London, Dec. 21.—The British Medical Association has rejected the terms offered by the government for service under the national health insurance act, which will be inoperative without the aid of doctors. The rejection tonight is the last action on the part of the government, which threatens to institute a

GIRL NOT TO SPEND CHRISTMAS UNDER QUARANTINE

Dr. L. G. Rice Will Remove
Smallpox Placard at Loomis
Home Ahead of Time So as
Not to Spoil Family's Holiday

Miss Mona Loomis, 16 years old, 1407 East Coal avenue, who has been ill with smallpox, will not have to pass Christmas under quarantine. The quarantine at the Loomis home would not be raised until December 26th, if the board of health followed its regulations, but Dr. L. G. Rice, city physician, decided since the danger of further contagion in the family is past, not to mar the girl's Christmas.

The family wanted the city physician to remove the warning placard Monday, so they would have two days for Christmas shopping, but he refused.

Miss Loomis, who is a high school student, has recovered entirely, and the quarantine has been maintained this long only to make sure that her parents would not become ill with the disease. The case was mild.

How Miss Loomis caught smallpox, the city physician has been unable to determine. It may have been conveyed to the Loomis home by peddlers he believes. This, however, is merely probable.

DEEDS BEING TAKEN UP FOR SANTA FE SHOP SITE

Actual Cash Being Turned Over to Owners as They Present Deeds for Property
Needed for New Extension.

The deeds for the lands needed for the Santa Fe shop extension are being taken up by P. F. McCanna as fast as they are presented in proper form by the owners. Mr. McCanna is chairman of the committee of the Commercial club which has charge of the work of securing the land needed for the improvements.

Bids for the improvements, etc., which now concern the needed lands have been called for and all the houses which will bear moving will be sold to the highest bidder. Those which will not will be wrecked and their salvage sold for what it will bring.

It is estimated that a sum which will total practically $100,000 will be turned loose in the city by the payments for the properties needed within the next few days. Probably the major portion of this sum will be handed over to the present holders of the lots before Christmas. A hundred thousand dollars added to the available cash on hand for Albuquerque's Christmas will make a respectable showing.

EXPECTS CONTAGION TO SPREAD IN VACATION

Closing of Schools Handicaps
Health Department's Control of Chicken Pox and Mumps;
No Serious Cases.

Mumps and chicken pox, which have been prevalent among school children for a month, probably will increase during the holidays, according to Dr. L. G. Rice, city physician.

Fifteen cases of chicken pox are on Dr. Rice's records. The number of cases of mumps is unknown. The majority of cases are so mild that no doctor is consulted by many of the persons ill. Hence, the city physician cannot determine the exact extent of this epidemic.

The health officers are able to keep an epidemic among children under control, more or less, while school is open. Teachers will not allow children who are ill to attend school without a physician's certificate that they have no contagious disease. The chances for communication are thus minimized by the co-operation of the teachers with the health department. In vacation time it is different. Many of the children are only slightly ill and they mingle with the others.

The birth rate for December already is over the November record, according to Dr. Rice.

The stock hasn't been any busier in December than he was in November. Dr. Rice believes that the poor showing for November was due to failure to report all births. The city physician is an active member of the Albuquerque population club and he urges the physicians to notify him of all births. The effect of his urging is evident in the increased rate for December.

'THE CITY' A DRAMA BASED ON LIFE IN METROPOLIS

Clyde Fitch's Great Play, with
Hugo Koch Starring, is Acid
Test Applied to Individual
Worth of Man or Woman.

"The City," the starring vehicle in which Hugo L. Koch is to appear here, routine and night Christmas day at Elks theater, is an unusual play. The plot pivots on the call of the city—any city—to the younger generations of the small town and the country, and upon the acid test this same strength applies to the individual worth of each victim as soon as he or she arrives within the municipal limits. Mr. Fitch's conclusion, expressed in the first act, is that the city either makes or breaks, according as the personal balance is on the strong or weak side of the character. The steady man, at least the author so concludes, wins much greater success in the great city than he would in a minor community while the weak man who might survive through respectability in the village is speedily on the downward path in the metropolis. At any rate, the play seems to prove that there is a great deal to be learned after all.

Mr. Koch, who is favorably known from his work in "The House of a Thousand Candles" and "The Servant in the House," has the best role of his career in "The City" and the support of a fine cast. The attraction is under the direction of the United Play Company, the same firm that sends out the popular successes, "The Lion and the Mouse," "The Third Degree" and "Crusade." Mr. Koch, in "The City," is this firm's banner attraction.

Society

that neither will prove disappointing, is practically assured.

The sudden death of Felix Lester, Thursday, has plunged numerous family connections into mourning, and has cast a gloom over the entire city. Mr. Lester was most popular and has been for years one of the foremost men of the community. His was a genial spirit, sunny, full of vitality, and he numbered his friends by the hundred. It is hard to realize that his brilliant career is ended.

As Mr. Lester touched closely the intimate life of our leading society and higher professional circles, one can readily conceive the far-reaching effect of his death. The Lester family, the Neil B. Field family, the Metcalfe and the Merritts are stricken, and sympathetically, numerous others. To think on the sorrow which has fallen into the lives of these is to make one feel quite beyond smiling.

Social Brevities of Interest

Mr. and Mrs. George H. White, of Oil City, Pa., who have been the guests for several weeks of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Reidy, left last week for their home. They were considerably entertained among the affairs given in their honor during the last few days of their stay, being a dinner party by Mrs. L. G. Rice and other small affairs at which Mrs. C. E. Lowber and Mrs. Frank E. Tull were the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Noa Hild returned home early the past week after eleven months abroad. The Hilds took plenty of time to their trip and saw Europe thoroughly. They visited England, Ireland, France, Germany, Spain, Italy and other countries, enjoying every moment of the delightful tour. Mr. and Mrs. Hild are in El Paso now for a short visit with Mrs. Hild's mother, Mrs. Sam Schütz.

Grover Harrison, a Harvard Senior this year, left Friday on his return to college, after spending several days in Albuquerque.

Mr. Harrison was on a business trip, but took occasion to renew acquaintances with many old friends.

Among the families to entertain at dinner for Mr. Harrison were the J. W. Harris, the Louis Hilds and the N. J. Arnolds.

The numerous friends of Mrs. W. H. Forbes learn with regret that she is seriously ill with pneumonia in St. Joseph's sanatorium. The death of her husband but a few days since, following so soon on her great grief, is a source of alarm to many friends.

Mrs. Evelyn M. Scott, an aunt of Mrs. Isaac Barth, is expected tomorrow to spend a few days with the Barths. Mrs. Scott with her young daughter, is en route to their home in Montpelier, after an extended western tour.

Mrs. Louis Baer, of Boston, the sister of Mrs. Louis Hild, is expected next week for a two week's visit, after which she will visit her father, A. Staab, of Santa Fe. Mrs. Baer will be accompanied by her two children and a maid.

Mrs. Ralph Hunt, of El Paso, is in the city to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, the W. V. Watsons. She will be joined early this week by Mr. Hunt.

Mrs. B. S. Dodge, of Sparta, Wis., arrived Friday to spend the Christmas holidays with Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Way. After the holidays, Mrs. Dodge will go to California for the remainder of the winter.

Mrs. Melville Summers was in the city Wednesday, en route to her home in Roswell after a visit in the east.

Mrs. Roy Stevenson and children, of Mountainair, are spending the Christmas holidays with Mrs. T. I. Butts.

Mrs. Harry L. Lee, of Santa Fe, is in the city, Christmas shopping, and incidentally visiting with local friends.

Mr. Ralph Halloran, of Berkeley, Cal., is the guest of his daughter, Mrs. O. N. Marron.

Miss Mary McFie was hostess at a dancing party at the Woman's Club Friday evening, to the participants in the very successful concert which she directed at the Presbyterian church, Wednesday evening.

Mrs. R. A. Kistler was hostess, Monday afternoon, to the auction bridge club of which she is a member.

"Little Child Shall Lead Them"

At a recent meeting of the Non-Sectarian Benevolent society a donation of six cents was made by Elizabeth Elder, the beautiful little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John W. Elder. "Five cents for myself and one for my dolly," she said.

A charming commentary, is it not, on the sweetness of the child? That one so small, so petted, and so pampered, should think of the little children less fortunate than she, is a refreshing evidence of youthful philanthropy, and also a real rebuke to many a man or woman who, when a man or woman, give six cents to the Non-Sectarian Benevolent society would exist on a surer financial basis than it now stands. Elizabeth's small gift opens up a wide avenue of thought which, if pursued, leads on to a mansion of results.

As the year draws to a close, a brief review of the work of the Benevolent society is not amiss.

The books show that the society has expended on the average of sixteen hundred dollars per annum, money collected through the annual charity ball, city allowance, donations from schools, churches and private individuals. A few years ago the society had a small fund, which was allowed to accumulate, and which was eventually used in the purchase of a home, where many poor and needy families have been sheltered from time to time.

The work the past year has been greatly handicapped on account of the withdrawal of a municipal income, and because of lack of funds the charity ball was not held.

Bravely ignoring obstacles, the Benevolent society has reorganized with a big increase in membership, and this Christmas is planning to bring comfort and happiness to the poor families scattered throughout the city.

All day tomorrow the members will work at Guild hall preparing packages, and everybody interested is asked to lend their aid. Not only the members, but any others wishing to join the society, and even those who would like to assist for the one day only. Donations, of course, monetary or otherwise, will be thankfully received.

Christmas Tree for Little Ones.

Helen Hope and Florence Grunfeld, assisted by Miss Nell Wetter, arranged a Christmas tree at the public library, Saturday morning, for the youngsters who patronize the children's reading room, and for other children of poor parents, with whom they were able to come in touch.

These two girls are actively interested in the success of the children's reading room and on each Saturday morning amuse the many tots with story telling and reading. The Christmas tree represented an effort to get in touch with more children than the delightful little library room may attract a larger crowd.

The tree was a huge success and afforded the time of their lives for seventy-five youngsters. The girls were assisted in stripping the gorgeously decorated tree by Miss Hope, Elizabeth Simms and Jean Arnold. Donations were made by the tree—Miss Helen and Miss Balcomb; candy sticks, the library association; oranges, Mrs. Roy Stamm; popcorn balls, Helen Hope; candy, Florence Grunfeld. Money donations were made by J. W. Prestell and Miss Dean, of the University.

