ROOSEVELT AND JOHNSON CLOSE PROGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN WITH GREAT MEETING IN NEW YORK CITY

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN PACKED WITH ENTHUSIASTIC FOLLOWERS OF BULL MOOSE PARTY

Rough Rider Colonel and Impetuous California Governor Speak for Principles Enunciated in "Confession of Faith" and Chicago Platform; Oscar S. Straus, Candidate for Governor of New York, Delivers First Address to Great Throng That Comes Out to Pay Tribute to "Strenuous One" at His First Public Appearance Since He Was Shot at Milwaukee, October 14th; Sea of Waving Bandannas Greets Men as They Appear on Platform; Vice Presidential Nominee Asserts Great Moral Victory Has Been Achieved by Contest Waged by Third Party.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

Madison Square Garden, N. Y., Oct. 30.—A crowd that jammed Madison Square Garden from floor to roof and overflowed through three blocks of surrounding streets, greeted the leaders of the progressive party tonight at the mass meeting marking the first public appearance of Colonel Roosevelt since the attack made upon him at Milwaukee, October 14th.

Governor Hiram W. Johnson, candidate for vice president, and Oscar S. Straus, candidate for governor of New York, speaking to the throng, reached before Colonel Roosevelt reached the hall, paved the way for a great demonstration for the former president.

A stuffed bull moose at one end of the garden upon which a spot light was trained throughout the evening was a prominent part of the decorations.

A sea of waving bandannas and a great chorus of yells greeted the candidates as they appeared on the platform, and it was 8:20 o'clock before Senator Joseph M. Dixon, chairman of the national committee, could secure order to present Mr. Straus as the first speaker.

"Our country has been peculiarly blessed," said Mr. Straus in the fact that in every important epoch of its development from the beginning, a leader has arisen who was best qualified to carry the nation through storm and through stress to that high plane of righteousness and justice that has built the nation which today stands foremost of all the nations in the world in interpreting the spirit of human rights for the highest welfare of all the people.

"Our first stage was the national constructive period under the fathers; then the civil rights or preservative period for the abolition of slavery. Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln were the leaders of the first two periods.

"We are now in the third stage of our development—the struggle for social justice, and the leader of this third period of our national life is Theodore Roosevelt. Throughout his administration he gave himself with the devotion of an inspired prophet to change the opportunities for the plain people of the land."

Mr. Straus declared Roosevelt, when he appointed him secretary of commerce and labor, had told him to "fill the balance in favor of humanity."

The crowd which had begun to fill the garden as soon as the doors were opened at 8 o'clock, continued to grow for nearly two hours with moving pictures of the Roosevelt western tour.

Cheers greeted every appearance of Roosevelt on the films and the cheering swelled to such proportions when the speakers appeared on the platform that the intervention of the band was necessary to enable Governor Johnson and Mr. Straus to begin their speeches.

Senator Dixon, introducing the candidate for governor of New York, declared the majority of the states in the middle west and northwest would return "old time Roosevelt victories on election day."

Colonel Roosevelt reached the hall at 9:15 while Governor Johnson was still speaking. His progress through the streets was greeted with cheers that penetrated the hall and brought an answering cheer from the inside.

As he came up on the high platform, through a rear stairway, the garden became a bedlam of sound and a mass of waving color. With a broad smile the colonel stepped forward and waved his hand in salute. The cheers grew in volume. His gestures for the crowd to be seated intensified the noise. He insisted upon standing in his effort to bring the crowd to order. The demonstration lasted forty-two minutes. Colonel Roosevelt after a request to the police to keep order in the hall, began speaking. He said in part:

"Friends, perhaps once in a generation; perhaps not so often, there comes a chance for the people of a country to play their part wisely and fearlessly in some great battle of the age—long warfare for human rights.

To our fathers the chance came in the mighty days of Abraham Lincoln, of the man who thought and acted and suffered for the people with and without and kindly endeavor. To our fathers the chance came in the troubled years that stretched from the time when the first continental congress gathered to the time when Washington was inaugurated as first president of the republic. To us, in our turn, the chance has now come to stand for liberty and righteousness as in their day these dead men stood for liberty and righteousness. Our task is not so great as theirs. Yet it is well nigh as important. Our task is to profit by the lessons of the past and to check in time the evils that grow around us, lest our failure to do so may cause dreadful disaster to the people. We must not sit supine and helpless. We must not permit the brutal selfishness of arrogance and the brutal selfishness of envy each to run unchecked in its evil course. If we do so then some day smoldering hatred will suddenly kindle into a consuming flame, and either we or our children will be called on to face a crisis as grim as any which this republic has ever seen.

Must Be Wise in Time.

It is our business to show that nineteenth-century wisdom consists in being wise in time. We owe to our nation if we let matters drift; if in our industrial and political life we let an unchecked and utterly selfish individualistic materialism riot to its appointed end. That end would be widespread disaster, for it would mean that our people would be sundered by those dreadful lines of division which are drawn when the selfish greed of the "haves" is set over against the selfish greed of the "have-nots." There is but one way to prevent such

President Taft and Hiram Johnson Tacitly Admit Election of Wilson

The Associated Press reports published in the Morning Journal yesterday, carried statements by Woodrow Wilson, William Howard Taft and Hiram Johnson, which must carry great weight with the voters during the remainder of the campaign.

Governor Wilson again emphasized the fact that the democratic party is not committed to free trade or to anything approximating free trade. He says:

"In the first place, I have not heard a single thoughtful democrat declare for free trade. I have heard every democrat declaring for a policy of going through all the schedules of the tariff and finding all the illegitimate concessions cutting every one of them out, leaving absolutely safe every sound and beautiful fibre of American business."

That is the position taken by both President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt. When Governor Wilson assumes the office of president, his greatest trouble will not be to see that the tariff is not reduced too much, but to see that it is so reduced as to correct certain glaring abuses recognized by Taft and Roosevelt, equally with Mr. Wilson.

For instance, when the Payne-Aldrich tariff law was being framed, Florida stood side by side with California, demanding an increase on citrus fruits. Texas stood with Colorado and the Dakotas against free hides. Alabama, Tennessee and Virginia stood with Pennsylvania and Ohio against reductions in the coal and iron schedule; practically all southern states lined up solidly against reducing the tariff on cotton and cotton goods. Louisiana stood with Michigan, Nebraska and Colorado against reduction of the tariff on raw sugar. North Carolina representatives worked side by side with the northwest against reducing the tariff on lumber and nearly every southern state was there with special articles on which they wanted increased duties or new duties entirely.

Like President Taft, Governor Johnson knows Wilson is going to be the next president and he claims a "moral victory" for the progressive movement. On that point he is correct. While it is doubtful if the progressives carry a single state, their fight has called attention to important moral a division and that is to forestall it by the kind of a movement in which we are now engaged.

Our movement is one of resolute insistence upon the rights, and full acknowledgment of the duties, of every man and every woman within this great land of ours. We war against the forces of evil, and the weapons we use are the weapons of right. We do not set greed against greed, or hatred against hatred. Our creed is one that bids us be just to all, to feel sympathy for all and to strive for an understanding of the needs of all. Our purpose is to smite down wrong. But toward those who have done the wrong, we feel only the kindest charity that is compatible with causing the wrong to cease.

We preach hatred to no man, and the spirit in which we work is as far removed from vindictiveness as from weakness. We are resolute to do away with the evil, and we intend to proceed with such wise and cautious sanity as will cause the very minimum of disturbance that is compatible with achieving our purpose.

Do not forget, friends, that we are not proposing a substitution of character. We are merely proposing to buttress character by law. We fully recognize that, as has been true in the past, so it is true now, and ever will be true, that the prime factor in each man's or woman's success must normally be that man's or woman's own character—character, the sum of many qualities, but above all, of the qualities of honesty, of courage and of common sense. Nothing will avail a nation if there is not the right type of character among the average men and women, the plain people, the hard working, decent-living, right-thinking people who make up the great bulk of our citizenship. I know my countrymen. I know that they are of this type. But it is in civil life as it is in war, it is the man behind the gun that counts most, and yet he cannot do his work unless he has the right kind of gun. In civil life, in the every day life of our nation, it is individual character, which counts most, and yet the individual character cannot avail, unless in addition thereto there lie ready to hand the social weapons which can be forged only by law and by public opinion operating true and operated upon by law.

