On Nov. 12, Joel Benavides Garcia, an official with the National Association of Diversified Livestock Producers (Asociacion Nacional de Ganaderos Diversificados, ANGADI) said the government earned seven billion pesos (about US$2.21 million) last year from the sale of deer hunting permits in Tamaulipas, Nuevo Leon and Coahuila states. Foreign hunters bought about 80% of those permits. According to Benavides, the Agriculture and Water Resources Secretariat (Secretaria de Agricultura y Recursos Hidraulicos, SARH) will implement its wildlife management program this season which starts Dec. 4 by consolidating hunting in one region covering the three states.
