CHOLERA RAGES IN TURKISH ARMY UNCHECKED BY SANITATION

Ottoman Government Ready to Make Almost Any Concessions to Keep Diseased Soldiers Out of Capital.

THOUSANDS SENT TO ASIATIC SETTLEMENT

Fugitives From Europe Returning to Ancient Homes in Same Manner They Migrated Five Centuries Ago.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] London, Nov. 15.—Either for military reasons or on account of the cholera which is spreading rapidly at Haidemou, the government, the Constantinople correspondent of the Daily Telegraph declares, is prepared to make large concessions in order to prevent the Balkan armies from entering Constantinople.

An unconfirmed dispatch from Constantinople to the Reuters Telegram Company says the cholera is extending alarmingly among the troops. The cases are reckoned by the hundreds, while among the refugees there are even more victims.

In Constantinople, adds the dispatch, the disease is difficult to control. One train alone brought 160 patients from San Stefano. They were conveyed to the Lazaretto at Beyos, on the Bosphorus. The bodies of twenty soldiers who had died of cholera were taken from the same train.

Many trains have returned from the front with soldiers who are not wounded, but are in a state of physical collapse owing to exhaustion due to exposure and lack of food. The sights at some of the stations near Tchatalja are unvarying. Cholera victims crawl to the station for water or in the hope of getting to Constantinople. They can be seen lying about in every stage of the infection.

The greater danger that threatens Constantinople is that the water supply from Lake Derkes may become contaminated. Only a few cases have been reported up to the present among the people in the capital, and it would seem that the disease is not the deadliest form of Asiatic cholera, as, notwithstanding the unfavorable condition to which the army is exposed, 60 per cent of the cases have recovered.

The authorities are doing their best to rid the capital as quickly as possible of the influx of refugees. They are being dispatched at the rate of several thousand daily to the ports of Ghemlik and Monastir, or by rail to Kosovoh. The active interest of the authorities ends with the removal of the poor exiles, and absolutely no provision has been made for food supplies. The refugees are simply dumped into the towns on the coast or in the interior and are left to find forage for themselves.

Fortunately the Moslem population is naturally charitable and will share the last crust with the wandering fugitives.

"One thought strikes an observer forcibly at seeing the people migrating back to their ancient homes," says the correspondent, "namely, how little altered after 500 years are the wanderers returning peacefully in the same manner in which they came to Europe five centuries ago—the same rough wooden carts dragged by bul-locks or buffalo and covered with straw matting which conceals the household lumber, and the female members of the family hunched into the smallest conceivable space, peering with sad eyes at the unfamiliar sights, while the sick and the youngsters of the family."

SERBIAN FORCES MEET LITTLE OPPOSITION.

Fighting has commenced at Mon-stir, according to an Upskup dispatch to the Daily Mail. The Serbian forces marching through Albania to the Adriatic are meeting with little opposition, many places being occupied without firing a shot.

A Daily Mail dispatch from Constantinople declares that one of the ministers is authority for saying that 250 deaths from cholera occurred in one Turkish camp at Haidemou, Wednesday.

An unconfirmed Daily News dispatch from Constantinople, by way of Constanza, says:

"The government is flying in the face of providence by bringing cholera-infected troops from the Adana district in spite of the protests made by the railway company. They have been sent to Tchatalja, where, as elsewhere, the officers make not the smallest effort to secure sanitary precautions, even in the camp."

"Steamers have been chartered to take 25,000 useless and mutinous soldiers who are famishing in Constantinople back to Anatolia."

The total Turkish losses in Thrace, according to the Constantinople correspondent of the Times, numbers 35,000 killed and wounded and 20,000 missing.

The Tchatalja lines are held by 60-000 troops, most of whom are demoralized. At San Stefano and Haidem-ou there are 20,000 first reserves, who present a smart appearance, but who have not yet been engaged.

"The Austrian and German military preparations in Pera," continues the correspondent, "are exciting interest and awe. Not only are Krecker's hotel and the Austrian embassy held by strong guards landed from the warships, but the flat roof of the German embassy is admirably protected against an aeroplane attack by Maxim guns and a sand bag cover, and another Maxim guards the porter's lobby."

"Many regard this military parade with discreet mirth and think the energy would better be bestowed in measures of sanitation against the cholera."

A Sofia dispatch to the Times says the Bulgarians are bringing 450 heavy guns to bear on the Turkish positions on the Tchatalja lines.

FIGHTING AT ADRIANOPLE TERRIBLE AS PORT ARTHUR

Bennett Norleigh, in a dispatch Mustapha Pasha to the Daily Telegraph, describes the fighting around Adrianople. He says:

"Port Arthur produced no grander or more terrible effects than Sunday night's furious bombardment.
Hundreds of shells burst at the same instant over and around Adrianople.
Cans of all sizes and kinds made a flaming roaring inferno which must have reverberated for miles along the Balkan mountains and rocked and rattled the houses in distant Mustapha Pasha."

"The Turks attempted to reply, but were soon overpowered by the tremendous strength, energy and accuracy of the besiegers' artillery."

The correspondent describes the storming of the forts on the north and east the same night. He says:

"The Bulgarian storming battalions first attended divine worship. They then stepped off their superfluous coats and baggage in their trenches.
The Turks precipitated matters by attempting a sally, little knowing what was in store for them. There was a tornado of artillery and rifle fire on both sides. There was wild and terrible work, with no quarter given. Such Turks as could, fled, but they left an awful trail of dead and lying on the field. The battle continued for many hours in a heavy rainstorm."

"Despite the weather, however, the Bulgarian transport train goes on, and I have seen around Adrianople tens of thousands of sheep and cattle providing fresh meat for the troops and enormous convoys daily of fresh bread. Plentiful supplies of groceries and vegetables of all kinds, as well as fire wood, white wine and tobacco can be had. Tommy Atkins never had such a time in the Sudan."

The correspondent adds that the weather had cleared and the Bulgarians were drawing near. He hopes to be in the trenches when the fortress falls. He concludes with a statement that the troops in Adrianople are well supplied with food, but that the civil population is starving.

The Upskup correspondent of the Daily Telegraph describes the position of the Turks at Monastir as desperate, and says the Servians have completed the concentration of troops around the doomed city with a great force of artillery and a retreat by the Turks is impossible. The only avenue of escape is a narrow pass westwards, toward the Albanian mountains, where the troops would starve. The

1000 WOMEN GREAT PRESIDENT AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Mr. Taft Receives Long Line of Daughters of Confederacy Business Session Confined to Hearing Reports.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Washington, Nov. 14.—A brilliant series of social functions, centering about a reception by President Taft, marked today's session of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

President received nearly a thousand of the daughters in the east room of the White House.

He was assisted by Mrs. Taft, and as the visitors filed by, the president had a hearty handshake and a word of greeting for each.

Today's business sessions were confined largely to the receipt of reports of officers and committees. The convention accepted two general scholarships, one from Chicago university and one from Loretta convent of Kentucky, in connection with the report of the education committee.

A decision in the matter of extending the time for issuing of crosses of honor to Confederate veterans, which aroused a storm on the floor of the convention, was postponed.

Russians Grasping China's Territory.
Washington, Nov. 14.—Advises to the state department from Peking say that the rumored Russian convention with outer Mongolia and Russian pressure on China to sign an agreement recognizing the autonomy of outer Mongolia is causing criticism of the provisional president and his cabinet in the Chinese capital.

Gun Battle Aboard Train.
Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 14.— Striking miners in the Cabin Creek district and officers aboard a passenger train on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad tonight exchanged many shots. So far as known none of the shots took effect.

NEGOTIATIONS ON BETWEEN RUSSIA AND U. S. FOR NEW TREATY

Old Trade Agreement Revoked By Action of Congress Because of Anti-Jewish Sentiment to Be Replaced.

AMERICAN POSITION CANNOT BE CHANGED

Department of State and Czar's Ambassador Give No Indication of How Close They are to Understanding.

Washington, Nov. 14.—An agreement between the United States and Russia to take the place of the commercial treaty of 1842, the abrogation of which becomes effective January 1st next, has been virtually reached, according to information from high official authority. Nothing as to the exact nature of the agreement is announced. It was declared probable, however, that it would be worked out satisfactorily to both countries before the day when the old treaty would expire.

This advanced stage in the negotiations has been reached only after months of conversations between Secretary Knox and Russian Ambassador Baklanoff, beginning last summer and continued at frequent intervals, the last occurring today.

