ELWELL CONFESSES TO LAST NIGHT ROBBERIES

Shows Officers Where Had Secreted Stolen Goods. All of Which Are Recovered.

ADMITTS COMMITTING THREE BURGLARIES

With a Companion He Was Arrested Early This Morning Under Suspicion But Says Other Man Is Not Implicated In Theft.

George Elwell, who says he came here from Fort Worth, Texas, and who, with a companion who gives the name of Corey, was arrested this morning at an early hour on suspicion of being the men who robbed Yanow's pawn shop, the New York saloon and the Manhattan saloon last night, this afternoon admitted to Chief McMullin and Lieut. Kennedy that he was the robber, and he took the two officers to room 9 in the Southern hotel, where they found the stolen goods, a number of razors, knives, cigars, and other articles of that sort, including a small watch. About half of the money stolen from the saloons was recovered from Elwell.

Elwell's companion declares that he was not implicated in the affair, but the police believe he was and will hold him for the present at least.

The finding of the stolen goods and the confession of Elwell were due to the careful "sweating" process through which Chief McMullin and Lieut. Kennedy put him today. He tells enough to show that he had a companion.

The two men were arrested by Officer Higginbotham this morning. He had a hard fight with them but finally, with the aid of Officer Rossi, succeeded in locking them up.

Elwell told the officers that he spotted the Yanow pawn shop and the two saloons during the day and made plans for entering them late at night. He used a key on the glass windows for the purpose of breaking the sound and says that no one paid any attention to him while he performed the work.

After securing the goods he took them to his room at the Southern and secreted them where the officers this afternoon found them.

Identified Gun. P. Zito, owner of the New York saloon, this afternoon identified a revolver, a watch, some cigars and other property taken from his saloon.

Yanow also identified the property from his pawn shop and the proprietor of the Manhattan bar will be given an opportunity to pick out what belongs to him this evening.

Elwell stated that he worked in the city but a short time, and said he had no fixed place of residence, having traveled considerably. He is a small man, somewhat rough appearing and has the look of a traveling laborer.

TO FREE BOY AND ARREST HUSBAND

Kansas City, Oct. 17.—George Smiley, the 17-year-old boy who yesterday shot and killed his mother, Mrs. Lizette Shuffer, was found dead yesterday in a cheap lodging house at 148 South Clark street. He had been in straitened circumstances for several years, although he made a fortune from the sale of royalties on an invention which he patented in the early '70s, a device which arrested and extinguished the sparks from the funnels of locomotives to prevent the kindling of prairie fires by passing trains.

PROCTOR'S COUSIN IS FOUND DEAD

Chicago, Oct. 17.—David Redfield Proctor, 81 years of age, a cousin of United States Senator Richard D. Proctor of Vermont, was found dead yesterday in a cheap lodging house at 148 South Clark street. He had been in straitened circumstances for several years, although he made a fortune from the sale of royalties on an invention which he patented in the early '70s, a device which arrested and extinguished the sparks from the funnels of locomotives to prevent the kindling of prairie fires by passing trains.

WHOLE MEXICAN FAMILY KILLED BY YAQUI INDIANS

Party Ambushed as They Rode Near Their Home in Broad Day. THEIR BODIES WERE BADLY MUTILATED

Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 17.—Juan Luna, a prominent Mexican rancher of the Torres neighborhood in Old Mexico, with his whole family, consisting of his wife and three children, were murdered by a band of Yaqui Indians, to whom some offense had been given, Wednesday afternoon.

Luna with his family was driving along the road near his home when the band pounced on him and killed the party with the exception of two laborers who fled for help.

The road skirts the railroad track in that vicinity and the engineer of a passenger train a half hour after the murder, saw the bodies and stopped the train. The bodies were taken on the train to Torres. All were terribly mutilated.

The Tragedy. The Indians appeared suddenly from ambush and at the first fire the ranchman, Luna, who strove heroically to defend his family was killed. His wife was also killed in the first volley. The servants panic-stricken, made a wild endeavor to gain their freedom, leaving the children alone to their fate.

Two of the servants, who were mounted on speedy horses, succeeded in breaking through the Yaqui lines and reached Torres where they gave the news of the attack. The other two servants were killed.

The two daughters of the ranchman had met death in a horrible manner. The youngest, who was a mere child, was found with her throat cut from ear to ear, while her sister who was several years older was found with her skull crushed in.

It appears that in some manner Luna had given offense to the Yaquis, probably by refusing to furnish them with food or ammunition, and he knew, according to his friends, that his life was in danger, but did not believe the Indians would attack him in daylight, hence he was riding with no unusual guard.

UNION IRON WORKS MAY BE CLOSED DOWN SHORTLY

Chas. M. Schwab Says Frisco Plant Has Lost Many Millions.

San Francisco, Oct. 17.—Charles M. Schwab arrived here last night. "I come," he said, "to determine whether I shall continue to operate the Union Iron works or close them down for good. There is no truth in the statement that the sale of the works to the government is contemplated. We have lost money continually during the three years we have owned the plant. On our last contracts for three warships we lost two million dollars. We have been hampered by a scarcity of labor and by industrial troubles."

Schwab refused to state whether or not he proposed to prepare to dock any warships out of the battleship fleet when that fleet arrives from the Atlantic, though he stated that the government could use the company's docks if it needed them.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL CONTROL NOT SETTLED AT TODAY'S MEETING

STUYVESANT FISH, ONE OF THE FEW RAILROAD MEN WHO HAVE GAINED THE PUBLIC CONFIDENCE.

FISH STILL HAMMERS AT HARRIMAN FORCES

Proxy Committee Not Able to Complete Its Report Despite All Night Work.

MUTUAL PRESIDENT SCARED INTO CHAIR

He Disputed Certain Statement of Big Ex-President of Railroad And Almost Received a Trousing For His Ungentlemanly Conduct.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—When the annual meeting of the Illinois Central stockholders reconvened today it was evident that the chances for a vote on the new directors today were very small. The proxy committee, which had worked the greater part of the night, had gone through letters "A" and "B" and gotten a little way into "C." After some discussion of a "show-down" proposition by the Harriman forces, in which they proposed that all conflicting proxies be thrown out, and which was objected to by Fish, the proxy committee was taken until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Fish Scores Peabody. At yesterday's meeting of the Illinois Central directors, Charles A. Peabody, president of the Mutual Life insurance company, disputed a statement of Stuyvesant Fish on a certain matter. Fish shouted, "Mr. Peabody, you cannot talk to me like that, nor is there a man living with inches enough to tell me that I do not tell the truth."

As Fish, with cheeks aflame, was striding from the room, Peabody began to apologize and a member of the board, called after Fish that Peabody was apologizing and was sorry for what he had said.

"I have not the slightest interest as to which Peabody is or is not sorry for," shouted Fish, "and he can go to blazes."

Peabody collapsed in a chair, and Edward H. Harriman, who had been watching the proceedings with amusement, said, "Never mind him, Mr. Peabody, let him go and we can get down to business."

Scrap Starts. Immediately after President Harriman had called for his gavel yesterday afternoon, Mr. Cromwell arose and said:

"I am informed by the members of the committee on proxies, that they have been unable to finish their work and are not prepared to report for several hours. I therefore move that an adjournment be taken until 5:30 o'clock tonight."

