The effort to secure their chief's re-

nomination and re-election.

"Four years is rather a short time in which to work out great governmental policies. Six years is better. Another suggestion I would make is that executive steps be taken, for there is nothing in the constitution to forbid it, bringing more closely together the operation of the executive and legislative branches. The studied effort to maintain these branches, rigidly separated, by I think, a mistake. I would not add any more actual power to the executive in legislative matters, nor would I give the legislature any more actual executive power. The veto on the one hand and the confirmation of appointments and the ratification of treaties on the other, I would not change.

"The rules of the two houses, as I am advised, forbid the use of abusive language by one member against another and by the member of one house against the other house or its members. A somewhat close examination of the rules, however, of both houses does not show that there is any limitation on the parliamentary character of the language which may be directed against the president. As to him, the members pursue their own sweet will, and that sometimes leads them into language and epithets that could hardly be called complimentary.

"If members of the cabinet were allowed the floor, their very presence would suggest, in the possibility of reply, moderation in discussing the administration which does not now at times prevail. The strongest reason at present for advocating this change is that the influence that one executive shall have in shaping legislation may be more in harmony with the responsibility that the people hold him to, in respect to it. He is head of the party that elected him, and as such, if congress is controlled by the same political party, as it generally is, he is looked to by the congressional policy and to secure the passage of legislation which the party platform has promised.

"One of the results of my observation in the presidency is that the position is not a place to be enjoyed by a sensitive man.

"The experience in the presidency toughens the hide of the occupant so as to enable him to resist the stings of criticism directed against him from the time he takes office until he lays it down. A heavy armor in respect to criticism and attacks that are made without the slightest reference to facts and merely for the purpose of invoking popular opinion and distrust and with the hope that by constant repetition they can escape any refutation. I don't know that this evil has been any greater in this administration than in a previous administration. All I know is that it was my first experience, and it seemed to me as if I had been more greatly tried than most presidents by such methods.

"The result in some respects is unfortunate in that, after one or two efforts to meet the unfounded accusation, despair in the matter leads to indifference and perhaps to an indifference toward both just and unjust criticism. This condition helps to comfort the patient, but I don't if it makes him a better president. Of course, the reassuring formula that history will right one and will give one his just reward of praise is consoling, but it is not altogether satisfactory because the thought suggests itself that the time for remedy of the injustice may be postponed until one is gathered to his fathers, and he is not then particularly interested in earthly history or human affairs.

"I think the period of successful muckraking is gradually drawing to a close. I hope so. We must consider that the election in muckraking literature is only one of the temporary excesses of the times which is going itself by firing those whose patronage formed the motive for its beginning and rise.

"Of course the great and, really, the only lasting satisfaction that one can have in the administration of the great office of president is the thought that one has done something permanently useful to his fellow countrymen. The mere enjoyment of the time of office is ephemeral and unless one can fix one's memory on real progress made through the exercise of presidential power, there is little real pleasure in the contemplation of the holding of it.

"I beg you to believe that in spite of the very emphatic verdict by which I leave the office, I cherish only the deepest gratitude to the American people for having given me the honor of having held office, and I sincerely hope, in looking back over what has been done, that there is enough of progress made to warrant me in the belief that real good has been accomplished, even though I regret that it has not been greater.

"My chief regret is my failure to secure from the senate the ratification of my general arbitration treaties with France and Great Britain. I am sure they would have been great steps toward general world peace. What has actually been done, I hope has helped the cause of peace. I do not despair of ultimate success. We must hope and work on.

"I observe that the question of how to receive the president is a matter which has been under consideration and I have been considerably amused at the suggestion that it would be possible to do the public business in the presence of everybody so that all who are interested might draw near to the executive office and stand and see and hear the communications from those who enjoy consultations with the head of the nation. This always has been the case, but which allows the public to see the president, the ministerial wealth and magnificent scenery of Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico and the productivity of Kansas corn and wheat fields. The broad western prairie stretching slowly away from the speeding train, hold 'twixt wonders with every mile. The budding villages, each the clearing house of hundreds of farms, smoke in his eye of the constant and joint application of muscles, mind and heart.

"I was amazed," he exclaimed, as a motor car whisked him away from the union depot toward the home of Bishop Thomas F. Lillis. "I had read, of course, of the empire beyond the Alleghenies and I had seen statistics. But what my own eyes have beheld is more than verification of what others have written or said about this country. It is a wonderful land of richness and fertility, endowed by the Almighty with the spirit of growth.

"We at first intended to limit our travels westward at St. Louis, but having proceeded thus far the desire to see more took hold. I wanted to see the coast, to see Colorado, Utah, California, Arizona, New Mexico and Kansas. In New York one gets circumscribed ideas concerning the west. We who have not traversed its magnificent distances, talked with its people and clasped hands with its spirit, never grasp it fully.

"So we went to California, to San Francisco and Los Angeles, then back through Arizona and New Mexico to Kansas City. Everywhere the same bustle and prosperity, good health and overflowing good fellowship greeted us. I was more than surprised. I was astounded and pleased beyond the power of expression.

"Under these circumstances the time seemed opportune for a further stroke and during the summer France and England intended to Italy their desire to subordinate for their informal friendly relations a formal and definite Anglo-French-Italian agreement covering affairs in the Mediterranean. Italy speedily found that this would be incompatible with her position in the Triple Alliance. Whether an intimation to this effect was conveyed to her by her Germanic partners is not stated, but can be inferred, at any rate Italy did not respond to the suggestion.

"Diplomatic overtures failing, a more direct one was adopted and France announced the transfer of all her battleships to the Mediterranean and a determination to maintain for the future the mastery of that sea by a force greater than that of the two opposing powers. This forced the hand of Italy, and forgetting the old scores in her relations with Austria, she not only intimated her intention of continuing the treaty of alliance in full force, but also her desire to link up the Italian and Austrian fleets by an agreement which would ensure the safety of her communications with her new African possessions.

"The details of the agreement, including the strength of the respective navies which Austria and Italy will maintain in order to face the French squadrons, are now under consideration.

CARDINAL FARLEY FAIL TO BREAK
DECLARES UP ALLIANCE

His Eminence Gives Out Interesting Interview on Trip to Coast on Arriving at Kansas City.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

Kansas City, Nov. 16.—The desire of Germany's rivals in Europe for a weakening or break up of the Triple Alliance owing to the differences of her two allies, Austria-Hungary and Italy, has been disappointed, as is indicated by inspired statements issued in Rome, Vienna and Berlin in connection with the meetings just held between the leaders of the foreign policy of the three allied states in Pisa and Berlin.

They showed the intention to enlarge the scope of the alliance, and not only make it cover the Mediterranean interests of Italy and Austria, but also provide for naval co-operation in case of war.

The drafting and signature of the new treaty need not take place before June 8, 1913, a year before the date on which the present treaty expires, and the ensuing eight months will be devoted to working out the details of the agreement already decided upon in principle.

The cause for the change in the situation may be sought partly in Italy's Tripolitan adventure, but more directly in the announcement of the intention of France to transfer to the Mediterranean her entire battleship fleet and assume the guardianship of that sea hitherto in the hands of England. Behind this move lies an interesting chapter of recent unpublished diplomatic history, veiled allusions to which have appeared from time to time in inspired dispatches.

According to these a serious attempt was made this year to detach Italy more completely from her Germanic allies and draw her still further into the train of English and French policy, the final result of which was just the opposite of what was intended.

Italy, for years an ally in name only had maintained friendly relations with France and England in regard to Mediterranean affairs, which are not formally within the scope of the present treaty and at Algiers was found flatly on the side of the Anglo-French allies against Germany, Austria, on the other hand, looked upon Italy as her coming enemy and had for several years been arming against her.

Italy, Austria and the Empire Over Which King William Presides Closer Together Than Ever.

A. A. Truskett is Freed at Second Trial, Jury Holding He Was Insane When He Shot and Killed J. D. S. Neely.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

Independence, Kan., Nov. 16.—A. A. Truskett was acquitted tonight of the charge of murdering J. D. S. Neely, a Lima, O., oil promoter, it was held by the jury that Truskett was insane at the time he shot and killed Neely.

The killing of Neely was one of the most sensational affairs in the history of southern Kansas. Neely was negotiating with Truskett for some valuable oil leases in the Oklahoma field, which Truskett owned. He had offered Truskett a sum said to have been $50,000 for the leases. Afterward, Neely, it is alleged, was instrumental in attacking the validity of the leases held by Truskett, with the result that Neely acquired them through the original owner, an Indian.

thus ruining Truskett financially, since the latter had every dollar he possessed invested in them, having first purchased the leases in good faith. When Truskett learned what Neely had done, he went to the hotel where the latter was stopping and shot him. The first trial of Truskett for the murder of Neely resulted in his conviction of murder in the second degree. He appealed to the supreme court and it remanded the case for retrial.

SECTION TWO.

Concerning Sidechops

GORGE ADE, just home from Europe, predicts an epidemic of side whiskers in the United States! Women have sacrificed more to the modes, so why not sidechops for men? Sidechops of the seventies.

After all, Anatole France knew what he was talking about when he wrote that men are forever the same. Progress and civilization pass and repeat themselves. Men change not with the ages. It is in them to wear sidechops, as it was forty years ago.

Whether the prospective epidemic of hirsute appendages is to affect us locally remains to be seen. We can only hope for the best.

Fancy the Napoleonic features of A. B. McGaffey confused by sidechops? It is difficult to do so. All Corsican resemblance lost in a general John Bull effect. He couldn't. And still, he might. Imagine, if you can, H. B. Henning with hirsute designs on his face. It's a question whether anyone could play politics or run a newspaper with muttonchop whiskers. But, pursuing possibilities, would he not be far less debonair with Dundreary's framing his face in careless attenuation?

Suppose Colonel Joe O'Reilly gave up his mustache, an honorable decoration of many years that has nothing to do with modern effects. His friends wouldn't know him with chops. There's John England Smithers, to give him his full title, whose mustache has survived long seasons of hirsute disfavor. A perfectly characteristic mustache, easy and degage. Must it be sacrificed for sidechops, since sidechops are worn alone? Walter Connell's small military decoration lends a look of continental distinction, or a French comedy air, just as one regards the matter of hirsute adornment.

