ENGINE FOREMAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Flydoor In Car Jars Loose and Knocks Him Down.

El Paso, Texas, Dec. 11.—Engine Foreman McCarthy, of the Santa Fe smelter engine, had a narrow escape from being thrown under the wheels of a moving train Monday afternoon while working near the smelter. McCarthy was manning a cut of cars that were being set out at the smelter and was riding in the doorway of a grain car.

The door of the car, which is fastened back to the inside roof of the car, jarred loose and, striking the foreman on the back, knocked him out of the car and against a building opposite the track.

The space between the building and the track was only a few feet wide and had not McCarthy retained his presence of mind and remained in the position in which he had fallen until the cars had passed him he would have been killed. A slight bruise on the back where the door hit him was the only injury received by the foreman.

SPARKS SAVE ENGINEER'S LIFE.
Cumberland, Md., Dec. 11.—John Weaver, a brakeman on the Somerset Cambria branch of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, owes his life to a sparkplug. While his train stood on a side track near Somerset last Wednesday two sparks flew through the window of the cab of the engine attached to his train, a fast freight. Weaver refused to go further, and P. G. Klump, an extra man, went out in his place.

A few hours later the fast freight collided head on with a coke train. Klump, the man who had taken Weaver's place, and John Pile, the engineer of the same train, were both killed.

The following experiment is being made on the Southern Kansas division of the Santa Fe. A station register has been installed in a coach used on No. 5 and 6 as an experiment. The register is to be manipulated by one of the train crew and shows the next station at which the train will stop so that no one may have an excuse for being caught past their destination. This will, probably get old to the passengers and they will forget to look at the register. Some one had better invent an appliance which could be used for voluntary unloading of passengers, say by the means of electricity.

J. J. Griffin, former brakeman on the Tucson-Yuma division of the Southern Pacific, has brought suit against the company for $10,000, alleging that he was falsely imprisoned on complaint of representatives of the S. P. detective department, says the El Paso Herald. Griffin was arrested and brought up for trial before the United States court at Tucson, charged with burglarizing a box car on the S. P. The case was thrown out of court on the ground that it had no jurisdiction in the case and Brakeman Griffin is seeking redress through the courts for alleged false imprisonment.

The old magneto system of telegraphing that has been in service on the Tucson division of the Southern Pacific has been replaced with the improved Howler phones and the new system is now in working order. Howler instruments have been installed in all of the stations and cabooses on the division so that trainmen can get into communication with the division or telegraph offices at any place along the road.

The two labor organizations of Mexico are to form an alliance. The organizations are the Grand League of Railroaders and the Union of Mexican Mechanics. The details of the alliance have already been arranged, and the effects of the union are expected to be far reaching.

Engineer F. S. Moody, who left for Topeka a week ago last Saturday, was married in Newton, Kansas, Thanksgiving day. It will be nearly a month before the bride and groom will arrive at their home in San Marcial.

INJUNCTION TO BE ARGUED THURSDAY.
Chicago, Ill., Dec. 11.—Judge Ball, in the night court today set Thursday of this week as the time for the hearing of arguments on the dissolution of the injunction obtained by Steuversen Fish, restraining the voting at the annual meeting Dec. 18, of 281,231 shares of Illinois Central stock held by the Union Pacific. The council on both sides have agreed on the date.

THIEVES ENTER A SILVER AVENUE STORE.
Someone broke into the store of J. L. Bell & Co., plumbers 112 West Silver avenue, Tuesday night by smashing the lock on a back door and then by breaking the glass in two intervening doors. After scattering knives and razors and other articles over the floor the marauder departed, taking nothing. The police believe him to be an amateur crackman who lost his nerve when he came face to face with the job. The company's safe contained quite a sum of money.

NEW ARMORY ALLOY WILL RESIST 16-INCH SHELL

Sample of Peruvian Ore Reaches American-Puzzles Plate Makers.

New York, Dec. 11.—A sample of a newly discovered ore that is expected to revolutionize armor-plate construction has arrived at this port in the steamer Planet Venus from Peru. The ore was discovered last spring and the location of the ore beds is kept secret.

Steel manufacturers and their metal chemists have been intensely interested in the new ore ever since the first report of its discovery reached this country. The experiments so far attempted are said to have been highly successful. Used as an alloy, in the manufacture of Harveyized steel, armor has been produced that is practically impervious.

Calculations as to its resisting powers are said to have shown armor makers and armorers that not even a projectile from the big 16-inch coast defense gun at Sandy Hook could penetrate armor constructed with this new alloy.

A Reliable Remedy for Croup.
With the dry, cold weather of the early winter months, parents of croupy children should be on the alert for ominous symptoms. There is no cause for anxiety, however, when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is kept in the home. If this medicine is used as soon as a child becomes hoarse or even after the croupy cough has appeared, the attack may be warded off. Mrs. S. Rosenthal, of Turner, Michigan, says: "We have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for ourselves and children for several years and like it very much. I think it is the only remedy for croup and can highly recommend it." For sale by all druggists.

GOT $500 FROM KANSAS WOMAN

El Dorado, Kan., Dec. 11.—For six weeks Mrs. Fred Meyer of this city carried five $100 bills in her waist during the daytime and hid them in her bed at night, being afraid to put the money in a bank. When she went to get the money it was gone. Mrs. Meyer and her husband slept in the bed room which the money was stolen, and her father and mother slept in the same room. None of them heard anyone at night. It is believed someone saw her looking at the money before retiring, watched where she put it and slipped in and stole it while they all slept.

A Hard Debt to Pay.
"I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be paid off," writes G. S. Clark of Weatfield, Iowa, for my rescue from death, by Dr. King's New Discovery. Both lungs were so seriously affected that death seemed imminent, when I commenced taking New Discovery. The ominous dry, hacking cough quit before the first bottle used, and two more bottles made a complete cure. Nothing has ever equaled New Discovery for coughs, colds and all throat and lung complaints. Guaranteed by all druggists, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

BANK IS SAID TO BE SINGLE CHECK

"Here Is $50,000" Said Klondike Brown of Argentine.

Argentine, Kan., Dec. 11.—"I wish to make a little deposit here," said Joseph C. Brown of Alaska—"Joe" Brown then called him in his home town of Argentine—as he went into the First State Bank of Argentine Saturday afternoon.

J. H. Hocke, assistant cashier, picked up the check Mr. Brown had thrust through the window. "Fifty thousand dollars?" he exclaimed.

