SHOOT'S WIFE, THEN SEVEN JOSE LIVES IN JUMPS FROM WINDOW KANSAS CITY FIRE

Jealousy Is Said to be Cause of Double Crime of Brooklyn Stove Dealer.

SHE WAS 38 YEARS OLD AND HE WAS 60 YEARS

Woman Was Killed While She Lay in Bed Sleeping—Fall to Pavement Kills Whitley Instantly—They Had Quarrelled.

New York, Nov. 28.—Early morning pedestrians on 77th street, were startled by hearing a revolver shot coming from an upper story of the Belle Clair Hotel and a moment later saw a man hurl himself from a window and crash on the pavement below.

The man was John Whitley, one of the leading stove dealers of Brooklyn. He was dead when picked up. Rushing to the room Whitley had occupied, employees of the hotel found Mrs. Whitley in death throes with a gaping revolver shot wound in her head. She had apparently been shot while sleeping.

Whitley was 60 years old and his wife was 38 years old. It is said that they had quarrelled. The killing is thought to have been the result of jealousy on the part of Whitley.

OVER TWO HUNDRED WANT DIVORCE

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 28.—Half a mile of dissatisfied wives, extending from the court house down Broadway, was the spectacle offered by St. Louis to an amused public. There were some men, too, but they did not count.

It was the weekly rush for divorces by women who put up by the other half of the mismatched pairs.

In all, there were 230 applicants for freedom, and in 110 cases there was no opposition.

JAPS SWARMING TOWARD THE PACIFIC COAST

New York, Nov. 28.—The idea of assembling the greater portion of the Pacific bound fleet with Atlantic in New York harbor and proceeding in squadron formation to Hampton Roads points for the start of the long western cruise has been abandoned in order that the big war vessels may spend as long a time as possible at various navy yards, where they are undergoing repairs.

Orders have been issued for all vessels of the fleet to report at Hampton Roads by Monday Dec. 9, and in this sailing date there will be no departures.

GOVERNOR BUCHTEL PARDONS THREE PRISONERS

Exile From Colorado for Life Condition in Each Case.

MURDERER HAD SERVED EIGHT YEARS

Denver, Colo., Nov. 28.—Governor Buchtel, of Colorado, has celebrated Thanksgiving day by issuing three pardons.

Frank Herold, a German sentenced to the Colorado penitentiary for life for the murder of H. O'Hara, near Brighton, ten years ago, was sent a pardon. Herold killed O'Hara after the latter had killed Mrs. O'Hara and is said to have committed the crime in self defense. Herold served eight years of a life sentence. One of the conditions of his pardon is that he leaves the state and remains away.

Governor Buchtel pardoned one prisoner from the Colorado reformatory and another from the Denver jail. Exile from Colorado for life was made a condition in each case.

HILL PROPOSES A REST CURE

New York, Nov. 28.—"What this country needs above everything else is a rest cure," said James J. Hill in discussing the financial situation.

"The country is suffering from misadventure and while there is an easing in the mercantile credit situation, the people who have the money are holding on to it and give checks instead."

Two Others Are Fatally Burned and Several Have Marvelous Escapes.

FIREMEN SAVE OLD MAN AT GREAT PERIL

Building Was Sleeping Place For Fifty People—Fire Was Caused by Gas—Damage Will Probably Reach the Sum of $10,000.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 28.—Seven men are dead and two others are fatally injured as a result of a fire which destroyed a two story brick rooming house at 1102 Union avenue early today. The seven dead are burned beyond recognition.

The fire is thought to have been started by a leaking pipe and was ignited by a match struck by a patron of the house. The fire spread rapidly and the victims were caught like rats in a trap sleeping in their rooms.

Several miraculous escapes were made. Firemen E. E. Jackson, and W. L. White figured in the thrilling rescue of an old man, who climbed from a window and swung sniveling half dressed to the window sill while the firemen worked to his rescue.

The firemen climbed out on the cornice of an adjoining building, applied their belts, and threw one end of the hastily constructed rope to the man on the window. He caught it and while the firemen braced themselves, the old man swung down to the ground.

The building was the sleeping place of about fifty men, according to Edward O'Connell, the proprietor. The loss suffered by O'Connell will be about $10,000.

REAL WEALTH IS IN THE WEST

Stuyvesant Fish says That Wall Street Will Have to Cater to the Agricultural Communities.

New York, Nov. 28.—That there can be no resumption of public confidence until the state and federal authorities send to jail men who have looted corporations is the opinion of Stuyvesant Fish.

"As has been foretold," said Fish, "the present crisis is due to utter lack of confidence in corporate management, control and directed from Wall street and such lack of confidence is world wide. To reestablish confidence abroad we must first reestablish it at home and particularly in the agricultural communities west and south, where the real wealth of the country is produced. Neither corporations nor government has as yet acted officially, hence we are confronted with a period of depression."

CURRENCY PAYMENTS TO BE RESUMED INSIDE TWO WEEKS

Opinion of Chicago Bankers After Summing Up Western Letters.

CHICAGO IS PROMISED A NEW BANK

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 28.—Direct reports to the Chicago clearing house from hundreds of western cities throughout the week encouraged the local bankers yesterday to believe that resumption of cash payments will be possible within two weeks or possibly ten days.

When the clearing house committee met the members had before them more than 500 letters in reply to the circular letter sent out last week asking for statements of conditions throughout the west. Practically all of the letters, it was announced, expressed a willingness to co-operate with the Chicago bankers in resuming cash payments.

There was considerable diversity of opinion, however, as to how a general resumption should be brought about. Some thought it feasible to lift the lid in every banking center on the same day; others that the loosening of cash should be a gradual movement, beginning in the east and spreading to other parts of the country.

A movement headed by Dr. W. C. Abbott for a new bank in Ravenswood is on foot. It is proposed to start a state institution to be called the Ravenswood Trust company, to take the place of the Ravenswood Exchange bank, which closed its doors two weeks ago. It is proposed to make the capital stock $200,000, with a surplus of $20,000 at the start. Subscriptions at $110 a share are being solicited.

HOW ALBUQUERQUE IS OBSERVING THANKSGIVING

Stores Give Employees Day's Vacation—Services at the Churches.

CHARITY BALL THE EVENT TONIGHT

Thanksgiving day was generally observed in Albuquerque, practically all business houses closing in the afternoon and the banks and public offices closing all day. The schools closed yesterday, giving the children the usual Thanksgiving holiday.