A successful effort adorns the face of E. R. Edgar, and Dr. G. S. McLandress wears a wonderful mustache. Must these give way to the necessarily formal chops? Sidechops are not cheerful looking, you know, but have the cold, studied look of the cemetery cypress. If E. R. Koch goes in for sidechops, what will become of his reputation for being one of the best looking men in town? That's the feminine verdict. Small danger of Mr. Koch developing sidechops—now.

And Roy McDonald—will he, too, succumb to the new idea? And John Lee Clarke? And Dr. E. J. Alger? Do you suppose M. W. Flournoy would?

Well, if they do, it's all off. All the men will surrender to sidechops. A most unappealing suggestion. The name itself is enough. Worse than that—too much. In England they call them muttonchops, which is no worse than "sausage pants" to be fair. However, we hope to discourage the spread of chops. The consideration of sidechops on familiar faces is not far-fetched, since no man is proof against fashion, and sidechops are actually among the latest fashions for men.

Some artist should draw definite pictures—that will stay the hirsute epidemic, if anything will.

Weinman-Lewinson "Tea"

The Weinman-Lewinson "tea" was really a big, brilliant reception and brought out the fashionable, full force, and topped out in the smartest and prettiest winter toggery imaginable. Even the elements conspired to add to the brilliancy of the affair, as Thursday dawned, radiant and warm, enticing all invited to venture forth in best bib and tucker.

The radiance and beauty without was duplicated within. The decorations were marvelously pretty, all in exquisite shades of pink and lavender, with hundreds, literally hundreds, of big shaggy chrysanthemums as the floral motive. In every niche and corner, and filling all available space, were great, beautiful clusters of the "mums," converting the elegant interior into a veritable bower of fragrance and charm.

The arrangements throughout were perfect, but it was in the dining room that a connoisseur would have paused to acclaim the climax of perfection. Snowy tulle, intangible of quality and illusive of quantity, draped the table, forming an indiscreetly pretty setting for the array of flowers and dainty smilax employed in the effective table decoration.

The centerpiece was a huge cut-glass basket, tied with a bow of the tulle, filled with the white and lavender chrysanthemums. Smilax trailed from the sides of the handsome receptacle, and over the surface of the table, the greenery, in contrast with the tulle, producing a wonderful pretty effect.

Of course, daylight was jealously excluded, and over all was cast a subdued glow from shaded electric lights and candelabra. It was all very beautiful and very gay, as smartly chic a function as was ever given hereabouts.

It was a double wedding anniversary party, as Mrs. Dave Weinman was married eighteen years ago, November 14, and Mrs. Seymour Lewinson six years ago the same date. Thus the joint celebration and the delightful entertainment of the combined calling list of both.

Receiving with Mrs. Weinman and Mrs. Lewinson was Mrs. Fannie Stern, an aunt of Mrs. Lewinson's, and a new resident of Albuquerque. Mrs. Weinman was handsomely gowned in black charmeuse, with white lace draperies, trimmed in rhinestones, and Mrs. Lewinson wore white charmeuse, veiled in exquisite white lace with touches of turquoise blue velvet and rhinestone buckles on the bodice. Mrs. Stern's gown was of taupe chiffon over mesaline of the same shade, hand embroidered in the self color.

Little Bertha Weinman, a dainty figure in pale pink, admitted the guests in the reception hall. Mrs. Ivan Grunfeld, Mrs. Robert Putney and Miss Lillian Willey. Mrs. Barth wore an elegant gown of black charmeuse with a white lace bodice, and magnificent coral jewelry. These jewels, by the way, are something new, only recently acquired by Mrs. Barth and sent to her from Europe. They are certainly gorgeous enough to warrant the notice and enthusiastic praise which they are receiving.

Mrs. Putney's gown was a truly magnificent one of accented pleated chiffon and charmeuse, with white lace, perfectly charmingly combined with a delicate black lace. With this striking look, made by a leading California designer, Mrs. Putney wore a wonderful diamond necklace.

And handsome was Mrs.

ing little widow, with whom he has been seen so constantly of late.

The prolonged absence of the wife, and the recent removal of their baby from the mother's care to that of the widow, add color to the rumors, which are further substantiated by the widow herself, who is said to make no secret of existing conditions.

Very frankly, and none too gently, she breaks it to her intimate friends, that the couple have never been happy, that conjugal troubles of long standing will find their way to the august judgment-seat of the divorce court, and that after all is said and done, she intends to become the second wife of the would-be-divorced man.

Delightfully frank, but hardly refreshing. Certainly, highly interesting evidence of the dancer of this kind, and as the coteries of visiting people, with whom Jean Arnot is identified, prefer dancing to anything else in the way of amusement, it pretty nearly goes without saying that the dance was a huge success.

Kathryn O'Reilly entertained the Girls Club, of which she is a member, at her home, Thursday evening. Some of the boys were invited and music and dancing passed a merry evening for the half dozen couples.

The real young set will have the fun of celebrating Danny Macpherson's fifth birthday, Tuesday, November 19th. Mrs. Macpherson has invited twenty children for her son's birthday party, and the youngsters are planning a big time.

Joe Bren Coming This Week

Joe Bren and family—two plus one—make a family, does it not?—are due to put in an appearance in the good old town next Thursday noon, and from then on things will be pretty lively in local theatrical circles. Of course, rehearsals for the forthcoming big musical production, under auspices of the Elks, are already well under way, but it takes Mr. Bren to put the real ginger and snap into it all. Mr. Bren's marvelous abilities at rounding up a classy show in one week's time are too well known to call for any especial comment, and he may safely be trusted to have added really professional touches by the time his performance a week from Wednesday.

There will be three performances, Thanksgiving eve, Thanksgiving night and Thanksgiving night, so everybody will have ample opportunity to see the show once at least. Many will see it twice, some of the more enthusiastic three times probably. The songs to be featured are just about the catchiest, snappiest bunch of melodious coon, comic and ballad songs ever heard, and are sure to make a tremendous hit. One big singing feature is Mr. Bren's ragtime version of the "Sextette from Lucia," as well as other Bren compositions and the latest popular songs, favorites of this season in New York and other eastern centers.

Many novelties will be introduced, and some new dancing stunts under the personal direction of Mrs. Bren. It's to be a great old show, all right, all right, and the varied and wonderful plans seem to have sufficiently impressed the committee in charge, who go around with the smile that won't rub off.

Dr. J. W. Colbert is chairman, assisted by Ernest Landolf, Louis Grunhauer, Dave Combs, Dr. G. S. McLandress and A. B. Betz. Look for the smile—and watch the preparations grow!

Auction Bridge Club Meets

The Auction Bridge club, recently organized with a dozen married couples as members—if they don't hurry up and name it, I will have to bestow some sort of a title myself, that it may be distinguished from the several bridge clubs enjoying local existence—anyhow, you know the club I mean, and as I started to say, they met at the Woman's Club, Thursday night. The game played was usually interesting, but auction bridge is never dull, and will furnish amusement when all other things fail. The "cats" were served by Mesdames Hugh Collins, Walter Connell and Fred Campfield, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Pettit joined the club that night, making thirteen couples. A good thing none of the members are superstitious.

If it were possible to imprison the real western spirit, famed in story and song, within the confines of a book's two covers, then I think "Bill" Hogan, formerly of Albuquerque, now of Santa Fe, has accomplished this artistic literary feat. The charming little booklet, "The Open Gate," fresh from the press, and published through the combined efforts of Mr. Brogan, "the pen," and Jesse Nussbaum, "the camera," is artistically gotten up and brimful of clever lines and good photography. A uniqueness of conception, originality of theme, and quaint style of diction go to make the little booklet as delightful to read as it is good to look upon.

As a literary effort it reflects considerable credit upon the abilities of Mr. Brogan, and will be widely read by his many local friends.

Younger Sets Make Merry

Activities in the young sets continue, despite school and its rigorous claims. To be sure, the parties usually fall on Friday or Saturday, and are thus arranged so as not to conflict with school duties.

Robert Putney's dancing party, happily arranged for last night, was a gay and festive event, with the fun just at its height, when the society page went to press.

The younger set was out full force, for the time of their young lives. They had it. The Putney home is an ideal place for a dance, and the Putneys spare neither effort nor expense when it comes to entertaining, so that anything given there is apt to be just

Here and There About Town

The "small and informal" prevailed the week just past, despite the big, smart affairs, of moment and, probably, less enjoyment.

On Monday, Mrs. W. Y. Walton, who has been substituting, during the prolonged absence of one of the members of the Monday Duplicate Whist club, entertained this venerable club at her home. Please don't misunderstand me—the venerable applies to the age of the club, not to the ages of its members. You know, Monday Duplicate Whist, which plays regularly at the Woman's club, has the honor and distinction of being the oldest card club in Albuquerque. A fact interesting enough to justify repetition.

At Mrs. Walton's, the past Monday, the twelve players comprising its membership enjoyed a fine game and "the trimmings," meaning the "cats," of course. This club is also unique in that it doesn't eat, generally.

The players were Mrs. Fred Kent, president of the club, Mrs. E. W. Dobson, Mrs. Joseph E. Saint, Mrs. Mike Mandell, Mrs. Walter Connell, Mrs. Margaret Medler, Mrs. Joseph Brown, Mrs. P. G. Cornish, Mrs. J. T. McLaughlin, Mrs. Louis Hunning, Mrs. Bernard Rodey and Mrs. E. Russell Edgar.

Mrs. Frank Stortz had two tables of auction bridge, Monday afternoon, in celebration of her birthday, which fell on the Friday preceding. The hostess was the recipient of many pretty gifts, and the afternoon proved delightful in every way. A prettily appointed luncheon topped off proceedings.

The guests were Mrs. D. H. Carns, Mrs. Nancy Benwick, Mrs. Fred Campbell, Mrs. Frank Ackerman, Mrs. W. C. Klein, Mrs. R. L. Host, Mrs. A. S. Brown, Mrs. W. R. Forbes and Miss Lillian Sylvester.

Wednesday evening Mrs. Frank Ackerman celebrated her husband's absence from town. When the cat's away, the mice will play, you know. Seriously, now, Mrs. Ackerman had in a few friends to play "auction," Wednesday evening. The first prize was won by Mrs. D. A. Macpherson and the "booby" by Mrs. Amy Benwick.

