GERMAN CROWN PRINCE WITH ZEPPELIN IN AN AIRSHIP

They Sailed for Several Hours Despite a Strong Wind and Very Cold Weather.

GREET EMPEROR WITH MEGAPHONE

The Kaiser and His Son Exchanged Greetings and the Prince Threw a Letter From the Airship to the Castle Terrace.

Friedrichshafen, Nov. 7.—Crown Prince Frederick William made an ascent today with Count Zeppelin in the latter's airship. The start was made at twenty minutes after 11. There was a strong northerly wind and the weather was very cold. It is probable the airship will proceed to Donaueschingen, Baden, where Emperor William is due to arrive in the course of the day from Austria.

The Emperor Interested. Donaueschingen, Nov. 7.—The Zeppelin airship with Crown Prince Frederick William aboard, arrived over town at twenty minutes of 2 and engaged in a number of maneuvers. The imperial train arrived about 3 o'clock and the airship followed it into town at an altitude of four to six hundred feet. The crown prince greeted his father through a megaphone and the emperor responded by waving his hand.

Upon alighting from the train the emperor drove to the palace and took up his position on a terrace. The airship then approached and when directly overhead, the crown prince threw a letter addressed to his father, Count Zeppelin then circumnavigated the castle, after which further greetings were exchanged and the airship started on the return to Friedrichshafen.

NEW IDEA IN COINS.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—The mints of Philadelphia, San Francisco and Denver began today coining the new $5 gold pieces struck on a different plan from any heretofore coined in the world.

It follows the idea expressed to President Roosevelt by Dr. William Sturgis Bigelow of Boston, that to permit coins being piled to uniform height, high or strong relief might be obtained by depressing the design below the field or the face of the coin, instead of raising above, as usual in all coining operations.

The same design will be used on $2.50 gold pieces, and all will bear "In God We Trust."

COMPLETING SURVEY OF NAVAJO LANDS

Part of the Reservation Will be Thrown Open for Settlement Within Few Months.

A survey of part of the extension of the Navajo Indian reservation, consisting of several hundred thousand acres, which was set out for the allotment of Indian lands in 1906, has been completed and the land will be thrown open to entry in the near future. The date will be announced by the interior department within a few months.

The original extension of the reservation consisted of land within lines as follows according to the latest map of New Mexico: Beginning at the southeast corner of the old Navajo reservation run a line south to Guzm, thence east to a point about twelve miles north of Suenav; thence north to the Jicarilla Apache Indian reservation, in Rio Arriba county; then west to the east line of the old Navajo reservation.

The entire new extension will be thrown open to entry again. The east half of it almost immediately and the west half as soon as allotments on it will have been made. About 150 Indians have been given allotments on the east one-half, by two special allotting agents one by the name of Kent and the other by the name of Patterson. The adults were given eighty acres each and the minors forty. Strange to say, the Indians did not take the best lands but selected the places where they had been living whether it was some rocky point or a barren place in the desert. There is none of the whole extension, however, that would be worth settling on by a white man. There is very little or no land there fit for cultivation, very little timber and practically no water. Very little of the reservation is lower than 7,000 feet altitude.

The reopening of the land to settlement was brought about through the work in Washington of Delegate Andrews and E. B. Burns, of Rio Arriba county.

TWENTY THOUSAND WOMEN MARCH ON THE LEGISLATURE

MRS. J. B. MASTERS.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 7.—Twenty thousand women will march on Harrisburg, the capital of Pennsylvania, in January, in an effort to induce the legislature to pass a local option bill. The Pennsylvania Women's Christian Temperance union hopes, by the method to place the Keystone state in the list of "dry" commonwealths. The decision to storm the next legislature has quickly followed the return of the Pennsylvania delegates from the national convention of the W. C. T. U. in Colorado. At this convention a large map of the United States was suspended from the ceiling, the dry states being printed in white and those permitting the sale of liquor being in black.

"And Pennsylvania was the blackest of the black," indignantly declares

Mrs. J. B. Masters, wife of a local attorney, who will lead the Pittsburg women at Harrisburg, and the best-known local temperance worker.

When Mrs. Masters becomes identified with any movement it usually is attended with success and spectacular features. It was she who led the fight against five of the best-known Pittsburg cafe keepers, and had their licenses revoked because they sold liquor to young girls. She conducted this crusade by going personally into the gilded dining rooms and remonstrating with girls who were drinking there with their escorts. Mrs. Ella M. George of Beaver Falls, state president of the W. C. T. U., has issued the call for the 20,000 women to board the Pennsylvania salons in their den.

VON BERNSTORFF GOES TO WASHINGTON

Kaiser Names Him to Succeed the Late Von Sternberg as Ambassador.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—Count Johann Heinrich von Bernstorff, who recently represented the German government in Egypt, has been selected by Emperor William to succeed the late Baron Speck von Sternberg as ambassador to Washington. The Countess von Bernstorff is the daughter of Edward Luckmeyer of New York. The appointment has not been formally made yet but it is understood the official announcement will be given out within two or three days.

BIG LAKE UNDER PANAMA CANAL

It Will Probably Delay Work and Increase the Expense.

New Orleans, Nov. 7.—A report reached here today from Colon that a subterranean lake has been found under the site of one of the proposed locks for the Panama canal at Gatun. This will result in a delay of several years in the completion of the canal and cause a much larger outlay of money than anticipated.

According to the report the discovery of the lake has been kept a secret and engineers who knew of the matter declined to discuss it in the absence of Colonel Goethals, who is now in the United States.

Col. Goethals. New York, Nov. 7.—Colonel Goethals, chairman of the Isthmian canal commission, declared today that the report of a discovery of a subterranean lake under the site of the canal locks at Gatun is "absolute rot."

Absurd on Its Face. Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—At the Isthmian canal offices in this city it was stated that no word has been received as to the finding of a subterranean lake under the site of a discovery is absurd on its face. It was stated that borings on these locks have extended forty feet deep and this is evidence of stability.

WILLIAM B. CORNISH FOUND DEAD IN BED

Well Known Financier and Director in Many Companies Dies at Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—William D. Cornish, of New York, second vice president of the Union Pacific Railroad company, and the director of many other corporations was found dead in bed at the Auditorium Annex in this city today. His death was apparently due to heart disease. Cornish was a director in the following corporations:

Leavenworth, Kansas & Western, Northern Pacific Terminal of Oregon, Oregon Railroad and Navigation, of which he was also vice president; Oregon Short Line, of which he was also vice president; Portland and Astoria Steamship; San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake; Southern Pacific; Southern Pacific Railroad company, of which he was president; Spokane Union depot; Union Pacific Land company, of which he was president, and Wells-Fargo.

AGAINST TOBACCO TRUST.

New York, Nov. 7.—The government's contention that the American Tobacco company is a trust operating in restraint of trade, and violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, was sustained in a decision handed down today by Judges Lacombe, Cox, Nyons and Ward in the United States circuit court. Judge Ward dissented.

ASKS $25,000 FOR LEG.

Louis M. Hakim, guardian ad litem of George Hakim, the boy who lost his leg by having it run over at the Santa Fe station on the morning of October 26, brought suit against the Santa Fe today for $25,000 damages, charging negligence and carelessness on the part of the defendant company. Attorney John W. Wilson and George S. Klock appear as counsel for the plaintiff.

CANVASSING VOTES IN VALENCIA COUNTY

LOS LUNAS, N. M., Nov. 7.—The official canvassing of the votes cast in the election held throughout this county Nov. 2, is taking place today. It is certain that the Republican delegate to Congress, Mr. Andrews, will receive a large majority but whether the semi-official returns will be increased or lowered, is not yet known. It is not believed that the official canvass will greatly change the present estimate of 1904 for Andrews.

CLEARING HOUSE BANKS.

New York, Nov. 7.—The statement of clearing house banks for the week shows they hold $30,279,378 more than the requirements of the twenty-five per cent reserve rule. This is a decrease of $2,209,159 in the proportionate cash reserve as compared with last week.

