LOS ANGELES CARNIVAL OF CRIME IS UNABATED

Police Department in an Up-roar and Unable to Find Relief Which Public Demands.

THIEVES SHOW NO FEAR OF OFFICERS

Operate Throughout the City and Work is so Bold and Open That It Attracts Unusual Comment—Racetrack Draws the Crooks.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 21.—The police department is in an uproar over the list of crimes which have been increasing daily with startling rapidity. That there is a weakness somewhere seems to be indicated by the fact that one store was robbed, while thieves were killed in another, by a citizen, when seven or eight patrolmen came within a block of either place, and two or three patrolmen passed right by.

The hold-ups, or attempts, in many of which brutality has been exhibited, since Nov. 1 reached a number which has never been equaled in the same space of time in the records of the city. Since Nov. 1 footpads, pickpockets have committed or attempted twenty-five crimes which have been brought to light.

The List.
Nov. 1—Mrs. Gertrude Munger, Casa Grande hotel, Seventh street and Grand avenue, knocked unconscious at Fifth street and Grand avenue and robbed of $6 and gold watch.
Nov. 1—Miss Frances Groff, Catharine Ebert and Louis Gilman, attacked by footpad at Third street and Grand avenue, who snatched purse from him and attempted to shoot if they did not let him go.
Nov. 2—Edgar B. Fay held up by highwayman and robbed of $200 in his butcher shop at Pico and Vermont avenue.
Nov. 3—P. S. Dayton, a soldier on a furlough, staying at 1227 1/2 South Los Angeles street, attacked by footpad at Market and Los Angeles street and knocked down, suffering severe injuries. Assailant frightened away by officers in the act of robbery.
Nov. 4—Miss Lydia Jaconis, 4719 Hobart boulevard, attacked by highwayman at Fifth street and Western avenue, who attempted to strangle her, while driving toward her home. Horse jumped and threw man out of the rig.
Nov. 5—Miss Gertrude Coenen, Vermont avenue, frightened with eggbeater a man who sought to enter the house early in the evening while house was lighted and family was present.
Nov. 11—Motorman A. E. Mazer held up at a rest stop on the point of a revolver. Footpad confessed he thought he was getting a conductor.
Nov. 12—Pickpocket picked $200 diamond stud from shirtfront of Dr. A. S. Short, 125 1/2 North Flower avenue.

Judge Fall took the office of attorney general soon after Governor Curry was appointed, succeeding George W. Frichard, resigned. Judge Fall is one of the busiest men in New Mexico and it is known that he resigned to give his attention to his private affairs. He accepted the position only out of personal friendship for Governor Curry to aid his administration.

MRS. BRADLEY EXCUSED FROM STAND THIS AFTERNOON

Long Story of Her Relations With Former Senator Brown Brought Out on Examination.

DENIES THREATS AGAINST DEAD MAN

Admits However, That During One Quarrel She Hit Him With an Umbrella Knocking His Teeth Loose—Trial Nearly Ended.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Annie M. Bradley completed her testimony concerning her relations with former Senator Brown at 12:35 p. m. today.

District Attorney Baker began his questioning by bringing out the fact concerning Brown's stay in Idaho in 1902.

Baker brought out the statement from the witness that she was first arrested for adultery in 1902. Both she and Brown were arrested on this charge. Mrs. Bradley said Mrs. Brown instigated the arrest. Notwithstanding the arrest she continued her relations with Brown.

She told of the visit of R. D. Utter, of Denver, and admitted that the pastor tried to induce her to break her relations with Brown, but she denied that she told Utter she would force Brown to marry her.

The witness admitted that Brown was jealous of her and that she was mentioned in letters which passed between them. One of them designated as Priest, she admitted was Dr. Utter.

Knocked His Teeth Out.
She said Brown's jealous feeling and suspicious were absurd. She told of several quarrels she had with Brown, in one of which she struck him in the mouth with an umbrella and broke his teeth.

A number of letters were read today and many facts relative to the intimacy between the woman and former Senator Brown were brought out, all, however, in line with those previously developed.

Real Tragedy.
The real tragedy formed the subject of the sitting this morning. District Attorney Baker devoted comparatively little attention to the shooting itself, but going back to the early days of the relationship between Senator Brown and Mrs. Bradley, sought to show a reading of letters and questioning the witness that she had deliberately undertaken to break up Senator Brown's home and that she was at enmity with him from the time of the shooting.

Mrs. Bradley Agitated.
Mrs. Bradley was upon the whole more composed today than yesterday. There were times when she burst into tears or sank into sighs and sobs, but these were less frequent than on Wednesday. Her voice, however, at all times indicated that she was under great strain and with the greatest difficulty she made no complaint of fatigue today, and left the witness stand in very good condition.

The fact that upon first going to Senator Brown's room at the Raleigh hotel, Mrs. Bradley found there a letter from Mrs. Annie Adams, the actress, to the senator, was dwelt upon at some length by Judge Powers, making it evident that it is his intention to attempt to show that the discovery of the letter supplied the immediate motive for the killing of Brown.

This letter was filled with endearing terms and Mrs. Bradley admitted that it answered her greatly, but she stuck to her statement that she did not shoot Brown until his attempt to strike her and cursed her.

The trial will now be rushed to an early completion as that is the desire of both counsel.

ENTIRE FAMILY BURNED IN THEIR HOME BY THUGS

Bodies Found in Ruins Today With Evidence of Foul Play.

ROBBERY EVIDENTLY CAUSED GREAT CRIME

Marietta, O., Nov. 21.—Edgar Grubb, his wife and one-year-old boy were cremated in their home near Beverly, this morning. No explanation has been given, but it is rumored that the family met foul play and that, to cover the crime, their home was fired.

It was not known until this morning that Grubb's home had burned as it occupied a location in a thick wooded plat and could only be seen from nearby. Neighbors noticed the smoking ruins this morning and made an investigation which disclosed the bodies of the three occupants. The house and all its contents were entirely destroyed, there being not a vestige of any inflammable material left. Nearby buildings were badly scorched but none had been taken fire.

Bullet Hole in Body.
The remains of the owner of the place and his family were at widely separated points in the house, and from indications, Grubb had evidently been shot as there is a hole in his hip bone which could hardly have been made by any other means. Another hole in his skull may solve that question as there is no sign of the supposed bullet having left his head.

The right arm of his wife's body and the vertebra of the neck were also apparently dislocated, splintered bones protruding from the burnt flesh. The babe's body was almost entirely consumed.

Officers believe that burglars made an attempt to rob Grubb's home last night and that he resisted, meeting death at their hands. To prevent his wife being able to give an alarm, they evidently broke her neck and arm and set the house afire, thus destroying practically all but the slightest evidence.

MRS. HARTJE WINS IN FAMOUS SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Pennsylvania Superior Court Decided Case Against Her Millionaire Husband This Morning

VINDICATED HER OF ALL HIS CHARGES

Has Been One of the Most Sensational Suits Ever Tried in America and Was Replete With Scandalous Testimony.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 21.—Mrs. B. Mary Scott Hartje, who was sued by her husband, F. Augustus Hartje, the Pittsburgh millionaire for divorce, won a complete victory in the Pennsylvania superior court today when that tribunal affirmed in its entirety the decision of the Allegheny county court which refused to grant Hartje a divorce.

