DR. D. R. BOYD IS INAUGURATED PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY

BRILLIANT EXERCISES ATTEND INDUCTION INTO OFFICE OF NOTED EDUCATOR NEW HEAD OF STATE INSTITUTION OUTLINES ADMINISTRATION IN MOST FORCEFUL ADDRESS

Lays Particular Stress on Fact That New Mexico Has Right to Expect Much from Its Largest School and Promises Full-est Results If Support is Adequate; Some of the Country's Largest Colleges Are Represented at Last Night's Event, Making It One of Wide Importance; In Absence of Governor W. C. McDonald, Hon. Summers Burkhart is Present for Executive; Elks Theater Crowded with Visiting Teachers and Prominent Albuquerque People.

DR. DAVID ROSS BOYD.

Dr. David Ross Boyd, president of the University of New Mexico, is shown in a portrait.

Second, to render the state such expert service as it may need in administering the government of the state, cities and municipalities; to render such service to the social, educational, economic and commercial activities of the people of the state as may be practical, and as far as possible to place the service of the university within reach of those who are unable to be resident in the university.

The first form of service mentioned was for a long time in the early development of the university, considered its exclusive purpose, but within the last ten years many of the state universities have found numerous ways in which the resources of the university are made very serviceable to the state in administering its government, and in serving those who could not be resident at the university.

It was called a university because of the range of study and training provided. The conception of the state has been all along that whatever knowledge or whatever training was needed or desirable for the citizen, should be provided by this institution, hence it was properly designated a university. The first great purpose, then, of the University of New Mexico will be to provide the best possible training of the widest range for the young men and women of the state. It will not be necessary or possible to present at this time a curriculum that would be profitable or desirable. The content of a curriculum has become pretty well understood, and it may be taken for granted without further consideration. There are some things, however, that ought to be specially considered in this university.

In the first place, for some time at least, its members, both of instructors and students, cannot be large. Instead of that being a disadvantage, it is rather an advantage. It makes it possible for attention to be given to the students as individuals, rather than in the mass. With few students in the class, more time can be given to each one, and a personal contact is possible, that will enable the instructor to make effective his own personality in the development of the mind and character of the student. It also makes it possible for the student to come in personal contact with all the others in the institution as associates or even friends. The personal element in education is a longed for ideal difficult to attain because of the large numbers in our growing country that have thronged the classes and the school room. With the University of New Mexico it will be possible to take the greatest advantage of this fact.

Value of Personal Contact. Senator George F. Hall said in his "Autobiography of Seventy Years": "There was something in the college training of that day, imperative as were its resources, from which more has been gotten than there is in the best training of the present generation. I will not undertake to account for it, but I think it was due in large part to the personality of the instructors. A youth who contemplated with a near and intimate knowledge the large manhood of Josiah Quincy; who listened to the eloquence of James Walker; or found his expositions of the principal systems of ethics or metaphysics; or who sat at the feet of Judge Story as he poured forth the lessons of jurisprudence in a clear and inexhaustible stream, caught an inspiration which transmuted the very soul of the pupil."

Indeed, most persons who years after leaving college look back to the facts of college life that have remained most permanent with them, recall the personal influence of instructors and associates rather than the knowledge acquired.

State Entitled to Value Received.

About one student in a thousand of population, as has been above shown, has been able to take his place in the state universities. Since the university is supported by the state, it has a right to expect that the product is getting the best ideas of the citizenship needed in the state, and of equipment for not only supporting his own life, but for service to the state.

ENGLAND DECLARES FALL OF SALONIKI IS BALKANS SHOULD REAP FRUITS OF VICTORY

Prime Minister Asquith Defines Position of His Government in Address at Lord Mayor's Banquet.

NAVAL SUPREMACY IS CHURCHILL'S POLICY

First Lord of Admiralty Warns Germany That Great Britain Will Continue to Build Many Warships.

The Morning Journal Special Telegram Wire-1 London, Nov. 9.—Mr. Asquith, the British prime minister, in a statement tonight at the lord mayor's inaugural banquet at the Guild hall, said:

"Upon one thing I believe the general opinion of Europe to be unanimous: that the victors are not to be robbed of the fruits which cost them so dearly.

"England," he said, "has no direct interest in the exact form which the political and territorial redistributions may take. The special relations of the other powers, geographical, economic, ethnic and historical, with the scene of the conflict are such that they cannot be expected not to claim a voice when the time comes for a permanent settlement.

"For the moment, and as long as the state of belligerency continues," he declared, "this majority's government deprecates the raising and pressing of isolated questions, which may assume a different, perhaps a more practical, aspect, if they are reserved to be dealt with from a wider point of view in the general settlement."

Mr. Asquith said the powers had labored with one will, to circumscribe the scope of the war, so far successfully. He believed they would continue to labor to that end.

Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, spoke on England's naval program and referred to the relations with Germany.

"No harm can be done by plain speaking," he said. "The Germans are a people with robust minds and a high sense of honor and fair play. They like affairs put plainly and squarely before them. The relations of the two countries have improved steadily with every evidence of our determination to maintain supremacy. The best way to end the rivalry is to go right on and prove that we cannot be overtaken."

Mr. Churchill said that permitting for the navy had tripled during the last year. It had been arranged to put a sixth battle squadron in commission in 1915, instead of 1914. At the present time there were more than twenty battleships and cruisers in the eastern Mediterranean. He concluded:

"What has made the year memorable has been the spontaneous and simultaneous movement of the great Dominion of Canada toward participation in the imperial naval defense. The union of the nations of the British empire for imperial defense is on the road to consummation. New Zealand was first and Australia followed. In a few days the Canadian parliament will make an announcement of naval policy worthy of the power and loyalty of the great Dominion."

DIPLOMATIC CONTROVERSY OVERSHADOWS EUROPE

Paris, Nov. 9.—"Dangerous, but not hopeless" is the way the present plight in which Europe finds herself is summed up in official circles here tonight. The diplomatic controversy between Austria and Serbia over Servia's access to the Adriatic has been the center of the scene, overshadowing all else, even the war itself.

Efforts at mediation have been postponed because of this, as the complication retards the attempts to bring the powers into accord.

SERBIA INSISTS UPON SEAPORT ON ADRIATIC

Belgrade, Nov. 9.—The newspapers continue to assert that until Servia gains a seaport on the Adriatic, no negotiations are possible, notwithstanding the protests of Austria and Italy.

It is reported from Euphrat that a second Serbian division under General Stepanovich arrived from Adrianople Tuesday to assist the Bulgarians.

ROBBERS HOLD UP POOL ROOM PATRONS

Roulette, N. D., Nov. 9.—Covering their victims with revolvers, two masked men held up several men in a pool room here tonight and secured $2,200. One man was forced to give up $1,200.

EMBEZZLER ENDS IT BY TAKING POISON

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 9.—Allen P. Eldred, a bookkeeper in the Dexter Horton National bank today hoodwinked a deputy sheriff and committed suicide. A shortage of $400 in Eldred's books had been discovered. When the deputy told his mission, Eldred asked permission to step to the bath room. On his return he told the deputy he had taken poison, by down on the bed and was dead in a few minutes.

CONSTANTINOPLE'S FALL SIGNAL FOR MASSACRE

European Powers and United States Interested in Protection of Foreigners from Infuriated Fanatics.

The Morning Journal Special Telegram Wire-1 London, Nov. 9.—The United States government, intercepted the American revenue cutter Unalga, at Port Said, on her maiden trip around the world, and ordered her to the coast of Asiatic Turkey to protect American life and property in the event of a Moslem uprising against foreigners.

The Unalga, the newest and latest type of revenue cutter, will patrol the coast of Asia Minor pending the arrival of the cruisers Montana and Tennessee. These two big warships, under such orders for the Mediterranean, will not be able to sail from Philadelphia until Monday, and it will require two weeks to make the voyage. The United States station ship Scorpion, will remain at Constantinople to afford protection to Americans there. Should anti-foreign feeling in Turkey be fanned into a flame before the arrival of the United States warships, it is generally supposed here that the British men-of-war around Constantinople could afford protection to the interests of Americans if the Scorpion's protection is inadequate.

Color was given this belief by a conference between President Taft and James Bryce, the British ambassador, at which it was presumed the Balkan situation was discussed.

The Unalga will first go to Beirut, on the Syrian coast, and only one day's sail from Port Said. After ascertaining the situation there the cutter will steam at highest speed northward for Smyrna. There are large American missionary and educational institutions and commercial interests at both these points. There is no intention of sending the revenue cutter to Constantinople at this time.

The fortunate position of the Unalga, so close to the scene of warfare, created a feeling of relief here and it is believed the little cutter will be able to give adequate protection to Americans and their property in Asiatic Turkey. She could also afford asylum for more than 500 persons, transport them to safety and return for more.

The Unalga, turned out of the shipyard at Newport News only last spring, is an eleven hundred ton vessel, armed with three high power, six pounder, rapid firing guns. She can make thirteen knots an hour. Captain R. V. Christy commands the ship and she has a crew of seventy men.

American Ambassador Rockhill, at Constantinople, advised the state department today that six more vessels would be sent by the European powers to reinforce the six comprising the international fleet already lying at anchor in the harbor of Constantinople. He reports complete order, but that in the absence of reliable information concerning the military situation, a good deal of unrest prevails.

FURTHER DEFENSE OF ADRIANOPLE HOPELESS

Vienna, Nov. 9.—The Reichspost prints the following from its correspondent at the front:

Papastef, an important position northwest of Adrianople, was captured today. A brigade of infantry followed by a heavy cannonade and stormed the fort and a blaze of Turkish searchlights and a hail of projectiles.

Reinforcements rushed up and at once commenced to fortify the rear of the captured position for the purpose of repelling counter attacks.

MONTENEGRIN PRESS SIEGE OF SCUTARI

Belka, Montenegro, Nov. 9.—The Montenegrin operations have been greatly impeded by rain, snow and floods. A detachment of troops, he fled to the front. Scutari, has been withdrawn across the Boyana river and may be cut off by floods.

With unceasing vigor, the bombardment of Scutari continues. Yesterday the Montenegrins, in spite of the bad weather and stormy lake and under Turkish guns, landed siege guns and commenced in Scutari on the eastern shore of the lake.

Crown Prince Danilo and Prince Peter assisted in the landing, encouraging the soldiers who have showed wonderful endurance under terrible atmospheric conditions.

army, while engaging to remain neutral until the end of the war, should be allowed to retain their arms.

"I refused, making the surrender of arms an absolute condition and only conceding that their arms should be returned to them at the end of the war. I gave them until 6 o'clock in the morning to reply.

"As it happened at 5 o'clock this morning, the commandant of Saloniki, accompanied by the diplomatic agents returned with a counter proposition admitting the surrender of arms, but demanding the exemption of 5,000 rifles destined for the instruction of recruits. This request having been refused, they departed, but obtained a further delay of two hours in order to make an arrangement with the Turkish commander.

"As they had not returned at the stipulated time, I ordered my troops to march, which they did at 9 o'clock in the morning. When our lines drew near the enemy's advance posts toward 430 in the afternoon, Tahsin Pasha sent an officer with a letter declaring that he accepted my conditions. I therefore suspended the forward march and sent two officers to draw up a protocol for the surrender of arms and the capitulation of the town invested by our troops.

"The Turkish officers have been authorized to keep their swords, on condition that they give their parole to take no further part in the war."

UNITED STATES PROMPT
TO PROTECT AMERICANS

Washington, Nov. 9.—Moved to action by the impending crisis in the Balkans, the United States government, intercepted the American revenue cutter Unalga, at Port Said, on her maiden trip around the world, and ordered her to the coast of Asiatic Turkey to protect American life and property in the event of a Moslem uprising against foreigners.

There are 70,000 persons in the town, most of the people in the vicinity having taken refuge there. When the Montenegrin investment is complete, military authorities believe Scutari will not hold out long. A massacre of Christians is feared.

ORTIE M'MANIGAL GIVES GRAPHIC ACCOUNT OF DYNAMITING

Man Who Blew Up Many Structures for McNamara and Accomplices, Begins Testimony in Indianapolis.

EXPLOSIONS BECAME COMMON, HE SAYS

Regular Schedule of Prices Arranged and Witness Was Not Permitted to Take Employment from Others.

The Morning Journal Special Telegram Wire-1 Indianapolis, Nov. 9.—Graphic stories of how he caused explosions, how he carried dynamite in suit cases on passenger trains and checked the explosive at railway stations, how he waited to place bombs on night watchmen from every city where he blew up a "job," he sent a Chicagoan home to his wife in Chicago were related by Ortie E. McManigal on the witness stand in the trial of the forty-five accused dynamite plotters today.

"Pink," an alias of Herbert S. Hoeklin, McManigal said, was the pass word he gave to labor leaders in various cities so they would know he was the man sent to do a "job." He named Frank C. Webb, of New York; Michael J. Young, of Boston; Richard P. Houlihan, of Chicago; James Connelley, of Chicago, and Frank M. Ryan, all officers of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, besides the McNamara brothers, as men who knew he was employed as a dynamiter. Young and Webb actually pointed out non-union jobs for him to blow up, he said.

Hoeklin, now secretary of the union, he described as the chief of the McNamara dynamiting crew and said Ryan, president of the union, had spoken to him about an explosion.

"Did you send anything to your family after you blew up the job in Boston?" was one question asked McManigal.

"Yes," he answered, "I sent home a souvenir spoon. I always sent home souvenir spoons from the cities where I blew up jobs."

