TELLER RESOLUTION!

Causes an Exciting Debate in the Lower House.

Ways and Means Committee Recommended "It Do Not Pass."

Santa Fe Railroad Will Build a Branch Line to Cimarron.

A MURDERER CONFESSES.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The ways and means committee decided this morning by a vote of 11 to 6 on party lines, to report the Teller resolution for the payment of bonds in silver with the recommendation that it not pass.

The committee on rules decided to take a final vote on the Teller resolution at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Ballew objected but was overruled.

There was a great deal of activity among the leaders on both sides before the house met to-day, in anticipation of an exciting debate over the Teller resolution, which those in control had decided to defeat before sundown to-night. Dingley, chairman of the ways and means committee, reported back the resolution with the recommendation, "it do not pass." Henderson, of Iowa, presented a special order agreed upon by the committee of rules providing for a vote without intervening motion, at 5 o'clock to-day. The rule was adopted by a vote of 143 to 115.

To suggestions that the time be divided between the democrats, populists and republicans, Dingley retorted, "I was not aware that there was any distinction between populists and democrats as at present constituted." He said the time would be equally divided between those for and against the resolution. Dingley opened the debate in opposition to the resolution. He contended that the resolution, when adopted in 1878, was interpreted by many to mean something different from what it must mean now.

Ballew, in control of the time for the minority, yielded to several democrats, bland making one of the principal speeches. He called attention to the votes of prominent republicans against the bill to pay bonds in gold when the matter came up in the last house. Hopkins, republican, of Illinois, said the senate was not republican, but controlled the silver element. The country had pronounced against the silver sentiment. The debate in the house progressed without any sensational incident.

Grosvener (republican, Ohio) maintained that the republican party always stood for "honest money."

The house of representatives defeated the Teller resolution 132 to 183.

IN THE SENATE.

Washington, Jan. 31.—John H. Mc Laurin was sworn in as a senator from South Carolina, to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Earle, ending March 4, 1903.

The senate passed the army appropriation bill and took up the legislative, executive and judicial bill.

Gallinger (New Hampshire) chairman of the pension committee, reported adverse on a bill introduced by Allen (Nebraska) providing that all pensioners now receiving less than $10 per month receive that amount after the bill's passage.

GREAT BRITAIN'S WITHDRAWAL.

From Fort Arthur Regarded as Suicidal to British Interests.

Pekin, Jan. 31.—It is supposed that Great Britain's withdrawal from Fort Arthur and ceasing to exert pressure for the opening of the port to Lienshan, which actions are regarded here as suicidal to British interests and prestige, were owing to her disbelief in the existence of a secret treaty between Russia and China. The Chinese government, however, quotes this treaty as a reason for Russia's presence at Port Arthur, and Russia dispatches to Tsung Li Yamen allege that the occupation of Port Arthur is in accordance with this treaty.

COTTON SPINNERS' STRIKE.

May Last Well into the Summer—Situation Unchanged.

New Bedford, Mass., Jan. 31.—The third week of the strike of the New Bedford cotton mill employees began with the outlook unchanged. It is thought that the exodus of mill hands will continue. Hundreds have already left. They are apparently as determined as ever to resist a reduction and some predict that the strike will last well into the summer.

NATIONAL BANK FAILS.

Larimore, N. D., Jan. 31.—The First National bank did not open to-day. During the last sixty days there have been withdrawals of deposits amounting to $50,000. The assets are said to be largely in excess of liabilities.

MURDER NEAR MOHA.

A Woman Found with Her Throat Cut from Ear to Ear.

Mora, N. M., Jan. 30.—A horrible murder was discovered at La Seboila, about six miles from here, last Friday, when some friends going to the residence of Ramon Fremont were horrified when,

THE INJUNCTION CASE!

Hon. Neill B. Field Arguing for the Valley Farmers.

The Court Room Packed with Many Interested People.

A Case of Great Importance to Water Rights in New Mexico.

ONE MORE TUNNEL VICTIM.

The hearing of the injunction in the case of the Albuquerque Land & Irrigation company vs. Judge T. C. Gutierrez, was taken up before Judge Crumpacker this morning and the legal arguments, which commenced this morning, will probably last for one or two days before the last word has been said.

Shortly after 10 o'clock this forenoon, Hon. Neill B. Field, who represents the Rio Grande valley farmers in this controversy, began an able and exhaustive legal argument. The intense and universal interest in the outcome was manifested by the presence of hundreds of farmers, who drove in from their homes many miles distant, as well as a large number of residents in the city.

