NEXT LEGISLATURE MUST REORGANIZE BEFORE GETTING DOWN TO WORK

Report Believed to be Based on Excellent Authority Says Attorney General Will Hold It is a Regular Session.

SPEAKER BACA MUST FIGHT TO HOLD JOB

Among Those Mentioned as Candidates for His Place Are Llewellyn, Burg, Toombs, de Baca and James W. Chaves.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.) Santa Fe, Dec. 22.—It is reported here, apparently on good authority, that Attorney General Frank W.
Clancy will render an opinion that the next session of the legislature will not be a continuing session, carrying its organization over from the last session, but that it is a regular session, under the constitution and that therefore, there must be a complete reorganization.

In other words, when the house of representatives meets, it will not be called to order by Hon. Ramon L.
Baca, the last speaker, but by Secretary of State Antonio Lucero, who will preside during the organization.

It appears that the news has spread rapidly of the opinion of the attorney general, which is also known to be the opinion of Hon. Summers Burkhart, counsel for the governor, and as a result a number of candidates for the speakership are in the field, among whom are Maj. W. H. Llewellyn, the war horse of Dona Ana; Hon. James W. Chaves, of Torrance; Hon. Oscar S. Toombs, of Union; Hon. Marcos C. de Baca, of Sandoval, and Hon. John Burg, of Bernalillo. Also there are others who are talked of by their friends.

It is expected that Hon. R. L. Baca will put up a strong fight for re-election, and there is no doubt that his strength will have to be reckoned with. But it is known that he is not in good standing with the old line republicans of either house, and a determined effort will be made to reduce him to zero.

That there will be a complete reorganization of the legislature adds interest to the sensational fight that is to be made for a successor to Senator F. L. Fall. No one now claims that the last election of Fall was valid, and it is expected that a senator will be chosen to succeed him who will go to Washington with a regularly signed certificate to take his seat on March 4th.

Should Senator Fall feel that he has a right to the seat under the alleged election last June, he will have to do the contesting on whatever ground he may see fit to bring forward in support of his claim.

There is strong talk that there will be a republican caucus and that the nominee will be elected on the second Tuesday after the caucus. It is understood that Speaker Baca is a candidate.
That Senator Fall will be a candidate for re-election is more than probable.
Hon. Charles Springer and Charles A.
Cohen are mentioned as probable successors to Fall, and it is known that there are a lot of friends who favor for senator, former Delegate, W. H.
Andrews who is understood to have retired just now in the furtherance of a railroad enterprise and not talking politics, except in a reminiscent way now and then. It is even suggested that Mr. Andrews is so enthusiastic with his railroad enterprise that he might not accept the senatorship if it were offered to him.

Only a few more days remain for the meeting of the solons, and no man can predict at this time what the outcome will be in any respect.

SHOE MACHINERY IN HANDS OF COMBINE

Washington, Dec. 22.—In view of recent anti-trust decisions by the supreme court, Solicitor General Bullitt, in the government's brief made public today, asks the court to reverse the action of the Massachusetts federal court in annulling indictments against officials of the United Shoe Machinery company which charged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The officials are charged with violating the law in combining into one corporation, four groups of shoe machinery manufacturers. They are charged with further violating the law by leasing their patented machines on condition that all their machines would be withdrawn if the shoe makers patronized to any extent "independent manufacturers" of machines.

EXPEDITION WILL EXPLORE ARCTIC

Washington, Dec. 22.—Ensign Fitzhugh Green, U. S. N., has been detailed to accompany "the Crockerland expedition" to the Arctic, which sets out next July, and he will act as topog-rapher and physiographer. This intern Arctic enterprise proposes to establish the existence of and to survey a body of land commonly called Crockerland, which Explorer Peary reported he had seen in 1906, from Cape Thomas Hubbard at a distance of 196 miles across the ice. Adjoining territory will be explored and mapped.
The expedition will be a joint undertaking under the auspices of the American Museum of Natural History, the American Geographical society, and Yale university. It will be under the leadership of Donald McMillan, who was with Peary on the north pole trip in 1909.

CHICAGO MINISTERS PREDICT SATURNALIA

Chicago, Dec. 22.—Protest from almost every pulpit in this city was made today as a result of Chief of Police McWeenie's order that cafes might sell liquor until 3 o'clock in the morning on New Year's eve. Clergymen of all denominations predict a saturnalia.

SLAIN OUTLAW WAS NOT JOE MATLOCK

Santa Ana, Cal., Dec. 22.—The young man who shot and killed one man and wounded three others during a battle with a posse in which he was slain, near here, after he had attempted to assault a young woman, is not Joe Matlock, formerly of Eugene, Ore.

Joe Matlock, former mayor of Eugene, accompanied by his son, E. D.
Matlock, arrived here today and upon viewing the body of the young bandit declared that it was not his son. The local authorities are now convinced that Ira Jones and Joe Matlock were not the same person, and the body will be buried tomorrow under the former name.

OFFICERS RESCUE FOUR CHINESE SLAVE GIRLS

Captain Ainsworth and Immigration Inspectors Succeed in Running Celestial Smuggler to Hiding Place.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Dec. 22.—After threading a labyrinth of dark passageways, battering down two heavy doors, and finding themselves blocked by an impassable steel barrier, Captain Frank Ainsworth and a squad of Immigration inspectors, found four Chinese slave girls early today in an improvised prison, formerly used for a gambling house. The raiders were brought to a standstill by the steel door, but found a passageway, entered through two secret panels which led them to the room where the girls were concealed. Loy Yee, a Chinese of local repute, was arrested on a charge of harboring the women.

The raid is the second within a week, the inspectors and police having received their information in each case from the same secret source. The description in the second case proved less accurate than previously, as it was only by catching sight of a frightened face at the window of an adjoining house that the attacking party was led to the old gambling house on the third floor of the building.

Loy Yee is a leader of the Lai Bon Tong, which recently had trouble with the Hop Sing, and the police believe the girls were being concealed not only from the inspectors, but from the watchman of the rival Tong. To prevent a threatened Tong outbreak, as new signs of hostility have appeared between the capture of the girls, the Chinese district is being policed with unusual vigilance and all the known gun men are being carefully watched.
It was learned today that since the raids, the price of slave girls has risen, and that as high as $4,000 a piece is being offered for women.

SUFFRAGISTS WALK SIXTEEN MILES ON SUNDAY

Rosalie Jones' Little Army Continues Hike to Present Petition to Governor When Inaugurated.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Dec. 22.—With its marching forces augmented by another private, "General" Rosalie Jones' little army of suffragists continued the march to Albany today, and reached Rhinebeck shortly before 6 o'clock tonight, after a sixteen-mile hike. The new member of the army is Miss Gladys Corson, of this city, who will speak "through" the city, "until the state capital is reached." The suffragists, now numbering five, left Poughkeepsie, escorted by a number of local supporters of the cause.
Many witnessed the departure of the party, and one young woman on the curb yelled, "What do you think you are doing?"
"General" Jones turned about and replied: "We are trying to help your future," and amid the applause of the crowd continued on the way.
At Rhinebeck, the suffragists made several addresses and attended church in the evening.

FEDERAL SOLDIERS EXTERMINATED BY REBEL FORCES

Band of Insurrectos Under General Inez Salazar Captures Ascension and Destroys Entire Garrison.

OROZCO REPORTED IN COMMAND OF 2,000

American Railroad Man Caught by Liberals and Fear is Expressed That He May Have Been Killed.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) El Paso, Tex., Dec. 22.—Refugee federal soldiers arrived today at Juarez, to report that the 250 federal irregular troops arriving from the north were annihilated Wednesday evening when rebels attacked the town, which is about seventy-five miles southwest of Juarez.