Mrs. D. H. Carns was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the Highland Auction Bridge club. They will meet this week with Mrs. E. Russell Edgar.

Modern Journalism

THEY have been having a great time down in Washington trying to straighten out the constitutionality of the new newspaper bill. This bill, in effect, makes it imperative that newspapers should publish the names of their stockholders, their circulation, and also define their advertising notices.

What is really needed, however, is some kind of a law by which, when you read a newspaper, you can tell what articles are true and what are not. This is, of course, assuming that newspapers sometimes publish the truth. If, when we pick up a paper, the truthful statements in it had been passed upon by a competent commission it might save a great deal of trouble and time. The objection to this scheme is that it would take a long time to educate the reading public to believe that the newspapers ever publish anything true. Besides, it's a great question as to whether the reading public wishes to know the truth.

Probably not. It requires a great deal of conscientious work, and considerable artistic ability not to say genius to make the truth interesting. Probably it would be impossible to do this in a newspaper office in the few hours' time before going to press. That is the reason why newspapers cite so little about publishing the truth. It is so much easier and so much better business to be interesting.—From Life.

A Double Partnership Deal

The wedding of Nellie Brewer and Harold Pierce, in Santa Fe, Thursday afternoon, while not a thunderous surprise to their many friends, called forth much comment, and a number of telegrams of congratulation.

Quite evidently, they did not want to let Albuquerque in on the nuptials, as they went to Santa Fe to be married, and were off for Denver, before local people knew the deed was done. The knot was tied in the supreme court chamber at the Santa Fe capitol by Chief Justice Clarence J. Roberts—just the setting that a woman lawyer would be expected to choose.

The justices of the supreme court, court attaches, and several Santa Fe friends of the bride were there to see that it was properly done, and to offer congratulations to the happy couple.

Miss Brewer—beg pardon, Mrs. Pierce—has lived many years in Albuquerque, and has a wide circle of friends, both here and throughout the state, where she enjoys the distinction of being the only woman lawyer. Her husband before promotion to marital partnership, was her law partner. Whether the new arrangement will interfere with the old, remains to be seen.

Mr. Pierce is from Missouri and is perfectly willing to be shown.

During a comparatively brief residence here, he has made many friends and he and his bride will be offered congratulations on all sides when they return from their trip to the moon of honey.

Social Brevities of Interest

Miss Julia Logan, of Philadelphia, Pa., was the guest of Mrs. Arno Hunning for several days the past week. Miss Logan went on to Denver for a visit after her brief stay here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Floch and children, of Detroit, Mich., arrived in the city recently and expect to locate here, indefinitely. Mrs. Floch is the sister of Mrs. W. R. Walton. Another sister, Mrs. L. H. Elliott, of Chicago, and well-known locally from previous visits, is also in the city, expecting to remain the winter.

Mrs. Frank H. Moore, of Kansas City, arrived in the city Thursday evening, to spend ten days as the guest of Mrs. M. E. Hickey. Mrs. Moore formerly lived here and has many local friends to extend her a cordial welcome. There will, no doubt, be quite a bit of entertaining in her honor.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Strong returned to the home in Los Angeles the past week, after a visit with their sons, Harry and Frank Strong. The Strongs made their home in this city for many years, and have a wide circle of local friends.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Wickline, of Columbus, O., are in the city and expect to locate permanently here. The Wicklines are formerly from West Virginia, and are old friends of Frank Stortz.

Mrs. H. S. Van Slick, of Trinidad, Colo., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. P. Metcalf.

Mrs. Nellie Bartley, who has been ill at St. Joseph's hospital for the past week, is reported as greatly improved. Mrs. Bartley's illness was due to nervous prostration.

Miss Aline Stern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Stern, of this city, who has been visiting in Denver for the past two months, is expected home this week.

Mrs. Berthold Spitz has returned from El Paso, where she spent the past two weeks. She was accompanied by her niece and nephew, Carol and Arthur Schutz, who will make their home with Mrs. Spitz.

Mrs. George Albright left the latter part of the week for San Diego, Cal., where she will visit her son, Elwood Albright and wife, going later for a visit with the Ward Ambersons, at Portland, Ore.

Frank A. Stortz, Col. M. L. Stern, Herbert Brooks and Bob Crowe left Friday in Mr. Stortz's machine for a trip to Roswell. If they succeeded in getting through Tijeras canyon, they are no doubt there, or probably on the return trip, as they intended to reach home today.

Mrs. R. V. Winchester went to Santa Fe Friday, where she participated, as soprano soloist, in the dedication of the new Scottish Rite cathedral.

Misses Frances and Irene Borders returned home Friday, from an extended stay in southern California. The Borders are located temporarily at 111 S. Walter street.

Ancient Stand-Patters

(Reprinted For Benefit of Republican Readers.)

You're still a stand-patter, are you? Rather proud of it, too?

Perhaps you don't know the campaign you are in as shown by the record of the stand-patter, beginning back a few thousand years. Well, here it is:

Who would not hearken to Noah, a preacher of righteousness, and were all drowned in the flood? The stand-patter.

Who refused to let the children of Israel go out of the land of Egypt? The stand-patter.

Who had Daniel cast into the lions' den? The stand-patter.

Who rejected the teachings of Jesus (Continued on Page Three).

ALBUQUERQUE NEW MEXICO

TURKS NOT DEGENERATE.

The Balkan war practically is over. It has lasted only a little more than thirty days, resulting in a series of disasters for the Turks. Many people have an idea that the Turks are a decadent people. That is a mistake; they are only unmodern. The state their genius organized is unfitted to the civilization of Europe. It is unmodern, it is a fanatical, unenlightened, superstitious theocracy.

There is no degeneracy among the Turks. They belong to the past. Had similar conditions existed today as those encountered by the Turkish conquerors in Europe six centuries ago, they would have given quite as good an account of themselves during the past few weeks as they did when they carried their arms to the very walls of Vienna.

But fifteenth century valor, morals, government, staid as they may be, could not avail in twentieth century Europe; not even in southeastern Europe. The Turk is an Asiatic, as the Moor was an African. For seven centuries the Moors held sway in Spain. They had to quit Europe and cross the straits of Gibraltar back into Africa. They had no place in Europe. They were not of its civilization.

The correspondents at the front tell us that Turks by the thousands are quitting Europe and returning to Asia, much as they poured into the plains of Thrace six centuries ago. They go, not by rail, but by ox carts. Their goods and sheep are driven along the road by the children, while the veiled women ride in the slow-moving carts.

Badgered, beaten, hated, despised by the Europeans, they are going from the west, never to return to it. Their homes will be taken by the invaders, as they seized the homes of the land they invaded when they crossed the Hellespont into Europe.

It is now reported that the Bulgarians propose terms of peace that will leave little to the Turks. With the yielding up of the conquered territory and the internationalization of Constantinople and the opening of the Dardanelles and making a free port of Salonika, nothing except a shadow of the Turkish government remains in Europe.

However much the Mohammedan religion may be blamed, it is not responsible for the failure of the Turk to keep pace with the progress of Europe. The fault is racial, ethnic, Islamic, in more virile than Buddhism. The fatalism of the Moslem is no more paralyzing to energy than the negative faith of the followers of Buddha. Yet the Jews have shown themselves the equal in energy, adaptability, modern thought, utilization of the applied sciences, of any people of the world.

The Turk refused to educate. His mind remained in the same rut. His government was a despotism, the only sort of rule to which he was adapted. When, through the Young Turk movement, he undertook to put on a veneer of western civilization, he precipitated a crisis that has cost him his foothold in Europe.

A BULGARIAN NAPOLEON.

In their succession of brilliant but deadly fought victories, the Bulgarians have returned to the war tactics of Napoleon. They have massed forces rapidly, moved swiftly and with a superior force, have struck irresistibly blows at weak points and therefore beat the Turks in detail.

Since the days of Napoleon, that phase of his tactics has not been used by big armies. Stonewall Jackson employed such tactics against the federals in the civil war, but Lee did not use the other Confederate forces so swiftly. Grant massed his men in overwhelming numbers and won by the superior weight of his whole army driven doggedly against the enemy. Repeated at one point, he turned the flank of the confederates and routed them back, because his forces were usually from twice to three times as great as those opposing him. McClelland was the embodiment of slowness and misfortune. He was a drill master, not a fighter.

In the Franco-Prussian war, Von Moltke was superior in numbers, in arms and in equipment. His men were far superior to the French because they were better educated and better disciplined. By slow turning movements he was able to herd the French in the swampy field at Sedan, a battleground of his own choosing, and there inflict a fatal blow, capturing the French emperor himself.

Lord Kitchener, the greatest of modern British generals, was more like Grant in his movements against the tribesmen of the Sudan. He built a long railroad, requiring years for its completion, massed his forces and slaughtered the Mahdists at Omdurman. He was successful, but not Napoleonic.

In 1799, in conversation with Napoleon, who remarked that it was always the larger numbers that won in battle, Napoleon replied:

"You are right. When, with inferior forces, I had a large army before me, I concentrated mine rapidly, and fell like lightning upon one of the enemy's wings and routed it. Then I took advantage of the confusion which this maneuver never failed to produce in the opposing army to attack it on another point, but always with my whole force. Thus I beat it in detail, and the victory which was the result was always, as you see, the triumph of the larger over the lesser."

Such has been the policy of the Bulgarian general. Whenever he has attacked the Turks it has always been at a point where, by swifter movement than was made by the enemy, he hurled against his opponents a stronger force. Victorious there, he has rushed his men with almost unbelievable swiftness to the next point, and thus has been able to beat the Turks in detail, never allowing them time to concentrate.

The tactics of the Bulgarians have been the very acme of generalship. They have been Napoleonic throughout.

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS.

President-elect Wilson has announced that he will call congress in extra session not later than April 15, for the purpose of revising the tariff.

Naturally the country looks upon the proposed legislation with some degree of apprehension. Revision cannot be made without affecting prices in some measure, and heretofore the tendency has been for business to become apathetic during the pendency of such measures. It was so during the making of the Payne-Aldrich bill, though the country knew there would be few revisions downward.

But the democrats propose to minimize such uncertainty by revising one schedule at a time. It is probable that the most important schedules, like wool, cotton and steel, will be taken up and passed quickly. By so doing, compromise, the plague of all tariff bills in the past, will be avoided.