Instantly James A. Patten was on his feet. Mr. Patten is a large man whose appearance and manner suggest that he is entirely capable of caring for himself in any kind of a fight. He objected strongly to the adjournment, saying:

"I move to amend the motion by making the hour 5 o'clock tomorrow morning. There are many stockholders who live outside the city and for whom it is inconvenient to attend a night meeting. I want to transact the business of this meeting, and I intend to do so, but I want to sleep tonight."

Lawyer Turned Down. Mr. Cromwell arose, courteous in the extreme.

"I would call the attention of the stockholders," he said, "to the fact that this is a business meeting for the conduct of important affairs. I regret if any stockholders should be put to inconvenience, but this is a case where they should attend to business without considering their comfort too closely. I therefore insist upon the adoption of my motion."

"I desire," said Mr. Patten, with an aggressive manner and in warlike tones, "to call the attention of the meeting to the fact that when the night session is over the lawyers can take a cab and reach their hotels in five minutes, while the stockholders who live out of town cannot do it, without taking a much longer time. This meeting is a meeting of Illinois Central stockholders, and a business meeting, and not for the convenience of a few attorneys from New York City. I insist upon my amendment and ask that a vote be taken."

All Voted Aye. Mr. Cromwell called for the ayes and noes. The chorus of "ayes" was so strong that he did not insist upon a vote on the negative side, saying with a smile:

"I guess that vote is sufficiently emphatic to satisfy even a lawyer; the meeting is adjourned until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning."

Both sides are still apparently confident of the result. Mr. Fish said last night:

"I have great hopes but we cannot tell as yet."

Mr. Harriman declared: "I cannot predict the result of the meeting, but it may be said it will be clean cut fight. If we fail to vote enough stock to control the meeting, the issue will be up to the courts."

FLOODS CONTINUE TO CAUSE IMMENSE DAMAGE

France Is Suffering Both Loss of Life and Property From The Continued Rains.

GREAT DISTRESS FELT AMONG POOR PEOPLE

Whole Town Washed Away But Most of Inhabitants Escaped To Hills—Survivors Living On Roofs and Other High Places.

Paris, France, Oct. 17.—Dispatches from the center and south of France today confirm the first reports of the destruction caused by floods. The rivers Loire, Rhone and Saone and their tributaries are raging torrents. In hundreds of cities and towns there is two to ten feet of water in the streets. Great distress has resulted. Railroad traffic is utterly paralyzed. The storm center is now moving toward the west.

Whole districts have been devastated by the floods, which came in most respects too suddenly for the people to make preparation to save their stock and supplies and in many instances whole families were drowned. The exact number of dead is not known, owing to the wide area covered by the floods and the fact that there is little communication, all wires being down.

Difficult Relief Work. The government, aided by private parties and subscriptions, has undertaken an organized relief work, but owing to the fact that water still covers practically the whole of south France along all the rivers and smaller streams, no railroad traffic can be handled and even wagon roads are out of commission. Steamers from all available points have been pressed into service and the work of carrying provisions into the devastated districts is now under way.

Many of the inhabitants of the flooded sections have been brought to higher points in the republic. The floods this year covered ground and reached heights that have never been considered in the least danger.

Barrems Washed Away. It was stated this afternoon that the town of Barrems, with a population of about 5,000, situated on the Rhone, is entirely gone, the rush of waters having totally destroyed the place and washed every vestige of it away.

Other reports of great damage are coming in but details are lacking. The loss of life, however, considering the extensive property loss, is not great, since most of the inhabitants of Barrems and other towns which are in the flooded districts were able to reach spots of safety.

Living in Upper Stories. In the flood region, most of the people who remained after the stage of water became dangerous, are living in the second and third stories of houses or in roughly improvised tents or shelters on the roofs. The solidity of construction of their houses in most instances renders this means of living safe.

SUNDAY ACTORS WILL BE PINCHED

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 17.—Unusual tactics are, it is stated, to be employed here in the attempt to close the local theatres on Sundays by the arrest on Saturday morning of every actor and actress then in the city, who may have played here in an alleged violation of the law against working on Sunday. This would involve several hundred persons on the boards in sixteen theatres large and small, in Kansas City.

STANDARD OIL'S SPY SYSTEM HAS BEEN UNCOVERED

Statistical Department Keeps Record of Every Barrel Produced in All Parts of World.

RAILROADS GAVE AID TO OIL TRUST

Transportation Companies Made Possible Successful Outcome of Rate Wars—Big Loans Still Baffle Prosecutor Kellogg And His Assistants.

New York, Oct. 17.—While hunting for some solution of the mysterious loans, aggregating many millions of dollars, made by two of the Standard Oil company's subsidiary concerns, Frank B. Kellogg, the government's counsel, in its suit against the Standard, unexpectedly uncovered a department of which little has been known. This department is known as the statistical department and includes one of the most perfect spy systems in the world. Through it the Standard Oil company has for years kept tab on every gallon of oil sold in the world, has kept a record of every can, barrel or tank car load which has been taken from the oil fields by competitors and has traced the oil to market, learning each charge incurred and the final selling price.

In perfecting this service, Mr. Kellogg has learned that the railroads of the United States have furnished valuable aid to the Standard, and, in fact, have made possible the successful outcome of rate wars for the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and its many subsidiaries.

Loans Still a Puzzle. While the government's counsel developed more than he expected concerning the operation of the spy system, he was wholly disappointed in his effort to learn why enormous loans were made to P. S. Trainor, James McDonald and "Outside interests." Mr. Kellogg has come to believe that the officers and employees of the Standard company are studiously concealing from him the significance of those loans, for always, when he questions concerning them, the answer is the same. No one yet summoned to appear as a witness in the suit has been able to tell why the loans were made. They have even disclaimed knowledge of the identity of those persons included in outside interests to whom the Standard Oil of New York loaned $32,000,000 last year.

To Adjourn Friday. Mr. Kellogg announced today that there will be an adjournment of the hearings in this city on Friday for a month or more.

Hampton G. Westcott, vice president of the Standard Oil company of Kentucky, was asked to give in detail the transactions his company had with independent selling companies in the southern territory, by which the independent companies were bought up by the Standard's subsidiary, yet allowed to continue doing business under the guise of independent companies.

Mr. Westcott mentioned a dozen companies in which his company had acquired an interest, but which had continued doing a supposedly independent business for several years after that arrangement. In no instance, he said, did the Standard of Kentucky advertise the fact that it had acquired the smaller companies.

California Records Burned. When H. M. Tiltford, president of the Continental Oil company, a Standard subsidiary, a company of California, was asked for further particulars about the selling of oil in the Pacific coast field, he could not remember whether or not the Standard had contracts with the Union Oil company, an independent producing concern of California, by virtue of which the independent was to give up all manufacturing of oil products in exchange for the Union Oil's crude oil. He was asked to produce the original contracts with the Union Oil company, but said that all the records of the California branch of the Standard company were burned in the San Francisco fire. An alleged copy of one of these contracts appeared in the government's bill.

RAILROAD DEPARTMENT

CAUSE OF BIG MAJORITY OF WRECKS

Soft Rails and Old Ties Generally Blamed By Railroad Men.

A group of railroad men were discussing the cause of wrecks.