The petition filed by Hartje's attorneys in the superior court, asking to re-open the case on the ground of newly discovered evidence, was denied. The petition to re-open the case was based on letters alleged to have been written by Mrs. Hartje to Thomas Maddox, Hartje's former coachman, who was named as correspondent by Hartje.

Sensational Case.
The Hartje case has been before the public for some months and it has been filled with ailing accusations by Hartje and denials by his wife. The first trial in the Allegheny county court resulted in a victory for Mrs. Hartje, and the plaintiff was forbidden to bring his suit again. He filed a motion in the superior court, however, to have the case reopened on the ground that detectives had just discovered a number of letters which had passed between his wife and the coachman, relating to intimate affairs.

These letters were made a part of his petition and they have resulted in the getting the coachman up against a perjury charge. From first to last the trial has been a continual effort of Hartje to blacken his wife's character.

Detectives in the Ring.
He hired detectives to shadow Mrs. Hartje and it was due to this fact that the alleged letters to the coachman were discovered. These detectives were constantly on her track and Mrs. Hartje was forced to appeal to the authorities for protection from them.

Offers of Settlement.
He offered his wife at one time $1,000 per week for the rest of her life if she would permit his allegations against her honor to stand and allow him to obtain a divorce. Their two children were to be taken from both parents and placed in a school until they were of age. Mrs. Hartje indignantly refused the offer, claiming that she was guilty of none of his charges and that she would not permit him to obtain a divorce at any cost to herself or her children.

Hartje is a millionaire, many times over, being engaged in the manufacture of wall paper in this city. The prominence of both parties made the case one of the most famous divorce cases ever filed, but sympathy was generally with the woman.

MRS. ROMADKA TAKEN TO PENITENTIARY TODAY

Millionaire's Wife Must Begin Serving Time For Alleged Theft.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Evelyn Romadka, the wealthy Milwaukee woman, who confessed to various burglaries and larcenies in this city in which a negro man was her ally, was today taken to the state penitentiary at Joliet to commence a sentence of twenty years.

Her father, T. J. Calne, of Oskosh, Wis., met her at the station and accompanied her to the door of the penitentiary.

Mrs. Romadka's husband is one of the most prominent men in Milwaukee and he aided at her trial, but as she has confessed to the police when arrested, that she and the negro committed the burglaries, there was nothing he could do. He will make efforts to have the governor and board of pardons of Illinois commute his wife's sentence to as short a period as possible.

ROAD EMPLOYEES STAY WITH SANTA FE

During the past two months not a trainman or engineman on this division of the Santa Fe quit, hence no checks had to be forwarded when the monthly payroll came in this month. Several machinists and other shop employees quit but these are not included in the list mentioned.

The Santa Fe is particularly fortunate in being able to retain her trainmen and enginemen, and as a consequence of their familiarity of the road and conditions that prevail, accidents are practically unknown. They remain in the road's employ as a rule as long as possible, and then quit it with regret to go elsewhere. The officials in charge of the service are experts who handle their offices with the precision and care that is necessitated by constantly changing conditions on the line.

All Are Busy.

The crews are all busy for the Santa Fe is handling an immense traffic and it is seldom that any crew goes on the extra board except of its own accord, and that is also not frequent, as Albuquerque trainmen and enginemen are not given to "laying-off."

The fact that freight is being handled over the divisions in and out of this city with more speed than over any other division on the system, is a tribute to the employees of the divisions.

The frequent congestions which keep other divisions on the run are easily handled here, since from switchman to engineman everyone knows just how to avoid them.

Another fact about the trainmen on these divisions, and also the enginemen is that they have homes in Albuquerque, or a majority of them do. They are town builders and not of the class which floats round the country with no "visible place of abode."

With the coming of spring and the increase in the freight rush from the east, the number of train and enginemen will be largely increased, most of the newcomers coming from other divisions. A few new men are being employed now.

FREIGHT WRECK ON THE OLINDA BRANCH.

San Bernardino, Cal., Nov. 21.—A freight wreck occurred yesterday afternoon on the Olinda branch of the Santa Fe, about half way between Olinda and Richfield, six cars of oil and one of merchandise going into the ditch, the trouble being caused by a broken axle on one of the cars.

The cars nearly all turned over in the ditch, so that much of the oil will be lost, but the cars were not badly smashed up. The wrecking crew went down from this city and expect to have the line open for business today. The Olinda branch is a short line, which leaves the main line at Richfield and taps the Olinda oil district.

SANTA FE TAKES CLEARING HOUSE CHECKS

The Santa Fe railroad has issued instructions to all agents who handle funds for the company that they are to accept checks when presented by responsible parties, clearing house certificates and other forms of banking paper. The only place that the road will refuse to accept such forms of currency is on the passenger trains, where nothing but cash for fares and baggage is accepted, and neither the time nor the means of ascertaining the responsibility of the parties presenting paper.

Conductor M. R. Jones accompanied Officer Ben Williams and three alleged car breakers to Santa Fe this morning where the three men will be tried on a charge of breaking a seal and entering a car of merchandise on Jones' train near Lamy yesterday. Jones says the seal was intact when the train left Lamy but a few miles out he noticed that it was broken and the car occupied by the three men. The prisoners are George Williams and Fred Arned, of Chicago, and Percy Wallen, of St. Louis.

Heavy traffic continues on all Santa Fe lines entering Albuquerque with no indications of a let up in the next few weeks. There is an average of a thousand cars daily in the yards in this city. Nine switch engine crews are kept moving this unusual amount of freight and every few days it is necessary to add an extra switch engine crew to get caught up in the work. About thirty heavy freight trains are sent out of the local yards daily.

Roy Schellenberger, the Santa Fe brakeman who was hurt at Belen about two weeks ago, is reported to be rapidly improving and will probably be back at work in a short time. The inside of his hand was badly torn while working with a train that had broken in two.

Mail Clerk Nicklin, of the El Paso, Albuquerque run over the Santa Fe, has resigned his position with Uncle Sam and will go on the road as a drummer for the American Bag company. His headquarters in his new position will be in Denver.

Dr. Bassett, company physician for the Santa Fe at San Marcial, has returned to that place from Topeka, where he had been to attend a convention of the Santa Fe company physicians. Dr. Hackney took care of his practice while he was gone.

Fireman Calvert, of the Santa Fe, went from San Marcial to Rincon this morning and will relieve Fireman Kellam of the Silver City run, the latter having taken a ten-day lay-off.

Engineer Bingham, of the D. & R. G., is in San Marcial this morning for the purpose of taking the mechanical examination preparatory to going to work for the Santa Fe.

J. M. Kurn, superintendent of the Santa Fe railroad, accompanied by his wife, left this afternoon in his private car for the east.

Dana Mosman, a passenger engineer of the Santa Fe, running between Albuquerque and El Paso is in Las Cruces from San Marcial on a business trip.