When Mr. Field commenced his argument the court room, upstairs at the court house, was crowded to its utmost capacity. Charters & Nelson and Judge Collier were present as the legal representatives of the canal company.

Mr. Field, in his argument, maintained that the unappropriated water of streams like the Rio Grande by the desert land act passed by congress March 3, 1877, must forever remain free to the appropriation of all the people. He did not question the right of organizing a company or its right to construct a canal, provided the company is in position to serve the public as a water carrier.

ENCOUNTER WITH OUTLAWS.

Under Sheriff Newman, of Navajo County, has Exciting Experiences.

Special to the Citizen.
Holbrook, Ariz., Jan. 31.—Under Sheriff Joe Bargeman, of this county, has returned from pursuing Ernest Gentry and Art Farrell, two notorious outlaws, and had some thrilling experiences. He came upon his men in a camp with three other white men and some Indians in Tonto Basin.

As soon as Bargeman commanded them to surrender, Gentry answered the order by a shot. The outlaws mounted their horses and retreated before the bullets of Bargeman. Gentry was shot in the abdomen and a man by the name of Walker in the side. The latter was captured and has been taken to Globe, where he will be tried for horse stealing.

Gentry and Farrell are living with the Indians, who are secreting them from the officers.

ROAD FROM PRESCOTT.

The Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix to Tap a Rich Mining District.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—The directors of the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix Railroad company at a meeting held in their office in the Monahan building decided to build a line of railway from Prescott, Arizona, into what is known as the Big Bug mining district. The line will be twenty-six miles long and will penetrate one of the richest mining districts on the continent. The Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix taps the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe main line at Ash Fork, Arizona, and runs south 200 miles to Phoenix, the capital of the territory, through some of the most interesting scenery in the United States.

The new line will cost $500,000 and it is expected that trains will be running by July 1. The Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix road was built entirely with western money. Its president is F. M. Murphy, of Prescott, and its directors and principal stockholders are N. K. Fairbank, Jay Morton, president of the Hot Spring railroad company and G. W. Kretzinger, of Chicago; C. C. Bowen, D. M. Ferry and Simon J. Murphy, of Detroit; R. McCurdy, Youngtown, Ohio, and F. M. Murphy and W. C. Rashford, of Arizona.

Intense Heat in Australia.

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 31.—The steamer Warrimoo brings news of intense heat in Australia. The thermometer during the day averaged 124 in the shade. The heat caused numerous fires from spontaneous combustion. The damage amounts to millions of pounds.

Branch Road to Cimarron.

Trinidad, Colo., Jan. 31.—From a reliable authority it is learned that a branch line of the Santa Fe connecting Cimarron with the main line will be built.

BOMB EXPLODED!

At Private Residence of an Ex-Mayor of Havana.

Returned Convict from African Prison Author of the Act.

Hundreds Dead and Dying from Starvation in the Frozen North.

COLD IN NEW ENGLAND.

Havana, Jan. 31.—About midnight, Luis Cora Lazo, who recently returned to Cuba from the American prisons, exploded a bomb at the private residence of the conservative ex-mayor of Havana, Senor Miguel Diaz. A large hole was made in the house. Diaz's family and those inhabiting the neighboring houses were panic stricken. Lazo was captured.

MARROWING TALES.

Hundreds Die of Starvation and Cold in the Frozen North.

New York, Jan. 31.—The Red Cross line steamship Fortia arrived to-day from St. Johns after a desperate encounter with pack ice off the New Foundland coast. Hundreds of men, women and children are dead or dying from exposure and starvation, with abundance close by, are reported by the Fortia.

The Fortia was panned in huge Arctic seas in plain sight of St. Johns. She managed to escape by the narrowest accident. Many other craft, several being relief vessels sent by the Canadian government to succor the destitute fishermen, were still in the ice when the Fortia struggled into the harbor. Since then the position has been relieved.

Cold in New England.

Boston, Jan.—The cold wave still continues, the thermometer ranging from 6 to 22 degrees below zero throughout New England.

LATEST FROM TUNNEL.

Will Probably be Retained—John Denair's Condition Improved.

W. B. Trull, the efficient local railway agent, stated this afternoon that it was his opinion that the Johnson canyon tunnel will be retimbered and ready for passage in a very few days. He bases his opinion on the fact that two car loads of sheet iron have left Chicago, by passenger train, for the tunnel, and that this is an indication that the company intends to repair the wrecked tunnel by re-timbering it. "However," continued Mr. Trull, "Chief Engineer Dunn reached the tunnel yesterday afternoon, and he will undoubtedly announce what he intends doing in the premises to-morrow."

