TERRITORIAL TALK.

Congress Considering the Omnibus New States Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Springer, of Illinois, called up yesterday as a special order the senate bill for the admission of South Dakota and the organization of the territory of North Dakota.

The bill having been read in full, Springer took the floor in explanation of the measure and advocacy of the substitute omnibus bill, which he proposed to offer at the proper time. He said he would endeavor to secure a vote at once. He called attention to various provisions of the constitution of 1885, which he considered bore marks of having been formulated hastily, and added that the presented another reason why a new constitution should be held. He criticized that clause of the constitution declaring all existing archives, records and books belonging to the territory of Dakota should belong to the state of South Dakota. Under that clause the secretary of state of the new state was authorized to go to Bismarck and demand of the capital there every scrap of paper and book belonging to the territory. Cox, of New York, was in favor of the omnibus bill, with certain amendments, but he was willing to help along any little conference between the two houses of congress which would result in elevating the territory into the rank of statehood. Every territory except Utah should be admitted into the union when it had a population sufficient under the law to elect a member of congress.

Gifford, of Dakota, defended the constitution adopted by constitutional convention of Dakota, from the criticism advanced against it by Springer.

Toole, of Montana, strongly advocated the admission of Montana, and inveighed against the carpet bag authority in the territories. The Garfield and Cleveland administration promised to relieve the territories, but both had failed. Tradition said that wise men came from the east, and his Republican friends had determined that history should repeat itself. Some of these hot-house plants had been too frail to stand transplanting in a northern climate, others holding religiously to the doctrine that federal office holders should neither die nor resign, had stayed in the territories and gave promise of developing into good, useful citizens (laughter), but under Democratic supremacy the time-honored tradition had been violated. Instead of wise men coming from the east, it was learned they came from the south. (Laughter.) Far be it from him to reflect upon the integrity of any man sent to the territories by the present administration, or upon the service from which they came, and the insolence of office holders consequent on alien appointments, and lack of confidence shown in the people of the territories constitute a grave affront. These people had hoped for better things from the present administration. Four years ago Montana had been entitled to statehood, and the failure to receive it, together with a violation of the platform concerning federal appointments in the territories, had done much to bring about a political revolution this last fall. There was only one remedy for the evil, a star on the flag, a vote and a voice in both branches of congress. Without this there was nothing but political insomniac and unrest. There was a homey maxim that "charity begins at home." Much has been heard about home rule in Ireland, and America had contributed much to establish that blessing in that land. He would not abate the slightest interest in the cause, but he begged the gentlemen not to forget that under their flag home rule in the territories lay bleeding at the feet of despotism. The people of the territories had been patient and long suffering, hiding their humiliation behind their pride, but they now found their modesty departing and independence asserting itself. To be one quailing with the states of the union was a worthy ambition.

Pending further debate the house adjourned.

IRON CLAD AGREEMENT.

Railway Presidents and Bankers Put the Serevs to Rate Cutters.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The presidents' agreement on which it was proposed to organize the Inter State Commerce Railway association has been printed in its modified form. The plan as amended provides for a chairman and no vice chairman. It was originally intended that there should be two vice chairmen to have charge of the freight and passenger departments respectively, but the duties of these officers will be imposed upon the chairman, who will employ his assistants.

The executive board will consist of three experienced men, instead of a chairman and vice chairman as was first agreed, and rate making power will be in the hands of committees. Another amendment is the omission of the clause providing that subordinate officers be discharged for cutting rates and shall not be employed by any road in the association. It is expected that a meeting will be called next week.

Judge Cooley's Opinion.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—Chairman Cooley, of the inter state commission, spoke at the annual meeting of the State Bar association last night on the subject of "Comparative Merits of the Written and Unwritten Constitution." Referring to the matter of inter state commerce he says in substance: It may be that by and by the federal legislature in surveying the field of the inter state commerce and taking notes how the state commerce marches on and intermingles with it, will come to the conclusion that separate regulation of the state commerce must, to some extent, at least, be inconsistent with complete federal regulation of commerce, that is inter state, and should the conclusion be reached federal legislation is not unlikely to take to itself a complete regulation of the whole field. To do so it will not add another illustration to history, which shows how vast is the edifice which may rightfully be erected within the bounds of a single federal power which at first seemed of little importance.

