FIVE MINERS ARE RESCUED ALIVE FROM WRECKED CROSS MINE

After Hope Had Been Abandoned By Officials and Families of Victims, Men Are Found in Self-Made Prison.

BELIEF PREVAILS THERE ARE OTHER SURVIVORS

However, Because of Debris Which Blocks Entries of Underground Slopes, They May Starve Before Being Reached

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Greenville, Tenn., Dec. 11.—Five men have been brought out alive from the Cross Mountain mine at 11 o'clock tonight and rescuers at that time were making strong efforts to reach at least three more whom they believe still alive.

These men have been prisoners in the workings since Saturday morning when an explosion entombed more than one hundred men, hope for whom had been abandoned when tonight five men alive and well were found behind a barricade they had erected to protect themselves from noxious gases.

The rescued are:
WILLIAM HENDERSON, aged 35.
MILTON HENDERSON, aged 22, his son.

IRWIN SMITH, aged 35.
ARTHUR SCOTT, aged 30.
DOUGLAS IRISH, aged 30.

All the rescued are married and their wives had almost given up hope. Immediately after the explosion the men rushed to cross entry No. 13, where they quickly threw up a barricade to hold back all but the gas that killed many of their fellow workers. They took their lunch pails with them and the three sustained for three days and two nights on what they had expected to make their Saturday noon meal.

News that five miners had been found spread quickly through the town and relatives of other men who had been standing vigil at the mine's mouth until all hope was gone, rushed again to the scene, until the ropes, stretched to hold back all but the gas, were being strained by the throng of anxious watchers.

Until tonight twenty-two bodies had been removed and but twenty cross entries had been explored. The rescuers are endeavoring to get out the bodies in penetrating the cross sections and it is feared that should more be alive in the far recesses of the workings it will be impossible to reach them before they starve.

Another rescue car arrived from Pittsburgh today, to the great joy of the men on the scene. Finding one of the five men tonight revived an abandoned hope in the breasts of the workmen and now they are pushing ahead with all possible speed, hoping to find more men alive. The work is in charge of Dr. J. Holmes, chief of the government bureau of mines.

A new cemetery is being provided for the victims. It is on a hill near the mouth of the mine and today volunteers started to dig the graves. The bodies are being accumulated in one of the many "rooms" in the mine, or might have set off the coal dust on the floor. The floors are supposed to be kept sprinkled and Mr. Stephenson said they were.

A coal company is supplying the immediate needs of the stricken families but later money will be needed to care for the widows and orphans. Indications are that there will be more than fifty of the former and about 150 of the latter.

Mr. Henderson, the eldest of the rescued, came out of the mine smoking his pipe and resisted efforts to carry him home.

"Oh, let me walk," he protested, but without avail.

Henderson made the following statement of his experience:

"We braced up the entrance to the mine room. With our coats we fought back the after damp that came through the cracks in the barricade and then stuck our coats and other articles of wearing apparel in the holes of the barricade. We had lights, our dinner, and each of us had from a half to three-quarters of a gallon of coffee and water in our dinner pails.

We remained in this room quietly for several hours burning one light and taking turns at eating. Late Saturday evening Scott and Irish left the room and attempted to make their way back and reach the entrance of the mine by the over pass. That was the last we saw of them.

"The next morning we made our way, the air having been purified by the fan, into the city and passed by No. 13, endeavoring to find the way out. We ran into gas and were forced to go back to room No. 2 in No. 13, where the air was pure. We remained there until discovered tonight. We ate the last of our food about the middle of Sunday afternoon, but still had some water left and plenty of light. We were endeavoring to reach the entrance again when we were found tonight.

The known dead has been increased to twenty-eight. Five bodies were found in right entry No. 27. The rescuers are at work exploring the entries on the left side.

TEN ACRES OF LUMBER DESTROYED BY FIRE

Portland, Ore., Dec. 11.—Fire, believed to have started in the engine room, but from an unknown cause, almost totally destroyed the mill and yards of the West Oregon Lumber company at Linnton, a suburb of this city, tonight. The loss is estimated at $150,000, covered by insurance for half that amount.

The mill was provided with fire-fighting apparatus but it was insufficient to cope with a fire of the magnitude of the one tonight and by the time fire apparatus arrived from Portland the entire ten acres of yards was in flames.

RANCHMAN CAPTURED AFTER BLOODLESS DUEL

Huge, Colo., Dec. 11.—Following a bloodless revolver duel last evening between Leon and Paul Griffin, ranchmen residing thirty-five miles southwest of here, and Sheriff Hamilton of Crowley county, the two ranchmen were arrested today after being surprised in their cabin by Sheriff Lewis of Lincoln county and six deputies. The men are accused of killing five antelope in violation of the state game laws.

Campaign for Peace Treaties.
Washington, Dec. 11.—A personal campaign to secure senatorial support for the British and French arbitration treaties was begun today by President Taft. The first man he approached was Senator Cramm, of North Dakota, an acknowledged supporter of Senator LaFollette. Mr. Cramm told the president he believed he could vote for the treaties if they were amended so as to preserve the senate's prerogative more closely.

Famous English Surgeon Dies.
London, Dec. 11.—Sir Joseph Dalton Hooker, the eminent surgeon and naturalist, died today aged 93 years.

JUROR SITTING IN CASE OF DOCTOR HYDE ESCAPES

MAY MEAN MISTRIAL OF SECOND HEARING

Henry Waldron Had Chafed Under Restraint; Failure to Find Him Leads to Belief He Has Suicided.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Kansas City, Dec. 11.—A mistrial of the second hearing of Dr. H. C. Hyde, charged with killing Colonel Thomas H. Swope, appears probable tonight.

Made desperate by the sight of two of his children, from whom he had been separated for six weeks, in the court room, last Saturday, Henry Waldron, one of the jurors, escaped from the jurors' hotel quarters early today. While Frank Jasper, a deputy county marshal, who was on guard sleep, Waldron pried open a nailed transom, crawled through the opening, tipped to a fire escape and leaped fifteen feet to freedom.

The entire city police force and a dozen deputies from the county marshal's office have searched futilely for him since his absence was noted near daylight.

If Waldron is not located by tomorrow night the eleven remaining jurors will be discharged, Judge Porterfield said today. Or, if the missing man is found and he cannot prove that he has not discussed the case during his absence the same action will be taken. Should he return in good health and swear that he has mentioned the trial to no one, and the court is satisfied with his story, the trial will proceed.

Fear that Waldron has killed himself grows hourly. He was in a highly agitated state when last seen Sunday night as, indeed he had been almost every day since he was chosen a juror.

He objected to serving when he was first selected, saying his daily interests would not permit his absence. Later, he was taken ill and begged piteously for his wife and children. His wife wrote him daily and he seemed better contented. Then, Saturday, his children came to see him. He hid them in the jury box.

He smiled and nodded. When court adjourned he grasped them in his arms and kissed and fondled them. Yesterday was Sunday and a dull day for the jurors who sat around their hotel. Some of them played games and others read, but Waldron sat alone, playing on his old and battered violin "Home Sweet Home," his favorite tune. He played it over and over again.

Even if Waldron's escape should result in a mistrial, which would mean a loss of thousands of dollars to the county, no severe punishment could be inflicted upon him. He is in contempt of court, but the maximum penalty for this offense is a fine of $20, or a ten days jail sentence.

Attorneys and hundreds of spectators remained about the court room all day anxiously awaiting the return of Waldron. Scores of theories regarding the disappearance were offered but the suggestion of suicide was most generally accepted. Officers think that worry about his family may have deranged him.

Prosecutor Conkling issued a statement intimating Waldron had been induced to escape. Attorneys for Dr. Hyde gave out a written statement deploring the incident and setting forth that he had always urged a speedy trial of his client. They were especially emphatic in denying the prosecutor's insinuations.

ACCOMPLICES OF M'NAMARAS ARE SURRENDERING EVIDENCE

Officials of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers Volunteer Information to United States Attorney.

RECORDS AND LETTERS GIVEN TO GOVERNMENT

Secretary Hockin, Despite Disclosure, Declares Union and Erectors' Association Are As Antagonistic As Ever.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Indianapolis, Dec. 11.—That one or more of the officials of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers are surrendering, voluntarily, to the government information needed in the investigation of an alleged nation-wide dynamiting conspiracy against structural iron contractors who maintain the "open shop" was made known tonight in statements by representatives of the National Erectors' association.

It was announced that, without resistance being offered, letters and records have been conveyed by detectives engaged by the Erectors' association from the headquarters of the iron workers' association in this city to the office of the United States district attorney.

"No promise of immunity to men suspected of complicity in the dynamiting conspiracy have been given by the government," declared Attorney Charles W. Miller, "but of course we will accept evidence from every direction to be presented to the grand jury when it resumes its session next Thursday."

"I have got the evidence from the office of the Iron Workers' association," said Detective Robert Foster of the Erectors' association, "but I will not say who turned it over to me. Certainly if it had been necessary we could have obtained a search warrant and made a raid, but this was not necessary."

Walter Drew, counsel for the Erectors' association, added to Detective Foster's statement that he regretted that the status of the investigation should be made public at this time.

"We have made every endeavor to keep this situation covered up until the completion of the grand jury's inquiry," he said. "I will not comment on the attitude of the officials of the iron workers' association."

Members of the Erectors' association declared for the "open shop" in May, 1906. It has been the principal aim in the search for those responsible for the explosion.

In the face of the announcement of the Erectors' association's representatives, Herbert S. Hockin, secretary of the Iron Workers' association, flatly denied tonight that any papers had been taken from his office.

"The Erectors' association and the iron workers' union are now as antagonistic as they have been for the last five years," he said.

"I have entered into no negotiations with the Erectors or with the federal authorities," he added. "I am not seeking immunity and there would be no reason for me to come through."

The letters taken from the iron workers' headquarters are to be used, it is said in the federal grand jury's inquiry into the allegations that groups of men in many cities were implicated with John J. and James R. McNamara in dynamiting depredations.

Frank M. Ryan, president of the Iron Workers' association, is reported to be in Chicago, but information as to his whereabouts is withheld by Secretary Hockin and Leo M. Rappaport, who has been attorney for the association since the arrest of John J. McNamara.