The attack was made shortly after midnight and fighting continued only for a few hours. The garrison commanded by General Inez Salazar, a general regularly stationed at Juarez, was completely annihilated. General Tracy Aubrey at Juarez that he knew of only fifteen of his men escaping, besides himself. He is hiding at a ranch, he writes. The fate of the regular regulars stationed at Guzman, nearby, is not known, but it is believed that Guzman, on the Mexico Northwestern railroad, was taken by rebels before Ascension.

The rebels attacking Ascension were commanded by General Inez Salazar, who last week demolished the Northwestern railroad below Juarez. The revolutionists are reported as molli-fying at the capture of the town which is the center of a rich ranching district. General Jose Blanco, with a column of 800 federal, regular and irregular troops is moving against Ascension from the Casas Grandes district to the south.

A train bearing 600 regular cavalry of the Seventh regiment arrived tonight at Juarez from Chihuahua city and will proceed early tomorrow against the rebel mob.

The American officials of the Northwestern railroad have been asked to repair their line, which was cut just below Juarez, so that the cavalry may ride instead of march. It is believed that the request will be refused. A battalion of regular infantry also, it is said officially, is moving from the west against Ascension, forming a pocket in which it is hoped to trap the rebel force, which the federal now admit numbers some 1,500 men.

Rebel agents in El Paso declare that General Pascual Orozco, Jr., is in the field and that his army aggregates more than 2,000 men.

Through Counsel Thomas Edwards, of Juarez, Mex., the state department today requested federal military officials to do all possible to rescue J. L.
Morris, an American and all wounded men taken captive by rebels Tuesday, when he attempted to extinguish a burning bridge on the Mexico Northwestern railroad destroyed below this point. As a result of the raid, he was sent out to ascertain the destruction. Since Morris carried federal passports it is feared he will not be given any consideration at the hands of the rebels.

WAR OF EXTERMINATION CARRIED ON BY FEDERALS

Mexico City, Dec. 22.—Mobilization of rebels in the state of Morelos continues, but, according to arrivals here, the center of greatest activity on the part of the rebels is along the Mexico state line. Lieutenant Colonel Rivero, the federal commander, is conducting a campaign of extermination in that district, in which no prisoners are taken and all wounded are shot to death on the field.

Rivero's force is razing towns and isolated houses along the wayside where it is suspected that rebels have obtained food and shelter. The federal commander has adopted the plan of razing the house nearest the point where the railroad or telegraph lines have been found cut.

Three railroad stations, Pastor, Atencingo and Guadalupe near the Publa-Morelos state line, have been burned by the rebels. Three hundred and seventy-five Indians, captured in the hills of Oaxaca, together with twenty-five Zapoteco Indians, were sent north to join the federal ranks.

The government officials and the Mexican press generally are minimizing the importance of the prospective American note.

SONORA AT MERCY OF BAND OF INDIANS

Berkeley, Cal., Dec. 22.—Reports from El Paso, Tex., telling of the slaughter of the inhabitants of the Sonora town of San Marcel, two months ago, are denied in letters received by J. E. Johnson, of this city, from his brother, Carlos Johnson, now in Sonora. Carlos Johnson was driven from a ranch near San Marcel, and four of his men were murdered by Yaqui Indians, but the attack on the ranch was the townspeople, and the slaughter of the inhabitants was down on the little Pacific and burned it. Johnson, who is foreman of the ranch, found safety forty miles away and is awaiting the end of the Indian war in the mountains.
"Letters from my brother describe a reign of terror in Sonora," said J. E.
Johnson. "The entire state, is at the mercy of plundering bands of Indians who are attacking towns and ranches. Conditions are now worse than they have ever been before. The state government is bankrupt and can't hire troops and the federal government has no troops to send. The last ten families of San Marcel fled just before the attack of the Indians and the deserted town was completely razed. Since then, the Yaqui have attacked the Southern Pacific station near Nogales and made assaults on towns nearby."

NEW PARACHUTE IS TRIED OUT BY FRENCH

Paris, Dec. 22.—An ingenious automatic parachute for aerobatic use was demonstrated from the Eiffel tower today. The contrivance, which consists of a vast umbrella, forty feet in diameter, has a system of springs operating automatically and automatically when the fall begins. The parachute was dropped today from the first platform of the tower, with a sand bag to represent an aviator.
The apparatus fell fully before it had fallen sixty feet. It landed gently, taking sixteen seconds to drop 190 feet.

PRISONERS FAIL TO BREAK FROM PRISON

Monterey, Cal., Dec. 22.—Forty-eight prisoners, led by Edward Brown, Paul H. Jones and Joseph Cobb, three young men from Brooklyn, N. Y., who were arrested at Fairplay, Colo., after they had attempted to become auto-bandits in Denver, made a dash for freedom yesterday evening, but were frustrated by guards. The prisoners were discovered by a trusty who informed Warden A. T. Stewart. Several bars had been raised in a cell house window.
Guards were stationed outside at the prearranged hour. When the prisoners were marching back to the cell house from the supper table, Cobb sprang to the window and shouted "Come on boys."

Prisoners in the hands of the guards stopped him as he tried to jump from the window. The guards were overpowered and are now in military confinement. The three leaders were sent to Buena Vista from Golden, December 19th.

Suffragettes Attack Christmas Mail

London, Dec. 22.—Militant suffragettes made an extensive raid tonight on the pillar letter boxes in London.
They employed black and red fluids in an endeavor to obliterate the addresses on the heavy Christmas mail.

CASTRO SAILS FOR UNITED STATES FROM FRANCE

Former Dictator of Venezuela Finds Himself Hounded by Detectives from Whom He Seeks to Hide.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Paris, Dec. 22.—The Latin press is giving an account of the adventures in Europe of Chirino Castro, the ex-president of Venezuela. When he arrived at Antwerp, he found twenty detectives waiting for him. They dressed him with varying luck to Brussels and thence to Paris.

The ex-president eluded the detectives several times with great adroitness.
When he arrived in Paris, he was thought he had managed to conceal his identity, but soon afterwards he became involved in a quarrel in a cafe and demolished considerable crockery with his cane. The police were called in and Castro's identity was disclosed.

It is believed Castro came to Paris for the purpose of fomenting an insurrection in Venezuela, but finding that he was not able to do this, he sailed to go to the United States. Castro is aboard the steamer La Touraine which sailed Saturday for New York.

FIRE DAMAGES CITY HALL IN LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, Dec. 22.—Fire starting from defective wiring broke out on the fourth floor of the city hall here today and threatened to destroy the entire building. Nearly all of the fire apparatus in the city was called out, and the entire building was flooded. The main damage is the city engineer's office, where valuable maps and documents were water soaked.

Anxiety of city officials, during the fire, was increased by the knowledge that the safe in the treasurer's office contained $5,500,000 in money and securities. It is not thought the damage will exceed $10,000.

Slight Earthquake in Martinique

Port of France, Martinique, Dec. 22.— There was a slight earthquake here at 6:40 o'clock this morning. No damage has been reported.

WINTER WEATHER PREDICTED FOR THIS WEEK

Snow and Rain Over Southwest, Followed by Period of Low Temperatures, is Federal Forecast.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Washington, Dec. 22.—Snow and rain in the southwest are predicted for this week by the weather bureau, as a result of disturbances now covering the far northwest and the 4th Grande valley, which will move eastward to the great central valley Monday. Another disturbance will appear in the far west about Wednesday and move eastward, attended by snows in northern and middle states and preceded by rising temperatures, crossing the Mississippi valley about Thursday and the eastern states Friday or Saturday. This disturbance will be followed by a greater part of the country east of the Rocky mountains.

TWENTY-TWO LIVES LOST WHEN SEA GRINDS SHIP TO PIECES

Steamer Carried No Passengers and Those Who Lost Lives Composed All But Five of Vessel's Crew.