"Yes, and I'll double it if necessary," replied the man from the Klondike. "I am standing by this bank and the boys of Argentine."

The First State Bank of Argentine was reorganized and it was Mr. Brown with his money from the northern gold fields stood ready to advance every dollar if necessary. But he was not the only Argentine citizen who stood by the bank and when it reorganized his name did not appear among the board of directors.

A party of Argentine men headed by Mr. Brown made a cash offer Friday for the stock of the bank to Jas. T. Bradley, receiver for the National Bank of Commerce. Mr. Bradley accepted the offer.

R. C. Bank Sold Out.
The National Bank of Commerce owned almost all the $12,000 capital stock of the First State Bank of Argentine. It also held the $12,000 earned surplus and about $12,000 worth of securities, amounting in all to $36,000. When the National Bank of Commerce closed its doors the Argentine bank also closed, but it was able to open the following day.

A meeting was held at the bank and in five minutes all the stock for sale held by the National Bank of Commerce was subscribed for and many who wished to subscribe were turned away. Joseph Brown did not wish to be a director or he would have been chosen.

"This bank will continue in business on the same basis as all the other banks belonging to the Kansas City Clearing House association," said Mr. Hocke last night. "It will have as its correspondent the First National bank of Kansas City."

Joseph C. Brown is the son of Geo. Brown, a farmer living south of Argentine. He spent all the early years of his life in or near Argentine and although he has made a fortune digging gold in Alaska and spends a great deal of his time in the far north, he still calls Argentine his home.

"There was a time in Joe Brown's history when he couldn't have come to the rescue of any bank," said a friend of Mr. Brown's yesterday. "That was back in the early '90s when the old Argentine State bank, then the only banking institution in this city, failed. Joe was in the contracting business at the time and nearly all of his money was tied up in that bank. He was out of a job and out of money but he didn't lose heart. He borrowed a few hundred dollars from his friends here, some of whom are now depositors in the First State bank. The gold fever in Alaska was at its height. He went to Alaska saying to himself, 'If he would come back rich he'll look him all his life. And I guess he kept his word.'"

Mr. Brown spent several years prospecting first in one place, then in another. Dawson at that time was in the height of its glory. Mr. Brown did not stay there long, however, as he did not like the way the city was controlled by the British government. He spent some time in Eagle City. At one time he was mayor of that town. He returned to Argentine, stayed through one winter and went back to the mining gold fields and nearly all of his money was tied up in that bank. He was out of a job and out of money but he didn't lose heart. He borrowed a few hundred dollars from his friends here, some of whom are now depositors in the First State bank. The gold fever in Alaska was at its height. He went to Alaska saying to himself, 'If he would come back rich he'll look him all his life. And I guess he kept his word.'"

A WOMAN'S BACK.
The Aches and Pains Will Disappear If the Advice of This Albuquerque Citizen is Followed.
A woman's back has many aches and pains. Most times 'tis the kidney's fault. Backache is really kidney ache. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it. Wm. Sanguinette, living at 415 N. Sixth st., Albuquerque, N. M., says: "My wife suffered a great deal with pains in her back, which became severe when necessity required even a slight strain on the muscles of the back. If she would sweep she complained of her back aching. Some three years ago she was advised to use Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box. They afforded her quick and genuine relief and from that time on she has appealed to them as occasion might require and always obtained most satisfactory results. We are convinced that there is nothing more effective for disordered kidneys than Doan's Kidney Pills." For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. NEW MEXICO MINES ACTIVE AS USUAL

Money Stringency Makes Some Impression But Not Much.

Silver City, N. M., Dec. 11.—There is considerable activity in the section of New Mexico despite the present low price of copper and the tightness of the money market. While there have been a few shut-downs and some of the larger companies have retrenched by cutting down their forces and curtailing operations, development work has been continued on a majority of the properties.

Kingston.

W. E. Traves, a mining engineer of Cleveland, Ohio, has been spending some time in the Kingston district making investigations for the Standard Oil company. He reports that a number of promising silver veins have been struck of late, which will soon be developed on an extensive scale. There is at present considerable development going on in the district.

Mogollon.

Reports from Mogollon show that work is going on there uninterruptedly despite the financial flurry. The Chance mine and mill is running steadily and a large force of men is at work. The Top mine closed down temporarily for repairs. The shaft on this property is down 200 feet and it is expected that the ore body will be encountered soon.

Hunt Copper Co.

The Hunt Copper Co. has been incorporated in Alamogordo. The mine is located three miles from Mountain Park on the Cloudcroft branch of the E. P. & S. W., and has been shipping ore for some time. Work and shipping is now suspended awaiting the arrival of machinery ordered for the mine. It is stated that sufficient ore has been blocked out to run the machinery a year.

Hillboro.

Gold ore running over $40 a ton has been uncovered at a depth of 125 feet in the Ready Pay mine, near Hillboro, of which John James is the superintendent. Development work on this level was delayed for a long time by reason of a cave-in, but now the timbering has been completed and more rapid work is expected.

The Falcone marble quarries near Deming have been taken over by an incorporated company which will develop them on a commercial basis. The new company is known as the El Paso-Alamogordo Stone company and has a paid up cash capital of $30,000. Onias Hilbert, M. O. Wright and Burt Orndorff of El Paso and C. W. Patterson of Alamogordo are the stockholders. The principal offices of the company will be in El Paso. It is stated that a force of 75 men will be put to work immediately.

Work on the Bean Amalgamated properties, south of Lordsburg, has been shut down. It is expected that the work will be reopened as soon as Col. Bean returns from the coast. The Burro Mountain Copper company recently shipped two carloads of concentrates. While this company has almost suspended operations pending a rise in the copper market, it is doing some development work as well as smelting the ore thus taken out.

REPUBLICANS IN POWER IN TUCSON

Mayor and Every Member of the Council Is Solid for G. O. P.

Tucson, Ariz., Dec. 11.—The Tucson municipal election Monday was a republican triumph. The entire ticket was elected by 300 majority. There are now no democrats in the council.

The election was for the purpose of naming one councilman at large and one each from the first and second wards. Republicans were elected in every instance, thus making the council solidly republican with an endorsement of republican Mayor Slack.

Mayor Slack and a majority of the council were elected a year ago on the republican ticket on a law and order or anti-gambling platform and their record has been such that their choice for aldermen in the vacancies was endorsed by the voters overwhelmingly.

