DECISIVE BATTLE RAGES BETWEEN BULGARIANS AND TURKS

Uninterruptedly, the struggle has gone on day and night during half a week of desperate fighting.

MOHAMMEDANS CLAIM ADVANTAGES SO FAR

Movement to front continues; precautions taken to preserve Constantinople from disorder.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Constantinople, Nov. 2.—(1 a. m.)—Whatever the issue of the terrible battle now taking on the western slopes of the Taurus mountains in Thrace, it undoubtedly will be reckoned among the world's greatest struggles. Almost uninterruptedly for four days and three nights the battle has proceeded, the moon having afforded sufficient light at night for the armies to continue their force onslaughts.

Turks and Bulgarians are locked in a struggle which will be broken only by the decisive defeat of one or the other.

The fourth of news from the front Wednesday and Thursday had given the feeling of despondency, and pessimistic rumors of Turkish reverses gained currency. Today official reports proved these rumors to be unfounded.

Telegrams from various sources gave favorable accounts of the military situation and the troops commanded by Mahmud Muhtar Pasha in the vicinity of Vias were especially commended.

The Turkish forces were reported not merely to have been holding their own, but to have effected an important advance which was threatening the Bulgarian rear. It was this Turkish advance which has been the subject of the Bulgarian press.

It is alleged that, realizing the gravity of the situation, the Bulgarian commanders have withdrawn the army at Kustendie and their forces before Adrianople and that these troops are being hurried to support the center of the main Bulgarian army.

Some idea of the desperate nature of the fighting is gathered from the fact that more than 5,000 wounded soldiers arrived in Constantinople last night from the front. Fortunately a majority of the soldiers drilled clean holes in their helmets and these holes healed rapidly. A batch of deserters arrived with the wounded.

Indignation and surprise were expressed here today over the fact that a Greek torpedo boat had succeeded in entering the Gulf of Saloniki last night, despite the mines and heavily armed forts, and had blown up the Turkish battleship Feth-i-Bulend. The commander of the forts will be called to account for permitting this incursion.

The movement of troops to the front continues. A battalion of Kurdish and Albanian volunteers marched through the streets of Pera to the way to the railway station. The men were cheered and appeared to be in the best of spirits.

As a result of a meeting Thursday of the heads of the diplomatic missions to consider the situation in Constantinople, the Marquis de Pallavicini, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps, today visited Noradunghian Effendi, the foreign minister, and called his attention to the necessity of adequate measures to maintain order in the city.

Among the measures the government has in mind in event of further Turkish reverses is the dispatch of an army division to stop all fugitive soldiers between Thessalonica and Constantinople. The city at present is tranquil, business is proceeding as usual, though the keenest interest is being taken in the military drama in the Thracian hills.

Essad Pasha, commander of the Turkish forces at Scutari, telegraphed under date of October 20 to the commander of the Turkish corps at Saloniki, said:

"Send me some Turkish troops. It is impossible to hold out at this place with Albanians alone." Essad Pasha himself is an Albanian.

At Kilkis, a town of 15,000 inhabitants, sixty-four miles southeast of Scutari in the village of Monastir, only 2,000 out of the 10,000 Albanians responded when called to the arms. The Turkish commander there is asking for Turkish troops.

The condition of refugees who are arriving from Kilkis and Adrianople is most pitiable. Some 10,000 of them, including women and children are camping in the court yards of the mosques and there is danger of an epidemic.

Three Turkish officers committed suicide at Kilkis when the panic arising from the defeat of Turkish troops by the Bulgarians set in.

With M. Sazonoff, the Russian foreign minister, in which he expresses the hope that the war in the Balkans may be localized, but declares that Russia can not join the powers in a peace compact at any price.

M. Sazonoff lays stress on the readiness of the Russian arms for battle, but says he thinks the economic interests of Austria, and the other powers, can be satisfied without a resort to hostilities.

FRANCE HOPES PROGRAM MAY AVERT GREAT WAR.
Paris, Nov. 1.—A policy of territorial indifference in the Balkans, if France, Russia and Great Britain have their way, will replace the now discredited shibboleth of "status quo," as a basis of collective action by the great powers, should the time arrive for a redistribution of power in Turkey through the victory of the allied Balkan states over the Turks.

This self-sacrificing ordinance would apply only to the nations constituting the concert of Europe, as there is no longer any suggestion of opposing the aspirations of the Balkans for national unity.

It is recognized that the Balkan states must have their respective spheres of territory, should the Turks finally acknowledge defeat, but it is feared that any attempt of outsiders to put their hands in the grab bag would lead to the European conflagration.

A full agreement as to the new formula which is to cement the accord of the powers has not been reached. France, Russia and Great Britain are ready to subscribe to it, but Germany, Austria and Italy hesitate.

The alleged understanding between Austria and Serbia on the subject of the status of Novi-Pazar and Saloniki, it having been hoped here Austria had finally decided that Saloniki was not worth a war and would clear the way for the new program, was depicted tonight by the Serbian minister to Paris.

M. Poincaré, the French minister, who is working untiringly for peace, does not despair of rallying all the powers under the banner of disinterestedness which he believes is the surest means of avoiding a general war.

HAND-TO-HAND FIGHTING AT LULE BURGAS.
Vienna, Nov. 1.—In the battle at Lule Burgas, the reservists from Austria Minor fought with great courage in hand-to-hand conflicts with the Bulgarians, but despite the fact that the Turks continually brought fresh reserves their lines were broken and they were forced to retreat.

The fight was of the same character as that at Kirk-Kiliseh. The Turks began by a courageous rush, but then broke ranks and were seized with panic which spread to the army corps of four Turkish divisions and the 45,000 men were put to flight and dispersed in confusion.

On the right wing the Turks had entrenched themselves in several strong lines, one on each side of Lule Burgas. The Bulgarian artillery took up a position on the flank of the entrenched elements and shelled the Turkish lines. The Bulgarian infantry in the fighting showed remarkable contempt for death. The defeat of the Turkish army was complete.

WIFE'S TESTIMONY ACQUITS HUSBAND OF MURDER

Startling Story Told on Witness Stand in Toliver Homicide Trial Influences Jury in Favor of Defendant.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] San Diego, Cal., Nov. 1.—Hubert C. Lewis was found not guilty of the murder of Mrs. Kate Toliver by a jury in the superior court tonight. The jury was out ten hours.

Lewis shot and killed James H. Toliver and his wife, Kate Toliver, six months ago. He declared the Tolivers had wronged his young wife, and in the trial just ended, Mrs. Lewis gave testimony which undoubtedly influenced the jury to render its verdict of acquittal. She swore that after Toliver, who was well-to-do, had sent her husband to San Francisco on a business mission, she was invited to the Toliver residence one evening and told by Mrs. Toliver that Lewis had seduced her. Mrs. Toliver, according to the testimony, advised her to seek the consolation of another man, and when she resisted this advice, Toliver appeared from a closet and attacked her with the assistance of Mrs. Toliver.

Mrs. Lewis testified that Mrs. Toliver, explaining her conduct afterwards, said she had assisted in the attack to placate her husband, whom she feared was about to desert her. Mrs. Lewis said she did not tell her husband of the attack until he had first received an inkling of it through her talking in her sleep. When she related all the details, she declared, he became temporarily deranged.

Various alibis were given conflicting testimony as to Lewis' mental state.

Charles H. Toliver, the slain man, was best known in California as an inventor of airships. A charge of murder in connection with his death still hangs over Lewis.

BULGARIAN SUCCESS NOT AS REPORTED

Allies Propose to Dictate Peace from Constantinople; No Interference is Wanted from Great Powers.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] London, Nov. 1.—The perplexity arising from the policy of the governments engaged in war in southeastern Europe in totally excluding newspaper correspondents from the zone of hostilities is more pronounced than ever tonight.

