OFFICIAL PROGRAM FOR STATE FAIR FORMALLY ANNOUNCED FOR THE THIRTY-SECOND ANNUAL EXPOSITION

HOST OF GOOD THINGS PROMISED BY TABULATED SCHEDULES OF EVENTS ARRANGED FOR EVERY DAY

Opening Day, State Day, Good Roads Day, Albuquerque Day, Wool Growers' Day and Columbus Day Titles of Different Dates of New Mexico's Yearly Exhibition Which Opens Here One Week from Tomorrow; Aeroplane Flights Every Day, Dancing and Carnival Saturday Evening, Automobile Parades, Motorcycle and Horse Races, Baseball Tournament, Session of New Mexico Good Roads Association and Dozens of Other Interesting Things to Take Place October 7th to 12th.

The official program of the thirty-second New Mexico state fair, which opens a week from tomorrow, was announced yesterday afternoon. It promises a wealth of attractions such as have never been seen before at a New Mexico fair, and literally packs each hour of the day with interesting and instructive events. The program covers the entire six days of the fair and there are events scheduled for most of the mornings, all of the afternoons and all of the evenings.

The first day is designated "Opening day," and a number of attractive entertaining features are scheduled for that day, in order that as large a crowd as possible may be drawn to the city for the beginning of the fair. There is no doubt that the succeeding days will retain all the visitors who come.

The second day is "State day," and at that time the governor and state officials, the members of the legislature, and other prominent men will be visitors at the fair and guests of the association. On that day also, Governor Hiram W. Johnson, of California, candidate for vice president on the progressive ticket, will be a visitor in the city and will deliver an address.

Wednesday is "Good Roads day," when there will be a decorated automobile parade in the afternoon at the fair grounds, and an illuminated night parade of automobiles on the downtown streets. On the morning of this day, the New Mexico Good Roads association will meet at the Elks theater and a number of prominent road boosters will deliver addresses. At this time the actual campaign for the passage of the $100,000 bond issue, provided for by the last legislature, will be begun.

Thursday will be "Albuquerque day," and all the usual stunts, including the annual Montezuma parade, will be pulled off in the city. A feature of the afternoon events will be the half-mile cowpony race between ponies from every county in the state. This will be run in four preliminary heats and a final.

Friday is "Wool Growers' day," and that evening there will be held the historic Montezuma ball, which bids fair to be one of the most brilliant society events ever held in New Mexico. "Columbus day" is Saturday, so named in honor of the celebration to be held by the Knights of Columbus here at that time, in commemoration of the discovery of America.

Every day there will be aeroplane flights at the fair grounds, races at the same place, motorcycle races, baseball games and many other interesting events.

WILL DANCE ON PAVED STREETS CARNIVAL NIGHT

A feature which is unusual and which has considerable appeal to the popular mind is the arrangement made yesterday by President D. K. B. Sellers, of the fair association, Saturday afternoon, preceding Carnival night. Central avenue will be swept and scrubbed until it is as clean as anyone's floor, and then roped off from traffic. Beginning at night, two bands will be stationed at appropriate points on the street while the public will dance on the five blocks from First street to Sixth.

This is a new stunt and one that is sure to meet with great approval. The streets are smooth enough to do for a dancing floor and when cleaned as the president promises they shall be cleaned, will be an excellent place for tripping the light fantastic. The very novelty of the thing is sure to attract the people.

One band will likely be stationed at Second street and the other at Fourth street.

BIG SWINDLE LAID TO CLEVELAND MEN

Cleveland, O., Sept. 28.—Allegations of stockholders in the McNicholas mining operations, that several local men were allied with James P. McNicholas in the sale of mining stock for eight alleged fraudulent mining operations, will be investigated at once, said County Prosecutor John A. Chene tonight, and the federal grand jury investigation next Friday will be asked to consider their relations with McNicholas.

It is charged by George T. Biggs, of Elkhart, O., who started the investigation, and Hiram A. Combes, that Cleveland men secured several hundred thousand dollars of the $1,000,000 McNicholas stock to have secured from investors in northern Ohio and Chicago.

BRYAN CONTINUES ATTACK ON TEDDY

Rock Springs, Wyo., Sept. 28.—William J. Bryan arrived here tonight after a day of campaigning through Utah and Wyoming. This afternoon he addressed a capacity house at the Evanson theater and delivered his principal address of the day at the theater here tonight.

In his speech here tonight, Colonel Bryan made an attack on Colonel Roosevelt and his plan for regulation of the trusts. He declared Roosevelt was elected by the aid of Wall street and that his present campaign expenses were being paid by the trusts.

STRIKE BREAKERS EXPECTED UNDER STRONG GUARD

Fifty Deputies Secretly Leave Bingham on Mission Nature of Which is Not Disclosed to Public.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Bingham, Utah, Sept. 28.—Fifty-three deputy sheriffs left here today on a Bingham & Garfield railroad train. It is thought that their only mission can be to meet strike breakers and escort them to camp. The deputies declared they were ignorant of where they were going. Every precaution was taken to keep their departure secret.

The camp which has been quiet all week, was thrown into a state of intense excitement when the news of the deputies' departure became known. Word quickly passed from one end of the long canyon to the other that General Manager D. C. Jackling, of the Utah Copper Company, at last was trying to make good his promise to resume operations without granting the miners their demands.

The deputies with stars under the coats, walked to the railroad station in ones and twos. Their guns had been transported to the train in boxes. Their departure was accomplished so secretly that the strike leaders were unaware of the move until after the train had left.

The miners had planned to hold a mass meeting tonight, but the meeting was not largely attended. It was rumored that the deputies were to meet a special train filled with strike breakers somewhere between here and Salt Lake City and escort them to Bingham under cover of night.

According to word received here late tonight officers of the Utah Copper Company, and Sheriff Joseph C. Sharp deny that the mission of the deputies who left here late today is to escort strike breakers back to camp. They refused, however, to explain the purpose of the move.

The meeting which the miners held tonight was prolonged. Many of the members were absent in the early part of the night in the anticipation of the arrival of the strike breakers appeared later and packed the hall. Speakers of many races gave assurances that their countrymen were prepared to hold out indefinitely.

ELY MINERS MAY GO ON STRIKE THURSDAY

Ely, Nev., Sept. 28.—Latter conditions here tonight were more unfavorable than at any time since the miners made a demand a week ago for an increase in wages. The sentiment expressed tonight is that the union will refuse to accept the increase in wages offered by the company yesterday and will insist on their demands for an increase of 30 cents a day being granted, also that the company meet with the representatives of the union and arrange a working agreement.

In a signed statement issued tonight President Meyer said:

"First we want what is called 'recognition of the union,' which means nothing more than that the company enters into an agreement with the union for a specified period. We are not asking the Nevada Consolidated Company to permit us to dictate as to whom they shall employ. Regarding the counteracted raised in wages offered by the company, it is not enough. Many men still have to work for less than $2 a day, and that is not sufficient, in this high priced camp, for a man to live decently."

The local union leaders have asked for a conference with the mine operators to be held not later than Wednesday. It generally was understood here tonight that a strike of all miners and smeltermen will be called Thursday unless an agreement is reached Wednesday.

ROOSEVELT MAKES ULSTERITES DEVOTE WILSON ANANIAS CLUB MEMBER FOR LIFE

DAY TO PROTEST AGAINST IRISH HOME RULE

Bull Moose Says New Jersey Governor is Guilty of Statements Known by Him to be Reverse of Truth.

COLONEL REPLIES TO TROUBLESOME CHARGE

Progressive Candidate Asserts Opponents for Presidency Are Agreed on Attitude Toward Judges.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Atlanta, Sept. 28.—Governor Woodrow Wilson was charged by Colonel Roosevelt here tonight with making statements in regard to his position, which were "not merely an untruth, but the direct reverse of the truth."

Speaking before a large crowd here, after a day's campaigning across Alabama and Georgia, the ex-president took up recent statements of the democratic candidate and denied them flatly. He said Governor Wilson did not believe some of these things and knew that Colonel Roosevelt had never said them.

Mr. Roosevelt spoke in part: "Mr. Wilson affects to quote me when he deliberately attributes to me what I have never said, and what I know that I have never said, and what I am obliged to say he must know that I never said. At Boston, day before yesterday, he stated that I had said that it was 'inevitable' that the trusts should build up an irresistible power, and that I suggested that we try our best to make the trusts good, pitiful, kind and just, and that we 'transact our own affairs to those who by and by will have combined against us.' Now every one of those statements simply is not true. I ask Mr. Wilson to point where and when it was that I said that I wished to make the trusts 'pitiful' or 'kind.' He cannot do it, and he knows he cannot do it. His statement is an invention. I ask him to point where I have said that we are to transfer our own affairs to those who by and by will have combined against us. He cannot do it, and he knows he cannot do it. His statement is an invention. Again, his statement that I have ever said that the trusts must be permitted to build up an irresistible power is not merely an untruth, but is the direct reverse of the truth, and this Mr. Wilson knows."

"Mr. Wilson asserted that I did an 'illegal thing in order to build an irresistible power' in permitting the purchase by the United States Steel corporation of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company. As to this, I need only refer to my testimony before the Stanley committee. It is simple nonsense to say that I did an 'illegal thing.' Mr. Wilson does not believe it himself."

"The attitudes of Mr. Taft and Mr. Wilson toward the judges and courts are identical. Each solemnly shakes his head over existing conditions and each promptly repudiates every official remedy proposed, and has none to suggest in their places."