Imperfectly constructed roadbeds were cited as the most prolific cause of accidents. Tracks insufficiently ballasted and the ties retained too long in service cause much of the trouble.

"There ought to be 24 inches of rock ballast on all parts of the track and the curves should be set in masonry," said one man. "You hear people comparing the losses from wrecks in this country with those of England to our disadvantage and they do not stop to consider that there it costs something like $50,000 to $250,000 a mile to construct the lines and they are practically set in masonry all the way while in this country the average cost of building a track is from $7,000 to $8,000 a mile. They pay interest on something like $68,000 a mile but it costs less than $10,000 a mile to construct."

"Then take the matter of ties. They are replaced at the rate of about 5 per cent a year. That makes the tie service for an average period of 20 years, but the guaranteed life of a barnyard or treated tie is only nine years. Great difficulty is experienced by the railroads in securing ties and in consequence they have to do service too long. When the tie is rotten the spikes shove sideways especially on curves and the next thing is an accident due to spreading of the rails."

Heavy Engines. "The heavy engines known as 'consolidators,' throw the curve tracks out of alignment. Not dirt ballast can possible hold the rails and ties in place permanently. The ties are driven down into the dirt. Maybe somebody reports the curve out of alignment in time and maybe it is found out by a train going on the bumpers."

"A former prolific cause of accidents has been the soft steel rails. They are being replaced on the best roads by the open forge rails. These are much better, tougher and less liable to break in cold weather. The old, soft rails where in use are liable both to spread and to snap with the cold."

"Lack of automatic signals also greatly increases the risks of railroading. The time will come when they will be universally demanded. They are costly but perhaps after all not so costly as damage suits."

Danger of Fire. "When a passenger train has been wrecked the greatest danger is from the Pintsch gas which with the cars are provided."

"There is always fire around a wreck. It is impossible to tip a car over and burst it up without breaking a gas pipe somewhere. The cars are dry as tinder, oil and kerosene are added. The flowing gas and any contact with fire and almost in an instant a wreck is a solid mass of flames. All cars should be lighted by electricity. It would not be wholly without danger, but it would be far less than the present system."

"Properly ballasted tracks, electrically lighted cars, ties replaced when they have reached the danger point and the use of the open forge rails would greatly lessen the dangers both for employees and passengers. Then in justice to the railroads the government should protect their right of way. Trespassing should not be permitted upon it. No one ever trespasses on a line of railroad in England, France and Germany. Here in America thousands of tramps, white, negro and Mexican are killed every year while trespassing on the right of way of the various roads. Proper construction and operation of the tracks and proper protection of the property of the roads would at least cut in half the number, the appalling number, of those killed yearly in railroad accidents."

HARRIMAN NOT IN CONTROL OF SIERRA MADRE-PACIFIC

Chihuahua, Mexico, Oct. 17.—A large force of laborers are at work grading on the extension of the Sierra Madre and Pacific railroad, which is being built southwest from Nevadas Casas Grandes. It is stated that about thirty miles of this grade are completed, and that track laying will soon be started. The extensions will connect with the Chihuahua and Pacific railroad near Santo Tomas. The report was recently published that the Harriman interests had obtained control of the Sierra Madre and Pacific, and that it would be made a direct competitor for the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient. Col. W. C. Greene, who is understood to be the principal owner of the Sierra Madre and Pacific, denies the report that the Harriman interests have acquired control of the property. The road will naturally be a competitor of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient, as the two lines will traverse the same region in Mexico, but this rivalry is to be conducted in friendly spirit, Col. Greene says.

San Bernardino, Cal., Oct. 17.—A meeting of the general roundhouse inspectors of the Santa Fe system was held at the local shop offices yesterday afternoon, and assistant general roundhouse inspectors from the coast, parent and gulf lines were present. The object of the meeting is to better operating results and to discuss what is going on in the big roundhouses of the Santa Fe system, and the problems they present.

J. F. Whiteford, of Albuquerque, general roundhouse inspector, presided, and H. N. Fitz, of Cleburne, Texas; Ernest Ordeal, of Needles, Cal.; Mr. Bowes, of this city, and Mr. Cole, of Newton, Kan., assistant general roundhouse inspectors, were in attendance.

RAILROADS NOT COMPELLED TO PASS INDIGENT PERSONS

New Orleans, La., Oct. 17.—In reply to a telegram sent the interstate commerce commission by Mayor Behrman of this city, asking if the Illinois Central railroad could furnish free transportation to strike breakers who had been brought here by them, but who later deserted, Chairman Knapp of the commission replied as follows: "The law does not require and the commission can not compel railroads to give free or reduced transportation to indigent persons. Railroads have the right to do so at their option, and it is for them to determine whether, in fact, the persons carried at free or reduced rates are indigent or destitute."

SANTA FE WILL HAVE MORE FUEL OIL

The Bakersfield oil properties of the Santa Fe form a source of supply which will immediately be drawn upon by the road to their fullest capacity. Assuredly, the Santa Fe of expert drillers at work in Kern county with this end in view, and boring for the fuel illuminant will be driven down into the earth with vigor. The oil derived from this prolific source will be used principally for motive power in the locomotives.

BRAKEMAN THROWN FROM TOP OF CAR

San Bernardino, Cal., Oct. 17.—J. W. Pullman, a Santa Fe freight brakeman, was severely injured yesterday at Oro Grande by being thrown from the top of a box car by a sudden application of air by the engineer. Pullman landed on his head and was for a time unconscious but later recovered and was brought to San Bernardino for medical attendance.

He has a bad scalp wound but will recover, though he will be kept from his work for some time.

Wood, road foreman of engines at Raton, who has been taking care of both the second and third districts of the New Mexico division for some time, will hereafter handle the second district exclusively. A. E. Amas, of Las Vegas, has been appointed road foreman of engines for the district, Las Vegas to Albuquerque.

James T. Johnson, assistant general boiler inspector of the Santa Fe system, spent yesterday in the city, leaving last night for Los Angeles on an inspection trip.

Frank Boyd, bonus demonstrator of the car department at La Junta, was a visitor here yesterday.

It is rumored here that several other important changes are to be made at once on the Santa Fe.

J. F. Whiteford, general roundhouse inspector, is in San Bernardino, Cal., on official business.

Michael Weber, local roundhouse foreman, is in Denver, Colo., on a business trip.

Charles Martin, of the Santa Fe shops, is in Chicago on business.

12 TRACTS SOLD AT $65 PER ACRE

Farmers' Development Company Near Springer Bringing Settlers—Reservoir System Building.

Springer, N. M., Oct. 17.—The lands which have been put on the market recently by the Farmers' Development company, operating sixteen miles west of Springer on the Rayado river, and which company is now constructing a large reservoir and ditch system for its lands which aggregate about twelve thousand acres, entertained a week ago a party of homeseekers from the middle states and from Colorado. Twelve tracts for farms were sold to members of this party at an average of $65 per acre and six more sales are now being closed.

The outlook for the sale of every acre of irrigable and level land under the ditch system of this company is of the best. The management, so far, is very well satisfied with results. The reservoir and ditch system will be ready for operations next April. The water supply will be ample and the soil of the land under the ditch system is of the very best and will raise the finest crops of cereals, vegetables and fruits that can be produced in the temperate zone.

