CHAIRMAN M'COMBS HOLDS IMPORTANT CONFERENCES IN WASHINGTON

Head of National Democratic Committee Spends Busy Two Days in Capital Sounding Sentiment.

GETS INFORMATION FOR PRESIDENT-ELECT WILSON

Inaugural Committee Personnel Receives Much Consideration, But Membership Is Not Announced.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

Washington, Dec. 9.—Two days of conference between Chairman W. E. McCombs, of the democratic national committee, and party leaders in and out of congress, ended late today when Mr. McCombs left for New York. He said he would make public tomorrow the name of the chairman of the committee, which will have charge of preparations for the display connected with President-elect Wilson's inauguration. Mr. McCombs lunched today with Charles D. Hilbert, President Taft's secretary and chief of the republican national committee, and later conferred at the capital with Speaker Clark, Representative Oscar W. Underwood, Senators Stone and Gore and other democrats.

While it was stated that the conference concerned inauguration plans, it is understood general political matters were touched upon. Since his arrival in Washington Saturday, Mr. McCombs has met democratic leaders from many states, including former National Committeeman Roger Sullivan, of Illinois; Josephus Daniels, of North Carolina; W. W. Gilmer, of Missouri; former Governor D. R. Francis, of Missouri; Treasurer Rolla Wells, of the national committee; Thomas M. Honan, attorney general of Indiana, and many members of the senate and house.

Cabinet speculation followed Mr. McCombs about the capital yesterday and today but the democratic chairman said tonight that his visit to Washington had not been to sound democratic leaders, either as to cabinet appointments or prospective legislation in the next congress. In the dozen or more informal conferences, Mr. McCombs has had, however, both subjects have been touched upon and as a result Mr. McCombs is prepared to give President-elect Wilson valuable information as to the opinion of democratic leaders.

The conference with Speaker Clark and Leader Underwood took place in the speaker's office. The three men were together for a half hour, the inaugural committee selections being under consideration, most of that time. It is believed that of the several candidates for chairman in the inaugural committee Eldridge E. Jordan, of Washington, is most likely of appointment, while Walter W. Vicks, of New Jersey, may be the secretary and William Edwards, street commissioner of New York, the grand marshal.

9 MINERS PERISH WHEN AVALANCHE WRECKS CAMP

Huge Slide Near Cordova, Alaska, Carries Away Seven Buildings and Buries Eleven Men, Three of Whom Escape

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

Cordova, Alaska, Dec. 9.—Nine men are believed to have been killed today when a snowslide on Copper mountain carried away seven buildings of the Great Northern Development Company. Eleven men were buried under the avalanche and only three have been taken out alive. Three are known to be dead and no hope is entertained for six others.

The bodies of John Hart, James McGaver and Frank Wahles have been recovered. The mine, which is a copper property, is owned by the Great Northern Development Company of New York. E. P. Gray, its manager, is now in that city.

TURKEY ANNOUNCES ITS PEACE DELEGATES

Constantinople, Dec. 9.—Official announcement was made tonight that Beha Bey, minister of marine; Rechad Pasha, minister of agriculture; and Osman Nizami Pasha, ambassador to Germany, had been appointed plenipotentiaries to the peace conference which will begin at London, December 15th. The delegates will start for London tomorrow.

TOBACCO TRUST IS AFTER THE CONSUMER

New York, Dec. 9.—"The consumer is the man I am after." These words were attributed to James B. Duke, the tobacco magnate, by Albert H. Hillman, a tobacco jobber, who was a witness today in the $300,000 damage suit brought by John E. Locker, of Brooklyn, against the American Tobacco Company, which is being tried in the federal court here.

Hillman said he protested that jobbers could not stand an advance in prices and Duke replied: "Raise your price to the retailer. Let the retailer raise his price to the consumer. The consumer is the man I am after. If the retailers won't raise prices we will, and have retail stores of our own."

JAIL BREAKER IS CAUGHT AT CLAYTON

Brighton, Colo., Dec. 9.—James Stinson, the alleged horse-thief who, with Frank L. Smith, self-confessed slayer of Detective Jesse Stingley, escaped from the jail here on November 27th, has been captured at Clayton, N. M., according to a dispatch to Sheriff Schlobo late today. The sheriff expects to leave tonight to bring the prisoner back.

EX-SENATOR JONES LEFT VAST FORTUNE

Los Angeles, Dec. 9.—Roy Jones, of Santa Monica, Cal., petitioned the superior court today for letters of administration for the estate of his father, John B. Jones, formerly United States senator from Nevada, who died in Los Angeles two weeks ago, leaving no will. The estate is valued at $2,000,000.

ARCHBALD SHOWN TO HAVE PLAYED PART IN DEAL

Damaging Evidence Given by Government Expert in the Impeachment Proceedings Against Federal Jurist.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

Washington, Dec. 9.—James H. Rittenhouse, of Scranton, Pa., an expert mining engineer, who surveyed the Katvild culm dump in the office of the director of the department of justice, testified today in the impeachment trial of Judge Archbald, of the commerce court, that the Erie railroad could have secured $35,000 for the coal out of the refuse instead of the $4,500 for which they agreed to give an option to E. J. Williams, the business associate of Judge Archbald.

Mr. Rittenhouse said he had been employed by Brown without knowing whom the latter represented, or that his work was in connection with a government investigation. The testimony of the mining engineer was introduced by the house managers in an effort to show that through Judge Archbald's influence, E. J. Williams had secured the option of $4,500 for the Erie's share of the dump, where the real value of the property to the railroad was much greater. The positive statement that he had been offered an option to purchase an interest in the Katvild culm dump by E. J. Williams, in the office of Judge Archbald, at Scranton, several days after Judge Archbald had informed him that Williams had no authority to sell, was made by Thomas H. Jones, of Scranton.

The statement was brought out during the cross-examination by Representative Webb, of North Carolina, on the part of the house committee. A witness said that Williams had offered to sell his interest in the dump for $25,000 and accompanied him to the office of Judge Archbald. There, said Mr. Jones, Judge Archbald told him that Williams had no right to sell any part of the culm dump.

"Several days later," said Mr. Jones, "I went to Judge Archbald's office and there an option was given me to purchase Williams' interest for $25,000."

"Did you think Judge Archbald drew that option?" asked Representative Webb.

"I did," replied Jones.

"And several days before that the judge told you Williams had no title to the dump?"

"Yes."

IRISH CROWN JEWELS SECRETLY RETURNED

London, Dec. 9.—A rumor is current in London that the Irish crown jewels, which were mysteriously stolen from Dublin castle in 1907, have been as mysteriously replaced intact in their original positions. It has been impossible to corroborate the report. The jewels stolen were those used in the ceremony of investiture in the Order of St. Patrick, the processional cross studded with diamonds and the jeweled sword, valued in all at $250,000.

Sir Arthur Edward Vickers was the custodian of the jewels, but he refused to appear before a commission which was appointed to investigate the affair and was dismissed as "lister king of arms."

WILSON FORCED TO DECLINE SCORES OF INVITATIONS FOR SPEECHES

President-Elect Finds That Being Governor and Preparing to Be President is Somewhat Strenuous.

TO FILL ENGAGEMENTS MADE BEFORE ELECTION

Admits He Has Been Thinking of Cabinet Selections, But Declares He Has Formed No Conclusions.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

Hamilton, Bermuda, Dec. 5.—Being governor of a state and preparing to be president of a nation both at the same time is sufficient to keep any man busy, remarked President-elect Wilson today when he announced that he positively would make no more speaking engagements before March 4th. Every mail has brought him scores of invitations, but all have been declined. The president-elect accepted three invitations long before he was elected, and these three he will keep. He will speak before the Southern Society of New York, December 17th; at the jubilee celebration at his birthplace, Staunton, Va., on his birthday, December 28th, and at the banquet of the Commercial Club of Chicago, January 11th.

Mr. Wilson has entered upon his final week in Bermuda with a zest for work born of three solid weeks of recreation. He now practically has ended his vacation and intends henceforth to work most of each day on political problems. Asked what his plans would be immediately after his return to New York, the governor said:

"I really haven't any plans. Most of the men with whom I shall consult were so considerate that they did not write me, and I am ignorant of their plans also."

Mr. Wilson added that the date or place for a conference with William Jennings Bryan had not been fixed.

"I simply wrote Mr. Bryan," said that governor, "that I wanted to meet and talk with him after my return."

As to the personnel of his cabinet, the president-elect admitted that much of his mail contained letters, commendatory of various persons.

"Of course, selections have been running through my head," he added, "but I have formed no conclusions."

"Do you think you will make your cabinet before leaving Bermuda?" asked one of the correspondents.

"If I do," he replied, "I will have to make it out of hard cedar, because that's the only cabinet material I can see here."

The governor leaves Saturday morning and is due in New York on Monday, December 16th. He intends to go directly to Princeton.

"I want to help Mr. Wilson unpack," he said, "and get household things settled again."

Troops Return to Station.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 9.—Troops A, B, C and D, comprising the first squadron of the Third cavalry, which have been on the border since February, returned today to their station at Fort Sam Houston, at San Antonio.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

CONVENE AT NOON.
Senator Overman introduced joint resolution authorizing a joint inauguration committee of six members.

Judiciary committee considered President Taft's judicial appointment, but took no formal action. Republican members received definite information that democrats of senate would probably try to hold up many appointments in southern states.

Senator Weeks spoke advocating his resolution for a single six-year presidential term.

President Taft transmitted report of economy and efficiency commission recommending radical changes in present office procedure.

Trial of Judge Archbald resumed. Adjourned at 6:04 p. m., until noon Tuesday.

HOUSE.
Resumed consideration of legislative, executive and financial appropriation bill.

Democratic members of the ways and means committee conferred on plans for tariff revision at special session.

Banking and currency sub-committee resumed hearing in "money trust" investigation. Chairman Pujo making statement regarding reports as to committee's intention.

Representative Allen introduced resolution proposing a general investigation of the canning industry.

Representative Lindberg introduced resolution to require each senator and representative to file statement showing his pecuniary interest in any banking, loaning or brokerage business.

Passed legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill carrying $34,500,582. An effort to insert a commerce court provision failed.