HADLEY'S SUPPORT OF TAFT CONDITIONAL

St. Louis, Sept. 28.—Governor Herbert S. Hadley, of Missouri, after an all-day wrangle with the republican state committee, issued an ultimatum tonight that the only condition upon which he would support President Taft was that the president should immediately declare himself for presidential preference primaries and non-voted controlled delegations from southern states to national conventions.

THOUSANDS UPON THOUSANDS SIGN COVENANT NEVER TO SUBMIT TO DOMINATION OF PARLIAMENT SITTING AT DUBLIN

SOLEMNITY PREVAILS IN CITY OF BELFAST

Sir Edward Carson Writes His Name First on Document Which May Mean Civil War in England.

THOUSANDS UPON THOUSANDS SIGN COVENANT NEVER TO SUBMIT TO DOMINATION OF PARLIAMENT SITTING AT DUBLIN

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Belfast, Sept. 28.—As the crowning proof of their determination never to submit to the domination of an Irish parliament, thousands of Ulsterites, Unionists and Orangemen, devoted to signing the "covenant" today, of resistance to home rule.

Notwithstanding the anxiety and dread as to what might happen, Ulster day passed off without serious disturbance. In expectation of rioting, troops were quartered in the city, but were not needed. Only one demonstration of factional feeling developed, which threatened for a brief space to become serious. After a football match, between Protestant and Catholic teams at Celtic park, as the crowds were returning home, several green flags were waved. The appearance of these emblems of nationalism started several fierce fights, but the police stopped the conflicts before anybody was badly hurt.

Sir Edward Carson today wrote his name as the first to sign the solemn "covenant" of the Ulstermen, which binds them to "use all the means that may be found necessary to defeat the present conspiracy to set up home rule in Ireland," and also to refuse to recognize the authority of an Irish parliament. He was followed by thousands of the rank and file of the Orangemen and Unionists in the northern province of Ireland.

Religious services preceded the signing of the "covenant" and services of a similar nature were held in many churches. Undoubtedly the arrangements whereby the signing of the document was treated as a solemn religious obligation exercised a restraining influence on the bellicose Orangemen, while the humorous view taken of the ceremony by nationalists, tended to diminish their hostility.

The aspects of the day, however, throughout the day, were decidedly martial. The air resounded with the tramp of well drilled civilians going and coming from the city hall where the "covenant" was signed, while hands played patriotic airs. From noon until late tonight, signatures were attached at the rate of five hundred per minute and a half.

Sir Edward Carson, who has announced his willingness to stand at the forefront of the battle, until victory is won, however, fought out the dominant figure of the day. After a dinner given in honor of the occasion, he received a congratulatory address from the English Protestant associations. Then, accompanied by members of parliament who have been prominent in this campaign, he started for the Donegal Quay to make his steamer for Liverpool, where he will attend a big anti-home rule demonstration Monday.

From Ulster club to the Quay side, Sir Edward and his party were escorted by a torchlight procession through immense throngs, cheering enthusiastically. As the steamer made its way down the Lough every eminence on shore was illuminated by beacon fires.

POLICE AUTOMOBILE MAKES FATAL RUN

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 28.—In a first run to reach the Denver & Rio Grande railroad yards, where Robert Johnson, aged 9 years, had been cut in two by a car, a police automobile killed Finley Martin, 55, traveling from Sioux City, Iowa, to California, and fractured the skull of James H. Scanlan, Jr., of Roxbury, Mass., this afternoon.

Mr. Martin was instantly killed. He was stepping from a street car on South Second street, when the driver of the police machine attempted to make a quick turn to avoid a buggy. The wheels skidded and the automobile swung around. One end caught Martin, the other struck Scanlan. Mr. Scanlan is in a hospital and his condition is precarious.

Miss Marie Fay Ward, a vaudeville performer, said she had within the last week, refused to marry Steele, and assumed the note referred to her.

THIRTY-FIVE FOOT TAFT SEES DANGER

FALL OF MILITARY AEROPLANE KILLS TWO OFFICERS

Second Lieutenant Rockwell and Corporal Scott Victims of Fatal Accident at College Park, Maryland.

CAUSE FOR TRAGEDY AS YET UNEXPLAINED

One of Victims Was Making Flight to Qualify for Army Aviator's License; Other Was Carried as Passenger.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Washington, Sept. 28.—Two more lives were sacrificed to aviation at the United States army aviation field, College Park, Md., near here, late today, when an army aeroplane suddenly fell thirty-five feet from the ground, instantly killing Corporal Frank S. Scott and seriously injuring Second Lieutenant Lewis C. Rockwell, that he died a few hours later.

Hundreds of persons, including Jewish army officers attached to the aviation school, witnessed the accident. When they reached the scene, Corporal Scott was dead, several feet from the wrecked machine, while Lieutenant Rockwell was nearby, fatally injured. The lieutenant was brought to the Walter Reed army hospital here where he died tonight.

Lieutenant Rockwell had started up with Corporal Scott as a passenger to make a test flight in his trial for a military aviator's license. They had been in the air about eight minutes, ascending to a height of 500 feet, then gliding down, had got within thirty-five feet of the ground. At this point the aviator turned the machine upward again and something went wrong. Instantly the aeroplane buckled and crashed to the ground, being reduced to a heap of wreckage.

Officers who witnessed the accident were at a loss to account for it. Captain Charles De Forest Chandler, commanding officer of the aviation school, immediately convened a board of inquiry to make an investigation.

A single utterance of Lieutenant Rockwell probably brought death to Corporal Scott and saved the life of Captain Hennessy. When Rockwell was about to start aloft, Captain Hennessy approached him and requested that he be taken along as a passenger. Lieutenant Rockwell replied, "No, you are too heavy," and Corporal Scott was selected to accompany the lieutenant on the trip.

Lieutenant Rockwell was the fourth commissioned officer of the United States army to meet death in an aviation accident. His home was in Cincinnati. He was 28 years old.

EX-ENGLISH ARMY OFFICER KILLED AT HEMPSTEAD

Hempstead, N. Y., Sept. 28.—John L. Longstaff, a former English army officer, was killed this evening while flying in a Farman biplane with his mechanic, Pierre Chevalier. When only seventy feet in the air a wire became jammed and the machine instantly overturned and fell.

Longstaff was caught in the debris. He suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries. He died in a hospital tonight. Chevalier, who was thrown clear of the wreck, escaped serious injury.

PRISONER ESCAPES BY GASOLINE ROUTE

Los Angeles, Sept. 28.—Exploding with a match, the fumes of gasoline rising from an open tank, a prisoner on the way to jail blew up an automobile patrol in the downtown section of the city today. The vehicle was destroyed and one prisoner was fatally injured and two others, with Patrolman Louis Grace, Sr., were injured.

Grace, with his clothing aflame, started in pursuit of the man who started the fire and another prisoner, who, unhurt, was speeding down the street, but was stopped by onlookers, who stripped his flaming clothes from his body, while the fugitives escaped.

Missouri State University, 53; Central college, 7.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 28.—Yale defeated Holy Cross here today 7 to 0, in a closely played game, frequent fumbling and a weak defense marking the Yale play. A fifty yard punt by McCabe over Yale's goal line in the last period was the feature. Yale had the ball on the Holy Cross one yard line in the first period, but could not set it over. The scoring came in the second period, when a long punt by Pampally and a forward pass by Captain Sweeney gave Quarterback Cornish the ball on the Holy Cross twenty yard line and he carried it over for a touchdown. In this period Bonestor played right and injured his shoulder and had to retire.

Harvard, 7; Maine, 0.
Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 28.—Harvard was held down to a 7 to 0 score by the University of Maine in the initial game in the stadium today. The Crimson team scored in the first period from the middle of the field on a series of line plunges by Heikley and A. Hardwick.

Maine narrowly missed scoring a touchdown in the second period, when a heavily thrown forward pass from Harvard's seventeen yard line, with a Maine man standing alone behind the goal line, struck the goal posts.

Princeton, 65; Stevens Institute, 0.
Princeton, N. J., Sept. 28.—The Princeton eleven opened its season here this afternoon with an overwhelming victory over Stevens institute, the final score standing 65 to 0. The "Tigers" played good early season football, but the one-sidedness of the score was due more to the poor defensive playing of the visitors than to any startling work by Princeton. The Stevens eleven at no time was able to withstand the fierce onslaught of the orange and black.

Princeton's veteran back field, Captain Pendleton, Baker and Dewitt, tore through the Stevens line at will for yards of from ten to twenty yards, while the two half backs each made several runs of more than forty yards.

Colgate, 13; Cornell, 7.
Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Cornell was defeated by Colgate, 13 to 7, this afternoon, and is the first of the so-called "big college" eleven to lose this season.

Fumbles and forward passes characterized the play of both teams. All the scoring was accomplished direct after long gains had been made through forward passes. In the second period Cornell brought the ball through a pass to the six yard line and O'Connor went over for a touchdown. Colgate's scoring came in the second period, when Carrick caught a forward pass behind the goal line, and in the third period, when Hamilton carried the ball across after a forward pass had brought it to the three yard line.

South Dakota, 10; Minnesota, 0.
Minneapolis, Sept. 28.—The University of South Dakota football team this afternoon obtained revenge for years of scoreless defeats by the University of Minnesota, when it defeated the latter team by 10 to 0. With but one veteran, Tolin, full back, in the lineup for Minnesota, none of the brilliant offensive and defensive bluffs of former years was shown by Coach Williams' proteges. South Dakota showed better form, both in offensive and defensive playing.

In the middle of the last quarter, Imley, the South Dakota left half, intercepted a forward pass on the fifty yard line and carried it across without a Minnesota man getting in tackling distance.