Detective W. J. Burns, who was in the city today, refused to make a statement regarding his present activities in the case.

"It is entirely in the hands of the department of justice," he said.

DARROW ACCUSED OF COMPLICITY IN BRIBERY

ALLEGED HE GAVE JURY FIXER $20,000

Hearing of Bert H. Franklin at Los Angeles Develops Sensation; Held in $10,000 Bail For Trial.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Los Angeles, Dec. 11.—Bert H. Franklin, an investigator employed by the defense in the murder trial of James R. McNamara, just ended, was held to the superior court today by Justice William P. Young to answer to charges of bribing a juror and attempting to influence the verdict of a jury. The $10,000 cash bond furnished at the time of his arrest by counsel for McNamara, was again made surety for Franklin's liberty.

An information by the state's attorney, which in California may substitute grand jury proceedings, probably will be filed within a week. Assistant District Attorney Ford said tonight. The prosecution does not seek an early trial.

The name of Clarence S. Darrow, chief of counsel for the McNamaras, was brought into the case twice today by witnesses at the preliminary hearing. George N. Lockwood, a contractor who was arrested when Franklin was, and later released, said Franklin told him he would see Darrow "and arrange how the money was to be paid."

Robert E. Bain, a juror who accepted a bribe, told how he came to do it and added Franklin told him Darrow had given him the money "to use." Franklin, in court, denied that he ever said anything of the sort.

"I never mentioned Darrow's name to these men," he declared. "I owe it to Mr. Darrow to say that much. It is an absolute lie."

Previously Franklin said: "I might be guilty, though I don't for one moment admit that—but I'm not fool."

Attorney Darrow flatly denied any complicity in the affair.

"I do not know what words passed between Franklin and Lockwood," he said. "I have had nothing to do with 'getting' any jurors."

"Lockwood, I am told, said later in the day that he had spoken to Franklin about 'the big fellow' saying he supposed I was mount and Franklin replied 'I didn't mean Darrow. I mean 'Cap' White.' It looks as if Lockwood might have had my name in mind when Franklin was not talking about me."

District Attorney Fredericks said that the state does not possess evidence which would warrant including Darrow in the tangle.

"What was testified to was purely hearsay," he said. "It is not evidence in a court of law. This office, before proceeding against men, secures what it believes to be solid evidence."

"Have you much evidence against Mr. Darrow?" was asked.

"We have not," he said, and then corrected this by saying that they had not sufficient evidence against Darrow.

"The federal grand jury which has not been in session since last Friday, will go to work again tomorrow. Those who are directing the probe would not say what angle it would take. Among the possible witnesses is Howard Taylor, chauffeur for General Harrison Gray Otis at the time the Los Angeles Times was dynamited. General Otis was out of town but Taylor was here and found the unexploded suit case bomb at the Otis home. He also found footprints in the turf."

Special Investigator Oscar P. Lawler was asked today about a box received at the United States Marshall's office from Salt Lake City and said to contain about 125 pounds of evidence gathered in connection with the McNamara case.

"Who told you that? Who told you that?" he demanded. "I want to know who is giving out this information."

He refused to say anything more about it.

Asked as to the termination of the grand jury investigation he said: "I might be 'two days or several years' before the end comes."

It was said tonight that the local investigation would not last long.

TAF T SUPPORTERS IN FULL CONTROL OF NATIONAL COMMITTEE

Harry S. New of Indiana to Be Made Chairman of Body That Will Arrange For 1912 Republican Convention.

ROOSEVELT'S POSSIBLE CANDIDACY EXPLOITED

Those Advocating His Nomination Base Claims Upon Fact That He Has Not Announced Refusal to Accept.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Washington, Dec. 11.—Hostilities of an unexpected character and from an unlooked for quarter, developed today among members of the republican national committee and other prominent party leaders, who are here in connection with the meeting tomorrow to fix the time and place for the presidential nominating convention next summer.

Opposition to Colonel Harry S. New of Indiana, the administration candidate for chairman of the powerful sub-committee on convention arrangements, was responsible for the ill-feeling engendered.

The situation, however, cleared considerably late in the evening. At the president's dinner to the committee, there was no open discussion of politics. But it became known immediately after the dinner had adjourned that Secretary Hilles and other supporters of President Taft had won a complete victory and that Colonel New undoubtedly would head the sub-committee on arrangements.

It also was evident that the Taft forces would control the entire membership of the sub-committee and that the state for the sub-committee of five included, in addition to Colonel New, National Committeemen Mulvane of Kansas, Venable of Ohio, Murphy of New Jersey, and Williams of Oregon. All of these men are known to be friendly to President Taft. Committeemen N. C. Duncan of North Carolina, may be added as a sixth member of the sub-committee.

Only less interesting than the controversy over the control of the sub-committee in charge of the convention, was the question of the nomination of a possible candidate for the presidential nomination.

The advocates of Roosevelt's nomination based their arguments in his behalf upon the fact that the former president had announced that he would not accept the nomination if it were tendered him.

It was recognized that he would not become a candidate, they said, but they were busy sounding members of the national committee as to their sentiment in regard to "forcing" the nomination upon the "Colonel." There were many who connected with the open advocacy of Roosevelt's nomination with the opposition to naming a committee on arrangements dominated by administration men.

The Roosevelt enthusiasts frankly said their hope lay in working up a demand for Colonel Roosevelt, to be expressed in the convention itself.

The most sensational feature of the day's skirmishing was the fact that Secretary Hilles, who had been a leader of the Taft forces in the campaign for re-nomination, and Postmaster General Hitchcock, who managed the president's campaign three years ago, seemingly were arrayed against each other. Finally, Mr. Hitchcock issued a statement in denial, but it did not entirely set the report at rest. Mr. Hitchcock's statement follows:

"Statements indicating that there is friction between Mr. Hilles and myself are absolutely unfounded. My resignation as chairman of the national committee was tendered in March, 1909, on the day that I was confirmed as postmaster general, and from that time to this I have refrained from participation in the affairs of the committee. I have all that I can do at present to look after the business of my department and do not wish to be drawn into any controversy respecting national politics."

Friends of President Taft entered upon the work of the day thoroughly convinced that there would be no opposition to Mr. New. It was not until afternoon that they learned the program arranged on Sunday was giving dissatisfaction. Strangely enough the opposition came from members of the southern states, the very ones which the administration was supposed to be in undisputed control.

Southern members of the committee met, ostensibly to take measures of self-protection against any attempt in the next convention to reduce their representation. Several members made impassioned speeches opposing preference to any man who had been a member of a state delegation that had voted solidly in the convention of 1896 to reduce the representation of southern states.

It was recognized that Colonel New was meant by this characterization, although after the meeting several members reported that New's name had not been mentioned at the conference.

No vote was taken in the southern conference, but soon after adjournment it was whispered about that Colonel New would be opposed by a large number of committeemen who had hitherto been counted for any man favored at the White House.

Several members openly advocated the retention of Vice-Chairman John S. Hill of Maine, who will be elected tomorrow as successor of former Chairman Hitchcock, the honor of directing the convention arrangements.

It was reported that Mr. Hitchcock was a party to this plan. On every side Mr. Hitchcock's name was coupled with the anti-New movement and it was probably because of that fact that the postmaster general issued his statement.

Considerable ill-feeling was manifested late in the afternoon, and the executive committee of the national committee met to consider the situation. After much parleying, the executive committee adopted a resolution, naming Mr. Hill, Charles F. Brooks of Connecticut, and former Representative Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, as a special committee, to go to the White House to ascertain the wishes of President Taft.

Brooks and Lowden were known to favor New and some of the latter's opponents went so far as to say that the committee had been "stacked" against Hill. They said that if Brooks and Lowden urged the president to appoint a committee on the cause of New, no alternative would be left Mr. Hill but to acquiesce.

However, President Taft is said to have told the special committee that the committee must meet.

The question of presidential preference primaries so far as the national committee was concerned was disposed of at the meeting of the executive committee late today.

It was decided a resolution should be adopted giving to the six states that already have adopted primary laws, the right to select by that method their delegates to the national convention.

National Committeemen David Mulvane of Kansas, suggested that the resolution restrict the privilege of primaries to those six states. This action was opposed as impolitic and was not agreed to. It was decided to cover all the other states by a resolution providing that delegates should be elected in accordance with the rules in each state. Various state committees. This solution was said to be satisfactory to the warring elements from Ohio.

The financial situation of the national committee was inquired into by the executive committee and was said to have been found satisfactory.

The national committee will meet at 11 a. m. tomorrow.

There seemed no question tonight that Chicago would get the national convention and that it would be held the last week in June. St. Louis apparently was the only city seriously considered as a rival to Chicago.

Denver it was claimed will throw its support to Chicago in preference to St. Louis.

President Taft today declined to commit himself either to Chicago or St. Louis. Representatives of the various cities will be given an hour and a half to present their claims.

Three members of the national committee did not attend President Taft's dinner tonight. The most prominent was William J. Ward of New York, who in his official declaration said he would be in the city only a short time. Friends of Mr. Ward, however, declared that he declined because he did not wish to attach himself to Mr. Taft's candidacy in any way.

National Committeemen Flanagan of Nevada, and Sturgis of Arizona, were the other absentees. So far as could be learned these had not reached the city.

So far as known all the other members of the committee attended the dinner.

John Hays Hammond tonight entertained at dinner a number of prominent members of the Young Men's Republican clubs of various states.

SPLENDOR TO MARK KING GEORGE'S ACCESSION AS EMPEROR

Great Durbar Which Takes Place Today at Delhi, India, to Surpass Coronation When Edward Was Proclaimed.

ATTENDANCE BREAKS ALL PREVIOUS RECORDS

Three Thousand to Witness Investiture and Reception; Scant 160 Guests Will Sit at State Banquet.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Delhi, Dec. 11.—The great durbar tomorrow to celebrate the accession of King George as emperor of India, will far outshine the coronation durbar in 1902, when King Edward was proclaimed. There will be a public holiday through India and the royal proclamation will be read in every town and village.

