Enough additional thousands wrote them in with mistakes, so that if their purpose had received recognition Idaho would have cast its electoral vote for the progressive party.

"Now the Capital News of Boise, Idaho, the leading progressive paper, has criticised that decision. I hold that it would have been a mark of low servility not to criticise such an outrageous and iniquitous decision. The most offensive criticism they make is to include a telegram from me in which I spoke of the decision with guarded moderation, but still with the frankness of an open nature. I did not speak of it half strongly enough. That was far worse than any ordinary bad decision could be. That was a decision denying to the largest body of three bodies of the voters the right to exercise their highest privilege under our form of government; the right to exercise their privilege in saying whom they believed should exercise the power of president of the United States for the next four years.

"I hold that decision was an outrageous decision. I hold that it was the duty of every honest citizen to protest against it and to denounce it in the strongest terms.

"I hold that it would have justified any lawful action taken under the proposals that we progressive advocates for the recall of the judges.

"And that Idaho court, continuing to serve the cause of reaction, has summoned Mr. Sheridan, the editor of the paper, and others before it for contempt. I do not laugh at this. It is a matter for bitter laughter. There should be the chance of perpetrating such an outrage, but they have it in their power now, by the infliction of a sufficiently heavy fine, to ruin the only progressive paper, the only paper with the independence to stand up against a monstrous perversion of justice in Idaho.

"As far as I am concerned, I will associate most heartily with the progressive party, make good any fine, and I hope that we will send out the ablest lawyers we can to fight that case through, and that we give the widest publicity to our repudiation of the conduct of that court.

"Mind you, the court is acting as the instrument of reaction. The court is doing all it can to prevent the establishment in Idaho of the only party that stands for the genuine right of the people to rule themselves, and the action taken is an action against the people of the United States; not only against the people of Idaho, but the people of the United States. The people of the United States should, with one voice, join in condemning what has been done and prevent the consummation of the outrage.

Colonel Roosevelt's decision of the Idaho court was received with cheering that lasted for several minutes. Mr. Perkins in his speech predicted a brilliant future for the party and then proceeded to answer his critics who have accused him of being a "new progressive." Prolonged cheering followed Mr. Perkins' speech.

"He's the man that put the progressive party on its feet!" one man shouted.

The appearance of Mrs. Maude Howe Elliott, who is a daughter of the late Julia Ward Howe, author of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," was a signal for tremendous applause. Mrs. Elliott told of a vision her mother had a short time before her death in which she saw women and men enjoying equal rights.

"I firmly believe that my mother saw the coming of the new progressive party," she said.

Colonel Roosevelt, making his "key-note" speech at the opening of the progressive party conference in the La Salle hotel auditorium here today, personally thanked the men who "so generously came forward with their subscriptions when there was no definite plan for obtaining finances."

To give emphasis to his expressed gratitude, the colonel walked to the front of the platform and pointed at William Flinn, of Pennsylvania; Frank A. Munsey, George W. Perkins and S. Bird, calling each by name. He continued:

"I not only want to thank you, but to say that I have been happy to have been with you. I want to say that there have been no more disinterested progressives than yourselves. Nobody will ever have to investigate me to learn that I know of these contributions and was very much obliged for them."

An outburst of cheers followed this declaration from his main speech. Even the aisles and other standing room were filled when the conference was called to order. Senator Dixon, the party's national chairman, spoke very briefly and was followed by Colonel Roosevelt.

Theodore Roosevelt made it plain that the program of the progressive party does not contemplate making terms with the republican party as a party. He said in effect that the new party had come to stay and expected eventually to attract to its banner the progressives who still gave allegiance to the republican and democratic organizations.

As to leadership, Colonel Roosevelt said the events of the next year or two could be trusted to develop the best man, who must be chosen without regard to their own desires, but solely with regard to the needs of the people.

He said in part:

"The function of the new party is not limited to securing the enactment of the measures advocated in the new party's platform and the retirement of a few bosses. Our purpose is to keep up a continuous campaign for social and industrial justice and for genuine government by the people and for the people. Such a campaign can not be expected from any party which is partly reactionary, and in their best, both of the old parties are partly and they are usually dominantly reactionary.

"The immediate work for our party is to establish the principle of our platform by appropriate legislation in the nation and in the several states. In the national legislature, progressive senators and congressmen should push the various progressive proposals, not only those affecting labor but that affecting the trusts."

Mr. Roosevelt renewed his proposal to create a commission like the interstate commerce commission to supervise the big industrial concerns doing interstate business.

"Farm financing should receive the consideration it deserves. The great need field for farmer co-operation will be in marketing their products, which process now costs them and the consumer so dearly.

"The largest measure of financial aid would come from mortgage banks chartered, regulated and carefully supervised by the government operating on the method of the Credit Foncier of France.

"Our people, and especially our progressive members, must keep in mind that the progressive party is by its platform committed to the doctrine that these measures we advocate are to become part of the law of the land, provided we can get the people to stand for them.

"If legislators, executive or court, stand in the way, then in lawful and orderly fashion and along the lines laid down in the national progressive platform, we intend to see that the will of the people is carried out and that judge, legislator and executive officer alike do their full part in this carrying out of the will of the people.

"In the matter of leadership, both local and national, we may trust the events of the next year or two to develop our ablest and most resourceful men, and for every position the leader must be chosen not in the least with regard to his own desires, but solely with regard to the needs of the people, for the progressive party is the servant of the people.

"No man should come into his party with the idea that he can establish a claim on it. He must be content with the opportunities it offers for service and for sacrifice."

Colonel Roosevelt repeated and emphasized his criticism of the act of the supreme court of Idaho, in ruling progressive elections from the ballot in the November election. Not to have criticized the decision, for which several Boise editors who quoted the colonel's strictures, would have been cowardly, the bull moose leader asserted.

"The House Capital News," said Colonel Roosevelt, "was the only paper that had the courage to criticize the decision. I hold that it would have been cowardly not to have criticized the decision. The most severe criticism the paper contained, however, was in a telegram from me."

"I did not make it half strong enough. It was much worse than the ordinary bad decision. I hold that the decision was outrageous and it was the duty of every decent citizen to protest against it and to denounce it in the strongest terms. Now the court has cited Publishers Sheridan and other editors for contempt. The court has it within its power by inflicting a sufficiently heavy fine to ruin the only paper in Idaho with the strength to hold out against it."

FIVE MEN CONTROL TWO OF BIGGEST BANKS IN NEW YORK CITY

W. B. Frew, First Witness in Congressional Money Trust Inquiry, Gives Some Important Testimony.

FAST SUMS USED FOR SPECULATIVE PURPOSES

In Order to Gain High Interest Rates, Large Sums Are Put Out on Call Loans on Stock Exchange.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Washington, Dec. 10.—The first testimony as to "concentration of money and credit" was heard today by the house banking and currency committee in its investigation of the so-called money trust. W. B. Frew, president of the Corn Exchange bank of New York, and chairman of the New York clearing house committee, occupied the stand throughout the day and was put through a grilling examination by Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee. Through Mr. Frew, Mr. Untermyer put into the record evidence of trust agreements by which five men control two of New York's greatest financial institutions, the Bankers' Trust Company and the Guaranty Trust Company, with aggregate deposits of nearly $400,000,000.

The Bankers' trust, Mr. Frew said, was controlled by H. P. Davidson, George H. Case and Daniel G. Reid; the Guaranty Company by H. P. Davidson, George F. Baker and William P. Porter. These men hold and vote the stock of the companies except enough to allow a board of directors to qualify and under the trust agreements have authority over the affairs of the companies, even to the acquisition of other institutions. Mr. Untermyer secured from Mr. Frew a description of the method by which money was loaned to New York, when small country farmers and merchants demand money for the movement of crops or the accommodation of their business affairs.

Mr. Frew said that the money was needed on the New York stock exchange for speculative purposes; that country banks kept large sums on deposit in New York; that thus the "home" demand for money became strong, the New York price for money rose and the New York banks in order to gain the big interest charges put their money out on call loans on the New York stock exchange. All these loans are based on stock exchange collateral, Mr. Untermyer elicited.

Mr. Untermyer and the witness did not get along well together today and all day the colloquy between the two repeatedly became heated. Mr. Frew insisted upon making long explanations which led the discussion far from the line of questioning. Mr. Untermyer was pursuing. When Mr. Untermyer endeavored to attribute the enormous growth of the Bankers' Trust Company to the influence of J. P. Morgan & Co., Mr. Frew objected, and the lawyer grew bitter.