Union Thanksgiving services were held this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Presbyterian church, the rest of the city churches, with the exception of St. John's Episcopal, joining.

Rev. J. W. Shaw, pastor of the First Baptist church, delivered the Thanksgiving day address. An interesting musical program was rendered.

At the St. John's Episcopal church the rector, Fletcher Cooke, gave a short address and there was a vocal solo by Mrs. Roy McDonald.

Masses were celebrated today at the Catholic churches.

CHARITY BALL

The charity ball to be given by the Non-Secretarian Benevolent society at the Elks' ball room tonight promises to be the premier social event. Keen interest in the ball has been taken by the social leaders of the city who have been working assiduously to make it the most brilliant and financially successful charity ball of years.

The non-secretarian society has prepared a list of the poor of the city which it considers deserving of help and the proceeds of tonight's ball will go to the worthy poor. Large numbers of tickets have been disposed of and the attendance promises to be large.

The dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock. Committees in charge of reception and floor are as follows: Reception—Rev. A. Abbott, O. N. Marron, J. H. O'Reilly, F. A. Hubbell, Frank Mc Kee, E. S. Stover, M. W. Flournoy, Alfred Grunsfeld, J. M. Wilkinson, G. L. Brooks, Noa H. H. H. Ray, W. S. Strickler, F. W. Clancy, D. H. Carns, J. Yrisarrri, J. S. Beaven.

Floor—Sam Pickard, John Lee Clarke, D. A. Macpherson, Harry Weiler, Harry F. Lee, Felix H. Lester, Walter Jaffa, D. S. Rosenwald, E. J. Alger.

Fletcher Cooke Addresses Children.

In the city schools yesterday afternoon was devoted to Thanksgiving exercises. Rev. Fletcher Cooke, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church, addressed over two hundred students in the high school assembly room yesterday afternoon on "The History of Thanksgiving and Home Reason, National and Personal, for Thanksgiving."

Before the address the students joined in a song service led by Miss Carolyn Strong, instructor in music in the public schools.

In the lower grades the usual Thanksgiving exercises were given, three or more grades joining in the exercises. Programs consisting of essays, recitations, quotations, readings and music were rendered. Many of the rooms were decorated in true Thanksgiving style.

The American Lumber Company's fire department will give its second annual Thanksgiving ball tonight at Colombo hall. A very large audience is expected and arrangements have been made for a most enjoyable evening at dancing.

JAPANESE ARE WORKING TOWARD AMERICA

Ambassador O'Brien Believes the Immigration Companies Have Taken Advantage of Tax Inspection.

EXODUS OF FOREIGNERS CONTINUES UNABATED

Tokio, Nov. 28.—It is understood here that the American ambassador, Thomas J. O'Brien, has officially called attention to the Japanese government to a great increase of number of Japanese arriving on the Pacific coast and has requested that prompt measures be taken to prevent immigration to America of persons, who enter as students and might afterwards become laborers.

At the foreign office it was stated that the government is now considering measures to control immigration and correct any mistake recently made.

There is reason to believe that immigration companies have taken advantage of tax inspection.

MRS. BRADLEY IS GLAD FOR REST

New York, Nov. 28.—Although the steamer rate has again been raised this time from $31 to $36, all steamers are packed to capacity with foreigners returning to Europe. Some steamship companies are fitting up holds for the accommodation of passengers and leaving freight behind.

Gustav H. Schwab of the North German Lloyd line estimated today that between sixty to seventy thousand persons will leave this port this week.

BUILD DEPOTS TO REDUCE FARES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 28.—Mrs. Bradley expressed gratification this morning that she would be able to have a day of rest as her trial has been very wearing upon her.

The court will tomorrow conclude with all witnesses according to plans of counsel on both sides. The entire case hinges on the mental condition of Mrs. Bradley and the jury will be asked to determine whether at the time of the shooting she was mentally capable of knowing right from wrong and of choosing the right course.

$20,000 FIRE IN TOPEKA SANTA FE SHOPS

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 28.—An early morning fire in the Santa Fe machine shops here damaged buildings to the extent of $10,000 and machinery about same amount. The origin of the fire is unknown. The fire was obnoxious and for a time it appeared as if the big plant was doomed.

BONES MAY SOLVE THE MYSTERY OF MISSING WOMAN

Friends Will Attempt to Identify Teeth as Those of Hattie Knox.

BODY ENTIRELY DEVOID OF CLOTHING

Prescott, Ariz., Nov. 28.—The finding of bleaching bones of a woman near the tracks of the Bradshaw railroad near Yager station by a section man, promises to solve the mystery of the disappearance of Hattie Knox, who wandered away from Humboldt several months ago. Teeth taken from the body are said to look like the front teeth of the woman from Humboldt.

The bones were entirely devoid of flesh and no clothing was found near them. The mystery of the disappearance of Hattie Knox has caused much speculation and after hunting the country for miles around Humboldt the authorities concluded that the woman had left the country.

The place where the body was found is a great distance from any settlement and in a very uneventful country. There is no water near by and the conclusion is that that woman died from thirst and following a custom of people desperately thirsty to eat all the clothes from her body as she wandered.

When the discovery was reported at Humboldt, Justice Francis, with a coroner's jury, went to the scene of the find and began an inquest, which will be continued today. He brought away with him some of the teeth from the skull, in hopes that some settlement might be able to identify them as having belonged to Hattie Knox, and thus complete the identification.

After the coroner's jury completes its investigation the skeleton will be buried where found.

ROCKEFELLER GIVES ANOTHER 2 MILLIONS

New York, Nov. 28.—John D. Rockefeller has insured the permanency of the Rockefeller Institution for Medical Research by an additional gift of $2,000,000. The oil king has written to the directors that their work thus far has pleased him greatly. Then he notified them of the new gift. It is in the form of gift-edged securities, and will make the institute's annual income about $100,000. The donation makes the total amount devoted to the foundation $3,800,000.

PRESIDENT DINING AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 28.—President Roosevelt and family today visited the home of President Madison, near Montpelier, Va. The entire trip is to take seven hours. Thanksgiving dinner will be given at the white house this evening.

MIGHT ENTER RACE FOR DELEGATE TO CONGRESS

Kibbey Says He Wouldn't But Leaves Impression That He Could be Easily Persuaded.