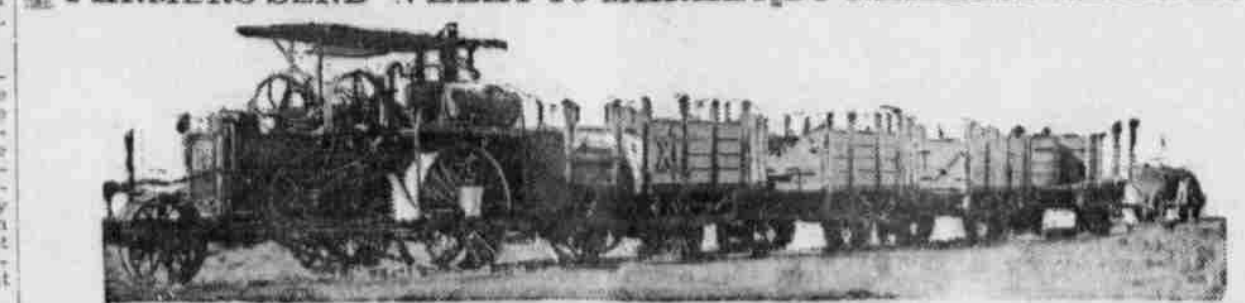

E. H. Harlow, master mechanic, left today for Chicago and points in Wisconsin for a two weeks' visit with relatives.

I. J. Custer, storekeeper on the coast line, arrived in Albuquerque last night from San Bernardino, Cal., on an inspection trip.

H. Pollay, Santa Fe agent at Richfield, spent yesterday afternoon in Las Vegas.

LOST BULLION CASE HAS A TRAGEDY

Wife of George DuBois May Die As Result of Affair.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 21.—Broken hearted by the misfortune of her husband, George DuBois, and her son, Lee, both of whom were convicted in the United States court last August in connection with the Lost Bullion gold mine case, Mrs. DuBois is dangerously ill and her death is expected within a few days, says the Denver News.

When the father and son were indicted, the greatest blow fell upon Mrs. DuBois. She had been in robust health for several months, and worry over the prosecution made her condition worse. She grew weaker as time passed, and when the case was on trial it was feared she would die.

It is the hope of the DuBois' to have their characters vindicated before she succumbs, and their attorneys will make a desperate effort today to have the case retried at the earliest possible date. They base their arguments on the fact that the mine has actually shipped paying ore. Arguments on motion for a new trial for the DuBois' and nine other men convicted with them are being heard in the United States court. The plea of the defense will be that there were numerous errors in the previous trial.

The other defendants are Arthur Levan, Dr. R. C. Hunt, Dunton P. Pinkus, William E. Wilson, W. B. Cameron, E. E. Keables, C. L. Blackman, David H. Lawrence and E. W. Sebben. Attorney C. W. Franklin and Harry R. Tedrow will argue the motion for the defendants, and the government will be represented by United States District Attorney H. J. Bone, of Kansas, and Ernest Knaebel, special assistant to the attorney general. Speaking of the case yesterday, Attorney Charles W. Franklin of the defense, said:

"Nine of these defendants are married men and there are seventeen children in the families. None of the defendants was ever indicted before and if the facts in this case were known to the public, they would show that the men are the victims of circumstances, and not the criminals they have been represented. It is claimed by the government that the Lost Bullion mine is only a natural cave which possesses no value as a mining property.

Believes It a Mine.

"Speaking for myself, I desire to say that when these proceedings were first instituted I made a visit to the mine. I have had more than twenty-five years' experience in the mining camps. I have no hesitation in saying that from my examination of the property, I do not believe I ever saw more substantial evidence of the existence of a great mine.

"The trial of this case lasted about four weeks, and there was considerable difference between the testimony of the experts representing the government and the defendants and the practical mining men testifying for the defendants. The defendants were convicted largely on account of an unfortunate chain of circumstances, which seemed to culminate near the close of their case.

Prosecution's Side.

An attorney for the prosecution says:

"They have their largest hope, I understand, on a shipment of ore that they recently sent to be treated in Denver. This is put forward to prove that their mining business is really legitimate, and that they do have marketable ore in their mines. But it is a flimsy argument. It cost them about $700 to send that ore to Denver and all the gold they got out of it was worth $250.

"At the trial the defense endeavored to show, and thought they had shown, to the satisfaction of the court and jury, that on account of the condition of the mine, it had not been possible either to work it or ship ore from it with profit at the present time. Now the defendants, simply as a matter of good faith, and to show their honest intentions, since the trial, went to the mine, and at a very great expense, took out a carload of ore. The return from this ore was about three or four hundred dollars. A good part of this extra expense was in shipping the ore to Denver, but was sent here so it could be sent, sampled and treated under the eyes of experienced men.

"There is no pretense to show that this ore was shipped at a profit, because that is impossible until the mine has reached the proper stage of development."

Mr. Bone is quoted as asking, "Why did they not invite federal agents to see it taken from the mine?" and further, "How are we to know the sample was not salted?" The treatment received from federal agents in the past has not been such as to justify the suspicion that a federal agent's supervision might be turned to account with the hope that he could make a record and get a promotion.

Las Cruces, N. M., Nov. 21.—The interest that is being aroused in the foot ball game between the Agricultural college of New Mexico and the Roswell Military Institute for the championship of New Mexico, promises to degenerate this place on Thanksgiving day, the day of the game at El Paso.

Arrangements have already been made for a special train, which will leave here at 9 a. m. on the day of the game. Arriving in El Paso, the former college team will be met at the station by a band, which will head the procession to a hotel, where the team will be quartered. MEXICAN LABOR BEING SENT HOME

Officials at El Paso Refuse to Permit Peons to Enter Country.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 21.—The immigration of Mexican labor into the United States at the El Paso port has been suspended, at least temporarily. The action has been taken on account of the inability of the peons to get employment here.

Saturday Chief Schmucker ordered all Mexican laborers who applied for admission to be returned to Mexico, which was done. Yesterday Acting Chief McFarland allowed sixty-five of the laborers to enter and turned back all other applicants. Labor employing agencies here left word at the immigration station that they could use this number. Today, however, no orders were placed with the agencies and Chief McFarland refused to admit any of the applicants, of whom there were over fifty.

This condition is unprecedented at this time of the year. Ordinarily there are no applicants for admission during the winter months, and the late fall. This year the failures in crops are driving them north for work. Work has always been plenty on the railroads for this character of labor, but just now there is little doing in construction work on the roads and Mexicans who come into the United States can find nothing to do.

No Work at Home.

The action of the immigration officials in excluding the foreigners was taken in order to prevent numbers of the Mexicans from becoming stranded here and calling upon the people for aid. Several years ago it was necessary to take up a popular subscription for a number of stranded Mexicans who could not obtain work here and the officials are not anxious to see this state of affairs repeated.

However, the railroads are doing some work and orders placed with labor agencies can be filled here. Many of the Mexicans are now going back to their homes in Mexico to wait for spring. Two hundred of them went south yesterday.

There was not an alien of any nationality admitted at the local port this morning. No Japs applied, but one other wanted to enter. He was a Russian and would have been admitted, but was without funds to insure his self-protection.

He Fought at Gettysburg.

Garcia. He was bound over in the sum of $200 to await the action of the grand jury and being unable to furnish bail, was committed to jail. LAS VEGAS IN A SIEGE OF TERROR Man Fires at a Dog and Sends Neighbors to Hiding Places.

Las Vegas, N. M., Nov. 21.—Las Vegas has a genuine burglar, pocketbook snatcher and all-round sneak thief, or maybe a "host of him." The town has had burglaries galore, but until Tuesday night the thief took only pumpkin pies and other eatables. That night he snatched a woman's purse containing $25 and got away. He was also shot at twice the same night and in all tried to enter five residences.

The burglar did not make his appearance last night, but the city is suffering from a reign of terror.

Patrolling the Town.