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and, being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

"BURGLAR DOCTOR" ROMANTIC DRAMA IN REAL SOCIETY LIFE

How New Rochelle Millionaires Were Victimized by Physician and His Popular Wife.

"Mrs. Dr. Samuel Bolin."

New York, Oct. 17.—"The Burglar Doctor," a romantic drama in real life, has just been played before the astounded population of New Rochelle.

The burglar—dashing, good natured, handsome Dr. Samuel Bolin—and his winsome, attractive wife are no longer the social favorites they were all summer in New Rochelle. They are fugitives and the police want them both.

It was about the first of July when the pair came to the village and rented a fine home. They were such a fine couple that the neighbors took to them at once. New Rochelle is a village of about 10,000 people, and the Bolins were very soon the delightful Mrs. Bolin and the jolly "doctor" were quite the rage.

"The doctor, you know," said Mrs. Bolin, sweetly, "never practices here. He has such a large practice in New York that we moved here for rest."

It is recalled now that Dr. Bolin was often seen in automobile, buggy or suburban train late at night or in early morning, always carrying in neat little physician's instrument case.

The terrible reality has just come to light. A woman told the police that she saw Dr. Bolin at the dead of night breaking into a store across the street from her house. Dr. Bolin was arrested. His New Rochelle friends came to the rescue and bail was given.

Jumped Bond. When called in court Dr. Bolin was missing. Quickly followed the story of his twice attempted suicide, from Mrs. Bolin. Then came the disappearance of Mrs. Bolin, leaving the cozy home as it stood.

The police were on the job only a few hours before they had some very startling facts to tell New Rochelle. Dr. Bolin, they said, was a crook of the first water with aliases like a king's full name. He is notorious in New York for robbing galleries, where his number is 5855. His specialty is lifting costly silks and satin and he has served time at Stenton and Blackwells Island.

CLAYTON U. S. LAND OFFICE IS RUSHED

Constantly Increasing in Business—131,000 Acres of Public Land Filed on.

Clayton, N. M., Oct. 17.—The Clayton land office is one of the busiest places in the territory, and although short for help the land officials here are turning out an enormous amount of work.

There were 820 homestead entries in September against 620 in August, an increase of 200—comprising the enormous total of 131,000 acres which henceforth will be transformed from stock ranges into fine farms eventually to become the ideal garden spot of the great southwest.

In September there were 27 desert entries against 18 entries in August, an increase of 19. There were issued during the past month some 33 final certificates.

Out of the 820 homestead entries, (131,200 acres), 250 (56,000 acres) of these filings were made on Union county land.

Out of 27 (7,395 acres) desert entries, Union county captured 24 (6,915 acres).

Out of the seven counties comprising this district, Union county almost equals the other six in furnishing homes for the new comers.

S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

Chronic Ulcers are the result of a deeply polluted and foul blood supply. The blood is filled with impurities and germs which are being constantly fed into the place through the circulation, until all the surrounding flesh becomes diseased and the sore an obstinate and permanent trouble. Every symptom of an old ulcer suggests pollution; the discharge, the red, angry looking flesh, the inflammation and discoloration of surrounding parts, all show that the ulcer is prevented from healing by the constant drainage through it of impurities from the blood. This impure condition of the blood may be hereditary, or it may be the remains of some constitutional disease, or the effects of a long spell of sickness, leaving disease germs in the system, or the absorption of the refuse of the body which has not been properly expelled through the natural channels. But whatever the cause, the blood is so weakened and polluted that it does not properly nourish and stimulate the place, and the sore cannot heal. Salves, plasters, lotions, etc., keep the sore or ulcer clean, relieve pain, and perhaps reduce inflammation, but can never permanently heal them because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. goes down to the very fountain-head of the trouble, drives out all poisons and germs, builds up the weak, sluggish blood, gives energy and strength to the system, and by sending a fresh, healthy stream of blood to the diseased parts, allows the ulcer to heal naturally and permanently. Nothing reaches inherited taints like S. S. S. It cleanses the circulation of every trace of hereditary disease or impurity, and those who have nursed and treated an old sore for years will experience good results as soon as the system becomes influenced by S. S. S. Book on Sores and Ulcers and medical advice free to all who write.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Statesmen Believe That the Empire Will Die When Francis Joseph Passes Away.

Paris, Oct. 17.—All Europe is trembling with fear today and looking with deepest anxiety to the bed of pain upon which Francis Joseph, emperor of Austria now lies. "The empire will be buried with the emperor!"

Such has been the exclamation of the political world during the later life of Emperor Joseph. For nearly half a century the aged monarch has kept together the many discordant elements of his realm. Nobody believes that the union will last much longer.

If Francis Joseph's present illness proves fatal everybody looks for a new map of Europe within a year. It is notorious that the restless Hungarians will seize the opportunity at the first opportune moment. There has not been a time during 40 years that they have not been looking for the chance.

It is a tribute of the highest kind to the sick monarch that his empire is intact. Only the love of the common people among the many races he ruled held him up. When he is dead what will the Servians do? What of the Hungarians, the Croats, the Germans, the Poles, the Bohemians, the Poles, the Rumanians, and the others?

His Successor.
Emperor Francis Joseph's successor will be his nephew, the Archduke

Countess Chotek, Merganitic Wife of Austria's Next Emperor, and their Son, Maximilian.

Francis Ferdinand. There is not the slightest hope that this dull, stupid prince will rise to the occasion. He is unpopular, uninteresting, stubborn and often foolish in his obstinacy. As to habits there are many in royal circles worse than he. His greatest fame is as a hunter and he is a crack shot. He is about 43 years old and has a large inherited fortune.

Rivard was one of the first engineers on the Santa Fe railroad and was the first sheriff of Coclino county, Arizona.

"STATEHOOD FOR NEW MEXICO"

Set in Line

The Citizen feels that it can not devote its space to a better purpose these days than to advocate the cause of single statehood for this territory. The people have heard statehood talk for so long that many of them are slow to grasp the fact that the long sought boon is actually within their reach.

Therefore, The Citizen is trying to contribute its share towards awakening them to the fact that only a strong steady pull by all hands is necessary to hold the statehood banner at the mast head of a new state.

This paper stated yesterday that the formation of non-partisan statehood leagues in all the counties of the territory was a step in the right direction, and one that would aid the cause more than anything that could be done at present. Bernalillo county will organize such a league in the near future, and every man, woman and child should become a member just as soon as possible.

There is no politics in this fight to secure an enabling act. The leaders of both the big parties have agreed that the question of political control of the new state can go over until after the enabling act has been secured. It is the only sensible thing to do. Let us bury party feeling for the time and work for the one object which takes prominence over every other issue before we New Mexicans today. Statehood for this territory will mean more to the people than the success or defeat of any party for years to come.

We want hundreds of more immigrants, more railroads, more developments along all lines and above all we want a voice in the affairs of our country's administration.

While running the risk of tiring the readers of this paper by a constant mention of this important matter, The Citizen feels that the subject is so dear to the hearts of every true citizen that none can fail to be interested in the success of the movement.

Moreover, The Citizen feels that now or never is statehood to be had. At least if we do not secure statehood now, it may take years before we will be given as good an opportunity.

This paper will devote as much of its space as is possible to telling of the citizenship and the resources of New Mexico, in an effort to help the good cause along, but what is needed as much as the co-operation of the territorial press is the personal influence of each and every citizen high or low. Nothing better illustrates the power of the American public than the case at issue. It is up to the people for they and they alone, can really secure statehood for New Mexico.