Football Captain Injured.
St. Joseph, Sept. 28.—Togo Gell, captain of the Oregon, Mo., high school eleven was thrown upon his head and suffered concussion of the brain and paralysis of his side today during a football game between the St. Joseph and Oregon high school teams here.

PRUSSIA REFUSES IMPORTATION OF FROZEN BEEF

Government Does Not Allow Bringing in Meat to Relieve Famine Conditions Prevailing in Empire.

(By Morning Journal Special Teased Wire.)
Berlin, Sept. 28.—Prussia refuses to entertain the idea of authorizing the importation of non-European frozen beef to relieve the situation caused by the scarcity of meat. This would be the only effective remedy for the present lack of fresh food, according to the general tone of the municipal and commercial protests sent into the government.

The Prussian government, announces, however, that it will facilitate the importation of livestock, fresh beef and pork from various regions of Europe for sale under municipal control of prices. It holds out a prospect of a reduction of freights and duties to go into operation from October 1st, thus enabling the municipalities to import Australian mutton.

CHANCE TO MANAGE CHICAGO CUBS NEXT YEAR OR QUIT CLUB

New York, Sept. 28.—Frank Chance either will be manager of the Chicago National league team next year or sever his connection with the team altogether. He so declared today before leaving for Chicago, after reading dispatches containing the announcement of Charles W. Murphy, president of the team, that he would not manage the Cubs next year.

Chance and that while he had told Murphy in August that on account of his health, he did not wish to manage the Cubs another year, Murphy had told him he would not make his final answer until after the season was over. Now that he had received word from his friend, Murphy, he added it was "up to Murphy to say" whether the contract should be again tendered him.

"He must give me either a contract or manager of my absolute release," said Chance.

"Above all things, if I do continue managing the Cubs I shall continue to protect my ball players against unjust accusations, as I did when they were champions of the world."

What's In a Name

"THAT which we call a rose by any other name would smell as sweet."

I disagree with the immortal Shakespeare. That is, in regard to girls' names.

Names change with the fashions, and there is as much difference in girls' names of today and those of colonial days as there is difference in the style of dress or the manner of fixing the hair.

The old-fashioned Mary Anns, Lizzies and Maggies have almost disappeared from the category of names and euphonious cognomens have taken their place.

Dorothy suits the modern girl better than Minerva and Mildred better than Mary Ann. Of course, some of the parents, more sentimental than practical, choose old-fashioned prefixes such as Hester, Priscilla and Nancy, but the average family names the baby according to the times.

Some claim there is a sort of science or psychology in naming a baby that should be taken into consideration before the child is called other than just "baby."

For instance, Dolores means sorrow, and it is said that a girl given that name, as soft and musical as it is, rarely recovers from the incident. According to traditions she is supposed to grow up pensive and thoughtful, sensitive and abnormally quiet, just because she is named Dolores before she is old enough to protest.

All stuff and nonsense! Dolores may be suited to a dismal child, just as Fay suits a tiny, fun-loving, mischievous girl, but it is hard to believe that the name, or its significance can have any influence on a body's disposition. To be sure, "the eternal fitness of things" cries for recognition in naming girls as in everything else, and one feels like entering a protest against a dark-skinned child being called Lily or Pearl, or a stormy, impatient temperament going through life labelled "Patience."

Alliteration seems a favorite modern method of naming children, and certainly produces euphony of sound as well as a pretty written signature. As Lorna Lester—could you imagine a prettier combination? Maurine Maynard is another name that bears out my contention that there is both method and beauty in "apt alliterations artful aid."

To return to Dolores—we have a living local illustration that every Dolores isn't sad and sorrowful in Dolores Hunning. Gay and charming, she belies her name. Probably it is because Dolores is so unsuited to her happy temperament that Miss Hunning's friends call her "Lollita."

That a short surname is prettier with a brief given name is proven in the names of the two attractive daughters of Dr. Hope—Helen Hope and Myrl Hope. Jean Arnot's name is another of the "short and sweet" variety.

A charming exception to this rule is Mildred Fox, both personally and as regards the name itself. Fay, or something like, which would bear out the brevity or alliteration, wouldn't suit Miss Fox at all. Mildred with its suggestion of dignity and reserve, sweet withal, just fits.

The names of the Willey girls, Lizzie and Betty, are somewhat difficult to figure out, as both are abbreviations of the quaint delightful "Elizabeth," which means "consecrated to God." Betty is one of the most delightful cognomens in the English language, and calls to mind an audacious, entirely lovable girl, and Lizzie seems a resurrection of yester years. While springing from one origin, the names have widely divergent significance, and each is suited in its way to the Willey girls, both of whom are popular, and well-liked here.

Florence Kimball, the daughter of Major A. W. Kimball, of Fort D. A. Russell, here on a visit, is "Florence" to everybody and being a jolly, wholesome sort, the nickname suits her better than the more stately prefix appellation at christening.

Not much in a name, after all. What with nicknames and slang one can adapt each and every cognomen to suit the personality or the requirements. With that I shall touch on other subjects.

Mrs. Marron's Card Party.

To return, Mrs. O. N. Marron's card party, Thursday, was exceedingly smart; recherche in all its details.

The Marron home is roomy and artistic, so lends itself charmingly to most any scheme of decoration, and a glance at the handsome interior on that afternoon, was enough to convince one that an artist's hand had spent its skill in making more beautiful an already beautiful home.

Roses, the last of the summertime, were in the reception room, where Mrs. Marron, assisted by a bevy of young girls, Lollita Hunning, Margaret and Eugene Keleher and Eleanor Marron, received her guests. Within the drawing room, and the living room, where the card tables were scattered, huge clusters of carnations gave brightness and fragrance to the rooms, and an excellent view of the dining room disclosed a riot of the roses and carnations, exquisitely arranged on table and buffet.

The hall, from which opens a big, cozy den, was gay in variegated dahlias, and the same flowers were effectively employed in converting the den into a fragrant and enticing retreat. Throughout, the decorations were lavish and beautiful, and the pretty gowns of the guests, the subdued laughter and chatter, went to make the scene one of unusual brilliance.

"Five Hundred" was played progressively, and resulted in Miss Julia Leitch winning the first prize, and with Mrs. A. S. Bronson possessor of the cut prize.

Mrs. Marron's guest list included Mesdames W. C. McDonald, of Santa Fe; G. L. Brooks, T. S. Hubbard, F. D. Heyn, Jessie Keleher, H. B. Ferguson, Sol Luna, R. R. Pollock, Summers Burkhardt, W. H. ALBUQUERQUE NEW MEXICO

TELL IT, MR. CUTTING.

Mr. Bronson M. Cutting, proprietor of the Santa Fe New Mexican, is a young man of high character and great wealth. He fully realizes the responsibilities of his position, therefore the following editorial could not have been published without his knowledge and approval.

"Of all the pitiful arguments used in the last remaining standstill newspaper and which wasn't standstill until recently that it looks rather suspicious, is poor old Herbert Hagerman. This organ of the St. Louis Rocky Mountain and Pacific Company and El Chanate, seeks to discredit Theodore Roosevelt by using Hagerman as a buffer. In the name of all that is human, hasn't Hagerman been used enough? Whence comes this sudden and unexpected love for Hagerman from the coal camps and land grants of Colfax county and from El Chanate? Do these distinguished gentlemen think that they were far enough under cover in that Hagerman affair, to have the searchlight turned on? There is more to the Hagerman affair than has ever been told and the New Mexican hoped that in this campaign, it would not be necessary for it to take the matter up. However, if the gentlemen think they can get away with it, let them proceed, because in the words of all distinguished country editors, more anon."

Governor Hagerman has stood exceptionally high in New Mexico. Except by a few discredited gangsters, his probity has never been questioned. But it is evident that Mr. Cutting, who is a warm personal friend of Colonel Roosevelt, believes he has knowledge of Governor Hagerman's official acts, not heretofore disclosed, which fully justify Colonel Roosevelt's treatment of him.

It is unfortunate that Mr. Cutting should have simply put out an intimation against Governor Hagerman's official integrity. Such a course is not fair to the man attacked. People are left to imagine things. Their imaginations may be worse than the facts warrant, or they may not be so bad.

The people of New Mexico have been fearfully victimized by corrupt politicians and by misfeasance and malfeasance of the men intrusted with official positions. These evils can be corrected only by exposure—by turning on the light.

It is evident that Mr. Cutting knows something that should be told to the people of New Mexico. No one, knowing him, will believe, for one moment, that he would make a baseless insinuation against the integrity of any man. Some times such things are done by irresponsible, blackmailing agents, but never by a man such as Mr. Cutting is known to be.

Therefore, the Journal and the people of New Mexico will wait with interest for disclosures by Mr. Cutting, which must be sensational in their nature.

Let us have the facts, all of them. Mr. Cutting, in your next issue, it is a matter that cannot admit of delay.

Sierra Leone is troubled with cannibal societies. Among them are the human leopards and the human alligators, so a retained missionary tells us. When a chief is inaugurated or a noted personage dies, a number of people are killed and a feast is held. After these people have once partaken of a human sandwich or a porterhouse, it is said that it is difficult to get over the liking for it. That is no place for fat men.

An eastern paper marvels because a fall of thirty feet in an aeroplane killed a man. If you measure up thirty feet, at the roof of an average three-story building, fall off and have a big stove fall on top of you, you get some idea of what such fall as that of the bird man means.

The west no longer shoots up a still hat, but no one can tell what might happen if one appeared this side of the Mississippi river complicated with a pair of the new variety of side whiskers.

NEW MEXICO FIRST.

