STATEHOOD FOR NEW MEXICO

We favor the immediate admission of the territories of New Mexico and Arizona as separate states in the Union.—Republican National Platform.

The Farmers Convene

It used to be that about the only time one saw his neighbors in a public gathering was on Sunday at church, at a log rolling or a spelling bee. But that was some years ago. Now it seems that people are always looking to conventions, association meetings of this and that and public gatherings of all kinds.

A point in question, is the meeting of the National Grange, an organization of farmers, which convenes in Washington today. It is given out that the Grange proposes to find out why the boys leave the farm and why farm conditions are not better than they are, although most people familiar with the facts are of the opinion that the farmer is the most independent man alive today.

There was a time when farm life was not very attractive. It required hard work, with poor equipment and poorer pay but those days are no more.

The average farm today, is as comfortable a place to live as any town residence and the improved machinery and labor saving devices make the work much easier.

Then too, the farmer is making money. He has been making money for the past ten years and the outlook is promising that he will continue to make money for many years to come.

From a business standpoint and from the standpoint of right living, there is no better calling for the young man of today than the farm. But as it takes conventions in almost every other line to solve the existing evils, probably the National Grange is only keeping step with the times.

Fortunate for Cuba

Next Saturday the people of Cuba will hold another election for the selection of their officers. While the soldiers of the United States will be on duty in the island, there will be no interference so long as everything is conducted in an orderly manner.

In fact, the future of Cuba probably depends upon the ability of the Cuban people to hold an orderly election, place their officers in charge of the government and maintain them in office without revolution and bloodshed as in the past.

If the Cubans demonstrate in that manner, that they can govern themselves, the troops of the United States are to be withdrawn by the first of the year and Cuba will then be a free country, protected only by the provisions of the Monroe doctrine.

It is peculiarly fortunate for the people of the little island, that the recent election in the United States placed Mr. Taft in the White House. The new president to be is thoroughly familiar with all conditions in Cuba. He established the present provisional government under the orders of President Roosevelt and in doing so, he was forced to deal with some very intricate and delicate problems affecting the Cuban people.

His experience in Cuba, however, has peculiarly fitted him to deal with any crisis that may arise next Saturday or at any time in the future and whatever may come, the Cuban people will receive much more consideration and much more justice from Mr. Taft than from any other executive, because Mr. Taft knows all about Cuba.

The Maid of Saragossa

The unveiling of a monument at Saragossa in memory of Augustina de Aragon recalls to mind the exploit of the Spanish girl whose valor Byron celebrated in "Childe Harold."

During the Peninsular war, when the city was besieged by the French, the Maid of Saragossa carried food to the soldiers who were defending the battery. She arrived just in time one day to see the last gunner fall and seeing the match from his hand fired the gun herself. Then she rallied the Spanish soldiers, and leading them to the charge drove the French from the gate which they were on the point of capturing.

After the siege was over a pension was granted Augustina and the daily pay of an artilleryman, with the right to wear on her sleeve the embroidered shield of the city of Saragossa.

An American history there is the companion piece of Molly Pitcher, the "red-haired, freckle-faced young Irishwoman" who was the heroine of the battle of Monmouth on June 28, 1778. She was the young wife of an artilleryman in Washington's army. During the battle she carried water to the American soldiers. She was by her husband's side when a bullet struck him dead. She caught up the rammer, and taking his post stood by the gun until the British under Clinton were beaten back. The young widow the next day was presented to Washington and received a sergeant's commission, with half pay for life, and it is said that the French officers who were fighting with Washington filled a cocked hat with gold pieces and named her "La Capitaine."

The Maid of Saragossa, Molly Pitcher and Mary Ambree, who fought against the Spaniards in Flanders and is the heroine of the old English ballad from which Kipling borrowed the opening words for the title of his novel "Captains Courageous," are comrades illustrious by their courage in the field.—New York World.

From the wilds of Los Angeles comes the statement by Stewart Edward White that he is about to write a villainous novel. Land-grabbers will figure prominently in the plot, but they will be land-grabbers who will do no wrong because they think there is no great harm in it. The same excuse might be offered for a good many other sorts of villain. The all-good-people novel is about as inconceivable as a world with everybody practicing the Golden Rule.

A surgical operation, it is announced, has completely reformed a drunkard and thief in Philadelphia. A pressure on the brain was removed by the surgeon's knife and the former degenerate became a model citizen. The success opens up interesting possibilities, yet there will be many who will doubt that anything short of a capital operation will cure some cases.

THE FASHIONABLE WOMAN MUST TAPER LIKE A WRAPPED MUMMY

The silhouette of the fashionable figure must have its widest point at the shoulders and show a decided tapering to the feet, where it must be very narrow indeed. It is called the Egyptian mummy figure, and is the end to which all corseteers, modistes and tailors are directing their efforts. The long clinging scarf is a prominent feature of many evening costumes, and is capable of many individual arrangements.