CAPTAIN AND MEN HEMMED IN BY WALL

Second Mate and Other Survivors Escaped Almost by a Miracle; Boat Sunk During Night.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) St. Johns, N. F., Dec. 22.—Twenty-two of the twenty-seven members of the crew of the Finnish line steamer Florence, from Halifax, N. S., for St.
Johns, lost their lives in the wreck of the vessel on the ledge west of St.
Johns, during a northwest gale last Friday.

Five exhausted survivors who reached land in a boat, brought the news to Trepassy tonight. The steamer carried no passengers. Captain Hart, of the steamer, and all his men, reached shore after the vessel struck, but the lofty, inaccessible cliffs of St. John's prevented their escape. The big tide, backed up by the northwest gale, made it impossible to remain there and all hands
were obliged to put back to the ship, which was pounding heavily.

Captain Hart felt confident the wind would blow from the rugged line of the jagged rocks, Healey and his
men, reached shore after the vessel
struck, but the lofty, inaccessible
cliffs of St. John's prevented their escape. The big tide, backed up by the northwest gale, made it impossible to remain there and all hands
were obliged to put back to the ship,
which was pounding heavily.

With great difficulty Healey piloted his small boat along the coast until he saw a break in the rugged line of cliffs. Putting the nose of the boat directly into the surf, he avoided the outlying rocks and on the crest of a great breaker, ran his craft in without being upset. Tumbling out hastily to avoid being sucked back by the undertow, the mate and his four men dragged their boat up the beach, out of reach of the sea and made their way back along the cliff to where the steamer lay.

The wind and sea in the meantime had increased. The cumbrous boat continuously over the decks of the vessel, which was grinding heavily on the jagged rocks. Healey and his men searched in vain for some path by which the cliff might be scaled or the crew of the Florence helped.
The coast in that vicinity was uninhabited. The few fishermen's huts were deserted for the winter, and Healey had to take refuge for the night in one of these abandoned shacks.

At midnight Saturday, Healey found the wind steadily increasing. Hurrying back to the point of which the Florence lay he could see no sign of the steamer. Considerable of her cargo of timber was floating along the shore, but no small boats were visible. The five survivors made a thorough search along the shore for their shipmates, but no trace of them was to be found. They then started for St.
John's, the nearest inhabited place, several miles distant.

Two of them were so exhausted from cold and exposure that they had to be assisted. These two were left at St. John's to recuperate, while the others passed to Trepassy, whence they sent word of the disaster to this city. They are not expected to arrive here before the middle of the week.

PORTUGAL CABINET WILL QUIT POSTS

Lisbon, Dec. 22.—The Portuguese premier, Dr. Duarte Leite, on his return from Oporto, will hand to the president of the republic the resignation of the cabinet. The crisis, which has been latent for some time, is due to the democratic party's disagreement with the procedure of the government. All parties are represented in the cabinet, but the conservative element predominates. The democrats have nearly one-half of the members of the parliament. There was practically no discussion and stormy scene common heretofore.

MOTHER-IN-LAW FOR CHRISTMAS; SUICIDES

Denver, Colo., Dec. 22.—With a letter from his mother-in-law, announcing her coming for the Christmas holidays, gripped in his hand, Keneth K. Kane, a railroad clerk, aged 40, fired a bullet through his brain late this afternoon. The body was found several hours later by Mrs.
John Mathers, a neighbor. In the same hand with the letter was a postcard from Kane's sister wishing him a merry Christmas.

Upon the table beside the body were packages neatly tied with ribbon and addressed to the different persons for whom they were intended as presents. Mrs. Kane left a few days ago for Masonville, Colorado, to visit her parents and announced her intention of bringing them home with her for Christmas. A neighbor heard Kane say: "I don't see why we can't have this Christmas to ourselves."

First White Child Born in Kansas

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 22.—Miss Susan A. Dillon, who was the first white child born in the territory now included in the state of Kansas, died here today, aged 44. She was born at an Indian trading post near the site of the old Shawnee mission, near Kansas City.

MRS. GALE FINALLY MARRIED TO CROUCH

Denver, Dec. 22.—Mrs. Frances Gale, of Los Angeles, was married by a justice of the peace to Earl Franklin Crouch here as Frank Crouch, yesterday after Salvation Army Brigadier General Public had refused to perform the ceremony, unless the consent of the juvenile court was first obtained. Mrs. Franklin declares that she will press her case in the juvenile court to obtain the custody of her 16-year-old son, Deputy who is now in the institution home here. The boy's grandfather has declared that Mrs.
Franklin is not a fit person to be entrusted with the child's care, but the mother says she will win her case and return to Los Angeles with him.

CHRISTMAS IN JAIL FACES DENVER MAYOR

Denver, Dec. 22.—Mayor Henry J.
Arnold is awaiting word from the juvenile court regarding the case of the boy who was refused by the juvenile court to make any statement regarding his probable actions. It is considered probable the case will be given a hearing in the court tomorrow and Attorney Harry Lindsey, counsel for the municipal service commission which is pressing the charge against the mayor, declares that there is little doubt that the mayor and his advisers will spend Christmas day in jail.

Monte Carlo Prince Favors Arbitration

Paris, Dec. 22.—Speaking at the United Friendly society's banquet tonight, the Prince of Monaco eulogized international arbitration and suggested that the Balkan question be submitted to the arbitration of the European war and that the Hague tribunal should pronounce finally on all points which the conference was unable to settle. He declared would remove the anxiety which at present weighs all Europe.

POLICE BAFFLED BY LOGUE MURDER MYSTERY

Two Suspects Are Released and Others Are Held Without Evidence to Connect Them with Crime.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Chicago, Dec. 22.—The murder of J. H. Logue, the diamond merchant found shot, stabbed, slashed and beaten with acid in his office here Friday, today took its place as a mystery along with the recent murder of Mrs. Kraft, Captain Halpin, of the Chicago detective bureau, today ordered the release of two of the suspects taken in connection with the crime and admitted he had no evidence to connect the other five with Logue's death.

Captain Halpin also has abandoned hope of connecting the three men and two women, still held, with the recent highway robberies by "auto bandits" here. They are held for possible federal action because of the possibility of parole post statutes found in the file where the arrests were made. Members of a different band of criminals are sought. The police are looking for Gertrude Eibele, as the person known as "Gertrude" who was a frequent visitor to the diamond merchant's office.

Gertrude Eibele was a well known character here who disappeared a few years ago, when her sweetheart,
"Eddie" Tate, a notorious safeborer, was sentenced to a term in prison.
Tate recently was released and a short time ago Gertrude Eibele reappeared here with evidence of prosperity, including many diamonds.
The police are satisfied that she is the "Gertrude" who visited Logue.

"Eddie" Tate is said to have returned secretly to Chicago, while Gertrude is a diamond thief and expert criminal of international reputation. He is the third member of the band, the police are seeking.

CONSPIRACY TRIAL ARGUMENT SOON TO CLOSE

Four More Days Allowed Lawyers to Present Case for and Against the Accused Labor Leaders at Indianapolis.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Indianapolis, Dec. 22.—Four more days of argument will confront the jury when the "dynamite conspiracy" trial is resumed tomorrow. One suspect remains on trial in whose behalf Senator Kern and William N.
Hawling will speak. Two and one-half days will be used by District Attorney Miller.

Christmas day, the government will be in the midst of its argument. It is expected that Federal Judge Anderson's charge to the jury will begin by next Friday morning. The court already has stated that the law bearing on the conspiracy charges will be set forth clearly and that the jurors will be instructed just what evidence is to apply to certain defendants.

CRISIS APPROACHES IN NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN TURKS AND ALLIES

Consensus of Opinion in London is That If Ottomans Refuse to Recede Hostilities Will be Resumed.