The new company is composed of Leon Mandell, Jacob H. Myer and H. Benjamin. Mr. Mandell was formerly in business here himself, the firm name being the Leon Mandell company. SHIPS ON EVANS' FLEET WILL BE READY TO FIGHT OR FROLIC; MAGAZINES ARE FILLED TO LIMIT; SUPPLIES CROWD DECK

LOADING SUPPLIES AT THE BROOKLYN NAVY YARD

New York, Dec. 11.—Work done at the Brooklyn navy yard during the past two months fully verifies Admiral Evans' statement that when the battleship fleet makes the great cruise to the Pacific it will be prepared for a "fight or a frolic." The program, simple enough in its requirement, but involving a tremendous effort in its fulfillment, was to place the fleet on a war footing. It is being carried out at all the navy yards.

The share of the Brooklyn yard in this task has been to fit out five battleships, repair ship, tender, supply ship and refrigerator ship. To get them ready thousands of men in the big shops and warehouses and at the drydocks have been busy. There has been as much activity on the part of the 5,000 officers and men attached to the ships.

Food, coal and ammunition have, of course, been the big features in the matter of supplies. There wouldn't be any more ammunition aboard if the ships were going straight to war. Every magazine is filled to the limit. Food supplies in boxes and barrels not only crowd the space usually set apart for that purpose, but there is an overflow on deck.

Everyone of the ships has been in drydock, where marine growths have been removed from the hulls and coats of paint applied. The machinery has been overhauled and made as good as new. Torpedo tubes have been added to those already installed in the ships.

An interesting feature of the equipment has been the installation of wireless telephones. A new and more efficient system for controlling the firing of the guns has been placed on each of the ships.

The Panther has been converted into a floating machine shop. The refrigerator ship Glacier has been given a full cargo of fresh meat and the Culgoa laden with supplies.

KANSAS CITY MAKES CHARGE AGAINST HITCHCOCK

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—Kansas Cityans today blamed much of their defeat on Frank H. Hitchcock, assistant postmaster general, who, they claim, represents Secretary Cortelyou's candidacy for the presidency. Mr. Hitchcock has been very active for the past year, securing here and there all over the country, and working especially in the south. He has been supposed to have been working in the interest of president Roosevelt but the Kansas Cityans and others today refused to credit his efforts to any one else than Cortelyou's interests.

Cortelyou Told to Get Busy.

It is learned on high authority that, hearing of the activity of Mr. Hitchcock among the members of the national committee, especially those from southern states, Senator Crane of Massachusetts, a member of the committee, went to Secretary Cortelyou Friday and told him if he had any interest in where the convention was to go, to get busy for Chicago. Mr. Cortelyou would not admit today that there was any truth in the story, but the visit of Senator Crane and the appearance in the executive committee meeting of Mr. Hitchcock, who could not be pried loose from the Southern members Friday, and up to the time the committee met yesterday, and the voting of the southern members of the committee for Chicago, were easily connected by persons who knew of the visit.

Proof of His Candidacy.

The effect of this incident is to furnish proof that Mr. Cortelyou is himself a candidate, and has an active organization at work in his behalf. Mr. Hitchcock makes short trips out of Washington every few days, and is said to be holding regular conferences at the Manhattan hotel in New York with tried Cortelyou lieutenants and active politicians, planning to capture the New York state delegation.

"STATEHOOD FOR NEW MEXICO"

No Need to Fight

What's the use of a war with Japan? In the words of the southern poet, "Dey ain't no use." What's the use of a Hague conference—again, "Dey ain't no use." Such little matters as international squabbles with Japan can be far more easily settled. If we really must fight with Japan; if Aoki is going home to complete the sinister arrangements; if Nippon intends to fall upon our unsuspecting squadron in the straits of Magellan; if the proud heart of the Samurai is bursting to erupt over the smiling face of that polite nation; if there's nothing to it, after all, but a desperate conflict—why not settle it by a base ball game.

Next to ourselves, Japan is most civilized of nations. Japan alone has shown an aptitude for our national game. The dark recesses of the diamond's strategy present no insuperable difficulty to the Nipponese intelligence. Did not a picked nine from Tokio or Nagasaki or Fushiyama or somewhere or other defeat the very flower of an American battleship crew only a little while ago?

War is more than ever what the redoubtable general said it was. Should the worst come to the worst with European nations, there might be no alternative. They still believe in cricket and golf and rowing and skat and a brand of foot ball which employs the feet only. They have refused to be enlightened by us as Japan has. They have consistently repudiated the greatest boon to civilization.

An international base ball game to settle such vexed issues as those of immigration and mutual relations would adjust the entire matter without either delay or bloodshed. Besides, it would be less expensive. The only danger would be that which might arise from hard feelings, and in that case it would be easy to take it out on the umpire.

May we commend this to congress, or must Ambassador Aoki take the initiative?

It Looks Good

It looks good to see dozens of loads of alfalfa on the streets of Albuquerque every day in the week. It looks good to see the prices that alfalfa brings; it looks good to see farm produce of all kinds being sold in Albuquerque and consumed in Albuquerque particularly when it was raised within ten miles of Albuquerque up and down the Rio Grande valley; it looks good to see the biggest Christmas displays our merchants have ever made; it looks good to see the local stores and shops crowded all day long; it looks good to see the loads of Christmas presents that are being sent "back east" bought with Albuquerque money in Albuquerque; it looks good to see our streets filled with well dressed and well fed women and children, the families of busy men; it looks good to see our citizens working overtime to entertain the big commercial congress; it looks good to see that twenty men from this city alone have volunteered to visit Washington in behalf of statehood; it looks good to see real money passing over the counters of our merchants and our banks when the east is using certificates; it looks good to see the big American Lumber company running full force, and the other industries of which we boast, asking for employees; it looks good to see hundreds of people arriving on each incoming train to spend the winter in the best climate on earth; it looks good to see more automobiles in Albuquerque than any city in the southwest; it looks good just to see Albuquerque any old day in the year, but particularly right now at holiday time when she looks better than ever.

It is a wise country that keeps its citizens well employed at home. Every country owes it to the people to give them employment within the confines of its own territory and when a country gets so that it can no longer do so there is something radically wrong with its social system. Therefore in aiding in passing an exclusion act against Japanese coolie labor, Japan would only be working towards her own social good if at home she adjusts conditions so as to care for her own people. So long as this country can promise openings to her young men she will never lack for blood, brains or brains in an emergency. When she can no longer provide for them, her days of tribulation are at hand.