The meeting of the Parents and Teachers' Co-operation Association held Monday in the Central school building, brought out a large crowd and proved most interesting. The program combined in the varied numbers both entertainment and instructive features. Professor C. E. Hodgins, dean of the University of New Mexico, read a splendid paper on "How the Teacher May Help the Parent," and the reverse subject, "How the Parent May Help the Teacher," was ably handled by Prof. Jones, principal of the Second Ward school, Miss Nell Wetter read an entertaining paper on "Children's Reading." The musical program was very fine, and included songs sung by Miss Mary McFie and Miss Charlotte Pratt. Also selections by a quartette composed of the following well-known vocalists: Mrs. John W. Wilson, Mrs. E. L. Baird, Mrs. Don Sterling and Miss Mary McFie.

Events in Musical Circles

The Variety concert, Wednesday evening, drew a good crowd, although not as large a one as the general excellence of the program deserved. From the opening number, in which forty well trained voices were heard, to the closing selection, the program was well chosen and well rendered, a credit alike to the participants and Miss Mary McFie, the director of the department of music at the university.

The soloists, and of which are well known to the musical public, added a bit more lustre to their reputations, while providing delightful entertainment. E. LeRoy Vott, the violinist; E. Stanley Seder, composer and organist; Marie Higgins, pianist; Ben Puryear, tenor; Mr. J. Falkenberg and Miss McFie were among those who assisted the two glee clubs.

Both clubs are blossoming out into really first-class musical organizations under the direction of Miss McFie, and their work Wednesday evening showed considerable improvement over previous appearances. The personnel of the glee clubs is as follows:

Girls' Glee Club—Irene Boldt, Julia Ketcher, Laureen Asselin, Bernice Hesselberg, Mammie Kelly, Edna Hinds, Dora Nuckels, Margaret Schmidt, Lucille Pearl, Treasure Hartman, Beatrice Arnold, Florence Seder, Amelia McFie, Mary Cooper, Aurelia Michener, Cleo Kelly, Pauline Sewell, Charlotte Lemke, Evelyn Everett, Charlotte Goodner, Helen James, Thelma Louder, Mary Bright.

Boys' Glee Club—Donald Abbott, W. Colburn Cook, Thornton Bright, Albert Hunt, Arthur McCollum, Chester Law, Jack Laprak, Fred Calhoun, Robert Sowell, Frank Gouin, William H. Probert, Kenneth Balcomb, Clyde Kelly, Lawrence Lackey, Joseph Heald, Ira V. Boldt.

Another enjoyable concert is promised for next Friday evening, December 27, at the Central Avenue Methodist church. This is directed by Miss Olga Schuck and the proceeds derived therefrom will be used for the benefit of the church.

Those to participate in the program are Miss Beryl Kenworthy, pianist; Ben Puryear, tenor; Mrs. Fern C. King, reader, and Miss Selke, violinist. The program in full is submitted:

1. Minuet Miss Selke.
2. "De Projectie Son", Boeth Lowry Mrs. King.
3. Transcription Kullak Miss Kenworthy.
4. (a) "Des Hol My Hand Tonight" Carrie Jacobs Bonn
- (b) The Sailor's Song Wagner
- (c) The Song of the Sea Ben Puryear.
5. Mazurka Miss Selke.
6. Uncle Noah's Christmas Inspiration C. Leona Dalrymple
7. Heimweh Yungmann Miss Selke.
8. Concert Etude Haberer Miss Kenworthy.
9. (a) Sing, Smile, Slumber, Gounod (Noli obliuisci)
- (b) African Love Song Nevyn
- (c) Mr. Puryear.

The sixth number, "Uncle Noah's Christmas Inspiration," is a Christmas story of southern plantation life, and deals with the faithfulness of an old slave and the pathos of the southerner's pride and poverty, following the civil war. These characters are clearly portrayed by Mrs. King, and strains of mandolin music will add realism to the reading.

Ben Puryear, Miss Kenworthy and Miss Selke need no introduction to the music-loving public.

"The Toy Shop" Next Saturday

On next Saturday afternoon, following the regular matinee at the Crystal theater, the play, "The Toy Shop," will be staged by child talent, directed by Mrs. E. L. Bradford. Only one grown-up will appear in the production. Mr. Hugo Meyer, who is to take the part of "Daddy Tackhammer."

The entertainment will be given under the auspices of St. John's Episcopal church. The cast of characters is as follows:

Daddy Tackhammer—Hugo Meyer.
Jack-in-the-Box—Richard Skymark.
Bright Eyes, the fairy—Olive Harden.
The Dolls—The French doll, "Mademoiselle Hortense" is a Made, Marjorie Steen, Gretchen, a Dutch importation, Elizabeth Morrisette; Captain Fritz of the Tin Soldiers, Teddy Bradley; Japanese doll, Elizabeth Kistler; talking doll, Ruth Frost; Indian doll, Consuelo Chavez; sleeping doll, Florence Hanson; Colonial doll, Dorothy Warren; baby doll, Wilma Lusk, dancing doll, Katherine and Cecil Ross; girl dolls, Margaret King, Ellen Severn, Katherine Soars; the punch dolls, George Severn and Earl Pratt; sailor doll, Ralph Loney.

"The Tin Soldiers"—Wright McCoy, Paul McDonald, Read Hanson, Edward Lusk, Arthur Peterson, Roy Hawley, Victor Barnes.

Miss Ethel Hickey delightfully entertained the Y. W. C. A. girls last Monday evening, with a talk on "A Christmas in Germany." Following the interesting talk, the Y. W. C. A. glee club, under the direction of Mrs. Bradford, sang Christmas carols.

The next number of the Hopalong Lyceum course, "The Strollers' Quartette," will appear in Elks' theater the evening of January 10. This is said to be a very superior attraction and one of the best of the entertainment course.

A farewell luncheon will be given at the Y. W. C. A., Thursday, for Mrs. C. C. Minnis, a member of the board of directors, who leaves that evening for Temple, Texas.

A Christmas tree and a dinner will be given at the Y. W. C. A., Tuesday.

Installation of Officers

Officers for the year 1913 were installed at the regular meeting of Adah Chapter No. 3, Order of the Eastern Star, Friday evening. Mrs. Alice Maunard, past grand matron, and Mrs. Adelaide Williamson, conductress, presided over the elaborate installation ceremonies.

A wedding of interest to Spanish-American social circles throughout the state was that of Miss Josefa Torres, the daughter of Jose E. Torres of Socorro, and Hermano M. Aragon, which occurred Monday in Socorro. The families of the contracting two are wealthy and prominent, and the wedding was the event of the season in Socorro. Many friends of the young couple from different parts of New Mexico attended the nuptial mass and the reception and dance that evening.

Miss Stella Crawford was united in marriage Wednesday evening to Mr. George A. Kelsey. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Herman P. Williams of the Gold and Broadway Church of Christ, at the parsonage, and was witnessed by a few intimate friends. After the wedding service, Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey were given a bridal supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Gibson, 217 South Edith street. Both Mr. Kelsey and his bride are well known here and have many friends to wish them all the happiness in the world.

Christmas Play Tuesday Night

A Christmas playlet, "Christmas at the Cross Roads," will be given Christmas eve at the Gold and Broadway Church of Christ. No admission will be charged, and a cordial invitation is extended to all friends of the church to attend.

Mrs. Wolf, the talented expressionist, is directing the little play, the scene of which is laid "way down east" in a "deistic" schoolhouse. The time of action is the day before Christmas, and the young people of the community have assembled to trim the tree and make ready for the evening entertainment. A self-appointed chaperon and a meddlesome old maid appear upon the scene and precipitate an interesting row. Throughout the play is replete with humor.

The cast of characters is as follows: Elder Snow—Mr. Erret Van Cleave; Miss Elvira Morton (the old maid)—Mrs. N. J. Strimling; Mrs. Bacon (the self-appointed chaperon)—Mrs. I. J. Mize; Mr. Elijah Bacon—Mr. H. H. Harila; The Decorating Committee—Hiram Jones, Mr. James Dearing; Molly Jones, Miss Ruby Owens; Josiah Smith, Mr. John Hill; Emiline Jones, Mrs. Erret Van Cleave.

The Christmas playlet, "Christmas at the Cross Roads," will be given Christmas eve at the Gold and Broadway Church of Christ. No admission will be charged, and a cordial invitation is extended to all friends of the church to attend.

Commenting this evening, and to extend over the two Sunday evenings following, Stanley Seder, the well-known organist, will give a series of Christmas organ recitals at the Congregational church. Mr. Seder will be assisted by local vocalists, including Charlotte Pratt, Rose Harsch and John Falkenberg. The recitals will be given in connection with the regular Sunday evening services. The programs will be varied and appropriate to Christmas.

The Albuquerque grand opera sextette, recently organized with the following members: Miss Margaret Franklin, Miss Frances Strone, Ben Puryear, Mr. H. F. Patterson, Mr. W. Rowenapple and Miss Beryl Kenworthy, is planning a concert for some time in January, the date to be announced later.

Dancing Season Under Way

The first annual ball of Albuquerque Division No. 43, Order of Railway Employees, was given Wednesday evening at Columbus hall. Elaborate decorations prevailed for the event, consisting of red, white and blue streamers, and unusually pretty lighting effects were obtained by the use of mechanical light reflectors for the moonlight dances, of which there was quite a number.

A large crowd attended, and the dance was in every way a success. The executive committee was composed of the following: George W. Weiser, William Martin, J. E. Huns, Reception—J. E. Brennan, J. Herbert Smith, W. A. Tully, Floor—E. W. Moore.

The Santa Fe railway fire department will give a New Year's eve ball at the Armory, which will be a costume affair and which promises to be a right rollicking event. Prizes will be awarded for the handsomest costumes, and a feature of the ball will be a corner battle at midnight. The booster orchestra will furnish the music.

Guests of the Commercial inn gave an informal and jolly dance Wednesday.

WILSON'S APPOINTMENTS.

President-elect Wilson has made it quite clear that he is not to be hurried into decisions relative to cabinet and other important positions to be filled under his administration. About March 1st is the time when the faithful are to hear who have drawn prize packages.

Josephus Daniels, of North Carolina, has friends who are pressing upon the attention of the president-elect his fitness for the head of the postoffice department. Mr. Daniels is an able man who was chief clerk in the interior department under Hoke Smith. He is editor of one of the leading newspapers of North Carolina, and has been national committeeman for nearly twenty years.

