HIDE IN MRS. LIND'S STATE ROOM TO ESCAPE FROM VERA CRUZ

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
New York, Oct. 31.—The steamer that arrived tonight from Vera Cruz with Mrs. John Lind, wife of President Wilson's special envoy, brought also two Mexican legislators who saved their liberty, if not their lives, to her quick wit and generosity. To save the two Mexicans from arrest at Vera Cruz, Mrs. Lind hid them in her state room and set out on deck at midnight. The boat left port and the officers of the Huerta government had gone ashore.

A week ago the cables brought word that the World liner, Morro Castle, had been detained at Vera Cruz while Huerta's agents searched for eight rebellious members of the legislature of the state of Vera Cruz. Until the Morro Castle arrived here tonight, only those aboard knew that two of the eight "deputies" had escaped arrest. These two, Adolfo Dominguez and Miguel A. Cordera, say they will stay in New York until Mexico becomes a safer home for the opponents of Huerta.

Mrs. Lind said that her husband, the special envoy, had expected to come home after the Mexican election. Now she did not know when he would come.

"We expected that the Morro Castle would sail from Vera Cruz," said Mrs. Lind, "at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of October 22. Then Captain Huff was subpoenaed to testify regarding the flight of Dr. Francisco Vasquez Gomez, who had sailed on the Morro Castle five months before. Later, we learned that the real reason for our detention was that the government wished to search the ship for eight state legislators from Jalisco. They arrested six of those men, but they didn't find the others, and I'll tell you why."

"While the search was going on, the friends of these two men learned that I was aboard and they came with tools in their eyes begging me to help them. I said, 'Here's the key to my state room. Take it.'"

"That was all they needed. I spent the night on deck and the two men hid in my room, until the detectives gave up the search and went ashore. The ship was released and we sailed at 5 o'clock the next morning."

The wife of the special envoy is a housewife and a low voice, but her eyes flashed as she asserted:

"I couldn't bear to think of those men being taken ashore and hanged. I just had to do something for them."

Two other Americans aboard the Morro Castle, George Hebron and John Kane, employees of the American Fueling and Refining Co., also had an experience with Dominguez and Cordera. "There were rumors that Huerta's agents stayed aboard until the ship reached Progreso on the afternoon of October 25. The first night out of Vera Cruz Mr. Hebron said that Dominguez burst into their state room yelling in Spanish: 'They're after me! They're after me!'

Hebron ran on deck and into the arms of a squad of Mexican soldiers. "Are you an American?" they demanded.

Hebron said he was and they made him attempt to detain him.

"When I returned to my state room," said the American, "I found Dominguez inside with the door barred."

The soldiers left the ship at Progreso, Texas.

Through E. C. Friable, an American who was returning home after three years' residence in Mexico, the two Mexican deputies said that they owned their escape also to the fact that the Mexican law does not permit the arrest of a member of the state legislature on an ordinary warrant. The six deputies taken off the steamer at Vera Cruz were held on summons from the district judge charging rebellion, but no such summons had been issued for Dominguez and Cordera and by insisting upon their rights they gained time to hide in Mrs. Lind's state room.

These men insisted that while conditions in Mexico were chaotic, interference by the United States would probably make matters worse. They believed the quickest way to restore peace in Mexico would be for the government to grant amnesty to all rebels and hold a free election.

Mr. Friable said that Mrs. Lind was the only person aboard, so far as he knew, that approved of President Wilson's Mexican policy.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Reticence regarding the plans of the Washington administration on the Mexican problem for the last few days continued everywhere in official circles today.

Those few who are acquainted with what President Wilson has under consideration declared that he had fixed upon nothing as a finality but that he was turning over in his mind some definite proposals.

From the same source it was learned that in whatever is attempted, due consideration of the constitutionalists would be given. It was inferred from many quarters that the cardinal feature of the administration's plan would be a comprehensive scheme to bring about a fair and free election, the American government using its good offices to secure the participation of the constitutionalists. In some quarters the suggestion was advanced that the Washington government contemplated assisting materially in the conduct of the proposed election to insure certain safeguards. Discussion of the suggestion in diplomatic circles as a precedent that the United States had supervised elections in Cuba brought out many expressions of opinion to the effect that probably none of the Mexican factions would consent to such an arrangement.

