AVIATOR WALSH PLUNGES 2,000 FEET TO HIS DEATH

Noted Birdman Who Flew at Albuquerque Year Ago This Month Victim of Horrible Accident at Trenton, N. J.

DARING SPIRAL GLIDE EXACTS LIFE AS TOLL

With Beak of Biplane Pointed Straight Downward He Was Making Sensational Descent from Dizzy Height.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 3.—With the eyes of thousands of persons gathered at the Interstate fair grounds here late this afternoon riveted on him, Charles F. Walsh, one of the foremost birdmen in the country, while making a sensational spiral descent in a Curtiss biplane, plunged 2,000 feet to instant death. Walsh's fatal fall occurred about a quarter of a mile from the fair grounds. Practically every bone in his body was broken and his face and body were badly mangled.

Walsh had been giving daily exhibitions at the fair all week. This year, for the first time, he had been doing "fancy stunts" in the air, something which he had always declared he would not do, and to which he attributed the shocking mortality among aviators.

At the time of his fatal plunge today, he had reached an altitude estimated at 5,000 feet. He began a spiral descent, with the beak of his machine pointed almost straight downward. The spectators were horrified when, all of a sudden, the upper plane seemed to waver and Walsh could be seen struggling desperately to right the biplane. His efforts were in vain, however, and man and machine shot earthward like a plummet. The spectators, realizing that Walsh had lost control and was plunging to his death.

The dead birdman was a native of San Diego, Cal. He was 25 years old and had been flying several years with marked success. He is survived by a widow and two children, a boy and a girl, the family being at Hammondport, N. Y., where they were visiting while he was flying in the east. Walsh belonged to the Curtiss aviation school at Dayton, having learned to fly under Lincoln Beachey, with whom he had toured the country.

DEMAND FOR THRILLS THE CAUSE OF WALSH'S DEATH.

The public demand for thrills, for heart-chilling dangers narrowly averted, is what cost Charles F. Walsh his life, made two handsome children orphans and Mrs. Walsh a widow. Walsh never did fool stunts in the air for the gratification of the masses until this year. Then he went from the west to the east, from small town states to the "big time" and learned that there he had to shock, to thrill, to horrify the crowd if he was to continue to hold his laurels as a birdman of ability and daring. He thrilled, he electrified. He gambled with death for the pleasure of a sensation-mongering populace. And finally he lost his wager in a drop that almost defied his death itself.

Walsh learned to fly under Lincoln Beachey. All this summer he had been flying with Beachey, adding to those routine flights, which he boasted would never kill him, the dips and spirals, the drops and sudden turns and swirls about in mid-air, wings banked high, that finally killed him. Last year Walsh was a safe flyer, a sane flyer. Men and boys flew with him after his regular engagement at the state fair here had ended, and they had no fear. He boasted that he never would be killed because he never tried any stunts. Yet today Walsh is dead. Only Beachey is able to dare eternity in the feats Walsh attempted.

BEACHEY IS SUDDENLY SUBSTITUTED FOR WALSH.

Until ten days ago, Albuquerqueans were looking forward to seeing Walsh in lights here this fall at the fair, but then it was learned that he had so many eastern dates he could not make the long trip to New Mexico, and Beachey was substituted for the aviator company for the promised Walsh. It was a disappointment of a very real nature to many acquaintances of the aviator here, and probably was to Walsh as well, judging from the letter he wrote the fair officials when informed that he was to again appear here. That letter spoke in the warmest terms of friendship made here and expressed great pleasure at returning to the city this year.

EIGHT PERSONS ARE VICTIMS OF A WRECK ON NEW HAVEN ROAD

PASSENGERS KILLED RIDING IN PULLMANS

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Westport, Conn., Oct. 3.—Eight persons, five of them women, were killed today when the Springfield Express, second section, running from Hartford to New York, over the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, was wrecked west of this station.

The engine driven at high speed failed to take a "cross-over" from one track to another. The train went into the ditch alongside the tracks and the four Pullmans which followed the mail and baggage cars, were demolished. The wreckage took fire, adding to the horror of the scene. The women killed were passengers in the first Pullman. The other dead were the engine crew.

Among those killed were the daughter and daughter-in-law of Anthony W. Brady, the well known traction magnate of Albany and New York City.

The women of the Brady family, with a party of friends, had attended the funeral of Patrick Garvan of Hartford, this afternoon.

The dead:

MRS. E. P. GAVITT, daughter of Anthony N. Brady of Albany.

MISS MARY HAMILTON, sister of Mrs. J. C. Brady.

ENGINEER CLARK.

FIREMAN MOKER.

MARK WHEELER, mail clerk.

One unidentified.

The locomotive, which was running at high speed, went over its side after leaving the roadbed and the boiler, to all appearances, exploded. Engineer Clark was taken out alive, but died soon after. Joseph J. Moker, his fireman, was crushed to death. The three day coaches, although dented, remained upright.

The South Norwalk fire department was called and began working on the burning cars and surgeons were summoned from nearby towns.

TRAFFIC TIED UP BY WASHOUTS AND A BROKEN AXLE

Santa Fe Sustains Day of Unparalleled Hard Luck on West End, Delaying All Trains Ten Hours or More.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.)
Santa Bernardino, Cal., Oct. 3.—Washouts on the deserts of San Bernardino county late yesterday afternoon and last night, aided by a broken axle on the Phoenix Express, paralyzed Santa Fe traffic until today.

The broken axle caused an engine derailment, near Oregregrande, and delayed trains nine hours. The washouts delayed all trains sixteen hours. No one was hurt by the crash following the breaking of the axle. This is the second accident of this nature to occur this week, an axle breaking on the "Saint," the Santa Fe's crack San Francisco train, near Pasadena, several days earlier.

No. 2, the fast eastern mail, was the heaviest sufferer from these events. Late last night this train was scheduled to arrive here twelve hours late, or at 4 o'clock this morning. No. 4, the east bound California limited, was delayed ten hours, by late reports and No. 8, the eastern tourist express, eleven hours. This will bring all the trains into Albuquerque between 4 and 8 o'clock this morning.

A stub No. 8 was sent east on time last night.

LONG SHUT-DOWN IS FEARED AT BINGHAM

Bingham, Utah, Oct. 3.—There was no change in the strike situation here today. The business men are worried and a shut down of several months is feared. Scores of persons are leaving the camp by every train. Many of the strikers themselves are deserting Bingham for other places. Vacant cottages and rooms are numerous, and there is a general decline in rents.

PATROTISM ONLY MOTIVE BEHIND CONTRIBUTIONS BY MORGAN

New York Financier Declares He Gave $150,000 to Republican Campaign Funds for Good of Country.

EXPECTED NOTHING IN RETURN FOR MONEY

Takes Heckling by Investigating Committee Good Naturedly and Answers All Questions Put to Him.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Washington, Oct. 3.—J. Pierpont Morgan told the senate committee today that while he had contributed $150,000 to the last two republican campaign funds, the gifts were made "without expectation of return."

After saying he had contributed $150,000 to the fund of 1904, and $100,000 to the fund of 1908, Mr. Morgan turned to the committee and exclaimed earnestly:

"I want it distinctly understood that J. P. Morgan & Company never made a single subscription to any election with any promise or expectation of anything of return in any way, shape or manner and we never made it without we deemed it advantageous for the government and the people. We never had a communication from any candidate. We never had an application from any candidate for money and anything that we did, or that was done under my suggestion, and we were all in harmony, was that which was necessary for the good of the country and the business of the people. There was never any commitment or expectation of any return and we never got any return either, from anybody."

This statement followed a series of questions by Senator Pomeroy as to whether New York financiers had conferred and ascertained the attitude of various candidates toward business before making contributions. Mr. Morgan repeatedly denied that there was any concerted action among New York business interests in support of the republican candidate in 1904.

Mr. Morgan said that after making his original contribution of $100,000 in 1904, he was importuned to give another $50,000, which he did. This, he understood, was part of the so-called Harriman fund and was turned over to B. B. Odell for the New York fund.

Charles H. Duell, assistant treasurer of the 1904 fund, who followed Mr. Morgan on the stand, said that all the accounts of the committee were open to Mr. Corbly, the chairman.

Colonel Roosevelt will be the principal witness before the committee tomorrow. He will be questioned as to his knowledge of contributions by corporations to the 1904 campaign and particularly as to the so-called Standard Oil contribution of $100,000, which he has said he ordered returned.

The colonel will also be asked as to the financial support of the convention campaign for his nomination this year.

