M'MANIGAL SAYS CONSCIENCE WAS AGAINST HIS VOCACTION

Confessed Dynamiter Tells How He Worked to Save Lives of Workmen Where Jobs Were Done.

NEARLY DECIDED TO GIVE UP BUSINESS

James B. McManara, He Alleges, Had Fewer Scruples, Saying Men Killed Would Add to Effectiveness.

By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.
Indianapolis, Nov. 10.—Conscience so overcome John McManara when he blew up a "job" at Mount Vernon, Ill., on April 19, 1910, that he was on the verge of quitting and exposing the McManara dynamite plots five months before the loss of twenty-one lives at Los Angeles, Cal.

McManara, who tomorrow will continue his testimony at the trial of the forty-five accused "dynamite plotters," says in a written confession, part of which has been made public by United States District Attorney Meyer, that twice while providing about at night with bombs under his arm, he had to employ skill in saving the lives of night watchmen. The incidents relative to the Mount Vernon explosion as given by McManara are:

He went to Mount Vernon by way of St. Louis, equipped with bombs provided by John J. McManara, who had instructed him to blow up a new steel structure in Mount Vernon, being erected by non-union men. First regulating the time piece so the bomb would explode at 11:30 p. m., Mc-Manara placed it where he considered it would do the most damage. Later he discovered the bomb was almost directly beneath the night watchman's shelter and the watchman was on duty.

McManara walked about on the opposite side of the street. He observed the watchman seldom left his post and much inevitably he blew up, unless he could be gotten away.
Engaging the watchman in conversation he attempted to induce him to go to a theater, but it was of no use. The watchman regarded the invitation with suspicion.

In desperation the dynamiter returned to his hotel, prepared a smaller bomb timed to explode at about 11:25 o'clock and sneaking through an alley placed the second bomb at a remote part of the job. The purpose, McManara says, by the remote bomb, timed to explode about five minutes before the other, was to distract the watchman from his shelter, so he would be at the wreck of the first explosion out of danger when the second occurred.

During the interval, McManara paced the streets in apprehension lest his plans should miscarry, but it had the desired effect, and seeing the watchman walking about after both explosions, he took a train for St.
Louis.

While looking, in company with James B. McManara, for a spot to place a bomb on a job in South Chicago at night on February 29, 1911, McManara says in his confession, he and McManara decided the only point where the explosion could do much damage was where a watchman usually was posted. McManara, according to McManara, was in favor of disregarding the watchman, saying
"If the watchman is blown up that will attract more attention."

McManara says he protested and finally induced McManara to decide on another spot.

In all of these instances, McManara asserts, he was tempted to quit dynamiting, but was cautioned by those who paid him that "they had the goods on him." He probably will be on the stand for a week.

MEXICAN STATESMAN CLAIMED BY DEATH

Norales, Ariz., Nov. 10.—An obligation was received here today announcing the death this morning in Paris of Ramon Corral, formerly vice president of Mexico. All of the members of his family were at his bedside. Corral, before his elevation to the vice presidency during the Diaz regime, was governor of Sonora. For years he suffered from an incurable disease.

CHICAGO POLICEMAN KILLED.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Charles L. Jones, a policeman, was shot and killed here today in attempting to break up a gathering of hoodlums. Eight arrests have been made.

RAIN AND SNOW IS WEATHER FORECAST

Washington, Nov. 10.—Rains in the Pacific states and in the extreme northwest for another day or two and their extension over the central and northern portions of the country by Tuesday is forecast in the weekly bulletin of the weather bureau.
"In the Rocky Mountain region and the northwest the rains may change to a contest."

to snow by Tuesday," the bulletin says, "and after that time there will be a marked rise in pressure accompanied by fair and colder weather continuing until the end of the week and gradually extending eastward southeastward, reaching the middle west by Wednesday or Thursday and the eastern states toward the close of the week.
"In the south the weather will be fair and warmer during the first half of the week, probably followed by local rains with falling temperature in the west Gulf states."

UTAH SENATOR TO PUSH LABOR BILL

Washington, Nov. 10.—Upon returning to Washington, Senator Sutherland, of Utah, author of the workman's compensation bill and chairman of the employers' liability committee which reported the measure, has set to work to promote action on the bill during the approaching short session of congress.
The bill passed the senate last session by a vote of 64 to 15, but did not get out of the house committee on judiciary, though a majority of the members of the committee are said to favor it.

ANARCHISTS SEND DEADLY POISON IN LETTERS

Many People in Milan Die After Receiving Mail from Points in Switzerland; Arrests Follow.

By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.
Geneva, Nov. 10.—An alleged anarchist plot to poison property owners in Milan in revenge for anti-anarchist activities, has been unauthorized by the police of Milan as the result of a number of mysterious deaths there. The victims all succumbed to a powerful poison which, it was subsequently discovered, was contained in letters sent by post from Switzerland, purporting to enclose a harmless specific for the cure of a common malady.

Investigation showed that the letters were mailed from Lugano, and an Italian chemist known to be the associate of anarchists, was arrested in that city. Six other Italians have been arrested in Switzerland, including Luigi Dalmata, formerly editor of the anarchist paper, Agitation, who was taken into custody at Geneva this morning.

TRIBUTE IS PAID TO WILSON BY PASTOR OF HIS CHURCH

President-Elect Hears for First Time Prayer Asking Divine Guidance for His Administration.

By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.
Princeton, N. J., Nov. 10.—President-elect Wilson today heard for the first time a prayer tribute paid to him as the future executive of the nation.
He sat in his usual pew at the First Presbyterian church and listened attensively to both prayer and sermon, in which divine guidance was besought for his administration.

After the services, the president-elect stood for a few minutes on the steps of the church, while Princeton's church-going folk came up to congratulate him.

During the afternoon Governor Wilson cleared up some of his correspondence. He admitted that some of the letters contained suggestions for his cabinet, but farther than that he was non-committal.

Discussing his vacation, Mr. Wilson said today that he is going to be free from callers of every kind during the time he is away. Neither National Chairman McAdoo nor Vice Chairman McAdoo, nor any of the men prominently identified with the campaign will invade his retreat. He is going to be out of reach of everybody and will summon no one.
"My friends have all considerably agreed to not look me up," he said.
"I'm going to be alone with my family."

GOVERNORSHIP MAY LEAD TO CONTEST

Topoka, Kan., Nov. 10.—No one yet pretends to know who was elected governor of Kansas except the two leading candidates, Arthur Capper, Republican, tonight had figures to show that he received 26 more votes than George H. Hodges, the democratic candidate, while Hodges produces figures to prove that he is leading by 259. Each has the figures sent in by county commissionmen and each candidate has confidence in the correctness of the receipts.
"Officially there is no change in the situation. Two weeks may pass before the completion of the official count. There is almost certain to be a contest."

BALKAN WAR ABOUT TO PRECIPITATE INTERNATIONAL CONFLICT

Situation Growing Out of War Against Turkey Takes Sudden Change for What is Regarded as the Worst.

CONSTANTINOPLE IN DANGER OF UPRISING

Preachings in Mosques and Impassioned Language in Press May Bring About a Bloody Religious Clash.

