the course.

The greatest ball ever given at Elephant Butte or in Sierra county took place last Saturday night when the Reclamation Service entertained the employees and their families, together with their friends. The assemblage numbered 750 persons. It was necessary to hold the ball in two separate halls. The decoration of halls was a feature, and this with good music and plenty to eat made the affair a big success. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin and Miss Anna Crumby of Hatch, and Miss Agnes Crumby of Cuchillo.

Daniel Taylor is foreman of the gang at the sand pit on the east side of the river.

Stuart K. Baker returned on Sunday from a brief visit to his home in Las Cruces.

Mrs. Brady of Los Angeles joined her son, William Brady, here on Monday.

There is quite a little sickness in camp at the present time. Dr. Graham is one of the busiest persons in camp.

Work is still continued on the power house, being confined to small jobs, the main part being all completed.

An extra plumber has been employed to aid James Cotant, chief plumber, in installing the hot water plant at the office and official quarters.

The new water tank on the mill at the town has lately been roofed. All the water pipes have been boxed in and around camp, preparing for cold weather.

The track scales are being put in near the warehouse by William Zelt.

The quarry being opened at the Ash camp on the bridge is showing up in good shape.

Chris Kitchener and gang will soon be ready for double tracking the railroad between the terminal and the stone quarry.

An extra timer has been employed to aid in the completion of the power house.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Wall Street.

New York, Dec. 7.—Movements of prices on the stock exchange today are nearly duplicated those of the previous days of the week that the market appeared to have fallen into a rut. Trading was listless and without initiative.

Toward the close the bears repeated their earlier tactics bringing the session to an end with a sharp attack which depressed prices.

Among the active stocks Union Pacific, Reading, Lehigh Valley and Amalgamated Copper were forced a point or more below the previous day's close.

Maintenance of call money rates at higher figures was regarded as an important factor in governing trading.

The ruling rate for call funds was 4 1/2 per cent, although some loans were placed at as high as 5 1/2 per cent. Time money was also firmer. The rates for sixty and ninety days equalled the highest rates of a year ago this month, while call money did not rise above 3 1/2 per cent in December of 1910 until the last week of the month when it touched 7 per cent.

Further selling of inactive industrial stocks as has been in progress for several days resulted in some substantial losses. Allis Chalmers declined 7, when it became known that the first step had been taken looking to a possible reorganization.

The 5 per cent bonds rose more than 2 points.

In Wabash securities both the stocks and bonds touched new low records for the movement. Closing stocks:

Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, Dec. 7.—After wavering between strength and weakness the wheat market today was steadied by covering to anticipate a possible surprise in the government crop report due just at the closing minute of the session. The surprise came all right—an official estimate that the United States has planted 2,272,000 acres less winter wheat than a year ago. Traders generally expected the report would show the acreage to be about the same as last year. The figures though arrived too late to have a direct influence in the pit. Latest transactions were at 1-3 to 3-4 to 7-8 under last night. Corn finished 1-8 to 1-4 to 3-8 up, oats with a gain of 1-4 to 3-8 and provisions unchanged or varying to 5 to 7 1-2 advance.

The government report as to wheat was altogether one-sided. In regard to the condition of the crop the document put the percentage high, 84.6, against 82.5 last year. What affected prices was first a rain forecast for the Argentine and then statements that a leading dealer of cash wheat here was unloading. The advance which followed was more than wiped out by the selling pressure that resulted from the bearish outlook for grain in store, not only here but elsewhere, notably Kansas City and Minneapolis. During the consequent decline here one concern sold out a million bushels of May. May fluctuated from 96 5-8 to 98 3-8. With the close 97 1-8 to 97 1-4, a decline of 3-4 to 7-8.

Rain, with more promised, helped to keep corn firm. May ranged from 62 7-8 to 63 3-8, closing steady 1-8 to 1-4 higher at 63. Cash grades were not much in demand. No. 2 yellow was quoted at 72 to 72 1-2 for ear lots.

There was an improved eastern demand for oats. Upper and lower levels touch by May were 49 1-4 and 48 3-4, with last sales 1-4 net higher at 49c.

Hog products were firm in sympathy with an advance at the yards. In the end hard was up 2 1-2 to 5 to 7 1-2, with the rest of the list at last night's figures or slightly increased in cost.

GRAND ARMY POST MOURNS DEAD COMRADE

At a recent meeting, G. K. Warren Post, of Albuquerque, of which Joseph Phillips was a past commander, adopted resolutions in memorial.

Whereas, Death has invaded our ranks and claimed as his victim Joseph Phillips, comrade and twice commander of G. K. Warren Post No. 5, Grand Army of the Republic. Therefore, be it Resolved, That in the death of Comrade Joseph Phillips, G. K. Warren Post has lost a good and faithful member; the community in which he long lived has lost a good and worthy citizen and his family an affectionate father.

Resolved, That we, the members of G. K. Warren Post, mourn his departure and will keep fresh in memory his name and commendable deeds.

That our charter be draped in mourning for the period of six months in his memory.

That a copy of these resolutions be recorded in our Journal and published in the city papers and sent to the members of the bereaved family of our comrade.