ROOSEVELT TO AFRICA SOON AFTER TAFT TAKES OFFICE

The President and Son Will Sail From New York for Naples About March 13.

WILL NOT FOLLOW THE BEATEN PATHS

Roosevelt Will Strike Out on New Lines for Himself but Will Not Give All His Time to the Killing of Jungle Game.

New York, Nov. 7.—From excellent lent authority it is learned President Roosevelt plans leaving New York on March 13, nine days after the inauguration, by the liner, Koenig Albert, for Naples, via Gibraltar, where the liner is due on March 25. His expressed desire is to get away as soon as possible, so as not to embarrass Mr. Taft in his new office.

Besides his son Kermit, who will take photographs of big game in Africa, he will be accompanied by a professor from the Smithsonian Institution and an official from the navy department. They have not yet been chosen, but several are under consideration. One who has a knowledge of medicine, so that when the party leaves the Uganda railroad and purges into the unexplored paths of the eastern African forest, the members of the expedition may be properly cared for.

From Naples Mr. Roosevelt and party will travel on one of the German East African steamers to Mombasa via the Suez canal and Aden, a sea journey of 15 days, including stops. So far no arrangements have been made for the six months the party will spend in Uganda province between the coast and Port Florence, a distance of 584 miles. On Victoria Nyanza the party will embark for Entebbe in Central Africa. One thing certain is that Roosevelt will not enter the Congo territory.

President Roosevelt has received an invitation from the nephew of the late Senator James McMillan, of Detroit, who owns 50,000 acres of forest, mountain, and jungle in the Nairobi district of Uganda, to shoot over his estates and use the comfortable shooting boxes that have been erected in various sections where big game is to be found.

The president is scheduled to arrive at Entebbe early in December, where his native porters, hunters, and guides will be in waiting to conduct him through central Africa exploring some of the tributaries of the Nile and eventually landing him at Gondokoro, the frontier port of the Sudan, some time toward the end of April, 1910.

It is stated that Mr. Roosevelt will be employed on that part of the journey is not yet settled, but it is estimated as somewhere around 50. Each man will carry an average load of 50 pounds on his head.

It is stated Mr. Roosevelt will not follow the beaten paths of travelers and hunters in the East African protectorate, or any part of his journey in Africa, but will strike out on new lines for himself.

From Entebbe the distance to be covered on foot, by boat, rivers, and lakes to Khartum, where it is expected Mrs. Roosevelt will join the party, is about 8,000 miles. The journey from Gondokow by steamer will take eleven days and vessels leave once a month.

From Khartum the railway journey across the desert to Wadi-Halfa, at the second cataract of the Nile, takes thirty-six hours. From that point there is a regular steam boat service down to Assuan at the first cataract, and to Cairo, a total water journey of 900 miles. The time taken from Wadi-Halfa depends on the length of the stay the party will make at Abou Simbul, Philae, Luxor, and other points of interest on the banks of the river Nile. The usual passage for tourists down is about two weeks.

From the British government the president has received a permit to kill as much game as he likes but it is understood he will go to Africa more in the interest of science than to kill animals for the mere sport of it. It is probable he will confine himself to one specimen of each kind of lions, elephants, rhinoceroses, and of large and small game, including crocodiles. Lions, it is said, are the most difficult to get at in Africa because they have become wary of the white man and his deadly gun. The king of the forest can be heard roaring around the camps all night, but he takes to cover and disappears before the sun rises.

DEMOCRATS CLAIM ELECTION.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7.—National Committeeman Harvey Ferry and State Chairman Philby today declared that the entire state Democratic ticket is elected. They base their claims on returns received during the night

NATURE SCHOOL FOR "CHILD OF TOMORROW"

MRS. CLARENCE MACKAY.

Just now Mrs. Clarence Mackay, wife of the present head of the Mackay house, figures before the public as a leader of the suffrage cohorts.

But that is only one of Mrs. Mackay's many activities. The natives of Roslyn, the pretty hamlet on Long island sound where Mrs. Mackay spends three-fourths of the year, are at present puzzling their heads over the model school which Mrs. Mackay proposes to conduct in their midst. For six years she has been a member of the school board, and one by one she has molded the other members, men and women, into her way of thinking. Mrs. Mackay's ambition is "For the child of tomorrow," and on this plan she proposes a commodious building, which must sit back from the street and be surrounded by a lovely garden, to be cultivated by the children. In the inclosure all street cries are denuded by the walls. These walls are so constructed that they serve as radiators in cold weather, and thus render unnecessary the heating apparatus of former days, which occupied so much space on floor and in the cellar.

The model school for the child of tomorrow provides swimming pools in a nearby stream, and winter and summer the pupils must take their plunge. In the warmer weather each child will be permitted to keep pet in the garden enclosure and to raise such a crop as the pets need.

This vacation will be devoted to a Robinson Crusoe existence under the care of men and women who have a love of the open and can instill it into their pupils. They will build huts, tents are tabooed. The child of tomorrow must know how to make a home, if only of reeds.

MORSE PROVING A MODEL PRISONER

Former Financier Eats Bread and Coffee and Sleeps Soundly in His Cell.

New York, Nov. 7.—Charles W. Morse, who was yesterday sentenced to fifteen years in the federal prison at Atlanta, Georgia, is proving himself a model prisoner. He has asked no special privileges nor has he been granted any. There is a rule of the prison that permits the purchase of special food from the vendor attached to the prison or to even have meals from the outside, but Morse did not avail himself of the privilege.

When the regular prison fare was doled out the former millionaire accepted two slices of bread and a tin dipper of coffee which was passed through a slot in the cell door. He ate every crumb of bread and drank the coffee, and had a cheery greeting for his son Harry when the young man called early in the forenoon. Morse retired early last night and slept soundly until awakened when the bustle of day began.

ARIZONA WANTED STATEHOOD, TOO

Smith Had Never Done Anything for the Territory, Says Land Agent.

F. C. Desendorf, formerly special land agent for the government in New Mexico, but now in charge of district No. 6, which comprises Arizona, said this morning, while in the city between trains en route to Las Vegas where he goes to appear as a witness in alleged land fraud cases, that the reason why Ralph Cameron was elected delegate to Congress over Mark Smith was because Smith had never done anything for the territory and the people were getting tired of him. Cochise county, a county that had been giving Smith a majority of 1,500 and more in past years, went 300 for Cameron.

Mr. Cameron is a young man, honest, upright and has a magnetic personality, which makes him popular with every class. Democrats voted for him as well as Republicans. Mr. Desendorf knew of one old miner, a born Democrat, who walked sixteen miles to cast a vote for Cameron. Statehood was another strong point in favor of the Republican candidate. Mr. Desendorf met a number of old friends at the Alvarado and continued on to the Meadow City. He will assist United States Attorney Leahy in the prosecution of the alleged land frauds.

GOVERNOR CURRY COMING TONIGHT

Chairman Bursum Well Pleased With Result—Consultation on Statehood—Andrews' Majority About 1200.

Governor Curry will arrive in Albuquerque tonight for a consultation with Delegate Andrews, Chairman Bursum and others on statehood. It is proposed to open the statehood campaign at once and keep it going until New Mexico is admitted to the union.

Chairman H. O. Bursum, the hard-working head of the territorial committee, reached here today from Socorro.

"I am very well pleased with the result of the election," he said. "The majority received by Mr. Andrews was not so large as I expected but it is decisive enough to leave no doubt and is very satisfactory. I am especially pleased to see that San Miguel county came to the front with such a majority. I know that all our Republican friends and many Democrats who placed the best interests of New Mexico above party lines, worked very hard and very successfully for the election of Mr. Andrews and in the interests of statehood, which was the chief, and in fact, the only issue. The election of Mr. Taft and Mr. Sherman is one which should cause general rejoicing all over the country. It is for the best interests of the country from a business standpoint and of the nation in general. It is peculiarly fortunate for New Mexico, because the Republican platform declares for our admission to the union and I know that Mr. Taft personally is with us and will help us in every way. I hope that all political and personal lines will be submerged in the interests of statehood and that the people of New Mexico will render every assistance possible to Mr. Andrews and Governor Curry in the statehood fight."