By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.
Constantinople, Nov. 10.—The situation has taken a turn for the worse.
A grave international crisis seems impending.

On the one hand the position of the government is seriously compromised because the army repudiates the mediation proposition. On the other hand the committee of union and progress is giving evidence of renewed activity, while Turkish feeling, both national and religious, is being worked to fever pitch by the preachings in the mosques and by the impassioned language of the press.

The most serious feature of the situation is the weakness of the government in first having applied for mediation to obtain an armistice, later requesting mediation pure and simple, and then virtually being obliged to yield to the army which repudiates mediation. Probably only the fact that the powers have not replied to the request for mediation prevented a ministerial crisis and exasperated the government, as it will not now be called upon to take any action.

The committee of union and progress has taken up strongly the cry of "no surrender."
A Turkish squadron was bombarded Anatolia, near Rodosto, on the sea of Marmora, where Bulgarians had planted a battery.

An Odessa dispatch says a Turkish commission has arrived there and is buying up huge quantities of foodstuffs for immediate shipment to the Bosphorus.

The Russian authorities at first demurred to purchases by a belligerent power, but accepted the commission's assurance that the commodities were not for the war commissariat, but for public consumption in Constantinople, which was threatened by famine.

ITALY AND AUSTRIA NOT IN HARMONY

Paris, Nov. 10.—According to a Sofia dispatch to the Journal, the newspapers, with the exception of Austria, have presented a joint note to the Bulgarian government offering mediation. The government accepted the note, but as yet has made no reply, and it is understood will decline the offer. Dispatches received Sunday say a great battle is being fought around Thessalonica and that the Bulgarian government will do nothing until that has been decided. It is pointed out that the army cannot be left to spend the winter in the bleak, exposed plains and must either enter Constantinople or be provided with winter quarters elsewhere with a full assurance from the powers that the conquered territory will remain undisputed.

Other dispatches from Sofia say that in military quarters the second of Constantinople is considered indispensable to prevent allies from Asia Minor from entering and this is the only way to stop the war.

Some dispatches claim that an agreement is far from being completed of with Austria and Italy over the Balkan situation. Italy, it is asserted, will never admit that Austria should have economic and customs privileges in the Balkans and it is pointed out that Italy has not the same interest as Austria in shutting out Serbia from the Adriatic. It is understood that these points, and several others, stand in the way of the powers agreeing on a common program.

GREEKS FIGHT BRAVELY TO REACH SALONIKI

London, Nov. 11.—The fighting of the Greek army in approaching Saloniki was most noteworthy, says a Post dispatch from Kikiki. The operations at Kikiki, near the Vardar river, were fierce, a furious cannon-ade being kept up from morning until dark.

The Turks held a position behind the stream in swampy ground and rushes, which afforded considerable protection. The stream was a hundred yards wide and shallow, with a wide fringe of high grass. Ahmed Pasha, commanding the Turkish troops on the left, sent several triangles of infantry and four twelve pounder anti-batteries across the river to attack Kikiki and Kikiki.
The force moved rapidly and entrenched themselves on flat ground in a position previously selected.

They probably would have done great execution, but a heavy rain flooded the trenches. Early in the morning the Greeks advanced to the attack, the infantry under cover and supported by artillery. A tremendous Turkish fire met the advance, but the Greeks repelled with shells which burst with deadly effect, the time fuses working faultlessly.
The Greek infantry, outnumbered the Turks, and after an hour's fighting the Turks began to retreat. They had no supports within two miles and only a railroad bridge was available for crossing the river. The retreating Turks became congested on the bridge, on which fell a hail of shrapnel. A final explosion nearly received many shells.

The firing was more than the Turks could stand and they dispersed in disorder, the retreat ending in a pell mell race to the rear. Some of the Turks lay down on the rails, while others fled to the station on the railroad.

At noon the Turks got six guns in position and checked the Greek advance for a time. The infantry held on until deserted by the guns and then the whole force broke, throwing away coats and kits.

Discarded equipment was thrown for five miles along the railroad.
One train full of Kikiki with men carrying the roofs of the cars and banners. Officers did nothing to preserve order. No use was made of stretchers and 200 wounded were left.

EDITOR OF APPEAL TO REASON TAKES HIS LIFE

J. A. Wayland, of Girard, Kan., Commits Suicide by Shooting Himself; Prominent as Socialist.

By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.
Kansas City, Nov. 11.—J. A. Wayland, owner of the Appeal to Reason, a socialist paper at Girard, Kan., shot and killed himself last night at his home in that city, according to a telephone message received here early this morning.

So far as is known Wayland left no word explaining his action, but it was said by Fred Warren, editor of the Appeal to Reason, that Wayland had been despondent for several days.

It was said that Wayland had been brooding over the possible action of a federal grand jury to be convened at Fort Scott next week, when it was expected charges would be placed against Wayland and Warren of sending objectionable matter through the mail.

Julius Augustus Wayland was born at Versailles, Ind., April 26, 1854. He received his early education in the village schools and in printing offices. After attaining his majority he conducted papers and printing establishments at Pueblo, Colo., from 1882 to 1892. He then returned to Indiana, establishing at Greensburg, that state, The Evening Station, a socialist paper. Through it he founded the socialist college of Berlin, Tenn. He removed his paper there, but later withdrew and founded the Appeal to Reason in 1895 at Kansas City. In 1897 he removed the paper to Girard, Kan., where it has since been published. The Appeal to Reason enjoys one of the largest circulations of any publication in the United States and is the recognized national organ of Colonel Bryan in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 10.—William J.
Bryan arrived here tonight and joined Mrs. Bryan at the home of their son, William J. Bryan, Jr. Tuesday Mr. Bryan will deliver the principal address at the laying of the cornerstone of the Confederate national center here he is expected to go to Florida.

Mr. Bryan said tonight that the democrats were discussing a change in the session of congress, to begin the first session following immediately a new president's inauguration and to do away with the one immediately following congressional elections.

HON. JAMES BRYCE QUITS POST AS AMBASSADOR AT WASHINGTON

Distinguished Englishman, After Long Service as Diplomat, Notifies President Taft of His Resignation.

BRITISH MINISTER TO STOCKHOLM SUCCESSOR

Advancement in Years, with Wish to Complete Literary Work, Causes of Voluntary Retirement of Statesman.

By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.
Washington, Nov. 10.—James Bryce, the British ambassador to the United States, has tendered his resignation and will return to England. There has been no official announcement of the resignation and the embassy will make no statement, but it was learned tonight on high authority that Mr.
Bryce informed President Taft of his action at the White House yesterday.

It is understood that the ambassador submitted to the president the name of the British government's choice for his successor and at the same time stated his own intention of returning home as soon as possible.

President Taft, it is said, requested that the ambassador be withheld until he could discuss it with Secretary of State Knox. Mr. Knox returned to the city tonight, and it is expected that an official announcement tomorrow will follow his conference with the president.