The general discussion of the constitutionalists' efforts here, diplomats and other officials concerned in the situation, was to await the evolution of the president's plan. It is admitted that no action will be taken until announcement of an official character is made in Mexico as to the result of last Sunday's election.

Much interest is manifested in the arrival here tomorrow of Roberto V. Penabaz, nephew of the governor of Sonora, and special messenger from General Carranza to the constitutionalist agency here. It is believed he brings the views of the constitutionalists as to what would or would not prove acceptable to them in the way of election arrangements and in the event that the agency here continue its efforts to obtain the removal of the embargo on arms.

Bogotá, N. J., Oct. 31.—John McGill, employed in the Lovington mines, today unearthed what appeared to be a petrified human foot. It was imbedded in the rock, 1,000 feet below the surface of the earth.

Terry explained that he asked Mrs. Wilson to visit Ford's office, but Mrs. Wilson demurred, saying she wished no special attentions. Ford, however, maintained that Terry's failure to make known the visit of the president's wife, was a breach of discipline.

When the story got around to the control there were several hurried telephone calls to the White House. Mrs. Wilson took a hand in the proceedings and after Secretary Tamm had given some directions to the printing office, Terry promptly was put back on his job.

CHAMP CLARK SPEAKS
IN MARYLAND FIGHT

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Baltimore, Oct. 31.—Speaker Champ Clark, of the national house of representatives, joined in the Maryland political campaign in a speech delivered at a democratic mass meeting here tonight. As the head of his party in the lower house of congress, he discussed party achievements and devoted his speech to the tariff, income tax and currency legislation. He told the gathering that Maryland had come to be regarded as a political battleground.

"It is to be hoped that the senate will serve to the house bill without radical amendment," said Mr. Clark, in reference to the currency bill, "but nobody over claimed that the house bill was perfect. What we do claim is that it is a vast improvement on the present patchwork system which the country has completely outgrown."

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 31.—Adjutant General Chase tonight received a report from what he considered indisputable authority that the strikers in the Ludlow colony of coal miners, tonight surrendered practically all their arms and munitions.

A detail of 100 infantry was ordered to search Trinidad and its environs for the contraband munitions. General Chase authorized late tonight that he would take his entire command to Ludlow at daybreak and would disarm all strikers and guards.

J. L. Hogan, a one-armed guard employed at Ludlow, was discharged from Colorado a month ago. He was taken to Ludlow tonight as he attempted to board a train for Trinidad, and was taken away by strikers from the train.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 31.—Voluntary surrender of arms from the Ludlow strike colony, more than 1,100 rifles and tons of ammunition, will take place tomorrow morning on the Ludlow road when all inhabitants of the Ludlow colony, men, women and children, will march in parade to meet the entire detachment of state militia which is encamped here, on their way to the Ludlow camp. This was the announcement made tonight by Adjutant General John Chase, after a long conference with John Lawson, district president of the United Mine Workers of America in the Ludlow camp. The detachment of cavalry which had been ordered to Ludlow this morning was halted at Bowen, a mine camp, five miles this side of Ludlow, and ordered to return to Denver.

Tonight General Chase held a conference with representatives of the operators here and requested them to disarm and discharge their weapons tomorrow subsequent to the disarmament of the Ludlow camp. The general stated that if his request was not complied with it would be changed to a command and the troops ordered into the mining colony to arrest and disarm the men in place of the mine guards. General Chase plans to put a detachment of infantry supplemented by cavalry. The cavalry will be used to patrol the hills.

Adjutant General Chase told Mr. Lawson that he was "not so ignorant as to believe that the strikers really would give up their best munitions of war," but that enough to prevent any serious outbreak among the strikers, must be surrendered.

Announcement of the action of the state federation of labor executive board in Denver today, when John McManis, president of that body, was given authority to call a general strike of all strikes unions, created much excitement and speculation in Trinidad tonight. Union officials would say nothing concerning the probable result of McManis's authority, and seemingly are of the belief that he will await the outcome of the militia's efforts to restore peace in the coal fields of southern Colorado before taking final action in the matter. One hundred strike breakers were expected to arrive in Trinidad tonight by the operators, who say they employed an agent who reported the men on their way here. They had not arrived tonight and the operators were puzzled by their non-appearance.

Representatives of the coal companies declare they do not consider Governor Ammons' order against importation of strike breakers to mean that the operators would be denied the right to employ men to run their mines.