Then the country is in a peculiarly fortunate position for such changes. Demands of consumption in all lines of manufactures have been more rapid than production could supply. There are no stocks of goods in warehouses waiting for purchasers.

Another feature is the unprecedented crops of the country. Living expenses will be reduced measurably, and at the same time, the farmer will make more money than ever before.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

"Business continues to expand, unchecked by the Balkan war with its grave European complications, and its remarkable development has furnished new proof that true national prosperity springs from the soil. The domestic and foreign demand for iron and steel products is even larger than before, with all previous records broken. The railroads are making every effort to move promptly the tremendous traffic of the country and at the same time are making due preparations for the requirements of the future. There are signs of preparation for the opening of the Panama canal."

With such conditions, as outlined by the Dun and Bradstreet agencies, there need be no apprehension that business will become stagnant. A panic at this time is impossible.

Tuesday was when the republican national committee could have met to fill the vice presidential vacancy. The decision not to do so did not cause any rioting in the manufacturing centers.

Champ Clark says he will not be in the cabinet. Probably he has heard that William J. Bryan is headed that way.

Ex-Senator Beveridge is said to have smiled cheerfully, but no reports have been received from the late George W. Perkins, who furnished the "show."

If Taft and Roosevelt had withdrawn in favor of Hadley, if Harrison had been nominated at Baltimore, if St. Waltheof Greidshy had come—but who pursues a painful subject further?

The number of republicans who are insisting that Mr. Bryan should have a place in President Wilson's cabinet is increasing daily.

The steel gates of the Gatun dam are seven feet thick, eighty-one feet high and sixty-five feet wide. They are the biggest things in steel in the world, but they are built to open at easily at your front door, provided you have a door that opens easily.

Stanley Bowdler, the man who takes the place of Nick Longworth in congress, may have more hair than Nick, but whose son-in-law is he?

What shall the country do with the ex-presidents? Keep them apart.

It will be pretty homelike for Uncle Joe when school takes up again.

New Mexico state has the sunshine pennant, notwithstanding a dark day now and then.

San Miguel has the banner for the largest vote against good roads. No one will try to take the credit for it from Senator Clark and Secundino Romero.

The socialists gained nearly 100 per cent, but fell short of the coveted million votes.

Will the New Mexico legislature play ball when it comes to the hat again?

DEMOCRATS AFTER MANY LUCRATIVE FEDERAL JOBS

Believing That to Victor Belong Spoils, Numerous of the Faithful Get Into Office-seeking Game Early.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.) Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 16.—One would think President Wilson took office next week and that the jobs to faithful democrats in New Mexico would be his first consideration. Judging from the number who have already announced themselves for one position or another.

Scarcely the most desirable job is that of United States marshal, for more candidates have appeared for this position than any other one place. One very like candidate is Felipe Sanchez y Baca, of Santa Rosa, democratic county chairman in Guadalupe county. Mr. George Stewart, for years sheriff of Eddy county, is also said to be in the ring, while among others might be mentioned Fred B. Kahnt, of Albuquerque; Fred W. James, of Clovis; J. P. Dunlavy, of Mountainair; B. D. Bell, of Roswell; J. Amerson, of Santa Fe, with several counties yet to be heard from.

The various land offices are also well supplied with complete sets of new officers, that is, should the applicants all be appointed. Roosevelt announced state Representative J. W. Mathews for one of the local positions in the land office there. P. E. Carter, number of the lower house in the state legislature from Roosevelt county, would be glad to take charge of affairs at the Fort Sumner land office, and Frank N. Page of Guadalupe county, would be willing to take the other place, the one Carter leaves, at Fort Sumner.

Raymundo Harrison of Anton Chico, and Frank Delgado of Santa Fe, are reported to be willing to assume control of affairs at the Santa Fe land office. So far the other land offices in the state have not been picked out by any of the faithful.

Other jobs on the list which some of the democrats are coveting are the places of United States district attorney, collector of internal revenues, and surveyor general. E. E. Veeber of Las Vegas, it is rumored, will be a candidate for United States district attorney, while A. J. Leonard of Santa Fe, publisher of "The Eagle," and who formerly held the position of deputy collector for several years, will be an active applicant for collector of internal revenue.

And this is just the beginning, while there is no prospect that any of the places will be filled for six months or more.

HARMLESS REMEDY BEAUTIFIES THE HAIR

If You Wish to Double the Beauty of Your Hair Try Sage and Sulphur.

What a pity it is to see so many people with thin, wispy hair, faded or streaked with gray, and realize that most of these people might have soft, glossy, abundant hair of beautiful color and lustre if they would but use the proper treatment. There is no necessity for gray hair under sixty-five years of age, and there is no excuse for any one, young or old, having thin, straggling hair, either full of dandruff or heavy and rank smelling with excessive oil.

You can bring back the natural color of your hair in a few days and forever rid yourself of any dandruff and loose hairs, and make your hair grow strong and beautiful by using "Sage and Sulphur Remedy." For generations common garden Sage has been used for restoring and preserving the color of the hair, and Sulphur is recognized by Scalp Specialists as being excellent for treatment of hair and scalp troubles.

If you are troubled with dandruff or itching scalp, or if your hair is losing its color or coming out, get a fifty-cent bottle of "Sage and Sulphur" from your druggist, and notice the improvement in the appearance of your hair after a few days' treatment.

CHICAGO MEETING PLACE OF AUTO ASSOCIATION

Eleventh Annual Session of American Organization to Consider National and State Roads Questions.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.) Chicago, Nov. 15.—Invited in the holding of the eleventh annual meeting of the American Automobile Association, to take place in Chicago, December 23 and 24, at the Auditorium hotel, will be the consideration of roads questions of both national and state import. During the past twelve months highways improvement has received a country-wide impetus, due in a great degree to the organizing created by the association's forty-four state bodies and four hundred and fifty local clubs. Several states have considered bond issues involving millions of dollars, and there isn't a single commonwealth in the entire union which has not, in one way or another, made progress in roads development.

The matter of federal participation in highways improvement has been a marked feature of the administration of President Robert P. Hooper, who positively declines a re-election to the automobile presidency, on the ground that it is now the duty of another automobile of national repute to come forward and head the association which represents in organized form nearly a million road users. Mr. Hooper, like his predecessor in the presidency, Mr. Spear, of Massachusetts, will continue to be the head of a state organization, that of Pennsylvania, which has kept him in office since its inception some seven years ago.

It is worthy of note that the A. A. A. was organized in Chicago, March 4, 1912, and several of the founder members will be present at the banquet in the evening of the first day, all the arrangements indicating that it will be the most pretentious affair of its kind in the history of the national body. An effort will be made to have all the living ex-presidents present on this occasion, the list including, besides Mr. Hooper and Mr. Spear, Dr. Julian A. Chase, of Rhode Island, 1903; Elliot C. Lee, of Massachusetts, 1905; and William H. Hotchkiss, of New York, 1907-'08. An exceptionally large attendance from the west is assured, and it is expected that every state association will have a delegation at the annual assembly and its festive accompaniment.

Socialist Replies to the Attack Made By Bird Coler

Morning Journal.

My good Catholic friends have been victimized twice recently, once by a slick advertising agent who collected money and disappeared, which was a common, sordid affair and would not deserve notice of itself. The other occasion was more serious and consisted of a lecture by a non-Catholic banker named Coler, from New York, who has just deposited in his strong box $1,000,000 of new, clean New Mexico state bonds, as good as gold, in exchange for some disreputable securities with a taint of illegality about them which he acquired many years ago at the bargain counter.

This Coler person is one of a select coterie, some of the others being the unsavory Ods, of the Los Angeles Times, one of the Chicago McCormicks and other capitalists who are donating and collecting money for the purpose of carrying on a campaign of deception in regard to the great socialist movement, which is making such astonishing headway all over the world. In Kansas they induced Father Pempsey to take part in a most reprehensible affair, according to affidavits recently published.

I have the highest respect for my Catholic friends, but they owe it to themselves to acquire the truth in regard to socialism and to avoid such misrepresentations as this Coler person presents. Judging from the printed report of his address, every statement he made about socialism was an untruth. Proudment among these misrepresentations of the truth were the following: That 90 per cent of the socialist voters would not vote for it if they understood it; that socialists expect a complete millennium upon the adoption of their principles; that socialism is an attack on the family and upon revealed religion; that the red flag is the symbol of disaster and revolution; that the principles of socialism must not be looked for in the platform of the party, but in the statements of individual socialists—every single one of these statements being, as Daniel Webster would have put it, "statements without foundation in fact," otherwise a lie.

It is an axiom of education that the human brain learns nothing of value unless the desire for knowledge exists in his mind. If my Catholic friends really desire to know the truth about socialism they will learn it, but I warn them that it is not to be acquired through any monthlies of a privately interested syndicate such as this Coler person represents.

The building has been leased by the two pool halls of the city, and the fixtures will be consolidated in one large room. The building will be ready for occupancy by December 1st.

Woman's Club Activities

Domestic science, with nuts as the subject, and a practical demonstration as the conclusion, went to make an unusually interesting session at the Woman's Club Friday.

Mrs. J. E. Hannum was the leader, and roll call was answered with "My favorite salad with nuts." Mrs. John W. Wilson had an excellent paper on "Nuts as a Substitute for Meat," and a delicious lunch, consisting of nut sandwiches, nut salad and nut coffee, was served by Mesdames E. J. Hall, James Chidding and S. T. Vann.

The following musical program considerably enlightened things:

1. Butterfly.....Grieg

Reba Conner.

2. Bagatelle.....John Carver Alden

Le Clair Cavanaugh.

3. Gypsy Rondo.....Hayden

Frances Marron.

4. Revel of the Wood Nymph.....Barbour

The evening will be pretty decoration and the building will be open to the public. Everybody is invited to drop in for a cup of tea and a social hour.

and if they are able to withstand the temptation of the various pretty things on display it will be distinctly all right with the committees in charge.

The committees hard at work on the bazaar are composed of the following:

Assisting Mrs. Otero were Mrs. Harry Benjamin, Mrs. Fred B. Heyn and Mrs. Jake Meyer. Other guests were Mesdames J. A. Reidy, John Borradaile, Joe Lewis, Julius Mandell, A. C. Peterson, Max Herzstein, C. S. Ross, Jacobo Yrisarri, Sr., W. H. Cope land, Frank Hubbell, Tom Hubbell, Leila Armijo and Miss Sutherland.