SAYS HE FAVORS THIRD TERM FOR ROOSEVELT

Executive Has Received No Promises for Statehood for Arizona But Says President Is Satisfied That Jointure Won't Do.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 28.—Governor Kibbey, who has returned here from Tucson, where he went to deliver an address before a body of students, has given out an interview similar to one credited to him at Tucson.

When asked whether he would run for congress Governor Kibbey said: "I do not intend to make the run; in fact, I am very much adverse to it from every point of view."

"Would you run were pressure brought to bear upon you to make the race?" was asked.

"I know of no pressure that could be brought to bear," was the governor's smiling reply.

At the same time there seemed to be a sort of insinuation that if he was asked to run by his party as a whole, he would make the race.

In regard to his visit with the president about three weeks ago he stated that Mr. Roosevelt had said that during his present term he was in hopes he could eliminate all territorial forms of government within the confines of the United States.

"President Roosevelt has informed me since I talked with him that he has already consulted his party leaders and they are not favorable to the admission of the two territories at the coming session."

In keeping with his policy of eliminating the territorial forms of government, he said, he had informed President Roosevelt that he had voted for Arizona and New Mexico statehood for Arizona and New Mexico, hoping it would prove acceptable to them as it did to the people of Oklahoma and the Indian Territory. Since Arizona and New Mexico voted on the question he has become convinced that the people do not want joint statehood, and though he could not make any definite promises without first consulting the leaders in congress, the president said he was in favor of the early admission of these two territories on equal footing.

"For the first time in our fight for statehood we have the support of a president of the United States. I consider that the strongest point we ever did have or ever could have."

Mr. Kibbey said he had just returned from Globe, where he went to investigate the conditions of the two suspended banks in that city. He stated that he believed both of the suspended banks are solvent and will pay dollar for dollar, but that they were obliged to suspend because their deposits had been drawn out until the legal reserve, provided for by the government, was getting near the danger line.

He regarded the other three banks in Globe he stated that he was of the opinion that they could pay dollar for dollar were they called upon to do so, and that apparently they were in excellent shape.

In regard to Roosevelt's nomination again for president, Mr. Kibbey said:

"You may say that I am heartily in favor of Mr. Roosevelt's nomination and re-election. I do not say this because I am an appointee of the president as many will charge to me, but I am in accord with the principles he advocated during his past administration and the policies which he is advocating for the future."

Mr. Kibbey said that as regards the present situation in copper he had a great deal of hope that it would soon right itself. At the present time the copper production has reduced itself to about 60 per cent of the normal output, but that he believed before sixty days had elapsed Arizona would be producing its normal output. He said he believed the present stringency in the money market and the stocks were due to the manipulations in Wall street, because certain interests were very much opposed to the president because of his anti-trust policies, also they were due in a measure to certain very heavy interests which were seating down the values of stocks and securities so that when prices were at the bottom, the ones who had been responsible, among them Rockefeller, could buy the securities in at the low price and then the benefit when the upward turn in the market came.

"You may say that the territory is very prosperous at the present time, and as I have been over a very considerable portion of the territory recently, I am in a position to speak knowingly. I believe that Arizona will be the least affected of any state or territory in the union by reason of the present stringency and falling values in copper."

HURRY HOME MESSAGE HAS BEEN CABLED TO SECRETARY TAFT

American Embassy in St. Petersburg Is Thronged Daily With Russians Offering Assistance.

BELIEVE AMERICAN-JAP WAR IMPENDING

Yellow Men Are Reported to be Swarming on Pacific Coast—The Mikado Is Cautioned to Stop Illegal Immigration to United States.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 28.—As Washington has cabled Secretary Taft requesting him to hasten his returning to the United States the secretary, who is due in Moscow next Saturday, has telegraphed the American ambassador here, asking him if possible to arrange an audience with the emperor so as to enable Taft to leave St. Petersburg Saturday afternoon Dec. 4 instead of the night of Dec. 5 as was provided in the original schedule.

Taft says that he must catch the steamer President Grant, which will sail from Hamburg, Dec. 7.

The idea that a Japanese American war is impending has obtained such a hold upon Russians that they are thronging the American embassy daily to offer their services.

Mr. Schuller, the ambassador in charge, has denied through the press the possibility of any trouble with Japan.

Secretary Taft has been received with the utmost cordiality by the officials both military and civil.

The Russians particularly desiring service in our army in case of war with Japan are officers and ex-officers of the Russian army and men of noble birth, anxious to strike at Japan, but more anxious to study U. S. army methods.

It is said that among the anarchist revolutionary circles it was given out that absolutely no attempt must be made to insure Secretary Taft or to delay him by the manner, since the reactionary forces in Russia depend to a large extent upon popular opinion in America to aid their cause. Many to some extent receive financial aid from sub-organizations in America.

Mr. Taft therefore was doubly protected by an escort of military officers, secret police and by the friendly spirit of the revolutionary forces.

THERE WILL BE NO TARIFF REVISION

Washington, D. C., Nov. 28.—Representatives Payne and Dabell, each a power in the house, had half an hour's talk with the president this morning, and when they came out they announced emphatically that there would be no tariff revision at the coming session.

"What about wood pulp?" they were asked. "The president has promised to take off the duty."

Both Mr. Payne and Mr. Dabell laughed uproariously, as at the greatest kind of a joke.

"Didn't the president mention it to you?" they were asked.

"Not a word," he replied.

"That's a terribly big duty, that 15 per cent," exclaimed Mr. Payne. "It will probably break up all the papers in the country if it is retained."

SEVENTY-FIVE DIE CLIMBING THE ALPS

London, Nov. 28.—Official statistics just issued supply the death rate in 1907 due to misadventure in the Italian, Swiss and Austrian Alps. The number of lives lost was seventy-five, the majority of which were Swiss and Germans. Next came the British, and after that the Italians.

The chief cause of fatality was foolhardiness, which is becoming more prevalent every year. In attempting difficult ascents without a guide, and often even without a companion. Fourteen deaths were caused by attempts to gather flowers in dangerous localities.

The number of accidents, which are put down as grave, but not fatal, was 350. As prophylactic measures, the compilers of the statistics recommend France, Italy and Austria to make the ascent of dangerous mountains prohibitive unless the climber is accompanied by a duly qualified and accredited guide.