They could do doubly as much and make themselves doubly felt, if they were already residents of a new state with the power at the polls they ought to have.

Therefore the people are most directly concerned in this cause and they should lead the fight for statehood.

The papers, both democratic and republican, are lining up manfully for the cause. The Roswell Record, which is generally given to knocking most anything promulgated by a republican administration, is even inclined to view the matter in a favorable light, although it can not forget that politics have been eliminated. The Record still tells what the democrats intend to do with the new state.

The republican party isn't concerned greatly over the Record's boasts and that paper will find that it will carry much more weight in the statehood fight if it will forget, for a time, the political phase of affairs and come out openly, honestly and without reserve for statehood as its other democratic contemporaries have already done.

Statehood is the thing we want—not politics. The Las Vegas Optic while it has been none too strenuous as yet, still shows a most favorable attitude. The Santa Fe New Mexican is in the van as usual and its editorial columns are devoted almost exclusively to the matter of statehood. The morning paper of this city has declared for statehood but it should get into the ranks with less reserve and show that it is sincere, even though the present republican administration is rather a thorn in its side. In fact, we must all work for this cause and unite with our governor and our delegate regardless of every other consideration. The Citizen does not intend to let the subject grow cold, so long as there is one bit of sentiment left for statehood.

This paper will continue to talk statehood and it hopes to announce the creation of the new state before another year has come and gone. Moreover The Citizen sincerely believes that it will have that pleasure.

The Price

The world, in all its cycles, has never paid such a price for civilization as we pay. Never before has it paid so much in money; never has it paid so much in brains; never has it paid so much in human lives for what it got.

The lore of the Chaldeans we can only conjecture; but the Chaldeans had no automobiles to run over them. The citizens of Tyre dyed stuffs a purple that we cannot duplicate; but the Tyrians never went mad in a ceaseless struggle to keep ahead. The golden age of Greece produced its perfect marbles; but Greece had no trusts like ours to prey upon the poor. Olden painters knew the secrets of marvelous colors; Stradivari and Amati made violins which are priceless today because we cannot make any more like them; but Raphael and Amati knew no silk mills where white-faced children toiled, nor breakers where grimy little boys spent long black hours. The Egyptians understood feats of engineering which are beyond the curricula of our great technical schools, else they could never have raised the Pyramids or the obelisk of Cleopatra; but the Egyptians had no railroads to exact an almost inconceivable toll of human life.

The interstate commerce commission has made public figures terribly suggestive of how much its costs to operate and patronize American railroads.

During the year of 1906 it cost casualties to 108,324 persons, of whom 10,618 were killed. Grade crossings—their only excuse for existence being that they are less expensive in money—cost 929 lives, and 1892 injuries. Out of every 124 trainmen (and there are 285,586 in all), one was killed, and out of every eight one was injured. Only 329 passengers were killed outright, and but 10,704 injured.

And this year showed a "gratifying improvement." Truly, modern civilization is a wonderful thing. Perhaps that is the reason it costs so much.

And the railroads should not be blamed entirely. We are just as much to blame.

Santa Fe New Mexican: The formation of the first county statehood league in the territory in this city yesterday is a great step forward in the right direction, and the New Mexican hopes that the people of every other county in the territory will follow suit. Organization is always effective and especially in a good cause and the more thorough and the better handled the more effective it is. Statehood leagues in every county in the territory by proper work and effort can arouse the people and the voters generally to united action and efficient work for statehood. They can and should interest the individual voter in the important question, distribute literature setting forth the great benefits to be derived from statehood, have petitions sent to congress praying for statehood, framed and circulated, signed and forwarded to Delegate W. H. Andrews for filing with the proper committees in the house and senate and in other ways do efficient and timely work. It seems that the statehood iron is red hot and in the right condition for striking it and for welding from it the sovereign state of New Mexico within the next twelve months. County statehood leagues can properly be used as some of the hammers in striking this iron and bringing it to the shape of statehood. Now is the time and New Mexico is the place.

Chicago has a new sect which believes that by moral living and by refraining from using liquor, tobacco and meats, the children of their unions will live forever. The Tucson Citizen, however, thinks that at the present high cost of living, this will only be a hardship on the children.

A large crowd assembled at the corner of Central avenue and Second street last evening to listen to Geo. H. Goebel in an address on Socialism. Mr. Goebel talks straight from the shoulder and according to his own statements says things that made people sit up and take notice. He says that Socialism, supported by the elements of evolution, will sweep the country within the next ten years from Maine to California.

Manager Cordier, of the Crystal vaudeville theatre, received a telegram yesterday that made him smile. Mr. Cordier had some trouble with a man he had singing illustrated songs and as a result of this trouble there was a vacancy in his troupe. He wired his troubles to the headquarters office in Colorado and in response he received a telegram telling that Prof. W. G. Rogers would fill the place and that Mr. Rogers was on his way to the Duke City. Mr. Rogers is a baritone singer who has traveled with some of the leading opera companies of the country. Protecting the Precious.

It suddenly occurred to an Albuquerque man the other day that his valuable driving horse was in danger of being stolen, and he forthwith telephoned an order that a padlock be sent up to his house. Later in the day he received a telegram calling him away from town. On his return home a week later, late at night, he noticed the stable door standing wide open and the misgivings of a horse thief returned with sudden force. He sprinted for the barn lot, only to find Dobbin contentedly munching alfalfa. The next morning he asked his wife about the padlock.

"Why, dear, I never thought of putting it on the barn. I thought you meant it for the coal bin."

The Knick-Knacks Went to Phoenix.
"Oh, dear, you ought to see what a lovely lot of knick-knacks I bought at an auction today, and so cheap, only $20 for all of them." She was one of Albuquerque's fair young brides who was planning a dear, cozy little home just for hubby and herself.

"Um-hum," grunted the indulgent hubby, reaching instinctively for his check book and fountain pen, and making a mental note about sending out cigars for two more months. "What did you do with them?"

"Oh, I had them all delivered at the house we rented. The people who are moving out said we could store anything we liked."

Two days later the phone in a local transfer office buzzed insistently. "Did you have some goods sent away from 'steep hundred' stent street?" came a feminine voice.

"Yep—boxed 'em all up and sent 'em off."

"Where did you deliver them please?"

"Shipped 'em to Phoenix, Ariz."

"Phoenix, Arizona—why—gracious—I'll have my husband come right down and see you."

And now hubby is wondering whether to pay $19 freight to get those dear knick-knacks back, or purchase lovely dote about struggle along until the next auction sale.

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES.

Kidney Diseases Cause Half the Common Aches and Pains of Albuquerque People.

As one weak link weakens a chain, so weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking down.

Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers from the excess of uric poison circulated in the blood.

Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills come, and there is an ever increasing tendency towards diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. There is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

York, a run started today on the State Savings bank in which Helme is the leading stockholder and director, and that the bank, availing itself of the 30 days' privilege, closed its doors. None of the other banks, it is said, are affected. They experienced no runs.

The deposits of the Helme bank are in the vicinity of $4,250,000 and the savings department about $1,250,000, the latter largely from the working people of Butte. The state has about $75,000 of state funds in the bank.