Adjourned at 5:18 p. m., until noon Tuesday.

EXPRESS MESSENGER ON SUNSET WESTERN ROBBED OF SMALL FORTUNE CONSIGNED TO BANK AT TAFT, CALIFORNIA.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Bakersfield, Cal., Dec. 9.—Twenty thousand dollars in gold was the haul of two robbers who held up the express car of the Sunset Western train, bound from Bakersfield for Taft, Cal., tonight. The money was consigned to the First National bank of Taft by the First National bank of Bakersfield. It was not placed in the express safe.

When the train arrived at Taft, railroad men were forced to break down the door of the express car. In a corner, covered with mail sacks, was M. W. Hamby, the express messenger, who was just retaining consciousness. Hamby was injured about the head, but physicians who examined him declared that he was apparently not seriously hurt. Hamby could provide but few details of the robbery. He said that two men entered the car just as the train was leaving Bakersfield. He did not know whether they were masked and was unable to tell how he was rendered unconscious.

He said he was just recovering consciousness as the train entered Taft, about half an hour after the robbery. He appeared to be still suffering from the effects of the blow and was incoherent. He could give no description of the robbers.

Officials of the First National bank here, confirmed the fact that $20,000 had been shipped to Taft and that they had been notified of the theft of the gold. The Sunset Western is a branch of the Santa Fe, which runs to the Midway Oil fields. The train left here tonight at 6 o'clock and the robbery occurred between 8:30 o'clock and 9 o'clock. There are not stops between Bakersfield and Taft, so that the robbers must have dropped from the train while it was going.

Several posers left here for the scene of the robbery and others are searching in the vicinity of Bakersfield and Taft.

STANDARD OIL AIDED MADERO REVOLUTION

Mexico City, Dec. 9.—That the Standard Oil Company aided the Madero revolution, was the charge made by Gonzales Garza, in a speech in the chamber of deputies tonight. Garza was secretary to Madero at the time of the revolution and later was provincial minister of the interior. The deputies in executive session were debating a resolution for the impeachment of the president of the lower house of congress and Deputy Gonzales Garza spoke in opposition to the resolution. He declared that Gustavo Madero, brother of the president, went to New York, to confer with H. Clay Pierce, who, he alleged, acting for his company, offered 4,000,000 pesos. The leader of the revolution, however, when the proposition was submitted to him, rejected it on account of the terms imposed.

Gonzales Garza added that although the Pierce offer was refused, the Standard Oil Company later contributed aid.

Impeachment proceedings which were the result of a threat by the president of the lower house to try before the grand jury, deputies willfully breaking a quorum, was defeated.

PIONEER JURIST OF COLORADO DEAD

Del Norte, Colo., Dec. 9.—Judge John D. Haffey, who came to Colorado in 1873, died here today. In the early days he was county judge of Rio Grande county. For the last thirty years he had been district clerk. Judge Haffey was 67 years old and is survived by his widow.

DEMOCRATS DECIDE ON REVISION OF THE TARIFF BY PIECEMEAL

Beginning January 6th, Hearings Will Begin on Various Schedules With View to an Early Conclusion.

ARTICLES WILL COME UP IN THEIR ORDER

Beginning With Chemicals, Oils and Paints, Consideration Will Proceed Down List to General Sundries.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

Washington, Dec. 9.—Thorough revision, schedule by schedule, of the present tariff by the next congress was indicated by the decision of the democratic members of the house ways and means committee today to have hearings on the tariff every Monday, Wednesday and Friday in January, beginning January 6th. One day will be devoted to each schedule, though if necessary in any case, not exceeding two days will be allowed. There are fourteen schedules, but by making two or three of the minor schedules with the important schedules, the committee expects to get through by the end of January. The schedules will be considered in their regular sequence in the present tariff law.

The first hearing, on January 6th, will be on Schedule A, fixing the duties on chemicals, oils and paints, including medicinal preparations containing alcohol or in whose preparation alcohol is used, perfumery, medicated soaps, etc. Then will follow, on January 8th, the hearing on the earthenware and glassware schedule, including tiles, china, porcelain, crockery, spectacles, marble and onyx, grindstones, etc. The sequence of the other schedules in this Monday, Wednesday and Friday program follows:

Schedule G, metals and manufactures of iron, steel and manufactures of copper, brass and manufactures of aluminum, tin and manufactures of nickel, silver and manufactures of gold, platinum and manufactures of other precious metals, and manufactures of other metals.

Whether there shall be a general bill or separate bills dealing individually with the various schedules, was left to be decided by the committee members in the new congress.

NEW TRAFFIC HEAD FOR GOULD SYSTEM

Davenport, Dec. 9.—Vice President E. L. Brown, of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, arrived here today from New York, where he attended a meeting of the directors of all the Gould lines, and announced that J. M. Johnson, vice president of the Missouri Pacific, had been appointed director of traffic of all the Gould lines west of the Mississippi. A general traffic director is a new departure for the system, and is following the example set by the late E. H. Harriman, who was the first to put the traffic interests of his lines under one head.

FRAUD IS CHARGED IN CEMENT STOCK SELLING SCHEME

Federal Grand Jury at Chicago Indicts Former Officials of Empire Company for Using Mails to Defraud.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Chicago, Dec. 9.—Four former officers of the Empire Portland Cement Company, with offices in Chicago and Cincinnati, have been indicted by the federal grand jury here, it was made known today on charges of using the mails to defraud.

Throughout the country have lost some aggregating $125,000, according to the charges. The defendants named are Arthur G. Marshall, of New York; Albert H. Marshall, of Chicago; Harry W. Williams, of Sheboygan, Wis.; Albert T. Kirk, of St. Paul, Minn.

The indictment reads that the Empire Portland Cement Company was incorporated in South Dakota in 1910, with an authorized capital of $2,200,000. It is charged that the defendants professed to have large plants at Portsmouth, O., and Menominee, Mich., and sold stock to cement dealers with an agreement that cement of equal value would be given as a bonus with purchases of preferred stock. No cement was delivered on the contracts, it is charged.

NATIONAL COMPANY GUILTY OF VIOLENCE

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 9.—Three witnesses were on the stand today in the trial of President John H. Patterson, and the twenty-nine other officials or former officials of the National Cash Register Company, charged with criminal violation of the Sherman anti-trust act. J. R. Waller testified that he has been threatened by George W. Walker, a National salesman and that he had pictures of windows in which Hollywood machines were exhibited with signs advertising them as "junk."

These, he said, were National Cash register windows.

H. S. Nathan, a merchant of Los Angeles, testified that he purchased an American register in 1911 and that National salesman called on him the next two succeeding days and pleaded with him to buy a National.

When he refused they offered to duplicate the American machine he had purchased for $10. He said he paid $185 for it.

B. M. Broomhall, a former salesman for the Hollywood Company, in Los Angeles, said he had been followed and attacked by National salesmen in Los Angeles, and that the men struck him and tore his clothing.

ALLEGED CONFESSION TO BE INVESTIGATED

Atchison, Kan., Dec. 9.—Preparations were made today for an investigation of the alleged confession at San Francisco last week of John Derr, an apprentice seaman in the United States navy, that he killed William Harkis, a wealthy reclusive, whose dead body was found near here three years ago. The authorities say the body of Harkis will be exhumed at once and an examination made to learn whether Harkis met with a violent death.

RUSSIA PREPARES TO CALL AUSTRIA'S BLUFF

St. Petersburg, Dec. 9.—Russia's attitude with respect to the Balkan situation has not been changed by the apparently serious military preparations of Austria. The imperial German chancellor's pointed speech in the Reichstag and the renewal of the triple alliance. It is pointed out that, while making due allowance for legitimate measures on the part of the cabinet at Vienna, Russia is bound to safeguard her own interests and prestige. It is further urged that Russia cannot disavow what she never claimed and that she had already done her utmost to restrain the Serbians.

"GETS-IT" is the new corn cure that will surely remove the corns from your feet. It is so simple, painless, quick and sure in its action. It is applied to the corn, softens it, causes it to bubble, separates them from the true flesh, the corn comes off, and there you are, with feet that feel positively glorious, corn-free once more as they used to be in your bare feet.
The most remarkable feature is that "GETS-IT" does not burn or turn red the healthy flesh as other preparations do. It is as safe as water. No more painful, painful corns.

He urged that campaign contributions be made only by the state or nation, declaring that "large campaign funds, however raised, are a dangerous menace to the free institutions of the country."

"The advocacy by the incumbent of his own re-election in the late campaign led to the most shameful campaign of corruption and retribution between the president and ex-president that this country has ever witnessed," Senator Works continued. "Both of those candidates were overwhelmingly defeated. They both deserved defeat for this reason: If for no other, the conduct of Roosevelt was particularly reprehensible. His vicious assaults on the president made it imperative for the latter, in his estimation and that of his friends, to meet on the stump the charges made against him."

"It was a fatal mistake, it lost him the respect and good will of many good people. He put himself on a level with his detractor and thus lowered his dignity and that of his office to no purpose. (By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Washington, Dec. 9.—Great Britain's formal note of protest against that section of the Panama canal act, which exempts American coastwise shipping from payment of tolls for passing through the Panama canal, a document written by Earl Grey, British minister of foreign affairs, was presented to Secretary Knox tonight by the British ambassador, James Bryce, who read the note word for word to the secretary at the latter's home. It is an elaboration of the points of objection in the note presented to the state department last July.

Brief, these objections are:

"That while it is clearly in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, either to permit or refund tolls on all American shipping using the canal, the same objection probably would apply to coastwise trade shipping in view of the probable impossibility of framing regulations that would not result in a preference to American shipping."

In addition to supporting these points by long arguments, Earl Grey indicates clearly that strong resistance will be offered to any attempt to exclude from the canal British ships owned by Canadian railroads or whose owners may be guilty of violating the Sherman anti-trust act. He holds that this section of the act cannot apply to British shipping, but only to United States vessels. He indicates that underlying the objection to the exemption of toll of American coastwise ships is an apprehension that in the future, the principle might be extended to cover American ships in the foreign trade.

Otherwise the note is devoted entirely to an effort to demonstrate that any such exemption of American shipping as is proposed is in direct conflict with the terms of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and that President Taft was clearly wrong when he took the contrary view.