Doctrines Proposed Tied and Tied.

Again, friends, do not forget that we are proposing no new principles, the doctrines we preach reach back to the golden rule and the sermon on the mount. They reach back to the commandments delivered at Sinai. All that we are doing is to apply these doctrines in the shape necessary to make them available for meeting the living issues of our own day. We decline to be bound by the empty little cut-and-dried formulas of by-gone philosophies, useful once perhaps, but useless now. Our purpose is to shackle greedily cunning as we shackle brutal force, and we are not to be diverted from this purpose by the appeal of the dead dogmas of a dead past. We propose to lift the burden from the lowly and the weary, from the poor and the oppressed. We propose to stand for the sacred rights of childhood and womanhood. Nay, more, we propose to see that manhood is not crushed out of the men who toil, by excessive hours of labor, by under payment, by injustice and oppression. When this purpose can only be secured by the collective action of our people through their governmental agencies, we propose so to secure it. We brush aside the arguments of those who seek to bar action by the repetition of some formula about "states' rights" or about "the history of liberty," or about "the limitation of governmental powers," or about the duty of the courts finally, we determine the meaning of the constitution. We are for human rights, and we intend to work for them in efficient

VICE PRESIDENT'S DEATH DEPLORED BY PRESIDENT W. H. TAFT

Chief Executive Hears Sad News While Attending Banquet in Brooklyn as Guest of Navy Yard Employees.

MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT TO THOSE ASSEMBLED

Suggests That Adjournment be Immediately Taken, and Such is Done as Mark of Respect to Dead.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
New York, Oct. 30.—President Taft was informed of the death of Vice President Sherman at 9:10 o'clock, as the chief executive, and the secretary of the navy were seated in the Thirtieth Regiment armory, Brooklyn, as guests of honor at a dinner tendered to them by employees of the Brooklyn navy yard, in celebration of the successful launching of the battleship New York today.

The president had just finished a plea for a greater navy and Commander Greaves, of the navy yard, was speaking at the time when the news of Mr. Sherman's death was brought to the president.

President Taft at first made no comment after hearing the news. He remained seated quietly, concealing his emotions until Commander Greaves and Congressman Calder had finished their speeches. He then rose and said:

"My friends, three years ago you met on an occasion like this to celebrate the launching of the Florida and you were honored by the presence of the vice president of the United States—Vice President Sherman. It is a very sad duty for me to announce that word has just come that the vice president is dead.

"Those who knew him loved him. Those who knew the services he rendered to his country respected him. I venture to ask that this assemblage adjourn in honor of his memory and that no further proceedings be taken."

A period of silence followed the president's unexpected words. The band came to the relief of the situation by playing "My Country 'Tis of Thee," and the naval officers and men filed out quietly.

The president was escorted to his automobile. Tears came to his eyes. He was lost sight of, however, as he stepped inside of the car and was whisked across Brooklyn bridge and to the Pennsylvania station in New York, where he was due to take his train at 11:30 o'clock for Washington.

President Taft's principal statement after being informed of the death of Vice President Sherman was made just as the president was about to board his train for Washington after a day of festivities in connection with the launching of the battleship New York. The statement was as follows:

"News of the death of Vice President James S. Sherman has just reached me and although it was not unexpected, it has filled my heart with deep sadness. I feel a sense of personal bereavement in the loss of a friend, who was a conscientious worker in the many undertakings in which we were engaged.

"It is an easy matter to pay tribute to his worth. He was a gentleman of splendid poise, of mental attainment which he harnessed by so fine a sense of justice that all who knew him respected him and admired him.

"The sublimity which he has properly earned and which was a tribute to a disposition that radiated sunshine and good will, readily explains the warm affection in which he was held by the many thousands who had come into personal contact with him.

"As a legislator and expounder of parliamentary law and practice, he achieved a reputation of national proportion before he was elevated to the high and dignified office of vice president of the United States. His services as vice president will be fittingly acknowledged by the United States senate over which he presided with marked earnestness. He was a republican of sturdy principles and highly regarded, will be sadly missed in the many crises created by new problems arising and demanding wise consideration and practical solution.

"The sympathy of all his friends goes out to his widow and children with whom he dwelt in a relationship which may well be termed ideal. The sorrow of a nation will be aroused by the news of his death. In the many tender tributes which will be paid publicly and privately to his memory will be found evidence of the optimism and sunlight shed among his associates. To these I would add my own, the more certain and sincere because of the close official and personal relationship that existed between us and the opportunity thus offered me for an appreciation of his sterling and beautiful character."

The president said he expected to attend the funeral.

President Taft, immediately after arriving in New York, despatched the following telegram to Mrs. Sherman at Utica:

"Mrs. Taft and I extend to you our heart felt sympathy in your great sorrow. Our hearts go out to you in the loss of your noble and loving husband. Vice President Sherman had rendered distinguished service to his country and his death ten years before the time allotted by the psalmist is a great loss. As a member of congress and a vice president, he endeavored himself to all who knew him. His memory is full of sweetness and light."
(Signed) "WILLIAM H. TAFT."

Just after he left Madison Square Garden tonight, Colonel Roosevelt was informed of the death of Vice President Sherman. The colonel immediately sent the following telegram:

"Mrs. James S. Sherman, Utica, N. Y.:
"Mrs. Roosevelt and I are greatly shocked and concerned at the sad news of your husband's death. We beg you to accept our most sincere sympathy."
(Signed) "THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

VACANCY ON TICKET TO BE SUPPLIED NOVEMBER 12

Chairman Hilles of Republican National Committee Calls Meeting to Name Successor to Mr. Sherman.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

New York, Oct. 31.—Chairman Charles D. Hilles, of the republican national committee, shortly before 1 o'clock this morning, announced that he had called a meeting of the national committee for November 12th, in Chicago, to select a successor to the late James S. Sherman as the republican candidate for vice president.

"The national convention which met in Chicago in June, delegated to the national committee power to fill vacancies on the national ticket. The death of Mr. Sherman, candidate of the republican party for vice president at the front of the election, makes it incumbent upon the national committee to nominate a candidate in his place. The nomination, however, cannot possibly be made prior to the election next Tuesday. Such a nomination can properly be made only after due and reasonable notice to all members of the committee.

Such notice cannot be given in less than six days. It is therefore manifestly impossible to hold such a meeting prior to the election. Meantime no difficulty or inconvenience arises to the voters at the election next Tuesday, because the votes to be cast then are for electors and not for candidates for either president or vice president and the death of Mr. Sherman therefore does not affect the validity of the election of the electors.

"I have called a meeting of the national committee to meet upon the 12th day of November, in the city of Chicago, at the Auditorium hotel, at 12 o'clock noon, to select a successor to the late James S. Sherman as candidate of the republican party for vice president of the United States."

Socialists Collected $42,735.

Washington, Oct. 30.—The national committee of the socialist party collected for the present campaign $42,735, according to a statement filed today. The largest individual contributor was the International Convention of United Brewery workers, with headquarters at Cincinnati.

JAMES SCHOOLCRAFT SHERMAN VICE PRESIDENT OF UNITED STATES, DIES AT UTICA OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE

DEVELOPMENT OF URAEMIC POISON SEVERAL DAYS AGO MADE THE END QUESTION OF HOURS

His Career from Time He Reached Manhood for Most Part One of Uninterrupted Public Service, He Being Member of Congress Continuously from 1886 to 1908, with Two-Year Interim from 1890 to 1892. Mayor of His Home City, Vice Chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee for Many Years and Delegate to State and National Conventions; Banker and Lawyer by Profession; Belonged to That Branch of Republicanism Termed Regular; Twice Running Mate of President Taft; Earned Sobriquet of "Sunny Jim" by Never Failing Smile and Good Humor.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 30.—After a long illness, Vice President James Schoolcraft Sherman died at his home in this city at 9:42 o'clock tonight, of uraemic poison, caused by "Bright's" disease.