While the news that Ambassador Bryce is to retire will be received with deep regret in official circles and by the country generally, it is not wholly unexpected. There has been no break in the harmonious relations of the distinguished Englishman and his government, but it has been an open secret for some time that Mr.
Bryce, advancing in years, decided to surrender his post and give entire attention to the completion of the literary work that has occupied so large a part of his life. His book on South America, written since his tour of that country, two years ago, is just off the press and he is about to begin a work covering his recent tour of Australia and New Zealand.

Facing the British ambassador in the United States just now are several troublesome problems and it is known that Mr. Bryce's friends feared if he continued in office at this time he would break down in health and probably have to abandon his literary efforts. Among other things the Panama canal toll question promises to furnish a disagreeable and unatisfactory diplomatic task, with little prospect of being brought to a successful conclusion.

Mr. Bryce's appointment as the ambassador to Washington attracted widespread attention at the time it was made. He was then a member of the British cabinet, serving as secretary for Irish affairs in the liberal ministry of Sir Campbell-Bannerman.
The Irish question was then nursing its most critical stage and as head of the Irish office, Mr. Bryce had much to do in shaping the preliminary work leading up to the home rule bill. If he had remained in the cabinet he probably would have been the author of that measure which later brought on the constitutional struggle in England and led to the limitation of the rights of the house of lords.

The selection of a British statesman and man of letters of such prominence for the Washington post was due largely to the desire to send to this country one of England's foremost public men. Among the others mentioned at the time were Lord Bereford and several of those most prominent men in British public life.

Mr. Bryce was born in 1853. He was educated at Balliol college, Oxford, and was called to the bar in 1880.
He was a member of the House of Commons from 1885 to 1892, and of the House of Lords from 1892 to

But among these Mr. Bryce was recognized as the one particularly qualified for the post at Washington, as in addition to his noble service in England he had an established reputation in the United States for his brilliant literary work on the American Commonwealth. This was accepted not only as a standard on both sides of the water but it was looked upon as a notable production of a British officer who had viewed American public life from a thoroughly sympathetic standpoint.

Mr. Bryce was regarded as especially fitted for carrying forward the era of good feeling between the two countries and for bringing to a culmination the desire on both sides of the water for a treaty of arbitration which would take the place of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty left unratified by the senate.

Mr. Bryce came to Washington under most favorable conditions. He was given a most cordial farewell in London by the Pilgrim society, made up of many prominent Americans and some of the leaders in British public life and was similarly welcomed on his arrival at New York by the American branch of the Pilgrim society. In Washington he took active part in diplomatic work and at the same time found time to continue his literary labors.

Mr. Bryce said at the time to a friend:
"I am particularly glad to come back to America in order to continue my observation of American public affairs and to round out the conclusions stated in my earlier work."

This resulted in his writing extensive additions to the American Commonwealth which have been published since he came to this country. He next turned his attention to South America, visiting many of the countries and stopping at Panama, for a personal inspection of the great work there.

On the diplomatic side Mr. Bryce's most notable achievement was in conducting negotiations with Secretary Knox, leading to the conclusion of the American-British treaty of arbitration.
This work presented many obstacles.
The previous Hay-Pauncefote treaty had been to some extent a platonic understanding, whereas the purpose on both sides of the waters was to set a definite instrument which would insure lasting peace between the two countries.

As finally drawn the treaty was believed to have accomplished this practical end in a very large degree although the adverse attitude of the senate to some extent has detracted from this work of diplomacy.

lions and nationalities with no common language. These disorders, it is urged, inevitably would spread to the surrounding states, and instead of a permanent settlement, Europe would be left with a troublesome Albanian question on her hands.

The Constantinople correspondents of the London papers generally consider the outlook more favorable. The despatches are optimistic, compared with their tone during the last week.

Several leading British residents of Constantinople have sent a statement to the London press, protesting against the unwarranted alarming statements made in the British newspapers regarding the danger in the Turkish capital. The protest continues:

"These reports are greatly exaggerated. The government measures are quite satisfactory and since the outbreak of the war, order has been maintained and all classes have behaved admirably."

The Daily Telegraph's correspondent says:

"The decision has been reached that the sultan and government shall remain in the capital even if the troops of the allies enter. The latter apparent and the other princes have expressed strong opinions that it would be shameful and exceedingly dangerous to abandon Constantinople and retreat to Trebizand."

"The opinion is gaining ground that the differences of the powers may bring about a European war, by which Turkey might profit and might re-establish her position if she resists long enough to muster into line new levies from Asia, numbering 500,000 men when the general conflagration breaks out. Several high officials at Tehtatalla demand that the new troops from the Black sea and also the former army of Thrace be given a chance to fight."

The Standard's correspondent says some of the English and American residents are making strenuous efforts on the hill where Robert College, an American institution stands. They intend to make refuge there if necessary.

"Today," adds the correspondent, "Constantinople were its customary aspect of Sunday and orderly crowds thronged the streets."

CHOLERA OUTBREAK IS FEARED BY MUHOMMEDANS

Constantinople, Nov. 10.—The outbreak of cholera is assuming serious proportions. Twenty-three cases have occurred among the troops along the Tehtatalla line, up to Wednesday. There are many more suspected cases among the wounded. A train load of wounded has just reached here, eight of the soldiers having died on the way, presumably of cholera.

The disease is getting a firmer hold on account of the melting of troops, the lack of proper food, and the complete absence of sanitary arrangements. There is danger to Constantinople on account of the influx of the refugees. Already several suspected cases among the latter have been reported. The authorities are preparing a special quarantine ship with 400 beds at Sirkeci.

The frequent visits of the Austrian ambassador, Margus de Pallavicini, to the war zone are attracting attention. Yesterday he visited the foreign minister. According to the Turkish newspaper, Ikdam, he declared that the interests of Austria and Turkey have become identical.

The authorities permit only three newspapers to be published. One of these says that differences have arisen among the powers and argues that if Turkey profits by this previous time and inflicts some defeat on her enemies, the proposals of the triple entente will lose their importance.

According to advices from Adrianople the bombardment continues. The Turks are now using aeroplanes. The wall has gone into the fighting lines and an attack by the Bulg-

REVOLUTION IS RIFE TO OVERTHROW GOVERNMENT OF MADRID

General Trevino is Suggested as Provisional President Pending Reorganization of Civil Authority.

ZAPATISTAS WOULD DECAPITATE RICH

Installation of Guillotines and Imitation of French Method of Slaughter Has Been Recommended.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Mexico City, Nov. 10.—General Gerardo Trevino, who was recently retired from the army at his own request, is suggested as provisional president of Mexico, in a new revolutionary manifesto, which has just reached the capital.

The document is signed by Gaudencio de La Llave, colonel of regulars, who lately joined the insurrection. Benjamin Rodriguez and E. R. Braillo, the latter with Orozco's army, until he incurred Orozco's displeasure by taking Emilio Vasquez Gomez from San Antonio to Juarez.

The manifesto is dated Puebla, the day after the capture of General Felix Diaz. The newspapers of Mexico City have refrained from mentioning the manifesto and it is not believed General Trevino is interested.