This course was adopted rather than the usual method of extending formal notes, as better calculated to secure a speedy disclosure of the existing conditions in the United States and Russia likely to affect the two governments in their efforts to prevent a complete rupture of their vast commercial relations. Only in a general way can it be said that an un-standing exists that such a breach will not take place, for the details of the agreement are yet to be worked out.

Even with the best of intentions on the part of the negotiators, because of the difficulty of rapid communication between Washington and St. Petersburg save by the unsatisfactory cable method, it will consume little less than the seven weeks that intervene between the present date and December 31st, when the old treaty expires, to accomplish this mutually desired result.

Because of the extreme delicacy of the subject and the possibility of the complete failure of the proposed agreement if there should be public discussion and criticism, neither party to the negotiations is willing to throw any light on the details of the arrangement; in fact, it is even impossible to secure an official admission that the agreement is within sight.

From such side light as is obtainable, however, it appears that Russia consented to modify its practice of refusing passports to American or other non-Russian Jews. The czar's government has always held that such Jews, even though they are American citizens, are not entitled to travel or reside in Russia because the existing treaty provides that any American seeking to enter Russia shall submit to the existing law there prevailing.

The state department has not admitted the soundness of this contention, and when congress, for that reason, ordered the denunciation of the treaty, the actual, though not the formal, ground being this alleged discrimination against American citizens, the department's attitude necessarily became unalterable.

With such a wide difference between the two countries, it seems an almost hopeless undertaking to prevent a complete severance of trade relations between two friendly nations.

It is said that in "friendly Russia will meet the issue," refraining from applying her maximum (and practically exclusive) tariff duties to imports from America. In ordinary course, after the lapse of the existing treaty December 31st, these maximum rates automatically would apply to imports from a country with which Russia has no such trade treaty.
But it is suggested that through a decree or an imperial order in council, this may be postponed indefinitely.

Such action on the part of the Russian government would relieve President Taft from the necessity of imposing, in retaliation, the maximum American duties on imports from Russia and thus trade between the two countries might continue pending the issue of future negotiations for a commercial treaty.

CRUISER HEARD FROM 1,000 MILES AT SEA

Washington, Nov. 14.—The armored cruiser Tennessee, no word of which was heard from since the cruiser Montana, was heard from at Arlington today reporting herself about one thousand miles out of New York.

Commander Bullard, of the Radio communication division of the navy department, and Lieutenant Commissioner Todd, of the department of engineers, have been appointed superintendent and assistant superintendent, respectively, of the Arlington station.

Another Death Results From Strike.
Bingham, Nov. 14.—With the death here today of George Paladinos, another name was added to the list of tragedies accompanying the strike of copper miners. Paladinos was shot Monday morning by deputy sheriffs when the officers replied to the fire of a group of men on the steps of a Greek coffee house. Union officers say that he was not a striker.

MAKE MANY CHANGES

Chevrolet, Wyo., Nov. 14.—Unofficial advice from Washington affecting nine army posts were received at Fort D. A. Russell today. The Fourth field artillery, according to the advice will be sent from Fort Russell to Fort Logan, Colo., which is to be changed from a recruiting station to a regimental post.

The Ninth infantry, now scattered at different posts, Fort Thomas, Ky., Fort Snelling, Minn., and Fort Sill, Okla., will be drawn together at Fort Russell. The Nineteenth infantry, located at Fort Meade, S. D., Fort Sheridan, Chicago, Ill., and Fort Leavenworth, will also be ordered to Fort Russell.

The Ninth cavalry, now at Douglars, Ariz., will remain there.

FARMERS DECLARE
RESPONSIBLE

High Cost of Living Not Charg-able to Agriculturist, Not withstanding Fact He Rides in Automobiles.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Spokane, Wash., Nov. 14.—Farmers of many states, represented through delegates to the National Grange, in session here, repudiated responsibility today for the high cost of living.

Reports from nearly every state touched upon this question. Their tenor was that the farmer, whether or not he rides in automobiles, as depicted, gets but a small profit from his investment, and furthermore gets only from 20 to 40 per cent of what his products cost the consumer.
County cooperative marketing was advocated as a remedy benefiting seller and buyer.

The national conference of progressive states, the so-called inorganic faction of the National Grange, held its first meeting today and discussed resolutions in regard to the high cost of living. The resolutions called for the elimination of the tax on the consumption of members of subordinate lodges. A new method of representation also was discussed.

McClung Quit Responsible Position Presumably Because of Friction With Secretary MacVeagh.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Washington, Nov. 14.—Announcement of the resignation of Lee Mc-Clung as treasurer of the United States, was made by President Taft today. McClung tendered his resignation to the president at a conference at the executive mansion today and it was accepted. His resignation came as the result of continued friction with Secretary MacVeagh.

The resignation of Mr. McClung means that the money and securities for which the treasurer is responsible must be actually counted and receipted for. This will be the greatest single financial transaction in the history of the world. When McClung assumed the duties of treasurer he gave a receipt to his predecessor for $1,266,121,316.88 2-3.

This change is expected to take place early next week. The bond of the new treasurer must be approved by the controller of the treasury. It will require several days to perfect the formality.

As soon as the senate confirms the appointment of Mr. McClung's successor, the new treasurer's name will appear upon all the currency of the United States. The change will entail considerable expense. It probably will cost $10,000 to correct plates and a large sum for counting the money and securities.

EXPLOSION STORY UNFOLDED BY M'MANIGAL IN COURT

Dynamiter Tells of How James B. McNamara Confessed to Him Blowing Up of Times Building in Los Angeles.

HE WANTED TO KILL GENERAL H. G. OTIS

Trial of Alleged Conspirators Develops Dramatic Story of Crime Unparalleled in American History.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 14.—For the first time since the twenty-one persons were killed in the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times building on October 1, 1910, James B. McNamara's detailed confession to having caused the explosion, with his motives for doing it and his comments on the fact that so many persons were killed, was related on the witness stand in the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today.

Otto E. McManigal testified that the confession was given to him while he was hiding with McNamara in the wrecked Times building before the explosion. He said that McNamara, who both of them having gone to the Winchester woods on the pretext of being hunters.

Otto E. McManigal and Eugene A.
Clancy, San Francisco labor leaders, McManigal testified, were named by McNamara as having made arrangements for the Los Angeles explosion and as having furnished the two men —E. A. Schmidt and David Kaplan—to assist in buying the high power nitroglycerine because Schmidt and Caplan had been regularly employed on the coast by the building trades council of California.

McManigal and Clancy are among the forty-five defendants.

Clancy and Schmidt, named by Mc-Manigal, were indicted in Los Angeles county with James B. McNamara on charges of murder, but they never have been captured. Government agents have been informed that Caplan was killed.

When he asked McNamara why he twisted off a gas jet in the basement of the Times building before the explosion, McManigal testified that this conversation ensued:

McManigal: "Why did you break off the gas jet?" McNamara: "Because when the explosion occurred I wanted the whole building to go to hell."

McManigal: "And you knew there were no many people in there, too?" McNamara: "What's the difference? I was to make a good clean blast out and I did it. I am sorry so many were killed. I hoped to get General Otis."

McManigal said that on November 5, 1910, he was at his home in Chicago and expected to leave the next day for Kenosha, Wis., when he was to start with a hunting party in charge of Marion Sharpe. That very day, he said, John J. McNamara, brother of the Los Angeles Times dynamiter, asked him to take James B.
McNamara to the coast in July he had learned that James B. had been in hiding on the way back from the Pacific coast and was two weeks with J. E. Monney in Salt Lake City.

He said he went to Kenosha and James B. joined him there. They procured a hunting license and went with the party to Conover and then to a camp five miles in the country.
On November 9th, said McManigal, "I missed James B. and started out alone to look for some deer.
Standing on a tree stump, I suddenly heard the crack of a pistol, but looking around, saw no one. Everyone was supposed to wear a red cap to distinguish people from deer. I saw no red cap, but presently I saw James B. Snapping his finger into my mind, I accused him right out."

"I think you were taking a shot at me," I said. "If you do you had better be quick about it. This is a fine place up here to get rid of a man—just shoot him and the coyotes will eat up his body."

"He replied he just did it to scare me. Then, was being alone for the first time, he sat down and told me about the Los Angeles job. He said when he went to the coast in July he got into touch with Tevitt and Clancy, according to instructions from his brother, at the headquarters of the Iron workers union in Indianapolis. Tevitt and Clancy, he said, put Kaplan and Schmidt at his disposal, because they had been working for the California building trades council. Schmidt was for much of a talker, he said, and when he blew up a job in Oakland, August 30th, he made Schmidt stay in San Francisco.

