New Coats, New Suits New Dresses

Almost daily the stocks are being replenished with arrivals that keep abreast of each week's developments at the style centers. In the roomy, restful new ready-to-wear department you may view the same styles, study the same materials, select from highly individualized models as varied and satisfying as can be placed at your command in the best stores of the great cities—and the cost, garment by garment will be found lower, in Albuquerque's leading store than in the leading stores of Chicago or New York.

—Not boasting, mind you, but simply a statement of facts about the Rosenwald ready-to-wear service; a fact of which we are justly proud and knowledge of which will work for your pleasure and your more economical buying.

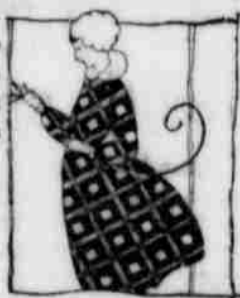

No better example could be asked of the quality of the ready-to-wear style service or of the values it affords than in the truly great selections of suits, coats and dresses now being sold at $29.95.

The white kitchen isn't complete without white enamel ware. Every kitchen is made more attractive by its presence. There is a very complete line in the third floor household furnishing department.

Pretty New Aprons of Japanese Crepe

These crepe aprons come in unusually attractive shadings. They are trimmed in contrasting colors, with fetching efforts in floral and fruit patterns. They are as pleasing as the price and great values.

At $2.95

The jewelry department offers its largest and most varied array of articles and designs in sterling silver, from which most appropriate selections may be made of gifts for the spring bride. These gifts, without involving too great expense, are yet of lifetime usefulness and permanent value.

YOU'LL FIND AT

It's a broad statement—but it's true. There isn't a summer need in apparel or accessories for men, women and children, that cannot be filled adequately and economically from the comprehensive stocks of this store. And these stocks are new throughout, purchases of 1922, meaning the maximum of style at the minimum of cost.

More Knicker Suits Rushed By Express

Plastered over with stickers marked "rush," we've just unpacked a new consignment of the smart three-piece knickerbocker suits which have found such favor with Albuquerque women. The first lot was hailed as a "discovery" and every suit was carried away almost as soon as placed on display. The demand was so urgent that we followed up the telegraphic re-order with more telegrams and the result was service by fast express.

These new three-piece knicker suits are of both tweeds and jerseys; soft, pleasing colors, perfectly tailored, each comprising coat, knickers and skirt. The coats are of varied lengths and are smartly fashioned. Plainly the knicker suit is not a fad but a fashion of comfort and trim appearance that has come to stay. The summer wardrobe will hardly be complete without one.

Another Season of Favor for the Heavy Wash Goods

Anticipating the demand for these wash goods for sport dresses, jumper dresses, children's dresses and the other uses for which they have found such a merited popularity, we've stocked them heavily.

For example, the line of beach cloth, starting at 40 cents the yard

The popular "Everfast," in two grades, at 50 cents and 85 cents the yard

An excellent line of colored "Indianhead" at yard, 50 cents

Thirty-six inch poplins, at yard, 50 cent:

Imported Ratine, an excellent value at yard, $1.25

Costume linen (pure linen) at yard, $1.25

Shoes that bear the Rosenwald's label and the trade mark of such makers as Cousins and Hunan are reputable shoes, in which distinction in fashioning and merit in materials and workmanship combine to safeguard the buyer and to guarantee the utmost in comfort, wear, satisfaction.

Every Day Brings More New Hats

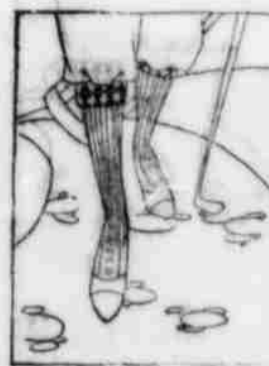

And every day brings to us also, more expressions of enthusiastic approval of the Rosenwald millinery service, the most comprehensive and most satisfactory, experienced buyers tell us, than Albuquerque has ever had before. The Rosenwald hats, are the work, each one, of master milliners, copying faithfully the newest and most beautiful of the creations of artists on both sides of the Atlantic.

The three-price line of hats, at $4.50, $6.50 and $9.50 won instant popularity last season. Never before had such hats been available here in such a profusion of individualized models. These three-price collections enjoyed such favor that we were encouraged to further enlarge them this spring, and the response has been all that we could desire.

There are hats, of course, at higher prices, which are in constant demand and which are being constantly replenished. But we shall count the larger success of the millinery department from the introduction of the three-price collections and the favor they have found.

The kiddies are demanding to be out-doors all day these warm spring days, and there is need for the healthful wheeled toys on which they can ride and race. See them in the toy department, third floor.

New Arrivals In Sport Hose

These are in the very popular high colors demanded for sport wear with tweeds and other out-door fabrics. The shades include periwinkle, camel, orchid, rose, etc. Excellent values.