He finally pinned the witness down to the admission that "the Morgan influence" might have aided the company.

Mr. Untermyer connected Messrs. Davidson, Case and Porter with the Morgan company. Mr. Frew demanded the opportunity to make certain explanations as to his position in regard to the clearing house provision, whereby New York banks must charge a uniform rate for the collection of out of town checks. Mr. Untermyer said the clearing house might just as well prescribe a uniform rate of interest on deposits, as is done under the law of the Salt Lake City clearing house.

Mr. Frew said this "should be stopped," but defended the out of town collection rate rule. The committee ordered Mr. Frew to submit his request in writing and probably he will be allowed to resume the stand tomorrow to make a further statement.

Tomorrow the committee will take up the New York stock exchange and representatives of that organization will be asked to testify.

WITNESS FRANKLY ADMITS AMOSITY TOWARD ARCHBOLD

William P. Boland, in Denouncing Accused Jurist on Stand, Declares He Wanted to Check Him Up.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Washington, Dec. 10.—William P. Boland, of Scranton, Pa., the man charged by Judge Robert W. Archbald, of the commerce court, with having organized a conspiracy that resulted in Judge Archbald's impeachment, and his present trial before the senate, admitted on the witness stand in the senate today that he had suggested the various steps by which Judge Archbald was connected with the deal for the Katsydid refuse coal dump, in order to "check up Judge Archbald."

"I wanted to button-up Judge

Archbald," he said, shaking his finger at the accused jurist, who sat in front of him.

"I wanted to show he was the kind of a man he is."

These admissions were interspersed with the vigorous denunciation of Judge Archbald by Mr. Boland as a corrupt judge and charges that Judge Archbald had been "working for the railroads."

Repeated demands were made by Judge Archbald's attorney that Mr. Boland be required to answer questions directly, but notwithstanding cautions from Senator Bacon, presiding, he embodied in his replies sweeping charges against Judge Archbald and frank admissions that he set out to get "under his skin" the jurist that would be in "showing up" Judge Archbald.

The testimony of Boland centered chiefly about the case of the Marion Coal Company, of which they were chief owners, embraced in the second article of the impeachment. Mr. Boland said he believed Judge Archbald had used his influence to attempt to bring about a settlement of a case between the Marion Coal Company and the Lackawanna railroad. He admitted he had told Attorney General Wickham and members of the interstate commerce commission, that he believed Judge Archbald had overruled the denumer of the Marion Coal Company, because Boland had refused to discount Judge Archbald's note.

When pressed for evidence to prove this, Mr. Boland said he had been repeatedly told by E. J. Williams, the associate of Judge Archbald in coal land operations, that it would have "better for him" if he had discounted the note.

"Where did you get your information about Judge Archbald?" Attorney Worthington asked.

"Mr. Williams would tell me what was going to happen and would tell me of the influences behind Judge Archbald," Boland replied.

"Then I began to check up the judge. I got information from his associates as to what he was doing for the railroads."

"Did you send E. J. Williams to get Judge Archbald to write a letter to W. A. May, saying that they give Mr. Williams an option on the Katsydid?" Worthington asked.

"Yes, I did," Mr. Boland answered. "I wanted to check up Judge Archbald."

"Did you afterwards suggest to Williams that he get Judge Archbald to go to New York to see the Erie officials?"

"I think I did," Boland admitted.

GENERAL SICKLES IS CHARGED WITH MISUSING FUNDS

Demands Made on Aged Civil War Veteran for an Accounting of Large Sum Paid Him by State.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Albany, N. Y., Dec. 10.—Efforts of the state comptroller Schomer to obtain from General Daniel E. Sickles, an accounting for certain funds paid him by the state as chairman of the New York monument commission, having been unsuccessful, the comptroller has placed the matter in the hands of Attorney General Carmody. The amount unaccounted for, according to the comptroller, is $29,246.

Correspondence made public today shows that efforts to obtain an accounting from General Sickles have been made from time to time since 1910. After a conference with Governor Dix and Attorney General Carmody, comptroller Schomer, on November 21st, notified General Sickles that "under no circumstances will an extension of time for this settlement be granted beyond October 6th."

Not having heard from General Sickles by December 6th, the comptroller wrote Attorney General Carmody that a "shortage of $29,246 existed," and referred the matter for "such action" as you may deem necessary.

On December 14th, the comptroller received a letter from General Sickles asking a further brief extension of time.

"I beg your kind indulgence until December 20th," he wrote, "when I am confident I shall be able to obtain a loan on my three houses and lots on the corner of Fifth avenue and Ninth street."

Attorney General Carmody advised Comptroller Schomer to grant the extension.

STATE FULLY PROTECTED SAYS GENERAL MCCOOK.

New York, Dec. 10.—General Amos G. McCook, a member of the New York monument commission, speaking tonight of the call upon General Sickles for an accounting, said:

"So far as the money part of it is concerned, we have every reason to believe the state is fully protected."

Valdez, Alaska, Dec. 10.—Captain Elbridge T. Barrett and B. H. Dugan, were acquitted by Federal Judge Thomas R. Lyons today of the charge of having made a false statement of the condition of the Washington Alaska bank, at Fairbanks.

Judge Lyons said the prosecution failed to show intent to deceive or to defraud. The second case growing out of the failure of the bank two years ago will go to trial tomorrow. The prosecution has not announced which of several indictments will be taken up.

UNION OFFICIALS DENY STORY OF R. G. M. ROSS

Quigley and Wachtmeister Tell Explicit Stories on Witness Stand at Trial of Alleged Dynamiters.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 10.—Testimony by Robert G. M. Ross that officials of various trades unions in Detroit, in June, 1910, formed a plot to cause a series of explosions in that city against non-union jobs and that Charles Wachtmeister, business agent of the iron workers' union, received $100 from the carpenters' union toward the expense, but that explosions were postponed because Wachtmeister "talked too much," was disputed by witnesses at the "dynamite conspiracy" today. Ross said that after Wachtmeister had "talked too much," he dictated to William H. Quigley a letter to Hiram Cline, Municipal, Ind., organizer for the carpenters' union, calling off the explosions.

Quigley today denied he ever had written the letter and when the government produced what purported to be the letter, Quigley said it was not in his handwriting. The letter said that Wachtmeister had been drinking and was "fishing the century," meaning a $100 bill alleged to have been paid him for explosions.

Previously Ross said he had been called to a meeting of union officials and asked if he were a spy for the non-union contractors. Several other witnesses who said they were present at the meeting referred to by Ross, denied Ross' testimony that the union officials met because they "were frightened."

"Ross came to that meeting and we asked him why he had been circulating reports that we were going to be arrested," Quigley said. "He apologized. He said he was a sheet metal worker and we asked him how he was making a living. He declared a congressman was paying him to do political work."

Wachtmeister testified he never had received $75 as a part of a fund to pay for explosions and he never had a "black eye," as it was said he received for "talking too much." He said he and Hockin visited a non-union job in an effort to have it unionized, but he knew nothing of explosions.

"Did you ever hear of Hockin being arrested in connection with an explosion in Detroit, in June, 1907?" asked District Attorney Miller.

"I never heard of it," Wachtmeister replied.

ALLEGED SCANDAL BACK OF IRISH CROWN JEWELS

Lord Lieutenant Declares the Story of Recovery Is Baseless; Ginnell Declares Authorities Can Get Them.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Dublin, Dec. 10.—The lord lieutenant of Ireland authorized today a denial of the report that the Irish crown jewels, mysteriously stolen from Dublin castle in 1907, had been replaced.

Laurence Ginnell, the nationalist member of parliament, who persistently interrogates the government in regard to the Irish crown jewels, when asked if he could throw any light on the reported recovery, said: "I do not know whether it is true, but it is possible. The jewels have been within the reach of the authorities all along. They could have got them back from the thieves at any time if they had been willing to pay a big price. If they have recovered the jewels, it is for the purpose of disarming me."

Mr. Ginnell's contention is that behind the disappearance of the crown jewels lies a story of criminal deception involving Dublin castle, the residence of the lord lieutenant of Ireland, which the authorities are trying to bury.

INDICTMENTS AGAINST FORMER CITY OFFICIALS

Los Angeles, Dec. 10.—George Baker Anderson, recently removed from the position of secretary to Mayor George Alexander, and F. M. C. Choate, formerly assistant city prosecutor, were indicted by the county grand jury late today, in connection with the alleged false imprisonment of F. W. Lloyd.

