A Free Conscience

The St. Louis Times recently published an able editorial on the "Land of Free Conscience." The editorial was evidently inspired by the address of Archbishop Ireland delivered recently, when he declared that in no country of the world, was there such religious freedom as in the United States. The Times discussed the question as follows:

Example of the truth that the amities of civilization and the broadening influences of modern contact have in great measure obliterated the fainter doctrinal lines separating religious sects comes now that notable portion of Archbishop Ireland's notable address at the Hotel Jefferson banquet on Saturday night, given in honor of Most Rev. Diomedo Falconio, Apostolic delegate to the United States.

"There is no country in the world," impressively declared the eminent and distinguished prelate from St. Paul, "where rights of conscience are recognized as they are here. I believe if the right Catholic were presented to the United States as a candidate for president a man with all the qualifications needed for the office, there would be no discrimination against him because of his religion."

If this be not wholly true, it ought to be. The trend of all minds is toward the dismantling of prejudices based solely upon religious preconceptions. Man grows fairer in his estimates of other men as this old world grows older. Savage Christians no longer burn and bull each other, and the thumbtack and the rack exist only in historical records. Pagan and Jew, the followers of Mahomet and the disciples of Christ fraternize in congresses of religions, and learn of each other mutual good. Charity is blood brother to all beliefs and ignores none in its beneficent ministrations. The quality of ecclesiastical mercy is not strained. The pupil of Loyola joins hands with him who holds with the thunders of John Knox. Implacability gives place to toleration.

Vitality significant of a closer woven bond of unity between those of different faith was that magnificent, imposing and impressive spectacle seen Sunday upon St. Louis streets, where tens of thousands of marching Roman Catholics passed in multitudinous ranks between living walls of scores of thousands of their approbative fellow citizens to the laying of the corner stone of their new temple of worship.

And over all, over priest and preslate, analysis and humblest common-sense, banner-bearing, emblem-wearing, device-blazoned, floated countless flags of the grand old Red, White and Blue the flag of that great republic to which all its sons yield first allegiance.

The "two and seventy farring sects" are with us no more in this parliament of man, where rights of conscience are recognized as nowhere else in loyal Republicans of Bernillo county will forget past differences and grievances.

America's Purple

There is just a trifle of biting sarcasm in the following editorial from the New York World in describing the society blue book:

Members of our first families who expect to travel or reside abroad in the near future are advised that they may obtain the recognition to which they are entitled at home by having their names included in a volume to be known as "America's Purple," soon to be published in London.

Every care will be taken to make the publication as superior to the ordinary society blue book as the Trianon eye to the title is to the more plebeian hue. "America's Purple," according to the publisher's circular, "will be compiled with such discrimination that registration between its covers will be proof of social eligibility. It will contain the names of America's most representative families and insure for them the identification that books of exclusive social recognition such as the Almanach de Gotha and similar publications give to Europeans."

The compiler's discrimination will be shown in his appraisal of the relative claims to eligibility of impetuous possessors of a Mayflower pedigree and candidates of steel or all antecedents with a Bradstreet rating. The value of the book to persons with proper social qualifications is obvious. A Pittsburgh first family meeting members of the Oklahoma elite en voyage will be enabled instantly to determine what degree of cordiality to show. Continental hotel keepers and marriageable princes will find it useful.

Now that a Republican county ticket has been nominated and only a few days remain in which to insure its election, it is to be hoped that all loyal Republicans of Bernillo county will forget past differences and grievances in the interests of party harmony and party success and join the ticket will receive a full Republican majority. It must also be remembered that W. H. Andrews, the Republican nominee for delegate to Congress, has done more for this county and the territory at large, than any delegate New Mexico ever had. In addition he is the logical man to return to Washington and work for statehood at the next session of Congress. Therefore it is very important that the voters of this county are united for his support and see to it that he is given the largest possible majority. There are only a few days in which to get out the big majority to which both the delegate and the local ticket are entitled and which both will receive, if the Republicans of the county do their duty. With statehood as an issue, the occasion is too important to permit personal quarrels and personal ambitions to interfere with the election of a Republican delegate, a Republican legislature and a Republican county ticket. The Democratic forces in this county are severely demoralized and a number of them have already declared their intentions of voting for "the man who does things." Let the Republicans of the county do their duty and the party's majority in this county this year will break all records.

