TECHATALJA FORTS AGAIN ASSAILED BY BULGAR INVADERS

Cannonading Resumed with Great Violence and is Plainly Audible in Capital of Ottoman Empire.

GREAT DIFFICULTIES CONFRONT ASSAILANTS

Position of Turks Much Stronger Than Before Cessation of Hostilities Preceding Short Armistice.

CONSTANTINOPLE HEARS HEAVY CANNONADING

Constantinople, Nov. 21.—The battle at the Techatalja lines has been resumed. Cannonading was reopened with great violence this evening and is plainly audible here.

The morning Journal Special Leased Wire. London, Nov. 22.—Ashmed Bartlett in a dispatch to the Daily Telegraph, says that after three days on the Turkish lines he fails to understand why the Bulgarians abandoned on Tuesday night the advanced positions they captured at 1 o'clock Monday morning, and adds: "The move completely surprised the Turkish army, which, under the expectancy of a decisive battle, had made arrangements for a general retreat should the necessity arise. The Bulgarians not only returned, but turned the Techatalja railway station and the surrounding villages and occupied the high ground surrounding the Turkish right wing. Among the various methods suggested there is a belief that political reasons connected with the peace negotiations dictated. Should the Bulgarians renew their attack they will find the task ten-fold more difficult, as the Turks daily are being strengthened by the arrival of fresh troops. The Bulgarians have missed their opportunity. By speedy pursuit after the Bulgarians they could have occupied the lines almost without resistance. The Post's correspondent with the Turkish army at Techatalja, referring to the capture at Hadjenkoi, says that provision for disinfection and prevention of the spread of the disease seems extremely incomplete. The correspondent travelled back with the wounded general, Mahmoud Mukhtar, who told him that he was convinced the army could hold its present position. He pointed out that the Bulgarians had been committed at the outset in attempting to defend the positions near the frontier. From Constantinople Martin H. Danahy, under date of November 21st sends the following to the Daily Chronicle: "The Turkish forts at Techatalja occupy an enormously strong position. In the first attack the Bulgarians employed field artillery and they were easily held at bay by the Turkish howitzers. "It became clear early on the second day that the Bulgarians were not prepared to make the fearful sacrifice of life entailed in storming of the forts, and when the principal batteries along the whole Turkish line unmasked the Bulgarians, the latter moved off before becoming hopelessly involved in an advance that must have led to disaster. "The Serbian march to the Adriatic received high praise from the Times correspondent at San Giovanni di Medua, who speaks in flatting terms of the stamina and excellent organization of the Serbian army. "No meat could be obtained on the march to Alessandria, and the men were only four deaths among the men. "Belgrade dispatch to the Times says only 5,000 prisoners are in the hands of the Serbians as a result of the fall of Monastir. "Complaints still are being waged around Monastir that the Serbians are hunting down refugees. "Everything points to the fact that the Turks were massed in great numbers at Monastir and that the route was as complete as Kumanova. It is believed David Pasha, with a small following, fled to Mount Baba. "Deaths have been dispatched towards Florina and, as the Greek forces are coming up, the capture of the fugitives is considered inevitable. "The Turkish losses were 20,000 dead and wounded. The Drina division alone captured thirty-seven field guns."

REBEL FORCE TAKES PALOMAS ON THE NEW MEXICO BORDER

Chicago, Nov. 21.—One hundred federal troops defending the Mexican town of Palomas on the New Mexico border made a determined fight today against some 300 rebels and only surrendered after two distinct engagements, the last of which was fought from house to house. By employing dynamite bombs, the rebels early in the day entered the town, and a cessation of firing led to the belief on the American side that the port had fallen. But this afternoon it was learned that the federalists still held a position, urged to continue by their commander Colonel Francisco Correll, who though wounded in the leg, remained on the firing line. A brisk fighting continued two more hours, until the government troops were threatened again by hand grenades, and compelled to surrender. Aside from one federal captain, who early in the day fled to the American side, all of the government troops were taken prisoners with their rifles, supplies and ammunition. Major McDonald, of the Thirtieth United States cavalry, sent word that both rebel and federal wounded would be cared for on the American side, but so far none have taken advantage of the offer. Reports give the federal loss as seven killed and ten wounded, while the rebels lost fourteen killed and wounded. Rebel success in taking Palomas not only scores an important victory for the revolution, but creates a peculiar condition which has not existed since Madero's insurrectos captured Juarez. The revolutionary forces under General Lopez Salazar now in command oppose Columbus, only seventy-three miles to the east, federalists under General Trucey Albert still retain Juarez opposite El Paso. While the Madero rebels were permitted to cross munitions while holding the port of Juarez last year, it is considered improbable in view of the recent attitude of the war department that the same will result in the present instance.

GREAT DAMAGE IN MEXICO FROM EARTHQUAKE

Many Bodies Recovered from Ruins of Church Where Women Were Attending Mass When Shock Came.

Acambay, in the northern part of the state of Mexico, is practically in ruins as a result of the earthquake there Tuesday. Fifty-nine bodies have been recovered from the ruins of a church and other buildings. Many more remain in the wreckage. The injured will number a hundred. Scarcely a house or public building is intact. This news reached El Oro today through travelers, who report that the roads have been made impassable by rock slides. Most of the dead are women, who were attending mass. The lower walls fell and the priests perished with the congregation. Families are living in the fields in fear of a repetition of the earthquake. Minor disturbances have occurred from time to time without doing further material damage. At various other places in the same district the same reports tell of devastation and death. At Temascalcingo nine persons were killed and twenty injured. At Atlacmilco three persons were killed. There was only slight property damage at El Oro and only one child was killed.

LOSS OF LIFE IN JAMAICA MORE THAN 100

Official Reports Highest Tidal Wave Within Century; One Coasting Vessel Washed a Half Mile Up City Street.

Kingston, Jamaica, Nov. 21.—The official estimate of the dead in the hurricane and tidal wave that visited the western part of Jamaica, placed the number of persons killed at more than 100. Details gradually coming in indicate great devastation in the western section. The governor general of Jamaica, Sir Sydney Bickersteth, has today and found conditions so dire that he immediately ordered the dispatch of several hundred additional tents and large quantities of food supplies from Kingston. The tidal wave at Savannah Harbor was the highest in a century. One steaming vessel was washed half a mile up the main street. Fully 80 per cent of the houses were blown down during the hurricane. The wrecked over the streets in the lower section of the city. The bodies of the dead were piled up in a ghastly heap at the mouth of a gully where the largest number of bodies were recovered. An American tourist said forty bodies had been recovered up to the time of his departure. At Green Island, eighteen miles northwest of Lucre, the American ship was out of sight. It was reported that twelve bodies all in one shot and set for 2 o'clock the next morning. Then I went to San Francisco and called at Labor temple. There I met Clancy. He seemed about to faint when I said jokingly, "I've come to get the Los Angeles dynamite, for he had been reading about the explosion. When he learned who I was he became calm. We talked about James H. and Michael J. Young, of Boston, as being mutual friends. He said Tveit was out but he would give him my message that the Christmas present had been delivered. MISSING GIRL HAS BEEN DROWNED, BELIEF

Providence, R. I., Nov. 21.—The disappearance of a girl belonging to Miss Norma Garvin, daughter of former Governor L. F. C. Garvin, beside a pond near her home in Londsde, today led the police to drag the pond. Miss Garvin, 26 years old, had been missing since last night when she started to attend a lecture at Brown university. She never reached the lecture depot. Friends of Miss Garvin recalled tonight that the young woman had frequently expressed a fear of meeting death in the water. In Miss Garvin's room was found a scrap of paper this sentence written in her hand writing: "I can't get the water off my mind."

have superior terms in the capital of the world.
The negotiations thus far have been conducted through the Russian ambassador at Constantinople, but the Turkish ambassador at Berlin, who on his way to join his colleagues appointed to meet the Bulgarian representative when the Turkish government's startling decision was telegraphed abroad.

Even set it would seem Turkish officials have not abandoned hope that the powers will come to their senses and attempt to dictate a compromise, but Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, announced tonight that the powers had gone so far as to arrange a general conference after the conclusion of the war. Their only agreement so far as surface indications go, is to keep British hands off.

The probability of the resumption of hostilities has started rumors of a fresh from Vienna, of Austria and Russian mobilizations on their borders, and a naval demonstration of the triple alliance on the Adriatic coast, if Serbia pushes her onward march to the coveted seaport.

The continued successful defense of the Teutonic lines would strengthen Turkey's diplomatic position, but defeat after prolonged fighting of her own choosing would inflame the Bulgarians to make a triumphal progress into Constantinople.

Popular clamor of Sofia is demanding more strongly each day that the advance stop only at the Bosphorus. European military officials consider the terms of the alliance harsh in one respect—that is, that they compel an unconditional capitulation of Serbia and Adrianople instead of allowing the garrisons to march out with the honors of war.

Two more chapters of the war are reported—a German engagement off Varna between the Turkish cruiser Hamidieh and Bulgarian torpedo boats, and occupation of Florina by the Greeks. The Bulgarians report that they did great damage to and probably sank the cruiser. The Turks report that they sank two torpedo boats.

By the occupation of Florina, which lies south of Monastir, the Greeks, according to the report, have cut off the rear guard of the Turkish army to the number of 10,000 retreating from Monastir.

GRAND VIZIER BITTER

AGAINST GREAT POWERS.
Paris, Nov. 22.—The editor of the Matin describes the farewell visit he paid to Kiameddin Pasha, the grand vizier. The old statesman's spirit was unbroken.

"You see, I await the end," he said. "History will judge us, but it will also judge Europe. It will say if Europe has demanded as many reforms as concessions from us. It will say if for a century any interest has been shown in anything but our spoils."