Already King George and Queen Mary have taken part in many functions and have received the homage of the princes. Delhi is overrun with visitors from all lands and it is expected the magnificent spectacle will be viewed by hundreds of thousands.

In the durbar of 1902 the emperor and empress were represented by the Duke and Duchess of Connaught. About 100 ruling chiefs were in attendance and the visitors were estimated at something less than 200,000. This year the personal attendance of the king, empress and queen-empress has attracted vast crowds while the ruling chiefs have gathered from every quarter of India.

The durbar camp is a vast canvas city, covering about twenty-five square miles. It is lighted by electricity, served by a perfect water supply and provided with excellent roads and a special railway system. Chief of all stands out the emperor's central camp.

The huge tent in which the investiture and the reception will be held is capable of seating 2,000 persons and is decorated in blue, white and gold. Behind is the king's state dining tent, hung with blue where 160 guests will attend the state banquet tomorrow evening. Their majesties' private tents are to the right and the viceroys has a somewhat similar encampment to the left.

About 150 ruling princes are here their camps being in close proximity to that of the king. The historic ridge in the evening presents a truly wonderful sight. As far as the eye can reach twinkle myriads of electric lights, which disclose a picture of white and gold and here and there splashes of color.

DENIED RIGHT TO REVIEW DECREE OF COURT

Chief Justice White Refuses Application of Rough Leaf Tobacco Board of Trade of New York.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Washington, Dec. 11.—In refusing today the application of the rough leaf tobacco board of trade of New York to review the decree of the United States circuit court which approved the re-organization plan of the "tobacco trust," three reasons were assigned by the supreme court of the United States. These reasons as set forth by Chief Justice White were:

One who is not a party to a record and judgment is not entitled to appeal therefrom.

The action of the court below in refusing to permit the movers to become parties to the record is not susceptible of being reviewed by this court on appeal or indirectly, under the circumstances here disclosed by the writ of mandamus.

The merely general nature and character of interest which the movers allege they have in the papers here filed is not in any event of such a character as to authorize them in this proceeding to assail the action of the court below.

A bill was introduced in congress today by Senator Cummins granting the independent tobacco companies the right to appeal to the supreme court from the New York decree approving the tobacco company's re-organization. The bill gives as reason for review a desire to ascertain whether the circuit court's decree is in conformity with the supreme court's decision in the tobacco case.

SHRINERS CHOOSE AND INSTALL OFFICERS

Nobles of Ballut Abyad Temple Hold Annual Business Session; Elect Representatives to Imperial Council.

The Masonic lodge room was filled last night with local and out of town nobles of the Ballut Abyad Temple Nobles of the Mystic Shrine upon the occasion of the annual business session, the election and installation of officers of the shrine for the year 1912.

The meeting was marked by the retirement of Potentate C. O. Cushman, who was presented by Judge E. A. Mann on behalf of the temple, with a handsome past potentate's jewel in recognition of his services as chief of the order for the past year. The presentation was a complete surprise to Mr. Cushman. He was seemingly called to account by Judge Mann for his shortcomings, and after being berated for some time, the Judge eloquently turned the remarks into eulogiums of praise, winding up with the presentation of the handsome jewel. Mr. Cushman received the gift in a neat speech.

The representatives to the Imperial council which meets in Los Angeles next May were elected as follows: C. O. Cushman and John Borradale of Albuquerque; Col. J. W. Willson of Roswell and Judge W. H. Newcomb of Silver City.

The following are the officers elected:

EFFORTS TO FIND GENERAL REYES FUTILE

Uprisings Against Madero Government Continue; Disaffection Within 100 Miles of Mexico City.

[By Morning Journal Special Lensed Wire.] Mexico City, Dec. 11.—Within the last forty-eight hours four small towns in the state of Puebla have joined in the rebellion against the Madero government.

This activity and that in Morelos and Tlaxcala brings a center of disaffection within a hundred miles south of the capital. Additional troops have been sent to Puebla.

Tonight reports from Vera Cruz are that a new band of rebels has begun operations in that state, raiding haciendas and two villages. Efforts of the government agents to find General Reyes have been without success.

BONDSMAN OF REYES PLACED UNDER ARREST

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 11.—P. A. Chapel, member of Governor Colquhoun's personal staff, was arrested tonight by federal authorities on charges of violating the neutrality laws. The complaint cites his receipt of money for alleged revolutionary movements against Mexico.

Chapel is one of the bondsmen for General Bernardo Reyes, recently arrested on similar charges.

CALLING MEETING OF COMMERCIAL CLUB TONIGHT

Important Topics to Be Discussed By Members and Action May Be Taken Before Session Adjourns.

The Commercial club will hold a called session this evening in the club room at which time the report of the special committee on the commission form of government for cities will be taken up and discussed.

In referring to probable action by the Commercial club on the Alameda dyke a county commissioner yesterday said: "I do not see what the club wants to take up that question for. The county commissioners have always attended to it and the present dyke which has stood the test well when it needed repairing. It is not necessary for the Commercial club to bother about it; that's what we are elected for, and you can rest assured that when it needs attention no set of men in the county will be more alert or anxious or willing to fix it and that right speedily, than is the present county board."

FLOW OF ARTESIAN WELLS RESUMED

Prevention of Waste Has Resulted in Replenishing of Underground Streams in Pecos Valley District.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.]

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 11.—T. A. Gillett, mineral inspector of the general land office, has returned here from Roswell where he has been on official business connected with the artesian and oil wells of that section. He reports that many of the artesian wells that had ceased to flow since 1907 had again begun to furnish water. Better organization of the new inspection system, prevention of waste and the wet season have caused a replenishing of many of the underground streams and reservoirs. He adds that owing to the careless use of sub-surface water many of the lower parts of the valleys are becoming saturated with minerals unfavorable to vegetation. The cure he thinks is a complete control of water rights and the laying out of the land into drainage districts.

LORIMER INQUIRY WILL CONTINUE TILL SPRING

Senate Investigating Committee Undecided About Admission of Testimony Alleging Conspiracy Urged By Defense

[By Morning Journal Special Lensed Wire.]

Washington, Dec. 11.—Whether the senate Lorimer investigating committee will go into the alleged reasons why the International Harvester company and the McClellan family were opposed to Lorimer, may not be decided for several days. Chairman Dillingham said today that an examination of the record was necessary to decide the point.

Judge Haney, counsel for Lorimer, has indicated that he will fight hard to show what he claims is the inspiration of the charges against the Illinois senator.

It became evident today that no senator on the committee entertained hope that the first of the year would see the end of the inquiry. It is generally expected that the case will be carried well over into the spring.

Counsel for Lorimer are being accused of using every pretext for delay.

Witnesses were introduced by the defense today to discredit the testimony of Charles A. White, the former Illinois legislator who made an alleged confession that he had been bribed to vote for Lorimer.

James W. Doyle, one of the labor lobbyists at Springfield, who said he was seeking certain legislation, declared White had intimated to him that he "wanted living or wind," but Doyle gave no testimony of having been directly for a bribe.

PLAN TO REORGANIZE DEFUNCT CORPORATION

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 11.—Creditors of the Western Steel corporation, the $20,000,000 company, which was placed in the hands of receivers October 13, held their first meeting here today and elected Lester Turner, Sutcliffe Baxter and Edgar Ames trustees. Turner and Baxter have been serving as receivers.

Immediate re-organization of the defunct corporation was proposed at the meeting by a representative of the Metropolitan Trust company of New York. If the creditors would agree to an early sale, he said, the trust company would undertake the formation of a new company to take over the steel plant at Ironside, Wash., and have it in operation by February or March of next year.

The creditors of whom there are 700, agreed to meet again December 21 to consider a formal proposition to this effect.

The Rare Vintages of France.

This year's produce of the famous sixty-one classified growths of chateau, from Chateau Margaux and Haut Brion to Leoville and Pontet, Caet, has already been sold first hand, at some 50 per cent above the average price of the last decade, and such has been the demand from many countries for these 1911 clarets that they were all sold, as well as many of the Bordeaux growths, before the grapes were entirely gathered. Such a proceeding has never occurred before on the Bordeaux market, and it is a curious spectacle to see, with few exceptions, all the clarets that were produced in 1911 on these well-known estates still in the hands of the growers, for which probably less than one-half the price that is now being paid for the 1909s would willingly be accepted. The clarets of the 1909 vintage are still in cask and should be bottled in the spring of 1912. They promise to take a high rank among vintage clarets, and having been sold at comparatively moderate prices at the time of the vintage, they have changed hands among the merchants of Bordeaux at enhanced rates. To give an idea of the production of clarets of 1911 as compared with that of the last fine vintage, namely, 1909, which was not a large one, we may mention that Chateau Margaux has produced 260 hogsheds in 1911, as compared with 323 hogsheds in 1909; Lafite, 220 hogsheds, against 400; Leoville-Lancos, 480, against 700; Langous, 240, against 252; Chateau Loundenne, 720 hogsheds, against 700 in 1909. To show the prolificacy of the vine, it may be mentioned that at Chateau Loundenne, with 125 acres of vineyard, the weight of the grapes gathered this year amounted to upward of 270 tons, or equal to more than 600,000 pounds.

There is every probability of the 1911 southern wines being the finest since the famous vintage of 1893, the extreme heat of three rainless months having produced to perfection that lusciousness of the grape for which the white-wine district is famous. Not only Chateau d'Yquem, but also all the minor growths and the thousand of Bourgeois, Arisau and Ponsand growths, have produced suterne of a richness that occurs only a few times in a century.

In the Cote d'Or, where the quantity does not amount to a third of an average crop, the prices paid for the wines are enormous. There has probably not been such a perfect vintage as regards quality for more than twenty years, and many anticipate it may reach the great year of 1865. The white wines of Chablis, although extremely limited in quantity, will also be very fine in quality.

The champagne vintage this year is, both in the white and red grape districts, of exceptionally fine quality; but the quantity will, unfortunately be small. The prices paid are the highest for many years. With 1910 a complete blank and 1909 and 1908 indifferent, there is, with the exception of a limited quantity of 1907s, only the vintage of 1906 to be shipped, which is already sold to the merchants in England and other parts of the world.—London Times.