Chairman Bursum and Mr. Andrews spent several hours this morning discussing plans for the statehood campaign. Mr. Bursum will remain here until tomorrow when he will probably go to Santa Fe.

WOULD INSTRUCT COOKS.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Gen. G. F. Elliott, commandant of the United States marine corps, in his annual report, made public today, recommends that marines serving with the legation guard at Pekin be credited with double time for such service, as is now the case with those serving in the Philippines; that legislation be secured to establish a school of instruction for cooks; and that a sergeant adjutant and inspectors of corps be authorized to administer oaths.

STOCK MARKET JUMPS WITH GOOD REPORT OF PROSPERITY

Flood of Buying Orders Causes Big Advances in Many Securities in New York.

NEW YORK CENTRAL LEADS INCREASE

Report That Harriman Would Have Share in Control of That Property Causes Heavy Buying—Some Stocks Gain a Point.

New York, November 7.—A flood of buying orders which poured in on brokers last night, sent prices soaring on the stock exchange today and brought scenes of activity, the like of which has not been witnessed for many months. So strong was the bullish movement that in some instances prices jumped upwards a point at a time on single sales.

New York Central rose five points on a few purchases and steel forced itself to 55 1/2, the highest price ever touched by that stock. Many stocks rose one and two points.

There was no definite single piece of news to account for the extreme activity, but speculation was evidently stimulated by reports from all sections of the country of the receipt of large orders by manufacturers, of the rapid expansion of wholesale and retail lines and a large number of workers being employed.

The big advance in New York Central stocks is attributed in part to the rumor that E. H. Harriman is soon to become a factor in the control of that system. Neither confirmation nor denial of the report was to be had today.

LAWYERS ARGUE IN MURDER CASE

Defense Springs Surprise by Introducing Witness Who Saw Donahue Right After the Shooting.

The defense in the Donahue case sprung a surprise on the prosecution this morning in closing the case by introducing a Frenchman, Reynaud, who testified that he had been working at the lumber mill saloon the night Justiano Chaves was killed and was in the yard in the rear of the summer garden, on his way home, when he heard the shot fired that killed Chaves. When the shot rang out in front of the summer garden he stopped for a moment and listened, he then went toward the summer garden, from the rear, and as he approached the door Donahue, drunk apparently, staggered against it and opened it. This was directly after he shooting. Reynaud had not appeared in the case before and his testimony was unlooked for and bolstered up the alibi evidence of the defense to no small degree. The other witnesses for the defense were Charles Webb, proprietor of the place, and Mrs. Webb, his wife.

The testimony was all in at 11 o'clock and Attorney Julius Staal opened the arguments for the territory. Mr. Staal was still talking at 2:30 o'clock. Judge W. C. Heacock opened for the defense, and after addressing the court told the jury that he did not expect a half way verdict for his client.

"He is charged with murder in the first degree and if he is guilty I want you all to go over there and see him hung. If he is not guilty I want him to go home to his mother and sisters," were Judge Heacock's opening remarks. Donahue laughed at this statement of his counsel. The case will probably be given to the jury this evening.

STATEHOOD FOR NEW MEXICO

We favor the immediate admission of the territories of New Mexico and Arizona as separate states in the Union.—Republican National Platform.

As It Should Be

It is good to note that every day's press dispatches add to the list of shops, mills and plants of all kinds that are being reopened and of thousands of men who are receiving employment at full time.

Now that the election is safely passed and the policy of the government is settled for another four years, there is every indication that the country is due to experience a wave of prosperity which will place business conditions back on their footing of over a year ago.

The manufacturing interests were the first to show the effects of the returning confidence in business circles. Hundreds of plants were thrown open the day after election and others are being opened every day. It is estimated that in every manufacturing district in the country, several thousand additional men have received employment within the past few days and the indications are that there will be few idle men within the next month.

The National Association of Manufacturers, in a statement recently issued, predicts that by December 1, it will give employment to 200,000 additional men in its varied industries.

Naturally the starting of manufactures, means that wholesalers and retailers, are sending in orders for goods, that railroads will have a great deal of additional freight in delivering the shipments and that every order turned out, will require the employment of many men in various capacities. That an era of prosperity was sure to follow the election of the Republican candidate was well known in business circles but even the most optimistic have been surprised at the rapidity with which the upward tendency began.

The Aftermath

The Pasadena Daily News very cleverly reports the aftermath of the election as follows:

Taft—"I thank the people for the confidence they have placed in the Republican party and in me, and you may say that it will be my pleasure to fulfill the office of president of the United States with strict impartiality and to the best of my ability."

Bryan—"While the returns are as yet not all in, it appears that the people have selected Mr. Taft. I do not care to be quoted, but you may say that I shall immediately prepare for the campaign of 1912. No, I do not care to discuss at this time what my policies will be in the future."

Chaffin—"What a glorious vote for the Prohibition ticket. In a number of states we have made gains and really have scored a victory. The gains we have made show that the wave of prohibition has not subsided, but will in time carry all before it. We are truly grateful."

Debs—"I did not expect to be elected. We strove to bring out the Socialist vote to show our strength, and the results have been satisfactory from our standpoint. We shall keep the battle up until capital has been crushed, the penitentiaries opened, the insane asylums freed," etc., etc., ad lib.

Higgen—"Cut it out. I've had mine. Somebody lied."

Hearst—"Our candidate was counted out. In every state in the union there was conspiracy to belittle the Independence vote. In New York at least 200 of my employees were given instructions to vote for Higgen, and when the ballots were counted there were just 23. You may say from me that we shall have a recount in every state where Higgen scored a single vote."

Watson—"This election cannot be taken seriously. I would rather not discuss the matter. I know I am defeated without a lot of reporters telling me. If you want interviews go inside my house and turn on the phonograph. Bryan is on the other end of the horn."

Kern—"Has there been an election? Well, well, well. How did it come out? You don't say? Well, isn't that strange? This makes my 73d defeat. Better leave by the rear door, so my wife won't see you. She'll laugh."

Roosevelt—"Dee-llighted."

Back to Business

Under the above heading the St. Louis Times, one of the most unprejudiced papers published in the middle west, comments upon the after effects of the election as follows:

The election of Mr. Taft means that the country will suffer no disturbance through change of administration. It means that conservative policies will prevail. It means that the affairs of the nation will be viewed with a judicial mind and that the hand which will rest on the ship of state's steering wheel will be one that has been trained.

Judge Taft's election means that the reform policies which have been employed for several years will continue in effect, with a difference that the application of the policies will be attended by a minimum of letter writing and a maximum of insistent good nature. Capital will not be frightened by unnecessary speeches. Business generally will not be assailed because of its failure in an isolated case to live up to the letter and spirit of the law. Judge Taft will be found a stern enforcer of every statute, but his temperamental calmness and his judicial training will enable him to proceed effectively without a waste of energy and without a beating of tom-toms.

The vote of Tuesday has proved conclusively that the mass of the people have confidence in the Roosevelt policies in combination with the Taft personality and experience. It seemed to indicate a desire to get back to business to accept as president a man of the McKinley rather than of the Roosevelt type. The country is tired of noise and fret and theory. It approves Mr. Roosevelt's honesty and cares little for his impulsiveness. It has said good-bye forever to the doctrines of Mr. Bryan.

With peace at home and abroad, with national politics fixed for four years with great crops garnered and no blight upon the land; with a growing foreign trade and the skill and resources to supply it, the United States now faces an era of prosperity that will surpass even the piping times that followed the Spanish war.

"Here's to Crime"

A party of young university "grads" was traveling. Two were lawyers, one was interested in scientific criminology. At a supper together one of the young lawyers gave a toast. "Here's to Crime," he said facetiously, waving his glass.