McManigal, confessed accomplice of McNamara brothers, now in prison in California, appeared as the chief witness for the government in its charges that the men now on trial illegally transported dynamite on passenger trains in connection with the series of explosions which included the Los Angeles Times disaster. The witness is a prisoner of Los Angeles county and appeared as a "loan" to the federal government.

After describing explosions at Detroit and Clinton, McManigal testified:

"Hoeklin came to my house in Chicago, in October, 1908, and said he had a job for me in Holyoke, Mass. I said I had a good job working on a new hotel in Chicago and did not want to give it up. He insisted, saying he knew Hunter, my superintendent, and would fix it up so I might return to work. Finally I consented, Hoeklin giving me instructions to go by way of Buffalo and Springfield, Mass. I left Chicago, October 3rd, carrying about fifty pounds of dynamite in a suit case. Arriving at Springfield, I checked the suit case at the station and went to Holyoke to look over the job. On October 15th, I set the dynamite on some steel work, coiling the fifty feet of fuse inside the suit case so the night watchman would not see the smoke. I then took a train for Chicago."

"Hoeklin soon came and said there had been no explosion at Holyoke, and a watchman had discovered the bomb. He said the iron workers' executive board would not allow me the regular amount for that job, but he handed me $100 for expenses."

"About this time I met Cooney, union business agent in Chicago. He introduced me to Ryan. Ryan wanted to know whether I had seen Hoeklin about the Holyoke job and I told him I had. Cooney paid me some money for a revolver he had borrowed from me."

In February, 1909, I met Cooney again while both of us were working at Lockport, Ill., on work for the Chicago sanitary district. I told him I was not permitted to work for anybody but the international union. He replied: 'Well, then all right, I'll get that gang of safe blowers I had before.'

"While I was at Lockport, Hoeklin came down and informed me he had some more jobs for me to do, one at Boston and another at Hoboken, N. J. I went to Hoboken, Ill., and there bought fifty pounds of dynamite. Hoeklin said I was first to go to Boston and get in touch with Mike Young, and then I was to go to New York and get in touch with Webb. He said I should tell them that 'Pink' had sent me there and they would understand what I came for. After the jobs were blown up, I was to send a telegram to L. A. Noel, 208 Vermont avenue, Detroit, saying Lock had been sold in Boston and Hoboken and signifying the dates of the explosions and signing 'Pink.'"

"At Boston I checked the dynamite at the station, went to labor hall and met Young. He took me out and showed me where they were erecting

San Francisco, Nov. 9.—With sixty-nine precincts in the state still unreported, Theodore Roosevelt had a plurality of 731 votes over Governor Woodrow Wilson, the count standing from recounts, which, in some instances showed for an entire county a lower vote for one candidate or the other than was given by partial returns. It is unlikely that remaining returns can upset the showing of a Roosevelt majority indicated by the present count, but the result of the officially certified count may make some difference.

SHED COLLAPSES UNDER WEIGHT OF 25 BOYS

Youngsters Crowded on Roof
Watching Football Game
When Accident Occurs; No
One Seriously Injured.

The roof of a shed, at the southeast corner of the football field, upon which twenty-five boys had climbed to see the Indian school-Varsity game, collapsed yesterday afternoon. None of the boys were injured.

The roof was an advantageous point from which to view the game, as it overlooks the fence, and it was crowded. It gave way without a warning creak, and the boys were sprawling in a mass of arms, legs and heads on the ground. The walls remained standing.

The crash and yell drew some of the spectators from the game, but when it was learned that no one was injured, they returned.

F. H. Seeley, of Chicago and Philadelphia is at the Alhambra hotel and is making a specialty of this Sunday and Monday only. He says: "The Spermatic Shield Truss, as fitted to the Case of Russia and now used and approved by the United States Government will not only relieve any case of Hernia perfectly, affording immediate and complete relief, but closes the opening in ten days on the average case." This instrument received the only award in England and Spain for producing results without surgery, harmful injections, treatment or prescriptions. Mr. Seeley has documents from the U. S. Government, Washington, D. C., for inspection to perfection of this instrument. If any interested call he will be glad to show the truss without charge, or fit them if desired.

Rupture is not a breach or tear in the abdominal wall, as ignorantly supposed, therefore nothing to knit or heal. But rupture is the dilation or stretching of a natural opening—the groin subject to closure by stimulation. Don't wear a truss where lump is, but where the rupture is. It's different

Many friends wish them joy, but, gee, how the gang will miss 'em!

SOCIETY REVIEW OF THE WEEK

by CORAL GUYER

Scandalous

Our womenkind in days of yore—
A score of petticoats they wore
And bulged out in a frightful way
A huge circumference, they say.
Since then, with every passing year,
They've gone about with less, I hear.
In great alarm on yesterday
I saw them tramping from the play—
I hope some one is keeping score,
They're only got one layer more.
—Allen Ray, in Life.

The Rule of Reciprocity.

"I seldom give my parties to the newspaper," said the social leader, suavely, but a wee bit superciliously.
"Suppose we don't put our parties in the paper," echoed the pretty young matron, who hung on the flicker of the other's eyelash for social advancement.
"I agree with you," bubbled the young thing, who felt her knowledge of the world and society, unquestioned, after the long experience of two weeks in society.
"It's really vulgar to publish all you do," chimed in another, who was perhaps a trifle "sore" at not being "rushed" by the society editor.
Thus with mighty shaking of pinnles and setting of jaws, the Non Item Club was formed. It might have been going yet—had not Mrs. Social Leader's church planned to give a bazaar. Being actively interested in the success of the venture, and with wisdom aforethought, she rang me up.
"Hello! Is that the society editor of the Journal?"
"Yes," I replied in ingratiating tones, for, of course, I must be pleasant to my job depends upon it.
"Well," came in honeyed tones over the wire, "I want you to give us a nice puff about the bazaar the ladies of our church are going to give—a Thanksgiving bazaar, you know."
"All right, Mrs. S—," I'll be glad to do all I can," I answered, "and while I'm talking to you, I want to ask about the luncheon you gave Tuesday."
"Oh, as for that—I prefer not to have it mentioned. I was not a very large affair, and I am indebted to so many, that you would do me a real favor by omitting mention of it entirely. I will tell you anything you want to know about the bazaar."
That was all right—except society editors have nerves that may be tried a trifle too far.
"Thank you," I replied, and if the tones of my voice bespoke good humor—it was all a mistake. "You know Mrs. S—, a bazaar, or any other public affair, has not the news value of an exclusive function and there may be, perhaps, reciprocity in the newspaper game same as in all things else."
Honestly now, do you think it fair to use my space for church affairs, which, at the best, make not very lively reading, and then refuse to reciprocate with an item which would add considerably to the interest of the society page?"
In this particular case, the society woman surrendered gracefully to argument, and the luncheon and bazaar were both featured with bells.
The moral is obvious, I think. Society ever once in a while has occasion to use the society page and, of course, the society page depends for its very existence upon society.
And, just between you and me, the blither, it is not, as a usual thing, the really important people who fight shy of the newspapers, but those who want to impress their importance upon you—and really need to, as it exists mostly within the confines of their own minds! So there.

teacher" must be relegated to the scrap heap of past usefulness. We saw only young and attractive "school marm." Some of them actually fetching, grab it from us who took a second and a longer look.
The many and varied "doings" in connection with the sessions of the New Mexico Educational association, were of sufficient importance to quite overshadow things purely social, so society became an interested spectator, and seemed quite content to forego frivols the one week for "frivols" and educational advancement.

Mike Mandells to Give a Dance

There is, at least, something to look forward to, as the Mike Mandells have issued invitations for a well-known society woman recently. A certain hostess was giving a series of parties, two the same week.
For instance, a certain well-known society woman, who was invited to Mrs. A. and Mrs. B. in a chattering way at the events of the week, discovered that they were both invited to Mrs. C's party.

"Let's see, that's next Tuesday, is it not?" said Mrs. A.
"Oh, no! It's Monday," promptly replied Mrs. B. After considerable argument, Mrs. A. decided she must be mistaken, and Monday found her, tucked out in her best and tugging away at Mrs. C's doorbell.
It happened to be a bridge luncheon, and the mistake proved embarrassing for all concerned.

Perspicacity and common sense are not expected of an engaged girl, or from an engaged man, for the matter of that, and when discovered, cannot fail to create comment.
For instance, a certain well-known girl has knocked her friends silly by the matter-of-fact manner in which she sums up her engagement. Calmly she declares that she likes her fiancé very much, indeed, that she thinks they will get along famously together, but that she is not exactly what is known as "crazy" about him and glad of it. She says she proposes to enter matrimony on a sensible basis of companionship rather than the impracticable one of infatuation. Evidently, a girl who believes no two are ever one in the prosier sense of the theory.

Some Matrimonial Squibs.
She had worked herself up into a frantic condition over some insult from a woman friend, fancied rather than premeditated probably, and bubbling over with ire and seething with indignation, was gasping out her plaint in tremulous tones to her husband.
"I am simply blind with rage," she exclaimed, as she wound up the narration of her woe.
"If you were a man, I should suggest an eye opener," said her sympathetic husband.
Certainly, the favorite masculine mode of pacification, and soothing internal lotions have been known to render an atmosphere less discordant and anger a thing of ridicule, but needless to say, the remark reduced the woman to tears.

A certain man, not easily ruffled, came home one day to find his wife anxious and excited.
"Dear," she said, "Mr. Smith has been here about the money you owe him. I do wish you would see him about it. He threatened to do something dreadful if he is not paid. He says he won't wait any longer, as time is money."
"So it is, so it is, dearie," said the husband calmly. "I'd forgotten. Tell him I'll pay him—in time!"
More tears.

She was telling her dearest friend about the matrimonial troubles of her neighbors.
"Mr. and Mrs. Brown do not get along at all well together,"
"Well, they have only themselves to blame,"
"I guess they do."

Commercial Club Reception

Some of the old-time splendor and gaiety, once characteristic of the Commercial club social affairs, marked the Commercial club reception and dance Friday evening, complimentary to the visiting teachers. The beautiful club room, so oft the scene of gaiety in the days when the club dabbled in society, as well as civic and commercial matters, are seldom opened now to the feminine public, and the walls, once versed in the affairs of heart and trivialities of existence, could tell little else now save of the affairs of city and state.
In view of the big state educational convention, and feeling it was up to them to do something in the way of entertainment, for the hundreds of visitors in attendance, the Commercial club broke the rule, got busy and opened their hearts and home. The result was quite a function. There were notabilities of the local world of society and education, as well as many prominent visitors, and the committee in charge had every right to be satisfied with the result.
The corps of "receivers" were well chosen and admirably representative of what the occasion stood for.
With the wives of the club members in their best bib and tucker, and with the visitors looked out in their prettiest frocks, the grace and dignity of the affair were upheld. Incidentally, everybody had a right, good rollicking time. Especially the young people who did not allow the excellent music, furnished by the Fuhrmeyer-Cavanaugh orchestra, to waste its sweetness on the air, but proceeded to dance the hours away.

The reception committee included the following: J. H. O'Reilly, Frank McKee, John Milne, B. O. Jaffa, B. K. E. Sellers, John Lee Clark, W. A. Keeler, H. B. Jamison, D. A. Macpherson, C. O. Cushman, A. B. Stroup and N. G. McCracken.
A special committee consisting of C. M. Light, Frank H. H. Roberts, David R. Boyd, W. E. Garrison, Reuben Perry, R. R. Larkin, Rufus Meade, R. F. Asplund and Alvan N. White saw to it that everybody got acquainted.

Academic Dinner Party

The first annual dinner of the New Mexico Schoolmasters' club was held at the Alvarado Wednesday evening, and proved one of the pleasantest social affairs in connection with the educational convention.
Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland-Stanford University of California, was the guest of honor. It was entirely a stag affair, but none the less brilliant from a social standpoint, and with a genial camaraderie in evidence, which might have been shelved in favor of gallantry and social niceties had the ladies honored the affair by their presence. Which they did not—as the mere matter of an invitation had been entirely overlooked.

The usual in flowers and frills was not omitted and the academic dinner was one of elegant grandeur.
Dr. Frank H. H. Roberts was toastmaster, and where in a month's journey about the state could one hit upon a better?
Let it be understood that it was not a strictly profound evening of learned discourse, for all it was graced by educational dignitaries. The dinner party was made up of genial and amusing men, those that understand the graceful and worldly art of talking cheerily and entertainingly without saying anything—which, of course, is the highest degree of diplomacy to which thoroughly civilized man can reach.

To be sure, Dr. Jordan waxed suitably serious in his response "Greetings From the California Schoolmasters," but never dull for a minute, and his wisdom was well seasoned with wit and goodly words of things well said. A change of climate from Washington ordered. It was hoped that the genial climate of New Mexico, and the old, ever-ready methods of the standard slang, would save the G. O. P. life. But, alas! Several serious operations were undergone—in vain. The Roosevelt affiliations were removed, and the Progressive platform cut out, but none of these things availed, and the end came peacefully Tuesday night.

The autopsy revealed that death was caused by rigor mortis of the graft processes, acute indigestion of the tariff, torpidity of the trust question and slight symptoms of Hubbellitis.
The funeral will be held under the auspices of the Taft-Jaffa club. No flowers.