Our esteemed friend, the Deming Headlight, says of the Journal: "The Journal reminds one of a setting hen which has just been soused in a tub of water. She frets, she clucks, she fights, pecks and gibbers and goes through all sorts of belligerent antics, but shows no consistent policy towards any public question or any presidential aspirant. While the columns of both Albuquerque papers are full of campaign news, the editor of the Headlight dabbles, and the editor of the Journal sulks like a whipped school boy. Enough of this, gentlemen, let us know where you stand."

The Journal has not been whipped, so far as we can recall, and has nothing to sulk about. Like a lot of other people, we have seen no reason for going into hysterics over the candidacy of any man running for the presidency, and have not had much to say regarding them, except to correct errors, now and then, for the purpose of keeping the record straight.

Each candidate for the presidency has declared himself in favor of reducing the tariff. The democrats in congress have voted for a reduction of the wool schedule to 29 per cent. Mr. Taft favors the report of the tariff board, which fixes the schedule at 31 per cent. The difference is negligible, and we are of opinion that the 29 per cent figure may be more nearly correct, because it had the endorsement of Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver, before his death. He was conceded one of the best students of the woolen schedule. Also, that is the figure arrived at by Senator La Follette, a man who never makes a conclusion except through the most exhaustive study of the subject under consideration.

Roosevelt has avoided the tariff always, except in general terms, and admits that he has never made an effectual study of it. Wilson has expressed himself as in favor of a reduction, but not so as to disturb any industry of the United States.

So, on the tariff question, "you pass your money and takes your choice." But interwoven with national politics is the welfare of New Mexico, a matter of acute interest to every taxpayer in the state. The Journal wants to see the taxes levied equably, collected honestly, and used for the benefit of the people of New Mexico.

That has not been done. Since the inauguration of Governor McDonald he has kept his small auditing force at work all the time. Whenever the books of a county have been examined, they have disclosed fearful abuses. Thousands of dollars were shown to have been embezzled in Dona Ana county. About twenty thousand dollars of the deficit may be made good by the bondsmen. It is said that fully twice that sum has been looted from the treasury which can never be recovered.

In Socorro county it was shown that money of the county had been brazenly used to pay for campaign work for the republican party last fall and that two men had received warrants as "embezzlers." It was shown that the word "embezzler" meant a campaign worker for the republican party.

We are advised that other disclosures may be expected in the finances of other counties that will be no less startling. Such evils cannot be eradicated except by completely overthrowing the men responsible for them, putting them out of office and keeping them out.

Nathan Jaffa is a good man, but he could be of no benefit to New Mexico at Washington, and his election would be construed as a vindication of the "old gang" in this state. It would give the bootleggers a new lease of life. The snake was only scratched, not killed, by the election of McDonald last year. It must be killed before New Mexico can have clean, honest government.

IRISH HOME RULE.

Ireland has struggled long for home rule. Under the Anglo-Irish ministry, the home seems to be within reach, but the people of Ireland, the northern province composed largely of Protestants, have determined that there shall be no rule for them by an Irish parliament.

Yesterday, a notable document was signed, a "covenant," they called it, pledging the Protestants never to submit to a Dublin parliament. The Protestant population of Ireland equals about one-fourth the number of the Catholics. According to the last census, there were more than a million of them in actual membership of the various churches, a number sufficient to make a formidable showing.

While the "covenant" pledges the signers to use any means to prevent home rule that may be necessary, even to a resort to arms against the British government, it is not believed that any such extremes will be tolerated by the British ministry. We are not likely to have another "Battle of the Boyne" like that of 1690, when the forces of William of Orange, defeated the army of James, who espoused the Catholic cause.

Since those days, Great Britain has gone far. Church feeling is not what it was in those days, when the Protestants oppressed the Catholics when they had the power, and vice versa. It is not probable that the Protestants of the north of Ireland would have anything of which to complain under home rule, but the prejudices engendered during the days of William and of Cromwell are still strong in the minds of the inhabitants of the Emerald Isle.

Governor Hadley is still reported on the top rail of the republican razor back fence.

Mme. Nordica, the famous diva, who is known in private life as Mrs. George K. Young, wife of a New Jersey man who conducts a brokerage office in New York, announces that she will speak in New Jersey in the interest of her husband, who is a candidate for the state senate. Mme. Nordica says she first will make a speech and then will sing for her audiences. The diva is in the habit of receiving a thousand dollars a night for her singing. If she values her services in the campaign at that rate, it is safe to say that she will be the largest contributor to her husband's campaign fund.

Jim Hill, the grand old empire builder of the northwest, offers $1,000 for the best one hundred boxes of apples at the national apple show to be held this year at Spokane. It seems a pity that the southwest cannot have an "angel" such as Jim Hill has been to the people of the northwest.

We are told in the press reports that Count Esterhazy had his finger bitten off in a parliamentary debate. He was probably pointing the finger of scorn at his opponent.

The Turks, being unable to get the Italian army to locate where they can get in touch with it, have decided that they might as well sell a little real estate and end the war.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC POPULAR AT ACADEMY

Three Teachers Are Kept Busy Instructing Pupils in Instrumental and Vocal Music; Orchestra to be Organized.

With the first month's work of the fall term nearly at an end, there is abundant indication at St. Vincent's academy that this popular institution for girls has entered on what promises to be a most successful school year. Much progress has been made in the various departments, and especial efficiency has been noted in the department of music, taught this year by three splendid teachers, the best in the community of the Sisters of Charity. Two of the music teachers, both instrumental and one teaches vocal.

Work will begin in the near future on organizing an orchestra. There are several dozen talented musicians to select from and it is believed a St. Vincent's orchestra can be organized that will be a credit to the institution and to the members.

It is announced that out-of-town people, visitors to the state fair next month, who are considering sending their girls to the academy, will be welcome at St. Vincent's and will be shown about the building and furnished with any information regarding the curriculum and rules that may be desired.

DYE WILL CASE IS UP FOR THIRD TRIAL IN LOCAL COURT

Aged Cause Given Another Air- ing in District Court, Testimony of Previous Trial Being Read by Stipulation.

The Dye will case, which has been in court for several years past, was taken up yesterday in the district court for its third hearing. The action is one instituted by Mrs. Ora Butler Moore, a daughter of Mrs. Hugh Dye, by a previous marriage to that which united her with Mr. Dye, for the breaking of a will made by Mrs. Dye shortly before her death in this city. The alleged grounds are that Mrs. Dye was unduly influenced by her husband.

The action was first ended by a management of the Dye, it was tried a second time before Judge Ira A. Abbott, who ruled that as the plaintiff was under age, she could not be a party to an action in her own person, but should have a guardian appointed. Her attorneys held that her marriage voided the need of a guardian, and on this phase took the action to the supreme court. That court agreed with Judge Abbott, and sent the case back for retrial. At the present time, however, the plaintiff has reached a majority.

By stipulation between the attorneys, no witnesses were called in the hearing begun yesterday, but the record of the testimony of the last trial was read to the jury.

Ambrosio Chavez was yesterday committed to the state hospital for the insane, it being claimed that he had been mentally incompetent for years past. He will be taken to the hospital at Las Vegas this morning on No. 10 by Eduardo Baca.

E. E. VAN HORN SUES HIS WIFE FOR DIVORCE

E. E. Van Horn, proprietor of the Sunshine Creamery, and for some time inspector for the Cattle Sanitary board, has sued his wife for a divorce. The papers in the action have been withdrawn, so that it is impossible to ascertain the alleged grounds for the suit. Mr. and Mrs. Van Horn have been married only about three months.

Gross, Kelly & Co., have filed suit against V. S. Myers for $46,476, which costs and interest on the ground of an alleged account owed them.

The Melmoth Hardware Company yesterday sued Pollock Romero for $28.04, alleged to be due on account.

L. E. Allers yesterday entered suit against E. L. Walrath for $84.19, claimed as a balance on a note originally given by M. L. Allers and transferred by him to the plaintiff.

ABELINO ROMERO IS APPOINTED A SHEEP SANITARY INSPECTOR

It was announced yesterday at the local offices of the sheep sanitary board in this city, that Abelino Romero, of San Marcos, former state senator, who was so unceremoniously deprived of his seat by the republican majority in the upper house of the legislature at its session last spring, had been appointed a sheep sanitary inspector. Mr. Romero is well acquainted with the sheep industry and his appointment is expected to prove a good one for the board's interests. He will make his headquarters at Magdalena, western Socorro county.

COLUMBUS DAY TO BE FEATURE DAY OF THE FAIR

Name of Discover of America to be Fittingly Honored by Knights of Columbus and Other Organizations.

For the first time in the history of New Mexico, the name and fame of Columbus, discoverer of America, will be honored in a public manner, when on October 12th, in Albuquerque, the Knights of Columbus and other organizations will participate in a celebration in memory of Genoa's illustrious son.

October 12th, a legal holiday in thirty-seven states in the union, was made a legal holiday in New Mexico by an act of the last legislature. It is understood that Governor McDonald will soon issue a formal proclamation, asking proper observance of the day.

The program for Columbus day in Albuquerque is to be quite an elaborate one. It is expected that Archbishop J. B. Pitaval will be here from Santa Fe to officiate at solemn benediction in the church of the Immaculate Conception at 10 o'clock in the morning, and that His Grace will bestow the papal blessing on those faithful. Following the services in the church, which will not last longer than ten minutes, a procession will be formed and proceed through the main streets of the business section to the Elks' theater, where Hon. George P. Connolly, a distinguished Knight of Columbus, will deliver a speech and a short program will be carried out. There will be a number of organizations in the procession, including the Knights of Columbus, the Columbo society, the sodalities and church societies of Barrios and Old Albuquerque. It is estimated that there will be five or six hundred men in line and that the celebration will be a splendid demonstration in every particular.