"There's many a true word spoken in jest"—an old adage which has its uses. A very large part of the population of the world lives by crime—committed by others. Very many lawyers do. This is not to consider the antiques and those who "work the jails." But the really respectable ones—not the Eminent Respectables, but the truly reputable, good citizens of the legal profession. Criminal lawyers professionally make their living from crime, and many corporations and trust lawyers do, without professing it. Slum tenements both breed crime and produce income from crime. These tenements return the highest rentals on the money invested.

The liquor business is admittedly a great producer of crime and vice. Police statisticians show that about 75 per cent of criminal cases in cities are directly traceable to the traffic of the saloons. But an argument against restricting the liquor traffic is that such restriction hurts a large amount of invested capital makes allied businesses dull and throws many employees, in the brewery, bottling and kindred trades, out of work.

Crime, in other words, is fortified by the fabric of society and many of our "institutions" are fortified by crime. How much of effort to eradicate crime is paralyzed by the tendency to preserve things as they are? It is an interesting speculation.

In the meantime, the toast—"Here's to Crime"—goes on.—Kansas City Star.

"PARSIFAL" COMING NOVEMBER 24

A scene from "Parsifal" which comes to the Elks theater November 24.

The legend of "Parsifal" which Messrs. Martin and Emery will offer at the Elks theater Nov. 24 crystallizes around two mystic objects, a cup or chalice and a spear. The Holy Grail and the Secret Spear as they are called in the play and by poets, have been the subject of more song and story than any other themes in history. As legend will have it, both in the spear and the grain were presented to Joseph of Aramathea by Pontius Pilate. The spear is accounted as being the one that pierced the side of the Saviour at the Crucifixion and the chalice as being the cup used at the last supper and later to catch the blood of Him who died on the Cross. Around these two central objects is woven the poetic and mighty theme used by Richard Wagner in "Parsifal."

DAILY SHORT STORIES

HOW SAMMY ENTERED VAUDEVILLE.

By R. M. Perkinson.

Sammy was near-sighted and had ambition. That was the sum of his chief characteristics. He could not for the life of him see his hand a foot from his face, and there was a longing that ate into his soul. The vaudeville stage was the direction it took.

And in reality he had talent. His voice was clear and strong, his feet nimble, and his face droil enough even in repose to make a dyspeptic smile. But an uncontrollable stage fright offset all his assets.

Several times on amateur nights he had assayed to show what he could do. But no sooner would he leave the wings than his tongue would get tied into a hard knot, his knees would begin to shake, and he could only stare in open mouthed fright.

As he stood near the wings, resting after a hard tussle with some obstinate scenery, he drank in enviously the rollicking song that came from the stage and hated his job of scene-shifter.

With a crash the music ended and silence followed. Sammy had been waiting for that. At the end of every performance he stole out behind the curtain and, for a few brief minutes, capered and assayed on the stage itself, almost feeling for the moment that he was a real star in vaudeville.

He brushed by two black-face comedians who were tugging at white gloves, and peered dimly and enviously at them. Theirs was the last number on the program and was one of the best.

"If I was only like them," Sammy thought.

Back of the curtain he stole on the stage and by one of the rear wings. With a smile that went from ear to ear he made just the bow he would to an audience, and began to dance.

There was a rustle in front of him as he skipped nimbly across the floor, but beyond the tip of his nose all was blank to Sammy. He really ganced excellently and, with the floor of an actual stage under his feet, but with the audience away, he could accomplish marvels of nimbleness. With a sigh he paused, then there followed a roar of applause.

Sammy almost collapsed. What could it mean? From out there before him was coming a burst of hand clapping. Above the applause he heard the harsh voice of the stage manager.

"Keep it up, you blasted idiot, you've got 'em going." If you fall down now I'll break your neck for buttin' in on the show this way. Git nearer the footlights, the curtain's up."

With a gulp Sammy understood. The show wasn't over, and he had taken the place of the black-faced comedians whom he had seen in the wings. For a moment he stood stone-still, unable to move. The blood surged through his head and his fingers felt cold.

Slowly, half mechanically, he began to advance. At the edge of the footlights he stopped and stared and his knees trembled. He could see nothing before him, but he knew a sharp-eyed audience was there; and all his self-possession began to slip away. In his fright his features worked themselves into the most imitably droil expression. To the audience it was an admirable bit of acting and there was another burst of applause.

He came just in the nick of time. With a rush Sammy's courage returned; his shoulders straightened and his heart stopped beating so wildly. Leaning over he spoke to the orchestra leader, the latter rapped sharply with his knuckles, the orchestra swept into a popular song, and Sammy began to sing.

All his fear was gone. The audience demanded another song, then another, then another. Next Sammy gave the monologue he had worked over for months and months, and the applause was greater than ever. Finally he was forced to dance again.

When he finally stepped into the wings his hand was seized by a tall, majestic looking man with curling black mustache. It was the manager.

"My boy, you did finely, finely," he said. "You'll make a star some day. You must sign with me right away."

All the while he was wringing Sammy's hand.

"What do you say to fifty a week?" he queried.

Sammy passed his hands over his eyes and looked about bewildered. In front of him he could just make out the black-faced comedians whose place he had taken. Their expressions were diabolical.

"That suits me air," he gasped.

How to Cure a Cold.

Be as careful as you can you will occasionally take cold, and when you do, get a medicine of known reliability one that has an established reputation and that is certain to effect a quick cure. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. During the many years in which it has been in general use we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of grip having resulted in pneumonia when the remedy was used, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. Some Reasons Why

The C

Because The Citizen is a home paper. It is either delivered by carrier at the house or is carried home by the business man when his day's work is done and it STAYS THERE. A morning paper is usually carried down town by the head of the family and hurriedly read.

The Citizen is not read hurriedly, but thoroughly, so that all advertisements receive their share of attention. It presents the more news a little ahead, giving the prospective purchaser time to plan a shopping tour for the next morning.

Wise advertisers patronize The Citizen because they know their advertisements are seen and read at the homes in the evening, and if they are offering something worthy of attention, their ad has accomplished its mission.

The Citizen has never given premiums to subscribers, but is subscribed to and paid for on the news merits, showing that its subscribers have money with which to buy what they want from legitimate merchants. These are the people The Citizen invites to your store.

The Citizen employs a man whose business it is to look after your advertising wants. He will write your copy if you wish. If not, he will see that your ads are "set up" to look their best and he will attend to them from day to day.

Are you advertising in The Citizen? Your competitors are, and are profiting by it. Do you think conservative business men are spending money where they are not getting results? Get in the swim and watch your business grow.

RHEUMATISM IS NOT EASILY OVERCOME

Give Home Recipe to Relieve This Dread American Disease.

To make up enough of the "Dandelion treatment," which is claimed to be relieving nearly every sufferer who uses it for backache, kidney complaint, sore weak bladder and rheumatism; get from any good prescription pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon and three ounces Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

Those who have tried it claim that it acts gently but thoroughly on the kidneys, relieving backache and bladder trouble and urinary difficulties before you realize it. Many cases of rheumatism are known to have been relieved within a few days, the pain and swelling diminishing with each dose.

This simple recipe is said to strengthen and cleanse the eliminative tissues of the kidneys, so that they can filter and strain from the blood and system the poisons, acids and waste matter, which cause not only Rheumatism, but numerous other diseases. Every man or woman here who feels that their kidneys are not healthy and active, or who suffers from any urinary trouble whatever, should not hesitate to make up this mixture, as it is certain to do much good and may save you from much misery and suffering after while.

COL. CORNMAN, U. S. A., UNDER COURT-MARTIAL

COL. DANIEL CORNMAN.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 7.—Col. Daniel Cornman, second in rank of all the colonels in the United States Infantry, figures in a court-martial at Fort Wayne. His judges are Gen. F. D. Grant, three other generals and a number of lesser officers. It is claimed by the colonel's friends that his trouble is caused by envy on the part of colonels who would like to see him kept out of line for promotion and the enmity of friends of a lieutenant who was recently dropped for drunkenness.