Goodell Banquet Brilliant

The west annex of the Alvarado hotel presented an animated and beautiful scene Thursday evening, on the occasion of the banquet given by Mr. J. B. Goodell, manager of the Albuquerque Business college, to the visiting commercial teachers.
Elaborate decorations prevailed with huge yellow chrysanthemums as the floral motive. The centerpiece was a big basket, draped in smoky and tied with yellow tulle, filled with shaggy "bunnies." Vases of the same showy flowers extended the length of the table. Garlands of smiling faces were artistically arranged down the center of the table, and fell gracefully from the corners, where they were confined with yellow satin ribbon. The scheme was further elaborated with pennants of various schools in New Mexico. These were arranged on the walls and lent the desired collegiate atmosphere. The favors were "Lady Hylington" roses, and attractive place cards in yellow carried out the color scheme.
The Alvarado management quite outdid itself in cuisine and service, and the banquet was noticeably gay and informal throughout. Music by the Di Maura orchestra added to the charm of the general arrangements.

Professor J. V. Clark officiated as toastmaster, a position which he filled most capably, and each and every one called on for responses "Rose gracefully to the occasion."
Mr. Goodell's response, "Masters of Our Profession," was a witty effort, and fell in line of interest and brought forth enthusiastic applause.
W. A. Moore, of Carlsbad, had a few complimentary and well expressed words, about things in general, and the success of the banquet in particular, and Messrs. F. E. Clark and E. Edwards made appropriate responses.
Rupert F. Asplund, of Santa Fe, and one of the best known educators in the state, voiced a few choice thoughts in an interesting manner, and Miss Susie Whitaker, of Las Vegas, and Miss Helen Calkins, of Silver City, charmingly exemplified the fact that men have no monopoly on the art of after-dinner speaking.

Covers were laid for thirty-two, and included men and women well known in the educational world of New Mexico.

Thirty Club Dance

The regular dance of the Thirty club, happened with usual eclat Wednesday night. Among those attending were Misses Watkins, Sue Dobson, Lucy Becker, of Belen; Rachel Ward, of Las Vegas; Lulu Bacon, Lillian Hesselton, Eleanor Vaughn, Laureen Asplin, Gertrude Treffenberg, Bernice Hesselton, Carol Shipley, Margaret Cavanaugh, of Las Vegas; Julia Keeler, Kathryn Chavez, Jean Hubbs, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gosch, Messrs. S. H. Bush, Walter Duque, Lloyd Sturges, Fred White, "Buzz" Tierney, Will White, Junior O'Reilly, Leo Murphy, Ross Strome, Ray Strome, Oscar Blucher, Charles Lembo, Will McMillin, Chas. Kutz, Ralph Keeler, Bob Sewell and H. Carlisle.

Word comes from Yale, where Gillette Cornish, of this city, has been considered the most promising quarterback for the Yale eleven of the 1912 season, that a severely sprained ankle has put him out of the game for the year. The accident is a blow to the Albuquerque boy, who bid fair to be popular in Yale athletics this year, and a keen disappointment to his many local friends, who are watching his football career with interest.

Two very pretty, very small and very gay parties were given the past week for Julia Jaffa, of Roswell. On Tuesday, Hannah Nushbaum entertained at bridge in Miss Jaffa's honor. This was a strictly informal, three-table affair, but jolly withal, and topped off by a really delicious luncheon.

Then the next afternoon, Wednesday, Miss Jaffa had a little party for Miss Jaffa, of Roswell. This was a strictly informal, three-table affair, but jolly withal, and topped off by a really delicious luncheon.

Funeral Notices.
On Tuesday occurred the death of the G. O. P. While still in the fifties and at the zenith of power, a successful career was abruptly terminated, and all Republicanism mourned.

A change of climate from Washington ordered. It was hoped that the genial climate of New Mexico, and the old, ever-ready methods of the standard slang, would save the G. O. P. life. But, alas! Several serious operations were undergone—in vain. The Roosevelt affiliations were removed, and the Progressive platform cut out, but none of these things availed, and the end came peacefully Tuesday night.

The autopsy revealed that death was caused by rigor mortis of the graft processes, acute indigestion of the tariff, torpidity of the trust question and slight symptoms of Hubbellitis.
The funeral will be held under the auspices of the Taft-Jaffa club. No flowers.

The pall bearers will be life-long friends of the deceased, including Judge Edward A. Mann, Francis E. Wood, Dave Rosenwald, H. B. Henning, Elfrigo Baca and R. W. Hopkins.

Reception Largely Attended

Delightfully informal, and very gay, was the reception and dance given at the Woman's club Tuesday evening, by the Rector's Aid of St. John's Episcopal church. The parishioners were out in goodly number, and many others, also, so the crowd was quite a large one, and certainly in happy spirits. The early evening was passed in exchange of greetings, and just getting acquainted, after which the following program was rendered: Piano solo—"Polonaise"—Chopin.

Vocal—"Carissima"—Mrs. Bernard Rodey.
Vocal—"From 'The Red Feather'"—Mrs. A. F. Morrisett.
Piano—"Perpetual Motion"—Weber.
Vocal—"My Hero"—Louise Lowber.
Vocal—"From 'The Chocolate Soldier'"—Hugo Meyers.

Each of these responded to encore, and the musical program proved enjoyable throughout.
An informal dance was next on the program, which was especially enjoyed by the young people—and a few of the elders, as well. Good things to eat capped the climax of gaiety, and the evening ended joyously and late. Mrs. Morrisett was chairman-in-chief of proceedings, with Mrs. E. L. Bradford in charge of the music, and Mrs. C. O. Clark head of the committee on refreshments. The members of the Rector's Aid served.

The Ten Dons were entertained Monday night at a beautifully appointed dinner by Dr. W. G. Hope, at his home on West Copper avenue. Dr. Mendell Silber was a guest of the club. Following the "Feast of soul and flow of reason," Prof. C. E. Hodgkin talked entertainingly on his visits to Venice and Rome.

The high school boys gave a dance in Odd Fellows' hall last night in honor of the visiting Las Vegas girls, and other students, attending the meeting of the New Mexico Educational Association. A jolly time resulted for a large number of young people.

Glee Clubs Take the Town

It seems to me that everything has been said and re-said, concerning the successful sessions of the New Mexico Educational association, just closed in this city yesterday, and it is all somewhat out of my province, anyhow, except the social affairs, incident to the big convention, but I cannot close a cursory birds-eye description, without mention of the musical organizations that came along to liven up otherwise ponderous assemblies. Especially the Girls' Glee club of the Las Vegas Normal. They took the town by storm, either because of their undoubted musical abilities, or the undeniable good looks of the youthful singers.

Certainly there were some very pretty girls in the crowd, and chaperoned by Dr. Frank H. H. Roberts, they seemed to be having the time of their young lives. Their singing met with praise on all sides, and the many Las Vegas people, attending the convention, must have felt that the girls did themselves proud.

Other musical aggregations which scored decided hits with the local public and with the visitors from different parts of the state, as well, were the Tucuman high school orchestra, composed of twenty pieces; the Santa Fe glee club, the Las Vegas high school glee club, the ladies' quartette, from the Silver City Normal, and the U. N. M. glee club.

Thanksgiving Tea Planned

The Thanksgiving tea, of St. John's Guild, will be given this year at the home of Mrs. W. W. McCellan, Tuesday afternoon, November 26th. It is an annual event, and always one of the prettiest affairs of the season.

Elaborate plans are being made, and the home cooking will be especially featured. All sorts of Thanksgiving delicacies will be put on sale at nominal rates and many household accessories and Christmas trifles will be purchased at the fancy work and apron booth. A delightful lunch will be served, of course.

The Guild affairs are too well known to need any special comment, and this is sure to attract a large crowd. Mrs. McCellan will be assisted by Mrs. George Flock, Mrs. James T. Newhall, Mrs. W. E. Jenks, Mrs. L. J. Russell, Mrs. E. S. Kates and Mrs. S. Vann in receiving. Mrs. G. L. Brooks and Mrs. W. Y. Walton will pour, and the home cooking table will be in charge of Mrs. E. Russell Edgar, Mrs. E. E. Tull, Mrs. A. O. Corson and Mrs. J. A. Harlan. Mrs. W. Jenks, Mrs. Earl Stoen, Mrs. C. O. Clark, Miss Margaret Jenks and Miss Irene Saint will preside at the apron booth, and Mrs. E. L. Bradford and Mrs. A. F. Morrisett will have charge of the entertainment features.

President David R. Boyd, of the University of New Mexico, entertained at dinner at the Alvarado, Thursday evening.

His guests were President Frank H. H. Roberts, of the East Las Vegas Normal University; President C. M. Light, of the Silver City Normal; President Garrison, of the A. and M. College; State Superintendent A. S. White, and Superintendent T. W. Conway and Mrs. Conway, of Baton.

Social Brevities of Interest

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gosch, recently returned from their honeymoon trip east, will make their home at 822 North Fifth street. Mrs. Gosch was formerly Florence Hosking, of Las Vegas, and a prominent society girl of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Pratt left Thursday for San Diego, Calif., where they will make their future home. The Pratts have lived here many years, and have a wide circle of friends to regret their departure.

Dr. F. E. Tull, who is spending several weeks with his family in California, was in the city for a few days early the past week. He returned Mrs. Tull later in the week and they expect to be absent from the city until the latter part of November.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Springer have gone to El Paso to visit the Ralph Hunts. Mr. Springer will go on to California, expecting to rejoin his wife in El Paso in a month, when they will return to Albuquerque.

The Frank de la Vergne, who spent the summer in the mountains, near Cerrillos, where Dr. de la Vergne has been practicing, have returned to the city. Dr. de la Vergne has resumed his local practice.

Friends of Howard Waha (especially those of feminine persuasion) are delighted over his transfer from District No. 2, of the forest service, to this district.

Mrs. Berthold Spitz has gone to El Paso to spend several weeks with relatives and friends.

Miss Margaret Cavanaugh and Rachel Ward, of Las Vegas, who have been the guests of Mrs. Oscar Gosch for the past week, will leave for their home tomorrow.

Miss Lucy Becker, of Belen, spent the past week as the guest of Miss Sue Dobson.

Miss Julia Jaffa, who has been the guest for the past several weeks of Mrs. Sydney Rosenwald, left Friday for Las Vegas, where she will visit awhile.

Miss Salome Salmon of Santa Fe, spent Friday and Saturday, the guests of Gladys Mandell, leaving yesterday evening for her home.

Woman's Club Activities

Very appropriately, as the week was turned over to educators and collegians, the Woman's club discussed "The College Girl" at the regular meeting Friday. The program throughout was most interesting, and the able papers and general discussions were interspersed with songs by the University Glee Club. Under the capable directorship of Miss Mary McFie, the Glee Club has blossomed forth into a first-class musical organization, one of which the Varsity in particular, and the town in general, has every reason to feel very proud.

They certainly acquitted themselves creditably at the Woman's club Friday, and rendered several difficult selections, including "Ashes of Roses," "Carmena Waltz Song," "Dreaming" and the "Modern College Girl." Each selection was warmly applauded. The only other musical number was a piano solo by Pauline Borradile, very prettily done.

Dr. Evelyn Frisbie had an interesting paper on "What More Could the College Do For Our Girls," which proved a clear, incisive and apt review of collegiate education for girls. Its splendid advantages and minor disadvantages, Mrs. Shortle had an entertaining talk, adapted from "The Second Generation," and readings suitable to the program, by Mrs. H. A. Baker were greatly enjoyed. The session closed with a general discussion, "Is the Modern College Girl Property Equipped to Make a Home?" led by Mrs. Wright. Mrs. Bernard S. Rodey was the leader.

ALBUQUERQUE NEW MEXICO

DR. BOYD'S ADDRESS.

The inaugural address by Dr. Boyd is a notable one. His central thought is that education is preparation for service. That is the chief end of man. In contrast with this modern thought is the old idea that education, that life itself, was preparation of the individual for life hereafter. Because of that false belief, authorities and monks were wont to spend long years in cells and in lonely deserts trying to purge themselves, by prayer and introspection, from all evil thoughts. They were striving for individual perfection.

Dr. Boyd makes it quite clear that the mission of education is to prepare the individual to be a servant of his fellow men—particularly a servant of the state and the municipality in which he lives.

Another thing made quite clear by Dr. Boyd is the fact that the University of New Mexico has not been properly sustained by the territorial and state legislatures. Appropriations have been inadequate—shamefully so.

It probably has not occurred to the people of this state that New Mexico is spending much less on the maintenance of her university than is spent by any other state in the union. Let the taxpayers ponder over these facts. New Mexico has a population of 227,501, according to the last census. She appropriates for her university, $22,500. With one-third less population, Arizona appropriates $52,500. Nevada, with only about one-fourth of the population of New Mexico, appropriates $175,565, more than five times the sum appropriated for the maintenance of the University of New Mexico. Wyoming, with half of the population of this state, gives its university twice as much money. Idaho has a few thousand less population than we have and spends more than three times as much for her state university.

These facts should bring a blush to the cheek of those men who have expected New Mexico to have a university without even one-half the money necessary for its maintenance. They have presented the old problem the Israelites had to answer to the Egyptians, how to make brick without straw.

New Mexico needs a university for the training of her young men and young women. Nowhere else can higher education bring better results. When Dr. Boyd was secured for the presidency, only one of the problems was solved. There are two others. What will Albuquerque do toward encouraging the work of Dr. Boyd and the faculty are trying to do? What will the next legislature do toward making an adequate appropriation for the maintenance of the school?

WOODROW WILSON'S PROBLEMS.

With California, yet slightly in doubt, and assurance that Wilson has carried at least one of its electoral votes, but, conceding twelve of the votes to Roosevelt, Governor Wilson is now credited with forty states, Roosevelt with six, and Taft with two. The electoral vote stands, giving the democrats one in California, Wilson, 434; Roosevelt, 84; Taft, 8.