Of all the terrible disasters which have happened in the world during the past few years, and they have been many, none of them can hardly be compared with the one which occurred recently in Michigan, where a relief train, fleeing with its load of terror-stricken humanity from a devastating forest fire, was wrecked, overtaken by the all-consuming tongue of flame, and the greater portion of its human freight hurled to death. A worse fatality is difficult to imagine.

Cheering news for the men who have to foot the dressmaker's bills and correspondingly disquieting news for the women, who never appear to be happy unless they are developing new styles in dresses, is found in the sympathetic announcement made recently in Washington by the famous Dr. Mary Walker, who long since has eschewed dresses, that the time is coming when all women will wear clothes similar to those worn by the men just as she does.

Some actual hot air is to permeate the halls and corridors of the national capitol at Washington this winter. Of course that variety of the article which effervesces so freely from politicians and public men has never been present in the nation's state-house in great quantities, but in the future it will have to compete with the real thing. A new heating apparatus has been installed in the big structure and it is of the hot air variety.

Evidently Dave Mulvane did not confer with "Fling" Connors on his recent trip to New York city. He declares that Mr. Taft will have no trouble in carrying the Empire state. And speaking of "carrying" that state, it is certain that if the presidential election could be narrowed down to a physical test Mr. Taft would be well able to outcarry Mr. Bryan in stirring freedom.

That inebriety is a far more fatal disease than consumption is the theory of a Connecticut doctor. Heretofore inebriety has not generally been looked upon as a disease but rather as a result of pure, unadulterated consciousness.

After turning down H. B. Ferguson in their Roosevelt convention, the Democratic bosses were forced to call him in this campaign to visit that very same city and the Pecos valley, in an effort to save Laramie.

The chances are that H. B. Ferguson can come nearer awakening Democratic enthusiasm in the Pecos valley than Laramie.

CHINA WILL BUY MUCH PATENT MEDICINE

Umbrellas Are Also In Demand. Though Other Sales Show a Decrease.

Washington, Oct. 22.—China is having very hard times and a disastrous slump in business, but there are two things for the purchase of which the Chinese are finding plenty of money. These are umbrellas and patent medicines.

The reports of the department of commerce show that in all other lines of trade China is in a bad way. Sales are falling off rapidly, but in the two lines named there has been no indication of the hard times. On the contrary, in both umbrellas and patent medicines the trade with China has been jumping by great leaps, and those dealing in these articles are rolling in money.

It is only within the last three or four years that the cheap cotton umbrellas with steel ribs and sticks have been introduced in the oriental empire, but it made an instantaneous success. Whereas it used to be displaced the old patent umbrella. In Canton the first considerable sale of cotton umbrellas was made in 1906. Last year the city handled 78,000 of them, and in the first six months of the present year Canton has already sold 60,000. The ratio is said to hold good throughout the empire.

It is not so easy, however, to understand the appetite of so shrewd a people as the Chinese for the nostrums and cure-alls of the western world. But in this matter it is explained that the medicines selling the best are those giving quick relief from pain. This, of course, seems that they are buying those preparations containing opiates and sedatives. Anything that stops the pain goes with them. They do not care what the medicine contains, and the result has been that a fortune has been made in a brief time by a single individual selling a single preparation.

It has always been the practice of the Chinese to relieve one pain by causing another, and the discovery that the foreign devils could relieve a pain by substitution instead of by addition is what is said to have caused the demand for patent medicines.

At the present time it is reported that a chap is making a barrel of money selling the Chinese of the Yangtze valley an alleged preventive for cholera. They are having a cholera scare in that section and the natives, entirely assured of the effectiveness of the western medicines because of the speed with which they make an ache give way, are buying the cholera preventive by the thousands of bottles.

DAILY SHORT STORIES

THE DEAD THAT WAKE

By A. M. Perkerson.

"The best, sir." The heavy, square-face detective eyed the tip of one shoe.

The professor leaned back slowly and pressed the tips of his long fingers together.

"Right at the beginning, and don't leave out any details," he enjoined. "Hendricks, H. Hendricks, is the center of the queerest mystery."

About two weeks ago his wife came to the chief and said her husband had died four days before and his body had been shipped home, embalmed. A letter came along containing his dying request that he shouldn't be buried for two months.