DIPLOMATS THINK SULTAN WANTS TIME

Balkan States Profess Readiness for Military Operations on Greater Scale Than Was Possible at Start of War.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) London, Dec. 22.—The crisis of the peace conference will be reached tomorrow, if the Turks decide to waive their demand for revictualing Adrianople, the allies will present their terms for peace. The conference then can proceed to the consideration of its real business.

Today the Turkish cabinet telegraphed instructions to the Ottoman delegation. All the delegations held conferences at their hotels and debated long and often the terms of the governments. The allies oppose the Turkish request for the provisioning of Adrianople, not only for the reason that this would give the enemy a strategic advantage in the event of further fighting, which would not have been earned by arms, but on technical grounds that the delegates have not the power to re-open negotiations to which the Turkish cabinet confers, who signed the armistice, dealt with.

Resumption of warfare is another step which the allies do not incline to, but for which the position is becoming more and more difficult. The Turks have been sparing to gain time since the conference assembled ten days ago, the consensus of opinion is that the Turkish position is becoming more and more difficult.
The Balkan states declare that if the Turks are not ready to come to terms, and if none of the powers offers acceptable mediation, the allies are ready in the event of the resumption of fighting, which would not have been earned by arms, but on technical
grounds that the delegates have not
the power to re-open negotiations to which the Turkish cabinet confers, who
signed the armistice, dealt with.

mandar at Scutari to observe the armistice. He expressed the hope that the incidents would not recur.

General Danglis, chief of the Greek staff, in replying to a letter to the Greek forces, paid a high tribute to the crown prince who during the war, he said, had displayed such military virtues as to prove himself one of the greatest generals in Europe. By the work of the crown prince and the energies of Premier Venizelos, Greece, he predicted, would become a state to be reckoned with in Europe.

The Balkan delegates are so little apprehensive of a rupture of the peace negotiations, according to the Morning Post, that they contemplate the possibility of a further conference being held in London to arrange the territorial boundaries between the allies themselves after peace is signed. It appears that the delegates are not empowered to arrange a territorial settlement, but they are strongly impressed with the neutral atmosphere of London for this work, even if new delegates are appointed.

An Athens dispatch to the Daily Telegraph says the Greeks are now outnumbered by the Turkish forces in Epirus and have a serious campaign before them. Referring to the occupation of Gortina, the dispatch says that 15,000 Turkish troops, fugitives from Monastir, had concentrated at Gortina. Three divisions of the Greek army from Florina advanced by three routes and after an extensive battle, occupied the town. The Turks retreated toward Janina.

GREEKS REPORT SUCCESS AGAINST TURKISH ARMY.

Athens, Dec. 22.—The governor of Tenedos, in dispatch today, reports that the Turkish battleship, Torgar Reis, the cruiser Medjidieh, and three destroyers appeared at 11 o'clock this morning, before the entrance of the Dardanelles.

The warships remained under the protection of the forest, the destroyers advanced and fired twenty shells at Tenedos where the Turkish inhabitants tried to hoist the Turkish flag, and put off in boats to welcome the warships. The small force of Greek soldiers on the island fired on the destroyers, killing three of them and wounding twelve. The Turkish shells did no damage and the destroyers quickly retired into the Dardanelles.

The Greek squadron, anchored off Lemnos, was notified and steamed in support of the enemy, headed by the admiral's flagship. The governor of Tenedos has been ordered to institute martial law.

The war office has issued a report of successful operations before Janina, lasting three days. The Greeks beat off successive attacks and forced the Turks to retire all along the line. The report adds that reinforcements are constantly being sent forward to aid the Greeks in their campaign against Janina.

TURKISH GOVERNMENT SEND INSTRUCTIONS.

Constantinople, Dec. 22.—The cabinet today discussed the peace negotiations and forwarded fresh instructions by wire to the delegates at London. It is believed, in some quarters, that Turkey is about to invoke the good offices of the powers to promote an agreement.

Military feeling continues strongly in favor of resuming hostilities, rather than surrender Adrianople. Reinforcements arrive almost daily from Syria and Kurdistan. Several important orders for guns and war stores have been placed abroad. The military party favors remaining on the defensive during the winter and assuming the offensive in the spring.

SERBIA AND BULGARIA AGREE ON MATTER OF POLICY.

Belgrade, Dec. 22.—A dispatch from Belgrade says the Bulgarian and Serbian governments are negotiating an agreement under which, in the event of resumption of the war, in return for Serbian help at Tzavitsa, Bulgaria will reduce her territorial claims in Macedonia in Serbia's favor.

SERBIANS APOLOGIZE TO AUSTRIAN GOVERNMENT.

Belgrade, Dec. 22.—Premier Pachitch, who yesterday apologized to the Austrian consul for the Prochaska affair, promised that the guilty soldiers should be punished and that when the Austrian consuls returned to their posts they should receive the full honors due their positions.

Dispatches from the Serbian headquarters at Vidubor report that in spite of the armistice, the Turks repeatedly attack the Serbians. Last Friday, the Serbian troops near Soutar were attacked and, in a severe engagement the Turks were repulsed with considerable loss.

TURKS REPORTED TO HAVE REPULSED GREEKS.

Constantinople, Dec. 22.—The fighting before Janina is reported as very severe. David Pasha, commander of the Seventh army corps, who joined the Greek staff, has been killed with his chief of staff. The arrival of reinforcements from Janina Sunday, changed the fortune of the Turks who drove the Greeks back in the direction of Laros. The losses on both sides were heavy.

FINDS ENVELOPE ON FLOOR WITH $200 IN GREENBACKS

R. R. Snyder, Bartender at Shamaley's Saloon on South Second Street, Makes Peculiar Discovery This Morning.

It is not often that a man finds any considerable sum in cash, yet return it to the owner. Such was the case this morning, however, when R. R. Snyder, bartender at Shamaley's saloon on South Second street, found $200 bills in an envelope shortly after midnight.

Snyder declares he knows who owns the money and unless it is claimed by that person this morning he will return it to him.

The money was all in bills of large denomination. The envelope containing them had evidently dropped from the owner's pocket as he leaned on the bar to get a drink when the saloon opened at midnight. It was found lying between a cuspidor and the rail of the bar.

Snyder identified the owner by some marks on the envelope. He would not make public the name of the owner without any one being any the wiser.

Such honesty is remarkable. Snyder was alone in the place when he found it and could easily have kept the money and destroyed the envelope without any one being any the wiser.

FRENCH SCHOLAR IS VICTIM OF MORPHINE

Paris, Dec. 22.—A sensation has been caused in academic circles here by the death from morphine poisoning of Rene Richet, one of the most brilliant graduates from the higher normal colleges, who recently was appointed professor of French in the Royal college at Edinburgh. The police say that a college friend who was a victim of the morphine habit induced Richet to try the effects of the drug and gave him a hypodermic injection which proved fatal. The student had been arrested and the police say that a search of his rooms in the college brought to light a forced physician's prescription through the use of which he obtained the drug.

AMERICAN TREATY WITH RUSSIA IS ENDED BY ACT OF CONGRESS

For First Time in Eighty Years Two Friendly Nations Have No Official Relations Toward Each Other.

DIFFICULTY DUE TO JEWISH PASSPORTS

It is Not Expected That Trade Between Countries Will be Materially Affected by the Changed Conditions.

(By Morning Journal Special Teased Wire.)
Washington, Dec. 22.—The termination of the Russian treaty, abrogated by congress because of Russia's attitude upon the passport question which becomes effective January 1, leaves the two nations for the first time in eighty years without an agreement to govern their trade relations and presents a situation unprecedented. Except as a consequence of war, the United States never before has undertaken to continue on friendly terms with another nation in the absence of any treaty relations after it has once enjoyed that connection. The result of many months of careful consideration of the subject has left the officials here in the dark, except as to the broad conclusion that the status quo, so far as it relates to trade, may remain unchanged providing neither country does anything that might be regarded as discriminatory against the other.