Judge Parker, who has sentenced nearly every saloon keeper in Socorro county to pay a small fine for violating the Sunday law, evidently believes that they need a more practical lesson than a mere lecture. He backed up the fine with the statement that he would impose the jail sentence hereafter. If the saloon keepers of Socorro county have been violating the law, Judge Parker ought to give them about one day of the Sunday law as it was recently enforced in this city. Too much of a good thing is often needed to teach some people to let well enough alone. The saloon keepers of Socorro county got off easy and they ought to appreciate it.

In sending Funston to Goldfield the war department has made a bitter mistake. In the Philippines Funston was all right. But how on earth can he achieve more glory when there isn't anything to swim across but a few hundred miles of trackless desert and not a rice swamp within two thousand miles? It's a shame.

An Illinois farmer is complaining and not without reason, that he could not get a farm hand for love nor money to help shuck corn. Finally his wife agreed to help him if he would give her a silk gown for Christmas. Thus are women's rights battling down all good old precedents.

Chauncey Depew says that five years ago, when he was Weston's age, he could have duplicated his walk from Maine to Chicago. And he said it just as cheerfully as if he expected some one to believe it.

After Jeffries has given out about a thousand more interviews to the effect that he has left the ring for good, perhaps the California papers will take it for granted and employ a few more sporting editors.

Chicago is now thinking of going after the democratic national convention. It already has the republican convention. Why not hold a joint session and let Roosevelt and Bryan fight it out.

St. Louis is just tickled to death that Kansas City did not land the republican national convention. St. Louis is not jealous, but just a little unneighborly.

A Brooklyn man has lived thirty years alone with nothing but the memory of the girl who died a few days before she was to have married him. If they only married and she had then died—

The United States ought to send an exhibit of battleships to Japan for its share of the Japanese exposition. The effect would be both conciliatory and instructive.

The United States has an army officer in Germany studying how to sail war balloons. Why not let the officers sail instead of ride as the president suggests.

Bryan approves of the greater part of the president's message. This is saying a whole lot when one considers the length of that message.

The International Sanitary commission wants to change the name of malaria to mosquito fever. Nature faking again!

What an awful flock of doves of peace this country will have to have in order to perch one on every battleship.

Delaware has now come to the front with a favorite son. The more the merrier.

The San Francisco graft news is getting to be about as stale as the Thaw trial.

LOOKING FOR A GOOD TIME?

There are about as many conceptions as to what constitutes a "good time" as there are individuals, but there is one place in New Mexico, not very far from Albuquerque, where 99 out of every 100 people find what they are looking for. That place is the Valley Ranch, at Pecos, New Mexico. Fresh country produce in abundance, horses to ride or drive, dogs, guns, traps, tackle, all at your disposal. The finest hunting and fishing in the territory. You can live in a house, a cabin or a tent, and come and go as you please. You'll find plenty of company there, agreeable and refined, if you are sociably inclined, a favorite resort for ladies. Conditions ideal for recuperating, reading, hunting or loafing. You CAN'T SPEND MORE THAN NINE DOLLARS A WEEK ANY WAY YOU FIX IT. Inquire at The Citizen Office for further particulars, or address The Valley Ranch.

No other food deteriorates so rapidly as the Oyster. Its habitat is the ocean. It requires coolness and absolute freedom from exposure to the air in order to retain its delicate flavor and its wholesomeness. SEALSHIP OYSTERS are brought direct to us from the choicest beds of America. They are shucked into porcelain cases, sealed and packed in ice, which never comes in contact with the oysters. The use of the Sealship carrier is the secret of their superiority.

ORCHARD IS PUT ON WITNESS STAND IN PETTIBONE TRIAL

Told Court That Defendant Said He Shipped Guns in Piano Boxes.

Boise, Idaho, Dec. 11.—The announcement that Orchard would be called as a witness in the Pettibone trial this morning caused the presence of many spectators. He was dressed in a business suit and his general appearance showed little change since the Haywood trial. He was perfectly composed and answered questions quickly. The early life of Orchard in Canada was touched upon briefly. He then told of his later life in this country and of the joining of the union, and narrated many of the events leading up to the tragedy of April 29, 1899, when the Bunker and Sullivan mills were blown up. Pettibone's name was brought into the testimony for the first time. When Orchard said the defendant told him in 1904 that the guns used in 1899 riots were shipped by him in piano boxes from Denver. As Orchard testified Pettibone and Meyer watched him closely, but he merely glanced in their direction. The killing of Beck and McCormack in the Victor mine by a bomb which Orchard said he and Billy Alkman placed there for the purpose of killing of non-union men, was detailed by the witness. Before he concluded the narration the noon recess was taken.

Orchard confessed again. Orchard said he was one of the men who took possession of a train and went to Wardner and that he touched off one of the boxes of dynamite which blew the mill to pieces. He told of the calling of troops and the exodus from the district, witness himself going to Butte, thence to Utah and in 1901 to the Snake River. When the strike was called in August, 1902 he walked out with the others. He testified that W. F. Davis a member of the strike committee, asked him to blow up the mine, while the non-union men were in it and he consented.

CRISIS IS REACHED AT GOLDFIELD, NEV.

Mine Owners Urge Martial Law—Violence Is Feared—Strike-breakers Ready.

Goldfield, Nev., Dec. 11.—Governor Sparks and Col. Reynolds, who is in command of the troops here, held a conference this morning and separated without deciding the matter of declaring martial law.

It appears that the mine owners are strongly urging the governor to take this step before the arrival of General Funston on Thursday.

The governor and the colonel will discuss the matter again this afternoon. Reynolds was shown one worth about $20 a pound, which was taken from "high graders" arrested last night. He said he would like to stop such outrages, but was unwilling to take a decisive step until the arrival of Funston.

The Mine Owners association still asserts that mines will be opened tomorrow morning and that they have men engaged to work them. The effort to have martial law declared today is for the purpose of allowing troops to patrol the mines and to search for concealed arms and ammunition which is alleged to be held by strikers in various places. They fear that attempts to destroy machinery and power wires or the water supply works will be made to night when the strikers take charge. On the other hand the union men say there will be no violence nor destruction of property. Captain Swain of the Third Cavalry, was left for California to be ready to bring 500 miners here on short notice.