At $1.50

There are few daintier gifts for the spring bride than those of delicately etched glass, combined with sterling silver, that the jewelry department is now showing. They include marmalade jars with sterling silver top cover and spoon, at $4.50 to $8.75; Syrus, at $8.00 to $12.50; candy jars at $8.50 to $10.75.

CHILDREN'S ARMY TO CAMP ON TRAIL OF PRESIDENT

prepare to Stay in Washington Till They Are Granted an Audience

By THOMAS L. STOKES,
Lead Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, April 29.—Thirteen wives and children of federal prisoners still in jail, who are refused a hearing by President Harding at the White House, have "driven their stakes" and will "camp" in Washington all the night long as they await the little army of women and children who come here from prison to ask the president to grant amnesty to their husbands and their sons.
The women and children have already set up camp in the city. They are housed in the chambers of the Hotel Belmont, which they occupied last night by Mrs. Kate O'Hara, sister of the crusader, after she had made arrangements for housing the little army of women and children who come here from prison to ask the president to grant amnesty to their husbands and their sons.
Double apartments have been secured here for the band, with beds generously contributed by local sympathizers and arrangements have been made for a prolonged stay.
Mrs. O'Hara is confident that the president will see the leaders of her band early next week. Recently Christian informed her without calling at the White House, that the president wanted them to see the attorney general first.
It was intimated that the president would give the party a hearing to offer to have conferred with an attorney general.
The president does not see them by the middle of next week. A check of the White House and it is said that where the president's requests is likely through Mrs. O'Hara that an definite decision had been made on this point, they will await developments, she said.

Babe Ruth Has Home Run Rival; Williams Sets a Modern Record

WILLIAMS IN ACTION—INSET—BABE RUTH.

By BILLY EVANS
While Babe Ruth, home-run king, is still in the grandstand as a mere spectator, Kenneth Williams of the St. Louis Browns is honoring the sporting spotlight as a slinger extraordinary.
Williams' feat of hitting three home runs in one game on Saturday, April 22, sets a modern baseball record.
His first home-run performance in a white uniform is two home runs.
It has been 25 years since any player made three home runs in one game. The feat was first done by Dickie, now dead, accomplished on July 11, 1897.
Only 11 players in the history of baseball have made three home runs in one game.
In four games Williams has hit six home runs. Babe Ruth is the only other player to beat such a record, making it last season.
During the season of 1921 Williams made three home runs in one game, on August 2, 1921.

down of Cleveland made five home runs in three games, as did King Kelly at Chicago in 1884, and Babe Ruth of New York in 1921.
A desire to emulate the deeds of Babe Ruth has made Williams a star of the sporting type.
While Williams has always been known as a hard hitter to baseball fans, he did not seem to usually hit three home runs in one game, until this year, when he did it.
I saw him on the bench in St. Louis on the day that I believe Williams shattered the list of home-run kings. The day previous Williams had been refused an interview because he had not yet allowed to show the form, hitting on the bench Williams was intimated his truth look.
"If you would start pulling those bats on the inside into right field, you would hit 15 or 20 home runs in this park every year," said another teammate.
Several other St. Louis players offered advice. All of them lauded the ability of Williams to hit.
"Looks as if all these years think I was a better hitter than I did myself," Williams said today, "I am going to take a healthy cut."
That afternoon Williams made a home run. He has been making a list of home runs ever since.
Last season with Bob Meusel he was a number-up to Babe Ruth with 24 straight drives to his credit.

FINANCIAL AID FOR RUSSIA IS AGREED UPON

Note to Soviet Delegation Is Still Uncompleted

GENOA, April 29.—Financial aid for Russia was agreed upon by the Allies late today, but the political commission of the Genoa conference broke up without reaching further agreement upon its note to the Soviet delegation.
The commission will meet Sunday to continue work on the note. Description of relations with Russia was laid down as a economic necessity by the Allies, and the members of the political commission and two neutrals who were their delegates.
Russia must give strict guarantees before this can be done, however. The system to be adopted was one in which the Allies would make loans through an international consortium.
The conference adjourned everything else late evening in a cover agreement upon the allied note to Russia.
The Soviet delegation gave evidence of being prepared to accept the note, even before it was completed.
George Tchitcherin, head of the Russian delegation, pointed the way to a financial plan to be a sharp note to President Poincaré in Paris threatening to cancel all previous offers his delegation had made unless an international fund was created in the Russia letter to Lloyd-George regarding credits. The financial delegation also protested vigorously against the note to sell a majority of shares including insurance to discuss the Soviet position.
The conference powers with regards to the live sentence and the financial struggle all afternoon in order to reach a final agreement upon the note in Russian on paper, and meet the financial crisis.

A man and his wife ran a small business, sharing equally its burdens and rewards. The husband firmly believed that at his death the business, together with all his other worldly goods, would go to his wife. Accordingly he made no will.

