SHOT AND KILLED! FRANK A. GUTIERRES!

Over a Quarrel About a Horse the Deadly Winchester Responds.

MANUEL D. GONZALES SHOTS AND KILLS.

The startling news of the shooting and killing of Frank A. Gutierrez by Manuel D. Gonzales, at the latter's place in Rancho de Albuquerque, a few miles above the city, was put in circulation yesterday morning about 10 o'clock, and the reports spread like wild-fire.

AT 9:30 O'CLOCK, yesterday morning, Mr. Gonzales rode post back to the county jail where he was surrounded by a large number of people, and the latter immediately telephoned the fact to Sheriff Hubbell, who appeared at the county jail and placed him under arrest, assigning him to a room at the jail.

OTHERS ARRESTED.
The sheriff then drove out to the scene of the fatal shooting and found the body of Mr. Gutierrez lying within a few feet of the south side door of the Gonzales residence. He hurriedly investigated, and discovered that Fidal Gonzales, a young son of Manuel Gonzales, had fired a pistol during the shooting, and that one, Pedro Jaramila, who was connected with the shooting, those two men he placed under arrest, and sent them to the county jail.

THE CORONER'S JURY.
The sheriff then notified Justice of the Peace Felipe Lucero, of that precinct, who, in time, summoned together a coroner's jury, and an inquest over the remains were at once held. The jury verdict was returned yesterday afternoon: Territory of New Mexico, County of Bernalillo.

We, the undersigned, justice of the peace and jury who held an inquest on this, the 13th day of February, 1898, over the body of Francisco Gutierrez, which was found in preat. No. 4, of the County of Bernalillo, and that the deceased came to his death by a bullet wound and three blows upon his head. The death, it is believed, was caused by Manuel D. Gonzales, the body having been found near the door of the house of the said Manuel D. Gonzales.

Sigier-Felipe Lucero, justice of the peace; Filomeno Sanchez, Anastasio Tapia, Jesus Romero, Diego Monto, Manuel Rael, Counto Apodaca, coroner's jury.

THE BODY REMOVED.
After the body had been viewed by the jury, the sheriff ordered that the remains be taken to the Guadalupe Gutierrez house, where the deceased and his sister, Miss J. Gutierrez, resided.

The sister had, however, on being informed of the shooting of her brother, hastened to the Gonzales house, with pistol in hand, and declared that she would shoot the murderer of her brother on sight but Mr. Gonzales just escaped her coming, having left for the city to see her mother before her arrival.

CONFLICTING RUMORS.
In the afternoon there were so many conflicting stories about the THE CITIZEN representative, with a party of gentlemen, visited the Gonzales home in order to get at the very bottom facts, if possible.

THE DEADLY WOUNDS.
Undertaker Strong had been summoned and was found at the house preparing the body. Through his kindness the press representative was admitted into the dead room in order to examine the wounds and, upon examination, discovered that a bullet had entered the flesh back of the right shoulder, had passed through the body and upward, coming out on the left side of the throat, cutting the jugular vein. On the left side of the head were found two scalp wounds—one on the forehead and one on the left side of the head, and a bruise was discovered over the right eye.

GARCIA INTERVIEWED.
Salvador Manuel Garcia, who was with Mr. Gutierrez, was seen among the crowd that surrounded the bereaved household and was interviewed as follows:
"About 7:30 o'clock, Sunday morning, Frank Gutierrez came to my house with Manuel Montano, and Frank remarked, 'I wonder if Eugenio Garcia is at home. I want you to come with me to see if Eugenio is there.' We went to Garcia's, and all four of us went over to Manuel Gonzales' to see if he (Gonzales) would turn over."

CERTAIN HORSE TO FRANK.
Gonzales and Gutierrez soon got into a heated conversation, and Frank told him that he had a horse belonging to his sister. After a while the conversation grew threatening, and Frank accused Gonzales of insulting his sister and said that he would not insult him, Gonzales then said he would give up the horse and to take it away. Frank said: 'I will go and get a rope and I don't come after the horse I will send for it.' We then left.