"The night before his body reached his wife—the night he died—she swore she saw him. She heard a noise in the rear of the house. Opening the back door, she saw someone going up the rear stairs. It's her sworn statement it was her husband."

"She tried to follow, but the door at the top of the landing was locked. She says she's positive it was not her. She hurried around to the front stairs and ran up to the second floor. Her husband had used one of the small rooms as a study. The door was open. She went in and found his desk open. It had been locked that morning. The window too was open and the room empty. There was no one on the rest of the floor."

"Last week the option was closed or some very valuable property was sold by H. S. Dobbs, and sold the next day. In looking through Hendricks' papers I found he had been doing business for some time under the name of Dobbs. I saw the man this option was closed with, and he swore that Dobbs himself closed it. That means it was Hendricks, and Hendricks had been dead more than a week then."

"That's the whole story, sir. Hendricks' body is at his wife's now, a stiff, stark corpse."

The professor dropped his eyes from the ceiling.

"How were his business affairs?"

"Excellent."

The professor looked surprised.

"Had he a partner?"

"Yes, sir; Richard Flagg."

The professor sat for some time, after the detective had left, the tips of his fingers pressed tightly together.

Leaving forward the professor spoke quietly into the telephone.

"Your mystery is solved, Rogers. Come over."

In 15 minutes the detective entered, his face flushed.

The professor walked to the door of the adjoining room and opened it. He returned with his hand on the arm of a well built but pale man.

The detective started from his chair.

"My God, it's Hendricks!"

The professor lifted one hand.

"You're right, but there's no cause for excitement. Mr. Hendricks never was really a corpse. Listen."

"You overlooked one all-important point. This man Flagg, Mr. Hendricks' partner, was appointed executor by Mr. Hendricks' will. I had never thought for an instant that Mr. Hendricks was really dead, but I had thought that for some reason or other, possibly to get insurance money, he had shammed death."

"I was wrong. He was merely a victim. I investigated and found that Flagg was an expert hypnotist. It was all very plain then."

"I went to Mr. Hendricks' home, and a short examination showed that he was only hypnotized. I awakened him and then told me the truth of the whole matter. At the time of his reported death he was simply thrown into a catatonic trance by Flagg, who, having had hypnotic control over him for some time, had previously had himself appointed executor in the will."

"Hendricks, on the day he was reported to have died, was forced to go to his home by Flagg and get some papers the latter wanted. It was then Hendricks was seen by his wife. Later Flagg secretly got Hendricks from the room where his corpse was supposed to be lying, and made him close an option on property that Flagg immediately sold, making an enormous profit."

"Flagg has now disappeared, taking with him large sums of money he secured as Mr. Hendricks' executor."

The pale man nodded his head in confirmation and the detective stared in wonder. The professor, pressing his finger-tips together, leaned back and eyed the ceiling.

Where Bullets Flew.

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., a veteran of the civil war, who lost a foot at Gettysburg, says: "The good Electric Bitters have done more for me than five hundred dollars to me. I spent much money doctoring for a bad case of stomach trouble, to little purpose. I then tried Electric Bitters and they cured me. I now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well." 50¢ at all dealers.

S.S.S. CURES ECZEMA, ACNE, TETTER ETC.

The skin is an index to the quality of the blood. Eczema, Acne, Tetter, pimples, rashes, eruptions, etc., show that some unhealthy humor or acid impurity is discharging and corrupting the circulation, so that instead of supplying nourishment and strength to the fine, delicate tissues of the skin, it is continually pouring out its acid and unhealthy accumulations. External applications of salves, washes, lotions, etc., may relieve some of the itching and other discomfort caused by skin troubles, and for this reason should be used, but such treatment cannot reach the humor-laden blood, and therefore cannot cure. A thorough cleansing of the blood is the only cure for skin diseases. S. S. S., a purely vegetable preparation, is the best and quickest remedy. It goes down into the circulation and neutralizes and removes the acids, impurities and humors, thoroughly purifies the circulation and permanently cures skin diseases of every kind. When S. S. S. has drawn the humors and impurities from the blood, and cooled and cleansed the acid-laden circulation, every symptom passes away, the skin is again furnished with rich, healthful blood and the trouble cured, the cause has been removed. S. S. S. on skin diseases and any medical advice free to all who write. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Why Colds are Dangerous.

Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in a common cold.