Another revolutionary document obtained by the police from Zapata prisoners was made public today. It appears to reveal the intention of the Zapata brothers and the leading insurrectionary chiefs, whose names are signed, to imitate the French revolution. Promises are made to the insurgent army, to which the document is addressed, that a guillotine will be erected in the capital and that the heads of many of the rich will fall. It also promises that others will die their deaths in the Mexican battle.

Scarcely a day has passed since the Zapataists took Cuernavaca, activities in the states of Morelos, Guerrero and Mexico continue, and the government is planning to resume the "extermination" tactics employed by General Huerta a few months ago.

The defeat administered by General Planquet at Cuernavaca appears to have incited the Zapataists to more horrible outrages.

Wandering bands are committing murder and arson. A freight train was stopped near Puebla by a band last night. The conductor was stabbed to death, the engineer was wounded, and the train was held up for several hours.

Reports are current of a new plot, a well-known army officer having a conference with the Orozco adherents with the object of organizing all factions of the rebels.

The government has been unable to locate General Huerta Aguilar, but asserts that he has no following worth mentioning.

A special dispatch to the Independent says that General Aguilar spent last night at the San Gerardo ranch in the southern part of the state of Puebla and that he has several hundred men with him.

Tejano and Chichimeco, between whom joint and shooting pains all along, are not working right. They build up the kidneys and remove the acids. They will give you quick relief and contain no habit-forming drugs, safe and always sure. Try them. J. T. O'Reilly Drug Co.

Belgrade, Nov. 10.—Petersburg, forty-five miles northwest of Belgrade, was taken by the Serbians yesterday, after severe fighting. The remnants of the Turkish Macedonian army had assembled there. The same reports say that Manastir has been retaken. Major Petrovich, in command of the Serbian cavalry, has captured Belgrade with a thousand troops.

This third Serbian army is well on its way toward the Adriatic, but progress is slow because of bad roads. It is expected that Durazzo will be taken in a day or two. Durazzo is one of the ports that Serbia has captured, and has intention of seizing and holding.

The determination to occupy one or more Adriatic ports against the wishes of Austria is absolutely certain. All political parties have announced their readiness to support the government, come what may. The powers, including Germany, will be able to convince Austria-Hungary that Serbia, with an outlet on the Adriatic, will not be more dangerous to her than without such an outlet.

London, Nov. 11.—One thing is certain with this campaign recalls the dark and middle ages, says the Constantinople correspondent of the Post. "The thousands of flight of the population eastwards, and southwards, is an extraordinary feature of the present time, in which they will return. I do not believe they can or will return to Thrace."

"There is and has been for a week no news beyond Thracia. The border seems to have fallen back towards Constantinople by land, as they came across Asia Minor, years ago and advanced towards Thrace and the Balkans, including Germany, will be able to convince Austria-Hungary that Serbia, with an outlet on the Adriatic, will not be more dangerous to her than without such an outlet."

Chas. S. Dodge, 146 E. 2nd St., Hastings, N.Y., writes: "I have been troubled with severe pains in my back and kidneys, and pains were especially severe mornings. I have used three boxes of your Foley Kidney Pills and this has entirely cured me. I now feel well as ever." J. H. O'Reilly Drug Co.

Sir Marcus Samuel is Head of

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Nov. 10.—The Chronicle said today:

"After years of strenuous effort to control independent oil companies operating in California and on the Pacific coast that they might successfully combat the Standard Oil Company in the struggle for supremacy in the Asiatic and European business, the Shell interests of London, England, headed by Sir Marcus Samuel, chairman and dominant official of the Shell Transportation Company, have virtually completed a deal whereby they will take over the Union Oil Company of California, and the output of the General Petroleum Company and the independent oil producers."

"The deal involves $50,000,000. It is reported that the Associated Oil Company, 100,000 of whom 400,000 shares are held by the Southern Pacific and Southern Pacific officials and allied capitalists, are included in the negotiations. Whether this is so, is not definitely known."

"The Shell deal proper is said definitely ready to consummate the purchase of the Union Oil Company. The reported concluded negotiations were brought about, it is understood, directly through the Provident Oil Company of Los Angeles, which was organized as a holding corporation for Union Oil. It is said the Shells have exercised an option on something over 51 per cent of the stock in the Provident and obligated themselves to take over the remaining shares, the price being $125 a share for all outstanding stock."

"Negotiations were conducted through James W. L. Stewart at Los Angeles. The Shells are said to figure in the deal to an extent approximated at over $20,000,000."

Lyman Stewart is the president of the Provident and Union Oil Companies. W. L. Stewart, his son, is the vice president.

"There, it seems, ill-advised natives applied heat to the frozen feet. The missionary lay for three months in agony. His cook probably saved his life by cutting off all the toes of the right foot. The mission ship arrived in August and a doctor aboard performed two more operations."

His rebuy from three different steamers, the Rev. Mr. Broughton, reached here on the Pacific, eighty-four days from Lake Harbor. He still is scarcely able to walk, but after a visit to his native England he hopes to be able to return to his charge."

Several of the suits against retail lumber dealers associations, regarded as among the most important cases because they involve the extent of the rights of the "middleman" in commerce, in all probability will be ready for determination before President Taft retires.

While the taking of testimony in the civil suit for the dissolution of the American Sugar Refining Company is approaching conclusion, it is reported that Attorney General Wickersham will not retry the criminal sugar case which resulted in a disagreement of the jury.

Among the important issues which may likely go over into the Wilson administration for final preparation for the courts are the cases against the National Cash Register Company, the "motion picture trust," several alleged steamship "pools" and the United Shoe Machinery Company.

The president, it is understood, will allow no resumption in the prosecution of his anti-trust policy. A number of investigations now under way will be completed. The most important pending inquiries are those to determine whether there has been any violation of the decree, dissolving the Standard Oil Company, and whether the American Telephone and Telegraph Company is a trust in violation of the Sherman law.

United States Government Protests Against Proposed Monopoly as Injurious to Business.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Washington, Nov. 10.—The plan of the German government to take over the oil business of that country, thus stopping competition in all from this and other countries, is about to become a live issue between the governments of Germany and America.

American Ambassador Lelshman has put in a caveat to protect the rights of all people, which is to be followed by more vigorous representations unless the amendments to the projected oil monopoly bill, which the German government is now making, shall serve to render the measure less injurious to the industry in America.

The German government itself has let it be known that it expects Americans gladly to assent to the measures adopted by Germany along the lines of the anti-trust legislation in America. It also has intimated that it might resist any attempt on the part of the American government to interfere in what it considers the internal affairs of Germany.

Yet the state department has felt bound to proceed in this case as it would in any other having fully satisfied itself that unless the projected legislation is materially changed, the creation of the proposed governmental monopoly would inflict a fatal blow to American oil interests in Germany.

Gentlemen: I am, now, certainly safe in congratulating the Journal on the result in New Mexico, and, glorious, indeed, it has been.

I offer my congratulations to the management of The Journal, for it certainly contributed immensely through the policy under which The Journal has been conducted, toward the success of the campaign as nothing could have proven any better than the result.