Hobos Committing Depredations Along the Santa Fe.

San Bernardino, Cal., Nov. 28.—The Santa Fe officials report an epidemic of petty thieving all over the lines in this section of the state. Daily reports of numerous thefts are being received, due largely probably to the hobo element in such numbers in the southwest at this time. Several depots have been entered, but in no case has anything of value been taken outside of what little money was in sight.

Friday night the depot at Laramie Park, was entered, which makes the third depot entered within a week. Nothing of value except $2 in change, taken from the cash drawer, was missed.

Saturday night a stockman from Arizona, passing through here with a stock shipment, left an overcoat in the caboose while he stepped into the Harvey house for a lunch and when he returned the coat had been carried off by some one who had entered the caboose.

Santa Fe employees generally have been warned to keep a sharp lookout for suspicious characters hanging about company property and at once report their presence to the officers or take them in charge themselves.

ARIZONA GIRL IN TROUBLE IN CHICAGO

She Was Lured to Chicago and Victimized by Mock Marriage.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 28.—Esther Powers, formerly of Phoenix, is in trouble in Chicago. In a telegram received from there today it is stated that she has been made the victim of a mock marriage.

Esther Powers, after figuring prominently with her sister in the courts of Phoenix, went to Bisbee nearly two years ago. In Bisbee the young woman met Thomas Ahern, a Chicago young man with whom she fell in love. They went to Chicago and in that city she was married to Ahern, supposing that the ceremony was a legal one, and that she was a legal wife. Recently Miss Powers began to suspect that she had been made the victim of a designing man, who sought to deceive her and ruin her life. Investigation proved to the young woman that instead of the marriage being a legal one it had been a mock ceremony, arranged by Ahern for the purpose of deceiving her. It appears that Ahern had a mock minister perform the ceremony on the mock marriage license, though just what his object was has not been learned.

Ahern worked for the Copper Queen Mining company in Bisbee in the blacksmith shop, and it was in that city that he first met Esther Powers, who was raised in Phoenix. Esther Powers became somewhat notorious in this section because of the fact she was charged with an alleged attempted assault in Phoenix on her sister, Marie Powers, younger than Esther, and considerably smaller, was the principal character in the case in which she charged that an assault had been made upon her.

The trial of the case attracted wide attention and is still pending in the courts, being in the hands of the supreme judges.

Marie and Esther Powers both went to Bisbee shortly after the termination of the case, changing their names and accepting employment in that city.

Esther Powers has announced in Chicago that she will prosecute Ahern for the deception that he has practiced upon her.

The Christmas Present Your Wife Wants

You would not have the woman in your household do her cooking in an old-fashioned fireplace. She probably has everything in the kitchen as far as up to date, but she still lacks the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet, as important and as indispensable as a range. I member the adage—"From a woman's work is never done," and consider the matter carefully. You will decide that there is nothing that you could possibly select that would give her more genuine long-lived and constant satisfaction than a Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not itself a real disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and Stomach Trouble as if they were distinct, and that they are. They are symptoms only of a certain specific Nervous weakness—nothing else. It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success to the original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. DAILY SHORT STORIES

THE WISHING RING.

By Agnes Griffin.

Mercedes stood on her wide veranda looking wistfully on the grove of trees hung with Chinese lanterns, in honor of her 30th birthday. A happy throng of young people swarmed about her laughing and singing, while the musicians were preparing for the next dance.

"Mercedes," a man's voice whispered, and the girl turned to face Webster Chase's eyes. "Why do you avoid me tonight, Mercedes?" he said trying to take her hand. "I hoped you were beginning to like me—I've honestly tried to have you—but something seems to stand between us—and I care, dear—you look so tired and wan tonight—can I do anything?"

His voice expressed so much sincerity that Mercedes almost yielded to his sympathy. "I'm not really tired, Webster," she said. "Perhaps just a bit blue. Here Bob Fuller and Beulah Osborn came running to them."

"There's a real gypsy—out here in the grove," grasped Beulah. "We found him listening to the music. He says he'll tell our fortunes; come on, children."

Mercedes shivered slightly, as Webster pressed her arm. She hated herself for not trusting him more, as he was always courteous and generous to her. "Only a dirty gypsy," she was saying, urging her away from her friends. "Don't let him touch your sweet hands, Mercedes. I could not stand it! It's no use—you must know—I love you—won't you give me a chance to win your confidence and favor?"

The girl hesitated, and Webster followed up with, "Since that wretched bank business you have not seemed quite friendly. You half seem to like me—and yet—"

Mercedes hung his detaining arm from her. "You're right. I don't understand it. I don't doubt your honesty, Webster—but I'll never believe that your cousin Russell is dishonest, no matter who says so!"

Webster bit his lip savagely. "Does it look reasonable if he were not guilty that he would keep away from his home—and friends? Who hears from him?" he gave Mercedes a searching glance. "I caught him Mercedes, robbing the bank—red-handed—his dog!"

The girl shrank from his words. "I don't believe you," she said slowly, and flitted out into the yard. "An honest palm and true," chanted the fortune teller. "One that never forgets." Mercedes raised her eyes in astonishment and slowly crimsoned as he went on. "Great happiness may come out of unrest, lady," and before anyone could interfere he had slipped a curious dull metal ring on Mercedes' little finger. "A wishing ring—old and rare, gypsies all have them—what your heart desires much, wish for," and before the now silent group had time to wonder the gypsy had disappeared among the trees.

Mercedes stood in her open window after the party was over. The gypsy and Webster and Russell Minor were blended strangely in her thoughts. Through the pain of not hearing from her old friend since his disgrace she knew she loved him. Some instinct told her that if he could he would communicate with her. There came the doubt. Surely Webster would not accuse his own cousin, who had been brought up with him like a brother, without cause? It was all so bitter.

Twisting the little wishing ring nervously on her finger, Mercedes sobbed to the trees. "But I feel that he's honest, and that there's some awful injustice done him! Oh, Russell, I wish you could hear me say this!"

A thud of a small missile cast against her screen startled her from the window. Something white lay just outside it. Mercedes lifted the screen, and with her pulses pounding in her excitement picked it up. A note closed about a pebble met her eyes.

"Come to the grove, and bring the wishing ring, sweetheart, Russell."

A moment later with a cry of joy she was clasped in Russell's arms. "You played the gypsy," breathed Mercedes happily against his breast.