The British note might be summed up as a definition of the differences between the two governments regarding the construction of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, winding up a long issue that has been settled by arbitration if they cannot be adjusted by mutual agreement for which a way remains open.

Secretary Knox listened attentively to the reading of the note and promised to take the matter under consideration, which he felt would require some time. It has been strongly intimated in official circles that it was the president's intention, to settle this important question before closing his administration, either by recommending to the senate agreement to submit it to arbitration, or preferably by the more direct means of an agreement between the two nations.

Earl Grey begins his note with the statement that the president does not fully appreciate the British point of view and his misapprehension of the note of July 8th. He says it is not the case that the British government seeks to prevent the United States from granting subsidies to its own shipping passing through the canal nor does it seek to deprive the United States of any liberty which is open either to themselves or any other nation to encourage its own shipping or own commerce by subsidies. The purpose of the United States in negotiating the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was to recover their freedom of action and obtain the right which they had surrendered in the Clayton-Bulwer treaty to construct the canal themselves. But this complete liberty of action was to be limited by the maintenance of the complete principle of equal treatment for both English and United States ships.

The word "neutralization" in the preamble of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty is not confined to belligerent operations, but refers to the system of equal rights for which Article 8 provides. Joint protection and equal treatment are the only matters allowed to, to which neutralization must refer.

"It certainly was not the intention of the United States government," says Earl Grey, "that any responsibility for the protection of the canal should attach to them in the future. Neutralization, therefore, must refer to the system of equal rights."

The note declares that the situation created by the substitution of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty for the Clayton-Bulwer treaty was identical with that resulting from the boundary waters treaty of 1904 between Great Britain and the United States, which, in brief, provided that the boundary waters should be free and open to commerce, "applying equally and without discrimination to the inhabitants, ships, vessels and boats of both countries." "But all such rules and regulations, all tolls charged, shall apply alike to the subjects or citizens of the high contracting parties and they shall be placed on terms of equality in the use thereof."

It is also asserted that a similar, though more restricted provision appeared in the treaty of Washington, and it is recalled "how strenuously the United States protested, as a violation of equal rights against the system which Canada had introduced of a rebate of a large portion of the tolls of certain freights on the Welland canal and how, in the face of that protest, the system was abandoned."

Referring to the third article of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, the note points out that the Suez canal rules which the treaty adopts for the Panama canal, is that the waterway shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and war of all nations observing the rules on terms of entire equality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any such nation. It is said that the president's statement of the case is wholly at variance with the real provisions of the treaty. "All nations," he treats the words, "all nations," as excluding the United States because it had constructed the canal on its own territory and thereby acquired an absolute right of ownership, including the right to allow its own commerce the use of the canal upon such terms as it saw fit.

"They (the British government) consider," says Earl Grey, "that by the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, the United States had surrendered the right to construct the canal and that by the Hay-Pauncefote treaty they recognized that right on the footing that the canal should be open to British and United States vessels on terms of equal treatment. * * * If the rules set out in the Hay-Pauncefote treaty secure to Great Britain no more than a most favored nation treaty, the value of the consideration given for superseding the Clayton-Bulwer treaty is not apparent to his majesty's government. Nor is it easy to see in what way the provisions of Article VIII of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, which provides for equal treatment of British and United States ships has been maintained."

The argument advanced in the United States senate that the words, "all nations," cannot include the United States, which would, otherwise, be prevented from using its own territory for re-voicing its warships or landing troops, is briefly dismissed by the statement that it is completely overturned by a reading of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty in connection with the Suez canal conventions. As the United States did not own the canal when the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was made, it did not include the Suez canal rules, which recognized the right of Turkey, the local sovereign, and of Egypt, to take such measures as might be necessary for the defense of her possessions.

Sir Edward Grey continues:

"Now that the United States has become the practical sovereign of the canal, his majesty's government must not question its title to exercise belligerent rights for its protection."

The next point made is that the exemption of American coastwise shipping from tolls would violate the understanding that the tolls should "be just and equitable," unless the whole volume of shipping passing through the canal is taken in account, there are no means of determining whether the tolls charged upon any particular vessel represents her fair proportion of the current expenditure, properly chargeable against the canal. There is no guarantee that the vessels upon which tolls are being levied are not being made to bear more than their fair share of the upkeep. Therefore, the British shipping, like all vessels passing through the canal, whatever their flag or character, shall be taken into account in fixing the amount of the tolls."

Regarding the president's contention that the effect of the British claim would be to prevent the United States from aiding its own commerce in a way that all nations would do, it is said that this is not so. Equal

Washington, Dec. 9.—Great Britain's formal note of protest against that section of the Panama canal act, which exempts American coastwise shipping from payment of tolls for passing through the Panama canal, a document written by Earl Grey, British minister of foreign affairs, was presented to Secretary Knox tonight by the British ambassador, James Bryce, who read the note word for word to the secretary at the latter's home. He indicates that underlying the objection to the exemption of toll of American coastwise ships is an apprehension that in the future, the principle might be extended to cover American ships in the foreign trade.

Otherwise the note is devoted entirely to an effort to demonstrate that any such exemption of American shipping as is proposed is in direct conflict with the terms of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and that President Taft was clearly wrong when he took the contrary view.

The British note might be summed up as a definition of the differences between the two governments regarding the construction of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, winding up a long issue that has been settled by arbitration if they cannot be adjusted by mutual agreement for which a way remains open.

Secretary Knox listened attentively to the reading of the note and promised to take the matter under consideration, which he felt would require some time. It has been strongly intimated in official circles that it was the president's intention, to settle this important question before closing his administration, either by recommending to the senate agreement to submit it to arbitration, or preferably by the more direct means of an agreement between the two nations.

Earl Grey begins his note with the statement that the president does not fully appreciate the British point of view and his misapprehension of the note of July 8th. He says it is not the case that the British government seeks to prevent the United States from granting subsidies to its own shipping passing through the canal nor does it seek to deprive the United States of any liberty which is open either to themselves or any other nation to encourage its own shipping or own commerce by subsidies. The purpose of the United States in negotiating the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was to recover their freedom of action and obtain the right which they had surrendered in the Clayton-Bulwer treaty to construct the canal themselves. But this complete liberty of action was to be limited by the maintenance of the complete principle of equal treatment for both English and United States ships.

"Now that the United States has become the practical sovereign of the canal, his majesty's government must not question its title to exercise belligerent rights for its protection."

The next point made is that the exemption of American coastwise shipping from tolls would violate the understanding that the tolls should "be just and equitable," unless the whole volume of shipping passing through the canal is taken in account, there are no means of determining whether the tolls charged upon any particular vessel represents her fair proportion of the current expenditure, properly chargeable against the canal. There is no guarantee that the vessels upon which tolls are being levied are not being made to bear more than their fair share of the upkeep. Therefore, the British shipping, like all vessels passing through the canal, whatever their flag or character, shall be taken into account in fixing the amount of the tolls."

Regarding the president's contention that the effect of the British claim would be to prevent the United States from aiding its own commerce in a way that all nations would do, it is said that this is not so. Equal treatment as specified in the treaty is what the British government claims. But it does not follow that the United States may not be debarred by the treaty from granting a subsidy to certain shipping or other foreign shipping an unfair share of the burden of the upkeep of the canal, or to create a discrimination of prejudice by shipping rights.

Therefore, it is held, that the exemption of the American coastwise shipping as well as of Panama ships clearly conflicts with the treaty guarantees of equal treatment for British and American ships and that the interests of foreign nations would thereby be seriously injured in two respects. First, in placing the entire cost of the building of the canal upon foreign vessels and second in placing the American coastwise trade in a preferential position as regards other shipping. Thus, it might be that a cargo intended for a United States port beyond the canal in either direction shipped on a foreign ship should be sent to its destination more cheaply by being landed at a United States port before reaching the canal and thence forwarded as coastwise trade.

American vessels may also combine foreign commerce with coastwise trade, thereby entering into direct competition with foreign vessels while they retained the right of free passage through the canal. These results would fall more severely on British shipping than on any other. The British government does not read the section of the Panama canal act prohibiting railroad-owned or trust-owned ships from using the canal as applying to or affecting British ships but it is said that if this view is mistaken, "they must reserve their right to examine the matter further and to raise such contentions as may seem justified."

In conclusion, Sir Edward Grey, reiterates his government's assertion that the provisions of the canal act were in conflict with British treaty rights and adds:

"But they recognize that many persons of note in the United States whose opinions are entitled to great weight, hold that the provisions of the act do not infringe the conventional obligations by which the United States is bound, and under these circumstances, they desire to state their perfect readiness to submit the question to arbitration, if the government of the United States would prefer to take this course. A reference to arbitration would be rendered unnecessary if the government of the United States should be prepared to take such steps as would remove the objections to the act, which his majesty's government has stated."

Finally, Sir Edward Grey declares, it is with great reluctance that those objections have been raised, that they have been confined to the narrowest possible limits, had recognized in the fullest manner, the right of the United States to control the canal and that the British government looked with confidence to the United States not to impair the safeguards granted to British shipping by treaty.

SENATE RULE MAY HAVE BEEN VIOLATED

Washington, Dec. 9.—Whether a British private citizen, honored with the thanks of congress and a congressional medal has a right to go on the floor of the United States senate chamber, is a question which gave the officials of that body some busy moments today. Captain Arthur S. Rostron, rescuer of 700 survivors from the Titanic, came into the senate under the escort of Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, and spent some time meeting members of that body. Officials of the senate tonight had not determined whether he was entitled to the privilege of the floor.

UNARMED MOSLEMS

The massacres, he avers, were accompanied by indescribable tortures and indignities.

TONIGHT! TAKE A

"CASCARET" SURE

No Sick Headache, Biliousness, Stomach, Constipated Bowels by Morning.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, the biliousness, the indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse and regulate your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love to take Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

SPORTS

LIGHTWEIGHTS ARE TRAINING FOR THEIR BOUT

Eddie Johnson and Phil Kearney Down to Hard Work for Battle at Pueblo on December Sixteenth.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Pueblo, Colo., Dec. 9.—Kid of the name of making weight, Eddie Johnson, the local lightweight, is busily engaged in preparing himself for his coming battle with Phil Kearney, of Denver. The bout will be staged at the Pueblo Athletic club on the night of December 16th, and the first of the season's hostilities is expected to produce one of the largest crowds that ever assembled in the hall.