This is the third time that The Journal's independent attitude has been rewarded with distinguished success, and it certainly deserves the praise, gratitude and support of the democracy and the people of the state. The Journal's special fight for Ferguson has vindicated the influence of the paper by its running ahead of the ticket. It is true that he is very popular, yet the paper contributed immensely to his personal success.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Solution of the mysterious bomb throwing that for years has baffled the Chicago detectives may follow the revelations made by Charles Cameron, held on a charge of arson in connection with the firing of eight buildings in the last four months.

A memorandum book, containing names and addresses and much important data, was found in Cameron's rooms, and information in this book, corroborated by Cameron's statements, is the key to the identity of the bomb throwers.

After his arrest on Thursday night with James A. RUPTURE

Seeley, Who Fitted the Czar of Russia, Called to Albuquerque

F. H. Seeley, of Chicago and Philadelphia, is at the Alvarado hotel and will remain in Albuquerque this Monday only. He says: "The Spermatic Shield Truss as fitted to the Czar of Russia and now used and approved by the United States Government will not only retain any case of Hernia perfectly, affording immediate and complete relief, but closes the opening in the diaphragm and the average case." This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, harmful injections, treatment or prescriptions. Mr. Seeley has documents from the U. S. Government, Washington, D. C., for inspection as to perfection of this instrument. If any interested call he will be glad to show the truss without charge, or fit them if desired.

Rupture is not a breach or tear in the abdominal wall, as ignorantly supposed, therefore nothing to knit or heal. But rupture is the dilation or stretching of a natural opening—the before subject to closure by stimulation (don't wear a truss where bump is, but where the rupture is, it's different).

Big Companies Issue State-

leged by Dealers of Country.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
New York, Nov. 10.—Because of the uneasiness regarding the supply of anthracite coal and the fact that some consumers are complaining that an abnormally high price is asked, the committee of operators today issued a statement in which they say:

"The larger mining companies are holding absolutely to their circular prices. They have not advanced these to the dealers to whom they sell and have no intention of doing so. By far the greater part of the total anthracite output is being sold by the original producers at the circular prices." The statement concludes:

"The operators are convinced that though this year's production is behind last year's, consumers will not suffer for want of coal if they will content themselves with moderate purchases for the time and not attempt to lay in a large store in advance and thus create an artificial scarcity."

BLOOD PURIFIES ITSELF

Everybody knows that running water purifies itself with the oxygen it gets from the air, but many do not know that the same is true of the blood in the body. If the body contains enough iron it is deep red and can take up large amounts of oxygen through the lungs and then keep itself pure. It is not necessary to take balaam and sarsaparilla.

To keep your blood pure, keep it full of iron by taking Vinol. Our delicious cod liver and iron tonic. This is the best thing for pale, weak, run-down people we ever sold. It is simply astonishing how it gives new strength and vitality. Try it on our recommendation, and if it does not do all we say, you will get your money back. Let Vinol make you strong. J. H. London, Nov. 11.—A dispatch from Malta to the Post says a rumor is prevalent that the British cruiser Eurydice has met with an accident. One report has it that she struck a Turkish mine.

Ships are coaling at Malta in unprecedented numbers. The markets have been cleared to supply them and prices are rising rapidly.

ALBUQUERQUE NEW MEXICO

AS TO MR. TAFT.

Father Jules Deraches, of Santa Fe, writes the Journal a protest against the tendency of certain newspapers to ridicule President Taft since defeat as an overwhelming has overtaken the republican party in this state and in the nation.

The position by Father Deraches is well taken. During the campaign, and since, the Journal has treated the president with all the respect that an honest, courageous, patriotic man could deserve. We have pointed out that he has blundered politically whenever opportunity offered. His best friends would not claim otherwise.

Father Deraches also points out that New Mexico is under obligations to the president for the boon of statehood. On this point we fail to concur. The president reluctantly carried out the pledges of the republican national convention by which he was nominated. Men in this state, presumed to be in harmony with the president's views on statehood, made no effort to have it accomplished, and there was more than a suspicion that they were actually hostile to the proposition.

However, statehood was secured. President Taft was defeated. He has accepted the verdict of the voters gracefully, and following precedents by Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison, will engage in the practice of law in his home city.

So far as his public acts are concerned, we may examine closely the record made by President Taft and find little to criticize. His worst fault has been a tactless method of speech and the selection of men to high positions officially, who knew no more of politics than himself, brought face to face with a situation, he usually acted well. He had not learned the art of politics when he came to the White House, therefore, he floundered in the pool after he became president.

But let us honor him for his ignorance of politics and his merits as an administrator. The record is too close now to be scrutinized properly, but we are of the opinion that the future will accord William Howard Taft a much higher place as a statesman than it is possible to give now to the man who led the republican party to disastrous defeat.

LOWER THE TAX RATE.

New Mexico wants to attract capital. The resources of the country have scarcely been scratched. One of the greatest mines for wealth on earth is in the fertile lands of this state.

But before great development begins, before men with money come here in large numbers, there must be a correction in the method of levying taxes.

Based on the actual value of property, the taxes are not higher than in a large percentage of the western states. In Bernillo county, the rate is 6 per cent, outside the city of Albuquerque, and about 7.5 per cent in the city.

When a man from the east sees such statements he is frightened. No amount of explaining that the property is returned at from one-fourth to one-sixth of its value satisfies him that this is a good place to come and invest his money.

The condition confronting the people of Bernillo county and the city of Albuquerque confronts every section of New Mexico. There should be a concerted movement to raise the valuations in every county, which can be done without increasing the taxes of any body. By so doing the tax rate can be reduced to about one-third or less of what now shows up against the property owner.

That done, eastern money will be attracted to the state, but never as long as it looks as though the investor might be taxed to the full extent of the earning power of his property or more.

New Mexico is now putting out the worst possible advertisement of the state, and it cannot be bettered until valuations are readjusted.

To accomplish this, there should be a voluntary tax committee formed that will take up the matter of raising valuations in an equitable way in every county, so that there may be no discriminations against the taxpayers of any county.

By this method, property worth $10,000 can be assessed at not less than $5,000, whereas at present the valuation for the tax levy is not more than $2,000.

The Journal will be glad to hear from responsible taxpayers in every county with a view to bringing about a condition that will remove the greatest handicap that now exists on the development of the state, the bringing in of men with money and the establishment of a basis of taxation that will not frighten capital from our doors.

Let the valuations of taxable property be so adjusted that instead of having the levy as high as 6 per cent in the country, it will not be more than 2 1/2 per cent. Then things will begin to boom in New Mexico.

BUYING OLD MASTERS.

From a suit in the courts of London, it has been made clear that American millionaires are the champion easy marks when it comes to buying foreign pictures, sometimes the products of the masters, but more often gross frauds peddled off as masterpieces.

Former Senator William A. Clark of Montana, is one of the richest men of the nation. His fortune is estimated up in the hundreds of millions. Some years ago he decided to acquire some of his millions on a residence in the city of New York. Santa Hythe said the Clark mansion looked like it had been "struck by the world, the flesh and the devil."