On Thursday evening Mrs. Otero was hostess at three tables of five hundred. The players were Mr. and Mrs. Jake B. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Otero, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Salazar, Mrs. O. Connelly, Miss Isabel Connelly and Mr. Clyde Cook.

The Amateur Piano club, composed of advance pupils of Mrs. Mabel Stevens Himee, met at Mrs. Himee's home Wednesday evening for the discussion of Beethoven, his life and his compositions. The following interesting program was rendered:

The Tuesday Literary club met with Mrs. Chester French the past week, and enjoyed an exceptionally interesting program. Mrs. Walter Connell conducted the class study and Miss Ethel Hickey led the discussion on current topics.

Annual Thanksgiving Tea

The annual Thanksgiving tea of St. John's Guild, to be given this year at the home of Mrs. W. W. McClellan, Tuesday afternoon, November 26th, promises to be one of the important events of Thanksgiving week. Elaborate plans are being made to have it, both socially and financially, an entire success. There will be the usual good things to eat, and home cooking and fancy work on sale besides. A cordial invitation is extended to the feminine public.

The King's Daughter of the Presbyterian church were entertained at the home of Mrs. J. S. Easterday Friday evening. After a brief business meeting the girls proceeded to enjoy a jolly social hour.

Miss Hulda Wolkling was elected president in the place of Josephine Mordy, who was married in the summer. The next meeting will be held the last Friday in November at Miss Wolkling's home.

The Kings Daughters start the season auspiciously, and expect to accomplish wonders during the winter months.

The regular meeting of Adah chapter, No. 5, O. E. S., Friday evening at Masonic Temple, was followed by a pleasant social affair. The members and their friends were well represented, and a most enjoyable time resulted for all concerned.

An Elaborate Dinner Party

At the home of Mrs. H. A. Heydt, 714 North Fifth street, Thursday afternoon, the "Seven Sisters Club" entertained a number of friends at an enjoyable social affair. The house was tastefully decorated with a profusion of chrysanthemums for the occasion. In the dining room, the color scheme of red was carried out with red carnations and red shaded candles.

The afternoon was delightfully passed with games and music, and concluded with an elaborate dinner party. Covers were laid for these: Mesdames Adair, Aaron, Booth, Boyd, Bradley, Caldwell, Howell, Isherwood, Heydt, Kneese, Little, Pearson, Phillips, Reed, Shoup, Stewart, Sturges, Sudduth, Steiner, Walker and Miss Laird.

The committee, on the recent Halloween party of the Albuquerque Business College, celebrated their splendid success with another party, last night, at the home of Mrs. Henrietta Myers. A large number of young people enjoyed a delightful evening at dancing and cards.

A Thanksgiving dance will be given by the degree team of Woodmen circle, Wednesday evening, November 27th, at Odd Fellows' hall. The best of music will be provided, and a good time assured all who care to attend.

A benefit performance for the Woman's Relief Corps, will be given at the Orpheum theater, next Wednesday evening.

Activities of the Y. W. C. A.

The Department of Expression, recently organized in the Y. W. C. A., with Mrs. E. Wolf, the talented expressionist, as instructor, bids fair to be one of the most popular classes. Mrs. Wolf is a graduate of the Emerson School of Oratory at Boston, and is well fitted in every way to conduct classes in expression. She had charge of the regular Monday evening parlor talk at the Y. W. C. A., the past week, and talked on the "Art of Public Speaking." The audience was large and appreciative, and Mrs. Wolf impressed upon her hearers the necessity of oratorical training for boys as well as expression culture for girls. Following her interesting talk, Mrs. Wolf splendidly interpreted the "Ghost Scene from Hamlet," bringing out all the beauty and grandeur of the lines, after which she recited "The Old Maid's Reverie." This was in a lighter vein and just as well done.

The Cascade club of the Y. W. C. A., entertained Thursday evening in honor of Miss Frances Cross, of Denver, western territorial secretary of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Cross talked on "Casade," the summer convention of the national Y. W. C. A., telling much of interest to the club members, who organized their club with the express intention of promoting interest in the convention, and to get up a large delegation from this city.

Following the entertaining talk by Miss Cross, a fine program was rendered, including song numbers by Kathryn Grimmer and Frances Strome, instrumental selections by the Y. W. C. A. Mandolin Trio, a reading by Zoe McKendrick and a piano solo by Pearl Wolkling.

After the program, a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

Important Meeting Called

The Parents' and Teachers' Co-operative association, recently affiliated with the State Educational association, and allied with the State Federation of Woman's Clubs, will hold an important business meeting at the First Ward school tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Everybody interested in the child welfare movement is cordially invited to attend this meeting. The constitution will be adopted and other business of importance transacted. Among other matters to be discussed is the lack of electric lights in the schools, which tends to interfere with one of the leading aims of the association, that of making the schools social centers.

Plans will also be made at this meeting for a social affair, to be given during Thanksgiving week.

Much interest is manifest in the appearance in this city of George D. Alden, the noted lecturer, on the evening of November 26th. His lecture, "The Need of the Hour," will be delivered as the second attraction of the Redpath Lyceum bureau series of entertainments and promises to be one of the very best, as he is a man of splendid personality, with an all-compelling eloquence and wonderful power to hold his audience. He is a peer of humorists and said to be a punster extraordinary.

In Lodge and Club Circles

Mrs. A. H. Bailey, worthy matron of Adah Chapter, O. E. S., entertained the other officers at her ranch home in Rancho de Atrisco, Tuesday afternoon. About a dozen ladies enjoyed the delightful afternoon, going by trolley to the end of the line, and crossing the river in boats. Once arrived, needlework was the pastime, and a good time incidental.

An excellent repast concluded a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon.

The members of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen entertained their families and friends at Odd Fellows' hall, Thursday evening. A musical contest preceded the social hour and a general good time. The prize winners were: Dorothy Olsen, Alice Hyrnes, Lois Hicks, Thelma Burton, Merrill Byrnes and Norman Hauser. Participating in the really excellent musical program were these:

Bessie Carter, Norman Hauser, Alice Hyrnes, Dorothy Olsen, Merrill Byrnes, Mildred Gustafson, Irvin Stafford, Sadie and Edith Olsen, Lois Hicks, Lorena Burton, Bertha Olsen, Lillian Gustafson, Bertha Stafford, Mabel Hinde, Carl Wilson, Jessie Asher, Louise Burroughs, Grace Holcomb, Lorena Burton, Nettie Clark and Helen Wickham.

The evening given yesterday afternoon, and evening at Odd Fellows' hall, by the Ladies of the G. A. R., was quite an affair, and attracted a big crowd from the opening until the closing hours. The booths were attractively arranged, and pretty as well as useful articles, and all kinds of good things to eat, were sold at nominal rates. Judging from the crowds in attendance, the affair was a big financial success.

Various Church Affairs

This is "Mission Week" among the churches, and the various church social affairs will give way to services and programs of probably wider importance.

The exercises in connection with the missionary union, commence today and extend over next Sunday. Services will be held daily at each church, and Tuesday all the missionary societies of the city, will have a rally and general program at the Congregational church.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of the First M. E. church, will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. H. P. Mohr, 311 West Copper avenue, next Wednesday afternoon. All members urgently requested to attend, as business of importance will come up for consideration. A free will Thanksgiving offering will be made.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of the First Presbyterian church, held the regular monthly meeting, at the church parlors, Thursday afternoon.

ECZEMA CAN BE CURED TO STAY.

and when I say cured, I mean just what I say—CURED—AND NOT MERELY PATCHED UP FOR A WHILE, to return worse than before.

Remember I make this broad statement after putting ten years of my time on this one disease and handling in the meantime a number of a million cases of this dreadful disease. Now, I do not care what all you have used, nor how many doctors have told you that you could not be cured—all I ask is just a chance to show you that I know what I am talking about. If you will write me TODAY, I will send you a FREE TRIAL of my mild, soothing, guaranteed cure that will convince you more in a day than I or anyone else could in a month's time. If you are disgusted and discouraged, I dare you to give me a chance to prove my claims. By writing me today you will enjoy more real comfort than you had ever thought this would mean for you. Just try it, and you will see I am telling you the truth.

LATEST THEORY OF CATARRH EXPLAINED BY DR. HARTMAN

DR. S. B. HARTMAN

Catarrh begins by congestion of the blood vessels of a mucous membrane. Any mucous membrane is made up mostly of minute blood vessels called capillaries. Cold or irritation of any sort is liable to produce congestion of these capillaries. If the irritation is slight and is quickly removed the congestion very soon disappears and no bad result obtains. But if the irritation is repeated many times or is long continued a chronic condition of congestion of the mucous membrane may ensue. This is ordinarily called catarrh.

The blood no longer circulates freely in the small blood vessels that compose the mucous membrane. The blood becomes dammed up in the vessels, causing the vessels to swell up and the blood to stagnate and the serum of the blood to exude from the walls of the blood vessels, producing discharge.

These discharges are ordinarily called mucous discharges. The fact is, however, the discharges are not properly mucous. If a mucous does not irritate but is a wholesome fluid which covers every mucous membrane in the body. The catarrhal discharge is a diseased sort of mucus that is irritating and very unwholesome. Such a discharge not only further irritates the mucous membrane, sometimes completely destroying it, but the discharge is a weakening drain on the system. Precious blood serum is lost in this way.

This condition of affairs is liable to happen in the stomach, in the bowels, and any other internal organ. As said before, it most frequently occurs in the nose and throat.

Sometimes a little relief can be obtained by the use of local applications, especially when the catarrh is confined to the nose and throat. But catarrh cannot be successfully treated by local applications. The only remedies that are effective are internal remedies.

To devise a remedy for catarrh that could be taken safely and effectively for catarrh wherever it happened to be located in the body, to devise such a remedy has been the ambition and study of my lifetime.