BIG DEAL IN THE SAN LUIS.

Pittsburg Capitalists Make a Heavy Investment—Improvements Going on.

DENVER, Jan. 17.—A number of Pittsburg capitalists have just concluded the purchase of a large tract of land in the San Luis valley in the immediate vicinity of Alamosa. They have formed a syndicate which will be known as the Alamosa Improvement company, and the purchase was made from the Empire Land & Improvement company of Colorado, for the cash sum of $63,000. This is the largest cash sale ever made in Colorado outside of the city of Denver. The tract comprises 3,280 acres of agricultural land around the city of Alamosa, including some town property.

The company propose to fence the land, dividing the same into farms of equal proportions, and otherwise improving the same for the purpose of renting to desirable and thrifty farm tenants at a nominal figure. Arranged in the manner which the company is projecting some forty farmers will thus be accommodated, enabling homes for themselves and families.

Henry A. Butters, who has concluded the sale for T. C. Henry, representing the Empire Land & Improvement company, arrived in Denver yesterday. Mr. Butters said:

"Alamosa and the surrounding country is looking up wonderfully this season. Not only are outsiders seeking investment in this desirable section of the San Luis valley, but the residents of the town, business men, clerks and railroad employees are putting their money into real estate there, and the prospect is for a big boom for that locality this spring. I predict," continued Mr. Butters, "that the coming season Alamosa will make a showing of at least 6,000 acres of grain, and above that of last year, this section being especially adapted to the raising of small grain." Some of the property included in the recent purchase includes some of the best of the town, which will also be improved; some fine business and residence buildings are to be erected on the same.

No Brotherhood Men Wanted.

CLINTON, Iowa, Jan. 17.—The order has gone forth on this division of the Chicago & Northwestern that all operators of the Telegraphers' brotherhood must resign their membership or quit the employ of the Northwestern. There are large numbers of the brotherhood. What they will do is not known, as the order is a surprise to them. There are two organizations of telegraph operators—the Order of Railroad Telegraphers and the Order of Commercial Telegraphers. None of the train dispatchers on the Chicago & Northwestern road in this city belong to either body. The only association of the kind with members among its members train dispatchers of this road is the Order of Train Dispatchers. The company, however, is favorably disposed toward the latter.

He Bit the Dust.

St. Louis, Jan. 17.—Advices have just been received from the Creek Nation that Wesley Barrett, a half-breed Creek Indian desperado, who numbered United States Marshal Phillips, and later, Moses McIntosh, of the Creek police, and wounded two or three others during the past year, was ambushed and killed Saturday by Wallace McKee, a Creek Indian. A large reward had been offered for Barrett either dead or alive.

CARE OF THE INDIANS.

Interesting Recommendations of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Commissioner of Indian Affairs Oberly, in his annual report discusses the act of June 29, 1888, by which the authority and duties of the superintendent of Indian schools were extended. The commissioner reaches the conclusion that the most natural, economical and effective administration of Indian schools will be secured by enlarging the prerogatives of the superintendent; first, by placing under his immediate charge all matters connected with all branches of Indian education, instead of restricting him to two lines of work in connection with but one class of schools, and second, by providing that he shall perform the official functions necessary in charge of such enlarged duties through the bureau of Indian affairs, under which arrangement the commissioner of Indian affairs may place at the disposal of the superintendent the entire official machinery of the bureau by the use of which nearly all the business in relation to Indian schools is and must be transacted.

The commissioner recommends some important changes in the methods of making purchases of Indian supplies. A much more satisfactory method, he thinks, would be for the Indian bureau to submit to bidders a standard sample of each article, instead of having submitted to it a large variety of samples of each article. Thus the question of price would at once have to be considered in awarding contracts, and nothing more would be required of the commissioner than the making of an award to the lowest bidder.