Consumption is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that would not otherwise have found lodgment. It is the same with all infectious diseases. Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold.

You will see from this that more real danger lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world. For sale by all druggists.

ANDREW SCHENCK.

President of the Germania Fire Insurance Co., Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for over a year, and can say that it has never failed to cure the most stubborn cough or cold. I can recommend it to any family as a sure and safe children's cough remedy.—Andrew Schenck, Axton, Ont. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Some Reasons Why

Because The Citizen is a home paper. It is either delivered by carrier at the house or is carried home by the business man when his day's work is done and it STAYS THERE. A morning paper is usually carried down town by the head of the family and hurriedly read.

The Citizen is not read hurriedly, but thoroughly, so that all advertisements receive their share of attention. It presents the store news a little ahead, giving the prospective purchaser time to plan a shopping tour for the next morning.

Wise advertisers patronize The Citizen because they know their advertisements are seen and read at the homes in the evening, and if they are offering something worthy of attention, their ad has accomplished its mission.

The Citizen has never given premiums to subscribers, but is subscribed to and paid for on the news market, showing that its subscribers have money with which to buy what they want from legitimate merchants. These are the people The Citizen invites to your store.

The Citizen employs a man whose business it is to look after your advertising wants. He will write your copy if you wish. If not, he will see that your ads are "set up" to look their best and he will attend to them from day to day.

Are you advertising in The Citizen? Your competitors are, and are profiting by it. Do you think conservative business men are spending money where they are not getting results? Get in the swim and watch your business grow.

ARREST JAPANESE ON SERIOUS CHARGE

He Will Be Given Hearing This Afternoon for Bringing Woman From Mexico.

H. C. Kitamura, a Japanese, owning a restaurant at Gallup, N. M., and a curio store at Trinidad, Colo., was arrested here on the charge of bringing a Mexican woman into the United States for immoral purposes. The arrest was made by a police officer, under the direction of Immigration Inspector Green. The woman is being held at a saloon at a hearing which will be given Kitamura in United States Commissioner Whiting's court this afternoon.

She said that she met Kitamura in Chihuahua, Mexico, and that he told her that he would give her a home and good clothes to wear. Kitamura is reported to be wealthy and it is understood will fight the case.

WANT THE CHARGES INVESTIGATED NOW

Dismissal of R. H. Pierce From Board of Regents of Blind Asylum Results in Serious Allegations.

The sudden removal by the governor of R. H. Pierce, 60 years old, a regent of the institute for the Blind at Alamogordo and a wealthy merchant, is said to have been brought about by charges of the gravest nature made against Pierce by two blind girls who were under his charge during the Sixteenth National Irrigation congress in this city and who, it is said, accuse Pierce of atrocious crimes.

One girl, it is said, alleges that she was assaulted by Pierce in a hotel in this city, while she was here supposedly under his care and protection. Another girl, it is said, charges that she was maltreated by Pierce at El Paso, a few days after the irrigation congress while enroute to Alamogordo.

While the truth of the charges remain to be proven, it is reported that the matter is being laid before the district attorney, Frank W. Clancy, in this city, because one of the crimes at least is alleged to have been committed here.

J. E. Wharton, who is a member of the board of regents and a prominent attorney, arrived here today accompanied by one of the unfortunate girls and is in conference with the district attorney. As the grand jury is still in session, it is believed that the matter will be given prompt attention. Mr. Wharton said today that the citizens of Alamogordo were thoroughly aroused over the affair and demand that the charges be probed fully and promptly.

The board of regents of the institute had the charges called to their attention October 17 and immediately conducted an investigation which resulted in a communication to the governor.

Despite the fact that he was very busy with his executive duties, the governor took the first train for Alamogordo and it is said that, after making a personal investigation, he made public the fact that he had summarily removed Pierce.

W. A. Hawkins, a well known citizen of Alamogordo was appointed to fill the vacancy.

It is said that Pierce has left Alamogordo and that his present whereabouts are not known. Some of his friends say that Pierce is absent from Alamogordo on a business trip. He owns a large mercantile store there and has a family. It is said his wife and children are prostrated by the scandal. They are well known and popular.