All the police officers in Las Vegas patrolled the streets in the residence district on the hill during the early part of last night. A call was once sent in for the marshal from a certain residence on Fifth street, the lady reporting that a suspicious looking character had passed back and forth in front of the house nine times. A man was immediately dispatched to the scene of danger and it was discovered that the suspicious character was Officer Kelly on guard.

Scared Them All.

Hal Reynolds has been bothered by dogs around his residence, 914 Seventh street, recently, and having his artillery freshly oiled up, he tore loose with a gun at several of the curs at a late hour last night and had all the neighbors for a couple of squares around, hollering for help or crawling under their beds in their nightrobes. He had no idea that the excitement was at such fever heat. It is thought that the man of mystery will lay low for a couple of nights on account of the run for his money he got at the residence of A. T. Rogers, Jr.

The residence of Mrs. Grant Cunningham, just south of town, was entered this afternoon and a large amount of clothing was stolen. It is hardly probable that it was the thief that has been causing so much excitement in the city.

Mrs. Cunningham came into town about noon to do some shopping, and when she returned to the residence found that a lot of clothes had been taken from the closets, although nothing else was apparently missing. There is absolutely no clue although the matter has been reported to the officers.

TERRITORY'S SHARE FROM LAND SALES

New Mexico Receives Over $6,000 Which Represents Five Per Cent of Proceeds From Public Domain.

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 21.—A warrant has been received at the executive office from the U. S. treasury in the sum of $6,033.77 which represents New Mexico's share of five per cent of the net proceeds of sales of public lands in the territory during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1907.

The warrant has been turned over to the territorial treasurer to be placed to the credit of the proper fund. Five per cent of the net proceeds derived from the sale of public domain within the boundaries of the territory is set aside for the support of the public schools.

New Mexico's share of the receipts from public land sales for the fiscal year ending last June was about one-third more than for the previous year.

Prices a Century Ago

It is exactly 100 years since Charles William Janson published his still entertaining volume, "The Stranger in America," in which he gives the fruits of his observations in this country during a long residence here, says the Philadelphia Ledger. The book has frequently been quoted from, but his brief survey of the markets of this city as he found them in 1807, or perhaps a year earlier—for the book bears the date mentioned—is particularly enlightening in these times of high prices.

During the Revolution the prices of food in Philadelphia rose to such a height that a committee was appointed to see that no serious overcharge or extortion was practiced. The prices of food, even during and immediately after the Civil war, never equaled those asked at this remote period. To an unprejudiced observer today it does not appear that the committee was able to make any serious break into the soaring prices asked at that time.

For instance, in the spring of 1779, "the best Hysen leaf" was $20 a pound! At the same time coffee was 15 shillings a pound, which is nearly as alarming. The committee did, however, in deference to the demands of the inhabitants, who murmured at the price of butter, resolve that "if any inhabitant shall give more than 15 shillings for a pound of butter, such a person shall be summoned to appear at the next town meeting, or pay 20 shillings into the hands of the committee to be applied to the relief of the poor." While it does not appear whether these prices applied to specie or to the Continental currency, so called, it may be taken for granted that the merchant who refused to part with a pound of tea for less than $20 had in mind payment in the Continental notes.

But in 1807 the Revolution had long been passed, and prices were normal. Janson speaks in terms of praise of Philadelphia markets. As a matter of fact, he had in mind only the market then in Market street. "It is well supplied," he says, "and its regularity and cleanliness indicate a good living and wholesome regulations. No article can be offered for sale here without being submitted to the inspection of one of the clerks of the market, who sizes unwholesome articles and a fine is inflicted upon the owner."

The fish market, from its distance from the sea, is but indifferently supplied, though such pains are taken to procure a regular supply. Light cars are constantly coming in from New York and Burlington. In New Jersey, with the most delicate fish of the ocean, and packed in ice during the summer. The beef is good, but the mutton and veal far inferior to that of England and Ireland. Butter and poultry are excellent, and there is a profusion of vegetables. Butchers' meat, on an average, is 10 to 12 cents a pound, but poultry is not one-third of the London price, and of a superior quality.

"Fowls of all kinds are within the compass of the purchase of the laborer. A turkey of 15 pounds weight may often be bought in Philadelphia for $1, but I have seen them sold for 3 shillings and even less, British money. Wild turkeys are sometimes brought to market of the enormous weight of 25 pounds and upwards, but these birds retire from the country as it becomes more settled. Geese, duck, fowls, rabbits (there are no hares in the United States) are of a proportionate price. Quails, which they call partridges, are brought alive in large quantities and sold for about two and sixpence per dozen."

"Excellent butter is supplied by the German settlers at about an English shilling per pound, and eggs at sixpence a dozen. The pork throughout the United States is excellent, and is raised in abundance. It is generally in price from $5 to $6 per hundredweight."

The Sunday Law

A number of people have asked this office concerning the Sunday law—what it is—what it contains and how stringent it really is.

The Citizen therefore publishes the following copy, which was brought to this office by a subscriber.

It looks as though the law was open to interpretation—in fact, as though it needed interpretation.

However, this is what the law says and what the law is—whatever that may be.

Section 1368. Compiled Laws of New Mexico, 1897.

Any person or persons who shall be found on the first day of the week, called Sunday, engaged in any sports, or in horse racing, cock fighting, or in any manner disturbing any worshiping assembly, or of private family, or attending any public meeting, or public exhibition, excepting for religious worship, or instruction, or engaged in any labor, except works of necessity, charity or mercy, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $15.00 nor less than five ($5.00) dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail of not more than fifteen (15) days, nor less than five (5) days, in the discretion of the court, upon conviction before any district court.

Section 1370. It shall be lawful in cases of necessity for farmers and gardeners to irrigate their lands, and when necessary to preserve the same, to remove grain and other products from the fields on said day; and nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent cooks, waiters and other employees of hotels and restaurants, and of butchers and bakers, from performing their duties on said day.

Section 1372. Sunday for the purpose of this act shall be regarded as the time between sunrise and midnight of said day.

DAILY SHORT STORIES

THE FAIR PRISONER.

(By E. D. Atkinson.)

The Monday morning lineup of offenders in police court was unusually lengthy, and Judge Thorus wore an ominous frown as he stepped behind the bar of justice. As he took his seat, however, he glanced down the row of petty criminals, and a look of wonder and pity displaced the scowl. At the end of the row, and somewhat apart from the others, sat a girl. She was possibly 20 years old and of the blond type. Her wealth of golden hair was a disheveled mass of beauty and a glistening tear sparkled in her deep blue eyes. Attracted by his glance, she, too, glanced up, but quickly bowed her head again with shame.

The judge wondered what her offense might be, but said nothing, and the case of Mildred Grace, charged with petty larceny, was called. With some hesitation, but with supple grace, the fair prisoner took the stand.

"Miss Grace," said the prosecutor, "you are charged with petty larceny—shoplifting in a local store. Do you plead guilty, or not guilty?"

"I did not steal that shawl," she cried, emphatically, while the hot tears coursed in torrents down her cheeks.

"Then be—"

Just then the door was thrust open and a muscular man of fifty strode up to the stand.

"What does this mean?" he demanded, in tones that made the old hall ring.

"I means that this prisoner is charged with petty larceny," answered the judge sternly. "Do you know anything of this case, or what are you breaking in here like a war horse for?"

"She is my daughter," replied the stranger. "She never stole anything. Where's the scoundrel that said she did?"

But the said "scoundrel" had disappeared. Without a prosecuting witness the case was dismissed, and the young jurist settled back in his chair with a sigh of relief.