"I came back to be cleared, sweetheart. I took Webster's crime on my shoulder to save Uncle Charles. I owed him so much, and I was afraid it would kill him. But he has found it out for himself and ordered me back. Webster don't know yet. I shall be cleared. Do you really care?"

"You didn't send me word," reproached the girl.

"I didn't dare, for fear I'd betray myself. The secret had to be kept until I was released from it—and it might have been years, dear."

The hand that carried the little wishing ring was tucked softly away in Russell's as they walked to the house. "That was a pretty idea of mine, that wishing ring, now wasn't it, darling?" said Russell lovingly.

FOOT SQUARE OF GOLD—HALF A MILE HIGH—THAT'S THE AMOUNT UNCLE SAM WOULD HAVE YOU POUR OUT OF YOUR STOCKINGS

At work on the new treasury certificates. Girl operating a cutting and trimming machine in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, where the new certificates of indebtedness are being turned out, thousands each day, to be issued November 30th.

Washington, Nov. 28.—A HUNDRED AND FIFTY MILLION DOLLARS—that's a lot of money.

That's the amount which the government is going to put into circulation, as the result of the sale of the same value of 3 per cent treasury notes and Panama bonds.

Now let's just figure out how big a sum this hundred and fifty million dollars is. Let us take gold, the standard, as our basis.

A million dollars in gold coin weighs, in round numbers, two tons. If a millionaire were called upon to cash in and carry off his gold in a hurry, he would not be able to get away with much of it, unless he had a couple of wagons with good stout horses.

About 40 pounds is what a man can pack on his back. In gold coin this would not be more than $10,000 and it is the history of great bank and train robberies in which gold coin has figured, that one man can get away with little more than this amount.

A million dollars in gold coin will make a pile containing 17 cubic feet. Suppose it to be stacked up in a column a foot square, it would be 17 feet high—about as high as three tall men standing on each other's shoulders.

Now, suppose 150 of these 17-foot gold columns set in a row, and this will represent the amount of hoarded money which Uncle Sam will put back into circulation as the result of the sale of treasury notes.

Put these 150 foot-square columns of gold in one pile, atop of each other, and they would reach almost half a mile toward the sky.

MOBILE FIRST AMERICAN CITY THAT WOULD SECEDE FROM HER STATE

Mobile, the American city which threatens to secede from Alabama because the sovereign state has gone dry, has lived under the flag of Spain, Great Britain, France, the United States and the confederacy since the city was settled, in 1680. The habit of changing rulers has become fixed, so to speak.

Some of the best lawyers in Mobile declare that they can find a legal way for the town to pack up her duds and quit Alabama. Just how it can be done is not yet announced.

Mobile has over 50,000 population and a large number of her people are descendants of the pioneer French. Her wineries and cafes are famous, as are the vineyards close at hand. A man who has been in Mobile does not wonder that her people bawl at prohibition. The city claims to have the finest purest drinking water in the world, making the bathing very delightful. Mobile has fine parks. Around the bay are at least 20 summer resorts, to which the people flock during the

The Financial Troubles

Frenzied finance has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. It is the old story, with slight variations. In its final analysis it is simply the failure of an attempt to over-capitalize the capital of the country. The volume of business, as represented in salaries and products, has outgrown the means for its manipulation. The people have been trying to do the impossible thing. There is no precedent in all the wide world for an unceasing ascendancy in values, either as applied to service or supplies. Long years of prosperity are bearing their inevitable fruit, and it is not pleasant to the taste nor pleasing to the eye. All would have been better pleased if there had been no interruption to the increase in values. It has been very nice for those toilers who have had their wages raised from time to time during the prosperous years that have come and gone. The reaction that now stares them in the face is not so agreeable. Had wage earners been wise they would not have consumed all the reward for their services as received. Too many of them have done that sort of thing, and now there is no reserve upon which they can fall back to tide them over until there is another return of the upward movement. Some, alas, have been even more unwise. They have been discounting the future. They have said to themselves, the days that are to come will be even better than those we are now enjoying, and so they have contracted liabilities beyond their power to compass. They are to be pitied, of course, but they are to be blamed as well. No one has the right in prosperous times to go the very limit of his income in living expenses. Such a course is a presumption on the future that always results in trouble, and unfortunately the innocent have to suffer with the guilty.

THE CAUSE AND THE CURE.

The trouble is on all right. Some have been expecting it for many months. It is not due to any one cause. It simply was to be, and is. It is the natural swing of the pendulum. The movement has been on for a year. There has been a quiet shrinkage in stock and bond values all through the year. It is true the shading has been irregular, but the general trend has been downward. The wonder has been that this tendency was so long in developing surface troubles. The only reason that can be assigned for the delay in such manipulations is in the general strength of the financial superstructure, which was able to resist the attacks from those sources. There are branches of business that are not altogether dependent upon the movements in the New York Stock Exchange. Some things are more necessary to the welfare of the people than the manipulation of stocks and bonds; and yet so much of the country's business is now carried on by the corporations whose capital is represented in these stocks and bonds that whatever affects the values of these securities produces an influence that directly or indirectly touches all forms of business, and has a bearing on all the activities of life. Back of this shrinkage in the values of stocks and bonds, and at least one of the contributing causes, has been the general attack on the business of corporations, both from federal and state sources. Some work of this kind in isolated cases may have been necessary, but even that disagreeable task might have been more prudently managed. No one can afford to shield the guilty, whether found in high places or low places, but no one has the right to inflict punishment, or even suffering, upon the innocent. There are legal methods for apprehending, trying and punishing the guilty, but those methods are not to be found in newspaper or magazine articles. Those who resort to such means for attacking great business interests have been doing more harm than good, and richly deserve the criticism they have received from those who believe in a square deal.

THE RIGHT COURSE.

There are two ways of handling the present trouble. It can be aggravated and prolonged, or it can be minimized and shortened. No well wisher of the country or of the people will willingly contribute to make things worse, while all will probably do the best they know how to bring the difficulties to a speedy end. Great wisdom will be needed in shaping the best course to pursue in the solution of the problem that confronts the whole country at this time.

It is plain that some things that have been done and that are being done even now are not in the nature of pouring oil on the troubled waters. Hoarding money is one of these disquieting things, whether by the private individual or by a corporation. Issuing fiat money or any kind of paper money for general use that takes the place of fiat money is a questionable proceeding. The abandonment of great business enterprises and the wholesale discharge of employees are not going to help matters.