BROTHERS HUNT THEIR OWN BROTHER

Bluefield, W. Va., Oct. 22.—When his hands landed in his brother's blood, Jesse Crouse, a 16-year-old youth of Ashland, near here, is hiding in the mountains from his brothers who are armed to the teeth and demand his life. Crouse shot and killed Phillip Crouse, his 15-year-old brother, in quarrel in their father's kitchen and then fled to the hills nearby.

The murderer had from birth had trouble with his four brothers and threatened their lives before. The immediate cause of the murder was a misunderstanding over the division of wages for a contract they had taken. Both of the boys worked in the McDowell coal mines until the recent suspension, and have been doing odd jobs since.

The brothers are accompanied by the search by a posse of farmers.

DESCRIBES HIS FALL.

New York, Oct. 22.—A. H. Holland Forbes and August Post, the two American accountants who fell 2,000 feet in the balloon, "Conqueror," at Berlin recently, have arrived here from Germany.

"When we saw that a big balloon had been made in the balloon," said Mr. Post, "Forbes and I commenced to throw out the ballast as fast as possible. When the balloon was within a short distance of the ground it began to drop more slowly and that gave the falling men a chance to go ahead of it. The opening of the balloon like a parachute saved our lives."

The women who lived in the ballroom that we saw unharmedly entered through the door about two days afterward, apologizing for not being at home when we called."

NO TRAINS FROM EAST.

In spite of predictions that trains from the east would begin arriving today, Albuquerque is still with very little eastern mail. The Santa Fe reports today that but No. 1 will arrive on the line today and that No. 4 and No. 8 from the west are on time. Further than that no predictions are made.

Vengeance and Hate Between Man and Wife as Death's Shadow Falls

MRS. TUCKER, WHO SWORE TO WARRANT FOR STRICKEN HUSBAND AND HER MOTHER.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—When the shadow of death fell upon the diseased body of Col. Wm. P. Tucker, in Army and Navy hospital, Hot Springs, Ark., his wife's daughter of Gen. John A. Logan, withdrew a complaint upon which the dying man had been arrested, and thus ended another chapter of an amazing story.

For years Col. Tucker, chief paymaster of the department of the lakes, has been at war with his wife. The friends of the distinguished couple were dumfounded when, two years ago, Mrs. Tucker petitioned Secretary of War Taft to order a court martial for Col. Tucker on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman. She charged infidelity. Taft investigated, and exonerated Tucker.

Mrs. Tucker, however, has continued to fight her husband. Two months ago the colonel fell in this city and went to St. Clements, in search of health. Mrs. Myrtle Platt, an army nurse who met Col. Tucker in the Philippines, has been much in

DEATH ENDS CAREER OF SANTIAGO BACA

One of the Best Known and Respected Citizens of the Territory Died This Morning.

Santiago Baca, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Albuquerque, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mellon Chaves, West Silver street, at 10 o'clock this morning, after an illness of three months. The cause of death was dropsy. The funeral will be held from the residence Sunday morning, the corpse having been taken to the Sacred Heart church, where Father Tomasini will say requiem high mass. Interment will take place at Santa Barbara cemetery.

Santiago Baca was born at Santa Fe and lived 64 very useful years. From early manhood until a few years past, when his health failed and the fortune left him by his parents became depleted, he was a factor in business and territorial politics. He was a member of the house of representatives from San Miguel during a short residence at Las Vegas. He came to Albuquerque thirty-five years ago and immediately became identified with the leading men of Bernalillo county. He was elected in consecutive years to the office of assessor, county clerk and sheriff. His career during the last few years of his life was devoted to the business of the railroad. The earliest settlers of the city will remember Sheriff Baca as a fearless and trustful officer. It was during his term of office that the notorious desperado, Baca, was captured after killing two officers of the law here in a street fight. Sheriff Baca followed Baca into the mountains in Sierra county and captured him.

Mr. Baca was president of the territorial council as a member of that body from this county, and proved a very cautious and judicious lawmaker. Just a few weeks ago the useful life of Santiago Baca during his early years in Albuquerque was brought to light by an impressive letter received from an attorney in Oregon, who asked to locate a woman by the name of Kichbaum, the daughter of a widow who had enjoyed his generosity. Mr. Baca had acted as godfather to the young lady.

Mr. Baca was a member of one of the oldest Spanish families in the Rio Grande valley, and his daughters, Mrs. Mellon Chaves and Mrs. Florio Sandoval, receive the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement. Mr. Baca was also survived among his near relatives, by a brother and sister living at Santa Fe.

