TUESDAY, MARCH 19.

Home rule for the territories.

Judge W. H. Whiteman.

The ice is broken. Now let the good work go on.

The meat inspection law continues to be a bone of contention.

Blanche, Gray, Sweetheart and the others continue to bark at Santa Fe.

Appointments are coming slowly, but when they do come they are good ones.

Col. J. M. Clayton's assassins have not yet been discovered. Of course not.

There may be in the near future a rearrangement of and reassignment of the several judges of the districts.

Albuquerque is still howling at Chilli. Leave the town alone. It has not harmed Albuquerque any that we know of.

The beautiful regularity of the irregularity of the railway postal service in New Mexico should be attended to; the sooner the better.

Mr. B. F. Hobart, of Las Vegas, is making a hard fight for the position of surveyor general of New Mexico. He is on hand and has been at work in Washington since the inauguration.

The NEW MEXICAN is informed from Washington that no action in the case of the Chief Justice E. V. Long will be taken for at least six weeks, as the case can not be reached any sooner.

The Democratic governor and secretary of Arizona have been removed. The appointments in their places are Col. Lewis Wolfley for governor, and Hon. Nathan Murphy for secretary. Both well known and actual residents of Arizona and most excellent appointments.

The candidates for the office of surveyor general of New Mexico are: E. L. Bartlett, of Santa Fe; J. Frank Chavez, of Valencia; B. F. Hobart, of San Miguel; and J. G. Parke, of Grant. It is expected that an appointment will be made during the present month.

Our esteemed contemporaries at Albuquerque are still kicking, and that very vigorously, at the change of the county lines between Santa Fe and Bernalillo counties. It must be decided down there. Get up something new and interesting. The world moves.

In compliance with numerous requests from members of the New Mexico bar, we publish to-day in another column the act passed by the 28th legislative assembly, entitled "An act with reference to practice in the supreme court and for other purposes."

Mr. W. H. JACK, of Colfax county, the NEW MEXICAN is informed, is a candidate for the office of register of the new U. S. land office at Clayton. Mr. Jack is an active and energetic business man and a good Republican and would make a competent and good official.

AND now that immense and gigantic metropolitan journal, the Hillsboro Advocate, has a scheme on hand to create a state out of Grant, Sierra, Dona Ana, Lincoln and Socorro counties. What a fertile imagination the able editor of that great and powerful journal must have. Keep it up; harmless exercise. Paper and ink are rather cheap, and it does not take much brain. Keep it up, we say.

The Pueblo Chieftain comments editorially as follows upon the meat inspection law passed by the 28th legislative assembly:

The principal law officer of New Mexico has expressed the opinion that the beef inspection law enacted by the legislature of that territory is unconstitutional. The federal constitution settles that point if words have any meaning. It says that congress alone can enact laws regulating commerce between the states. The whole object and intent of these inspection bills is to keep the product of the packing houses at Chicago, Kansas City and Omaha from coming into competition with the product of local butchers. To be sure, this purpose is thinly veiled by a sanitary pretense, but the hollowness of this pretense has been very clearly shown by the facts brought before the legislatures of Kansas and Missouri, in both of which bills similar to that passed by the legislature of New Mexico are pending. The New Mexican legislators, however, care very little probably whether the law is constitutional or unconstitutional. They have done what they agreed to do, and the parties in interest, the packing houses and the local butchers, can settle the law points between them.

The Chieftain is incorrect. The law was passed by the legislative assembly of New Mexico, for two reasons: first, to protect the people of New Mexico against the introduction of diseased and unwholesome meat, and secondly to advance the interests of one of the largest and most valuable of industries in New Mexico.

Both objects are laudable and proper. The 28th legislative assembly contained some excellent lawyers; men who are able to cope successfully with the members of the bar in any state or territory. The law was not enacted to help the local butchers, quite the reverse, right here the local butchers are dissatisfied with it. However, a test case will soon be brought before the courts and the decision then rendered of course will govern. Till such happens, the decision rendered by the legal adviser of the territorial officers stands and governs.

JUDGE W. H. WHITEMAN.

A special dispatch late last evening announced that Maj. W. H. Whiteman, of Albuquerque, was on yesterday appointed to succeed Judge R. A. Reeves in this 2d district. It had been supposed that Maj. Whiteman was a candidate for the judgeship of the 2d district, and he was being supported for that position by several of the influential Republicans of the territory.