The following bulletin was posted on the door:
"Because of unusual conditions and rumors that cannot be verified but that make unusual demands by depositors and owing to the shortage of currency and our inability to secure additional currency immediately to pay the demands which may be made on us, we have taken advantage of the 30 days' privilege. All depositors will be paid in full."

FIREMAN CUTS THROAT OF ENGINEER ALLISON

Woman Cause of Trouble—
Injured Man Not Expected to Live.

The cutting of the throat of William Allison, a San Francisco engineer well known in this city, at Las Vegas Tuesday night, and the charge made that Mrs. Allison, also well known in this city, was found in the room of R. M. Sloan, a Santa Fe fireman, scantily attired, has caused considerable gossip in local railroad circles. Allison is thought to be fatally injured. R. M. Sloan, who is charged with cutting Allison's throat, is also well known in railroad circles here.

Allison Discovers Wife's Clothes.
Regarding the scandal and the fight which followed the finding of his wife in the room of Sloan by Allison, the Las Vegas Optic says:

With his head almost severed from his body, William Allison, a Santa Fe engineer, is hovering between life and death at the Las Vegas hospital. The deed was committed with a razor in the hands of R. M. Sloan, a Santa Fe fireman, at the boarding house on Railroad avenue, and was the result of the affection of Sloan for his victim's wife.

Had Misgivings.
For some time Allison had had misgivings as to his wife's conduct, and for the past week had been keeping a close watch on her. He spent all day at home yesterday, but left at night and Mrs. Allison supposed that he had gone out on his regular run. Instead, he stayed in town and, between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning, returned to his home. On entering their apartments at the rear of the hall on the second floor of the boarding house he found that his wife was gone, but enough of her wearing apparel was scattered about to assure him that she was in the house.

Sloan Used Razor.
Filled with ungovernable rage he started for Brakenman Sloan's room at the head of the stairs. He tried the door and it was locked and he then thrust his shoulder against the door and broke it open. Sloan and Allison's wife were in the room. Hardly had the engineer entered the room when Sloan sprang to the door and backed up against the dresser in the northeast corner, clad in scanty garments. The former made a rush for him and Sloan grabbed his razor which happened to be laying on the dresser. He made a vicious slash at Allison's throat and kept on playing his weapon until his victim's head was almost severed from his body.

Jets of blood spurted from the gaping wounds, drenching the walls, bed and floor. Fortunately when Allison fell, his head dropped forward and closed the main artery and although the cut extends clear around his neck and is almost to the bone, after the wounds were dressed the physicians stated that there was some hope for the man's recovery, although he is very weak from loss of blood. He is still alive and his chances are steadily growing better.

Sloan Stands Ground.
Sloan did not attempt to escape, but gave himself up to the officers and is now at the city lock-up. If his victim dies he will be charged with murder.

Mrs. Allison slipped out of the room when the fight began and went to her apartments. She and Sloan, Allison this morning, and insisted that the doctor had no right to keep a wife from her husband, although she seems to care little whether he lives or dies. She is dry-eyed, composed, and does not worry herself at all about the outcome. It is rumored that they were never married in a legal manner.

Land Lady Surprised.
Mrs. A. Smith, the landlady, was in bed with her children in the room on the first floor when the bloody assault was made and knew nothing of it until it was over. She says that she had not the least suspicion that everything was not right. She states that Allison and his wife came to her, perfect strangers, and rented two rooms for light housekeeping, and she never knew anything was amiss in the conduct of either. She says that Sloan had always behaved himself, and that his intimacy with Mrs. Allison was unknown to her.

THREE BUSINESS HOUSES WERE BURGLARIZED LAST NIGHT

Money, Revolvers, Razors and Cigars Stolen—Police Have Flight With Suspects.

Three burglaries were committed in Albuquerque last night and one of them was the very heart of the business district. The alley show window of the pawn broker's store, owned by Henry Yanow, 114 West Central avenue, was smashed in and the window display taken except a tray of old silver coins. The scene of the second robbery was the New York saloon on South Second street. The work was evidently done by the same parties as the methods used in effecting entrance were identical.

The third robbery was at the Manhattan saloon on South Second street near the postoffice.

Yanow Lost Pistols and Razors.
From the show window of the Yanow store a dozen revolvers of the Smith & Wesson, Colt, Iver Johnson and Harrington and Richardson makes were taken and besides these a valuable pair of field glasses and a number of Gillette razors. Soaped paper was used to deaden the sound of the breaking glass when the plate glass was smashed and it is evident that the burglars intended to enter the store and make a raid, but luckily the glass broke in such a manner that the opening was not large enough. The burglars took only what was within reach of their arms through the opening. The value of the property stolen from the Yanow store was about $70 and the value of the plate glass window is about $50 and was uninsured. This robbery took place at about 4 o'clock this morning, it is supposed, as a newsboy who was at the corner of First street and Central avenue at that hour claimed he heard a sound which resembled the sound of breaking glass.

New York Saloon Robbery.
At the New York saloon the burglars did a more thorough job. Here they effected entrance through the rear door, cutting the glass around the lock with a glass cutter and then placing soaped paper over the glass to deaden the sound when they smashed it. Through the opening thus made the door was unlocked and the inside and the burglars entered.

The bartender, when he came to the saloon at 6 o'clock this morning found the rear door ajar and the gambling machine of the place standing in the middle of the floor in a damaged condition. Burnt matches lay strewn about on the floor. Thirty dollars returned to the slot machine and five dollars from the cash register, which had been left unlocked. Nine boxes of cigars were stolen from the cigar case. The burglars left only four dice and a pair of dice behind. Besides these things a silver watch and two bottles of whisky were taken, together with a 44 caliber Winchester revolver which was prized very highly by P. Zito, the proprietor of the saloon. Nothing was damaged in the saloon except the slot machine and the rear door.

In four years that he has conducted the saloon, Mr. Zito has been robbed five times.

Manhattan Saloon Entered.
Still another place was entered last night by burglars, by the same parties who robbed the New York saloon and Yanow's. This is the Manhattan saloon, at South Second street between Gold and Silver avenues. The burglars gained entrance through a small window in the rear of the building and besides taking five dollars in change from the cash register, took several bottles of whisky and a number of cigars. Just how much of the stock was stolen, W. G. Mearns, the proprietor, has not yet determined.

Last night at about 10 o'clock two rough-looking men inquired of a passerby the whereabouts of the New York saloon and shortly afterward entered the place. They remained a few drinks. Mr. Zito remembers the pair distinctly and could identify them in a crowd. It is supposed that these men, who have attracted the police in the past, are a few days as being suspicious characters, may have had something to do with the robberies of last night.

Mr. Yanow also noticed two rough-looking men in front of his shoe window last night before he closed up and feels that he could recognize them if confronted with them.

Police Have Fight With Suspects.
Shortly after the burglary, Officer Rossi, who was notified, encountered two men on Central avenue in front of Yanow's place and undertook to place them under arrest. As they refused, in which the officer was badly bruised up and in which blood flowed as the stains on the sidewalk attest. After much difficulty Officer Rossi, with assistance, got the men under control and locked them up in the police station. Some cheap jewelry was found on the persons of the men arrested and also a revolver, but as yet they have not been identified as the parties supposed to be guilty of the burglaries.