An extraordinary series of dispatches from Nazim Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, claiming that the Turkish army has recaptured Rumeliasar and was still holding its own against the Bulgarian advances, was published in Constantinople today.

In the absence of independent testimony, however, various assumptions as to the accuracy of these telegrams are possible.

They may be belated despatches, referring to early stages of the struggle or may be misrepresentations for the benefit of the Turkish population.

On the other hand they may mean that the Bulgarian victory was not so complete as was reported by Sofia, or possibly the one division of Turkish reserves the reports of yesterday said had been ordered to the Turkish center, may be holding back the Bulgarian advance.

Except for the general statement that the Turkish armies were retreating on Chindia, fighting near guard actions, no details of the battle were forthcoming from Sofia today, but the arrival of its thousand wounded men in Constantinople, told its own story of the sanguinary character of the encounter. Despite optimistic reports from the Turkish side, it is not believed here that the Turkish army can retrieve itself.

All indications from Sofia are that the allies are determined to dictate terms for peace from Constantinople. That is the construction placed on an editorial from the official newspaper, published at Sofia, and in other official intimations that the Bulgarians apparently expect to be in Constantinople within a fortnight.

Whether this will be possible depends upon the strength of the Chindia fortified lines, which for nearly a century have been considered an impenetrable stronghold from which the Turks would guard the world to expect them.

Diplomatic activity over the situation continues in the European capitals, but the Balkan allies, in their present mood, are not disposed to ward any European interference.

The most interesting feature of the war news today was the brilliant exploit of a Greek torpedo boat in sinking a Turkish battleship at Saloniki Thursday night.

News was received from Adrianople today, Tarkish and Soutari are still holding out, despite continuous bombardment by the Montenegrins.

British and French warships arrived at Saloniki tonight for the protection of their nations.

TURKS REPORT VICTORY OVER BULGARIAN FORCES.
Constantinople, Nov. 1.—The Turkish army has recaptured the town of Rumeliasar from the Bulgarians and also has defeated the Bulgarians in the vicinity of Vias, according to despatches received here this afternoon from Nazim Pasha, commander-in-chief of the Turkish forces.

Nazim's despatches say that the Bulgarian losses were heavy and that the Turkish army corps have been ordered to advance. The despatch, announcing the recapture of Rumeliasar was sent by Nazim Pasha at 4:45 o'clock this afternoon. It is said that the Bulgarian column had been cut off.

"Our right wing has been advancing since yesterday from Vias. Mahmud Muhtar Pasha's army has captured the Bulgarian column and all of our army corps have been ordered to advance."

A communication sent by Nazim Pasha to the Sultan said that the Bulgarian forces gradually were being hemmed in on four sides. It especially commended the conduct of his troops at Vias who were said to be fighting with splendid devotion and courage.

A still earlier dispatch from the Turkish commander-in-chief, dated Thursday, said the Bulgarians had sustained heavy losses in Wednesday's fighting at Rumeliasar and that a quantity of artillery pieces, rifles, ammunition and other equipment had been captured by the Turks.

Rumeliasar is in Thracian, about forty miles southeast of Kirk-Kiliseh.

day sent the following report of the incident to the government:

"The forces of Rumeliasar were flushed from their positions and the Karayozma and the mouth of the Yavdar rivers, but I passed safely in. In making full steam for Saloniki, I arrived at 11:20 o'clock in the evening."

"I discovered a Turkish cruiser at the left extremity of a pier. At the right extremity there were other vessels, including a Russian warship."

"I maneuvered cautiously and occupied a distance of 150 metres from the starboard side of my vessel. Then turning slightly to the left, I launched another from the port side. Then I steamed away at full speed to a safe distance and again turning, I discharged a third torpedo at the breakwater."

"Then such an explosion was heard that we thought a cannon had been fired on land. After the first explosion we noticed lights moving about on the pier and heard whistles blown. The officers' quarters were lit up by the explosion which occurred at a spot a little forward of the breakwater."

"Dense volumes of smoke poured from the funnel and the vessel fled forward by the bow. I then discharged a fourth torpedo, passing in front of Rumeliasar, which certainly had been apprised of the event from Saloniki, as the fortress blazed all of its searchlights."

"As we passed unnoticed, I carried out a promise previously made my numbers and fired a shot at the fortress from a range of 2,500 metres."

FLEEING CONVICTS SHOT IN BATTLE WITH POSSE

Two Escaped Prisoners from Wyoming Penitentiary Over-taken After a Sensational Chase; Third Gets Away.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Rawlins, Wyo., Nov. 1.—Richardson and Backstrom, two of the convicts who escaped from the Wyoming penitentiary here on October 12th, were killed by a posse last night near Poudre Springs on the Colorado-Wyoming line, according to telephone messages received here late today.

A fierce battle took place when the posse, headed by Sheriff Terrell and Deputy Sheriff Ogee, finally cornered the fugitives after a chase of more than two weeks. Burke, a third convict, escaped. None of the posse were shot.

Richardson, Backstrom and Burke, three of the most desperate among the eight convicts who escaped on October 12th, killing one citizen and stabbing another, had remained together in their flight through the hills southward toward Colorado, eluding the pursuers time after time.

All three were armed, and they stole food and ammunition along the way. Several possums have been constantly on their trail, but they succeeded in keeping ahead of their pursuers until last night.

The bodies of the dead convicts will be brought to Rawlins. The pursuit of Burke is being continued.

TWO ARRESTED AS PARTICIPANTS IN BANK ROBBERY

Capture of Badly Wanted Fugitives at Columbus, Ohio, May Clear Up Looting of Westminster Institution.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Columbus, Nov. 1.—The arrest of H. E. Campbell and Joseph Gavin here today by detectives from Chicago, may lead to a clearing up of the robbery of a bank at New Westminster, B. C., on September 15, 1911, the police declare.

Leon Wilson, of Chicago, a friend of "Big Charley" Montague, now being searched for all over the country for alleged complicity in the robbery, tonight identified Campbell, who claims to be an advertising solicitor, as a brother of "Big Charley."

At first it was believed Campbell was "Big Charley" himself. When the home of Campbell was searched here pictures of James W. Stacey and Frank West were found. Stacey is under arrest in Chicago, charged with an attempt to kill the fugitive Burke. Burns was arrested and located in a saloon when he attempted to arrest "Big Charley" Montague and others, single-handed, for the robbery.

Campbell and his wife came here six weeks ago and Gavin has been rooming at their home.

OPPOSING ARMIES IN MURDEROUS ENGAGEMENT

Startling Assault Executed by Bulgars Met with Desperate Resistance by Troops of Sultan, Aided by Reserves.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] New York, Nov. 1.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt for the second time in three days, tonight addressed an immense audience in Madison Square Garden.

There had preceded him to the garden, through the medium of Comptroller Prendergast, chairman of the meeting, a request that no effort be made by the crowd to cheer him beyond the limit of time accorded last night in the same hall to Governor Wilson.

"When Colonel Roosevelt raised his left hand," said Mr. Prendergast, "he asks you to allow him to proceed with his speech because he desires a record next Tuesday in the voting, rather than a record tonight in the duration of the cheers."

It was twenty-five minutes before his uplifted hand brought the cheering to an end. After it had gone on for twenty minutes he raised his arm, but the crowd renewed its cheers and he dropped the arm to his side. Again he made the gesture, but an outbreak of cheering and shouting from the roof of the garden and then the crowd was in an uproar.