The state of mind of the Serbians is one of great disquietude, according to a Belgrade dispatch to the Matin. This feeling is encouraged by reports of the strong agitation among the people of Bosnia, Croatia, Dalmatia and other provinces who are ready to fight against Austria in behalf of Serbia.

DEFENSE SCORES IN GIBSON'S TRIAL
FOR MURDER

Witness Tells of How Remains of Mrs. Szabo Was Taken from Lake; Son of Schumann-Heink Gives Testimony

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Gibson, N. Y., Nov. 21.—An attention lay on the court house floor this afternoon at the trial of Burton W. Gibson for the murder of Mrs. Rosa Manichuk Szabo, and with Judge, Jury and counsel grouped around him, re-enacted an alleged scene from the tragedy of July 16th, in which Mrs. Szabo lost her life at Greenwood Lake.

Bending over him, Thomas Garrison, a fisherman, summoned as a witness for the defense, illustrated how he had taken the woman's body from the water. He showed that he had left the body outstretched with the head pressed downward, the chin resting on the breast.

Through this illustration, the defense hopes to upset the state's contention that the organs of the dead woman's throat were forced out of position by strangulation. Medical experts are prepared to testify tomorrow that Garrison's treatment of the body was sufficient to have forced the tongue, palate and windpipe into the position in which the state claims they were found at the autopsy.

Harry Laux, an electrical engineer of New York, swore that Gibson and the woman did not struggle before the boat upset. They were standing up when Laux saw them and they were four feet or more apart. They jumped out apparently, and Laux thought they were diving. This testimony contradicts that given by John Minturn, state's witness, who said Gibson seized his companion around the neck before they fell into the water.

John Minturn's testimony was attacked by Henry Heink, son of Mrs. Schumann-Heink, who swore Minturn told him he was so far away from the accident that he could not see what was going on.

STATE QUARANTINES
PASSENGERS ON PULLMAN

Smallpox Having Been Discovered, Eight People and Porter Must Spend Two Weeks on Sidetrack.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Denver, Nov. 21.—Eight passengers and a Pullman porter, from far western states, will be compelled to live in a Pullman car on a side-track at the small town of Pueblo, Colo., for the next two weeks and to eat their Thanksgiving dinner there with a guard stationed at either end of the car. They have been quarantined as the result of a discovery that one of the passengers, R. C. Jones, of Denver, had smallpox.

Those quarantined were W. J. Stuegendor, wife and child, of Los Angeles; L. W. Nichols, Greeley, Colo.; Charles E. Harris, Baton Rouge, La.; Mrs. E. W. Fox, El Paso, Tex.; Mrs. Perry Chaplin, Littleton, Colo.; and Walter Hocking, the porter. A fifth person should be a member of the party, but a wing wind of the inhibition of state health officer, he leaped out of a window, leaving his baggage behind. Several others in the car managed to do likewise, fearing that the train would be quarantined. Jones was brought to the post house here in an automobile. Mrs. Gallup, of Littleton, was within fifteen miles of her home, having traveled all night from Los Angeles, when she was quarantined.

The leader is going out of business. Everything sold below cost.

Court Hands Down Decision That Results in Loss of One Precinct Giving 103 Plurality to Roosevelt.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 21.—A decision of the appellate court handed down today in the election majority for Woodrow Wilson in California of about 150 votes, and nearly all of the electors sent by the state to the electoral college for a third time, it was believed here that the decision had the effect of throwing out of the official count the entire vote of Los Angeles county which gave Roosevelt more than 20,000 plurality, providing the election officials of the state at Sacramento proved this fear unfounded.

The court order, while taking up in detail every point in the election controversy which has waxed here for nearly three weeks, decided especially that in one precinct in Pasadena and one in Los Angeles, only the votes for A. J. Thibault, the head elector on the progressive ticket, and Thomas J. Griffin, the head elector on the democratic ticket, may be counted, because in checking all the other electors in these precincts, the election boards kept no tally of the votes cast, merely certifying the totals. This the court held to be an error invalidating those votes.

The court's decision together gave Roosevelt a majority of about 200 votes. As, with this number included, the majority in the state for Wallace, the highest Roosevelt elector, stood at 10,000, the decision rendered inevitable that with the exception of Wallace the Roosevelt electors in the state must be defeated.

The court ordered a recount in which the electors for each elector should be counted. The supervisors heretofore had accepted the totals, insuring the tally marks.

It was believed that the court order would be a final decision, but the law provides that election returns from the various counties must be in the hands of the secretary of state Monday, November 25, a recount before that time would be impossible.

It was learned, however, that Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan holds this election decision to be mandatory. He has announced definitely that he will count the returns whenever they come in, a decision which prevents the invalidating of the entire Los Angeles vote. Best information received here seemed to show that the democratic have carried California beyond doubt.

Progressive leaders admitted tonight that the election of the electors would give the state to Wilson unless means were devised by them to secure an actual recount of the votes in at least four county precincts.

A national order on the mandamus was ordered issued directing the board of supervisors to canvass the election returns in addition to the conclusion set forth in the opinion. This opinion the electors had accepted in one point involved. It was an important point, however, inasmuch as the decision in favor of the democratic contention would have assured the election of the entire thirteen Wilson electors in the state. This involved the returns of thirty-five precincts which the democrats petitioned to be rejected entirely because the electors had been ordered to correct the certification could be made by election boards.

The court held that the breaking of the sealed envelopes prior to the opening of the returns in public was contrary to law, but did not constitute such an irregularity as to require that the returns be entirely rejected.

Those precincts, Roosevelt had a plurality of more than 1,000.

All of the contentions raised by the democrats relative to the method of the canvassing the returns were rejected by the court. From the beginning of the canvass the democratic commissionmen present insisted that tally lists be counted rather than the certification totals, but the supervisors took the latter figures in preference.

The decision caused consternation among the progressive leaders and the members of the canvassing board because of the brief time remaining for the final certification and forwarding of the returns to the secretary of state, failure to do which by next Monday would result in the vote of the banner Roosevelt county being lost with its approximately 20,000 plurality for the progressive presidential candidate.

The method adopted by the supervisors, a complete recount of the 721 precincts in the county is necessary and the work of canvassing the returns in a manner which will be by the court will necessitate night and day work continuously until the last moment for despatching the certified returns to the secretary of state.

Young Woman on Trial for Murder Ends Dramatic Recital by Giving Vivid Detail of How Tragedy Occurred.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Columbus, O., Nov. 21.—Both the state and the defense completed the presentation of evidence today in the murder trial of Miss Cecilia Farley, the state house stenographer, who is charged with shooting Alvin E. Zollinger, an advertising solicitor, in a city park last May and the case is expected to go to the jury tomorrow.

After having been on the stand more than two days, Miss Farley went from the stand crying and completely exhausted.

Prosecutor Turner scored heavily for the state today when he forced her to tell of how she had intimate relations with Jerome Quigley, the man she was to marry, after their engagement.

Miss Farley again went through the dramatic actions, demonstrating the theory of the defense of how Zollinger was "accidentally shot." This time Prosecutor Turner acted the part of Zollinger instead of Miss Farley's attorney, Mr. Allen.

Under the guidance of the prosecuting attorney who claimed in his opening arguments that it would have been impossible for Zollinger to have been shot in the manner claimed by the defense, the stenographer gave an even more graphic description of the shooting than before.

Holding the revolver to the prosecutor's head at the same distance she claimed it was from Zollinger's head when the weapon was discharged, the distance was found to be seventeen inches.

The prosecution then began its rebuttal and introduced an expert who declared that burned powder fired from a revolver held twenty-six inches distance could be seen on human flesh.

The defense's expert had declared powder marks could not be seen if the revolver were held more than six inches away.

Socialists Oppose Endorsement of President's Report Regarding Non-Political Policy of Organization.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Richmond, N. J., Nov. 21.—An important feature of today's session of the convention of the American Federation of Labor was the adoption of the report of the committee on president's report, which endorsed the non-political policy pursued by President Gompers and other officials of the federation. Delegate Max Hayes, a socialist of the radical wing, opposed the committee's report on the ground that during the last campaign President Gompers through publications of the federation quoted planks favorable to labor from various political platforms, but made none from the socialist platform.

Andrew Gallagher, a conservative, representing the California State Federation of Labor, proposed that the federation of a national labor party be left to the executive council of the federation.

President Gompers declared the amendment out of order. Gallagher appealed. In the vote on the appeal socialist members of the radical wing voted with the conservative wing to sustain the ruling.

The committee's recommendation for the continuance of the federation's non-political policy before was approved by a large majority. In this vote radicals, including socialists, opposed the committee's recommendation and conservatives favored the committee's view.

JEFF CLARKE, THE SMAULDING IS NO
FIGHTING GHOST, MATCH FOR BIG WANTS BOUT BILL PETTUS

Joplin, Mo., Middleweight, Who Recently Vanquished Joe Jeannette in New York, Anxious to Appear Here.

Jeff Clarke, a Joplin, Mo., middleweight with championship aspirations, wants to meet the winner of the Pettus-Capone match here. Promoter Mark Levy may arrange with him to fill a local engagement on New Year's eve.

This Clarke person, who, by the way, is a negro, was not known well far from the Joplin berg until September 2nd last, when he gave Joe Jeannette, the heavyweight, a severe beating for six rounds at Pittsburgh, Pa. He previously had fought a ten-round draw at Newark, N. J., with Jeannette, who, it will be recalled, claimed Jack Johnson's belt when he announced his first bona fide retirement from the ring.

Jefferson claimed further notice from the public when he won a six-round bout from Freddie Hicks, a middleweight title claimant, at Pittsburgh.