GREAT PROGRESS IN CLIFTON MINES

Arizona Copper and Other Companies Are Rushing Improvements.

Clifton, Ariz., Oct. 17.—Last month the Arizona Copper company turned out 1,389 tons of Bessemer copper, which is the best tonnage made for several months, in fact since the last flood. With their smelter now in perfect condition as also other things in and around the camp, the company expects to reach its former run of 1,400 tons per month.

New Road to Mine.
The wagon road which has been in building for some weeks up the canyon to the Buman and Langerman mines, near Morenci, has been completed. The mines have not yet been worked a month, and though but 15 men are employed to do the work a shaft has been sunk to a depth of 150 feet, with very treasurable showings. In many instances small nuggets of gold have been found and frequent croppings of ruby silver are obtained.

Adjoining the Bacon & Langerman property are the claims of the Campbell brothers which, if surface showing is anything, the mine is startlingly rich in gold and silver. From a two foot ledge some ore, it is understood, assayed at as much as $1,000 to the ton.

Rich Strike in Old Camp.
Recent arrivals here from the Laura mine, at Steele Rock, usually known as the old Carlisle camp, report a rich strike on the 300 foot level, where a large body of ruby silver and silver glance ore was found. The ore carries rich in gold. The ore at the Laura, however, is high grade gold and silver and runs easy $100 to the ton. Some assays, it is said, go $500 to the ton.

The ore is shipped to the Shannon smelter. At present F. Perry is working this mine under lease, the property being controlled by H. E. Spence, who has bought an interest and controls other interests, in fact, controls the principal part of the camp, which consists of hundreds of claims.

One shaft is down 265 feet, but ore is being mined from many shafts and over ten tons per day are being handled.

May Disincorporate.
It is rumored that the Clifton Gold and Copper company has under consideration the advisability of at present disincorporating until such time as copper stocks become more active.

At a recent meeting it was found that a sufficient amount of stocks had not been disposed of to further develop the mine and as expenses have heretofore been otherwise met President B. Shannon, Vice President Hill and Director Rosecrans deemed it best to resign for the present. There are, however, some exceedingly good mines in this collection, notably the Oregon, from which recent specimens bearing large streaks of copper have been taken.

HUNTER BADLY HURT BY EXPLODING GUN.

Weapon Blew Up as He Fired at a Wild Turkey, Lacerating Man's Head and Shoulders.

Prescott, Ariz., Oct. 17.—Yesterday afternoon Dr. Southworth, Joe Archambault and Dan Genung, all of this city, were hunting at a point about twenty-two miles southeast of Williams. Here they found wild turkeys. Archambault and Southworth had each killed a turkey, when Genung raised his rifle, fired and the gun exploded. His right hand was badly lacerated, chunks of flesh were torn from it, the little finger of the left hand was taken off at the second joint and a piece of the flying gun barrel peeled the skin from one of his eyelids. He had a narrow escape from instant death. An artery in his hand was severed. Joe Archambault tore off his own shirt and bandaged up the wounds. He tied a rock above the bleeding artery to stop the flow of blood.

1860 PIONEER DEAD AT YUMA, ARIZONA.

Yuma, Ariz., Oct. 17.—Henry R. Swift, 80 years of age, a pioneer of the Yuma section, is dead here. He was active in mining pursuits and was superintendent of the Cargo Muchacho mill near the Hedgoc mines nearly fifteen years ago. As far back as 1860 he mined in the district now known as Kofa, and twenty years later in the Castle Dome mountains.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupifying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cold mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now a little late though—Coughs say "Put it on the label if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good! Hereafter for very reasonable reasons, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's label—read some in the medicine, else it must be law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

DUTCH GIRL IS MARRIED BY PROXY

She Then Sailed Over the Ocean to Meet Her Husband.

New York, Oct. 17.—To keep a promise he had made while playing in the fields of Kinderdyk, Holland, Lawrence Van Haaften married Minna Maussert, yet the husband was not present at his own wedding, he being in this country and she in their childhood home.

But married they were Oct. 3 and two days later the bride sailed for this country on the steamship Nieuw Amsterdam, which arrived yesterday.

Mrs. Van Haaften is a little woman about 22 years old. She was timid and retiring on the boat and was often seen on the deck forward, her eyes riveted on the distant horizon in the direction where she knew her husband must be.

Four weeks ago the husband sent a glove to his father, Marcus, as a sign that the father should act as proxy for the son, Oct. 3, the day the marriage ceremony was performed.

A cable message was sent to the absent bridegroom asking if he took Minna Maussert to be his lawful wife, and the one word "yes" came back during the ceremony.

This was not a requirement of the Dutch law, but it gave a romantic side to the affair.

The husband's father presided at a wedding breakfast served in the bride's house in Kinderdyk. When the couple met at the pier they laughed and cried and then reversed the order, so happy were they.

Van Haaften is a mechanical engineer. He was at work at Sault Ste. Marie, Canada, but will now go to New Mexico and start in business for himself.

He comes of a family of Dutch engineers who have made millions building bridges and dykes in Holland. His grandfather built many years ago a bridge over the Mass river between Rotterdam and Dordrecht which at that time was considered the greatest bridge in Holland.

MOTHER AND SON WOULD SHIELD EACH OTHER IN MURDER CASE

Each Willing to Plead Guilty to Killing Boy's Father in Order to Save Other's Life.

Mrs. Chas. W. Chadwick.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 17.—Out of a murder mystery of the northern Michigan pine barrens has sprung a tragedy of human hearts, a desperate struggle for supremacy between a mother's love for her only son and a boy's tender devotion to his mother.

Chas. W. Chadwick, well-to-do mill owner, the father and husband was shot down from ambush. The boy, Eugene was arrested. He pleaded guilty. The mother, overwhelmed, wrote a confession, exonerating the boy, and asserting her own guilt. Later, standing side by side before the judge, each withdrew the confession, and each pleaded not guilty.

"I will prove my mother innocent

when the time comes!" cried the boy.

Chadwick was killed recently on a lonely road not far from his home in Atlanta, Mich. Suspicion fell on his son, Eugene, 14. The marks of the boy's shoes were found near the scene of the crime.

An inquest followed. Mrs. Chadwick was kept under surveillance as a possible accessory. The second night of the inquest, when she learned of the boy's danger, she demanded ed pen and ink, and wrote a full confession. She said she wore the boy's shoes. Then she tried to kill herself, but was prevented.

"I alone am guilty," she wept. "Let me die."

It was a pitiful statement that the mother wrote in her afterward repudiated confession.

"Oh, dear heart, I never would have done it," she wrote, "if he had not been so mean to me. He has wronged me. O so much, and only God knows how I have suffered. It was the only wicked thing I ever did, me, who could not even kill a chicken. He had killed me a thousand times."

"He loaded the gun for me. You know, dear heart, I never could load a gun, and if he had not done that for me, I never could have done it."

Letter Incoherent.
The letter was wild, and frequently incoherent.

"He flew into a rage," she went on, "He had lost $75 down town. He said he was ruined. I grew so afraid so afraid, and then the wildness came in my head. He said I need not look at him. He could steal or plunder for a living. I went over the hills in a pair of shoes I took from the stairs. My little feet that I am so proud of made me able to put my shoes into them, but, O God, I thought they were his, and they were yours, my darling. He said he would finish breaking my heart before he died. I don't know how I got home. But I stood the gun in the barn, went and got the ramrod and cleaned it."