When he died the law stepped in, as it always does in such cases, and an administrator was appointed.

The widow not only was forced to share her business with her husband's relatives, but also received only one-half of her husband's money. The remainder was distributed, according to law, among his relatives.

- It runs easy. It is noiseless. It has ball bearings. It has no lost motion. It is the most durable. It is free from oil and grease. It is light, weight but 28 pounds. It can be used on a bench wringer. It will not dry up and go to staves. It has high moulding, to prevent all sloop. It can be set on the stove and heat water in it. It has the largest diameter of agitator, 14 inches. It applies suction for the first time by a rotary motion. It will wash the dirtiest places faster, if you put them in the loops. I will not swell up and burst hoops, or get so heavy you can't lift it. Agitator frame and handle are in one piece, so no parts can come loose. There is no place in the machine the agitator fails to agitate in washing. It will wash any size batch, from a small article to as large a batch as any. It uses four processes at once—"suction," "squeezing," "rubbing" and "stirring." With it you can wash in one-half the time you can with any other. No washing compounds needed. It has as large a capacity as any family washer. It will do MORE and BETTER work with LESS LABOR than any other machine, although it has no heavy and cumbersome castings, so objectionable to other machines. IT IS THE HIGHEST OF ALL HIGH GRADES.

MAGDALENA NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dees left Friday in their car on an indefinitely extended business and pleasure trip to their old home at Moorhead, Pa. Mrs. Dees will visit for mother, Mrs. Grace McMurtry, secretary writer, while there. Fred Hyman accompanied the Dees as far as Moorhead, Pa. from which point he will take the train for his home in Tennessee.

Richard Whitley left Monday for Howard, Texas, where he will visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Whitley. He has not been home for about two years and expects to spend his entire vacation there. Mrs. Whitley accompanied her brother-in-law on the trip and will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Simms, who also live at Howard.

Social events, dinner parties, luncheons, etc., were given in honor of Miss Gela Thomas, guest and college chum of Miss Phyllis Hagan, during her visit here. Miss Thomas left Monday for California, and an extended trip in the west. She expects to spend some time in Hawaii, after a six weeks sojourn on the coast. On her return trip she will see the Yosemite valley and visit Yellowstone park.

Friends of Miss Gertrude Marx, daughter of Mrs. F. E. Albee, who moved to Sudan, Texas, last fall, have received the announcement of her marriage to Mr. Edwin J. Andrews, manager of the McCoy Lumber company of Sudan, Texas, on April 18 at the residence of the bride's parents at Elgin, Texas. The bride is Miss Marx, a cousin of friends at this place. After a two week's honeymoon in Elgin, Texas, Mrs. Andrews will spend some time at home to their friends at Sudan, Texas.

Mrs. P. C. Lantz and daughter, Mrs. C. E. Thompson and children, left Saturday for Tucson, Arizona, where Mr. Thompson will meet his family and take them to their new home in California. Mrs. Lantz will return to Magdalena after a brief visit to Tucson.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. York of Roswell were in Magdalena on business Friday. They were accompanied by Mrs. York's mother, Mrs. Paul, and Mrs. C. E. Clark. The ladies visited with Mrs. Josephine Hall while Mr. York attended to business.

Mr. J. A. McDevitt, wife of the state senator, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hughes of Kelley, were dinner guests of Mrs. W. T. Mos. Their last Sunday evening.

Miss Beatrice Holley, teacher of the eighth grade, here, is leaving on Saturday afternoon for their first season's picnic, leaving town at 1:30 p. m. and returning after dark.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker, parents of Mr. Myron Baker of the firm of Baker & Hudson, who recently went to Carlsbad, N. M., for Mr. Baker's health, report that he is doing fine in the lower altitude.

Mrs. M. E. Easler of Kelley, attended church here Sunday evening and visited her daughter Mrs. Hazel Hall, returning home on Monday.

The "Hills" entertained the "Hills" who was in the last Sunday school retreat, at the Methodist church last Saturday evening. An especial feature of the program was an original song, "We Represent the Hills," in the tune of "Old Time Religion," and sung as a duet by the little daughters of Mrs. Leoney, who had to respond to an answer. These little girls, aged 8 and 10 years old, the older one possessing an unusually true alto voice. After the musical and literary part of the program, the superintendent, Prof. J. V. Hiler, showed everybody the views obtained when he made his trip around the world and visited the Holy Land. Refreshments of punch and cake were served to the girls, who enjoyed themselves until 11 o'clock.

The Magdalena schools enjoyed a holiday Friday, as the teachers could attend the Serrano County Teachers' convention at San Marcial.