Lloyd, a policeman, was arrested on a charge that he had accepted a bribe. It is alleged the arrest was a "frame up" to discredit him as an important witness against City Prosecutor Guy Eddie, awaiting trial on a charge of having contributed to the delinquency of a minor woman. After his arrest, Lloyd was charged, was held "incommunicado" in the city jail and subjected to rough treatment.

IDEMNIFICATION FOR WRONGFUL PROSECUTION

Washington, Dec. 10.—All persons erroneously convicted in the United States courts and later pardoned or acquitted, would have the right to apply for pecuniary indemnification for defamation of character brought about by their conviction, by the terms of a bill introduced today by Senator Sutherland. The amount to be paid would be determined by the court of claims, but in no instance could exceed $5,000.

$400,000 TAKEN IN BY HAWTHORNE COMPANY

Name of University Professor Used to Decoy Money from People for Investment in Cobalt Mining Properties.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
New York, Dec. 10.—Herbert D. Sarre, professor of mathematics in the University of Alabama, testified today in the trial of Julian Hawthorne, Josiah Quigley and others charged with fraudulent use of the mails to promote Canadian mining projects, that he had been a member of the "advisory committee" of the Hawthorne Silver & Iron Mines Co.

"Mr. Hawthorne asked me to serve, he explained, and he sent me a certificate for 10,000 shares of stock and a certificate for a $5 dividend on Temagami-Cobalt stock."

"When did you cease to be a member of the committee?"

"I really don't know. I sent back the certificate of stock in November, 1911, after having it since early in 1910. I never attended a meeting of the committee and never was notified to attend any."

John McKinnon, former secretary-treasurer of the various Hawthorne concerns, testified that public subscriptions to Temagami-Cobalt stock amounted to $400,000. He said most of this was turned over to the Continental syndicate, but $76,000 went "technically" for exploration and development, while $14,000 was paid to Dr. Morton, one of the defendants. The cash in the treasury on December 9, 1909, the day McKinnon resigned as treasurer, he gave as follows: Temagami-Cobalt, Company, $472; Elk Lake-Cobalt, $35.85; Montreal James Company, $28.81. He said at this time the Elk Lake-Cobalt Company owed $29,000, and he knew of no means it had to pay off the debt. He also said the Temagami-Cobalt

M'CARTY IS WINNER OVER FLYNN IN 16 ROUNDS

Missouri White Hope Administers Terrible Beating to Erstwhile Heavyweight Championship Aspirant.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Dec. 10.—Luther M'Carty of Springfield, Mo., won the heavyweight championship elimination contest at Vernon tonight from Jim Flynn, the Pueblo, Colo., fireman. The battle ended in the sixteenth round when, after Flynn had gone down twice and appeared helpless, Referee Charles F. Eytton stopped the fight and declared M'Carty the winner.

Flynn took a terrible beating and never had a chance against the Missouri white hope. Savage smashes on the jaw sent him down three times in the tenth round. At that time it seemed certain that he would be counted out, but his remarkable vitality, persisting after twelve years of ring battles, remained with him until the middle of the sixteenth. Then, the referee, harkening to the vociferous cries of "Stop it!" that had begun in the tenth round, raised M'Carty's right glove and proclaimed him the winner.

The end came when Flynn had gone down twice under the ponderous smashes of his youthful opponent. The first time Flynn remained down nine seconds. He arose staggering and straight half-arm blows, the force of which could be heard throughout the crowded arena, sent him sprawling again for the finish. He got up complaining and denouncing Eytton for proclaiming M'Carty the winner.

As a reward of his victory tonight, in addition to the purse, M'Carty will have Al Palmer in the Vernon ring for a heavyweight championship battle of twenty rounds on New Year's day.

Unknown a few months ago, and but a glimmering "hope" after he had disposed of Al Kaufman, M'Carty has placed himself in view of Champion Jack Johnson's supposed elimination in a direct line for the heavyweight title. He left the ring smiling and virtually unmarked, declaring later that while he never made predictions as to the outcome of fights, he did not believe Palmer was as fast as Flynn.

Flynn was a pitiable spectacle as he dragged himself with the assistance of his seconds from the ring. His face was so puffed that he could hardly open his mouth, and great beads of sweat rolled down his face despite the repeated application of cologne.

Flynn's chances of winning disappeared almost as soon as the men squared away for the first round. He could not reach M'Carty, while the Missouri hit him at will. M'Carty eluded his rushes easily and planted punishing blows wherever he wanted to land them.

M'Carty's best blows were straight lefts and right uppercuts that almost invariably connected flush with the fireman's jaw.

Flynn, however, seldom backed up. When he did give ground, it was only for a moment and then he rushed in for more. Flynn met a man against whom his savage in-fighting was futile. Time after time he rushed and failed right and left, but the young star was too strong for him and the veteran was almost helpless.

Flynn showed his old time form only in flashes. M'Carty throughout fought a cool, heady battle. He followed the setting of the sun, a large crowd of fight enthusiasts thronged the open arena.

The betting had been heavy and the odds against M'Carty were high. He alternated as favorites, but shortly before the curtain raised Flynn was the more plentiful, but M'Carty's admirers were not slow in taking it when offered at 10 to 8.

M'Carty appeared to be in perfect condition, and while the same was true of Flynn, the latter was not in as good a condition as he had been in the first round, and the fireman spat blood as he went to his corner.

M'Carty continued to force the fighting in the second, and Flynn seemed unable to reach him effectively. Near the end of the round Flynn was staggered by a series of rights and lefts to the face and appeared groggy.

The seventh with a rush in the third, but M'Carty stopped him with a stinger that drew blood from the fireman's nose and forced him to stall.

M'Carty evened it up in the fourth, rushing M'Carty repeatedly and hooking him with an uppercut that rocked the Missouri's head.

The fifth was a hammer-and-tongue affair, ending with a fierce mix-up in the center of the ring.

The seventh bitterly contested, ended with honors even. Both men showed signs of wear when they went to their corners, and the succeeding round was tame.

In the tenth, however, M'Carty landed a hard right to the jaw, putting the veteran down for the count of nine. Flynn arose groggily and hung on. Following up his advantage, M'Carty dropped Flynn for a second and third time, but the fireman made a remarkable rally and lasted out the round.

M'Carty tried hard to end it in the eleventh, but Flynn showed strong recuperative powers and held his heavy opponent even. Badly battered and rubbing blindly, Flynn went through the round, rocked repeatedly by the blows that M'Carty landed almost at will. It was the same in the twelfth, the fireman's stamina arousing the wonder of the crowd.

Flynn kept going in the thirteenth, shaking his head under the fusillade of blows that M'Carty rained upon him puffed and bleeding face.

The next two rounds went the same way, the Missouri having his advantage at his mercy, but lacking the driving power to stop him.

Flynn seemed almost helpless when at the outset of the sixteenth he was sent down for the count of nine, and when a moment later a smash to the jaw dropped him for the second time. Referee Eytton stopped the fight and declared M'Carty the winner.

As Flynn was a pitiable spectacle as he dragged himself with the assistance of his seconds from the ring. His face was so puffed that he could hardly open his mouth, and great beads of sweat rolled down his face despite the repeated application of cologne.

Flynn's chances of winning disappeared almost as soon as the men squared away for the first round. He could not reach M'Carty, while the Missouri hit him at will. M'Carty eluded his rushes easily and planted punishing blows wherever he wanted to land them.

M'Carty's best blows were straight lefts and right uppercuts that almost invariably connected flush with the fireman's jaw.

Flynn, however, seldom backed up. When he did give ground, it was only for a moment and then he rushed in for more. Flynn met a man against whom his savage in-fighting was futile. Time after time he rushed and failed right and left, but the young star was too strong for him and the veteran was almost helpless.

Flynn showed his old time form only in flashes. M'Carty throughout fought a cool, heady battle. He followed the setting of the sun, a large crowd of fight enthusiasts thronged the open arena.

The betting had been heavy and the odds against M'Carty were high. He alternated as favorites, but shortly before the curtain raised Flynn was the more plentiful, but M'Carty's admirers were not slow in taking it when offered at 10 to 8.

M'Carty appeared to be in perfect condition, and while the same was true of Flynn, the latter was not in as good a condition as he had been in the first round, and the fireman spat blood as he went to his corner.

M'Carty continued to force the fighting in the second, and Flynn seemed unable to reach him effectively. Near the end of the round Flynn was staggered by a series of rights and lefts to the face and appeared groggy.

The seventh with a rush in the third, but M'Carty stopped him with a stinger that drew blood from the fireman's nose and forced him to stall.