All the relatives and friends of the family are invited to attend the funeral of the late citizen and benefactor. The pall bearers will be Pedro Ayuda, Andres Romero, M. Otero, Victor Salas, Justo Armita and Domingo Trebiano.

SOME SUBSCRIBERS ARE NOT PAYING

Executive Board of Congress and Fair Urges Merchants to Pay Up.

The second meeting of the executive board of the Sixteenth National Irrigation congress and Twenty-eighth Territorial fair was held at the congressional headquarters in the Commercial club building yesterday afternoon. Only one member was absent.

Many of the premiums awarded for various exhibits have already been sent to the prize winners and only a few were on hand at yesterday's meeting. These will be distributed in the very near future, while the few remaining will be turned over to the next irrigation congress, which will be held at Spokane in 1909, owing to the fact that they were not completed for at the congress recently held in this city.

Presumably the question that is causing the most trouble in the settling of the financial part of the meeting is the collection of subscriptions from a few of the smaller merchants of this city who are not standing by their signatures on the subscription list. Many excuses and kicks are registered, some objecting to the payment of their share owing to the fact that no passes to the grounds were given them, while others refuse for reasons known only to themselves.

The matter of the free distribution of passes to subscribers was thoroughly discussed by the executive committee previous to the congress and fair and it was decided that the giving of free passes to subscribers would not be the best course to pursue, as it was thought that should there be a surplus on hand after the festivities were over a dividend would be declared, whereas should the passes to the grounds be freely distributed a deficit might result. Proving the delinquent merchants come to the front and make a proper settlement of their subscriptions, it is thought that the financial part of this association will come out slightly ahead.

FIGHT FOR POSSESSION OF BOOKS OF FIRM

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Herbery has been charged and the particulars of a free-for-all fight resulted in Judge Mack's division of the circuit court, when John C. Fetzer asked for a receiver for the Mercantile Finance company.

The corporation was organized by the Rhodus brothers. The fight occurred in the offices of the company, and followed the alleged hiring of a custodian of the vaults by the Rhodus brothers, who attempted to remove the books.

The attempt was frustrated by detectives and Judge Mack issued a temporary injunction against the Rhodus brothers.

MISSING WOMAN MAY BE FOUND

She Is Believed to Have Married and Is Now Living Near Santa Fe.

An effort to learn the location of Clara Kichbaum, a woman who is wanted by relatives, and who is believed to have lived in Albuquerque a number of years ago, will probably result in finding the woman, as it is thought she now resides somewhere between this city and Santa Fe, probably near Galisteo. Search for the woman has led to the discovery that she and two brothers lived at Santa Fe with their mother and that the family was destitute.

The three children were adopted into different homes. One of the boys remained at Santa Fe, the other was adopted by Juan Baca of Old Town, who gave the boy his name, and the girl was also adopted by Albuquerque people and brought to this city. A resident of Barajas says she knew the girl but that her name was Helena Kichbaum, not Clara Kichbaum.

The boy, Juan Baca, is now living near Galisteo and it is reported that his sister, Helena Kichbaum, was married and also resides near Galisteo. While not definitely known, it is thought that an estate awaits the family, as strenuous efforts have been made to locate the children who lived here.

NEBRASKA WHEAT SAFE.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 22.—Heavy rains throughout the Nebraska winter wheat belt, the precipitation varying from one to four inches, have thoroughly soaked the soil and removed the danger of draught damage to the fall sown wheat crop. C. G. Crichton, president of the Central Grain elevators company, with eighty stations in Nebraska, said today: "Winter wheat sown are common in Nebraska, but the state has not missed a fair crop in the past eight years. Our information is that all but a small portion of the crop in Nebraska has been sown, and it is not too late to complete the sowing. The average, in my judgment, will be normal and may be greater than a year ago. Right now the crop situation is entirely satisfactory." Mr. Crichton's statement is verified by other grain dealers in Lincoln.

FEEDING THE BIG OCEAN LINERS

Enormous Quantities of Coal and Water Are Consumed During the Trip.

Wonderment at the dimensions of the two great liners, Lusitania and Mauretania, has subsided. It is taken for granted that nothing is too big in size to float the Atlantic, and that the limitations of speed of the liner of the future easily may be that of the limited railroad trains over the Chicago Tribune.