In Johnson and Kearney, the Pueblo Athletic club is sending together two slugging scrappers, who hit hard and know the fine points of the game as well, and consequently an interesting entertainment is being confidently looked forward to. They have never met in the ring, and there is really an opportunity for the dopesters to get a line on the respective merits of the boys, but each has vanquished some of the most aspiring lightweights in the state and the outcome of the mill will be looked forward to with no little interest.

Kearney is a tall, lanky youth, who has had plenty of ring experience and who at one time gave promise of being one of the best lightweights Colorado has produced, having Young Corbett, the fact that he has a lucrative position in Denver has kept him out of the ring most of the time during the past couple of years, and he has devoted but little of his attention to the requisites of Queensberry game, as a result.

Johnson is a smaller, more compact fighter, and he declares that he is at his best when he is light, however, and he declares that he is older and as well as when he tipped the scales at less than 131 at Alamosa, when he met Bud Boyd.

Kearney, with his manager, Bert Somers, has arrived in the city to complete the training process. The favorite is quartered at the Second Class gymnasium, where he will do his conditioning, with Johnson working out daily at the Pueblo Athletic club.

Lovers of the fist game here are hungry for something in the line of a fight, and it is likely that there will be an exceptionally large crowd present on the night of December 16th, when the two boys shake hands and make ready for the encounter. It is promised that there will be a good program of preliminaries.

KILBANE RESTORES EYESIGHT OF MONTE ATTELL WITH BLOW

Cleveland, Dec. 9.—It isn't often that a fighter feels happy after being damaged on the head until he is unable to continue, but Monte Attell, who fought Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, at the Tuxedo club Tuesday night, is an exception. Monte was stopped in nine rounds by Kilbane, but instead of feeling downcast, he returned to Pittsburgh, the U. S. Heavyweight champion, and informed him that he was happy as could be. Monte took a hard beating at Kilbane's hands, but in doing so he regained the sight of an eye which has been out of business for a long time.

Two years ago, when Attell was fighting on the coast he was hit in the right eye and a cataract formed. He had been unable to see out of the eye since. On Tuesday night, however, Kilbane caught Monte a hard blow on the ear, so hard was the punch that it caused the cataract to break. At Pittsburgh, special eye examination was made, and it was found that the eye was in good shape. Monte was informed that within a few days Monte would be able to see out of the eye. This is the cause of Monte's happiness.

BRUSH LEAVES HIS FORTUNE IN TRUST FOR HIS FAMILY

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 9.—The will of John T. Brush, late owner of the New York National, disposing of an estate estimated to be worth $1,200,000, was filed today. The greater part of the Brush holdings, including the ball club, is made a trust estate and given into the care of Harry N. Hempstead, of Indianapolis, a son-in-law, and Ashley Lloyd, of Cincinnati. Two, as trustees of the estate, may retain the holdings as long as profitable, or they may dispose of them at any time, and the proceeds are to go to the family of Mrs. Brush, the widow, and two daughters.

BRESNAHAN CLAIM WILL BE SETTLED BY ARBITRATION

National League Directors in Session at New York, Decide on This Procedure as Best Solution of Dispute.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) New York, Dec. 9.—The claim of Roger Bresnahan against the St. Louis Nationals for alleged breach of contract probably will be settled by an arbitration committee in St. Louis. This was the tentative decision of the board of directors of the National League today. Bresnahan and his attorneys appeared before the board and presented the claim.

At the meeting of the board tomorrow definite plans will be adopted, but it is said that in all probability the case will be settled by an arbitration committee in St. Louis, which, under the Missouri laws, would have power to subpoena witnesses and render a decision binding on all parties.

Before hearing the Bresnahan claim, the directors decided that they had jurisdiction over such cases arising between club owners and players, and when the arbitration plan is finally adopted tomorrow it will have the approval of the board and its hearings will be had under its sanction. The directors officially awarded the pennant for the 1912 season to the New York club.

The claim of Umpire Charles Rigler for $2,200 against the Philadelphia club for services in signing Fletcher "Doc" Fox, the directors are expected to go on record as opposed to umpires acting as scouts for club managers in obtaining players. The claim of Rigler was placed on file.

Cornelius J. Sullivan, a director of the New York club, was seated as a member of the board in the place of the late John T. Brush. Other members of the board present were Herrmann, of Cincinnati; Ebbetts, of Brooklyn; Dreyfus, of Pittsburgh; and Murphy, of Chicago.

After the directors' meeting tomorrow the National League managers will begin their annual meeting. It is expected the first business transacted will be a settlement of the claim of August Herrmann, of Cincinnati, to Joe Tinker, the shortstop of the Chicago club, in exchange for several other players.

BICYCLE RIDERS GAINING RAPIDLY ON PREVIOUS RECORD

New York, Dec. 9.—Gaining further on the record in each successive hour, the bicycle riders who started at midnight last night in the annual six-day race were nearly ten miles ahead of the best previous performance when the twenty-third hour score was posted at 11 o'clock tonight. All the original fifteen teams were intact and each was credited with 512 miles and 6 laps.

The previous record for twenty-three hours was 502 miles and 9 laps. The day was one of a grind without any serious accident. The close of the twenty-third hour tonight, however, saw Jimmy Moran, the partner of Frank Kramer, start an exciting sprint which lasted eight minutes.

He led the riders such a terrific pace that practically every man on the track, called upon his partner for relief and some riders changed three or four times. The sprint ended when Fogler and Carman were the victims of a spill on the fourth avenue turn. Neither was hurt and the race was resumed with Moran leading.

Outcome of Tonight's Twenty-Round Fight at Vernon Between Heavyweights Means Much to Each.

FLYNN FAVORITE ON EVE OF BIG BATTLE.
Los Angeles, Dec. 9.—A flood of Flynn money was turned loose today and the Pueblo fireman, who a few days ago, was a short-ender in the betting on his fight with Luther McCarty, by tomorrow night, became a 10 to 8 favorite. It was announced that the fireman weighed 187½, and would go into the ring at 190. As McCarty is expected to weigh between 202 and 205, the weight handicap against Flynn will not be as heavy as at first thought.

DECLINES FEATURE MONDAY'S TRADING ON WALL STREET

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) New York, Dec. 9.—The market prices of stocks in all classes for several months were recorded today. The selling movement, which was checked temporarily late last week, was resumed today with increased vigor and some of the severest losses of the present decline were inflicted. United Pacific sold down 5 points to 162½; Reading, 4½ to 164½; Steel, 3½ to 63½; Amalgamated Copper, 3½ to 76½; and American Smelting, 3½ to 69½.

Losses of 2 to 3 points were recorded through a long list of other stocks from all quarters of the market. At the close, when quotations were at the lowest, the average price for twenty-five leading issues, including fifteen railroads and ten industrials had fallen to within 5 points of the low average of the year which was reached in February.

During the morning the market was quiet, with few important changes. Traders did not care to take a decided position because of the chance of a decision today by the United States supreme court in one of the important cases pending. As soon as word was received from Washington that none of these decisions would be announced today, heavy selling began. Brokers said liquidation was chiefly on the part of out-of-town holders of securities while local traders were chiefly responsible for the heavy short selling.

A concerted effort was made to support the list and the so-called "big interests" apparently were not adverse to a further drop. There was some further scaling of loans by financial institutions which may have been a factor in the day's operations. The copper producers' monthly statement showed the expected increase in stocks of securities, but in exports having more than offset the shrinkage in domestic consumption. Closing stocks:

HUGE RIFLE BLOWS UP BUT GUNNERS ESCAPE INJURY

Fourteen-Inch Gun at Sandy Hook Proving Grounds Explodes With Terrific Force Crew Has Close Call.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) New York, Dec. 9.—A gun of fourteen-inch caliber, of fifty tons weight, the largest and newest type built by the United States government at a cost of $120,000 exploded at the Sandy Hook proving grounds today. While the explosion of smaller guns has taken scores of lives, the big fourteen-incher blew to pieces without causing a scratch to the men around it.

The two-ton breech block was blown a quarter of a mile, the muzzle was hurled still further away, and fragments were spread in every direction, but Ordnance Officer Brennan, who was standing on the temporary disappearing carriage was not struck, although the structure itself was wrecked.

Brennan was thrown many yards, but sustained hardly a bruise. The other officers and men in charge of the firing were behind a bomb-proof wall, which protected them. The big gun, which hurled a projectile weighing 1,600 pounds at a range of 12,000 yards, was successfully fired several times in tests last month and was believed to be in perfect condition. A charge of 340 pounds of smokeless powder is used.

When the hazard was pulled today a tremendous explosion followed, and broken pieces of the gun were sent in all directions. The muzzle was hurled toward a railroad, where it ripped up a large section of track. Speculations as to the cause of the accident broke out in the temperature had some effect on the gun. Another report was that the experiments made today were to determine how large a charge the gun would carry. Lieutenant Colonel Babbitt, who commanded the firing, said the cause of the explosion had not been determined.

Guns like that which exploded today have been proposed for the fortification of the Panama canal. The type is said to be much longer lived than any previously manufactured, being good for 250 shots, while the old twelve-inch type was good for about seventy.

LETTERS GIVEN TO THE VAN RIPER EXECUTORS

J. Van Vleck, Jr., and W. D. Van Vleck to Settle Fifteen Million Dollar Estate; Miss Rimlinger Wants Legacy.

Amplified letters testamentary yesterday were granted by the probate court to Joseph Van Vleck, Jr., and William D. Van Vleck. They are executors of the will of Mrs. Fannie Van Ripper, whose estate is valued at approximately fifteen million dollars.

The will of William Maher was approved and letters of administration, with the will annexed, were granted to W. P. Metcalf.

The final report of the administrator of the estate of Estanislado Padilla was approved and he was discharged.

The will of Mrs. Lena Doran was approved and Edmund Doran appointed executor. He also was appointed guardian for Leonora Doran and William W. Doran.