After building his house, Senator Clark decided to make it the finest art gallery in the world. He began to buy pictures. He did not buy discriminatingly, as did Yerkes, and as Morgan does now. But he bought. How he bought is shown by the following news item:

"The great profits made by art dealers from American purchasers were exposed in the testimony given today in the suit brought against Sir George Donaldson by Alfred G. Temple, art expert, for commission in connection with the sale of a collection of old masters to ex-United States Senator William A. Clark for $740,000.

"Judgment was given to Mr. Temple for $27,000, and the lord chief justice who tried the suit, awarded him another $3,750, as recompense for the detention of the money by Sir George Donaldson since 1909, when the last deal took place with Mr. Clark.

"In the course of cross examination Sir George Donaldson testified that he had bought a picture by Turner for $30,000 and sold it to Mr. Clark for $75,000, and that a seascape by Jan Van Goyen, bought for $2,000, had been sold for $25,000."

So it will be seen that it is one thing to have money and quite another to know how to use it. Certainly, it is quite another thing to know how to buy old masterpieces.

GERMANY'S PROBLEM.

Germany has always been regarded as one of the most orderly and law-abiding countries in the world. Yet the prison records of that country tell a different story.

From official records, it is shown that from 1882 to 1912, more than 7,500,000 people in the German empire were put in prison for infractions of the law. After deducting the number that has since emigrated or died, the statistics show that every sixth man has been in prison, every twenty-fifth woman, every forty-third boy and every twenty-third girl under eighteen has been punished.

The report of Dr. Carl Finkelnburg, the director of the Moabit prison in Berlin, shows that in Berlin for the year 1905, every fifteenth man and forty-second woman was the guest of the state exclusive of the persons detained in workhouses and fortresses.

Reports as to Berlin's homeless throw an interesting light on another dark side of the imperial city. Twenty-five years ago Berlin opened a municipal lodging house for the homeless. During that period more than twelve millions of people had sought its shelter. The total number of the homeless in Berlin in 1911 was estimated at more than two hundred thousand.

Notwithstanding the prosperity that is general throughout the world, there are problems that must be solved for the destitute. Such problems are pressing in Germany, England, Italy and the United States. They are insistent, and more and more will be pressed home upon the politician and the statesman.

AN UNBOUGHT ELECTION.

It was learned as a result of last Tuesday that we can have a national campaign without the expenses running into millions of dollars. Hereafter, the republican campaign funds for use of the national committee have aggregated between two and three million dollars on the average. Many, many millions were said to have been used when Hanna managed the fight against Bryan in 1896. This year it is probable that final returns will show that none of the national committees had as much as a million dollars for expenses.

Still, taken all together, the largest number of ballots ever cast went into the boxes. Furthermore, few of them were expressions of two dollar bills rather than of the conviction of the voter.

What was true of the nation was true of New Mexico. There were no county candidates. None of the state chairmen had a plethora of cash. Only about one-third of the sum used in the first state election was employed in the one just held. The men who voted did so because they wanted to express their sentiments at the polls. Whatever the result might have been, it would have been much preferable to an election carried by the purchase of the electorate, or enough of the voters to have changed the result of a free, fair and unpurchased expression of the popular will.

Chairman Hilles' announcement of a republican victory and the Turkish statement that the Bulgarian advance had been checked both sounded all right until it was learned that Woodrow Wilson had carried every precinct in Constantinople.

It is reported on good authority that Armageddon is soon to be put up into building lots.

To President Taft Is Due Thanks Of New State

Santa Fe, Nov. 7, 1912.
Editor Morning Journal,
Dear Sir: Since the defeat of Mr. Taft at the polls, some newspapers think that it is proper to ridicule his personality. "Morus leoni et deponis insulsum!" It would be nobler to show him due appreciation for his upright-ness; and New Mexico should not forget so soon that its official admission among the states of the union has been signed by President Taft whose "gold pen" is kept as a precious souvenir in the archaeological museum of Santa Fe.

I hope that the Journal will not devote from that line of public honors.

Respectfully,
JULES DERACHES.

CARLSBAD PROJECT ENJOYS GREATEST YEAR IN HISTORY

Water Has Been Turned Out of Big Canals for Winter, Season of 1912 Having Closed; More Improvements.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
Carlsbad, N. M., Nov. 10.—The water has just been turned out of the big canals of the Carlsbad project, the irrigation season of 1912 being closed. The acreage under cultivation this season is the largest since irrigation was first attempted in 1888. The farming population has grown this year and much idle land has been taken into use.

The reclamation service will begin the annual cleaning and repairing of the irrigation system as soon as the canals and ditches are dry. Some repair work is being done at McMillan reservoir. The big lake is given careful attention and the dam and embankments kept in perfect condition. At Avalon, the diversion reservoir, the finishing touches are being put on the spillway. The spillway capacity has been increased to 125,000 cubic feet per second, about twice the amount of the greatest known floods on the Pecos river.

The government will also do some new work this winter on the lower end of the Southern canal south of Loving. Some 1,000 feet of canal will be lined with concrete to reduce the seepage. This will materially improve the efficiency of the canal in the south part of the project.

Special Investigation Made.
Superintendent L. E. Foster has been making careful irrigation investigations all season and has also spent several weeks looking into the methods of other projects. The results of his work will be given out in the near future and will materially help the water users in applying water to the lands.

Creamery Doing Business.
The cooperative creamery at Otis is now in operation. So far it has made butter from cream delivered by its members, but will soon be ready to accept all the cream offered. Mr. Ellsworth is in charge and has had long experience in the business. The creamery has new machinery and uses electric power from the country line of the Public Utilities company.

Cotton Gin Busy.
The cotton gins at Carlsbad and Elbing are busy ginning the cotton crop that is now being picked. The cotton acreage this season is less than last year, but the crop is turning out well. Several hundred bales have already been ginned.

Walfa Cutting Finished.
The farmers are finishing the last cutting of alfalfa for the season. Many have cut their alfalfa five times this year in spite of the late spring. The greater part of the season's crop of hay has been sold. The alfalfa seed crop, that was heavy this year is about half a bushel. A considerable amount of seed is still on hand.

C. A. Griscom Passes Away.
Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—Clement A. Griscom, chairman of the board of directors of the International Mercantile Marine Company, died at his home at Haverford, near here, this afternoon. He was 72 years old.

Joseph McCaffrey, Vice Pres. for Nob. Greeters of America, Omaha, states: "I cheerfully recommend Foley's Honey and Tar Compound as a sure cure for coughs and colds. I have used it myself and have recommended it to others who have since told me of its great curative power in diseases of the throat and lungs." J. H. O'Reilly Drug Co.

HEALTHY BUILDING BOOM AT HOLBROOK

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
Holbrook, Ariz., Nov. 10.—J. R. Kleindienst, the well known contractor of Winslow, who has considerable work in Holbrook, spent several days last week at Albuquerque, N. M., where he contracted for building material for some contracts he has there. Frank Wallace, the cattleman, has purchased six lots adjoining George Hennessey's property and contemplates the erection of an up-to-date residence of good proportions, and all modern improvements.

R. L. Newman, proprietor of the Holbrook hotel, has let the contract to Joe Kleindienst for the erection of a 12-room addition to that popular hotel. Mr. Newman has been hard-pressed for some time to accommodate all who applied for lodging, and his increasing efforts to please all guests has resulted in his building up a business that may even call for more additions to his popular hostelry before the spring months arrive.