M'Carty evened it up in the fourth, rushing M'Carty repeatedly and hooking him with an uppercut that rocked the Missouri's head.

Board of Directors Also Decides to Settle Roger Bresnahan's Claim Against St. Louis Club.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
New York, Dec. 10.—Thomas J. Lynch was re-elected president, and John A. Heydler, secretary and treasurer, of the National league at the meeting of the league late today. The board of directors was constituted except that C. J. Sullivan, of New York, succeeds the late John T. Brush.

The selection of Messrs. Lynch and Heydler, the former for one year and the latter for three years, was unanimous. The league would not permit a rumor of a ripple of discord to go uncontradicted and the report that one club had opposed the re-election of President Lynch was denied. The reports of President Lynch and of the board of directors were approved.

President Lynch in detailing the official history of the 1912 season, awarded the pennant for good behavior during the playing year to the Philadelphia team, which had a record of no suspensions and only one fine.

Other things noted in the report were that 12,600 baseballs were used in the scheduled games; that 88 games were postponed; that there were 140 double-headers and 78 games on the schedule left unplayed. Of the six protests against the result of games during the season, five were disallowed, Chicago being the only successful protestant, having its claim against the Pittsburgh Pirates sustained.

The league went on record as opposed to umpires acting as scouts, declaring such employment to be against the best interests of the game.

It was decided that in drafting players in the future, the name of the club shall be drawn as in accordance with a rule adopted by the national committee. The names of players have been drawn first on several occasions.

The National league decided tonight to try the case involving the claim of Roger Bresnahan, dismissed manager of the St. Louis club, for alleged breach of contract, at a special session of the board of directors, preliminary to the February meeting of the league.

This decision was reached at a meeting of the board of directors. The St. Louis club was directed to file within twenty days an answer to Bresnahan's complaint. An official copy of the complaint will be supplied forthwith to the St. Louis club.

The National league's action in assuring Bresnahan a trial of his claim, was taken after the former, the dismissed manager of the St. Louis club, failed to reach an agreement on the question of whom they should select as a third or odd arbitrator to select with two men of the national committee.

The directors voted to raise the salary of Secretary Heydler and to continue for another year the pension of Harry Pulliam's invalid sister, Mrs. M. P. Johnson, of Louisville, Ky.

Chicago, Dec. 10.—Owners of clubs in the American league, who gathered here tonight to attend the annual meeting tomorrow, promised to produce some startling news to the baseball public before the meeting adjourns.

The appointment of the manager of the New York club was expected to be announced. Frank Chance, former manager of the Chicago National club, and Fielder Jones, who formerly piloted the Chicago club of the American league, were mentioned tonight among the possibilities for the position. Everything promises to be peaceful throughout the meeting, which may last only one day, and may run until Friday.

About the only official business to come up will be the awarding of the 1912 pennant to the world's championship Boston club and a statement of the league's finances. The following club managers will attend:

Chicago, Connie Mack, of Philadelphia; C. W. Somers and W. Barnard, of Cleveland; Frank Navin and Hugh Jennings, of Detroit; Frank Farrell and Arthur Irwin, of New York; James McAlleer, Robert McRoy and Jake Stahl, of Boston; Robert Hedges, of St. Louis.

The Washington club will not be represented.

NEW PRESIDENT OF NEW YORK GIANTS

New York, Dec. 10.—There will be no change in the ownership of the New York Nationals nor in the management of the team, it was announced by H. N. Hempstead, son-in-law of the late John T. Brush, immediately after he had today elected president of the National Exhibition Company, the corporate title of the New York club, to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Brush's death. The directors elected C. J. Sullivan, one of their number, to be vice president, replacing Mr. Hempstead in that position.

"Until after election, I have refrained from making public any statement relative to the future of the New York club," said Mr. Hempstead. "It is the intention of the family to retain control of the club. There will be no change in the management of any nature, and Mr. McGraw will continue to manage the players as he heretofore has done and will have the same free hand that he had in working with Mr. Brush."

Mr. McGraw was the most loyal friend and supporter that Mr. Brush had, and I hope that we two will have many happy years in the baseball life of New York."

Fire Breaks Out in Mine.
Butte, Mont., Dec. 10.—Fire broke out between the 1,500 and the 1,700-foot levels of the Stevens mine, belonging to the Anaconda Mining Company, today and later tonight is still burning. Mine officials say all of the miners were taken out before the fire had gained any headway. The fire is supposed to have caught from candles carried by miners.

Police Seize Desperate Gang Assembled at Memphis to Take Prisoner from Custody of United States Marshal.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 10.—Another night tonight in connection with the bandit raid today, in which one man was killed and several prisoners taken, showed that Frank Holloway, bank robber and escaped convict, as a sequel to his gang to intercept United States marshals enroute from Savannah, Ga., to Omaha, Neb., with Deane Nolen, accused of murder of mail, and free Nolen. Their plans were frustrated when Holloway, Branley, Mitchell, John McCoy, alias "Tex" Wallace, and Mrs. John McCoy, were arrested by police who swooped down on the McCoy residence this morning.

Nolen, according to the police, has admitted that such was Holloway's plan, frustrated because of the circuitous route taken by the officers having Nolen in custody. As a sequel, Detective Ernest Nolen, of the local force, is under suspicion because of failure to make known his alleged knowledge of the presence of Holloway in the city. Deane Nolen is a brother of the detective and Holloway is a cousin.

The men, who were asleep when the officers gained entrance to the dwelling, were handed over to the police. Mrs. McCoy, who admitted in sight for Mitchell, was seized and silenced before she could utter an alarm. In her struggle she overturned some furniture, which awakened "Kinney" Bergen. Emerging from a window on the second floor upon changed shots with one of the detectives, then leaped to the ground, a distance of twenty-five feet and escaped.

He returned later to get his clothing and opened fire on the detectives standing guard at the house. In the exchange of shots he was killed. Mitchell is charged with attempting highway robbery and assault in intent to kill Jules Stiffel, a business man, who was held up last night. Stiffel opened fire when two men approached him with the command of "hands up."

In the exchange of shots Stiffel was slightly wounded, the wound being a superficial one. Stiffel identified Mitchell as one of the men who had been with him.

Holloway, who is credited with being the leading figure in the bandit raid, was arrested in Chicago a few months ago and at that time made an alleged confession implicating himself in the robbery of the New York National bank. He was held in custody of the St. Louis club, where he is wanted for sale.

Holloway, however, was released to seven men in the penitentiary. After his conviction he pleaded illness and while on his way to a hospital jumped from a fast moving train and escaped.

This decision was reached at a meeting of the board of directors. The St. Louis club was directed to file within twenty days an answer to Bresnahan's complaint. An official copy of the complaint will be supplied forthwith to the St. Louis club.

During Closing Hour Stocks Rally and Gain Point Over Previous Day's Record But Conditions Are Unsettled.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
New York, Dec. 10.—After a severe break which forced quotations to a new low level for the protracted downward movement, the stock market rallied effectively today. The recovery was not regarded as indicative of a market change in sentiment. The downward movement began on the rendition of the Hartman decision, has extended beyond a point to which the influence of that decision may be said to have made itself directly felt and there has been no specific development since that time to account for the continued pressure.

There was no apparent reason for a change in sentiment today and it was the opinion of many market observers that the rally was due in large part to over-extension of short selling. The opening was weak, and through the morning there was a steady stream of selling orders which at times almost demoralized the market. No effective resistance was offered and stocks were included in increasing volume, steel sold down to 64 1/2, Union Pacific to 16 1/2, Reading to 16 1/2, and Amalgamated Copper to 7 1/2.

Among the less active issues, declines were more severe, extending to 15 points in Lackawanna and 11 in National Biscuit. The turn in the market came with the noon hour and prices mounted steadily until 2 o'clock, when a number of other important issues showed net gains of 1 point or more. Just before the close the market became heavy, although prices did not relapse to the low point of the day.

The increase of 228,000 tons in the United States steel corporations unfilled tonnage was regarded as a satisfactory showing, but without influence on the market in its present unsettled state.

AGNES M. AVERYT AND DR. COLBERT WANT $10,000 A PIECE

Suits for Big Sums as Civil Libel Brought Against Morning Journal By Self-Named 'Widow' and 'Benedict.'

COMPLAINTS DEMAND DAMAGES OF $20,000

Plaintiffs Assert Re-Printing of Alleged Degrading Matter in Story of Criminal Action Is Second Offense.