I think I have obtained such a remedy in Peruna. I regard Peruna as an effective and a safe catarrh remedy. I have never recommended it for any other disease than catarrh. The notion that prevails that I regard Peruna as a cure-all is entirely erroneous. Catarrh is liable to affect so many organs for which I have recommended Peruna that I have given rise to the impression that I recommend Peruna for different diseases. I recommend Peruna only for catarrh. But I do insist that it is a remedy not only for catarrh of the nose and throat, but for catarrh of the stomach and bowels, kidneys, liver and other internal organs.

The kidneys are especially liable to catarrh. If the catarrh goes on unchecked in the kidneys it leads to organic disease, sometimes called Bright's disease.

I wish to make it plain that Peruna is not a cure-all; that I have never recommended it as a cure-all; that I have always insisted that it was a remedy for catarrh and for catarrh only. I hope I have made this plain.

If catarrh affects the stomach, Peruna is the remedy. If catarrh affects the kidneys, Peruna is the remedy. If catarrh affects the colon, the intestines, or the lungs, Peruna is the remedy.

Not because Peruna is a remedy for many diseases, but because catarrh can locate itself in these various organs and disturb their functions. So catarrh is a disease associated with constipation. Other times a catarrhal subject may not be troubled with constipation. In some instances there is a looseness of the bowels.

People beginning the use of Peruna for chronic catarrh, wherever located, will usually get valuable advice by writing me, giving me a statement of the case.

I do not think it will be necessary for me in this article to describe catarrh of the various organs of the body. It is sufficient for me to say in a general way that any organ is subject to catarrh, because these organs are lined by a mucous membrane. When once catarrh attacks an organ it deranges the function of that organ, more or less.

If catarrh attacks the stomach dyspepsia is the result. If it attacks the lungs and bronchial tubes, bronchitis and laryngitis will result.

If it attacks the lungs, cough and symptoms that resemble consumption will follow.

If catarrh attacks the kidneys disturbance of the urinary organs is certain. Catarrh of the bladder is a very common form of catarrh. It produces distressing symptoms. A large proportion of men past middle life have this form of catarrh, more or less.

I not only devised a remedy to meet these cases, but I have at my command a corps of assistants and helpers which enables me to come into personal touch with thousands of people suffering from catarrh, and assist them in the treatment of their case.

GARCIA UNDER BOND TO APPEAR BEFORE POLICE JUDGE CRAIG

Gregorio Garcia, charged with carrying deadly weapons, yesterday morning gave bond to appear before Police Judge George R. Craig Monday. Garcia, it is charged, commanded Ysidro Noriega at the point of a revolver to take a drink from his bottle of wine. Noriega says he took a drink in fact he kept the bottle upturned over his mouth until all the wine ran out. Noriega did not need such an urgent invitation to drink, but he resented Garcia's too profuse courtesy, and took his gun away, he says. Noriega was given a sentence of ten days yesterday, and Philip Savand, who was with Noriega received the same sentence.

FRACTURED NECK IS CURED; PATIENT WALKS HOME

Harry Brown, New York Boy Run Over By Automobile, Leaves Hospital Four Weeks After Accident.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
New York, Nov. 16.—Harry Brown walked yesterday from the city hospital, Newark, N. J., to his home at No. 27 Halsey street. Four weeks ago he was taken from his home to the hospital in an ambulance with his neck broken at the second vertebra. Last night he declared he felt as if no mishap had ever befallen him, and the surgeons who discharged him said there was every reason to expect that he would keep on feeling so.

On October 18 Brown, who is 16 years old, was playing ball in Washington place, near his home. He was running to a base on the curb, when an automobile, driven by Frederick W. Robertson, of No. 28 North Eighteenth street, East Orange, came along. Brown ran directly in front of it and was knocked down. A front wheel passed over his neck and he was picked up unconscious. He was carried to his home, to be removed to the hospital half an hour later.

At the hospital a radiograph showed what seemed to be a dislocation of the sixth vertebra. A set of braces was devised to pull down at the waist and up at the shoulders, so that the fifth and seventh vertebra might be kept from pressing on the injured sixth, and in this way kept the spinal cord from being choked. These braces remained in place for some days. Brown lying in coma almost uninterruptedly.

A second examination was made toward the end of the boy's first week of confinement and the clearer view afforded by the action of the braces showed that the sixth vertebra had not been injured after all. This radiograph revealed, however, that the second vertebra had been crushed, and the treatment of the case was changed accordingly.

Attention was directed solely to hastening the healing of the bone, since it seemed sure that the spinal cord had not been affected. The response to the new treatment was immediate, and Brown began rapidly to gain strength. Two weeks ago it became evident that he would recover if no further mishap chanced, and a week ago it became only a question of days before the boy would be able to leave his bed.

Brown's recovery is considered remarkable, despite the fact that the constancy that the spinal cord escaped laceration. This is accounted for by the fact that he was not struck violently, but that the wheel of the automobile passed slowly over his neck. Otherwise, the spinal cord could hardly have escaped injury. The margin by which this was avoided was the tiny fraction of an inch in which the fractured vertebra stopped short of the cord.

Robertson was not held at the time of the accident. His responsibility has now, of course, been entirely dissipated.

APPROPRIATION TO BE MADE AGAIN NEXT YEAR

Assistant Forester James B. Adams Declares It Likely That Ten Per Cent Will be Given for Roads Second Time

That the 10 per cent appropriation for good roads by the national forests would likely be repeated next year was the statement made here last night by James B. Adams, assistant forester in the office of operation, who is spending several days in this city. Mr. Adams has just come from the annual meetings of district foresters at Salt Lake City, which he declares was a very successful one.

Forester H. S. Graves, Assistant Forester W. B. Greeley, of the office of administration, and myself, with a list of the district foresters were at this meeting," he said, "and it was a very successful one. The annual meeting was all that was one hand."

Asked about good roads, Mr. Adams said: "While the 10 per cent appropriation this year was only for the one year, it is our expectation that it will be made an annual appropriation hereafter, at least for several years. The bill as it originally went in provides for such an appropriation in perpetuity, but that phase was cut out in committee."

The service wishes to expend these monies where they will do the most good to actual settlers, not on scenic highways."

Mr. Adams approved in his statement the scheme to be adopted locally in the administration of New Mexico's share of these funds, saying he believed it best to spend the money in fixing up bad places on the roads throughout the forests of the state, rather than on some one big road.

ATTEMPTS TO SELL WATCH SOON AFTER ASKING FOR MONEY

Charles Wilson Friday afternoon asked Green Watson, city jailer, for ten cents "to buy a drink." That was a mistake for Wilson, when he attempted to sell a watch an hour later he was arrested by Chief of Police McMillin. Wilson was sentenced yesterday to spend five days in the city jail on a charge of drunkenness. There was no evidence to show that the watch was not his.

LAS VEGAS PHYSICIAN GOES TO COSTA RICA

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.)
Las Vegas, N. M., Nov. 16.—A. J. Fox, accompanied by his family, Dr. F. T. Fox left tonight for Port Limon, Costa Rica, where he will join the medical and surgical staff of a large hospital. Dr. Fox had been a resident of Las Vegas since 1905. In 1904 he came here from Hamburg, Germany, and spent a few months in this city, later going to Central America. Twelve months later he came back to Las Vegas to locate permanently. He at once established himself as one of the leading surgeons of the city.

It is announced that the Becker hospital, of which Dr. Fox had been one of the leading physicians, will continue to be conducted under the same management. During this week Dr. Fox was entertained by the various medical men of the city, Drs. Des Marais and Smith entertaining him at dinners at which the other doctors of the city were guests.

Miss Aline Stern, who has been visiting in Denver for the past three months, will return to her home in this city Tuesday.

DALLAS IS CAPABLE OF TAKING CARE OF SHRINERS

Campaign of Education Will be Conducted to Impress This Fact on Prospective Delegates to Imperial Council

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.)
Dallas, Tex., Nov. 16.—H. P. Thomas, chairman of the executive committee of Hella Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., declared today the main factor that will contribute to the success of the imperial council meeting in May, 1913, is that of impressing on every Shriner Dallas' ability to properly care for ever visitor. "Those who have visited Dallas know this to be a fact," said Mr. Thomas, "but Shriners who live in the north, east and west and in Canada naturally do not appreciate the marvelous growth of this city in the last decade. The A. A. O. N. M. S. convention in May, this year, proved a wonderful advertisement for the entire southwest. Since May the new Adolphus hotel has been completed. This structure is twenty-three stories in height, is superb in equipment and in service, and with the Oriental hotel, the Southland hotel, the Park hotel and numerous other hostleries there is no doubt that the Shriners will be taken care of in a manner fitting their standing in life. Imperial Potentate Cunningham on his recent visit to this city, after looking over the situation, expressed himself as being certain that the facilities were ample for properly taking care of the imperial council delegates and officers and thousands of Shriners and visitors."

A military encampment at the grounds of the State fair of Texas for the patrols and bands is one of the many ways the committee is preparing to handle this great undertaking. Texas has one of the best equipped fair parks in North America, the buildings and grounds representing an investment of approximately $2,000,000 between three and five thousand members of patrols and bands will be housed in the regulation army tents. This year the fair management erected a splendid camp building, 500 feet in length, equipped with every modern convenience, where the committee plans to serve good meals at a very reasonable cost. Shriners need not doubt Dallas' ability to handle the imperial council meeting, declares Potentate J. E. Forrest of Hella Temple. "We have facts to show that 149,000 visitors were in Dallas last Sunday of the fair and all were taken care of in a manner that sent them home pleased with our accommodations," he said. Fair park has splendid street car facilities, with a three-minute service to the business districts of the city.

Noble Herbert M. Green, chairman of the decoration committee of Hella Temple, is planning to eclipse the splendid spectacular and decorative features at Los Angeles in May, this year. He declares that the Los Angeles imperial council meeting marked a new era in decorative features, comparing as it did the most wonderful electrical display the country has ever known. Hella Temple is planning to expend $100,000, half of which sum has already been subscribed by local business men, in the entertainment of the Shriners. The decorative plans as outlined call for a large outlay of money, and the electrical illumination features it carried out will use up every bit of reserve electricity that the different electrical companies in the city can manufacture. Local Shriners who attended the special entertainments given the Shrine world by Rochester, N. Y., and Louisville, Ky., declare Dallas must make big preparations if she wishes to make a lasting impression on visitors. "That is what we intend to do," says Noble Green, "and if money and energy and application has anything to do with it, we will succeed."