When he could finally make himself heard the colonel, declaring that

Nathan Jaffa and His Position on the Blue Ballot

Nathan Jaffa, the republican candidate for congress, was last year secretary of the territory. As secretary of the territory, he used his official position in an effort to defeat the Blue Ballot. If he should be elected to congress, would he again lend his office and again vote for the corporations? The old republican ring which voted against the Blue Ballot amendment to our constitution nominated Mr. Jaffa for congress. They were able to use him last year in their fight on the Blue Ballot against the people of New Mexico. Would he, if elected to congress, be their servant or the servant of the people? Mr. Jaffa in one instance was the servant of the corporations and the republican ring and not of all the people, as is proven by the official letter issued by him and Governor Mills in an effort to defeat the Blue Ballot. However, read this for yourself. Here is the letter:

WILLIAM J. MILLS, Governor,
Executive Mansion,
October 14, 1911.

"To the People of New Mexico:
"As we have received a number of inquiries as to the effect of the vote on the Blue Ballot amendment in the election to be held on November 7th, 1911, we deem it best to state:

"First—It is not necessary to adopt the Blue Ballot amendment in order to secure statehood for New Mexico.

"The resolution of congress expressly states that if the Blue Ballot amendment is not adopted New Mexico shall be admitted into the union as a state under the constitution adopted by the people in January, 1911.

"Second—It is not necessary to adopt the Blue Ballot amendment in order that the people may hereafter amend the present constitution.

"Excepting only those provisions which guarantee the elective franchise and the civil and political rights of the Spanish-American citizens, the constitution of New Mexico can be amended in any way desired by a clear majority of the voters of the state, provided one-half the counties give a majority in favor thereof.

"Third—It is not necessary to adopt the Blue Ballot amendment in order to amend Section V of Article XXI, which contains the English language qualification for state officers and members of the legislature, being the section inserted in the constitution because it was required by the enabling act.

"Congress has now repealed the clause of the enabling act which contains that requirement and Section IV of Article XIX of the constitution provides that the legislature may propose any amendment to Article XXI by a majority vote and that such amendment may be ratified by the people by a majority vote.

"Fourth—As to all other matters than those above mentioned, amendments to the New Mexico constitution may be proposed and submitted more easily than in a majority of the states of the union, and any such amendment may be ratified by the affirmative vote of a majority of the electors provided that such amendments shall be approved by a majority of the voters in at least half the counties in the state. TAFT MAKES PLEA FOR PROTECTION TO AMERICAN BEET SUGAR

President Insists Democrats Mean to Cripple Great Industry by Putting It in Competition with Foreigners.

ADMITS ABUSES IN CONSERVATION POLICY

Says Homesteaders and People with Desert Claims Dealt with Unfairly by His Administration.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Washington, Nov. 1.—A letter from President Taft to Crawford Hall, of Denver, dealing with issues of the campaign, was made public tonight. It follows:

"Encouraging reports have come to me in regard to the political situation in Colorado. From the beginning I have felt certain that the campaign of education which the republican party is conducting would bring the people to a clear understanding of their own interests in republican success this year. The men and women of Colorado need the republican party so much that it would seem almost unnecessary to urge them to retain these economic policies that have made their state great and prosperous."

"I am sure that every man whose judgment is not controlled by his prejudice now realizes that this is a campaign between the republican and the democratic parties. It is apparent that the third party movement has not gained headway as a national force and that again the alternative is presented to the American people either to support the protective policy the government to those who are committed to repeat the experiment which resulted in a commercial explosion when last it was tried."

"Those who live in a purified atmosphere have a wider range of vision than those whose homes are in the lowlands. But the people of Colorado do not need their vantage of altitude to see that democratic victory means the striking down of a great industry which has been built up in their state. It does not require a profound knowledge of the principles of political economy, but only common sense, to understand that the placing of sugar on the free list would spell ruin for those of our fellow citizens who are engaged in the cultivation of the sugar beet."

"The democratic party is committed to free sugar and if it is successful at the polls we may expect as one of its first legislative acts the passage of a bill to admit sugar duty-free from our ports of entry. Democratic orators may talk until their throats are hoarse of their interest in the American farmer, but the fact remains that in March of this year the governing tariff body of the democratic party, the democratic members of the ways and means committee, by unanimous vote passed the bill to place sugar on the free list and this bill was passed by a democratic house."

"Our present crop of beet sugar constitutes 15 per cent of the annual consumption of the United States. We have seventy-one beet sugar factories in sixteen states—Colorado and Michigan leading with seventeen factories each. Thousands of American farmers are engaged in the cultivation of the sugar beet and the factories which buy their product employ about 25,000 men."

"The republican party stands for adequate protection of the beet sugar industry of this country. Such protection is in the interest of the United States treasury. It contributes to the growth of our national irrigation and reclamation and it is the shield of the American consumer against an increased price for a household necessity."

"Free sugar cannot be defended from any angle. It is in conflict with the theory of a tariff for revenue only and its effect would be to make almost certain the monopolistic control of a great industry. It would diminish the revenue of the government $52,000,000 annually and by reducing the world's production by nearly 1,000,000 tons a year, raise the price of sugar to the consumer. Permanently lower prices for sugar in the United States and freedom from European speculative markets can only be secured by protecting our sugar under the American flag."

"The American production of sugar, both cane and beet, has been made possible by the present tariff policy of the republican party. Cane sugar production dates back to long before the war, but the beet sugar industry is of recent growth. In 1897 when the Dingley tariff law was enacted there were only six beet sugar factories in the United States. Now there are seventy-one."

"The first congress passed on July 4, 1789, a general tariff act, included in which was a duty on sugar, from that time to the present, sugar has always paid a duty except during the operation of the McKinley law, which placed raw sugar on the free list and levied one-half per cent per pound on refined sugar, but spared the interests of the domestic producer by giving a 2 cent a pound bounty on all sugar produced in the United States.

"If the United States should abolish the duty on sugar it would stand alone among civilized nations as the only sugar producing country with sugar on the free list. The production of beet sugar has a tendency to keep down the price of sugar to the consumer. Free sugar would force the suspension of our beet sugar factories, for they would not only be forced to compete with cheap foreign factories, but they would be under the further handicap imposed by a bounty of 72 cents per 100 pounds of sugar shipped to the United States from Russia, the second largest beet sugar country in the world. I cannot believe that the intelligent voters of your state are willing to put the grovers of Colorado into competition with the peasants of Russia on these terms."
"Permit me to say a word also, with regard to another subject in which Colorado and other neighboring states are interested. Your great western country needs development. It must have men and capital and it must be able to offer inducement to attract both. The republican party does not believe in a conservation policy that would tie up our natural resources and deny their use to the homesteader, miner and capitalist."

"We are holding the part of the domain that has coal, phosphate and oil and congress shall make provision for its disposition by lease on profitable terms to private capital with the retention of sufficient title in the government to control and prevent monopoly in ownership and consequent exorbitant charge to the public for these commodities."
The problem which the republican party is solving is how to have and how to utilize, how to conserve and still develop, for no sane person can contend that it is for the common good that nature's blessings are only for future generations."

"There is no foundation for the complaint in the west that the laws have not been administered with a liberal view to the accomplishment of their purpose, but rather in a spirit which has put as many obstructions as possible in the way of earning title from the government."
"This condition followed a crusade of muck raking which reached a point where there seemed to be real hostility to the acquisition of property by a man who had earned title to it, under the land and mining laws of the United States, by the performance of these conditions precedent, that the statutes were declared to be useful in the development of the country."

"As a result of attacks that extended to those who legitimately were seeking a share in the public domain by the exercise of the steps required by law, there was developed a timidity and delay on the part of bureau divisions and employees of the interior department in granting patents that had been entered. This is not the fault of any individual in the interior department or of the head of it, but is the result of a very vicious period of muck raking in which those who were likely to be the object of slanderous attack preferred the easier course of making no decision and unjustly delaying the granting of rights to them."