Civil actions for $10,000 damages each, because of alleged libelous statements made in the issues of the Morning Journal of November 17th and November 24th were yesterday filed by Mrs. Agnes M. Averyt and Dr. John W. Colbert against the Journal Publishing Company. The complaints in each case are identical with the exception of a few words. Both allege that the publication of an article headed "The Scandal Monger's Latest," was defamatory to a certain "widow" and a certain "Benedict," who were mentioned in it. Mrs. Averyt and Dr. Colbert, apparently, have taken these terms to mean themselves. They claim $10,000 damages each on the ground of this story's publication.

For a second cause of action, each complaint alleges that the publication of a news story relating to the filing of an action for criminal libel by Dr. Colbert against Dr. A. Macpherson, publisher, and Mrs. George Patridge, otherwise known as Coral Clyde, society editor of the Morning Journal, which was based upon the first article, was also defamatory and was circulated for the purpose of degrading the plaintiffs. This, they claim, damaged each of them in the sum of $10,000.

The peculiar thing about the suits is that while each alleges damages of $10,000 due to each of the articles named, neither suit asks for more than a $10,000 judgment, with costs. Whether this was due to an oversight on the part of the attorney who prepared the actions is not known. Certainly they are much more brief than those he usually files, and are almost as brief and clear as to be plain to a layman. However, it is unlike him to overlook anything and why he did so in this instance, if he did, is unknown.

The actions were filed simultaneously, shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon with Deputy County Clerk Thomas K. D. Maddison, who has charge of the district court office. Shortly thereafter copies of them, with summons attached, were served on Dr. A. Macpherson, publisher of the Morning Journal, who was then in the office of the paper. Mr. Macpherson accepted service.

The complaints give the Morning Journal credit for being a newspaper of wide circulation in the city and state, and allege that it is regularly published by the defendant corporation. They allege that on or about November 17th, there was published "wrongfully, unlawfully, wilfully and maliciously and with intent to injure and degrade this plaintiff and to cause it to be believed among her friends and the public generally that she had been guilty of acts and conduct disgraceful to her as a member of society and which should bring her into contempt among honorable persons."

The allegations in the second cause of action are the same, word for word, almost. Both complaints admit that the plaintiffs were not referred to by name, but claim that the plaintiffs were "therein described and intended to be referred to."

Each complaint is sworn to by the plaintiff in the case and is attested before Viola A. Jones, a notary. The articles referred to and made the basis of the two sections in each suit are attached as Exhibits "A" and "B." The first is the original "Scandal Monger's Latest" story, which appeared in the society columns, and the second the news story, heading and all, printed when Dr. Colbert filed his criminal complaint.

The complaints in full are as follows:

Complaint of Mrs. Averyt.
State of New Mexico, in the District Court, Bernalillo County.

Agnes M. Averyt, plaintiff, vs. Journal Publishing Company, defendant.

The complaint of the above named plaintiff respectfully shows to the court for a first cause of action:

I. That the plaintiff is a resident of the county of Bernalillo, and state of New Mexico.

II. That the defendant is a corporation organized under the laws of the state of New Mexico and during all the times hereinafter mentioned owned and published in the city of Albuquerque, Bernalillo county, New Mexico, a daily newspaper known as the Albuquerque Morning Journal.

III. That the said newspaper, the Albuquerque Morning Journal, has a large and general circulation within the limits of the city of Albuquerque and the inhabitants thereof and also throughout much of the state of New Mexico.

IV. That on or about the 17th day of November, 1912, and in its issue of the Morning Journal of that date the defendant wrongfully, unlawfully, wilfully and maliciously, and with intent to injure and degrade this plaintiff and to cause it to be believed among her friends and associates and the public generally that she had been guilty of acts and conduct disgraceful to her as a member of society and which should bring her into contempt among honorable persons, published and circulated of and concerning this plaintiff, who though not expressly named in the article was therein described and intended to be referred to as a widow, the said article containing among other things the faults and libelous matter set forth in the statement annexed hereto and marked Exhibit "A" which is to be taken and considered as though here set forth in full, to the damage of this plaintiff in the sum of ten thousand dollars, ($10,000.00).

And for a second cause of action, this plaintiff realleges the matters contained in the first, second and third paragraphs of this first cause of action, and in addition, and with intent to injure and degrade this plaintiff and to cause it to be believed among her friends and associates and the public generally that she had been guilty of acts and conduct disgraceful to her as a member of society, and which should bring her into contempt among honorable persons, published and circulated of and concerning this plaintiff, and who though not expressly named in the article was therein described and intended to be referred to as a "widow" the said article containing among other things, the faults and libelous matter set forth in the statement annexed hereto and marked Exhibit "B," which is to be taken and considered as though here set forth in full, to the damage of this plaintiff in the sum of ten thousand dollars, ($10,000.00).

Wherefore, the plaintiff demands judgment against the defendant for the sum of ten thousand dollars and costs.

TAFT-JAFFA CLUB REPORT WILL BE INVESTIGATED

Sub-Committee Named by Tri-Partisan Junta to Go Into Matter Thoroughly and Report on Findings.

The joint committee of the three political parties in Bernalillo county at a meeting Monday afternoon, named a sub-committee which shall investigate the report of the Taft-Jaffa club and matters pertaining thereto and report to the committee at an early date. The report, if it shows anything warranting such a procedure will then be brought before the district attorney.

This action was the result of a two-hour discussion at the office of Eliseo Baca, the chairman of the joint committee, who called the meeting for the discussion of the report at the request of a number of members of the committee.

Speaking of the matter yesterday, Mr. Baca said: "We will prosecute, or lay grounds for prosecution of anyone in any party found to have used money at the last election. It was just such payment of workers as was indicated in the Taft-Jaffa report, that the corrupt practices act passed by the last legislature was framed to cover. It was hoped that act would put a stop to that sort of thing, and the committee wants it enforced."

Mr. Baca mentioned at some length possibilities for at least careful investigation in the report. He declared that the payment of money to workers at election was wrong, either way you looked at it, whether the worker was paid to cast his vote for a certain party or whether he was paid to influence others to cast their votes for that party or any other. He asserted that the committee was of one mind in regard to prosecuting any and all violators of the law and that it undoubtedly would do so or lay grounds for prosecution by the regular authorities.

"We kept our agreement," he said, referring to the three party organization, "and we want politics to be kept clean."

The committee named to make the investigation is composed of Mr. Baca, John Baron Burg and John W. Wilson, the joint committee thinking it best to name three attorneys.

At the meeting Monday evening all the members of the joint committee except A. A. Sedillo were present, and participated in the discussion. Mr. Sedillo telephoned that he would have attended, but for an illness which kept him at home.

A feature of the discussion was that the report showed several contributions to have been made by corporations, which is said to be a violation of the federal statutes.

COMMITTEE NAMED FOR PROGRAM OF ADVERTISING

Woman's Club Ladies Will Pursue Novel Plan of Selling Ads at Low Rate to Numerous Merchants.

The Albuquerque Woman's club committee on soliciting advertising for the program of their play, "David Garrick," which is to be presented December 19th, was organized yesterday. This committee is composed of Mesdames Ray Buruff, Harry Benjamin and Roy Cowper.

The committee held a meeting yesterday and decided to issue a four-page program and to pursue the somewhat novel plan of making the advertising rate low enough to barely pay for the programs.

Rehearsals for the play continue steadily. One will be held on the stage at the Elks' theater tonight. As a result of this play Albuquerque theatergoers will be introduced to a new figure in dramatic circles. This is Hugo C. Meyer, who, working as Squire City, the weak young man intended by her father as a husband for Ada Innes, is such as to surprise every one. Chivy will undoubtedly be one of the big things of the play. If such a thing can be said, his work will surprise that of the rest of the male members of the cast in several lines.

ALBUQUERQUE CLUB OFFICERS INVITED TO TRINIDAD MEETING

The Commercial club officers of Colorado plan a trip to Cokedale on December 20th and an excursion over the scenic highway to Raton, December 21st.

Two Generations Are Now Using It

Nation's Most Popular Laxative Keeping Millions of American Families in Good Health.

There must be genuine merit to an article that has stood the test of two generations of users.

In the field of medicine none has had greater success, nor retained that success to a greater degree, than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is now being used by two generations of people. Its use in families is constantly becoming more general. The reason, primarily, is that it has merit.

It is what it represents itself to be, a laxative-remedy. It does not hide behind the name of a well-known fruit or vegetable; it does not make exaggerated claims nor use coarse language to set forth its virtues.