The city council of Albuquerque has accepted an invitation to be present at the exercises. An invitation has also been extended to Governor McDonald and staff.

Rev. A. M. Mandlari, S. J., chaplain of Albuquerque Council No. 641, Knights of Columbus, and chairman of the Columbus day celebration committee, is working indefatigably to make the celebration a grand success. He is being given splendid support by the various organizations which are to assist.

CLARK ENCOURAGED BY REPORTS FROM OVER THE STATE

Republican Chairman Says He Has Every Reason to Believe Nathan Jaffa Will Be Elected to Congress.

Feeling encouraged by reports which he said he had received from over the state, Chairman Horbert W. Clark, of the republican central committee, who was in Albuquerque yesterday on business connected with the campaign, reiterated his declaration made on a former visit, that Nathan Jaffa, of Roswell, the republican congressional nominee, would be the next member of congress from New Mexico.

"While it is too early to forecast probable majorities in any of the counties, or the state, I am firmly convinced that Mr. Jaffa is going to surprise even himself by the number of votes he will poll," said Chairman Clark. "He will poll a large vote in the Pecos valley, where he is extensively interested in business, and where he is best known. The vote he will get in that section of the state, which is strongly democratic, is going to surprise Congressman Ferguson, who naturally expects his greatest majority to come from that section."

Mr. Clark stated that a secretary of the state committee had been decided upon and that formal announcement of the man selected would be made this week. An Albuquerque man is understood to have been chosen.

Society.

of twelve thousand, and scored the biggest success of her career. The song was a Japanese costume song, and Mrs. Frank was assisted by a big chorus, the number scoring a decided hit.

Mrs. Frank sings in Brooklyn each Sunday at one of the largest churches and has many concert engagements in New York.

Friends of Jovett Fall will be interested in this item from last Sunday's Washington Star.

The debutantes of the coming winter begin to see the outer edge of the spotlight, so far as mention is concerned, but unless traditions are brushed aside, there will be no official glimpses of the season's opening stars until near Thanksgiving or on that national holiday.

The list does not appear to be a very long one, quite the contrary, although with the late October returns another story may be much truer. The three about whom there is no doubt seemingly are Miss Gladys Munn, just back from an almost round-the-world journey with her mother, whose home in Scott Circle has been closed since the last wedding in the family; Miss Margaret Perrin, who was presented at the British court last spring while away with her mother, Mrs. George Howard, and Miss Francis Williams, youngest daughter of Col. and Mrs. John R. Williams, who is still on the other side of the big pond, where she accompanied her mother and sister, Miss Williams, in the early summer. Miss Jovett Fall, daughter of the New Mexico senator, is another candidate for debutante honors.

A Genuine Stolen March.

"O, Gosh!" Oscar Gosh, I mean. So, he "has gone and went and done it." Off on his honeymoon, if you please, and without "by your leave," or a word of warning to his friends here. The bride, Florence Hoskins, of Las Vegas, treated her friends just as shabbily, for but a select and chosen few, in the Meadow city, where Miss Hoskins is very prominent socially, had an inkling of matrimonial proceedings. Evidently a well-planned stolen march.

The hour of the ceremony—10:30 o'clock at night—makes that plain, and they were on their way east by midnight, cleverly eluding congratulations and noise.

They will spend their honeymoon in Kansas City and with relatives of the groom at Pleasant Hill, Mo. Mr. Gosh is connected with the Charles H. H. Company, here, and is a member of the Thirty club, and otherwise connected with social activities in the young set. His bride is the daughter of Dr. T. E. Hoskins, cashier of the San Miguel National bank, and is very popular in society circles of Las Vegas.

Mr. and Mrs. Gosh will make their home in this city, and the newlyweds will have many friends to welcome them on their return from the honeymoon trip.

Out-of-Town Weddings.

—October 28th seems a day of weddings. Of local interest, if not of local environment.

Louis Huning will be married on that date in Houston, Texas, to Miss Lottie Lucille Regan.

This marriage will be of particular interest to Albuquerque society, as Mr. Huning is the son of Mrs. Louis Huning, of this city, and has a large number of friends here, who will be delighted with news of the wedding.

On the same day, at Fresno, California, Mr. Frank Kraske, traveling salesman for the American Lumber Company, with headquarters at Hutchinson, Kan., will be wedded to Miss Isabel Draper. Mr. Kraske is in the city, but expects to leave tonight for Fresno.

After a honeymoon trip, through California, Mr. Kraske will bring his bride to Albuquerque. The prospective groom lived here for a number of years, and is well and favorably known.

It is reported, with what truth remains to be seen, that Dr. W. Eugene Provines, of this city, was married in San Antonio, Tex., the past week, to a wealthy and charming resident of that city. Will wonders never cease?

U. N. M. Fraternity Frolics.

The Tri Alpha fraternity of the U. N. M. gave a dance at the Woman's club, Friday evening. Pretty collegiate decorations, pennants predominating, prevailed for the rollicking event. Miss Clara Blucher played. Among those attending were Misses Mary and "Toots" McElie, Eleanor Vaughney, Jean Hubbs, Myrl Hope, Lottie Lemboke, Irene Boldt, Lucienne Asselin, Lillian and Bernice Henderson, Dorothy McMillen, Vivian White, and Miss Herkenhoff. Messrs. Charles Lemboke, Gordon Gass, W. H. Probert, Louis Hesselton, Joe and Ray McCanna, Chester Lee, Leo Murphy, F. Luthy, The Littrell, Ida Boldt, L. Harkness, L. Lachey and Prof. Conwell.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hutchison were the official chaperons.

That same night the Sigma Tau held a snooker at the "Frat" house, when about twenty fellows enjoyed a jolly evening at cards and snooker. The boys have a new pinball, and worked it overtime, making the affair properly melodious. As a stag party it left nothing to be desired and was one of the gayest doings ever pulled off at the Sigma Tau fraternity house.

The hosts were Bertam Hunter, Kenneth Balcomb, H. A. Carls, Clyde Kelly, George Walker and W. J. Higgins.

The guests of the fraternity for that evening were Messrs. T. E. Bright, R. B. Parker, Jack La Prall, Howard Bateman, Morton Seligman, J.

J. Redfield, Frank Gouin, Waldstein Powell, D. R. Lane, Chas. Weber, Don Sterling, Dr. R. E. Hedding, of Mountair, and Verne Werning.

An Engagement Announced.

The following clipping from a Des Moines paper, of recent date, will be of local interest:

"Mr. and Mrs. S. Engleman announce the engagement of their daughter, Bessie Engleman, to Mr. Joe Gottstein. The wedding, which will take place some time in mid-winter, will be of interest to a wide circle of friends. Both young people are graduates of the East High school in the class of '08. Following her graduation, Miss Engleman entered the Highland Park college of music, graduating from the voice department in 1910. Last year Miss Engleman completed a most successful concert tour of the south under the auspices of the Midland Lyceum Bureau. Mr. Gottstein is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Gottstein, and is a member of the firm of the Iowa Iron and Metal works of Des Moines."

Miss Engleman, with her sister, Pauline Engleman, were members of a concert company, which appeared here some months ago, under the auspices of the Santa Fe reading room system. Many local people met the Engleman girls, and were charmed with their beauty and musical talent.

Mrs. Bernice Roddy was hostess to Low Wallace Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, yesterday afternoon. It was the open meeting of the season and was largely attended. Plans were made for the winter's work, and all the season's activities, social and otherwise, formulated. The D. A. R. will support and improve the children's room at the library, which has been established through the efforts of the D. A. R. ladies, and is largely maintained by them.

The Monday Duplicate Whist club will play at the Woman's club tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Tom Wilkerson will entertain the Highland Auction Bridge club at her home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. W. Y. Walton had two tables of "auction" Wednesday afternoon.

Woman's Club Reception.

The annual reception of the Women's club, both reassembly and welcome to new members, was a notable affair.

As over sixty new members are being welcomed into the fold this year, the year starts brilliantly, and with excellent prospects for an enjoyable and a most profitable season.

And if the big crowd attending the opening reception, Friday, is a forerunner, more women are interested in the work and development of the Woman's club this year than ever before. Scarcely, the entire membership was out full force, everybody was introduced to everybody else, and tri-undine and hospitality was experienced at its best.

No formal musical program was rendered, but during the reception hours Mr. Di Maura, violinist, and Miss Alvina LeTarte, pianist, played selections, all beautiful and greatly enjoyed.

The refreshment committee served splendid "caviar," and as a whole, the reception was a glorious success.

The regular work starts next Friday, on which date the president, Mrs. D. A. Blittner, will deliver her greeting and start the work in earnest.

Juanita Rankin's marriage to Howard Parker, of Madison, Wis., will be an event of fair week, Tuesday, October 31st.

With the happy prospective event so near, the friends of the bride-elect are filling the days with entertainment in her honor.

Mrs. Joseph Jolly gave a hosiery shower for Miss Rankin last Tuesday, and Mrs. James Gladding was hostess, Saturday, at a handkerchief shower. Other affairs are on the cards for this week, including a card party, Tuesday afternoon, given by Miss Rankin for a friend here, Miss Margaret McMillan, of Kansas City, who is here to attend the wedding.

The wedding will be a home ceremony and only relatives and intimate friends of the Rankin family will be invited.

Mr. Parker, and his mother, will arrive the latter part of this week.

Mrs. Collins to Sing Today.

Mrs. Hugh J. Collins will sing "Open the Gates of the Temple," music by Mrs. Joseph Knapp, words by Fanny Crosby, at the 11:00 o'clock service of the Congregational church today. Mrs. Collins' remarkable voice, with its low, rich tones, will lend itself admirably to this selection, which is justly famed for its beauty.