The men secured are mostly lead miners from Joplin, Mo., who have been strikebreakers in Idaho and California and can be brought here in two days' time.

STATE PROVING STRONG

CASE AGAINST CALEB POWERS

A—He asked me never to say anything about the conversation we had had.

Bought Smokeless Powder. Among the witnesses yesterday was Henry E. Youtsey, who is now serving a life sentence for complicity in the assassination of Goebel.

He told of a conversation with Dr. W. Johnson as to the killing of Goebel and of the purchase by Youtsey of smokeless cartridges in Cincinnati. He said before the cartridges were bought Johnson could shoot Goebel from the secretary of state's window.

Youtsey detailed the events leading to the tragedy and the preparations which he had arranged for the shooting. It was Youtsey who met James Howard, who is alleged to have done the shooting, upon his arrival in Frankfort. Youtsey told of placing guns in Powers' office, raising the window and drawing the curtain to the window, of pointing out Goebel as he approached the capitol and seeing Howard aim at his victim. He then left the room and heard the crack of the rifle as he was descending the stairs. The witness connected Powers directly with the tragedy by stating that he fixed the door for the entrance of the assassin and approved of the plan. Youtsey also said former Governor Taylor dictated a letter to him asking Howard to come to Frankfort to "do the job."

Youtsey testified that Taylor stated he would give $1,500 a pardon and a military escort to the mountains to the man who would kill Goebel.

Youtsey identified the original affidavits which he gave Powers while both were in the Louisville jail, in which Youtsey made oath that he knew nothing against Powers to connect him in any way with the assassination of Goebel. The affidavits, the witness stated, were given to Powers at his request for the purpose of getting Powers a new trial as his case was then pending in the court of appeals. An agreement purporting to have been given Youtsey by Powers in exchange for the affidavit was also put in evidence.

The agreement was to the effect that the affidavit made by Youtsey for Powers should not be made public and should be returned to Youtsey in fifteen days. Youtsey stated that he knew when he made the statements sworn to in the affidavit that they were false and Powers knew it, too, but Powers said he must have it to get a new hearing. He said Powers wrote the agreement.

INSTANT DEATH FATE OF ARTHUR COLEMAN

Was Alone When Accident Occurred—Full Current of Large Lightning Passed Through His Body.

A. D. Coleman, the electrician, was killed instantly at Kinsley, Kan., last Friday, according to the following dispatch:

A. D. Coleman, proprietor of the electric light plant in this place, was almost instantly killed at the plant Saturday evening. He was alone at the plant when the accident occurred. The lights went out, and his assistant ran to the plant and found Mr. Coleman dead. A contact with some portion of the machinery had caused the full force of the current to pass through his body.

MARMON SAYS THINGS

ARE DOING AT LAGUNA

R. O. Marmon, assistant manager for Gunn Bros., the general merchants at Laguna, is in town purchasing holiday goods for his concern. He reports a prosperous year at the Pueblo and says that no effects of the recent financial disturbance have been felt there. Among late developments is the importation of a self-binding and reaping machine which has been sent in by the United States government and in the use of which the Indians are now being instructed by the government farmer, R. W. Cassidy. There are thirty-five pupils in constant attendance in the day school at Laguna and they are now engaged in active preparation for the usual Christmas festivities.

A LETTER FROM HAWLEY ON THE CORNER

There's no use talking, a "Kodak Record" is the most authentic record of places and events that you can keep. No matter if you have the gift of an Irving, your word picture will not measure up in fidelity to a kodak picture. And then think of the fun of it.

Some one, enthusiastic in his praise of the Eastman kodak, has said, "If it isn't an Eastman, it isn't a kodak." Now we have the finest lot of Eastman's in the city, and we suggest that you try one for a Christmas gift. The time has passed when a nicely padded edition of one of the poets—no matter which—or a gilt framed picture—no matter what—will satisfy. Your friend wants a change, and I don't blame him.

Try him, or her, on a kodak. Don't forget that we rent kodaks to those who do not possess them, and we will finish up and mount the pictures artistically after you have taken them. Call around and look us over—and the kodaks.

NAVAJO RENEGADES IN DURANCE VILE

Capt. Harry O. Willard and three troopers of the Fifth cavalry, Fort Wingate, N. M., were in Albuquerque today en route from Fort Huachuca, Ariz., where they left Bysallie, the bad Navajo medicine man, and eight of his companions renegades.
Bysallie and his companions were captured near Aneth on the Navajo reservation October 28 by Capt. Willard and Lieut. Ross Warren and Troops I and K of the Fifth cavalry.
The old Indian did not attempt to escape once on his long ride to Fort Huachuca.
Bysallie and his companions were sentenced to indefinite terms in the military prison for attempting to incite an uprising among their tribesmen.

DRAG NET IS THROWN OUT TO CATCH BURGLARS

All Suspects Will Be Given a Sweating-Places Burglarized Last Week.

Aroused by the frequency of petty burglaries in the downtown business district in the last week the police have thrown out the drag net for hoboes and suspicious characters in general who will come in for an official quizzing when rounded up to see if they know anything of the recent thefts.

The police believe it to be the work of green hands, probably boys, for after breaking into several places they lost nerve or were frightened away after turning things topsy turvy and taking nothing of value.

Places burglarized last week were
as follows:

Wagner Hardware company, 321, 323 West Central avenue, $15 in cash and razors and pocket knives.

French Bakery, 206 East Central avenue, small tin front cash drawer
and articles from counter.

J. L. Bell company, 122 West Gold avenue, pocket knives and razors.

No clues were left by the burglars and the police have only the theory that the thieves are young and green hands at the business to work on.
The ones who broke into Wagner's hardware store spent a laborious hour boring holes and the pane of a back door before they tore it out to gain an entrance.

Last night officers made the rounds of basements and hallways where hoboes and runaways are have been in the habit of sleeping, looking for suspicious characters.
The police will continue the round-up until some clue is discovered or suspects captured.

"WAY DOWN EAST" FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

The success which has attended this rural drama as produced by William A. Brady, elaborated and staged by Joe H. Grimmer, would have been of a phenomenal nature under any circumstances, but considering the number of years the piece has been before the public, it is positively astonishing, of course, it is true the plays modeled closely after nature, have a lease on life that is not characteristic of less faithfully drawn works for while one may admire the complex situation and sharp wit of a modern society comedy, it is the simple episode of heart penetrating power that is carried home and remembered.