"When he returned to San Francisco, Schmidt was waiting for him and on the strength of the fact that the bombs had been set off in Oakland, went to see Tevitt and got $150 from him that night. J. B. said he also did the Seattle job, August 21st."

Leading up to the Los Angeles explosion, J. B. said he found you could get all the money you wanted on the coast. He said Tevitt was the big paymaster and there never was anything to fear, for Tevitt was the friend of Mayor McCarty, and in fact supreme court.

23,500 NEWSPAPERS
FILE STATEMENTS.

Washington, Nov. 14.—To date, 23,500 publications of all kinds have complied with the so-called "newspaper publicity law."

Postmaster General Hitchcock has so far served no notices on publications that they may be deprived of the privileges of the mails if they do not comply with the law, because a test case involving the constitution-ality of the act is pending before the supreme court.

Tevitt was the mayor of San Francisco.

"He said Schmidt had a chance to set off bombs by chemicals which he had learned from a friend of Tevittmore's, but when he (McNamara) showed them the alarm clock scheme they all decided it was best. Schmidt and J. B. went to Los Angeles and looked over the Lathrop and Baker Iron Works plants and the Times building. James B. sent back to his brother a postcard on which was partly written and partly printed. It now reads, 'The Times for the news.
It will soon read the news for the Times.'"

"I asked him why he went after the Times. He answered that Tevittmore had put him on to it. Then he told me about how difficult it was on there to buy explosives; how they decided at last to get a launch and buy nitroglycerin of 85 per cent strength from a powder company, on the representation that it was to be used for blowing up stumps on a farm, how he sent his men to arrange for buying the explosives."

"He said the clerk at the powder company reported they did not make an explosive that strong. He told me how at last he got 500 pounds of the explosive on the launch, after changing the name of the launch, and how, when they got in the bay they attracted the attention of other vessels because the launch would not make any headway and got in the way of others."

"He said when his stuff was ready to take to Los Angeles he had to talk with Tevittmore, telling him either he or Schmidt would have to do the job alone, not both of them, for Schmidt was too much of a talker and had a woman friend in Los Angeles that he (McNamara) did not want to get mixed up in the job."

"Then he told me he had set the bomb in what is known as Ink alley in the Times building in some ink barrels and old paper. Going in, he said he was stopped by the night watchman, who asked him what he was doing in there. He replied he was going to the composing room. The watchman let him pass. He was again stopped by a boy, but he also told the boy he was going to the composing room."

"The boy directed him to a door or a stairway, I think he said. He reached the basement and while passing along it tore off a gas jet. I asked, 'Why did you break off the gas jet?' He replied, 'Because I wanted the whole building to go to hell.'"

"I said I was surprised he could do it, knowing there were so many people in the building. He answered, 'What's the difference? I was to make a good clean blast out and I did it. Then he thought for a while and added, 'But I am sorry there were so many people killed. I wanted to get General Otis.'"

"He told me he put the infernal machines at the residences of General Harrison Gray Clay, proprietor of the Times, and of Felix J. Zechan, secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, all to go off at 1 o'clock in the morning. He said on the way back east he was frightened by the people talking of the explosion. He said he could not bear to look anybody in the face and he thought everyone on the train was looking at him. At Salt Lake City he said he could not stand it any longer.

GOVERNMENT FLES SUIT AGAINST BIG COMPANY

Anaconda, Owned by J. B.
Haggin and Associates Charged with Having Taken Wood from National Lands.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
New York, Nov. 14.—The government brought suit here this afternoon against James B. Haggin of this city to recover $2,612,354, representing the value of cord wood and other timber alleged to have been cut wrongfully by the Anaconda company from national lands in Montana between August, 1884, and January, 1896.

United States District Attorney Wise, who brought the government suit, presented its complaint charging that during the twelve year period mentioned, the Anaconda company, without permission, cut and removed in all, 1,356,974 cords of wood, aggregating in value the amount for which the government sues.

The Anaconda company was a partnership composed originally of the defendant Haggin, Marcus Daly, George Hearst, Phoebe A. Hearst and Leonard Tevis.

A separate count in the complaint alleges that a co-partnership composed of John Caprice and Albert W. Mc-Cune, the Anaconda Flaming Company and the Anaconda Mining Company, were concerned in the cutting and removal of 717,987 cords of wood from the Montana lands without permission.

Another count charges that the Anaconda company, through its agent, John Caprice, cut and removed 1,356,974 cords of wood from the Montana lands without permission.

While the Vienna Reichspost correspondent with the Bulgarian army reports what he describes as "murderous fighting" along the Tchatalja lines, Turkish official reports deny there has been serious fighting there for several days. With regard to other points, an improvement in the weather has permitted the resumption of the Montenegrin attacks against the Turkish positions around Suturi with some success. A battle is imminent at Monastir where the carrion has endeavored to make terms for its surrender, but imposed conditions which the Serbian crown prince was unable to grant.

Until today there has been no fight-

MINNEAPOLIS TO HIGH SCHOOL WILL STAGE GAME FOR CHAMPIONSHIP LEAVE TODAY FOR LAS VEGAS

Interest Among Eleven in "Big Nine" Football Conference Centers in Minnesota-Wisconsin Contest Tomorrow

Albuquerque Football Eleven Expects a Far Harder Battle With Normal Than Was Last Game; Locals Well Groomed.

(The Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Chicago, Nov. 14.—With the end of the conference football season one week away, Saturday's game at Minneapolis between the universities of Wisconsin and Minnesota is expected to settle the conference championship. If Wisconsin wins, the championship will go to Madison. If Wisconsin wins, the team will have Chicago to play on November 23 in the last game of the season.

University of Chicago coaches and backers, however, do not predict that the Maroon team can hope to do more than make a fair showing against Minnesota.

If Minnesota should win and at such a cost in crippled players that Chicago could defeat the team a week from Saturday, the conference championship would be lost in a triple tie with each of the leading teams having one defeat to its record. This possibility is not considered seriously by football experts and Saturday's game is looked on as the championship battle. The other teams of the conference have been decisively defeated and are out of this year's race.

Wisconsin backers insist that the powerful Cardinal team, which has overwhelmed every opponent this year, cannot lose to Minnesota. Both Van Riper, Wisconsin's star half back, and Gillette have recovered from their injuries and will be in the game for which they have been saved.

Minnesota will be without the services of Erdahl, its crack half back.
The far north players, however, point to the fact that the team has never been in danger of losing a game this year and assert that the men from Wisconsin will fare no better than the team that has preceded them. The game promises to be one of the hardest contests ever staged in the conference and interest in it is intense throughout the "big nine."

Chicago and Illinois play Saturday at Urbana, probably for third honors.
Indiana and Northwestern have no games scheduled. Iowa plays the Iowa Aggies at Ames for the state championship, and Ohio state plays Pennsylvania state at Columbus.

AGGIES EXPECTED TO ARRIVE HERE
THIS EVENING

University Team Never in Better Form and Farmers are Ready to Fight Hard for the State Championship.

The Aggies, who will oppose the university tomorrow afternoon at Association park, probably will arrive here tonight. No definite word as to the time of their arrival has been received by the university athletic management, but arrangements have been made for the would-be agriculturists to repose on Albuquerque feather beds tonight.

The Aggies will run through light practice tomorrow morning. That is, if they come tonight, and they probably will unless their coach wishes to risk the condition a trip on the morning of the game would leave his men in. Jogging over the miles of track between Las Cruces and here on the eve, or morning, of the game in plus or minus is not the best form of training, as his coachship probably is aware.

With the Aggies believing they have a loan shark mortgage on the state confession and the university confident, they ought to put on an exhibition tomorrow afternoon at Association park that will back Nearsagan "ears" off the melodramatic boards.
The some-day farmers are in prime condition, according to reports from the Las Cruces press agent, and the university's condition is so pink that it looks red. "The varsity bunch is said to be in better form now than at any other time this season."

The university's final practice will be held this afternoon. Signals, punting and running through trick formations will be the order of the day. A scrime might put some of the valuable men out of the game tomorrow.
There is no doubt that the team is able to give the Aggies a harder struggle than it did the end of the season.
That is evident from the practice.

University students yesterday morning held a rally and enthusiasm was fanned. Another meeting is to be held this morning. College songs and yells will be rehearsed and the long-tailed discipline will be called upon for speeches. If the coach doesn't fear that orating will upset their training, a reception is to be given in honor of the Las Cruces team and students tomorrow night.