Clarke has the reputation of not being a very handsome darkey, but he is "some powerful fighter." His foot work has earned him the name of "The Fighting Ghost" in the Joplin training district.

Clarke helped bring into public gaze Luther McCarty, the vanquisher of Carl Morris, and one of the recent arrivals in the "white hope" class. Clarke was Luther's trainer for several matches, but he came near to ending Luther's young career by winning a ten-round contest from him at Springfield, Mo., last January. That was before McCarty met the Saxapalapa giant.

The Joplin pride is young. He has a knockout wallop in either hand and marvelous speed. His speed is his chief asset in the ring, but he can develop a high power resistance to a brawling boxer, although Sam Langford made him turn his toes skyward at the end of a two-round session in 1910. That was two years ago, however, and Clarke has developed some since then.

The game was slow, both players missing simple shots. The scores: Yamada, 500; average 13.6-18; high runs 7, 11, 45.

Morningstar, 299; average, 8.9-27; high runs, 35, 21, 37.

FAKE PUGILIST IS HEAVILY FINED BY TRINIDAD MAGISTRATE

Trinidad, Col., Nov. 21.—Ten Preston went the way of all fake prize fighters in police court yesterday afternoon when he was sentenced to a fine of $150 on a charge of vagrancy arising out of his refusal to fight Pireman Harris on Monday night when he walked out of the ring claiming to have a broken hand.

In pronouncing judgment, Police Magistrate Stone declared that he had no use for pugilists on general principles. Chief Justice declared that he was going to stop the practice of bringing prize fighters here who don't fight and in this way rob the people of their money. He voiced some suggestions of how fight contests should be conducted in the future.

It was declared that Preston had been brought here by "Cherokee Tom" as a sparring partner for Harris and afterward matched with him.

ERSTWHILE AUTOMOBILE
RACING DRIVER IS HERE

R. W. Stewart, who is known throughout the country by his professional name, "Harvey Herrick," one of the most daring automobile racing drivers who ever wore cap and goggles, is in Albuquerque.

Stewart, just now at least, is out of the racing game. In fact, his last public appearance in a speed contest was in 1911, when he won the annual Los Angeles-to-Phoenix road race.

Herrick became famous on Thanksgiving day, 1910, when he won the Santa Monica road race over a distance of 200 miles, driving a National car.

"I'm through with the racing game," declared Herrick last night. "I am visiting here for a short while with friends, but will leave the first of the month for New York, to enter the employ of the American Locomotive Company, which manufactures the Alco car."

There have been rumors that Herrick was in town, but these were not confirmed until Stewart, who is his real name, was interviewed yesterday. He finally admitted the accusation. While Herrick has been driving a large touring car about the city.

Man Who Boxes Tony Capone Next Week Repeatedly Floors Husky Blacksmith During Afternoon Work-Out.

If any one doubts that Bill Pettus, the light heavyweight, who boxes Capone here Monday night, of next week hasn't any steam behind his wallop, he should have been on hand yesterday afternoon at Pettus' training camp, when the big colored fighter went through his afternoon work-out. Pettus boxed with Al Smoulding, the local middleweight, and a boxer who has been touted as a comer in his class. The very first blow which Pettus landed connected with Smoulding's jaw and the blacksmith went down. He was groggy when Pettus lifted him to his feet. He squared off and they went at it again. After ducking a couple of vicious swings, Smoulding again got his jaw in the way of Pettus' glove and went down a second time. In fact, whenever Pettus landed, it was a case of the floor for Smoulding.

Yesterday's work-out was proof that when Capone, no matter how good he may be, gets in the way of Pettus' out and left hand smashes on Monday night, he is either going to take the count instantly, or else do the grizzly bear act of holding on. A blow such as Pettus delivers is more than any man can stand once it connects with a vital spot like the jaw, heart or solar plexus.

Gilbert and Stern, the lightweights who are to appear in the semi-windup to the Pettus-Capone bout, are working hard in their respective training quarters every day and both will be fit for their contest.

Director Mark Levy, of the New Mexico Athletic club, yesterday received a telegram from Capone, who is in Kansas City on his way here, saying he wanted to visit friends there over today, and that he would leave for Albuquerque tomorrow, reaching here Sunday.

MOTORCYCLE ESCORT
FOR PRESIDENT-ELECT
WILSON IS PROPOSED

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 21.—When Governor Woodrow Wilson becomes President Wilson, and rides down Pennsylvania avenue in Washington on the fourth day of next March, thirty motorcyclists from his old home state will undoubtedly be part of his escort.

The thirty motorcyclists are members of the Savannah, Ga., Motorcycle club, and each rider has affixed his name to a written request that the motorcycle escort be accepted by Governor Wilson. This request has been forwarded to the governor and the motorcyclists are confident that the request will be granted.

Governor Wilson was born in Georgia. Mrs. Wilson at one time called Savannah "home."

It is for these reasons, particularly, that the Savannah motorcyclists desire to do honor to the incoming president by forming part of his escort on the day of his inauguration.

It is understood that the Georgia Hussars, the oldest military organization in the state, will also escort Governor Wilson on March 4th.

So confident are the Georgia motorcyclists that their request will be granted, that the club is now making preparations for the event. The thirty riders are planning to ride to Washington from Savannah, starting on February 25th and taking one week for the trip. They would expect to proceed in a leisurely way. The club of which they are members will give them a big "send-off."

Every member of the club is a member of the Federation of American Motorcyclists, and the club itself is affiliated with the F. A. M.

DEMURRER PUTS LIBEL
SUIT ON THE BLINK

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.)
Las Cruces, N. M., Nov. 21.—In the case of Holt vs. Foster, in which damages in the sum of $20,000 for alleged libel were asked, Judge Medler yesterday sustained the demurrer filed by Attorney Paxton and Llewellyn, counsel for the defendants. The demurrer was sustained as to both counts, thus disposing of the suit without even a trial.

The plaintiff in the case was State Senator H. B. Holt, whose grievance resulted from alleged defamatory articles printed in the Rio Grande Republican, a newspaper owned by Orlene A. Foster and Josephine Foster.

FORT SUMNER SAYS
SMALLPOX OUTBREAK
IS NOT SERIOUS

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.)
Fort Sumner, N. M., Nov. 21.—The Fort Sumner Commercial club is considerably exercised over the report sent out from Santa Rosa, to the effect that a score or more cases of smallpox exist here.

The club at a meeting this week, adopted resolutions, deprecating the report and giving the facts about the outbreak. According to the local health authorities, those afflicted with the disease have it in the mildest form and prompt quarantine measures have minimized the danger and effectually confined it to the original cases.

Dr. W. R. Lovelace, the physician in charge, has the situation well in hand and a strict quarantine is being maintained.

All of the cases are in the old town of Fort Sumner, which is a mile distant from the new town.

Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Reports that Turkey had rejected the peace terms brought about a sharp but not lasting rally today in wheat. The close was nervous 1/2 to 3/4 cent under the night before. Improved harvesting prospects in Argentina tended to pull down prices during most of the session.

Good general rains had fallen where wanted and the weather was clearing elsewhere. The bears received help also through reports that shipments from the Canadian northwest would come to this side of the boundary, other outlets being choked by the pressure on terminal facilities. May fluctuated between 89 1/2 and 90 1/2 cents, with last sales at 90 1/2 to 90 3/4 cents.

For a while smallness of country offerings have snap to the buying side of the corn. May swung from 47 1/2 to 47 3/4 cents, closing steady a shade net lower at 47 1/2 to 47 3/4 cents.

Cash grades were in fair demand. Foreigners reselling weakened, with May finished 1/4 to 1/2 cent under last night at 32 1/2 to 32 3/4 cents.

Declining prices for hogs resulted in 2 1/2 to 3 1/4 cents back set for provisions, except January pork. On relatively small dealings, manipulators forced that option to a net advance of 25 cents.

FOUR WORK ON NATIONAL HIGHWAY BEGUN IN FOREST

James F. Mullin, Who Made
Surveys for Stretch of Ocean-to-Ocean Road, Says Gang is Laboring on Apache Reserve.

The forest service's first road work has begun in the Apache forest, Ariz., according to James F. Mullin, who returned yesterday to Albuquerque. He had been inspecting construction and plans for fire protection in the Arizona forests.

Mr. Mullin made the preliminary survey for the stretch of the Ocean-to-Ocean highway that lies in the Apache forest. About eight miles of the road is inside the forest boundaries. Local authorities have been working on the highway near Springerville. They will complete it to the edge of the national reserve and the forest service will continue it nearly to Fort Apache.

The forest service's work on the road will be building bridges, grading and ditching. Practically the entire route of the road through the forest will be changed. This will be done to avoid steep grades. The service has allotted $1,500 of its road funds to be expended on this project.

Mr. Mullin met the grading gang entering the forest when he was leaving. Apache county, in which the forest is located, has agreed to furnish the scrapers and other tools while the service pays the laborers and teamsters.

Mr. Mullin believes that this work will be completed before winter. The workmen will make an effort to finish the project before a snowfall and believe that they will be able to do so unless there is an early precipitation. Preliminary surveys of minor road projects in the Apache forest also were made by Mr. Mullin. Work has not started there as yet.

An improvement on the fire protection plan was worked out by Mr. Mullin for the Silver Lake forest. Look-out towers will be erected there before the next fire season.

ST. JOHN'S RESERVOIR

FINE PIECE OF WORK.
That the new reservoir at St. John's, Ariz., was a splendid piece of work was the statement made by Mr. Mullin. He declared that the reservoir which will impound 45,000 acre feet of water is a fine piece of work.