Mr. Morgan at times chuckled gleefully, as when he told the committee that "there was no limit" to the amount the republican campaign committee in 1904 was willing to accept. Mr. Morgan took his heckling by the committee in a holiday spirit and laughed heartily when asked, he told Chairman Clapp that he "guessed his expenses and witness fees would be all right."

ROOSEVELT DISSATISFIED WITH ONLY $100,000.

Dallas, Ore., Oct. 3.—United States Senator George E. Chamberlain, of Oregon, in a political address at the Polk county fair grounds here stated today that R. H. Harriman has told him in 1904 that after Harriman had raised $100,000 for Roosevelt's campaign, Roosevelt "was dissatisfied" with that amount, and he had raised $150,000 more.

Senator Chamberlain said that while he was governor of Oregon in 1904, Mr. Harriman had visited the Harriman summer home, at Pelican Bay Lodge, near Klamath Falls, Ore. While Harriman was there, Chamberlain said he paid the railroad chief a visit during which the conversation drifted on to the subject of the pending election. Mr. Harriman, he said, volunteered the statement above quoted.

Mr. Harriman added, continued Senator Chamberlain, "that this year (1904) I will be a democrat, because Roosevelt has not treated me right."

MORGAN, TIGHTWAD ASSERTS MARSHALL

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 3.—"I read in the papers that Mr. Morgan gave $100,000 to the republican campaign fund," said Governor Marshall, of Indiana, democratic vice-presidential candidate, at a rally here today. "If that is all he gave, he is a tightwad. He didn't give half enough. President Roosevelt gave him the right in violation of the law to amalgamate the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company with the steel trust. That deal netted Morgan $65,000,000."

GRAVES DENOUNCES JURY MOVES TO RETURN RESERVATIONS TO STATES

PHOENIX GETS NEXT MAMMOTH MEETING

Salt Lake City, Oct. 3.—With the election of officers, the twentieth international irrigation congress adjourned today to meet next year at Phoenix, Ariz. Tonight the delegates attended a ball and reception given in their honor. Richard Y. Young, of Salt Lake City, was elected president by unanimous vote upon recommendation of the committee on permanent organization. At the last moment the several cities that sought the next congress withdrew in favor of Phoenix. In addition to Mr. Young, the officers were: J. B. Case, Abilene, Kan.; John Fairweather, Fresno, Cal.; S. H. Lea, Pierre, S. D.; Richard S. Burgess, El Paso, Texas; and Karl Grundwald, Pueblo, Colo., vice presidents, and Arthur Hooker, secretary.

The report of the resolutions committee was adopted by the congress as a declaration of principles. The principles held that federal control, as between the states, is essential to equitable distribution of the water of the interstate streams, renew the endorsement of the congress of the Newland's river regulation bill, approve the federal forest policy and favor its extension and recognize the establishment of the United States reclamation service as second only in importance to the passing of the reclamation act.

According to the principles, the law should require that contracts for the sale of power developed by a reclamation project shall be approved by a water users' association under such a project.

The following was included in the resolutions:

Resolved, That the International Irrigation congress, the second in the fullest extent with the Panama-California exposition in producing at San Diego, in 1915, the most elaborate and comprehensive international irrigation exhibit that has ever been assembled.

"We invite the attention of the president and directors of the Panama-Pacific exposition to the propriety of exhibiting provision for an adequate exhibit of irrigated states at the San Francisco exposition."

The principal address of the day was made by Henry S. Graves, United States forester.

"Within the last three days," he said, "there has been an agitation in certain quarters that the government abandon its policy of national forestry and turn its national forests over to the states. Underlying this question is another which really is settled by the same answer, namely, whether the national forests shall be parcelled out to individuals and corporations and forest conservation, as a public policy be abandoned."

"The first national interest in those lands is that of the continuance of timber production. It is imperative to the whole nation that these areas be handled with care and their productivity increased. The second great national interest is their protection of navigable rivers and interstate waters. A practical consideration, which is really conclusive, is that the protection, administration and improvement of the national forests involve a financial burden which the states could not carry."

DENVER PREACHERS EXPECT CHRIST'S COMING

Twelve Ministers Propose to Prove Next Sunday That Second Advent Upon Earth is Soon to be Consummated.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Denver, Oct. 3.—Twelve Denver preachers, most of them pastors of well-known churches, will publish an advertisement in local papers tomorrow announcing simultaneous sermons next Sunday on the subject of the second coming of Christ. The twelve ministers say they are convinced that Christ's advent is imminent, and in their sermons next Sunday they will attempt to prove that the prophetic conditions outlined in the book of Revelations have been fulfilled.

DYNAMITE CASES BEING TRIED IN INDIANA

United States District Attorney Outlines Strong Case Against Forty-Six Men Indicted for Transportation of Explosives

COURT HOLDS MOTIVE MAY BE PROVED

Government Alleges Gigantic Conspiracy, Covering Five Years of Crime, by Defendants Under Indictment.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Indianapolis, Oct. 3.—Although the defense of the alleged interstate shipment of dynamite and nitro glycerine, but also evidence as to what was done with the explosive, will be admitted at the trial of the forty-six men accused of complicity in the "dynamite plots."

Federal Judge Anderson so ruled today, his decision thus opening to the prosecution the right to show a motive by going into the details of many explosions, including that which wrecked the Los Angeles Times building on October 1, 1910, followed by the unloading of a jury and a severe arraignment of the defendants in the opening statement by District Attorney Miller.

Addressing the jury and pointing his finger at Frank M. Ryan and the forty-five other men seated three feet deep across the court room, Mr. Miller said the trial was of the instigators of the "most far reaching conspiracy in the history of this country, in which, during more than five years, property of incalculable value had been destroyed, and many, many lives had been lost."

Eight farmers, two retired farmers, one grocer and one grain dealer, all living in country towns or rural districts in Indiana, compose the jury. The jury is as follows:

Samuel Morrison, North Vernon, retired farmer, formerly a carpenter.

J. S. Smith, Winchester, retired grain dealer.

Somerset Chambers, Anderson, farmer.

William Jackson, Greencastle, farmer.

Marion E. Robbins, Maxwell, farmer.

Frank Dare, New Lisbon, retired farmer.

John L. Thomas, Jamestown, farmer.

Allen Spaulding, Sharpsville, farmer.

T. D. Brookshire, Rockdale, farmer.

Frank Sutton, Nebraska, Ind., farmer.

Jeese D. Bariger, Ridgeville, grocer.

Juror Thomas, when examined, said he formerly was a race horse breeder. He said he had been an official in anti-chicken thief and anti-horse thief associations. All the jurors said they had no prejudice against labor unions or against corporations that maintained "open shops."

Judge Anderson ordered the jurors to be kept under guard until their verdict is rendered.

It took just thirteen hours to secure the jury.

Mr. Miller said the government would prove that the defendants, all of whom are former or present officers of labor unions, entered into a conspiracy to blow up the "joints" of employers of non-union labor.

"We will show that dynamite and nitroglycerine were carried from a number of places to a place in another state on passenger trains on which thousands of men, women and children were traveling," said Mr. Miller. "Evidence will show that an infernal machine was devised whereby a charge of explosive with a long fuse attached, was set off by an alarm clock, so that the dynamites could be hundreds of miles away when their destructive work was accomplished. We will show that James B. McNamara and John J. McNamara, who are now in prison in California, one of them for murder, and Orrie E. McManigal, who has pleaded guilty, were active in this dynamiting business and that all the present defendants are guilty with them."

Here Senator Kern, counsel for the defense, objected to the reference to one of the McNamaras being sentenced for murder.

"Is that important, your honor?" asked Senator Kern.

Mr. Miller maintained that since the McNamaras also are indicted in Indiana, he had a right to show why they were not present. He said it would be developed to what use the explosives were put.

"We object to this sort of evidence on the ground that it is not competent," said William N. Harding, of counsel for the defense.

"Every state in the union permits the use of dynamite and nitroglycerine for one purpose or another and the presumption in law is that if explosives are at a given place they are there legally. The only charge upon which these men can be prosecuted under the federal statutes is that of illegal interstate shipments."

Judge Anderson over-ruled the objection. He said if a man from the station in Indianapolis went with a suit case containing explosives to

AGUILAR'S REBELS MAKE TROUBLE FOR MADERO'S FORCES

Army of 800 Federals Go to Vera Cruz to Operate Against Late Insurrection That is Active in That State.