BALL MAGNATES TO
AT COLUMBUS

National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues Votes to Hold 1913 Convention in Ohio Capital.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 14.—Columbus, Ohio, was selected as the 1913 meeting place of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues at the eleventh annual session here today. A committee of five members was appointed to confer with the national commission and readjust the national agreement signed by the commission last year in accordance with the desires of the members expressed during this meeting of the association. Omaha was the closest competitor of Columbus for the next year's meeting place, but the Ohio city appeared favored by reason of the fact Columbus has a leading club in the American association, San Francisco and Nashville also were after the meeting place.

Appointment of the readjustment committee settled what threatened to become an object of severe contention among the magnates. There appeared to be some dissatisfaction over the agreement insofar as it required the minors to submit their salary limit action to the commission for approval, and because many of the smaller leagues thought the committee dictatorial in its attitude. Complaints were made against allowing the Northwest league to maintain a salary limit $1,000 above that of the other leagues in Class B, but there was no action taken by the association at the morning or afternoon sessions.

President Norris L. O'Neill of the Western league today announced that playing would begin in his organization April 15, on a 163-game schedule. There will be a meeting of his schedule committee in Chicago about February 15, at which two schedules will be drawn—one providing for a three-trip series and one for a four-trip series. A later meeting of the league will determine which of these shall be adopted.

Pitcher Donnelly of the Boston Nationals was sold to the Atlanta club and Jesse Tannehill was sold to the Cleveland club. Coach pitcher for St.
Joseph, Mo.

Empire McNulty was hopeful that he would be with the Pacific Coast league in 1913.

A committee was appointed today to recommend, before January 1st, a schedule of maximum individual salary limits, the association being unable to agree on such a schedule.

WINTERS AND WHITE MEET IN ANOTHER
MATCH NOVEMBER 28

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.) Raton, N. M., Nov. 14.—A "double wind-up," stinging two cracking good ten-round goes, one between Frankie White, of Chicago, and Ev Winters, of Raton, and the other between Bob Watkins, of Raton, and "Gene" Grant, of Trinidad, will be pulled off in Raton under the auspices of the Elks club on Thanksgiving evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The two main goes will be prefaced with good preliminaries.

Both Winters and White have a host of admiring friends in Raton, who are anxious to witness another bout between these two clever light-weights. Each will weigh in at 135 pounds at 4:30 o'clock on the afternoon of the contest.

Newman Challenges Winner.
Louis Newman, the local lightweight, last night announced that he was anxious to meet the winner of the return match between Winters and White, either in Raton or this city. Newman declares he can trim either of them in a ten round bout, and this belief is shared by a large number of Newman's Albuquerque admirers.

GEORGE SLOSSON A MARVEL STILL AT BILLIARDS

Veteran Player Gives Great Exhibition of Skill With Cue in Championship Tourney at New York.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
New York, Nov. 14.—The best exhibition thus far of the professional billiard player, in his match with Demarest, whom he defeated, 500 to 223, Slosson's play was that of a master and his nursing and delicate work netted him the high average and high run of the tournament up to the present as he made 166 in his ninth inning. Three innings later he ran 123. Demarest's best effort was 14 and 38, and at no time did the young Chicago player appear able to do himself justice.

A great deal of interest was manifested in the other match of the evening between George Sutton and Yamada, the Japanese expert. Sutton was in splendid form, making runs of 40, 48 and 66 in his first three innings and 45 and 48 in the eleventh and twelfth. He finished the game in the twenty-fifth inning, his last ten innings being poor from a scoring viewpoint, as Yamada was playing continually safe. The Tokio player was not at his best, but made several wonderful and daring masse shots. The scores: Slosson, 500. Average, 26 6-19; high runs, 166, 123, 48.

Demarest, 223. Average, 11 14-19;
high runs, 44, 36, 36.
Sutton, 500. Average, 20; high runs, 75, 68, 60.
Yamada, 498. Average, 12 18-24;
runs, 61, 45, 34.

In their afternoon game Cline defeated the leader, Morningstar, this being the Pittsburgh man's first success since the tournament began. It was a see-saw game which Cline finished in the thirty-third inning with a run of 72, making the score 500 to 425 for Morningstar.
Hoppe at time was indifferent in his play against Taylor. In the thirty-fifth inning the latter led the champion by seven errors, but Hoppe in his last three innings with scores of 55, 38 and 57 ran out the game in his thirty-fifth inning. Taylor's total being 294. The scores: Cline, 200. Average, 15 5-33; high runs, 75, 60, 47.
Morningstar, 429. Average, 13 1-32;
high runs, 69, 49, 46.
Hoppe, 200. Average, 11 10-35;
high runs, 58, 57, 54.
Taylor, 324. Average, 11 29-34;
high runs, 69, 44, 38.

YOAKUM EVIDENTLY LIKES JOHNSON'S BRAND OF WALLOPS

Stanley Yoakum, who met Phil Knight in a slugfest here last summer, will trade an assortment of jabs and wallops with Eddie Johnson, the pride of Albuquerque, Colo., for a third time in December.

The bout will be staged at Albuquerque in spite of Manager Jack Hanley's statement, published in the Pueblo Star-Journal, that a visitor is "lucky to get the loser's end in Alamosa." The last mill between the lightweights ended with the referee's holding Johnson's glove in the air, but Yoakum is anxious for another try.

Phil Knight, the worthy biffer who took part in the Knight-Yoakum entertainment here, is scheduled to box Battling Nelson on the Ft. Leavenworth military reservation Thanksgiving day.

KID WILLIAMS GETS BEATING OF LIFE AT HANDS OF CHA'EZ

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.) Trinidad, Colo., Nov. 14.—In a scheduled 15-round bout at Walsen-burg tonight between Benny Chavez and Kid Williams,bantamweights, Chavez administered such a severe beating to Williams in the first six rounds, that the latter's second threw up the sponge, ending the bout. Williams was floored repeatedly and only his gameness kept him going for six rounds. Chavez escaped without a mark.

Yale Completes Hard Practice.
New Haven, Conn., Nov. 14.—Despite the rain the Yale football team went through a hard scrimmage which marked the close of heavy work for the Princeton game Saturday.
There will be a light signal practice drill tomorrow and in the evening the squad will leave for New York, remaining overnight and going to Princeton Saturday morning.

LEACH CROSS STOPS ONE-ROUND HOGAN IN THIRD ROUND

New York, Nov. 14.—Leach Cross, of this city, knocked out "One Round" Hogan, of California, in the third round of a scheduled 10-round bout here tonight.
Hogan was outfought in the first two rounds. In the third the Californian landed a left hook to Cross's head. Cross dropped his head, as if the blow had dazed him. As Hogan came in, foiled by the east sider's ruse, the latter suddenly straightened up, landed left and right to head and body and then with a terrific right to the jaw, put Hogan to the floor for the full count.

Each weighed 135 pounds, ring-side.

MARKETS CONTINUE IRREGULAR ON EXCHANGE

Larger Volume of Purchases Made but Trading Still Remains Almost Entirely in the Hands of the Professionals.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) New York, Nov. 14.—In most of its essentials, today's stock market was a repetition of the preceding day's session.

Irregularity was no less pronounced and there were frequent periods of dullness, although the total output was larger. Trading was prodder, but plainly professional, some of the speculation running into issues supposed to be manipulated by pools.

Further clearing of the European war clouds was an important factor, the initial rise of one to two points being a natural sequence of the strong London market, despite increasing firmness in money and discounts at that center. Both Paris and Berlin displayed renewed strength and those markets with London were buyers here to the extent of probably 25,000 shares on balance.

Some surprises were expressed in local banking circles at the rise in the German bank rate from 5 to 6 per cent, making the second advance in less than a month and to the highest figure quoted by that institution since January, of 1908.

Paris suggested resumption of copper buying for European consumers, which probably accounted in large measure for the strength of those shares. Pressure against United States Steel persisted throughout the session, but American Smelting recovered all of its early decline, with general firmness at the close.

Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—Wheat prices today broke under the season's low record established only twenty-four hours before. Hope of speedy peace in Europe was responsible in the main. At the end of the session, a feeling of steadiness prevailed but the market showed a net decline of 3/8 to 5/8 cent. December ranged from 87 1/2 to 88 1/2 cents, with last sales at 87 1/2 cents.