"Secretary Fisher has struggled to overcome this and to hasten the decision of cases as rapidly as possible, but there still remains much to be accomplished in this direction. We are laboring as hard as we can to overcome the evil and injustice which these delays have entailed, and we have that with proper congressional appropriation and continued effort on the part of the secretary of the interior and his subordinates, the tendency will disappear."

Defendant in Murder Trial Asks Permission to Make Speech But Judge Denies Right; Many Witnesses Summoned.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Salem, Mass., Nov. 1.—Joseph Kitter, leader of the Lawrence textile workers last winter, who, with Arturo Giovannitti and Joseph Curran is on trial here charged with responsibility for the murder of Anna Lapina, sought to make a personal statement to the court today just before opening remarks for the defense began.
His request was denied. The court previously declined to rule on a motion to take the case from the jury but granted to defendant's counsel permission to renew it when the testimony is concluded.
When court convened after lunch, Attorney Mahoney, personal counsel for Etor, announced that Etor asked the privilege of addressing the court.
"I don't care to hear from him at this time," said Judge Quinn. "Counsel will proceed."
An exception was taken to the ruling on the ground that it denied the defendant "his constitutional right to explain his position to the jury in his own words." The court refused to grant the request.

In outlining the defense of Etor and Giovannitti, Attorney Peters said he would prove that throughout the strike the defendants connected with violence and on several occasions prevented violence. He said testimony would be given to show that the mill owners incited trouble to discredit the strikers, and that private detectives hired by the mill owners were arrested for committing depredations and afterward were released when the police learned their identity.
Both Etor and Giovannitti, he announced, would take the stand and brandish falsehoofs, the testimony given against them by private detectives.

Giovannitti, he added, would deny absolutely the speech attributed to him in which he was quoted as having advised the strikers to "throw live animals at night, seeking the blood of the scabs."
Mr. Peters, outlining Curran's case, said his defense will be an alibi, his wife, a friend and other witnesses being ready to testify that at the time of the riot, Curran was at home eating supper.

The first witness for the defense will take the stand tomorrow. Nearly two hundred names are on the list of probable witnesses to be called.

Great Throngs Pass Through Rotunda of County Court House Where Remains Lie in State.

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Utica paid tribute today to the memory of Vice President James S. Sherman. For hours this afternoon and evening thousands of persons filed through the Otsego county court house and gazed for the last time upon the face of the vice president, whose body was lying in state in the rotunda of the building.

The body, clothed in a suit of black, reposed in a state casket of solid mahogany covered with black broadcloth, with handles of antique silver. The vice president's face bore a look of serenity, but it was over-shadowed by a large purple mark left by the malady that caused his death. In his right arm lay a bunch of violets, the gift of his grandchildren, and in one hand was a spray of red flowers from the Sherman garden.

An Elk's pin, an insignia of one of the few orders to which Mr. Sherman belonged, gleamed from the lapel of his coat.
The casket rested on a flag draped catafalque over which was suspended a canopy of flags. A floral piece of white lilies had been laid upon the casket, while palms, ferns and flowers were arranged in profusion on either side. The exterior of the building was in mourning dress with festoons of flags on backgrounds of black and purple.

The body lay in state from 3 o'clock this afternoon until 9 o'clock tonight, and during that period it was estimated that more than 25,000 persons passed through the building.
The procession which earlier in the day escorted the casket from the Sherman home to the court house was imposing.

Lining the street in the body was borne from the home were hundreds of Mr. Sherman's friends, neighbors and business associates. As the hearse moved down the walk several cries of "God bless you" were heard. They were uttered in a low voice, but they were heard by the hundreds of people who lined the street.

Two hundred Elks, members of the Elks' committee, the Chamber of Commerce, Boosters club, Otsego County fair association, directors of several banks and scores of citizens, friends and neighbors of the vice president, were among those who followed the body to the courthouse. At the entrance to the building the body was carried through the hall and various churches were filled. The hearse had scarcely disappeared within the building when a storm broke.

Many of those who had gathered preferred a drizzling to losing their places and there was no break in the line that soon began to file through the building. While the storm was at its height the electric lights in the building went out and those who happened to be passing through the rotunda for the most part realized could only discern a shadowy form as they passed through the darkness at the face of the dead. Gaslights were soon flickering dimly and it was not long before the electric lights were restored.

President Taft is scheduled to arrive in Utica shortly after 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and probably will call at the Sherman home before the funeral.
The funeral will be conducted by Dr. Holden, of the Dutch Reformed church, at which Mr. Sherman was for many years the treasurer and an active supporter.
The private services at the home of the vice president will begin at 2 o'clock and will be in charge of the Rev. W. M. Stricker, president of Hamilton college. Mr. Sherman and Dr. Stricker were classmates at Hamilton college and members of the same fraternity, Mr. Sherman, since his death, had been a member of the college church at Clinton, of which Dr. Stricker was pastor, and although the vice president had attended the Dutch Reformed church for years, he never gave up his membership in the college church.
Dr. Stricker will be assisted by Dr. Holden.

MINING MAGNATE IS IN A ROW WITH STOCKHOLDERS

James F. Burns, Colorado Springs Multi-Millionaire, Demands He Be Allowed to Boss Isabella Company.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Nov. 1.—James F. Burns, multi-millionaire, and largest stockholder in the Isabella Mines Company, has issued formal notice to the stockholders of the company, that unless mining engineers of his own naming are allowed to make an inspection of the mines he will institute bankruptcy proceedings. The Isabella mines are located in the Cripple Creek district and have been among the largest gold producing mines in Colorado. In answer to the demand the directors declined today that they would not give the permission requested.

The dispute which threatens to equal the Porting mine controversy of some years ago is said to have originated from a fight for control of the company. Mr. Burns, who owns one-sixth of the stock, at one time was president and general manager, but he was ousted five years ago and since then has had no official position. Mr. Burns claims that the company is being mismanaged.

Colonel Wildly Cheered for Twenty-Five Minutes by Enthusiastic Crowd in Madison Square Garden.

New York, Nov. 2.—This morning a war correspondent with the Bulgarian army at the Bulgarian headquarters reported:
"I have just returned with a train of wounded, after having spent three days at the front. For three days and nights I have not been out of my clothes. My poor horse could not move another step because of exhaustion. The great and final battle entered the decisive phase Thursday morning when the Bulgarians left with a Rumanian took the offensive with mighty impetus."
"Therelude to the final crash was a tremendous opening engagement which last Monday resulted very favorably for the Bulgarians, especially on the right wing at Lule Burgas."

"On the left wing where the Bulgarian offensive started, the Turks, by taking the offensive from Serai by way of Vissa against the Bulgarian left wing, attempted to meet the danger threatening their line of retreat owing to the Bulgarian advance by way of Serai to Chistalia. The Turks, however, have succeeded in driving back to advance body of Bulgarians beyond Karagorist and Rumanian."

"Tuesday morning when the mighty Bulgarian counter attack was delivered against the right wing from a line running from Eskup to Hadzafest and the heights of Monistirash, the Turks' front ranks already were completely run down by a starting dash, yet they succeeded in sustaining the fight by continually bringing up reserves."

"Litter forest fighting raged throughout the day, during which the Turkish main body was decimated. This senseless mass without consistency or power of fighting."
"At 6 o'clock the Bulgarian right wing attacked the Turkish positions at Lule Burgas from Eskup, Hadzafest and Yenikent and drove the Turks from their fortified positions on the Tander Ajvaldere and Eskup rivers back on Lule Burgas. The Bulgarian infantry was splendidly supported by artillery which at critical moments succeeded in holding down the Turks by an annihilating fire."