He had been sinking since early morning and it was realized that death was a question of only a few hours.

There was a slight relief shortly after 7 o'clock, caused by an apparent improvement in the condition of the kidneys, but it did not prove real or lasting and at last gave only "temporary" hope.

At 9 o'clock the patient's temperature rose to 104. From that time his condition rapidly passed from bad to worse until the end. Mr. Sherman was unconscious when the end came and had been in that condition for several hours.

All the members of the immediate family were witnesses to the final scene. In addition to Mrs. Sherman, there were in the death chamber their three sons, Sherrill, Richard U., and Thomas M. Sherman and their respective wives; R. M. and Sanford Sherman, brothers of Mr. Sherman, and Mrs. L. B. Moore, and Mrs. H. J. Cookman, sisters of Mr. Sherman.

Soon after Mr. Sherman's death, Dr. Fayette H. Peck, the attending physician, issued the following statement:

"The vice president died at 9:42 without regaining consciousness for a moment. He was perfectly quiet. He died in the presence of his wife, her mother and sister, his two brothers and his three sons and their wives. He had been entirely unconscious since 7 o'clock when he had a period of partial consciousness lasting for about fifteen minutes. He died in a uraemic coma as a result of Bright's disease, heart disease and arteriosclerosis."

Mrs. Sherman bore up bravely under the shock of her husband's death, as also did the other members of the family. Although it was said at the house that the hopelessness of Mr. Sherman's fight against death had

Marine Band Regards Sherman's Death as a Personal Loss

"It is with deep regret that the United States Marine band hears of the death of Vice President Sherman at his home in Utica."

Mr. Sherman was a great lover of music and an ardent admirer of the United States Marine band. Every member of the band knew the vice president personally, and Leader William H. Santelmann and myself are deeply grieved, as is each of the members of the band, at the demise of one of the country's leading statesmen.

The foregoing is a brief statement made last night by W. L. Radcliffe, manager of the United States Marine band, which appeared in concert at the Elks theater.

Manager Radcliffe, after receiving from The Morning Journal confirmation of the news of the vice president's death, communicated it to Leader Santelmann and announced that it was made from the stage.

As a mark of respect to Mr. Sherman, the band rendered the sacred hymn, "Nearer My Go to Thee" just previous to the rendering of "The Star Spangled Banner." This incident of the concert had a marked impression on the large audience assembled.

Because of Vice President Sherman's death, the band may be recalled to Washington immediately.

been realized since Friday, the blow never the less was a crushing one. A few of the intimate friends of the family called tonight to express their sympathy, among them Dr. A. H. Holden, pastor of Christ Reform church, where the Shermans worship.

Soon after the vice president's death, it was announced that the members of the family wished to be left undisturbed tonight and that no arrangements for the funeral would be made before tomorrow.

Dr. Peck remained at the Sherman home for a time and notified several of Mr. Sherman's friends by telephone that the end had come.

The announcement of the vice president's death spread quickly through the city. Universal sorrow was expressed and immediate steps were taken for the proper recognition of the sorrowful event.

Mr. Sherman was regarded as the first citizen of Utica, and all differences growing out of politics died with him.

The mayor gave out a statement, voicing the general grief and the big bell at the city hall, as well as many church bells, tolled out the doleful news to a public to which it was not news.

Not only did the republican organization take proper recognition of the event, but the progressives announced their intention of cancelling all meetings until after the vice president's funeral. Governor Johnson, who so long as Mr. Sherman lived, was his rival for vice presidential honors, was to have spoken here tomorrow night in behalf of the progressive ticket, but his address like all other events of the kind, has been deferred.

The democrats also signified their intention of removing a Wilson and Marshall banner which had been flung across one of the city streets and of suspending all political activity until after the funeral.

In the course of his tribute, Mayor Baker said:

"Mr. Sherman has long been identified with the business interests of Utica. He was ever alert in taking advantage for the city. His home life was beautiful. It was a model for all American families. He found the greatest pleasure when surrounded by those who loved him as a husband and father, and it is there that his genial presence will be missed. Stricken as he was with an illness which required constant watchfulness, Mr. Sherman bore it with a fortitude which exemplified the strong characteristics of the man."

The mayor ordered that the flags on all city buildings should be placed at half mast and suggested that a similar course be followed with all other flags in Utica.

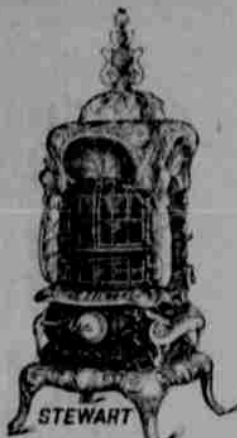

Not since early this morning, when his attending physician made the final announcement of his inability to do more for Mr. Sherman's relief, had there been the least probability of saving the patient's life, or even of prolonging it for any considerable time. It had been the doctor's hope that he might stimulate the kidneys as to cause them to resume their functions, but when he was compelled to acknowledge his failure in this respect he surrendered, frankly acknowledging that the fight was lost.

Dr. Peck, however, remained with his patient all day but did little for him beyond administering an occasional hyposmotic injection of morphine.

Due both to the presence of excessive uraemic acid and to the sedative employed, Mr. Sherman lay in a state of coma, throughout the greater part of the day. Only twice did he throw off the dense stupor which enthralled him. On neither of these occasions was he conscious for more than a few minutes. During one of the intervals of consciousness he got out of bed and stood on the floor for a brief period. His weakness was such, however, that he was soon compelled to lie down, a circumstance which in itself marked

The rapid advance of his malady, yesterday he walked about his room a great deal and in his delirium insisted upon going down in the street. While in his right mind today he recognized Mrs. Sherman and Dr. Peck, and spoke to them in familiar and endearing terms.

Dr. Peck attributed the crisis in the case entirely to the failure of the kidneys to operate. This condition resulted in filling the system with a violent poison which rapidly destroyed the patient's vitality. The poison caused considerable twisting in the muscles and transformed the hitherto ruddy complexion of the vice president's face to a dark purple.

Mr. Sherman's rapid decline in health started August 21st, when he was formally notified of his nomination as vice president, according to Dr. Peck. He was warned that the exertion incident to the ceremony might have an ill effect, but insisted that the program as arranged be carried out.

"You may know all about medicine," Mr. Sherman told the physician when he urged him to arrange for a brief and informal notification, "but you don't know about politics."

"It was against my advice," said Dr. Peck tonight, "that Mr. Sherman participated in the formalities of the notification ceremonies. I suggested that it would be better for him to resolve the committee in the privacy of his home, tell them briefly that while he did not want a renomination, he would accept in a spirit of loyalty and let that suffice. When it became apparent that he would not yield to my suggestions I urged him to make a speech of not more than five minutes. Instead he spoke for more than half an hour. Two days later the extreme of notification day began to tell on the patient and he began to fail."

Dr. Peck said the vice president apparently had not worried over the outcome of the campaign.

"His peace of mind was more disturbed over his illness, as several of his relatives have died from the same disease," continued the physician. "Mr. Sherman did not want a renomination, but he was loyal and accepted it with the understanding that he was not to take an active part in the campaign."

When his name was being considered as a candidate for the vice presidency by the republican national convention, Mr. Sherman consulted Dr. Peck as to whether he had better accept because of his physical condition, but the doctor told him he did not care to advise him upon so grave a question.

NATION KNEW SHERMAN BEST AS "SUNNY JIM."

The twenty-seventh vice president of the United States and the only one renominated, was christened James Schouder Sherman. But, in nearly a quarter of a century of public life, "Jim" Sherman, he was to his intimates and probably half the nation referred to him as "Sunny Jim," a sobriquet earned by a never failing, all year round, sunny disposition.