Wilkinson and the other is a single barrel Stevens gun, which disappeared somewhere between the city and Jones' place on the mesa. Mr. Drumm will appreciate their return.

BICYCLE RIDERS ARE 5 MILES BEHIND RECORD

Up to 1 o'clock this morning But One Team of Fifteen Entered Had Retired From Six-Day Race; Pace is Fast.

New York, Dec. 11.—Pedaling steadily, something more than five miles behind the record, fifteen teams of bicycle riders, thirteen of them new terms, last night completed their first twenty-four hours of their six-day grind in the annual race at Madison Square Garden. Two of the teams Ryan and Cavanaugh, and Wiley and Galvin, were lapped yesterday during the forenoon sprint. Aside from the exciting dash that broke the straight out among the contestants, the day was one of little incident.

About midnight, in a long series of sprints started by Palmer, two teams were lapped, one of them being the Thomas-Stein team, which had been tied with the leaders, Ryan and Cavanaugh, were lapped twice during the hard riding, their double loss putting them three laps behind the dozen teams bunched in the lead.

At 1 o'clock this morning, twelve teams were tied in the lead at 536 miles, three laps. Galvin and Wiley and Thomas and Stein had scored 535 miles, two laps. The record of Ryan and Cavanaugh was posted at that hour as 531 miles and seven laps.

At 12:44 o'clock the Ryan-Cavanaugh team retired from the race. The record for the 24 hours is 540 miles, five laps, made last year.

NATIONAL BASEBALL COMMISSION ASKS PUBLIC TO HELP

President Says Efforts Are Being Made to Ascertain If There Was Collusion in Ticket Scandal.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
New York, Dec. 11.—The National Commission issued a statement tonight inviting the public to prove if there were collusion between the New York National league club, or any of its officials, and ticket scalpers in the world's series last October.

So far, Chairman August Herrmann said, the commission has spent $1,500 looking for evidence and was prepared to spend more.

This was one of the several matters that kept the commission for six hours behind closed doors. Another matter discussed was gambling in baseball pools, under which the members placed a ban. To correct this evil, the commission adopted a resolution recommending to the National and American leagues that they do all in their power to end that custom.

It was also announced that the commission will consult with the outside officials and their customers looking to that end, it having been reported to the commission that several newspapers and other periodicals carried the pools "making it seem like a lottery."

The committee reported that it had referred to President Lincoln of the National league and President Johnson of the American league the request of the Eastern league, the Pacific Coast league and the American association, for higher ratings. Each major league will consider the question at its meeting tomorrow.

The commission will receive their reports at its annual meeting in Cincinnati, January 3, and dispose of the matter then.

Incidentally the Eastern league, meeting a few blocks away, voted to ban a new block to the International league.

In length of discussion the world series ticket scandal overshadowed every other topic before the National commission. When adjournment was taken Chairman Herrmann threw open the doors to newspaper men and made an oral statement.

"Inasmuch as the investigation of the sale of tickets during the world series is concerned," he said, "the commission has started a rigid investigation. It has expended more than $1,500 and is prepared to spend more. The commission realizes that tickets were in the hands of speculators both in New York and Philadelphia; it also realizes that the speculators sold these tickets at exorbitant prices. What we want to know is whether any one connected with the New York club or the Philadelphia club was in collusion with any speculator or speculators. We are anxious to secure information along that line."

"If a newspaper has information along this line, or if a writer, newspaper writer, the commission would be glad to hear from them and take the matter up with them. In the meantime, we are continuing our investigation, which, in the midst of it now and we are going to be bottom of the matter."

DISCRIMINATION IN FREIGHT RATES ALLEGED

Independent Steel Manufacturers Charge That Roads Owned By Trust Granted Rebates to Parent Corporations.

Washington, Dec. 11.—Independent steel manufacturers today alleged before the house "steel trust" investigating committee complaint that the freight rates charged by railroads owned by the United States Steel corporation discriminated in favor of that concern.

F. C. Baird, freight traffic manager of the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad, and George D. Dixon, freight traffic manager of the Pennsylvania railroad, were witnesses. The latter declared that Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel company, had complained against discriminatory rates and had threatened to build a terminal railroad to overcome shipping disadvantages. Mr. Baird testified that in the Pittsburgh district the rates were fixed in conference.

Mr. Dixon said the Cambria Steel company, the Bethlehem company and others had complained of the division of the freight rates in the district.

"Mr. Schwab of the Bethlehem company," said Mr. Dixon, "was formerly president of the United States Steel corporation and knows all about how these rates are made. He wants the same thing for Bethlehem."

Representative Peall asked Mr. Dixon about changes made in the rates by agreements and the witnesses answered that to get business they were forced to meet "competitive figures."

Figures were submitted from the interstate commerce commission showing that the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad capitalized at $500,000 with an operating revenue of $7,500,000 and a net income of $1,600,000, declared an annual dividend of 33 per cent on its capital stock.

Mr. Baird explained that this railroad, only eight and a half miles long, operated under a lease, the Pittsburgh, Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad, a little more than 200 miles in length. The Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad received 25 cents a ton out of a total charge of 96 cents a ton on ore from Conneaut to Pittsburgh. The twenty-six cents covered the haul for only eight and a half miles of the total of 214 miles.

Springer of this city, a former president, was roundly cheered when in the course of a speech he said that the price of beef would never be any less in the United States. In support of his statement Mr. Springer said that the last census showed that the number of cattle was seven per cent less than in the census of 1900, and that in the meantime the number of beef eaters had increased 21 per cent.

RAILROADS COST MORE TO OPERATE THAN FORMERLY

Expenses of Santa Fe Double and Treble Those of Fifteen Years Ago Despite Economies Practiced.

According to President Ripley of the Santa Fe railway, the railroads pay nearly twice as much for the maintenance of way and structures now as they paid fifteen years ago, and three times as much for the maintenance of equipment. President Ripley claims that the Santa Fe is a pioneer in the adoption of economic methods, yet these figures hold for the Santa Fe.

The following table will show the gradual increase in cost of maintenance since 1897:

Year.	Way and Structures, Per mile.	Equipment, Per mile.

RUSSIA DOES NOT CONFINE INSULTS ALONE TO JEWS

Hearing Before House Committee On Foreign Relations Reveals Interesting Information Regarding Treaty Violations.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Washington, Dec. 11.—Those who appeared today before the house committee on foreign affairs, urging abrogation of the 1832 treaty between the United States and Russia, declared that the czar's alleged discrimination against Americans had not been confined to Jews alone, but were extended to include Catholic priests, Protestant ministers and American missionaries.

Louis Marshall of New York, counsel for the Jews, who appeared, cited the case of Bishop Hoban of Scranton, Pa., who, he said, was denied a two days' sojourn in Russia, although armed with a passport from the state department. He said Oscar Hammerstein, the American impresario, was not allowed to enter Russia to engage talent.

Jacob Schiff, the New York banker, showed a letter received from Elihu Root, when the latter was secretary of state, saying an satisfaction could be obtained from Russia. Oscar Strauss, former ambassador to Turkey, and a member of the Roosevelt cabinet, denied any personal knowledge that American interests were influencing the state department in its treatment of the question.

Samuel Dorf, representing Bnai B'orith Abram; Rabbi Solomon Foster of Cincinnati, secretary of the American Rabbi's association; William G. McArdoo, chairman, and Bernard Kohn, secretary of the National Citizens' association; Abram I. Elkus, a regent of New York state university and Leon Sanders, representing the Jewish National Fraternal Congress, were other speakers.

The committee will continue its hearing tomorrow.

120 DOORS EVERY HOUR, CAPACITY

Skilled Mechanics Witness Remarkable Performance of Machine Patented By Albuquerque Men.

The self-squaring automatic door machine, invented and patented by William F. Ohlraun and George N. Scher of this city, has given a remarkable exhibition to a jury of mechanical experts at the Chicago Mill and Lumber company's plant. The inventors claimed for this machine a capacity of 100 doors an hour, but it did much better, and turned out 120 an hour, which Mr. Ohlraun points out, at ten doors to a house would supply in one year enough houses to make Albuquerque a city of 50,000 population.

The interesting and remarkable test was witnessed by Superintendent W. H. Kelly of the American Lumber company plant; M. A. Johnson of the same plant; Contractor Ed Gerig, Contractor Henry Rogers, a representative of the United Sash and Door company of Wichita, Kas.; Otto Newlander and many others. Any one interested in seeing this wonderful machine in operation will be welcomed at the plant of the Chicago Mill and Lumber company. It is an invention which may revolutionize the manufacture of doors and its try out has aroused the greatest interest among mechanics.

NOTED SPEAKER TO LEAD MISSION

Rector of St. John's Announces Meeting Conducted By Archdeacon Webber of Boston; Begins December 13.

Archdeacon W. E. Warren, rector of St. John's church, has issued the following announcement:

To the Citizens of Albuquerque, N. M., and Persons Interested in St. John's Church:

It has been my rare good fortune to secure a promise from Archdeacon Percy C. Webber of Boston, to come to St. John's church for the purpose of conducting a series of religious services, called a mission from December 13, to 20. Archdeacon Webber is a gentleman, a devout Christian man, a forceful speaker and a man of national reputation. In the past it has been my privilege to cooperate with Archdeacon Webber in various missions and have received the thanks of the people who attended the missions, for introducing Mr. Webber to the community.

I am convinced that there are many true men and women within this city who, for what they think are sufficient reasons, are not members of a church. You give yourself, your time and your money to various philanthropic and other institutions for the uplift and betterment of men, but do not give yourself to that deeper realm of life, called religion. You accept Jesus Christ as the Saviour of the world; you approve His teachings and desire your "standards of life" from Him and His teachings, but you are not a member of His church, I am convinced, chiefly because He or His church has been misrepresented to you.

I am further convinced that if you will attend one or more of the Mission Services these misrepresentations will be corrected and that both Jesus Christ and His church will be presented to you in such an attractive light, you will gladly enroll under His banner and identify yourself with "His body, which is His church."