Should he become postmaster general, he will become the chief distributor for the administration, and he is said Mr. Daniels is a democrat who believes that to the victors belong the spoils. Also, it is likely that Mr. Daniels will land the job.

Also, news comes that Congressman Rucker, of Colorado, is an applicant for minister to Cuba, that he has the endorsement of the Colorado delegation and of Colonel William Jennings Bryan. He has gone to Havana to look over the job.

There are the two positions which seem to have been brought to a head, or nearly so. As to the cabinet, Mr. Wilson finds that there are two kinds of them—one political, made up of party leaders who must be recognized; the other, composed of men whose fitness is recognized by the president and on whose judgment he would like to rely. He indicates that his cabinet may be made up of "a little of both."

Not so important from a political standpoint, but really more desirable, are the principal ambassadorships. It is indicated that Thomas Nelson Page, the Virginia novelist, may be selected for the post of St. James. The position is not a difficult one from a diplomatic standpoint. There have been a long line of literary men appointed to it, because the English people are fond of our scholars than they are of our politicians.

One of the most difficult diplomatic posts is that of Mexico. It is the crater of an active volcano. To solve the problems presented, to maintain the dignity and safeguard the interests of the United States, and at the same time avoid war, is a huge task. It requires tact, a thorough knowledge of the conditions existing there, and an acquaintance with the characteristics of the Mexican people.

Probably New Mexico has the only man who has all of the qualifications for such task. Hon. Felix Martinez would make an ideal ambassador. It is generally believed that he will be given the position if he will accept it. He has the knowledge of conditions there so essential to bringing order out of chaos. He has the confidence of all factions in that troubled republic, and the tact to handle them. His steadfast Americanism would never be questioned.

Mr. Martinez is a rare combination of a most practical business man and a polished, able diplomat. For the good of Mexico and for the welfare of the United States, no other name should be considered, if he will accept the position.

It is generally conceded that Mr. Bryan will be secretary of state if he desires. Three times he has had nearly half of the voters of the country favorable to him for the highest office in the gift of the people. While he has accumulated a robust crop of enemies in his own party, no one can deny his great ability, his patriotism, or the fact that he has a wide knowledge of the foreign as well as the domestic interests of the country. While regarded as radical, it is probable that responsibility would make him a cautious head of the state department.

The west wants a secretary of the interior, and is entitled to have in that position a man familiar with the needs of this section. Heretofore, the land office, for example, has been so tangled up by red tape that efficiency has been lost sight of. Great hardships have been worked on the homesteader, and the man with a desert claim has been judged a criminal until he has proved himself innocent.

Much of the success or failure of the Wilson administration judged from a western standpoint, is dependent upon two things: The manner in which the interior department is administered, and the solution of our problems in Mexico. With Felix Martinez as ambassador to Mexico and some western man for secretary of the interior, there should be little difficulty for Mr. Wilson to become a very popular president in the west.

THE CANAL CONTROVERSY.

Members of the American society for the settlement of international disputes by arbitration have just ended a session in Washington. It is pronounced in its opinion that the Panama canal trouble should be referred to The Hague tribunal for settlement.

That there is an international question cannot be denied. That Great Britain has rights safeguarded to her by the Hay-Pauncefote treaty abrogating the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, cannot be successfully controverted. But there can be no sort of doubt that the differences can be adjusted between the United States and Great Britain to much greater advantage than would result from submission to The Hague where the court is composed of interested jurors.

Speakers at the arbitration society meeting were quite free to assert that the tribunal would be impartial. That has not been history, it does not comport with human nature, it is not a safe or sane assumption.

The United States has spent about four hundred millions on the construction of the Panama canal. The expenditure has been here; here is the responsibility of administration; she should have some advantage over other nations.

Purely as a commercial proposition, the canal would never have been built. One of the greatest incentives to its construction was the advantage it would be to the American navy. The words of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty in respect to equality of treatment apply to ships of war as well as to ships of commerce. If its terms are to be construed by other nations constituting The Hague court, it is quite possible that the United States would be forbidden to move her own warships from one ocean to the other in time of war, unless the same privilege was accorded to the warships of other nations.

The United States and Great Britain, two English speaking nations, should be able by direct negotiation, to thresh out the differences between them and arrive at a satisfactory conclusion without calling in other nations, all more or less interested in encircling the advantages to be derived by the United States from the construction of the canal.

If, as asserted, the terms of the canal act do not make it certain that free tolls are confined to ships engaged in the coastwise trade, it might be amended easily to cover that point. Also, it is quite certain that the prohibition against railroad owned boats should be abrogated. That is the simplest sort of legislation, if we are to have regard for the interests of the people. Instead of reducing the cost of living to its lowest terms, the legislation is directly in the interest of higher freight rates.

The interstate commerce commission is given jurisdiction over the rates that may be charged by ships passing through the canal. If the railroads would gain a monopoly of freight, it would be for the reason that their ships could carry freight more cheaply than would be possible for independent lines. Thus it may be seen that the prohibition against railroad owned lines is directly in the interest of higher charges—certainly an inconsistent position for the democratic party that made its fight against unnecessary tariff duties behind which special privileges could shelter.

TROUBLE IN MEXICO.

There is fear that another battle will be fought at Juarez, with inevitable loss of life in El Paso. It is now indicated that our state department is to make strong representations to the Mexican government.

What good can be accomplished by it? It will not stop the rebellion and it will not cause Madero to resign. The result will be another assurance from Mexico City that hostilities will cease soon.

Meanwhile, the insurrection will continue. It is impossible for Madero to put more men in the field. He cannot trust either his officers or his men.

Had it not been that the United States government cut off rebel supplies, the rebellion would have triumphed long ago.

Madero has meant well. He was never given a chance to restore order in the republic. He promised more than he could perform quickly, and the dissatisfied element wanted everything done at once.

Two thousand dollars was recently paid for a blue cut. Many a man has seen the time when he would have paid good money to be sure that the shoe thrown from his window at midnight would find a vital mark in the town that was placing his voice.

The suffragettes who are walking from New York to Albany to take a message to Governor Sulzer and to hold suffragette meetings and scatter suffragette literature, understand the art of advertising.

Alderman George Pretzel, of Chicago, has been in Milwaukee trying to find out something about the bakeries. Probably he got his bent shape there.

It is no laughing matter for him, but one of the recently elected members of the Oklahoma legislature is named T. E. Teecher.

Santa Claus may lose a handful of whistles. The London suffragettes are promising something awful for the Christmas holidays.

DENVER FIRM PAYS BIG PREMIUM FOR ROAD BONDS

Dona Ana County's Proposed Issue of $100,000, to be Voted on December 28th, Has Already Been Sold.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Las Cruces, N. M., Dec. 21.—The $100,000 bond issue by Dona Ana county for good roads, has been sold to the highest bidder, Canine-Foster Company, of Denver. The bonds sold for a premium of $1,200 over par. It is significant of the great demand for these bonds and the faith that investors have in the county and the probability of the bonds being approved at the polls, that there were present when the bids for the bonds were opened representatives of bond houses in Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis and Denver. There were also present representatives of eastern road construction firms, anxious to see the outcome of the bids, in order to bid upon the construction work that will be done from the proceeds of the bonds. The sale of the bonds was, of course, made conditional upon their approval at the polls.

The people of Dona Ana county vote on the bond issue on Saturday, December 28th, and it is already evident that the bonds will carry by an overwhelming majority. This favorable sentiment is largely the result of the big Dona Ana County Good Roads convention, held in Las Cruces on December 15th, and attended by over two hundred delegates from every precinct in the county; also to the persistent educational work carried on by the county board of education, and the county road board in familiarizing the people of the county with the need for issuing road bonds, and the pledge given by the board of a businesslike and impartial expenditure of the money.

This campaign of education has been carried on by visits to the various precincts of the county by members of the board of education, and a correspondence campaign to a selected list of about five hundred citizens of the county, and by a series of articles appearing in the local press, each treating of a separate aspect, setting forth the various advantages of better roads to the citizens of the county, and how to get them.

Opposition to the bonding plan seems to have faded away entirely in the face of this educational campaign, and it is believed that the bonds will carry by a majority of between 80 and 90 per cent.

The members of the road board have just returned from an extended visit to the lower part of the county, all members of the board going on a tour of inspection through the lower precincts on the west side of the river, from La Mesa to Miguel. A big good roads rally was held in the school house at San Miguel on Wednesday, which was attended by representatives from every precinct of the lower west side valley. Great enthusiasm prevailed, and addresses were made by Francis E. Lester and Pearl H. Bailey, members of the county road board; by Joseph E. Bennett, N. J. Garrett and others. One result of the meeting was that it brought into existence the West Side Improvement league, an organization of the west side citizens, having for its common purpose the betterment of west side living conditions in the way of better roads, better schools and especially the greatly needed river protection work. Pearl H. Bailey was elected temporary president of the league, and the executive committee of nine members was selected.

R. H. Burrell, the United States highway engineer, who is delivering a series of lectures in New Mexico, will spend a week lecturing in the various precincts of Dona Ana county, under the auspices of the Dona Ana County Good Roads Association. This association is a thoroughly organized, having an executive committee of three good roads enthusiasts in every one of the nineteen precincts of the county; and with the co-operation of this association a large attendance at every meeting is assured. The itinerary arranged for these lectures is as follows:

Rincon, December 23d; at Mesilla, December 24th; at Las Cruces, December 25th; at La Mesa, December 26th; at La Union, December 28th; at State College, December 30th; at Berino, December 31st. In a number of these localities local musical talent will be made use of to make the lectures and entertainment feature, and it is believed that the citizens of the county will turn out in large numbers to welcome Mr. Burrell at every lecture. In addition to the lectures at Rincon on Monday, December 23d, a big good roads meeting will be held in that town in the afternoon, to be addressed by Mr. Burrell and members of the county road board.

SKUNK SKINS VERY MUCH IN DEMAND JUST NOW

A. H. Hilton, San Antonio Merchant and Pioneer Trapper, Offers $1,000 for This Number of Hides.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) San Antonio, N. M., Dec. 21.—A. H. Hilton, pioneer New Mexican and owner of a large mercantile establishment at San Antonio, Socorro county, was in town this week looking up local trappers and inquiring into the hide market. Mr. Hilton is an extensive dealer in hides and every year travels over 5,000 miles by rail and overland in search of wild animal skins. He knows intimately every trapper in the southwest and is an expert judge of hides. Mr. Hilton declared that the two Silver City trappers, Hank Hethchicks and Dumas Coleman, were the best of the west and had trapped thousands of wild animals, exceedingly valuable for their skins.