Some Reasons Why

The C

Because The Citizen is a home paper. It is either delivered by carrier at the house or is carried home by the business man when his day's work is done and it STAYS THERE. A morning paper is usually carried down town by the head of the family and hurriedly read.

The Citizen is not read hurriedly, but thoroughly, so that all advertisements receive their share of attention. It presents the store news a little ahead, giving the prospective purchaser time to plan a shopping tour for the next morning.

Wise advertisers patronize The Citizen because they know their advertisements are seen and read at the homes in the evening, and if they are offering something worthy of attention, their ad has accomplished its mission.

The Citizen has never given premiums to subscribers, but is subscribed to and paid for on the news merits, showing that its subscribers have money with which to buy what they want from legitimate merchants. These are the people The Citizen invites to your store.

The Citizen employs a man whose business it is to look after your advertising wants. He will write your copy if you wish. If not, he will see that your ads are "set up" to look their best and he will attend to them from day to day.

Are you advertising in The Citizen? Your competitors are, and are profiting by it. Do you think conservative business men are spending money where they are not getting results? Get in the swim and watch your business grow.

THE TEMPERANCE MEETING WAS A SUCCESS

Mrs. Nutter Tells of Convention at Denver and New Mexico's Part in It.

A meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Dr. Cartwright at which time the following report of the thirty-fifth annual convention of that organization which was held in Denver, Colo., Oct. 23rd to 28th inclusive, was made by Mrs. S. C. Nutter, president of the New Mexico union, who returned from Denver last Saturday night. Mrs. Nutter's report follows:

The report of a great meeting, such as the national convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, held at Denver recently, is not easy a task as one might suppose. The inspiration of the moment, the undercurrent of consecration to a great cause, the details that have entered into success of such a meeting, are lost to a great extent in the telling. Any attempt to put it to you, the earnestness of purpose, which impelled this body of women, the largest organization of women in the world, to come from every section of the country to assemble in the interest of home and children, would be futile.

For the first time in the history of the organization, every state and territory was represented in convention. New Mexico white ribbons were invited by their California sisters to join the "White Ribbon Special" which would pass through Albuquerque on the morning of October 20th enroute to Denver. We were given a cordial reception that morning and enjoyed their comradeship through out the journey. At Denver we found the reception committee awaiting us with automobiles, to conduct all to their homes. The official board and executive committee were entertained at "The Shirley" and headquarters were established there.

The convention was held under the Auditorium, which was decorated with flags, banners and palms. The first morning (Friday) was devoted to preliminary business and the president's address. This address by Mrs. Lillian N. Stevens, was considered by those who heard it, as the most forcible and masterly yet given by her. Evangelists from the different states conducted services and the music was in charge of the musical director, M. S. Frances Graham, of New York. Physical exercises were held at intervals by Mrs. Frances W. Leiter, of Ohio, national superintendent of physical education. Friday night was "welcome" night and addresses of welcome were given by Henry A. Buechel, governor of Colorado, for the state; Robert W. Speer, mayor of Denver, for the city; Dr. Geo. Bedell Vosburg, president Denver Ministerial Alliance, for the churches; Prof. Charles E. Chadsey, superintendent Denver public schools, for education; Mrs. Harry Landen Hollister, president Colorado Federation of Women's Clubs, for the General Federation of Women's Clubs; and Mrs. Antonietta A. Hawley, honorary president of Colorado W. C. T. U., for the state W. C. T. U.

Responses of five minutes each were listened to from Mrs. Harriet B. Kells, president Massachusetts W. C. T. U.; Mrs. M. M. Allen, New York national superintendent medical temperance; Mrs. C. L. J. Vaynisher, president Indiana W. C. T. U.; collection and Mrs. Sylvia Moore, president Tennessee W. C. T. U.

This program was followed by a benediction after which the convention adjourned for the evening, to convene again at 8:30 next morning. The members of the New Mexico delegation were the following: Mrs. S. C. Nutter, Albuquerque, president; Mrs. A. A. Scott, Tucuman, vice president; Mrs. M. W. Barnes, Tucuman, corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. C. Martin, Roswell, delegate-at-large; and Miss Mildred Martin, Roswell, visiting delegate.

The day meetings of the session were filled with reports and addresses by department superintendents, which were very interesting. Many distinguished guests and internal delegates were introduced among whom was Judge Ben. J. Lindsey of juvenile court fame. The convention sermon was given by Mrs. Margaret Dye Ellis of Washington, D. C., Sunday afternoon. Hon. Seaborn Wright of Georgia spoke at night and an immense crowd filled the Auditorium. The evening meetings were of special interest to the general public. The Young Woman's Christian Temperance union and the Loyal Temperance Legion gave the program on Saturday evening. One thousand children, all pledged to total abstinence, paraded the streets of Denver, with banners floating, led by the Post Musette band which is composed of both girls and boys. This band plays well and made a very fine appearance with their scarlet and white uniforms. The children were conducted to the opera house and gave a fine program of songs and drills.