Some reduction in wages may be necessary. In some lines, where they have been abnormally advanced in the last few years, a reduction in wages temporarily would be far better than any general reduction in the force. If it be true, as many believe, that the country has outgrown its capital, some new alignment of values in various directions is absolutely necessary to keep things moving until there can be a new and upward start made all round. A little relaxation well distributed will do no harm to the people or to the industries and business of the country. But there should be no general stoppage of any form of legitimate business. Employment must be found for the usual number of people, but they must be content to share the reverses of their employers as they share the prosperity. No one can afford to hedge confidence in the future in what is said and done. Give hope right of way. Relegate fear to the rear. A general adjustment to meet the new conditions will work no hardships to any sections of the country or to any considerable number of individuals in the country. Once on the new plane, things will move as smoothly as before.

Let Us Give Thanks

There is no use in enumerating the number of things, for which the nation and the territory owe special thanks upon this occasion.

Today is the day set apart for national and local thanksgiving, and it is for such an offer as his thanks as to his country.

During the year, which has so quickly slipped away, every man, woman and child has had blessings, trials, sorrows, suffering and tribulations.

There are some with us who were not here a year ago and there are many vacant chairs beside our fireplaces. But take it all in all, the old world is no worse a place than before. To him who has done his best it is a better world.

In our national as in our private life, there have been many blessings likewise many tribulations. But a tribulation is often a blessing in disguise, so who is there that can say "I have nothing to be thankful for." About the only one for whom the day may not be one of rejoicing is the festive turkey, but humanity owes a special blessing for the turkey alone.

The people of Albuquerque and of New Mexico are generally observing the day of thanks as each individual sees fit.

The Citizen goes to press at an earlier hour in order that its employees may have at least part of a day to use as they will.

So let us all give thanks today and let us not weight our blessings or our sorrows in the balance of our neighbors'. For none can say that the other is more fortunate or the less fortunate, since each life is but a part of the great eternal plan and we all fill a niche—for which let us give thanks.

The well known labor leader, John Mitchell, has been spending a few days in Washington, and was very optimistic over the general situation and the industrial phase of the country. The only fear he seems to have are of overproduction, "but as long as there is employment for the people and purchasers are to be found," he insists there is no danger of hard times. "The laboring classes are in better condition today than ever before, in this or any other country. The working man is better housed and better fed and enjoys more simple pleasures than in the past," declared Mr. Mitchell. He is very sanguine as to the elimination of coal strikes in the future. Agreements now existing have several years to run, and there is no indication of any desire to break these contracts. Mr. Mitchell is a man of interesting personality—black hair, smooth face, sharp, black eyes and always maintaining his self poise, there is something in his manner and bearing that indicates an intense dynamic force. The popularity of Mr. Mitchell was attested recently by the wide concern felt during his recent illness. Inquiries regarding his condition were received from every part of the country.

LOOKING FOR A GOOD TIME?

There are about as many conceptions as to what constitutes a "good time" as there are individuals, but there is one place in New Mexico, not very far from Albuquerque, where 49 out of every 100 people find what they are looking for. That place is the Valley Ranch, at Pecos, New Mexico.

Fresh country produce in abundance, horses to ride or drive, dogs, guns, traps, tackle, all at your disposal. The finest hunting and fishing in the territory. You can live in a house, a cabin or a tent, and come and go as you please.

You'll find plenty of company there, agreeable and refined, if you are sociably inclined, a favorite resort for ladies. Conditions ideal for recuperating, reading, hunting or loafing.

WORMS. There are seven kinds of round worms found in the intestines of a horse. Some are small but some of them grow to a length of over three feet and enter the stomach and are very injurious. Worms are indicated by a ravenous appetite, dry hair and a pot belly. A yellowish mucus will be seen around the anus. When they get into the stomach, the horse will turn up his upper lip and rub them against the wall or manger.

"International Worm Powder" is positively guaranteed to rid your horse of worms and correct the disordered condition of the system that tends to produce them. If it ever fails your money will be promptly refunded. E. W. Fee, 602-604 South First street. Phone 16.

The Gran Quivira Country.
Tired and dust begrimed from the long drive, the cavalcade dragged into the mouth of Abo pass one evening just as the sun was dropping over the western horizon. Slipping then harness from the jaded horses, supper was postponed by common consent for a few minutes' enjoyment of the scene. Albuquerque can boast of magnificent sunsets, but the view afforded of the western heavens from the eastern divide is one long to be remembered, and the vast stretch of the Rio Grande valley spread out in a great panorama from this point rivals the grand canyon in awe inspiring grandeur.

Near the mouth of Abo canyon lie the ruins of the ancient Gran Quivira, whose mystery has been written and sung in the tales of Coronado and the Spanish conquistadors for centuries, but never solved. Pictures and descriptions of the ruins have been scattered broadcast, but one needs see the ruins himself to grasp their significance. Who these mysterious ancient people were, when and why they founded this settlement, the great mystery of the past, only to be annihilated and deserted, must be questions probably unanswered with those clustering about the ruins of the ancient cliff dwellers. Once an only known that at one time a strong clan of industrious and intelligent people labored here and founded a settlement with immense stone buildings and rock ribbed fortifications, which if destroyed by siege must have been the scene of one of the world's great unrecorded battles.

March on Mountain Top.
From Abo pass the long mesa trail northward was followed, with occasional excursions into the adjacent canyons. At the foot of the mesa, a high, steep, mountain plainly visible from Albuquerque, though forty miles distant, the wagons were discarded and the provisions and equipment loaded on pack horses. The ascent was first made to the top of the peak up the tortuous trail from Lobos canyon. After ten miles strenuous climbing, the top was reached, and the climb rapid by the use of the most interesting scenes to be found even in the wilds of picturesque mountains. On the crest of the mountain, surrounded by a park of pines, a comfortable ranch house owned by a Mr. Rhea, who is well known in Albuquerque, afforded a welcome shelter. The ranch has been here for some ten years, and although hampered by many handicaps, and in the winter often entirely shut in from the world by the deep snow in the canyons, the family have prospered and appear happy and contented in their unique and isolated home. The altitude at this point is between ten and eleven thousand feet, and the ranch is one of the few in the country operated above the ten thousand foot level.

