CRISIS IN GERMANY; THE CABINET MAY FALL

BERLIN SEES A SPLIT ON REPARATIONS

Cabinet Frames Reply to U. S. Note at Secret Session

PARIS, April 23.—Germany's new reparations proposals will be dispatched to Washington this evening, according to a Berlin dispatch received here this morning.

The cabinet met during the afternoon, says the message, to make a final draft of Germany's answer to the American note, and it is understood the proposals will be embodied in this communication, to be transmitted by tonight.

BERLIN, April 23.—A cabinet crisis appears imminent here as a result of the discontent aroused by the government's failure to consult the reichstag before asking President Harding of the United States to mediate between Germany and the allies relative to reparations. The position of Dr. Walter Simons, foreign minister, is particularly imperiled.

PARIS, April 23.—Consideration of the German government's note to the United States was completed at a meeting of the German cabinet last night, says a message received here from Berlin. Party leaders later met with Konstantin Fehrenbach, the chancellor, to hear a report from Dr. Walter Simons, foreign minister, and to express their opinion on the proposals sent to President Harding. The meeting was secret.

GERMANY REPLIES TO NOTE OF UNITED STATES

LONDON, April 23.—Germany has sent to Washington a reply to the American note rejecting the role of arbitrator for the reparations question between Germany and the allies.

Central news dispatch from Berlin. The terms of the note will not be known until late today.

The German government authorities availed of local interests to delay the announcement at Berlin of Germany's policy relative to reparations.

Germany's appeal to the United States to arbitrate the reparations problem, and the American rejection of that role brought into the situation certain complexities. The view that the answer of the Washington government had intimated a readiness to act as intermediary in bringing about new negotiations gained ground here yesterday.

It appeared certain that Mr. Lloyd George and M. Briand would be called upon at their meeting at Lyons tomorrow either to reject the good offices of the United States, or reopen negotiations.

The Yorkshire Post of Leeds says the last sentence of the American reply to Germany accords the feeling that the new American administration may be trying to open gently the door for a return to the allied council and this impression is strengthened by the fact that in the few days after the United States might send an answer to the next meeting of the supreme council."

GERMANY WOULD AGREE NOT TO EXPORT GOLD

PARIS, April 23.—Germany instead of either agreeing or refusing to transfer the gold reserve of the Reichsbank in occupied territories in the Rhineland, as the allied reparations commission had demanded, has offered to agree not to export or permit the exportation of gold from Germany before October 1 next.

Germany's proposal, delivered to the commission today, in which this offer is tendered, says her preferred agreement would adequately protect

Harding's Fine Throw and 'Czar' Landis' Grin Usher in Baseball Season

President Harding used to star on the Marion, Ohio, baseball team. Which explains his fine throw from the presidential box to Pitcher Walter Johnson at Washington, officially opening the 1921 baseball season. Seated on the left, Herbert Hoover and Mrs. Harding. Standing, beyond the president, Attorney General Daugherty, Clark Griffith, president of the Washington team, and Manager George McBride.

Grinning broadly and crushing his wide felt hat at exciting moments, Judge K. M. Landis, "czar" of big league baseball, ushered in the 1921 season as a spectator at the Cubs-Cardinals game in Chicago.

Managing Editor of The San Francisco Chronicle Is Dead

OMAHA, Neb., April 23.—Arrangements were being made today for the funeral of John Phillip Young, for nearly 2 years managing editor of the San Francisco "Chronicle," who died here early this morning. He was 71 years old. His death was due to peritonitis.

Mr. Young was an economist and journalist. He was instrumental in building up one of the great metropolitan journals of the country and also wrote a number of books.

He was born in Philadelphia August 2, 1849. An adventurous life preceded his advent into journalism.

A romance of his life is reflected in his biography written by his parents and placed in a Philadelphia mercantile establishment, the quiet existence palled, and soon he was in Arizona and after thrilling experiences with Indians went to San Diego.

He then became managing editor of the allies, who had demanded the transfer, became the second paragraph of article 24 of the treaty of Versailles, prohibiting the exportation of gold, became imperative May 1.

The second paragraph of article 24 of the peace treaty reads:

"Up to May 1, 1921, the German government shall not export or dispose of, and shall forbid the export of, gold without the previous approval of the allied and associated powers acting through the respective governments."