Increasing receipts and improved quality sent corn to the lowest price of the year. December fluctuated between 45 1/2 and 46 1/2 cents, closing heavy at 45 1/2 cents, a loss of 3/4 cent. Cash grades were slow.

EASTERN INSURANCE MEN LOOKING OVER NEW MEXICO

Representatives of John Hancock Mutual Investigating Possibilities With View to Making Loans Here.

An indication of the growing prominence of New Mexico in the eyes of the eastern investor is afforded by the visit to this city and to other portions of the state of a number of representatives of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, who arrived here last night on an investigating tour. These gentlemen are looking over the possibilities of New Mexico with a view to putting this state on their loan list. The delegation is headed by Col. A. A. Bond, Boston, president of the company. Col. Bond arrived on No. 1 with E. E. Harlan, who already has large interests in the state, while the other members of the party came in on No. 11.

While plans are necessarily somewhat indefinite as to where they will go and what they will see first, it is expected that they will spend today here, riding about the valley in automobiles and looking over the various resources of this section. Later they will visit the Southwestern Irrigated Farm Company's project at Los Lunas, of which Harlan is a prominent officer. Mr. Harlan held a conference here last night with H. H. Schutz, of Los Lunas, the manager of the big project. Mr. Harlan is here to show the insurance men around and to inspect his company's properties. He is general counsel of the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain & Pacific railway, which runs through the northern part of the state.

Besides himself and Colonel Bond, the party includes J. H. Aubin, and G. N. Robinson, of Boston.

ROAD BONDS GREAT THING FOR STATE SAYS M'CABE

Solicitor of Agricultural Department Declares that Half Million Dollar Issue Will Work Wonders.

That the state's bond issue of half a million dollars for road construction and maintenance was one of the finest steps ever taken for the development of New Mexico was the statement last night of George P. McCabe, solicitor of the department of agriculture. Mr. McCabe had just returned from a visit to the Grand Canyon on official business connected with the forest service, and stopped over on his way to Denver to the headquarters of the forest service district, which centers there.

In discussing roads in general and good roads in New Mexico in particular, he said:

"I believe that this bond issue will have an immense effect not only on roads questions directly, but in showing to the world at large the faith the people of New Mexico have in their community. The bond issue is a very large one, in consideration of population and assessed valuation, and is an especially far-sighted measure. It will work wonders for New Mexico by making many places of interest available to the tourist and by bringing the farmers and the railroads into closer touch. It will also help the cities and towns by making the farms easier of access."

Mr. McCabe leaves this evening for Denver.

ECKMAN'S ALTERNATIVE HIGHLY PRAISED

A Valuable Remedy for Throat and Lungs.

It is folly to believe that consumption differs from every other disease in not requiring the use of any medicine for its removal. For a number of years an enormous mass of voluntary and thankful testimonials from persons who consider that they owe their lives to Eckman's Alternative, a medicine for tuberculosis, has been accumulating. Surely plenty of time to demonstrate its healing value. You can write to any of them. Here is one: "323 Grand Ave., Phila., Pa. 'Settlement' in the winter of 1903 I had an attack of grippe, followed by pneumonia and later by consumption. I grew steadily worse. In the winter of 1904 I had cough, night sweats, fever and raised a quantity of bloody-spitting stuff and later I had many hemorrhages, at one time three in successive days. Milk and eggs became so distasteful I could keep nothing down. Three physicians treated me. I was ordered to the mountains, but did not go. Eckman's Alternative was recommended by a friend. After taking a small quantity I had the first cough attack since the winter of 1903. Improvement was marked from the first. I gained strength and weight and appetite. I never had another hemorrhage and my cough gradually lessened until entirely gone. I am perfectly well. Ever since I was here can be verified by my own family and friends."

Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by druggists, or direct from Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa. for additional testimonials.

SIX-STORY HOTEL MAY BE BUILT HERE BY LOS ANGELENOS

John S. Mitchell, Owner of Hollenbeck Hostelry in Pacific Coast City, Enthusias Over Albuquerque.

TENTATIVE SITE HAS ALREADY BEEN CHOSEN

Modern Fire-Proof Building, Containing Two Hundred or More Rooms, is Proposed for Down-Town District.

It became known yesterday that on a visit to Albuquerque this week on his way to and from the annual convention of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association, held at Santa Fe on Monday and Tuesday, John S. Mitchell, owner of the Hollenbeck hotel, one of the largest hostleries in Los Angeles and a man of wealth, enthusiastic over the proposition to build in Albuquerque a modern popular-priced hotel.

Mr. Mitchell was so impressed with Albuquerque while here that he investigated the hotel proposition thoroughly, even to picking out what he considered a suitable site for the building and instructing Mayor D. K. B. Sellers to secure for him a price thereon at an early date.

Mayor Sellers, when asked about the matter yesterday, admitted it was true, but said he would rather not divulge the prospective site, or rather sites, for there are two of them which Mr. Mitchell favored, until he had secured prices on the ground from the owners.

Colonel Sellers said that the proposition by Mr. Mitchell to put up a hotel here was no secret—that the matter had been freely discussed by the Los Angeles man with prominent Albuquerque people, while he was in the city.

"Mr. Mitchell went even so far," stated Colonel Sellers in discussing the hotel project yesterday, "as to outline tentative plans on the kind of a hotel he would put up if he decided to build in Albuquerque. He figures on a six-story structure, to contain 200 or more rooms. The building is to be fireproof and the most modern hotel building between Denver and Los Angeles—El Paso and Phoenix not excepted. The hostelry would be a popular-priced one, catering particularly to the commercial and transient trade, and would be of sufficient size and attractiveness to meet the needs of Albuquerque for ten years to come. It would be so built as to permit of enlargement at any time by the addition of wings or annexes."

In talking over the proposition, Mr. Mitchell told me that he himself would be willing to stand part of the cost of such a hotel, and that he knew of several Los Angeles capitalists who would be willing, in fact, anxious, to go in with him on the proposition and expend upwards of $200,000 on the new hotel.

"Mr. Mitchell was enthusiastic about the prospects of Albuquerque as a coming city and his investigation of the hotel business here convinced him that such a hotel would be a paying proposition from the start—in fact an investment that would provide handsome returns."

"The tentative site selected is on Central avenue in the down-town district, but just what block and corner I am not at liberty to state."

GOOD THINGS WILL ENTERTAIN LOCAL EMPLOYEES

S. E. Busser, Superintendent of Santa Fe Reading Room System, Promises Much for Coming Season.

Good things will be plentiful on the schedule of entertainments which the Santa Fe Railway Company will give its employees here this winter, according to a statement made last night by S. E. Busser, of San Francisco, the superintendent of its reading room system. Mr. Busser promised that the coming season should contain a number of special features and would be far ahead of any previous season, but did not care to make any definite statements until he had returned from Chicago.

He and Mrs. Busser were on their way to the Windy City and stopped over here last night to allow him to attend to some business connected with his local office.

"The coming season will be featured by a number of extra high class entertainments," Mr. Busser said, "and I think I can promise that it will contain a generally better class of attractions than former seasons. It will have a number of special features, but I cannot tell you about them until I come back from Chicago."

MINOR MATTERS ARE SETTLED BY JUDGE RAYNOLDS YESTERDAY

A trio of minor civil actions were the sole business of the district court yesterday. In the case of P. Wodeen vs. William Shook, the court decided in favor of the plaintiff, giving judgment for $19.15. The case was appealed from the justice court of Precinct 12. Andreas Romero and J. C. Baldridge were sureties for the defendant, who appealed.

In the case of the State National bank vs. Charles M. Crossman and Luis M. Crossman, the report of the receiver, T. P. Talle, was approved.

In the estate of Concepcion Canabara de Apodaca, the court appointed Jesus Romero, sheriff of Bernalillo county, temporary receiver of the estate, on petition of about a dozen of the next of kin and prospective heirs.

A petition for the appointment of Juliana Apodaca de Gurte, widow of a son of the deceased, as executrix, was filed in the probate court. A number of the next of kin concurred in this petition. The estate is valued at about $5,000 and includes real estate and a quantity of live stock.

A complaint was yesterday sworn out by Raymond D. Ortiz, asking that the court examine into the sanity of Felicitas Ayala de Lomeli, who, it is claimed, is mentally unbalanced to an extent that renders her dangerous to be at large. A medical examination and hearing will be arranged for some time this week. The complaint was sworn out before Justice of the Peace George H. Craig.