The Tajique Basin.
From the Boca northeast along the great hogback the scene is one of marvelous virgin beauty. Magnificent parks of hundred foot pines, dense groves of oak, sycamore, retreats overhung with blue tinged juniper, and the voluptuous undergrowth of grass and mountain flowers are a constant delight to the eye after days over a desk or counter in the city.

Gradually the trail drops downward into the great Tajique basin, a flat several miles across, rimmed by mountains on all sides, and covered with a dense growth of pines and cedars.

Here at night the tempting call of the wild turkey came wafted down from the pines, and on several occasions deer sprang out from underbrush along the arroyos. Fortunately the party was not equipped for hunting—for mountain wilds with game in view lend a strange fascination even in midsummer. In these deep fastnesses the conscience smoulders and the game warden seems a long way off.

Climbing to the Summit.
From the Tajique basin the trail was taken up the east side of the two great peaks which stand out so prominently on the southeastern horizon from Albuquerque. Insignificant details in the sky line they appear from the city, but to stand at the foot of the sheer rugged climb to their final summit one longs for the fairy of Jack and the bean stalk.

All day the party toiled up the trail, and when night came the sombre peaks still loomed many hundred feet above. Camp was made for the night beneath an immense boulder, and the journey continued before

Twenty Handsome Prizes

A numbered ticket will be exchanged for each and every cash coupon (see below) applied on purchases; but NO PRIZE TICKETS WILL BE ISSUED ON SALES UNLESS CASH COUPONS ARE PRESENTED. SCENE IN FIRST ACT IN "MAYOR OF TOKIO"

"THE MAYOR OF TOKIO," MONDAY, DECEMBER 2

With a record of 200 nights in Chicago and 250 in New York the rollicking new farcical opera, "The Mayor of Tokio" will be the attractions at the Elks Opera House, Monday night.

The book is by Richard Carle and the music by W. F. Peters. The scene of the new opera is laid in Japan and deals with the adventures of a comic opera organization stranded in the Nippon metropolis. Marcus Orlando Kidder, impresario of the luckless troupe is played by John L. Kearney, who was selected by Mr. Carle as being the only comedian in the country whom he felt could follow him in the part. Mr. Kidder and the remnants of his Komiques have arrived in Tokio with sadly depleted treasury and wardrobe. In addition to Kidder himself, all that remains of a troupe that left San Francisco 40 members strong for the tour of the far east, a sour faced wardrobe mistress, a love-sick song-book boy, a sobriety by Shakespearean ambitions and nine little girls called the "Peanut Ballet." At the time of their arrival the Mayor of Tokio is unfortunately entangled in a plot with a Russian spy, Ivan Orfulitch, and General Satake, a conspirator who has entered into an agreement with Ivan to betray important secrets of the Japanese government. The Mayor has the unfortunate habit of talking in his sleep, and Satake persuades him that during one of his somnambulant conversations he has betrayed the secrets which in reality Satake has told to the Russian agent. Furthermore Satake informs the Mayor that unless the latter forces his daughter Otioto to marry the conspirator he will report the mayor's supposed treason to the Mikado, with hard-kari as a result. Otioto, however, falls in love with Julian Lincoln, the tenor in Kidder's company, and with the ardent characteristic of tenors in Japan, Julian returns the maid's affection. Complicating matters to further degree, the mayor mistakes Kidder's Komiques for a royal party of princes and princesses who are momentarily expected in Tokio. Kowtow gives the royal welcome and hands the keys of the City of Tokio to Kidder, who opens the city up and takes the lid off until his identity is discovered and he is thrown in jail. A rich American, father of the tenor, turns up at the right time and with the assistance of his check book everything comes out pleasantly.

"PECK'S BAD BOY" ON SATURDAY NIGHT

The best people laugh loudest at "Peck's Bad Boy" that notably popular farce comedy which has for 20 years reigned supreme in its special field far beyond the envious reach of imitation, comes to the Elks' opera house Saturday evening to again prove that in the drama, as in many other things, he that keeps in closest touch with nature is most likely to shake hands with success. When ex-Governor Geo. W. Peck of Wisconsin wrote the sketches upon which the plant indicated is founded by his exclusive permission, he humorously struck a universal human keynote, to which humanity responded with roars of laughter and applause. Following his lead with equal regard to the requirements of true art, the dramatist also produced a stage masterpiece, and gave the added strength of vitality and individualism to description. The Bad Boy thus doubly introduced and advertised, has proved one of the best cards in the theatrical pack and in all the uncertain fortunes of the business has always turned up as the "joker" in every sense of the word. This season the play has been largely rewritten and rearranged, to admit of the introduction of new comic complications, scenes and surroundings, and special features of a high order, in which even a larger and better company than ever will be seen.

A Reliable Remedy for Croup.
With the dry, cold weather of the early winter months, parents of croupy children should be on the alert for ominous symptoms. There is no cause for anxiety, however, when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is kept in the home. If this medicine is given as soon as child becomes hoarse or even after the croupy cough has appeared, the attack may be warded off. Mrs. S. Rosenthal, of Turner, Michigan, says: "We have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for ourselves and children for several years and like it very much. I think it is the only remedy for croup and can highly recommend it." For sale by all druggists.

Remember we carry a full line of the celebrated Dolgreville felt slippers for men, women and children. They are the daintiest and most comfortable house shoes on the market. Black or colored, plain or with fur trimmings. Prices range from 75c to $1.50. C. May's Shoe Store, 314 West Central avenue.

A Methodist Minister Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
We have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home for seven years, and it has always proved to be a reliable remedy. We have found that it would do more than the manufacturers claim for it. It is especially good for croup and whooping cough.

YAQUI IS FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

Tucson, Ariz., Nov. 28.—"Guilty of murder in the second degree," this was the verdict returned by a jury which had been out all night endeavoring to reach a verdict in the case of Abran Lopez, a Yaqui, charged with murdering one of his fellow tribesmen.

This was the second jury to set on the case, a previous having reported after an all night session that it was unable to agree.

The penalty which can be given Lopez is life imprisonment at hard labor in the penitentiary.

Luna County Commissioners Ask for Bids for New Steel Bridge Over Mimbres River.