It appears that the sole effect of the termination of the treaty as to the United States will be to deprive Russian consuls of the right to administer estates of Russians dying in America and to deal with disputes between the captains and crews of Russian vessels in American ports. The great volume of trade between the two countries is expected to remain unimpaired though there are indications that the Russian government contemplates some changes in its tariff laws that may unfavorably affect the importation of agricultural implements, machinery, hardware and perhaps cotton, so long as these increases are not directed specifically against American products, they cannot be regarded as discriminatory and as warranting retaliatory measures.

HEAVY INCREASE IN TRAVEL BEFORE CHRISTMAS

Persons Who Will Not Spend Christmas at Home Pack Trains; Westbound Traffic is Apparently Heavier.

The customary increase in travel just before Christmas has just this year been more pronounced than in previous years.

Santa re-trains Nos. 7 and 9 are carrying extra passenger cars, and several trains last week the west bound trains ran in two sections to accommodate the heavy passenger traffic. Most of the traffic is west bound. East bound trains for the last few days have been short, but traffic is not as heavy in that direction.

The increase in passenger business in Albuquerque within the last week is estimated at 10 per cent. This is due almost wholly to persons who are going to spend Christmas with relatives or friends out of the city.

Tickets have been sold here within the last week as far east as New York and as far west as San Francisco to persons who will spend Christmas away from home.

HEAVY WEATHER IS CAUSE OF DELAYS TO WESTBOUND TRAINS

No. 1 and No. 9, the west bound Santa Fe trains, were late last night because of a number of minor delays all traceable to the cold weather. No. 1 was reported late in at 1 o'clock, but made up all but fifty minutes of the hour and thirty-five minutes it was reported late. No. 9 was first reported due at 12:30 but continued to drop time, arriving shortly after 1 o'clock. No. 7 was on time.

All the trains from the north brought snow and ice with them. Railroad men reported a heavy snowstorm raging on Colorado hills.

CHEMICAL TO STOP ROOSTER CROWING

Denver, Colo., Dec. 22.—City Chemist Paul S. Niles has discovered a chemical which, he says, will prevent roosters from crowing. He announces that within a few days he will have the preparation ready for distribution and that it will release any city of the necessity of the anti-crowling ordinance fostered by Congressmen-elect George J. Kindel.

"After a few meals fixed with this chemical," said Chemist Niles, "roosters will be unable to crow above a whisper and it will not be necessary for those who own chickens to move with them outside the city limits as the Kindel ordinance proposes."

MARSHALL GRANTS ONLY ONE PARDON

Indianapolis, Dec. 22.—Governor Marshall has granted one pardon and twelve paroles and today the thirteen inmates of the state penitentiary were told they would be permitted to spend Christmas in their homes. The thirty-nine others who applied for clemency were denied. Among the thirty-nine was Charles E. van Pelt, brother-in-law of Senator Works, of California. Van Pelt is in prison for killing Charles R. Tindall because he had accused Mrs. van Pelt of being "short" in her accounts as secretary of a lodge of which Tindall was a supreme officer. Senator Works addressed a letter to the board of pardons asking the release of van Pelt.

WESTERN CHARACTER DIES IN MISSOURI

Kansas City, Dec. 22.—Colonel Daniel Burns Dyer, one of Kansas City's picturesque characters, died today at his summer home, Chardon, at Beaumont, Mo. He was 63 years old. Colonel Dyer had been a pioneer, frontiersman, capitalist, journalist and street car magnate. For many years he was United States Indian agent in Kansas and the Indian territory. He was first mayor of Guthrie, Oklahoma. In Atlanta, Ga., Colonel Dyer built the first traction system in the south to be operated by water power. Eight years ago, he gave up business and devoted his time to collecting art treasures.

ALBERT T. PATRICK MEETS HIS DAUGHTER

St. Louis, Dec. 22.—For the first time since she was a child 4 years old, Miss Lillian Patrick, recently pardoned by Governor John A. Dix, of New York, met her father. The young woman, now 16 years old, arrived from Denver with Patrick's mother, Mrs. Edward T. Patrick. They are at the home of John T. Milliken, Patrick's brother-in-law.

Patrick's plans for the near future are still unknown, he said today. It is probable that within a week he will either return to New York, or be joined here by his wife, he believes.

AMERICAN NAVY IN NEED OF ABOUT 6,000 MEN

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.)
Washington, Dec. 22.—The navy is about 6,000 men short of the authorized strength, though latest reports show an improvement in recruiting. In the last few months, however, enlistment dropped off in an unprecedented degree. Navy officials believe this was due partly to the suspension of advertising for men and on account of the country-wide demand and the high price paid for farm labor.

Despite this fact, the navy has a substantial growth, both in material and personnel during the last fiscal year, according to the report of Rear Admiral Andrews, chief of the bureau of navigation, navy department. The fleet of warships was increased by 14,852 tons, comprising seven battleships, two armored cruisers and sixteen smaller vessels, while to the personnel there were added 254 officers and 2,653 enlisted men.

The admiral strongly urges the removal of a legal limitation upon the employment of retired officers, by firms filling government contracts, holding that the government would profit much by such employment of skilled officers, over whom the government has legal control, against improper action on their part.

Unless something is done to redistribute the present force of officers in the various grades, there is certain to be in a near future a condition of stagnation, the admiral asserts.

The prospects are that a junior lieutenant would be fourteen years in that grade and could not become a commander under 28 years of age, leaving only four years before retirement for service as commander, captain and flag officer.

The navy department is about to submit to congress a complete scheme for the creation of a naval reserve, which will double our naval force in time of war.

AMERICAN FOREIGN TRADE BREAKS RECORDS

During 1912 United States Imports Are Valued at $1,800,000,000, While Exports Amount to $2,400,000,000

Washington, Dec. 22.—The foreign trade of the United States in 1912, will exceed all previous records. Figures just compiled by the bureau of statistics, indicate that the imports of the year will approximate $1,800,000,000 against $1,555,000,000 in 1910 which was the former high record and that the exports will approximate $2,400,000,000 against $2,093,000,000 in the former high record year for exports, 1911. The calendar year also will break all records in the value of both imports and exports.

The bulletin tonight read: "Mr. Ryan's condition is very serious, but the doctors are hopeful of his recovery."

HOW TO TREAT COUGHS

When the pure food law was passed, the fact came out that many cough syrups contain drugs which, while useful in their place, should not be put in a remedy for home use. Really the most sensible way to treat a cough is not to take a mere soothing syrup, but to use a standard remedy like Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic that we sell every day. Cod liver oil has been used for centuries to cure coughs, and Vinol is better because it is free from grease and always agrees with the most delicate stomach. Vinol cures coughs by strengthening the whole body and making the blood rich, thus helping the system to throw off the cough quickly. We guarantee that Vinol will please you—if it does not we give back your money.

NO WAR WITH ENGLAND.

Republican Floor Leader James R. Mann of Illinois, made a speech at the closing meeting of the American society for the arbitration of international disputes, that made it very clear that the Panama canal question will not be submitted to arbitration. He not only voiced the views of a large majority of the republicans in congress, but expressed the opinion of a large percentage of the democratic congressmen as well.

Fear of war is expressed at home and the British newspapers have included in threats. But there will be no war, Ralph Norman Angell Lane, editor of the Paris edition of the London Daily Mail, shows why war between the two nations is impossible. To quote his words:

"We have not gone to war with the United States, we shall not go to war, and are not even thinking of war, and this not because blood is thicker than water, for when the blood was a good deal thicker, when American really was English blood, which now it is not, we went to war, not once, but twice, and fought with Germans against Americans, so it is not for that reason that we submit to affronts from America which, if committed by Germany, would make war inevitable. The reason why we shall not go to war is because war would be ineffective."