Judge Whiteman was born in Ohio about forty-four years ago. He attended the common schools till the age of 17 and in 1861 enlisted in the 20th Ohio infantry. He served during the war with credit and bravery, was taken prisoner at Bolivar, Tenn., and wounded at Bolivar, Miss. He was mustered out as a major. After the war he studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1870. Shortly afterward he moved to Kansas; while in the latter state he was chairman of the Republican county committee of Cherokee county; member of the state central committee, and was elected county attorney, serving two years; he settled in Albuquerque about eight years, and has since been engaged in the practice of his profession.

He was elected a member of the house of representatives of the 28th legislative assembly of this territory; he was chairman of the judiciary committee in that body and rendered good and efficient service. It will be seen, therefore, that Major Whiteman has a good war record; that he has been a resident of New Mexico for the past eight years; that he was a member of the 28th legislative assembly; he is a lawyer of good reputation, and a good Republican. We believe his appointment will give satisfaction to the people and to the Republican party of New Mexico. We are specially gratified to see that an actual bona fide resident has been appointed to fill the very important and dignified office of associate justice of the supreme court of New Mexico, and are of the opinion that the appointment will prove a good and beneficial one, and that Judge Whiteman will be an able, upright and good judge.

Hon. JOHN S. CLARKSON will make a first class first assistant postmaster general. We respectfully ask that he pay at the earliest practicable moment some attention to the fourth class postmasters of sunny New Mexico. During election time the fourth class postoffices in the territory have been run in the interest of the Democratic party and in fact by the Democratic central campaign committee. This was the case in the 1886 and 1888 campaigns. Documents and papers sent out by the Republican committee in a great many instances were not delivered. Special complaint was made of one office, namely the one at Mora, N. M. It is to be hoped that the first assistant postmaster general will soon find time to pay some attention to the cleaning out of the New Mexico postoffices. They need it, and that badly.

CALIFORNIA'S PRODUCTS.

A Vestibule Train Laden with Pacific Slope Productions.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 18.—The vestibule cars sent out by the California State Board of Trade and Southern Pacific company to show the natural and manufactured products of the western slope, arrived here last evening. The coaches have been extravagantly furnished. Inside the cars are rows of shelves of polished redwood, extending from the floor to far above the windows. Overhead are photographs showing views of different places of interest in the state. Luscious oranges, apples, quinces, olives, pears and tobacco hang from the racks on the wall. A feature is the preserved fruits, pears, peaches, plums, grapes, cherries, being preserved whole, etc. One shelf contains 300 oval jars of California cereals—oats, barley, wheat, rye, etc. Over a dozen varieties of nuts are exhibited. There are glass cases filled with pure silk cocoons and fabrics, giving some idea of the silk industry, with woolen and cotton manufactures. Raisins, prunes and other fruits, including vineyard products, are to be seen in abundance.

Gossips After the Pottery.
New York, March 19.—The Evening Telegram is responsible for the following: "Mr. James Brown Potter has at last been brought to light by the delvers after sensation and made to play the role of an injured husband in search of a divorce. It is said that his wife's recent success in 'Cleopatra' as an illustration of anatomy has forced upon him the conviction that she is lost to him and that hereafter they had better meet as strangers. Potter loved his wife madly, but 'Cleopatra' was the last straw that broke the camel's back. The gossips contend that the plea for a separation will not be contested by Mrs. Potter. It will be allowed to go by a fault. Desertion and incompatibility may be the cause."

Bad blood causes dyspepsia and dyspepsia reacts by causing bad blood. So both go on, growing worse, until the whole system is poisoned. The surest means of relief for the victim is a thorough and persistent course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Disarming an Unseen Foe.
"This is a strange paradox," says Hamlet. Since, however, the people of America and other lands have been enabled to pit Hostetter's Stomach Bitters against that unknown foe, malaria, it is no longer a paradox, but a fact. Wherever the air is impregnated with malarious vapors, the water, in the very strongest of malarious, the auxiliary agent to disarm the foe and secure efficient protection. Fever and ague, biliousness, indigestion, dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney and bladder ailments.

Take your old magazines or music to the New Mexican's bindery and have them handsomely rebound.

RELATING TO APPEALS.