All through passenger and freight traffic, from and for California, arrive and depart via Denver and the Southern Pacific, while all local business along the Santa Fe Pacific, from and for the west, is transferred at the tunnel.

Yesterday, a car load of hardy miners from the coal mines at Gallup left for the tunnel, going to work there this morning.

Latest information from Prescott gives the cheerful tidings that John Denair, who was injured at the tunnel, is improving, and his attending physician considers him out of danger.

The law requiring fire insurance companies to make deposits of $10,000 in cash or territorial bonds to the territorial treasurer goes into effect to-morrow, and most of the companies have signified their intention of complying with the requirements of the law, but very few have done so yet. The Fireman's Fund, of San Francisco, was the first to make the required deposit and it holds certificate No. 1.

W. L. Trimble returned Saturday night from Bland, where he had been hauling some lumber for the Coehiti Gold Mining Company. G. F. Posey, J. A. Coram and William Bagley, who were at Bland last week, have left, and there is a temporary lull there in consequence. There are about sixty men employed right along on the property just at present.

The special committee of the council, having in charge the matter of the electric street railway, met at the city building to-day but adjourned without taking any action. The committee will meet again in a few days when the opinion of the city attorney on some of the legal aspects of the case will be received.

Dr. H. B. Brown, father of Mrs. H. J. Emerson, will leave to-morrow morning for El Paso, and before his return to the city will likely visit other Texas cities.

C. E. Newcomer, the under sheriff, returned from Gallup Saturday with Michael Conway, who is to be examined as to his sanity by Judge Crumpacker.

D. J. Abel, the tobacconist, will leave this evening for Denver, where he will visit relatives for a short time.

Attention, Company G.

As the remains of J. L. Murray will have to be put upon the train before 7:30 to-night, the guards who will act as escort, are requested to be at the Army not later than 6:30 p. m.

C. B. Wallace, the district agent of the Northwestern Insurance company for New Mexico, came in from Denver last night and will spend a few weeks in this city writing up policies for that company. Mr. Wallace is considered one of the most reliable life insurance men in the territory.

THE INJUNCTION CASE!

Hon. Neill B. Field Arguing for the Valley Farmers.

The Court Room Packed with Many Interested People.

A Case of Great Importance to Water Rights in New Mexico.

ONE MORE TUNNEL VICTIM.

The hearing of the injunction in the case of the Albuquerque Land & Irrigation company vs. Judge T. C. Gutierrez, was taken up before Judge Crumpacker this morning and the legal arguments, which commenced this morning, will probably last for one or two days before the last word has been said.

Shortly after 10 o'clock this forenoon, Hon. Neill B. Field, who represents the Rio Grande valley farmers in this controversy, began an able and exhaustive legal argument. The intense and universal interest in the outcome was manifested by the presence of hundreds of farmers, who drove in from their homes many miles distant, as well as a large number of residents in the city.

When Mr. Field commenced his argument the court room, upstairs at the court house, was crowded to its utmost capacity. Charters & Nelson and Judge Collier were present as the legal representatives of the canal company.

Mr. Field, in his argument, maintained that the unappropriated water of streams like the Rio Grande by the desert land act passed by congress March 3, 1877, must forever remain free to the appropriation of all the people. He did not question the right of organizing a company or its right to construct a canal, provided the company is in position to serve the public as a water carrier.

The legislature might direct the construction of a canal across private lands, providing its purpose and use were to be public. This was clearly a legislative power. The legislature might also attach conditions to those rights of eminent domain, and whether these conditions were complied with was a matter of judicial cognizance.

Before a corporation can exercise the right of eminent domain it must show that it is such a corporation and that it is capable of serving the public as a public carrier of water; and if it cannot so serve it has no right of eminent domain.

Mr. Field argued further that the legislature had never attempted to grant any water rights to anybody but that the first legislature and the last legislature had left these rights just where they found them. The only act that seemed to conflict with this view was the act of 1891 and counsel maintained that this act did nothing more than establish a rule of evidence in controversies arising as to water rights. If it intended to grant water rights then it was illegal because it was contrary to the desert land act which said that all water should remain forever free to be appropriated by all the people. If, on the other hand, it was merely a police regulation or only intended to establish a rule of evidence it came clearly within the powers of the legislature.

Mr. Field read from the legislative act of 1891 and also quoted some decisions to substantiate his position.