PARIS, April 23.—Several Argentine automobiles have arrived here from Bahia Blanca, after having crossed the Andes the distance covered by the parties being about 1,000 miles.

The parties were taken by the purpose of encouraging motor communication between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of South America.

For some weeks between the British and French forces relative to what can and ought to be done to collect reparations from Germany will be resumed here late today by Premier Lloyd George and M. Briand.

The French plan is, briefly, a project for administration and taxation for the benefit of the allies. The British plan and some parts of the Westphalian industrial district of Germany have not been explained.

Before Germany can subscribe to acceptable understandings, the German people themselves must realize their position and their duty. Words will not suffice. We must have, in fact, a moral guarantee. The United States government, which has given its word to do its best to bring the war to an end, is failing in carrying out its promise to change its mentality. That is why it is not simply refusing to negotiate, but offers to Germany to submit acceptable proposals.

German propositions transmitted by the United States would be no matter what is said or done, propositions guaranteed by the United States. Such guarantee, if unequivocally formulated, would be very advantageous to Germany's creditors. They might afterwards invoke the assistance of the United States to bring Germany to execute during 20 years, perhaps undertakings which it assumed through and under the present military government.

The French military position is clearly defined but that government seriously deserves the military recognition of Great Britain and Belgium.

It was a stormy day that broke over Lyons this morning, and a heavy sea threatened to make M. Briand's voyage across the channel quite unpleasant.

Nebraska Farmers to Form One Big Union

OMAHA, Neb., April 23.—Representatives of Nebraska farm organizations here last night decided to form one union May 6th to work for mutual cooperation. A committee to perfect the plan will meet on that date.

The reason for the move assigned by J. W. Shortell, manager of a state cooperative grain and livestock association, was because "mutuality of farmers" organizations has reached a point where there is danger of disorganization through too much organization."

School Teachers of State Not Satisfied With the Salary Bill Passed by Last Legislature

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

SANTA FE, N. M., April 23.—School teachers of New Mexico are far from satisfied with the action of the recent legislature in reducing the rates of pay of rural school teachers.

That has been forcibly disclosed by the attacks made upon the new rates of pay of county, city and town school superintendents held here under the call of John V. Conway, state superintendent of public instruction. The conference was attended also by the heads of other representative of the higher institutions of learning.

When the fifth legislature was convened in January, the law governing the rate of pay of teachers in rural schools was chapter 83 of the session laws of 1919. The act, approved by Governor O. A. Lorraine, March 15, 1919, amended chapter 79 of the session laws of 1918, chapter 83 of the 1919 session laws, and made $76 a month should be paid to a teacher holding a third grade certificate, not more than $36 a month to a teacher holding a second grade certificate, nor more than $16 a month to a teacher holding a certificate of first or higher grade.

That county superintendents shall be supplied with such clerical help as will make it possible for the superintendents to devote a maximum of their time to administrative duties and county boards should be permitted to employ superintendents to assist superintendents in helping the teachers with the work of organizing and teaching.

That teachers of all grades be paid in either nine or 12 equal installments, subject to the ruling of the county boards of each county.

Oppose Two Resolutions

Other matters in the educational realm were fully discussed and made the subject of resolutions. One of the most important was the one outlining the attitude of the conference toward the four proposed constitutional amendments affecting the state of New Mexico.

The two proposed that the state be abolished the two-term limit on the office of state superintendent of public instruction. There is vigorous opposition to the one which would reduce the school levy maximum from 18 mills to 12 mills, and to the one giving large powers to the governor in passing upon school budgets. The resolution of protest follows:

"That the proposed amendments referring to the power of the governor to determine the budgets of educational institutions and the reduction of the 3½ mill levy be voted down by the administrative educational officials of this state, and that they be promptly referred to the committee on the one that that two amendments may be understood by the people and thereby defeated at the polls."

The work and efforts of the present state superintendent are endorsed as follows:

"We pledge our faith in our state superintendent, Mr. John V. Conway, and heartily endorse his determined efforts to improve educational conditions."

"Among the great people who love them they will find the image of the great country which they honor," the message concluded.

AO'S HAVE FOUR PITCHERS TO SEND AGAINST THE GRAYS

Game at Barcas Field Tomorrow to Be Called at 3 p. m.