Disposing of the last miscreant with an impatient gesture, the judge clapped his broad-brimmed hat on his head and strode out of the room. Without any reasonable motive he secured a rig from a nearby livery and drove into the country. The monotony of the city was unbearable and even the greetings of his friends were distasteful. But one thing was pleasing. But one thing soothed his restless mind into a dreamy oblivion. It was the tear-stained face and golden hair of Mildred Grace, which drifted phantom-like before him in defiance of his efforts to cast the thoughts away.

Absorbed in his dreams the judge drove farther and farther into the country. Unnoticed great banks of ominous clouds advanced from the west, and not until the cool breeze preceding the rain had aroused him, did the judge take heed of the warning.

As the storm was upon him he sought shelter in a nearby shed in which a stalwart lad was busy culling a wagon.

"Tie up, and come in," said the lad, as he finished his task. "Perhaps I'd better stay here. The horse may scare."

"No," he went on, answered the lad, and the judge consented to tie up. As they entered the pretentious farmhouse, the lad turned abruptly and said:

"I don't believe you gave me your name, sir."

"John T. Thorus," replied the judge, fumbling for a card.

"My name is Jim Grace," and at the name the judge started, but he assured himself it could not be the home of his fair prisoner of the morning.

"I'll call Sie," the lad added with boyish frankness. "She knows how to talk better'n I do."

That in hand the judge awaited the arrival of "Sie" with some misgivings. To his surprise she came in behind him, and turning he faced his former prisoner. A crimson flush mounted their faces simultaneously, and an awkward silence reigned. She regained self-control first, however, and said:

"Be seated, sir. Did you wish to see me?"

"Ah—er—no," answered the judge.

A THANKSGIVING DINNER FOR $3.00

Regardless of the prohibitive price of turkeys, there is no reason why any one in Albuquerque should not have a good Thanksgiving dinner.

A dinner for five persons may be had for $3 at present prices. The necessary trimmings for such a dinner are not expensive. A tender, juicy ham forms the principal viand. The bill of fare is as follows:

Vegetable soup, 20 cents; wafers, 3 cents; half a ham baked in sweet cider, $1; bread and butter, 14 cents; rice potatoes, 5 cents; boiled onions, 9 cents; apple sauce, 20 cents; celery, 10 cents; chow-chow, 10 cents; cabbage salad, 20 cents; pumpkin pie, 20 cents; fruit cake, 30 cents; wafers and cheese, 24 cents; coffee, 15 cents.

Following is the recipe for half a ham baked in sweet cider. Materials—Ham, medium, 1; whole cloves, 1 dozen; bay leaf, 1; cinnamon, ¼ teaspoonful; celery seed, ¼ teaspoonful; chopped onion, 2 tablespoonfuls; sweet cider, ½ gallon. Directions—Select a plump medium-sized ham and wash thoroughly, rubbing well with baking soda and scrub with a small vegetable brush. Rinse in cold water and put into a baking pan skin side down. Stick the cloves in the ham. Mix other seasonings together and rub these well into the meat and covering with the chopped onion. Make a cover by slowly adding one-half cup of water to one cup of flour, roll out in a sheet and cover the pan at least two-thirds full of hot cider. Put into the oven and bake four hours in a moderate oven, basting often. When done remove paste and skin. When cold slice very thin, lay on platter and garnish with cream and pickled beets and eggs cut in fancy shapes. For the above dinner use half a good-sized ham and allow 25 minutes to a pound for baking.

BLANKETS THAT ARE CHARGES THAT SHELTON MADE RIGHT HERE IN ALBUQUERQUE

At the drug store of B. Ruppe on Central avenue, is a display of woolen blankets that are so nice and soft and inviting that it makes one sleepy to look at them.

They were made at the Rio Grande Woolen mills in the big black building just north of Mountain road and east of the Santa Fe tracks, adjacent to this city. Along with the blankets are cards of samples of dress goods, heavy woolsens in pepper and salt, plain colors and plaids, stylish and good to look at, it is not to say, good to possess.

Before being placed on display at their present location, J. H. O'Reilly, president of the company, that owns the mills that made the goods, exhibited the goods at this office.

He is selling stock for the co-operative woolen mill company. A person owning one share of woolen mill stock may come into the possession of one of these blankets at a cost of less than $6, and a suit of clothes costs a stockholder $20. The stock is being sold in quantities not to exceed $50 worth to one person and is being peddled among the people. It is the purpose of Mr. Bearup to build larger mills in this city and estimates that it will require 5,000 employees to run the mills of the co-operative company will build.

Vice Versa Shelton Says That Colwell Is an Army Deserter.

The fact that George Colwell and James Skelton, switchmen employed by the Santa Fe, can wear the same size shoe, is now regarded by Colwell as the cause of his being in the custody of the police. Skelton caused his arrest yesterday, telling the police that he was a deserter from Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

Colwell asserts he was never in the army. He says he came here from Cincinnati, Ohio, a month ago and secured employment on the Santa Fe as switchmen. He lives at Abajo.

"Skelton and I can wear the same size shoes," said Colwell at the city jail this morning. "My feet are tender and his are not when I bought a new pair of shoes last week I gave them to Skelton to break in for me, but Skelton must have been a little shy of cash for I learned a day or two later that he had sold my new shoes to a pawnbroker. "I asked him for the shoes and he wouldn't give them up and would not pay me for them. He got pretty sore at me for keeping after him about the shoes and came down and told the police I was a deserter from the army and had been arrested. I never did get the shoes or the money and I was never in the army."

Colwell is being held by the police until the authorities at Fort Leavenworth can be heard from.

Colwell Admits Charge.

After being shown his description from the authorities at Fort Leavenworth Colwell admitted to Lieut. Kennedy that he was the man wanted. He said his true name was Isaac Krick as given by the Fort Leavenworth officers. He deserted from the Kansas army in May, 1905.

The officers at Fort Leavenworth mailed Lieut. Kennedy a description of Krick and later wired the lieutenant to arrest him. If he came through this way, Lieut. Kennedy found Krick working in the Santa Fe yards. He had been working there since Nov. 4th.

PRETTY STENOGRAPHERS GET ALL THE SNAPS

How One Albuquerque Young Man Secured One to Adorn His Office. An Ad That Brought Results.

Looko have everything to do with the capability of a stenographer, if it is a woman that applies for the position.

Last week a well known young government official, who has headquarters in Albuquerque, needed a stenographer to write a few letters and to talk to, so he inserted an advertisement in a local paper.

"Wanted—A stenographer. The advertisement was widely read and received several answers, some of them from the applicants answering in person.

The first applicant was a married woman, supporting an invalid husband. The burden of the bread winner of the family had caused deep furrows of care to crease her brow and she no longer had the attraction that her years would have given her under different circumstances.

The young official listened to her application and shook his head. He did not think that she was strong enough to do the work that he had to do.

A second applicant was a widow, capable no doubt, but she still wore widow weeds in mourning for the deceased husband. She was not good to look at. Her application was turned down.

The third applicant was a young lady, just from school, fair and good to look at. A peach.

"Are you the man who wants a stenographer," she inquired on the threshold of the door.

"Yes, I advertised for a stenographer. Would you like the position?"

"Well, I came to answer the advertisement."

"Very well, I guess you'll do. There is the machine and here is the paper. I haven't much for a stenographer to do; just a few letters to write. May I take your cloak?"