The final report of the administrator of the estate of Beatrice Sandoval was approved. The administrator was discharged.

Our motion of Miss Elizabeth Rimlinger the court ordered a citation to issue, requiring the executor to show cause December 16th, why Miss Rimlinger's legacy had not been paid. The executor, Mrs. Ridley, also was ordered to file by December 16th an inventory of the estate.

The final report upon the estate of Estanislado Padilla was approved and the administrator discharged.

Mrs. Marie Hoch was appointed administratrix of the estate of Mercurio Hoch. Her bond was fixed at $10,000. She was appointed guardian of Rosa, Marie and Herman Hoch, under $4,000 bond.

The hearing on the final report of the C. M. Quinn estate was set for January 13th.

The hearing on the final report of the J. A. Summers estate was continued until January 13th.

The claim of the Union National Bank of Summerville, Pa., against the estate of J. E. Hedding was set for hearing January 13th.

The final report on the estate of P. E. Sturges was approved and the administrator discharged.

Rosa Toli was appointed guardian of Alicia, Ida, Alfred, Louis and Elsie Toli. Her bond is $6,000, which she filed immediately. The bond was approved.

Senon Aldrete was appointed guardian of Josefita and Anadita Olguin.

The hearing of the final report on the J. A. Cuneo estate was continued until January 13th.

The will of Anna L. Turner was approved and O. N. Marron and Father A. M. Mandulata were appointed executors.

Frank B. Phillips was appointed administrator of the estate of Mrs. Alice A. Phillips.

The final hearing on the final report of the S. M. Chambers estate was set for January 13th.

The account of Judge E. L. Medler, attorney, against the J. D. Tortina estate was approved.

The probate court adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

THREE LICENSES ISSUED BY THE PROBATE CLERK.

Yesterday was a busy day for County Clerk A. E. Walker. He keeps the records of the probate court and in addition to the long session yesterday, Don Cupid made unusual demands upon his labors.

Three licenses to marry were issued. Here are the couples who received them:

F. J. Leventracker and Miss Elsie Tausche, both of Albuquerque; David F. Bosque, of Estancia, and Miss Adelaine Jones, of Albuquerque; Fred W. Kelly, and Miss Gregoria Ladero, both of Albuquerque.

MONTICELLO PROJECT RECEIVES SETBACK

Washington, Dec. 9.—The movement to have the government acquire "Monticello," the home of Thomas Jefferson, received a set back today, when the house by a vote of 101 to 41, refused to adopt a special rule providing for consideration of the senate resolution, authorizing the appointment of a committee to inquire into the wisdom and cost of purchasing the property from its present owner, Representative Levy, of New York.

Representative Henry, of Texas, and Representative James, senator-elect from Kentucky, led the fight for the rule. Representative Henry in a statement tonight gave notice that "the fight had just begun," and if it is necessary, "Monticello would be acquired for the government, through condemnation proceedings."

In a telegram to Governor Mann, of Virginia, tonight, Mrs. Martin W. Littleton, leader of the movement for the acquisition of Monticello, said that a Virginian who wished his name withheld, offered, through Governor Mann, to pay in cash to Representative Levy, the owner of "Monticello," four times the assessed American value of the property, the deed to be made in the name of the state of Virginia, which would be made guardian of the state.

ROAD MAP ARTISTS BACK FROM TRIP TO STATE LINE

President E. C. Butler, of Good Roads Local and Colonel D. K. B. Sellers Return on Train From Magdalena.

President E. C. Butler, of the Albuquerque local of the State Good Roads Association, and Col. D. K. B. Sellers, returned on the train last night from Magdalena, where they had been snow bound with Mr. Butler's big steam car for three days. They declared that had Colonel Sellers not had to meet a New York man here tonight, they would have stayed by the car.

They report an excellent trip and fine roads. "If the road north of here was as good as that between Socorro and the state line," asserted Colonel Sellers last night, "there would never have been any question of where the national highway would go. It would have to be along this route. There are not twenty-five yards of road between here and Santa Fe as good as mile after mile of the road west from Socorro. The state and those Magdalena roads boosters have surely done fine work on that stretch of road."

Colonel Sellers declared that the road had been mapped and logged all the way to the state line, and that he and Mr. Butler would have gone on as far as Springville, but for the snow, which they feared would cut off their return. "There was a foot of snow on the mountains and over two feet of it on the road from Magdalena to Socorro. I never saw such a fall of snow there. We had to stop at Magdalena."

"And, say, there was sure some big game up there in the mountains. I knew there was lots of game in the mountains of the Socorro section, but I never saw any elephants there until this trip. This time I saw three. Butler saw them too, and he will bear me out."

"One of them was a little fellow, about four or five feet high, and the other two were higher than I could reach. One had tusks and the other had none."

"Now, colonel, you surely don't expect to get by with that?" he was asked.

"Call your bluff," he said. "After several others had crowded around to hear the story."

A notary was called, the colonel then being in the office of the Albuquerque local of the State Good Roads Association, and after due deliberation, Colonel Sellers made affidavit that he had not only seen the three elephants, but two camels as well. Mr. Butler was thereupon called up and asked what Colonel Sellers had taken with him in the way of baggage and lunch, but corroborated the colonel's statement that he had had nothing to drink stronger than black coffee.

"But say," he volunteered, "we saw a circus up there in the mountains traveling overland from some point west to El Paso."

That settled it. The claims were emphatically not on the coldest.

Constipated? Go To Your Doctor

It is impossible to be well, simply impossible, if the bowels are constipated. Waste products, poisonous substances, must be removed from the body at least once each day, or there will be trouble. DR. JOHN J. MORAN FOUND DEAD FROM HEART FAILURE IN HIS ROOMS.

Physician of Two Years' Practice in Albuquerque Discovered in Office Twelve Hours After Death.

APOPLEXY OR CARDIAC TROUBLES THE CAUSE

Inquest To Be Held at 10 O'clock This Morning by Justice of the Peace George R. Craig Sitting as Coroner.

Dr. John J. Moran, a physician of two years' practice in Albuquerque and of high standing in his chosen profession, was found dead yesterday afternoon shortly before 4 o'clock at his rooms in the Barnett building. Death was apparently the result of heart trouble or of apoplexy, which could not be determined last night. Chief of Police Thomas McMillin was the first to see the dead man, although J. L. La Driere, agent for the building, had become suspicious at the continued silence in the doctor's offices and had summoned the police.

Mr. La Driere had rapped on the office door four times yesterday, but had received no response whatever, and yesterday afternoon he became alarmed and summoned Chief McMillin. With a screwdriver they took out the glass panel of one of the office doors and entered the room where death had taken place. Mr. La Driere was anxious because the doctor had once allowed the water from the sink in the room to overflow and drip into the store below.

Dr. Moran was found lying on a canvas camp cot, which he had apparently kept there for use as he slept in his office. He was lying on his right side, with his right arm extended up and to the right of his head. The hand was bent back. The left arm was extended along the line of his body. The face was suffused and spotted. It, as well as the body, gave no evidence of stress or struggle of any sort, but was as calm as though the dead man had been only asleep. The body was covered with a bathrobe, a gray sweater and a blanket. The dead man had lain down with his underclothing on, slippers and shoes being beneath the cot and a cuspidor placed nearby. His clothes were on a chair near the door of the office.

As soon as the body was found, Chief McMillin summoned Justice of the Peace George R. Craig and that officer made an examination of the body. He will hold an inquest this morning.

Dr. L. G. Rice and Dr. C. A. Frank, city and county physicians, respectively, and Dr. J. A. Kelly, who have their offices in the same building as Dr. Moran, examined the body. All gave it as their opinion that Dr. Moran had probably died as a result of apoplexy or heart trouble. Dr. Rice and Dr. Frank declared they would perform an autopsy and would have the contents of Dr. Moran's stomach analyzed as a matter of precaution and not because they expected to find anything amiss. Dr. Moran's emergency bag stood by a table in the corner of the room, open, and there were several bottles, including one of sodium phosphate, standing in and near the sink.

Dr. Rice declared that there were no drugs in the room an overdose of which would have caused death.

The body was removed to Strong Brothers' morgue. Dr. Moran having been interested with that firm in the manufacture of a patent concrete burial vault.

DR. MORAN CAME OF WELL-TO-DO FAMILY.

Dr. Moran came of a well-to-do family in Lyons, N. Y. They were notified by telegraph of his death. His father is one of the best known merchants of that city. Beside his parents, he leaves one brother and three sisters.

He first came here about two years ago, and for several months acted as resident physician at the Albuquerque sanatorium for tuberculosis. Later he entered general practice for himself and his clientele was growing rapidly at the time of his death.

Dr. Moran was 32 years of age. He was a member of the local council of the Knights of Columbus and was also one of the first of the local men to join the Loyal Order of Moose.

Funeral arrangements will not be made until advice from his family are received.

Before the body was removed a number of friends, including Rev. Mr. A. M. Mandulata, S. J., came to the place of death and performed what officers they might for the dead man.

DEATH PROBABLY TOOK PLACE SOME TIME SUNDAY.

The physicians who examined the body declared that death had taken place at least twelve hours before, and probably longer. The doctor was last seen, according to all known facts, shortly after 1 o'clock Sunday morning. He was then standing at the second street entrance to the building.

In all probability he went up to his office and retired shortly after that time, probably passing away while asleep some time Sunday morning. When last seen he was dressed in his usual style and answered the salutations of acquaintances who saw him. Except the bottles and emergency kit named, there was nothing in the room amiss. No note or word of any kind was left that would indicate in-attention to make away with himself, and the fact that the doctor had taken measures for assisting his spirit fort after lying down is taken as evidence that death was not premeditated. The arrangement of the covers on his camp cot, the cuspidor placed conveniently near the head of it, the orderly hanging of his clothes on a chair, the very slippers beneath the cot—all pointed to routine practiced before and to a care for comfort and convenience, which would have been immaterial to a man who intended or believed that he was going to die.

CORONER'S JURY WAS EMpaneLLED LAST NIGHT.