GOING TO BERNALILLO'S HOUSE.
where we got a rope, and myself, Gutierrez and Montano returned, leaving Garcia at his house. When we got within a short distance of Gonzales' house, Mr. Gonzales came out of the office door of his house and yelled to me to stop, at the same time pointing down on us with a Winchester rifle. The first attempt to fire failed; he then threw out the bad cartridge and, aiming at me, fired, the bullet hitting me through my coat without hitting me. Frank and Montano then ran around the house to shield themselves at the wind mill, when Gonzales appeared at the north door of his house and took a shot at Gutierrez, who fell. At this time, Fidal Gonzales, a son appeared on the

and also fired at Gutierrez without effect. While Gutierrez was down, Manuel Gonzales beat him on the head with gold, silver and otherwise, in the village. After these companies had danced around the plaza several times, and paid their respects to six large bowls of various cereals in the center of the plaza, which were offerings to the gods for a bountiful supply of crops and an abundant harvest, the company would line up on first the east side and then the west side of the plaza. At each of these line-ups, it became incumbent upon some member of the company to step forward and receive the honors of the feast, conferred upon him by some member of the tribe, who decorated him with some token made of bread, representing various figures, such as turtles, horses, chickens, snakes, etc. Some were also supplied with beautiful patches of cloth of their own weaving, which would do honor to the custom of some East Indian Prince. These tokens were tied around the neck of the recipients and served somewhat to hide the nakedness of their breasts. When the candidates for honors would step forward to receive their decorations, the Indians of the company would continue the dance to the weird strains of the peculiar music of the tom-toms. At intervals, the dance was interrupted by the appearance of the bucks attired in skins and representing the deities, who held in their hands jack rabbits and a long stick. Upon their appearance, some members of the company would attempt to gain possession of the jack rabbit, and upon her doing so, some peculiar honor was thrust upon her, of great distinction.

The dance lasted late into the night, and ended in the evening with a grand banquet at which all the offerings of bread, etc., were eaten.

The occasion of the dance was kept very quiet, and not over half a dozen people in Albuquerque had the pleasure of witnessing it. For music and dancing, and the weird and barbaric costumes used, the dance is equal to that of the Nequi Snake dance. Several visitors from Albuquerque endeavored to get some shots, but any attempt in this direction met with failure. The rites to them are of a very religious and solemn nature, and preparations had been going on for several weeks for the occasion.

FAREWELL TO JUDGE HUBBELL.
A large number of the friends of Hon. F. A. Hubbell, the probate judge, gathered at his former residence in Fajardo yesterday to say an adieu. They came in large numbers from both Fajardo and Los Padillas to testify to the high respect in which they held their departing friend, and to commend him to the prayers of the community.

J. R. Ribera delivered an eloquent and touching farewell address in behalf of the many friends present. Judge Hubbell, in his response, said that he thanked his friends for their consideration and regard, and assured them that his change of residence would leave him the same true, staunch friend of his people, and that he would be ever ready to come to the aid of his friends in the county jail.

Home to the Albuquerque Public.
I desire to appeal to the people of Albuquerque, and Bernalillo county, for contributions of money, clothing and provisions for the destitute and aged, whose homes have been devastated during their long and heroic struggle for independence. The destitution on the island is so universal that the United States has felt impelled to request the people of this country to organize for the relief of Cubans, and the committee, of which the undersigned is chairman, has been organized in pursuance of the president's request. Money, clothing and provisions are greatly needed, and may be sent to Mr. Nell B. Field, 1201 Tjerner avenue.

W. L. Trimble & Co., have kindly consented to call for and deliver free of charge all parcels and packages intended for the committee. Who gives promptly gives twice.