Practice in the Supreme Court—A New Law of General Interest.

Among the more important of the new laws is the following, relating to practice in the New Mexico supreme court:

Section 1. Whenever it shall be intended to review on appeal, or to set aside or annul any judgment or decree of any district court, it shall not be necessary that any record of the proceedings or proceedings in the case in the district court shall be or shall have been prepared by the appellant or plaintiff in error, or a copy served on the opposite party or its attorney. But the party taking or having taken such appeal or writ of error, may file or cause to be filed in the supreme court, the whole of the record in the case, or such part thereof as such party may deem necessary for a review of the judgment or decree, and the opposite party, if the whole record be not filed in the supreme court, may file such other part of the record in the supreme court as may be deemed by such opposite party necessary to properly review the judgment or decree of the district court, and it shall not be necessary that the judge shall determine or shall have determined, what portion of the records and proceedings in the case shall be transmitted to the supreme court; but when only a part of the record is filed, the supreme court shall determine whether there is sufficient in the part so filed to enable it to properly review the cause, and may require the production of the entire record, or such additional parts thereof as said supreme court may deem necessary for a proper review of the cause; provided, that where more of the record is filed than is necessary in the supreme court than is necessary to properly review the cause, the supreme court may, in its discretion, tax the cost of such greater part against the person filing the same.

Sec. 2.—In all cases where appeals or writs of error have been taken to review the judgment of any district court, or decree of a district court, and the case has not been determined what portions of the record and proceedings in the case shall be transmitted to the supreme court, and the time has passed for docketing and filing the record in said supreme court, the party taking said writ of error or appeal may, within thirty days after the approval of this act, file in the supreme court the record in said cause in accordance with the provisions of section 1 of this act, without it being necessary to have determined by the judge what portion of the record and proceedings in the case shall be transmitted to the supreme court, and such cause shall thereafter be docketed, heard and determined in the same manner as if it had been filed and docketed in the proper time, and appellant or plaintiff in error shall have leave to assign errors, and the opposite party shall have leave to assign errors, and the assignment of errors and the briefs shall have leave to be filed in the assignment of errors and the briefs.

Sec. 3.—It shall not be necessary, when it is intended to review by appeal or writ of error any judgment of the district court, that a proposed bill of exceptions containing matters not apparent on the face of the record shall be submitted and prepared, including in or served with a copy of any proposed record in any case, nor shall it be necessary to prepare or have prepared, any proposed bill of exceptions, or serve the same on the opposite party, within ten days after judgment; but in any case where a bill of exceptions may hereafter be pending in the supreme court to review the judgment of a district court, any party desiring to have any material matter not apparent on the face of the record made a part of the record may prepare a bill of exceptions, in which such proposed matters may be incorporated, and present the same to the judge of the district court within twenty days before the first day of the term of the supreme court in which said cause shall be docketed, and shall give the opposite party or his attorney five days' notice of his intention to present such bill of exceptions to the judge, and the opposite party shall within five days thereafter have leave to propose any amendments to said bill of exceptions, giving notice thereof to the opposite party of the time when such amendment will be proposed and the time for proposing said bill of exceptions, and amendments may at any time before or after its expiration be enlarged by the judge, and the judge shall settle and sign the bill of exceptions at least ten days before the term of the supreme court in which said cause shall be first docketed, unless for cause satisfactory to him he should delay the same, in which event he shall settle and sign the same as soon as possible, and either party may at any time before a bill of exceptions is settled and signed, be heard before the judge as to the matter to be included therein, on giving one day's notice to the opposite party or his attorney; and should any bill of exceptions not be settled before the time required for the filing of the record in the supreme court, such record may be filed in the supreme court at any time within ten days after said bill of exceptions shall be settled, and such cause shall be heard the same as if said record had been filed ten days before the first day of the term; provided, that the provisions of this section and the two previous sections of this act shall not apply to any cause which has been docketed and the record filed in the supreme court prior to December 28, 1888.