The Ao baseball team has four pitchers to send against the Duke City Grays tomorrow to hold them in check tomorrow afternoon. The rivalry between the Grays and the Ao is growing as the year goes by the game draws more. The teams are to meet at Barcas Field at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Manager Arthur Mandell says his pitching staff consists of Councilman, Hedges and Meyer, and he is of the opinion that any two of them will hold the new Arizona Grays in check. Paul Hedges says that his team will slip into an easy victory and says either Mandell or Gates is all he will need in the box.

Mandell is likely to open the game. Manager Padilla says his "Charley Chaplin" Gallegos has some new comedy to pull for the benefit of the crowd. He says Gallegos is expected to knock two home runs and bat right handed and often.

Since the days of Bert Graham, fans have not seen an all-around better like Gallegos showed himself to be last Sunday. Manager Padilla says his Charley quarter will be expecting to land out some hard ones on the Ao pitchers.

The Gray Sheep will probably be the same as it was last Sunday. The Ao's intent is still in doubt. Clark, Parsons and May McNamara will compose the outfit.

YANKEE PLAYING TODAY

The second game of the Varsity baseball team's local schedule has been arranged with the Indian school team. The game will be played today at 2:30 o'clock on the Indian school grounds. Captain Cartwright has been anxious to give his men another workout in a real game, and has been working hard since the game with the B. O. P.'s Monday to tune the Varsity men up to a faster game.

If you play baseball in the right spirit you keep young. If you work at it as a job you get old.

"I am 30 now, I expect to be playing when I'm past 40."

Any player who takes care of himself on the ball field and makes good use of the game on the diamond keeps his pep.

Rosenbaum is a Frenchman.

He has been playing professional baseball since 1911.

He came to Minneapolis as a catcher in 1912. Manager Joe Cantillon saw him make a circus catch in the outfield in practice and had played him there ever since.

In the month of 1913 he hit .321. Washington grabbed him off and hit .347 in the American League during 1914. He returned to the Millets in 1915.

Cantillon does not regard Rosenbaum as a fixture on his team.

"He's an institution," says the manager.

Rosenbaum broke his leg sliding last year. Cantillon figured he was done with baseball.

But the Frenchman fought his way back this spring with as much pep as ever.

SOMETHING TO WORRY ABOUT!

JUST now we are worrying about whether we are to be permitted to settle down and build here in Albuquerque, or whether we are to be forced to continue to struggle with agitation and agitators watchful of their personal incomes.

Let's stop worrying about that for a five minute recess and worry about something else.

For instance, wouldn't it be interesting if we could return to earth and visit Albuquerque 2,000 years hence?

We have watched Albuquerque grow; guessed at the way the residence districts would extend and which way the business district would expand, and backed our guesses with real estate investments.

We have heard old residents tell of the wild and wooly days of as much as 25 years ago, when every citizen carried a six-gun and played keno before lunch, and we have marveled at the changes wrought by time.

What will Albuquerque be like, say, in the year 4,000?

Eventually, of course, our city will crumble into dust. All cities seem to have a way of doing that. They crumble or fade, are crumbled or blotted out. It may take thousands of years to make Second and Central a wilderness; but history repeats far more regularly than the double O used to do it in the picturesque days when the rattle of the roulette wheel provided the popular music now furnished by the Salvation Army and the College Inn.

In the "Arabian Nights" one reads of the glories of Bagdad, the mighty. At the height of its power Bagdad is reputed to have been as big as Chicago is today. Overnight the Chinese armies came, disposed of 800,000 inhabitants who had not fled the place by heeding them and making an imposing pyramid of the heads. Bagdad crumbled to desolation and the new Bagdad arose across the river.

The men who are erecting the giant Bush building in London, England, believe that in a few thousand years London may be a deserted ruins, with archaeologists excavating to learn the habits and customs of the people of 1921.

So, deep down in the concrete foundations of the Bush building, they are constructing a sealed chamber in which will be deposited articles typical of our present civilization.

Acting on the advice of H. G. Wells, the articles will include a safety razor, a cotton reel, a bottle of pickles, a mail-order catalog, some patent medicines, a typewriter, a sewing machine, a railroad time-table, a moving picture machine and film.

Archaeologists of the year 4,000 or later, digging under the Bush building will scratch their heads bewilderedly and try to guess what these crude articles might have been used for by the barbarians of 1921.

Before Albuquerque's turn comes to crumble we, no doubt, will have provided some such token of remembrance for a future civilization, deposited, perhaps in the foundation of our new hotel, or in the base of the hydro-electric plant that will lift our drainage out-flow onto unirrigated lands.