The situation in the strike zone, both here and in Huerfano county, is steadily improving and the outbreaks of violence have been growing less. A marked change was noticeable in the attitude of the strikers at the big Ludlow colony today, who were in a more better humor and almost wholly free from the doggedullenness which had marked their actions for the last week. Not a report of violence received today by the adjutant general's office could be verified by him.

Three mine guards today were arrested by the troops at Berwind after they had fired several shots in the air with their rifles. Several guards, whom troops believed to have been abusing their deputy sheriffs' commissions, were disarmed today at Aguilar.

RESERVE BANKS FROM TWELVE TO FOUR

Administration Measure Is Vi-

Republican Senators.

PRESIDENT'S FRIENDS MAKE FUTILE FIGHT

Chairman Owen Says Capital
Probably Will Be $100-
000,000 Supplied by Popular Subscription to Stock.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Oct. 31.—The sharp reduction in the number of reserve banks was the first radical amendment the committee has agreed upon, and it was vigorously opposed by the administration supporters in the committee, Senators O'Gorman and Hitchcock, however, voted with the five republicans for the reduction, leaving but five democratic opponents.

The White House was silent tonight as to the committee's action. It has been generally supposed that the president was vigorously opposed to cutting the number below nine.

The committee still has pending the proposal to abolish entirely the administration regional plan, and to create a government-controlled central bank. There is also pending Senator Reilly's proposal that the unification of the regional banks be accomplished by the creation of a government clearing house which would act as a reserve repository. The question of the equalization and stock ownership of the proposed regional banks was taken up immediately after the number was tentatively fixed, but no decision was reached in the matter.

Chairman Owen, after the committee adjourned, expressed the opinion that the bill would be amended to eliminate the administration provision under which regional banks would be forced to subscribe the capital of the reserve banks. The stock, he said, probably would be thrown open to public subscription. Stockholders would have no voice in the management of the banks, he said, which would be entrusted to a board of directors to be appointed by the federal government, thus insuring complete control of the new system.

The total equalization of the four regional banks, Senator Owen said, probably would amount to $100,000,000.

Tomorrow, the committee will recess to allow various members to go to their homes for the elections, consideration of the bill going over until Wednesday.

The administration supporters contested every step in the reduction of the number of regional banks. Two of them voted to retain the number of twelve, and three voted for ten banks. The proposal to fix the number of eight was defeated, seven to five, and by the same vote the number was fixed at four. The proposition to insert the proviso that the federal reserve board might increase the number after two years, up to twelve, was voted into the bill, only two members opposing it.

The committee hopes to settle the ownership and control of the regional banks tomorrow, and it is expected that with this matter disposed of, the serious question in dispute speedily will be adjusted.

President Wilson, it became known tonight, looks with disfavor on the action of the committee today. He believes there should be at least ten regional reserve banks, and he has been accused by administration supporters in the committee that today's series of votes only were of a tentative character, designed chiefly to sound out the attitude of the members toward fundamental features of the bill.

The president was informed that there probably would be a reconsideration of the whole subject at subsequent meetings of the committee.

VICE PRESIDENT EXPECTS CURRENCY BILL TO PASS

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Chicago, Oct. 31.—The senate currency committee will make its report on the Owen-Owen bill probably November 10, according to Vice President Marshall, who stopped over in Chicago today, en route to Phoenix, Ariz. He said that the present indications are that the report will be almost unanimous.

"My impression is that so far as the underlying principles are concerned, the bill is satisfactory to members of the senate committee and to the public," Mr. Marshall said. "It is the details which we are trying to work out."

Mr. Marshall was pleased with the prediction of Chairman Owen that the house bill would be amended so that national banks would not be required to subscribe to the stock of the regional banks.

It always has been my wish that the stocks of the regional banks be thrown open to public subscription," he said.

The vice president and Mrs. Marshall will visit Mrs. Marshall's mother on a ranch about ten miles from Phoenix. They expect to be absent from the capital about ten days.

Huerta's Permission to Evacuate State Capital.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
El Paso, Tex., Oct. 31.—A skirmish between federal and General Villa's rebel forces is reported tonight in the outskirts of Chihuahua. During the afternoon, Villa's rebel forces occupied the suburb of Fresco and the main force of Villa's troops occupied the suburb of Santa Eulalia, seven miles from the city. Another section of Villa's troops are approaching the city from the east.