The Woodmen of the World entertained Woodmen Circle, and a few additional invited guests, at the Elks lodge room, Friday evening. Over two hundred people were there, swelling the crowd to big proportions, and making the event one of the largest and most enjoyable social events of the week.

An excellent program was rendered, participated in by leading local talent. Mrs. Hugh Collins sang, accompanied by Miss Louise Nichols, and Mrs. Henderson, the violinist, played with Miss Nichols, as accompanist. Mrs. Wolff, a talented reader, had a delightful reading with a musical accompaniment by Mrs. Foote, and Miss Nichols had piano selections.

Don Phillips, delegate to the supreme lodge, gave an interesting talk on "Woodcraft."

Following the program there was dancing for those who enjoy terrestrial festivity, and cards for the sharks, after which everybody joined in appreciative consumption of the good things to eat.

The committee, for the dance, to be given by the ladies of St. John's parish, at the Masonic temple, Tuesday evening of fair week, are as follows:

Executive committee—Mrs. W. W.

McClellan, Mrs. A. F. Morrisette, Mrs. W. Y. Walton, Mrs. C. G. Clark, Mrs. G. L. Brooks, Mrs. S. T. Vann.

Reception committee—Mrs. Margaret Medler, Mrs. Carrington Brown, Mrs. E. S. Kates, Mrs. W. Y. Walton, Mrs. G. L. Brooks, Mrs. W. W. McClellan, Mrs. R. S. Roddy.

Flour managers—H. V. Jamison, R. Cross, W. McMillan, Lloyd Sturges, Pelham McClellan, Desmond Farrell.

Married While on a Vacation.

Friends of C. H. Cleary, bonus inspector of the local shops, are congratulating him, since his return from Michigan, where he went for his vacation, as he brought home a wife.

Mrs. Cleary was Miss Hazel Dent, of Midland, Mich., and is a most attractive young girl. The Clearys will live at 319 South Sixth street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Gould, who were married at Oakland, California, last Monday, arrived in this city, Friday.

The Goulds will live at 823 South Fourth street. Mrs. Gould was formerly Mrs. Laura Benedict, and made her home in this city for several years.

A minstrel show will be staged in Elks theater, October 21st, under auspices of the Moose lodge, and under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Friedberg and Mr. and Mrs. Siegfried.

Thirty people will take part in the performance, including the best local talent procurable.

The Knights of Columbus gave a dance at Odd Fellow's hall, Wednesday evening. The Knights, doubled up, or increased by two, in some cases, attended, full force, so the crowd was large—likewise the time.

TORRANCE COUNTY FAIR

The prizes offered are numerous and will be awarded for the best stock and agricultural exhibits and to winners in racing, shooting and bronco busting contests. EFFECTIVE HOME REMEDY
FOR TUBERCULOSIS

It is a serious matter when the lungs are affected! A trip away or to a sanatorium is not only expensive, but it involves separation from home and friends. Some are belittled, but few can safely say "Eckman's Alternative," effective both in treating and preventing lung disease.

Dr. J. Wain Johnston, of Atlantic Ave., Hoboken, N. J., writes:

"I mentioned in the Fall of 1906 I contracted a very severe cold, which settled in my lungs. At first I went to a doctor and my physician then told me I must travel to California immediately. I said: 'I want to stay at home.' My doctor said: 'You must go.' I took Eckman's Alternative. I stayed at home and after ten days I began feeling better. After two weeks in January, 1907, I resumed my usual duties. In May, 1907, I was completely fully restored to health. It is now ten years since I recovered my health. I am healthy and I cannot praise Eckman's Alternative too highly. I have recommended it to many people."

(Signed) W. M. TAVERN

Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Whooping Cough, Tracheitis, Spasmodic Croup, etc. Does not contain poisonous opiates or stimulants. First-class. Having been used around drug stores and Highland Pharmacy for many years, we guarantee you our satisfaction. Write for literature to Dr. J. Wain Johnston, Philadelphia, Pa., U.S.A.

LAS CRUCES FAIR A CRACKERJACK SALESSELLERS

President of State Exposition Declares Dona Ana County Event a Great Credit to Com- munity Staging It.

Colonel D. K. B. Sellers, mayor of Albuquerque and president of the state fair, returned yesterday morning from Las Cruces, where he had been to attend the Dona Ana county fair. He declared that the fair far surpassed his expectations and that the exposition would have been a credit to a far larger community.

"The fair was a dandy," he said. "There was a decorated automobile parade that would have been a credit to the state fair and everything else was on the same scale. The parade they had was more than a mile long. Beside the other features, there were thirty-five decorated automobiles in line, and let me tell you, they were sure beauties. Then there were sixty cowgirls, all dressed just alike and carrying a long rope draped with lunting. That was a good feature, too."

"Mr. Schwenker and myself were taken out to the Agricultural college and addressed the students and later he addressed a large audience at the armory."

"Las Cruces is sure a boosting town for the state fair. They are going to bring two Pullman cars of visitors up to the fair. That is seventy-two people. Already they have more than fifty pledged to make the trip."

Socorro, San Marcial, Rincon and Silver City also promise us a large delegation. Everybody I talked to in Las Cruces is coming to the fair for at least one day. They are all for us strong down there and other towns are not far behind. We can certainly expect a big representation from the southern end of the state."

COCHITI DISTRICT IS TO RESUME OPERATIONS

Albuquerque Men Head Com- pany to Conduct Extensive Development Work; Los An- geles Capital Interested.

The Cochiti mining district, lying about twenty-five miles west of Domingo and about fifty-five miles north of Albuquerque is again going to resume operation. This district has been spoken of as one of the wealthiest in the west, and one that would be a second Cripple Creek. The Southwest Development & Exploration Company, of which William Jenks, of Albuquerque, is president, is the new company that will start things there at present. This company has several good claims and recent development and assays shows great quantities of ore of high value.

Thomas H. Jenks, of Denver, a mining engineer as also is William Jenks, with $2,000 on deposit, Dr. Herbert Braune, formerly sales manager of the Alameda Realty & Investment Company at Las Cruces, will be secretary, and he is promoting the new company. He recently made a trip to Los Angeles in an effort to raise money to operate the company's holdings. That he has been successful goes without saying, he having brought back with him a mining man to examine the property, who possesses sufficient capital. This gentleman, P. J. Pfeiffer, when interviewed says that the Cochiti district is in his opinion one of the greatest camps in the country, but that it will take a great deal of capital to properly develop the whole district and he is very enthusiastic about the claims held by the company.

The new company proposes to spend about $2,000 on development work and to erect a $25,000 mill. The development work will start next week and that construction work on the mill will be well under way by the first of the year is the company's belief. Los Angeles capital will be mostly used, although numerous business men of Albuquerque have shown their faith in the company and the district by subscribing for stock.

Mining men have always been of the belief that the Cochiti district would one day come to the front as one of the real mining camps of the west and now that development work is assured, Albuquerque will be greatly benefitted as it is the only town of any size close to the camp.

Local people have not the funds to put into such a large proposition as this, but welcome outside capital to properly develop nearby resources.

The Albemarle mine which has taken out over a million dollars in bullion lays right near the Southwest property. Several other Albuquerque people have mining property in this vicinity and now that one company has really started something the whole district bids fair to start in and new life will take hold of what is now a quiet little mountain town.

Mr. Pfeiffer left last night for Los Angeles, where he will be joined later in the week by Mr. Braune, who will go back to close up the business started by him on his recent trip.

Clothes Experience

Every man who buys a suit of clothes adds to his clothes experience, but there is not a man in the United States who has had as much experience with clothes as the makers of STYLEPLUS CLOTHES $17.

This concern is the oldest firm in the United States making garments today. Their experience covers 63 years and, in that time, they have made and sold over 50,000,000 garments.

STYLEPLUS CLOTHES are the product of this experience. Every stitch, every seam in 50,000,000 garments that preceded the advent of STYLEPLUS CLOTHES guarantees to every STYLEPLUS customer the utmost in clothes values. The makers back of STYLEPLUS CLOTHES have always specialized in medium-priced garments. They know more about their manufacture than any other concern in the world. It is because of this experience and the enormous modern factory that they operate that STYLEPLUS values are possible at this price.

Now I do not care what all you have used, not how many doctors have told you that you could not be cured—all I ask is just a chance to show you that I know what I am talking about. If you will write me TODAY I will send you a FREE TRIAL of my mild, soothing, guaranteed cure that will continue you more in a day than it or anyone else could in a month's time. TWENTY-FOUR HOUR STRIKE PLANNED BY INDUSTRIAL WORKERS

All Textile Mills at Lawrence Will be Closed Down for One Day in Protest Against Action of Court.

LEADERS URGE THAT NO VIOLENCE OCCUR

General Executive Board at Chicago Sanctions Action Proposed by Laborers in Massachusetts.

[By Morning Journal Special Lensed Wire.] Lawrence, Mass., Sept. 28.—A general strike for twenty-four hours only by all the Industrial Workers of the World in this city, was voted at an open air mass meeting here today. The strike is to begin at 6 a. m., Monday morning.

Only about 2,000 of the 12,000 textile mill operatives who stopped work yesterday attended the meeting. The vote was practically unanimous.

Like the strikes of Thursday and Friday the proposed one-day demonstration is intended as a protest against the confinement in jail of Joseph J. Ettor, Arturo Giovannitti and Joseph Caruso.

These men will be placed on trial Monday in Salem, in connection with the fatal shooting of Anna Lopez during one of the riots of last winter's big strike.