CONVICTS ENROUTE TO ROAD CAMP SEE 'MOVIES'

Prisoners Enjoy Stay in Albuquerque Between Trains; Gang From Santa Fe to Join Convict Camp at Elmoreford.

The convicts, under the charge of W. R. Smythe, state highway engineer, arrived here on Santa Fe passenger train No. 1 at 7:20 o'clock last night, and had to wait until the departure of the train for El Paso at midnight. Mr. Smythe avoided a tedious wait by taking the gang to see the "movies."

None of this gang was sentenced to serve more than five years, and all gave pledges not to attempt to escape while they are working on the road. My Smythe waited fifteen workmen, but Warden McManis did not have more than ten when he was willing to trust outside the prison enclosure. These convicts will join sixteen more working ten miles south of San Marcel on the Camino Real. They probably will continue at work all winter.

Until November 1st the convicts in Mr. Smythe's gang were working on the ocean-to-ocean highway, sixty-five miles west of Magdalena, but the ground began freezing in the high altitude and work on this road was abandoned until spring.

SEAT SALE OPENS TOMORROW FOR OLD KENTUCKY

Indications are That There Will Be a Rush For Advance Reservations for Tuesday Night's Attraction.

Manager Frank A. Storts, of the Elks theater, last night announced that the advance seat sale for "In Old Kentucky," which is the attraction booked for Tuesday night, November 19th, would open tomorrow morning at Matson's. Such a keen interest has been displayed in this drama by Albuquerque theatergoers that a rush for advance reservations is expected.

"In Old Kentucky" is a remarkably successful play, written by C. T. Dacey and controlled by L. D. Dugan. It has reached a standard of achievement for many seasons, and has achieved for itself a name and fame almost without precedent in the annals of the American stage. It is now on the twentieth tour of the United States—a decade of prosperous stage presentations. It is returning from the Pacific coast via El Paso en route to Denver, where it is the Thanksgiving week attraction at the Tabernacle house.

It makes its initial bow to playgoers of this city but its fame has preceded it by many years. Whatever the secret of "In Old Kentucky" drawing powers, it certainly retains its hold upon the affections of American playgoers. It has dash and spirit, constant movement and action, and an engaging interest for every portion of the play. There are many moments of thrilling dramatic value and tremendous vital power. Its appeal is direct and the story runs true. The hero is a many young Kentuckian, the heroine a girl of flesh and blood, a product of nature untampered.

The love interest is charming and idyllic, and the characters in the play are distinct and accurately sketched by the playwright. The picturesque hand forms an essential element in the story. These comical little darkeys sing, dance, whirl-batons, play musical instruments and amuse genuinely. There are a score or so of these comical little Ethiopians.

The company is headed by Miss Olive Skinner, who is making her first Pacific coast trip with this organization. She has played the role with much success in the east. A new and costly scenic outfit has been gotten up for this season's tour.

ALBUQUERQUE NEW MEXICO

GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT.

Albuquerque shows symptoms of being alive to the necessity of helping along the good roads movement, which means so much to the financial betterment of this state. To arouse interest in anything here is much like pulling ear teeth—a strenuous and painful operation.

For the work now proposed, the people of the state are indebted primarily to the work of a few men who have spent their time and their money promoting sentiment and educating the people to the benefits to be derived from it.

Dona Ana county has quite a corps of boosters. They took the lead and have continued at the front of the fight. In Bernalillo county we have to thank Mayor Sellers and F. H. Schwenker chiefly for never letting up on the proposition.

Possibly the man to whom first credit in the state should be given is Colonel Ralph E. Twitchell. He has written and spoken, and spoken and written on the subject for years. He has gathered data and made known the beauties and historic associations, the climate and the healthfulness of New Mexico to the people of the east where notions about this state previously had been of the vaguest sort. Strange to say, a lot of people thought we were under the rule of Diaz and had rebelled when Madero started his revolution.

Colonel Twitchell has prepared three lectures, illustrated with lantern slides, that he will deliver free of charge in many of the counties of New Mexico with a view of arousing interest and educating the people as to their own resources. It will be a work of love and cannot fail to accomplish great good.

But it would be even better, far better, if it were possible to make some arrangement by which Colonel Twitchell could take his lectures to the eastern states and there show the people something of what may be found in this state.

If that could be done, Colonel Twitchell's reputation as an author of one of the most notable historical works known to the American people, as a lecturer and as a lawyer would insure him big audiences.

It would mean that healthseekers, sightseers, housekeepers and pleasure hunters generally would flock here. It would be money expended that would return a thousand per cent annually on the outlay.

Let it be said here that the showing against the bond issue in San Miguel county was due to the sending out of marked ballots by men who opposed the measure because they would not have charge of the spending of the county's money. Those men led the people of that county to vote against their own interests on many previous occasions.

Fortunately, the other counties favored it and the bonds were authorized by a substantial majority.

It means a new day for New Mexico. It means that the farmer can market his products at much less cost, that the tourists and the sightseers and the healthseekers can get over the state in comfort. It is a move in the right direction. The work begun should be continued.

A PROBLEM FOR WILSON.

Alarming reports come from Mexico. The rebellion there was not crushed when the uprising led by Felix Diaz was suppressed. Now Juarez is threatened again by the insurgents. There must be an end of it some time and in some way.

President Taft was never tempted to exploit the Mexican situation for his own political benefit. There is small chance then, that he will be induced to change his policy of non-interference during the few remaining months of his administration. The Mexican question will go over to his successor.

The problem inherited by President Wilson will be a perplexing one. The inability of Mexico to solve her own problem has been sufficiently demonstrated. Before quiet can be restored without intervention, another Diaz must be developed, which would require the wasting of much time and the loss of many lives. Present day patience would hardly endure it.

Madero's measure has been taken by this time and his destiny is fore-shadowed. No weak idealist can steer the rattle car along a rocky road such as that faced even by the iron nerve of Diaz, Huerta, Madero, since he was installed in Chapultepec castle, has forgotten all of the reforms he promised while he was a revolutionist. He puts up a sorry imitation of old Porfirio.

Meanwhile, the country goes to rack and ruin. Industrial production has almost ceased, trade languishes, and most of the plantations are either abandoned or devastated.

When government is re-established, there will be enormous bills for damages to pay and the army to satisfy. British, German, French and American citizens have endured property losses for which there will have to be ample compensation. All of these nations have made it clear to President Madero that full indemnity will be demanded and enforced.

Other nations will look to the United States for the enforcement of their demands. There will be no easing up of the Monroe doctrine and the obligations we incur thereby. It would be the part of wisdom for President Wilson to set himself firmly to a solution of the Mexican problem as soon as he is inaugurated. For settlement must be made soon if we are to avoid foreign complications leading to guaranteeing obligations of the Mexican republic.

ANOTHER BLUNDER.

When the campaign closed we presumed that the Evening Herald would not find it necessary to further deliberately attribute things to the Journal that were never said by it. We are now informed by the Herald as follows:

"The morning paper, in short, proposes that the state supreme court shall issue an injunction upon the governor of the state to compel him to issue a certificate of election to Senator Fall."

"What the Journal really said was: 'If he (Fall) should decide to make that farcical action a basis for a seat in the United States senate the opening gun of the contest will come on a mandamus proceeding to compel the governor to issue a certificate of election.'

Should the supreme court of the state issue an order to the governor, then the matter will be taken to the United States senate on contest."

Before our evening contemporary undertakes to inform its readers on law procedure it should learn the difference between a mandamus and an injunction. Also, it might consult Judge Mann about the powers and the duties of the supreme court as one of the co-ordinate branches of government.

The young gentlemen of the Herald have a great deal to learn about elementary law—almost as much as they have to learn about conducting a newspaper along ethical lines, or a political campaign so as not to become ridiculous.

THE CALIFORNIA RIDDLE.

Since the election was held, the electoral vote of California has been estimated at twenty-six times between the Roosevelt and Wilson columns. Yesterday morning it looked favorable for Wilson by a few votes. This morning, the Bull Moose has it by a plurality of sixty-six out of more than a half million votes cast.

The democrats claim frauds in Los Angeles county and have asked for a writ of mandamus to compel the board of supervisors to make an honest count. If the court grants the mandamus prayed for, no one can tell until there is a recount, whether Roosevelt or Wilson is entitled to the compliment of California's vote.

But the alternating reports "this time, thumbs up and thumbs down" are comparable only to the uncertainty that attended the returns from the Maine prohibition elections which caused a man to apply to the police of New York to be locked up to keep him from having delirious tremors. He was an anti-prohibitionist and said he would take a drink to celebrate a wet victory over time the reports said the state had gone wet and another drink to console himself when the dry reports came in.