It is a medicine, but so mild and gentle a medicine that thousands of mothers give it to their infants, and yet, in a slightly larger dose, it is equally effective for grown-ups. It is for any disorder of the stomach, liver or bowels, for constipation no matter how chronic, for dyspepsia no matter how severe, for biliousness, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, headaches, drowsiness after eating, and similar complaints arising from a clogged-up condition of the bowels.

It is pleasant to the taste and does not gripe. It can be used with safety and good results by anyone at any age or in any condition of health, and that person's health will improve. Every druggist sells it and the price is only fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Thousands of families throughout the country are never without it in the house, among them Mr. William Deibert, Hoxie, Kan., and Mrs. Rose L. Menke, Galt, Cal., and these have learned to avoid the use of cathartics, salts, purgatives and physics generally as they are entirely too harsh. Syrup Pepsin cures gradually, but the cure is comfortable, safe and permanent.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address in a postal note to Dr. W. D. Caldwell, 415 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

EASTBOUND TRAINS DELAYED BY WRECK WHICH KILLS TWO

Eastbound trains last night and yesterday afternoon were delayed several hours because of a freight wreck at Williams in which two were killed and several injured.

The wreck was a rear-end collision between two freight trains, one of which was on a siding. Two stockmen, whose names could not be learned here last night, were in the caboose of the standing train and were killed. Several trainmen were injured.

No. 8 did not get here until 8:40 as a result of the wreck, and No. 2 was about two hours late and No. 4 the eastbound California limited, about half an hour late.

Details of the accident could not be learned here last night.

"THE CONFESSION" PLAYS TO WELL FILLED HOUSE

However, Drama is Extreme Example of Modern Playwright's Use of Liberty Accorded the Stage.

"The Confession" is an extreme example of the modern playwright's doubtful use of the liberty accorded the stage nowadays. As delineated as the theme is handled, a doubt will linger in the mind of many whether the sacredness of church should be attuned to the literalness of the stage. And when it comes to presenting a problem without artistic merit in its treatment, or a suggestion of a solution based on sober second thought, it all tends to weary rather than to edify.

Not only is "The Confession" based on dangerous premises, but the plot attempts to bolster up interest with improbabilities. The moral, which is obvious at the start, gets lost in the shuffle.

The title of the play saves any necessity of rehearsing the plot. A Catholic priest absolves from sin a confessed murderer to learn that his own brother is accused of the crime. To those who understand the sacredness of the confessional, the plot is evident, others probably would not be interested.

So much for the play itself. As a medium for displaying any remarkable histrionic ability, it was a bit short, weighty, too. It was well staged and fairly well cast, however. One Richard Sterling essayed the role of "priest" and was impressive if not convincing. A youngster, Frank I. Frayne, as the bawdy hunchback, added a bit of bawdy needed humor with a bit of picturesque lingo and Thaddeus Shine as the Irish sexton, captured a few smiles and a stray hand or so.

Adelyn Bushnell as "Rose," and Adelaide Goude, as the priest's mother, were the only women in the cast and carried their parts through creditably. Briefly, without being at all sensational or a bit amusing, "The Confession" proved an interesting example of the popular analytical drama, and was well enough acted in the principal roles to provide a mildly pleasant evening of entertainment.

There were more people than enthusiasm noted in the house.

ACLEAN SCALP MEANS BEAUTIFUL HAIR

HERPICIIDE.

There is nothing "just as good" as Newbro's Herpicide. Some dealers will even go so far as to tell you they have something better.

That dealer has an axe to grind. You can't stop his grinding, but you can prevent him grinding it at your expense.

There is one sure, swift way to do it. Go where you can get what you ask for.

—You won't be obliged to do this very often, as fortunately the majority of druggists are honest and conscientious. Newbro's Herpicide has been so long and favorably known as the original dandruff germ destroyer that no one should be deceived.

When you need a hair remedy, you don't want one which merely promises to kill the dandruff germ and prevent the hair from falling.

You want one that will do it. Herpicide does it.

The hair becomes soft and lustrous. There is life, snap and beauty where formerly the hair was dead, dull and brittle.

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

Applications of this wonderful prophylactic may be obtained at the best barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

Send ten cents in postage or silver to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., for a nice sample of Herpicide and a booklet telling all about the hair.

NO ATTEMPT MADE TO SAFEGUARD MILLIONS

George Fitzgerald, Former Sub-Treasury Clerk at Chicago Accused of Embezzlement, Gives Testimony.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Chicago, Dec. 10.—George Fitzgerald, accused of stealing $175,000 from the sub-treasury here, testifying in his own defense this afternoon, said that for three years he was a naval cadet at the academy at Annapolis. His next employment, he testified, however, was in North Carolina, where he worked for a novelty manufacturer. He then returned to Chicago and in 1909 secured a position as watchman in the sub-treasury. In four years he was promoted to a clerkship, where he handled from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 a day. Fitzgerald testified that he lived a frugal life.

Fitzgerald testified that Sub-Treasurer William Boldenbeck's cashier, Frank C. Russell and Arthur Boal, Russell's assistant, had keys to Fitzgerald's cage where there was a door less than $200,000 in large bills on the shelves. Anybody could get in the cage by putting his fingers through the grating and opening the latch, he said. Fitzgerald said piles of $1,000 dollar bills were stacked around in a casual way and that when only nine $1,000 bills were in a pile it would be left over night, until another $1,000 bill happened along to make a complete pile.

"I used to count from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 a day," he said. "December 20th, Russell told me that in order not to delay closing the vault, I should leave the money I took in during the day in the cage overnight. After that the amount left in the cage overnight jumped from $200,000 to $1,000,000."

WIDOW CONFESSES HAVING KILLED BOARDER

Two Other Mysterious Deaths May be Charged Against Woman in Whose Basement is Quicklime.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Lansing, Mich., Dec. 10.—The alleged confession in jail today of Mrs. Mary Lucas, a widow of a former Nebraska attorney, that she killed her boarder, Mrs. Pauline Fingel, with poison last Friday night, caused the officers to make an investigation in the Lucas home for possible evidence in connection with the disappearance of a Lansing contractor.

A quantity of quicklime was discovered in the cellar. According to officers, Carl Miller, the contractor, was last seen in the Lucas home here a little more than a year ago. Miller said that Mrs. Lucas' husband died two years ago under mysterious circumstances. His body was found in a bathtub in their home. It is alleged that jealousy and robbery were the motives for the Fingel crime.

SALVATION ARMY'S WORK UNCOVERS DIRE POVERTY

Captain Puett Finds Father of Five Children Huddled Close to Cold Stove; Mother Takes Baby to Neighbor's Fire.

The investigation by Captain Pearl Puett, Salvation Army leader, of cases commended to her for Christmas charity, yesterday brought to light a family in need of immediate relief.

The father was ill. Captain Puett found him huddled in a chair close to a fireless stove. The mother, she learned, had taken their baby to a neighbor's house to warm the infant. The family, according to the Salvation Army captain, had no food and no coal. Beside the parents and the baby, there are four other children. The family, Captain Puett does not make known the name—could not wait until Christmas for aid. Brown, took some coal from the army's little bin and gathered what provisions

SLOW GETTING WELL

The pale, thin face of one who has just been through a serious illness, one of the sufferer of all rights. With weakened, trembling limbs, and faltering steps they creep about—it takes so long to get well.

We know something that is the greatest help to such persons of any remedy we have ever sold, and the way it hastens the return of health is truly remarkable. This remedy is Vinol, our preparation of cod liver oil and strengthening iron in the form of a delicious wine. It is far better than cod liver oil, for Vinol agrees with any stomach, however weak, and begins its work by enriching and strengthening the blood and improving the circulation, nourishing all parts of the body. Vinol will put you on your feet—by it does not we give back the money. Certainly a fair offer.

J. H. O'Reilly Co., druggists, Albuquerque, N. M.

they could hardly and re-visited the family. That was at 4:30 o'clock in the evening and they found the parents and their children had gone to bed to keep warm. When they learned that the Salvation Army workers had brought them food and fuel, they bent on their knees and kissed their hands.

This family lives in an adobe house. The woman told Captain Puett that they had been forced to leave the house where they formerly lived when their baby was only a month old, and that was not very long ago.

This case, of course, is far worse than the majority of those reported to the army corps here. Captain Puett and her lieutenant, however, have a long list of persons who will not have much of a Christmas dinner unless the Salvation Army provides it.