But Mr. Lane says that a triumph on the seas would be productive of little damage to the United States and of worse than no benefit to Great Britain. On that point he says:

"We could not impose our will by war. America is not only impregnable so far as military force is concerned, but is quite obviously indomitable. We could, it is true, destroy her navy, bombard her ports, blockade her coasts and by so doing create a position far more onerous for us than for her. She would be embarrassed; we should starve—Lancashire from lack of cotton, and other parts of our population from the high prices of food. Our finances would be chaotic from the havoc which this state of war would make with the British millions sunk in American investments, while America, as a self-contained continent, would be much less seriously hit."

Speaking of the resources of the American republic, he says:

"She does not depend upon foreign food or foreign money. She has already secured foreign trade which, however, is but a drop in the bucket compared with her internal trade. She can far better afford to be locked in than we can afford to be locked out. Her navy serves no earthly purpose connected with any vital function of her national life. By bombarding her coast towns we could do some damage to property which is mainly ours and which, in the end, our insurance companies would have to pay for, but beyond that—nothing. There we should stick. If we landed armies they would be swallowed up in the very spaces of the continent."

Thus it may be seen that there is no possibility of war between Great Britain and the United States. But there is a question of right and wrong that should be settled directly between the two nations. It should be settled fairly, with a full view of the ethical problems involved. The United States made certain agreements, and should live up to them. Great Britain parted with valuable rights by the treaty and should receive the consideration and should receive the consideration stipulated.

MONEY TRUST PROBE.

The New York Tribune has discovered that the money trust investigation is in bad hands. The house committee on banks and banking, according to the Tribune, is composed of poor material, men who do not understand, who do not comprehend the facts disclosed by the probing under direction of Samuel Untermyer.

Here was the one inquiry by the democrats, he says, that was directed against actual evils. The committee's attitude is really bringing to light facts that may prove of vital moment, but the committee, it asserts, is unable to comprehend the import of his inquiries or the scope of its opportunities.

This is a sad thing, but as the committee has nothing to do but listen while its counsel does the questioning, perhaps the results will not be entirely lost. Monopolistic methods of the clearing house can be comprehended by the country, even if the committee should fail to understand. The creation of artificial shortages of staples in order that stocks may be hoisted, to be followed by an unloading that will send them to the bottom when the promoters have some "short" again, can be understood. Inordinate profits made by flotation syndicates are not so difficult to comprehend.

The truth is to learn who is doing these things and how they affect the welfare of the country. If the bankers of New York are, as some witnesses have testified, tying up the money of the country in such deals, while refusing loans on slower manufacturing enterprises, or even for the marketing of the crops, something will be heard from the country of interest both to the bankers and to congress.

Also we believe that the committee on banks and banking is composed of men of fair intelligence, that their ability will average up with that of the common citizen who finds little difficulty in understanding the inordinance of the facts disclosed by the witnesses under the probing by Mr. Untermyer.

The inquiry into the money trust has been illuminating. It has disclosed that a few men are in control of the entire finances of the country. They make higher or lower prices when they like, so far as the stock market is concerned. But it is not within their power to destroy the crops or to curtail the prices paid for them by foreigners or to stop the volume of money that is flowing into this country.

But, judging from the facts developed, and from the speech made recently by President-elect Wilson before the southern society of New York, it seems quite certain that the big New York banker has some grudge against him and that he will not be the autocrat of the future as he has been the dictator of the past.

Our state department is preparing a communication for Mexico that is advertised as a hate-raiser. WILSON PAYS VISIT TO OLD ROOM IN UNIVERSITY

As Ex-Officio President He Enters Office Formerly Occupied by Him When He Directed Famous School.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire). Princeton, N. J., Dec. 22.—President-elect Wilson became "President Wilson of Princeton University," again today, but only for a few minutes. After a five-hour walk through Princeton, during which the governor acted as guide for half a dozen correspondents, he turned into "Seventy-Nine Hall," a dormitory donated by the class of 1879, of which he was a member.

"By virtue of the fact that the governor of New Jersey is ex-officio president of the board of trustees of Princeton university, I suppose it's still proper for me to be in here," said Mr. Wilson, with a laugh as he led his retinue up a flight of stairs. At the entrance to the suite of rooms in the dormitory, which were especially fitted up for the president of the university, he paused.

"I still have the key," he remarked, as he drew forth a bunch of keys from his pocket, opened the big oak door, and turned on an electric light here and there. The big room from which Woodrow Wilson once ruled Princeton university, was vacant. It was the first time the former president of the university had seen his old office in two years. During the coming week, Governor Wilson will be, for the most part, at the state house in Trenton, where he has conferences scheduled with Speaker Clark, Congressman Underwood, Senator Hoke Smith and a number of other democratic leaders. He heard with regret of the illness of Mr. Underwood, he said, and expressed the hope that the indisposition would be but temporary.

COMPETITION MADE IMPOSSIBLE ON WATERWAYS BY COMBINATIONS

Railroads and Steamship Lines Have Formed Alliance Which Gives Them Strangle Hold on Commerce.

REPORT IS SUBMITTED TO PRESIDENT TAFT

Commissioner of Corporations Deals at Considerable Length with Alleged Unlawful Monopolies Existing.

FEATURES OF REPORT MADE TO PRESIDENT
Railroad companies and steamship combinations control the regular domestic steamship lines of the United States, destroying much competition.
Water lines long Atlantic and Gulf coasts to large extent are auxiliaries or subsidiaries of railroads.
New Haven system charged with attempting to suppress competition on Long Island Sound.
New Haven system and the Eastern Steamship Company, in which the railroad is a stockholder, control New York City-New England traffic.
Southern Pacific is declared to have shown a disposition to restrict steamship competition on the Pacific coast.
Railroads own the important through passenger and package freight lines on the Great Lakes.
Some competition on the Pacific coast, but railroad control also is found there.
Important hard coal fields on north Atlantic coast owned by few great anthracite railroads.
Railroads control 90 per cent of mileage of private canals, and have caused many such waterways to be abandoned.
Westward bound business on Erie canal virtually controlled by railroads, and eastbound business has been largely diverted to the railroads.
Further federal regulation of joint rail and water traffic suggested.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire). Washington, Dec. 22.—Railroad companies and steamship combinations control the regular domestic steamship lines of the United States and have destroyed competition on many of the water highways of commerce, declares Luther Conant, Jr., commissioner of corporations, in a report to President Taft today.

The revelations of the report, based upon an extensive investigation, force upon the federal government, says the commissioner, the consideration of further regulation of joint rail and water traffic.

In practically all the coast waters of the country, it is declared, railroad or steamship combinations dominate water transportation. Their control of both through passenger and package freight trade is especially striking, says Commissioner Conant, and on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts and on the Great Lakes. Water lines along the eastern seaboard, he adds, have become to a large extent auxiliaries or subsidiaries of railroads. Competition exists in greater measure on the Pacific coast, the commissioner points out, important instances of railroad control there.

It is a striking fact, says Commissioner Conant, that between a number of the more important ports on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts there is only a single regular service. The New Haven system, it is charged, "has pursued a determined policy of suppressing any effective competition on Long Island Sound and several, at least, of its recent acquisitions must be charged as due to this policy." Elimination of competition was an important factor in the New Haven's purchase of a majority interest in the Merchants and Miners Transportation Company.

The extensive water traffic between New York City and New England ports is almost completely controlled by the report adds, by the New Haven road or by the Eastern Steamship Company in which the New Haven is a considerable stockholder, though claiming to have no voice in the management.