Officials' sanction for the strike was received today in a telegram from the general executive board of the Industrial Workers of the World which is meeting in Chicago. The message was signed by Vincent St. John and William Haywood and declared the board had adopted resolutions supporting the action of the local committee. "We will spread the flame of discontent and make the mill owners open the jail doors," added the telegram.

Tonight the Lawrence I. W. W. leaders took formal charge of the situation for the first time since the workers left the mills. William Yates, national secretary of the textile branch of the Industrial Workers, said workers in several other New England cities probably would agree to enter on a twenty-four hour strike Monday.

Speakers of various nationalities who addressed the mass meeting, strongly advised them not to resort to violence Monday and not to molest those who wanted to go back to the mills. They said Ettor and Giovannitti would benefit by the strike of protest only if the strike were voluntary.

Arch S. Adamson, who conducted the meeting, announced that tomorrow workers from Boston and other Massachusetts cities would come here and parade to the immaculate conception cemetery where the bodies of Anna Lopez and John Remy, killed during last winter's riots, are buried.

The central committee of the Industrial Workers issued an open letter today to the mill agents saying the strike will be for twenty-four hours beginning Monday morning and was not only in sympathy for Ettor, Giovannitti and Caruso, but also in protest against "the recent dynamite exposure brought out by the grand jury of Suffolk county."

WICKERSHAM IDEA TO COMPEL MEN TO CAST BALLOT

Attorney General Deprecates Agitation Which Threatens Overthrow of Representative Government.

[By Morning Journal Special Lensed Wire.] Westchester, Pa., Sept. 28.—Attorney General Wickersham before the Chester County Historical Society at Cedarcroft, near here tonight, attacked "popular agitation and upheaval" as menacing life, liberty and property and freedom of speech. He urged state laws to compel every citizen to exercise the elective franchise in event "the movement" succeeded in modifying American institutions and putting the rights of individuals "at the mercy of a mere minority."

"We are now going through a period of popular agitation and upheaval," he said, "and a large number of people are looking to a modification of our form of government and the enactment and administration of laws by popular vote to cure all real and imagined civic evils."

The attorney general referred to "the extraordinary political phenomenon of American thought today," as the sudden recrudescence of the eighteenth century idea of democratic government. Realizing that there could be no power without responsibility, he said that if American institutions were so modified that "a mere majority of those voting may alter or make a constitution, law, or decision, or choose, remove or control an officer in his conduct, the law should compel every citizen, under heavy penalty, to exercise the voting franchise, so as not to leave the laws and rights at the mercy of a mere minority."

FINAL REPORT OF SOCORRO COUNTY GRAND JURY

Fourteen Indictments and Five No True Bills Found; Large Number of Witnesses Are Examined.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.] Socorro, N. M., Sept. 28.—The final report of the Socorro county grand jury, which was presented to Judge M. C. Mechem late Friday evening, failed to come up to expectations, as it contained nothing of a sensational nature. The report follows:

September term, 1912. State of New Mexico. In the District Court, Socorro County.

To the Hon. Merritt C. Mechem, Judge of said court:

We, the grand jury empaneled at the present term of the district court in and for Socorro county, respectfully submit the following report:

That we have been in session eleven days and having diligently and carefully examined into all matters brought to our attention during that time, in addition to the investigation of records of the county, and the indictments found in reference thereto, twelve other indictments have been presented and five no true bills, one hundred and forty witnesses were examined.

We wish to commend highly the efficiency and diligence displayed and the thorough investigation conducted by Mr. John E. Griffith, district attorney, and Mr. Summers Burkhardt, assistant district attorney, of all matters submitted to us for our consideration.

We wish to extend our thanks to the honorable court, the court attachés and for all courtesies extended to us.

We respectfully submit the herewith attached reports of the various committees appointed to inspect and report on the condition of the sheriff's office, public buildings, assessor's office and the treasurer's and district clerk's offices.

Having concluded our duties we respectfully ask to be discharged.

WILLIAM G. HAMMEL, Foreman.

Report on commission on treasurer's and district clerk's office:

After carefully inspecting these offices we have to report that we find same in excellent condition with the exception that the plastering of both of those offices needs repainting in several places and the walls need repainting or retinting and we recommend that these matters be presented to the county commissioners and attended to at once.

We especially wish to comment upon the excellence of condition and system of keeping accounts of the district clerk's office, i. e., the loose leaf system, and congratulate the present incumbent, Mr. Newcomb, for having introduced this system, which is very largely an original idea with this gentleman and to him is due the credit for this system having been introduced.

We find the vault in this office to be inadequate for the accommodation of the records which should be kept in a fire proof vault.

J. R. FOSS, ROBERT H. STAPLETON, JOSE CHAVEZ Y CASTILLO, MELITON BARELA, Committee.

To the Members of the Grand Jury:

A SPIRITED YOUNG LADY WRITES OF HAIR AND HERPICIDE

I am really ashamed of some of my girl friends when I look at their hair. There is no sense in having such looking heads. It simply shows that while they may be scrupulously neat in every other way, they are careless about their hair.

Thin, scraggy, wispy hair generally indicates dandruff and dandruff is caused by a germ. Newbro's Herpicide will kill that germ and keep the scalp as clean and healthy as can be. This permits the hair to grow naturally and luxuriantly. That terrible itching which goes with dandruff stops with almost the first application.

Substitutes or remedies sold to be

"just as good" are sometimes offered, but it is better to buy the genuine original germ killer, Newbro's Herpicide. There is no guesswork about that preparation. A trial isn't necessary, just buy a bottle and use it. The results are sure to be better than you expect.

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

STARTLING MISUSE OF PUBLIC FUNDS IN SOCORRO

Summers Burkhardt, Legal Adviser to Governor and Special Assistant District Attorney, Tells of Conditions.

Hon. Summers Burkhardt, legal adviser to Governor W. C. McDonald, and who was appointed a special assistant district attorney to probe alleged irregularities and misuse of public funds in the county of Socorro, in a statement issued yesterday, gives the result of a personal investigation by him of the records of the county in question, with the assistance of a special accountant, made previous to the grand jury investigation.

Mr. Burkhardt bases his reason for making a statement of his personal knowledge of the conduct of county affairs in Socorro on the ground that he feels the people of Socorro should know them. He says that they are matters of public record. The statement of Mr. Burkhardt follows:

"The Journal's report was substantially correct. At the request of the grand jury, I, as assistant district attorney, drew the report. It embodied the result of its investigations into the conduct of the public officers of the county. The statute requires the grand jury to inquire into the official and corrupt misconduct in office of all public officers, and in pursuance of that statute, the report was a full report. Judge Mechem refused to accept it because it contained the summary of the evidence before the jury in some cases, relating to public affairs, and he criticized the jury for introducing the district attorney's investigation into the public record. These instructions were included in the report at the request of Mr. Griffith, the district attorney. I stated this to the court, and that the report showed it to be so; also that true bills had been found in all cases where information was recommended, but because of the short time allowed, had been drawn only in felonies, it being understood by the district attorney and the jury that information would be filed in the latter class of cases, where recommended, I called the court's attention to the fact that grand juries in New Mexico had always been charged to investigate and report the conduct of the public officers, that while as a rule investigation of that kind was proper, there was no reason why a full investigation was prohibited and a poor one allowed; that the people had a right to know about their affairs, and that the grand jury was the proper body to inform them. The court held, however, that a grand jury could only speak through indictment and if no indictment were found, it was not proper for it to discuss matters which had come before them about the public affairs of the county. I called his attention to the fact that many acts were prohibited by law which were not made criminal; that many acts of that kind had been committed in the county as shown by the reports; that a continuance of such practices would be greatly detrimental to public interest and that public attention should be directed to them in order that they might be stopped."

"After the refusal of the judge to accept the report, the jury asked the court if it would be at liberty to include in its report the facts shown by the public records, independent of other evidence. After consideration, he held that matters of record within the personal knowledge of the jurors might be included in the report, but that the evidence of the expert accountant as to what the records did show, could not be used. I called the attention of the court to the fact that the grand jury was composed of men of little experience with books of this character, and that even if they had had great experience, the time was much too short to make an examination which had required more than a month for an expert accountant to make; that the evidence of the expert was not needed but could be had by any one desiring it, and that the books were open to the public, that an examination made as suggested by the court could only amount to a report that the books were in good or bad physical condition. Judge Mechem, however, adhered to his ruling."

"I have made a personal examination of the records with the assistance of an expert accountant, and am able to state on my own information some of the instances of the wilful and corrupt conduct of public officers of Socorro county, and based in any way upon the evidence of witnesses before the grand jury, which, I am precluded from making public. These statements can be verified by any one who makes an examination of the records. The records show:

"That $300 was paid by the United States to Socorro county for rent of the court house in the two years preceding January 1, 1912, and that no part thereof went into the treasury."

"That eighty-two mercantile licenses were issued for which the county received no money."

"That liquor licenses amounting to $2,300 have been issued for which the county received no money."

"That $2,000 has been transferred from the funds in which they belong to other funds, in violation of law."

"That $2,500 was transferred from the sinking fund to a fund levied to provide for the payment of the bonded indebtedness, and transferred into the general county fund from which the running expenses of the county, including salaries, are paid, in violation of law and in face of a limitation by law upon the amount of taxes to be levied for the general fund."

"That $4,200 was transferred from the road fund to the court house and held fund, in violation of law."

"That $1,000 was transferred from the road fund to the animal bounty fund, in violation of law."

"That $2,000 was transferred from the sinking fund to the general county fund, in violation of law."