I take pleasure in inviting you to attend one or all of these services. The first service of the mission will be a Celebration of the Holy Communion on Wednesday, 7:00 a. m., at which the rector will officiate.

Services of the Mission.

There will be a Celebration of the Holy Communion each morning at 7:00, an after service at 3:00, and an evening service at 7:30. On Sunday afternoon the service will be for men only.

An announcement of special services will be made later.

If you will cooperate with me in this undertaking I am certain that you will think me, when the mission is over.

Hearty and gratefully,
W. E. WARREN,
Rector of St. John's Parish, and Archdeacon of New Mexico.

WORK ON THE HAMMOND EXTENSION PROJECT TO COMMENCE IN SAN JUAN

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
Aztec, N. M., Dec. 11.—W. H. Crawford, who has been in Colorado Springs and Denver for the past week, writes that he will be back very soon and will bring a complete camp equipment to begin active construction work on the Hammond Extension ditch project. This project covers some 10,000 acres of fine land south of the San Juan river, and is being backed by Colorado Springs parties.

C. A. Ransom this week hauled 16,000 pounds of beans to Aztec from his ranch on the Bloomfield mesa. These beans brought five cents per pound and were raised with only one irrigation. Mr. Ransom also raised some high grade wheat on the same land.

The persistent rumors of the building of the Arizona Eastern extension from Globe, Ariz., to Durango, Colo., is encouraging news to this section.

The Aztec school board was left in a dilemma the fore part of this week by the sudden resignation of the principal of the school, W. C. Russell, who quit without notice and left Aztec the same afternoon. He was formerly of Portales, N. M. The school board has secured Martin Schie of Farmington, an principal, and the new principal is giving good satisfaction.

JUST TRY A TEN CENT BOX OF CASCARETS

Insures You for Months Against a Sick Headache, Bilelessness,
Constipation or a Bad Stomach.

Put aside—just once—the Salts, Cathartics, Pills, Castor Oil or purgative waters which merely force a passage through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage or alimentary organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your inside organs pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Bilelessness, coated tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, or constipated bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

INFORM STUDENTS HOW TO PREVENT TUBERCULOSIS

This Subject, Together With Purpose of Red Cross Christmas Seals, Theme of Special Exercises.

Exercises were held in all the public schools of the city yesterday afternoon devoted to the study of the prevention of tuberculosis, and the purpose of the "Red Cross Christmas Seal."

The exercises in the High school were also included an address by Dr. J. W. Colbert, on the "Prevention of Tuberculosis," but owing to an urgent call, Dr. Colbert was unable to be present. He will, however, deliver his address to the students of the High school some afternoon this week.

In the world schools, Rev. Dr. Tolbert of the First Congregational church spoke upon the same topic. The children showed great interest.

Last week, in preparation for the program yesterday, Prof. John Milne, superintendent of the Albuquerque public schools, sent a list of suggestions to every teacher and the programs as carried out were along the lines laid down in the list.

During the course of the references to the Red Cross seal it was brought out and emphasized that the postoffice department did not allow the stamps to be placed on the same side of the letter as the postage stamps, but made no objection to the use of them on the back of the letter. The use of the money derived from this source in the prevention of tuberculosis throughout the United States was also emphasized, and the students of the High school as well as the pupils in the ward schools were urged to buy the stamps if they could do so.

The following was the list of suggestions made out by Superintendent Milne and sent to the teachers:

How to Keep From Getting Tuberculosis.

1. Get as much fresh air as possible day and night.
2. Exercise every day in the open air.
3. Eat good food, take plenty of time to eat, and eat regularly.
4. Wash your hands and face before eating.
5. Do not exhaust yourself by work or worry.
6. Get plenty of sleep every night.
7. Change wet clothing for dry as soon as possible.
8. Keep fingers, pencils, money and paper out of your mouth, and do not take bites from food which others have been eating.
9. Take good care of a cold.
10. Bathe at least twice each week.
11. Do not drink intoxicating liquors.
12. Do not sit in overcrowded stuffy rooms.
13. Change clothing to suit the changes of the weather.
14. Do not stay in a room being swept or return to it until the dust has settled.

ARGUES MOTION TO RE-OPEN SUIT AGAINST CITY

Case in Which Elfigo Baca Was Awarded $5,000 Judgment
By Default May Be Tried On Its Merits.

A motion to re-open the damage suit of Elfigo Baca against the city of Albuquerque was argued before Judge Abbott in chambers yesterday morning by City Attorney H. J. Collins. The grounds for re-opening the case as advanced by the city attorney were that he was absent from Albuquerque when the case was called for trial by Attorney Baca, who secured a default judgment for $5,000. The case was continued until this morning to allow the plaintiff to obtain additional affidavits to submit to the court.

Suit to Quiet Title.

Yesterday afternoon Judge Abbott heard arguments of counsel in the case of the Sisters of Loretto against Melton Garcia, involving the right and title to a certain piece of land in Sandoval county. Frank W. Clancy appeared for the plaintiffs, while E. M. Lester and H. B. Jamison appeared for the defendants. The claim of the defense is that the warranty deed through which plaintiffs set up their claim to the property is fraudulent.

Gallup Man Asks Divorce.

Alleging that his wife has abandoned him without just cause or provocation, H. M. McKinley yesterday filed suit for absolute divorce from Viola Mohr, to whom he has been married since 1891. He asks the court to give him the custody of five minor children; because, as he alleges, his wife is not a fit and proper person to care for them.

The suit is brought in the district court of McKinley county, the plaintiff being a resident of Gallup for more than a year. The minor children are Irma, aged 15; Mervyn, 13; Iselta, 11; Richard, 10, and Beatrice, 8.

VOTERS OF ARIZONA CHOOSE STATE OFFICERS TODAY

Rousing Rallies Last Night in All of the Larger Cities Marked Close of Exciting Campaign.

(By Morning Journal Special Licensed Wire.)
Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 11.—Final rallies tonight in all of the larger cities of the territory brought to an end Arizona's first state campaign. The issues go to the ballot box tomorrow.

In accordance with time honored custom, both republicans and democrats are claiming everything in sight the former expressing confidence in spite of a normal democratic majority.

The elimination of the recall will be accomplished tomorrow, it is expected, but it is said will be established again as soon as statehood is obtained.

The selection of Mark Smith, former democratic delegate in congress, as one of the United States senators is regarded as almost certain while a close contest is expected between Percy F. Ashurst, democrat, and Ralph Cameron, republican, for the other seat.

Howard A. Smith is on the republican ticket with Cameron as a candidate for United States senator. If there are many close contests it may be weeks before anything official is known regarding the results.

Under the enabling act the returns of this election will be made direct from each precinct to a board composed of the governors and secretary of the territory and the chief justice.

Some time will elapse before these reports reach the commission and it will take a week or more to canvass them.

EXPERIENCE GAINED WHILE IN THE DRUG BUSINESS.

I have been troubled more or less in the last five years with kidney trouble and from the experience I gained while in the drug business and from different cases where I have sold Swamp-Root with perfect satisfaction to those who purchased it, and as I never had a single complaint regarding the medicine while I was in business, I was in a position to know that it was a great preparation and it did not fail me when I used it myself. It has certainly afforded me great relief at all times that my kidneys have troubled me and I would not be without it. I always recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root to my friends as I believe it to be a medicine of great curative value in the diseases for which you recommend it.

Sincerely,
D. A. KOONCE,

DEATH CALLS PETER TOBIN, OLD-TIMER OF ALBUQUERQUE

Peter Tobin, for thirty years a resident of New Mexico, twenty years of which time he lived in Albuquerque, died yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's hospital at the age of 75 years.

Mr. Tobin was one of the best known of this city's old-timers and was liked by everyone who knew him. He was a veteran Santa Fe railroad employee, working as a section foreman for that company at various points up to six years ago when he retired. Since that time he had made his home at St. Joseph's sanitarium.

The deceased had no relatives in the United States, but is survived by two brothers and several nephews in Ireland, where he was born.

The funeral will be held at the Immaculate Conception church tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock and burial will take place in Santa Barbara cemetery.

DEMOCRATIC GAINS CONTINUE AT SANTA FE

COUNT COMPLETED ON ONE-HALF OF COUNTIES

In Luna Republicans Lose From Twelve to Eighteen Votes Unofficial Returns; Medler Elected.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.]
Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 11.—Adjournment of today's session of the official canvassing board found the count completed in Otero and Quay counties. The official figures in these two counties present little change from the result as unofficially announced. In Otero Judge John Y. Hewitt gained one vote over his republican opponent, Edward L.
Medler. With Torrance county awaiting to be canvassed, Mr. Medler has a majority of 29 and his election is generally conceded, though he may lose three votes in Lincoln county where the democratic attorneys made an exception to a ruling of the board.
In Luna county, which was completed this morning, several changes from the official figures were made.
These changes were all favorable to the democrats and all candidates on their state ticket have from twelve to eighteen more votes than were accorded them in the earlier reports.
In Luna county all the candidates for supreme court justice suffered a loss as the result of the official canvass, but the loss of the republican candidates was greater than that of the democrats, the losses being as follows: Parker, 23; Roberts, 24;

Wright, 23; Burkhardt, 1; Dunn, 16;
and Hanna, 11.

An error in the printing of the name of S. L. Owen, democratic candidate for corporation commissioner, has probably resulted in the defeat of that gentleman and the election of G. H.
Van Stone, the progressive republican candidate.

In McKinley and Luna counties
Mr. Owen's name was printed as "Sol" Owen, and the board has ruled that these votes cannot be counted for "S.
L." Owen. The democratic attorneys have made exception to the ruling,

GRAND JURY WILL LOOK INTO THE PERALTA CASE

Murder and Burning of Tajique
Man Chief Matter of Interest
Before Session of Torrance County Court.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.]
Estancia, N. M., Dec. 11.—The murder of Juan Peralta of Tajique, whose dead and dismembered body was found charred in a bonfire last May,
will be the chief matter of interest to come before the grand jury, in the district court for Torrance county, which opens here tomorrow, Judge John H. McFie presiding. The grand jury will be organized and begin its labors tomorrow. The first case on the docket tomorrow is that of the state versus C. B. Hill, charged with making a false financial statement, the charge being the result of an investigation of the accounts of the firm of Hill Brothers of Duran, N. M., by a receiver.