The charges against Col. Cornman grew out of the fact that a contract doctor and his brother loaned some horses to junior officers of the Seventh regiment free of charge on the condition that the army furnish forage. This is contrary to the army regulations. The theory is that Col. Cornman should have discovered and stopped the practice. Capt. French of the Seventh has been tried by court-martial on similar charges.

HOSPITALITY OF ROOSEVELT FAMILY

Present Administration Is One of the Most Brilliant Socially of Any Yet.

Washington, Nov. 7.—When the Roosevelts leave the White House on March 4 next there will close one of the most brilliant administrations socially in the history of the American presidency. It is doubtful if any other presidential family ever entertained so much and so variedly as have the Roosevelts, and it is the judgment of the social world that their entertainments always are exactly as they should be.

Mr. Roosevelt is democratic in the broadest sense of the word, which means that he is equally at ease with king or peasant. It is only natural, therefore, that his hospitality is democratic. One day royalty may sit at the White House table, the next day some labor leader whose work has entitled him to recognition; on the third day it may be some savant or educator, possibly a negro educator; and the fourth day may find some actor or musician; and the fifth day some western cowboy may break the presidential bread. Uncouth so far as concerns the polish of society, but beneath whose rough exterior Roosevelt has discerned a fine figure of a man.

It probably will be many a day before we have another president who will dispense such wide hospitality, for only now and then comes a man with such catholic sympathies and understanding. Roosevelt's tremendous popularity with all classes of people has long been the marvel of lesser politicians. The secret of it, if it may be called a secret, is that Roosevelt is able to meet every man on his own ground without ever a suggestion of condescension in his manner.

It is not at all necessary to agree with Mr. Roosevelt's doctrines or to accept his preachments to recognize the remarkable humanism of the man. By some great gift he is able to understand the mental processes of a Pennsylvania coal miner as fully as he does those of a Knickerbocker aristocrat, of whom he is one, and his sympathies go out as fully to the one as to the other. The coal miner and the aristocrat are equally at ease in his presence, and Roosevelt is equally at home with either.

Ages of Presidents. President Roosevelt a few days ago quietly celebrated his fiftieth birthday. The anniversary is interesting chiefly from the fact that it was the last he will celebrate in the White House, unless the whirligig of politics should again place him there at some future time, and from the further fact that it marks him the youngest man who ever completed a full term in the presidency. Only four presidents were below fifty when inaugurated.

Mr. Roosevelt is a man of unusually robust health and ought to live beyond the average age of his predecessors in office. American presidents have averaged living to the age of 69 years and 8 months, which would give Mr. Roosevelt something more than nineteen years after his retirement on March 4 next. The average life of presidents after leaving the cares of office has been a little less than twelve years. As Mr. Roosevelt has the advantage of youth and health he ought to far exceed the average. John Adams, though sixteen years older than Mr. Roosevelt when he left the presidency, lived for twenty-four years, dying at the ripe age of ninety.

With the exception of Washington, who died at the age of 57 two years after leaving office, most of the early presidents lived to advanced years. John Adams was 66 when his term was done and lived to be 90; Jefferson was 66 and lived to be 83; Madison was 66 and lived to be 85; Monroe was 67 and died six years later; John Q. Adams was 62 and lived to be 73;

GOLD IN GRAVES OF COSTA RICA INDIANS

Hungarian Arrives at Washington With Samples of Ancient Ornaments.

Washington, Nov. 7.—A stranger came to town yesterday, and he had a strange tale. It was a tale of mountains of gold, of curios, and of glittering jewels and precious stones. He divulged his secret only after much persuasion and an assurance that he alone should remain the sole possessor of the knowledge of the spot where the Arabian Nights treasure chamber is located.

But it was not only the tale which the stranger recounted; he also proved its faithfulness by showing to the amazed eyes of his visitors casks filled to the rim with idols, ornaments and curios, all wrought in virgin gold. Another chest was choked to the lid with specimens of gold, silver, and copper ore, and other precious metals and stones.

A stranger is Emil Mosonyi, and he is at the New Willard. He arrived yesterday, and is registered at San Jose, Costa Rica. He is, however, a native of Hungary, dark haired, swarthy skinned, lustrous eyes, and tall. A young man with a fierce mustache as black as night.

His native town is Budapest; by profession he is a civil and mining engineer, and by inclination and practice a man who digs up graves of old Indians in Costa Rica and extracts therefrom gold ornaments, idols and pieces of pottery.

The Hungarian tells a strange tale. His dark eyes light up with a peculiar fire when he talks of the great discoveries he has made in some parts of Costa Rica. He talks of tons of gold and millions of dollars' worth of curios and objects of historic value. Mr. Mosonyi does not only talk; he proves the veracity of his tale. He shows peculiarly wrought and oddly shaped idols, ornaments, and curios, hammered from virgin gold. They are solid and heavy. He has not only one specimen; he has a big alligator watchful.

In another case he has specimens of gold, silver, copper and mica ore. The son of the puebla said that he knew of a place in Costa Rica where the earth contained mountains of these precious metals and where the most interesting finds could be made of objects of historic value.

"I have been carrying on ethnological and archaeological explorations on my own account for years in Costa Rica, and after a trip to England and my native country I will return to Costa Rica to continue in my search for these hidden treasures. Saying this, he picked up a bundle of papers, documents and maps which lay hidden at the bottom of one of his traveling trunks, and continued: "This is—oh, no, I cannot say it—it is something that will astonish the world—a veritable Aladdin's lamp."

"There were only three Indian tribes in Costa Rica which before the advent of the Spaniards looked for gold, which was to be found in large quantities in the country. It is only in the graves of these Indians objects of gold can be found. Besides gold, there are sometimes pieces of pottery and coins."

"I have a special permit from the Costa Rican government to carry on my work. Germany has sent an expedition under Dr. Walter Lehmann, of the Ethnological Museum of Berlin, to Costa Rica to also carry on exploration work; but nobody knows where my treasures are hid, and there is nothing to show on the surface where Indians may be buried."

"I have studied the history of these Indians thoroughly, and I am on excellent terms with the natives, which enables me to prosecute my work without encountering any trouble." Mr. Mosonyi said he could not wait until the Hungarian government interested itself in the enterprise; that they are too slow to move in the matter, and that he would prefer to have some live American business men or the government take up the matter with him.

The Hungarian will call on the director of the Smithsonian Institution and will show him his finds, with the object of interesting this institution in the matter.

You Never Know the Moment When
This Information May Prove of Infinite Value.It is worth considerable to any citizen of Albuquerque to know how to be cured of painful, annoying and itching piles. Know then that Doan's Ointment is a positive remedy for all itchiness of the skin, for piles, eczema, etc. One application relieves and soothes. Read this testimony of its merit:A. M. Whitcomb, living at 325 North Eighth st., Albuquerque, N. M., says: "I have nothing to retract from the statement I gave for Doan's Ointment some five years ago. What I then stated was to the effect that this preparation had cured me of a breaking out, which, if not eczema, closely resembled this trouble and was confined to a spot about the size of a silver dollar just below one of my knees. Off and on for ten years it had annoyed me, always being worse when I was in bed or if I would sit near a fire. I consulted two of our leading physicians but what they gave me proved of no more avail than all the different kinds of salves and ointments that I tried. I had no faith in Doan's Ointment, expecting that it would act similarly to the other remedies I had used, but I was surprised to find that the first application stopped the itching and a continuation of its use healed the place affected. The fact that I can say after this long interval that there has been no return of the trouble is pretty good reason for my willingness to confirm my original statement. I recommend this preparation at all times as one that can be relied upon to act as represented."For sale by all dealers. Price 50c

COLOMBO THEATER

Of the many human-interest pictures which have been shown at the Colombo in the past, perhaps none has surpassed in dramatic merit the headline starting tonight which is a new Edison film entitled, "The Bridge of Sighs."
The story the film tells is not a new one, but the old story of an innocent girl lured by the flirtation and false promises of the polished villain, who induces her to elope with him to the city. Then follows neglect and indifference broken promises and final desertion. The dream ended, without money, friends or character, she seeks work, without success. At last weakened by starvation and remorse, she ends all in the river.
Other pictures shown are "Secret of the Iron Mask," "Head Over Heels in Politics." New songs are sung at every performance by Mrs. Hanlon.
Continuous performance from 8 to 10 o'clock.