"The reservoir is an artificial lake which will impound 45,000 acre feet of water," he said, "and that is enough to irrigate 15,000 acres. It has just been completed with the irrigation ditches to carry the water."

"The people of the St. John's district are land crazy just now, much as they were in the Santa Fe valley a few years ago. They are very busy and things are booming."

A GIRL'S CHANCE

No girl can afford to enter womanhood hampered by ill health and nervousness. Whether she expects to be mistress of her own home or independent housewife, the independent life of the "beehive" girl, that seems so attractive to many, she will have full need of all her strength.

Every girl is entitled to a fair chance. You can better your young daughter's chance by giving her Vinol to make her strong at the critical time of her young life. It is a remarkable tonic having all the curative properties of cod liver oil and being free from grease and fat is delicious to take. Vinol makes all sorts of weak, sickly people well and strong. Mrs. J. E. Brown, Anderson, Ind., says her daughter was very ill, but Vinol made her well and healthy. You get your money back if Vinol does not please you.

The chief was not in training to stage a Marathon, so he notified the police to bring Whitesides into court when they found him. He was told to report to the police judge yesterday morning.

INDIANS, VISITORS AT CITY BASTILE, LOSE THEIR BLANKETS

Two Indians, carrying Navajo blankets, went to the police station last night to see Juan Reyes, who is serving a sentence in the county jail. They thought he was still at the city bastille.

The police, suspecting that the blankets might have been stolen, held them. The Indians were not arrested and if no claimant appears for the blankets today they will be returned to them.

Reyes was found guilty of stealing a horse and chicken. When arrested he had several chickens, a dress, a sheet and stockings in his possession, but the police have not been notified of the theft of any of these articles.

DELGADILLO CRAVES CONSOLATION OF RELIGION

Condemned Murderer Asks
That Priest Be Sent to Him
As He Wishes to Make His Peace With Heavenly Power.

For the first time since his arrest and incarceration for the murder of Soldado Zarragoza, Demecio Delgadillo yesterday afternoon asked a human emotion when he asked that a priest be sent him. Delgadillo, throughout his trial, sentencing and subsequent custody in the county jail, has not shown himself to be other than a calm, phlegmatic sort of man, until yesterday.

Then he made a request to his jailers that a priest be sent to see him. Permission was granted by the sheriff's office for him to receive such counsel and consolation, and a father spent an hour with him yesterday afternoon. After this visitation Delgadillo seemed more at ease and more than a little more cheerful.

Delgadillo was convicted at the last term of court of an cold-blooded murder as could well be imagined. He had courted the Zarragoza woman, it is said, and although she did not return his affections, pressed her to marry him. Witnesses at his trial told that Delgadillo was the first man to be convicted of murder in the first degree in this county for many years and the first to be sentenced to capital punishment by Judge Herbert F. Reynolds.

GOVERNOR TO REVIEW EVIDENCE IN CASE

Modesto C. Ortiz and Manuel Garcia, members of the Old Mexican colony of this city, have returned from Santa Fe, where they presented a petition for the commutation of Delgadillo's sentence to one of life imprisonment. The petition, it is said, bears the names of more than 300 local people.

When seen yesterday Mr. Ortiz declared that the governor should review the evidence in the case before making any decision in the matter, and that therefore he would take a copy of the testimony given in court to Santa Fe some time this week.

TRIO OF ACTIONS ARE FILED IN LOCAL COURT

Three civil actions were yesterday filed in the district court. Among them was a divorce suit filed by Dolores Garcia de Garrolo against Manuel Garrolo. The allegations in this case are cruelty and non-support, and it is charged that the defendant many times struck and abused the plaintiff and that it was his custom to call her vile names. It is also alleged that he threatened to kill her being at that time armed with a pistol.

Another divorce suit was filed by Juan Jose Garcia against Carolina Aranda de Garcia on charges of desertion. The couple were married in this city August 17, 1911, and the alleged desertion which it is claimed will exceed one year and a day, is dated August 17, 1911.

Action to foreclose on a trust deed given to secure a note of $248.75 and to quiet claims made by Andres Romero to the property in question was filed yesterday in the district court by Juan Rey Baez and Timothy B. Baez, as trustee, against Escalante Luna and the said Romero. The land in question is located in Burelas.

The leader is going out of business. Everything sold below cost.

BILL COLLECTORS ARE LOOKING FOR A PHOENIX EDITOR

News has been received here of the disappearance of W. D. Pratt, editor of the Labor News at Phoenix, Ariz. Bill collectors are said to be anxious to learn his whereabouts.

Pratt left Phoenix Friday night, it is said, and has been seen at his office and one check written by him last before his departure was returned, marked "no funds."

The labor paper owned by him, said Friday, failed to appear last week.

FOREST RECEIPTS TO DOUBLE DURING PRESENT YEAR

That is Optimistic Belief of Assistant Forester Greeley;
Local District Leads; to Open
New Industry Next Summer.

Sales of lumber by the forest service will be twice as great for the present fiscal year as they were for the twelve months ending July 1, 1912. W. B. Greeley, assistant forester, believes. The sales last year were more than eight hundred million feet.

Mr. Greeley, whose headquarters in Washington, arrived here yesterday from Flagstaff, Ariz., where he had been since the conference of the district foresters at Salt Lake City, Utah. He will leave Sunday night for Denver.

The forest service now is selling a great amount of timber. The change of policy that allows bigger contracts, chiefly responsible for the increase, Mr. Greeley believes. The imminent extension of private forests is only a contributory cause, he says.

"The change of policy," said Mr. Greeley, "justifies a heavy investment. The service within the last two years has lengthened the time allowed for cutting, and it also has negotiated larger contracts. The size of the sale is based on the investment made in marketing the timber."

"A great deal of our timber is inaccessible and a large outfit of capital is necessary to place it on the market. The department, recognizing that fact, now sells enough timber at a single sale to justify the investment. A large sale has just been completed in California. Eight hundred million feet of timber was sold there and the period allowed for cutting is twenty-two years. The investment on the part of the contractor in this case will reach more than one and a half million dollars. He has to build seventy miles of railroad and construct a mill. The department is considering other contracts for the sale of one hundred million to five hundred million feet of timber, and the period for cutting ranges from eight to twenty years.

"These large sales are negotiated only where there is more than enough timber to take care of local industries and only where the cost of marketing justifies the purchase of a large block. In these long-term contracts the price is readjusted every three or five years. The new scale means that the price of lumber at that time is to be based on the price of lumber at that time."

"An important feature of these large contracts is that they always mean local development. That is one reason why the government has adopted this policy."

"Timber sales are increasing so rapidly that within four or five years the proceeds will support the entire service. The time, of course, depends upon the market."

The third district led all others in the last fiscal year in receipts from timber, according to Mr. Greeley. This district has a big business and it probably will continue to lead.

Mr. Greeley, who had just come from Flagstaff, where turpentine experiments have been made by the service, then turned to that subject.

"It is only a question of time until a naval stores industry will be established here," he said. "The department is negotiating with an eastern turpentine company now, and it expects to have the industry started in this district by next summer."

"The first lease will be let at a reasonable price. It will be a sort of commercial experiment. The service already has tried chemical experiments in Arizona, California and Oregon, and it has found the product of the western yellow pine equal to that of the southern trees."

"The service has been studying for the last ten years a method to prevent inferring timber that the 'boxing' system in the southeast caused. It has been a failure, but the service is now studying the use of the Florida national forests, and of course that method will be used in turpentine here. The new method does not decrease the lumber value of the trees and it protects their life."

"There is a heavy demand on the Pacific coast for turpentine and resin. Operators in this district would save more in freight rates than their southeastern competitors would, but the southeast they obtain cheap labor and that probably would make the cost of operating the industry in this field greater."

S. C. MUNSEY CAUSES POLICE AND FIRE MEN TROUBLE

Bewitches Jail Wednesday and Believed to Have Fired House
Last Night; Supposed to Be Drug Fiend.

For an old man, S. C. Munsey is some class. Not only is he sufficiently active to stir up all sorts of trouble, but is hardly thought to be able to be allowed at large.

Last night the fire truck was called out by fire alarm box 27, located at the corner of First street and Coal avenue. A quick run was made, and on approaching the corner the firemen saw Munsey waving his arms at them. Munsey, who told them to tell them on what street the fire was, but they followed him to his house, which he declared was the scene of the blaze.

Munsey and his wife were allowed to stay in the rear of a piece of property on the west side of First street about half a block south of Coal avenue, and this was the place that was burning. Some old rags and a mattress were all that was left. They were extinguished by the use of chemicals and without serious damage to the house. The property belongs to Hush Sullivan. Owing to its location, a serious fire might have resulted had it been allowed to gain a little headway. There are several frame houses near, a planing mill and lumber yard next door, almost a coal yard across the street, and north of Coal avenue are a number of piles of lumber, two planing mills and other inflammable stuff.

Munsey turned in the alarm himself. When questioned, he asserted that he had been drinking and that he did not know what caused it.

A few days ago Munsey and his wife spent the night in the city jail, charged with quarreling. Mrs. Munsey was with her husband, and they were in an empty whisky bottle. For this offense she was sent to the county jail. Wednesday Munsey appeared before the police chief and requested the release of his wife. Munsey said that he could not be accommodated, Munsey "bewitched" the jail, the police chief and the entire police department. He was given a chance to bond his wife, but he refused to do so. Yesterday morning he was released, but told to report. This he did. That was the last seen of him until last night when he fired the alarm.

Following this the police attempted to interrogate Munsey about the fire. When asked if he had started it, Munsey said: "Of course not. Do I look like a damn fool? Well, then, why should I set my house afire?"