In conclusion the commissioner said the Indian is coming to appreciate the fact that he must become civilized. Most, as he explains it, learn the white man's way or perish from the face of the earth. He should be taught how to work, and all schools that are open for his children should be schools in which they will be instructed in the use of agricultural and mechanical implements, and the Indian should be taught not only how to work, but also that it is his duty to work, for the defrauding communism of the terrible reservation system gives to the individual no incentive to labor, but puts a premium upon idleness and makes it fashionable.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY'S AFTERNOON SESSION.

Mr. Gusdorf introduced C. B. No. 73, "An act authorizing counties to fund their outstanding warrants." Read first and second time.

Mr. Catron moved that it be translated and printed. Adopted.

Mr. Gusdorf moved that it be referred to the finance committee.

Mr. Jaramilla moved that it be referred to the committee on counties and county boundaries.

The last motion was rejected, and Mr. Gusdorf's motion adopted.

Bills on their third reading:

C. B. No. 15, "An act pertaining to acknowledging and recording deeds and instruments in writing affecting real estate."

Mr. Catron moved to postpone the bill indefinitely. Adopted.

C. B. No. 17, "An act relating to proceedings in civil cases, with reference to cross-petition, etc." Read first, second and third time and passed.

Mr. Frichard moved to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed, and to lay that motion on the table. Adopted.

A message from the house was received that the house had passed C. B. No. 16, "An act relating to practice in criminal cases."

Also, a substitute to C. B. No. 5, "An act relating to imprisonment of persons charged with crime," and request of the concurrence of the council on the same.

Business on the president's table was resumed.

C. B. No. 37, "An act entitled an act relating to proceedings in civil cases and the filing of the plea of the general issue."

The judiciary committee's substitute to the bill was read the first, second and third time and passed.

Mr. Frichard moved that the vote by which the bill passed be reconsidered, and the motion be laid on the table. Adopted.

C. B. No. 34, "An act to amend section 2447 of the Compiled Laws of New Mexico of 1884."

Mr. Rodey, of the judiciary committee, announced that a bill had passed at the early day of this session containing all of the essential provisions of this bill and was now a law.

Mr. Dolan moved to lay this bill on the table indefinitely. Adopted.

Mr. Rodey, of the judiciary committee, similar provisions were now a law.

Mr. Pera moved that the bill be laid on the table indefinitely. Adopted.

Mr. King, by unanimous consent, introduced C. B. No. 74, "An act to define the offense of libel and affix punishment therefor." Read first and second time, and on motion of Mr. King referred to the judiciary committee.

Business on the president's table resumed.

H. B. No. 15, "An act for the protection of discharged employees and to prohibit blacklisting, and for other purposes."

A bill with the essential feature the same was introduced in the council and house for the purpose of protecting the laboring man, and an overwhelming sentiment in each house is in favor of the same. In some way the friends of the railroads or some others slipped in an additional (the 3d) section, which seems to prohibit legitimate associations or societies, such as Knights of Labor, railroad engineers, from taking proper action for their own protection or interest. The bill as it came from the house was read the first and second time.

Mr. Rodey arose and made an able and forcible speech in behalf of the laboring men as against corporations. He said no legitimate combination of intelligent labor could take place against corporations or monopoly whatever in New Mexico under that third section as slipped in, without being in danger of a penalty of from $500 to $1,000, penalty, or of suffering an imprisonment of not to exceed three years in the penitentiary. This 3d section, which was tacked on in some manner, was probably done by the railroads, or attorneys, and the very bill which was intended to legislate in behalf of the laboring men is now made to legislate against them.

Mr. Fort took the opposite side of the case and said that the section referred to only gave the railroads or other corporations that protection against strikes as they were entitled to.

Mr. Pera moved to refer the bill to the committee on agriculture and manufactures.