Sherman belonged to the school of republicanism, now called "regularity" and he fought his political battle without compromise or flinching. The events he helped to shape are so comparatively recent that history can not assign him to his proper place until it also records the work of his contemporaries.

To the house of representatives of the fiftieth congress, he came in the winter of 1887, just past his thirty-second birthday, with the energy and optimism of youth, college bred from the halls of Hamilton which has given to public life many more statesmen and public figures, none without some mark of distinction. He had been elected mayor of Utica two years before. Like many others who came to lead in the national legislature, he brought with him an education in law. He was well born and well bred. His father, Richard W. Sherman, was an editor and public figure in New York state.

Two sessions of congress found Sherman defeated and out of office, but not for long.

Harry W. Hendley, of Booneville, Onondaga county, beat him by less than a thousand votes in the race for the fifty-first congress. In the interim, Sherman went back to Utica, built up his law practice and returned to the fifty-third congress with a signal victory. He remained in the house without defeat to the sixtieth congress, when he was nominated and elected vice president on the ticket with Mr. Taft.

His first years in the house brought him into close association with the leaders. Joseph W. Bailey, later U. S. senator, Breckinridge, Bryan, Cockran, Crisp, Daboll, Dingley, Holliver, Henderson, Payne, Payson, Rayner, Reed, Vandever, "Fighting Joe" Wheeler and a score of others whose names became household words in the discussion of the tariff and other national policies, were his fellows. The senate had such men as Aldrich, Allison, Cockrell, Daniel, Fry, Gorman, Hearst, Teller, Vest and Wolcott. All were not republicans, but all were "Jim" Sherman's friends, and in such an environment he worked to a high plane in the council and finally was numbered one of the "big five" in the house.

Cannon, Bland, Payne, Sherman and Tacey were the great quartette during the comparatively recent years in which congress was republican. Each of them invariably wore a red carnation for a buttonhole and when Sherman went to preside over the senate and occupy the coveted marble room in the other wing of the capitol, he took the custom with him and the flower always appeared at every session of the upper house.

Any review of Sherman's life would not be complete without a reference to his work in the house. Briefly there is recorded no time when he moved anywhere to applause by a vote from the floor or changed any vote by his influence. But the minutes bear witness of his work in committee and caucus and the results of his labors on the rules committee and the interstate commerce committee and other branches of the machinery of the house.

In New York state politics, Sherman was a force.

was a leading figure. He was always active in state conventions and a figure at all national gatherings of the party.

Sherman went to preside over the senate just about the time when what popularly is known as "senatorial dignity" was beginning to feel its first break. In the chair, Sherman was dignity itself, fair in his rulings, his collocations said quiet, firm, sure and seldom reversed on appeal.

But dignity so far as the traditional senatorial frock coat and silk hat were concerned generally was absent. He regarded his time presiding over the senate as a day's business, to be attended to as if he were sitting in his bank in Utica or at the directors' table of one of the many enterprises in which he had found a fortune and laid the foundation of another for his sons. He usually appeared in a business suit, on a hot day, he came in flannel.

Other senators, reluctant, perhaps, to transgress strict custom, fell in with his ideas, and nowadays, on a blistering Washington summer, the senate looks quite like a business gathering. The flannel which proved fatal was its known in Washington until the last few months. Mr. Sherman was not present during the closing days of the last session and the senate—without a president pro tem by the death of Frye and unable to agree upon a successor—got along by temporary arrangements, placing some senator in the chair for two weeks at a time.

Sherman was genuinely missed in the capitol. It was an occurrence of ordinary day with congress in session to meet Sherman walking down Pennsylvania avenue, often alone, cross-checked and cheerfully returning the salutation of scores who knew him by sight, thought of him as "Sunny Jim," and greeted him—"Good morning, Mr. President"—and the ramble who recognized him was greeted as heartily as the senator who might be next.

Vice President Sherman was born in Utica on October 24, 1855. He was married in 1881 to Carrie Babcock at Orange, N. J. They have three sons, Sherill, Richard L. and Thomas M., all living and in business in Utica. The vice president was an Elk, a trustee of Hamilton college, a member of the Dutch Reform church, member of many clubs and a business man of wide interests.

WASHINGTON HEARS NEWS WITH SORROW.

Washington, Oct. 26.—News of Vice President Sherman's death, though it had been expected hourly, was received with profound sorrow in official Washington.

Immediately on receipt of the news, Col. Daniel N. Ransdell, sergeant-at-arms of the senate, despatched formal notification to Senator Bacon, temporary presiding officer of the senate, now in New York on his way back to Georgia after a campaign tour, and asked for instructions.

President Taft will issue a proclamation directing that thirty days be given for the funeral of the late senator. The late senator's funeral will be held in New York on his way back to Georgia after a campaign tour, and asked for instructions.

The vice-president's death leaves the present senate without any regular presiding officer. The late Senator Frye's place as president pro tem never has been filled.

The progressive republicans on each ballot have prevented an election. Senators Gulliver and Bacon alternately, by common agreement, have presided. By this agreement Senator Bacon is to preside over the senate when business is transacted on November 20, and until December 15th.

According to the constitution, the succession to the vice presidency now goes to Secretary Knox, of the state department, who also figures as a presidential possibility should the election throw the contest in the house.

Mr. Sherman was not the first vice president whose death in office shocked the nation. Vice President King died during Pierce's term; Vice President Wilson, during that of Grant; Vice President Hendricks, during that of Cleveland; and Vice President Hobart, during McKinley's first term.

SENATE WILL ATTEND FUNERAL IN A BODY.

New York, Oct. 26.—The senate as a whole will be appointed as a committee to attend the funeral of Vice President Sherman, according to announcement made here tonight by Senator Bacon, president pro tem of that body.

Senator Bacon said that as soon as the date of the funeral was announced the sergeant-at-arms of the senate would be notified by him to telegraph individually to the members of the senate urging them to be present at the funeral.

Immediately upon hearing of Mr. Sherman's death, Senator Bacon telegraphed to the sergeant-at-arms to take charge, subject to the wishes of the family. The expenses will be borne by the senate.

HOCKIN SHOWN UP AS TRAITOR TO M'NAMARA

UP BULGARIANS DEFEAT PRINCIPAL TURK FORCES IN TWO DAYS' FIGHT

Union Official Said to Have Declared His Guilt But That He Would Not be Only One to Suffer.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Indianapolis, Oct. 26.—Robert J. Foster, a detective, testified at the trial of the forty-five accused "dynamite plotters" today that Herbert S. Hockin, one of the defendants, made the following statement to him: "I am not going to be the only goat. When you take me, you'll take the whole bunch. I'll be satisfied if I get off with a few years, but I will not go on the stand. It will be worth my life to testify against the others."

Foster testified that Hockin spoke while the federal grand jury last winter was investigating alleged illegal transportation of dynamite on passenger trains and just before Hockin, who is secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, turned over the keys of the union's office so that the government might procure J. J. McNamara's letter files.

Foster, formerly on the police force in Louisville, Ky., said, as a special investigator for the National Redemptor Association, he came to Indianapolis to help search for evidence.

"I met Hockin several times while the grand jury was in session," said Foster. "He promised to procure out of the iron workers' office any letter that had incriminating evidence in them. He repeated he was not the only one in the case and did not propose to be the goat for all of them. After he turned the office key over to me, I told him I appreciated what he had done and he would not pose anything by it. So far as he was concerned, I said, we had enough on him already and that no doubt he would like to have company. At one time in the office he pointed out a bundle of letters and said, 'here are some from the California end.' They were signed by Otto (Timothy) of San Francisco."

Hockin, formerly of Detroit, has a desk in President Frank M. Ryan's room in the union headquarters. He succeeded McNamara as secretary and in article McNamara's confession he is accused of being an instigator of dynamiting plots.