The home of the president, Mrs. E. W. Medley, was opened at 8 p. m. for the occasion, and a musical program was rendered by girls from Mrs. Dees' Sunday school class. The "Maiden's Prayer" (T. Haderewski), piano solo, was given by Miss Hazel Crawford. A vocal solo, "Voice of the Woods" (to Rubenstein's Melody in F), was sung by Miss Virginia Dickens, who responded to an encore with "The Little Gray Home in the West." Piano solos were played by Mrs. Hamilton and Miss Horrocks Medley, and Miss Alice Atkinson sang "Goodnight, Farewell" (Finster), with much feeling.

A ring at the door, and a messenger boy (Miss Lena Lantz disguised) delivered a box which proved on examination to be full of presents to Mrs. Dees from her friends. Beautiful hand-made embroidered and crocheted accessories and dainty and useful handkerchiefs were unwrapped from the tissue paper bundles and put on exhibit for all present. Much surprised, Mrs. Dees expressed herself as feeling like a bride again and that her stay in Magdalena had been extremely pleasant, and that she regretted much to leave her new friends. In response Mrs. Medley stated the high regard in which Mrs. Dees was held and the great loss in her going.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

A few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur bring back its vigor, color, shine and youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is falling, streaked or gray. Bring the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wynn's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wynn's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application of two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

Buy 'Made in Albuquerque' Products Help to Swell the Home Payrolls

You didn't know how many "Made in Albuquerque" products were available, until their producers began to tell about them in The Herald advertising columns, did you?

The number of these products, mainly essentials, that are made here, is quite surprising in the aggregate. It is a number that gains added importance when the total of monthly and annual payrolls is figured and when the number of men and women employed is considered.

One sure way to swell the home town payrolls is to buy the products the making of which gives employment to workers. The more "Made in Albuquerque" products we buy the more money we keep in circulation in Albuquerque and the greater measure of substantial prosperity we insure.

Make a little investigation of the "Made in Albuquerque" products on your own account. Drive around and look at the places where these products are produced. If you are not using them now, make a resolution to try them out.

Each year sees an increase in the volume of "Made in Albuquerque" products and in their number and variety. This number and variety will increase in proportion to the patronage and support we provide for those home products we have.

KEROSENE NOT GOOD CLEANSER FOR ENGINES

Fresh Oil, Say Engineers Who Study Problem

It is used to be a good oil on which motorists depended for cleaning their engines.

Instead of using kerosene to clean the engine, those who studied this phase of the problem say the drained case should be cleaned with fresh oil.

More Economical It costs more money, and is a bit of a nuisance, when it is known that this advice comes from the oil companies.

Maxwell Makes Short Work of New Jersey's Meanest Mountain

New Jersey isn't the largest state on the Atlantic seaboard, nor has it the highest and most rugged peaks.

Morrisstown, New Jersey, is something over 1200 feet high.

The melting mountain snows of a January thaw add nothing to the car driver's ease of effort.

A short time ago a New Series Maxwell Touring car carrying five passengers, among them John A. MacIntyre, first chief of Morrisstown, and several newspaper men, climbed Schooley's mountain.

Three ascents were made—each one in high gear and, each

AUTO PLANTS SPEED UP TO MEET DEMAND

Detroit Says Buying Wave Is Sweeping Country

DETROIT, April 29.—The automobile industry once more has upped all cylinders and the rapid increase in business since Jan. 1 has exceeded the predictions of the most enthusiastic.

It is conceded that the output in March was the greatest since the early summer of 1920 just preceding the slump.

April Will Be Near Record The most surprising feature in connection with the improvement is the record for February.

While the revival started in Detroit spread rapidly to other automobile centers until today practically every city where automobile parts are manufactured, has felt the effects of the improved conditions.

Farmers Are Buying The unexpected jump in sales of cars in the rural districts has furnished the real surprise.

Buying of cars and trucks began early in the country. Its country prices for farm products brought the farmer back into the automotive market and the man who "wants the car" admittedly is a big factor in the progress of the industry.

Records show a total of 220,000 cars and trucks built in the United States during January and February, an increase of more than 100 per cent over the same period last year.

A striking illustration of the improved conditions is shown in production figures of the Hupp Motor Car corporation for the first quarter of 1922 which showed an increase of 112 per cent over the same period last year.

Plants Set New Records Cadillac business for the first quarter of this year was the best for that period in the history of the company, not excepting the peak period of 1919 and 1920.

Kansas Has Queer Cases Involving Decisions on What Constitutes Auto 'Collision'

TOPEKA, Kan., April 29.—"Collision"—The act of striking together, the striking together of the two hard objects, a crashing, smashing, crashing, encounter, opposition.—Whately.

Automobile accident insurance being comparatively new, Kansas statutes and court reports are far from ripe for enlightenment as to what is and what is not a collision.

It will another case, however, it was different. A man drove his car through a puddle of water on a paved street.

At the Hudson-Essex plant conditions are similar. It is deemed to be simply a question of production, the long list of orders on hand and coming by mail and through large volume every day, having forced Hudson-Essex officials to speed up their efforts to meet the demand.