Asked whence he came, Munsey said: "That's my business," and nothing further could be got out of him. The police have been advised to the use of both liquor and drugs and that his wife is as bad.

When she and he were in adjoining parts of the jail awaiting trial the other day, Mrs. Munsey was running the fire of endeavoring to burn through the wall, assuring her "Darling" "sugar," etc., that he would not be in there long.

Joseph McCaffrey, Vice Pres. for Neb. Greeters of America, Chicago, declared that he cheerfully recommended Foley's Honey and Tar Compound as a sure cure for coughs and colds. Jack Grossman, employed as picture machine operator at the Gem, it was reported to the police Wednesday, had $75 of the proprietors' money.

When the Gem ceased business connections with a film company in New York, the money was to be returned to the proprietors.

The proprietors were notified Wednesday that the check had been cashed, but they did not receive the money. Grossman did not work Wednesday.

It was reported that the operator was seen here Wednesday night, but the police say he left for El Paso before then.

GOVERNMENT WILL GET AFTER LOCAL PILL DOCTORS

Numerous Officials of Postoffice Department in City
Supposed to Be Busy Working up Cases.

Following out the general scheme of the postoffice department, it is believed a number of federal officers have been in the city for several days past. These have arrived at different times, one man having been here since late in October, making short trips about the state and returning to this city every few days.

While none of them will talk, it is understood that they are here to accumulate evidence which will result in the arrest of those persons who are using the mails for the sale of their pills. This is in line with the nationwide campaign recently inaugurated against this class of alleged medicinal manufacturer, which has already resulted in a number of arrests in cities all over the country.

Local druggists say that there are at least two persons selling pills of the type which are under the ban of the postoffice department through the local mails. Whether either or both of these will be charged with violation of the federal statutes remains to be seen.

For several days past a government pure food inspector has been looking over merchandise and food-stuffs offered for sale in the various drug stores, markets and groceries. No action had been taken toward condemning any wares as yet, proceeding any sellers up to last night.

IS YOUR CHILD'S TONGUE COATED?

If Cross, Feverish, Bilious, Stomach Sour, Give "Syrup of Figs" to Clean Its Little Clogged-Up Bowels.

Mother! Don't scold your cross, peevish child! Look at the tongue! See if it is white, yellow and coated! If your child is listless, drooping, listless, sleeping well, is restless, doesn't eat heartily or is cross, irritable, out of sorts with everybody, stomach sour, feverish, breath bad, has stomachic, diarrhoea, sore throat or is full of cold, it means the little one's stomach, liver and 30 feet of bowels are filled with poisons and foul, constipated waste matter and need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

Give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours all the clogged up waste, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little waste clogged bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not dosing your children, being content entirely of insidious, strong and aromatic. It cannot be harmful, besides they dearly love its delicious taste.

Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed—a little given for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious, safe, genuine, reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

The cast is as follows: End ladies—Mrs. J. W. Colbert, Mrs. Rose Merritt, Mrs. W. Y. Walton, Miss Margaret Franklin, Miss Anita Baez, Mrs. Hugh Collins, Miss Irene Starr; one position still to be filled.

End men—Sam Pickard, Hugo C. Meyer, L. C. Gumbiner, Ernest Landon, Ross Merritt, Leslie Culom, Ben J. Puryear, John Falkenberg.

This leaves the chorus of twelve men still to be selected. Those who wish to try for places in this are requested to appear at the rehearsal at the Elks' theater tonight.

As can be seen, the cast contains a number of the best voices in the city, and that there will be some real musical value to the entertainment is guaranteed. The show is to be presented Thanksgiving eve and Thanksgiving night. It will be just such an event of theatrical, musical and social value as are all the Elks' shows.

OF BREN ARRIVED FROM THE EAST LAST NIGHT. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bren, accompanied by Joseph Eugene Bren, who are to stage the show, arrived last night from the east. Bren is enthusiastic over the names contained in the cast of principals and declares that with such material the show will be even better than he had expected.

"And it will have to be some show, at that," he asserted. "This is the best show I have ever put on anywhere. It has proven to be a great hit all through Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri and I can see where it is going to be a revelation to local theatregoers."

Costumes this year are to be gorgeous affairs of white and purple satin and will add much to the show. A magnificent stage setting will also be a feature.

BETTER TIME MADE AT BARELAS BY A LARGER CREW

One Pile Driven and Second Started Yesterday When Three Additional Men Are Put to Work on Bridge Repair

In response to representations made by County Surveyor Pitt Ross to the contracting agent for the Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron Company, which has the contract for the repair of the Barelas bridge, three more men were yesterday placed at work on that job. The appeal for faster work was made when the contracting agent was last here.

Yesterday morning the three new men showed up on the job and were put to work, having arrived Wednesday night from Kansas City. The work progressed in much faster time yesterday, due either to the new men or to the fact that the work has now passed the most difficult stage. For some cause unknown, the river has been gradually diverting its channel from the point where the repair work is being done until at present there is very little water there. This, of course, makes progress easier. One pile was driven yesterday and a second one started.

If the work is continued at this rate, County Surveyor Ross' estimate delivered before the Good Roads local Tuesday night, of three weeks more to finish the bridge, will not be far from the mark.

Secretary E. L. Grosse of the Good Roads local yesterday investigated the bond and contract given by the Missouri Valley company, and found that there was no time limit for the completion of the work in the contract and that the bond only protected the county against pecuniary loss. There is thus no apparent of the local in hurrying things up, any except by strong representations, which, if the rate established yesterday is maintained, will not be necessary or even advisable.

PUPILS SENT AWAY FROM CROWDED SCHOOLS

Superintendent Milne Says Tuition Students Were Rejected; Increased Attendance
Necessitates New Building.

Sixty-five tuition pupils are barred from attending school here this year on account of the overcrowded classrooms, according to Superintendent John Milne.

The superintendent cites this as one of the arguments for building a new high school. The fact that the board of education has to rent the second floor of the public library building, accommodating 110 pupils, is another reason he gives.

The attendance at the public schools this term is greater than last year's and is expected to be still greater next year. The fact that the board of education has to rent the second floor of the public library building, accommodating 110 pupils, is another reason he gives.

The enrollment by wards for this year follows: First, 306; second, 326; third, 368; fourth, 479; eighth, 111; high school, 183.

PRaise THIS REMEDY FOR LUNG TROUBLE

If the voluminous written words of general people living in all parts of the country, praising Eckman's Alternative, a remedy for the treatment of coughs, colds, throat and lung trouble, are to be believed, this medicine is certainly doing a vast amount of good for such sufferers. We state none but facts and give you the names and words of those who declare it does what it claims to do in many cases coupled with the writer's statements that it has cured him of his trouble. This is a sample taken from many.

St. Mary's Academy, O'Neill, Nebraska. "Gentlemen: About five years ago I was attacked with the dreaded disease, Tuberculosis. I coughed unceasingly, could not sleep, lost my appetite and my weight, and I was unable to do any work. I had three hemorrhages, failed in many of the time and suffered with night sweats, fever and chills. A specialist of Columbus, Ohio, pronounced me incurable.

"Nearly five years ago, I heard of your Alternative and procured some at once, with the result that I soon found myself restored to health. For the past four years I have been able to lead a normal life and though I have always had a weak chest, I am able to perform much manual labor. I consider your medicine, if faithfully taken, a most excellent remedy for consumption. Mother Superior permits this testimonial to be published."

(Signed) MARY MARIE, Sister of St. Francis. Eckman's Alternative effectively cures Croup, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung trouble and all other ailments of the respiratory system. Sold by all druggists. Price 50c. Do not be misled by cheap imitations. Ask for Eckman's Alternative. Write to Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

HOME MISSION ENDS WITH SERVICES TONIGHT

Many Ministers Will Choose Subjects for Sunday Similar to Those Upon Which Sermons Were Given This Week

The last of the home mission week meetings is to be held tonight at the Lead Avenue Methodist church, but nearly all ministers who have taken part in the week's services will preach Sunday morning to their separate congregations on subjects akin to those of the mission speakers.

The ministers, of course, are at liberty to choose their own texts, but it was part of the plan of the home mission week services for them to deliver sermons Sunday morning in line with the topics spoken on this week, and the majority probably will. A Union Thanksgiving service, also part of the mission program, are to be held next Thursday night at the Lead Avenue Methodist church.

The Rev. John R. Cass, superintendent of Presbyterian missions, will speak at the service to be held next Thursday night at the Lead Avenue Methodist church. His subject will be "The Church in Its Relation to Social Ministry."

The Rev. W. S. Oberholzer, pastor of the Lutheran church, will preside.

The Rev. William E. Warren, president of the meeting last night instead of the Rev. H. P. Williams, pastor of the Gold and Broadway Church of Christ. The Rev. J. H. Mosser, superintendent of mission work for the Methodist church, spoke on the "American City and Rural District Problem."

The trend of population is toward the cities, said Mr. Mosser, and if this migration continues, before many years the metropolitan population will control the government. This would be disastrous to national ideals, the minister believes.

Mr. Mosser also stated that country churches were neglected. He recommended that more help be extended to the poor and laboring class and that the church combat disease and vice in cities as the remedy to the existing conditions.

Jelly Roll Recipe

Only Two Eggs Required

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

This Jelly Roll is fast becoming very popular on account of the way it keeps fresh. With proper handling it should keep fresh a whole week, providing it isn't eaten up in the meantime, for it is every bit as good as it looks.

K C Jelly Roll

One cup sifted flour; scant half teaspoonful salt; 2 level teaspoonsful K C Baking Powder; grated rind of 1 lemon; 2 eggs, beaten light; 1 cup sugar; 3/4 cup hot milk; glass of jelly; powdered sugar.