Cross-examined by attorney for the defense, Foster testified he was present under indictment charged with assault on President Ryan. The charges were that Foster entered Ryan's office and drew a revolver on him. Foster also admitted having been dishonorably discharged from the army.

BECKER LODGED IN DEATH HOUSE OF PRISON

Police Lieutenant Sentenced to Die in Electric Chair During Week of December 9; Faces Situation Bravely.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Ossining, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker is today in the "death house" at Sing Sing prison tonight under sentence to die in the electric chair during the week of December 9th, the convicted murderer of the gambler, Herman Rosenbloom. He was brought here from New York today immediately after sentence was pronounced upon him by Justice Hoff in the court room where he was found guilty six days ago.

Becker's association will be stayed, however, by the filing in the interior of a notice of appeal from the verdict. In this Becker's only hope of escape from death. His last words before the gates of the prison were shut behind him this afternoon, were: "I come here as an innocent man. I never had a chance. I was railroaded. But the law has only been bent. I expect a reversal of the verdict and a new trial."

Becker, manacled to a deputy sheriff, arrived at the prison at 1:30 o'clock, after a twenty minutes' walk through the streets of the village surrounding several hundred persons curious to see him. With stolid composure and head erect, Becker withstood the ordeal without losing his composure.

A window of the warden's office framed a tear-stained face as Becker marched up the prison walk. It was that of the convicted man's wife, who had accompanied him from New York and had driven ahead of him from the railroad station. Becker waved his hand sadly and the woman threw him a kiss.

An hour later, after the formality of taking the prisoner's pedigree had been disposed of, Becker was in his death cell in solitary confinement clad in prison garb and entered as prisoner No. 52,199. Ten other condemned murderers occupy cells in the "death house" with him.

Becker was allowed to see his husband through the steel screen of his cell door before she departed but was forbidden entrance. She purposed to make her residence in Ossining during her husband's confinement and will be allowed to visit with him daily, but not to enter his cell.

Lines Tighten Around ADRIANOPLE DEFENSES

Defenders Make Several Sorties But Are Repulsed at All Points, is News Sent from Field of Action.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Sofia, Oct. 24.—After two days fighting the Bulgarian army has gained a complete victory over the principal Turkish forces. The Turks have retreated in disorder. The town of Lule Burgas has been taken.

Public attention has been centered in the operations around Adrianople and the movements of the Bulgarians against Lule Burgas. This town is an important point in the Turkish second line of defense, which stretches from there westward to Demotica. Its capture would indicate that this second line had been broken. Should this be the case, the Turks probably would retreat to Thrace, where they possibly might make a stand.

It is officially reported that the Turkish troops at Adrianople have made several sorties, chiefly to the west and northwest but have invariably been repulsed.

TURKS PLOT TO KILL FOREIGNERS AT BEIRUT.

SULTAN CONGRATULATES NAZIM PASHA ON VICTORY.

Constantinople, Oct. 26.—The sultan sent the following message to Nazim Pasha:

"Your two telegrams announcing the success of our army caused great satisfaction. I congratulate you as well as the commanders, officers and men. May the good God make you worthy of his clemency and the favor of the prophet. May blessings be showered on you in this world as they surely will be in the next. May it please God that we shall hear soon of your complete success."

FEAR EXPRESSED OF DANGER TO CHRISTIANS IN SYRIA.

Paris, Oct. 26.—Advices today from the Ottoman empire gave evidence of anxiety over the possibility of anti-Christian outbreaks in the event of further reverses to Turkey. The government will dispatch tomorrow additional ships to Beirut. Great Britain is sending ships to Saloniki.

TERRIBLE ATROCITIES COMMITTED BY TURKS.

Athens, Oct. 26.—New and more terrible Turkish atrocities in twenty Christian villages in the Janina region are officially reported. The villages were destroyed, the inhabitants massacred, women and children assaulted and burned alive. It is also officially reported that three-fourths of the Turkish wounded at the beginning of the fighting were Christians, which is taken to mean that the Christians were placed in the forefront of the battle.

Five hundred Greeks enrolled in the Turkish army, deserted and arrived here. They will be placed in the reserves.

SEIGE OF ADRIANOPLE INCREASINGLY STRINGENT.

Vienna, Oct. 26.—The war correspondent of the Reichspost, says both the Turkish and Bulgarian armies now battling in Thrace, concentrated their strength on the eastern wing, leaving their western wings, which are believed to be engaged near Lule Burgas, comparatively weak.

The attack on the Turkish army along the Ekeke river by the Bulgarian eastern army began yesterday with a bombardment of the modern earthworks to the northwest front at Adrianople.

Additional Bulgarian howitzers were moved under cover of darkness to advantageous positions and the bombardment resumed at 8 o'clock in the morning. In two hours the infantry advanced.

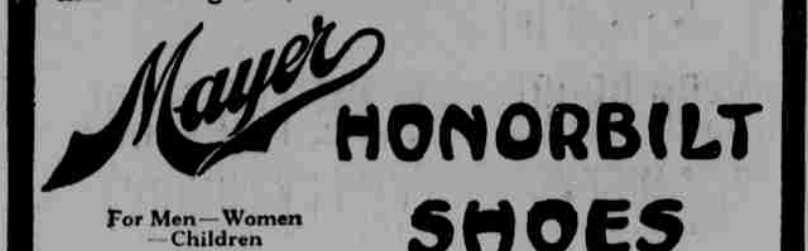

At Tchiflik, the Bulgarians were driven back in a northerly direction. The advance of the eastern group was delayed by a thick wooded country. Strong columns are moving in the direction of Sultan Bagche and Istrandis.

The investment of Adrianople is increasingly stringent. One hundred thousand Muslim refugees in the city tax its capacity.

GRAND JURY PUTS VARSITY ELEVEN TO JOHNSON PROBE OFF A WEEK LEAVE FOR PECOS VALLEY TONIGHT

Investigation is Continued Until After Election That Special Agents May Further Pursue Search for Evidence.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Chicago, Oct. 30.—Federal grand jury investigations in the relations of the negro pugilist, Jack Johnson, with white women and members of his race, precipitated by the recovery from association with him of Lucille Cameron, a Minneapolis girl, by her mother, was put over today until November 7th, or until after the election.

No work will be done by the grand jury in the interval, but agents of the department of justice, it was announced, would continue their search for evidence relating to Johnson's acts.

Mrs. Adah Banks Davis, the mulatto singer in Johnson's cafe, today testified regarding occurrences there and is said to have told inquirers about the facts that she shot Johnson in the leg during a fight of jealousy. Her husband has in court a suit for $25,000 against the pugilist, charging alienation of affections.

Charles Johnson, the negro's brother, and George Smiley, a doorman at the Johnson cafe, also testified against Johnson.

TWO BATTLESHIPS FINANCIAL WORLD YEARLY IS NEED UNSETTLED DUE SAYS TAFT TO BALKAN WAR

In Speech Following Launching of Dreadnought New York, President Declares for More Formidable Navy.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] New York, Oct. 30.—Two battleships yearly as a program necessary to keep the American navy in adequate condition were urged by President Taft as he stood on a table in the Thirtieth regiment armory in Brooklyn tonight, addressing hundreds of sailors and marines in the navy yard at Brooklyn.

The president and Secretary of the Navy Meyer, who also spoke, were guests at a banquet of the men who built the superdreadnought which was launched today. The dinner was cut short when he received word of the death of Vice President Sherman. At his request the dinner was adjourned but most of the speeches had been made.

Secretary Meyer in his speech also pleaded for a greater navy, declaring a fleet of forty-one battleships is wanted—twenty-one in an active fleet and twenty in reserve—for, he said, "in the larger caliber ships rests the defense of the country."

The president was greeted with several minutes of cheering when he entered the armory. The noise and confusion was so great when he started to speak that he found difficulty in making his voice carry. The president thereupon climbed unassisted to a chair and thence upon the table, so that he could be heard in all parts of the hall.