A WOMAN FOR THE CABINET.

The women of Denver—part of them—have resolved that President Wilson should have a woman in his cabinet, because there are now ten suffrage states. They suggest Mrs. Betty Green for secretary of the treasury.

The Denver women confound ability to make money with ability to run the treasury department. The two are entirely different propositions.

Betty Green has been able to make and save money. John G. Carlisle could do neither, yet he handled the treasury department with consummate ability.

On the proposition of a woman for a cabinet position, the Detroit Free Press says:

"A California suffragist, Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz, has sent a telegram to President-elect Wilson asking him to consider the women of the ten suffrage states in making up his cabinet, and adding as a sort of afterthought: 'As a member of your cabinet, a wise, scholarly woman would bring to your cabinet great assistance for the universal good of the people.'"

"Mrs. Foltz makes no plea for the women of the United States as a whole, for the wives and mothers of the thirty-eight states which know not equal suffrage, and this makes her request take on the aspect of an indirect demand for a share of the spoils of victory. It seems to imply a political threat which argues ill for the future, if it voices the sentiments of the rank and file of enfranchised women. The situation is much as though the Jews, the Irish, the Germans or the Poles, or some religious denomination were to suggest to the president that it would be well for him to appoint one of its nationality or faith a member of his official family."

"To demand the recognition of Women voters as women would be to perpetrate what suffrage is supposed to destroy, the distinction between the sexes in citizenship. Where women vote there is, theoretically, no such thing as male and female. It will not be wise for the women to make general demand of the sort put forth by Mrs. Foltz, for it may render men in non-suffrage states exasperated about granting new powers to members of the gentler sex."

"The time may come, probably it will, when women will sit in the president's cabinet. But it is to be hoped that if one does sit there the position will be given her, not because she is a woman and represents a political influence, but because as a citizen she has shown herself preeminently fitted for the position."

LEST WE FORGET.

Queer that the Herald has so soon forgotten the inquiry of "Room 44," for which it wanted Eliezo Baca ousted from the chairmanship of the Bernalillo county republican central committee. If Eliezo was guilty of a frame-up, Judge Fall was part of the conspiracy. There is no doubt that he secured his first election through the suspension of the four arrested Spanish-Americans. His second alleged election was aided by the unseating of Senator Abelino Romero. Possibly the young gentlemen of the Herald now feel themselves obligated to defend that action also.

A Los Angeles artist firmly bound himself to eat a crow if Wilson won. The crow is not a big bird, but it has a reputation for a rather gummy flavor.

Hedger was trimmed in New York. The sentence is grammatical. Hedger was the republican candidate for governor of New York.

Cuba has disgusted the Central American countries by pulling off an orderly election.

Senator Aldrich feels that he climbed over the fence in the nick of time.

CURRY COUNTY HAS PLENTY OF PATRIOTS AMONG DEMOCRATS

Clovis, N. M., Nov. 14.—Candidates for federal jobs are springing up all about in democratic Curry county, and it looks like there will be plenty of candidates to fill all vacancies caused by the ousting of the republicans in the state, even though the rest of the state does not produce any patriots who are willing to sacrifice for the job.

Dr. J. Foster Scott, an old-line democrat, and William D. Melton, an equally well known state democrat, and one of the first settlers in this section of the state, are both candidates for some kind of office reelection, and among the applicants for the Clovis postoffice may be mentioned C. A. Schenck, A. B. Warner, A. R. Bradford, W. A. Cramer, R. B. Knight, Cash Ramey, R. C. Hatch, Jack Thill, J. P. Noble, all of whom are democrats and who wear the smile that makes them look like "barnhens." Wilson men, there will apparently be no trouble in finding some man to fill this place when a change is made.

ROOSEVELT LEADS IN FLORENCE GARCIA THE CALIFORNIA RETURNS FINALLY FREED FROM HUSBAND

Golden State Switches Again, Giving Progressives Sixty Plurality over Democratic Candidates.

(The Morning Journal Special Licensed Wire.)
San Francisco, Nov. 14.—California completely gave Roosevelt a plurality tonight over Wilson of sixty-six in considerably more than half a million votes. These figures were official from all but three counties—San Francisco, Los Angeles and Yuba.

In Los Angeles, a Roosevelt stronghold, the democrats filed a petition with the district court of appeals for a writ of mandamus compelling the board of supervisors to make an honest count. Arguments on the application will be heard Monday. It is maintained the final count would put Wilson several hundreds of votes in the lead in the state. Progressives insisted that there would be no appreciable change.

Gross irregularities are charged by the petitioners, one of whom is Miss Mary Fox, a wealthy resident of Pasadena. That tally sheets in thirty-eight precincts were removed from the election returns by the breaking of the official seals also is alleged.

The tally sheets, it is asserted, were made unintelligible by the judges or clerks of election and changed in such a manner that more than 600 votes were affected. Those votes, if counted as originally intended, or if unintelligible, as alleged, and not counted at all, would have materially reduced the plurality of Roosevelt in Los Angeles county, according to the petition.

Assistant District Attorney Byron Hanna will appear for the board of supervisors Monday. He declared today that the count had been conducted in exactly the same manner as had all previous canvasses, and that there had been absolutely no tampering with tally sheets.

Whatever the answer, Los Angeles county holds it. Expected gains in Alameda and San Francisco counties for Wilson did not materialize today. Although the official canvass of San Francisco was not complete this afternoon, the city registration showed that Roosevelt would gain thirty over the unofficial returns. Unless an upset is waiting in Los Angeles, it seems certain that Roosevelt will carry the state.

Fall Hills, the last precinct to struggle in today, brought a smile by failing to elect the result one iota. Staunchly republican, the precinct cast four votes for Taft, one for Chaffin and none for the two leading candidates.

SHIFT FOREMAN AT HURLEY DIES AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.)
Hurley, N. M., Nov. 14.—Joseph Joel Murphy, shift foreman of the ore bins for over two years at this city, died Tuesday night of a complication of disease and the body was interred in the Odd Fellows' cemetery at Silver City yesterday.

Mr. Murphy, the veteran stage driver of this section, a sister and a brother, and has a host of friends in this city who were grieved at the sad news of his death.

The deceased was born in Graham, Tex., and lacked but four days of his thirty-sixth birthday. Twenty-two years ago he moved with his father to this section and later entered the railroad business, working on the Rock Island system. While in the employment of that railroad he was injured in an accident and had been in failing health ever since, but always was cheerful at his post at the concentrator, where he had many friends.

After Twice Deserting Albuquerque Young Man and Giving Away Their Babies, Denver Court Gives Her Decree.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.)
Denver, Nov. 14.—With the granting of a divorce in the county court, late last evening, to Mrs. Florence Collie Garcia, a tall, auburn-haired girl of striking appearance, has been written the last word in a mistaken romance, one chapter of which is already a matter of record in the Denver courts.

The young woman secured her decree on the allegation of cruelty. Her husband, Eliezo Garcia, a wealthy young Spanish-American of Albuquerque, N. M., was jealous, according to her testimony.

The hearing was brief, and there was nothing brought out in the examination of the witness which threw any light on the actual circumstances leading up to her presence there.

More than three years ago the girl, then 16 years old, went with friends to Albuquerque, and through their influence secured a position as teacher of a rural school some distance from the city. She boarded at the home of one of the school patrons, a wealthy cattleman, and there met his nephew, Eliezo Garcia. They fell in love, and were married within a few months.

Young Garcia was engaged in the lumber business, and was prospering. He established his bride in a modest home, and they were happy. A little girl, Rosita, was born, and their honeymoon had fair to last for many years.

But in Denver, the mother and grandmother of the young wife were dissatisfied. They could not become reconciled to the idea of her having wedded Garcia, Mrs. Mabel Collie, the mother, finally visited the newlyweds, and succeeded, in persuading her daughter to desert Garcia, and come to Denver, bringing the baby, and leaving no word or farewell or enlightenment for him.

At first, at a loss to know what had happened, Garcia located the runaways here, and unable to secure any satisfactory information about the baby, sent an attorney to Denver to find the child and secure its possession. It was learned that upon arriving here, Florence Garcia's mother had prevailed upon her to turn the baby over to a foundlings' home in North Denver, from which place it had been adopted by a family on the western slope.