He declared it to be an eternal monument to the native people of New Mexico that, while the court records of Arizona, Colorado and California were full of cases arising out of irrigation controversies in recent years, in New Mexico there was only one case of the kind that had been carried to the supreme court and the only one which the people could not settle among themselves.

A system of irrigation which has enabled the people to live in amiable relations for generations was not lightly to be set aside even for modern American progress and modern American methods, which would fill the courts with lawsuits arising from controversies over irrigation matters.

Mr. Field expects to complete his argument this afternoon and the attorneys for the company will have their say to-morrow.

William Grist Dead.

William Grist, who had his skull crushed at the tunnel, died from his injuries at the hospital yesterday. He was 30 years old, and leaves a family consisting of his wife and two children. His father, E. A. Grist, arrived from Plano, Iowa, last night, and his wife and two children are also here from Flagstaff.

The deceased was a member of the order of the Knights of Pythias and they will have charge of his funeral, which will take place at 2:30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon from Undertaker Strong's funeral services.

LODGE NOTICE.

All members of Mineral lodge No. 4, Knights of Pythias, and all visiting members are requested to meet at Undertaker Strong's to-morrow (Tuesday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, for the purpose of attending the funeral of William Grist.

THE TOWNS OF ARIZONA!

BREVITIES CULLED FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

WISLAW.
Miss Mahoney, sister of our popular editor, James Mahoney, left on No. 2 Wednesday afternoon, for Columbus, Ohio. Miss Mahoney was called back on business, and will return to Winslow on the coming spring.

We had a pretty heavy fall of snow at this point Sunday evening, after which it turned cold. The thermometer touched seven below, on Tuesday morning at the depot. We have experienced the longest continuous cold spell this winter that we have had for a number of years.

The ball given by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen Tuesday night was largely attended. The music was most excellent, and the supper fit for the gods. The floor management was unexceptional, and everything passed off without a solitary ripple to mar the pleasure of those present.

A railroad man from Pennsylvania, with good clearance papers, has been stopping in our town for a week or more, and appeared to be quite well known, with nothing wrong in his mental faculties, until last Monday night, when he became suddenly demented. Constable Williams took charge of him and wired Sheriff Watton. Deputy Bargman came down Tuesday and took the unfortunate man to Holbrook. Probate Judge Jackson will probably appoint a commission of lunacy, who will examine and send him to the asylum at Phoenix.

HOLBROOK.
From the Argus.
R. C. Kinder went to Phoenix where he will remain for about two months looking after his extensive sheep interests. Miss Werner, who has been stopping at Holbrook for a couple of months, left for Missouri to visit her brother. Her health has improved very much during her stay here.

Mr. Mossman, the new superintendent of the Atchison & Santa Fe cattle company, was in Holbrook. Mr. Mossman will find this a good community, and we welcome him within our midst.

Geo. Parks, the jovial passenger engineer, made the run from Gallup to Winslow, a distance of 128 miles, in three hours, including stops one day this week, beating the schedule an hour.

Hon. Will C. Barnes, member of the Live Stock Sanitary Commission, was in Holbrook shaking hands with his many friends. Mr. Barnes is one of our oldest citizens and Holbrook is proud of him.

PRESCOTT.
"Rags," the colored jockey and boot black, was fined $25 for threatening an assault with a deadly weapon, recently. Wm. Bell was tried in Judge Campbell's court on the charge of misdemeanor, and was fined $25. He is residing at the county jail at present, in default of payment of the fine imposed.

Judge John Howard, of Prescott, celebrated his 75th birthday on Thursday last. Judge Howard came to Prescott with the McCormick party, which first established a territorial government in Arizona.

Supervisor H. H. Carter came in from Phoenix on the early morning train in response to a telegram that Mrs. Carter was very sick. Mrs. Carter was resting easy last evening, her condition being reported much improved.

Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Bell signed papers authorizing the adoption of John Hicks and wife of baby Bell, who will hereafter be known as Violet Hicks. This has the little wail of the Cabinet saloon fallen into a home good enough for any child.

Sheriff Bufford gave a free exhibition of "bronco busting," on the plaza. The exhibition was unannounced and was involuntary on the part of the sheriff. He started to ride a horse on the plaza, when his saddle became loose and the animal commenced to buck. The sheriff had his picture taken in the snow, a full length, life size, back view being obtained, as he lit face upwards.

PHOENIX.
The Gila monster at the Curio died during the cold snap; couldn't stand the Phoenix climate.