A coroner's jury to review the evidence in the case and determine on a cause of death was empaneled last night. This jury consists of the following named men:

TICKET SALE FOR WOMAN'S CLUB SHOW TODAY

Delay in Securing Pasteboards Handicaps Efforts of Censoring Committee Which Was to Have Begun Earlier.

The sale of tickets for the Woman's club play, "David Garrick," which is to be staged December 19th, begins this morning, the committee

MRS. R. V. WINCHESTER.

In charge having been forced to postpone their work until today because of delays in securing tickets from the printers.

The committee in charge is Mrs. Isaac Barth, Mrs. Felix Bena, and Mrs. H. O. Strong. Any merchant who fails to respond to the wishes of the committee and purchase tickets for the show will be a stony-hearted one indeed. These three ladies will direct the work of ticket selling and expect to roll up such a number of sales that the house will be picked when the curtain rises on the play itself.

Rehearsals have shown great strength in the scenes in which Mrs. R. V. Winchester, as Ada Ingot, has a part. Ada is the leading role of the production, and in the hands of Mrs. Winchester will be a feature worth seeing.

Charles J. Andrews has an especially effective scene in the first act, where he shows his prejudice against David Garrick, and in this he is expected to score heavily. Mr. Andrews has had many parts in performances on Albuquerque stages and will undoubtedly make a great hit.

CORAL CLYCE BOUND OVER ON LIBEL COMPLAINT

Society Editor of the Morning Journal Held in Sum of $250; Charge Against Macpherson Taken Under Advisement.

Mrs. George Patridge, who is otherwise known as Coral Clyce, the editor of the society columns of the Morning Journal, was yesterday bound over to the grand jury on a charge of criminal libel. D. A. Macpherson, publisher of the paper and co-defendant with Mrs. Patridge, was not held, his case being taken under advisement. Justice of the Peace George R. Craig, before whom the preliminary hearing was held, intimated that he intended to discharge Mr. Macpherson, as it had not been shown that he exercised censorship over Mrs. Patridge's writings, and that it had not been shown that he was responsible for them through the fact that he employed and discharged the writers employed on the paper. The complaint in the case was Dr. John W. Colbert, physician in charge of the Santa Fe coast lines hospital. Mrs. Patridge had no difficulty in furnishing bond.

The hearing was held in the office of Justice of the Peace George R. Craig in the Stern building, and was attended by numerous interested spectators.

Don W. Lusk, city editor of the Morning Journal, was the first witness called by the prosecution. The main of his testimony was that Mr. Macpherson never supervised the writings of the different people employed on the paper, but merely held the head of each department responsible for what that department furnished for the paper. He asserted that there was no censorship exercised over Mrs. Patridge's copy at the time the alleged libelous matter was printed.

The prosecution offered as evidence articles printed in the society section of the Morning Journal on November 17th, November 24th, December 1st and December 8th. The defense not objecting, all were admitted without discussion. The first of these was the original cause of action, and the others were claimed to have a bearing on that.

Dr. James H. Wroth, Santa Fe main line surgeon here, was called and testified as to the departure of Mrs. Colbert for California last spring, where he declared he understood she was to pursue some study for a year, and to the return of the Colbert baby to this state. He affirmed that Dr. Colbert had laughingly told him that the baby had been "fanned out" at Isleta. He testified that Dr. Colbert was of high standing in local medical circles.

When counsel for the prosecution inquired as to whom he construed the alleged libelous article to refer, the doctor declared that he never read the society columns of the Morning Journal. Dr. Wroth admitted when cross-examined by Summers Burkhardt, counsel for the defense, that the statements to which he had testified were hearsay, except the one item of Dr. Colbert's laughing remark to him.

Dr. Hanly, surgeon for the Santa Fe at Gallup, testified that it was his conviction that the article in the Morning Journal on which the complaint was based had referred to Dr. Colbert. He testified that he and his wife had accompanied Dr. and Mrs. Colbert and the Colbert baby to California, and also told of the intimacy between Mrs. Colbert and Mrs. Averyt. He also testified to the return of the Colbert baby from California. Dr. Hanly declared emphatically that his conviction was not based upon any reports of discord in the Colbert family, but merely on his knowledge of their movements to and from the coast.

At the afternoon session the prosecution called M. L. Fox, editor of the Morning Journal, to testify as to the responsibility of Mr. Macpherson for the writings of the different members of the staff, but his evidence was practically the same as that of Mr. Lusk.

W. R. Walton, a local photographer, testified as to the appearance of the article on which the complaint was based, and declared that he had assumed from facts in his knowledge that the story referred to Dr. and Mrs. Colbert and Mrs. Averyt.

The principal witness at the afternoon session was Mrs. Colbert. She testified that she and Dr. Colbert had been married six years; that they had one child, aged three years, and that she and her husband had known Mrs. Averyt four years, she and Mrs. Averyt being great friends. She asserted that Mrs. Averyt had entertained her and that she had entertained Mrs. Averyt, and that whenever Mrs. Averyt came to Albuquerque from her home at Isleta, either Dr. Colbert or herself had met her at the train and entertained her. She declared that she had owned her baby to be brought to Isleta that she might attend evening classes at a school, as she did not wish to leave the child alone at night.

Mrs. Colbert told of requests to Mr. Macpherson and to Mrs. Patridge to publish a retraction or apology for the alleged libelous article, and that they had refused to do so or to print a statement that the story did not refer to the Colbert family.

Summers Burkhardt, counsel for the defense, demurred to the first complaint, proffered, declaring that it contained allegations not sustained by the article, and the demurrer was sustained by the court. Counsel for the prosecution asked leave to amend, which was granted. The action did not proceed until the complaint had been amended.

The entire action is based upon an article which appeared in the society columns of the Morning Journal on November 17th, which bore a heading "The Scandal Monger's Latest."

ADVICE TO THOSE WHO HAVE LUNG TROUBLE

Tuberculosis is said to be caused by early living in the open air and taking an abundance of fresh eggs and milk. It is said that the appropriate remedy is Consumption is Eckman's Alternative. It all you possibly can to add to strength increase weight; eat wholesome, nourishing food, and breathe the cleanest and purest air—then to the remedial things of life, living, add the tonic and beneficial effect of Eckman's Alternative. Read what it has done in this case:

405 E. 5th St., Wilmington, Del. "Gentlemen: In January, 1909, I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs, a physician, one of the leading practitioners said that it was lung trouble. I took cod liver oil, and milk in quantities, but I was weak. The doctors said I would not get my weight as long as I stayed in bed, but I kept on working and prayed every day that I might get well. Finally, my appetite came back, and I began the clearing of the lungs. I finally had Eckman's Alternative saved my life. I was able to go to the State House, and to be examined for tuberculosis, and I am now well. My wife and I are from Consumption when I was two years old."

I have this statement so that I may learn of the wonderful merit of Eckman's Alternative. I regard my recovery as being miraculous.

THE OREGON WAY.

The Oregon ballot in the recent election was thirty-six by twenty inches and bore the names of one hundred and eighty-two candidates. This seemingly would provide a sufficient task for the voter. But it was only a small portion of his job.

At the bottom of the ballot there were forty-one proposals for new laws or amendments to the constitution, accompanied by brief explanations to the voters who had not studied the propositions. These measures ran all the way from amendments proposing woman suffrage and abolishing the state senate to laws providing for new systems of taxation.

The single tax was defeated. Woman suffrage was adopted. The state senate was preserved. Among propositions rejected were a "blue sky" law, an anti-boycott law, a direct tax for the university and a bond issue for county roads. The people approved bills for double liability of bank stockholders, for an eight-hour day on all public work and for working the convicts on public roads. The income tax was vetoed by a narrow margin. Capital punishment was retained.

Here apparently is discriminating voting. But Oregon voters have been trained in such matters for several years and the big ballot is an education of itself.

Oregon requires only a majority of those voting to adopt any measure proposed. This makes it possible for a changing of the fundamental law by a minority. However, Oregonians generally vote on such proposals. The returns, as shown by the Portland Oregonian, indicate that all important measures were adopted or defeated by a majority of the voters.

The result as a whole is a remarkable demonstration of popular capacity for law-making. Oregon evidently can teach some things to other states. But the number of bills the people are expected to vote on appears excessive, especially when combined with a long ticket. In pushing direct legislation to the limit, Oregon may yet tire the voters out completely.

WOMEN AND JURY DUTY.

Complied with the extension of the right of suffrage to the women of Kansas come for them some new and embarrassing duties. The women are eligible for jury service, and must discharge the duty when summoned.

The courts, however, have discovered that mixed juries have some disagreeable features, as, for example, where a jury is locked up to wrangle for twenty-four or forty-eight hours.

Probably a bill will be passed prohibiting mixed juries. It will be interesting to see whether masculine or feminine juries will come nearer to just verdicts. We hope for the best from feminine juries. The masculine jury is not always satisfactory.

VOTE FOR SCHOOL BONDS.

The voters of Albuquerque will, by their votes today, either approve or reject the proposition to issue $100,000 in bonds for the erection of a high school building.

There is absolute necessity for the building. There are more children of school age in this city than the school buildings will accommodate.

The people can economize in anything else much better than in provision for the education of the children. Good school buildings are the best possible advertisements. When people from other states contemplate coming here, one of the first inquiries they make is as to the educational advantages the city affords.

To vote for the bonds is in harmony with the spirit of progress now abroad in Albuquerque. The money will be spent here. It will pay Albuquerque labor, and in turn will find its way into the coffers of the merchants.

The vote for school bonds should be unanimous.

Real Wealth.
 "There is no wealth but life. That country is the richest which nourishes the greatest number of noble and happy human beings; that man is richest who, having perfected the functions of his own life to the utmost, has also the widest helpful influence, both personal and by means of his possessions, over the lives of others."—Ruskin.

Justice the Best Policy.
 The thought I would leave with you is that there is no way of permanently setting any great question involving the welfare of human kind except on the basis of right and justice. Position, wealth, influence, laws, are helpless as a means of establishing a rule for human conduct unless supported by principles of justice and righteousness. The unfair or unreasonable or dishonest man, whether in public life or private life, may succeed temporarily, but it is only a question of time when he will be discovered and overthrown.—E. H. Gray, President United States Steel Corporation.