LIBERAL LEADERS ARE BUSY IN OAXACA

Julio Vicnier, American Soldier of Fortune, Captured by Government Troops in Sonora State.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Mexico City, Oct. 3.—Although the government is yet unwaveringly inclined to minimize the importance of the Aguilar rebellion in the state of Vera Cruz, 800 federal soldiers were sent from the capital today to take the field against General Aguilar.

General Joaquin Boltran, was ordered to the city of Vera Cruz to take command of the operations and General Valdes was placed in charge of the field work. The column of troops sent from Mexico City was stopped at Esperanza, Puebla, whence several small detachments will be sent into the hills in search of the rebels. Fear has been expressed that Aguilar's plan included cutting communication between the capital and Vera Cruz, but most reports indicated that he was moving southward, toward Tehuacan, a town just across the line in the state of Puebla. Another report is that General Aguilar will attempt the occupation of Orizaba, where he was born. Orizaba is an important point on the Mexican railway in the state of Vera Cruz and is now garrisoned by rurales.

A. L. Shaw, an American engineer, on the Mexican railway, was wounded today near Alta Loma, when rebels, supposed to be a detachment of Aguilar's forces, fired on a freight train en route to Vera Cruz. He was taken to a Vera Cruz hospital. A private dispatch from Guaymas, Sonora, said that in a brush with rebels, government troops captured Julio Vicnier, an American, Vicnier, who is of French extraction, joined the rebels at Escobedo, Chihuahua, several months ago, when Orozco's army was camped there. Rebel forces of Cheche Campos again have appeared in the Laguna district near Torreón. Arguendo, who has been operating in the Laguna district, now is in the northern part of Zacatecas.

Oaxaca continues to give the government some concern. Yesterday there was a sharp skirmish at San Felipe Agua, a suburb, whence Oaxaca gets its water supply. The place is constantly guarded to prevent poisoning of the springs by rebels. One hundred prisoners were taken from Helen prison today and placed in the army.

Peroria, Ill., it was competent to show why he carried the explosives.

The government's statement contained a full history of the cases and named Boston, New York, Jersey City, Hoboken, Albany, Buffalo, Cincinnati, Chicago, Kansas City, Milwaukee, Omaha, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles and San Francisco as among the cities where the defendants met to carry on a conspiracy.

An ivory handled umbrella inscribed with the initials "E. C." Mr. Miller said would be produced to show that Edward Clark visited a place at Cincinnati, where an explosion was to take place and that Clark forgot his umbrella, leaving it as a "token" of his visit to be found in the wreckage. The district attorney said Herbert S. Hocken, successor of J. J. McNamara, as secretary of the union, visited Cincinnati on dynamiting jobs and that he also conferred with Michael J. Young, of Boston, and Frank C. Webb, of New York, about jobs which McNamara was to blow up in or near these cities.

Mr. Miller said it would be shown that Hocken paid Clark $122.50 for a "job" in Cincinnati and that Clark himself blew up part of a railroad bridge over the Big Miami river at Dayton, Ohio, using the same umbrella to protect the explosives from the rain.

Long extracts from letters, already made public in the indictments, were read to the jury, alleging that Ryan wrote to union officials in Clinton, Iowa, Cincinnati, Omaha, New York and Boston about paying money for explosions there and that all the present defendants are "linked together in guilt by an extensive correspondence."

Many telegrams, signed "Ping," would be introduced, he said, to show that explosions were directed from the union headquarters in Indianapolis, under this disguised name.

Albany, N. Y., according to Mr. Miller, was the point through which explosives were carried to the New England states, and Chicago, the point through which they were carried west. He detailed fifty instances, giving names of the railroads and numbers of trains upon which he said explosives were illegally carried. One was that on December 12, 1910, McNamara carried from Indianapolis, through Chicago, twelve quarts of nitroglycerine for explosions on the Pacific coast.

Taft Republicans DISFRANCHISED BY LAWS OF CALIFORNIA

Supreme Court of Golden State Hands Down Decision Favorable to Contention of the Roosevelt Men.

JUDGES RIDICULE ACT THEY UPHOLD

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—If the attitude of the Taft Republicans in this city prevails at the meeting of the Taft state central committee on Saturday, no further attempt will be made to give California supporters of the president opportunity to vote for him in the November election.

After the decision of the state supreme court today, refusing to make permanent the alternative writ of mandamus by which it was sought to compel the placing of Taft electors on the ballot under the designation "republican," it was declared by Taft campaign managers tonight that to take the last recourse, mandamus in extra session to appoint the constitutionality of the state primary law, would be "playing into the hands of Roosevelt." It was pointed out that a decision invalidating the primary law, probably would have the effect of invalidating the November election in which case the legislature could be convened in extra session to appoint presidential electors. As the progressive republican faction is largely in the majority in the legislature it was assumed that it would select electors pledged to Roosevelt.

Edward I. Wolfe, chairman of the recent Taft republican state convention, was authority for the statement that no further attempt would be made to obtain representation upon the November ballot.

"If there is any discussion of the ballot controversy at the meeting of the Taft executive committee, Saturday," he said "it will be merely incidental."

Millon L. Schmidt, who with Wolfe, led the bolt of Taft supporters from the republican state convention, expressed the same view. When asked whether the Taft organization would throw its support to Wilson, Mr. Schmidt replied:

"I do not believe so. Personally I intend to remain loyal to the president to the last, but I believe that fully ninety per cent of the Taft republicans in California will vote for Wilson."

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—Neither by nomination as republican nor by petition as independents can electors pledged to President Taft go to the November ballot in California. The first possibility was closed today by a decision of the supreme court, the second had deliberately been neglected.

There was some talk among Taft men that at a meeting of the state executive committee, to be held next Saturday, they would decide to contest the constitutionality of the state primary law, which was not at issue today, with a resultant chance that the election might be declared illegal and California left without any representation from any party in the electoral college which will choose the next president of the United States. In a decision exonerating the state primary law, as like none other in the United States and like none probably in many a year to come, Chief Justice Beatty, speaking the unanimous mind of his associates today, declared that notwithstanding, under the law such as it is, the duty of the court was to declare that the convention at Sacramento, which by a vote of 88 to 13, nominated electors pledged to Roosevelt and Johnson, was the only duly called and constituted republican convention of this state and that its nominees for the republican party, as for nomination is petition the Taft men deliberately allowed that to go by default and the date for filing petitions is now closed. In consequence, it will be impossible to vote for Taft in California, except by writing upon the ballot the names of electors pledged to him and selected by the minority convention, which bolted at Sacramento.

Nowhere in the arguments made today was the constitutionality of the law, ridiculed by the court, called into question. Attorneys representing the Taft minority had obtained a temporary order restraining the secretary of state from certifying as republicans the Roosevelt electors and directing him to list in their stead the Taft electors. As petitioners the Taft attorneys could not attack the law under which they were suing, and as protected by that law, the progress, represented by Attorney General C. S. Webb, would not.

The minority asked that the restraining order be made permanent, the attorney general filed a demurrer and his arguments were upheld.

If your argument were addressed to the highest tribunal in the republic, the attorney general, Justice Angell, interrupting the address of David S. Rose, former mayor of Milwaukee, representing the Taft electors, "there would be no answer to your contention that the principles of the republic had not been adhered to or recognized by the republican convention in Sacramento. But I doubt the jurisdiction of the court."

"I know of no other state in this union that has a primary law such as the one in force in this state," resumed Rose.

Smiling broadly, Justice Beatty interrupted: "There is no such law, Mr. Rose," he said, "and it probably will be a long time before one like it is again enacted."

Attorney General Webb took the position that the court had no jurisdiction because the state legislature had the right under the federal constitution to make any primary law it desired and that the courts could not challenge it.

"It has always seemed to me," said Chief Justice Beatty, "that if there is any question at all for the court to decide in this matter it is a constitutional question. In this case, counsel agrees that the constitutionality of the law is not involved and that the petitioners have no interest in this regard. It is simply a question here of the law of the state of California."

"In my opinion it is a very bad law. It disfranchises absolutely the voters of this state and deprives them of the free exercise of their functions as independent electors."

The chief justice continued a denunciation of how under one clause of the law, "one-third of the voters are positively without the right to express their free choice."

"This court, however," he resumed, "is bound by the law and as long as it is not repealed by both sides, the law has been correctly interpreted. There is nothing to do but sustain the demurrer."