"The Southern Pacific, likewise, is declared to have shown a disposition to restrict competition, on the Atlantic coast although its steamship lines are really a water extension of that company's rail lines." In addition, the report says, "the control of the Southern Pacific by the Union Pacific (recently dissolved by the United States supreme court) obviously tended to limit the importance of competition by the Southern Pacific's rail and water route."

The railroads controlling the greatest tonnage of steamship lines according to Mr. Conant, are the New Haven system, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, the Pennsylvania, New York Central and Central of Georgia.

Nearly all the important anthracite fields on the North Atlantic coast, he adds, are controlled and owned by a few great anthracite railroads.

A number of the principal canals of the country have been abandoned or fallen into disuse, the report declares, because of railroad influence. "The conditions here set forth," says Mr. Conant, "can not fail to command attention. So far as the eastern part of the country is concerned, water lines have to a large extent become auxiliaries or subsidiaries of railroads. These conditions force consideration of the policy to be adopted toward water carriers. Since water competition has in considerable measure been restricted to railroad control of water lines, this fact must be taken account of. The Interstate Commerce Commission has by recent legislation secured a considerable increase in jurisdiction over joint rail-and-water traffic, particularly with respect to the establishment of joint rail-and-water rates and the equitable division of such rates between the carriers. This is a matter of vital importance. If there is to be any successful attempt to increase competition in domestic water traffic, it seems certain that such joint-rate arrangements should be far more generally established than at present. Since joint through rates are almost invariably less than the sum of the local rates, a steamship line deprived of the advantage of a joint-rate arrangement with railroads on an equitable basis is practically unable to compete with a rival enjoying it."

The report says that 29 railroads of the country control steam vessels and cargoes of $10,000 gross tonnage engaged exclusively in domestic trade and continues:

The tonnage of the New Haven system is the largest aggregating a little over 200,000 gross tons. Next in importance is the Union Pacific-Pennsylvania system, with a grand total (excluding tonnage engaged in foreign trade) of over 150,000 gross tons. The Pennsylvania Railroad company's water lines have 65,500 gross tons in steamers and 8,500 tons in barges; the New York Central, over 50,000 gross tons; the Central of Georgia Railway, over 40,000 gross tons.

The total capitalization of water lines controlled by these railroads (this not covering holding companies and several very important unincorporated services) aggregates $52,339,375 in stock and $31,263,187 in bonded debt, of the stock $40,223,500 and of the bonds $19,211,187 are owned by 18 railroads or their subsidiaries. In most instances railroads own practically all the stock of the separately incorporated water lines which they control."

Of the traffic not dominated by railroads along the eastern seaboard, the great bulk, adds the report, is controlled by two important steamship consolidations, the Atlantic Gulf and West Indies steamship line and the Eastern Steamship Corporation. With a few exceptions the constituent companies of these consolidations were formerly subsidiaries of the Consolidated Steamship Lines, organized by Charles W. Morse, and which collapsed in 1907.

While there appears to be no inter-ownership of stock between these two steamship consolidations, Mr. Conant adds, they have several directors in common indicating a considerable community of interest.

On the Great Lakes all the important through passenger and package freight lines, it is declared, are owned by railroads. In the local package freight traffic there are a large number of independent water carriers. Several of the principal lake fleets handling ore, coal and lumber, it is said, are under the control of important industrial concerns, the largest being the Pittsburgh Steamship Company, controlled by the United States Steel Corporation.

On the Pacific coast, the commissioner found independent steamship lines forming an important factor in the coastwise trade, but said several water lines were under railroad control, including the interest of the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific in the Pacific Mail and the San Francisco & Portland Steamship Co. The Southern Pacific also controls a fleet of oil vessels, belonging to the Associated Oil Company, he adds.

Independent lines on the Mississippi river, Mr. Conant says, have largely succumbed to railroad competition or natural difficulties. The great bulk of bituminous coal, the principal item of traffic on the Mississippi and Missouri rivers is handled, he adds, by a single industrial line—the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Co., controlled by the Pittsburgh Coal Company.

Railroads now control, continues Mr. Conant, about 90 per cent of the mileage of the few private canals still in operation.

"On Erie canal, the most important artificial waterway in the country," says the commissioner, "the west-bound business has virtually passed under the control of railroads, while east-bound traffic has been largely diverted from the canal by the repeated reductions in rail rates, rate arrangements and railroad control of terminal facilities. These reductions in rail rates are, however, to a considerable extent attributable to canal competition."

The report deals chiefly with regular through passenger and freight steamship lines and takes no account of tramp steamers. It is the fourth installment as the result of the Bureau of Corporations' extensive investigation of water traffic, the three previous reports relating to water routes, volume of traffic and the control of terminals.

The appointment was ratified by other members of the board at a recent meeting, the announcement said.

FATHER BELIEVED TO HAVE KILLED HIS CHILD

Poverty-Stricken Homesteader Charged with Poisoning Last Food in House Prepared for Breakfast.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire). Clatsop, Wash., Dec. 22.—Charged with having poisoned the last food that remained in the house for the sustenance of his wife and five children and with having caused the death by that means of his 1-year-old daughter, Ed Stoddard, a homesteader, living on Torada creek, fifteen miles from here, is being sought throughout eastern Washington by the authorities of Ferry county.

The Stoddard family is very poor and the father had not been able to provide food and clothing for his wife and children. The last of the food was prepared for Wednesday morning. One of the little girls, unable to restrain her hunger, rushed to the table before the others, she fell writhing to the floor in convulsions after drinking part of a cup of coffee, according to Mrs. Stoddard, and died almost immediately. Stoddard, she says, then seized the coffee pot and the plate of pancakes and threw them on the floor.

A dog which ate one of the cakes, died immediately.

Stoddard then borrowed $10 from neighbors, saying he wished to buy a coffin for the child, and left for town, telling his wife he would arrange for the funeral. Mrs. Stoddard notified neighbors. A coroner's inquest established the fact that the little girl died of poison and the verdict of the coroner's jury placed responsibility for her death on her father.

CLAYTON SCENE OF PRETTY WEDDING; COUPLE POPULAR

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal). Clayton, N. M., Dec. 22.—Miss Clara Toombs and Morgan Harvey, both of Clayton, were quietly married this morning at 9:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Toombs, Rev. Cramley officiating.

The bride was becomingly attired in a tailored suit of brown, with hat to match, and carried a handsome bouquet of bride's roses.

Mr. Harvey holds a responsible position in the United States land office here and is held in the highest esteem by a host of friends here, while his bride is a young lady of rare accomplishments. She is the daughter of State Representative O. T. Toombs.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey left immediately after the ceremony for Galveston, from which city they will take a steamer for New Orleans. After January 15th, they will be at home to their many friends.

Numerous and expensive gifts were received.

ECHOES FROM SANTA FE

Santa Fe Happenings Always Interest Our Readers.

After reading of so many people in our town who have been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, the question naturally arises: "Is this medicine equally successful in our neighboring towns?" The generous statement of this Santa Fe resident leaves no room for doubt on this point.