The elevation of Woodrow Wilson to the presidency is spectacular. No other man from civil life has grasped the supreme honors of American politics in so short a time or with so little training in public life. Zachary Taylor and Ulysses S. Grant came to the presidency without ever having held a civil office. But they were military heroes.

In the post bellum days only Grover Cleveland made anything like the spectacular rise of Woodrow Wilson, but Cleveland had more experience than the president-elect. He had been the sheriff of his county, the mayor of his city, the governor of his state. He had been a lawyer who mingled politics with his practice. Woodrow Wilson had led the secluded life of a scholar, until events at Princeton university had precipitated his resignation as its president and the work of Colonel George Harvey, editor of the Harper publications, projected him into the arena of politics as his party's candidate for the governorship of New Jersey.

When the Baltimore convention met, he had nearly two hundred votes less than a bare majority and had only one-half of the two-thirds necessary to nominate. He appeared to be lost when on the tenth ballot, Champ Clark swept into the forefront with more than a majority of the delegates. The nomination of the speaker seemed inevitable when Bryan, with a single speech, stemmed the tide and turned defeat for Wilson into victory.

Woodrow Wilson will go into the White House with a majority at his back in both houses of congress. He will be lucky if these majorities are not on his back before many months have passed. Grover Cleveland had a majority in both houses when he was inaugurated in 1893. Within a few months he had to force the house into a repeal of the silver purchase clause of the Sherman act, and later he had to declare that the new tariff bill was a "record of perfidy and dishonor."

President Wilson will face the tariff question with a party that is partly for protection and partly for tariff for revenue only. The probable outcome of the conflict that is bound to arise between these differing elements is a slight paring of present schedules, but in no wise anything akin to free trade, or even a tariff for revenue only. The democratic platform has not committed the party to such policy. While it declares for tariff for revenue only, revision is to be brought about by such gradual means as not to disturb business. It may be found that a revenue basis can be reached within a decade and it may be found that a century is too short a period for its accomplishment.

President Wilson's campaign speeches have been clear enough to indicate that he will pursue a middle course. He will stand with Underwood rather than with Bryan. Speaker Clark has made radical speeches on the tariff, in years past, but when brought face to face with the responsibility of revision, he has shown himself to be one of the most conservative men in congress. Therefore, the new president will have no urging toward a tariff for revenue only by the powerful speaker.

Colonel William Jennings Bryan will discover within a few months that there is a new democracy. Whether he will submit and sink his own radical views or fight, remains to be seen. Mr. Bryan's disposition is to fight. But he may have learned caution. He fought the selection of Underwood as floor leader of the house, and lost. He fought the selection of Martin as minority leader in the senate, and lost. He was right about Martin and he was wrong about Underwood, who, more nearly than Bryan, represents the only kind of democracy that can successfully administer the affairs of the government.

But it is more than likely that Bryan will be chosen at the outset as the premier of the Wilson administration. It is an honor that has not been declined by men like James G. Blaine and Elihu Root. But if Wilson should line up with the policies of Champ Clark and Oscar Underwood, as seems most likely, it is not certain that Mr. Bryan will not begin war, even before the date of the inauguration.

It is not improbable that there will be another clash of ambitions, such as brought Roosevelt and Taft into collision and smashed the republican party. Wilson has shown undiminished ability, but no president ever assumed office with a hair trigger condition more set than did Woodrow Wilson. It will require all the diplomacy and all the philosophy he can command. Also, he will have to have the ability to drive where he cannot lead.

THE EDUCATIONAL MEET.

The most notable meeting ever held by the New Mexico Educational Association has just closed its session in Albuquerque, and it is scheduled to meet here next year. Because of that fact it is reasonable to suppose the educators have been pleased with the treatment they received here. We know the people of Albuquerque were pleased with the teachers. Approval was shown by the fact that the opera house was crowded at every meeting. Usually, it is difficult to have the people of this city come out to any kind of meeting.

The people of Albuquerque have realized that the teachers mean more to the future of New Mexico than any other single influence. By them the growing generation must be trained mentally and to a great extent, morally, for the duties of citizenship. While the best training should be in the home, it is unfortunately true that most of it now is received in the school room.

While New Mexico spends more money per capita for children of school age than is spent by nearly any one of the southeastern states, she is far behind the states of the east and the northwest. Her six dollars per capita looks small by the $24.20 paid out by North Dakota.

Taxpayers of this state have the habit of saying that they cannot afford to pay more for the purpose of maintaining the public schools. In fact, they cannot afford to pay so little. It is an investment in good and efficient citizenship that will pay larger dividends than can be realized from any other use of their money.

THE JOKE ON EUROPE.

The joke is on the great predatory powers of Europe. For thirty years they have been licking their chops in anticipation of the allies of Turkey they were to have when the carrying time came. They have awakened to find the Balkan states confederated under their unresisting noses and to hear the roar of victorious guns and to see the terrible Turk running.

If Europe can stay the allies outside of Constantinople, the powers will have cause to congratulate themselves.

The Austrians have despised the Servians as a nation of goatherds and regarded as a people so long oppressed that no fighting spirit was left in them, as a remnant rescued by Austria, and to be ridden over by Austria whenever the other powers would permit.

The same despised Servian, like his Bulgarian brother, has flung himself like a wolf at the hated Turk, has carried fortresses by assault which by all the rules of war required a siege to take. Not infrequently a third or a fourth of the allies engaged have been lost in a single battle, they have assailed their enemies with such dauntless courage.

Greece, who made such a poor showing in her last struggle with the Turks, has joined forces and has driven into Albania with courage and result.

It is now indicated that the victors will have to heed the voice of Europe, if that voice can be heard. But there now appears to be serious division of sentiment among the great powers. England, Russia and France seem quite willing to have the allies take about all they want, while Germany, Austria and Italy favor calling a halt quickly.

The work of war is about done. The battle of diplomacy is about to begin, which will either confirm or reshape the work accomplished by the bayonets of the Balkan states.

The Roosevelt News keeps the democratic ticket at its masthead. Probably it is trying to make up since the election for its lukewarmness toward Ferguson while the campaign was on.

A St. Louis physician says that a man who resolves to live a hundred years will do so. Good resolutions are easily made and more easily broken.

Anyhow, the state of New Jersey has a surplus of two and one half million dollars in its treasury. We heard no complaint about it during the campaign.

The operation on the "Sick Man of Europe" seems to be for the excision of everything below the diaphragm.

Whoever might have been elected, Senator LaFollette was against him.

A SCALP TONIC AND COLOR RESTORER

Gives Lustre to Faded and Gray Hair; Dandruff Quickly Removed.

For generations Sage and Sulphur have been used for hair and scalp troubles. Almost everyone knows the value of such a combination for keeping the hair a good even color, for curing dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair, and for promoting the growth of the hair. Years ago the only way to get a Hair Tonic of this kind was to make it in the home, which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays, almost any up-to-date druggist can supply his patients with a ready-to-use product, skillfully prepared, in perfectly equipped laboratories.

An ideal preparation of this sort is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, in which Sage and Sulphur are combined with other valuable remedies for scalp troubles and thin, weak hair that is losing its color or coming out. After using this remedy for a few days you will notice the color gradually coming back, your scalp will feel better, the dandruff will soon be gone, and in less than a month's time there will be a wonderful difference in your hair.

Don't neglect your hair if it is full of dandruff, losing its color or coming out. Get a fifty cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, and see what a few days' treatment will do for you. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented.

ESTANCIA VALLEY SEEKS A MARKET FOR ITS BEANS

Torrance County Development Association Takes Steps to Find Place to Dispose of Annual Crop.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.) Moriarty, N. M., Nov. 9.—The regular quarterly meeting of the Torrance County Development Association was called to order by President Harry J. Fincke on Monday afternoon. A large delegation was expected from Willard, Estancia and Mountainair, but the New Mexico Central train was derailed just north of Willard. Estancia boosters came up in two autos, but for lack of munching many were compelled to remain at home. What the meeting lacked in numbers was made up in enthusiasm. C. S. Baldwin was elected temporary secretary.

The association endorsed the action of Dr. V. S. Cheyney, of Willard, who as vice president of the state fair for Torrance county, sent the $100 premium won by our county to H. J. Fincke to be placed to the credit of the association.

The following committees were appointed by the president:

Dairying and live stock — C. W. Plisk, chairman, and C. H. Greenfield, Moriarty; J. P. Porter and J. M. Taylor, of Estancia; R. E. Dorr and Dr. V. S. Cheyney, of Willard; W. B. Holland and L. L. Lorey, of Mountainair; Marketing — A. Stanton, chairman, and Ben Donlin, of Willard; V. P. John and P. H. Holloway, of Estancia; J. P. Dunlavy and J. J. White, of Mountainair; C. S. Baldwin and L. V. Holdridge, of Moriarty. Advertising — J. W. Corbett, chairman, and S. R. Edwards, of Mountainair; P. L. Haprock and R. E. Hill, of Willard; J. A. Constant and Willie Elgin, of Estancia; H. J. Fincke and C. B. McGarry, of Moriarty. Agriculture — C. M. Milbourn, chairman, and J. M. Milbourn, of Estancia; W. A. Sipes and John Cumford, of Mountainair; H. C. Sandusky and W. E. Beall, of Willard; T. H. Flowers and J. W. Davis, Irrigation — Neal Jensen, chairman, and Rev. R. E. Farley, of Estancia; F. G. McCabe and W. M. Neel, of Moriarty; F. Q. Imboden and E. A. Demler, of Mountainair; E. A. Vondeveld and L. E. Herndon, of Willard.

It was the general opinion of those present that the first thing to be done was to find a market for the thousands of pounds of beans raised in the valley this year. E. H. Holloway, of Estancia, presented a plan to create a market, the details to be worked out by the marketing committee. This committee will lose no time to take up the bean question and meet in Estancia, Monday, November 11th, at 1 p. m., for this purpose. A special meeting will be held in Estancia on the first Monday in December. The marketing committee will report its plan and the other committees will get busy with their special work. The next regular quarterly meeting will be in Willard the first Monday in February.

With Mountainair, Willard, Estancia, McIntosh and Moriarty all polling together for Torrance county and the Estancia valley great strides will be made towards making Torrance county one of the best in the state.

RAILROAD RUMOR IS REVIVED IN THE BURROS

Unexpected Visit of Dr. Douglass and Party of Phelps-Dodge Company of Officials Looks Like Business.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.) Silver City, N. M., Nov. 9.—A delegation of the Phelps-Dodge people, headed by Dr. Douglass, slipped into town yesterday morning, immediately entered an auto and filed themselves to Leopold on a still hunt of course they took no one into their confidence and just the way and whereabouts of the visit made is not known. It is surmised, however, and even suggested, that the visit has a deal more to do with railroad construction than active mining. The company has been doing quite a lot of mining at Leopold for several months, the ore being placed on the dumps to be shipped to Douglas, Ariz., and it is believed that the present visit, among other things, is to look into the building of the proposed line from Tyrone to Deming, Leopold and Tyrone people think they are poised in taking this view of the very sudden appearance of the Phelps-Dodge representatives in the Burros.

In view of the increased use of gasoline and other fuel oils, the Chalmers and Company is erecting three large tanks here in which to store the different oils. Tenny's team freight engines will use a very large quantity of oil, and the mine in the McAdams are using daily large supplies of fuel oil.

PREPARED TO START CONSTRUCTION OF NEW BRIDGE

Structure Spanning Rio Grande at Belen, Replacing One Destroyed by Floods in Spring, to be Rebuilt at Once.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.) Belen, N. M., Nov. 9.—As soon as definite announcement is made that the bridge across the Rio Grande at Belen will be built by the board of county commissioners, other necessary arrangements will be rushed to completion. Among other things, preliminary plans have been completed for the building of a road from the end of Becker avenue at the Santa Fe station, to the bridge site. This road has already been surveyed, and Becker avenue has been continued in a straight line to the river. This will give a straight road from the center of Belen to the river, a distance of considerably over three miles.

The site which has been chosen for the bridge by the state engineer is one and three-quarter miles from the Santa Fe depot, and almost two and one-quarter miles from the business portion of the town. The completion of the survey shows that it will be possible to build the road along the proposed route, although it will require a considerable amount of labor and expenditure of money to do so.

The entire matter is now awaiting the finding of the board of commissioners. If that body learns that it can appropriate funds for the bridge, bids will be advertised immediately. If this is done, the further work of securing the right of way for the proposed new road will be commenced at once, so that all may be done as quickly as possible.

The line which has been run, passes through the properties of a number of persons, and it is not known as yet how all of the owners will receive it. It is possible, of course, that condemnation proceedings may be instituted in a few cases, if no other means prove successful. However, it is thought that very little of this work will have to be resorted to.

The ladies of the G. A. R. Literary and Sewing Society will give a bazaar the afternoon and evening of November 16th, in the old Odd Fellows hall. Home cooking, home-made candy and fancy work, to say nothing of an excellent supper and a jolly good time for all make up the attractions that will surely draw a large crowd.

DONA ANA COUNTY APPROVES BONDS BY BIG VOTE

Out of Approximately 2,000 Ballots Polled, 1,900 Were in Favor of Half Million Dollars for Good Roads.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.) Los Angeles, N. M., Nov. 9.—Out of approximately 2,000 votes cast in Dona Ana county, about 1,900 were in favor of the state road bond issue. This, it is believed, is a record among the counties of the state of voters' approval of the bonds.