The demonstration followed and while the whole program was good, the emblem drill deserves special mention. Sixty young girls, members of the Denver Y. dressed in white gave this emblematic drill. The first letter was formed Y, then followed W. C. T. U., each letter receiving the soft red light which beautified it and brought forth great applause.

One feature of this program was the appearance of eight girls, dressed in white, representing the prohibition states. The other states wore black cloaks over white dresses and during the exercises the cloaks were removed until finally the work was flashed out that "the nation's going dry." During the interval between program members, the delegations from different states arose in their seats and sang their rally cries, all uniting in singing "The Nation's Going Dry." Platform night was a "Greeting and Godspeed" to Mrs. Katherine Lent Stevenson of Massachusetts, and Miss Frances Davis, Wisconsin, soon to sail for the Orient under commission from the World's W. C. T. U.

This program was in charge of Miss Anna A. Gordon, national vice president and was very appropriate for the occasion. She presided to the audience, fourteen children, clad in the costume of some foreign country. Miss Gordon introduced each one, described their costume then each child bowed and presented a flower to these workers who were going to foreign lands. The costumes of the children, came from the countries represented. At the close of this part of the program, three of Judge Lindsey's friends were introduced who proved to be newsboys, one of whom said "All us boys wants is a square deal and Judge Lindsey sees we get it."

Tuesday evening was the great demonstration night which illustrated W. C. T. U. principles and methods and was represented by the Y. and L. T. L. and thirty-eight other departments of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union as included under organization, preventives, educational, evangelistic, social and legal. Each department was allowed three minutes and was under the direction of the department superintendents and seemed to be a revelation to that audience. If one may judge from the expressive approval, beginning with the kindergarten passing through grades high school, college and university, entering public life, home life and down to children represented the Anti-child labor department. Temperance and labor brought in policemen, mail carriers, conductors, motormen and messenger boys, Indians, foreigners, all classes in their turn appeared. A group of choir boys, singing as they passed in the interest of Sabbath observance brought forth great applause.

COREY'S SON A HUSKY YOUTH IN MOLESKINS

"POP" COREY.

Among the brawny lads who are trying for positions on the Yale eleven is Allan, better known as "Pop" Corey, son of Wm. E. Corey, steel magnate who wedded Mabelle Gilman. Young Corey is a stocky, well-built youth, and as quarterback on the "scrub" team has done good work against the regulars.

So the panorama moved and my time limit is too short to tell you all, but you will perhaps be interested to learn that New Mexico won a fifteen dollar prize given in the interest of the scientific temperance department and was represented by her delegation of five on program on Jubilee night. The latter honor given for increase in membership, only those making increase being placed on program. The election of officers was easily accomplished as the president and secretary were re-elected and the two remaining offices filled on second ballot. Many pleasant courtesies were extended and the convention adjourned in the most harmonious manner. Many more things could be told you but this must suffice for the present.

KING EMMANUEL DOESN'T RUN IN DEBT

Italian Sovereign Pays His Debts and Cuts Down Expenses to Meet Income.

Rome, Nov. 11.—King Victor Emmanuel stands unique as the one sovereign in the world who has never had a debt. More remarkable still, he was practically free from debt as crown prince, when his finances were anything but florid.

The Italian civil list amounts to the very respectable sum of $1,200,000 yearly, but the king's expenses are enormous. He hands over every year $400,000 to his mother; he keeps up from eight to ten palaces and estates, which came to him from the dispossessed Italian rulers, and he is paying off the debts of an extravagant father and still more extravagant grandfather. When he came to the throne he found that there were many arguments, on which big interest was being paid, of the great Victor Emmanuel, a king in the old style, without thought where spending, women and feasting were concerned, but a hero for courage and love of country. King Humbert was more restrained in his pleasures, but thought that a king should be a king all through and not look at the pennies. Thus when his son came to the throne he found a sad state of financial chaos.

Victor Emmanuel's public point of view, curiously enough, is that of his subjects, that while the country is poor her sovereign should pay the personal family debts, and his private view is that a sovereign lowers his own dignity and that of his subjects by being in debt. He has therefore looked about him for the best way to raise money and came to the conclusion that the bourgeoisie way is the best, that is, to cut down expenses. There was great astonishment not only in Italy but abroad, when the young sovereign with over $1,000,000 income sold nearly 100 horses which had been eating their heads off at the Quirinal palace, only keeping those strictly necessary for royal use. At the same time two or three cooks were got rid of. Today the queen's clothing, while still of the best quality, is not bought regardless of the price, as was the case with Queen Margherita. Furthermore, Queen Elena's gowns and hats are seen quite three times, if not more, by the public, and entertaining at the palace is restricted to two halls a year, the necessary state

WIRELESS MAKES SOME NEW RECORDS

Messages Are Received After Traveling Land and Water for 2,300 Miles.