The environment in which the characters of Way Down East live and move and have their being also is of a nature to cause many a country-bred man and woman to mount the steed of memory, and go galloping through the years to the well liked scenes of their childhood. The story of the Squier's home on a summer's day, with a view of the rolling meadow lands, and of the road along which pass the various people of the drama, is tempting in its atmosphere of homeliness and hospitality, so too are the "Settin' room," and the kitchen in which Mrs. Bartlett's friends take refuge from a driving storm, and sit down to supper before a roaring fire.
The sugar shed in the forest next shown is an appropriate surrounding for the denouement of the play.
The village choir singing the old songs completes the picture in as perfect a manner as of yore. At the Elks' opera house Friday and Saturday.

NEW COMBINATION OF IRON POUNDERS

W. H. Smith and C. J. Frank, who heretofore conducted the blacksmith and horse shoeing shop on North Corte, have recently disposed of their partnership. Mr. Smith interests in the business and leasing
the property to his former partner, Mr. Frank, who will continue at the old stand.

Mr. Smith has entered into a new alliance with "Tony" Ortiz, and together they will run the shop connected with the Albuquerque Carriage company on North First street.
All three men concerned in the transaction are top notch hoof pounders, well known to all the horse owners in this vicinity. The Albuquerque Carriage company shop is disposed to none in the territory, being equipped with electric power, and operating a first class wagon maker's shop in connection. On the other hand, Mr. Frank's shop has installed a special rigging for the shoeing of refractory horses, also said to be the only one in use in New Mexico. No matter which place you take your horse, you can rest assured that his shoes will go on right, and his feet stay good.

RUTHLESS CUTTING OF CHRISTMAS TREES STOPPED

But Forestry Officials Allow Individuals to Secure
One Each.

There will be no more indiscriminate cutting of young pine for Christmas trees, as a result of the rules of the forest service. Persons desiring pines for private use may go to a forest reserve and cut a Christmas tree but no one will be permitted to haul them away in wagon loads as has been done in the past and retail them or ship them east to dealers.

The only manner in which Christmas trees can be secured for use in wholesale quantities is for the persons desiring them to secure permits from the forestry officials and cut the trees
under the supervision of a forest ranger.

In addition, a small charge will be made for such trees. As a result of establishment of national forests in this vicinity, there has been a shortage of Christmas trees on the local markets. Several merchants, however, have secured permits and will bring in small pines under the directions of the ranger.

A number of men, who have made Christmas pin money by bringing in Christmas trees heretofore, will not be able to do so this year. Private families, however, may send to the forests for trees as before provided they are using the trees only for themselves and do not intend to sell them.

The rangers in directing the cutting of Christmas trees, see that they are taken where the trees are naturally too thick and so it does not harm to thin them out.

Previously, however, the tree gatherers, cut young pines indiscrimi-nately taking thousands of fine pines that were needed where they were growing.

Local forestry officials say there is no disposition on the part of the bureau to deprive any one of the historic Christmas tree and that any one may secure one tree.

The only ones affected by the order are the people who formerly sold Christmas trees in Albuquerque and shipped them out by the car load to eastern points thereby realizing a nice profit.

A charge of some five or ten cents apiece for trees will probably be made in such cases.

The Bureau of Forestry believes that it is justified in protecting the forests against such onslaughts by enforcing the cutting of such trees under ranger supervision.

SCOTTISH HIGHLANDERS AND OTHERS AT CRYSTAL

Nothing of its particular kind that has ever appeared here, not excepting the Klites, is quite as clever as the Scottish dancing and bag-pipe playing of the Three Macs, headliners at the vaudeville house this week.
All three are excellent. The little girl is a wonderful dancer. The imagination, executing the salt-hop, Irish jig, Irish clog and reel, and Scotch reel with as much respect for detail as a Scottish prize dancer. Mr. Bruce, one of the trio, does the national sword dance as it has but seldom been done on this side of the water. The other brother, Mr. Angus, all covered with medals, has won at some hundred or more contests in the "Auld Country," does the bag-piping for the brother and sister, and it is on a par with the dancing of the others.

One of the most delightful selections on this rare instrument is "Marching Thro' Georgia," which occasioned a storm of applause last night. The Three Macs will be at the Crystal until Sunday night. The strains of the bag-pipe will, undoubtedly, penetrate all over this vicinity and draw out every clan and clanman in it.

Other equally clever numbers fill out the program, notably the nimble dancing, singing and banjo playing of Oreo L. Goodhue, who opens the show.

Martino, a flying ring performer and gymnast, does good work and adds to the general applause.
Joe Scott sings a good picture ballad, and "Stage Struck" is no slouch of a comic moving picture.
A comedy team, Sherman and Fuller, who were to have appeared upon this bill also got lost in the shuffle some way or other and have not showed up as yet. If they do and when they do the management promises to put them on.

McINTOSH IS NOW CENTER OF NEW LIFE

Estancia Valley's Latest Town is Growing Rapidly--The Old Sheep Raising Regime is Retreating in the Face of Agricultural Development--Contrast Between the Old and New Eras Greatest at this Point--Interesting Life of the Earliest Pioneer.

When the invasion of the Estancia valley by an agricultural army began some three years ago the main point of attack was in the neighborhood of the city of Estancia, then as now the capital of Torrance county. The ever increasing body of homesteaders in obedience to the law that makes men seek association with their kind together with the influence of the Santa Fe Central railroad exerted in the interest of a townsite under its own control were largely responsible for this fact. At that time many imagined that the little settlement there established would end the influx and that beyond the taking of the nearby claims there would be no important attempt made toward farming the valley at large. This forecast, however, proved fallacious, and the early comers found that like that of so many successful business men in the face of opposition and difficulty. For years now he has ranked as one of the conspicuously successful men in New Mexico's leading business of sheep raising, and he has also shared in fullest measure in the affairs of the territory at large. The Cuevitas or Homestead ranch, where he lives, comprises not only his residence but also a collection of buildings devoted to the various branches of the great industry over which he exercises control and view from the settlement which bears his name. It gives one more the impression of a small village than of a private establishment.