By this enormous majority, Dona Ana county expressed itself in no uncertain terms as to the state bond issue for good roads. This is almost entirely due to a vigorous active campaign of education that has been carried on from one end of the county to the other in the past thirty days. Had the election taken place a month ago it is doubtful if the bond issue would have carried in Dona Ana county. But since the voters had become fully informed as to the provisions of the law they were enthusiastic for it and almost unanimously approved the bond issue, and have done a great deal to overcome the adverse vote in other parts of the state.

LUNG AFFECTION YIELDED TO THIS REMEDY

Anyone interested in the treatment of Consumption should get one of the bottles of E. J. Kelly's Lung Tonic. It is the effective remedy. Read Mr. Kelly's statement:

"Saratoga, N. Y.
"Realization for five or six years I was troubled with cough and expectoration. I tried all kinds of remedies, but none gave me relief. I was given Cod Liver Oil, and other medicines, all without benefit.
"At Christmas time, 1904, I was not expected to live. Called Dr. R. H. McCarthy, he advised the use of E. J. Kelly's Lung Tonic. I took with excellent results, and was entirely cured. I have gained in weight, I go out in all weathers and have had no cough or cold whatever. I give this remedy to encourage others to use Kelly's Lung Tonic."
(Signed affidavit.) JAS. W. KANALY.
E. J. Kelly's Lung Tonic is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. It is a powerful tonic, and a habit-forming drug. Society.

zard, of the Woman's club, will be held Friday, November 22nd. It will be an all-day affair, and will continue late that evening, or at least until things are pretty well cleaned up. There will be for sale an unusually attractive assortment of hand painted china, as the art class has accomplished wonders this season, besides the usual display of fancy work and home cooking.

A meeting of the committees in charge, and the board of managers, is called for tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the D. A. Blitzer home.

Theatrical activities, in the Woman's club hinge about the rehearsals and general preparations for "David Garrick," to be staged by them sometime in December. The exact date has not as yet been decided upon, nor the entire cast selected, although the leading roles have been assigned, and rehearsals have already commenced in a small way. Mrs. David M. White, a new comer and said to be a real "find" as a coach and theatrical director, is to have entire charge of the production. Mrs. White comes highly recommended and has a number of past successes to her credit, so the Woman's club expects their next play to be the best they have ever staged.

In Honor of a Bride-Elect

Mrs. Edward E. Frank entertained at a miscellaneous shower, yesterday afternoon, in honor of Miss Amy Sims, of De Tour, Michigan, who leaves tomorrow for Detroit, where she will be wedded, November 12th, to Marcus Hazen, of Sault Ste Marie, Mich.

Miss Sims spent the past year in Albuquerque, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Clarke Watson, and has a wide circle of friends to wish her happiness in the new life.

Mrs. Frank's party was beautifully decorated with red and white hearts, carrying out the pre-nuptial idea, and with a profusion of cut flowers to emphasize the color scheme. About twenty ladies enjoyed the jolly afternoon, and the bride-elect received a varied and handsome assortment of gifts.

A wedding of more than ordinary interest to Albuquerqueans, occurred in Richmond, Calif., the past week when Miss Janet Giesoldt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Giesoldt, was united in marriage with Lloyd White, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. White, of this city. Both are well-known here as the Giesoldts formerly made their home in Albuquerque, and the young couple have a host of friends to greet them upon their return from a honeymoon trip through California.

Mrs. John A. White attended her son's wedding in Richmond.

Guild Hall Renovated

The announcement is made, for benefit of strangers in the city, either Episcopalians or friends of the church, or for any one interested, that the Rector's Aid society of St. John's church, or St. John's Guild society, will meet each Wednesday at Guild hall, just back of the church. The place has been renovated and refurnished and makes a cozy and attractive gathering place for the two church societies.

The meetings will be held there alternating Wednesdays, and each society extends a cordial invitation to outsiders to attend.

Work is started in dead earnest, and the ladies of St. John's church plan the most successful season they ever had.

State Association Organized.

Among the many other good things resulting from the convention of educators in this city the past week is the organization of a state federation of the several parent-teachers' clubs and mothers' clubs in the state. The federation was effected at a session held in the Central school building Friday afternoon, when Mrs. Theresa B. White, state superintendent of industrial education in the public schools, conducted a meeting, that is to mark a new epoch in New Mexico schools.

A paper written by Mrs. Oldham, editor of the New Mexico Educational Journal, was read in part by Mrs. S. F. Culbertson. This paper, "A Plea For the Parent Teachers' Club," was read later in the assembly room to the teachers of the institute in the elementary department, and at both readings impressed all with the urgent necessity, and great possibilities of parent teachers co-operative work.

Another very fine paper by Prof. Conway that had been read at the morning session, was read at the school patrons' meeting by Mrs. Rupert Asplund.

The organization of the allied local societies is to be called the Patrons' section of the New Mexico Educational Association, and is to have a special department in the annual conventions, and a department in the New Mexico Educational Journal. The officers chosen to direct the state association the first year are: Mrs. John W. Wilson, president of the Albuquerque Parent Teachers' Co-operative Association, state chairman; Mrs. R. P. Donahoe, of Tucuman, member of the national association, vice chairman; Mrs. Hicks, of Santa Rosa, secretary.

Mrs. E. Wolf, the well known expressist, and member of the Y. W. C. A. faculty, will deliver a lecture in the association library tomorrow evening on "The Art of Public Reading." Mrs. Wolf will also render eloquent numbers. Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend.

This is one of a series of Monday evening parlor talks, to continue during the winter season at the Y. W. C. A.

Wedding Anniversary Party.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Moon celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary, Saturday evening, at their home, 216 West Stover avenue. The house was attractively decorated for the occasion, the dining room arrangements being particularly pretty, consisting of chrysanthemums and greenery.

The host and hostess received many handsome gifts of china, and the evening was delightfully spent with cards and music as the chief amusements.

Those participating in the merry celebration were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Greenleaf, Walter Greenleaf, Evert, Greenleaf, Frank Greenleaf, Miss May Monahan, Miss Moriarty, W. C. Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crane, Mrs. Lucy H. Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. George Dent, Miss Bessie Dent, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Coen, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schelke, Mr. Charles Schelke, Jr., Master Wesley Schelke, Miss Rosette Wilkerson, Mr. Oliver Wilkerson, Mrs. J. F. Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Davidson, Miss Jessie Davidson, Mr. Carl Griffith, Mr. Edward Sydel, Mr. O. C. Collins, Miss Marion Moriarty and Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Schurr, Mr. Kenneth Schurr, Mrs. M. Griffith, Mrs. M. Strong, Mr. Ray Carson, Mr. O. C. Spetters, Miss Clara Berton, Master Ervin Crane, Miss Dorothy Coen, Miss Ruth Greenleaf and Mr. Charles Bontricht.

Musical Evening at Y. W. C. A.

The musical evening at the Y. W. C. A. Monday night brought out a good crowd, and provided a pleasurable and instructive evening for those assembled.

The first number on the program was a duet, "Greeting" (Mendelssohn) by Frances Skirone and Kathryn Grimmer. Very well rendered, indeed. Mrs. Mabel Stevens Hince then gave a talk on the life and works of Mendelssohn, citing interesting events in the life of the great master, and talking entertainingly of his wonderful musical career.

Mendelssohn's musical adaptation of Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream" was rendered by the vocal pupils of Mrs. E. L. Bradford, with Kathryn Grimmer and Madge Pinney as soloists, and with Miss Marie Higgins as accompanist.

It was beautifully done, and provides an excellent commentary on the work of Mrs. Bradford, and the ability of her pupils.

In Church and Club Circles

Mrs. Luther Stone, of 315 North Sixth street, was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the Ladies' Auxiliary, of the Railway Mail association.

The membership was out full force, and a most enjoyable afternoon passed. Mrs. Stone served refreshments at the conclusion of the jolly affair.

hall Tuesday evening, when a large number enjoyed the delightful social affair. The election returns were received, and numerous other pleasant features of entertainment provided.

Advice to the Fat

Sleep but little; never eat anything that's fat, or sweet. Shut tobacco, alcohol. Eat potatoes not at all. Beans, rice, puddings, pies abhor. Never pass your plate for more. With your meals no water take. Walk until your muscles ache. Exercise an awful lot. Especially if the weather's hot. Hungry always leave the table. Eat as little as you're able. If you're really faint for food, Unbattered toast is very good. Or if that does not suffice, Two or three stewed prunes are nice. Milk and cream you must taboo, Sugar in your coffee, too. Try this plan two months or three And I'll give you my guarantee. The advice I give is true And you'll lose a pound or two. H. T. Cooke, in Life.

During the stay of Colonel A. S. Greig, vice president of the Frisco lines, in this city the past week, he entertained at lunch in his palatial private car several resident old time friends of his. The luncheon was given Tuesday and was a most sumptuous affair. Colonel Greig's guests were Colonel J. H. O'Reilly, Joseph E. Saint, E. W. Dobson and the members of his party as follows: R. W. P. Greig, S. J. Dufor and E. Stansbury.

Men Never Hear Their Wives Say:

Just think! I wore a number six shoe when I was married! No, I don't believe I need any new gowns this winter. I have plenty of clothes.

Don't bother to remember my birthday or our anniversaries with presents for me any more, dear. I'd rather you'd spend the money for cigars.

No, thank you! I don't care for chocolates. I don't mind one bit even if my switch isn't the color of my hair or who knows that I wear one.

I think a man looks more distinguished when he has a bald spot and is minus a few front teeth.

Our children are not as pretty or as smart as Mrs. Smith's children. I don't believe in woman's rights. I think a man's word should be law! —Judge.

Women Never Hear Their Husbands Say:

Don't you think you should buy yourself several new hats and gowns? No, I don't care to go to the club this evening. I would much prefer staying home with you.

I remembered your birthday and have brought you home a diamond bracelet.

Wouldn't you like me to send you a dozen American Beauties and a five-pound box of candy?

I'll stay home and take care of the children. You go to the Women's club meeting.

Do you care to go to the theater?

I will get the tickets and order a taxi. I think your gown is beautiful. You are much prettier than Smith's wife. Of course, I will vote for woman's suffrage. I think a woman has just as much right to vote as a man.

OCEAN-TO-OCEAN IS CRY OF BOOSTERS FROM SUNSET

"We Are Here to Fight for the Southern Route," is the Keynote of California Delegates' Song.

Having just recovered her normal self from the effects of a week of gaiting with the Educational Association, Albuquerque will turn out in force this morning to welcome the California delegates to the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association convention in Santa Fe, which opens tomorrow.
The delegates, at least a major portion of their number, arrived last night on the eastbound California limited. They will spend today here, leaving tonight for the capital to attend the convention. The rest of the delegation will arrive this morning, and they too, will spend the day here.

The delegates are not only strong in numbers but in spirit. They are here to fight for the southern route and are armed to the teeth with facts and figures indicating why the southern route, which passes through Albuquerque, is the best one to receive national aid and why it should be the first to do so. The crowd is headed by John S. Mitchell, president of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association and a former resident of this part of the country, and is composed of enthusiasts entirely.

When seen yesterday evening, Mr.
Mitchell said: "There is just one thing to say and that is to keep up the good work. If you want prosperity, go after good roads. Tell the farmers to go after them. And keep on going after them."

Mr. Mitchell preached several paragraphs more of the gospel of good roads, but said nothing on that subject that has not already been said several times to every New Mexican.

Coming round to the topic of the Ocean-to-Ocean highway in particular, he declared: "There is no reason in the world why this government should not aid roads. France, Switzerland, and other countries have done so, and look at the difference in their hand-sake costs as compared with ours. They also have the advantage of the roads for military use."

"There is every reason why this route, the ocean-to-ocean route, which passes through this city, should be the first to receive government aid.
In the first place, it traverses many fertile reservations, mineral reservations, passes near more national monuments than any other and more Indian reservations than any other, and last and strongest, this is the only road across the continent that can be kept open every day of the year. That is the main point in its favor."

"Now, we are here to fight for this route. We are organized to fight for it and we are going to do so. But let me tell you, young man, now is the time for every citizen of this state to stand up and do his best for this road
if it is to go through."

"You know, of course, that there is opposition to the route. People farther north want this road. California has even been offered a sop to work for the northern route. But we feel that our interest in this southern California's interest, lies with New Mexico and Arizona. And we are going to stay by them."

"We were offered a branch line from El Paso, to Los Angeles, as a sop, but we want the terminus of the main line."

"The plan I advocate is for the different states which will be crossed by the road to bond themselves and share
the expense of the construction of it.
Then the government will be shown that the people have a financial interest in building and maintaining it, and they will be that much easier to convince."

Mr. Mitchell cited several instances of good roads work in California, saying that the 300 miles of good roads in Los Angeles county were what made the prosperity of the city of Los Angeles.

DELEGATES WILL GO ON AUTO TOUR TODAY.

This morning the delegates will be taken for an automobile trip over the city and vicinity by a delegation of local boosters headed by Colonel D.
K. H. Sellers, vice president for New Mexico of this association. Those who have loaned their cars for this occasion and who will take part in the tour are A. R. McMillen, Jacob Kor-ber, Felix H. Lester, E. L. Grose, M.
L. Stern, Cortez Quickel, Hugh Trotter, Frank Storz, W. H. Hahn.

The delegation which arrived last night is composed of, beside John
S. Mitchell, Chester Lawrence, Wilbur
Hall, Karl A. Carlson, Harry A. Stewart, Dr. W. A. Fulton, Senator P. F.
Coggshall.

With the good road people will go

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE IS ORGANIZED BY FIVE MAYORS

Fourteen Leading Cities of New Mexico to be Urged to Join; Will Further Needed Legislation.