The Salvation Army officers already have given out fifty tickets that entitle the holders to Christmas dinners, and they ask anyone who knows of a deserving case to report it to them before they give the tickets. It was on an investigating trip that they discovered the family mentioned, cold and hungry.

Captain Puett is anxious to look into all charity cases before Saturday. After that time she and the other members of the corps will be busy with the kettles, which they will place at the street corners to receive donations to help care for the poor they have visited.

BRITISH WARSHIP SINKS UNKNOWN STEAMER

Dreadnought, Speeding at 20 Knots an Hour, Strikes Vessel That Sinks Almost Instantly with All on Board.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Liverpool, England, Dec. 10.—The British dreadnought Centurion, while speeding twenty knots off Portland Bill before dawn today, ran down and sank a small, unknown steamer, the Centurion's port light was found still burning after the collision.

The steamer, which was found to be a damaged boat, the Centurion tried to cross the bow of the battleship which struck her with such force that the Centurion's port light was found still burning after the collision. The Centurion's forecastle, before the collision, the battleship's smoke, she sank and no trace of her could be found, although boats were lowered and the Centurion cruised about until long after dawn.

The steamer plunged to the bottom so quickly that the Centurion could not determine whether she was a tramp or a passenger ship. The bows of the battleship were damaged by the anchor being driven through the plates.

STOMACH MISERY JUST VANISHES

Time It! No Indigestion, Gas or Sourness Five Minutes After Taking "Pape's Diapepsin."

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is indigestion.

A full course of Pape's Diapepsin costs only fifty cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases, then you will understand why dyspeptic trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. Like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many Diapepsin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this, you ever try a little for indigestion or gastritis or any other stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion.

WOMAN'S LOVING HAND.

An old non-vivante who kept a fine establishment received a visit from his maiden aunt. He took a great pride in showing her over the place and pointing out its many treasures. As a special favor he let her have a glimpse of his famous wine cellar.

"You're the first woman who has ever set foot in here," he said.

"Gracious! I should say I was," she replied. "Why, the place is full of cobwebs."—September Lippincott's.

Oh! To Be Sure.
A huntsman called on Hodge to settle for damages done by a run to home and found only Mrs. Hodge at home.

"Has your husband," he inquired, "made an examination yet?"

"That he have, sir," replied Mrs. Hodge with a curious expression.

"Rather a cursory examination, I suspect."

"O, dreadful, sir. Such language I never heard—never."—Exchange.

BABY GOES ON WHEN PARENTS MISS TRAIN HERE

Doctor and Wife Leave Child on No. 1; It Departs While They Are in Restaurant; Infant Taken Off at Isleta.

Dr. Matthew Campbell and his wife, on route to Los Angeles, last night got off Santa Fe train No. 1 here, leaving their baby, 10 months old, in the Pullman section. They strolled away from the station and when they returned the train had left.

Mrs. Campbell ran to the agent's office crying to the clerk to stop the train. This was their first intimation that Baby Campbell was traveling toward Los Angeles alone and that the parents were still in Albuquerque.

Dr. Campbell said he and his wife and another daughter, older than the baby, left the train to go to a restaurant. They thought No. 1 remained here an hour and when they re-appeared at the station at the end of that time, it was gone.

They could not stop the train, Mrs. Campbell was informed, but they would wire to George Thomas, Santa Fe special officer at Isleta, to get the child. The doctor sent the telegram.

No answer came and the mother, with her other child in her arms, began to worry. It was nearly 10 o'clock when a freight brakeman brought word that Special Officer Thomas had the child. He also had taken all of the Campbell's baggage from No. 1. The brakeman said he wanted to bring the baby back to Albuquerque in the caboose, but that Thomas refused to give it up.

The Campbell's caught train No. 7 at 10:10 o'clock. This train ordinarily does not stop at Isleta, but it did last night, and the Campbell family, reunited there, continued on their way to Los Angeles.

Dr. Campbell and his wife had been in Ireland, where the doctor was born for the last year. The child left on the train last night was born in London.

BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT ABRUPTLY CONCLUDED

Husband Strayed Into Court Where Wife Had Just Made Claim of $20,000 Damages from Another Man.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
New York, Dec. 10.—A $20,000 breach of promise suit was brought to a halt here when the "dead husband" of Mrs. Helen Cauley, plaintiff against David A. Sheppard, a wealthy truckman, was brought into court very much alive. The woman had just testified that her husband died in December, 1905, in a railroad wreck. As a result of her testimony a charge of perjury was lodged against her. The husband, Andrew J. Cauley, who seemed to be puzzled, testified he had breakfasted with her at her apartment only this morning.

"When did you first hear of this case," asked Mrs. Cauley's lawyer.

"I have not heard of any case. I got some tickets to come down here and saw them to my wife, but she did not know what they were for."

"She left the house this morning and said she had an engagement."

Mrs. Cauley, who is a trained nurse, alleged in her suit that Sheppard, alleged in her suit that he had nursed him in a hospital here and had promised to marry her.

MOUNTAINEERS ARE JAILED; THREATEN GOV. WILSON

Three Men Living in Jersey Hills Taken Into Custody for Attempting the Extortion of Large Sum.

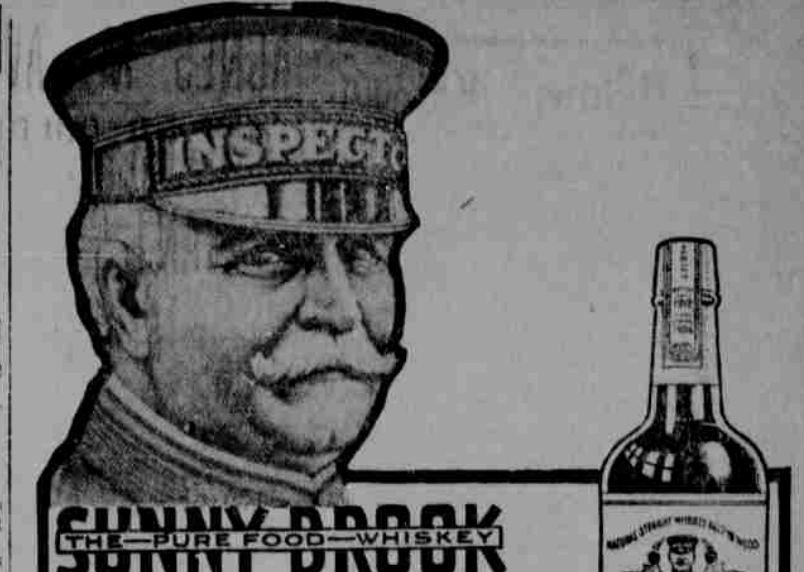

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Newark, N. J., Dec. 10.—Three residents of Wharton, this state, late today, charged with writing a letter threatening President-elect Wilson with death, unless he caused $5,000 in gold to be left for them in a designated unoccupied house in Wharton. The men arrested here are Peter Dunn, aged 24, his brother Jacob, aged 26, and Seely Lavenport, aged 24. They were brought to Newark where United States Commissioner Stockton tonight committed them to jail in default of $2,000 bail each for examination on Monday.

The letter to the governor was written on November 14th, and was signed, "New York Gang."

Postoffice inspectors made the arrest. Seven letters in all were sent to Governor Wilson, it appears. Their text indicated that the writers to be of a low degree of literacy. One of them—the letter dated November 14th, read in part:

"Mr. W.—I am again to warn you of what we are going to do to you as did not Teddy and McKinley either they got shot up just the same and if we don't get what we ask from you you will get the same say Wilson say you have got the office as president yes and we are death on presidents so now Wilson if you have $5,000 in gold for this party we will share your life but if not we will shoot you before you get in the office as sure as your name is Wilson."

The letter gave Governor Wilson

At some time or another nearly everyone gets an attack of the "blues," everything seems to go wrong, and the whole world has a dreary look. That is the time when a little Sunny Brook—The Pure Food Whiskey—will perform a magical change. Its rich, fragrant bouquet, and mellow flavor make it a delicious beverage—every golden drop pleases the senses and soothes the nerves. Best of all, its absolute purity and highly developed medicinal properties make it use perfectly safe—in fact, highly beneficial.

Sunny Brook—The Pure Food Whiskey—is Bottled In Bond—every bottle bears the Green Government Stamp, so that in addition to the unequalled guarantee by the largest distillers of fine whiskey in the world that its quality is unsurpassed, you have the assurance of the U. S. Government that every drop is pure, natural, straight whiskey unadulterated, fully matured and U. S. Standard 100% proof.

until November 24th to send the money. The threatening missive was received at the governor's office in Trenton by his secretary who forwarded it to James T. Cortelyou, chief postal inspector at Philadelphia. Each day for six days, letters of the same nature were received. Meanwhile, the postal agents were working, and one who posed as a pension agent, went to Wharton and there found a clue.