The Maxwell-Touring plant is turning out from 250 to 300 cars daily and will maintain that schedule throughout April.

Employment figures for last week also show the trend upward. 4,500 men having been given jobs during the week.

Reports from Studebaker, Packard, Buick, Liberty and Columbia center the same optimistic tone and give hope that the present healthy condition of the industry will continue.

Annual cost of operating motor vehicles in the United States is estimated at $4,927,000,000.

"It was a collision with the water," contended the owner. "No," decided the insurance department officials after due deliberation "that was a case of the effect—the chemical effect—of cold water coming in contact with the hot engine."

Car Damaged by Bull The owner of the dilapidated red car made the mistake of going to a cattle sale on a farm, in his car. There were many other automobiles there, but only one was one of the brand new car.

The insurance company accepted the owner's claim for damages, but following the decision of the insurance department stood the evidence of insuring a perfect exterior finish on the car.

Reports from Studebaker, Packard, Buick, Liberty and Columbia center the same optimistic tone and give hope that the present healthy condition of the industry will continue.

Wrecking of Historic Buildings at Third and Central Begins Tomorrow, to Clear Ground for the First National Bank's New Building

THE WORK of wrecking the building at the corner of Third street and Central avenue, to clear the way for construction for the First National Bank's new banking house and office building, will begin tomorrow morning, Sollett & company, the contractors, announced Saturday. The raising of the historic old structures will be finished, the wrecking beginning at the rear. Tenants, all of whom have secured new locations in the business district, will all be out of the building by Sunday night, several of them having arranged to move today.

The buildings at Third and Central to be wrecked to make way for progress, are among the earliest business buildings to go up in the present business district of Albuquerque. The one-story adobe structure at the corner, was built by Rosenwald Brothers in 1881-82 and occupied by that firm until 1907 when the business was moved to the southwest corner of Third and Central. The building has been remodeled several times, its most recent occupants having been S. T. Vann and the Riedling Music company. The Vann jewelry business is entitled to be classed as a pioneer, having been established by S. Vann in 1893. Later it became S. Vann & Son, passing with the retirement of the elder Vann to his son, Sam T. Vann, the present proprietor.

The two story building next to the corner, which will also be wrecked, was built in 1883-84 by E. J. Post & Co., a pioneer firm who conducted a large wholesale and retail hardware and ranch supply business here for many years.

Occupants of that building, three in number, are moving to new store buildings between Fourth and Fifth on Central. The Fremont Grocery has leased and will move today into the new Everitt building at 410 West Central.

The accompanying picture shows the corner of Third and Central, looking east, and showing the old Rosenwald building, the E. J. Post building, the two-story building next, built by A. E. Walker and now owned by L. A. Rice. It will be noticed that the picture was made before the construction of the 3-story N. T. Armijo building at Second and Central.

HUGE SIGN WILL BE PUT 135 FEET ABOVE NEW HOTEL

Concrete Pouring Progressing Rapidly Contractor Reports

A large electric sign, 6 by 10 feet, with 18 inch letters reading, "First Step Toward a Greater Albuquerque—the Sky is the Limit," will be lighted up some time during this week at the site of the new hotel, and 135 feet in the air. This announcement was made by Jay J. Garfield, contractor in charge of building the hotel. The present tower, which is used for pouring concrete, is 47 feet high and it will be built about 50 feet higher before the sign is put up. The electrical materials for the sign, as well as the electricity to illuminate it will be furnished by the Albuquerque Gas and Electric company. The idea for the sign and its design were originated by Garfield, Arthur Prager and Sidney Wolf.

After it is put up, it will burn all night, every night in the week. It will face the eastward and will be visible for many miles out on the most part of the city. The work of pouring concrete at the hotel is progressing rapidly. Toward the end of this week, the forms for the foundations, which are ready made, will be set. Last week was spent in pouring the concrete for the bases of about 15 columns which will support the first floor of the building. These columns are to average about 28 inches square and some of them will run through to the top floor of the building.

All of the columns are being set in concrete bases which are about four feet into the ground and are from six and one-half to nine and one-half feet square. The pouring of the concrete is all being done by gravity. The mixing, dumping and pouring is all automatic, so that the highest efficiency and speed with the smallest possible number of men results. There are now about 25 men at work on the building, and after the building reaches the first floor, the number will be increased to 45. It will then be increased at each story the building reaches.

The lobby floor will be about two feet above the street level. The three store rooms on the corners and the fifth street side will be on the level of the street. The floors of the kitchen, dining room and grill will be about five feet above the street level. A cruise for black jewelry and ornaments has taken a firm hold on the fashionable women in Paris.