A permanent municipal league was organized yesterday by officials of six New Mexican cities who met at the Commercial club in answer to a call from Dr. J. J. Shuler, mayor of Raton.
An attempt was made about a year ago to organize the city officials of New Mexico, but it failed, and when the mayors met yesterday they first formed a temporary organization. Later all the machinery of a permanent organization was adopted.

The mayors of five cities were present. They were Dr. J. J. Shuler, of Raton; D. K. H. Sellers, of Albuquerque; William M. Atkinson, of Roswell;
J. H. McBane, of Alamogordo, and R.
J. Taupert, of East Las Vegas. A. W.
Hockenbush, city attorney of Clovis,
also was here.

Mayor Atkinson was elected temporary chairman, and Felix H. Lester, city attorney, temporary secretary.
The permanent officers are Dr. Shuler, president; Mayor Sellers, vice president; and Howard L. Bickley, city attorney of Raton, secretary. The secretary was instructed to send letters to fourteen cities, asking them to become members of the league. Each city will be asked to subscribe $10 to cover the expense of mailing them bills relating to municipalities and other information in regard to city government.

The league will attempt to secure the introduction in the legislature of a bill that will facilitate letting paving contracts. The city officials are anxious to avoid some of the present procedure which they regard as cumbersome. The mayors also will try to smooth out the wrinkles in the law providing for the apportionment of among cities of the premiums paid the state by insurance companies. The cities did not receive this money this year, the state treasurer taking the position that there was a conflict in the law which prevented his paying out the money legally. Albuquerque's share—which it didn't get—would have been about $2,250, according to Mayor Sellers.

The next meeting of the league is to be held at Santa Fe in the second week of the session of the legislature.
A program covering several days will be prepared for that time, as the city officials who were here yesterday expect the league to grow rapidly.

The president and secretary were instructed yesterday to prepare a constitution and by laws by that time.
An executive committee also was elected. This committee will consist of Mayor Atkinson, of Roswell; Mayor
E. R. Hart, of Clovis; Mayor McBane, of Alamogordo; Mayor Taupert, of East Las Vegas; and Mayor Celso Lopez of Santa Fe.

The cities to be invited to join the league are Raton, Las Vegas, Santa Fe, Las Cruces, Silver City, Deming, Gallup, Clovis, Tucuman, Alamo-gordo, Roswell, Carlsbad, Artesia and Farmington.

The officials remained here last night and today they will be taken on an automobile ride in company with the ocean-to-ocean highway delegates who arrived last night.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

Mrs. Henrietta Schurz.
News received by Albuquerque relatives yesterday of the death in Los Angeles of Mrs. Henrietta Schurz, sister of Mrs. Berthold Spitz and of Mrs. D. S. Rosenwald, of Albuquerque. While Mrs. Schurz had been in failing health for some time, her death was a shock to relatives and friends alike in this city, where she was well known. Mrs. Schurz was 45 years old and is survived by three children. Her home was at El Paso, where her mother, Mrs. Sam Schurz, resides. Mrs. Rosenwald left last night for Los Angeles to accompany the body of her sister to El Paso, where burial will take place. Mrs.
Spitz also left for El Paso, going there to be with her mother in her hour of grief.

New Quartermaster's Corps Provides Lucrative Positions in Subsistence and Pay Departments.

Major C. N. Barney, the United States army recruiting officer at Albuquerque, is now receiving applications from men who wish to enlist in the new quartermaster corps, which replaces civilian employees in the former quartermaster, subsistence and pay departments.

The new corps is to comprise fifteen master electricians, 600 sergeants, first class, 1,000 sergeants, 450 cor-

receive the same pay and allowances, including increase of pay for foreign service and for length of service, retirement privileges, etc., as enlisted men of corresponding grades in the signal corps. The pay ranges from fifteen to one hundred and twelve dollars per month, in addition to quarters, food, clothing and other allowances.

Enlisted men of the quartermaster corps will not be required to perform any military duties other than those pertaining to their corps.

The duties of the quartermaster
corps will be as follows:

Master Electricians.—For duty at posts where large lighting plants are operated and owned by the United States.

Sergeants (first class).—Electri-cians, clerks, packmasters, superintendents of transportation, foreman engineers, foreman plumbers, fore-

BITTER BATTLE WON BY INDIAN SCHOOL FROM VARSITY

Red Men Hang Hoodoo Sign on Eleven from the Hill by One Lonesome But Sufficient Score.

One of the hardest and most evenly fought football contests that have been witnessed on a local gridiron in recent years was yesterday won by the Albuquerque Indian school from the University of New Mexico. The score was 7 to 6.

The game was played at Association park, before a large crowd. Enthusiasm was high all the time and the game deserved it.

The first quarter looked somewhat like a walk-away for the varsity eleven, but the Indians tightened up after then, and there was no stopping them. Forward passes were efficient during this quarter, the red men making the more efficient use of them. The varsity seemed to be unable to gain with any pass except a short one right over the line. Three times this was tried successfully, on the other hand, the Indians seemed to be able to use the forward pass at will, long passes sometimes miscarrying, but the short pass over the line was effective every time it was tried.

The university's only touchdown came about the middle of the first period, when Laprak carried the ball over on a slide off tackle.

Then the teams changed ends of the field, and before long the university was almost in the shadow of the goal posts again. A forward pass to Balcumb was dropped but recovered, and the runner crossed the line close to the goal. It was disallowed, however, for some reason unknown to the spectators, and the varsity lost a down. They made their distance, then, on the fourth down, Lackey tried a place kick, which narrowly missed the goal post. The margin was sufficient, however, and from that time on the Indians apparently gained strength and confidence.

Toward the end of the second quarter, they made a forward pass over the goal line and tied the score. The pass was from Spencer to Plarote and was beautifully handled. Plarote, however, ran back of the 10-yard free zone behind the goal, and it was claimed that this disqualified the score. The Indians kicked a difficult goal, but it is understood the university will protest and refer the play to some noted authority. The ball had been carried down the field to the most bitter fight of the whole game. The Indians kicked far down the field, Laprak, quarter for the varsity, who was playing safely, attempted to handle the ball, but it was too far for him to catch it. He did succeed in touching it, however, and an Indian runner captured it but was promptly downed. The university then had a fight on its hands, but the Indians got the pigskin across, as mentioned, on the third down.

Had Laprak not attempted to handle the ball, it would have rolled outside and been the university's. Later in the game he failed to handle a ball for this reason, and was rewarded with the possession of the oval where it went out.

In the third period, the Indians held the university for downs within two yards of their own goal. Some of the red men's supporters claimed that the university had been allowed too many downs at this point.

In the fourth period the two teams settled down to hard work, but both

YALE WINS FROM BROWN IN HARD FOUGHT GAME

Blue Eleven is Given a Good Fight by Lesser College, Which Comes Near Scoring Several Times.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
New Haven, Conn., Nov. 9.—Playing a steady and aggressive game, Yale defeated the strong Brown eleven this afternoon, 10 to 0, although more than once the visitors played dangerously near a score. A new mass formation brought on from the west by Coach "Tom" Shellen, was tried out by the Yale team. Both sides resorted to frequent punting throughout the game. Plinn, of Yale, once booting the ball with a favoring wind some sixty yards.

The final score was made in the third period. Plinn punted to Henry, who fumbled and Wheeler recovered the ball. Plinn then plunged through the line repeatedly down to the 10-yard line, where Yale lost the ball on an attempted forward pass and Henry punted out to midfield. Plinn broke through the Brown line for a 25-yard run to Brown's 25-yard line, Plinnages by Plinn and Philbin battered down the visitors' defense and the ball advanced slowly to Brown's 15-yard line, when Plinn was pushed over of a touchdown. He kicked goal.

The fourth period opened with an exchange of punts, during which Plinn made his 45-yard kick, dropping the ball to Brown's 50-yard line, whence Henry set it back to the center of the field. Spalding's forward pass to Philbin netted two yards. A series of rushes by Yale then carried the ball to the visitors' 15-yard line and Plinnage sent it over the bar for a field goal.

Harvard, 9; Vanderbilt, 3.
Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 9.—Harvard sent the Vanderbilt football team back to the southland today with a 9 to 3 defeat, but the Commodores left behind them a reputation for speed and versatility in attack and stubbornness in defense that will be remembered.

Using a team made up almost wholly of substitutes, Harvard scored a touchdown and a field goal in the second and fourth periods, respectively. Crinson players permitted the southerners in the third period to get within dropping kicking distance of Harvard's goal and Curdin lifted the ball over for three points.

As usual, Harvard tried out the strength of its defense in the first period, kicking usually on the second down. It was not until after five minutes of play in the second period that Harvard's attack reached its full stride and the ball was carried down the field 35 yards for a touchdown. Vanderbilt came back strong in the third period, scoring a field goal and outplaying the Crimson until the two last minutes. Then Harvard brought its strongest offense into action and the ball was carried to the 45-yard line. The strength of the Vanderbilt defense proved too much for the Harvard attack and after three rushes, Milholland, the Crimson end, dropped a goal from the field on the 22-yard line.

Vanderbilt brought out in the last ten minutes of play nearly her full force of offensive tactics. Among the most successful plays was a delayed forward pass in which the ball was handled by four men and finally carried down for a gain of 22 yards. It was one of the most brilliantly executed plays ever seen in the stadium.

Dartmouth, 21; Cornell, 0.
Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Cornell brought its local season to a close today by a defeat by Dartmouth 21 to 0, in the hardest played game of the year. The superior weight of the Dartmouth line and the speed of its backs took Cornell off its feet in the opening quarter but after the first few minutes, Cornell held well and made the green play for all it was worth.

California and Stanford Tie.
California Field, Berkeley, Cal., Nov. 9.—There was little of rugby as the game is generally understood about the seventh annual contest between Stanford University and the University of California, which ended a 3 to 3 tie today. They played on a field so deep in mud that passing rallies and the open play which served to make rugby thrilling on a dry field were utterly lacking.

Purdue and Illinois Tie.
LaFayette, Ind., Nov. 9.—Purdue and Illinois battled to a tie this afternoon, the game ending 9 to 9. In the first part of the game Purdue showed superiority but in the last quarter the visitors rallied and had Purdue on the run. Finally Purdue defeated sufficiently to save itself from defeat.

The first touchdown was made in the first quarter by O'Brien, of Purdue. There was no further scoring until the final quarter, in which Illinois put into use a new line shift formation coupled with a forward pass. Silkman scored a touchdown and Woolston soon after booted a field goal from the thirty-five-yard line.

Oliphant for Purdue carried the ball thirty-five yards on an end run, and by end runs and forward passes the ball was placed on Illinois five-yard line. Then Oliphant dropped back to the twelve-yard line and made a perfect field goal, tying the score just as the game ended.

Princeton Ramps With New York.
Princeton, N. J., Nov. 9.—Princeton found New York University no harder than had been expected and romped away with the long end of a 54 to 0 score here today. Almost from the start it was evident that New York was outclassed and before the first period was over it became a case of how large a score the Tigers would roll up.

The work of the Princeton backfield stood out prominently. All six of the backs which Princeton used tore through the line for gains varying from five to eighty yards. Hobart, Barker and Earl Waller were the particular stars in this respect.

With the Yale game but a week off the work of the Orange and Black line gave little opportunity for encouragement. The showing was by no means up to the defensive strength displayed in the Harvard game and work on the offensive was equally poor.

Wisconsin, 64; Arkansas, 7.
Madison, Wis., Nov. 9.—The University of Arkansas proved easy picking for the highly trained Wisconsin squad at Camp Randall today, scoring 7 points to Wisconsin's 64. The southerners presented a weak line, but excelled in tackling. They had a commendable knack of putting down a runner by the legs and staying off the intended touchdown.

Martin, the Arkansas fullback, and Frazer, left halfback, starred for the visitors. Torney, the Badger left half, distinguished himself by dashing plays, usually taking the form of long runs. Zigzagging through the field for long runs the Madison players brought the crowd to its feet with yells of approval. Coach Hunsent used many substitutions and saved his star men for next Saturday's championship battle with Minnesota.

Iowa State, 21; Drake, 14.
Des Moines, Nov. 9.—The Iowa State football team defeated Drake here today 21 to 14. Drake failed to fathom the Iowans' split back, and until the game was almost over failed to get its open game to working.

McWilliams, standing on Drake's thirty-five-yard line, made the first field goal through the leads in two years. In the second quarter, Knoble, breaking through the Drake line on the split back, shook off tacklers and raced forty yards to a touchdown. In the third quarter Lemire intercepted a forward pass in the middle of the field and eluded several tacklers for a score. Mills kicked both goals.

Wolgang in Los Angeles.
Los Angeles, Nov. 9.—Ad Wolgang, champion lightweight, arrived here this afternoon from New Orleans, where he fought Joe Mandot, last week. He said he was going to San Francisco in two or three days. "I see no reason," he added, "why I should not keep my engagement with Corfio to fight for him in San Francisco Thanksgiving day."

Brown and Brock Matched.
Cleveland, O., Nov. 9.—Announcement was made today that "Knock Out" Brown, of New York, has been matched to fight Phil Brock, of Cleveland, here on Thanksgiving day.

Nebraska, 54; Duane College, 6.
Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 9.—Nebraska scored an easy victory—54 to 6—over Duane College of Crete, today, but because of over confidence and carelessness, permitted her own goal line to be crossed. Except for one brief period Duane was on the defensive. Nebraska started with a rush that carried the lighter Duane men off their feet, the Nebraska scoring three touchdowns in the first quarter and two in the second.