It is expected that between fifty-five and sixty patrols will participate in the big Shrine parade which is to feature the imperial council meeting. The fact that Dallas is centrally located and the interest now aroused in the southwest in all sections of the continent, will result in the patrols attending in full strength, it is believed.

GRANTED INSURANCE AFTER LUNG TROUBLE

There are so many cases of consumption reported, that the details show the disease started with a cold or a cough, that it is really surprising that people are not more anxious to immediately stop these apparently minor troubles. Our advice is "stop the cough or cold, if possible, without delay. Otherwise more serious troubles are likely to follow. If the medicine you are now taking does not bring relief, try E. K. Allen's Alternative as this man did."

"I am 22 years old, Brooklyn, N. Y. A brief history of my case, which I trust you will use for the benefit of those suffering from any similar trouble.
"About a year and a half ago I noticed that my health was rapidly failing, until at the end of six months my weight had fallen to 120 pounds. I was troubled with much weakness and was very much exhausted. In fact, I was unable to do anything whatever. About this time I consulted a physician, who told me my lungs were affected. Not satisfied, I went to another doctor, who after examining me said that I was in the first stages of consumption. At this point, I started to take E. K. Allen's Alternative. The cough ceased almost immediately, my cough became hoarse and gradually disappeared. My weight is now 145 pounds and my physician has pronounced me perfectly sound—which, I mention with the fact that I have been accepted by two different insurance companies for life insurance, makes me sure of my entire recovery by E. K. Allen's Alternative. I should be very glad to communicate with any one who would be interested in my case."

W. E. GEE,
E. K. Allen's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Croup, Lung Trouble and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates, habit-forming drugs. Eats Freely But Has No Dyspepsia

Takes a mild laxative with good pepsin and insures his comfort and pleasure.

SERGEANT O. SHAPOVAL

Fortunate is the man who can eat anything without suffering the tortures of dyspepsia, but as few are so fortunate care should be taken in the matter of diet. Eating slowly, digesting the food thoroughly, and taking a short walk after the heavy meal of the day will do much towards assisting digestion. And good reason is given to know the possible foods that do not annoy, and these should be avoided.

When these common-sense measures fail, the next thing to do is to take a mild digestive tonic with laxative properties, and there is none better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains the greatest of all aids to digestion, good pepsin. It has other ingredients that act mildly on the bowels, and combined it forms a combination for the relief of dyspepsia or indigestion that is unsurpassed.

Its action is to tone and strengthen the stomach and bowels muscles so that they can again do their work naturally without outside aid, and when they happen momentary relief of the best remedy obtainable for indigestion, good pepsin, it has other ingredients that act mildly on the bowels, and combined it forms a combination for the relief of dyspepsia or indigestion that is unsurpassed.

Thousands of users will testify to this, among them Sergeant O. Shapoval, Pl. Douglas, Utah, and Mr. J. A. Monchaster, Manchester, Ia.

Syrup Pepsin is sold in its results, and a vast improvement over chewing or swallowing tablets or pills, or taking cathartics, salts, etc., all of which are harsh and unwholesome and at best do but temporary good. You can obtain Syrup Pepsin at any drug store for fifty cents or in dollar a dozen.

ROCK ISLAND LINES MAKE NOTABLE STRIDES AHEAD

Since Divorce from Frisco System, Railroad Has Forged Rapidly to Front as Great Rail Competitor.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.)
New York, Nov. 16.—The financial condition of the Rock Island has been brought to such a condition during the three years since its divorce from the Frisco system that it will not be in the market for money except in the next few months, according to advice which officials of the company here have received. During the next few months, however, purchases of equipment to the extent of at least $5,000,000 will have to be financed probably by equipment notes.

The Rock Island, in common with other roads, has not received ones fourth of the equipment ordered for July and August delivery. A current order for equipment, to cost $5,000,000, which comprises eighty-five locomotives, sixty-eight passenger and 500 freight cars, is placed far in advance, so as to insure 1913 delivery, but will not have to be financed until the middle of 1913.

Apart from its equipment needs, the recent financial statement of the company shows $15,000,000 free cash on hand, due to the sale of debentures, and as there are no large maturities prior to 1917, the road appears to be free from financing necessities. These funds, so officials of the company say, are sufficient for a couple of years to take care of the company's purchases of additional terminals, second track, sidings and general betterments.

The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad Company, one of the holding companies, has outstanding $7,200,000 in 5 per cent gold bonds, which mature in September, 1913. All of these are owned by the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway Company, the operating company. It will be a simple matter of bookkeeping to the care of these bonds. They probably will be extended, though other arrangements may be made in the next eleven months.

13th Morning Journal Special Lined Wire

New York, Nov. 16.—A heavy time prevented during most of today's trading in stocks and prices ranged well below yesterday's close. In the last half hour there was a sharp rebound which brought full recovery and in some cases resulted in net gains. In spite of the comparatively heavy pressure of the first hour, there were no indications that Governor Wilson's announcement that he would call an extra session of congress had caused any deep-seated uneasiness in Wall Street.

Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Wheat headed downward again today, although the market has now been on a decline for nearly three weeks. Rapidly increasing supplies and no adequate demand allowed the bears to remain in control. The close was weak, 5/8 to 3/4 cent under last night. December ranged from 55 1/2 to 56 1/2 cents, with last sales 55 1/2 to 56 1/2 cents, a loss of 1/2 cent net.

Ideal weather conditions brought the corn market to the lowest of the year. December fluctuated between 47 1/2 and 47 3/4 cents, closing steady 47 1/2 cents, a loss of 1/2 cent net. Cash grades were weak.

Oats developed a comparative strength. December, which sold from 29 1/2 to 30 1/2 cents, closed a shade higher at 30 1/2 to 30 3/4 cents.

Provisions ruled firmer owing to a larger shortage in the amount of lard and because of the diminished producing quality of hogs. At the end of the day lard had risen 15 to 20 cents, pork was unchanged to 17 1/2 cents up and ribs dearer by 12 1/2 to 15 cents.

FIFTH SECTION OF MILLS AT HURLEY TO BE INSTALLED

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal]

Hurley, N. M., Nov. 16.—In an interview with a Journal representative today, Manager J. M. Sullivan, of the China Copper Company, stated that the fifth section of the mills will be put into operation the latter part of this month. The four sections are treating at present about 5,500 tons of ore per day, and it is thought that with the new section over 7,000 tons will be the daily capacity.

There are at present nearly 1,600 men on the pay rolls of the company at this city and Santa Rita, with the numbers increasing as the work fastly progresses.

The advance in the shares of the China Copper Company has created quite a bit of excitement among the stockholders and others interested in the great copper mining industry. The China properties are undoubtedly the most successful which have been developed in the last ten years and are about to a point where the company can distribute its earnings to the shareholders.

The development in the last three months has been quite beyond the expectations of many of the most interested persons in the China property. Today the China Company has the third largest development body of copper ore in this country, 55,000,000 tons.

From the present outlook, unless there should be a sharp drop in the price of metal, it is thought that the first dividend declaration of the company will not be very far off and will be very satisfactory in amount.

CORPORATION LAWS AND FORMS

New Mexico now has a Commission empowered to regulate corporations. Corporation officers, attorneys, irrigation engineers should know corporation laws and procedure. For this purpose get KANE'S NEW MEXICO CORPORATION LAWS, RULES AND FORMS. All laws on General Corporations, Irrigation, Mining, Railroads, Banking, Insurance, etc., with citations; rules and forms for drawing and filing corporation, irrigation papers, etc. Also U. S. laws and forms; the only compilation of these laws from 1897 to 1912.

The 1912 legislature made but few changes in corporation laws; many New Mexico laws are out of print; no revision made since 1897, none adopted until 1915. Such conditions make this book indispensable.

SOCIALIST EDITOR DRIVEN TO TAKE LIFE, CHARGE

Appeal to Reason Makes Startling Assertion in Explaining Suicide of J. A. Wayland; Federal Attorney Replies.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] Topeka, Kan., Nov. 16.—In answer to an announcement in large type on the front page of the current issue of the Appeal to Reason, the socialist paper published at Girard, that Editor J. A. Wayland, of that paper was "hounded to his death" by government detectives and attorneys, resulting in his suicide last Sunday, United States District Attorney Harry J. Bone, has issued the following statement concerning the case:

"The suicide of Wayland was without doubt caused by the disclosures made as a result of the vigorous investigations made by the government concerning the methods of the Appeal to Reason and of its staff, which doubtless will be made public within the next few days. Developments resulting from the reports of the federal grand jury and from other sources will reveal the righteousness of the government's course of action and contentions.

"The government was in possession of sufficient facts to establish beyond doubt, among other serious charges that of perjury against J. A. Wayland, and other serious charges against Wayland and members of the Appeal and associated publications. Statements made by Wayland shortly prior to his death are proof that he had learned of some of the results of the investigations being conducted by the government, and he stated within the last few days before his suicide that he would not be able to stand the disgrace which would result from the disclosure of the facts about to be made public. Wayland's suicide, in the eyes of the government, is a convincing proof of his guilt. I understand that action has been taken by Kansas and Missouri authorities which will further bear out the government's contentions.

"The false affidavit made by one Lovejoy, published in the Appeal, was nothing more than a reiteration of and on a par with the false and false stories published by the Appeal in connection with the faked disappearance of George Shoor of the Appeal to Reason, who had claimed to have discovered a plot of General Otis, the publisher of the Los Angeles Times, himself instigating the dynamiting of the Times building, which had been disproved by the confession of the McNamara whom Shoor and the Appeal were trying to shield."

RICH GOLD STRIKE REPORTED FROM ALASKA

Long Sought Continuation of Third Beach Line, Rich in Yellow Metal, is Believed Discovered.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Nome, Alaska, Nov. 16.—Another rich strike of placer gold has been made in the Fox State group, opposite Chims, Four and Five below Anvil Creek, adjoining the ground on which "pay" was struck a few days ago. The "pay" runs through eighty acres. It is believed the long sought continuation of the third beach line has been found.

EXTENSION VAINLY SOUGHT FOR PAST SEVEN YEARS. Seattle, Wash., Nov. 16.—If the extension of the third beach line really has been found, Nome will witness next year a revival of the old boom days. For seven years the extension has been sought in vain.

