Some residents in Belle Fourche have been forced to move.

DENVER, May 11.—Heavy storms which prevailed in Colorado and western Nebraska yesterday had moved to the west this morning, and violent thunderstorms and high winds were reported in parts of Wyoming, South Dakota and Nebraska.

According to J. M. Shierer, forecaster for the local weather bureau office, the storm center this morning was at Rapid City, South Dakota, where 2½ inches of precipitation was registered accompanied by a severe thunder storm. Thunderstorms were also reported at Valentine and Dodge City, Nebr., and heavy rains at Sheridan, Wyo. The west wind reached a velocity of 46 miles an hour at Cheyenne.

WORST MAY STORM OF HISTORY GRIPS NORTHERN ROCKY MOUNTAIN STATES

DENVER, May 11.—Rocky Mountain states today are in the grip of one of the worst May storms in history.

Damage to fruit crops, danger of loss of livestock and interrupted wire and railroad communications are results of heavy snow and rain fall accompanied by gales.

Tracks of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific, South Dakota, have been washed out and trains stalled, according to reports from Sheridan, Wyo. Telegraph and telephone communication throughout eastern and central Wyoming is broken.

Reports from Durango, Colo., on the western slope, state that the prospective fruit crop in that section may have been damaged. Blossoms froze on the fruit trees when the temperature fell to 19.5 degrees above zero last night.

At Silverton, north of Durango, the snow fall reached a depth of two feet. The weather in that district has now cleared.

Officials of the Colorado and Southern railroad have announced that two passenger and three freight trains are "lost" between Cheyenne and Casper, Wyo. Telegraph wires in this region are also down.

Fair weather is predicted by the weather bureau tonight followed by further freezing temperatures.

Denver and the surrounding territory escaped the storm, only a fall in temperature occurring.

MRS. STILLMAN EXPLAINS LETTERS ON RING OF BEAUVAIS

Trade Stamps of Jewelers, Not His Initials, She Testifies

POLKSBURG, Pa., May 11.—Mrs Anna C. Stillman, under cross examination by lawyers for James A. Stillman, who is suing for divorce today stuck to her story that nothing improper had ever taken place in her experience with Fred Stillman, 32, who is accused by the plaintiff to be the father of young Jim Stillman.

"Did you say Fred Beauvais?" Colonel William Rand, who conducted the cross examination, was reported to have asked Mrs. Stillman.

"I did," she replied. "I am usually paid my servants."

When the cross-examination of the memorandum was made by President Hillman, the convention voted amidst great enthusiasm to authorize its officers to form the company, make an appropriation of $10,000 to defray initial expenses and voted the purchase of $50,000 worth of stock for the union. Ten thousand shares will be sold to workers and others interested in restoring Russian economic life, it was said.

The enterprise is to be co-operative with all earnings over 10 per cent applying to the extension of the project.

The necessary factories, equipment and raw materials will be furnished by the German government, and capital and technical skill is to be supplied by the American company. Control of the management will be vested in a central board, on which both parties will be equally represented.

While in Russia last summer, Mr. Hillman discussed the plan with Nikolai Lenin and said today he was satisfied of its practicability and usefulness.

When the memorandum was read to the members of the executive committee, they voted to accept it.

The reply rejects the proposed triangular system proposed by the Americans for settling the claims of foreigners. This system, it says, is incompatible with the soviet system.

The reply maintains that the preferential rights of Russians proposed to grant former proprietors will make it possible for them to participate in Russia's reconstruction without the usual tribulations.

Foreign Minister Tchitcherina of Soviet Russia personally handed the Russian reply to the memorandum to the Foreign Minister of Italy in the latter's room at the Palazzo Reale. The only other person present was Francesco Giannini, the Italian finance minister.

A friendly conversation of forty-five minutes followed in which M. Tchitcherina stressed the fact the answer had been prepared under direct instructions from Moscow.

After the Russian minister had left, Signor Giannini read the note which consists of 35 pages.

The first part of the note is argumentative, but the second half was reported to be constructive, making proposals dealing with financial questions.

The note it was stated, suggests the appointment of a new special commission by conference to continue the negotiations after the close of the Geneva meeting.