Diplomatic Developments Arising from Balkan Situation Lead to Decline in Foreign Markets.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
New York, Nov. 9.—Latest diplomatic developments arising from the war in the Balkans brought serious unsettlement to the local stock market today. Advises from authoritative foreign sources pointed plainly to a feeling of acute apprehension at the important centers and the precautions taken by Europe's bankers in the way of curtailing private discounts until the existing situation assumes a more favorable aspect are in themselves indubitable evidence of the nervousness pervading the eastern hemisphere. Our securities were off 1 to 2 points in London and initial quotations here showed losses of a point in leading issues, including Canadian Pacific, the Harriman, St. Paul, Reading and the coppers. Later the selling extended to United States Steel which became almost the center of the speculative favorites. Low bid prices were reached in the final hour and in numerous instances the gains made on Wednesday's bull movement were entirely effaced.

Carlisle, 27; Army, 6.
West Point, Nov. 9.—Carlisle defeated the army here today 27 to 6. The Indians outplayed the cadets at every stage of the game, and only once, early in the first period, did the Army get within striking distance of the visitors' goal line. This time they scored. The cadets were baffled by the open field play of the Redskins and great gains were made by Thorpe and Arcosa through the Army tacklers and around the ends.

Thorpe's work was the feature of the game. He tore through the Army team again and again for long gains. His fifty-yard run in the last half through the entire Army eleven was the most spectacular play of the day. He scored a touchdown on this play which was disallowed because an Indian lineman was caught holding.

He scored two touchdowns and kicked three goals, missing the fourth one. His one attempt at a goal from the field from the forty-five-yard mark went true, but was short a few feet.

Washburn, 10; Kansas, 6.
Topeka, Kan., Nov. 9.—The Washburn College football team sprung a surprise here today by defeating the University of Kansas.

Neither team scored in the first period, but Washburn took the lead in the second quarter by scoring a touchdown on a finely executed forward pass. The first half ended with Washburn leading 7 to 0.

In the third quarter the visitors worked the ball to the danger zone repeatedly, but lost it each time and were unable to score. The Washburn players were on the defensive throughout this period.

JOHNSON SUFFERS FROM COLD FEET; STILL IN JAIL

Negro Pugilist Feigns Illness to Get Into Hospital, But Fails; To Carry Case to Supreme Court.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Chicago, Nov. 9.—Attorneys for Jack Johnson, who is held in the county jail in default of a $30,000 bond, on a charge of violating the Mann act, will go to the United States supreme court in an effort to obtain the release of the negro pugilist, according to an announcement made tonight. The contention will be set up that the Mann act is unconstitutional in that it deals with a crime over which states alone have jurisdiction.

Meanwhile, Johnson probably will remain in his cell. Late today he was placed in a cage with James Brown, a negro cook charged with murder. The fighter's incarceration followed his vain efforts to obtain a place in the hospital by feigning illness. A physician examined Johnson and thus diagnosed his case:

"His only trouble is cold feet." Immediately Johnson was ordered to vacate a comfortable chair in which he had been lying. Handcuffs were placed on his wrists and he was transferred to a cell in the negro section of the jail.

Diplomatic Developments Arising from Balkan Situation Lead to Decline in Foreign Markets.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
New York, Nov. 9.—Latest diplomatic developments arising from the war in the Balkans brought serious unsettlement to the local stock market today. Advises from authoritative foreign sources pointed plainly to a feeling of acute apprehension at the important centers and the precautions taken by Europe's bankers in the way of curtailing private discounts until the existing situation assumes a more favorable aspect are in themselves indubitable evidence of the nervousness pervading the eastern hemisphere. Our securities were off 1 to 2 points in London and initial quotations here showed losses of a point in leading issues, including Canadian Pacific, the Harriman, St. Paul, Reading and the coppers. Later the selling extended to United States Steel which became almost the center of the speculative favorites. Low bid prices were reached in the final hour and in numerous instances the gains made on Wednesday's bull movement were entirely effaced.

Carlisle, 27; Army, 6.
West Point, Nov. 9.—Carlisle defeated the army here today 27 to 6. The Indians outplayed the cadets at every stage of the game, and only once, early in the first period, did the Army get within striking distance of the visitors' goal line. This time they scored. The cadets were baffled by the open field play of the Redskins and great gains were made by Thorpe and Arcosa through the Army tacklers and around the ends.

Thorpe's work was the feature of the game. He tore through the Army team again and again for long gains. His fifty-yard run in the last half through the entire Army eleven was the most spectacular play of the day. He scored a touchdown on this play which was disallowed because an Indian lineman was caught holding.

He scored two touchdowns and kicked three goals, missing the fourth one. His one attempt at a goal from the field from the forty-five-yard mark went true, but was short a few feet.

Washburn, 10; Kansas, 6.
Topeka, Kan., Nov. 9.—The Washburn College football team sprung a surprise here today by defeating the University of Kansas.

Neither team scored in the first period, but Washburn took the lead in the second quarter by scoring a touchdown on a finely executed forward pass. The first half ended with Washburn leading 7 to 0.

In the third quarter the visitors worked the ball to the danger zone repeatedly, but lost it each time and were unable to score. The Washburn players were on the defensive throughout this period.

Chicago Board of Trade.
Chicago, Nov. 9.—Uneasiness over the war situation today hoisted the wheat market. Closing prices were strong at a net advance of 3/8 to 1/2 cent. So regardless of bear news were wheat traders that no heed seemed to be given figures showing primary receipts double the arrivals of a year ago. December delivery here ranged from 83 1/2 to 89 cents; 89 1/2 to 90 cents, with last sales 90 1/2 cent net higher, at 89 1/2 cents.

Improved eastern demand resulted in making corn strong. December fluctuated between 49 1/2 to 50 cents, closing firm, 50 1/2 cent up, 50 cents even. Cash grades were unswayed.

December oats closed 5 1/2 cent above last night at 31 1/2 to 31 3/4 cents.

The outcome for the provision list in the main was a setback of 2 1/2 to 30 cents.

Treasury Statement.
Washington, Nov. 9.—The condition of the United States treasury at the beginning of business today was: Working balance, $93,942,968. In banks and Philippine treasury, $39,546,794.

Total of general fund, $150,062,921. Receipts yesterday, $2,886,297. Disbursements, $2,056,512. The deficit this fiscal year is $1,270,386, as against a deficit of $21,477,290 last year.

The figures for receipts, disbursements and deficit exclude Panama Canal and public debt transactions.

FARM PRICES YIELD TO BUMPER CROP PRODUCTION

Cost of Staples Reduced 12.8 Per Cent Compared with Same Time Last Year, Says Department of Agriculture.

The Morning Journal Special Lined Wire. Washington, Nov. 9.—Average farm prices for corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, flaxseed, potatoes, buckwheat, cotton and hay, which represent about three-fourths of the value of all the country's crops, were lower on November 10 than they have been in the last five years on that date. They were 12.8 per cent lower than last year.

In addition to these figures the department of agriculture, in its supplemental crop report, today announced crop conditions compared with the average condition at time of gathering as follows:

Orange, 108; sugar beets, 102; lemons, 101; sugar cane, 90. The yield per acre compared with the average yield of 1911, 1912; sweet potatoes, 106. Production figures expressed in percentage of the average productions are apples, 106; cranberries, 106.

WILSON MEANS TO GO ON LONG VACATION

President-Elect Plans Trip on Ocean for Six Weeks, After Which He Will Talk of National Policies.

The Morning Journal Special Lined Wire. Princeton, N. J., Nov. 9.—President-elect Woodrow Wilson considers attention to affairs of his new office immediate duty. This means that things national will not be taken up until late in December, because he will start at the end of the coming week on a steamship trip and a vacation that will keep him away from political matters for six weeks.

The president-elect believes that by the time he is back from his vacation public opinion on various questions will have crystallized and that he will be able to make important announcements concerning his future policy.

Salves Can't Cure Eczema

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all skin diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERM OUT.
A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D.D.D.

Prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 50c bottle will start the cure and give you instant relief.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this D.D.D. Prescription to a skin sufferer here and there, and we want you to try it now on our positive no pay guarantee.

EDUCATORS PLAN TO HAVE 1,000 HERE FOR SESSION NEXT YEAR

Fifty Per Cent Increase in the Number of Visitors Expected and Planned for by Authorities of Organization.

MUCH SATISFACTION AT TREATMENT EXPRESSED

Officers Already at Work to Make Meeting in 1913 Bigger and Better; Business Sessions Concluded.

The New Mexico Educational Association's officials are already at work planning to make the session next year even bigger and better than was the one held last night. While, of course, many plans cannot be matured so early, yet it is pretty well settled that the sessions will be crowded into two days and that the session meetings will be held on a third. It is planned to have the two evenings taken up by some lecturer of wide reputation, and by a first class concert company.

It is felt that this means a great increase in the attendance, and to accommodate the added number, other arrangements will be made for the session meetings. These will likely be staged in the new high school building, if such is then completed, or the ward schools. The armory may be utilized for the exhibits. At any rate, these will be placed where there is room enough to walk around and see them all. They were badly crowded in the high school building this year.

With a spirit such as this already at work, it is sure that the meeting next year will be one of the largest of its sort ever held in the southwest.

SCHOOL LAWS DISCUSSED AT MORNING SESSION

School laws were the topic most in evidence at the morning session yesterday.

The anticipated discussion by legislators who had been invited to the meeting failed to materialize, and instead, Superintendent Alvan N. White discussed the needs of his department. He urged that more help be allowed him and that the entire scope of his department be broadened. This, he thought, would be most beneficial.

A report on the school laws passed by the last legislature was made by Rupert F. Asplund, chief clerk of the department of public instruction. This report dealt particularly with the twelve laws then enacted, with special reference to the law which allows state aid to be advanced to weak districts. Attention was also given the industrial education bill.

The musical numbers were omitted. At the business session, the educators adopted several reports, aside from the resolutions, and discussed many matters of interest to the organization and its work.

The report of the auditing committee was presented by J. S. Hofer, the chairman, and showed a balance on hand after all bills were allowed for this year of $452.45. From this an error of $14 was later subtracted, appropriations of $5 each for each of two assistants to the secretary, Lorinda Spillman and E. A. Haxner, were made, and an allowance of $200 appropriated for the printing of the proceedings of the association.

It has been customary to print the proceedings in the Journal of Education, but this has never been convenient as the magazine form of the publication was not so convenient for reference as the proposed book form. The association thought it best to have the proceedings so arranged as to be available for filing and reference.

The receipts from enrollment this year were $684, which at $1 for each teacher enrolled, gives an accurate gauge of the attendance. When this item was announced by the auditing committee, the teachers applauded heartily.

ANTICIPATED CLASH DOES NOT MATERIALIZE

The anticipated clash over the state industrial superintendency act, all blew over, and the association contented itself with adopting a resolution favoring industrial education and not mentioning either the bill or the present incumbent of the office it created.

Thanks were extended the Commercial club, the railroads, the city officials, Superintendent John Milne, Secretary T. J. Naylor and others for the courtesies extended the association at its meeting here.

An effort was made by Prof. J. V. Conway, of the Agricultural college, to get the annual contest of the Boys' and Girls' Industrial clubs staged at the session of the Educational association, he saying that the state fair was too early for all crops which were to be exhibited to have completely ripened. He asked that the association appropriate $100 for three traveling librarians to be loaned to the counties making the largest and best showings at the contest. This did not meet with general approval because the teachers hardly cared to expend funds of the general association to aid a special branch, and when it developed that the librarians were likely to be composed of agricultural books, the project dropped.

Several "joke" resolutions were introduced in all seriousness, apparently, by the wits of the association, and caused considerable laughter as they were adopted unanimously. Needless to say, these found no place on the record.

A new system of issuing certificates to teachers was discussed for yesterday in the resolutions adopted by the association at its final business session. The resolution urges that certificates be granted in three grades only, that is, common school, high school and superintendents. The educators suggest that no common school certificate entitling the holder to teach pupils above the second grade be issued to any one who has not had at least nine months' successful experience as a teacher, or who has not done equivalent work in a model school. It was also suggested that supervisory scholarship be a requirement in the granting of superintendents' certificates.

The work of the American School Peace League was heartily endorsed. Formal protest was made against the adoption of a state system of high school text books. The work of the legislative committee was endorsed. Recommendation was made to the legislature that the school districts having a bonded indebtedness or hereafter contracting such indebtedness be allowed to levy a separate interest and sinking fund tax.

EDUCATIONAL COUNCIL IS NAMED AT MEETING

The committee on selection of the educational council for the coming year presented its report, which was adopted unanimously. The report provided for the constitution of the council as follows:

Alvan N. White, governor, W. C. McDonald, Dr. David Ross Boyd, Frank H. H. Roberts, Dr. C. M. Light, Colonel J. W. Willson, Dr. W. E. Garrison, A. E. Drake, G. J. Martin, W. A. Poore, W. R. McFarland, Frank Carson, J. Howard Wagner, L. C. Mosfelder, Isabel L. Eckles, Mrs. Wallace L. Gunn, Mrs. Kate Livingston, John Milne, J. L. G. Swinney, Antonio Lucero, W. L. Bishop, Benjamin Sanchez.

BANNERS ARE PRESENTED COUNTIES FOR ATTENDANCE

Banners were presented several counties for the best attendance, most miles traveled, or other features.

Town county got a banner for having each of its forty-five districts represented at the meeting.