"With the help of the guns, most of the Turkish positions were taken by Turkish assaults. Some of them, however, were stormed and taken without any preliminary action of artillery support."
"The dash of the Bulgarian infantry was unparalleled, and like the tactical achievements resulting from it surpassed all that could be believed possible. Without the least concession to scruples of modern tactics, applied its battle cry now for the knife, to condition of reality, that is to say, to tactics."

"Four hundred feet and still further from the enemy's lines, whole regiments rose like one man and hurled themselves in one solid, charging mass on the enemy, without halting, still firing and despising all cover. Their officers were powerless against this burning frenzy to get at the Turk with the knife or bayonet. All attempts to hold the troops in bush were fruitless. One regiment hurled itself on the enemy on the mere order of a sergeant, totally disregarding its officers orders to halt and lie down."

"Tuesday's fierce engagements had resulted successfully for the Bulgarians, both at Rumanian and Lule Burgas, yet they had struck no decisive blow, for the Turks had brought up the whole of their reserves and held their advance in check."
"Early Wednesday morning strong Bulgarian forces were brought to forced marches from Adrianople and renewed the attempt to break through the center of the Turkish position. The Bulgarian attack fell partly upon the Turkish troops drawn up in the forest region, south of Kirk-Kilish and the Viss road and partly on the entrenched positions northwest of Lule Burgas."

"After heavy forest fighting and continually repeated murderous bayonet assaults, the Bulgarians succeeded by noon in breaking through the Turkish position and in co-operation with an attack delivered simultaneously at Lule Burgas in rolling up the whole Turkish wing."

"Here in the early afternoon began a general retreat on the line at Lule Burgas and Dedokent, along the railway and in the direction of Tchorlu. The Bulgarians immediately took up the pursuit and continued to press the enemy with extraordinary energy throughout the night, the result being that the Turkish retreat degenerated into wild flight and on this wing the Turks became totally dispersed. Meanwhile, on their own left wing south of Rumanian, the Bulgarians had completely enveloped the Turks from the northeast."
"When dawn broke today a decisive attack upon the right flank of the Turks was delivered from the line at Ruman, Beldi and Viss. Heavily shaken by previous fighting, the Turks were

HARVESTER TRUST FACTS DISCLOSED AT INQUIRY

McCormick Interests Paid 100 Per Cent Per Annum for Ten Years; Deering Was Nearly as Profitable.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Chicago, Nov. 1.—How the property of the Aultman and Miller Company, of Akron, O., was acquired by the International Harvester Company in November, 1907, was related today by William A. Vincent, an attorney in the government's dissolution suit against the alleged combination.
The witness said he purchased the property at a receiver's sale in July, 1907, for $400,000 and after operating it ostensibly as an independent concern for more than two years formally transferred it to the alleged combination in November, 1907. The witness said that after acquiring the plant the name of the plant was changed to the Aultman and Miller Buckeye Company.
Mr. Vincent said he undertook to purchase the property as the agent of Cyrus H. McCormick and James H. Deering but that his proposition was refused by the company. Later the witness said he purchased the property on his own account although he felt all along morally bound to the International Harvester Company, eventually have it.
"How did you get the money to buy the property?" inquired Attorney Grosvenor.
"I borrowed it from the First National bank of New York," replied the witness.
"Did you confer with anybody when you were managing the company?"
"Yes, I frequently talked with Cyrus H. McCormick and Mr. James H. Deering."

The witness said that Ira G. Miller, a member of the company first asked him to negotiate with the International Harvester Company for the sale of the property.
William N. Hacey, controller of the International Harvester Company, was recalled to the stand to submit reports of the appraisals of the properties of the consolidated companies before the merger.
The physical value of the plants as reported by the appraisers follows: McCormick Harvester Machine Company, $3,866,167.
Deering Harvester Company, $27,237,197; Warder Russell and Glass, $4,647,154; Plano Company, $2,488,667.
The figures showed that the profits of the McCormick Harvester Machine Company for the five years prior to the consolidation aggregated $25,000,000 or 100 per cent on a capitalization of $25,000,000. The profits of the Deering Harvester Company were shown to be nearly as large.

FASHIONABLE HOTEL IS DESTROYED BY CONFLAGRATION

More Than a Dozen Guests Injured by Jumping from Second and Third Story Windows; Loss of Life Possible.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
St. Louis, Nov. 2.—More than a dozen guests of the Berlin hotel, an exclusive family hotel, were seriously injured when the hotel was destroyed by fire early this morning. Guests fought their way down stairways and jumped from second and third story windows. The injured fled in night clothes on the coldest night of the autumn.

A policeman was fatally injured by a fire wagon on the way to the fire. Another fire wagon collided with a street car, three firemen, including a lieutenant, being injured.
At 2 o'clock this morning firemen were still unable to penetrate the ruins to discover if any bodies were in them. A number of the guests were unaccounted for.

The fire broke out in the second story of the hotel, which was a six-story building. The fire spread rapidly and within a few minutes the entire building was in flames. The firemen arrived on the scene at 2 o'clock but were unable to penetrate the ruins. The fire was finally extinguished at 4 o'clock. The damage to the building was estimated at $1,000,000. The fire was caused by a gas leak in the kitchen.

COURT COMPLETES SIX WEEKS OF FALL TERM

Eight Plead Guilty, Four Are Convicted, Five Acquitted, One Case Ends in Mistrial and Ten Civil Actions Heard.

The district court yesterday completed six weeks of the busiest session held in the court house in old Albuquerque in a long time. The six weeks were equally divided between criminal and civil matters, ten cases in each division being heard.

The last case to be heard was that of Manuel Torres, charged with larceny from a car, in which the jury returned a guilty verdict Thursday night. This was received by the court yesterday morning. Torres was acquitted.

Out of the ten criminal cases, the Torres case and four others ended in the discharge of the accused. The cases against Augustin Chiguiguit, charged with rape, ended in a mistrial at its second hearing, and was later dropped. The four convictions included one of first degree murder, that of Domercio Belandier, two of second degree murder, those of Sam Lyle, colored, and Theodore Goulet, who was convicted of killing Policeman Alex Knapp last January, and that of Mrs. Sarah Hunter, colored, convicted of assault with a deadly weapon for shooting her husband.

Eight indicted persons pleaded guilty. There will thus be eight defendants to be sentenced early next week, after motions for new trials in the Goulet and Lyle cases have been argued.

DOCKET IS CLEARED OF MANY ANCIENT ACTIONS.

One of the features of this term of court was the large number of ancient cases which were disposed of by dropping from the docket, dismissal, or otherwise. Sixteen cases were stricken from the docket with leave to replead, granted the district attorney and twenty-nine were dismissed outright.

Five old appeal cases from the city police court were ended yesterday in an unusual manner. These cases ranged in age from a few months to more than three years. They had never been docketed by the defendants as required by law, and Wednesday the city attorney appeared in court and docketed them. They were set for trial yesterday. Not one of the five defendants appeared for hearing, and the court consequently ordered the $50 appeal bonds filed in each case to be forfeited.

These cases were those against Edmundo Mario, for vagrancy, dating from September 11, 1909, against P. L. Pearce, for refusal to clean an outbuilding, dating from October 21, 1910; against Ervin Hale, for disorderly conduct, dating from February 26, 1912, and against Manuel Sedillo, for disorderly conduct, dating from May 19, 1911. The feature of the latter case is that Sedillo was tried at the term just ended for assault with a deadly weapon, and that Alex Knapp, the complainant, then a policeman, has been killed since the complaint was made.

SUIT FOR COST OF PAYING IS ENTERED.

Frank V. Latham, representing the Texas Bitulith Company, yesterday entered suit against L. A. Horrold and John Horrold, her husband, for $250.00, alleged to be due for paving done in front of certain property owned by the first named defendant.