It is believed that the allies will meet either tonight or tomorrow morning to discuss the reply.

Opening Arguments Heard in Trial of Illinois Governor

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 11.—An argument on a demurrer to an indictment accusing United States Senator Ralph H. Cameron, republi-can of Arizona, of perjury was heard here today before Federal Judge Van Fleet. The senator denied in his defense that he had omitted campaign contributions aggregating more than $25,000 from reports covering funds received during the 1920 election campaign.

Attorney H. L. Partridge of Gadsden, Ariz., argued the case to that of Senator Truman H. Newberry of Michigan, whose conviction on a charge of conspiracy while he was in the Senate was upheld by the Supreme Court.

Mr. Partridge pointed out that the Cameron case differs from the Newberry case only in that campaign contributions figures in the Cameron case while campaign expenditures formed the basis of the charges.

When the noon recess was taken, Judge Van Fleet requested Partridge to prepare to cite arguments this afternoon the court asserting that the argument of Mr. Partridge thus far has not served to make matters wholly clear.

Judge Van Fleet said he left California early this morning to attend a trial in the valley of the Mississippi, Illinois and Ohio rivers. At least $2 million dollars is needed, Chairman Payne said.

The appeal has been endorsed by President Harding.

The German general staff according to the memorandum pledged to re-organize the Russian Red and Black Sea fleets and to supply the earliest possible date new airplanes together with a supply of spare parts and 150 wireless stations.

Wedding Cake 50 Years Old Uncut And Still in Use

CHICAGO.—May 11.—There is a wedding cake in Chicago 50 years old, which has done duty at two weddings and one golden wedding anniversary, and although it has never been cut, it is still soft and appetizing in appearance, according to its proprietors.

In 1912 the cake made its first appearance at the wedding of Cyrus H. Sinclair and Miss Mary M. Driscoll at Park Haven, Mich. Mr. Sinclair was then a sailor on the Great Lakes. In his occupation he maintained the tradition of his family, for his father had been a sailor and each of his eight brothers were sailors. His father and mother observed their golden wedding before their death, with their daughter and all their children gathered around them.

Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair presented their wedding cake to their son, R. Sinclair of Chicago, a restaurant manager, and his bride, Miss Laura F. Bacon. The old cake was reforested for the wedding.

This year the older Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair among their guests during the celebration gathered around the cake that had grown to 50 years. Earlier, before he sent it to Port Huron he had it frosted again and decorated. A wreath of golden leaves now encircles the cake while numerals of white and gold record two dates: 1912 and 1962.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. Sinclair see a symbolic significance in the endurance of the wedding cake that has never been cut and has never crumbled, but remains as a memorial to the occasion it was made to celebrate.

RANKIN WARNS OF FLOOD DANGER IN RECLAMATION TALK

Tells What Dam Near Taos Would Mean to Rio Grande Valley

One of the strongest arguments that has ever been presented in behalf of support for reclamation is the flood protection in the middle Rio Grande valley was made in five minutes by Tom J. Rankin, county flood commissioner, at the meeting of the Rotary club at noon today in the Y. M. C. A.

Promising his request that members of the club sign up for memberships in the middle Rio Grande valley association, Mr. Rankin gave a warning against flood damage here.

The people of Albuquerque do not understand what danger they are in," he said. He went on to show that the May 6 flood stage of the Rio Grande had increased from 15,000 cubic feet in 1917 to 150,000 cubic feet in 1922, the river still increasing and will continue to increase because of denuded timbered areas. "The danger will grow worse," he said, "and we must await to the necessity for flood protection."

Mr. Rankin then went on to show that at a cost of $2,000,000 a dam could be built near Taos and at the mouth of the Chama river which would impound most of the flood waters and lower the flood stage by three feet. These dams, he said would make it possible to develop cheap power for pumping and between storage and pumping would eliminate the necessity for costly drainage construction.

The damage done by the floods of 1921, Mr. Rankin said, totalled $25,000, upon conservative figures. The country, he said, had spent $10,000 a year for 28 years for flood protection that does not protect. It is time, he said, to cease throwing the emergency work through the emergency work and get down to the big job of permanent flood protection and reclamation.