San Miguel received one for the largest enrollment outside of Bernalillo county, which was not eligible. Eddy county received one for the largest average distance traveled by its representation. The average was 894 miles.

NEW MEXICO BONDS AS GOOD AS NEW YORK'S, SAYS BIRD COLER

Banker Declares That Refunding of Aged Bonded Indebtedness of Grant and Santa Fe Rehabilitates Credit.

WILL WORK WONDERS IN DEVELOPING STATE

Expects New Issue to Sell Around Same Figure as Those of Empire State When Sold Next Month.

That New Mexico's bonds would sell at close to the same price as those of the state of New York, as a result of the refunding of the railroad indebtedness of Grant and Santa Fe counties, was the statement of Bird S. Coler last night. Mr. Coler declared that this refunding by the state of the old county debt would have been cheap had the people been compelled to pay outright the million odd dollars needed for the debt, instead of paying the debt with the proceeds of a million acres of land donated by the government at the time of the passage of the statehood bill.

Mr. Coler declared that the benefits to the state in better credit and in the inducement offered to capital to come to New Mexico, by this act, were worth far more than the money involved. He declared that intangible assets, such as the service of the state and county officers without pay, and the payment of this old debt, were of much greater value than were generally supposed.

Mr. Coler discussed the sale of these bonds and the benefits which would accrue to the state as a result in glowing terms.

The refunding of the old railroad bonds is in accord with the state constitution and the acts of the legislature, and follows a conference of several days in Santa Fe. With Mr. Coler last night were his partner, L. H. Hole, of New York, and Arthur Seligman, of Santa Fe.

Mr. Coler is a member of the bond house that first purchased these "railroad aid" bonds, as they were called, and declared that after they had been sold all over the world, the house had been compelled to take them back, that its own credit might not be injured.

There can be no question whatever, he said, "that these bonds are valid. They were validated by the congress of the United States, after a decision in the supreme court which practically amounted to a recommendation of such an act."

"To understand them, let me tell you the history of the issue."

"Following the panic of 1884, which was a small panic, there was a great era of railroad construction. Several railroads were built. Many state legislatures, to enable the counties of their state to get these railroads through their counties, enacted laws authorizing the issuance of these railroad aid bonds by the people. And many counties issued them. Now, the bond house of which I am a member was practically the only house in the field at that time, and bought many, indeed, most, of those bonds. They were all paid except some in Arizona and some in New Mexico. The New Mexico bonds were those of Grant and Santa Fe counties. The Santa Fe county indebtedness was originally about $400,000 or less. The Grant county indebtedness was about $50,000. Grant county always paid the interest on theirs, but Santa Fe county never paid anything."

"Finally they said that if we would refund the bonds at 5 per cent, they would be refunded at 1 per cent—they would pay. We refunded at 5 per cent. They paid about one coupon, or maybe a half a coupon. Now, mind you, these bonds were all bought at about the same price, somewhere around eighty, if I remember."

"Then we got a judgment against them in the territorial supreme court. That was in 1891 or 1892. Along about that time, the Arizona bonds came up, and we took that case to the supreme court of the United States. There, on the technicality that the territorial legislatures had never been given the right to authorize bonds for such a purpose, but only for internal improvements, such as schools and court houses, the court decided against us. The opinion was written by Justice Brewer, and said that while the bonds had been compiled with, the railroads built and the people given value for their money, yet because of this technicality, they could not be paid. The decision was concurred in by every member of the court. It was practically a recommendation to congress to validate the bonds."

"So in 1892 or 1893 we got a validating act through congress. And you know we must have had a strong case and a just case to get it through without a single dissenting voice in either house. Then Arizona paid up. In the meantime, hearing in congress at that time, men who had given us signed recommendations of the bonds as a good purchase, appeared and declared the bonds were illegal and fraudulent."

"Mr. Coler named the men. Both of them are well known throughout the state. He continued: 'Then we went to work and got a mandamus against Santa Fe county, so that we could throw them into bankruptcy, get a receiver and get our money. But we never pressed this, as it would have broken the county. Bad policy to break a creditor. But finally, when the statehood business got into the air, we went to congress, and on the plea that the United States had given large grants of land for other Pacific railroads, but none for this stretch, we got a donation of a million acres of land to pay this debt. The surplus, which will be anywhere from one and a half to five millions, according to where they select the land, goes into the school fund."

"This was provided for in the enabling act. The constitution recognized the enabling act, so when the legislature met, it passed a bill providing for a bond commission composed of Attorney General Frank W. Cheney, State Treasurer O. N. Marron, and State Auditor W. G. Sargent. These gentlemen met with me, and we discussed the matter."

"As a result, new bonds in the sum of $1,125,000 will be issued and sold on December 14th. The entire proceeds will probably not be required, as some of the old bonds are lost or gone. Probably the redemption will require about $1,050,000. This will leave a handsome balance for the school fund."

MIERAS MUST PAY BANK, DECISION OF COURT

State National Recovers on Promissory Notes Totalling $3,309; Friends Plead for Intercession for Delgadillo.

Judgment for the State National bank against Veneciano S. Mieras and Edmundo A. Mieras in the sum of $3,309 was rendered yesterday by District Judge Reynolds.

The bank sued to recover damages on two promissory notes executed by the defendants.

Maria Mieras, 45 years old, of Albuquerque, was adjudged insane in the district court, and an officer from the sheriff's office will take her to the state asylum for the insane at Las Vegas today.

A petition, signed by twenty residents of Alameda, requesting him to intercede in behalf of Domingo Delgadillo, sentenced to be hanged, yesterday morning was presented to Judge Reynolds. The signers were there to support their petition.

The judge informed the petitioners that he could do nothing to save the condemned man, yet must petition the governor to commute his sentence. The judge told them.

A complaint was filed yesterday with the district clerk by Emory & Marshall, a corporation, against William Chaplin. The plaintiff alleges that Chaplin bought $225.50 in merchandise and made no payment with the exception of $20.00. The plaintiff asks judgment for $225.50.

ARTISTIC RECITAL TOMORROW NIGHT AT HIGH SCHOOL

Miss Sarah D. Elmer, one of the best known pianists and readers in this state, will give an artistic recital at the high school auditorium tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. The recital will be given under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and a small admission will be charged.

Miss Elmer is by no means a stranger in New Mexico, having spent a great deal of the larger towns throughout the state. She was formerly a pupil of Professor Robert L. Cunnock, of the Cunnock School of Oratory of Northwestern University, and of Byron W. King, of the King's School of Expression, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The program to be rendered is as follows:

A Walking Home With You—J. W. Williams.

Death of Paul Dombey—Charles Dickens.

The Bohemian—The Aldine.

A Filibuster—Anonymous.

Shakespeare Scene from Ben Hur—Lew Wallace.

Concerning Isabel Carnalis—Ellis T. Fowler.

An Evening With Pampas—Myra Dehard.

Her First Appearance—Richard Harding Davis.

Crossing the Bar—Alfred, Lord Tennyson.

Don't forget and eat your dinner at the Home Restaurant this evening and listen to the music from 5 to 7:30.

STEALS WHEEL ON WAY TO SUNDAY SCHOOL

Leslie Willey, Tired of Walking Long Distance, Rides to Church; Arrested on Charge of Larceny.

Leslie Willey, 14 years old, lives on North Fourth street, outside the city limits. That is some walk to the home of Leslie's Sunday school teacher.

Friday night when Leslie, on his way to his Sunday school class, reached the home of E. G. Gross, a carpenter, 805 North Fourth street, he was tired, so he borrowed Gross' bicycle which was standing in front of the house. Gross did not consent to this and that is why Leslie is in trouble now.

Such is the story the boy told. Police Chief McMillin yesterday, after an hour's "sweating."

Leslie forgot to return the bicycle, and yesterday morning Gross saw him riding about the streets. The carpenter recognized his faithful steed at once and hurried to Police Judge Craig's office, where he secured a warrant for the arrest of Leslie.

The boy probably will be arraigned before Judge Craig Monday.

The Doctor's Advice

Dr. Hartman Answers Some Letters

S. R. HARTMAN, M. D.

S. R. Hartman, M. D., Columbus, Ohio, known all over the world, probably has the largest correspondence of any doctor in this country. He has a corps of trained assistants to dispose of the letters received each day. Of course the doctor cannot personally answer all of these letters, but other doctors to his credit for over twenty-five years attend to the details. Occasionally, however, a letter is brought to the doctor himself for answer. A few of the letters answered recently by Dr. Hartman in this regular correspondence are given below as samples of the letters he is answering every day. The names and addresses of the writers of these letters of course are withheld, as the doctor treats all professional correspondence with him on a strictly confidential basis and would not have his name or address will be used when writing to Dr. Hartman.

A MOTHER.—I have raised several children, and during the years when milk was their principal food, I have had trouble to keep their bowels regular. Constipation has been the only serious difficulty I have had to contend with. What do you suggest as a remedy for a child three years old that is continually constipated?

I believe has raised. Manalini is adapted to your baby's needs. You know, there are several other remedies for constipation, especially prepared for children, advertised. I am sure, however, that Manalini is just as good as any other remedy on the market, just as palatable, just as effective, and a bottle of Manalini contains two of three times as much medicine as the usual bottle of laxative for babies. In these days of high cost of living, a bottle of a medicine is worth looking after. Manalini can be obtained at any drug store.

A YOUNG MAN.—I have a letter from a young man who is apparently the victim of blood poison in its worst form. He is afflicted with deep extensive ulcers, has taken the usual remedies from doctors, both patent medicines and regular doctor's prescriptions. He writes me:

Dear Doctor Hartman: Is there anything I can do? Must I be eaten alive with the awful sores that I have brought on myself by disordered living? I can get no relief from doctors or drugs.

To this I made reply:

Dear Sir: I would send to the drug store at once and get a bottle of Lascapin. Begin by taking a tablespoonful after each meal and at bed time. Continue this for one month, without interruption, and then write me and I will give you further advice. As to your diet, I would suggest the use of one fresh raw vegetable every day, such as lettuce, celery, onion, radishes or the like. Also use meat very sparingly, if at all. Fresh buttermilk, with at least one meal a day. You can eat fish as freely as you like.

A YOUNG LADY.—A young lady writes: I have pimples on my face and shoulders, especially in the spring of the year, but none or less all the time. Sometimes a few blackheads will form, but marks the pimples are large and red. Is there anything I can do to get rid of them?

Dear Madam: You should do everything possible to regulate the organic functions of your body. The bowels should be kept regular. The diet should consist largely of fresh raw vegetables, fruits, and outdoor exercise should be taken every day. Everything that warms or heats the mind should be strictly avoided. If you will follow this for one month and take a tablespoonful of Peruna before each meal, you may then write me again and I will give you further advice. I prefer not to recommend any local treatment for the pimples until after you have followed this advice for one month.

AN OLD MAN.—An elderly gentleman writes me:

Dear Doctor Hartman: I know how strong and well you are, although you are much older than I am. I envy you your magnificent health. Do you have any special system of physical culture to ward off old age? I am ten years younger than you are, and yet I am comparatively broken down by old age. What would you advise me to do?

Asking for Medical Advice

My dear Sir: I do not teach any system of physical culture. The only physical culture I believe in is to have something to do every day that calls into play both the mental and physical powers. Something that you are interested in. Something you believe in. Eat lightly. At your age you must have brought on yourself by disordered living. I can get no relief from doctors or drugs.

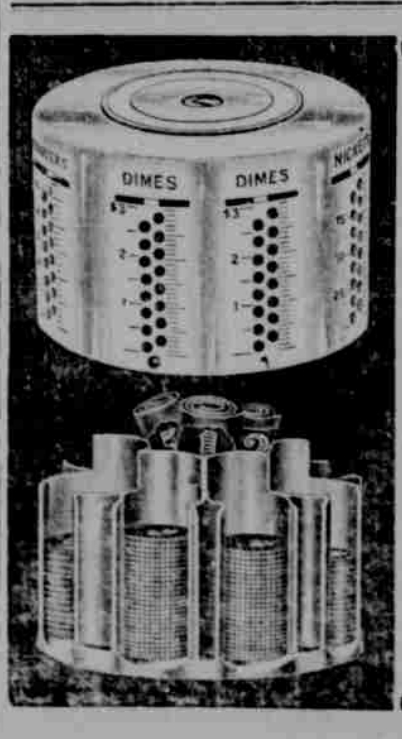

To this I made reply:

Dear Sir: I would send to the drug store at once and get a bottle of Lascapin. Begin by taking a tablespoonful after each meal and at bed time. Continue this for one month, without interruption, and then write me and I will give you further advice. FROM A DOCTOR.—A doctor writes me as to the remedy Katarnol. I have been reading your articles in the newspapers lately and I see that you are putting up the old-time Peruna under a new name. While the old-time Peruna was in its glory I used to prescribe it frequently for my patients. But since the change made to the formula in which a laxative was added, I have not been certain whether I had better prescribe it or not. I am anxious, however, to prescribe Katarnol, for I believe it to be one of the best tonics I ever knew of. In doing this can I send my patients to the drug store, or must they go to McDonald-Stephens Co., as indicated in your letter?

My dear Doctor:—All wholesale druggists keep Katarnol. Any retailer who does not keep it I might easily get it for them. If for any reason your patients cannot get Katarnol of the druggists they should address The Katarnol Company, Columbus, Ohio.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Many persons inquire on The Old-time Peruna. They want the Peruna that their Fathers and Mothers used to take. The old Peruna is now called Katarnol. If your druggist or dealer does not keep it, for sale write the Katarnol Company, Columbus, Ohio, and they will tell you all about it.