Taft leaders were somewhat dazed by the decision and at first were unwilling to say just what would be their next step. For the moment they are without a titular leader because the executive committee of the state central committee, which will meet next Saturday, has not yet organized.

Senator E. L. Wolfe, chairman of the minority convention, said an attack probably would be made upon the constitutionality of the law before the general elections were held. However, that attack may result, it will not alter the fact in which the ballots go to the state printer next Saturday, without provision for Taft electors.

If then, the law, should be declared unconstitutional, it might result in declaring the whole election illegal, thus depriving California of any share this year in electing a president of the United States.

ENGINE EXPLODES KILLING TRAINMEN

Reino, Nev., Oct. 3.—Engineer N. L. Robinson and Fireman C. C. O'Connell, both of Sparks, Nev., were killed today when the boiler of the locomotive on a west-bound freight train exploded, fifteen miles east of Reno. Sixteen cars were derailed in the wreckage. All of the engine was blown away except the trucks. The boiler was blown over the telegraph wires and landed twenty feet away. The engine was blown away and derailed fifty minutes. Traffic will be tied up for several hours.

W. A. Rimer, Ruston, Cal., writes: "Sometime ago I took Foley Kidney Pills, and must confess the results have been marvelous. For I feel like a new man. I suffered from kidney and bladder troubles, but Foley Kidney Pills cured me. I will recommend them to all sufferers from kidney trouble." J. H. O'Reilly Co.—Adv.

JAPANESE ARRESTED ON KIDNAPING CHARGE

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—Federal immigration officials arrested Shoburo Washio and T. Tsumoto, two Japanese, here today, on a charge of having conspired with Albert Henry Young, a former law student of the University of Washington, in kidnaping Hanso Sato, a Japanese girl. Young was arrested in Seattle today, with H. K. Sugita, a Japanese interpreter, who claimed to be the accomplice.

ROOSEVELT ACTIVE REMAINDER OF CAMPAIGN

Bull Moose Appears Today Before Clapp Committee to Tell of Contributions to His Cause in 1904 and 1912.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) New York, Oct. 3.—Plans for the remainder of Colonel Roosevelt's campaign were mapped out at a dinner of progressive leaders tonight. Colonel Roosevelt came in from Oyster Bay and met George W. Perkins, William H. Hoar, progressive state chairman, Comptroller Prindle, of New York City, Frank A. Munsey, and Elton Hooker, treasurer of the progressive national committee.

He will return to Oyster Bay to remain until Monday, when he leaves for a campaign tour of eighteen days through the middle west. He will start from New York for Chicago at 4 a. m. on Monday and will be in Illinois, October 8th and 9th, speaking in Chicago and Springfield, where he will attend the state fair and a number of other cities in the state. His itinerary for the rest of the trip follows:

STOMACH MISERY JUST VANISHES

Time! No Indigestion, Gas or Sourness Five Minutes After Taking "Pape's Diaprepin."

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or has like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of distension, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is indigestion.

A full course of Pape's Diaprepin costs only fifty cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on their fifty-cent boxes, then you will understand why dyspeptic trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. Diaprepin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite, but what will please you most, is that you will find that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many Diaprepin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranks about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a little for indigestion or sourness or any other stomach misery. Get some now, this minute, and please rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion.—Adv.

HOSTILITIES BEGIN GOVERNOR WILSON BETWEEN BALKAN STATES AND TURKEY

Bulgarians Are Said to be Crossing Frontier and Skirmishes Are Reported at Many Points.

AUSTRIA EXPECTED TO LOCALIZE WAR

Ottoman Government Appoints Nazim Pasha Commander of All Mohammedan Forces in Field.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) London, Oct. 3.—Hostilities between the Balkan states and Turkey have commenced, according to reports from many points tonight. A dispatch to the Russian government says Bulgarians are crossing the frontier.

Military action has outstripped slower footed diplomacy, for no ultimatum has yet been presented to Turkey and in Constantinople panic is expected until Monday. The Porte, however, has sent an official notification to the powers which read:

"In view of the manifestly aggressive attitude of the Balkan states, Turkey reserves to itself full liberty of action, convinced that the civilized world will not fail to do justice to its moderate attitude. But this cannot exclude care for safeguarding its dignity and security as well as its rights."

This, it would seem, is the Porte's way of preparing the world for the failure of the powers to stave off hostilities. No official confirmation of the rupture of peace is to be had, but skirmishes are reported to have taken place in the neighborhood of Edirne, called also Jamboul, Bulgarian territory, in the Albanian village of Sentari, along the Montenegrin frontier and near Bushkivranja on the Serbian border.

Turkey has appointed the war minister, Nazim Pasha, to supreme command. Romania has not yet mobilized and it is said will take no action for a few days.

Negotiations by the great powers in favor of peace are being carried on, and most important conferences are being held at Paris. It is reported that Austria will receive Europe's mandate to take the needed steps to localize the war.

All dispatches from the near east are subject to heavy delay and censorship.

BULGARIAN EXCESSES ARE REPORTED BY TURKS.

Constantinople, Oct. 3.—The war minister, Nazim Pasha, has been appointed supreme commander of the Turkish forces.

Reliable information reached here this afternoon that the Balkan ultimatum demanding autonomy for Macedonia, will be delivered Monday. In view of the gravity of the crisis, the government contemplated adding to the cabinet two or three members without portfolios.

Persistent rumors are current that hostilities have commenced on the Bulgarian frontier north of Kirk-Kiliseh, but the Porte declares it is without news. Bulgarian excesses against the Turks are reported from Yumra, Adios, Daghaz and other places.

Thirty Turks have been killed and many injured, according to this report, and several villages looted, houses being employed in some cases.

The Serbian leader, Stojan, late adviser, has proclaimed a republic by the name of Sanous with himself as leader.

GREEKS HURRY HOME TO FIGHT TURK.

New York, Oct. 3.—The Greek quarter tonight today with war talk. Long lines of men eager to return home for active service, formed at the steamship pier. One hundred and thirty Greeks and Bulgarians sailed on the Macedonia today, ninety more, unable to get quarters, are waiting for the next boat, while steamship agencies declare they have practically sold out of tickets for weeks ahead.

The steamship Macedonia, carrying sixteen hundred Greeks, who formerly served in the armies of Greece and the Balkan states, will sail from this port tomorrow night or early Saturday morning for Piræus. The vessel sails at 10 p. m. and is expected to arrive at the port tomorrow.

Amundsen is being rushed by train from Philadelphia tonight and will be landed in the hold of the Macedonia tomorrow.

H. M. Beatty, Little Rock, Ark., writes: "For the past two years I suffered with kidney trouble, had severe pains across my back and over my hips that almost meant death to me at times. I used several well-known kidney remedies, but got no relief until I used Foley Kidney Pills. These I can truthfully say made me a sound and well man." J. H. O'Reilly Co.—Adv.

Democratic Candidate Says Opponents for Presidency Are Responsible for Unsatisfactory Conditions in Country

BULL MOOSE SHOWS LATE CONVERSION

Speaker Asserts That Rough Rider Turned Deaf Ear to Progressivism When He Had Power.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Indianapolis, Oct. 3.—For the first time during the national campaign Governor Wilson tonight directed an extended attack on the administration of President Taft and former President Roosevelt. The governor charged that Colonel Roosevelt, as president, had been found "incompetent." Mr. Taft, he said, had failed to alter the policies inaugurated under President Roosevelt's administration, "when troops and monopolies grew upon a scale never before dreamed of."

In the picturesque illumination of a baseball park, the governor saw spread before him tonight for several hundred feet in the bleachers and on the field an immense throng.

"You have the extraordinary spectacle of two branches of the republican party, both of them led by men clearly responsible for the very conditions which we are seeking to alter, and the reason that some of the insurgent republicans are not following Mr. Roosevelt, the reason that men like Mr. La Follette, for example, are not following Mr. Roosevelt, is that they already have voted Mr. Roosevelt when he was president and have found that he was not willing to co-operate with them along any line that would be efficient in the checking of evils of which we complain."

"So that the leader of the very movement which is proposed for our emancipation is a man who has been tried in this very matter and not found either willing or competent to accomplish the objects that we now seek. In order to confirm my view of the matter, you have only to read Mr. La Follette's biography. There in detail it is told how Mr. La Follette, and others like him, carried proposals to the then president, Mr. Roosevelt, which would have made this campaign inconceivable, and after he had consented to co-operate with them he subsequently drew back and refused to co-operate with them under what influence, I do not care to conjecture because it is not my duty and it would be very distasteful to me to call in question the motives of this gentleman."