Beat the sugar into the eggs; add the lemon rind, then the flour, sifted three times with the salt and baking powder; and, lastly, the milk. Bake in a buttered dripping pan; turn out on a damp cloth, trim off the crisp edges; spread with jelly and turn over and over into a roll while still warm. Dredge the top with powdered sugar.

Hot milk used in the jelly roll enables it to be rolled without danger of cracking. Have the milk scalding hot, also be careful to have the eggs and sugar beaten together until very light and creamy. Bake in a moderate oven.

K C Jelly Roll is illustrated on page thirty-two of the new and handsomely illustrated 64-page K C Cook's Book, which may be secured free by sending the certificate packed in every 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the Lakeside Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

EVERY LUXURY WILL BE PROVIDED ON NEW DE LUXE

Santa Fe's Extra Fare Train to and From Coast Will Have Baths, Stenographer, Ladies' Maid and Barber.

According to officials of the Santa Fe, the new era of "extra service" railroading, inaugurated by the Santa Fe de Luxe train a year ago, is now firmly established. This train of luxury, running twice a week in each direction between Chicago and Los Angeles, via Albuquerque, was so successful last year that it will be continued during the coming winter season, the first departure being from Chicago, December 10th, and then every Tuesday and Friday until April.

Although the de Luxe makes faster time from lakes to coast by several hours than the next fastest train on any railroad, its primary object is not speed but service. That is why the passenger boys the extra fare; not to save a few hours en route (as in the case of the eastern lines), but primarily to get extra service on a par with that of the finest clubs and hotels—distinctive, individual and exclusive. Not how fast but how good, perhaps best phrases this new departure in transcontinental travel. And the public seem to like it, thereby indicating that Americans are not all speed mad.

Even the make-up of the de Luxe gives distinction—one buffet-lounge car, two all-drawing-room Pullmans, one compartment-drawing-room Pullman, a ten-section observation Pullman and a special dining car. The club and dining cars are under management of Fred Harvey, who for generations has made the southwest famous gastronomically.

On board the train the traveler breathes air which is automatically washed and cooled. If he is interested in the turn of the stock market the latest quotations are ready to his hand; if he wants his clothes pressed and prefers not to shave himself, he will be waited; if he doesn't have to hook his wife's gown—a ladies' maid attends to that. Is a man's need for a shave? There's one handy. A stenographer (servants free) will write any correspondence that passengers wish to dictate en route, furnish the postage stamps, put them on and place the mail in the box provided for that purpose. Bathing facilities also are handy. Instead of the usual custom of sending waiters through the cars calling the hours at which meals are served, the steward in charge quietly announces this fact to each passenger separately as the meal proceeds. The number of passengers is limited, which prevents any crowding in sleepers or diners. The train employs a picked crew.

"This second edition de Luxe promises to be even more popular than that of 1911-12," says W. J. Black, passenger traffic manager of the Santa Fe in Chicago. "Already reservations for space have been made in our de Luxe trains as far ahead as the latter part of January. This train was put in service to take care of the constantly increasing first-class California business, and it has made good. In the rush season it is a common occurrence for our Limited, which runs daily, to be operated in two trains and sometimes even three. Each carries at least six cars, so you can see that there are an increasing number of Americans who wish to see their own country first. As the time draws near for the opening of the Panama Exposition at San Francisco in 1915, the overland rush will grow heavier. Already we are planning for it by main line double-tracking in New Mexico and Arizona on an extensive scale, also by ordering new equipment."

SURGERY IS ONLY CURE POSSIBLE FOR CANCER

In Beginning, Deadly Disease is Local and Prompt Operation Will Prevent Its Spread and Save Victim.

[By Morning Journal Special Licensed Wire] Chicago, Nov. 21.—The cancer committee of the Chicago Medical society, appointed to co-operate with a similar committee appointed by the clinical congress of surgeons recently in session in New York, today issued a bulletin in pursuance of the campaign of publicity against cancer.

Following are the chief points of the bulletin:

"Cancer in the beginning is a local disease.

"No cure for cancer has been discovered except surgery.

"Cancer, if operated on immediately, will not return.

"Advanced cancer can not be cured by surgery, hence the need of seeking surgical aid at once.

"Cancer of the breast shows its first signs by a lump in any part of the breast, by contraction of the nipple or by pains under the arm.

"Cancer of the stomach begins with indigestion, loss of flesh and general weakness.

"Cancer of the internal organs shows itself by irregularity in their functions.

"Education of the public on cancer will save thousands of lives each year, as it has done in consumption and appendicitis."

The Chicago Medical society cancer committee has been made permanent and will answer inquiries and furnish literature on application.

THE FIRST GRAY HAIR SIGN OF AGE

Harmless Old Fashioned Remedy Brings Back Color to Gray Hair.

A harmless remedy, made from common garden sage, quickly restores gray hair to natural color. The cause of the hair, to prevent it from losing its color and lustre, is just as important as to care for teeth to keep them from discoloring. Why spend money for cosmetics and creams to improve the complexion, and yet neglect your hair, when gray hair is even more conspicuous and suggestive of age than wrinkles or a poor complexion? Of the two, it is easier to preserve the natural color and beauty of the hair than it is to have a good complexion.

All that is necessary is the occasional use of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of common garden sage and sulphur, combined with other valuable remedies for dry, harsh, faded hair, dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. After a few applications of this simple, harmless remedy, your hair will gradually be restored to its natural color, in a short time the dandruff will be removed, and your hair will no longer come out but will start to grow as Nature intended it should.

Don't neglect your hair, for it shows further than anything else to make or mar your good looks. You can buy this remedy at any drug store for fifty cents a bottle, and your druggist will give you money back if you are not satisfied after using. Purchase it when you realize the difference it will make in your appearance.

Bureau of Immigration in Need of Financial Aid If It is to Continue Work

Plea Made to Public Spirited Citizens to Contribute Sufficient Funds to Keep It Going, Pending Legislative Appropriation.

The Bureau of Immigration, through its official publication, The Bulletin, this week makes an appeal to the public-spirited citizens of the state to contribute to the support of the bureau pending a legislative appropriation. Unless this aid is forthcoming promptly, the bureau will cease to exist and the work done by it be lost to the state. The appeal, appearing in The Bulletin follows:

Under the laws of New Mexico, the appropriation for the State Bureau of Immigration runs out automatically on November 30th next.

The last legislature appropriated $5,000 for continuing this work, but placed the work under the direction of the commissioner of public lands, making the bureau a part of the public lands department, and under the existing law, the governor vetoed this appropriation and, while the board continues to exist, it has no funds and is therefore practically out of commission.

Whether or not the governor was right in vetoing this appropriation, and whether or not the legislature was right in making it in the form of such a law, are questions which have no bearing upon the present situation. The situation is that after November 30th the bureau of immigration will be without funds, and without funds it will be unable to continue its work.

The bureau of immigration will be without funds, and without funds it will be unable to continue its work. The bureau of immigration will be without funds, and without funds it will be unable to continue its work. The bureau of immigration will be without funds, and without funds it will be unable to continue its work.

The late necessary expenses for the routine of the office approximate $300 per month. To cut the expense below this figure would be to make the work practically useless. There are outstanding at this time some $200 of dues of the New Mexico Publicity Association which are due and payable. The association has approximately $100 in its treasury after all bills have been paid. If all members of the association will pay the amounts due, and if all members will continue their membership during December and January, it will be possible to continue the office work and maintain the organization undisturbed until such time as the legislature can have an opportunity to provide for the work or definitely to discontinue it.

We have reason to believe, from assurances received from many members of the assembly, that immediate provision will be made for the bureau of immigration. To save the work of the bureau, the legislature for a period of thirty days would practically destroy an efficient working organization and a thoroughly efficient system which has required more than three years of very hard work to build up. We believe that every man interested in the development of the state will recognize the practical importance of continuing the work until such time as the legislature shall say definitely whether or not it wants the work continued.

At this time it is desirable that the members of the bureau of immigration should make their position perfectly clear. It was charged by men who desired to use this office for political purposes during the last legislative session that the act of the board in behalf of the appropriation was inspired by the desire of the members to remain in office and to keep the present secretary of the board in office. The members of this board have received a salary of $125 per month. He has no desire to continue in the work at such a salary, and it would be impossible for him to do so. His desire and that of the entire organization has been merely that the work should continue, that it should be kept in competent hands and that it should be kept out of the hands of the average political office seeker. The entrance of the office into politics means to seriously impair its usefulness.

With this statement as to our attitude, which we trust is perfectly plain, we desire to point out to the development interests and the public-spirited citizens of this state the absolute importance of continuing the work. Any well-informed land man will tell you that within the past ninety days there has been a decrease of 50 per cent in the number of persons coming into New Mexico to make a home and a location. This applies to the entire state, with the exception of one or two small districts, which are expending large sums of money raised locally for community advertising. Even these districts have felt the drop. During this period, since the bureau of immigration has ceased its active advertising and publicity work, the correspondence of the office has decreased about four-fifths from the average of ninety days ago. We have simply ceased to go after business, and as a matter of course, we are not getting it.

Now here are the plain facts. The business men of Colorado have united in a petition to their legislature for $50,000 per year for immigration and publicity for twenty years. That state legislature has granted the petition. This will be granted. Colorado will spend the output of a $10,000,000 bond issue for good roads, as against New Mexico's $500,000.

That will spend $20,000 on publicity work next year.

Wyoming and Montana will spend $20,000 and $30,000 respectively. Washington and Oregon will spend approximately $1,000,000 on publicity in 1913.