AN INTERESTING CAREER.
Mr. McIntosh is the second of three brothers who came to America in search of fortune from Inverness, Cinaglio ranch and endeavored in other ways to harass the occupation in which he had embarked. The period immediately following, during which the Wilson bill was operating, also was a dark one, wool at one time sinking to the prohibitive figure of 4 cents per pound. These days required patience and faith in large measure and these characteristics inherited from his vigorous Scotch ancestry, gave Mr. McIntosh the victory and his subsequent success. Any attempt on the part of the writer to assemble in detail the interests in which he is involved or the enterprises both philanthropic and charitable, toward the making of which he has contributed would be superfluous in a community where he is known so well. Sufficient he it to record that starting from the scratch with neither handicap nor allowance of any kind, in the face of resistance and hardship he has forged ahead till large areas of the Estancia valley's most fertile soil stand upon the county records under his own right; valuable city real estate in his possession and his name is prominent in many of the territory's most important financial and commercial institutions. In the midst of his success he has never lost sight of his old home and he has covered the 10,000 miles required for the round trip four times since he first left it. As a result of his American pilgrimage others of his race and acquaintance have also found their way here prominent among whom are the McGilvray brothers, the Frasers, the Dunbars, and about six years ago Donald McLean, who now acts as foreman of the McIntosh ranches, came also. These men have all been successful and are well known throughout the Estancia valley. In spite of his thirty-six years of industry and struggle in the country of his adoption, Mr. McIntosh is still in the prime of life and now that fortune has smiled upon him and he is at least so far as material possession is concerned, he sees directly beneath his home the advent of a new regime, the invasion of the broad scene by an ever increasing number of plowmen, who, though they threaten greatly to curtail the business in which he is embarked, he greets with all the kindly feeling of a generous and hospitable nature. Their new settlement bears his name and some day in the future, perhaps it may be sooner than the most optimistic of its present inhabitants expect, the little town will have assumed the greater proportions and activities of actual city life and then and for years after he has left the scene, it will stand a constant reminder of the McIntosh era in the Estancia valley.

TOWN AND SUBURBOUNDS.

Standing on the knoll now occupied in part by the buildings of the Cuevitas ranch, and looking through the excellent field glass of the owner one may by starting with Willard, twenty miles to the south, and slowly describing a complete circle obtain a panoramic view of the country from which he will gain a realizing idea of the extent to which the valley has been settled up. The act of turning from one point of the compass to the other gives all the effect of a moving picture and while the constantly unfolding procession of shacks and ranch houses will in spite of all that he has heard surprise him greatly, he will hardly conclude that the area of ground which has been already included by homesteaders in the Estancia plain is something in the neighborhood of 750 square miles. The soil upon which this settlement, already including some 10,000 people, has been planted, ranges all the way they were merely the skirmish line in a great movement which was not to terminate till every available claim and every tillable acre in the entire valley had passed from the control of the federal government into that of the individual owner. In less than two years, to put it roughly, the road land open for settlement in the section between Estancia and Willard was dotted with shacks and tent houses and the vanguard was moving on its way to the north, overtaking with great rapidity the scattered claims which had been here and there taken up by the knowing ones ahead of the crowd. Just now the center of the advance is at a point some three miles north of Stanley with the right wing resting eight miles to the east and the left seven miles to the west in the direction of San Pedro. In all, the homesteaders have covered an area of ground about forty-one miles in length with an average width of twenty miles beside which they have brought into being five em. to cities, all of them being already important and before whose doors the future stretches in all the fullness of promise. The names of these towns from south to north are Willard, Estancia, McIntosh, Moriarty and Stanley and it is with the third mentioned of McIntosh and its environs that this article is mainly concerned.

Interior of Wool House at Cuevitas, the Homestead Ranch of Wm. McIntosh. This scene typifies a phase of life now rapidly disappearing from the Estancia Valley.

NEW LIFE AND OLD IN CONTRAST

The town of McIntosh lies nearly at the center of the new life which has so suddenly established itself in the surrounding valley and while it is not the largest of the five Estancia towns in population it is destined to continuous growth for the reason that it is surrounded on all sides by the banner soil of the valley and because it is the logical location for industries based upon the products of the ground itself and which naturally follow in the wake of any far-reaching agricultural development. One cannot help but think of this as he views the increasing tide of homesteaders pressing upon him from all directions and places the new life of the valley in contrast with that which prevailed but a few years since and the capital of which was at this very point. In fact, the name of this new town is suggestive of the old sheep raising life of the Estancia plains, for it is derived from one of New Mexico's most successful shepherds, Wm. McIntosh, whose homestead ranch is within three-quarters of a mile of the townsite and who still resides here.

Mr. McIntosh has been on or near this ground continuously since 1877, at which time he established himself at the Cinaglio ranch two miles west of the town. He is now the earliest pioneer of the Estancia valley and his life furnishes one of the romances of territorial history, in the making of which he has borne a conspicuous part. Its outline cannot fail to interest those who are not familiar with it and for that reason and because it is a natural part of the story of the new town it is inserted here. Mr. McIntosh began his life humbly as the son of a Scottish farmer and his way to the front has been made

he tried his hand with the Blackhawk smelter in Colorado. In 1877, he decided on coming to New Mexico, and with that end in view purchased a claim on the west of the Rio Grande river, and Mr. McIntosh soon left for the Estancia valley, where he initiated the sheep industry, which has since grown to mammoth proportions. From the start the undertaking met with success, though many difficulties interposed themselves from time to time, and he often was obliged to contend vigorously for its existence. One of the darkest periods for him was during the life of the Two Circle Cattle Company beginning in 1883 and lasting for the following ten years when the Whitneys drove him from the

from a chocolate to a red sandy loam washed down from surrounding mountain slopes through countless centuries, and the water which every where underlies the valley at a distance of from four to one hundred and fifty feet, is its natural accompaniment. The picture is framed on every side by mountain ranges, assuring perpetuity of condition through reinforcement of both elements and which in addition affords the new community with ample opportunity for recreation, and also with a cheap and convenient supply of fuel and timber for construction purposes. The crops so far raised here include spring and winter wheat, oats, corn, cane, rye, millet and alfalfa. Vegetables and garden truck of all kinds have reached extraordinary size and quality. Sugar beets have been raised here testing 17.79 per cent saccharine matter. Melons, turnips, cabbages, potatoes, carrots, beets and, in fact, all varieties of vegetable production thrive, and the valley has found no difficulty in carrying away most of the premiums

Wm. McIntosh, Earliest of Estancia's Pioneers.