Having lost most of his belongings in the fire, he said today that he had decided to close up shop. He said the fire was caused when he was cleaning a coat with gasoline. He believed there were a few matches in the lining of the coat. His hands and face were burned.

SCHOOL AUDITOR
WILL VISIT ALL
COUNTY SEATSNEW SCHEDULE
OF SALARIES FOR TEACHERS URGED

Auditor Would Put Premium on Qualifications and Experience

(Special to The Herald) SANTA FE, May 11.—Beginning May 15, School Auditor John Jorns will visit all county seats in the state to confer with county and city boards of education in regards to their budgets for the 1922-1923 school years.

Mr. Jorns said today it was expected to cut the school expenditures by $1,000,000 under the 1921-1922 budget if no new information is gained last year's first as school auditor; but nothing was to be done to impair the efficiency of the schools and Assistant State School Superintendent Earl Douglass was to accompany him for the purpose of seeing nothing was done likely to encumber the budget.

His suggested salaries in a few typical instances are:

Eighth graduates from $220 to $250.

High school graduates, $350 to $400.

Two-year normal or college students, $450 to $500.

The lowest figures are for those with no experience and the highest for those with five years' experience or more.

Mr. Jorns says:

"The schools are paying less due to inability to furnish the necessary revenue from taxation, other counties are paying more, depending entirely the qualifications of the teacher."

The plan submitted offers some reward for the trained and experienced teacher.

In his place he calls attention to the advice of J. J. Tigert, U. S. commissioner of education here last Saturday.

At meeting held at the High School auditorium in Santa Fe, May 8, Dr. J. J. Tigert, U. S. commissioner of education, declared teachers generally were underpaid and could be picked out in any crowd, and would be that way until they were paid like other people, but deprecating any blanket raises in their salaries which he pointed out, would merely be rewarding incompetency.

"At this meeting a resolution was adopted recommending more stringent educational qualifications for certification of teachers."

"I don't want to go on, on the stand here and say all teachers salaries should be raised," said he.

"Some teachers even now are paid more than they are worth; some are not worth $10; some are damnable."

"At this meeting a resolution was adopted recommending more stringent educational qualifications for certification of teachers."

SOLID FOUNDATIONS

M. R. HERBERT QUICK, an economist and writer of note, recently wrote to the Chamber of Commerce that he proposed to come to Albuquerque in order to discover and tell the rest of the country the reason why Albuquerque has been able to stage a complete recovery of normal conditions, and achieve a building boom ahead of every other city in the United States.

One of the reasons for the quick "come-back" of this city from the period of business depression was adequately set forth in the statements of the five Albuquerque banks published this week and showing their respective conditions as of May 5.

The Albuquerque banks show total deposits of $12,220,544.96. Their total resources are $14,842,573.93.

This is a remarkable banking showing in a city to which the United States census assigns a population of a trifle more than 15,000. It is a per capita bank deposit of $800 for every man, woman and child the census admitted to be living in this city.

Albuquerque's foundations are solid. Its growth has been comparatively slow up to this time. It has been very substantial. It has had the important advantage of conservative financial institutions, wisely administered.

When it was time to shake off business depression and start full speed ahead Albuquerque had no trouble shedding the gloom. There was nothing to stop it and everything to help it. The road bed was firm and in excellent order and there was plenty of power.

Each of the Albuquerque banks shows a substantial gain in deposits over the statement of approximately three months ago. Each of the banks shows a notable gain in the total of its savings deposits.

These increases, considered in connection with the quite extensive building operations under way which are financed almost wholly with local capital, with the single exception of the Alvarado hotel, illustrate convincingly the strong financial position of Albuquerque and furnish one of the reasons why this city was ready to start and did start the crack of the star's signal on the race back to prosperity.

"The Practical Versus the Sunrise; or How I Became a Boss," is in process of being written at Albuquerque. Thus do our idols sadly totter, when they really hadn't a toe.

—Santa Fe New Mexican.

SHOW THEM YOU'RE INTERESTED

SIXTY-ONE track and field athletes from eleven New Mexico high schools are gathering in Albuquerque today for the annual state high school track meet at the University of New Mexico. Preliminaries will be fought out tomorrow on the University field. The finals will occur Saturday afternoon.