The secretary of the immigration bureau finds in a recent visit to Kansas that the legislature of that state has appropriated $200,000 for publicity work exclusively, and this in addition to more than a million dollars per year which the state has been expending for years upon agricultural and statistical departments, which are really nothing more nor less than one of the most effective advertising departments ever organized. This money is straight up to New Mexico. We have got to meet this competition and meet it effectively, or we have got to make up our minds to stagnate.

You men who expect to make money out of your New Mexico investments, you men who expect the values of your town lots, your buildings and your farm lands to increase, have got to get into the game and see to it that the state and your community does the right kind of publicity and immigration work. If you fail to do it you are not only going to stop going ahead, but you are going to slip backwards, and you are going to slip fast. This is plain talk; it is also plain facts. Ask the average land operator and he will tell you that you are already slipping.

There are two things we want to urge upon you in view of what is said above:

First, do your share to see that the bureau of immigration office remains in operation until the legislature has an opportunity to act; and, second, make it your business and the business of your community to see that the members of the legislature from your county go to Santa Fe in January pledged to stand for an adequate and immediate appropriation for your immigration and publicity work.

Yours very truly,
THE NEW MEXICO BUREAU OF IMMIGRATION.

Certainly.

NOT LAZY

NOT STUPID

Friends Fuss at Her for Being Lazy, When All She Needed Was Cardui, the Woman's Tonic.

Springfield, Tenn.—In an interesting letter from this place, Miss C. L. Fuquay writes as follows: "I was taken sick at my sister's home, got up too soon and came to my home, which threw me into troubles. This resulted in womanly troubles."

I was without either energy or appetite, and my friends fussed at me for my stupidity, and said I was lazy."

But anyhow, I grew worse, and after taking to my bed, I was under the treatment of a physician for over a month, without relief."

At last my mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and before the first bottle was gone, I was eating heartily, and before I had taken all of four bottles, I was O. K. in every way."

Cardui is what brought me relief, and I hope every woman who suffers as I did, will give "a trial."

Cardui goes to the weak spots, and helps to make them strong. It is for the weak, tired, nervous, irritable women, who feel as though everything were going wrong, and needed something to quiet their restless nerves, and strengthen their worn-out systems.

Thousands of women now enjoy good health, as a result of taking Cardui. Why not you? Try it.

The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

NOW you have often said:—"Oh dear, I dread when eating time comes near. It's not so much the cooking, grub, but cleaning after."—there's the "rub." Each kitchen holds a mass of work, no tidy little wife should shirk.

The kitchen floor, the kitchen sink, the kitchen pots as black as ink, the kitchen kettles and the pans, the silver, glass and cups and cans; wherever you may look, the toil means more than any kettles boil. To just "prepare" a meal is "fun," but work, with THAT is scarce "begun."

If those who stay up days and nights to win the cause of "Women's Rights" would only vote the GOLD DUST PLAN they soon would have the best of man.

More time for comfort and for smiles; more time to play a woman's wiles, for once the GOLD DUST TWINS appear, Hard Labor's cry you never hear; frail woman is a queenly soul who plays the "Take-it-Easy" role. Each GOLD DUST package sets her free by bearing out its guarantee, and never more those household woes that every weary woman knows. Pile up the dishes as you will, the GOLD DUST TWINS will clean 'em still. Old floors and woodwork sinks and pans, turn out as Master Cleaner Plans. From sun to sun, and chore to chore, your tasks will fret you nevermore.

VOTE FOR THE BONDS.

The Journal has pointed out on many occasions the necessity for more and better school facilities in New Mexico. Improvement in that direction is more essential even than good roads.

There should be no opposition to the bond issue contemplated by the board of education. It will place Albuquerque at the head of things educational. Not only will the high school be equipped as a modern high school should be, but the congestion will be relieved in grades throughout the city.

It is proposed to use the present high school building to house the grades in the lowlands, while care of the upper grades will be provided for in the new building. Manual training and domestic science, which have been nicely started, will be carried on as they are now found in the principal cities of the country.

Inadequate rooms in the library and other buildings can and should be abandoned. By avoiding the expense of their up-keep and care, the expense of caring for the new building can be provided for without additional outlay.

The city schools have enrolled 167 more pupils this year than last and sixty-five pupils living just outside the city limits have been denied admission. They are left with inadequate educational advantages.

The Albuquerque high school has doubled its attendance during the past six years. With the influx of people that it is now known will begin during the next year, it is a safe prediction that the demands on the high school will be doubled during the next three years.

Greater demand is being made constantly along the lines of industrial training. Education is looking more and more to preparing students to earn bread and butter, to make them self-sustaining, to equip them to pull their weight as members of society.

The voters of Albuquerque should make it possible for the high school to offer this work not only to high school students, but to those girls and boys who are forced to leave school and earn their way early in life.

Also the high school should be equipped with an adequate gymnasium where the boys can go for wholesome recreation and physical training. Also, in all well regulated schools, physical training is regarded as quite as essential for girls as for boys.

Albuquerque must get to the front. There should be no opposition to the bonds.

TARIFF REVISION.

The extra session of congress will be called, primarily, for the purpose of revising the tariff. When one of the newspaper correspondents remarked to President-elect Wilson that a Congressman had suggested the early appointment of a committee to investigate the tariff schedules, Governor Wilson replied that the way and means committee of the house had been investigating for quite a while and that he had been studying the tariff for twenty years.

The public is sick and tired of congressional hearings on the tariff. It would be far better, if the democrats should decide to revise the tariff downward, not too radically, but with no further delay than is necessary for the framing of the bills and very little discussion of them by statesmen who want to make fame for themselves as public speakers rather than as constructive lawmakers.

Public hearings would lead to long delays, thereby disturbing business and muddling the question. The general lines on which the democrats will proceed are already known. The principal bills that passed the last house will probably be re-passed. They reduce the tariff on wool and cotton slightly, as compared with the recommendation of the tariff board, and enlarge the free list. They cut the steel and chemical schedules and free sugar. The latter proposition is not likely to pass because of the reduction of the revenues of the country by about $55,000,000.

The program will be fought, doubtless, by the republican remnant in the house. But they will not be able to do more than to enter a protest. If the program is modified it will have to be done in the senate, where the margin of democratic supremacy is narrow. Then there are democratic senators who are opposed to wholesale reductions. They will not support wholesale reductions, and the new tariff bill, after all, be a series of compromises, as they have been in the past.

The eagerness of the democrats to get to their task does not indicate bloodthirstiness. It is good politics for them to have done with it as early as possible in the administration, so that the country may have time to adjust itself to new conditions and to pass judgment on the tariff revision before the next presidential campaign is on.

Haste does not mean recklessness. Speaker Clark and Mr. Underwood, who ran the last house, will run the next one, and they are not ultra-radical. On the contrary, they come very near being ultra-conservative, which is well for the country. But they should permit no unnecessary delays in completing their revision so that the country may have a rest from the persistent and perplexing agitation that have afflicted it.

"OCEAN-TO-OCEAN HIGHWAY."

There is much misapprehension in the use of the term "ocean to ocean," in connection with the various projected highways from the Atlantic to the Pacific. In the current issue of the National Business, a publication by the National Association of Commercial Clubs, the name, "Ocean-to-Ocean Highway," is applied to a road that embraces the Old Oregon trail.

It should be understood by the people interested in proposed transcontinental highway that the "Ocean-to-Ocean" route proper belongs to the highway proposed by the association that was formed at Phoenix last year and which then outlined a highway across the southwestern states, entering New Mexico by the Raton pass, it passes over the Camino Real to Albuquerque, south to Carthage by way of Carthage, San Antonio, Socorro, Magdalena, and west to the state line, where it joins the Arizona section sixteen miles east of Springerville. The proposed route then passes by way of Clifton to Yuma and thence into California and to the city of Los Angeles.

Such is the route entitled to the designation of "Ocean-to-Ocean Highway." The name was pre-empted before others were in the field. The association backing a transcontinental road first designated that line, is entitled to it and is prepared to hold it against all comers.

Individuals and associations interested in other routes should designate them by other names. Such policy would prevent confusion and would also prevent unfairness to the association that began the work of securing an ocean-to-ocean highway.

TAFT'S COURTESY.

With the characteristic courtesy which one naturally looks for in such a man, President Taft has invited the president-elect and Mrs. Wilson to be guests at the White House, so they may become acquainted with the quarters they are to occupy for four years.

This is something that has not often been done, and it shows the friendliness and the graciousness of the present chief executive of the United States. It is in marked contrast to the attitude of a number of outgoing presidents to their successors.

There is no loss in being a gentleman, whatever happens.

Should it be determined finally that Constantinople shall be internationalized and a commission from the six powers should take over the government, it would be much like running a city with six aldermen each of whom wanted to get all there was in it.

Dr. Robert S. McClellan says we trained the Balkan leaders at the American college at Constantinople. American colleges turn out some splendid athletes.

Wilson got the vote of the ten Fish brothers in a Pennsylvania town. Generally the sucker vote is divided.

The president-elect is just now more interested in picking a turkey than in picking a cabinet.

If California will go one way and stay that way, all will be forgiven.

In the terms of peace, Bulgaria demands all the dark meat.

Some Admits Do.

"Say, ma, we took a straw vote in our school today."

"Did you, dear? And what was the result?"

"Why, we couldn't none of us spell the candidate's name right, an' so Tommy Snooks voted six times for himself an' was elected."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Park Over.

"You are charged with going forty miles an hour," said the rural justice "and you are fined $40."

"Judge," said the motorist, "I have only got $2."

"Well, you've got a nerve going forty miles an hour on a reserve of $2. Hand over the money."—Kansas City Journal.