Yellow Urged as Rear Light for Automobiles

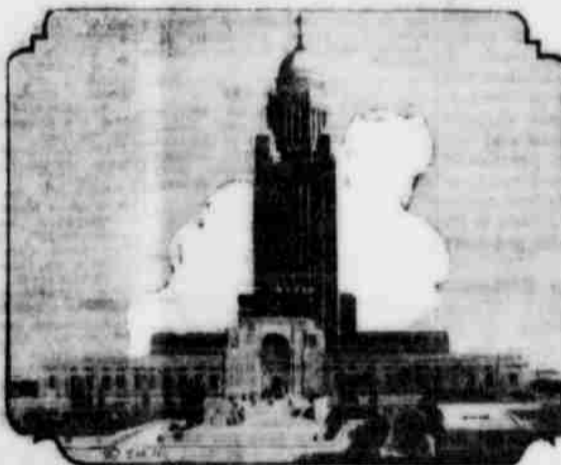

FORTY-FIVE Mich., April 29.—Automobile engineers are endorsing the advisability of using yellow in place of red tail lights to minimize the danger of motorists confusing lights placed along highways, to indicate dangerous road conditions, with automobile tail lights.

Many accidents occur owing to motorists being confused in this way. A case occurred recently in Chicago in which a driver, not familiar with the road, was following another automobile late at night. The first automobile crossed a drawbridge over a river which swung open immediately after it passed. The red warning light on the gate that swung across the road as the automobile crossed caused the driver to stop. He mistook the position of the tail-light of the first automobile, so that the driver of the second automobile thought that the red light in front was the tail-light of the automobile he was following. The result was the short section of bridge between the gate and the open draw was all that prevented a serious accident.

Railroads Not Paced
The red light on the rear of railroad trains probably is the origin of the red tail-light of automobiles. A comparison recently was made for each, however, showing that the use of the red automobile tail-light is not logical and, in fact, even dangerous. The railroad train operator on a track and the rear end of that train is dangerous because a train following cannot turn out to avoid the preceding train. An automobile, however, an automobile following another generally can turn out and pass it. It will be appreciated that the rear end of an automobile is dangerous only when it is slowing down or standing at the road-side. The use of red lights in automobile or manually operated stop-signals for the rear of automobiles therefore is logical.

The members of the Passenger Car and Motor Truck Standardization Committee of the Society of Automotive Engineers have studied this proposed change and generally approve of it. The fact however that the use of red tail lights is required by law in many states will mean that the change to yellow tail lights cannot be made until the laws in these states are repealed. It will, of course, take some time to bring about any complete change from red to yellow tail lights, but even the wisdom of making such a change is appreciated. Fully by motorists, legislators will mean that the change to yellow laws are revised to permit the change. The use of existing tail lamps will in no case be affected as it will be possible to obtain yellow lamp glasses now in service if such a replacement is wished by the individual owners. The use of yellow as an automobile tail light will have an exact parallel in railway operation, inasmuch as yellow is used by the railroad as a caution light. This is really what the tail light of an automobile is intended to be, to

Nebraska's New Capitol

LINCOLN, Neb., April 29.—Ground was broken this month for a new capital for the state of Nebraska. The building will be unique among structures of its kind. The main building will be broad and low, covering a site 447 feet square, and but 31 feet high from ground to parapet. At the center, however, instead of the customary dome, a lofty tower will rise to a height of 400 feet, surmounted by a colossal figure, called "The Pioneer," which is close weather will be visible far to sea around. The legislative hall will be on the main floor. The tower, 50 feet square, will be devoted to offices of state. In a trophy room at the top will be stored the captured battle flags and other relics of Nebraska's participation in the Civil and Spanish wars, the Philippine campaign and the recent world conflict. The main building will be of buff-colored stone, and the tower of steel construction, with a five million dollars has been appropriated to erect the building, which is to be finished before the end of 1923. Herbert C. Goodhue of New York, the architect, was chosen after a series of competitions under the auspices of the American Institute of Architects.

Malette Motor Co. Opens Agency for Cleveland-Chandler

The L. B. Malette Motor company, recently organized, yesterday received its first assignment of the new 1922 Cleveland and Chandler automobiles, which have been placed on display in the company's new sales room at 215 N. 4th street. The Malette company has the exclusive distribution agency for central New Mexico for these cars which have already gained great popularity in Albuquerque. The Cleveland-Chandler line has been without representation for a year past but will now be handled by a well-equipped agency organization, prepared not only for sales but service as well. The new models, introduced yesterday, are among the most attractive motor cars that have been brought here this year. A document dated A. Veterans' Bureau Orders Carpenter Shop Material

Material for the Veterans' bureau carpenter shop which is to be opened in the building at Grand avenue and First street, has been ordered. It was announced yesterday by H. Gilson, director of the Veterans' bureau for New Mexico. The carpenter shop is to occupy a part of the building in which the state school is now located. M. A. Deady, instructor for the carpenter school is now on the ground ready to train students in that department. Mr. Gilson who has just returned from Fort Hayard in New Mexico on business, he will re-visit this week. COFFE—An enclosed residence. This is the form decided upon by the standards committee of the American Society of Automobile Engineers. The coffee has one door at each side and seats two or three persons. TWO MONTH'S WORK ON ALVARADO TO FINISH ADDITION