Seattle, Nov. 11.—Two 2,300 mile wireless records, one partly by land and the other partly by water, have been made by northwest stations within three days. The most remarkable one is that of the Puget Sound Navy Yard station, which received a message from the flagship West Virginia at Magdalena Bay, about 2,300 miles distant. This is by far the greatest distance over which wireless messages have ever traveled on this coast, and local officials claim it is the world's record.

The new apparatus at Tatoosh yesterday received a message direct from Honolulu, a distance of 2,300 miles. This is not so remarkable a record as the former, for the message traveled entirely over water.

Atmospheric conditions were favorable and at 8 o'clock last night the local operators heard the West Virginia, flagship to the Pacific fleet, talking to the Farallones station.

How Is Your Digestion?

Mrs. Mary Downing of No. 223 8th Ave., San Francisco, recommends a remedy for stomach trouble. She says: "Gratitude for the wonderful effect of Electric Bitters in a case of acute indigestion, prompts this testimonial. 'I am fully convinced that for stomach and liver troubles Electric Bitters is the best remedy on the market today.' This great tonic and alterative medicine invigorates the system, purifies the blood and is especially helpful in all forms of female weakness. 50c at all druggists."

MAGNIFICENT GOWNS FOR EVENING

Dreams of beauty are the gowns for evening wear. The most exquisite fabrics are employed—everything from the most perishable tissues to gorgeous velvets and satins. The long shapeless "Egyptian mummy" figure is the one universal striven for. For hair ornaments, feathers, metal bands, coronets and ribbons are all used. A great deal of pearl, gold and silver embroidery—fringe is seen, and the buttons are magnificent.

BASKETBALL TEAM TO REPRESENT CITY

The "Tri-A" Organization Will Arrange Games With Several Outside Teams.

A basketball team to be known as the "Tri-A" is now being formed by some local enthusiasts of the game who contemplate joining the Albuquerque Athletic association which is now being formed to occupy the new armory building. The "Tri-A" team will be representatives of the new association and games will be arranged with Y. M. C. A. basketball teams from El Paso, Tex.; Raton, N. M., and Las Vegas, N. M. Besides these games with out-of-town teams, the new organization will compete with the local varsity team as well as the team comprised of boys belonging to the National guard.

A list of good players is already made up and is in the possession of the captain pro tem, William McMillin, who is confident that he will have a picked team of the best players in the territory. Those members from which the team will be selected are as follows: Clarence Wiley, Marshall Robbins, Herbert Galles, Arthur Mabette, Walter Galles, Bert Skinner, Gilbert Bronson, Benson Newell and William McMillin, captain.

The new armory, in which the games will be played, is now being put into proper shape, and as soon as goals are erected practice work will be commenced. The games between the various teams will be played under the auspices of the new athletic association.

VETERINARY WASN'T WHAT HORSE NEEDED

Animal Looked Sick but Was Only Starving—Owner Didn't Know It.

"See that sick horse; some one should call a veterinary." This remark was made today by a man who stood looking at a lean, weak looking horse, which moved dejectedly up Central avenue.

A veteran horseman heard the remark and replied that the horse wasn't sick but was only starving. An investigation showed that the horse was being fed on hard grains and was not able to assimilate twenty per cent of the food. There are a large number of horses in Albuquerque in the same fix. Their owners think they are sick but they are only starving.

By feeding mixed feed, one of these run down horses can be put in good condition in ten days and any horse will be benefited. The mixed feed, prepared by E. W. Fee at his store, 602-604 South First street, just fills the bill. It is made from all kinds of selected grains and brans, thoroughly mixed. It gives any horse 25 per cent more nourishment than any other known feed, and is so compact it can be kept in a small place. It saves buying half a dozen different feeds to give variety. FOUR HOUR SHOW WHEN PARSIFAL COMES Performance Will Begin at 7:30—Thirty-two People With the Company.

William Pottle, business manager for the Parsifal company, which is to come to the Elks' theater, November 24, is in the city today. Mr. Pottle's attraction is probably the most classical drama to come to Albuquerque this winter. The performance is put on under the direction of Messrs. Martin and Emery of New York City. The company carries thirty-two people. The performance will begin at 7:30 and continue for four hours. The prices will be $1 and $1.50. According to an advance program the prices at other places have been $1 and $2. The company comes here under a guarantee and it may be said to the credit of Manager Matson, the prices will be held to the lowest figures. This will be the big society event of the year.