ACTOR FOUND GUILTY OF CARNAL ASSAULT

Greeter, Colo., Dec. 9.—Unless the jury finds this man guilty, mob violence might well be justified, said the district attorney in the district court here today in the case of Edward Vaughn, a vaudeville actor charged with a salacious crime.

Following this declaration the jury went out and returned in ten minutes after having found Vaughn guilty in two counts. The one witness against Vaughn was Felicitas Lempert, a pretty child of 10 years, his alleged victim, who sat in the witness chair with her feet not touching the floor and told such an appalling story that women rushed weeping from the courtroom. The vehement warning of the district attorney followed her testimony.

Vaughn was one of the prisoners who were threatened in an attempted jail-break last Friday. He was arrested here with the child on the complaint of Mrs. Blanch Lempert, of Denver, who charged that he had kidnapped her daughter.

Today All Albuquerqueans Have an Opportunity To Help Their City Take Its Proper Station

TODAY all citizens of the city of Albuquerque have a chance to do more for the progress of their city and for the broadening of the scope of its public schools than has been theirs for many years past. This opportunity to benefit the city and the city's school system lies in the election which is to be held today on the ratification of a proposed bond issue of $100,000, the proceeds of which are to be used for a new high school building.

The new high school building is a need of the crying order. Unless it is arranged for the board of education will have to rent many outside rooms in the different wards to accommodate the children who desire to attend the schools of the city. Already there are several rooms rented for this purpose at an expense of $1,500 a year, and even so there are scores of children whose parents want them to come to school, yet for whom places cannot be found. There are thirteen rooms in the city in each of which can be found fifty or more pupils. They were designed for forty pupils.

It has been definitely shown that the income from the school land endowment will more than pay the interest on the proposed bonds. In time, it will provide for their principal.

Now Mr. Voter, there are just three phases to this matter. They are financial phase, the overcrowding phase and the progressive phase.

You have seen that the school land endowment will pay the interest on the bonds. You have seen that extra accommodations are costing $1,500 a year. You can save this $1,500 by voting for the bond issue, because that will allow the high school to be placed in a new building, and the rooms used by it at the Central school building can be turned over to the overflow from the wards.

You can do away with the overcrowding by voting for the bond issue because then there will be plenty of room in the Central building for the overflow, and extra accommodations need not be rented.

You can help the progress of Albuquerque by voting for the bond issue because it is time that Albuquerque had a real high school building instead of a yellow brick ward school building used for a high school. That building was all very well six or eight years ago, when there were less than seventy high school students. But now, when there are more than 200 and the number is growing every year, it is not to be thought of longer. Your children are as good as anybody's. It is your right and their right to have as good an education as anybody. There is no reason why cities smaller than Albuquerque should have better high school buildings and more equipment than this city.

Mr. Voter, having shown you that the new high school building will cost you nothing; having shown you that it will relieve the overcrowded condition of our city schools; having shown you that Albuquerque, as the leading city of the state, should have the best high school building, it is up to you to vote for the bond issue.

Every vote for the bond issue is a vote for economy, better schools, and the progress of Albuquerque.

Vote for the bond issue!

STATE CORPORATION COMMISSION PAYS ITS OWN WAY

Report of Receipts and Disbursements for First Year of Its Existence Is Made Public; Interesting Figures.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
 Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 9.—The state corporation commission has prepared and just made public the figures relating to the business of the commission for the first year of its existence. The entire year is covered in the report, although from December 1, 1911, to January 15, 1912, the business was conducted in other offices, the corporation business through the secretary of state and the insurance business through the insurance commissioner.

The legislature in June appropriated $22,500 for the use of the commission to the end of the fiscal year, November 30th. Of this amount there remains a total unexpended of $13,811.31, of which amount there remains $8,533 in the salary fund and $5,278.31 in the contingent fund.

The expenditures are itemized as follows: Salaries, $11,963.47; transportation, $2,290.00; miscellaneous, $634.55; extra clerk hire, $2,719.45; furniture and fixtures, $1,758.58; printing and supplies, $1,588.72; miscellaneous expenses, $242.61.

The receipts for the year are given as follows:

Received by secretary of state, December 1, 1911, to January 15, 1912, $1,102.

Received in fees from January 15, 1912, to November 30, 1912, $15,263.65.

Received by insurance department, December 1st to January 15, 1912, $291.

Insurance fees, January 15, 1912, to November 30th, $8,272.

Insurance taxes collected by superintendent of insurance, January 15, 1912, to November 30, 1912, $38,626.90.

Total collected by commission and insurance commissioner for fiscal year, $58,215.12.

QUICK ACTION PRESCRIPTION CURES COLDS IN A DAY.

The best and quickest prescription known to medical science for colds and coughs is as follows: "From your drug store get two ounces of Glysterin and half an ounce of Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine). Take these two ingredients home and put them into a half pint of good whiskey. Shake it well. Take one to two teaspoons after each meal and at bed time. Smaller doses to children according to age." Be sure to get only the genuine Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine). Each half ounce bottle comes in a tin screw-top sealed case. Any drug store has it on hand or will quickly get it from his wholesale house. There are many cheaper preparations of large quantity, but it doesn't pay to experiment. This treatment is certain cure. This has been published here for six winters and thousands say it has no equal.

SORE FEET. Corns, Calluses, Bunions, Frost Bites, Aching and Sore Feet. A spoonful of Calcein in the foot-bath gives instant relief. Get a six box at any drug store.

recovered from his illness, which caused the court to recess the latter part of last week, stated that he would show that every cent spent by the defendants had been used in the improvement or upkeep of the penitentiary.

J. S. Okey and J. W. Marsh occupied most of the day on the stand. Marsh was a carpenter under the Cleghorn administration. He was brought here from California to testify. The testimony of both was in the nature of offsetting that given by Charles A. Dunn for the state. They said that they had checked up on the lumber and materials used during the period covering the investigation and had been able to account for all the money spent in this direction.

Okey said that he had used as a basis of his estimates the prices that prevailed at Canon City and that Dunn's figures were less than his because Dunn had used Denver prices which were lower.

ARTESIA IS TO HAVE $400,000 POWER PLANT SOON

John C. Keys, Capitalist Owning Public Utilities, Announces Intention of Making Extensive Improvements.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
 Artesia, N. M., Dec. 9.—Rev. Father Celestine, representing the Dominican Sisters of Denver, was in the city one day last week on business connected with the proposed purchase of the Western college buildings for that order, to be used for hospital purposes.

Father Celestine is in the valley for his health, and during a visit to Denver, the Mother Superior to the Dominican order told him that she was preparing to purchase a site for a hospital in Denver. He set forth the advantages of the Pecos Valley for such a hospital in such a favorable light that the Mother Superior sent him to Artesia to see what could be done in the way of securing the old college property.

Judge Platole, who now has charge of the business affairs of the college, asked $25,000 for the buildings and site, which Father Celestine declared was a reasonable price. Mr. Platole could not close the deal, however, because of another now pending for the site. In case it fails through the failure of the other party, Father Celestine declares that the site is an ideal one for the hospital, and of course the people of Artesia realize the advantages there would be in having such an institution in our city. On account of the plans of the buildings they could be very easily arranged for hospital use.

NEW WATER WORKS PLANT AT CLAYTON UNDER CONSTRUCTION

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
 Clayton, N. M., Dec. 9.—Work has been started here on a new pumping plant and power house to take the place of the one recently destroyed by fire.

The new building will be larger than the old one, and will be built of brick and concrete. This making it entirely fire proof. It will be fitted with the latest improved water-pumping machinery.

PECOS VALLEY IS IDEAL FOR TURKEY RAISING; BIRDS CHEAP

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
 Roswell, N. M., Dec. 9.—A growing industry in the valley which is not recognized by the general public is the poultry business. Only a short time ago a dozen chickens and turkeys around the farms would have been a great sight. Today there are more than 5,000 turkeys and thousands of chickens.

The Commercial club, realizing this increase, is on the alert to take care of this industry for the farmers.

To this end C. C. Tannehill, president of the Commercial club, is in correspondence with various money lenders to establish a commission house in the city or locate here and pay cash for the birds, looking after the birds at marketing time.

This season turkey meat is cheaper for valley consumers than beef steak and other beef meats. The price yesterday was quoted at 17 1/2 cents dressed, while in Cleveland dressed turkeys are quoted at 42 cents. A handsome profit for the poultry men if carload shipments can be secured for the eastern markets.

The climatic conditions are so regulated in the valley that turkeys and chickens can be grown on the farms without any need to mention. Conservative farmers say that there is 75 per cent profit.

DEEPEST SNOW FOR TWENTY-FOUR YEARS IN SIERRA COUNTY

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal)
 Hillsboro, N. M., Dec. 9.—The deepest snow of twenty-four years is now on the ground in Sierra county. Not since 1888 has there been such a fall of the beautiful snow which began last Thursday night. The snow stopped Friday and resumed operations with great fidelity on Saturday evening.

Snow stands five feet deep in the mountains and half that in the foot hills. There was no mail Sunday because of it and this morning the usual stage from Hillsboro to the railroad was discontinued on account of the impassable state of the roads.

It is feared that there will be a heavy loss among the many valuable herds of goats that range the hills.

During the last year there has been introduced into the United States a remedy for Consumption which comes to us with a most remarkable list of endorsements from the leading specialists of Europe. It has been used for several years on the other side, and case after case has yielded to it.

The preparation is called Siroin, and is based on the condition of some of the patients whom it has saved, no consumption need fear that he is too far gone to be benefited by it.

Siroin builds up the body by increasing the appetite and assisting digestion. It checks the hacking cough and lessens the gathering of mucus on the lungs in a remarkable way.

If you or any of your friends are suffering from any chronic lung ailment, do not fail to send for full information about Siroin to the Siroin Co., 218 West Broadway, New York City.

All leading druggists are recommending and distributing Siroin with considerable success.

FARMINGTON GIVEN LOWER INSURANCE CLASSIFICATION

San Juan City Now in Class Four and One-Half, as Result of Action of Town Board at Recent Session.

Special Correspondence to Morning Journal—Farmington, N. M., Dec. 9.—As a result of a recent action of the town board of Farmington, this city is now in a class considerably lower than it formerly was, with references to fire insurance rates. Farmington was formerly in class six. It is now in class four and one-half.