Military Governor Salvador Merced, in a message to President Huerta, today asked permission to evacuate the town, stating that Villa's forces numbered 13,000 men and his thousands of rebels are unable to hold out against them in case of a battle in the city.

General Francisco Cuerra and Francisco Orozco have sent word that they will not comply with Huerta's order for evacuation unless the president of the republic commands it. No answer was received from the president last tonight.

Mexican commandery four trains today belonging to the Mexican Northern railway company and ordered his troops to load their stock and equipment so as to be ready for the evacuation order. The federalists have fourteen trains under steam to depart for Juarez.

M'REYNOLDS RULES AGAINST CUT IN TARIFF DUTIES

Preferential on Goods Imported in American Ships Cannot Be Favored With Five Per Cent Reduction.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Oct. 31.—Senator George McReynolds today sent to Secretary McAdoo his written opinion on the effect of the 5 per cent preferential on goods brought to the United States in American ships, provided for under the new tariff act. Although the opinion was not made public, it was understood that Mr. McReynolds did not differ from the ideas of the preferential clause held by state and treasury department officials, that the amount in American bottoms cannot be granted unless the same concession is given to most of the nations of the world who figure in its commerce.

With this condition confronting the government, department officials contend that this clause should not be allowed to become operative, for the enforcement practically would mean a reduction of tariff duties by 5 per cent all along the line.

Two courses it was pointed out are open to President Wilson if he desires to prevent enforcement of the preferential clause. He can continue to suspend its operation—a move made by the treasury department several weeks ago—or he can seek legislation in congress to change the law.

INCOME TAX LAW IS PUZZLING TO WALL STREET FINANCIERS

Provisions Become Effective
Today and Confusion Results to Banks and Lawyers
Because of Uncertainties.

COLLECTION AT SOURCE IS NOT UNDERSTOOD

Many Lawsuits Are Likely to Follow Chaos Caused by Efforts to Comply With Vague Statute.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
New York, Oct. 31.—That part of New York which is referred to as "Wall Street" was in a state of confusion today. For once in its career, Wall Street did not know which way to turn. The new income tax law became effective tomorrow and some of the highest priced lawyers, bankers and corporation officials in the world confessed that they were at sea as to its meaning.

At 7 o'clock tonight one of a group of financiers which had just concluded the last of a series of lengthy conferences on the income tax law, said: "We're swimming in mud. For a day or two I thought I myself was coming to know what was meant by the income tax law, and the treasury regulations concerning it, but now I'm convinced that I hardly know anything about them."

The chief source of trouble is that portion of the law which provides for the collection "at the source" of the tax on income derived from interests on bonds, mortgages and certain other obligations. Banks and corporations are required to withhold this tax, in making payments of interest due to holders of securities. More than $30,000,000 is due tomorrow in November quarterly interest payments in New York.

The ruling in question has given rise to endless confusion. In cases in which bonds are not registered, the names of their owners often are not known to the banks or fiscal agents to whom coupons are presented for payment. The identity of the owners must be established to determine whether the tax is to be deducted. Certain exemptions are allowed under the law. Six classes of exemptions have been defined. Every lawyer and bank officer in New York has had his life made a burden by clients who wish to know which of the six forms of exemptions apply to their particular cases. There are no precedents to apply. No system has yet been evolved whereby banks and other agencies, which are called upon to make bond interest payments, will be able to determine in what cases to deduct the income tax.

It is practically a foregone conclusion that payments of a large part of $30,000,000 interest due tomorrow will be deferred pending a solution of the riddle.

Whatever the outcome, it is predicted that many suits will be instituted against the government to test the law.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT
EXPLAINS INCOME TAX LAW

Washington, Oct. 31.—The income tax, the most revolutionary revenue raising power conferred on the American government since its foundation, starts tomorrow upon the path that is to bring millions into the public treasury.

Ever since President Wilson signed the tariff bill, with its income tax provision early in the present month, the machinery of the treasury department has been at work upon the regulations that are to govern the collection of the tax.

The operation of the law tomorrow affects only banks, corporations and others responsible for payment on bonds, mortgages and salaries, which they are bound by the law to withhold, but the statute. The amounts withheld are not payable immediately to the treasury and the money from the tax will not begin flowing into the treasury vaults for many months.

The tax for 1913 is to be collected from March 1, shortly after the constitutional amendment was ratified, until December 31. Withholding agents, however, must begin deducting the normal tax of 1 per cent at the source tomorrow withholding it for November and December, with certain exceptions.