Sec. 4.—In all cases now pending in the supreme court, or which may hereafter be pending in the supreme court, and which may have been tried by the equity side of the court, or which may have been tried by a jury on the common law side of the court, or in which a jury may have been waived and the cause tried by the court or the judge thereof, it shall be the duty of the supreme court to look into all the rulings and decisions of the court which may be apparent upon the records, or which may be incorporated in a bill of exceptions, and pass upon all of them, and upon the errors, if any shall be found therein, in the ruling and decisions of the court below, grant a new trial or render such other judgment as may be right and just and in accordance with law; and said supreme court shall not decline to pass upon any question of law or fact which may appear in any record, either upon the face of the record or in the bill of exceptions, because the cause was tried by the court or judge thereof without a jury, but shall review said cause in the same manner and to the same extent as if it had been tried by a jury.

Sec. 5.—This act shall be in force and effect from and after its passage, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith are hereby repealed.

Approved, Jan. 5, 1889.

FACTS BY FISKE.

He Returns from the National Capital and Chats of New Mexico Affairs.

Impressions of President and Cabinet—Friends of the West—Our Office Seekers.

Hon. E. A. Fiske returned home from Washington today. He had a delightful trip and throughout his stay at the national capital encountered many old acquaintances—friends of former days when he was chief clerk of the division of private land claims in the general land office during President Grant's administration. The gentleman has a jolly story to relate of the ups and downs of the New Mexican delegation now in Washington city. He says the majority of the New Mexicans there now are wearing silk hats and canes, and in this respect are fully abreast of the eastern crowds now hovering about that quarter. He thinks for average good looks and all around characteristics for getting there they also hold their own.

Mr. Fiske had personal interviews with President Harrison and all the members of his cabinet during his stay in the capital city. He thinks Gen. Harrison will give the country a business man's administration that will elicit the admiration of all classes of people in every section. He found him most kindly disposed toward the west especially. The cabinet officers were called upon in company with ex-Gov. Lew Wallace, a gentleman always kindly remembered in New Mexico. Attorney General Miller, Secretary Noble, of the interior, and Secretary Windom, of the treasury, he found particularly interested in New Mexican affairs, and they possessed an acquaintance with local business and political matters, and a knowledge of the leading men in this territory which was truly surprising.

Secretary Noble acted as attorney in New Mexico cases here in Santa Fe twenty years ago. In one of these cases Major Breiden served as master in chancery, and a few days ago when a party of citizens from this territory, including Major Breiden, called at the interior department, Secretary Noble stopped forward and said: "Why, hello, here's Breiden, my old master in chancery." Mr. Fiske says the secretary has a remarkable memory, especially for dates, names and faces. He thinks Messrs. Miller and Noble are the two cabinet members closest to the president. These three men have fought life's battles together, and the bond of union between them, socially and otherwise, is indissoluble.

Mr. Fiske thinks it is a neck and neck contest for the governorship between Messrs. Prince and Dwyer, with possibly, at this time, the chances in favor of the latter, although the New York delegation, headed by Evans, is working for Judge Prince, and he also has the backing of Secretary Tracy, of the naval bureau, as far as it can consistently be accorded him. He thinks Col. Dick Harrison will probably get the U. S. magistracy, and that Mr. Weltner is in the lead for postmaster at Santa Fe, with strong Pennsylvania backing.

For surveyor general, B. F. Hobart, of Las Vegas, is making a strong canvass. Nothing will be done, probably, for some weeks yet in reference to the successors of Judge Lane and Judge Brinker. Major Whitman was aided by Mr. Fiske in getting his application before the authorities. He also did the best he could for Judge Ball and Hon. John R. McFee, without special reference as to the particular districts they should occupy. The receiver-ship for the Santa Fe land office will likely be settled in a few weeks, and it is Mr. Fiske's opinion that Mr. Spradling thus far has the inside track for the position.

The story that he himself was applicant for the chief justiceship he laughingly repudiates. He wasn't there in search of office, but went merely to look after the wants of a few friends.

THE PENITENTIARY.

The Pardons Question—Price of Brick—Cash on Hand.

The board of penitentiary commissioners met at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, presided by Treasurer Ortiz y Salazar, Auditor Alarand District Attorney Twichell. Superintendent Burnett reported cash on hand belonging to the penitentiary as follows: United States prisoners' fund, $2,916.25; convict earnings, $79.05; miscellaneous receipts, $50.50—total, $3,945.80. This amount was turned over to the board. A contingent fund of $181.75 was also reported in the hands of the superintendent.

The following was received and read: To the Honorable Board of Penitentiary Commissioners.