"I congratulate the men of the Brooklyn navy yard in making and launching this great battleship which is to add so much to the prestige and prowess of our country," the president said. "I congratulate you on the beauty of launching. Nothing occurred today that interfered with the good luck which will follow that ship through all her life."

"We hope the New York will never be used in war. Her use to the country shall be insuring peace and that all nations of the world will see that we are ready to defend ourselves if the occasion should arise."

"I believe that public opinion in this country warrants those in authority in Washington to continue building two more most formidable battleships yearly, as this is necessary to keep our navy in adequate condition."

ELECT DEMOCRATS TO CONGRESS URGES WILSON

Burlington, N. J., Oct. 30.—Governor Woodrow Wilson admittedly took a long look ahead today and made a vigorous appeal in two counties to elect a republican to send democrats to the New Jersey legislature which convenes January 1st, next.

"I am not standing alone," he said, at Wildwood. "I am not the democratic party. I cannot, as president or as governor, do anything but what great bodies of free men assist me to do and if they are Wilson men in Cape May county, they will vote the democratic ticket. If you cannot vote for these gentlemen for the legislature, do not vote for me. I am not a candidate for a pedestal. I am not a candidate to be set up in lonely dignity to suffer the intolerable disappointment of being left alone, unable to do the great things which the American people will expect of me, if they honor me with their suffrages. If you cannot back me up, do not put me up all by myself and then desert me. If you believe in me, make it possible for me to do something."

"Do not elect me captain unless you are going to give me a team. For if I am captain and either of those republican scrub teams is put alongside of me, I cannot do anything at all."

While Foreign Markets Show Optimism at the Opening, Strengthening New York Exchange, Decline Follows.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] New York, Oct. 30.—The shadows of war hung over the financial horizon again today. All foreign markets were unsettled after an early period of optimism due to reports that two of the leading European powers had arrived at an amicable understanding regarding the conflict in the Balkans.

London's early tone was one of cheerfulness on buying orders from the continent and absence of further liquidation in Canadian Pacific. That stock rose over four points abroad and almost the entire American group closed strong.

As a result of this apparent improvement our market opened with a general and substantial rise. Canadian Pacific gained over 2 points, with 1 point gains in Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Reading, Lehigh Valley, United States Steel, American Copper, Anaconda and American Smelting. Before the end of the first hour, persistent selling had wiped out most of the advance and at midday it was utterly effaced, with some issues selling under yesterday's low.

By that time news from Europe had again assumed an alarming tone, and there were signs that the foreign markets were once more under a severe strain. Short selling, especially in steel and presumably based upon yesterday's financial statement, was a factor of the declining movement which was checked in the final hour. More or less complete recoveries were then recorded, regardless of a rise of 6 per cent in rail loans, the rally continuing to the firm but dull close and with numerous net gains.

The one important railway return was that of the Reading system which showed net gain for both its lines and coal companies, the whole totaling $156,000 and a surplus income of over $800,000. Closing stocks:

Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—More courage developed today on the selling side of the wheat market than had been witnessed in some time. An understanding between Russian and Austria relative to the Turkish war, gave the bears an advance. Accordingly the market, though steady at the close, finished 1/2 @ 1/4 cent under last night.

Light from the start there was pressure to sell wheat. Improved crop conditions in Argentina, glut of receipts of Minneapolis and well stocked conditions at western European centers, added bear sentiment. December ranged from 80 1/2 to 81 cents to 91 1/2 cents, with last sales 89 1/2 cent lower at 91 1/2 @ 91 1/2 cents.

Corn for October delivery sold at the lowest price of the season and closed 3/4 cent down at 51 1/2 @ 52 cents.

Oats finished at 22 1/2 @ 23 cents. Provisions in the end stood 7 1/2 to 25 cents above last night.

Dr. Hartman Invites Doctors to Visit His Office

In my last article I referred to the fact that I have the many doctors who have and Peruna and have offered to write me testimonials. I would pay them for their trouble. The publication of these testimonials has caused some comment, especially from correspondents. This is a doctor's specialty. I should especially appreciate it if you would send some time in looking through my files. I am sure you will find the most remarkable letters you ever looked at. They tell the story of thousands of invalids who have been afflicted with some chronic catarrhal disease and have found complete relief by taking Peruna. If I should publish them all they would make a library equal in volume to any law library in the city.

Come right along, Doctor. You shall not only see the two letters referred to in my former article, but I guarantee that you will see scores of others equally as interesting and valuable. Bring as many other doctors with you as you please.

Peruna, Man-a-lin and La-cu-pia manufactured by the Peruna Company, Columbus, Ohio. Sold at all drug stores.

SPECIAL NOTICE:—Many people inquire for The Old-time Peruna. They want the Peruna that their Fathers and Mothers used to take. The old Peruna is now called Kataro. If your druggist or dealer does not keep it for sale, write the Kataro Company, Columbus, Ohio, and they will tell you all about it.—Adv.

IMMIGRATION ACT TO BE CALLED INTO PLAY

Hong Wu and Hong Lee, Chinese Taken from Baggage Car, Leave for El Paso Where They Will Have Trials

Hong Wu and Hong Lee, two Chinese who were taken from the roof of a baggage car Saturday evening, were taken last night to El Paso, where they will have hearings before United States officials under the immigration laws. Chinese captured here are generally tried under the Chinese exclusion act but this is believed to be a special case. The men have been in jail ever since their capture Saturday evening.

They were in the space above the ceiling and below the roof of the car which is supposed to be occupied by the vestibule regulator springs. The regulator had been sealed after their entrance, and this is supposed to indicate that they had outside help in making their way into the country.

RAYNOR TO RETURN WITHOUT FORCING EXTRADITION

Alleged White Slaver Tells Federal Officers That He is Willing to Make Trip Back to Denver Without Papers.

Philip Raynor, held in jail here by the federal authorities on a telegram from Denver, alleging that he had broken the laws against white slavery, declared yesterday that he was willing to return to Denver for trial without requiring extradition papers. Raynor was taken from the custody of the city authorities yesterday noon by the local United States marshal's office, and he is now in their care, though still confined in jail.

Arrangements are being made to secure an order from Judge William H. Paine for Raynor's removal from this federal district without formal appearance before that judicial officer, upon his signing a waiver of extradition. If this is done, some deputy of Marshal Secundino Romero's office will start with the prisoner for Denver as soon as the requisition papers are received.

HARVESTER PEOPLE PAID BIG SUM FOR LOBBY

Witness Testifies $8,000 Was Used in 1903 to Prevent Legislation in Kansas Regarding Certain Contracts.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Chicago, Oct. 29.—Testimony that the International Harvester Company in 1903 paid a law firm a fee of $8,000 to defeat a bill in the Kansas legislature designed to prohibit the corporation from using an exclusive agency clause in its contracts with its commission selling reports, was given today by Rodney R. Swift, former head of the law department of the McCormick Harvester Company, and later connected with the consolidated company, in the hearing of the government's dissolution suit.

Mr. Swift testified that he was instructed by Cyrus H. McCormick, president of the International Harvester Company and Charles Deering, chairman of the executive committee, to go to Kansas and attend to the matter and "fix it up."

The witness said he arranged with W. H. Rosington, of the law firm of Rosington, Hosked & Smith, of Topeka, Kansas, to prevent the passage of the bill and that later the firm presented a bill for $8,000 which was paid by the company. He said there was some delay in the payment of the bill and that Mr. Rosington was obliged to make a trip to Chicago before he received the money. Swift declared that Attorney Rosington, who died several years ago, told him that he had expended the money in preventing the passage of the bill in the Kansas legislature.

"Was the procedure in the Kansas matter unusual?" Assistant Attorney General Grosvenor asked.

"It was not unusual to employ attorneys in such matters," replied the witness.

Counsel for the government questioned the witness in regard to the binder twine factory to be operated by prison labor," said the witness.

"Was the bill passed?" inquired Attorney Grosvenor.

"Not at that time," replied the witness.

Did the International Harvester Company take steps to prevent the passage of that bill?"