Custody finally was obtained through habeas corpus proceedings, and Garcia's payment of a considerable sum to the woman who had taken the child. While the case was as yet undecided, he came to Denver, and a reconciliation was effected between himself and his wife, with, with the baby, returned with him to Albuquerque.

The young woman's mother still was dissatisfied, however, and continued her dissimulation to the girl. Mrs. Garcia again left her home within a few months and returned here. When Christmas came another baby—a boy—was in her arms. He, like the little Rosita, was unwelcome.

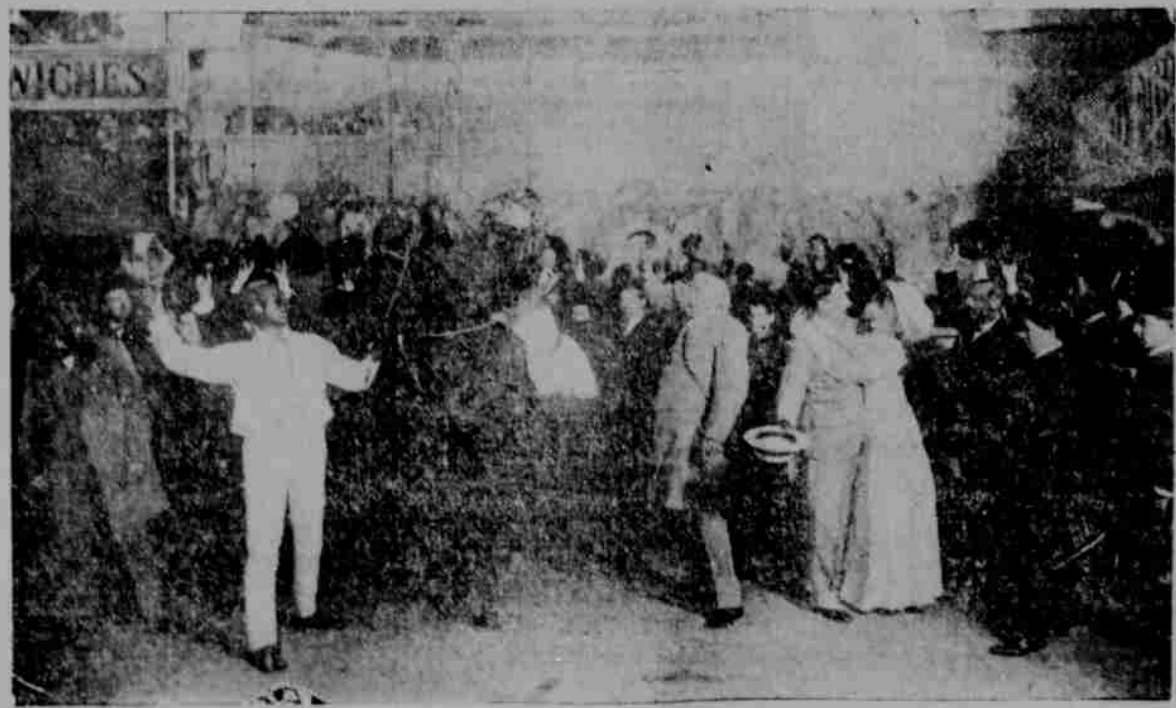

When Garcia learned of the child he took steps to gain its possession and offered the wife the alternative of bringing the baby to him at his expense, or sending it by her mother, or of contesting in court the claim which he proposed to make. The mother took the baby to Albuquerque last April, returning at once. Garcia's mother now has both children at her home in the New Mexico city.

London Cook.
Mr. Escott, the famous chef, was talking to a tourist about London cooks.

"The typical London cook," he declared, "was certainly the one who sneaked and said to me:

"'Plain cooking'—that's where you put the whole egg inside the mutton. And fancy cooking—that's where you put the yolk inside and the white outside. There ain't nothing to it, neither; ain't it only just the same one egg wherever you put it?"—Washington Star.

Lodger—That's funny. This trout has black spots instead of red.
Landlady—It must be a widow.—Elegance Blatter.

THE ONLY TOOLS YOU WILL NEED

IT IS so simple to lay PEERLESS ROOFING that anyone can do the job. But that is only one of the minor advantages.

In the first place it costs less than other roofings, in the next place it wears much longer and in the last place it is far more effective as a weather resister.

These facts are all backed up by the leading architects all over the country, who are universally recommending PEERLESS.

INSPECTED

Government Agricultural Expert Visits Quay County Seat to Look Over Demonstration Plant There.

Tucumcari, N. M., Nov. 14.—Frank H. Jackson of Washington is in the city looking after the work of the experiment farm near the city. Mr. Jackson has charge of the new stations that are being installed by the government, and has come to Tucumcari to examine the buildings that are being erected on the new site of the experimental farm. The buildings will all be completed by January 1st. They will cost about $8,000, and the expense is being borne by the government.

Mr. Jackson said today that he was well pleased with the work already done here, and that he believed that with increased facilities the station would be able to conduct a work here that will be of very much benefit to the farmers of New Mexico. He also stated that the government would be willing to expend as much as two or three thousand dollars per year to conduct the work of the farm.

This farm will be conducted jointly by the government and the state of New Mexico. At the last session of the New Mexico legislature an appropriation of $3,500 was made for the farm, and this, together with the appropriation received from Washington, will be sufficient to do a work that will give the farmers the information they need as to the cultivation of crops.

The superintendent of the farm, Professor J. E. Mundell, has made a study of crops and conditions in this semi-arid country, and he believes that if the farmers will pay more attention to dairying and will conserve their crops by installing silos, they will have solved the problem of holding claims in New Mexico.

The old Tucumcari hotel, formerly located on Railroad street, has been torn down and removed to East Smith street. The hotel has twenty-eight rooms and a few years ago did quite a thriving business.

J. W. Lawing, an oil expert, has just returned from Electric, Tex., where he located many oil wells. In Texas and Oklahoma he has located as many as ten wells, and parties have never failed to obtain oil where he has located a well. He has just visited the well at Tucumcari and stated to the promoters that he was absolutely sure they would strike oil in a few more hundred feet. Mr. Lawing believes that New Mexico will soon have the largest oil district in the United States.

Coleman Blank Co. have made ar-connection with their present machine

The building is to be 50x142 feet and will have fireproof walls and ceil-modern machinery now in use in their present shop will be moved in the new place, and the necessary equipment added to make it a first class garage.

They expect to be in their new quarters about the middle of January, and until that time will take to repair what cars they can accommodate in the rear of their present shop at 211

IMPERSONATED AN OFFICER, CHARGE AGAINST PAIR

Tom Morris and T. Chavez are Locked Up for Alleged Removal of $5 from Woman for Pretended Protection.

A serious charge has been placed against Tom Morris and T. Chavez of this city, as a result of their admitted transactions with a woman who gave her name as Eva Nelson. She admitted later that this was not her right name, but claimed she gave it to keep her husband from knowing of the affair.

Yesterday afternoon the woman made a complaint to the police that a man had asked $5 from her under the claim that he was a detective and that if she did not pay him she would be taken to the police station and fined. She declared she gave him the $5.

From her description, Chief of Police Thomas McMillin identified Morris, who was arrested. When questioned, he admitted complicity in the matter, but implicated Chavez, who is part owner in a local barber shop.
Chavez declared that he had told the woman that Morris was an officer, and that he and Morris had divided the $5. Morris claimed that Chavez gave him but 45 cents of the money.

The woman is not a police character in the exact sense of the word, as she has not yet appeared in police court as a defendant, but the police declare she was headed that way.
Both Morris and Chavez assert she had participated in offenses which would have ultimately brought her to book as a "vagrant" under the old vagrancy statutes.

She and her husband, it is claimed, live on Walnut street, but when the police went to look for her last night she and her husband, with their grips, had gone. It is thought she regretted having made the complaint and would try to dodge appearing as a witness. This is borne out by the fact that about ten minutes after she had made the complaint she told the chief of police that the man had met her on the street and returned it.
Morris denies that he returned it.
The whole case is a badly mixed one.

EIGHT PORTERS ARE GARNISHED BY LAWYER

Writs of garnishment upon the wages of eight negro railroad porters Wednesday were issued by Justice W.
W. McClellan upon the application of R. L. Moore, an attorney, who alleged that the porters owed him a fee.

The negroes engaged him to take up a fight against the enactment of the Arizona "full crew" law, according to the attorney. The enforcement of this law would mean that the railroads would have to employ immen in the place of porters on passenger trains operated on the division from here to Winslow. Hence the reason for the porters' objection.