"That is not my object or my desire. My object is merely to point out the facts, that the very conditions we are trying to remedy were built up under these two gentlemen who are the opponents of the democratic party."

The governor attacked the planks in the progressive party platform proposing social reforms. "Is it not true," continued Mr. Wilson, "that when Theodore Roosevelt was president of the United States the people of the United States were willing to follow him wherever he led? And where did he lead them? When did he turn in the direction of this great uplift of humanity? How long was the conviction delayed? How impossible was it for him to see it when his arm was strong, to come to the succor of the weak, and now he has seen it when he wishes to regain their confidence, which by his failure to act he has forfeited."

Governor Wilson, in addressing the national conservation congress here today, preached a doctrine of conservation of human life in lieu of an expected discourse on the conservation of natural resources.

"The more widely we view the field of obligation," he said, "the more clearly it will appear that our duty is only one in respect to the laying of the foundation where we have conserved the natural resources of America, for these natural resources are of no consequence unless there is a free and virile people to use them."

The governor expressed his "profound sympathy with the whole work" of the national conservation congress and his particular sympathy with that which affects the conservation of the vital energy of the people of the United States.

The presidential nominee said that only now the United States was putting the finishing touches to its government.

"Almost all the best governed cities in the world," he continued, "are on the other side of the water; almost all the worst governed cities in the civilized world are in America, and the thing that is most lacking our political genius is making a decent finish where we made such a distinguished beginning. You feel under you as you traverse a city. You can feel it in the pavement; they are provisional, most of them have not been laid at all, and in jelling in the streets that are not the main thoroughfares of an American city, we feel the lack of unfinished America. We have not had time or we have not the contract to the wrong men, but whatever the cause, we have not completed the job in a way that ought to be satisfactory to our pride."

The governor referred briefly to factory and labor conditions.

"Just as soon as you make it a matter of conscience with your legisla-

HUSBAND KNEW BEST

Mrs. Bishop Reluctantly Consented to Advice of Husband, But is Right Glad She Did, Now.

Worshipful A. C. Bishop, 21, suffered miserably from womanly trouble and everything I could do for me in such matters I would have to go to bed until I was all right. I could not even wash my dishes after a meal.

At last, my husband begged me to take Cardui, the women's tonic. I had tried so many different kinds of medicine I didn't want to take it, but agreed to try it for five weeks.

Before I had finished one bottle, I could eat all I wanted and could do all of my work all right.

I gained in weight, and looked so much better, that my mother said she would have known me had she seen me away from home.

I shall always recommend Cardui, for I know it will do all you claim.

If you suffer from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, don't wait until the trouble becomes chronic. You owe it to yourself, your friends and your family, to try to regain your normal health.

Take Cardui, the women's tonic, as so many thousands of other women have done, with good results. Begin taking Cardui today.

COMMISSIONERS TO SELLERS' WARM RETAIN CHARGE OF HIGHWAYS

District Attorney Renders Opinion, That Until Compromise Is Appointed, Board Retains Powers.

In an opinion rendered to the commissioners at their meeting yesterday afternoon, District Attorney M. C. Vail held that the board was still in charge of the maintenance of the county roads and was empowered to expend reasonable sums therefor.

The opinion is of considerable importance as the commissioners have hesitated to embark on repair work or anything of that nature since September 23, when the good roads law enacted by the last legislature went into effect.

The district attorney further held that the office of road supervisor was abolished with the passage into effect of the good roads law, but that the commissioners, if they saw fit, might retain the road supervisor, Mr. Peckham, as an employee of the county, paying him as they paid other employees. The opinion will carry considerable weight in further road improvements in Bernalillo county.

The bond of the Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron Co., for the faithful performance of its contract for the repair of the Barlow bridge was approved. The bond is in the sum of $2,500. The contract calls for the expenditure by the county of something less than $6,000.

The commissioners also let a contract for new plumbing fixtures and work throughout the court house. This contract was given to Beeman & Ayer, whose bids for the work was $461. Other bidders were the Whiteley Company, who bid $710; A. L. Stachin, who bid $638; N. J. Strumquist, who bid $530; and Dunbar & Beauchamp, who bid $675.

A petition for the removal of certain obstructions from a road in Precinct 28 was taken until the appointment of the county road commission.

A warrant was ordered drawn in favor of W. H. Gillenwater, for $1,000, to apply on account of moneys expended by him on the county roads when supervisor of one of the road districts several years ago.

The bond of Serafin Garcia, as non-stable of Precinct 13, was approved. The commissioners appointed Eliseo Martinez as watchman at the Alameda bridge until December 21st.

A number of routine bills were paid.

CHOICE EXHIBITS OF FARMS PRODUCTS WILL BE SENT TO STATE EXPOSITION; BIG DELEGATION COMING TO THIS CITY.

With glowing accounts of the success of the Estancia valley fair held at Willard, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, Colonel D. K. B. Sellers, mayor of Albuquerque, and president of the New Mexico state fair, returned home last night.

Colonel Sellers was accompanied by Senator Isaac Barth, who was the principal speaker of the second day's program, while Colonel Sellers also made a brief address.

"You would be surprised," said Colonel Sellers last night, "with the creditable exhibits of farm products made and especially with the crowd in attendance at Willard. The town was full of visitors the entire two days and plenty of entertainment was provided."

According to Colonel Sellers, Willard people will be here en masse for the fair next week. They will ship their agricultural exhibits here Saturday, giving them plenty of time to assemble it with the exhibits sent from other sections of Torrance county.

The lady exhibit, which was a feature of the second day's program, was most interesting. The first prize was awarded to Lawrence Manion, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Manion. The father is the secretary of the Willard Mercantile Company.

The company race was won by Maxine McGrover.

On yesterday, a party of 150 visitors was taken to the L. E. Herndon ranch near Willard, where a demonstration of irrigation by pumping was given. A thirty-five horsepower pump was discharging 1,200 gallons of water a minute from a well on the ranch. The volume of water amazed all who saw it and convinced them that the claims of the people of Willard of the possibilities of pumping in that section are well founded.

The Torrance county development association was formally organized by the election of H. J. Pinckney, of Moriarty, president; R. L. Hill, of Willard, secretary; and Dr. C. J. Amide, of Moriarty, treasurer.

Colonel Sellers stated that he would have gone to Estancia to attend the Estancia fair, but for the fact that it was imperative that he return home in order to close up details today and tomorrow for the state fair, which opens on Monday.

"The hospitality of the Willard people can not be excelled," he said, "and I certainly am glad that I made the trip. Senator Barth, I am sure, shares with me this expression of appreciation of our cordial treatment."

ROSENWALD'S THE FASHION CENTER YESTERDAY

Styles Displayed in Profusion Afternoon and Evening; Crowds of Women and Men, Too, Visit Store.

Yesterday was "woman's own" at the big Rosenwald's department store. The day's showing of the authentic styles, an event which local femininity always awaits with the keenest of anticipation, this year fairly outdid itself in attracting and holding the attention of Albuquerque women.

One could fairly "smell" fall throughout the store, thanks to the delectable goods of P. H. Reinhardt. The dry, brown lack, the soft-colored leavies, so suggestive of Indian summer, the autumn flowers, all the product of nature, worked in harmony to show to its best advantage the styles—and a pretty picture it was.

On every side were arrayed fall goods of every variety, materials gathered from the four quarters of the globe. No article of apparel but was included in the display, so comprehensive was it.

Gowns, numerable and undoubtedly of the very latest cut and pattern, the less pretentious, but none the less stylish; dress goods, wools, and silks, millinery—all were of such a high degree of combined real value and stylishness as to meet the end of almost every critical eye.

And, be it known, the interior manifested was not confined to the women alone. The display extended throughout the store encompassing the men's furnishing department. All of the latest toggery for the masculine half of the family was on parade and it was not wasted, as a good representation of the men of the city were on hand to take advantage of the opportunity afforded.

In fact, the Rosenwald store was entirely given over to style not in a restricted sense, but in the broadest possible significance, and catering to the needs and demands of every member of the family.

ALBUQUERQUE MUST HUSTLE TO STAY ON NATIONAL HIGHWAY

Movement on Foot to Take Federal Aid Away from Southern Trans-Continental Route to Northern Route.

MEANS $20,000,000 LOSS IF SUCCESSFUL

Automobile Manufacturers Offer $10,000,000 to First Road to Receive Like Sum from U. S. Government.