Just now there is a great demand for skunk skins. The women of Paris have set the fashion for this kind of fur and the market is being rapidly depleted. A hurry-up call has gone out, and every dealer in hides is asking for skunk skins. Mr. Hilton says he will give $1,000 for 1,000 skins, but they must be "clean," that is, not split open in skinning them, and must be caught within the next two months. There are but three months in the year when skunk skins are marketable—November, December and January. The black and white striped are the most valuable, next come the black, and last the small hydrophobia skunk. The trappers are learning to extract the oil from the carcasses, and skunk oil now brings $2.50 a gallon. It is considered very efficacious in cases of sore throat and even diphtheria. It is fine leather oil, and it is said will cure baldness.

In 1910 Mr. Hilton shipped the skins of 17,000 skunks, 5,000 coyotes, 5,000 wild cats, 400 foxes, 500 coons and badgers, 180 mountain lions and forty bears cast. In gathering this tremendous amount of wild animal skins, he traveled overland in a Georgia sectioner, over 1,500 miles through New Mexico, Arizona and southern Colorado, 1,000 miles of this journey being over 10,000 feet above sea level.

The gentleman is a most interesting conversationalist and one of the most picturesque figures in the southwest. He has lived the hard life of the pioneer, fought Indians and wild animals, raised an interesting family of children, one son being a member of the first state legislature, and a daughter being a violinist widely known on the concert platform, and withal he has a most interesting and varied career, through which he has retained the joy of life and has literally grown old, young.

HEAVY SHIPMENTS OF STOCK FROM UNION COUNTY

Total of 324 Cars Loaded at Clayton, Representing Over Eight Thousand Cattle and Eighteen Thousand Sheep.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Clayton, N. M., Dec. 21.—In spite of the fact that Union county grazing lands are being rapidly taken by homesteaders from all parts of the county, and turned into productive farms, the number of cattle shipped from here this fall shows that this county still holds high rank as a cattle and sheep producing section. The total number of cars of cattle and sheep shipped from here this fall has been, to date, 324, or 8,700 head of cattle and 18,000 sheep. Most of the stock went to the Kansas city market and the remainder to Denver.

Ranchmen in this section are well pleased with the prospects for the coming season. So far the winter here has been unusually mild, and the abundance of fine grass, due to the fine rains of last spring and summer, will make it possible to run stock on the range all winter without extra feed.

HAD SERIOUS LUNG TROUBLE—NOW WELL

Somewhere there exists a vast amount of and wantant we have for asking all Consumers to take it is that we have the reports of many recoveries, one of which follows:

1619 Sunnyside Ave., Phila., Pa.
 If we were afflicted with Tuberculosis we should do precisely what we ask others to do—take Eckman's Alternative promptly and faithfully. The reason we should do this is because: For two years I was afflicted with hemorrhages of the lungs, the doctor said nearly one hundred. My family physician advised another climate, as to remain would probably be fatal. However, I remained, and in February of 1907, I was taken with a severe attack of pneumonia. When I recovered sufficiently to get about the house I was left with a frightful hacking cough, which no medicine I had taken could alleviate. It was at this time, I think, that I learned of Eckman's Alternative. I started taking Eckman's Alternative. In a short time my cough was gone and I was pronounced well. Since that time I have had two slight attacks of pneumonia and I have recovered in no other medicine to effect a recovery.

I am at present in excellent health and feel that as long as I can obtain Eckman's Alternative I have no fear of Consumption. I cannot speak too highly for the good it has done.

Howard L. Klotz.
 Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Trouble, and in upholding the system does not contain poison, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by all druggists, and by Eckman's Pharmacy and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

BUSINESS COLLEGE ITEMS

Miss Della H. Harris left last night for Sedro to accept an excellent position with the well known law firm of Dougherty & Griffith. Miss Harris carries with her the esteem and best wishes of every one connected with the college.

Miss Hannah Porterfield is well pleased with her position with the Pacific Mutual and incidentally Mr. Schweitzer considers himself fortunate in securing the services of so competent an office assistant.

Coch Ellis reports that the basketball team are rapidly rounding into championship form and Albuquerque basketball fans may confidently expect some of the best games ever played in this vicinity.

Miss Helen Wickham has enrolled for the bookkeeping and stenography courses, this bringing the total enrollment for the year up to 115.

Misses Laura Cartwright, Pauline Cartwright and Juanita Arango have passed the typewriting speed test of forty net words per minute for ten minutes and have been awarded the proficiency certificates granted by the Underwood Typewriter Company to those attaining this high speed.

Misses Reed, Harris and Corazon and Mr. Quintana have attained a speed of approximately sixty words a minute on the typewriter—a figure not far below the amateur record for the world. When it is remembered that the speed of the average experienced typist rarely exceeds thirty-five or forty words per minute, the work of these young people stands out all the more conspicuously.

School will open again December 30th and 31st for final examinations, the regular winter term beginning January 6, 1913.

POSTMASTERS ARE SUPPLIED WITH PARCELS POST REGULATIONS

Thirty-Two Page Pamphlet, Containing Rules of the New Service, is Received in Albuquerque.

SCOPE OF ARTICLES EMBRACES WIDE AREA

Rates to be Assessed, Stamps to be Used, Packing and Mailing of Packages Among Matters Covered.

Postmasters throughout the country have begun their lessons on the parcel post which goes into effect January 1, 1913, and which will put them on an equal footing with the managers of mammoth department stores. Red bound pamphlets, containing thirty-two pages of regulations, are being distributed to the postmaster general, R. W. Hopkins, local postmaster, has received several copies of the official regulations. When the maps and guides outlining the eight zones which govern the rates are distributed the postmasters will be prepared for business. These will be ready for distribution within a few days. The regulations are divided into six sections and embrace more than 400 different subjects. They include rules for the rates to be assessed, the stamps to be used, the packing and mailing of packages, limits of weight and size, disposition of undeliverable and lost articles and for indemnity of the senders.

The regulations as to insurance of parcels are very explicit. Any mailable package on which the postage is fully prepaid, may be insured against loss to an amount equivalent to its actual value, but not to exceed $50, on payment of the fee of 10 cents in parcel post stamps, such stamps to be affixed. When a parcel is insured the sender will be given a receipt showing the office and date of mailing and number of the parcel, which will be stamped "Insured" and an insurance tag attached. The liability for indemnity ceases upon delivery. No indemnity will be paid unless the claim therefor is made within six months from the date of mailing. Insurance of articles removes the necessity of registration.

Specific rules for the packing of parcels are laid down. Medicines composed wholly or in part of poisons or poisons or anesthetic agents which are not outwardly or of their own force dangerous, when properly packed and bearing the name of the dealer or manufacturer can be sent by parcel post to licensed physicians, surgeons, pharmacists and dentists. Packages containing any matter which might damage other mail are admitted if properly packed. When not liquid they must be placed in a bag, box or removable envelope or wrapping made of paper, cloth, parchment or similar material and enclosed in a box or tube of metal or wood with a sliding clasp or screw lid.

Any article liable to break must be packed so that the inner bag, box or envelope or wrapping is surrounded by sawdust, excelsior, cotton or similar substance. Oils and other admissible liquids in glass bottles or containers will be accepted for mailing when insured for delivery at the office of mailing or on a rural route starting therefrom, provided it is not necessary to transport them over steam or electric railways. Oils, paste or salve will be accepted for mailing regardless of distance when in glass bottles, the quantity not to exceed twelve ounces, liquid measure. The bottle must be very strong and must be included in a block or tube of metal, wood, papier mache or similar material, and there must be provided between the bottle and the block or tube a cushion of cotton felt or other absorbent. They may be admitted when in water-tight metal containers inclosed in a box of secure wrapping. All sharp-pointed instruments must have points encased or capped. Seeds and other articles liable to be lost must be put in sealed envelopes of material sufficiently transparent to show the contents clearly without opening.

Flour must be packed so as not to be scattered in any way. Candles, confectionery, yeast cakes, soap in hard cakes, etc., must be wrapped so as to prevent injury. Articles of glass or fragile character should be labeled "Perishable" or "Fragile". Butter, lard and perishable articles such as fish, fresh meat, dressed fowls, vegetables, fruits, berries and articles which decay rapidly will be admitted for local delivery or when inclosed in an inner cover and an outer cover of wood, metal or corrugated pasteboard, at all offices in the first zone of fifty miles. Vegetables and fruits which do not decay easily can be mailed to any office. Eggs will be accepted to any delivery when packed in a basket or box so as not to injure other mail and for any distance when packed in a container, arranged so that each egg is on its end and prevented from striking against the side or top of the container. It must be labeled "Eggs" and be in a strong outer cover. Pistols, revolvers, any intoxicating liquors, infernal machines, and a long list of articles which might communicate disease or destroy life or damage the mails are prohibited. Postmasters are required to examine parcels to ascertain that the postage is fully prepaid. If a parcel contains two or more classes of mail matter, it is charged with postage at the rate applicable to the highest class of matter inclosed. Parcels weighing four ounces or less are available at the rate of one cent for each ounce or fraction of an ounce regardless of distance. All parcels over four ounces are subject to the pound rates.

U. S. GEOLOGISTS CANNOT DO ANY PRIVATE WORK

Members of Federal Survey Prohibited from Having Interest in Mineral Properties; Warning Against Impostors.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Washington, Dec. 21.—The spirit of "square deal" which now prevails in most government business is illustrated by the manner in which the United States geological survey guards the data it obtains and also withholds information from private persons until reports embodying such material can be published and offered free of cost to rich and poor alike.

The law under which the United States geological survey was organized in 1879 expressly provides that the director and members of the survey shall have no personal or private interest in lands or mineral wealth of the region under survey and shall execute no surveys or examinations for private parties or corporations. This was a wise provision; for on the one hand it insured that whatever advantages were to come from geologic work paid for by the people as a whole should be equally and simultaneously available to all, and on the other hand, it removed from the geologist what would otherwise have been a strong and constant temptation to make his official work subordinate or contributory to his personal and material interests.

So strictly is the regulation now interpreted that the government geologists are prohibited from acquiring stock in any mining company operating in the United States. The result has been that the public in general has confidence in the impartiality and integrity of the federal geologists, and property owners willingly impart information to them which would be withheld from men who might use it for their own advantage. Even after resignation from the survey a geologist is in honor bound by a written promise not to act as an expert in mining litigation in any district that he may have investigated while on the survey, until three years shall have elapsed since his resignation or until ten years shall have passed since he made an official report on the district. It is supposed that after the expiration of this period the local information gained in his official capacity will have ceased to be of special advantage in current litigation.