"I have been told it did," said the witness.

Swift testified that the profits of the McCormick Harvester Company aggregated $16,000,000 for the year 1900, 1901, and 1902, although the corporation was capitalized for but $2,500,000.

O'RIELLY DRUG CO. SUCCESSFUL

Induced Dr. Howard Co. to Make Special Prices.

After a great deal of effort and correspondence the J. H. O'Reilly Drug Co., the popular druggists, have succeeded in getting the Dr. Howard Co. to make a special half price introductory offer on the regular fifty-cent size of their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia.

This medicine is a recent discovery, for the cure of all diseases of the stomach and bowels. It not only gives quick relief, but it makes permanent cures.

Dr. Howard's Specific has been so remarkably successful in curing constipation, dyspepsia, and all liver troubles that the O'Reilly Drug Co. is willing to return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief.

Headaches, coated tongue, dizziness, gas on stomach, specks before the eyes, constipation and all forms of liver and stomach trouble are soon cured by this scientific medicine.

So great is the demand for this specific that the O'Reilly Drug Co. has been able to secure only a limited supply, and every one who is troubled with dyspepsia, constipation or liver trouble should call upon them at once, or send 25 cents and get sixty doses of the best medicine ever made, on this special half price offer with their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.—Adv.

Presidency Made Attractive by Marine Band

Magnificent Music Furnished by National Organization is Chief Cause for Present Political Unrest.

It's out at last! The secret of present national discord is disclosed; the real animus of the bitterness in the presidential campaign is discovered.

After all these weary months of wrangling, we learn why it is Roosevelt can't get enough. Taft refuses to quit his job, and Wilson wants to further educate himself at the nation's expense.

The United States Marine band is the real fundamental reason for all the political unrest! Wilson wants the band for his musical education. Taft feels he can't get along without it, and the country, and its people, know that the irreplaceable Teddy hasn't enjoyed a contented moment since he lost his job of leading the Marine band.

Which is breaking it to you gently that the Marine band made a tremendous hit at Elks theater last night and in making it so he said that such a band is enough to set the presidential two buzzing in anybody's bonnet.

The large number who enjoyed the inspiring music, for one night, can imagine how delightful it would be to have such a wonderful organization at your back and call to have them drop around and play while one dined, and to be able to have a serene every night of the year is undeniably justified—and leave it to the Marine band to get the musical inclinations, as well as the pedal extremities going.

Their local appearance demonstrated the fact that Albuquerque is alive musically. The audience taxed the capacity of Elks theater, and the program throughout was one of illuminating beauty. The program was classical, march and popular music, and a magnificent example of tone marked each and every selection. The bright red coats of the bandmen, their inspiring music, and the enthusiasm of the audience went to make the scene one of unusual brilliance, a brilliancy which but grew as the evening advanced.

The leader, Lieutenant William H. Steinmann, has and the Creative Gymnastics, but the Sousa tracks, but what he lacks in physical stunts, he makes up for with a sure and steady button, and absolute discipline and control over his bandmen.

The men are recruited from civilian ranks, and not from the ranks of soldiers. They are instrumentalists of efficiency, offered sufficient financial inducement in Tufts Sam, so as to make service in the national service well worth while. As the best of talent is there, as well as the most capable training and the result is wonderfully beautiful music, such as we have not the opportunity of hearing many times in a lifetime.

Walter F. Smith acted as second leader and the soloists were Miss Mary Shorier, dramatic soprano; Mr. Jacques L. Vanpoucke, clarinet; and Peter Lawin, xylophone. All were perfect in their lines and secured big hits last night.

Lieut. Steinmann was generous in his encores, and the additions to the program were popular selections, and these took especially well with the audience.

One of Steinmann's own compositions was included in the program, a waltz, "The Fanchette," and it proved a favorite number, one which was repeatedly encores, as were the several solos, for the matter of that, and every single selection played.

One number was not down on the regular program, and followed the announcement from the stage by Assistant Director Smith of Vice President Sherman's death. The audience was requested to stand for the playing of "Nearer, My God to Thee," out of respect to the dead statesman's memory. Impressively beautiful it was, and followed up by "The Star Spangled Banner," the selection proved a fitting ending to an evening of highly cultured music and exquisitely subdued effects in brass.

EL PASO BOOSTERS WANT SOUVENIRS OF STAY HERE

Secretary T. J. Naylor, of the Commercial Club, to Send Them Pennants, Photographs and Other Articles.

The El Paso Chamber of Commerce, whose representatives recently spent an hour here on their "Get Acquainted" trip through the southwest, has requested that some pennants, photographs or other souvenirs of their stay here be sent them by the local Commercial club.

The El Paso boosters wish to dedicate a corner of their club rooms to the display of articles collected from various points along their 2,400-mile trip and Albuquerque will thus get a chance to be advertised in an unique way.

Secretary T. J. Naylor, of the Commercial club, to whom the request was sent, is busy collecting a series of small articles that will make attractive souvenirs, and will send them to El Paso free, disregarding the offer of the El Paso boosters to pay for whatever may be sent.

The letter requesting the souvenirs is from Rufe P. March, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and contains several sentences that indicate the alliance of interests with Albuquerque felt by El Pasoans generally.

BOYS' ORPHANAGE EXPECTED SOON TO BE REALITY

Committee on Subscription Starts Work of Raising Necessary Fifteen Thousand Dollars; Generous Responses.

That the proposed orphanage for boys to be established in this city is to be a reality before many months, now seems assured. Yesterday the committee to raise the necessary fund of $15,000 to build and equip the orphanage, began the solicitation of funds.

This committee, which is composed of Rev. Father A. M. Mandalari, Hon. O. N. Marron, Dr. Mendel Silber and Mayor D. K. B. Sellers, started its work with an individual subscription of $2,000 from Archbishop J. B. Phelan of Santa Fe, and $1,000 from the First National bank of Albuquerque. The subscription list is expected to be added to rapidly from day to day until the necessary $15,000 is raised.

The prospects are that the necessary amount will be over subscribed.

WILSON WILL GET A BIG MAJORITY IN ARIZONA

State Senator Isaac Barth Declares That Democratic Nominee Will Poll 4,000 More Votes Than Opponents.

That Governor Wilson would poll a majority of all votes cast in Arizona at the coming presidential election was the statement made yesterday by State Senator Isaac Barth, on the occasion of his return from the sister state. Senator Barth declared that an official estimate from a prominent member of the progressive party had been given him, and that this showed 14,000 votes for Wilson. Roosevelt was scheduled to get 4,000, according to this estimate, and that 2,000.

Senator Barth said that he had great faith in the estimate and believed it would be vindicated by the actual results when these were known.

That Governor Wilson would poll a majority of all votes cast in Arizona at the coming presidential election was the statement made yesterday by State Senator Isaac Barth, on the occasion of his return from the sister state. Senator Barth declared that an official estimate from a prominent member of the progressive party had been given him, and that this showed 14,000 votes for Wilson. Roosevelt was scheduled to get 4,000, according to this estimate, and that 2,000.

RUNAWAY SISTER AND BIG BROTHER LEAVE FOR HOME IN VEGAS

Etta Jones, the pretty 17-year-old girl taken from No. 7 here Tuesday night, returned to her home in Las Vegas yesterday afternoon on No. 2, accompanied by the big brother whom she claimed had named her. Etta ran away from her mother, Mrs. C. E. Jones, of 1003 Diamond street, because the brother did not treat her as well as she thought he should, and because her mother would not allow her to have all the company she wished.

The girl spent the night in a local hotel, under guard of a special police patrol.

She had hoped to obtain employment as a waitress in one of the local restaurants.

PARTY OF TWELVE RESIDENTS WARNED AUTO TOURISTS VISITING CITY

Traveling in Two Big Stanley Steamers, Colorado Springs-to-Pacific Coast Excursionists Make Stopover.