ONE HUNDRED TEAMS
WORK ON NEW ROAD

New Mexico Central Construction Will Advance Rapidly Now.
One hundred teams will soon be making the dirt fly on the New Mexico Central railroad. Already thirty-five teams are working at Camp Frost, located near Tijeras canyon, while thirty-six more teams have been ordered here from El Paso, twelve of which will leave for Albuquerque tomorrow. The balance will arrive here on the 14th of this month. These teams have been rented for the winter and with their assistance, work will progress rapidly.
Thirty laborers are now employed at Camp Garcia, situated about one-half miles from the Sylvia ranch and everything seems to be in excellent condition. The Santa Fe connection has just been completed near Tijeras avenue, opposite the Southwestern Brewing company.
Mr. Richmond, head of the Dominion Construction company, left this morning for a tour of inspection over the line.

CATTLE HUNTERS HAVE NOT RETURNED

But the Missing Steers Were Rounded Up and Butchered.
Seventeen steers, the property of the William Farr Meat market, wandered away from the stockyards last Friday and for several days nothing was heard of the missing steers. A search of the city and immediate surrounding country failed to reveal even a trace of the steers and finally volunteers were called for.
Walter O'Brien vice president of the firm and "Py" Wilson, an employee, responded to the call and started out, one going east and the other west. Each prided himself on being the best hunter.
Several days after they left one of the delivery boys of the firm found the missing cattle along the river near Barelais. They were rounded up, returned to the yards and met the fate of all good beef.
Neither of the hunters has returned and it is supposed they are still scouring the country in search of seventeen steers.

Pe-ru-na as a November Remedy.

The month of November, in temperate regions especially, requires of the human body a very radical adjustment to climatic conditions. The hot weather has passed, and cold weather has taken its place. That the CIRCU-LATION OF BLOOD IN THE SKIN SHOULD BE FREE and active is a matter of common knowledge. And in order that the body may be protected against the lowering temperature a vigorous circulation of blood in the skin must be maintained.
It is not so generally known, however, that the inside of the body also needs protection. THE MUCOUS MEMBRANES OF THE BODY, that line every passage and cavity and duct, also suffer from the change from hot to cold weather.
A medicinal compound that gently tones up these mucous membranes, enabling them to ADJUST TO WINTER WEATHER, is not only valuable to a great multitude of people, but to another multitude is absolutely essential to health.
Whether Peruna is a medicinal compound that meets these requirements can be judged by a hasty glance at some of its principal ingredients.
Take, for instance, hydrastis canadensis, which is an ingredient of Peruna.
The United States Dispensatory says of this herbal remedy, that it is employed as a cure for DEPRAVED MUCOUS MEMBRANES, not only of the nose and head, but also of the stomach and intestines, as well as other internal organs.
Hydrastis canadensis, ordinarily known as golden seal, is thus very clearly classed by the highest authorities as a valuable remedy wherever the mucous membranes of the body are in need of a little medicinal help.
Cedron is also one of the principal ingredients of Peruna. It is recognized by the United States Dispensatory and all leading works on materia medica, as a TONIC OF THE GREATEST VALUE. It is also an anti periodic and anti malarial remedy, and is therefore frequently used as a SUBSTITUTE FOR QUININE. It is a remedy of great merit, somewhat overlooked by the medical profession of late, but its undoubted tonic qualities are sure to reinstate this remedy in its original high-class rank as a safe and efficient tonic and appetizer.
Another ingredient of Peruna which is of manifest benefit is cubeba.
Bartholow, in his excellent work on therapeutics, states that cubeba PRO-MOTES THE APPETITE, ASSISTS DIGESTION, and increases the circulation of the blood. He also goes on to recommend it for catarrh not only of the head and pharynx, but also of the stomach, as well as the other internal organs.
LAST, BUT NOT LEAST, IS COLLINSONIA CANADENSIS. This remedy, for many years has enjoyed a great reputation in southern states as a panacea for many diseases such as dropsy, indigestion, cramp, sick headache, and the like. Dr. Scudder, a writer of great fame, also recommends this herbal remedy for chronic diseases of the lungs and heart.
These are some of the principal ingredients of Peruna compounded into a single remedy by skillful and experienced pharmacists. The compound has been so devised that each remedy retains its full therapeutic value, one assisting the other in their beneficial action upon the human system, MAKING OF PERUNA A VERY EFFICIENT AND VALUABLE REMEDY.
People who pass through the month of November safely and find themselves acclimated to winter weather, generally pass through the remainder of the cold season without any serious difficulty. But NOVEMBER IS A CRITI-CAL MONTH. The adjustment of a large multitude of people fails to meet the exigencies of approaching winter.
No safer or more appropriate remedy than Peruna could be found. Taken according to the directions on the bottle, not only would catarrhal ailments be warded off but catarrh already acquired be corrected. It is with the assurance of knowing that we are right that we present to the public Peruna as an IDEAL TONIC AND CATARRH REMEDY.

boys have the better team and the score of 12 to 0 in the first half was the result of some excellent playing by Allen, who made a brilliant fifty-yard dash, and McConnell and Safford.
There will be two interesting services at the Congregational church tomorrow. Rev. Theodore Clifton, D.
D., of Chicago, will speak on both occasions. In the morning at 11 o'clock he will give an address on "An Inspiring Story of Heroic Service." In the evening promptly at 7:30 he will deliver a lecture to all young people from 9 to 30 years of age on their possibilities of achievement. Dr.
Clifton is a speaker of unusual power and eloquence and all who hear him are assured of a rare treat.
Major Beach Ray, paymaster of the United States army, passed through the city on the limited today, en route to San Francisco, where he will embark for the Philippines. Major Ray had the honor of entertaining W. H.
Taft and family while they were in Chicago attending the Republican national convention, and was very much pleased with Taft's election. He will go to the Philippines until next March, when he will return to America.
Deputy United States Marshal
James Smith returned to the city last night from attending deportation trials of fourteen Chinamen caught at Tumacac. Mr. Smith said that the Chinese were taken from sealed cars, en route east from El Paso. Six were taken from one car and eight from another. A good many of the Celestials coming into the country now sneak Spanish quite fluently and it is believed that they are educated in Mexico for the express purpose of getting them into the United States.

TAFT AT HOT SPRINGS.
Hot Springs, Nov. 7.—President-elect and Mrs. Taft arrived here at 10:20 this morning. Several hundred guests from the hotel were at the station and gave them a rousing reception.
GERMAN BANKER SUICIDES.

Oppenheim, a partner in one of the oldest banks in Hesse, committed suicide by shooting himself today. Heavy financial losses are said to be the cause.
How to Cure a Cold.
Be as careful as you can when you occasionally take cold, and when you do, get a medicine of known reliability one that has an established reputation and that is certain to effect a quick cure. Such a medicine is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has gained a world wide reputation by its remarkable cures of this most common ailment, and can always be depended upon. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. During the many years in which it has been in general use we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of grip having resulted in pneumonia when the remedy was used, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease.
Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

RIO GRANDE VALLEY
SUGAR BEETS SHOWN

Nine Are on Display in Grocery Store, Where They Advertise the Industry.
Nine immense sugar beets, whose combined weight is nearly 100 pounds, are on display in a window at Trotter and Hawkins grocery, where they have been inspected by a number of people who are interested in the industry and believe that the Rio Grande valley will become one of the sugar beet producing districts of the country within a few years.
The beets are the ones which captured a prize during the Territorial fair. The largest weighs twelve pounds and the smallest is over ten pounds. They made a good showing at the fair and are evidence of what the Rio Grande valley can do in the way of producing sugar.