"Recent developments in the national highway situation have reached such a point," declared Secretary F. B. Schwenker, of the New Mexico Good Roads association, yesterday, "that unless we and all the other communities interested, wake up and let the traveling public know that the Ocean-to-Ocean highway is on the map, we are not going to be on the first road to get national aid."

"The situation is critical in the highest degree. Whether we stay on the national highway, the first to receive government aid, means a difference of just $20,000,000. It is practically certain that this sum will be spent either along our route or along one of the more northern routes."

Mr. Schwenker declared that the time was the most critical in the development of the cross-continental road idea, and that if the local people failed to do their share toward making imperative the selection of the southern route for a national highway, one built and maintained by the federal government, they might well lose all hope of being on a trans-continental road for years to come.

"We must strain every effort," he said, "to get whatever federal aid is extended—and it is certain that some will be extended—for the Ocean-to-Ocean highway, or we will be left off the government cross-continental road for years, even decades, to come. When we do get on, the main current of traffic will have been settled in another direction, and we will have a hard battle to regain the prestige that rightfully belongs to this route. What the cross-continental car means to Albuquerque in dollars and cents is known to every citizen. What the present total traffic of this sort leaves in the city is worth making a strong effort to secure, but when we consider the vastly increased flow that will be brought to and through the city, and through the state, the amount is stupendous. The first national highway will be the one forever foremost in the eyes and minds of the automobile public. They will use that road in preference to all others."

"There is no need now to go into details of why the Ocean-to-Ocean route, which enters our state at El Paso and leaves it at a point west of Magdalena, is the most logical one for initial reception of national aid. That has been threshed out too many times. We all know that we have the climate along this route, that it is a feasible and practical route in the winter when the northern routes are too cold for travel; in the spring, when the northern routes are muddy; in the summer when the rest of the country is sweltering and we are comfortable because of our altitude and in the fall when the country is at its best everywhere. We know that the Ocean-to-Ocean route has the best scenery, passes through the most historic country, has the most attraction."

"We know these things. But laying aside the question of logic and reason for this route, the fact remains that the people who live along the northern routes have at least as keen an appreciation of the dollars and cents value of trans-continental auto traffic, and of the prestige to be gained through a national highway, as have the citizens of this community. But unless we can hustle as hard to keep our road as they are to keep it away from us, we are going to lose it."

"At the present time there are 174 bills that have been introduced into congress, with the purpose of allowing federal aid to roads through the country, along selected routes. There is no question but that the legislators of the nation are awake to the needs of national highways, perpetuating old roads and leading through places of historic interest. There will undoubtedly be some one or more of these passed before the end of the coming session of congress. Now, what New Mexico has got to do is to see that she is included in the bills that pass."

"The passage of a bill creating and providing for the construction of national highways is rendered doubly sure by the fact that the automobile manufacturers of the country have donated, for expenditure under national supervision, one per cent. of their gross earnings of this year. That means they will give $10,000,000 or more for whatever road receives the first government aid. And by that road, I mean trans-continental highway."

J. M. LOWE SOUNDS A TIMELY WARNING.

The knowledge of impending danger of loss of the national highway is felt in many places. Mr. Schwenker has received the following letter from J. M. Lowe, president of the National Old Trails Road association, which is a part of the Ocean-to-Ocean highway association:

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 1.
F. B. Schwenker, Secretary New Mexico Good Roads Association, Albuquerque, N. M.

Dear Sir: Do you know that a great effort is being made, and that there is great danger that it may succeed, to divert the first national appropriation, or to get the committee appointed at the automobile manufacturers' convention at Indianapolis, to adopt what is called the northern, or New York and San Francisco route, instead of the Old Trails road?

This is a real threat to the great project we are promoting. The true Old Trails road offers many superior advantages over any route suggested. It is centrally located, and will be good the year round. It is rich in historic and scenic advantages. It runs through ten of the great central states, and through or in near reach of nine state capitals. It was the first road established by act of congress as a national highway, and was maintained by congressional appropriations for more than a quarter of a century. It leads to the Panama exposition, and is good in the winter, the best time to go to California. More than one thousand miles of it is already built, and it will cost less to complete than any other road. One hundred and fifty miles of the Missouri link will be finished this year. We intend to rebuild this old highway either with or without national aid, either with or without the $10,000,000 so generously appropriated by the automobile industry, but, as we were the pioneers in this field, and possess so many advantages, we ought to be the first to receive recognition. And we will be if we will "come alive" to the situation and build up our organization to a quarter of a million and be assured that we shall receive a heedful and a respectful consideration.

There are but three routes considered by the automobile people for a national highway—the northern, called the New York-San Francisco route, the central, or Old Trails road, and the southern, which would perhaps intersect our road at St. Louis, thus giving us on the west of the Mississippi two chances to one. But we must stand inactively for our road as an entirety, as designated at the last April convention. A road from the east and stopping at St. Louis as contemplated in the Francis bill would not be the Old Trails road. Neither would be the Boonslick and Santa Fe trails roads, extending from St. Louis to Santa Fe. Only the old, the central, the Old Trails road, the Boonslick road, and the Santa Fe trail, "and from Santa Fe west on the most historic and scenic route to the Pacific coast" constitute "the Old Trails road, Ocean-to-Ocean highway," and for this, in its full integrity we stand, and will continue to stand. If the automobile industry should select the Old Trails road as we believe it will, we can easily have the entire line finished and lighted by a blaze of electricity throughout its length by May, 1915, so that tourists to the Panama exposition can run at night during the hot weather if they so desire.

Why not? The government lights all navigable rivers, why not light national roads as well? The national revenues belong to the people, why not appropriate some of it to the common highways which belong to and are of benefit to all the people? Yours very truly,
J. M. LOWE, President.

NORTHERN ADVOCATES SUBSCRIBE $100,000.

Four hundred thousand dollars has been subscribed by advocates of the northern route for a fight to get a national highway through their section. As present conditions indicate that but one road will be authorized this year, this practically means that $100,000 has been subscribed to get for the north the highway that by right belongs to the southern and southwestern sections.

Word of this subscription was contained in the following telegram from Colonel Dell M. Potter, vice president for Arizona of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway association:

Atlantic City, October 2.
F. B. Schwenker, Albuquerque.
"Advocates of northern route for first national trans-continental highway have subscribed $100,000 to be used in their fight for the road. All citizens along southern route must make strong showing of desire for highway at once, if we are to be successful. Have advice that Kansas, Missouri and other interested state associations are awake to situation and will present strong representations in favor of Ocean-to-Ocean route, but southwest should do its share, or their efforts will be unsuccessful."

Colonel Potter is now attending the international good roads congress at Atlantic City and is in a position to have all possible information regarding projected moves.

STRENUOUS ACTION TO BE TAKEN GOOD ROADS DAY.

While it is entirely too early in the game to announce any definite plans, it is certain from the interest taken by those to whom the news of this fight got yesterday, and of the critical need for effort to be made, that something will be done at the meeting of good roads boosters here on Good Roads day next week.

ALBUQUERQUE NEW MEXICO

SULZER'S NOMINATION.

The nomination of William Sulzer for the governorship of New York was not a particularly strong one, though far better than would have been the nomination of Governor Dix, the choice of Charles Murphy, boss of Tammany hall.

In securing the defeat of Dix, Governor Wilson scored another notable victory; but he failed to secure the nomination of a man who may be regarded as particularly progressive. Sulzer is simply a politician. He is an able speaker, and has been in congress for many years. His chief weakness is not unlike that of the late President McKinley, who believed he bore a striking resemblance to Napoleon. Sulzer thinks he is much like Henry Clay in appearance, and greater than Clay as an orator and statesman, a little delusion that is harmless to every one except himself.

Mr. Sulzer has always been popular in New York City, having been elected to congress from his district for eight years. Also notwithstanding his prominence in New York City politics, and the fact that prior to his election to congress, he was speaker of the New York general assembly, he is poor as a church mouse, where, had he been a graffer, he might have been enormously rich.

Mr. Sulzer's greatest expressed ambition has been the governorship of the Empire state, a position for which he has asked the democratic nomination eight times, each time to be turned down by Tammany. It is more than likely that he will be the next governor, though both the republicans and the progressives have put up strong men against him. If he should win, he might become a serious candidate for the democratic nomination for president in 1916, as he is now less than fifty years old.