The young official is taking an extra brush at his black suit every morning now, and is very careful to see his desk is neat and tidy. A few extra magazines have been added to his daily purchase of reading matter.

We are giving free $7.50 worth of ware at our store next week. See advertisement in this paper for particulars. Wagner Hardware Co.

MONEY FOR ARMORY BUILDING IS TIED UP

Albuquerque Cannot Get Its
$7,500 Until Las Vegas Gets Ready.

A. P. Tarkington, adjutant general of the New Mexico national guard, after an inspection of local militia quarters and a meeting with Major B. Ruppe and some of the merchants who contributed toward securing the site for the proposed armory, left for Las Vegas this morning to arouse interest in militia matters there and get the business men to take some decisive step toward securing a site for the Las Vegas armory so that work can begin on the Albuquerque building and the big structure finished before the assembling of the Irrigation Congress here next year.

Major Ruppe says that if Las Vegas immediately secures a site and decides to build the armory, so Treasurer Vaughn can sell the bonds, of which $15,000 were voted by the territorial legislature and validated by congress, then work on the Albuquerque armory can begin in due time and the building finished by April 1.

Major Ruppe talks. "Several business men have offered to contribute to the fund appropriated by the legislature for the armory," said Major Ruppe, "and I expect any trouble in swelling the fund from $7,500 to about $12,000, the amount necessary for a building that will answer the purposes of a convention hall and armory."

"I have received plans from only two architects for the proposed armory. I wish other architects in the city would submit plans. The building will be 75x142 feet at the corner of Silver avenue and Fifth street, constructed of brick, probably stone block front, and a truss roof."

Adjutant Tarkington will return to Albuquerque next week and will take the armory matter up again. We hope that Las Vegas will take some decisive step so we can commence on the new building."

Way is Not Yet Clear. Since the buying of a site for an armory by a popular subscription of over $2,000, with the understanding that immediately $7,500 would be forthcoming from the territory toward the erection of a building, it developed that there is a proviso in connection with the proposed gift from the territory. The bill awarding Albuquerque $7,500 awards Las Vegas a like amount, but in neither case is the money to be obtained singly. The bill passed by the legislature provides that $15,000 shall be given Albuquerque and Las Vegas for armory buildings as soon as the site is provided for the building. The $15,000 is named as a lump sum and the money is to be raised by a bond issue.

Albuquerque provides a site but upon making the officials at Santa Fe aware of this city's fulfilling of the provisions of the bill, information comes back that the bonds cannot be issued until after Las Vegas is ready. In fact Albuquerque will have to wait until Las Vegas has provided a site for an armory before it can claim its share of the $15,000. To speed the people of Las Vegas on toward providing a site, the mission of General Tarkington there now.

"THE RULE OF FAITH" FATHER SHERMAN'S SUBJECT

Intensely Interesting Lecture
Listened to by Large Audience.

In his fourth lecture, delivered last evening to a crowded church, Father Sherman spoke of the "Rule of Faith." His introduction was a strong appeal for Christian unity, voicing the sentiment of our day and hour. The principle of unity among Christians must be the faith taught by Christ. The question of all questions for us to solve is: "How are we to know just what Christ taught?"

A Protestant answered this question by having recourse to the Bible. Father Sherman answers that the Catholic yields to no one in loving reverence for the Bible. The Bible is God's word. It is Almighty God for its author. It is the one series of books printed by the Holy Spirit's direction. But it cannot be said to be a rule of faith. First of all, before contending that the Bible is a rule of faith, we must settle for a certainty the question: "What is the Bible?" That question has been in debate for two thousand years and is no nearer a settlement now than it was at the beginning of the Christian era. Science and culture cannot say the final word. Catholics hold seven books as part of the Bible, which Protestants do not admit. At the very best Protestants have only nine-tenths of the Bible, and therefore they have not a complete rule of faith.

Again, to hold the Bible as a rule of faith, we must agree on what is meant by inspiration. Now there is a hundred theories of inspiration among Protestant divines, therefore a hundred different rules of faith and sects, dividing sub-dividing and scattering like autumn leaves. Further, we would have to agree upon our version of the Bible. Here the father told the story of the King James version as a compromise among a number of very erroneous translations of the Bible. Further still, he said, "The true rule of faith is the one that Christ Himself used. Christ wrote nothing at all. He taught by word of mouth. The true rule of faith is that of the apostles. Only two of the apostles wrote lives of Christ; one of them had the New Testament to consult as a rule of faith. The rule of the first centuries is the rule for today. The New Testament then, had not been compiled, and therefore it was not the rule of faith." A number of other reasons were adduced by the father to show that the Bible cannot be a means of bringing us all to unity of belief.

The living voice of a living, infallible teacher is the only possible way of producing unity of faith.

LOS ANGELES CARNIVAL OF CRIME IS UNABATED

and Maple avenue, was held up and robbed of $7 and an overcoat near his residence.

Nov. 20—Rev. Joseph Hall, 1158 Thirty-eighth street, was knocked down near his home. His screams frightened his assailant.

Nov. 20—Two men giving the names of Fred Snyder and Thomas Davis attempted to hold up Plain Clothes Officers Glenn and Stevens in the Southern Pacific yard and were arrested.

Hold Work.

The work of the hold-up men is but one phase of the wave of crime which has struck the city and piling up higher and higher day by day. Since the first of this month thefts have been so numerous that it would take a long time to enumerate them.

Not content with breaking into the homes in the outlying districts which are thinly policed, the thieves have entered the downtown districts where a patrolman walks around each block. So emboldened have they become and so greedy that last night they used a wagon to haul away their loot.

Store Robberies. A list of the store robberies or attempts since Nov. 1 follows:

Nov. 1—Clark Bros. fuel and feed store, 1249 South Figueroa street, $75 worth of empty sacks.

Nov. 2—Joseph Bane, dealer in kimono, 337 New High street, $300 worth of Japanese silk.

Nov. 11—Oscar Lippman, jewelry store, 524 South Broadway, three watches stolen through hole broken in window.

Nov. 17—Lyon Cloak Manufacturing company, 741 South Broadway, $500 worth of suiting. Hauled away in express wagon.

Nov. 20—United Saddlery company, 652 South Main street, eight suitcases packed full of harness, worth $500. Evidently frightened away.

Nov. 20—Leonstein Bros., 114 East First street, place ransacked. Frightened away. One thousand dollars in money in safe, which had been tampered with.

AT OUR STORE FACTS About the Great Majestic Range

It is the only range in the world made of Malleable and Charcoal Iron.

It has, beyond any question of a doubt, the largest and best reservoir.

It uses about half the fuel used on other ranges, and does better work by far.

The Majestic All Copper Nickel Reservoir heats the water quicker and hotter than any other. It is the only reservoir with a removable frame.

The Charcoal Iron Body of the Great Majestic Range lasts three times as long as a steel body.

Being made of non-breakable material, there is practically no expense for repairing the Majestic.

As for baking, it is perfection, not only for a few months, but for all times to come.

A Great Majestic Range lasts three times as long as a cheap range, but it don't cost three times as much.

PROOF—We don't ask you to take our word for any of the above statements, but if you will call at our store, a man from the factory, where Majestic ranges are made, will prove to your satisfaction that these are absolute facts, and will show you many more reasons why the Great Majestic Range is absolutely the best that money can buy.

Saloons in Oklahoma Are All Closed Hard and Tight.

Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 21.—Long streams of crepe are on the doors and in the windows of some of the saloons that went out of business in the new state last Saturday night under state wide prohibition. In one of the Guthrie saloon windows is a big barrel with an empty glass beneath the open faucet. On the barrel, heavily draped in black, is this placard:

Everything Going Out and Nothing Coming In.

None of the saloons had any remnants of its stock left over today. Everything was sold at bargain sale prices just before the closing hour last Saturday night. The fixtures are being taken out today and taken to the railroad depots for shipment to states where they may be used in the saloon business.

Closes 560 Saloons.
Oklahoma City, Ok., Nov. 21.—When 12 o'clock came Saturday night approximately 560 saloons in Oklahoma closed their doors as the result of the state-wide prohibition provision in the state constitution. And they will remain closed, constructively at least, until the constitution is amended in a way that would permit them to resume business.

The greatest number of saloons in one town was sixty-five at Oklahoma City, where the fixtures, etc., of each saloon had an average value of about $1,500. The only breweries in the state, two in number, were in Oklahoma City.

All Closed in Oklahoma City.
All of the saloons are closed today and many have signs displayed across the windows. "No intoxicants sold here," "There have been no violations since shortly after midnight Saturday and all saloons were closed yesterday and today," Chief Post said today. However, that he believed that bootlegging already had commenced in the city and that arrests would follow soon as he could get positive evidence. The saloon men are planning an injunction against the constitution prohibitory clause to be filed today or tomorrow.

New Employment for 3,000.
An idea of the saloon traffic in the territory of Oklahoma may be gained from the statement of an experienced saloon keeper who said today that the gross income of each saloon in Oklahoma would average $40 a day for 245 days in the year, making a total of $23,600 paid annually for alcoholic beverages by the people of one half the new state, Indian territory having had federal prohibition for many years.

The number of men who will be compelled to find a new means of livelihood is close to 3,000, counting the hangerson at these places. Most of the saloon fixtures were furnished by brewing companies, and will be shipped out of the state. The furniture for some of the bars in the larger cities cost more than $5,000 for each bar.

No Drug Store Evasion Either.

Hereafter liquor may be purchased only at state dispensaries and only for medicinal purposes on a prescription written by a recognized physician, who is required under penalty to know at first hand that the person for whom the liquor is prescribed is ill and that the liquor is necessary for medicinal treatment. There is nothing, however, to prevent the shipment of liquor from outside states to persons who buy it for their personal use. It is a violation of law for one person to give another a drink of intoxicating liquor. If this feature of the law were enforced, strictly the amount of fines and jail sentences probably would be incalculable.

Hits Certain Patent Medicines.

Druggists, who have been selling patent medicines that contain 2 per cent or more of alcohol and that may be drunk in quantities to produce intoxication, have been compelled to abandon this branch of their business under the combined effect of state-wide prohibition and a ruling of the department of internal revenue. The sale of such patent medicines in Oklahoma and Indian Territory has amounted to hundreds of thousands of dollars a year.

When the war on patent medicines that would produce drunkenness began several years ago the department of internal revenue ruled that all Oklahoma druggists selling patent nostrums that contained 2 per cent or more of alcohol and that could be used as intoxicants should take out a revenue license. Practically every drug store in Oklahoma secured a revenue license. The state constitution provides that a revenue license held by any other person than a licensed state dispenser is prima facie evidence that the owner is violating the prohibition law, which is sufficient for his prosecution and severe punishment.

Druggists Between Two Fires.

The druggists are confronted with the predicament that if a physician should write a prescription for intoxicating alcohol and the person using it should get intoxicated the druggist would be in danger of prosecution by the internal revenue department for not having a revenue license, yet if they should get such a license its mere possession would be sufficient for the state to make arrests. This will effectively prevent the sale of patent medicines that contain enough alcohol to cause intoxication. A further predicament of the Oklahoma druggist is that most of them have internal revenue licenses that do not expire until next July. The government will not refund any portion of the money paid for licenses and the only alternative of the druggist is to destroy their licenses and lose the unexpired time.

Trial Catarrh Treatments. are being mailed out free, on request, by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. These tests are proving to the people—without a penny's cost—the great value of this scientific prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy. Sold by all dealers.

BELEN IS ENJOYING LIFE THESE DAYS

Dances and Other Events Come Thick and Fast at the Town on the Cut-off of the Santa Fe.

Belen, N. M., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—The family of J. H. Spooner has arrived from Texas to reside here. Mr. Spooner is manager of the brick yard.

The number of pupils enrolled at the Belen schools is 223 beside the attendance at the Felipe Chavez girls' school, which has an attendance of about 60, under the tutelage of Misses Berger and Baca.

Belen was visited this week by one of the finest snows ever seen here. It's great for the crops.

Dr. Dempsey has moved into his new cement block.

Dances are frequent in the town nowadays, there having been five in the past two weeks.

Miss Elevia Kennebeck, formerly of Albuquerque, is now postmistress here.

The hotels of the city are doing a fine business, showing how great travel is.

The park and lake are being improved.

DeWitt's Carbolic Witch Hazel Salve is healing and soothing. Good for piles. Sold by J. H. O'Reilly.

$500,000 LAND SALE IN CHAVES COUNTY.

C. L. Tallmadge and Others Bought
Big Tract in Western New Mexico Recently.

Roswell, N. M., Nov. 21.—Over a half million dollars is the purchase price involved in the transfer of 100,000 acres of deeded land from J. J. Hagerman to C. L. Tallmadge and others, which transaction has just been closed.

This immense tract of land is all in Chaves county and fronts for seven miles on the Pecos Valley & Northwestern, a branch of the Santa Fe railroad, and includes the town-site of Elkins.

Weak Women
To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, one is local and the other is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the local.

KENNA ENJOYING RAPID GROWTH

Kenna, N. M., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—The Pecos Valley Lumber company of Roswell, N. M., a corporation composed of J. F. Hinkle, J. H. Mullis and Richard Barnett, has established a branch yard at this place. McCormick & Imhoff, who have been in the general merchandise business for some time, have sold their entire stock to the firm of Cooper and Son. The latter firm is erecting a commodious store building to accommodate their enlarged stock.

John A. Grant has brought suit against his wife, Jennie, for divorce, alleging abandonment. The suit will be heard Dec. 31st.

J. W. Dawson is the new freight agent, vice Harry Tinsley, resigned.

Since the Tallmadge Bros. Land company has bought the 50,000 acres of land which belonged to J. J. Hagerman and has thrown it open to speculation, a great many homeseekers have bought near here giving Kenna a real business boom.

LINGERING COLD.

Without Other Treatment But Quickly Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"Last winter I caught a very severe cold which lingered for weeks," says J. Urquhart, of Zephyr, Ontario. "My cough was very dry and harsh. The local dealer recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and guaranteed it, so I gave it a trial. One small bottle of it cured me. I believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best I have ever used." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

ELIDA REPRESENTED AT DALLAS FAIR

Elida, N. M., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Elida was the only New Mexico town with an exhibit at the Dallas fair. John Hamlet, who had charge of the exhibit, reports much interest around amongst prospectors by the revelation of the agricultural possibilities of New Mexico.

An 18-pound cabbage, selected from a field of nearly an acre is shown at the store of J. E. White & Co. The field was not irrigated.