In this line at recent territorial fairs, twenty-eight out of thirty-six premiums coming here from that of the present year. Mexican beans on sod without cultivation have yielded an income of from $20 to $30 per acre. Messrs. W. R. Brunner and Charles McLain, two farmers residing within two miles of McIntosh, have recently imported for use here a Reeves 25-horsepower steam plow with two gangs of six 14-inch disks, with which they also simultaneously harrowed. The capacity of this plow is from 20 to 30 acres daily, and it is the second to be installed in the valley. The machine has already proved its usefulness also in the line of road building. Its advent is only one of many signs indicating the passage of the earlier period of speculation, and the close advance of an era of permanent improvement.

COMMUNITY STATISTICS.

The altitude of McIntosh is about 6,000 feet and the climate leaves little to be desired. With the entire territory it shares the reputation of being a natural sanitarium for weak throats and lungs, and many of those already on the ground are its beneficiaries. Two much cannot be said for it in this line and yet little need be said because the healing properties of New Mexican air and sunshine are known the world over. The town already contains two general stores, a combination hardware and grocery store, two real estate offices, two hotels, a new depot, now rapidly approaching completion; a sample Estancia plain a flour and feed store, a lumber yard, a barber shop, a blacksmith shop and a livery stable. A sugar beet establishment is one of the things now talked of and the prospect for which is good. Church services, a Union Sunday school, and public meetings of all kinds are at present held in the school building, and it can justly be said of the little community that it is one of the most progressive and congenial in the valley. Through its location on the line of the Santa Fe Central its communication with all points of the country through the lines of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad at Kennedy on the north, and Willard on the south, also by way of the Rock Island System, which joins the Santa Fe Central at Torrance on the south. It has telegraph and telephone service and is also on the line of the automobile line between Willard and Albuquerque. The water is of the highest grade for domestic purposes surpassing in quality that of most of the valley.

The Estancia Valley Townsite and Development Company is the owner of the ground upon which McIntosh stands, and its promoters, Messrs. Thomas Elliott and R. A. Thompson, of Wichita, Kansas, and A. H. Bromselsk, secretary and treasurer on the ground, are all progressive men. Already the company has disposed of some lots and the sale still continues active. The company was organized in May, 1906.

A business directory of the town includes besides the Bromselsk of the Townsite Company, R. O. Soper, who is the postmaster, and proprietor of one of the general stores; W. R. Hart, engaged with Mr. Soper in the real estate business; Messrs. T. J. Beebe and C. F. Hull, comprising the firm of Barbee & Hull, general merchants; Thos. White, hardware and groceries; Chas. L. Moore and George Torrance, livery stable; Messrs. Mead & Seltz, lumber dealers; Beatty Brothers, blacksmiths, and W. W. Wagner, flour and feed dealer. The hotel, said to be the best in the valley, is presided over by Mrs. R. A. Soper; and the town has a large rooming house owned and conducted by Mrs. Mame Patty. The seat for the Santa Fe Central at McIntosh is E. J. De Arcy, who in a few weeks will, with his wife, occupy apartments which are now being arranged for them in the new depot. The day school has forty-five pupils under the care of Miss Nettie Gordon, and there are in the neighborhood of 20 scholars in the Union Sunday school, presided over by C. W. Clark, assisted by Mrs. J. L. Scott, Mrs. W. W. Wagner and recently by Mrs. E. J. De Arcy and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Wagner, the latter of whom recently came here and are now erecting for themselves a substantial two-story residence on their claim two miles to the north of town.

The little community has so far kept itself clean of the objectionable features of new settlements, and the people seem united in their determination to build the town along the most approved modern lines. A visit among them is one of the pleasures which the valley affords, and the spirit of harmony which prevails here if continued in the future bodes fair to render the place one of the most attractive home centers in the valley.

FROM THE NUTTE FAMILY ALBUM

Being a Spiel by Hazel, the Youngest of the Misses Nutte, as Reported.

PHILBERT T. NUTTE.

Don't be frightened—he's one of the family. Don't you think he looks dashing? That's Uncle Philbert Nutte of Arizona. Is he a cowboy? Yes; he's the leading milkman of Cactus Canyon; also general store, hardware, coffins, prospectors' outfits, undertaking done while you wait, confectionery, lard dealt, and real estate. Uncle Philbert left home when quite young because Grangpopper Nutte wouldn't let him go to a magic lantern show of the Holy Land, which Grangpopper thought it was a too worldly form of amusement. I'll show you him later like he looked when a kid. They didn't hear of him for ever so long except in the papers when he'd shoot somebody. I guess he was a deputy marshal, or an outlaw, or something, but he's kind at heart because he married a poor Indian lady who didn't have no husband except a member of the tribe. Uncle Philbert sent me the sweetest bracelet made out of rattlesnakes' rattlers, but it felt to pieces because this climate didn't agree with it or it wasn't embalmed good—some say one thing and some say another.

OKLAHOMA WILL HAVE GOOD LAWS

Railroads Will Feel the Sting of Righteous Legislation.

Guthrie, Okla., Dec. 11.—An aggressive lobby will be maintained in Guthrie this winter by the organized railway men of Oklahoma. A legislative committee has been appointed of which W. T. Fields of El Reno is chairman, and O. C. Strode, of Shawnee, secretary.

Already communications have been sent to the governor asking that he recommend measures covering the following features:

Limiting service of telegraph, telephone operators and train dispatchers to eight hours a day and providing a heavy fine for violation.

Providing for headlights on locomotives of such brilliancy as to enable the engineers to distinguish objects at least seventy rods ahead.

Provision of separate coaches for the two races.

To compel railroads to employ competent engineers.

To prevent the use of a locomotive so constructed as to cut off communication between engineers and firemen, with special reference to cab of engineer being located on the middle of the boiler.

To provide for convict labor on public roads.

To regulate charges for sleeping cars within the state, placing the limit at $1.50 for lower berths and one dollar for upper berths.

For inspectors of maintenance of bridges and rights of way with proper assistants.

Prohibiting the employment of telegraphers in railway work under 18 years of age.

Limiting day service of trainmen to not more than 14 hours a day.

One of the Reasons Why

Why our Shoes are so popular is because they never lose their shape. All through the process of wearing, they retain their graceful lines, which of course pleases their wearers. The reason why our Shoes always stay in good form is because of the absence of strain. No wrinkles because the fit snug. Neither light loose. Just correct in proportion with the result of perfection in fit as high as it ever has been obtained.