DECIDE YOURSELF.
The Opportunity Is Here, Backed by Albuquerque Testimony.

Don't take our word for it.
Don't depend on a stranger's statement.
Read Albuquerque endorsement.
Read the statements of Albuquerque citizens.
And decide for yourself.
Here is one case of it:
J. M. Parker, living at 317 South
Fourth street, Albuquerque, N. M., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are entitled to the strongest praise I can give them. I never placed much faith in patent medicines, but I can say I have derived more benefit from Doan's Kidney Pills than from any other remedy. Several years ago I began to notice indications of kidney complaint and my condition reached the state where I was an almost constant sufferer from pain in my back and trouble of an alarming nature extended with the kidney secretions. On one occasion the kidney secretions stopped altogether and I had to have a physician draw it from me. At that time I was employed as a locomotive engineer and had to give up this work, as the jar of the engine made the pain in my back beyond endurance. I suffered from pain across my loins and in both sides over my hips that I would have to sit down in a chair and lean my back against something to support it. At night after I would retire I would not sleep any more than an hour before the pain would awaken me. About three months ago I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a supply. In a short time every difficulty was corrected and I have no trouble at all with my back and kidneys now. On occasions, without number I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills, and whatever I can say for them will always afford me pleasure."

SOCIETY

Mrs. H. B. Stewart of 411 Marble avenue entertained the Ladies of the O. A. R. at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The auxiliary to the Children's Home society met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Margaret Medler. The meeting was devoted to regular business routine.

The Ladies' Guild of the St. John's Episcopal church held its regular monthly meeting in the vestry room of the church Wednesday afternoon. A large attendance was present.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Strong, of 810 Park avenue, expect to leave Monday evening for an extended pleasure trip through the south and west. They will visit points of interest in the republic of Mexico and southern California.

Mrs. Frank McKee and children, Miss Blanche, and Messrs. William, Frank and Edward, of 809 West Tanager avenue, left Tuesday evening for California. They will spend several months in cities in California, visiting.

"A Trip to Denver" was the subject of an interesting entertainment given in the Presbyterian church parlors by the ladies of the church Thursday evening. The affair was entirely new and proved a decided success, the feature of the evening being an imaginary trip to Denver.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Lead Avenue Methodist church held an interesting meeting in the church parlors Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A number of business matters of importance were considered and an informal social session followed.

Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Marron returned to their home at 516 Kelleher avenue the early part of the week from Berkeley, Calif., where they were called about two weeks ago by the sad death of Mrs. Marron's mother, Mrs. Ralph Halloran.

Mrs. Louis Chernis of El Paso, Texas, arrived in Albuquerque the early part of this week for a visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Sigfried Grunfeld, of 914 North Second street. Mrs. Chernis formerly made her home in this city and is well known in social circles.

Card Party—Miss Sarah Hall was hostess to fourteen guests at a delightful little card party at her home in Old Albuquerque this afternoon. Her guests were: Miss Margaret Kelleher, Miss Eugenia Kelleher, Miss Helen Bearup, Mrs. Glenn Bearup, Mrs. Hugh Collins, Miss Viola Blucher, Miss Clara Blucher, Miss Lisa Dieckmann, Miss Mary Menaul, Miss Elizabeth Telfer, Miss Mary Telfer, Mrs. George Pink, Miss Irene Troutman and Mrs. J. A. Jackson.

Election Party—One of the most novel and thoroughly enjoyable affairs of the week was the informal election party given by Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Connor, of 215 North Twelfth street, in Dr. Connor's downtown office in the N. T. Armijo building last Tuesday evening. While waiting for the returns, which were received every three minutes, the guests were pleasantly entertained at five hundred. Every appointment of the evening was very informal. The guests, numbering forty, were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Hittner, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McMillen, Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Shortle, Dr. and Mrs. Frank E. SPEED! SPEED!! SPEED!!! IT'S THE CRAZE OF THE DAY-- HERE ARE THE RECORDS AS THEY STAND IN SPORTDOM

"Faster!" cries the man in the grand stand, as the huge automobile whirrs by, in its cloud of dust—a whirl, a "zoom!" a whiff, as it passes. "Faster!" demands the man in the motorboat, as he shoots through the water, throwing white swirls of spray behind his flying craft. "Faster!" mutters the daring inventor, perched aloft in his airship, risking death above the house-tops for fame and the progress of "civilization."

We are faster, a whole lot faster, than we were 25 years ago, 10 years ago, five years ago. Year by year speed records fall before new records, faster marks are set for faster performers, two-legged, four-legged and inanimate.

The picture shows the mile records in leading sports as they stand today. Now let us compare them with 25 years ago.

The trotting record in 1883 was 2:10 1/4. Nearly 12 seconds have been clipped off.

The pacing record was 2:11 1/4. Now it is 1:55.

The running horse mark was 1:56 1/2. Four and a quarter seconds have been clipped.

The fastest mile run by a man was then recorded at 4:16 1/2. Today the mark is 4:12 1/2.

The bicycle mark was 2:41 1/2. That was in the early days of the wheel. Today it is 1:06 1/2, faster than the fastest horse.

The swimming record has been reduced from 25:22 1/2 to 2:16 1/2. Balloon speed records were not kept in 1883. The dirigible balloon and the airship were dreams of the future. The automobile was in its experimental stage. Nobody had ever seen a motorcycle or a motorboat.

Great speed is to come. Records will fall, year by year.

Meanwhile there is one speed record that stood 25 years ago—yes, almost 35 years ago, and still stands. No inventor will invent anything, electric steam-driven or air-propelled, that will help in the least to lower it. There's no difference in sulkies, or in bearings, or in tires, to figure.

MAN, unaided by mechanics, made that record, and MAN must beat it. In London, on June 1, 1874, W. Perkins walked an official, recorded mile, in 6 minutes 23 seconds. His record stands today.

PLAN TO POOL PASSENGER TRAFFIC

East Bound Inigrant Travel
Will be Divided Equally Among Several Roads.

New York, Nov. 7.—A plan for pooling the eastbound second-class passenger traffic moving from Chicago and the west on through railroad and steamship stevedore tickets is now being worked out by the passenger officials of the roads in the Central Passenger association. If the details of the plan for regulating competition are approved at a meeting of the association in New York on Nov. 10 and 11 the eastbound steamship business, consisting principally of foreign residents of this country returning to their homes in Europe, will be divided among the various lines which are the largest participants in the business according to a prearranged percentage plan.

While the details of the plan have not yet been definitely determined, and the success of the entire arrangement is dependent upon its being assented to by the interstate commerce commission, it has been practically decided that four of the differential lines, the Erie, Grand Trunk, Nickel Plate, and the Wabash, will each receive one-sixth of the business and the other three differential roads, the Baltimore & Ohio, Michigan Central, and the Pennsylvania's Panhandle route, will divide the other two-sixths.

Passengers who express no preference as to the road over which they travel, and it is stated that most of the emigrants are willing to be guided by the agent, will thus be routed so as to give each road its share of business.

Attorneys for the roads and the steamships are now going over the plan to remove any "rough corners" before it is submitted to the interstate commerce commission. One or two of the roads have declared the plan to be illegal, but it is believed by the majority that as the commission already has assented to a similar arrangement on the westbound business it will give its approval in order to remove the effects of what is termed demoralizing competition between the roads for the traffic controlled by foreign born subagents of the steamship companies.

Another feature of the plan is the payment of 10 per cent commission on the railroad tickets bought by or for the emigrants in connection with steamship companies instead of to the agent as formerly. This practice of paying commissions direct to the agents has in the past sometimes led almost to a state of chaos according to passenger officials, because the agent who had rounded up a group of his own countrymen desiring to return to Europe was in a position to swing the business to the road offering him the largest commission. An order of the interstate commerce commission declaring it illegal to return any part of the commission to the passenger removed some but not all of the evil features of the practice.

