THE STOCKGROWERS!

Proceedings of the National Convention at Denver.

Congress busily at work on important bills.

The Senate earnestly discusses the Teller Silver Resolution.

NATIONAL MONETARY CONVENTION.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 26.—Chairman Springer called the National Stockgrowers' convention to order at 10 o'clock this morning. A committee of five, consisting of one from each state present, drafted a constitution and by-laws. The first address was on "Statistics as to Values of Live Stock and Products," by J. H. Neff, editor of the Practical Stockman, Kansas City. Figures were given to show that prices are now more than 200 per cent above the lowest point ten years ago. He expressed fear that stock raising and feeding cattle are now bringing more money than they will bring in the market when fattened. What is true of cattle, he asserted, is also true of sheep, horses and hogs. Comparing the stock industry with that of mining, he said that if the silver men had Teller, Jones and Stewart at Washington, the stock growers had Dingley, Grosvenor and McKinley. He spoke emphatically upon the necessity of the Dingley bill, especially on the sheep industry. He closed with the prediction of prosperity for the future. Gov. W. A. Richards, Wyoming, next spoke on "The Session of the arid public lands to states." Governor Richards took the position that only the arid lands and not all public lands should be given to the states. They would then, he claimed, soon be made to help pay government expenses and would be put in the hands of actual settlers. He favored leasing the arid lands for pasture, the proceeds to be used in aiding their reclamation by actual settlers. He said the money received from the sale of public lands had been very largely used in states other than those in which the lands were situated, to the advantage of the older and at the expense of the younger states.

Rivwood Mead, state engineer of Wyoming, spoke on "How Best to Prevent Chasing Between Sheep and Cattle Men on Ranges." He favored leasing all public lands and breaking up free ranges.

CIVIL SERVICE.

Chief of Examiners Protests Against Attack on the Board.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Rev. E. D. Bailey, chief of the examiners' office of the civil service commission, at today's session of the senate civil service investigating committee, called attention to the bitter attack made on him then by President Proctor, of the commission. He read a letter he had addressed to Theodore Roosevelt, New York police commissioner, severely criticizing the commission. The letter said in part: "The business of the commission is in the greatest confusion. It is becoming more and more demoralized for want of intelligent management. Requests remained unacted upon for months, and many complaints are made by department heads and subordinates. The commission is not only inefficient but it is also a source of annoyance and delay to the service."

"Questionable appointments have been so numerous that the rules have almost lost force and the alleged law of necessity is rampant and want of uniformity exists in all business of the commission, and the greatest uncertainty prevails. Subordinates cannot do their work with confidence because all precedents, practices and principles are abandoned and new ones substituted. 'Disaster' can be averted only by immediate remedial action and at least three changes in office should be made at once. For the reasons, but in the interests of the service."

Commissioner Proctor took the stand and sought to show that the sweeping extension classification on May 6, 1896, was not, as alleged, "a leap in the dark," so far as being applied for changed conditions was concerned.

MONETARY CONVENTION.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 26.—The monetary convention convened at 10 o'clock. The secretary read telegrams from various commercial bodies endorsing the plan of the commission. E. J. Parker, of Illinois, presented a resolution approving the efforts of the national business league to forward a movement toward the establishment of a national department of commerce and industry. The monetary convention this morning approved the plan of currency reforms submitted by the committee on the call of the executive committee.

CONGRESS.

The Senate and House Are Both Hard at Work.

Washington, Jan. 26.—At the opening of the senate today (Tues.) the secretary read a report of the conference on the urgent deficiency appropriation bill. It was agreed to.

Chandler (N. H.) secured the adoption of a resolution calling upon the attorney general for a report as to whether there had been recent violations of the constitution in Louisiana by exclusion from service on juries in the United States courts of qualified citizens on account of color.

Upon motion of Vest, of Missouri, the senate took up the Teller resolution. The debate was opened by Teller. He said he would permit no man to exert him in honor or good faith. "I would do nothing," he said, "that would bring about such a condition of affairs as would be disgraceful, whenever the opinion of the senator from Massachusetts (Hoar) may be of my opinions or convictions. The Massachusetts senator tried to make it appear that my position was on a par with making a ten dollar piece out of a copper cent. Such a proposition I do not advance and I do not think it would do much support to this or any other legislative body."