Construction Is Completed But Plastering of Interior Will Take Time

Two months work are still needed to make the addition to the Alvarado hotel ready to move into and open, and most of this time will now be spent in plastering and finishing the interior. The plasterers are now working on the inside of the rooms and hallways on the second floor. They will finish these rooms before they start plastering on the main floor. The lobby will extend into the addition for a short distance, on the level with the lobby of the part of the hotel now in use. The rooms on the main floor in the new wing are about five feet above this level. In all there will be a few more than 50 new rooms available, most of them with bath facilities. The entire addition is thoroughly plastered having concrete walls. The partitions between the rooms are all of the coated with plaster. The rooms are about the same size and are arranged the same as those in the older portion of the building. The finishing of the interior is slow work, requiring a great deal of time to get a smooth finish to the walls in the rooms. It is expected that it will be finished, however, and the addition ready to move into, so that the enlarged hotel can be in good running order before the heavy hotel trade of late summer and fall. July is the big tourist month of the summer, especially for transient tourists, who are making their way to the coast for the late summer months. At this season last year the hotel was filled constantly.

How Much Would a Real State Fair Be Worth To Albuquerque and New Mexico?

A PROMINENT Albuquerque real estate man gave a Herald reporter an interview Friday in which he urged the importance of reviving the New Mexico state fair in this city and rebuilding it on the basis of an annual state-wide exposition and amusement event.

This matter has been discussed in a desultory way for several years since the state fair was abandoned. No one has ever gone deeply into the question, or sufficiently to determine how much of an investment in state exposition equipment would be justified, and what the institution, if re-established and properly operated, would be worth to Albuquerque and to the state.

During the recent reorganization of the Chamber of Commerce the members voting on projects for the year, included among the ten major proposals for the present year the project of reviving the state fair. It was not among the first in the list of ten but it had enough votes to show a strong sentiment in its favor.

The Chamber of Commerce could well afford to conduct a careful survey of local opinion to determine just what sentiment favors the fair project, and at the same time conduct an investigation tending to show just what these projects have been worth to those cities in other states where state fairs are held. It is the general opinion that such cities as Dallas, Denver, Des Moines, Springfield, etc., have been greatly benefited and that their states have been vastly helped in development, particularly in farming and livestock growing.

There is no doubt that the old state fair helped Albuquerque to become the business center and metropolis of New Mexico. There is not much doubt that a real state exposition, held annually, would continue to contribute to this city's growth and prosperity.

To re-establish the state fair on a proper basis and provide for its direction so as to insure success would mean a considerable initial investment. There is no doubt that the money could and would be provided were it shown that the return would justify the investment. There is not much doubt that this could be shown.

It is true that it is unwise for Albuquerque to undertake too many community projects. At the present time we are not overloaded with community projects. Several are proposed. None are very definitely under way which would be interfered with or deterred by the re-establishment of the fair.

If Albuquerque, by re-establishing the state fair, can foster state development and contribute to the city's growth and prosperity the proposition is at least worth the most careful consideration and investigation.

A WISE REFORMER

NON-CHRISTIAN tribes in the Philippines having protested against sending their children to the public schools, in fear that they would thus be alienated from the Mohammedan faith, General Leonard Wood has advised the provincial officials in these sections as follows:

"The question of policy as to the enforcement of the compulsory education law in the special provinces of Mindanao and Sulu has been brought to my attention and decision requested.

"In my opinion, the use of force and/or tactless enforcement of the law is not desirable. In all cases of backward tribes a certain discretion must be allowed the responsible official on the ground, in order that:

"1. The law, and the reasons therefor may be understood and appreciated by the people and their own leaders according to their custom and so-called organization.

"2. When understood, the difficulties which generally attend a too violent change of local customs and traditions may be avoided by a gradual application of the law.

"It must be borne in mind that the preservation of law and order is of vital importance and that the inconsiderate enforcement of this law in an individual case may lead to serious consequences."

The obvious wisdom of the policy here outlined confirms the impression that General Wood is the man for the job assigned him, and explains the fact that the threatening turbulence attending the Filipino desire for freedom has subsided and that the American army officer sent out to check it is today popular throughout the islands.

Incidentally, it may be noted as a pretty good formula for reform everywhere. We are all more or less barbarians and object to being reconstructed against our own will by a too sudden and arbitrary process.