You are requested to notify the superintendent whether in the opinion of the board, the recommendation of the board is necessary before prisoners can be discharged or pardoned by the governor.

H. C. BURRITT, Superintendent. This matter was discussed at length and the board adopted a resolution as follows: Whereas, That inasmuch as section 53 of the act entitled "An act to provide for the maintenance, government and police of the penitentiary, and also the mode of employing the officers and other employees, and fixing the pay for the same, and for other purposes," unquestionably attempts to limit the power of the governor granted by the organic act of the territory relative to pardons, and is unconstitutional;

Resolved, That the board hereafter ignores said section 53, although it is the opinion of the board that the power sought to be vested in this body is well worthy the fair consideration of the executive of the territory and should be by him recognized in some way, and such action on his part would tend to suppress the comment heretofore prevalent with reference to the granting of pardons to convicts confined in the penitentiary.

EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS

District Attorneys and Pharmacists Named by Gov. Ross.

Insisting on his power to appoint "territorial officials," Gov. Ross has made four appointments to the office of district attorney, who are expected to enter into contest for their respective places with the appointees now holding commissions from the territorial council.

The governor's appointees are as follows: For the Counties of Colfax and Taos—G. W. Abbott, of Springer, as against W. C. Wrigley, of Raton. For the Counties of San Miguel and Mora—A. A. Jones, of Las Vegas, who is expected to wrest the office from Major Salazar. For the Counties of Grant and Sierra—John J. Bell, of Silver City, who will lock horns with Hon. J. A. Archibald. For the Counties of Santa Fe, Rio Arriba and San Juan—J. P. Victory, of Santa Fe, as opposed to R. E. Twichell. Under the new pharmacy law the governor has also filled the names of the following as members of the territorial board of pharmacy: C. M. Creamer, of Santa Fe, for five years; E. W. Spencer, of Albuquerque, for four years; E. G. Murphy, of Las Vegas, for three years; W. C. Portfield, of Silver City, for two years. Commissions for these appointments are being made out by Sec. Lane today.

STRAIGHT TALK.

Lecturer Woodford Engaged to Speak Each Night This Week.

The audience at the court house last night, to hear Mr. Geo. Woodford's temperance address, was probably the largest ever gathered in Santa Fe on a similar occasion.

The lecture was admirable. Mr. Woodford is no "fronter." His words are weighed with ascertained facts, and his logic is inevitable—irresistible and his motto is: men addicted to drink. His oratory is easy, graceful, effective. He is a master of dialect and brogue—quite able to "bring down the house" by his comic stories, and to affect to tears by pathetic passages. Even were the subject matter less important and excellent, it would well worth while to listen to Mr. Woodford's addresses as models of platform eloquence. So well satisfied with him are those who engaged him to come to Santa Fe that they have made arrangements to keep him in the city for a week. The meetings will be held in the court house at 8 o'clock every night. There is no admittance fee. All are cordially invited.

ROUND ABOUT TOWN.

The members of St. Cecilia society will meet at the residence of Mrs. G. D. Koch at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon.

Dress parade at Fort Marcy brought out a great crowd of admiring people at sundown yesterday. Capt. Gregory Harrington served as the officer of the day.

The high rollers were out last night, and faro ran away up in the hundreds. Sometimes as high as $300 changed hands on the turn of a card, but the bank lost as a rule. The winner says he's had satisfaction now and will never do it again.

The daily plaza concert by the 10th U. S. infantry band takes place between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock. For to-morrow the program is:

March—Hungarian Patrol. Marie Overture—Militaire. The Lancers. Waltz—Lille. The Lancers. Strauss. Polka—Lille. The Lancers. Strauss. Gavotte—Mayer Jan. The Lancers. Mexican Dance—Lille and Thores. Riddle. If any farmer on earth should feel independent it should be the Rocky mountain valley farmer who is out of debt and has a plentiful supply of water for irrigation. He does not have to turn to the almanac or watch the clouds to learn when to plant or when to harvest. All he has to do is to plant the seed at the proper time, properly cultivate and turn on the water. The earth will do the rest.

A special telegram to the New Mexican came to hand at 2:30 last evening announcing the appointment of Hon. W. H. Whitman, of Albuquerque, to be Judge Reeves' successor as judge of the Santa Fe district. It is a matter of regret that the dispatch did not arrive in time for publication in yesterday's paper. Judge Whitman has a large personal acquaintance in Santa Fe, and his friends are all heartily glad over this news, and will cordially welcome him as a resident of Santa Fe. More extended reference to this subject appears on the editorial page of this issue.