The suit is the first of its kind to be filed. It sets forth that the paving work done by the Bitulith concern was done at the order of the city council, and that both the defendants signed a contract for the same, obligating them to pay for it one-third on completion, one-third in thirty days and one-third in four equal installments to be paid before 1914. It continues with a full statement of the legal steps taken in the matter of the paving, and contains a copy of the contract alleged to have been signed.

N. R. Swan yesterday filed suit to quiet title to four tracts of land in Pajarito, against the unknown claimants, heirs of some ten deceased persons.

WEIGHT INSPECTION RECOMMENDED BY CITY CHEMIST

Professor Clark Advises Housewives to Test Milk Containers; Explains Inspection Followed Here.

Prof. John D. Clark, head of the chemistry department of the University of New Mexico and city chemist, speaking before the Women's Club yesterday, advocated an inspection of weights and measures here and also talked upon the pure milk question.

From 6,000 to 8,000 quarts of milk daily are consumed in Albuquerque, according to the professor's figures. The annual expenditure here for milk ranges from $219,000 to $292,000, and if the milk containers are only 10 percent "short" the consumers pay $21,900 to $29,200 for milk they do not get, he declared. He suggested that consumers test the measures themselves.

Milk is "one of the most easily digested, most nutritious and most healthful foods; yet with improper handling, one of the most dangerous and deadly—particularly to children," said Professor Clark. He also made the statement that there is enough milk in four quarts of milk to supply the food needed by the average man for a day. He read tables regarding the transmission of disease through milk and its effect upon mortality, and described a model dairy.

The chemist said the milk inspection here should be sufficient, but questioned whether it is. He recommended that housewives visit the dairies from which they buy milk. This would bring about a closer compliance with sanitary regulations by milkmen.

In the last year eight dealers have been warned that their milk was below standard, said the professor in outlining the work of his department. One order was issued concerning a dairy wagon, one in regard to dirty bottles, and three dairymen were ordered to clean their stables. Two were compelled to remove consumptives from dairies. Only two arrests were made; one for keeping a filthy dairy and the other for selling milk below standard.

Californian Criticises Democratic Candidate's Reference to Betting in New York in His Favor.

[By Morning Journal Special Local Wire.] Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 1. That while in a "betting mood," Governor Wilson speaking last night in Madison Square Garden, made a "confession" which clarified the positions of himself and the Wall street interests in the present campaign, was the assertion of Governor Johnson in a speech at Convention hall tonight.

"This fight is between common humanity on the one hand and those who wish to exploit common humanity on the other," he declared.

Last night the democratic candidate for president was in a "betting mood" and he made a statement in Madison Square Garden to which I wish to advert for a moment. It will read his remarks as reported in the press. He spoke as follows:

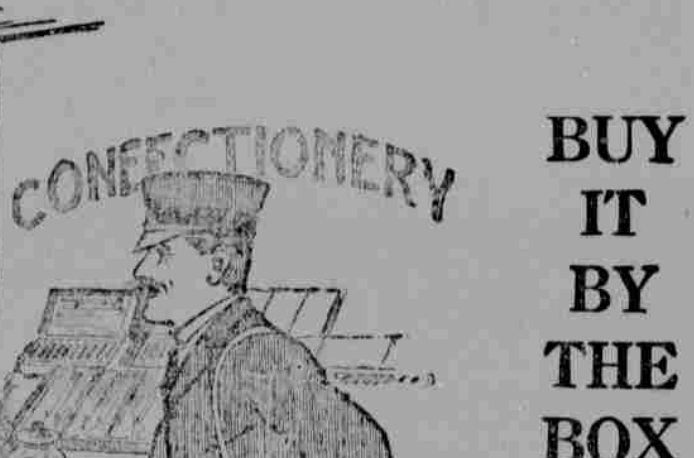

"The gentleman in Wall street don't bet 5 to 1 on their destruction and they don't go to their business smiling and complacent when they expect a defeat next week."

"This he said in respect to his own attitude in the campaign and what he believed. He is absolutely correct."

ALBUQUERQUE NEW MEXICO

CAMPAIGN CHARACTERISTICS.

The campaign is nearly over. It has not been a battle between democrats and republicans, as in the past, but between republicans and republicans. All Woodrow Wilson has had to do was to watch Taft and Roosevelt destroy each other.

The results of next Tuesday's election may be written of today as though they were a thing of the past. The result is as sure as the sunrise.

Beta in New York are not being made as between Wilson and Taft or between Wilson and Roosevelt. Wilson money has been offered at four to one, five to one, even as high as ten to one, with no takers.

The only bets now being made are as to whether Roosevelt or Taft will be the more popular or electoral vote. The odds posted last night were two to one that Roosevelt will have the larger popular vote and three to one that he will have the larger electoral vote.

Some bets have been placed, even money, that Wilson will have 175,000 plurality over Taft in New York state and 125,000 over Roosevelt. The betting is that Wilson will have 49,000 plurality over Taft in Ohio and 75,000 in Indiana. Throughout, any bets made on Wilson must be on the basis of the plurality he will receive in this state or that.

For this condition, William Howard Taft is responsible. He meant well, but he didn't understand the people. He had never lived among them. Their needs, their hopes and desires were a sealed book to him. He was born the son of a cabinet officer. His associations were of the American aristocratic sort. He was at home in the drawing rooms of the rich. He never made the acquaintance of the man with the hammer and the man with the hoe.

Considering his environment, Mr. Taft has done the best he knew. But the people want a man in the presidential chair who knows them—a man who knows the difference between wheat and corn when he sees them growing in the field.

A somewhat laughable story is told of Mr. Taft while he was federal judge in Cincinnati. He was decided that he must have more exercise and that gardening would give him the right sort of opportunity. Among other seeds he planted beans in his back yard. Just after he had shown above the ground he came in from the garden one day somewhat tired and told Mrs. Taft that the beans had come up wrong end foremost and that he had been pulling them up and setting them in the ground right.

The story may not be true, probably it is not true, but it illustrates his impractical knowledge of things generally. He was a good judge, because he knew the law and followed precedent—a characteristic of a safe but not of a great judge. As president, he had attempted to be a judge on the bench instead of a president directing the affairs of the nation.

The people of the country respect his honesty, but they mean to retire him because of his blunders and he will leave the presidency by nearly unanimous consent.

Our evening contemporary says fittingly that Taft's election is certain, therefore every one should vote for Jaffa. If the argument is worth making, then every one who believes Wilson will be elected should vote for Ferguson. That has been the contention of the Journal from the beginning. Also, the Journal will be quite satisfied with Ferguson's plurality if every one votes as the Herald suggests—those who believe that Taft will be the next president to vote for Jaffa and those who believe that Wilson will be elected to vote for Ferguson. There is logic in it.

From the campaign waged by it one would have imagined that the Herald is laboring under the delusion that the Journal, not Mr. Ferguson, was running for congress.

WHY RIPLEY IS FOR WILSON.

One reason the railroad presidents are nearly all supporting Woodrow Wilson is because they are contemplating double-tracking and extensions next year on an enormous scale.

For instance, the Santa Fe road has just placed an order for 80,000 tons of steel rails and expects to use many times that amount during 1913.

If the Santa Fe were located in China or Japan, Scotland or Russia, the rails would cost it $24.42 cents a ton. In the United States, the Santa Fe must now pay $20 a ton on the recent rise. Because of the discrimination in favor of the foreigner permitted by the tariff, the Santa Fe must pay an excess of nearly $500,000.

This is not so much a cost to the railroad company as it is a positive charge against the people who must support the railroads. The tax thus laid is charged against the producer and the consumer of freight and against every passenger carried by the roads.