NEW MEXICO THERE!

The Territory Well Represented at Denver Convention.

A Few Extracts Taken from Interviews with Local Raisers.

What F. T. Farnsworth, W. H. Jack and Simon Holstein Have to Say.

REJOICE OVER CHANGED CONDITIONS.

The Denver Republican of yesterday contained a number of interviews with prominent stock raisers, now attending the convention in that city, and the CITIZEN clips the following interviews had with some of the New Mexico delegates.

ARE HOPEFUL IN NEW MEXICO.

Stock Growers Rejoice Over the Changed Condition.

F. T. Farnsworth comes as a delegate to the stock convention from New Mexico, where he has a range between Silver City and the Tula river and is a guest of the Windsor hotel. "The cattle business was never as good in New Mexico as it is at present," said he. "For several years it has been a losing game. One year I branded 450 calves and the next year gathered less than half of them. The same conditions prevailed every year. Many people went out of the business and nearly everyone was compelled to borrow money. Some were closed out, and a great many were allowed to go into bankruptcy because their creditors could not recover the amount of the indebtedness by foreclosure."

"During the past three years they have been gradually getting out. Up to 1894 nothing but losses were sought, and there was sale for nothing under three years old. The result of this condition was that steers were rushed in from Mexico, the range became overcrowded and the cattle were simply starved to death. During that period many of the breeders lost as high as 40 per cent of their herds, and there seemed to be no future to the business. When to this condition was added the low price of cattle it will be imagined that there was no inducement for any one to engage in the business, and most of those who remained so because they could not get out. I think on, sometimes against my judgment, but mainly because I had the first herd of white faces in this part of the country. They were good rustlers, and I feared some better than some of my neighbors. Since 1894 the conditions have been completely changed, and it is now possible to sell a full grown steer. This checked the importation of steers from Texas and Mexico and yearlings were snapped up by buyers. The change has been a good thing for us, as the range pasture has not been crowded and the range has been heavy for two years making excellent grass, while for three or four years previously there were severe droughts. In New Mexico the cattle business is now practically on a new basis. Yearlings hold the market and are bringing $30 a head; there are very few steers on the range, and the cows and calves have the range to themselves. As a result of this, and for some reason, our breeders will be out of debt and making money."

THEY ARE BEGINNING TO COME.

Prominent Stockmen Will Do Their Buying Here.

"Denver ought to be a greater stock center than it is," said W. H. Jack of Silver City, N. M., general manager of the Oak Grove and Sierra Nevada Cattle company. "As a distributing center for range cattle to feeding men it will be larger in the future than it has been now. Hereafter feeders never come to Denver to buy their cattle in large numbers. They are commencing to come here, owing to the better facilities offered for not only shipping cattle, but handling them after they get here. The conditions are ripe now for Denver to grow as a stock center. It is known that Denver is the distributing point of the west for the east, and cattle men will come here more in the future than they did in the past. We Kansas and Nebraska men should never have been compelled to go to Kansas City and Omaha to buy feeders. It was a needless expense as the cost of shipping the beef east and then west again was unnecessary. The eastern men realize that they can get their cattle here, and to Denver they will come. You need not think of the future of this city as a distributing center. It is a natural one and will grow."

NATURAL DISTRIBUTING POINT.

The Denver Stock Industry Is Bound to Grow.

"Denver will always be the cattle center of the west," said Simon Holstein of Deming, N. M., at the Brown Palace. "It will never be able to compete with Omaha and Kansas City, as those two points are surrounded by large open country, which is a distributing point for feeding purposes. And besides that, there are many packing establishments which attract and demand matured stock. But as a distributing point, Denver will grow. The eastern feeders have awakened to the fact that they must come here to get the pick of the young cattle for beef purposes, and each year will see additional men coming to Denver for that purpose. Their purchases will create a demand for more cattle, which will consequently increase the volume of the business of the yards."

Again Postponed.

Attorney E. W. Dobson is confined to his room with a very severe cold. Owing to his indisposition and the absence of W. B. Childers, who is in San Francisco on the business of the United States court, the ditch injunction hearing has been postponed until Friday morning.

Day of Prayer for Colleges.