On motion of the prosecution the case of Sabino Senna, an old cause in which the defendant was charged with murder, was dismissed on account of lack of evidence to convict.
The court announced today that an adjournment would be taken the last of the week until January 15, on account of the sessions of the supreme court at Santa Fe.

MURDER MYSTERY PARTLY CLEARED BY CONFESSION

Thomas Jones, Chicago Chauffeur Who Drove Automobile Carrying Slaying of Mrs.
Kaufman, Under Arrest.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Chicago, Dec. 11.—The mystery surrounding the killing of Mrs. Hattie Kaufman, wife of Edmund Kaufman, a wealthy commission merchant, who was shot by highwaymen a week ago while returning home from a theater with her husband, was partly cleared today, according to the police, by the arrest and confession of Thomas Jones, 19 years old.

Jones is a chauffeur and the police say he admits having driven the automobile that carried three men to the scene of the crime on the north side. In his statement Jones implicated George Robinson, 22 years old, alias "Towhead," John Stacey, 24 years old, said to be a tricklayer, and a man known to him only as "Fred," who is about 20 years old.

Jones said robbery was the motive of the attack, and that the woman was shot because she screamed when ordered to hold up her hands.

The three men are believed to have left the city and their descriptions have been telegraphed to every part of the country.

According to Captain Halpin, Jones confessed that on the evening of December 4, he stole an automobile to take several of his girl friends for a ride.

Later, he said, he met Robinson, Stacey and "Fred" and took them for a ride, but he had no idea that the men intended to commit robbery.
Jones said it was snowing and the first intimation he had of the intentions of his companions was when one of them remarked: "It's a fine night for a stick-up."

GOVERNMENT NOT SATISFIED WITH JURYMEN

Though There Are Twelve Veniremen Ready to Try Packers, Prosecution Will Challenge
Several of Them.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Chicago, Dec. 11.—Selection of a jury to try the cases of the ten Chicago meat packers charged with violating the Sherman anti-trust laws criminal provisions, dragged today.
Although there are twelve veniremen in the jury box, apparently satisfactory to the packers, when the day's session of court closed it seemed probable that attorneys for the government would retire several by peremp-tory challenges.

A second venire of fifty was ordered by Judge Carpenter to report tomorrow in the United States district court. Only five of the original venire of eighty-three have not been questioned.

The jury box when court closed today contained three farmers, three merchants, a telephone inspector, a baker, a real estate agent, an engineer, a clerk and a tailor.

A search for prejudice against the meat wholesalers' dismissed many prospective jurors from the box.
Considerable emphasis was laid on the statute of limitations, which barred acts or accusations prior to September, 1907, from being considered in this case.

noon. The funeral service was held yesterday at Tajique.

German Cruiser Visits Portsmouth.
Portsmouth, England, Dec. 11.—The German cruiser Berlin, whose appearance at Agadir, Morocco, July 4, last, land and Germany, today sought the hospitality of this port in consequence of a shortage of coal. She will proceed to Germany tomorrow.

Fire Damages Luna Park.
New York, Dec. 11.—Fire which for a time threatened to burn out the heart of Luna Park, the great show place of Coney Island, raged for an hour and a half late this afternoon, but was confined to the Luna Park restaurant and an amusement resort adjoining. Both these structures were practically destroyed at a loss of $150,000.

MANUAL TRAINING BUILDING WILL BE ERECTED

School Board Meets This Afternoon to Choose Site For Structure; Cost Will Be Under $1,200.

At a special meeting of the school board held in the office of Superintendent Milne in the Central school last night, plans for the proposed Manual training building were discussed. The session adjourned to meet again this afternoon at 4 o'clock for the purpose of looking over the available sites for the building.

The plans shown last night call for a one-story brick building, 30 by 30 feet, built upon a foundation of sufficient strength to allow of an additional story being built on in the future should the demands of the work make such an addition imperative.

The walls will be twelve feet high with four windows in each end, and one window and door with glass lights in the other sides. One of the doors is to be a double affair through which supplies and equipment can be taken in and out of the building.

A partition will divide the room into two departments fifteen feet wide by thirty feet long. This partition is to be a sliding partition with a double door in it.

The equipment of the Manual training school will consist of fifty benches, each bench to accommodate two students, and a sufficient number of kits of tools to keep thirty boys at work during a period. Saws, hammers, planes, chisels, screwdrivers, files and all other necessities to a carpenter and joiner's shop will be provided.

Upon the decision of the trustees to build the school the supply committee was authorized to obtain bids for the equipment from both local and outside dealers. The teachers' committee was empowered to employ a teacher. Superintendent Milne announced that he had been in correspondence with a number of good men and would be in a position to make a recommendation with regard to the teacher in the course of a week or two. It was suggested that the new teacher be employed with the understanding that he be in Albuquerque some time before the opening of the building so as to give the school

Trustee Hermon P. Williams was present and was introduced to the members of the board. He was made a member of the building committee.
Mr. Williams was sworn in yesterday afternoon before A. E. Walker, probate clerk.

In view of a probable decision as to the location of the school this afternoon, the building committee was authorized to enter into a contract for the erection of the building as per the plans and specifications submitted, with Sawtelle and Hicks, local contractors. The cost of the building will be determined finally this afternoon. It is understood that the bid is under $1,200.

ALBUQUERQUE NEW MEXICO
NOW TO MAKE GOOD.

Albuquerque has made a rather creditable record during the past ten years. Her population has practically doubled; she has secured many important industries, she has built modern business blocks and handsome homes, has beautified herself until the city is one of the most attractive in the west and has assumed a long lead over all competitors as the chief business center of the southwest. Where one eastern man five years ago could locate Albuquerque on the map and tell whether it was in the United States or Peru, now there are a hundred; the city has been wonderfully advertised and there is probably no other city of the same size in the country so widely known to the general public.

All this has been accomplished under what has been considered by many an insuperable obstacle to permanent development—the fact that New Mexico has been a territory. Many citizens who otherwise would have joined this city's efficient town building organization have held back because they thought without statehood it would not be worth while. All of us have believed that with statehood a fact Albuquerque's opportunity for growth would be vastly greater, and we have not hesitated to boast of what the city would become under a state government.

Having secured statehood, it is now time to make good on Albuquerque. With such a record of accomplishment in the territory, in the state of New Mexico the limit is taken off and nothing bounds the possible development of this city save the limit of the energy and enterprise and loyalty of her citizens.

In the Commercial club Albuquerque now has an organization which has become known all over the west for its efficiency and its determination, its solidarity and its way of getting results. What the Commercial club has done however is merely an earnest of what it can do and may do and will do.

The fuss and fury of the political campaign are over, the people have settled down to business and there is nothing longer in the way of a steady, well organized, aggressive, irrefragable campaign for Greater Albuquerque.

New Mexico is bound to go ahead; her development will be phenomenal, her wealth tremendous, her growth in population and prestige unparalleled; and Albuquerque must lead it. If we fail to do so, there are other towns which will be glad to supersede us. Nor in the growth of the country going to carry the chief city along with it unless we get out and root for Albuquerque, work for Albuquerque, boost for Albuquerque every hour of the day and wherever we happen to be. Cultivate a wholesome enthusiasm for your own town and it will make you enthusiastic and optimistic about everything else.

There is to be a meeting of the Commercial club tonight. If you are interested in having Albuquerque make good, be there. And don't forget that it is not the sole prerogative of the officers and directors of the club to take the initiative. Every man who goes to the meeting should go with the purpose of submitting his own ideas about what is good for the city and finding out his neighbor's ideas. It is the suggestions of the business men that the club wants.

There is another phase to the situation. We all believe in truthful advertising. We have been advertising Albuquerque's future a great deal—now let us get busy and do what we advertise.

It is time to all get together and push. Come out and push tonight—and don't wait for the other fellow to start the ball rolling.

Another thing—don't get the idea, if you happen not to be a member of the club, that its membership is full. It has about half the members it should have. There are plenty of valuable and useful citizens who ought to be working with the organization. What we need to do is to pull together.

There are a thousand and one things Albuquerque ought to have that she has not. She ought to have many more industrial establishments; she ought to be making use of the resources at her doors; she ought to be populating this valley with good wide awake farmers; she ought to be manufacturing her raw materials at home; she ought to have more good roads, and she ought to have innumerable other things. She can get them all if she goes after them.

TO GET THAT ROAD.

The Farmington Times-Herald has a new scheme to secure that new railroad which it presents as follows: The necessity for a railroad outlet to the south is so generally understood that no argument is needed on the subject. The question is not if we want it, but how can we get it?

We have made many efforts, all with like results. Several times we have believed the construction of the road practically assured only to see each time some unknown force suddenly indefinitely postpone the project.

Durango, Farmington and Albuquerque, individually and collectively have tried to present the matter to investors but have failed so far to interest them. Now instead of spending money on surveys and rights of way, why not make a combined effort to hang up enough of a bonus to interest those able to build such a line? If a strong, earnest, united effort could be made by the people of LaPlata, San Juan and Montezuma counties, Colorado, and San Juan and Bernalillo or McKinley counties, New Mexico, we believe it could be done.

It is not possible to get 2,500 people in these counties who will put up an average of $100 each for the construction of the road? Such a sum would be ten percent of its cost and certainly would be attractive to those financially able to do the work. Such a sum we believe could be raised by systematic effort. It seems to us it would very likely get results. We would be pleased to hear an expression from the press in the interested territory as to the feasibility of some such plan.

It will be a dramatic scene when the present generation, become white haired and tottering, shall trudge down the streets of Albuquerque—population 100,000—to buy a paper in the hope of finding out the result of the election of 1911.

John J. McNamara is said to be a devoted admirer of the "little, simple, kindly deeds" of life. That broad and benign benevolence which finds its expression through the dynamite bomb is a new variety of the milk of human kindness.

There is reason to believe that after the arduous expenditure of rather a large sum of money, the Honorable William H. Andrews, late of Pennsylvania, has delivered at his door in return, one large gold brick.