The people are clamoring for lower freight and passenger tariffs. The railroads cannot be compelled to make reductions below enough to produce a reasonable revenue for operating expenses, to pay interest on the bonds and dividends.

Every excess dollar paid out for steel rails or bridges or rolling stock must be charged against the people of the country from whom the railroads derive their support.

It was for that reason that President Ripley authorized the following interview in Topeka, Kansas, a few days ago:

President E. P. Ripley, of the Santa Fe railway system, who is one of the most prominent railroad magnates of the country, in an interview at Topeka, Kansas, a few days ago, predicted the election of Woodrow Wilson as president. President Ripley made the further declaration that he was going to VOTE FOR WILSON.

The statement of President Ripley, touching on the outcome of the election this year, is said to be the first prognostication he has ever been known to make regarding a presidential election.

In the course of the interview, which appeared in the Topeka State Journal, a republican paper, which is supporting the candidacy of President Taft for re-election, Mr. Ripley is quoted as venturing a prediction on the outcome of the national election—in fact, actually prognosticating the election of Woodrow Wilson as the next president of the United States.

And that isn't all, the interview continues:

"I AM GOING TO VOTE FOR MR. WILSON."

WANAMAKER'S BLUNDER.

John Wanamaker, the merchant prince of Philadelphia and New York, issued a statement a few days ago in which he attempted to bolster up the hopeless fortunes of Mr. Taft.

Possibly no worse political blunder could have been made than his statement that the policies of the government should be formulated by the big taxpayers of the country. Mr. Wanamaker asks the question: "Can those who pay little or no taxes know what is best for the country?"

Compared with Mr. Wanamaker's standard, New Mexico has none except little taxpayers. There is a kind of feeling that the rich can take care of themselves and that the government should look out a little more for the man who has nothing but his labor to see that he has a chance to get what he has earned and that he shall have the opportunity to accumulate something for his old age and to start his children in life with fair education and a chance to make good citizens.

All wealth is the product of labor—usually the labor of others than those who have it. Laws have been made largely for the purpose of boosting the interests of those who have property. Lawmakers have generally taken the view expressed by Mr. Wanamaker. But there is a new thought abroad in the land today, and with that thought Mr. Taft has no acquaintance except as he has run up against the rough edge of it during this campaign.

So far the supporters of Mr. Jaffa have failed to give a single reason why any voter in New Mexico should cast his ballot for him. No where has it been pointed out how Mr. Jaffa could serve the interests of this state as its representative in Washington. It has been contended that the next house of representatives will be democratic and that the next president will be a democrat. Antisocial who has had occasion to look at the situation knows that the next senate will be democratic. What could Jaffa do?

YOUNG VANDALS ARE TO BE FORCED TO REPAIR PROPERTY

Three youthful Halloween celebrators yesterday morning were released by Chief Thomas McMillin on condition that they repair the damage they had made.

David Wilson, 17 years old, however, refused to comply with the chief's orders and he was arraigned in police court. Wilson is older than the other boys.

The Wilson youth was sentenced to serve ten days in jail by the police judge. He lost his defiant air in court and promised to make good his part in the vandalism of Thursday night. The sentence will be suspended when he brings the chief a note from the property owners whose property he damaged.

The vandals boys also are to bring the chief notes from the property owners they molested.

ACTRESS MURDERED SITE IS SELECTED BY COUPLE SHE BEFRIENDED AT BELEN

Husband of Woman, Whom Sophia G. Singer Sought to Assist, Struck Fatal Blow and Then Robbed Corpse.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Chicago, Nov. 1.—An ordeal of more than twenty-four hours of questioning broke down the self-possession of Beatrice Ryall Conway and hysterical admissions made by the woman here today are said by the police, to clear up the mystery of the murder of Sophia G. Singer, the Baltimore actress.

This afternoon Mrs. Conway made a statement to the police. The story given out as told by the woman, is that Conway, the circus clown and acrobat, his wife, the former "Queen of Burlesque," were penniless in Chicago, where they had been invited as guests of the murdered woman. Miss Singer taunted them about their helplessness, according to the alleged confession, and suggested that Mrs. Conway make some money in an immoral way. Enraged by the proposal, Conway knocked the woman down, gagged her and robbed her. It continues, and the pair not knowing that Miss Singer was dead, fled from the city with $15 which they took from her effects and two suits of clothes belonging to W. R. Worthen, Miss Singer's fiancé.

The statement made public by the police as the formal confession of Mrs. Conway, in part follows:

"Sophia invited us to come to Chicago. We took a suite of three rooms for light housekeeping. My husband and I occupied one of the bed rooms and Miss Singer and Worthen, her fiancé, occupied the other. We were out of money and Sophia knew this before we came to Chicago. On the night of the killing we had dinner together and Worthen went out. Sophia went out to post a letter and came back after a while with her shoes wet. She took them off and was in her stocking feet about to change them. We had quarreled a little about the expenses which Sophia was paying.

"Sophia said we weren't doing anything to get money. She said she was a rich man and wanted me to go out with her to meet him and another man. 'Con' was furious at this. He said I'd not have to make money that way. I was washing dishes at the sink. I heard a fall. I went into the bed room and Sophia was lying there. My husband said to me: 'Hurry, let's get our things and get out before she gets conscious. We did not know she was dead. 'Con' never meant to kill her."

A witness who will be able to throw much light on the occurrence in the suite occupied by the Conways, Miss Singer and Worthen on the night of the murder is sought by the police.

The missing witness is a traveling man. The man was in an adjoining room and heard the struggle. It was reported to the police, but he fled from the city to avoid being called in connection with the case.

GOVERNOR WILSON ATTACKS UNITED STATES SENATE

In Vigorous Speeches at Rochester He Appeals to Voters to Capture That "Citadel of Private Interests."

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Governor Woodrow Wilson in his speeches here tonight directed an attack on the United States senate as a "citadel of private interests," declaring the people had not had possession of that body for a generation.

He announced that he intended to fight for the rest of his life to destroy private monopoly.

The governor said that monopoly could be prevented by making illegal all unfair methods of competition. He outlined among them the system of underbidding in a local market and the discrimination of monopolies which control raw material against firms that would not enter their combinations.

The receptions accorded the governor at both meetings were of prolonged enthusiasm. One demonstration lasted twenty minutes. The governor said he was glad to be so received "in an admittedly republican stronghold."

"Do you realize that the people of the United States haven't had control of the senate of the United States in our time?" asked the governor. "No mandate of the people has ever got through that body. You have got to capture that citadel of private interest."

If you postpone your referring long you will smash every party in the United States because there are things to be done and we can not wait."

State Engineer, Citizens and County Commissioners Agree on Building of Structure Across Rio Grande.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Belen, N. M., Nov. 1.—As soon as possible, a new bridge will be built across the Rio Grande at this point. Although a satisfactory plan for financing the project has not yet been found, it is thought that there will be very little trouble in this line.

The state engineer has been in the city, and, together with a number of parties who are interested in the erection of the bridge, carefully went over the entire ground. It was found that the best site lay directly opposite Belen, at a point where the banks of the river are comparatively solid. This point was recommended by the committee where duty it was to make such a recommendation to the county commissioners.

The state engineer will now furnish the county commissioners with a comparative estimate of the cost of the bridge, after which some definite action will be taken in regard to the matter.

Eugene Kempf, chairman of the board of commissioners, has visited Belen, and has given the matter his personal attention. Considerable local interest has been created in the matter, and it is hoped that financing the new bridge will not be greatly delayed.

One of the most successful social events which has been held in Belen for some time was a Halloween party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Simmons on Thursday evening, by the members of the Epworth League of the local Methodist church. There were a large number present, and the various attractions of the evening were greatly enjoyed. Refreshments were in evidence, as was also a short which, presiding over a kettle in one corner, and stirring out fortunes to all comers. A prize was won by a lady, whose fortune told her she was one of the chief attractions of the evening. Various Halloween sports were engaged in during the evening. The social committee of the Epworth League served refreshments consisting of apples, pumpkin pie and coffee.