According to the plan now being formulated, the agent of the steamship company will in many cases have an office in the railroad ticket office or will also be an employee of the railroad and sell a combination railroad and steamship ticket. If the management of the steamship company desires to return any of the commission to the agent it may do so without affecting the routing of the traffic.

Another feature of the plan is to make the railroad proportion of the through rate $1 lower than the regular domestic rate. Whether this will be done by lowering the present second-class rate from Chicago to New York from $16 to $15 or whether the regular rate is to be raised to $17 and the $16 rate made the rate on steamship business has not yet been decided.

The plan has received the consideration of the executive officials of the roads and has been thrashed out before the traffic officials and the attorneys. It is now confidently stated that it will be finally adopted, although some of the details may have to be changed.

What Would You Do?
In case of a burn or scald what would you do to relieve the pain? Such injuries are liable to occur in any family and everyone should be prepared for them. Chamberlain's Salve applied on a soft cloth will relieve the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a very severe one, will cause the parts to heal without leaving a scar. ANOTHER SON BORN

TO FLORETTA WHALEY

New York, Nov. 7.—Acquaintances of Jere K. Cook, ex-pastor of St. George's Episcopal church at Hempstead, Long Island, and Floretta Whaley, the young girl with whom he eloped, have learned that another son has been born to the couple in San Francisco, where they still are.

The second child arrived a month ago, and Mrs. Kesiah Whaley, the girl's grandmother, has known about the event for three weeks, but she kept the information to herself. A friend in San Francisco who has been sending the grandmother reports of the couple's poverty and Cook's struggles to earn a living wrote about the arrival of the second son. Once, when saying she was starving and asking if she could have $50, Mrs. Whaley sent that amount on condition that Mrs. Whaley use it to come home. The girl did not come, and Mrs. Whaley declares she will never send another cent to be spent on Cook.

MRS. TAFT WELL FITTED FOR POSITION

The New First Lady of the Land Can Acceptably Occupy the White House.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—No woman ever called upon to fill the difficult and exacting position of mistress of the White House was better prepared and equipped for her task than is Mrs. Helen H. Taft, the wife of President-elect Taft. She is a woman of culture and refinement and in many accomplishments, possesses unusual tact, social finish and, above all, a large measure of sound common sense. For a number of years she has lived in Washington as one of the most distinguished women of the official circles and the training which she received during that time will, undoubtedly, prove of great value to her as mistress of the White House.

Personally, Mrs. Taft is as attractive as she is from an intellectual point of view. She is fair, slender and girlish looking and no one would suspect from her appearance that she has a son old enough to be in college. She is frank and vivacious, unpretentious, and yet possessed of marked dignity of bearing and self-poise so necessary to a woman in her exalted position. She is always cordial, a rare accomplishment among society women, and possesses an excellent memory for persons and names, an invaluable gift for the wife of a political leader.

The new mistress of the White House was Miss Helen Herron, daughter of the late President Hayes, when she married William H. Taft in Cincinnati in 1886. She was a bright and talented girl with a perfect passion for music. In addition to a good education she received an excellent training in music and all through her future life music has been her favorite recreation. She is not only an accomplished pianist but possesses a thorough knowledge of the theory of music and an extensive acquaintance with the best works of musical literature. But notwithstanding her great love of music and her ardent devotion to it, she has never allowed it to become an all absorbing passion, or even a tad to the extent of interfering with her duties to her husband and family.

Although, probably better equipped for a high social position than most women holding important positions in American society Mrs. Taft is by no means a typical "society woman." For that she is too intelligent, sensible and well balanced. Ever since her husband entered official life in Washington and even before that, when he was holding a judgeship in Ohio, Mrs. Taft has made it her study and aim to fill to the best of her ability the position in society to which she was entitled by virtue of her husband's official rank. Her natural talent and the intellectual training of her girlhood days made the task easier for her and her inborn tact helped her to avoid the pitfalls so disastrous to inexperienced and, but differently equipped women in official society.

Nowhere is the new mistress of the White House seen to greater advantage than in her home circle, the supreme test for the sterling qualities of any woman, no matter what her position in society. She is devoted to her husband and children, takes interest in everything pertaining to her domestic establishment and is considered a model housekeeper. She does not consider it beneath her dignity to attend to her household duties and devotes great personal care to the proper conduct of her domestic establishment. No woman in Washington society ever knew better than Mrs. Taft to add a wholesome and refreshing domestic charm to her social entertainments. No matter how formal the function may be, Mrs. Taft as the hostess makes all her guests feel that they are received at home, not in a hotel parlor or a public hall. She knows better than most women the secret of making her guests feel at ease, without vulgarizing the tone dominant of her hospitable board.

Mrs. Taft is an accomplished musician and has great love for her art, but she never obtrudes the subject of music in conversation nor does she ever bore her guests with insipid accounts of the petty tribulations to which every woman at the head of a large domestic establishment is more or less exposed. Of her family and her own affairs she speaks with well-bred discretion and sparingly, while she shows remarkable skill and tact in drawing out her visitors by manifesting sympathetic interest in their affairs. Her home, wherever she may be, is always filled with that intangible charm which springs from the intellectually, refinement and exquisite artistic taste of the hostess. Mrs. Taft, like her daughter Helen, now studying at Bryn Mawr, is an Episcopalian, but she is broadminded enough not to allow religious differences of a serious nature to arise between her and her husband, who belongs to the Unitarian church, although he frequently attends services at the Episcopal church with his wife.

NOT THE ONLY ONE.

There Are Hundreds of Albuquerque People Similarly Situated.

Can there be any stronger proof offered than the evidence of Albuquerque residents? After you have read the following, quietly answer the question.

Mrs. E. Adair, of 817 South Edith St., Albuquerque, N. M. says: "Whenever any symptoms indicated kidney trouble or not, I was not certain, but nevertheless from reading about Doan's Kidney Pills I was given a desire to try them. I suffered severely from pain between and just below the shoulders blades. While on my feet or stirring around I did not feel the slightest inconvenience, but when I would sit down the pain would assert itself and at times was very severe. The use of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills brought a relief and that warrants my having a high appreciation of this medicine."

publication of his book on the Ruwenzori expedition in Africa.

The correspondent is assured that the delay of the Abruzzi-Elkins wedding is not due to any hitch or to fresh difficulties raised by members of the royal family who are opposed to the union.

The objections of Dowager Queen Margherita, it is said, are absolutely powerless to prevent the marriage or to induce the duke to break his engagement, as his determination and aptitude for overcoming obstacles are well known. Queen Margherita never opposed the marriage openly. She disapproved of the match, but as the king, who is head of the family, gave his consent, her disapproval has disappeared.

THE CASE NOT ARGUED.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—On October 19th, the Associated Press sent a dispatch from this city to the effect that in the United States supreme court the International Text Book company was denied a rehearing in its suit against Aaron T. Pigg, of Topeka, Kansas. It now appears that this was an error caused by a mistake of the supreme court clerk, who confused this case with another having a like number on the court calendar. The case of the International Text Book company against Pigg has not yet been argued.

WOMAN'S BREAST A CANCER NEST

Any Lump in Woman's Breast Is Cancer.

Of all parts of the human body woman's breast is the most common and most fatal place for cancer. Physicians without great experience do not know that any lump in woman's breast is cancer. The best book perhaps ever printed on cancers and tumors cured without knife or pain, cancer and proves that any tumor, lump or sore on the lip, face or anywhere else six months is cancer. In this book the author, who is the most successful specialist living, and to whom the medical journals the world over have given great praise, offers $1,000 if he fails to cure any cancer he treats before it has poisoned the glands and charges nothing until cured. Many poor are cured free. No X-Ray or other swindle, but strictly reliable. This book costs 50 cents to those who have no cancer, but is free to those who describe their case. The reader may save a life by sending this to someone with cancer. Address Dr. and Mrs. Dr. Chas. E. Co., 747 S. Main St., Los Angeles, Cal.