A Los Angeles woman voter wanted a mirror in the polling booth, and got it. But what if she had wanted curling irons and a get jet? Really, the ladies must not be too exacting. These things cost money.

Southern California seems to present a difficult atmosphere for aviators when we consider that it took Rogers one month to fly from Long Beach to the Pacific.

Lincoln Steffens calls the McNamara's "two heroes." If this be the case, evidently the country is getting over its proverbial tendency to hero-worship.

Reyes is being discovered about as frequently and in as many distant localities as the late celebrated Billy Stiles and Bert Alvord.

The commission form of government for cities is at least worth investigating rather carefully.

It will take some additional argument to convince King Solomon that his scepter is cracked.

Dr. Ebb, understand, was operated on, not for candy, but at Kandy, Ceylon.

WANTED—REAL ORATORY

Editor Morning Journal:
Is it oratory of a Ciceronian kind that deluges the country? Is there a single one in the list of fluent talkers worthy of any one of the manures of a Boscovet, of a Phillips, of a Clay, of a Webster? Are there any who might have grown into a respectable classification because of fortuitous beginnings? May the great body of listeners seated about the numerous forums and platforms scattered over the land expect never again to hear a new or a fresh thing?

This is the declaration and complaint. Public entertainers and advocates who compose their own efforts are getting to be grinders up of simple verbiage; they are mere millers whose mills run under high pressure but carry no separators or bolting machinery, labeling their brands "Brain Food," and which contain every constituent, parasite and blemish of the whole unwashed, uncleaned grains. A dozen—even many more—speeches, ten, twenty—and more—thousand words, in a day is not uncommon; place, time, impulse, weather and audience supply the topics. There can be but one result from such inadequate preparations and overwrought exertions: warped development on the part of public speakers, vitiated tastes on the part of audiences.

Of a truth are the senses of listeners blunted—to travel long distances and sit for hours under the sound of inarticulate babble to abide for a time near until the rasping and grating of circular saws!

Will it do any good to remind would-be orators of a Massillon, and of a hundred others before and after, whose masterpieces may never be forgotten? or of a classic of our own times, Lincoln's Gettysburg address, which contains two hundred and sixty-five words. The rules for effective public speaking have not changed. They are the same as when Judah made his remarkable plea for the release of his brother Benjamin; the same as when Paul made his famous defense before Agrippa; the same as when a long, unerring line through the Phylloxera of Demosthenes, through the legal advocates of Cicero, through the sermons of the Renaissance and of the Reformation, and still hold true and good among moderns of every race; they may be found in the very efforts of our own people who have dared to prepare and revise. But lately has a horde of wasps arisen; they have driven out the bees. Quantity of noise is preferred to quality of product; fine phantasms of rhetoric molder to the spherule of posterity. Small wonder, then, if a wicked and irate critic may thus write the epitaph to be of a persistent, though popular, public speaker:

A wonderful, warring, wordy knight
Beneath the sod at last doth lie;
His tongue on earth was never still,
And always fought both wrong and right.

Let warlike angels tell us how Twixt heaven and hell he expiated;
But we, poor mortals, are relieved,
Nor scarce one word remember now.

COLD, DRY, WINDY NOVEMBER

Average Temperature For Month in New Mexico Lowest Since 1895 Says Weather Bureau Report.

General Summary, New Mexico Section, November, 1911.

The month of November, 1911, was cold, dry and windy. The average temperature for the state was the lowest since 1895, when sufficient stations were established to afford a fairly accurate mean temperature. The lowest temperature recorded (23 at Elizabethtown) was also the lowest November temperature of record, as 19 in 1896 was the lowest previous record. On four other previous years, however, the precipitation averaged less than during the month just closed.

The deficiency in temperature was general over the state, with the exception of a small area in the Rio Grande valley from the Elephant Butte dam southward to Rincon, where a small excess occurred. The deficiency exceeded 5 degrees a day in Santa Fe, northeast Rio Arriba, northeast Colfax, southwest Mora and western Grant counties. There were two periods of comparatively warm weather, the 8th to 10th, and 14th to 24th, and the 10th was the warmest day of the month, generally. There were also three periods of cold weather: from the evening of the 1st to the 3rd, 11th and 12th, and 25th to the 28th of the month; the 25th and 28th showing the coldest days of the month, with zero temperatures sweeping well below the central counties. The cold was especially severe in the higher districts of the Sangre de Cristo range.

The precipitation of the state was light, as a rule, and greatly below the normal except over the upper Rio Grande valley and from the Continental divide to the Sangre de Cristo range, where a fair excess occurred. A large number of stations reported no precipitation, or a trace, and almost two-thirds of the state had less than a quarter of an inch, while nine-tenths of it had less than half an inch, and the average for the entire state was but 0.29 of an inch. Three or possibly four storm periods occurred, the greatest being on the 10th, 11th and 12th, and 25th to the 28th of the month, with zero temperatures sweeping well below the central counties. The cold was especially severe in the higher districts of the Sangre de Cristo range.

The sunshine of the month was large, despite a rather stormy, cold month. There was 77 per cent of the total possible amount of sunshine at Roswell, and 76 per cent at Santa Fe, and the state, as a whole, had 19 clear days, 7 partly cloudy and but 4 cloudy. High winds were numerous, and a gale of great violence accompanied with much dust and sand, swept over the state on the 11th, doing some minor damage. The prevailing wind direction for the month was from the southwest.

The mean temperature of the state, determined from the records of 55 stations, having an average altitude of about 5,000 feet, was 58.9 degrees, or 3.3 degrees below the normal for the month, and 6.9 degrees below the mean for November, 1910. The highest local monthly mean was 59.9 degrees at Grand, and the lowest 54.4 degrees at Elizabethtown, while the highest recorded temperature was 82 degrees at Carlsbad on the 10th, and the lowest 23 degrees below zero at Elizabethtown on the 12th. The greatest local monthly range of temperature was 54 degrees at Virgilville, and the least 49 degrees at Truchas, while the greatest local daily range was 52 degrees at Virgilville on the 23rd. The district averages were as follows: No. 7, 57.4 degrees; No. 8, 59.3 degrees; No. 9, 57.4 degrees.

Precipitation.
The average precipitation for the state, determined from the records of 146 stations, was 0.33 inch, or 0.39 inch below the normal and 0.13 below the precipitation of November, 1910. The greatest monthly amount was 4.01 at Anchor Mine, and the least was 0.15 at Santa Fe, while more had but a trace. The greatest amount in any 24 hours was 1.23 inches at Winsor's ranch. The average snowfall for the state was 4.1 inches. The average number of days with 0.01 inch or more precipitation was three. The district averages were as follows: No. 7 (Canadian and northeast), 0.43 inch; No. 8, (Pecos and Rio Grande), 0.68 inch; No. 9, (western), 0.12 inch.

Expulsion Order Modified.

Constantinople, Dec. 11.—The Turkish government has cancelled the order issued on December 10, for the expulsion of Italians from Smyrna, as the result of representations on the part of the German government. It declines, however, to withdraw the order expelling Italian citizens from the territory around the Dardanelles, the Gallipoli peninsula and other fortified places.

Strike in England Prevented.

London, Dec. 11.—Meetings of the British railroad directors and representatives of the railroad's workmen's unions have resulted in a peaceful settlement. The companies granted a few minor concessions, but complete recognition of the union has not been obtained.

The Garden of Eden Is as Fertile as Ever

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.)

Manzano, N. M., Dec. 11.—The error of L. B. Prince, in his address before the late republican convention at Las Vegas, stated that it was an absolute fact that the Garden of Eden was located in New Mexico, and that the original apple tree, where Eve plucked the tempting fruit, was still standing in the town of Manzano. I have just visited the ancient apple orchard still standing on the sloping hillside south of the old spring, and the diameter of some of the trees is fully that of some of the largest cottonwoods in the Rio Grande valley. This place is an old stamping ground of the Norse vikings, where Rollo, the conqueror of Normandy, lived. There is nothing humiliating in his defeat when McGillicuddy reflects that his adversary came from a spot near the North Cape whence sailed a thousand years ago the dauntless warriors of the north who for 200 years ravaged England, Scotland, France and Ireland and crossed the Atlantic hundreds of years before Columbus sailed from Spain. Mr. McGillicuddy is an old timer and highly popular, but had Teddy Roosevelt run against him he would have been licked in this county. Dr. Amble has a large practice along the foothills of the Manzanos, and it was the solid mountain vote from the people among whom he practiced which gave him his large majority. It is claimed that on election day he drove around visiting his patients, and hardly asked anyone to vote for him. Dr. Amble and wife will soon take up their residence at the county seat at Esplanade. The doctor, although of a seafaring race, owns no ships. He does, however, own a Buick Mountain Climber double chain automobile in which during a three hour fifty mile drive the writer enjoyed the sights of the Estancia valley.

We visited one farm in the Manzano draw where two farmers have 200 tons of fine upland cotton hay. Coming back we stopped at the well known farm of B. E. Chapman, where we bought 8,000 pounds of pinto beans. Mr. Chapman is a successful dairy farmer located five miles from Manzano. His barns were filled with corn and outside were stacked large quantities of alfalfa, corn and cane. He also had two carloads of sugar beets, fully matured, without irrigation. From actual analysis one of the samples went eighteen per cent saccharine and eighty-seven per cent pure. Sugar beets raised in California do not average much over thirteen per cent. It would seem that in upper Manzano country is the natural habitat of the sugar beet; in fact it takes a mountain valley to produce the best variety. The ranch on the La Cueva ranch a few years ago went as high as 22 per cent saccharine and 90 per cent pure. La Cueva is near Watrous in the Mora valley with altitude and conditions about the same as in the Estancia valley.

In Lighter Vein

(San Bernardino Index.)

The news that New Mexico has elected one republican and one democratic congressman gives especial importance to the Arizona election to be held early next month for a reason that few persons have considered.

In the event of a third candidate running next year, with enough votes in the electoral college to prevent either of the old parties getting a majority, the presidential election would be thrown into the house, and with Arizona sending a democratic delegation to congress might be impossible for any candidate to obtain a majority—a situation that would give rise to interesting complications.