For a number of years this annual high school track meet has been held at the State university until the University has established itself as permanent host to the event. There has been a gradually increasing interest in the annual meeting here, as numbers of entries has increased. It has never been an interest such as the event justifies. It has been overlooked and missed by far too many Albuquerque people who are fond of good sport and who at heart are ardent supporters of the University in everything it undertakes whenever their interest can be focused.

The Herald makes the suggestion that everybody who can get away from home and from business Saturday afternoon make the journey to University field to witness the finals of this year's track meet. Let's send these lads, who come from all parts of the state, back to their homes with tangible evidence that the citizens of Albuquerque are interested in the University and everything that happens there. That evidence, scattered through this state, as these boys will scatter, it will be of great value to the University and to this city. It will help to increase the number of students at the University—and that alone justifies a special effort on our part to join in observing this annual event.

There is another reason for going to University field Saturday afternoon. There will be some first rate track and field work done.

The candidacy of the Hon. H. B. Holt continues to grow in strength in unexpected parts of the state, and, as a matter of fact, he seems to be about the only really available man being mentioned for the United States Senate.

—La Cienega Citizen.

We don't know about the unexpected parts of the state, but in the expected parts in and around the Citizens office Mr. Holt is certainly growing in strength and seems, indeed, the only available man. Environment, after all, has its certain and very definite influences.

A THOUGHT

And Jesus said: Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's.—Mark 12:17.

Had religion been a mere chimera, it would long have been extinct; were it susceptible of a definite formula, that formula would long ago have been discovered.—Ernest Renan.

AN ILL WIND

We note with regret that the wind on Tuesday delayed mosquito extermination work, it being stated that it made it impossible to spray oil on the infested waters.

We note with even greater regret that the aforesaid winds, while preventing the spraying of oil, sprayed mosquitoes all over the surrounding landscape.

It's an ill wind, et cetera.

In fact there has been far too much wind mixed up with mosquito extermination, and far too little action.

Mosquitoes breed abundantly under the benign influence of hot air.

Recently we were promised that in the event of certain election results there would be prompt, complete extermination of the mosquitoes. The results evinced.

If the wind blows many more days all the mosquito larvae in our surrounding bogs will have followed their periscopes out into the upper atmosphere and into the benign rays of the Dawn of the New Day.

THE REFEREE

By Albert Apple

DISCOVERY

The dead typhus germs have been discovered and isolated in Moscow by Dr. Krich. Confirmation comes from Eisenmorn, medical head of the American relief expedition in Russia.

The next step will be development of a vaccine or preventive serum. That should be a matter of only a short time. Then typhus will begin vanishing from the earth, like other deadly diseases that now are nearing extinction.

Dr. N. Krich is a woman. She discovered radium. Dr. Krich demonstrates that emancipated woman will run neck-and-neck with man in contributing to progress. There would be more famous women than famous men in history, if men hadn't kept the women in seclusion for thousands of years.

INTUITION

As women become emancipated and get the hang of life, they will demonstrate that the female brain is superior to the male.

Woman has every brain faculty possessed by man, though reasoning sometimes is dormant because women have been isolated from problems and situations that require reasoning. A few generations will strengthen this faculty to par.

In addition, woman has the sixth sense, intuition, in a degree possessed by man. Intuition is the shadow of imagination, the dynamic force behind all new things. It was intuition that prompted Mrs. Eliza Howe to tell her husband to move the needles closer to the sharp end, thus perfecting the sewing machine.

DEATH

Freddie, the former crown prince of Germany, is developing a complex. He wants to visit America and thinks out a better to learn how Yanks take to the idea.

Not much chance of him coming. If he did, it would be prudent to spend most of his time locked in a hotel room. He might meet someone who hadn't forgotten.

On the average, though, Americans are experiment enough probably to be willing to let Freddie see the sights. The average drawn no time to satisfy his curiosity. He hates Sales, but would pay top-prices to see Satan in vaudeville.

ALCOHOL

From the mountains near Hickory, N. C., comes a story of a young fellow, who runs his auto 'on gasoline.' A copper coil makes his fuel as it is needed, exploding the vapor before it condenses into liquid form. He carries a reserve supply.