GEO. NEHER SHOTS HIMSELF IN THE FOOT WHILE OUT HUNTING

George K. Neher last week accidentally shot himself in the right foot while hunting. A charge of small shot penetrated the foot. Mr. Neher is able to walk now with a cane. The wound will not injure him permanently.

Just arrived: A new lot of fine Navajo rugs, Clarke's Curio Store.

POLLY OF CIRCUS IS BEAUTIFUL PLAY OF SHOW LIFE

Tuesday Night's Attraction at Elks Theater Unique in That
It is Vivid Presentation of Sawdust Ring.

It is rather unusual to see graphically represented on the stage of a theater a real circus, with real horses, ponies, dogs and all the paraphernalia of the sawdust ring, and yet that is what will be truly portrayed in "Polly of the Circus" with plenty of Elks Theater tomorrow night.

It is made possible by the "neatness and cleverness of Frederic Thompson, a young man who a few years ago went down to New York City and by his dash and dare revolutionized the then prevailing big amusement enterprises in and around the metropolis. He produced the wonders of Luna Park, Coney Island, and the marvels of the huge hippodrome in New York City. He was a sort of theatrical Moses, was this young Lochinvar, who came out of the wilds and invented realistic scenes on a prodigious scale. He had Margaret Mayo write a play on ideas he furnished, and then put them into realism. "Polly of the Circus" is a very human play with a human tenderness about it and a continuous interest that holds and entertains. Polly is a star rider in the circus that has just come in a wild old town in the middle west. The circus pitches its tent next to the paragonage. Polly meets with an accident, and is brought into the paragon's home unconscious, with the person, the two protectors of the girl—"Uncle Toby," the clown, and "Big Jim," the boss canvasman—to care for her. Polly stays at the paragon's home for eleven months, and during that time she has learned to love and be loved by all the younger folks. The inevitable of course happens. Polly and the minister fall in love, and to the scandal of the proper parishioners, Polly hears how she is dragging down the clergyman's good name, so she decides to go back to the circus and not reveal her passion. A month after her departure the circus comes back again to the town, and the big tent is packed, all eager to see Polly ride. Polly who has been in their town for nearly a year. And here are the big scenes of the play. The play ends of course, with Polly and the minister uniting their fortunes, and the circus going away, a second time without the star rider. Mr. Thompson has spared no expense in presenting this play with a capable cast.

This is exactly the production that was seen one solid year at the Liberty Theater, New York City; the company including the famous St. Leon family is the only one presenting this charming play.

DON'T SCOLD AN IRRITABLE CHILD

If Tongue is Coated, Stomach Sour, Breath Feverish, Give
"Syrup of Figs" to Clean the Bowels.

Your child isn't naturally cross, irritable and peevish. Mother! Examine the tongue; if coated, it means the little one's stomach is disordered, liver inactive and its thirty feet of bowels clogged with foul, decaying waste. Every mother realizes after giving delicious "Syrup of Figs" that this is the ideal laxative and physic for children. Nothing else regulates the little one's tender stomach, liver and bowels so effectively, besides they dearly love its delicious fig taste.

For constipated bowels, sluggish liver, biliousness, or sour, disordered stomach, feverishness, diarrhoea, sore throat, bad breath or to break a cold, give one-half to a teaspoonful of "Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the clogged up waste, sour bile, undigested food and constipated matter will gently move on and out of the system without gripping or nausea and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

Mrs. J. H. Sanchez and daughter, Miss Alicia Sanchez, of Valencia, left yesterday in return to their home, after having spent the latter part of last week in Albuquerque attending the annual convention of the New Mexico Teachers' Association.

William Chapman, a local business man, who was made defendant in a suit on account filed in the district court on Saturday, yesterday denied that the claim was a just one. Mr. Chapman asserts he paid the bill for which judgment is asked, only recently. The amount named in the suit is $725.50. Emory & Marshall, a corporation, is the plaintiff in the action.

L. R. Lane, an Albuquerque newspaper man, appears as a contributor to the current issue of Motor, a New York publication, catering to the automobile industry. The article is devoted to good roads work in New Mexico and is handsomely illustrated with views of road building. Pictures also appear of Governor W. C. McDonald and Colonel Ralph E. Smith, chief of last year's New Mexico Good Roads Association.

Admission to the election recalled, to be given at 8 o'clock tonight at the High school auditorium by Miss Sarah D. Ulmer, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., will be 15 cents.

PREACHER, UNDER ARREST, HOLDS JAIL REVIVAL

Self-Styled Missionary Surprised to Meet in Bastille Man Who Had Contributed to "The Cause."

Jose Andres Hara, known also as "Pino," who was arrested on a charge of vagrancy, two weeks ago, contributed to a traveling preacher in a small town south of Belen. There is no doubt about it—"Pino" admits it.

That was the last "Pino" saw of the missionary until last night when they met in the Albuquerque city jail. Captain Pat O'Grady arrested the missionary, who says his name is Ed. Thomas, on a charge of vagrancy. The recognition between "Pino" and the preacher was mutual.

Thomas lost no time after the jail door was slammed behind him in opening Sunday evening services with an audience of three prisoners. He said he had pocketed a new Bible, which he said he had obtained at the library. He had a Morocco bound Bible, but it was stolen from him by a religiously inclined Indian, he told Captain O'Grady.

Thumping on the table with one hand, Thomas closed his eyes and began singing in a loud, clear tone. He sang for the sake of one prisoner who was asleep. This prisoner, who was asking reverent about the little man with a staid beard, "cussed," but Thomas kept right on.

"Follow, follow, I will follow Jesus," he sang.

Even in the Albuquerque jail, he shouted.

PAINTING CONTRACT FOR POSTOFFICE LET

The contract for interior painting at the postoffice was let by the treasury department to A. Chauvin, whose place was dismissed by fire last night. Bids for this work were called for a month ago, but the painters' figures had to be sent by Postmaster R. W. Hopkins to Washington, where the contract was awarded.

Chauvin bid was $72. The contract calls for the painting the lobby on the first floor, the staircase and the corridors on the second floor.

AUTO SPEEDWAY ON B. S. COLER ATTACKS MESA COMES IN FOR PRAISES

John S. Mitchell Declares Los Angeles People Would Use It Continuously If Within Shooting Distance.

The fifteen-mile auto speedway on the mesa, built last summer, came for the highest sort of praise by the California delegates to the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway convention, who yesterday motored over its long stretch. John S. Mitchell, president of the association, declared that if there was such a thing within "shooting distance" of Los Angeles, there would be one thousand cars on it at every hour of the day.

The roads boosters left on No. 2 in the afternoon for Santa Fe, where they will attend the two-day session of the convention. There were about a dozen who arrived here Saturday night, and eight or nine more came in on No. 30 yesterday morning. Included in the party were representatives of the Los Angeles Tribune, Examiner and Times, all of whom took numerous pictures of the speedway and other points of interest while on their trip.