The confidence reposed by the public in the federal geologists has occasionally been abused by impostors who have claimed to belong to the geological survey. Geologists who resign from the survey of course are free to seek employment elsewhere, they choose, but from the date of their resignation they can no longer be employed by the survey nor can they represent it in any capacity unless reinstated or appointed from a civil service register. The only apparent exception to this regulation is that reports on certain subjects or certain fields may be purchased from geologists who have never been connected with the organization or who, though formerly employed by it, have resigned to enter private work. In all such cases, however, the finished report is purchased and the geologist, while gathering the materials for the report is acting in a purely private capacity and does not in any sense represent the government.

Because persons sometimes misrepresent themselves as employees of the geological survey for the purpose of securing "inside information," the public is advised to regard all representations with caution and to insist that the person soliciting such information shall establish his identity and connection with the survey before complying with his request. This can easily be done, for each geologist or engineer connected with the organization is furnished with a card certifying to his position on the survey, signed by the secretary of the interior and countersigned by the director. Anyone who seeks information on the basis of being an employee of the survey but who can not produce such a card of identification, should be reported at once to the director of the United States geological survey, Washington.

RESTORE COLOR TO FADED GRAY HAIR

Stop Dandruff, Falling Hair, Itching Scalp, and Make the Gray Hair Grow.

There is nothing new about the idea of using Sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our grandmothers kept their hair dark, glossy and abundant by the use of a simple "Sage Tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of Sage leaves, and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old-time tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skilled chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing Sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy.

This preparation gives youthful color and beauty to the hair, and is one of the best remedies you can use for dandruff, dry, feverish, itching scalp, and falling hair. Get a fifty-cent bottle from your druggist today, and you will be surprised at the quick results. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN IS TO BE BURIED TOMORROW

Hope of Disclosing Identity of Mexican Who Was Murdered Last Thursday, Practically Given Up by Police.

Believing that the killing of an unknown Mexican by a countryman last Thursday morning in the Alamo bar will remain an inscrutable mystery, Strong Brothers, undertakers, tomorrow will bury the body of the dead man.

The police, although they still are working on the case, admit that the identification of either the murderer or his victim, apparently cannot be accomplished. They have run down every clue they have uncovered, but those have not led to whom either of the men are or unless some new clue comes up, the victim will remain an unmarked grave and the slayer will escape legal punishment.

Strong Brothers will keep a careful record of the burial, so that if relatives of a missing man believe it was he who was killed in the Alamo saloon, they will be able to examine the body. The physicians who performed the autopsy, also took a careful description of the dead man, and this will be preserved with the records of the inquest. The body was embalmed so that it will be possible, but this will be done only if the description of the missing man corresponds to that of the dead man.

Since the body has been at the morgue, probably a hundred persons have viewed it, but because they might be able to identify the man, several thought they had seen him before, but their memory was dim. They were unable to give a name.

It is not probable that anyone in Albuquerque saw the man before he came here Wednesday night. The police have eliminated all doubt as to the fact that he came here the night before he was slain on Santa Fe train No. 7, from Alamo, Kan., where he was working with a gang of railroad laborers. That he was on his way to El Paso, Tex., was patent from the fact that his ticket was for the El Paso train, which departed from here a few hours after he was killed.

Accidents will happen, like that at Fifth street and Copper avenue last Thursday, and no one is to blame. It was noticeable that not a break or a scratch showed up in the cement work of the garage, furnished by Herman Hein.

HARRIS AND WHITE CONFESS; HIGGINS EXONERATED

Two Men Held for Mogollon Stage Robbery Implicate Others; Officers Leave to Make Arrests.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.) Silver City, N. M., Dec. 21.—After spending two days in jail here, following their arrest on a charge of holding up and robbing the Mogollon stage on Wednesday evening, Deputy Sheriff James Harris, of Mogollon, and Charles White, a blacksmith at Glenwood, today made a complete confession of their part in the affair. However, both men exonerated John Higgins, a saleskeeper of Glenwood, of complicity in the robbery and he, therefore, was released.

In their confessions, Harris and White implicated others, whose names had not heretofore been mentioned in connection with the hold-up. Captain Fred Farnoff, of the mounted police, and Deputy United States Marshal J. L. Perea, of Albuquerque, left here by automobile this afternoon for Mogollon to arrest the other men alleged to have been parties to the conspiracy.

SANTA FE LIMITED CAPITALISTS LOOK TO FOLLOW BELEN ROUTE, RUMOR OVER MINE AT YUCCA

Local People Wondering If Partial Train Will be Taken from Main Line to Settle the Traffic Question.

Kansas Financiers Here on Way Home from Arizona; Operations to Begin Soon on Southwestern's Property.

Local people are wondering whether the rumor that has been circulated a good deal recently that the California limited, both east and west bound, is to be run over the Belen cutoff, is true. The story goes that this story is to be done January 1st as a means of effectually stilling the protest of the local public against recent traffic regulations on those trains.

Albuquerque and other New Mexico points have set up an awful howl over the fact that a late order from somewhere "higher up" has prohibited tickets from being sold in Kansas City, Chicago or Los Angeles which will permit the holders to ride to Albuquerque on these trains, and that a similar prohibition has been put in effect regarding tickets sold in Albuquerque for those points. The citizens claim that preventing people from riding into Albuquerque on the California limited is a short-sighted and unfair policy, as this class of traffic is hardly of the sort to be properly called "local" against which it is understood the order was directed.

There is some ground for the rumored change. Friday evening a railroad official, approached on another matter, added to his statement, "They're going to run the limited over the cutoff." His remark was not taken seriously at the time, but it seems that it really carried considerable weight.

By running the California limited over the cutoff route, the fine scenery of Raton and Glorieta passes will be missed, but as the Glorieta pass is the only one traveled in daylight by either train, and this only by the westbound train, this is not thought to be of the greatest seriousness by the councils of the railroad men.

The real object of the drastic order issued recently is said to be the Kansas local traffic, where, although there are more trains each way than New Mexico gets, the short-haul passengers swarm over the train and discommode the regular through passengers.

In New Mexico, the westbound California limited is the only daylight train west. Prohibiting New Mexicans from using it from, say, Las Vegas, or Lamy to Albuquerque, evoked a storm which finally ended in a re-drafting of the rule, but the embargo still holds on this train so far as passengers from Albuquerque to Gallup are concerned.

MAIL TRAINS CARRY EXTRA BAGGAGE CARS NOW

Changes Made in Railway Postal Service to Handle Congestion; Part of Matter Carried in Baggage Cars.

Santa Fe trains Nos. 2, 3, 4, and 10 are carrying extra baggage cars to transport the increased bulk of mail. The postmasters' advice to "do your Christmas mailing early" is at the bottom of the sudden increase of mail so long before Christmas and this probably will have the effect of lessening the railway mail clerks' work just before the holiday.

The mail car crews have been increased from three to six men. Even the extra baggage cars on three trains for carrying mail will be inadequate probably before the end of this week. As early as Friday night train No. 2 could not carry all its mail out of Albuquerque in its sixty-foot P. O. car and an extra baggage car. Another baggage car was half filled with mail pouches.

The substitution of a sixty-foot mail car on train No. 3 on the Albuquerque branch, which carries a month ago did not handle the increased mail load. Train No. 2, as usual, now carries a sixty-foot regulation car and an extra baggage car from Kansas City to Los Angeles. Train No. 3 carries a compartment car from Kansas City to Albuquerque and a sixty-foot car from Albuquerque to Los Angeles. Train No. 10 carries a sixty-foot through car and train No. 2 brings a sixty-foot car here from Los Angeles. Train No. 5 takes this car on to Kansas City.

Usually train No. 5 takes to Kansas City the compartment car left here the day before by train No. 2. The eastern mail is heavier than the western, however, and demands more car space.

Local people are wondering whether the rumor that has been circulated a good deal recently that the California limited, both east and west bound, is to be run over the Belen cutoff, is true. The story goes that this story is to be done January 1st as a means of effectually stilling the protest of the local public against recent traffic regulations on those trains.

CLEVER ACTING IS FEATURE OF "A NIGHT OUT"

May Robson Has Every Opportunity in Play to Develop Fund of Humor and Pathos Which Have Made Her a Star

May Robson is an actress of exceptional ability and in her new play, "A Night Out," of which she is co-author, she has every opportunity to develop that fund of clean-cut humor and that world of brilliant and thrilling pathos which has made her famous. It is a rare quality and but few actresses possess it to a convincing degree.

Miss Robson will impersonate a young-old woman, broad-minded, free from affectation and possessing a keen sense of humor. Nothing absurd or ridiculous escapes her attention, and being fond of excitement as a mild stimulant, she persuades her two grandsons, whom she adores, into all sorts of extravagance, and a visit to a restaurant of shady character for a dinner is the climax of her adventure. Of course, Gramam, as she is called by the family, is not aware of the character of the place, and comically waits for a rather elaborate dinner.

Presently, however, the police raid the restaurant and all is excitement with a nervous desire to be seen elsewhere in a hurry. Gramam is hustled into the street, not politely, but vigorously, hence her disheveled appearance later. Arriving home, they find the house in darkness and the doors locked, and the only means of entering the house is by climbing up the ivy in front of the house to an open window. This is done by Gramam and the boys.

This adventure leads to an explanation. The boys are ambiguous and Gramam sustains them. Following this incident comes the distressing report that a bond has been taken from Gramam's pocket in the safety deposit vault, and a detective is immediately put on the case. The arrival of the policeman with a brooch belonging to Gramam that she lost in the restaurant during the excitement produces consternation and a very humorous situation.

Every Sunday school will have a tree of its own this year. The Lead Avenue Methodist church will have their Christmas program this evening. The Congregational church will have a tree. Christmas eve the Central Avenue Methodist church the evening of the twenty-third, and the Presbyterian and Baptist churches have each selected Christmas eve for their trees and celebrations.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church met Thursday afternoon, when the following interesting program was rendered:

Hymn, "I Love to Tell the Story." Nineteenth Psalm, read by Mrs. John Morley.

Prayer by Miss Little. "Our Mountain Americans," Mrs. W. D. Ward.

Letter from Miss Julia Phillips, of Dorland Institute.