IDEAL OPERA COMPANY PLEASES BIG AUDIENCE

"Mikado" Presented in Creditable Manner at Elks' Theater Last Night.

The delightful manner in which the Ideal Opera company presented the "Mikado" last night gives Albuquerque theater goers assurance that they will not be disappointed in their anticipation of a week of good plays. While the play itself is an antiquity of comic opera, the lines and lyrics are of such clever and refreshing wit and humor, when produced by talent, that it will always be a wholesome entertainment. The Burgess brothers are the same inimitable comedians they proved to be when doing similar stunts at the Casino a year ago, and the ladies of the company can sing and act. The whole company is well trained. Both Miss Shattuck and Miss Moore were accorded hearty receptions, each being compelled by continuous applause to give several encores. The bill tonight will be the "Bohemian Girl."

THE EXPOSITION BONDS SELL RAPIDLY

Seattle Generously Over Subscribes for the Big Fair There in 1909.

Seattle, Nov. 11.—One day in the fall of 1908 the people of Seattle subscribed for stock in the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition. Only half a million had been asked for but so much in earnest were the people that they generously over-subscribed. The capital stock was accordingly raised to $600,000. All this was done after several months of agitation. Then came the demand from all the states and many foreign countries of the Pacific that the proposed exposition be broadened to include the mighty Pacific. This was done and the capital stock raised to $800,000 the balance being subscribed at once by the people of Seattle and Washington.

This sum of money with the $1,200,000 given by the state legislature and the various county appropriations made a grand total of nearly $2,200,000. Within the last month, however, the demand of exhibitors for space and the general plan of making much of the work on the grounds and buildings permanent, made it necessary to enlarge the scope of the exposition. The incorporation of the word "Pacific" in the title of the exposition was like a magic wand, for the countries across the Pacific, as well as many European countries accept of the invitations to participate. It finally became necessary to have more money. The directors decided upon a bond issue, as every other great exposition had done. Three hundred and fifty thousand dollars on bonds at a rate of interest close to eight per cent were ordered sold. The local banks offered to take the entire issue, but the directors wished the people to have the advantage of the bonds. Two weeks advertising brought characteristic Seattle results. The bonds were sold in lots from $100 to $11,000 to a total of $190,000 to private individuals and firms. The banks took the balance and resold them to subscribers who were late in making their offers. Nearly 500 individuals now hold these bonds. This perchance will show that Seattle means business in backing the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition and it is determined that it shall be a huge success as far as money can make it. And it is now felt that with the financial side settled, there is no doubt about its success. For the vast number of inquiries from distant points indicates a far reaching interest.

Work on the exposition buildings and grounds is going forward rapidly. Within the next 30 days work will start upon the last of the building groups, including the five government buildings, the women's forestry, Missouri, Spokane, King county, machinery annex and other buildings. Plans are being considered for several annex buildings to take care of the scores of applicants for space. A dozen concessions have started work. The laying of asphalt on the 11 miles of roads and walks has started. The great central court of honor is finished. Exhibits are arriving and are being stored in the buildings now complete. In fact were the exposition to open a month earlier than the set date, June 1st, it would be ready and complete in every detail.

SYLVANITE CAMP ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Mining Experts Report on Ore and Advise Continuation of Work.

Since the establishment of the new town of Sylvanite in southern Grant county the quality of the ore and whether it is worth working has been thoroughly discussed. The consensus of opinion among prospectors and mining experts seems to be that the new district is worth while and that the quality of ore will improve with depth.

The general opinion now is that the metallic-looking material in the ore is tetradymite, a telluride of bismuth, and has no gold in chemical combination; but the gold is in a free state or in calaverite, sylvanite and petzite. These minerals are found in the ore. To quote Walter E. Koch, scientific mining engineer and metallurgist, who has made a specialty of microscopic mineralogy and geology, in his report on this rock and ore, made for the El Paso Mining Journal: "I found the following minerals: Tetradymite, calaverite, free gold, sylvanite, petzite, quartz, calcite, iron oxide, tourmaline, topaz, vanadinite (?), and there are others undetermined as yet."

Mr. Koch made his examination under a microscope giving enlargements to 120 diameters, and his findings absolutely determine the character of the ore he investigated.

Mr. Koch made his report to the Mining Journal after a special visit to the camp. He characterized the rock "from about the Copper Dick property to Granite Gap (which district includes Sylvanite) as chiefly an andesite, and often so fine-grained that it would be classed as a felsite. There is some limestone near Sylvanite, and some of the rocks ring like phonolite, but I did not see any that I would class as a true phonolite."