The news of the reduction was received the other day in a letter from G. E. Simonton, manager of the Denver Fire Underwriters' Association. This letter is as follows:

F. H. Telkamp, Town Clerk, Farmington, N. M.

Dear Sir: We wish to thank you for your letter of November 18th enclosing certified copies of the ordinances and board proceedings of the town board of Farmington.

We appreciate the co-operation of your board and feel that the results in bettered fire protection and fire prevention facilities are very considerable.

We are now proceeding with the 1 1/2 class classification, a reduction of 1 1/2 class from basis under which present fire insurance estimates are made. Estimates will receive general reductions except in those where hazard has been increased either through occupational, structural or exposure changes.

Hoping that you will call upon us in any matter where we may be of assistance to you, we are,

Very truly yours,
G. E. SIMONTON,
Manager.

The meeting of the Bernalillo County Bar Association which should have been held last night was postponed to next Monday night at the same hour at the Commercial club.

J. R. Sexton, mechanical superintendent of the western division, was a visitor in the city between trains last night on his way from Deming to his headquarters at La Junta.

Excelsior Lodge No. 1, Degree of Honor, will hold a meeting at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Officers are to be elected and several candidates will be initiated. Refreshments will be served.

The W. C. T. U. will hold its regular monthly business meeting at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. parlors. Mrs. English, of the Manual school, will speak on "Temperance Work Among the Indians."

City Clerk H. Charles Roehl and John Milne, superintendent of city schools, this morning will distribute to the election officials the poll books. They will deliver ballots at the same time.

A. B. Rencan, an attorney of Santa Fe, leaves this morning for Los Lunas on business connected with the estate of the late Solomon Luna. He spent yesterday here and will return tonight from Los Lunas.

E. C. Hamilton, a draftsman in the employ of the forest service, has returned to the district offices here. He had been on three months' detail at the Jemez national forest headquarters in Santa Fe.

There will be a regular meeting of Cottonwood Grove No. 2, Woodman Circle, this afternoon at 2 o'clock in Odd Fellows' hall. All members of the degree team and all the officers are requested to come early. Please take notice of the change of time to 2 o'clock on account of this meeting being for election of officers.

Mrs. Henry Kirch and daughter left last night for Los Angeles, where they go to join Mr. Kirch and make their home. The Kirch family recently disposed of the family home on South Edith, following the transfer of Mr. Kirch to Los Angeles, where he is employed by the Interstate Commerce Commission as a freight inspector. They had long been residents of the city and their friends sincerely regret their departure.

EL PASO DAYLIGHT TRAIN ARRIVAL TIME NOT CHANGED

Owing to an error in the statement sent out by the local Santa Fe officers, the time of the arrival of No. 814, the daylight train from El Paso, was erroneously stated at 8:20 p. m. In reality the time of this train's arrival was unchanged by the operation of the new schedule, remaining at 6:20 p. m.

NOTABLE DRAMA IS ATTRACTION AT ELKS TONIGHT

"The Confession," By James Halleck Reid, Play With a Moral, Promises to Entertain Theater-Goers.

The interest in the play of "The Confession" is not confined to any class or age of women and men. This play started all New York with its intensity and was so successful that all previous bookings at the Bijou theater, New York City, were cancelled last season and the time filled by this attraction. "The Confession" will be seen at the Elks' theater tonight.

The play is by James Halleck Reid, and presents a perfect transcript of life, beside teaching a great moral. It is acknowledged to be one of the most perfect entertainments ever presented on the American stage.

The advance sale of seats has been large, and it is expected that the seats will be out in force to attend the show.

SCHOOL BONDS TO N. S. B. SOCIETY IS BE VOTED UPON IN CITY TODAY

Proposed Issue of One Hundred Thousand Securities to be Submitted to the Voters of Albuquerque.

Today the voters of Albuquerque will exercise their right of suffrage in regard to the issuance of $100,000 worth of bonds for the erection of a new high school building. The polls will open at 9 o'clock and will continue in that condition until 4 o'clock.

An overwhelming majority in favor of the bonds is anticipated as there is practically no opposition to their issuance. The registration for the election has been heavy, because great interest has been taken and because the supporters of the issue have worked day and night, almost, to get the voters' names on the books.

The polling places are as follows: First Ward—Police court office, on Second street between Copper and Tijuana streets.

Second Ward—Chadwick's office, on West Gold avenue, between First and Second streets.

Third Ward—Office of E. H. Dunbar, at corner of Third street and Gold avenue.

Fourth Ward—Office of A. W. Hayden, 412 West Copper avenue.

All saloons in the city closed at midnight last night and will remain closed until midnight tonight, because of the election.

ACTION TO PREVENT PAYMENT ON SHOP SITE ASKED

Consolidated Liquor Company Wants P. F. McCanna Restrained From Turning Over Money to Sedillo and Wife.

An injunction to restrain P. F. McCanna from paying Manuel Sedillo and his wife the purchase price of a tract included in the site for the new Santa Fe shops, yesterday was applied for in the district court by the Consolidated Liquor Company. McCanna, Sedillo and his wife all are named as defendants.

The liquor company's contention is that it has a judgment for $300 against Sedillo and that McCanna has in his hands money, collected as part of the shops site fund, to be paid over to him or his wife for land within the tract to be purchased for the shops.

Mrs. Sedillo, it is said, owns the land, but the liquor company alleges that Sedillo put improvements on the ground with his money.

Judgment for $300 against Charles Spader yesterday was awarded the State National bank in the district court. The decree was granted on a note held by the bank.

CARELESS DUMPING OF ASHES MUST BE STOPPED

Next Offender is to be Prosecuted, Declares Fire Chief Klein; Many Fires Originate From This Practice.

If a fire on a man's premises is traceable to hot ashes, it is up to him to put out the blaze quickly—before a well-meaning neighbor calls the firemen. The wherefore is that Fire Chief Jacob Klein threatens prosecution of persons guilty of dumping hot ashes where they are likely to start a fire.

A majority of fires originate in the dumping of cinders near sheds or fences, according to Chief Klein. An ordinance, passed by the city council, prohibits this practice. Ashes must be thrown into non-combustible receptacles, placed where they are accessible to the scavenger.

Chief Klein announced yesterday that the next time he hears of a violation of this ordinance, he will file a complaint with the police judge. A complaint for fires of this class is open now, the chief says, and he wants to warn possible violators beforehand.

N. S. B. SOCIETY IS REORGANIZED AT BRISK MEETING

Mrs. E. E. Coons Elected President, Mrs. George S. Klock Refusing That Honor; Many New Members Enrolled.

An enthusiastic and businesslike meeting of the Non-Sectarian Benevolent society was held yesterday afternoon at Guild hall, 216 South Fourth street, at which the association was completely reorganized.

New officers were elected and twenty-six new members were enrolled. The meeting was a great success, and although the exact end for which it was called was not attained, it is believed that it will be at a called meeting to be held next Monday afternoon. There was much discussion as to ways and means of financing the association until such time as city, county or state should come to its assistance, and many ideas were presented which will doubtless end in the solution of the society's problem.

The officers elected were as follows: President, Mrs. E. E. Coons; first vice president, Mrs. Roy McDonald; second vice president, Mrs. John Lee Clarke; secretary, Mrs. Robert R. Pollock; treasurer, Miss Trent.

The office of president was tendered Mrs. George S. Klock by an unanimous vote, but was declined.

The next meeting, a special called session like yesterday's, will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 in the office of George S. Klock, in the Stern building.

Phone 501-502 for light hauling, parcels, messengers. Prompt service.

SANITARIUM ANNEX AND DWELLINGS ARE GOING UP

Buildings Planned by E. B. Cristy, Architect, Call for Expenditure of Thirty Thousand Second Wing for Hospital.

Buildings representing an expenditure of $30,000, for which E. B. Cristy, architect, drew the plans, are under construction.

The east wing of the Presbyterian sanitarium is the most expensive piece of work. It will cost about $15,000. The annex is to be connected with the present building by a colonnade, and later a west wing, similar to the east, is to be built. It also will be connected to the administration building by a colonnade. The present sanitarium then will be the center of a group of three buildings.

A water-color drawing of the east wing was placed in the window of H. Ruppel's drug store yesterday by Mr. Cristy.

The new residence of Bert Skinner, on Twelfth street, will be completed this week. This house, built of Santa Fe brick, is a model of convenience. The dwelling has three porches.

Mr. Cristy yesterday gave the final certificate of acceptance for the hangar erected by T. C. Sabing, of Topeka, Kan., at East Central avenue and Mesa street. Mrs. Sabing and her son have been here for several weeks, and they will move into the house soon.

The foundation for the residence to be built by Mrs. J. S. Black on State avenue near Sixth street was begun yesterday. The house will be built of brick and will contain eight rooms.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

Walter Young Funeral. The funeral of Walter J. Young, 24 years old, who died last Saturday, was held at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Borders' Undertaking chapel. The Rev. C. O. Beckman officiated. Burial was in Fairview cemetery.

Mrs. Celia Montoya. Mrs. Celia Montoya, 28 years old, died Sunday at her home, 713 East street. She was a native of Albuquerque. The funeral services were held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Crockett undertaking chapel. Burial was in San Jose cemetery.

Maria Zulema Guayana. Maria Zulema Guayana, aged 1 year, died Sunday afternoon at the home of her parents, 112 South John street. Funeral services were held at the residence at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Burial was in San Jose cemetery.

Body Shipped to New York. The body of Jack Pollard, 24 years old, who died Sunday, was sent to New York last night. Miss Ida Pollard, his sister, accompanied the body. Mr. Pollard had been here about four months.

GENERAL CAMPOS DEAD FROM WOUND IS REPORT

Mexico City, Dec. 9.—Cheche Campos, one of the principal rebel leaders, was defeated Saturday at Sombrerete, in the state of Zacatecas. He was seriously wounded and is reported to have died during the retreat. Official telegrams just received give this information. Contrary to his custom, Campos was defending the town against Candido Aguilar, head of the rural guard. Driven from the town, Campos returned and reoccupied it, but finally was repulsed, losing seventy men.