In the bunkers of one of these vessels 7000 tons of coal are stored for the Atlantic trip. This means that 145 coal cars of 100,000 pounds capacity each would be required to load these bunkers to their capacity. This would require five monster locomotives and the crew for five trains to deliver this one loading of coal at the docks.

How much of this coal is burned on the average trip is known to only a few privileged persons. But it is known that in round figures, each vessel consumes 1000 tons, or 2,000,000 pounds, of coal each twenty-four hours.

Each pound of coal should develop four pounds of steam. This gives 16,000 pounds of steam which passes every twenty-four hours through the ship's turbines. This steam is converted and held in power stands at a pressure of 200 pounds to the square inch. At this pressure a pound of steam occupies about two cubic feet of boiler space, which indicates that 32,000 cubic feet of steam through the turbines every hour.

Six hundred and twenty-five thousand pounds of water a minute are necessary to make the steam of the great liners. This is 150,000 tons of water in twenty-four hours, or 100,000,000 gallons a day. The average consumption of water in the city is thirty-five millions a day for each inhabitant so that the needs of one of these passenger ships are equal to the needs of a city of almost 3,000,000 population.

In the furnaces twenty pounds of oil are required to consume a pound of coal. Thus twenty tons of oil must be driven through the grates of the furnaces every day. With the temperature at 1000 degrees, this means that 24,000,000 cubic feet of air enter the furnaces every hour. ...

California has furnished more than its quota of able players to the majors. Frank Chance, the great first baseman of the Chicago Cubs, is a Fresno boy and winters on the coast. Hal Chase, another great first baseman, comes from San Jose. Walter Johnson, the famous Washington pitcher, and Cylo Overall are California boys.

MADE BAD MONEY NEAR A PRISON

California Counterfeiters Worked on Bond Within 200 Yards of Police Station.

Sacramento, Oct. 22.—Edward Hinman and J. E. Stephens, who were arrested at Marysville several days ago after they had succeeded in passing several spurious dollars made their headquarters on a houseboat on the Sacramento river, within 200 yards of the police station in this city. The police, when the men were brought here, started an investigation that finally resulted in the discovery of outfit of molds and other equipment used in the counterfeiting, and the two men were identified as being the ones who leaked the news on which the stuff was found. They had established a woman here, and had lived on the river for some time, going out to various towns to pass their spurious money. The officers are supposed to be on the lookout for a federal commissioner at Stockton and will be taken to prison in Alameda county.

GRAND COMMANDERY FINISHES ITS WORK

Officers Are Elected and Session Adjourns After Successful Meeting.

The following officers of the Grand Commandery of New Mexico were elected at yesterday's meeting, held in Masonic Temple: Grand Commander—O. L. Gregory, East Las Vegas. Deputy Grand Commander—J. H. Vroth, Albuquerque. Grand Generalissimo—John W. Poe, Roswell. Grand Captain General—J. J. Kelly, Silver City. Senior Grand Warden—J. W. Wilson, Roswell. Grand Junior Warden—A. D. Stevens, Baton. Grand Treasurer—A. J. Maloy, Albuquerque. Grand Recorder—C. A. Rehr, Albuquerque. Following the election, the following appointive officers were elected by the grand commandery: Grand Prelate—E. McQueen Gray, Fairbairn. Grand Standard Bearer—H. P. Stephens, Santa Fe. Grand Sword Bearer—E. E. McNat, Santa Fe. Grand Warden—Edward Pennington, Deming. Grand Captain of the Guard—A. M. Whitcomb, Albuquerque. The convocation yesterday opened at 10 o'clock in the morning and closed about eleven o'clock last evening. The convocation closed with the most successful series of meetings ever held by the Masonic order in New Mexico.

A pleasant feature of the meeting was the official visit of Frank Pierce, of San Francisco, Grand Captain General of the Grand Encampment of Knights Templars of the United States. The visit was of interest not only because of association, but because it was the first ever paid in New Mexico of the Grand Captain General of the Grand Encampment.

A BLAZING CAR IN WILD RACE

It Was Probably Set on Fire by Thieves, Who Expected to Collect Damages.

Philadelphia, Oct. 22.—Dashing wildly over the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad, between Darby and Sharon Hill, with its wheels shaking and its engine puffing an express car entirely enveloped in flames pulled into the Sharon Hill station after finishing one of the most dramatic races against time ever witnessed in this section of the country.