It will be recalled that the constitution provides that if no candidate receives a majority of electoral votes, then the house shall proceed to choose by ballot the president from the three candidates having the largest number of votes. But "the votes shall be taken by states," and a majority of states is necessary to elect.

As the electoral votes are counted on the second Wednesday in February of the year following the general election, the present congress would be called on to choose the president should no candidate receive a majority in the electoral college. And it is to be borne in mind that twice this contingency has arisen, the first time with Jefferson, the second with John Adams.

Now an unusual division exists in the house. While the democrats are in a majority of sixty-eight, they control the delegations of a minority of states. At present forty-six states are represented. The delegations of three—Maine, Nebraska and Rhode Island—are evenly divided. Of the remaining forty-three the democrats have a majority in twenty-one. But before February, 1913, it may be expected that both New Mexico and Arizona will have been admitted to the union. The New Mexico and Arizona delegations are evenly divided. If Arizona next month should prove democratic, as expected, the delegations of states 22 to 23.

From such a situation the alternatives would be a deadlock, or a combination of progressive or reactionary with any party to party lines. In that event, the progressives, being in the majority, would stand the better chance.

If there should be no election before February 4, the vice-president-elect would become President. The chances would be that the same conditions that would prevent the election of a pat, thinking to enlighten the party, stated, with watch in hand: "I'll present a box of candy to the lady that makes the homeliest face within the next three minutes."

The time expiring, Pat announced: "An Mrs. McGillicuddy, you get the prize."

"But," protested Mrs. McGillicuddy, "way wld ye! I wasn't playin' at all."

The Historic and Productive Manzano Country and Its Inhabitants.

—By A. H. Hilton.

old town of Lincoln to hear the confession of a criminal who was to be hanged. It affected his nerves so seriously that he died on his return to Manzano.

Another claim to fame by Manzano is the fact that it is the home of Dr. Christian J. Amble, republican treasurer-elect of Torrance county, elected by a majority of 240 votes over his democratic opponent, Angus McGillicuddy, the well known sheep raiser. Dr. Amble is a native of the Land of the Midnight Sun, his home town being Hilde, a seaport town on the Hardangerfjord, Norway. This place is an old stamping ground of the Norse vikings, where Rollo, the conqueror of Normandy, lived. There is nothing humiliating in his defeat when McGillicuddy reflects that his adversary came from a spot near the North Cape whence sailed a thousand years ago the dauntless warriors of the north who for 200 years ravaged England, Scotland, France and Ireland and crossed the Atlantic hundreds of years before Columbus sailed from Spain. Mr. McGillicuddy is an old timer and highly popular, but had Teddy Roosevelt run against him he would have been licked in this county. Dr. Amble has a large practice along the foothills of the Manzanos, and it was the solid mountain vote from the people among whom he practiced which gave him his large majority. It is claimed that on election day he drove around visiting his patients, and hardly asked anyone to vote for him. Dr. Amble and wife will soon take up their residence at the county seat at Esplanade. The doctor, although of a seafaring race, owns no ships. He does, however, own a Buick Mountain Climber double chain automobile in which during a three hour fifty mile drive the writer enjoyed the sights of the Estancia valley.

We visited one farm in the Manzano draw where two farmers have 200 tons of fine upland cotton hay. Coming back we stopped at the well known farm of B. E. Chapman, where we bought 8,000 pounds of pinto beans. Mr. Chapman is a successful dairy farmer located five miles from Manzano. His barns were filled with corn and outside were stacked large quantities of alfalfa, corn and cane. He also had two carloads of sugar beets, fully matured, without irrigation. From actual analysis one of the samples went eighteen per cent saccharine and eighty-seven per cent pure. Sugar beets raised in California do not average much over thirteen per cent. It would seem that in upper Manzano country is the natural habitat of the sugar beet; in fact it takes a mountain valley to produce the best variety. The ranch on the La Cueva ranch a few years ago went as high as 22 per cent saccharine and 90 per cent pure. La Cueva is near Watrous in the Mora valley with altitude and conditions about the same as in the Estancia valley.

With the States 22 to 22

(San Bernardino Index.)

The news that New Mexico has elected one republican and one democratic congressman gives especial importance to the Arizona election to be held early next month for a reason that few persons have considered.

In the event of a third candidate running next year, with enough votes in the electoral college to prevent either of the old parties getting a majority, the presidential election would be thrown into the house, and with Arizona sending a democratic delegation to congress might be impossible for any candidate to obtain a majority—a situation that would give rise to interesting complications.

It will be recalled that the constitution provides that if no candidate receives a majority of electoral votes, then the house shall proceed to choose by ballot the president from the three candidates having the largest number of votes. But "the votes shall be taken by states," and a majority of states is necessary to elect.

As the electoral votes are counted on the second Wednesday in February of the year following the general election, the present congress would be called on to choose the president should no candidate receive a majority in the electoral college. And it is to be borne in mind that twice this contingency has arisen, the first time with Jefferson, the second with John Adams.

Now an unusual division exists in the house. While the democrats are in a majority of sixty-eight, they control the delegations of a minority of states. At present forty-six states are represented. The delegations of three—Maine, Nebraska and Rhode Island—are evenly divided. Of the remaining forty-three the democrats have a majority in twenty-one. But before February, 1913, it may be expected that both New Mexico and Arizona will have been admitted to the union. The New Mexico and Arizona delegations are evenly divided. If Arizona next month should prove democratic, as expected, the delegations of states 22 to 23.

From such a situation the alternatives would be a deadlock, or a combination of progressive or reactionary with any party to party lines. In that event, the progressives, being in the majority, would stand the better chance.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Wall Street.

New York, Dec. 11.—Wall street heard more good news today than for many a week. The stock market, which has been rather heavy of late responded with generous gains. Union Pacific was raised three points above Saturday's close; United States Steel and several others two or more points.

It was assumed that the market at the outset would reflect the unexpectedly favorable bank statement for last week and the large gain in unfilled orders for November reported by the United States Steel corporation. The opening gains, however, were small and were not long maintained.

Before noon the character of the market changed again and during the remainder of the session prices were on a higher plane. An added market factor was the announcement of an advance in the price of copper sales which were reported at 13 1/2, the highest of the movement. The European demand was reported as especially heavy. Of greater importance as a market factor was the announcement that United States steel had raised its price for wire and nails.

The special strength of Union Pacific may be traced in part to the action of the commerce court in permanently restricting the interstate commerce commission from making effective the proposed reduction in intermountain freight rates.

All of the northwestern routes which are directly affected made good gains after announcement of this decision. The tenor of the report of the Hadley commission in respect to railroad securities was regarded as favorable from the stock market viewpoint.

Call loans were placed at 2 1/2 per cent, but the ruling rate was 4 1/2 per cent. Some money was loaned to bankers who bid 5 1/2 to 6 per cent for accommodation opposite the end of the year. An abrupt rise of 2 3/8 points in Canadian Pacific shortly before the close was explained by the announcement that $18,000,000 of new stock was to be issued on terms which conferred valuable rights on shareholders. Great Northern certificates were conspicuously weak. They gave way 2 1/2 points to 2 3/4, the lowest price at which they were sold. Closing stocks:

Chicago Board of Trade.
Chicago, Dec. 11.—Big receipts in the northwest on both sides of the international line exerted pressure today on the market for wheat. Largely as a result the close was 3-8 to 3-4 under Saturday night. Corn showed a net loss of 3-8 to 3-8 1/2, and oats 1-8 to 1-4.
At the end of the day hog products were down 5 to 10¢ to 12 1/2¢.
From the outset bears in the wheat pit had the advantage, being aided by the fact that less serious losses than existed were shown in today's crop advices from the Argentine. A more immediate and potent influence, however, developed in reports that Minneapolis and Duluth had arrivals totaling 900 cars, against 751 a year ago. Moreover, Winnipeg sent word of 1,421 cars there, as compared with 426 the corresponding day last year—an excess of almost an even 1,000 cars. In this connection the United States visible supply increase, although smaller than had been looked for, made a rather forcible contrast with a falling off of twelve months back. Heavy rains beneficial for winter wheat in Kansas and Oklahoma armed another source of discomfort for the bulls. May closed firm, but 1-4 to 3-8 down at 94 7-8 @ 97.
There was good commission buying, which kept corn strong when other grains were weak. May ranged from 3 3/8 to 1-2 to 43¢, closing firm 3-8 cents net higher at 62 7-8. Cash grades were quoted at 70¢ 11 for car lots.
Shorts did most of the buying in the oats crowd. Top and bottom prices touched for the May delivery turned out to be 48 5-8 and 48 1-4 with the close 1-8 cent up at 48 1-2 @ 5-8.
Some of the larger packers sold provisions through speculators and brokers. When the pit was cleared pork was 10 to 12 1/2 less expensive and other products off 5 to 7 1/2 @ 10.

BALCOMB RETURNS TO ALGODONES FIELD

President of Southwestern Oil and Development Company Confident of Rich Strike in Near Future.

R. G. Balcomb, president of the Southwestern Oil and Development company of this city, which is operating in the Algodones district, will leave for the scene of the company's operations today, after being detained here ten days by a severe cold.

When seen by a Morning Journal representative yesterday Mr. Balcomb expressed himself as greatly pleased with the work of the company thus far.

"Some time ago," he said, "I told you of the artesian water strike at the well. We have ceased this off and are boring still deeper into the rock in the hope of striking oil in paying quantities. Every prospect of the work looks well, and I see no reason why a rich strike should not be made in that section."

"In addition to this we are opening up two new veins of coal. We are shipping coal already, being able to dig out a great deal more than we want for our own use."

"The Algodones oil field is in a direct line with the fields of Wyoming and Colorado, and the physical formation of the land is almost exactly like that of those two fields."

Another company has been organized in Albuquerque during the last ten days to operate in the Algodones region. It is known as the Bauer Oil company. It has shipped a standard rig to the field and is now ready to begin drilling a short distance from the well of the Southwestern company. This makes three outfits in the field, the Southwestern, the Bauer, and the Texas Oil company.

All parties interested in that section are jubilant over the prospects and predict that Algodones will be a valuable oil field in the near future.