GOVERNOR URGES OBSERVANCE OF THANKSGIVING

Executive Declares That New Mexicans Have Much to be Thankful for During First Year of Statehood.

Special Correspondence to Morning Journal. Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 21.—Governor W. C. McDonald has issued a proclamation urging the state-wide observance of Thanksgiving day on next Thursday and proclaiming that day a legal holiday in New Mexico. The governor's proclamation reads:

Thanksgiving Day Proclamation.

The American holiday, Thanksgiving day, is near at hand. New Mexicans have much to be thankful for this year. They have enjoyed many blessings and experienced few calamities. We have had no disastrous storms and have been free from dangerous conditions of any sort. Crime has decreased and order has been better maintained under the law.

During the past twelve months New Mexico has entered the union as a sovereign commonwealth; she has assumed the functions of state government and her financial credit is exceptionally good. In manifesting our appreciation of the new conditions under state government, we should resolve to make our great new state a blessing to all of our people, such as good citizens have a right to expect. There has been an effective desire to awaken and cleanse the public conscience, and a betterment in the standard of public service and efficiency is taking place. Capital has good opportunities here and the wage earner does not lack employment. Crops and produce have been plentiful and the public health is in good conditions.

We have a state old in civilization but new in many things, with untold wealth in its great undeveloped resources. Our beautiful sunshine and wealth giving atmosphere make our climate unequalled, if anywhere else equalled, and is one of our chief assets which should be attractive to those seeking health as well as fortune.

Now therefore, in accordance with the time honored custom and conforming to the proclamation of the president of the United States, I, William C. McDonald, governor of the state of New Mexico, do hereby designate and proclaim Thursday, November 28, 1912, as Thanksgiving day and recommend that the people of New Mexico observe the day by attending divine worship if possible; that the public schools be closed, also places of public and private business so far as may be practicable; that we offer our gratitude to Almighty God not only through prayer, song and sermon, but by sharing with the needy among us the blessings which we enjoy.

Done at the executive office this 20th day of November, A. D. 1912. Witness my hand and the great seal of the state of New Mexico.

WILLIAM C. McDONALD,
Governor.

ANTONIO LUCERO,
Secretary of State.

SEVEN THOUSAND FOOT TUNNEL TO CONNECT MINES

Phelps-Dodge Company Begins Work at Leopold on Underground Passage to Tyrone Properties.

Special Correspondence to Morning Journal. Silver City, N. M., Nov. 21.—The Phelps-Dodge Company has commenced work at Leopold on a tunnel that is to connect the mines there with the Tyrone mines. The tunnel, the length of the tunnel will be something over 7,000 feet, or considerably over a mile, and it will be large enough to permit the running of large size ore cars through it, the cars to be trolley or operated through the medium of overhead wires. The superintendent in charge of the work has said, so it is stated, that it will take at least a year to complete the tunnel. In the meantime, however, mine work at Leopold will not be abandoned altogether, the ore taken out to be placed on the dump to be shipped to Douglas, Ariz.

Knowing ones still insist that a railroad is certainly to be constructed from Deming to Leopold, thence via Silver City and Fort Bayard to the company's big copper mines at Elmore. This enterprise was mentioned in these despatches some time back and it is still the opinion of many families with mining conditions in this section, that the road is to be built.

George Utter continues to make regular shipments of zinc to Oklahoma from his big mine near Pinos Altos. His mill will be soon be enlarged and when that is done night shifts will be put to work, doubling the output of zinc.

Machinery for the Silver City ice works has been received and the company will be in readiness to supply ice by the first of next February. The plant will have a capacity of ten tons daily.

Don't use Butter in Your Kitchen

Do you know why butter is so high? Housewives from years of habit have come to use more and more of it for particular cooking—where they want something better than lard. It's a wasteful habit—highly expensive—and wholly unnecessary.

Use butter on your table, where it belongs; discard it from your kitchen. The use of Cottolene in cooking, will give just as good results as butter. Besides, two-thirds of a pound of Cottolene will go as far as a pound of butter, and Cottolene costs no more than lard. Use more Cottolene and cut down your butter bill.

Cottolene

Makes Delicious Pastry

Cottolene makes light, flaky, crisp pie-crust. It makes deliciously light, tender doughnuts. For cake making Cottolene creams up beautifully and gives the best obtainable results. Muffins, fritters, short cake, and all other pastry, are best made when made with Cottolene. It makes food rich but never greasy.

Cottolene is a vegetable product, and makes food that is healthful and digestible.

Try This Recipe:

ONE EGG CAKE
1/2 cup of Cottolene	1 egg
1 cup sugar	1 cup milk
1 teaspoon cream of tartar

Rub the Cottolene and sugar to a light cream, add well beaten yolk of egg and vanilla, mix together the soda, cream of tartar and flour, stir it into the creamed mixture, alternating with the milk. Add well beaten white of egg last. Bake in shallow pan in moderate oven about one-half hour.

ENGINE GETS AWAY AT SANTA RITA; BADLY WRECKED

Leaky Throttle Causes Locomotive to Make Wild Run Down Steep Grade; No One Injured.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.) Santa Rita, N. M., Nov. 21.—Work engine No. 13, which was inaugurated into service November 13th, broke loose while side tracked here last night and ran wild for over a mile. A leaky throttle is said to have been the cause of its escape.

Engine No. 12, which is also a new one, was attached to 13 and when the unlucky engine went wild No. 12 went with it and the velocity was so great that it went over the dump at the west end of the cut and was badly smashed, both in front and rear.

The hoodoo engine continued on its way and collided with No. 8, smashing in the rear end and putting the finale to its riderless night ride. No one was injured in the accident, which caused a great deal of excitement.

SON ACCIDENTALLY SHOT BY FATHER WITH RIFLE

Deplorable Accident on Mimbre Causes Instant Death of Eight-Year-Old Youth; Parent Prostrated.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.) Silver City, Nov. 21.—A most unfortunate accident occurred last Saturday on the Mimbre river, by which Charles Clark Whitley, the eight-year-old son of C. C. Whitley, a rancher, met instant death.

Mr. Whitley and his two sons, aged about eight and ten, were returning to their home from Scott's sawmill, following the trail. When about three miles from home a squirrel was seen in a tree and it was decided to shoot it. The younger boy stood at the foot of the tree, and the father walked back to a position to get a good view of the animal. The rifle he carried was a single shot Stevens of .22 caliber. As he pulled the breech block into place to complete the operation of loading, the shell was exploded and the bullet hit the boy near the crown of the head and penetrated the brain, killing him instantly.

The boy was carried to the home of M. Hirsch and there prepared for burial. The funeral took place Monday, interment being made at the Hick's ranch. The boy was born in Santa Ana, Texas, and was eight years and nine months of age. He is survived by his parents and a brother and sister. The family has resided on the Mimbre for two years. The father is prostrated as a result of the tragedy.

NEW SCHEDULE FOR STREET CARS IS PROMISED

First Trip From Highlands Will Place Workers Downtown at 8 O'clock; Saw Mill Line to Make Earlier Run.

While the details of the new arrangement have not yet been fully worked out, it was yesterday announced by General Manager M. O. Chaboury, of the Albuquerque Traction Company, that several important changes were to be made in the car schedules.

There will be a car leave the south end of the Highlands line in time to pick up the "8 o'clock traffic" along the Highlands and deliver it downtown in time to go to work at 8 o'clock and there will be a car reach the sawmill at 6:30 or 6:45 instead of 7 o'clock, as at present. The Highlands car will likely start down at 7:45. Both these changes are expected to increase business for the line by presenting an opportunity for those who must reach their work downtown at 8 o'clock to ride down instead of walking or taking a much earlier car, and to provide for workers at the sawmill to reach that establishment in time to go to work at the usual hour.

One of the "tricks" as the shifts of car crews are called will be shortened about twenty minutes. This run is now eleven hours in duration, except for meal hours, which is quite a length of time for continuous work.

The California limited was run in two sections yesterday morning. A train of tourists on a specially conducted trip formed the second section.

Mrs. Nell Willis is at Pecos Falls, Minn., where she is visiting a sister and other relatives. She will be absent from the city for several weeks.

BOY ON LONG TRIP LOSES TICKET; IS PUT OFF TRAIN

Paul Rogers, a 12-year-old colored boy, on his way from Bakersfield, Cal., to Brownsville, Tenn., lost his ticket Wednesday.

Paul was a passenger on Santa Fe passenger train No. 10, and when he could not find his "transportation" the conductor put him off the train here. A telegram to Bakersfield brought a reply that Paul had purchased a ticket, as the agent here yesterday afternoon gave him a slip of paper that entitles him to ride to Brownsville, and put him aboard train No. 8 yesterday evening.

The boy has been visiting his grandparents at Bakersfield for nearly a year, and he is on his way home to enter school. Paul is a bright little fellow, and he declares that, although he is 12 years old, he is only in the sixth grade. He was out of school one year, he says.

"Only one or two of my grades are 70's," he said, anxious to display his scholarship. "All the rest are 90's. I started to school when I was six and I would be in the sixth grade now if I hadn't lost a year."

WHO IS HALF-NELSON ASKS POLICE JUDGE

Justice W. W. McClellan, sitting yesterday morning in police court for Judge G. R. Craig, fined H. Downs, a palmer, and Joseph Huxley each $5 on a charge of fighting.

Huxley said he attempted to serve a landlord's lien on the palmer for Mrs. A. Hatch, and that Downs struck him. They mixed and someone called the police, so both were arrested.

Huxley, in describing his fight with Downs, said he secured a half-Nelson on the palm reader.

"Who is this Nelson person?" demanded Justice McClellan. Huxley explained the grappling language to the justice, and the case went on.