The visitors were taken around the speedway, over to Old Albuquerque and through the principal streets of the town by a flying squadron of cars commanded by Vice President D. K. R. Sellers, of the Ocean-to-Ocean Association. They enjoyed the trip hugely, especially the speedway. The thing that struck them as most important was the possibility of getting so long a stretch on such level ground.

"It is wonderful," declared President Mitchell. "If we had a thing like that within shooting distance of Los Angeles, there would be at least one thousand cars on it all the time. You people do not realize what a fine thing you have in this speedway."

With the visitors went a number of prominent educators who were here attending the sessions of the Educational Society, and several local roads boosters.

During the trip, the flying squadrons saw eleven other cars on the circuit. The speedway is being used regularly now and is in fine shape. All automobiles are urged to use it as much as possible, to the end that it may be placed in the best possible condition. Plans are being made to all the speedway.

A local delegation will leave this morning for Santa Fe, to attend the convention, some of them going in autos and some on the train. The prospects for a successful convention are fine.

The new sanatorium near the university, which has recently been erected by Dr. J. S. Cipres, opens its doors this morning for the reception of patients. The institution is of the cottage-type, with a large central administration building for the offices, refectory, kitchen, etc., and can accommodate a number of patients. Its special function will be the treatment of tubercular cases. It will be under the direct management of Dr. Cipres.

The building and grounds, with the cottages, will all be open today to the inspection of the public. Albuquerqueans are invited to go up on the mesa and look over the establishment. Several patients have already been received and more are on their way to place themselves under Dr. Cipres' care.

REWARD OFFERED FOR CHECK ARTIST WHO OPERATED IN CITY

A reward of $50 has been offered by the state authorities for the arrest of John Haskies, the paroled convict, who recently worked a neat check scheme here to the tune of $68. The victim of his wiles was Mrs. Mary Duncan, who cashed two checks of $26 each and advanced $28. All the money she had left in the house on a third for several thousand dollars.

Haskies was sent up before for forgery. He is a doctor by profession. He is said to be 6 feet tall, weighs 174 pounds, is slightly bald and has a dark complexion. He is a native of Michigan.

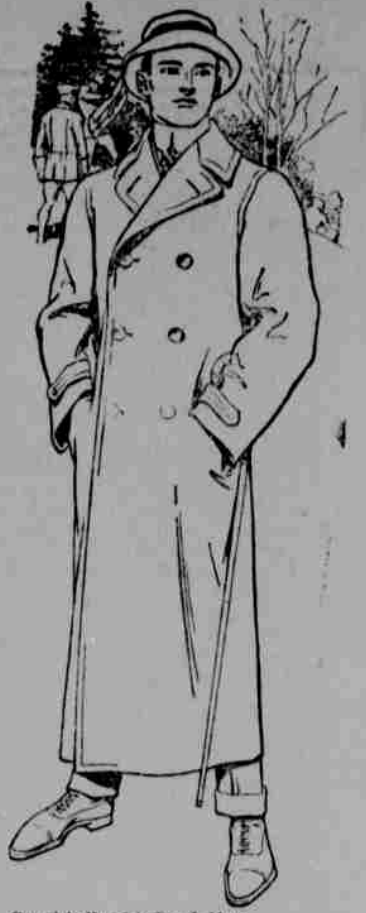

Superintendent J. R. McManus, of the penitentiary, or Captain Fred Forsyth, of the mounted police, should be notified if he is arrested.

DEMOCRATIC FEAST OF JOY PLANNED FOR TUESDAY

Speeches by Congressman Ferguson and Others, Fireworks, Music and More Good Things Promised.

The victorious democrats of Bernalillo county have arranged for a giant feast in celebration of the recent defeat of the opposition on tomorrow night, just one week after they had given Congressman H. H. Ferguson a majority that in itself was a mighty tribute. The celebration will be held at the stand in front of the State National bank building at Second street and Central avenue, and will be free to all.

The feature will be an address by Mr. Ferguson. Other prominent democrats will also speak, but his address will be the principal one and will, of course, receive the major portion of the crowd's attention. There will be fireworks and music and plenty of other good things. The feast is to be attended by all democrats and by others who wish to come, as the spirit of the corner will be ample to care for any crowd of less than presidential size.

It was originally planned to hold this celebration this evening, but Mr. Ferguson had accepted an invitation to speak in Las Vegas at a similar affair tonight, and the local date was therefore changed.

NINETY THOUSAND DOLLAR PAVING CONTRACT IS FINISHED

Texas Bitulithic Company Lays Last Foot of Concrete and Asphalt Until Opening of Spring.

DISTRICT EMBRACES TWENTY-FIVE BLOCKS

Plant Will be Dismantled This Week and Shipped to Waco or Houston for Work During Winter.

The final foot of paving in a district embracing twenty-five blocks, was laid late yesterday afternoon on North Third street, marking the completion by the Texas Bitulithic company of a paving contract with the city of Albuquerque, representing an outlay of approximately $90,000. With the completion of the paving mentioned, Albuquerque now boasts the largest area of paved streets of any city between Denver and El Paso, and is the only city in New Mexico with bitulithic pavement.

In celebration of the event, the whistle on the big steam roller of the Bitulithic company screeched for several minutes last evening when it had made the final trip over the last block of paving. Quite a crowd gathered to see what all the noise was about and the scene was one to be long remembered by those who saw it.

Beginning today, the large plant of the Bitulithic company, which was set up here when the paving was begun, will be dismantled, under the direction of General Manager F. V. Latham, who has had personal charge of the work of this city, and will be placed aboard cars for shipment to either Waco, or Houston, Texas, for work during the winter.

According to a statement made last night by Mr. Latham, he will return to Albuquerque in the spring, with a large force of men and complete the paving of John street and First street. Because of the fact that frost is now on the ground, which affects the setting of the concrete foundation of the paving, work cannot be prosecuted here when cold weather sets in.

Work on the paving of Albuquerque's principal streets began June 20th of this year. This included a considerable portion of Central avenue and Second street. This portion of the work was completed August 5th. The last job, which included Central and Gold avenues and Third street began on September 25th and was completed yesterday.

During the time that the paving was under way the Bitulithic company had employed upwards of 150 men. With the exception of the asphaltum, which came from California, and the cement, which was supplied from El Paso, all other materials were purchased in this city. This represented a large outlay which, combined with the total amount paid out in wages and salaries to the company's employees, added a considerable sum to the money spent with Albuquerque merchants during the several months that work was going on.

As an evidence that paving counts, is the fact that records taken before and after the paving of Central avenue, show that traffic on Central has increased 40 per cent since the pavement was put down.

Mr. Latham believes that when the citizens realize what the paving of the streets means in dollars and cents received on the initial investment, within the next year or two there would be 100 blocks of paved streets in Albuquerque, instead of twenty-five.

SLEEPY HOBO HAD LINEN IN POCKETS

L. B. Hudson, arrested last night on a charge of vagrancy, when found asleep on the porch of the Alvarado hotel, proved to be a suspicious character. He was booked under a vagrancy charge and the other circumstances will be investigated today.

When searched his pockets revealed a quantity of linen belonging, apparently, to the Alvarado.