Rev. J. W. Oliver has been called to the pastorate of the Baptist church here, recently vacated by the resignation of Rev. H. A. Covington.

Daniel Grant, an aged resident of this county, died at the home of John Keller near Kenna, last week. The difference in the financial ability of the homesteaders of the present as compared to the past in Kansas and Texas is shown by the fact that a large per cent commute on their claims after a residence of fourteen months at a cost of a dollar and a quarter an acre and thus get immediate title. The newspapers of this county are full of commutation advertisements. The homesteader of 25 years ago didn't have the $215.

For a mild, easy action of the bowels, a single dose of Doan's Regurgit is enough. Treatment cures constipation. 25 cents a box. Ask your druggist for them.

FAMOUS CHICAGO JEWISH SOCIETY

The "K. A. M. Congregation" Celebrates Its Sixtieth Anniversary
Recently With Appropriate Services.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 21.—It was back in 1847 that ten men, the minimum or "minyan" under Jewish law, gathered in a small room downtown in Chicago to hold the services which was the beginning of the famous Kehillah Anshe Mayriv—the "K. A. M. congregation," the "congregation of men of the west."

The sixtieth anniversary of this Jewish congregation, of which Rabbi Emil G. Hirsch is a leader, was observed the other day in the synagogue of the K. A. M. Great changes in the form of the service have taken place in the sixty years since a charter was first secured; even yet women are not admitted to membership but in the early days they were compelled to sit behind a screen.

At first the services consisted of prayers in the Hebrew tongue, the men sitting, bareheaded but wearing their hats, and the "star" or scroll of the Mosiah law which had been brought from Germany.

Originally the services were held on Friday night and Saturday morning; later, on Friday services were given up and latterly the services have been held on Sunday as in other churches. Now 1,500 people attend services which had such a small beginning.

FOUND BABE DEAD IN ITS CRADLE

Las Vegas, N. M., Nov. 21.—Tiptoeing to the cradle and stooping over to kiss his little three-months old baby "good-bye" before going to work this morning, Mr. W. H. Harper, prescription clerk at Schaefer's drug store, was horror-struck to find his infant child dead. The shock was a terrible one. Mrs. Miller, who has been in poor health for some time, is inconsolable and it is feared her grief may lead to a complete physical breakdown.

A tickling cough, from any cause is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountain shrub, furnish the curative properties of Dr.
Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a restful plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Demand
Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. Sold by all dealers.

A Reliable Remedy for Croup.

With the dry, cold weather of the early winter months, parents of crouper children should be on the alert for ominous symptoms. There is no cause for anxiety, however, when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is kept in the home. If this medicine is given as soon as a child becomes hoarse or even after the croupy cough has appeared, the attack may be ward off. Mrs. S. Rosenthal, of Turner, Michigan, says: "We have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for ourselves and children for several years and like it very much. I think it is the only remedy for croup and can highly recommend it." For sale by all druggists.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

A new bill goes on at the Crystal Theatre tonight.

Governor Curry is expected to return to Santa Fe on Sunday.

Otto Goetz, of Otto, W. M., was in the city yesterday on business.

Chas. Reinken, of Belen, registered at the Alvarado last evening.

A. Abayta, a prominent Socorro merchant, is in Albuquerque on business.

Eugene Kempenich, of Peralta, was an Albuquerque visitor yesterday.

Harry Weiller, who is in California on business, is expected home the last of the week.

Frank H. Cole, special writer for The Citizen, left last night on a business trip over the Santa Fe cut-off.

J. D. Carpenter, manager for the American Lumber company in the timber, is in the city on business.

Passenger train No. 2 was seven hours late today as a result of a freight wreck near Canyon Diablo, Ariz.

Eliseo Parela, merchant and sheep raiser at San Rafael, returned home last night after a short business visit to the city.

Mrs. F. B. Brown, of 704 West Coal avenue, left last night for Galveston, Texas, where her father is reported to be seriously ill.

Adjutant General A. P. Turkington left this morning for Las Vegas, after spending yesterday in the city attending to official matters.

Mrs. H. R. Nickerson, wife of the Mexico railroad manager, passed through the city last night en route to El Paso from a visit in the east.

F. G. Brierer, of Murphysboro, Ill., is in the city on a visit to John Venable, clerk of the district court. Mr. Venable is formerly of Murphysboro.

E. R. Turner, an expert linotype operator formerly employed in this city, left last night for New Orleans, where he expects to reside in the future.

United States Marshal C. M. Forsaker and Assistant United States Attorney E. L. Medler have returned to their headquarters here from attending court in Las Vegas.

Mrs. Franklin, of New York City, is stopping at the Alvarado awaiting the arrival of her husband, a traveling salesman, who is touring Texas at present and coming toward New Mexico.

The California limited carried eighty passengers today. The east-bound limited, however, is running very light. One day early in the week it passed through the city with but four passengers aboard.

J. E. Hannum, representing the Continental Oil company, left last night for Denver to attend the obsequies of his mother, who passed away there yesterday. The Hannums are contemplating moving to Salt Lake City to live.

The Wolford Stock company gave another worthy performance last night but secured a very small audience. The bill tonight will be a western pastoral drama very similar to the play "Arizona," which made such a hit in Albuquerque last week.

Despite the cry of a money stringency that is being made, it is very noticeable that a large amount of building is going on in Albuquerque. There is scarcely a section of the city that hasn't a new residence or business block in course of construction.

The charity ball to be given by the Non-Sectarian Benevolent association on Thanksgiving evening promises to be a very enjoyable affair. The dance will take place at the new ball room in the Elks' opera house, which has just been provided with a new floor. This floor was initiated last night by the Elks and their friends and is said to be the best ever laid in Albuquerque. The cause of the charity ball is for the poor and needy of Albuquerque.

DRUNK FIVE TIMES PUT ON BLACK LIST.

New York Law Makes Saloonkeeper Responsible for Sale of Drinks To a Drunkard.

New York, Nov. 21.—This is what the new drink law does: Saloon—Corner Twenty-third street and Avenue A.

Keeper—Marcus Bissaro. Found drunk within: Dominic Ferraro, one time. Patrick Malone, three times. James Jones, five times (X).

William Schwarzenheimer, twice. The X mark against the name of Toper Jimmie Jones means that Marcus Bissaro must not sell him another drop of liquor this year or else Marcus will be sent to jail.

That's the new state law that went into effect on the first of last September, but has just come under Police Commissioner Bingham's notice.

The law was quietly passed by the last legislature, in an effort of the anti-saloon league to put out of business the "favorite saloon." In effect it provides that as soon as a man has been found drunk five times in the same saloon his name should not only be posted in all saloons and drug stores as a habitual drunkard, but he must be refused liquor wherever he applies for a drink. The only trouble is that there are 12,446 separate saloons in greater New York and he must be a widespread toper indeed who is already known in every one of them.

"International Poultry Food."

Stimulates and Strengthens the Egg Producing Organs of the Hen.

It keeps chickens strong and healthy and will make them lay more eggs and keeps them laying. One of our 25-cent boxes contains 1200 feeds for one hen so that the cost of feeding it is very small. One extra egg per month will more than pay the cost of feeding it and its use will more than double the egg production. It is the only preparation that is sold with a positive, reliable, printed guarantee on every label. If its use fails to make you extra money your money will be refunded promptly and its use will not cost you a cent. It will pay you to test "International Poultry Food" on your fowls. E. W. Fee, 602-604 South First street.