Another factor favorable to Sulzer's candidacy is found in the following excerpt from N. O. Messenger, political writer on the Washington Star, who attended the Syracuse convention. It was written before the nomination was made. Mr. Messenger says:

"Representative Sulzer is on hand with a boom. He would be entirely acceptable to Woodrow Wilson, it is said. But Murphy is reported to be fearful of Hearst's influence with Sulzer. Hearst is warmly supporting Sulzer, and Murphy is wary of the Greeks bearing gifts when they are found in the company of his one-time ally, but present bitter foe, Hearst."

"Sulzer is the job holder of the democratic party, and his friends say he is the man to take the warpath after Hearst. But the weight of opinion is that Murphy is more favorable to Dowling than to any one else. (The Tammany leader tells me that Murphy was for Dowling two months ago, and most politicians hereabouts believe that Murphy has not been sincere in his attitude to Dix at any stage of the pending proceedings.)"

CALIFORNIA FOR WILSON.

Heretofore, it has been regarded as practically certain that Roosevelt would carry California in the November election. But the fact that Taft electors cannot appear on any ballot makes it almost certain that the Taft men of that state will vote almost solidly for Wilson.

California has a big democratic vote. McKinley carried it only by about two thousand, and in 1910, Governor Johnson had a plurality of only about twenty-five thousand. Ordinarily, the state is good for a republican plurality of about ten thousand, though it gave Cleveland a majority over Harrison in 1892.

Had Taft electors been on the ticket this year, it is quite probable that Roosevelt and Johnson would have received a plurality over Wilson. But with the Taft men voting for Wilson, it is now assured that Wilson will receive the electoral vote of that state, heretofore counted as one of the half dozen states sure for the Taft people.

VOTE AS YOU LIKE.

Mr. Rudolph Spreckels, chairman of the Wilson progressive republican league, in an interview with William J. Bryan, Wednesday, made it very clear that he continued to consider himself a republican and hoped to be working in harmony with that party at the next election.

Whether there will be a republican party in 1916, no one can judge at this time; but it is quite certain that there will be only two strong parties facing each other. It may be that the progressive party, with Roosevelt retired, will be the dominant opposition to the democratic party. And it may be that the progressives and the republicans will have reunited by that time under the banner of a re-organized republican party.

In this election party alignment counts for little. It is the effort of independent voters to put certain men to the front as expressive of certain ideals of government.

Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, in a two-column article to the New York Times, advocating the election of Woodrow Wilson, makes the following pointed comment on the presence in the field of three parties:

"Every voter can cast his ballot at this election without anxiety concerning the future political associations he may thereby create for himself. Free government cannot long be carried on with three parties, hence redistribution of the voters is inevitable and this nation's classification will be only temporary."

The position taken by Dr. Eliot is exactly the one taken by the Journal early in this campaign. The problem of the voter is not to choose a party. It is to select the candidate for the presidency that will best represent the voter's individual convictions.

The country, Dr. Eliot declares, has grave problems to deal with. The nation's executive, at this time, should not be an impulsive, self-confident, head-strong man. Therefore, he cannot support former President Roosevelt. He can, and will vote for Woodrow Wilson, because he sees in an executive of fairness, sober judgment and quiet resolution.

Dr. Eliot does not discuss Mr. Taft personally. Apparently, he assumes that the president has no chance of election, and therefore is not an issue in this campaign. When he wrote the article to the Times he had not heard of the retrogression of the third party candidate in popular esteem. During the past few days Roosevelt stock has had a most decisive slump, and that of Taft has not risen to any noticeable extent.

AS SAMUEL BLYTHE SEES IT.

Mr. Samuel G. Blythe, the clever political writer of the Saturday Evening Post, has just concluded an investigating trip, covering the states of Washington, Oregon, California, Utah, Nevada, Idaho, Wyoming, Montana, Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, North and South Dakota, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and the southwest.

As a result of investigations made through the vast area, covered by his trip, Mr. Blythe reaches the following conclusions:

"First—Mr. Roosevelt's nomination makes the defeat of Mr. Taft almost certain.

"Second—Mr. Roosevelt's nomination makes the election of Mr. Wilson probable.

"Third—Mr. Roosevelt in many of the states mentioned will get more votes than Mr. Taft, the percentage running generally about sixty per cent of the old republican vote for Roosevelt and forty per cent or less for Taft.

"Fourth—The reason Mr. Taft's vote may be less than forty per cent is found in the fact that many old-line republicans who ordinarily would vote the republican ticket will vote for Wilson on the ground that this will be a whole vote against Roosevelt instead of half a vote, as would be the case if they voted for Taft.

"Fifth—The only apparent defections from the normal democratic vote, in favor of either of the other candidates, are defections that will favor Mr. Taft, because of religious and racial influences. Just how far these will go is uncertain, though great pressure is being brought by the persons who control these influences.

"Sixth—The election of Mr. Roosevelt, or sufficient success on his part to throw the presidential election into congress, is not at all improbable.

"Seventh—Now, at this writing, Mr. Taft is the strongest in Utah, Wyoming and Michigan. Mr. Roosevelt is the strongest in California, Nevada, Idaho and the Dakotas; and it is a tight between Wilson and Roosevelt in the other states, with Wilson having the lead, except perhaps in Washington, owing to the split in the republican vote and the apparent solidarity of the democratic party."

THE RECAL GUILLOTINE.

Judging from reports, Governor George W. P. Hunt, of Arizona, is to be the first victim of his own guillotine. The result of state and judicial officers. The governor is an earnest soul. When he was inaugurated, he put the focus on a ball and wanted no military or other display.

Since he has been in office he has put into effect the "honor system" of dealing with convicts and has used his authority to parole a lot of men sentenced to the penitentiary. The people of Arizona were quite willing for the governor to talk reforms, but they were not prepared for their practical application.

ALLEGED SLAYER IS PRESENT CRITICAL TIME FOR ROADS SAYS MITCHELL

Eusebio Arviso, Wanted in Arizona for Double Killing, Located in Mountains of Grant County.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.)
Silver City, N. M., Oct. 3.—A posse consisting of Deputy Sheriff Tom Moore and J. C. Talbot, of Silver City, and Deputy Sheriffs Colin Rank, Charles Knapier and Byron Walker, from Arizona, left Silver City Saturday for the country surrounding the Gila in search of Eusebio Arviso, who last week is said to have killed two deputy sheriffs, near Globe, and for whom a reward of $500 is being offered.

Arviso is reported to have killed a man in a quarrel and was being followed by the law agencies. He was seen at a high place when the sheriffs were close, he shot and killed them both.

Deputy Sheriff Colin Rank advised the Arizona authorities to hasten a man to Mule creek, as he was sure Arviso would head for the Silver City district, where he was raised. This, however, they failed to do, and the first word the authorities here got was that a man answering the description of Arviso had passed in Jackson, riding a good horse in the direction of the Gila. The posse which went out from Silver City picked up the trail after the man left Duck creek and followed it into Bear creek. They are satisfied that their man is now hiding along Bear creek, with which country he is perfectly familiar, and that they will get him in the course of a few days. The posse left again yesterday, to go through the Bear creek country.

Arviso was born at the Silver ranch, about four miles north of town, and spent his boyhood there, so that he is in country that he knows well. The family later moved to Arizona, where the boy got into trouble and served a term in the penitentiary.

Kendall Arviso is now about 25 years of age. He stands 5 feet, 4 inches tall and weighs about 120 pounds. He is lanky, dark-skinned and smooth shaven. He is riding a big, brown horse, well gaited and handled with a 8 maul. He is fully armed and carries a pocket-sized revolver which he took from one of his victims. He is also wearing a pair of silver mounted spurs with A. M. engraved upon them.

GRANDMOTHERS USED SAGE TEA

To Darken the Hair and Restore Gray and Faded Hair to Its Natural Color.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They make a "sage tea" and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer, this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

The growth and beauty of the hair depends on a healthy condition of the scalp. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur quickly kills the dandruff germs which rob the hair of its life, color and lustre, makes the scalp clean and healthy, gives the hair strength, color and beauty, and makes it grow.

National Observance of Tuberculosis Day October 27th

Churches and religious societies, to the number of at least 100,000, will be urged to give special attention to the prevention of tuberculosis on Sunday, October 27th, or on some day during the week preceding or following that date. This season has been set apart and designated as the Third National Tuberculosis day by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

Tuberculosis day was originally set on April 28th, but was postponed because of a conflict with the National Sunday of the Men and Religion Forward Movement, which was held on that date. The observance of tuberculosis day in the fall this year should prove of value, not only for the general education of churchgoers on consumption, but also for the purpose of interesting them in the sale of Red Cross seals.