The search took the inspectors through a wild region in the north Jersey hills and some trouble was experienced in making the men pilsovers. Jacob Dunn, the officers said, started for them with an axe when he found out who they were. They leveled their revolvers and stopped his rush. The alleged backsmen are rugged looking mountaineers, with heavy sweeping mustaches.

Must Not "Rush Growler" in D. C.
Washington, Dec. 10.—It will be against the law to carry home a bucket of beer in Washington after January 1st. The excise board of the District of Columbia promulgated a drastic rule which forbids any auto-keeper to sell any beer not to be drunk on the premises, "except in original packages."

MADAME SHERRY IS NEXT ATTRACTION AT ELKS THEATER

Musical Comedy Which Scored Tremendous Hit Last Season Coming for Return Engagement on December 17th.

Every little movement has a meaning all its own. Every throb and felling by some posture can be shown. And every love that comes a-stealing.

Of your being must be revealing. All its sweetness in some appealing little gesture all its own. This is the chorus of that haunting melody which forms the musical theme of "Madame Sherry," the Hauerbach-Hoschma musical comedy which scored such a tremendous hit here last season and which returns to the Elks theater on Tuesday, December 17th. If perchance you haven't learned the words, you surely know the tune. If you have not, there's something decidedly amiable with your musical education. Surely you can not lay the blame at the door of the cafe orchestra, the parlor pianos or the street whistlers. "Every Little Movement" is a tuneful epidemic.

Two weeks after the initial American production of "Madame Sherry" at the Colonial theater, Chicago, the score of the piece, and especially its theme number, were becoming popular in every part of the country from Boston to San Francisco. By the time "Madame Sherry" reached New York the melody had encircled the globe and the publishers of the score reported sales in London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna, South Africa and Australia. After its first New York performance the tune was heard on the streets and in the subway.

Not so. "Don't you find that rising in the army is rather slow?" "Not in my case. I belong to the aviation corps."—Life.

W. R. FORBES CALLED TO FINAL REWARD BY GRIM REAPER

United States Deputy Marshal and Long Time Resident of New Mexico Succumbs to Lingering Illness.

Following an illness of several months' duration, W. R. Forbes, for many years a resident of Albuquerque and other New Mexico cities, passed away at his home on West Central avenue, at 10 o'clock yesterday. He leaves a wife, who with his mother, Mrs. C. E. Forbes, was with him at the time of death; one son, E. R. Forbes, and a sister, Elsie, an accomplished pianist, have not yet been announced. It is known that the body will be shipped back to his birthplace, Portage, Wis., for burial.

Forbes was born in 1865, and lived in Portage until he was 22, when he went to Chicago to make his home. The same year, 1888, he married Belle Brodie. To them one son was born, Fred R. Forbes, who was formerly a student at the University of New Mexico, and is now completing his senior year at Leland-Stanford University in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Forbes made their home in Chicago until 1896, when his health failed and he came to New Mexico. He lived at Madrid, Gallup and Alamogordo for eight years, then came to Albuquerque, where he became a deputy United States marshal.

This post he held until his death. Several days ago, his mother, Mrs. C. E. Forbes, was notified of her son's serious illness and arrived in Albuquerque to spend a day or two with him before the end. Yesterday the son was notified of his father's critical condition and later was telegraphed of his death. He will arrive here Thursday.

Miss Caroline A. Forbes, the sister, is a teacher at the Normal school in Charleston, Ill., and was unable to come here.

Mr. Forbes was a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity, being one of the members of Ballou Abney temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., of Albuquerque, and a member of Fort Winnebago Lodge, Fort Winnebago, chapter No. 14, and Fort Winnebago commandery, No. 4, in Portage.

The death of Mr. Forbes will be deeply regretted by all who knew him.

STOP BUILDING AT SANATORIUM ASKS M. P. STAMM

Owner of Real Estate Claims He Was Damaged by City's Deeding Strip of Land to the Presbyterians.

M. P. Stamm yesterday filed an action in the district court asking that building in what was once Mulberry street, at the Presbyterian sanatorium, be stopped and that the building work already done be removed by the sanatorium. The complaint is drawn against the "Presbyterian Sanatorium," but the officials of the institution prefer the other spelling. The city of Albuquerque is a co-defendant in the action.

The complaint sets forth that the city is a municipal corporation existing under the state laws, and that the sanatorium is also a corporation.

It alleges that the sanatorium authorities are erecting a building in Mulberry street and that they intend to have a license of permit to so build, to the great damage of the plaintiff and others, all of whom own lots on Mulberry street.

Because of which, plaintiff prays that an injunction issue calling upon the sanatorium to remove the building from the streets and annulling any alleged permit or license granted the sanatorium by the city, which they might build in the street.

Judge Herbert F. Reynolds issued an order to show cause, returnable December 19th. This writ is to the effect that the plaintiff must show cause, if any there be, why the injunction should not be issued.

Several tax matters were adjusted yesterday by orders issued by Judge Reynolds. One of these was the requiring the levy for city purposes on property of Jose B. Trujillo to be vacated. It was ordered that Trujillo be allowed to pay his corrected taxes as of November 24.

Another similar order was that vacating the assessment against St. John's Episcopal church and voiding a certificate of tax sale therefor.

DEATH OF PHYSICIAN DUE TO NATURAL CAUSES

Coroner's Jury Determines That Dr. Moran Died from Oedema of Lungs, Probably Superinduced By a Bad Cold.

Dr. John J. Moran, whose body was found Monday afternoon in his office in the Barnett building, died from oedema of the lungs. That was the verdict of the coroner's jury at the inquest held yesterday in the office of the chief of police.

Only two witnesses were called. The inquest was adjourned at 10 o'clock yesterday morning until 2 o'clock Justice George R. Craig held the inquest. The jury returned a quick verdict when all testimony was heard.

Dr. W. W. Spargo and Dr. Charles A. Frank, who performed the autopsy, were the only witnesses called to the stand. Doctor Frank's office is in the Barnett building, across the hall from Doctor Moran's, and he was able to tell of the finding of the body. This eliminated the need of calling another witness.

Doctor Frank said the post mortem showed Doctor Moran's lungs were choked with blood and fluid. Oedema is a violent and sudden congestion of the pulmonary organs, he said, and capable of producing sudden death. Finding the lungs in this condition was evidence enough as to the cause of death, the physician said, and an analysis of the contents of the stomach in the face of this would show nothing.

The dead physician had complained of pains in his lungs last week. It was learned, in fact he went to a hospital for treatment. The condition of the lungs probably was due to a severe cold, Doctor Frank said.

James McDonald, one of the jurors, probably was the last man to see Dr. Moran alive. He talked with the physician on the street near his office at midnight Saturday night. Soon afterward Doctor Moran went to his office, and then no one saw him until his body was found Monday afternoon.

The physician on the witness stand said he died some time Sunday.

The local Knights of Columbus, to which order the dead physician belonged, held services at Strong's chapel at 7:30 last evening, at which prayers for the deceased were recited. There was a large attendance of members of Albuquerque Council, showing the esteem in which Dr. Moran was held. The body will be sent to Lyons, N. Y., this afternoon, the boyhood home, where burial will be made. An escort of Knights of Columbus will accompany the body to the train acting as a guard of honor. The body will lie in state today until noon and friends may view it who wish.

Joe Hamilton, charged with obtaining a sewing machine under false pretenses, yesterday was bound over to the grand jury at his preliminary examination before Justice Craig. His bond was fixed at $180, which he was unable to furnish.

Hamilton was arrested two weeks ago in El Paso on a description furnished by Chief of Police Thomas McMillin and brought here for trial by Deputy Sheriff A. C. Burtless.

COMMISSIONERS TO CONSIDER QUESTION OF NEW PRECINCT

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the board of commissioners of Bernalillo county will hold a meeting at the courthouse at which they will consider several matters left over from the last meeting.

Among these is the proposition of the establishing of a new precinct. The residence of the eastern end of Precinct 13 have long complained of the inconvenience and trouble caused them by not having a precinct government of their own, particularly at elections, when they have to go all the way to old Albuquerque to vote.

Often this entails a journey of several miles. They have asked several times that a new precinct be erected, and it now appears that they may have their desire granted.