Judge W. C. Hazledine, solicitor of the Atlantic & Pacific railroad, who has been in the city for the past two weeks on important legal business before the supreme court, left last night for Prescott, A. T., and Sacramento, Cal. He has cases pending in the supreme courts of Arizona and California. He is one of the best posted and ablest railroad attorneys in the west and a very much respected citizen of New Mexico. Bon voyage.

The chief clerk of the house says the house has employed no proof reader and that he himself neither directly or indirectly has authorized any house employee to criticize the typographical appearance of the bills. The whole trouble grows out of the fact that the accents usually used in Spanish were omitted in a certain bill, and the funny thing about it is that the proof reader who read the bill is a brother of the chief clerk and just as good a Spanish scholar as his critical relative. This is a clear case of much ado about nothing.

Merchants and others are hereby reminded that the New Mexican is prepared to do their printing on short notice and at reasonable rates. Much of the job printing now going out of town could come to the New Mexican office. NEW MEXICO AS A STATE.

Congressmen Discuss the Pros and Cons of the All-Absorbing Question.

Special to The New Mexican.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—In the lower house of congress to-day consideration of the omnibus bill was resumed. During a rather animated discussion of the bill New Mexico was FREQUENTLY ALLUDED to. The character of its people generally was warmly eulogized, and the assertions that ignorance and lawlessness rule there found many staunch deniers. It was declared that the territory's great natural resources, its increasing population and its

BRIGHT BUSINESS PROSPECTS entitled New Mexico to admission to the union.

Herman, of Oregon, strongly advocated the admission of all the territories named in the omnibus bill.

Dulose, of Idaho, asked that an enabling act be passed for all the territories.

Struble, of Iowa, opposed the admission of New Mexico at this time, arguing that until every citizen of the territory had learned to speak the ENGLISH LANGUAGE, New Mexico should be kept out of the sisterhood of states.

Voorhees, of Washington territory, spoke in behalf of his constituents and demanded the passage of an enabling act for that territory.

Mansur, of Missouri, spoke at length, favoring the omnibus bill, but avoided all mention of New Mexico.

The house adjourned without a final vote on the bill.

SUPREME COURT.

Opinions on the Question of Damages and the S. F. R. R. Land Grant.

In the supreme court yesterday the following opinions were handed down:

No. 201.—Territory ex rel. Simon Lyser vs. Rindolf Bros. Opinion by Justice Henderson, Chief Justice Long and Justice Reeves concurring.

This is a suit on an attachment bond. The principal question discussed by counsel for appellants was the action of the lower court in permitting plaintiff to prove and the jury to assess, as a portion of plaintiff's damages, the sum paid attorneys for defending the attachment suit. In addition to this, in connection with the proofs so offered, they insisted that the sum of $500 paid counsel was not reasonable in amount, and that even if counsel fees may be included in making up an estimate of plaintiff's damages, only a reasonable sum can be allowed.

In the district court the plaintiff recovered judgment for $500 damages. Finding no error, Justice Henderson affirms this judgment.

No. 250.—The Southern Pacific Railway Co. of New Mexico vs. Teofilo Esquibel. Opinion by Justice Reeves, Chief Justice Long and Justice Brinker concurring.

Esquibel filed a claim for land, on an odd section, within the boundary of the land grant given by congress to the Southern Pacific Railway company of New Mexico, and which company, including its railway tracts, land grant, etc., was subsequently acquired by the Texas Pacific railroad company. By this suit the railroad company sought to establish its rights to hold the grant after congress had declared the same forfeited. The jury in the district court was instructed to find in favor of Esquibel, and so found, and the case now comes up on appeal by the railroad company. Judge Reeves holds that the company failed to comply with its contract with the government in many particulars; that it has forfeited all claims to the grant; that congress has so declared; that the proposition that a power to mortgage said alleged grant includes and carries with it a power to sell the same is not supported by authority of law; that the railroad company had no standing in court in its case against Esquibel, and accordingly the decision in the lower court is affirmed.

THE WAY TO DO IT.