Before that time, we hope, they will have cleared out the present contents of the time and burglar proof vault in the federal building. Should the higher civilization of the future in its explorations discover what's sealed up in that vault just now, it might lead to the wreckage of another civilization.

BACK TO EARTH

WE ALL had to speed up during the war. It didn't matter how much it cost to get a thing done, just so it was done fast.

Hence it frequently was considered all right to pour money down the sewer, just so it produced speed.

"We've got to get that idea out of our heads," says the general manager of a big corporation. "Mark you, I don't mean that we can slow down. We've all got to buckle in and work harder than ever to make business good again and to pay off our enormous national debt."

"During the war, my office went on a telegraph and long-distance phone basis. I'm having an awful time getting that idea out of their heads. When they want a pencil, their first thought still is to wire for it."

"We've got to get rid of that idea—and go back to the old-time way of doing things on an economical basis, back to a postage-stamp instead of a telegram schedule. Expenses have got to be pared to the bone. The individual and business that economize are the only ones that can survive. The war-time spending funk is over. This is the cold gray dawn of the morning after."

MOVIES IN YOUR HOME

SOON you may have movies in your own home. The invention of a moving picture disc has been announced, by the use of which, movie pictures may be shown on a screen in the home just as easily as records are played on the phonograph.

The claim is made that a 12-inch disc carries enough pictures on its surface to be equivalent to the length of the standard film, 300 feet, this being made possible through the use of the microscopic lens in the taking.

The story runs that the projecting machine will cost the home owner about $25, as against the phonograph's $100 or more. And the "movie records" are expected to retail at a dollar or less. There may be wonderful possibilities in the idea, with millions of people having their movies sent in rather than going out to the palaces. And think of what a boon this invention will bring to thousands of places where there is no such thing as a nearby movie show.

The time may come soon when one can send Willie to the store to buy—or rent—a Mary Pickford, or Charlie Chaplin or a Fatty Arbuckle, with the same assurance that the bill will be filed as if he were sent for a loaf of bread or a can of peas.

THE FIRST 100 YEARS ARE HARDEST.

This first hundred years are the hardest!

So, if you're not 100 and things are not quite just right, don't be down-hearted.

Read here of those who have passed the century mark and are enjoying life to the utmost.

MANSFIELD, England, April 22.—Mrs. Ann Simons, 102, was baptized and confirmed the other day after her ninth birthday flight. "I could walk when I married my second husband," says Mrs. Simons. "That's more than I could do when I began the first 100. So I thought I'd learn to fly."

BUTLER, Pa., April 22.—Melchior Spangler, 100, opened his 100th birthday with a bang, by playing ball with his great-grandson and great-great-grandson.

JAPAN IS EAGER TO KEEP GREAT BRITAIN AS HER ALLY

The hope of averting the peril of war between Japan and the United States rests entirely in promoting a closer alliance between the two countries. To tell Americans exactly how Japan regards us, William Phillips claims to know in the Tokyo, where he is writing a series of dispatches to this newspaper.—The Editor.

TOKYO, April 22.—"Cunning Britain desires to have Japan fight America instead of herself fighting the latter."

T. S. in sequence, continuing, reported in the Times, summed up in a few words, the feeling shared by quite a few Japanese and affords a glimpse as thru their eyeballs of what Japan thinks of her ally, Great Britain.

Officially there is the utmost cordiality between London and Tokyo, which is as it should be. But outside officialdom, in the press of the country, and in private conversation, there are very frank criticisms level-

BUSINESS LETTER—
RARE SHELVES
WHILE SPUR BUYING.

By ALBERT APPLE.

Ten more weeks of standstill business, then a general revival about July 1. That's the opinion of Judge Robert R. Lovett, after a long trip through the middle west. He's chairman of the board of the Union Pacific railroad.

Lowest round stocks of necessary merchandise very low all through the West. But many things have to be bought, good times or bad. Merchandise stocks can get just as low, buying as compulsory. Hence Lovett's prediction that "the end is in sight."

More optimistic is the Harvard Committee on Economic Research, which believes that "the period of general decline of business and commodity prices may be near its end."

Money Rates Lower.

Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, reduced its rediscount rate from 1 to 4 per cent. Period of easier money has started. This is further indication of recovery of confidence. Now oil stocks are being floated more easily.