On Wednesday evening the ladies of the local Lutheran church served a Halloween supper in the dining room of the Hotel Belen. This has become an annual event with the Ladies Aid Society of this church, and it was very well attended. A very neat supper was realized, which will be used by the ladies in their work.

The Lady Macabees of Belen gave a Halloween dance at Commercial hall Thursday evening, which was very well attended. An Albuquerque orchestra furnished the music during the evening, and all who were present, enjoyed a most delightful evening. The event was also a financial success.

On Wednesday afternoon, the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church, held its weekly work meeting at the home of Mrs. S. H. Satter. The ladies are now making their final preparations for the bazaar, which they will hold on Thanksgiving day, and which promises to be a great success. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. H. V. Mather.

Mrs. R. D. Cox, who has been very seriously ill for some time, is much improved. Mr. Cox, who was out of the city, was summoned, and returned as soon as possible.

AUTO EXCURSION TO SOCORRO PLANNED BY BOOSTERS

Good Roads Organization Trip Similar to That Recently Held in Las Vegas Contemplated Here.

Local good roads boosters have taken up the scheme of a good roads excursion in automobiles to Socorro, Pecos, and other cities south of here, following the example of the Las Vegas boosters who recently made a trip to Raton on a similar mission. On this trip Good Roads association locals were organized in a number of towns with such beneficial results that it is likely several other trips will be made.

The local boosters received the inspiration from a letter written by Colonel R. E. Twitchell to a local man yesterday, and the idea took hold at once.

The plan is to get half a dozen cars, or more, fill them with boosters, and start south, organizing locals of the association at every town visited.

The excursion will be held sometime after the election, when matters have settled down somewhat, and people can give their attention to something beside politics.

Booster Excursion from Las Vegas to Raton Takes Quintet of Northern Towns by Storm Yesterday.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal) Watson, Mont., N. M., Nov. 1.—The Las Vegas Raton good roads boosting excursion met with great success on its trip, north today. When the party left this city, four organizations had been formed in five towns. Those included, among others, Watson, Mound, and the first three stops scheduled by the party. Colonel R. E. Twitchell, president of the State Good Roads association, will lead the excursion, and will organize locals of the association at each stop. The party is non-political and is solely to arouse interest in good roads and to secure votes for the proposed $500,000 bond issue authorized by the last legislature for the building and maintaining of highways.

WILSON'S MESSAGE TO PEOPLE TO BE READ TODAY

Wilson Rallyes to be Held All Over County; Big Joint Meeting Will be Held at Democratic Headquarters Tonight.

Wilson Rally Day will be celebrated all over the country today. The principal event of the occasion will be meetings in almost every precinct the country over, for whatever there are democrats, Governor Wilson's message to the American people will be read aloud.

At noon today, a rally will be held in Old Albuquerque, where a precinct chairman will read the message, in the evening, meetings will be held in Bernal and the other precincts near the city and over the county generally at which the message will be read.

Tonight, at the democratic headquarters on West Gold avenue, between Third and Fourth streets, next the office of the Morning Journal, a monster meeting in which all the city precincts will be represented, will be held, and there the reading of the message will be attended with some ceremony.

There will be several campaign speeches by local speakers and Wilson's direct statement to the great mass of the people will be presented for the first time. The message has been sent broadcast over the country, in strict confidence, and has been placed in the hands of every committeeman. Today it will become public property for the first time. Until today, every committeeman who has handled it, every newspaper which expects to print it, in whole or in part, has been sworn to secrecy.

Today, every American will be apprised of its contents.

The idea of sending out the same message to every precinct for reading at a certain time is a new one and is novel enough in itself to constitute good advertising.

GOOD MEETINGS HELD AT PALARITO AND PADILLAS.

Good meetings were held by the democrats last night at Palarito and at Las Padillas. Enthusiastic crowds turned out at each place, included in the speakers were M. U. Vigil, the district attorney; Hugh J. Collins, an attorney of this city; R. L. Wootton, who made a fiery address in Spanish; and A. Broecker, who also spoke in the native tongue of his audience.

The ladies of the First Baptist church will hold a home cooking sale today at 205 W. Central avenue. Sale begins at 10 a. m.

Progressive meeting Saturday night, 8 o'clock, 204 W. Gold avenue. Speeches by prominent men. Everybody invited.

Dr. Hope has moved his office to 312 1/2 West Central avenue, over Kistler & Collister.

Because of delays on the River division, No. 9 and No. 7, westbound trains last night, were delayed about two hours. No. 7 made up a considerable amount of time between Las Vegas and this city. Engine trouble caused the out-of-time. A landslide at Pan, near Seligman, and an engine derailment near Needles, Thursday, caused No. 10 yesterday morning to be an hour and forty-five minutes late. Two engine failures on No. 4, the eastbound California limited, one this side of Winslow and the other west of Seligman, caused that train to be about three hours late and No. 2, which followed it, to be about five hours late.

FERGUSON TOWIND UP CAMPAIGN AT ELKS MONDAY

Felix Martinez Probable Speaker at Final Meeting of Democratic Fight for Supremacy in County.

The audience which will greet Hon. H. B. Ferguson at the Elks' theater Monday night when he makes the address of the evening at the final campaign gathering in this county, will be drawn from all over the city and county. Mr. Ferguson has been scheduled for the only speech to be made at this meeting, but it was learned yesterday that Hon. Felix Martinez, of El Paso, would also probably address the voters.

Mr. Ferguson's popularity, however, is so great that he alone would draw a crowd which would jam the theater. His address will likely be comparatively brief, as he has to speak in his home precinct, that of Old Albuquerque, the same evening.

OFFER REWARD FOR EVIDENCE AGAINST ANY ILLEGAL VOTERS

Glaring posters, offering $50 reward for the arrest and conviction of violators of election laws, have been tacked to the walls of the political headquarters and in other conspicuous places. The placards are printed both in English and Spanish. They are signed by a joint committee made up of representatives of the three county central committees. The committeemen are Elfigo Baca, John W. Wilson and A. A. Sedillo, for the republicans; M. U. Vigil, Louis McRae and W. W. McClellan, for the democrats, and Jesus Romero, George Arnot and John Baron Barr, for the progressives.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM TO PLAY ROSWELL THANKSGIVING

State Championship to be at Stake; Battle with Menaul Today Probably Last Game Here This Season.

The Albuquerque high school football management yesterday accepted a challenge from the Roswell high school for a game Thanksgiving day at the latter place. This means that Albuquerque will not see a game on the biggest football day of the season, as the university is scheduled to fill an out-of-town date.

The local high school, it generally was believed, would play the Indians here Thanksgiving. No game was scheduled for the date, however, and the team jumped at the chance to meet Roswell when it offered. The Indians, the high school boys assert, have not been overcareful in the selection of their players this season. It is current gossip at the high school that certain members of their team can hardly be termed amateurs.

When they meet Roswell, the locals will have a chance at the state high school championship. It is conceded that the title will be at stake.

The game today probably will be the last on the home grounds. The Menaul warriors, who will oppose the high school this afternoon, yesterday attempted to cancel the contest, but finally yielded to the persuasion of the locals.

The Menaul backfield is crippled by the loss of two men. Briggs, of Albuquerque, also will be out of the game and this will even matters somewhat. Clifford will take his place at left guard. Otherwise the team is in good condition.

The last workout was held yesterday afternoon. The boys practiced signals and goal kicking and received the coach's final instructions. The last scrimmage was held Thursday afternoon.