With difficulty the burning car was cut on a siding and after a hard battle by railroad employees and volunteer firemen, during which two firemen were badly hurt, the blaze burned itself out, the entire car being destroyed.

When the car left Jersey City, attached to the regular special which runs between New York and Richmond, Va., it was well filled. It reached West Philadelphia station in good shape, but just before reaching Darby the express messenger, who is said to have been asleep, was aroused by the heat. He applied the air brakes, opened the side door and leaped. He rolled down an embankment, but escaped serious injury. The car was uncoupled from the train and a dash made for Sharon Hill.

As usual in the case of disaster of this sort, thieves were on the early, and several valuable packages were reported to have been stolen.

Railroad officials suspect that tampering which has been worked extensively of late by syndicates to defraud express companies caused the fire. This consists of sending a package by express which the sender appraises at several thousand dollars. In the package is a sponge saturated with water, and in the center of this a piece of phosphorus. The water penetrates the phosphorus. Once the water evaporates, however, the chemical begins to blaze and the package is destroyed. The sender then attempts to collect from the express company the amount of the valuation he placed on his parcel before it is expressed. Detectives are investigating.

In a recent scrimmage the freshmen second team made special efforts to gain through the young man, but he held his own in clumsy style.

UNTIL every generation of Americans George Washington is justly held to be the purest figure in history—a superb example of the perfect citizen—a just and righteous ruler and “a light for after time.”

This commanding personality had a magnificent physique. He stood over six feet in his stockings, was remarkable for horsemanship, agility and strength—the finest gentleman and athlete of his day.

His constitution was of iron and he knew how to keep it so. His biographers declare that in eating and in drinking as in all things he was normal; enjoying the juice of the malt all the days of his life. He drank it around campfires, as well as in his own home and upon social and state occasions.

Furthermore, upon his Mount Vernon plantation he had a brew house, as was the regular custom of wealthy Virginians.

WORK PROGRESSES ON ARIZONA PROJECT

Official Report Shows Laguna and Roosevelt Dams Building Rapidly.

Washington, Oct. 22.—Construction work on the Laguna dam of the Yuma Irrigation project in California and Arizona, has reached a point where the Colorado river is closed to navigation and the treaty across the lower Colorado is completed and in operation. There are now only left about 700 feet between the completed portions of the dam. The sluiceways on both sides of the river are partially completed and the piers for the gates on the south side are completed and the gates will be erected in a short time. The piers for the gates on the north side are also nearly finished.

Some modifications are being made in the lower wheel, which was installed to furnish water to lands near Yuma, but the farmers' pump was operated continuously through September, furnishing water to about 3,500 acres.

A report from the Salt river irrigation project, Arizona, shows that during September 14,000 cubic yards of masonry were laid on the Roosevelt dam. This is a thousand yards more than have been laid in any previous month, and brings the highest point of the dam to an elevation of 115 feet above the foundation, and the lowest point 87 feet above.

The cement mill turned out 12,200 barrels of clinker during the month and supplied all the cement needed for construction purposes. Another well has been finished on the Gila reservation, test wells are being drilled at Mesquite and good progress was made in setting poles and stringing wire for the electric transmission line. Work on the Grand and south side canals is being carried on as rapidly as possible. Water for irrigation was furnished without interruption.

Kidney Troubles Attack Albuquerque Men and Women, Old and Young.

Kidney life seize young and old. Come quickly with little warning. Children suffer in their early years. Can't control the kidney secretions. Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.

Women weary, can't do daily work. Men have lame and aching backs. The cure for man, woman or child. Is to cure the cause—the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys.

Cure all forms of kidney suffering. Albuquerque testimony proves it. Mrs. J. Hall, of 223 West Hunting Ave., Albuquerque, N. M., says: "My daughter used Doan's Kidney Pills with very good results. She suffered for over a year from severe pains across her loins and kidneys and at times she was unable to be around. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, induced her to try them and she felt great relief from the first and continued their use until cured. I gave a statement to this effect some four years ago, and would say today, Jan. 31, 1907, that we were not only given reason to appreciate Doan's Kidney Pills at that time, but both my daughter and myself will vouch for their value as strongly as ever, and can heartily recommend them to other sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