Jose Ortiz y Buen, Alto St., Santa Fe, N. M., says: "In 1907 I used Doan's Kidney Pills for pains in my back which had troubled me for three years. They brought prompt relief and proved so satisfactory that I gave a public statement in their praise. Now after two and a half years have passed, I gladly confirm every word of that testimonial. I can add that I have since used Doan's Kidney pills, giving them a more thorough trial, and have received great benefit. I know that this remedy is good for backache and kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

BIG SYNDICATE TO EXPLOIT MINES IN BRAZIL

English Capitalists and American Bankers Prepare to Invest $100,000,000 in South America.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] London, Dec. 22.—Negotiations are pending for the formation of an international corporation with a capital of $100,000,000 ($100,000,000) whose main object will be to acquire, exploit and develop the immense iron mines and the correspondingly large coal deposits of Brazil. Some of the world's greatest financiers are interested in the combine, including the Rothschilds, Barings, Sir Ernest Cassel and a group of American bankers whose identity has been kept a close secret here for reasons that are not publicly known. It is said that the negotiations are only beginning and that they will have a disastrous effect. One of the concerns closely connected with the deal is the Tabira Iron Ore Company, limited, which has a share capital of $2,000,000 and a powerful directorate. A director of the Tabira Company, after admitting that the negotiations were pending, said the matter was only in a preliminary stage, and that it would be two or three months before anything definite was known. "I know Sir Ernest Cassel won't like his name being mentioned in connection with it," he said. "He is out of business now and his only interest in the new concern would be from an investment point of view, but should he find his name being mixed in it, it might have the effect of his refusing to go into it."

"So far as the Tabira Company is concerned, we have the mines, some one else has the port, while a third party has the railroad. What we are trying to do is effect a combination of all three to mutual advantage. So far mining has not been practicable, owing to the cost of getting the ore away, but under our management the outlook will be entirely different."

The Tabira Company owns certain mining properties situated in the district of Tabira in the province of Minas Gerais, Brazil. It is said to be wonderfully rich in iron ore and with the falling off in value of iron ore from the Spanish mines, Brazil is likely to become the chief center of the world's supply.

BIRDMAN FLIES TO ROME FROM AFRICA

Aviator Garros Completes Trip, Crossing 160 Miles of Water During One Flight; Injures Machine Landing.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Rome, Dec. 22.—Roland G. Garros, the French aviator, completed today his long flight from Tunis, Africa. Garros, after a splendid flight from Tunis on December 18th, landed at Trapani, Sicily, a distance of 160 miles over the Mediterranean sea. He left Trapani yesterday and flew to the Italian mainland.

Today he continued his flight, stopping at Naples for lunch.

Favorable weather enabled Garros to cover the last stage of his journey at great speed. He landed at Rome an hour and one-half before he was expected. In landing, the aeroplane was slightly damaged, but Garros was not hurt.

SIXTY THOUSAND DOLLAR REALTY DEAL AT ROSWELL

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] Roswell, N. M., Dec. 22.—One of the biggest real estate deals for months was closed here a few days ago, when A. E. Macey sold his fancy 120-acre farm, including fifty acres of orchard to F. E. Downs, of Carlisle, Ark. Mr. Macey takes in the deal a 700-acre farm in Arkansas. The deal involved $60,000.

The Arkansas orchard is conceded by all to be the best kept and cultivated orchard in the valley. It gets water from the Hagerman canal.

Mr. Macey has owned this land for eighteen years and given it the most careful attention, bringing the land from the raw state until it was the best product in this section.

Possession is to be given about the 15th. Mr. Macey is undecided whether he will move to Arkansas. Mr. Downs will locate on the farm.

LESTER FUNERAL WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

City Officials, Elks, Attorneys and Democrats March with Procession from Home to Broadway on Central Avenue

The cold yesterday afternoon did not discourage any plans for the funeral of Felix H. Lester, former city attorney. A large number of representatives of the Elks, the Bernalillo county bar and the municipal government, leaders of other friends of Mr. Lester, made the procession, which passed along Central avenue, the longest seen here for some time.

Services were held at the Lester home, 1116 West Central avenue, at 2:30 o'clock by Archdeacon W. E. Warren, of the Episcopal church, and then the cortege started on its journey to the cemetery. Four police officers, including Chief Thomas McMillin, Captain Pat O'Grady and Officers Charles Mainz and Ed. Donohue were in the lead, and four firemen—Assistant Chief James Cosgrove, Oscar McMullen, George Mann and J. M. Burnett—followed. The Elks came next. Then came the Bernalillo county attorneys and the city and county democratic central committees. The hearse followed the members of the central committee and after it came the carriage with relatives of Mr. Lester and friends. Mayor D. K. R. Sellers, the councilmen and the police officers marched at the sides of the hearse as far as Broadway, where they entered a carriage and continued to Fairview cemetery.

The police and firemen stopped at Broadway and lined up on each side of the street with heads bowed until the hearse passed. The lawyers, Elks and members of the democratic central committee took carriages at Broadway. The Elks held their ritualistic services at the grave in Fairview cemetery.

The floral tributes were especially beautiful and served as mute tokens of the love in which Mr. Lester was held by all who knew him.

SECRETARY NAYLON APODACA, VICTIM OF SHOOTING, DIES AT HOSPITAL

Will be Married Thursday to Miss Rosalie Vialt of Phoenix; Members of Commercial Club Say Good-Bye to Him.

Santa Rosa Man Succumbs Ten Hours After He Was Wounded by Accidental Discharge of Automatic Pistol.

T. J. Naylon, secretary of the Commercial club, who recently resigned, will leave this morning for Phoenix, Ariz., where he will have an interest in the Valley floor mill.

"I regret to leave Albuquerque," said Mr. Naylon, who has been an energetic booster since he was elected to the secretaryship of the Commercial club. "Albuquerque, I believe, is entering an era of prosperity. I am confident that the city will grow rapidly when the new Santa Fe shops begin to go up."

Mr. Naylon is to be married Thursday morning to Miss Rosalie Vialt of Phoenix. The marriage ceremony is to be held at St. Mary's church at Phoenix. Father Novatus Benzio officiating.

E. A. Mossman, whom the club employed to audit the secretary's books, yesterday checked Mr. Naylon out. H. R. Henning, the new secretary, will take office sometime this week.

A large number of the members of the club yesterday went to the club to say goodbye to Mr. Naylon. The club has been remarkably successful during Mr. Naylon's term as secretary, and his resignation was accepted with regret by the directors.

DR. F. V. FISHER TO LECTURE HERE JANUARY 2

Panama Lecturer to Illustrate Talk with Stereopticon Views of Canal; Commercial Club Engages Elks Theater.

Dr. Frederick Vining Fisher will lecture in Albuquerque on January 2nd on the Panama canal. Secretary T. J. Naylon, of the Commercial club, yesterday received a letter to the effect that the lecturer would be here that night.

The lecture was planned at first that Dr. Fisher come here January 1st, but Secretary Naylon asked him to postpone his lecture until the following night. The Commercial club has engaged the Elks theater for Dr. Fisher. The letter received yesterday said that the lecturer would arrive in Albuquerque at 8 o'clock the morning of January 2nd and give his canal lecture that night. The lecturer is to appear on the stage at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Fisher's lecture is in the line of preparations for the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco in 1915. He carries stereopticon views to illustrate his talk. He has a large number of photographs of the canal, and his talk deals largely with the effect of the opening of the new waterway will have on traffic in California, Arizona and New Mexico.

The Albuquerque postoffice is snowed under right as a blizzard could do it. The cause thereof is the extra heavy rush of Christmas mail which is being handled here. In addition to the heavy work of handling all the transfer mail at the office, the Christmas rush is very heavy, much more so than usual, and each carrier last night had several times as many packages as he could deliver today.

With the night and morning trains pouring their quota of letters and packages into the office, nobody knows when they will be able to get them all delivered. The carriers' route desks last night were stuffed with letters and loaded down with packages far more than is usually the case. Santa Claus has been generous with Albuquerqueans this year.

Postmaster R. W. Hopkins is working extra clerks and two extra carriers, each with a wagon, to help the carriers get rid of the mail, but even so, deliveries today will be slow and will not be on time in starting.

The Hart Brothers will appear tonight at the Orpheum for the last time. Commencing tomorrow night, new pictures and vaudeville.

If you need a carpenter, telephone Hoeselden, phone 377.