A Private Water Enterprise that Has Proven a Big Success.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Mesilla Valley Irrigation company was held on Monday at the village of Brunswick. The following officers and directors were elected for the ensuing year: President and overseer, Geo. A. Mossman; vice president, David Jones; secretary, Herbert H. Russell; assistant overseers, Frank Kraupp, John Hogans; directors, George W. Mossman, David Jones, J. F. Priest, W. S. Gilliam, Ernest Russell.

The Mesilla Valley Irrigation company is composed of farmers living or owning land along the east side of the Rio Grande from Mesquite station, on the Santa Fe railway about thirty-two miles above El Paso, to the state line at Anthony. The canal is about thirty-two miles long. There are at present about thirty stockholders. The company was organized and chartered about three years ago with a capital stock of $12,000, divided into 12,000 shares of the par value of $1 per share. The canal is maintained by the levy of assessments on the stock, the stockholders working out their assessments at two rates of $1.25 per day for the labor of a man or team. No effort has yet been made to pay dividends on the stock, since it is held by the consumers of water, who are satisfied to get water at cost.

A bad washout near the head of the canal last year necessitated the digging of about a mile and a half of new ditch besides the annual cleaning. To meet this demand and also to enlarge the canal an assessment was levied, amounting to about $3,200. Work was begun upon this assessment December 11. The new portion of the canal has been completed and the cleaning and widening will be finished by February 2. The line of the upper end of the canal has been changed so that it is believed no such washouts will be experienced in future and the assessments will therefore be light. When the work now in progress is completed the company will have one of the best canals in all the territory.

A Self Made Man.

Wilson Waddingham, the largest land owner in the United States, and estimated to be worth $4,000,000, has for his summer residence a fine house with spacious grounds at Savin Rock, just outside of Philadelphia's city line. His house is the finest dwelling in the state, and cost over $500,000. It is occupied by his family, and was built by his son, Mr. Waddingham, who made his money in the cattle raising business, and spends most of his time in visiting his large ranches, one of which he recently purchased in New Mexico, consisting of 12,000 acres. He is believed to own over 2,000,000 acres of grazing lands. He has also large investments in profitable real estate in several western cities.—Exchange.

The Calendar Crop.

At this season of the year the Calendar harvest is at its height. From time immemorial calendars have been considered an indispensable article, but if our grandfathers could see the production in its line in these later days their astonishment would be indescribable. Of the making of calendars there is no end, and they appear in all sizes, shapes, colors and designs the makers of them vying with each other to produce something which shall surpass all previous efforts. So plain have they become that a calendar must possess unusual merit to retain year after year a prominent position. The calendar issued by N. W. Ayer & Son, newspaper advertising agents, Philadelphia, is one of the latter kind. It has been so arranged, it is an increasing demand for it. Combining beauty of color and finish, it is also so plain that the various dates can be read with comfort. For counting house or home it has been arranged, it is equal to any other calendar securely inclosed and postpaid to any address.

GOT HIS CASH.

Ex-Sheriff Pino, of Valencia, Duped by a Wayward Woman.

Since the disappearance of Donaciano Pino, ex-sheriff of Valencia, was noted in these columns a few days ago, his friends have been pretty busy tracing him down, and they are grieved at the result of their investigations.

Pino left Belen on the 21st inst. for Santa Fe and stopped over at Albuquerque till the 6th. Thence he came to Santa Fe for the purpose of settling his accounts as sheriff with the territorial auditor, and paying to that officer the sum of $3,000, which amount he carried on his person in cash. Now, the story goes, he proceeded from the depot at once to a respectable house near Water street and there fell in with a woman named Mary Motta. His friends say he spent at least two days here in her company and she, learning that he had the money with him, induced him to make a trip with her to the wicked village of Trinidad. A day and a night they spent in Trinidad, when the shy siren robbed Mr. Pino of all the money he had, some $3,000, and fled to Denver.

Pino's friends say he is now in Trinidad, sore at heart, sick and stranded, cursing his luck and down on the world generally. Pino has a nice little side in Valencia county, and his people are wealthy and popular. They will be shocked and grieved to learn these ugly stories.