MRS. BROUN'S DEMAND

ACCORDING to The Woman Lawyers' Journal, an attack is being made upon the State Department at Washington to establish the "right" of married women to travel out of the country under their maiden names; and thus far the "attack" appears to have met with a decided repulse. The engagement appears to have opened when Mrs. Heywood Broun made an application as "Ruth Hale" for a passport to visit foreign parts. The passport was granted, but to "Mrs. Heywood Broun (otherwise known as Ruth Hale)." The applicant refused to travel on the passport, and appealed from the decision of Secretary of State Colby, but has a letter from the department saying in part:

"It is hardly necessary to point out the difficulties which would arise if the department should issue passports to married women using their maiden names to enable them to travel abroad, particularly in Christian countries, where it has been the established practice for the wife to use the family name of her husband. American and consular offices would doubtless very often be placed in a most embarrassing and difficult position if passports were issued to married women in their maiden names and such an officer were called upon to assist, for instance, a man who is traveling with a woman who does not use his family name, yet claims to be married to him. The department does not deem it advisable to deviate from its long-established policy of using the family names of the husband when issuing passports to married women.

At last accounts Mrs. Broun was still on this side of the briny, refusing to use the passport, and the State Department seems to be doing very well, thank you, and surviving the shock finely.

As long as women are married under the

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law. Love worketh no ill to his neighbor: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. —Romans 13:8, 10.

Christian custom, or even dispense with the Christian end of it and go through the civil ceremony, there is the understood and implied contract to abide by the customs and laws appurtenant. There are some rather stringent laws also, to enforce this observance of the obligation. If the ceremonies are dispensed with, the law will apply take care of the situation, regardless of the fine-spin theories and the somewhat bizarre notions of a small minority. To establish such a "right" as is insisted upon by Mrs. Broun would be to throw the whole scheme of things into chaos; it would open the gates to such a condition of immorality as is shocking to contemplate, and, in short, bring about the practical abolition of the home and of a respectable mode of life. Doubtless to some of the more extreme among the small, extreme lot of assertive women this would be no loss; the majority of them are childless and live in lodgings—possibly both by preference; but it is difficult to imagine a more diabolic situation than when the conventions and the institution of marriage have been practically abolished, and people are free to form temporary associations as may be visualized under such a condition. Even Bolshevik Russia in its experiment of "nationalization" did not dare to go so far!

What, too, of the woman with children—under such a condition of affairs? Whose name would the children take—that of the man or the woman, or would there be a 50-50 arrangement by which one child would be named after the father and another after the mother—and so on?

Civilization has had a long, long pull up the hill from savagery and polygamy, polyandry and nomadic, herd and cave life. The present social establishment may not be perfect, but it is the outgrowth of the ages; it is the best humanity has been able to devise or evolve. Society is not slow, as time goes, to adopt innovations where there is merit and justice behind them—such as the emancipation of women—but such freakish demands as that made upon the State Department and insisted upon by a small coterie of extremists among the women will hardly make any headway. The answer to such demands is that if women of abounding aspiration and individuality such as Mrs. Broun appears to be don't like the established order incident to matrimony they have only to say "no" to a certain question, and then, "gang their ain gait."

According to the Wichita Beacon this is the glad season of the political year when the piffle-farmers are busily driving the cultivator through the fields of poppycock. "The blue-jays and wild geese are warbling," according to the Beacon, "the cockleburrs are sprouting in the meadows. The holyhoocks and the poppycocks are growing. Let joy be unconfined." Evidently Kansas leads in that crop too. There are advantages, after all, in living in a semi-arid state. The piffle-farmers find the soil unresponsive.

A New York trust company has fitted up a special room for women customers which the beautifully illustrated folder describes as equipped with period furniture, chintzes and mirrors concealing the tellers' windows, "all contributing to make the banking office appear unlike a bank." Probably on the theory that the dears will leave their money more readily if the surroundings look like a bridge game.

The White Desert

(Continued From Our Last Issue) CHAPTER XIII Old Judge Mason, accustomed to seeing Harry in times of stress, tried his best to be jovial. "Well, boy, what is it this time?"

"Money," Houston came directing to the point. "What's the money for; running expenses?"

"No. Machinery. I've got to have a good smooth-working plant—otherwise I won't be able to live up to specifications. You're not, and the old lawyer smiled occasionally, going to favor your dear old beloved friend with the order, are you?"

"Who?" "Worthington?" "That was Philo's name. He some into his father's money and bought the East Coast Machinery company. He's president, again the smile, and I know he'd be glad to have your order."

Houston continued the sarcasm. "I'd be overjoyed to give it to him, but I think I'd rather get it from such a dear friend as Worthington was. It wasn't his fault I wasn't sent to the penitentiary."

"No, that's right, boy," Old Lawyer Mason was quietly reminding himself. "He tried his best. It seemed to me that he was more of a persecutor than promoter."

"Let's forget it," Houston laughed absently. "A persecutor?" "Right, Worthington, district attorney. I'm going to New York."

And the next morning, Harry Houston was in New York, swirling his cane, looking toward the judicial building. There, as usual, the executive offices and told his story.