Roll call. Music by Miss Howell. "Glimpses into Persian Homes," by Mrs. L. M. Fee.

Story, "Mrs. Hillyer's Bit of Gold," Mrs. Wagner.

"On Syrian Hills," Mrs. Pitt Ross. Music, "Joy to the World."

Mrs. George V. Muckey, of 1201 South Walter street, entertained the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Central Avenue Methodist church, Wednesday afternoon, in honor of the retiring president, Mrs. C. C. Minnis, who leaves December 26 for her old home in Temple, Texas. Mrs. Minnis has been the president for the past seven years, and her church friends regret her approaching departure. The members of the church and other friends presented Mrs. Minnis with a handsome cut-glass water set as a token of their esteem.

Mrs. W. W. McDonald was hostess to the missionary societies of the Lead Avenue Methodist church in the church parlors, Thursday afternoon. Two excellent papers were read, one, "Chinese Women," by Mrs. Burns, and "Our Mission Here," by Miss Gorley. A pleasant social hour followed the formal program, when refreshments were served by the hostess.

YESTERDAY WINTER SOLSTICE, DAYS NOW LENGTHEN

Shortest Day of Year is Nine
Hours and Fifty-Eight Minutes Long, Sun Rising at 7 O'clock.

Yesterday was the shortest day of the entire year of 1912. From now on the days will lengthen until June 21st, next, which will be the longest day in 1912. March 21st, the day and night will be equal in duration, each twelve hours. September 21st, they will again be equal in length.

The sun rose yesterday morning at just 7 o'clock, setting at 4:58. This gives a day of slightly less than ten hours' length. Today the sun will rise at a fraction of a minute earlier and will set a slightly larger fraction later, the day gradually increasing in length.

The day was marked with unusual weather, unusually disagreeable weather, at that. Although the sun rose bright and clear yesterday morning, and the morning hours were really characteristic of beautiful New Mexico winter weather, at noon clouds began to appear and shortly afterward the wind began to rise. By nightfall it was blowing a gale, knocking the expected Saturday night shopping for Christmas into the proverbial cocked hat. At 8 o'clock the streets were as quiet as at 10:30 on the average Saturday night. People stayed at home, not caring to face the wind.

The wind and dust that the wind blew about last night cost the merchants of Albuquerque a pretty penny in daily sales. The thermometer began to drop as the wind rose and late last night it was colder than has been experienced before this winter. At least, it felt that cold, for the wind whipped the chill through all sorts of wraps and reached down to the bones inside.

Signs waved, trees lost a few small branches and the gale was altogether the worst one that has been recorded here for some time.

A toy wagon, standing in front of Michael Brothers' store, 321-323 South Second street, disappeared last night. It is believed that the little red wagon scudded away before the wind and some youngster, finding it, took it home.

A similar incident occurred in front of one of the stores on North First street. This time it was a trunk that sailed away before a wind squall with the proprietor in hot pursuit. He overtook the trunk half a block away and made a flying tackle for a down.

Police Officer Ed. Donohue reported that a woman had been blown down by the wind at First street and Central avenue. A gust caught her as she turned the corner and slammed her to the sidewalk. She was not injured.

Trees in parts of the city were uprooted and many limbs were torn from trunks and thrown on the sidewalks and streets. Street signs and canvas awnings were damaged.

"I had been troubled with constipation for two years and tried all of the best physicians in Bristol, Tenn., and they could do nothing for me," writes Thos. E. Williams, Middleboro, Ky. "Two packages of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cured me." For sale by all druggists.

SICKLES SON WILL MAKE SHORTAGE GOOD

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 21.—Stanton Sickles, son of General Daniel E. Sickles, of New York, today promised to see that the state is reimbursed for all funds unaccounted for by his father, as chairman of the New York state monument commission, totalling about $25,000. At the conclusion of a half hour's conference between Deputy Attorney General Kellogg and young Mr. Sickles, it was announced that an agreement had been reached for the postponement of legal proceedings on the part of the state to recover the money. "Mr. Sickles told me," said Mr. Kellogg, "that his father lost the money in Wall street. If the agreement entered into is fulfilled, it will be unnecessary for the state to look to any of the other members of the monument commission for any part of the money unaccounted for by General Sickles."

When you have a cold get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will soon fix you up all right and will ward off any tendency toward pneumonia. This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. Sold by all druggists.

LARGE PROCESSION FOREST LAWYERS TO TO FOLLOW BODY LEAVE FEDERAL OF MR. LESTER BUILDING

City and County Officials, Politicians, Attorneys and Others Will This Afternoon Attend Funeral.

The arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Nell H. Lester last night on Santa Fe train No. 1 gave certainty to the arrangements for the funeral today of the late Felix H. Lester.

Archdeacon W. E. Warren, of St. John's Episcopal church, will hold religious services for the funeral at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Lester home, 1114 West Central avenue. The Elks will conduct their burial services at the grave in Fairview cemetery.

O. A. Matson, executive ruler, yesterday notified the Elks to meet at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at the lodge rooms to attend the funeral.

The Bernillo county bar will meet at 1:30 o'clock also in the offices of Vigil & Jamison. They will go from there to the Lester home. They will march with the funeral procession as far as the Highlands, where they will take carriages to the cemetery.

The police force also will be in the cortege. Representatives of the fire department in uniform will attend. It is probable that they will march, because only a few may be relieved from duty at the time.

The county and city democratic central committees, of which Mr. Lester was member, will meet at 1:45 at the offices of A. Fleischer, 111 South Fourth street, to go to the Lester residence. County Chairman Louis A. McRae issued the call yesterday.

FATE OF WOMAN IN HANDS OF JURORS

Grand Junction, Colo., Dec. 22.—At 2 o'clock this morning the jury considering the fate of Mrs. Lulu Rehlinger, accused of the murder of Joseph Waters, a ranch hand, had not brought in a verdict. The jurors retired yesterday evening after a dozen days of trial. After Deputy Attorney Charlesworth had pictured the defendant as a modern Cleopatra, Mrs. Rehlinger took the stand and described without a sign of emotion the shooting which resulted in the death of the ranch hand.

Other witnesses told how Waters, before his death, accused Mrs. Rehlinger of shooting him in the back because she was infatuated with him and because he was about to leave her employ.

STRIKERS CLASH WITH ONTARIO POLICEMEN

South Porcupine, Ont., Dec. 21.—A serious clash between the Ontario police and striking miners occurred here late tonight, when the train which left Toronto Thursday afternoon bringing strikebreakers to the Hollinger mine, arrived here.

Their coming was anticipated by the strikers and a large crowd met the train at the station. Police Inspector Calder had a force of constables at the station and as the train pulled in the rioting broke out and continued several moments. Sticks and stones were freely used by the strikers, while a few shots were fired by the police. Several policemen and strikers were injured and taken to a hospital.

BIG XMAS VALUES
ATTRACT BUYERS
TO POWELL'S

Fine Line of Perfumes, Miscellaneous Gift Goods and Candles Carried by Fourth and Central Store.

Due to both the excellent lines carried and the really unusual values offered, the Powell Drug Company has experienced an unusually heavy run of business during the past week. This metropolitan store so centrally located at the corner of Fourth street and Central avenue offers an unequalled opportunity for expeditious and economical Christmas shopping.

The line of perfumes and toilet articles is the best and of the largest assortment in the city. The Powell store of perfumes and toilet accessories is selected with special care. The store makes a hobby of this department. Accordingly you may be assured that you are buying the very best obtainable. Just yesterday a big shipment of Huda's perfumes was received, including the very best American and imported makes. The Huda and Powell reputations for perfumes are identical. They stand for the best. The line is now complete and fresh, the boxes artistic and appropriate, and considered all round an excellent gift.

The Parian Ivory is at once ornamental and useful and yet remains in good assortment notwithstanding the fact that it has been sold in large quantities. The Christmas candles are in such variety as to satisfy every demand. From the plain goodies of moderate cost to the most fancy and expensive box goods the Powell store has a complete line and you will be able to find just exactly what you want. You may be assured of absolute purity and, considering quality, the prices are very moderate.

The Powell store will do much for you in the way of facilitating your belated Christmas shopping. Its central location will save you time; the values offered will save you money.

Legal Department to Have Offices with Other Forest Service Officials in the Luna-Strickler Building.

The legal department of the forest service, which now has offices in the federal building, will move to the Luna-Strickler building.

The solicitor's office formerly was in the Luna-Strickler building, with the forest service offices, but lack of room compelled the lawyers to move. The other forest officials are to be shifted to accommodate the solicitors.

Increased business has swamped the land office and when the change is made this branch will be assigned another room, that now occupied by John Kerr, assistant district forester.

A. C. Ringland's office will be given to the legal department and the district forester will move into the adjoining rooms. One of these rooms will be furnished as a reception room, where callers on the district forester may wait when he is in conference.

"OLD HOMESTEAD"
COMES TO ELKS
DECEMBER 28

After Twenty or More Years Before American Theatregoers, Production is More Popular Than Ever.

The perennial drawing power of "The Old Homestead," which comes to the Elks' theater on December 28th, is indisputable and its long success and continuous popularity are due in no inconsiderable measure to the fact that it is a perfect transcript of nature holding the mirror up to nature as it is, and few other plays of modern times. It was accounted a good play twenty years ago as far back as 1886, when it had its initial performance at the Boston theater, and made the most telling success ever scored by a new production in Boston.

Year after year since then it has repeated that success, and it has even improved with age. Little melodramatic touches and effects have been eliminated and now there is more natural wit and humor in the dialogue and more genuine touches of pathos and sentiment than ever before.

It is old, yet ever new, and it is absolutely true to the New England country life which it represents. In Joshua Whitcomb, the central figure of that circle of familiar types, we have to welcome a perfect representation of the best and broadest type of humanity, a prosperous, warm-hearted, peace-loving God-fearing Yankee farmer. And associated with him we shall find, as of old, those other delightful characters, Cy Prime, Seth Perkins, Happy Jack, Aunt Matilda, Eb Cansey, Ricketty Ann, and the others.

The musical features are the same as of old, true to the New England just as good today as it was in the days when Chauncey Olcott, Richard J. Ross, Tom Lewis and others could be mentioned that were members of the organization.

MATSON'S THE GOAL NOW OF BELATED SHOPPERS

Those Who Did Not Do Their Christmas Shopping Early Will Find Many Suggestions There for Quick Choosing.