There arrived in Albuquerque last night a party of twelve automobile tourists, who are traveling from Colorado Springs, Colo., to Los Angeles, via the Grand canyon. The party is traveling in two huge Stanley steamers, the tourist sightseeing type. One of the cars is used to carry the party, while the other has been converted into a truck, which is packed high with camp-equipment, supplies, tires, oil, gasoline, water, etc.

In the party, which is being handled by E. M. Fishback and George Keener, of Colorado Springs, who are engaged in the automobile tourist business during the summer months, operating a number of sightseeing cars between Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek, are Mrs. Fishback, Miss Irene Rogers, of Wichita, Kan.; M. J. Skinner, R. M. McGruder, wife and baby, Mr. McGruder being the official photographer of the party; Frank Cole, who is acting as pilot; Joe Twitty and Mrs. Keener, mother of Mr. Keener, and his sister.

The party left Colorado Springs ten days ago, coming into New Mexico over Raton pass. Here the excursionists headed west across the mountains to the quaint and picturesque Taos pueblo. Taos the autoists came south to Santa Fe. This part of the trip was by far the most difficult yet attempted, it being necessary to practically build forty miles of road between Taos and Santa Fe. After a day spent in the capital, the party came on to Albuquerque, reaching here late last evening.

According to Mr. Fishback, the party will spend today here. They will go west via northwestern New Mexico, branching off at Flagstaff, Ariz., for the Grand canyon.

Large signs adorn the automobiles, announcing that Texaco oil and gas are being used on the trip from Albuquerque west.

It is planned to reach Los Angeles, the western terminus of the trip, about November 15th.

So far the trip has been thoroughly enjoyed by every member of the party and there have been no accidents to mar the pleasures of the excursionists. If all goes well, Messrs. Fishback and Keener will make three trips each year hereafter, during the fall and winter months, to the Pacific coast and return, from Colorado Springs.

TWO HUNDRED HEAR PROGRESSIVES AT BARELAS

Big Rally Addressed by John Baron Burg, Seferino Crolott and Other Local Leaders of Third Party.

More than two hundred heard the issues of the campaign discussed in Barelas last night, when John Baron Burg, progressive member of the lower house of the legislature from this county, and many others delivered campaign speeches.

Mr. Burg's address was the real feature of the evening, not longer than his usual brief talks. He presented the issues in fine style and because of his clear and concise manner of stating the questions now facing the people, with his ideas of the proper remedies, received considerable applause.

Other speakers were Seferino Crolott, Alansio Montoya and Mexico C. Ortiz, all of whom are identified with the progressive movement in this county.

MISCHIEVOUS BOYS PLACE TORPEDO ON STREET CAR TRACK

Some energetic but mischievous small boys placed a torpedo on the street car track at Second street and Central avenue yesterday evening about 7 o'clock, and thereby caused considerable excitement when the next passing car exploded it. People came running from all directions, believing that someone had been shot, but after a few minutes the truth was arrived at and the stir settled down.

ADVANCE SEAT SALE FOR "THE ROSARY" OPENS THIS MORNING

The advance seat sale for "The Rosary," the attraction at Elks' theater on Saturday afternoon and night, opens this morning at Matson's. It is expected that the attraction will draw two large audiences, since the play is one of the most widely known dramas now appearing on the American stage. It is a dramatization of the novel by the same name.

Progressive meeting Saturday night, 8 o'clock, 204 W. Gold avenue. Speeches by prominent men. Free body invited.

TO PREPARE FOR HALLOWE'EN

Tonight and Everything Not Nailed Down is Apt to Wander Mysteriously Away.

All residents of Albuquerque are warned to take proper precautions to protect their property tonight, for this is Halloween and the small boy will be abroad in the land. The police will exercise extra care and any one caught carrying on mischief will be taken to jail as a warning to others.

There will be the usual number of Halloween parties given by churches, schools, societies and individuals and if you meet a tall, dark, irregular, light, hazy, short, distinct or otherwise described figure in a white sheet, cheer up, it will only be a guest at some of these.

Halloween is a relic of pagan times and is celebrated annually on the eve or night of All Saints' day, or, as some call it, All Hallow's. It comes each year on the thirty-first of October.

In the north of England it is sometimes called nutcrack night and in Scotland the ceremonies of the evening were formerly regarded as a highly superstitious night. Burns' "Hallowe'en" gives a humorous description of these events. The principal object of curiosity in all the superstitious means, whereby glimpses at the future are supposed to be secured, deal with the disclosure of the identity of one's future partner in life. Children born on Hallowe'en are supposed to have the faculty of seeing and conversing with supernatural beings.

Dr. Hope has moved his office to 313 1/2 West Central avenue, over Kistler & Collier.

POLICE CAPTAIN IS SERVED WITH ONE MORE WARRANT

P. O'Grady Alleged to Have Acted as Trial Judge and Fined Frank Rojas Fifty Dollars October 12th.

Police Captain P. O'Grady was last night served with a second warrant sworn out by Frank Rojas before Justice of the Peace Jose E. Romero. This warrant alleges that on October 12th O'Grady arrested Rojas and after taking upon himself the functions of a judicial officer, fined and collected $50 from him. Rojas' allegation is that the charge laid against him was vague.

This warrant is believed by O'Grady to be spite work, just as he claims was the first warrant, one charging assault with intent to commit murder.

He stated last night that he believed his best course would be to swear out warrants for all concerned in the complaints against him for malicious persecution as soon as this case was out of court.

RESULTS IN ADVANCE.

LAST PROGRESSIVE RALLY OCCURS ON SATURDAY

Roosevelt-DeBaca Club Rooms to be Scene of Enthusiastic Gathering at Close of Active Campaign.

Men known all over the state will be the speakers at the final progressive rally which will be held in the rooms of the Roosevelt-DeBaca club Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. As this rally will end the speechmaking work for this city, so far as the progressives are concerned, it will likely be a notable event from more than one standpoint. Included in the speakers will be Hon. G. W. Prichard, of Santa Fe, Hon. J. Leahy, of Raton; Hon. John Baron Burg and others of statewide prominence. All citizens are cordially invited by the club to attend and hear the addresses of these speakers, who will discuss each point of the platform and principles of the progressive party.

FERGUSON ABSENT BECAUSE OF BAD WEATHER

Democratic Nominee's Voice Beginning to Show Strain of Campaign and He Remains Indoors Last Night.

Because of the very inclement weather last night, Hon. H. B. Ferguson, democratic candidate for congressman, whose voice has lately begun to show signs of the strenuous use to which it has been put in this campaign, stayed at home, although a fair crowd had assembled in the court house in Old Albuquerque to hear him. There was also a crowd in Barelas which expected him to appear.

Mr. Ferguson telephoned a personal message to the democratic leaders to express his deep regret at his inability to attend the meetings, but declared that he dared not risk what voice he had left by coming out in the rain.

At the court house, Felix H. Lester, M. C. Vigil and others addressed the meeting. Mr. Lester's address was the longest and contained a number of valuable facts for those present. He declared that it was absolutely certain that Woodrow Wilson would be elected president, and equally certain that Mr. Ferguson would be elected congressman.

The meeting was an enthusiastic one, and rounds of applause interrupted the speaker whenever he mentioned either Mr. Ferguson or Governor Wilson.

Mr. Vigil made a brief statement of the inability of Mr. Ferguson to address the meeting, but promised on his behalf that he would be there for a short speech on the evening of the day before election.

FINE CROWD ATTENDS MEETING AT BARELAS.

A large crowd attended the meeting at Barelas, and although everyone present regretted the absence of Mr. Ferguson, yet all stayed to hear the speakers who talked instead of the congressman. The meeting was enthusiastic and applause was frequent.

State Senator Isaac Barth was the first speaker of the evening, and discussed the issues of the campaign in masterly fashion. Mr. Barth spoke in Spanish, as did Manuel U. Vigil, district attorney, who followed him on the platform. R. L. Wootton delivered a fiery old-time democratic speech, and Felix H. Lester, delivered his second speech of the evening, along practically the same lines as those of his first one.