J. P. Casey, Jr., in his special report to the Mining Journal, states: "The whole country, except the line on top, is igneous, being principally a porphyry, and one of the underlying rocks I could classify as a quartz syenite. The dykes are phonolite and quartzite and have a general trend from east to west. The great question is that for the work done the camp makes an unquestionably good showing so far, and only further development work can demonstrate its future."

Varney & Dillon, the assayers at Sylvanite, gave the Mining Journal the results of the first 100 assays made at the camp. They run from a trace to 200 ounces gold. The average is way above $40.

A BLESSING TO MANY PEOPLE HERE

This Simple Home Made Mixture Recommended For Elderly Folks.

This is a simple home recipe now being made known in all the larger cities through the newspapers. It is intended to check the many cases of Rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble which have made so many cripples and invalids and weakenings of some of our brightest and strongest people.

The druggists here have been notified to supply themselves with the ingredients and the sufferer will have no trouble to obtain them. The prescription is as follows: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce, and Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle. The dose is one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Recent experiments prove this simple mixture effective in Rheumatism, because of its positive action upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys. It compels these most vital organs to filter from the blood and system the waste impurities and uric acid which are the cause of rheumatism. It cleanses the kidneys, strengthens them and removes quickly such symptoms as backache, blood disorders, bladder weakness, frequent urination, painful scalding and discolored urine. It acts as a powerful stimulant to the entire kidney and bladder structure.

Those who suffer and are accustomed to purchase a bottle of medicine should not let a little inconvenience interfere with making this up.

Election of Taft Bound to Result in Better Business Conditions at Once.

New York, Nov. 11.—The election is over. The country has most emphatically declared that it wants peace; that it desires nothing so much as a rest from threatened radicalism. It needs a free chance to recover from the inertia begotten of last year's panic. Of course, the result of the election had been to a considerable extent discounted in the stock market, hence there has been no such speculative rebound since, as some very hopeful but inexperienced observers anticipated. This, however, should cause no disappointment; for the defeat of radicalism has been so complete, and the demand for sane, sober and honest government so emphatic, that far-reaching results to all business interests must follow. These will not be seen at a glance and will not come in overnight. Weeks and months will be requisite to bring out the full, beneficent results of the political tidal wave, which swept the country on November 3, and left a lively realization of the dangers escaped. So much for the sentimental effect of the election which is important. What of the practical effect which is more important?

A considerable amount of business had been held in suspense for several months, until the result was foreseen. Many orders and many new enterprises were temporarily pigeonholed. As indications of Mr. Taft's success became more pronounced, activity was resumed by the more venturesome spirits, hence the event was discounted to a considerable extent. Yet an important amount of business was undoubtedly postponed until the result was definitely settled. Such orders and such enterprises will now on be undertaken more confidently and add to the volume of business. And largely because of the new and well founded cheerfulness there is good reason to look for a steady recovery towards the normal in business. Nothing would be more unfortunate than to see the country plunged into another period of speculative excesses such as brought on the panic of 1907; and fortunately there is nothing of that kind in sight.

The last few presidential elections have been followed by a considerable rise in stocks, so it remains to be seen whether this election has or has not been already sufficiently discounted. The conditions this year are so radically different from previous post election periods that little analogy can be drawn between them, and this year must be judged largely by itself. In the first place it must be remembered that security prices are now quite high; especially considering the diminished volume of business and the lessened profits which both railroads and industrials have endured. The only thing that makes securities look cheap just now is cheap money which combined with hopefulness are the main factors in support of the stock market. What stocks may do when interest rates advance, as they must with the increasing demand for mercantile credits, cannot be predicted at this time; but it is evident that the lifting power of cheap money cannot be relied upon indefinitely.

THIS PRINCE IS THE MORGAN OF GERMANY

He Controls Many Enterprises And Is Accepted as an Equal by the Kaiser.

Berlin, Nov. 11.—Possessor of the most honored hereditary titles, blessed with a gigantic inherited fortune, and, at the same time, gifted with an energy and a genius for trading which has already, at the age of 48, made him the most powerful factor in many branches of commerce in this country—such is the happy position of Prince Max Egon zu Fürstenberg, the J. Pierpont Morgan of Germany today.

It is only twelve years since—by the sudden death of his cousin, Prince Egon, without direct heirs—he was lifted at one bound from the lowly position of head of a minor and comparatively poor branch of the ancient Fürstenberg family and became head of the house, with unlimited wealth at his disposal.

Although the amount of his personal fortune has never been made public, it is certain that its total is well over $100,000,000, and that he is one of the richest men in Germany. If not in Europe, he owns vast domains in the Black Forest, in Baden-Baden and in Bohemia that their value cannot well be computed.

He has put his many-sued energies and opportunities for the utilization of this colossal capital to such good account that, in these few short years since he succeeded, his word has almost become law as regards real estate, banking, shipping and other transportation, dry goods, coal mining and brewing, in all of which branches he has acquired extensive interests and commanding influence.