At the Congregational church tonight there will be held a special observance of this day. President Herrick and Prof. Hodgins are invited to speak. All interested will be given a cordial welcome. At 7:30 o'clock.

Militia Drill To-Night.

Owing to the fact that the Library hall is to be placed at the Armory on Friday night, the weekly militia drill will take place this evening. All members are expected to be present so that they may be instructed in the new manual of arms recently adopted by the adjutant-general of this territory. It is learned from a reliable source that a great deal of practice will be given in the use of the new manual, owing to the fact that it was adopted for the new style of rifle, while the guards-who the old Springfield rifle. Many radical changes are made in a few words will be under the right discipline of Capt. C. D. Rogers. It is believed that the guards will make a creditable showing and be prepared to put down any uprising in the Santa Fe Indian country against the ditch surveys. It is understood that several members have already put their newly acquired rifles in shape so as to be prepared for any emergency.

New Mexico Delegates.

The Denver Post, in giving a list of delegates at the stockgrowers' convention, says the following are expected from this territory:

New Mexico—George H. Wallace, secretary of the territory; C. A. Rathbun, of Las Vegas; R. G. Head, of Watrous; C. A. Hatley, of Raton; G. L. Brooks, of Albuquerque; M. A. Otero, of Santa Fe; E. W. Rankin, of Deming; and Arthur J. The dall, superintendent of the Bell ranch.

As far as THE CITIZEN can learn, all of the above gentlemen are now in Denver, excepting Mr. Otero. The governor and his estimable wife are expected to be in this city or to-morrow evening, and will attend the library hall on Friday night. While in the city, Gov. and Mrs. Otero will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Keen.

WILL BE BURIED HERE.

Funeral and Burial of Chas. R. Matthews.

In accordance with the request received this morning by R. A. Matthews, from Chicago, the body of his brother, Chas. R. Matthews, whose sad death has already been mentioned in these columns, will be buried in Fairview cemetery. The funeral services will be held at Undertaker Strong's parlors to-morrow morning at 10:30 o'clock. The Rev. J. W. McGee, of the First Presbyterian church, will officiate.

This change—as the body was being prepared for shipment to Chicago this evening—was made out of consideration for the aged mother of the deceased, and the surviving brothers, here and in Chicago, concluded to have the remains buried here temporarily.

All friends are invited to attend the funeral.

Since the death of her husband, under such distressing circumstances, Mrs. Matthews has been almost prostrated.

MILES ALLEN CONFESSES.

Says Charles Hiest Made Forged Checks and He Passed Them.

In the attachment suit of E. L. Washburn & Co. vs. Charles E. Hiest, Justice Hildreth yesterday gave judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $64 cash and the goods which the defendant had bought and paid for by his bogus checks for $70. The case consisted of a hat and two pairs of shoes.

Judge Lee represented the plaintiff and Felix Lester and Wycoff & Moore the defendant. The defendants made the same points which they had used in the case of Weinman & Lewinson vs. Miles Allen, and also enforced them with some newly improved and now they are in the case, but the court held that the plaintiff was entitled to the money and goods out of which they had been defrauded.

Miles Allen has made a sworn confession to the peace officers in this county in which he states that in the co-partnership existing between himself and Mr. Hiest, the latter looked after the collection of the checks while Allen had charge of the passing of the same. He says that they started out from Salt Lake City, Utah, and worked their way to New Mexico, passing fraudulent checks at the different towns along the route of their travel at which they stopped for recreation.

It is understood that both of these criminals will plead guilty when arraigned.

New "Dining Parlors."

Mrs. Russell gave for the past year has been conducting "Dining Parlors" on south second street, will on this evening remove to 214 west gold avenue. The new dining parlor will be in the new quarters will be supper. The opening meal will be dinner on Thursday, and it will be equal to any of the holiday dinners, for which Mrs. Russell has become famous. The Thursday dinner will commence at 12:30 and conclude at 3 o'clock p. m., giving all patrons ample time to square themselves with the "dinner parlor" and the new "Dining Parlors" on west gold avenue.

Col. Ernest A. Grunfeld, the democratic postmaster who has made it a rule to read every line in THE CITIZEN before leaving at night and of course read the article yesterday afternoon about mail facilities, made a call at this office this afternoon, and stated that there was no regularly established post-office at Allen-town, Arizona, from which point complaints have reached us the past few weeks. The colonel will try to hold on to his "federal" bid, and will do all he can to see that THE CITIZEN subscribers receive their papers regularly in the future.