Obviously it is several months after easier money rates and revival of speculation before general business picks up. But federal reserve system may have shortened the gap so that speculation and business will revive simultaneously.

Credit is being kept extremely tight by cautious bankers in the southwest. Cattlemen are hard hit.

Building Trades Stir.

In the 184 leading cities number of building permits issued in March was 47,824, compared with 35,322 permits same month, 1920. Value total decreased a fifth but is explained by lower building prices says American Contractor.

British building later in the year is predicted by Louis J. Horowitz, He's president of Thompson-Stearns company, world's largest builders.

Strains in the Wind.

Situation in England, large cotton taker, causes gloom in cotton trade.

American cotton exports last week 98,750 bales against 116,754 bales same week 1920 and 96,762 bales in 1919.

War finance corporation will loan $2,000,000 to private concern to finance export of 30,000 bales cotton.

The corporation plans heavy financing to boost general exports, which are falling off $100,000,000 a month.

Price cut by U. S. Steel corporation has not yet stimulated sales. Trade dope is that it will be followed by wage cuts and further price slashing.

Cuts in the plate was made to keep Welsh plate out of American market.

Half of idle freight cars now are coal cars.

Stock market continues dead.

Comtimed average of 26 leading railroad and industrial stocks third of a point last week. Now point and a half higher than end of 1914.

Very dull markets, sugar, coffee, copper.

Crude oil output increasing steadily.

British gasoline demand, but other by-products have to be stored, little demand.

Now fall rug and carpet prices, just announced by biggest makers, to 30 per cent lower than November 1920, price list.

WHAT WOMEN SEEK FROM CONGRESS.

By LOURA KELLY.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The women's congressional committee, representing a dozen powerful groups, has lookouts posted both inside the capitol and out.

They keep tabs on what congress does with the bills in which women have a special interest.

Possibly the largest group represented on the committee is the General Federation of Women's clubs, composed of about 16,000 organizations.

Measures endorsed by the general federation are:

The Shepard-Towner maternity bill.

The Smith-Towner bill, which probably will be re-introduced into the senate as the Towner bill, to create a department of education.

Home economics bill.

Independent citizenship for married women.

Civil service status for prohibition enforcement for employees.

Treaty between Great Britain and the United States making the deposit of a child an extraditable offense.

Other legislation which directly affects women's interests includes:

Child labor and educational bill for the District of Columbia.

Misbranding of fabrics of "honest" cloth.

Probing house regulation bill.

Economic equality for women.

National budget system.

Declassification of civil service.

Debt of Welsh bill in the senate for authority to dam Yellowstone in Yellowstone national park.

Reorganization of government departments to bring the women's representatives into logical and effective relationship.

Gradual adoption of metric weights and measures and movement for both weights and measures.

Amendment to the federal reserve act as an aid to home building.

SYMPTOMS WOMEN DREAD

Mrs. Wilson's Letter Should Be Read by All Women

Clearfield, Pa.—After my last birth was born last September I was unable to do all of my own work. I had severe pains in my left side every month and had fever and sick dizzy spells and such pains during my periods, which lasted two weeks.

I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound doing others

so much good and thought I would give it a trial. I have been very glad that I did, for now I feel much stronger and do all of my work. I tell my friends when they ask me what helped me, and they think it must be a grand medicine. And it is. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish.—Mrs. HARRY A. WILSON, H. F. D. S., Clearfield, Pa.

The experience and testimony of such women as Mrs. Wilson prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct such troubles by removing the cause and restoring the system to a healthy normal condition. When such symptoms develop as backaches, bearing-down pains, displacements, nervousness, and "the blues," a woman cannot act too promptly in trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable

West Gold Paving Project Abandoned By Commissioners

Final action on a paving program probably will be determined at the meeting of the city commissioners next Wednesday night. The commission received protests from 75 per cent of the property owners on West Gold avenue last night and decided to abandon that project. North First plans were abandoned the preceding night, so that the only street that is likely to be paved is East Central from High to Mulberry. Whether the commission will order in this small project is undecided.

The property owners on Gold avenue objected to paving at the present price of $2.99 a yard and did not favor a cheaper type.

H. F. Button, representing the Building Trades Council, presented a request to the commission for the appointment of members of labor unions on the election and registration board for the recall election. The request was received but no action taken.

The setting of a date for the recall election was also put over until the regular meeting next Wednesday night.