So exalted is his commercial position that bankers and financiers formerly supreme in their respective spheres, are in a panic. They do not know where he is going to branch out next, and as he has no need of financial backing to run his schemes, they fear the effect of his operations on other concerns, which he could so easily attack by floating rival businesses.

Some idea of the extent of his deals may be gathered from the amount of capital he has sunk in various undertakings in conjunction with his close friend, Prince Kraft zu Hohenlohe-Oehring, a man as high in aristocratic rank and whose wealth is second only to that of Prince Fürstenberg.

Apart from all private deals and enterprises, no less than $21,875,000 is the capital engaged in stock companies founded and controlled by the two princes. Of this $21,875,000 is accounted for by the Commercial Union, formerly the Maedera Exploration company; $9,500,000 in the Berlin Land and Building company; $4,125,000 in the Neue Passage Department stores; $1,000,000 in the Berlin Omnibus company, and the same amount in the German Levant Steamship line.

Besides these there are the endless private speculations of Prince Fürstenberg, which run into countless millions. There is his brewing business, for instance; then his coal mines in Silesia and his great holding in the Hamburg-Amerika line.

Another venture now in preparation for floating, the Neue Passage Department stores, will launch Prince Fürstenberg into the dry goods and provision business. The establishment, which has been specially erected for the purpose, is the largest of its kind in Germany, where it is the intention of the prince to revolutionize the trade on American lines. The concern is, in fact, an immense union of specialty firms under one roof.

The building stands right in the center of Berlin. It has a frontage of 550 feet and a great gilt dome, 150 feet in height and 100 feet in diameter, dominates practically the whole of the city.

The management has been placed in the hands of one of the prince's most intimate associates, Otto Mackwitz, who is possessed of thoroughly up-to-date American ideas, gained from a long sojourn in the United States, where he married a New York woman.

But high as is this German-Austrian position in the financial world, it hardly compares with his position in the world of diplomacy and politics. He is the only man in Germany that the Kaiser treats as an absolute equal. In other words, he is Emperor William's best and closest friend. For more than a year the two have been separated for scarcely a day, and it is an open secret in diplomatic circles that the emperor has on several occasions referred his multi-millionaire friend to the position of chancellor. But the prince would rather be a maker of chancellors than the holder of the important and arduous office.

ONLY ONE "BEST."

Albuquerque People Give Credit Where Credit Is Due.

People of Albuquerque who suffer with sick kidneys and bad backs want a kidney remedy that can be depended upon. The best is Doan's Kidney Pills, a medicine for the kidneys only, made from pure roots and herbs, and the only one that is backed by cures in Albuquerque. Here's Albuquerque testimony:

Win. Saquinette, living at 415 N. Sixth St., Albuquerque, N. M., says: "My wife suffered a great deal from pains in her back, which became severe when she brought even a slight strain on the muscles of the back. Some three years ago she was advised to use Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box. They afforded her quick and genuine relief and from that time on she has appealed to them as occasion might require and always obtained the most satisfactory results. We are convinced that there is nothing more effective for disordered kidneys than Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

DEMOCRATS OF ARIZONA HAVE LEGISLATURE

Both the House and Council Are Controlled by Them as Result of Election.

Phoenix, Nov. 11.—Unless the official count makes important change, the next legislature of Arizona, which meets in January, will be strongly Democratic in both branches. It looks now as if there will be ten Democrats and two Republicans in the upper house and eighteen Democrats and six Republicans in the lower branch.

In Cochise county there is still some question as to whether Neil Bailey, Democrat, or E. J. Shearer, Republican, has been selected, with the chances in favor of Bailey.

In Maricopa county J. W. Woolf still remains five votes ahead of Roy Goodrich, and unless the official count makes a change, Woolf has been chosen. The wild story that seventeen Republicans were denied the right to vote at Mediana appears to be without foundation.

If no changes are made in the legislative returns received up to today the Democrats will have twenty-eight members of the two branches and the Republicans only eight. It is possible for the Democrats to pass any measure they desire by a two-thirds vote.

According to the best information obtainable those who have been elected to the two branches of the legislature are as follows: It now being established that Ben Goodrich has been chosen in Cochise county, after all:

Council—Democrats, 10; Republicans, 2. Assembly—Democrats, 18; Republicans, 6.

The personnel of the council will be as follows: Apache—S. E. Day, R. Mohave—Keen St. Charles, D. Cochise—Fred S. Green, R. Yavapai—M. G. Burns, D. Navajo—William Morgan, D. Maricopa—Eugene Brady O'Neill, D.

Pinal—Thomas F. Weedon, D. Yuma—George W. Norton, D. Gila—G. W. P. Hunt, D. Graham—John R. Hampton, D. Cochise—Ben Goodrich, D. Pima—Santa Cruz—James B. Finley, D.