Emil Kleinwort, the wide-awake Third street butcher, returned from the Salt River valley of Arizona last night. He was on the other side of the tunnel when the fire and wreck occurred, with one ear load of fat steers, and seeing that he could not proceed farther that way, he went back to Phoenix, bought another ear load of fat steers, and then returned to the city via the Maricopa & Phoenix railroad and Southern Pacific.

Eight vases were found up last night and ordered to leave the city by Justice Crawford to day. Marshal Cobert followed them to the outskirts of the city and showed the way by which to depart.

Irenia Analla, wife of Jose Sanchez y Montoya, died at Las Vegas, January 21. The body was taken to Rancho de Arizona, where it was buried at 10 o'clock this afternoon.

Tickets to the Library hall next Friday are $1 each. This includes supper and dancing. Dancing begins at 8 o'clock.

T. K. Culler, brother of G. C. Culler, will come down from the north to-night.

STATEHOOD KILLED!

Committee Reject New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma.

Colorado Miners' Strike to Be Left to Arbitration.

The Keeper of the English Crown Jewels Is Dead.

ENGLISH GUNBOAT MAKES A CAPTURE.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Statehood legislation at this season was killed to-day by the house committee on territories rejecting the Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma bills by a vote of eight to three. The first two measures were passed and defeated. Then the Oklahoma bill was taken up and beaten by the same vote. There was no discussion, as it was understood at the last meeting that a vote was to be taken to-day without further preliminaries. Delegates Smith and Ferguson, of Arizona, and New Mexico, stated that they wished to put themselves on record that if allowed to vote they would vote for the bills.

REAPER OF CROWN JEWELS.

London, Jan. 26.—Lieutenant Sir Frederick Biddison, keeper of the crown jewels, is dead. Sir Frederick Biddison was in command of the forces during the rebellion in the North-West territory, Canada, in 1885.

TO BE ARBITRATED.

Denver, Jan. 26.—The difficulty existing between the miners and mine operators of Lafayette and Louisville, which caused a strike to exist ten days, has been submitted to the state board of arbitration. It is believed the end is in sight.

CAPTURE OF VESSEL.

Muscat, Gujoman, Jan. 26.—The British gunboat Lapwing, seized the steamer Bulchistan, and her cargo of arms and ammunition has been confiscated. The cargo is held by the British consul. It is presumed that the cargo of arms and ammunition seized by the Lapwing was intended for the use of the insurgents of Baluchistan, who recently have been giving considerable trouble to the British.

NEW MEXICO BILLS.

A Number of Them Introduced by Delegate Ferguson.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Delegate Ferguson, of New Mexico, has introduced the following bills: For the relief of W. A. Walker, of Albuquerque, N. past two or three days on business, left last night for his home at Bernalillo.R. F. Davis and wife, of La Junta, are among the latest arrivals at the Highland house. They are well pleased with Albuquerque, and will probably locate here.A. A. Jones, of Las Vegas, one of the well known attorneys of northern New Mexico, came in from the north last night, and continued south on business to Las Cruces this morning.The Kilo will meet January 27 at 2:30 at the house of Mrs. Alba Butters, corner Fifth street and Tijeras avenue. Let all members be present as there will be an election of officers. By order of the club.Some splendid photographs of Mrs.
Solomon Luna, the lady selected for the Trans-Mississippi exposition as the most perfect type of Spanish-American womanhood, are on exhibition at Mrs. Albright's art parlors.G. Giomi, the junior member of the wholesale liquor establishment of Bachechi & Giomi, returned from a business trip to the small towns north of the metropolis this morning. He reports having enjoyed a good trade."What was the matter with Dr. Macbeth?" is a question asked throughout the length and breadth of this city today. Yesterday, Jan. 25, was the anniversary of Robert Burns, Scotland's immortal bard, and our Scotch friends failed to celebrate.The Chautauqua circle met at the residence of Fred S. Mathes last night. Current events were informally discussed and then Rev. F. H. Allen read the letter of Pliny to Trajan, which was followed by a study of the second chapter of