STILL "BEEFING."

The Cattle Men Think They are All Right—Still Over the New Law.

The following was issued yesterday: Las Vegas, N. M., March 18.—To the cattle men of the United States. It having gone out to the country and the support of general of New Mexico has rendered an opinion adverse to the constitutionality of the act of inspection law recently passed by our legislature, creating a doubt in the minds of those who are working for the enactment of similar laws in other states as to the legality of the measure, we desire to express the belief, in behalf of the cattle men of this territory, that the opinion rendered on the constitutionality of the law by the Hon. James O. Hughes, president of the American Bar association, will be sustained by the courts. The good effects of the law are already apparent in enhanced prices obtained for our livestock from local butchers. J. A. Lutz, Chairman Ex. Com. Cattle and Horse Growers' Assn. of New Mexico. Louis Lutz, Pres. Cattle Sanitary Board of New Mexico.

When his attention was called to the above this morning, Acting Auditor General Twichell said:

"That's all right," said Mr. Twichell. "That's official" as coming from the Cattle Men's association and the cattle board. Nobody will blame them for making a contest in behalf of sustaining those points in the inspection law which they believe the law contains and which would be favorable to their business interests. The whole question will, of course, eventually go before the courts, and, as before stated, it is my opinion that the beef industry of New Mexico, through this careful piece of legislation, will find itself with additional burdens on its hands rather than the relief its representatives so eagerly sought after."

It is remarkable how general is the interest throughout the west in this beef inspection law of New Mexico. Hundreds of people are writing for copies of the law, and many attorneys are writing the acting solicitor general requesting a copy of his opinion on the subject. Among these is Hon. J. F. Merriam, one of the leading members of the Missouri bar. That gentleman writes Mr. Twichell today, inclosing his argument on the dressed beef industry before the house committee on benevolent and scientific institutions, a very able paper denying the power of legislatures to discriminate as between healthy dressed meat from abroad and the same article of home production, and a copy of the acting solicitor general's opinion on the New Mexico inspection law is requested to be forwarded to him at once. The press of the west, also, is generally discussing the merits and demerits of the New Mexico law.

FISH WARDENS.

First Batch of Appointments under the New Fish Law.

Under authority conferred in section 9 of an act entitled an act for the propagation and protection of fish, approved February 14, 1889, the governor has appointed the following named persons as fish wardens for their respective localities:

Santa Fe—E. H. Brigham, H. C. Burnett, Geo. W. Lane, Geo. W. Dranghion, E. L. Bartlett, Arthur Boyle, H. S. Clancy, Tony Neils, R. C. Van Vleet. Chama—W. E. Broad, Alexander Read, Las Vegas—J. A. Otero, M. A. Otero, Jr., A. R. W. Robinson, Chas. Dyer, C. C. Swinborne. Mora—John Doherty, J. J. Walton. Springer—Chas. Springer, Robt. Stepp. Pecos—J. Francis Cooper, John W. Cooper. Chama—Samuel Eldred. Pajarito—John Bonquet.

It is understood the governor will appoint fish wardens for all the counties, as the law provides, just as soon as he can get around to it and select the proper men. Parties interested in the protection of fish and the propagation of mountain trout especially, may find it advantageous to confer with Gov. Ross relative to these appointments, to the end that good men may be appointed who will take an interest in seeing the law executed to the letter.

Disfiguring

Eruptions, such as pimples, blotches and disfiguring eruptions, are the most potent and harmless of all blood medicines. Don't waste time and money on any other. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best.

"I was troubled with discoloration of the skin, which showed itself in dark patches. No external treatment did more than temporarily good. Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected a complete cure."—T. W. Boddy, River St., Lowell, Mass.

"No medicine could be better adapted to cleansing the blood of such impurities as manifest themselves on the skin by pimples, blotches, and small eruptions, than Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I have used it for that purpose with the most gratifying results."—J. R. Roseberry, M. D., Wharton, Texas.

"I have prescribed Ayer's Sarsaparilla in my practice for a number of years. I find it to work admirably where an alternative is indicated."—T. Porter, M. D., Cerro Gordo, Iowa.