In the assembly a list of the members is as follows: Mohave—W. S. Tobey, D. Navajo—Joseph Peterson, D. Pinal—G. L. Shaw, R.; A. R. Coleman, D.

Graham—W. W. Pace, D.; Phil Merrill, D. Santa Cruz—Frank J. Duffy, D. Maricopa—S. T. Webb, D. Pinal—De Souza, D.; J. W. Woolf, D.; J. C. Reed, R.

Pima—John Doan, R.; Kirk Moore, R.; W. J. Hogwood, D. Yavapai—G. A. Bray, R.; Perry Hall, D.; George D. Morris, D. Cochise—Fred A. Sutter, D.; Oscar W. Roberts, D.; Neil E. Bailey, D.; or E. J. Shearer, R. is taken internally.

Apache—J. S. Gibbons, D. Cochise—T. J. Coulter, R.

MUST UTILIZE ALL FOREST PRODUCTS

Future of the Lumber Industry Depends on the Use of Timber to Save Waste.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The future development of the lumber industry in this country lies in the direction of a closer utilization of forest products. Both foresters and practical lumbermen now agree on this point.

Just what can be done in this line is well illustrated in the operations of the mill of the Great Southern Lumber company, which has just reopened its plant at Bogalusa, Louisiana, in response to the increased demand for lumber after the recent slump in business. This is perhaps the largest sawmill in the United States, if not in the world, and is capable of turning out the enormous amount of $55,000 feet of sawn lumber board measure per day. A reader can get a fair idea of this quantity of lumber when he is told that its output is enough to build a little town of 10 houses, along with a good-sized church and a school house every day.

This company was quick to grasp the significance of the rapid depletion of timber resources. Last year it began a co-operative investigation in wood utilization with the United States forest service and arrangements have just been completed for a renewal of the experiments. The work will be along practical lines and will be aimed to secure a closer utilization of the products of the southern lumber mills at the same time from the sale of treated lumber will exceed those from untreated lumber.

Moreover, the greater use of carefully preserved wood will undoubtedly result in that wood giving a greater life in service. Hence, the amount of timber cut annually in the United States, simply to replace that which has decayed, will be materially decreased, and a further conservation of forest resources will result. Recent estimates by the forest service place this reduction at 10 per cent of the total timber cut. The practical benefits of those experiments and of the investigations for the utilization of sawmill waste are at once apparent.

ARIZONA VARSITY COMES FOR BLOOD

Football Squad From Sister Territory Expects to Win Here Thanksgiving.

Out at the University the football squad is working hard for the Thanksgiving game here with the University of Arizona. The strongest team the varsity has ever had is rapidly developing and football fans look for a fast and exciting game to end the season.

Arizona expects to win the game and the following from the Arizona Daily Star at Tucson shows with what determination the varsity is going after the big end of the score: The University has employed a football coach, H. B. Galbraith, to train the boys from now on for the Thanksgiving game with the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque. Every football player and enthusiast at U. A. rejoices at Galbraith's taking charge of the gridiron. He is a professional at the game, has played for several years in eastern universities on four prominent teams, and last year assisted Warner to coach the Carleton Indian squad. He is already putting a snap and vim into the work on the University field that shows what will happen to the New Mexico lads when they meet the U. A. after three weeks. Galbraith began work Friday evening and his tactics have convinced the boys on the field that he is a master of the new game of football and will develop a winning team.

A football rally was held in Assembly hall Friday at noon to discuss the situation. Dr. Babcock, Prof. Tolman and several students made enthusiastic speeches in support of football, urging the boys not to be ready practicing to come out and help the University win the biggest football game it is likely to play for some time. The students contributed liberally toward a fund for employing a coach and the enthusiasm aroused shows that football will be a success for U. A. this season.

A strong football squad is being rapidly developed. Robertson, the crack halfback from southern California; Blades, who has been starring as full; Tom Rice, the swift and sure quarter and end; Burnham, captain in 1907 of the University freshmen huskies, are some of the older men who have been working out steadily, and many old men who so far have not had time to play are now coming out in their suits. Clowson, redoubtable old time guard, took his place at left Friday evening. Carpenter, three years ago the speediest end on the eleven of the Texas Agricultural college, has been out a few evenings, and Frank Rose, the best center that ever snapped the ball for Arizona, will be out Monday. Hatcher, whose past work on the gridiron for U. A. gives him a sure place at quarter, and Andrews, a heavy man and a veteran at the game, will get out next week. There is a lot of good material out every evening toiling the pigskins from which the rest of a victorious team can easily be picked. Everything points toward a bad defeat for the Albuquerque boys. As an enthusiast said: "U. A. will set an example and not let New Mexico take us in."