The treasury department tonight issued further regulations affecting collection at the source of income as follows:

"Normal tax of 1 per cent is to be withheld at the source where the income originates.

"All persons, firms, organizations, etc., having the receipt, custody, disposal or payment of any annual incomes, profits or gains, are required to withhold the tax, except as exempt by law.

"The following income is exempt from the normal tax of 1 per cent being withheld at source:

Dividends on capital stock from the net earnings of corporations and like organizations that pay the normal tax of 1 per cent on its net income.

SEMI-FINAL GAMES IN MIDDLE WEST CONFERENCE

Outcome of Clashes Between Big Nine Elevens Today Will Give Good Line on Season's Championship.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Chicago, Oct. 31.—Semi-final games in the struggle for "big nine" football honors will be played tomorrow, at Madison, Minnesota and Wisconsin, at Chicago, two undefeated elevens, the Maroons and Illinois meet. The chances favor the elimination through defeat of two of the four teams involved, and since Chicago later plays both Minnesota and Wisconsin and Illinois later takes on the Maroons, a pretty good line on the conference championship can be drawn at the end of the season.

Wisconsin's team, composed largely of veterans, has been a disappointment this year. Its defeat by the Michigan Argos and its game with Purdue were due to the strength of those teams and not to its own weakness.

Early games this year have found the Chicago team remarkably able to rise to the occasion. Tightly pressed by Iowa and Purdue, they developed just enough strength to beat their opponents.

A line on the ability of Ohio State, the baby member of the "big nine," may be drawn from the results of its game with Indiana, its first conference battle of the season. Other important games include Missouri vs. School of Mines, at St. Louis; Nebraska vs. Ames, at Ames.

HARD-HITTING GAME WON BY WHITE SOX

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Dallas, Tex., Oct. 31.—Hard hitting won for the Chicago White Sox over the New York Giants here today, 9 to 3. Mathewson allowed fourteen hits, including two doubles and two triples, while Levens held the Giants to five safeties.

THOUSANDS PAID OUT FOR HITTING BULL SIGN

During the baseball season of 1912, through the medium of the "bull" sign which are located in practically every baseball park throughout the United States, the Bull Durham Tobacco company has given to the ball players $14,500 in cash. This money is the reward for 230 hits, each player who hits the bull, receiving a $50 check. In addition to the cash, the players throughout the country receive 14,500 pounds of tobacco, each home run entitling the lucky man to a carton. The number of five-cent packages represented is 285,284 with an actual cash value of $11,912.40. So the ball players are richer this year by $23,412.40 because of one advertiser's enterprise.

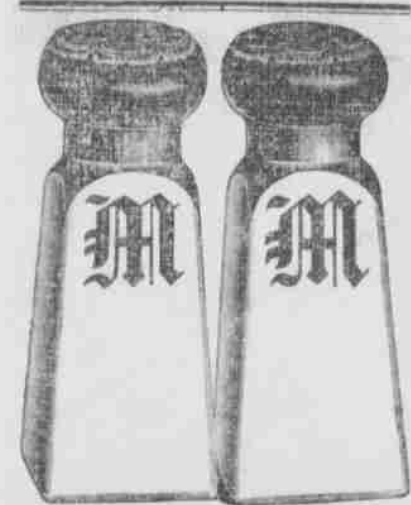

WICHITA PLAYER WINS WESTERN LEAGUE TROPHY

Boxy Middleton, center fielder of the Wichita team, won the gold bat offered by an Omaha firm to the leading batter in the Western league who took part in at least one hundred games. Box closed the 1912 season by slugging out six hits out of seven times up. His batting average for the season was .379. In addition to his remarkable hitting, he is strong in all departments. He stole forty-six bases and scored 166 runs and was considered one of the best fielders in his league. Oakland, in the Pacific Coast league, drafted Middleton for next season.

HUNDREDS WATCH BOXERS TRAIN AT GYMNASIUM

Not in Some Months Has Interest Been as Keen in Fighting Line as It Appears at Present Time.

Hundreds of fans crowded the New Mexico A. C. gym yesterday afternoon and last night to watch Pierre Mathews, who boxed in the afternoon, and Harry Shafer, who worked at night, go through their training stunts. The enthusiasm exhibited when the two boys boxed was such as to indicate a capacity house next Tuesday night when the lightweights clash at Elks theater in what promises to be the best bout in this division ever staged in an Albuquerque arena.