"That although the law requires applicants for payment of wild animal bounty to swear that the animals killed were killed by the applicant, the names of many applicants were written by persons other than the applicant, and that the clerk falsely and fraudulently certified that the applicants had subscribed and sworn to the applications in person."

"That the wild animal bounty claims were not paid in the order of the applicant, but were paid to favorites, regardless of the date of allowance and that one of such claims was paid when over three hundred other claims remained unpaid."

"That very large sums of money were paid out on warrants issued on account of claims of persons largely indebted to the county for taxes in direct violation of law."

"That one large taxpayer was delinquent for the years 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909, 1910 and 1911; that claims for wild animal bounties amounting to $1,125 were paid on account of his claims and that no part of his taxes were deducted from the amount paid."

"That the taxes of this owner for the years 1906 to 1911, inclusive, were not advertised as delinquent when the other delinquent taxes were advertised."

"That one wild animal bounty claim, allowed for $12, was paid by a warrant for $24, issued to a man who had no claim against the county."

"That a claim for $13.30, not allowed by the commissioners, was paid by a warrant for $99.70."

"That the county paid for furniture never ordered or received by it."

"That $275 was paid to an institution which had no claim against the county and presented no claim to the county therefor."

"That about eighty-five warrants were issued for which no sworn statement was filed as required by law, and no allowance made by the county commissioners."

"That more than $400 was paid by the county for deputy clerk hire in direct violation of the law."

"That many warrants were issued for amounts in excess of the allowance of the board."

"That in the settlement of accounts of county officers, many hundred dollars were overpaid them."

"That large amounts were paid out to persons having no claim against the county, without allowance by the board, for services purported to have been rendered as 'emissary,' 'constable,' etc."

"That Socorro county paid out for delivering ballot boxes at the last election at least the sum of $428 and probably $144 more."

"That the county paid the clerk $125 for a 5-day trip to Albuquerque with the territorial roads commission, without any record to show that the county had ordered the trip."

"That over $6,000 was borrowed by the commissioners in violation of law to repair the court house; that this money never went into the treasury and was disbursed for claims not approved by the commissioners."

"These and other matters of like character came to my knowledge before I appeared before the grand jury at the request of the governor to present them to that body for investigation. They are matters of public record in Socorro county. I feel that the people of Socorro ought to know them."

Alcohol In Pe-ru-na-- An Unjust Criticism

S. B. HARTMAN, M. D.

Having a little business in one of the federal offices of the city, after it was finished I felt in conversation with the official in charge concerning Peruna. I mentioned his business to show that the conversation was conducted with a man of more than ordinary intelligence, being a employee of the government who had passed through several civil service examinations. He said to me, not knowing who I was:

"I think a great deal of this potent medicine business ought to be stopped. Especially such remedies as Peruna. Peruna, as you know, is a stimulant and contains, eighteen or twenty per cent of alcohol. People take it without knowing what it is, and such remedies ought to be prohibited by law. My own mother took Peruna once. She had a cough, night sweats, was growing emaciated and weak. Several doctors examined her. The opinion was expressed several times that she was going into consumption. One thought it was chronic bronchitis. At any rate, her condition was quite serious. She was unable to get any relief from the doctors she consulted, although she took their medicines faithfully for nearly a year. Some one told her about Peruna, and against our family, she began taking it. At once she improved, and in less than six months she apparently was well. We did all we could to discourage her in taking Peruna, but she persisted. It finally came out in the magazines that Peruna contained alcohol. We had the launch on mother. We let about her being cured with a violation of alcohol. She seems to be encouraged by our teasing her, but is very stubborn. She says that if she were to be sick in the same way again she would certainly get Peruna and take it. Alcohol or no alcohol. So you see if people will persist in such foolishness there ought to be a law to prevent them."

"I continued to interpose a question. 'You say the doctor could not cure her, and yet you say Peruna did cure her. What difference does it make to you whether it was alcohol or something else that effected the cure?'"

"Well, I don't know that it makes any difference, but it is deceiving the people to give them alcohol, even though it does cure them," he said.

I replied, "Why, I cannot exactly understand that. Alcohol is a drug, the same as quinine or morphine. If alcohol cures certain diseases where is the objection? I understand that the Peruna people print on the label of each bottle the per cent of alcohol contained in Peruna. Each patient may read it, if he pleases. I cannot see where there is any deception."

"Well, I would not take Peruna," he persisted. "Now, I was sick, I had a stomach disease. A violent pain, that would come on about an hour or two after each meal. It grew worse and worse. I was also constipated. I consulted several doctors in our city about my health. I went to see a prominent specialist in New York City, paid out a great deal of money, but he helped. One time I was having a bad spell on the train. The gentleman who occupied the next seat was a retired physician with whom I had been acquainted. He said to me, 'My friend, if you want to get well I would advise you to take a glass of larger beer before each meal. I think that will cure you.' Having followed the directions of several good physicians without any assistance, I thought, 'I would try the beer. In a very short time I found it was helping me, and I got entirely well. My bowels became regular and I had no more pain. No more distress after meals. Now, if my mother had used some remedy like that it would be all right. But to persist in using some secret remedy like Peruna, I think it is outrageous.'"

Again I ventured to ask some questions. I asked, "What do you suppose it was in the larger beer that effected the cure?"

"Why, I presume it was the stimulant it contained. Yes, no doubt it was the stimulant."

"You know, of course, that the stimulant in beer is alcohol, the same as in wine or whiskey or any other alcoholic drink?"

"Yes, I have heard say that beer contains about five per cent of alcohol."

"That is correct," I replied. "You took a bottle of beer before each meal, did you?"

"Yes."

"In doing so you were drinking a pint of a five per cent solution of alcohol."

"Yes, I suppose so."

"Five per cent would be one-twentieth of an ounce."

SEVERAL ALLEGED OFFENDERS ARE ARRESTED

Mrs. Ed Morris, "Soldier" Hunt and Two Natives Are Taken Into Custody on Various Charges Last Night.

The local police force did a good business last night, roping in four alleged offenders aside from the usual run of vags and jags. This latter portion of their night's grist was quite light, however.

"Soldier" Hunt, erstwhile prize fighter, was arrested for "whooping" in the Arcade saloon about 9:30. Hunt was raising some noise in the resort, and the police warned him to put on the soft pedal. Soon after they had left the place he again began a disturbance, and they re-entered and took him along to the city hall.

Mrs. Ed Morris was arrested on a charge of petty larceny. Mrs. Morris, whose name has appeared on the police court blotter several times, and who is said to be something of a consumer of liquid refreshments, was arrested on notice from some second hand store that she was attempting to sell some clothes whose ownership the store people doubted. Friday she appeared in a store on South First street and attempted to dispose of a new pump. The proprietor became suspicious and telephoned the police, but she had gone when they arrived. In going, she is alleged to have taken with her a coat which was in the store. Yesterday she was heard from again and her arrest followed. William Kleke identified the pump as having been taken from his store, The Muse.

Theresa and Pablo Morales were arrested last night for taking five pairs of shoes from William Chaplin's store on Central avenue. Three of them were men's shoes and the others were infants'. Strange to say, they were not all mates. The men were lodged in jail and will have hearings Monday.

GRAND LODGE ODD FELLOWS TO MEET HERE FAIR WEEK

Five Hundred Delegates Expected, Beside Delegations to State Encampment and Rebekah Assembly.

The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of New Mexico is one of the orders which will hold its annual session in the city during the state fair, according to an announcement made by officers of that organization. There will likely be about 500 delegates here to attend its sessions.

The entire week will be occupied with sessions of the grand lodge. The earlier days of the week, the grand encampment will hold its meetings, and later in the week the Rebekah assembly will take place. Both of these will be held in the old Odd Fellows' hall across the street from the handsome lodge building of the local organization of Odd Fellows. Both will bring additional delegates to the city.

"77" FOR GRIP & COLDS

In the early stages, it is only to stop a cold with Dr. Humphreys' "Seventy-seven."

In the early stages, we mean, when you first have that feeling of lassitude and weakness, as if some great illness was pending—the spirits droop, the energies flag, this is caused by the checked circulation of the blood, the very first stage of a cold—"Seventy-seven" restores the checked circulation, starts the blood coursing through the veins and breaks up the cold.

Don't wait till you begin to cough and sneeze or it may take longer to pass to keep "Seventy-seven" handy. All druggists $5. Book free.

BIG ORPHEUM BILLS OFFERED PATRONS FOR TODAY

Two Good Shows Mark Final Bills at Second and Coal Theater Prior to Resuming Musical Comedy.

As one big final blaze of glory prior to the opening of the musical comedy season at the Orpheum, the management is offering two bills for today that are certain to surpass anything that has ever appeared on local boards this season.

The acrobatic stunt that has attracted so much attention during the past week will be on the program for the two performances today. In addition, as an attraction to top things off in good shape, Miss Lucille Stewart will sing.

The pictures are really the best that have been thrown on the Orpheum curtain since the opening of the popular show house. The big feature offered is "Romero and Juliet" in two reels, while the "Mutt and Jeff" pictures, always amusing to the highest degree, will run a close second. Another picture entitled "Hard Luck Bill," completes the picture program.

The regular matinee for the children will occur at the usual time, 2:30 in the afternoon, and the afternoon program will be even above the matinee standard of the Orpheum. On October 6th the Orpheum will again resume the musical comedy bills and some of the classic light plays are already booked for the winter. After tomorrow night's program the house will be closed until October 6th in preparation for the musical comedy season.

My back ached and I was annoyed with bladder irregularities. I can truthfully say, one 50c bottle of Foley Kidney Pills cured me entirely." They contain no habit forming drugs. J. H. O'Reilly Co.