THE LEONARD SENTENCE.
Mrs. F. B. Leonard was sentenced by Justice Crawford Saturday afternoon to pay a fine of $1,000, or, in default of payment, to be confined to the county jail for thirty days. Leonard was found guilty and sentenced to thirty days in the county jail, on the charge of vagrancy, found guilty and sentenced to thirty days in the county jail, on the charge of vagrancy, found guilty and sentenced to thirty days in the county jail, on the charge of vagrancy.

Horton Moore advanced Mrs. Leonard $6 to pay her fine, on the strength of assurances which he received from her people. Mrs. Leonard, who is now boarding with A. C. Emery, and the Ladies Benevolent association have guaranteed her board. Mr. Leonard, in the meantime, will languish in the county jail for thirty days, no fine having been imposed on him as an equivalent.

SHERIFF MARTIN'S TRIAL.

New York, Feb. 14.—Dispatches from the Herald correspondent at Guatemala state that anarchy reigns throughout the country, as a result of the assassination of President Barrios and the plotting of leaders to get into power. General Mendizabal, who was called upon by the military to assume the presidency, is marching on the capital, Guatemala City, with a large force of troops.

ZOLA'S TRIAL.

Principal Witness Against Him Refuses Answer Questions.

Paris, Feb. 14.—When the trial of Zola and Perret was resumed today, M. Jauries, a socialist member of the chamber of deputies, was recalled. He related his belief in the culpability of Esterhazy.

The examination of Berillon, the handwriting expert, was resumed. He said he thought it impossible to ask a minister of war for incriminating documents seized at the residence of Dreyfus on a witness Saturday, would enable him to prove Dreyfus wrote Bordereau.

Being pressed by Labrie how, unless he had seen secret documents, he was able to prove at the court martial that Dreyfus wrote Bordereau, Berillon answered that he could not explain documents no longer in his possession. Labrie demanded the advocate general to compel the witness to reply. The advocate general made no answer.

Finally Berillon, who persisted in not answering questions, left the witness stand amidst considerable uproar. Labrie remarked: "And that is the man upon whose evidence Dreyfus was convicted."

WAR THREATENING.

Impression that Costa Rica and Nicaragua are Near War.

New York, Feb. 14.—A correspondent of the Herald, in Managua, telegraphs: Two British warships are in Nicaragua waters, and more are expected.

The Herald's Washington correspondent says: There is a general impression among diplomats here that Costa Rica and Nicaragua are near war. It is the expectation of the Central American states that President Zelaya will demand a disavowal of Costa Rica's responsibility in connection with the revolution in San Juan del Sur.

BLOW TO THIEVES.

Ohio Court of Appeals Decides Against the Iron Pipe Trust.

Cincinnati, Feb. 14.—The United States circuit court of appeals for the Sixth circuit today decided the cast iron pipe trust case.

Justice Marion and Circuit Judge Taft delivered the opinion. The court of appeals held, first, that a contract of association, even if the prices fixed under it are reasonable and the only purpose to prevent competition, as claimed by the defendants, it was, nevertheless, void at the common law because in restraint of trade and an attempted monopoly; second, that the prices were not reasonable and the purpose was an attempted monopoly; third, that the trade restraint by the contract of association was the negotiation and sale of pipe to be delivered across the borders of the state and this was, under all the decisions of the supreme court, interstate commerce; and fourth, as a conclusion from these premises, that the contract of association was a restraint and burden on interstate commerce and a violation of the federal anti-trust law and should be enjoined.

CHAIRMAN REINFORCED.

Paris, Feb. 14.—The garrison of Paris was reinforced by troops from Versailles.

The prospective groom is the son of Andres C. de Baca, of Santa Fe. THE CITIZEN extends congratulations in advance to the happy young people.

Wm. Brown, colored, who furnished a six-shooter and disturbed the peace by firing a shot over the shoulders of his mother-in-law last Saturday night, was arrested Sunday morning, and at his trial this morning Justice Crawford bound him over to the action of the next grand jury of this county. In default of bonds of $250, he now occupies a cell at the county jail.