"Dear Eugene, how you must have loved me. God knows how lonely I was, and the cruel life I led. And darling, when I think how many times I have put my body between him and you and have taken blows intended for you on my head and kicks on my body, do not wonder that I am a nervous wreck, and that brooding alone has finished his work."

Dramatic Case.
On one point the authorities are satisfied: Chadwick was murdered by a member of his own family. The question to be determined now is:

"Whose hand sent a charge from his own shotgun crashing through his brain? Was it the son's? Or was the wife's?"

A dramatic scene occurred in court when mother and son were arrested. It was plain that the thought of each was to save the other.

The woman repudiated her confession with the words: "I am not guilty." There was strong emphasis on the word "I."

Turning to the boy, the justice said:

"You are charged with murdering your father."

"I am guilty," came the muttered response.

"No, you did not. I can't believe you shot him," exclaimed the mother.

"You plead guilty to murder?" continued the justice, amazed.

"No, I don't. I am not guilty," the boy declared.

And thus the matter stands, pleas of not guilty being entered in each case.

In the meantime the public prosecutor of Montmorency county is working on the theory that the boy was the principal in the crime, shooting his father to save his mother further abuse.

Nothing New Under the Sun

Solomon says there is nothing new under the sun, and Solomon is an authority. He may have done some things that were somewhat shoddy, but it has never been satisfactorily proven that he ever misrepresented.

Conceded, then, that he knew what he was talking about when he made that statement, how do you account for the queer things that bob up now and then that nobody ever saw before?

My dear Sir, they are all merely new combinations of old things. You can't even think of a really new thing. Try to think of a new animal. To save your soul, you can't help thinking of legs and eyes and teeth and tails, which are all old and well known things. Try something else.

The Albuquerque Citizen doesn't claim to have discovered something elementally new, but they have some fellows around the place who are mighty slick at hanging the old things together in new and taking ways. They'd fix you up an ad that would make even Solomon himself have some doubts about the old proverb.

It is estimated that the apple growers of San Juan county, N. M., have over 150 carloads and they sit and laugh to see the buyers falling over themselves to secure the crop.

The Roswell Western Union operator claims to be having trouble with the Santa Fe operators up and down the line. They break in on him and then leave the line open.

Tucson, Ariz., now has a police force of some size, for at a meeting of the council Mayor G. P. Slack appointed James Sullivan, Jr., E. Smith to positions on the force. These new officers make the total officers six.

From the correspondence that has passed between the secretary of the Roswell Commercial club and the general manager of the Postal Telegraph company, at New York, it is probable that the Postal system will come into Roswell before long.

J. P. McNally of Tucson, Ariz., has brought suit against Fritz Plator for $10,000 damages, alleged to have been sustained by false imprisonment. He was arrested and confined in jail six hours charged with stealing a barber chair.

The trustees of the Tempe, Ariz., normal school at a meeting held in Tempe decided to erect a new building for which plans will be drawn immediately, and which when completed will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000.

A force of laborers was put to work by the city of Tucson, Ariz., digging a trench 15 feet wide in the bed of the Santa Cruz to take care of the water when the heavy rains come again, and thereby protect the city bridge across the river on west Congress street.

The regular annual meeting of the Arizona Cattle Growers' association will be held during territorial fair week in the city of Phoenix, November 12, 13 and 14, 1907, meetings commencing at 8 o'clock each evening to give all members an opportunity to see the fair.

Business is very heavy all along the line in this valley at the present time, says a Safford, Ariz., paper. Merchants and business men report heavy sales of merchandise, hardware and other commodities. The farmers are still marketing their hay at $12.50 per ton, and their wheat and barley at unusually high prices.

Acting Territorial Auditor Adolph Lautz of Phoenix, Ariz., who formerly lived in Tucson, is soon to leave for the east, on a month's vacation, where, according to his Phoenix friends, he will go to win a bride. He has rented and furnished a residence in Phoenix and his friends there state this is conclusive evidence that he will leave the bachelor ranks.

The board of directors of the Elephant Butte Water Users' association at its regular monthly meeting in Las Cruces voted to make an assessment of 10 cents per acre on all land signed up under the association, for the purpose of defraying incidental expenses, office expenses and sending a delegation to Washington to get congress to make an appropriation of $5,000,000 as a loan to the reclamation service to construct the Elephant Butte dam.

An eleventh hour sensation was sprung at Tucson, Ariz., by the Arizona Cattle Growers' association, when it was announced that Cananea was trying to get up a rival tournament at the same time Tucson was to hold one. That Cananea was sending out offers to induce the Arizona Cattle Growers' association to come to the Mexican city instead of to Tucson. The news created great indignation and the management of the tournament at Tucson immediately barred Cananea from participating and Hermosillo, which city has been anxious to join in the fight for prizes, will be given the chance in the place of Cananea.

COLORADO COMMERCIAL ASSN. ADVERTISING ALBUQUERQUE

Next Irrigation Meeting Will be More Largely Attended Than Last One.

The work of advertising the 1908 irrigation congress, which is to meet in Albuquerque next October, has been begun in Colorado already, according to Col. D. K. B. Sellers, the real estate agent, who just returned from a business trip to Denver.

"The prospect is that the next irrigation congress will be more largely attended than the one held at Sacramento, Cal.," said the colonel this afternoon. "While in Colorado I received an invitation to make a tour of the states of Colorado and Kansas with the Colorado State Commercial association. The advertising I speak of as being done now is being done by this association. Experts on the irrigation of various products are carried on the excursion and at each stop these experts deliver lectures and hand out literature on irrigation. Each piece of this literature has on it, 'Don't fail to attend the next National Irrigation congress at Albuquerque, N. M.'"

This excursion will be on the road several weeks and will stop at several hundred cities and towns. Frank A. Gouty, president of the National Irrigation association, is on the train, seeing that the approaching congress is well advertised.

BERNALILLO COUNTY DISTRICT COURT

The trial of the case of the Territory vs. Leandro Dionisio and N. Micelli, charged with stealing $400 from an Isleta Indian named San Juan Lucero, which was begun yesterday afternoon, was continued today, but at four o'clock, the examination of witnesses had not been completed.

The defense is being conducted by Attorney W. C. Heacock and the prosecution by District Attorney Clancy. Micelli, of the defendants, is absent from the city, but the trial is being continued against his co-defendant, Dionisio, who, when put upon the stand testified to the effect that he was not present when the money is alleged to have been taken from Lucero.

The crime of which the defendants are charged was committed in February, 1907, in the saloon owned by Dionisio and Micelli on First street. Lucero had $475 in his possession which was half of an amount he had recently received from the government in settlement of a depreciation claim, and on the night of the robbery had been drinking. The money was taken while he was asleep. Four hundred dollars of this was in an envelope and when Lucero awoke this was missing, together with other money loose in his clothes.

Case Against Quintano Dismissed. Judge Ira A. Abbott this morning dismissed the case of the Territory vs. Jose D. Quintano, and ordered it stricken from the docket. The defendant was charged with assaulting his wife and the case has been tried once, but the jury disagreed. It has since been learned that the husband and wife have become reconciled and in view of this the case was dismissed.