Deming, N. M., Nov. 28. (Special).—The county commissioners have called for bids for a steel bridge to be put across the Mimbres river near Deming. The plans and specifications for the proposed bridge are on file at the Probate Clerk's office. Bids will be received up to Jan. 7th, 1908.

Union Thanksgiving services are being held at the Methodist church today. Rev. Wm. Sikes, pastor of the Presbyterian church is the principal speaker.

The lodge of Improved Order of Red Men will give a Thanksgiving ball tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stephens are enjoying a visit from their daughter Marie who has been in Chicago, Ill. Miss Stephens is here to recuperate her health.

Mrs. C. R. Gilbert and sister, Miss Grace Brown have removed from Deming to Albuquerque, N. M., where they will make their future home.

C. I. Brown has sold his beautiful residence to Mr. J. S. Rosborough.

Rev. Wm. Sikes, pastor of the Presbyterian church is enjoying a visit from his mother, Mrs. Mary Walker, of Parsons, Kan.

Mr. C. E. Hearn, one of the prosperous farmers of the Mimbres valley has recently disposed of his valuable farm near town.

The Deming postmaster reports that there has been an increase of nearly twenty-five per cent in the receipts of the postoffice during the past few months over that of the corresponding period last year. This is a substantial proof of the progress of the population and business. Another proof is the remarkable rush in real estate deals and rental property.

COMMON LAW

WILL SMASH

TRUSTS

Colorado Attorney General

Outspoken In Fight

on Octopus.

Denver, Nev. 27.—The doctrine enunciated by former Judge Alton B.

Parker and controverted by President Roosevelt in 1904, that the common law provides all the authority necessary to curb any trust, is being applied in Colorado in a manner similar to the use which District

Attorney John C. Bell, of Philadelphia, made of it a year ago to break up the local ice combine. Colorado has no anti-trust law, yet Attorney-

General Dickinson is proceeding against the State combination of grocers and the local coal trust with as much vigor as any Federal

"trust buster" has shown.

The Attorney-General brought suit against the two combine after there had been prolonged public clamor against the killing of competition and the continual boosting of prices of food and fuel. He has sought injunction against both the organizations to prevent their further operation.

Agreement Made.

"There is an agreement between the coal operators, the retailers and the railroads," said Mr. Dickinson,

"that effectually prevents an independent coal dealer carrying on bu-ness. The grocers' trust likewise has fixed the price of commodities and sworn its members to secrecy. Any man who does not obey orders, he could get no more supplies," the wholesaler in the alleged conspiracy.

The Attorney-General is not asking any imprisonment or fine for the offenses committed; under the law he cannot do that. But if he proves his case and secures the desired im-junction, the process will be enforced by them by fine and imprisonment, for contempt if they are violated. He hopes to get both cases through the courts before the end of January.

In a brief to the Supreme Court in his fight to sustain the law creating the State Railroad Commission, Attorney-General Dickinson discusses theory of Government regulation and issues a remarkable warning to the railroads. In part he says:

"The demand for regulation of those engaged in a public service and giving a public duty is but just and reasonable, it is more than popular clamor. The will of the people is more than an idle phrase. The rights of the Legislature are not imaginary. The constitution is not an instrument intended as a means to evade the eternal principles of right.

Have Endured Much.

The good people of this State have endured much. They may, if compelled to do so, weary along for a time without a railroad commission, or a railroad law; but, as surely as they do, there will come a time when un-reasoning common sense will prevail power, and then the railroads here engaged will be fighting—not reasonable legislation, but confiscation

under the guise of law. May that day never come, but if it does, the reason and the blame will lie with those directing the misguided forces now centered upon the defeat of the present statute.

"We urge that the court erect no artificial barrier to shut off wholesome and reasonable regulation. To do so is but to invite unwholesome

T., a Chickasaw Indian whose tribal name is War Eagle, attended the regular meeting of the Independent Order of Red Men last night at Red Men's hall and addressed the members for half an hour. War Eagle claims the distinction of being the second Indian in the United States to become a practicing physician and also claims the championship in archery in this country.

"My uncle is an official of the Santa Fe and you had better leave me alone or I'll have your star taken from you," was what a well dressed young man said to Santa Fe Officer Field last night when the latter stepped up to prevent trouble between two men. The young fellow resented the action of Field and struck him. Field and his antagonist clinched and then went for one another. Officer Field beat the stylishly dressed stranger into submission and then led him outside the station where the stranger, after explaining matters, was permitted to go.

STATEHOOD MEETING INFORMAL AFFAIR

President Childers Says It Is Not Necessary to Call Meeting of Bernalillo County League.

W. H. Childers, president of the Bernalillo county statehood league, who returned to Albuquerque last night from the south, found several communications at his office from Santa Fe relative to the territory statehood meeting to be held in that city November 30th.

Mr. Childers was also in communication this morning with Governor Curry by long distance telephone.

The meeting at Santa Fe will not be a formal affair and it will not be necessary for the statehood leagues to appoint regular delegates to this convention. All that the governor desires is that as many of the representative men of each community as possible, attend the meeting at Santa Fe.

President Childers stated therefore that he would not call a statehood league meeting but that the members could go individually, as many as can arrange to do so.

President Childers said he had expected to leave the city for the south on legal business, but that he would postpone all else and go to Santa Fe to attend the meeting.

"I think that as many Bernalillo county men as can possibly arrange to do so, should go to Santa Fe," said President Childers. "The notice of the meeting was not soon enough for the assembling of our statehood league and the selection of delegates. The governor, however, stated that such a meeting would not be necessary upon this occasion but he desired that as many Bernalillo county people as possible visit Santa Fe for this meeting."

"I have seen a number of the members of our statehood league and many of them are going to Santa Fe," he said. "I will leave Albuquerque Friday night so as to be on hand early Saturday morning."

"The statehood meeting at the capital is a very vital one. It is non-political and the attendance should be large."

It is probable that there will be a good sized delegation go from here.

NO THANKSGIVING DINNER FOR CITY PRISONERS

Visions of an unusually good Thanksgiving dinner was probably what caused four poorly clad, hungry looking vagrants to fall into the hands of the police last night. But they were doomed to disappointment nothing but "usual fare" was served at the city and county jails.

Garcia Bernardino, Carlos a Navis, Robert Deacon and Salvador Romano were the four offenders. Bernardino was sentenced to ten days and Navis to five days in the city jail. Deacon and Romano were given a few hours in which to get out of town.