Matson's, as usual, is this year one of the busiest stores in town. While shopping is always good at this old and popular book store, there are so many things to be found here suitable for people of all ages and both sexes that the last few days before Christmas always find the Matson store crowded to its utmost.

An added inducement to gift givers for the two remaining shopping days is a reduction of 25 per cent on all ladies' handbags. This means a big saving and to those who are familiar with the quality of the leather goods carried by this store it means much more than a mere saving. It means that they will be able to secure the finest handbags to be found, in quality and style, the privilege of choosing from an exceptionally large assortment, and save 25 per cent besides.

Matson's is first of all a book store, and here will be found all the latest editions of the most modern and popular fiction writers. New fiction, handsomely illuminated with colored cuts and bound in the latest styles of the book binders' art. There are to be found fiction of the sentimental kind, fiction of the George Randolph Chester class, stories of modern business and politics that are bound to interest most men. Stories of travel by land and sea, the modern kind, introducing the aeroplane, as well as the old favorite sea stories we enjoyed when we were boys and which the boys of today will enjoy as well. There are handsomely illuminated gift books, reproductions of the old authors and verse and prose by writers of the present day. Art books by famous artists, like Harrison Fisher, the Prentiss, Henry Hitt and others. Gift books bound in soft leather, that always make an acceptable and dainty gift to some particular friend.

At Matson's can be found art bric-a-brac, art leather goods, pictures, postcards, calendars in many handsome designs of cardboard and leather, art novelties in brass, looking glass, etc., in great variety. Kodaks are among the articles always carried by Matson, and Kodaks are a popular gift at every Christmas. There are hundreds of other articles carried over in the Matson store that will make acceptable Christmas gifts, and the belated shopper will do well to head for Matson's, where he will find little trouble in finding a suitable present for every person on his list.

POSTOFFICE BADLY CROWDED BECAUSE OF TRANSFERS

No Room at Depot Now for Handling of Mail from One Train to Another and All Goes to Local Headquarters.

Already working their heads off to handle the Christmas rush, the clerks at the local postoffice are still further hampered by being forced to handle an immense quantity of transfer mail which was handled last year and in former years at a transfer room at the depot. When the transfer room at the local station burned a few months ago no provision was made for locating a transfer clerk anywhere else, and consequently it is now impossible to care for the many sacks of mail that are taken from one train and loaded onto another here.

Yesterday morning No. 812, the train from the Helen out-off, was some eight or nine hours late, or, more correctly, it missed the connection north on No. 8. Consequently there were between fifty and sixty sacks of registered matter alone that had to be brought up to the postoffice, received for, hauled back to the station, reshipped for by the clerk on the next east bound train, and loaded into his car. This was an unusual case, but it put the postoffice force considerably behind with their regular work, nevertheless.

The postal force here has handled the transfer work through the ordinary season without any great delay, although it is now difficult at times, but yesterday's morning broke all records. The holiday rush has been heavy and it has taxed their resources.

to get the transfer work done and out of the way several times, but they always managed it somehow, until yesterday. If there are any more late trains and consequent additional and unusual Christmas work, it is likely that an ambulance call will be sent to the postoffice by the overworked clerks.

It has been announced that on Christmas day, Wednesday, there will be one delivery of mail throughout the city and the register and general delivery windows will be kept open until noon.

The quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger from pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. L. Hall, of Waverly, Va., says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by all druggists.

SEÑORITO MAN SHOT ACCIDENTALLY; WILL DIE

Pistol Discharged When Woman Hands It to Clipos Apodaca; Bullet Enters Abdomen, Piercing Intestines.

Clipos Apodaca, of Socorro, Sandoval county, last night was probably fatally wounded by the accidental discharge of an automatic pistol.

Apodaca, who was at the home of Jacobo Gonzalez in Martineztown, traded his forty-five calibre Colt's revolver for Gonzalez' thirty-eight calibre automatic. He was lying on the floor and Miss Adelaida Montoya was handing him the automatic when it was discharged. The bullet entered Apodaca's abdomen.

Apodaca sprang to his feet and fell, clutching at the skirt of Miss Josefa Castillo, who was in the room. The accident occurred between 6:30 and 7 o'clock, according to the witnesses, but the police were not notified until 8 o'clock.

Officer Ed. Donohue met Gonzalez and Frank Garcia at Second street and Central avenue. They were looking for an officer and informed him that Apodaca had been shot. Donohue called Dr. L. G. Rice, city physician, and they went to the Gonzalez home. The doctor after a hasty examination said that whether the man would live depended upon how soon he could get him on the operating table. The man was taken to St. Joseph's hospital and Dr. Rice worked with him until after midnight.

Apodaca was not unconscious when they arrived. He was suffering intensely, however, and Donohue did not question him closely. He answered the few queries the officer made, but it caused him evident agony and Donohue desisted, but not before Apodaca had made a statement that the shooting was accidental.

The two women and Gonzalez were in the room. They had just finished supper, they said, when Apodaca and Gonzalez agreed to the trade of arms. Miss Montoya extracted the magazine from the automatic before she handed it to Apodaca. She did not know that a cartridge was in the chamber. She was excited and told Donohue she did not know how the pistol was discharged. She was standing over Apodaca at the time.

Dr. Rice said early this morning that Apodaca had little chance to recover. The bullet entered the right side of the abdomen and came out through the left hip. The man's intestines were perforated eleven times. The doctor resected two sections of the intestines.

Burrell Lectures to Small But Enthusiastic Gathering

FINE ADDRESS BY
EXPERT

Stereopticon Slides Illustrate
Various Types of Highways and General Discussion of Local Needs Held.

B. H. Burrell, government road expert and representative of the office of public highways, lectured at the Elks' theater last night to a score of road boosters, whose enthusiasm even the depressing weather had been unable to dampen. The crowd was small, but every man there was vitally interested in what Mr. Burrell had to say. After the regular lecture was ended there were half a dozen questions dealing with local needs and conditions presented to him for solution.

The lecture was well prepared and well delivered and amply repaid those who attended for braving the wind and cold. Mr. Burrell was introduced by Colonel D. K. R. Sellers, of the Albuquerque good roads local. Colonel Sellers had little to say. He left that for Mr. Burrell.

Mr. Burrell first showed the crowd about 150 stereopticon slides, Dr. E. Phillips manipulating the lantern. Each of these had some phase of special interest to the boosters, many of them dealing with problems whose counterpart may be found on any road in the country.

Among the pictures shown were several taken on Raton pass. Mr. Burrell declaring that he expected to use these in future lectures as showing the magnificent scenic beauties of New Mexico, as well as an example of a really good New Mexico road. There were some pictures of La Bajada's famous hill road, too, and the speaker declared that a lot of his of these were to be a part of his later lectures. He declared that this hill was a splendid example of engineering work and that for scenery it was wonderful.

All his slides were not of good roads, however. He showed one picture of forty vehicles demolished by bad roads and standing before a country blacksmith shop awaiting repairs. Other pictures showed roads that were so bad they might almost be in Bermuda county, except that they were muddy roads and not rutted or sandy. In one of these Mr. Burrell himself was shown making a fifteen mile trip which took him eight hours.

Mr. Burrell dwelt at length upon what he called the "road tax" annually paid by the owners of vehicles in the bad road sections. He declared that good roads were the solution of the great problem of keeping the boys and girls on the farm, and asserted that the only way to have and to keep good roads was to maintain a constant patrol system. For dirt roads he advocated the split log drag which has made D. Ward King famous and for macadam or gravelled roads he urged a system analogous to the section system of a railroad.

Mr. Burrell said that the split log drag was a matter of special importance in New Mexico, because here 95 per cent of the roads were dirt roads and must remain as for at least a number of years to come. He urged the maintenance of a drag every two miles by the county or state, and the payment of a man to drag the road with it after every rain.

Many other questions were discussed by Mr. Burrell, including that of permanent bridges and culverts. These, he declared, were a necessity as well as an economy. He declared himself for narrow streets rather than for wide ones and urged the citizens of all small towns not to experiment with paving, but to use some type of material which had already been used and approved in larger places.

Mr. Burrell was eloquent along the line of the value of automobile traffic through the state, estimating it as at least worth half a million dollars a year at present.

Mr. Burrell, who had motored down from Santa Fe yesterday, left last night for Las Cruces, where he will remain until after Christmas. It is quite possible that if supplementary schedule for him may be made effective, which will keep him in New Mexico until January 4; but this is not sure.

The party, which motored down from Santa Fe included Thomas Doran, State Engineer J. A. French, Commissioner of Public Lands H. P. Erwin, Dr. E. C. Butler, of the Albuquerque good roads local, D. K. R. Sellers and Howell Erwin, Colonel R. H. Titchell came down by train, arriving at 7:25.

The entire party reported a cold and particularly disagreeable trip, the weather being unusual. The start from the capital was made about 11 o'clock, the sun being warm and the air clear at that time. Shortly after noon, when they had reached Dominga, Mr. Erwin and Mr. Burrell declared that they would not be able to reach Albuquerque alive if they were not provided with nourishment, and an hour and a half was consumed in eating. The weather clouded up while they were staying the demands of the inner man, and the rest of the trip was more or less disagreeable. The party arrived here at 5:25.

The dinner planned to be held in Mr. Burrell's honor before the lecture, was given up.

WOMAN WHO KILLED HUSBAND LEAVES SOCORRO

District Attorney Does Not Require Her to Furnish Bond, According to Attorney Helmick Who Defended Her.

Milton J. Helmick, attorney who defended Mrs. Isabel Blise, charged with killing her husband, at her preliminary examination at Socorro, last night was in Albuquerque. He stopped here on his way from Socorro to Denver, where he will spend Christmas.

Mrs. Blise probably will not be indicted by the grand jury, Mr. Helmick believes. She was discharged at the preliminary examination and the grand jury probably will not reopen the case. The people of Socorro have shown sympathy for her, the attorney said.

Mrs. Blise with her sister and her two children has gone to Pueblo, Colo., where she will remain. Her sister, Mrs. Wells, who went to Socorro when she learned her sister was under arrest, went to El Paso for the children. She returned to Socorro last week and they left for Pueblo together.

The district attorney allowed Mrs. Blise to go practically on her own recognizance, according to Mr. Helmick.

SANTA FE FIREMAN

HAS EYE PUT OUT

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal]
Gallup, N. M., Dec. 21.—E. P. Rowe, a Santa Fe fireman on the first district, had the misfortune to have one of his eyes put out when the water class on the locomotive burst. The accident occurred while on a trip between Gallup and Belen last Tuesday. Rowe was standing on the engine deck when the glass burst and a particle of glass struck the ball of the eye and he was rendered totally blind. The fireman alleges that the glass was not properly protected by the necessary screen and has brought suit against the company for damages.