Every one of the 600 and more anti-tuberculosis associations affiliated with the national association are being allied in promoting tuberculosis day in their respective communities.

While last year, after Sunday churches observed this occasion, it is expected this year that this number will be doubled. Millions of circulars and other forms of literature will be distributed. The movement is entirely non-sectarian and the support of every denomination will be asked for.

The attention of clergymen and others is called to the elastic character of tuberculosis day and to the fact that it is in no sense an effort to import another special "day" in the already crowded church calendar. What is desired is the presentation in the churches of the anti-tuberculosis movement and the need for the cooperation of church members and others. It is not necessary that an entire special service be set aside for this purpose, though this would be extremely desirable. Nor is it necessary that tuberculosis day be observed on Saturday or Sunday or on October 26th or 27th, though this would be the best time. It may be more convenient in some instances to observe it on a week day or on a Sunday before or after the date set. The chief aim of the movement is to get the churches of the country interested in the anti-tuberculosis campaign.

"Less Butter—More Cottolene in Your Kitchen"

THE cost of living has increased so that today one's income goes only about half as far as it did 15 years ago. Under such circumstances it is surely up to every housewife to count the cost of food pretty carefully.

Butter is one of the big items on every monthly expense account. We use too much butter, and butter is sky high most of the time.

Let us tell you the solution to the problem. Butter is a necessary on the table; it is an extravagance in the kitchen.

Cottolene will give you just as good or better results than butter in cooking, at half the cost. It makes deliciously dry, crisp food, without the suggestion of grease.

Food cooked with Cottolene digests more easily than either butter- or lard-cooked food.

Add to these the fact that Cottolene will go one-third farther than butter or lard, and you are without a possible excuse for at least giving Cottolene a trial.

We assure you it will make good and save you money.

Add 1 cup of milk and pour the mixture gradually into 2 cups of flour which have been sifted twice with a teaspoon each of salt and cinnamon and 2 1/2 teaspoons of baking powder. Blend well and then stir in 2 small squares of chocolate which has been melted over hot water. Pour into greased mold and steam for one hour and a half. Serve with sauce or sweetened whipped cream.

BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT IS SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Rafaela Lopez Reported to Have Accepted $1,000 From Man Whom She Claimed Had Promised to Marry Her.

The case of Lopez vs. Perez, the breach of promise action begun in the district court Wednesday, ended suddenly yesterday about 11 o'clock, when an announcement was made that it had been settled out of court. It is reported that the amount of the settlement was $1,000.

The action was one brought by Rafaela Lopez against Abel Perez, county clerk of Sandoval county, for alleged breach of a promise to marry her. The amount of the suit was $15,000.

Owing to the settlement of the case so early in the day, and to the unexpectedness of any such proceeding, the court was unable to find any other case on the docket ready to go to trial, and consequently did not hear any others yesterday.

This morning, the case of Miss Crane against Matthew Howell, for alleged breach of an employment contract, will be heard. The action has been on the docket for a couple of years.

The court yesterday rendered a judgment in favor of Jay A. Hubbs against N. S. Perkins and L. Carey, for $120, by agreement. The parties to the suit agreed upon the amount and that a judgment should be rendered.

Suit was yesterday filed by the First National bank against R. C. Paulker and George H. Tucker, the same two as a co-defendant, and against W. G. McArthur, for $500, alleged to be due on a promissory note.

A false alarm called both fire departments to box 41, Hazledine avenue and Broadway, last evening about 8:20. This is the second false alarm from that district within a month, and the firemen are getting tired of taking little joyrides out to the suburbs for nothing. If they get hold of the offender, something pleasant will probably not happen to him.

Mrs. John Stein, wife of superintendent Stein, of the Harvey system, with headquarters at Las Vegas, is in charge of an exclusive family hotel called "The Castaneda," recently opened by the Steins at Long Beach, Cal. However, he does not expect to speak on that date, coming here primarily to meet visitors to the fair and to talk over the situation with republican leaders, who will be in Albuquerque to attend the fair. He will continue his trip to Santa Fe today.

For constipated bowels, sluggish liver, biliousness or sour disordered stomach, feverishness, diarrhoea, sore throat, bad breath or to break a cold, give one-half to a teaspoonful of "Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the chronic, stubborn, sour bile, undigested food and constipated matter will gently move on and out of the system without griping or nausea and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and licorice, it cannot be harmful. Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs" or Elixir of Senna, prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious, healthy, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

DAIRYMAN IS FINED $10 FOR KEEPING AN UNSANITARY PLACE

W. W. Holder, a dairyman, maintaining an establishment south of the city, was fined $10 yesterday morning for failure to observe the sanitary regulations provided by the city.

Holder, who had erected a new cement barn and then had failed to move his cows into it, for some reason, was fined.

The old barn was not held to be the proper place for milk stock to be confined and several warnings were followed by police proceedings.

City Chemist John A. Clark stated yesterday that it was his intention to see that the dairies supplying Albuquerque with milk and its products were kept in a sanitary condition if he had to arrest all the dairymen.

ANOTHER RAILROAD NOW IMMEDIATE PROSPECT

Situation in Regard to New Mexico Central and Completion of Albuquerque Eastern Brightest in Many Years.

From a confidential, but authoritative source, it was learned last night that there is definitely a deal on for the New Mexico Central properties which includes an immediate prospect for the completion of the Albuquerque Eastern, a short road which would, if completed, connect Albuquerque indirectly with the Rock Island system. There has been much of rumor about lately as to the probable completion of this link of trucks, but strong color was lent to it yesterday by the somewhat conservative, but none the less hopeful statement made by J. H. Finley, of Pittsburgh, who is here to attend a conference effecting the affairs of the New Mexico Central system. Mr. Finley and C. C. Murray, receiver of the road, arrived in the city Wednesday night. The anticipated conference did not take place yesterday, but Mr. Finley said last evening that he expected it to be held today. He said:

"We are here to hold a conference with creditors of the New Mexico Central system to see if we cannot arrange the litigation which is now going on and which is keeping the road in the hands of a receiver, so that it may be placed in condition so that it represent a number of the bond holders. Mr. Murray is the receiver. We did not hold this conference today, as was expected, but will hold it tomorrow, probably. We will remain here until Saturday night."

"We have had several offers for the property, but have been compelled to turn them down because of the litigation the road is undergoing. You cannot sell a man a lawsuit. Until this litigation is ended, either by friendly settlement or by the courts, we will be unable to do anything with the property."

Mr. Finley intimated in a manner so strong as to be almost a direct statement that the road was being bid for by a certain party, and when asked directly with the matter, said it was true, but that he was not at liberty to mention even the agents who were acting for this party.

Later in the evening, the confidential source mentioned above stated that the people who were bidding for the property had offered to make an agreement to complete the Albuquerque Eastern at once, thus connecting Albuquerque with a second railroad system. The same source stated that it was the wish of the bidding party to "make a railroad" of the New Mexico Central.

Beauty shops, milliners and dealers in ladies' dress goods, also druggists, as well as all others in business, are hereby notified that the undersigned will positively refuse to pay all bills presented for credit given to Mrs. A. W. Bicker, Jr.

WILSON - MARSHALL CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Formal Organization Completed by County Democracy Which is Boosting Harvey B. Ferguson for Congress.

Officers were elected and permanent organization perfected at a well attended meeting of the Wilson-Marshall-Ferguson Democratic club at its hall on West Central avenue, near Second street, last night. Features of the meeting were stirring democratic speeches by Summers Burkhardt and J. C. Lewis, local attorneys.

The meeting was enthusiastic and was one of the most successful political gatherings held in the city for many months, irrespective of size.

Mr. Lewis addressed was not particularly long, but it went into matters of great interest to all democrats, and expounded several points of the democratic platform in a way that awoke Mr. Lewis' audience to the fact that they had a very capable speaker in their midst, who up to that time had not displayed his talents along that line.

Mr. Burkhardt's address, of course, was good. The average Albuquerquean of any party, expects and generally gets a rattling good speech when Summers Burkhardt is called upon.

The following permanent officers were selected:

President, F. S. Hall; secretary, H. J. Cornell; treasurer, T. J. Passmore; Jr. Vice presidents were selected for each precinct, as follows:

Precinct 12, Division 1, George C. Schott, Julian Cano, H. Q. Maurice.

Precinct 12, Division 2, John Benven, Charles Wainwright, John P. Welling.