The third beach line was discovered by J. C. Brown in 1905. His location was just east of Little Creek, about three miles north of Nome. From Brown's discovery the beach line was followed eastward several miles, developing some of the richest property in the Nome district. Millions have been taken from the claims along this rich vein in the last seven years, but efforts to strike the beach line west of Little Creek have been futile.

COURT WILL OPEN AT LAS VEGAS TOMORROW

Criminal Docket Comparatively Light, Though Busy Session is Expected; Judge Leahy to Preside.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)

Las Vegas, N. M., Nov. 16.—(10) Monday morning at 10 o'clock the full term of the district court for the Ninth circuit will be opened at the court house by Judge David J. Leahy. The session for the grand and petit juries have been ordered to be in readiness. It is believed the points for both juries will be completed on Monday. There are several cases of more or less seriousness, which the court will be called upon to decide. The criminal cases will be tried during the early part of the term. Owing to the efficient work of Judge Leahy in conducting cases to be brought to a speedy trial there is little doubt that the criminal docket will be cleared up in a very short time.

The first case called for trial is against Jack Henshaw, set for November 19th. He is charged with the murder of a woman named Mary. The case is set for trial at 10 o'clock.

State against Alvin Karpis, set for November 19th. He is charged with the murder of a woman named Mary. The case is set for trial at 10 o'clock.

There are numerous other cases on the docket which will be brought in a hearing at the court house.

HOSPITAL MATRON DROPS DEAD OF HEART FAILURE

Seized With Attack at Early Hour, Woman Expires Soon After Attendants in Rooms Adjoining Reach Bedside.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Las Vegas, Nov. 16.—Suddenly seized with heart failure at an early hour this morning, Mrs. Nova Perrine, acting matron of the New Mexico Hospital for the Insane, died without uttering a word after her first call for help. It was about 4 o'clock when attendants sleeping adjacent to Mrs. Perrine's room heard her call out: "I'm dreadfully ill. Call a doctor."

Dr. William P. Mills, superintendent of the institution, was called at once, but it was found that Mrs. Perrine was sinking rapidly. Her heart refused to respond to stimulants and in a short time she was dead.

Yesterday Mrs. Perrine appeared in the best of health. Her sudden death came as a great shock to her friends. Mrs. Perrine had been connected with the hospital for the past five years, most of that time in the capacity of assistant matron. Upon the resignation of Mrs. Flora L. Prentiss, some time ago, Mrs. Perrine began the duties of matron. She was loved by all the attendants and officials of the institution for her sweet disposition and was admired for her ability. Mrs. Perrine was a widow. She is survived by several relatives in Home, Mo., who have been informed of her death.

BELEN HAS HOPES OF GETTING THE COUNTY SEAT

Court Order Halting Work on New Buildings at Los Lunas, Gives Citizens Encouragement for Ultimate Success.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Belen, N. M., Nov. 16.—With the decision recently rendered by Judge Reynolds of Albuquerque in the Valencia county court house fight, the residents of Belen are feeling very hopeful that the final outcome of the controversy will result favorably to this city. Judge Reynolds has decided that the county commissioners cannot use certain money obtained a number of years ago for the purpose of erecting the bonded indebtedness of the county, for the erection of a new court house and jail, the contract for which buildings was let by the county board several weeks ago, on the understanding that they could use this particular money. Now that they have been restrained from so doing, there will not be sufficient funds available for the erection of the buildings, and the work will undoubtedly be delayed considerably.

It is hoped that during this delayed delay the people of Belen will in some manner obtain a way in which a vote can be taken on the removal of the county seat from Los Lunas to Belen. If this is done, it is more than probable that the majority of votes would be in favor of Belen, in which event the county seat would be changed immediately. A considerable amount of money has been expended by the residents of this city, and the success of their efforts thus far has greatly encouraged them.

THERE ARE IMITATIONS NOW

But Newbro's Herpicide Was the First Dandruff Germ Destroyer.

A discovery can be made but only after that all similar ones become imitations, imitations of an attempt at substitution.

Newbro's Herpicide is a discovery. It was the first remedy ever given to science to kill the dandruff germ. Other preparations have since been offered to the public, some similar in appearance, some in odor, but all inferior to the lasting promise of doing the same things that Herpicide has been doing for years.

Every article of this kind is merely one more instance of vulgar imitation, the imitation of a bare attempt at substitution.

The "something just as good" story is old, who gives it a thought? Herpicide is the Original Herpicide. It kills the dandruff germ and prevents the hair from falling. Itching of the scalp stops almost with the first application.

Don't be deceived by something that is not good. If your own druggist does not keep the genuine dandruff germ destroyer, Newbro's Herpicide, go to one who does.

Newbro's Herpicide is in 2¢ and 1¢ sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

Send 10¢ in postage for sample and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. H, Detroit, Mich. Applications may be obtained at most better shops.

GRAVE OUTBREAK OF SMALLPOX AT OLD SUNNYSIDE

Town in Guadalupe County Reports Thirty Cases of Disease; Has Trouble Maintaining Quarantine.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Santa Rosa, N. M., Nov. 16.—Health Officer Dr. James B. Van Horn received a telephone message today from Dr. Lovelace, of Fort Sumner, in the southern part of this county, on the Belen cut-off, that he had thirty cases of smallpox in a small town in Old Sunnyside. Dr. Lovelace was having trouble in maintaining a proper quarantine. The quarantined families refused to observe the physician's orders unless the county would feed them. This the county commissioners refused to do, except when it was shown that the quarantined family was indigent. Dr. Van Horn gave orders to maintain a strict quarantine and, if necessary, employ an officer to enforce his orders.

J. M. Casaus, member of the state board of water control, and the largest sheep grower in Guadalupe county, came in today with his family from his Salado sheep ranch. He leaves Friday morning with his two sons, Carlos and Jacobo, for Albuquerque, where the boys will be placed in school.

James Daugherty, buyer for a Kansas sheep commission house, closed a deal today with J. M. Casaus for 3,000 head of lambs. The price was $5 per 100.

Major Wilson Chase, Twenty-first Infantry, U. S. A., with Mrs. Chase is here on a business visit. Mrs. Chase was formerly a resident of Santa Rosa and is owner of valuable city property here and also principal owner of the 17,000-acre Agua Negra grant. Major Chase was recently stationed in the Philippine islands and has just been transferred to Whipple barracks, Washington.

The Santa Rosa public schools need no chair of "love-making," such as has been proposed by certain college faculties in the east. This was made apparent Wednesday morning, when two youthful lovers, pupils in the Central public school here, slipped away from teachers and lockers, boarded a southbound passenger train with tickets for Alamogordo, where they expected to get married. Guillermo Martinez, aged 17, was the boy, and little Miss Gertrude Cisneros, aged 17, was the girl. The mother of the girl missed her daughter at noon, but supposed she had gone home to dinner with a relative, and it was not until midnight that Mrs. Cisneros realized that something serious had happened. It was learned from friends of the boy where the young couple was headed for, and a telegram sent to the Ohio county sheriff enabled that officer to arrest the two children, who were returned here in the hands of a deputy sheriff. The two disappointed lovers are now under bond and will appear before Justice Sanchez tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

BRUTAL MURDER IS COMMITTED NEAR CARLSBAD

Man Named Concepcion Garcia Shoots and Kills Woman; Makes Good His Escape Following Crime.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Carlsbad, N. M., Nov. 16.—Last Sunday morning Pat Middleton, who is watchman at the Avalon dam, was awakened by two pistol shots, and upon investigation found that a man named Concepcion Garcia had shot and killed a woman living with him in a tent nearby, and made his escape.

A peculiar feature connected with the killing is the fact that another couple was sleeping in the same tent with Garcia and the woman killed, and at the instant the man testified that he did not see the shots fired or the man after he fired them, but the woman testified that while she did not see or hear anything connected with the killing, she did see Garcia as he was leaving the tent with the revolver in his hand.

The circumstances leading to the murder are shrouded in mystery, as the couple had had no quarrel or unpleasantness whatever so far as is known. Garcia was employed at the dam, and was not considered quite reliable in demeanor, while the woman was supposed to be his wife, but later developments revealed the fact that she was divorced from another man at the last term of court, and the records do not show she was married to Garcia.

BUSINESS MEN OF CLOUDCROFT ARE LIVE BOOSTERS

Their Association Pushing Good Roads and County High School for Resort on Top of Sacramentos.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Cloudcroft, N. M., Nov. 16.—An enthusiastic meeting of the Business Men's Association was held Thursday night. One new member, Mal Walters, was received into the association. Applications for membership of G. A. Brockheimer, proprietor of the Texas, and J. Ben Hancock, of Bailey's pharmacy, were read and will be voted on at the next meeting.

The stock pen proposition for Cloudcroft was again taken up, and an effort is being made to have the El Paso & Southwestern system put in pens here soon as heavy shipments of cattle will be made that will go to the Pecos valley if pens are not put in at Cloudcroft.

The subject of good roads was an important one. It was reported that the work on "Potter's hill" is progressing rapidly. This hill has been one of the most dangerous in the county and the association recently took up the matter of improving the road there. Plans were discussed for improving the new auto road to the Mesquero Indian reservation which the association completed during the summer, before the opening of next season. This road puts Cloudcroft on the map as a side trip for those making the ocean-to-ocean trip.

The establishment of the county high school at Cloudcroft was another subject that took up much time. Under the new state law each county is entitled to a county high school and petitions are being circulated which will be presented to the county commissioners asking that the school be located here. Cloudcroft is the most desirable place in the county in which to establish such a school, being well located and having the best and most beautiful climate in the state. The winters are not severe as some think and the weather from September 1st to December, is as pretty as can be found in the United States. December, January and February are the coldest as they are in other places.

INCREASED BUSINESS
FORCES IMPORTANT CHANGE IN LOCATIONS
(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 16.—One of the most important business changes of the year is about to take place when the Ross Brothers and the Schabel bakers and restaurant change places within a few weeks. Since the opening of the restaurant in the Schabel bakery the demand for more room by the rapidly increasing trade has been so great that the two firms will change locations giving the Schabel bakers and restaurant more room and the Ross Brothers store a better location. Both buildings have recently been remodeled throughout and greatly better the appearance of Santa Fe's business section, which is up to the standard set by any larger city in the state.