FORTUNES FOUNDED BY LOCAL MEN WHILE YOUNG

Interesting Facts from Private Life of Several of City's Most Prominent Business and Professional Figures.

Where did the wealthier men of Albuquerque get their money? This was the subject of a lively discussion held the other day by a group of well-known local business men, and the resulting inquiry developed the very interesting fact that practically all of the well-to-do Albuquerque people of today got their financial start through the judicious buying and holding of real estate.

"And I tell you, gentlemen," said one of the really big men in the group of speakers, "there are greater real estate opportunities here now than there ever were before. The coming of the new Santa Fe shops and other large improvements is going to mean a tremendous thing for this town, and for my part, I'm going to buy now while the buying's good."

That most Albuquerque people are alive to the present real estate opportunity has been attested, during the past week by extraordinary activity in local real estate circles. A case in point is the recently opened southern extension of the John M. Moore Realty Company's Eastern addition. More than half of the lots in this favorite addition have already been sold and inquiries are constant.

The reason for the popularity of this addition are not far to seek. It lies only four blocks from the site of the new shops and about the same distance from the end of the Highland street car line. Considerable building has already been started, and an extension to the street car line out that way is only a matter of a very short time.

The lots in this addition are worthy of immediate inspection either for home building or investment purposes. It is announced, too, that for the benefit of those who are busy on week days, a representative of the John M. Moore Realty Company will be at the office of the company on West Gold avenue from 10 o'clock this morning until 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Why Not Buy Useful Gifts This Christmas?

ACH succeeding Christmas season produces a larger crop of "Sensible-Gift" Givers. And why not? While we are not strong for the "Spug" movement, that society of people back East who are organized for the purpose of discouraging useless gift-giving, there is much in their declaration of principles that deserves the approval of everyone. People of wealth, as well as those of moderate means, are learning that the best gift is the one that gives pleasure in its usefulness; one that gives continued service and consequently extended kind memories of the giver.

Where can you find more useful gifts than those shown in our large stock? Something for the home, something that all members of the family may enjoy. Besides our regular stock of Furniture and Housefurnishings we are showing this year many new novelties, all of them useful, beautiful and inexpensive. Among the latter we may mention Cedar Chests, heavily brass bound, made of the best seasoned material—an almost necessary article in every household. Art Feed Chairs, with leather seats and backs—a handsome piece of furniture and inexpensive. Wicker Novelties, in Baronial Finish, Waste Baskets, Clothes Hampers, Sewing and Work Baskets—a large assortment for selection at very low prices. There are hundreds of other Useful Gifts to be found here, many of which are listed below:

JUBILEE MINSTREL COMING SOON TO ORPHEUM

Well Known Colored Organization of Entertainers Appears Here Saturday and Sunday, December 28th and 29th.

That minstrelsy is still popular with the masses is satisfactorily proved by the phenomenal success being attained by the Nashville students and Jubilee Minstrels, who are to appear at the Orpheum theater on Saturday and Sunday nights, December 28 and 29.

June Hall, the business agent for this well known colored organization, was in the city yesterday making final arrangements for the company's appearance here. Mr. Hall states that his company is having one of the best seasons it has experienced in its entire history and this makes the thirty-fifth year the company has been on the road. Mr. Hall, himself, has been in the business a number of years. He promises a brand new show this year with some novelty acts that cannot be equaled. The show is certain to prove a surprise to the tired, jaded theater goers of the city.

The personnel of the company is the very best and has been selected very carefully, containing some of the best colored talent now before the public. The young portion of the program has received unusual attention and the dear old songs of the southland will be sung as only the real darters is capable of singing them.

There will be a parade of the famous "cotton pickers' band" at noon and an enjoyable concert given in front of the theater each evening at 7:30. The fact that the show will be put on at popular prices, together with its unusually good qualities, insures full houses at the Orpheum each evening of its appearance.

WESTERN MAN FOR SECRETARY OF INTERIOR

Denver Chamber of Commerce Takes Initiative and Seeks Co-Operation of All States of the West.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Denver, Dec. 21.—The movement to secure the appointment of a western man for secretary of the interior, inaugurated by the Denver Chamber of Commerce, is rapidly assuming formidable proportions, and it is now believed certain that such a man will be named by President-elect Woodrow Wilson, when he selects his cabinet following his inauguration on March 4th.

Already several states have announced candidates for the cabinet portfolio, but the Denver Chamber of Commerce has indicated no suggested person of particular man for the place—being content to urge the appointment of a "western man."

The following resolutions, adopted recently by the local chamber of commerce, and which have been forwarded to other cities in the western states for ratification, or as a guide for action, set forth the claims of the west in forceful manner. These resolutions follow:

"Whereas, There is probably no matter of greater importance to the entire country than the growth and development of the west; and

"Whereas, Many of the resources of this great territory practically inexhaustible in riches and possibilities for development, now lie dormant under government control, particularly in the Rocky mountain region and the states west of the range; and

"Whereas, In this vast territory there are unknown quantities of minerals and precious metals, such as silver, gold, lead, zinc and other ores, stone, clay, oil, coal, etc., which should be made accessible to the people of the United States, as well as millions of acres of cultivatable soil, which should be opened to the settler; and

"Whereas, A man that is appointed to the high office of secretary of the department of the interior should be one who has lived in one of these western states long enough to have come in contact with these enormous resources—one who has had personal experience and is equipped with a thorough knowledge of public land matters;

"Therefore, Be it Resolved, That we petition the Honorable President-elect Woodrow Wilson to select a man whose residence is in the west, who is familiar in a marked degree with affairs dealing with the public domain—a man with broad views and who is fair in his decisions—one who has the qualities of statesmanship and a love for the west which will inspire him in an effort to bring about the greatest possible development of the western territory along broad lines for the benefit of the whole people of the United States.

"Be it Further Resolved, That we do not attempt to suggest any particular candidate for the office, but believing that the president-elect in his sound judgment and interest in the welfare of the west will appoint a western man of such qualifications as we have outlined and which would further commend him to the people of this country as their champion and an empire builder."

INITIAL ISSUE OF BELEN NEWS IS CREDITABLE

P. A. Speckman, Formerly Publisher of Paper at Estancia, New Proprietor and Manager.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Belen, N. M., Dec. 21.—The first issue of the Belen News came out yesterday. P. A. Speckman, manager and editor, has leased the El Hilo, a fine American home, from Saturday, which he will continue as a distinctive Spanish paper. He will also publish the Belen News as a separate English paper. The first issue of the News was five hundred copies. It will be a six-column, four-page paper. For the past four months, Mr. Speckman was with the Chieftain at Socorro, of which Anton Mayer is the proprietor. Formerly he was editor and proprietor of the Estancia News, establishing it in 1904. Quite a lot of new material has been purchased, making the News office up to date. Mrs. Speckman and family will arrive the latter part of the week.

The roller mills are producing a superior grade of graham flour—in fact, a whole wheat flour. It is worthy to be put on the market as a "Belen breakfast food."

Pay day and Christmas combined is taxing the force of the Belen stores to their utmost. In spite of this, in consideration of the interests of the young people as clerks, a number of the merchants have decided not to keep open the rest of the week at night, except Saturday.

Rev. Mr. Yelland, pastor of the Methodist church, and Dr. John A. M. Ziegler, pastor of the Lutheran church, will each preach Christmas sermons in their respective churches, on Sunday morning. Dr. Ziegler is preaching a series of Sunday night sermons on "Old Time Character Sketches." Last Sunday night the theme was, "Choosing a Wife For Isaac." Next Sunday, it will be, "Idle Tears."

One of Belen's recent visitors to Albuquerque reports that Christmas cheer and Christmas trade was in the air wherever he went. The stores were crowded with shoppers and there was a general metropolitan air, especially on Central avenue. By the way, Belen congratulates Albuquerque on securing the new Santa Fe improvements, on the principle that what benefits Albuquerque, benefits New Mexico, and what benefits New Mexico, benefits Belen, and vice versa.

GEORGIAN REPLIES TO GOVERNOR BLEASE

Washington, Dec. 21.—Brown Felder, Jr., attorney general of Georgia, delivered what he termed the "south's answer to Governor Blease" at a time before the annual meeting of the American society on jurisprudence. He characterized as "anarchy" the South Carolina's governor speech in favor of Lynch law before the meeting of governors at Richmond two weeks ago, and attacked Governor Blease "as an enemy of the south."

"For an officer of the law occupying the chief executive chair of a great state to counsel lawlessness in a high forum of debate at a time when the eyes of a nation are fixed upon him constitutes an offense against the majesty of the law, the gravity of which is without parallel or precedent," Mr. Felder said.

"If the chief executive of a state when the need arises fails to call out the militia he becomes an anarchist."

Dr. Wm. Sadler, author of "The Cause and Cure of Colds," says that common colds should be taken seriously, especially when they "hang about" the throat. His "Thor Compound" is a reliable household medicine for coughs and colds, equally effective for children and for grown persons. Take it when you feel a cold coming on. It will avert danger of serious results and cure quickly. No harmful drugs. J. H. O'Reilly Drug Co.

B. H. Burrell Scheduled to Deliver Address There on Tomorrow Night; Goebel and Sons Sport New Auto.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Helen, N. M., Dec. 21.—Colonel Ralph E. Twitchell, accompanied by B. H. Burrell, of Washington, will speak in the evening at the county fair, on the subject of good roads. The county secretary, F. L. Wairath, in the notice sent out of this meeting, says: "A national highway will do more to develop this country and town than any other enterprise. You will be directly benefited. Twitchell is a mighty interesting speaker and the evening will be instructive and profitable, too. If you will be assisting in your enthusiasm to get the people out."

Goebel & Sons are sporting a new automobile. Santa Claus drove in it through Helen this afternoon in the delight of the small boys, as well as of the grown-ups. This makes not less than a half dozen machines in town.

Helen is getting busy on the good roads movement. Fred Becker is enthusiastically at work in his district. It is expected that B. H. Burrell will soon receive his pledge of putting in a bridge across the ditch and making the road possible out of the south-west Agricultural Association farm. It is in a deplorable condition. Once a good road is made to Los Lunas, it will not be long before automobiles can comfortably run from Helen to Albuquerque.