What will the world call this? It could take the place of smoking? It could be dirt-cheap, for it can be made out of anything from potato peelskins to corncobs, as home brewers have found out.

A big oil company has just bought an inventor's formula for "gasogen." Keep the name in mind. You may lay it later.

SCATTERING

New York learns that its composition of population has been reduced by the subway, which enables city workers to live far out and get back and forth at fast speed.

John Future Hough Ford will go a long step further, marketing a cheap flying flicker.

That day will begin the gradual breaking up of the big cities. They will be reduced to groups of factories and stores. Homes will be in the country, fresh air and plenty of playground for the children.

LIFERS

Cheer up, we aren't the only people supporting a vast army of government employees.

Germany with only half as big a population as America, reports that 1,557,736 are on her national payroll.

That's twice as bad position for life. That wouldn't happen in our country, where the six fatigues of the Civil War, when national elections knock one political party out of power and enthroned another.

It might not be a bad system in principle, however, provided the life-timers were of proper caliber and easily removable by the people if they fell down on their job.

At the time an American public official has been in office long enough to know something about how to handle it, he finds the final curtain falling on him. A few exceptions, like Uncle Joe Cannon and Supreme court justices.

PERMANENT

German government reports it is making rapid progress at erasing all traces of Hitlerism.

China and India are removing marts-of-army and other imperial trade-marks from public buildings and offices. Even the postage stamps are being changed.

In a quiet way, this demonstrates a German desire and intention to remain republican. It is like giving away the clothing of the "dear deserted." Of special interest, people who tour that Germany in shadow-boxing and day in her heart longs for the return of the Hitlerites.

EARNINGS

The Class One railroads during February had net operating income or profits of $47,782,489.

This is shown by reports filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission. It's equivalent to the roads earnings of $187 a year on each $100 of their total valuation.

A considerable time has passed since that valuation figure was fixed. Business men, who have been writing off losses in their inventories, will wonder how much the railroads have depreciated in value during the nation-wide price collapse.

A material depreciation would boost the 4.57 figure announced as the annual earning rate during February.

YELLOW

Chinese armies battle along a 120-mile front. It is not battles, with artilleries and artillery.

No American pays much attention to it, because the Chinese are fighting among themselves. It would be another story if the bullets were coming our way.

It was different 1500 years ago, when an army of 20,000,000 Chinese pushed westward through Europe to be defeated and driven back at the Marne.

That excursion has almost vanished from our histories. But the impression it made on our ancestors will run in our blood as an instinctive fear of the Yellow Peril.

HUDSON-LESTER

In the presence of a few intimate friends and members of the family, Miss Lorna Lester last evening became the bride of Roderick P. Hudston, of Pelham, New York. The marriage service of the Episcopal church was read by Bishop Frederick Bowditch, and an altar of palms and ferns. Miss Lester's dress was white, with a lace collar and a lace hem. The bride's maid of honor was attended by Miss E. B. Sisk. Mrs. Arthur Sisk, Mrs. W. G. Hope, Hugh Conroy, Mrs. J. N. Lester, Father and Dr. and Mrs. Peter Peterson.

CLUB

The Wednesday bridge club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Bahriger, 309 North Thirtieth street, with the general principles established.

There are now 26 such clubs pending before the board, involving 17 railroads and union officials.

The orchestra of the North South Street school will give several numbers and receive enthusiastic applause. It is possible the play will be repeated later.

The play had to do with a typical newspaper office, showing writers, busily at their desks, and the characteristic paraphernalia of a newspaper plant. The role of the editor was played by Miss Dorothy Burchett, who has been the most popular member of the club since its organization.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINSThe Fairy Council

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Story Number 756

The Fairy Queen was waiting for the Twins.

Name and Nick are Twins. Once upon a time the Fairy Queen saw them each a pair of Green Slippers which were magical. These slippers could take the Twins anywhere on the earth or off of it, for that matter.

They could go anywhere in the sky or in Fairyland or in the sea.

They had many wonderful adventures and proved a great joy to the Fairy Queen who looked after them.

They had a lot of fun in Fairyland, where all the most wonderful adventures took place.

They had a lot of fun in the sea, too, but the ocean was not always kind to them.