That Shafer is taking no chances is evidenced by the conscientious manner in which he is training. He boxed ten rounds last night, taking on Young Carson, "Taff," Ed Padd, of El Paso, and Young Matty Matthews, in turn. He let them swing on his jaw without flinching and whenever he was hit, he had his sporting partners quickly in distress. Especially was this true of "Taff," a man who tips the beam at 175 pounds.

Mathews continues to impress his prowess on local followers of the game and he has won many admirers who are picking him to beat Shafer. He shows a world of stamina, and this will hold him in good stead, for it is admitted that Shafer carries a terrible right hook. But granting Shafer a knockout wallop, Mathews also carries a sharp-producing punch once it connects. It is likewise a hook—not a hammer.

Plans for the Tuesday card will be completed today. Three fast minor bouts will precede the main event. Between rounds during the Shafer-Mathews contest, returns of the Chavez-Campi twenty-round battle at Vernon will be read.

FOOTBALL UPSETS MAY RESULT FROM TODAY'S GAMES

Some Important Contests Between Big Eastern Elevens; Syracuse Plays Michigan at Ann Arbor.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) New York, Oct. 31.—Eastern football fields will be the scene of some interesting intercollegiate games tomorrow, although none will rise to the plane of a championship contest. An added feature will be the staging of several international games, through which it will be possible to gauge the football ability of some of the leading elevens of the east and middle-west.

The Harvard-Cornell game at Cambridge stands forth as the leading eastern gridiron event of the day. The undefeated Crimson combination appears far superior to that of Cornell. The Yale team will face a very worthy opponent in the strong Colgate aggregation.

Princeton, in playing Holy Cross, will face a team already defeated by Harvard, 47 to 7, and by Yale, 18 to 6. The Pennsylvania-Penn State game is scheduled for Franklin field.

The United States Military academy team will have a strenuous host in Notre Dame. The outcome of the Syracuse-Michigan game at Ann Arbor will be watched with much interest.

In the southern section of the eastern gridiron world the Carolina-Georgia contest at Washington and the Navy-Yale clash at Annapolis are most important.

The principal games for tomorrow and scores of 1912, where the eastern colleges met last season are as follows:

Texas—1912.

Cornell at Harvard.....No game.

Colgate at Yale.....No game.

Holy Cross at Princeton.....No game.

Penn State at Philadelphia.....14 to 9.

Notre Dame at Army.....No game.

Lehigh at Navy.....14 to 9.

Dartmouth at Amherst.....60 to 9.

Carleton at Georgetown.....34 to 29.

Vermont at Brown.....75 to 12.

JURY DISAGREES IN TRIAL OF RANCHMAN ON MURDER CHARGE

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL) Portland, N. M., Oct. 31.—The trial of the state against John William Hinkley, a prominent stockman of Roosevelt county, charged with killing Col. Collinsworth, another prominent stockman, near Mesa, September 2, resulted today in a mistrial, the jury failing to agree. The trouble arose over Hinkley's testimony that he was killing some of his horses.

GUNBOAT SMITH IS AN EASY WINNER OVER MILLER

Bout Scheduled for Ten Rounds Ends Precipitately in Third, When Gunner Knocks Out Motorman.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) New York, Oct. 31.—Gunboat Smith of California, knocked out Charley Miller, of the same state, in the third round of what was to have been a ten-round bout tonight. Miller had an advantage of twenty-six pounds in weight, but his blows were wild.

SMITH CLASSIFIED IN HEAVYWEIGHT DIVISION

Gunboat Smith appears to be the most likely candidate for the world's white heavyweight championship. He looks up strong by reason of his performance during the past year, and as he bows along there is noticeable a decided improvement in his work. He is coming all the time, and so far, there is not the faintest sign of his going back or having reached his best. Manager James Hickey has been working him regularly and with success, and this has inspired ambition and confidence in the ex-soldier. Since the death of Luther McCarty, there is no one dead sure of taking his measure. Friends of Jess Willard and Frank Moran may take exception to this, but Smith shows better than either of them.

Bombardier Webb, champion of England, and George Carpenter, champion of France, may be better boxers, but in a fight involving the championship neither can out-punch him, and he is stronger than either.

Some operations were cast upon the gameness of Smith in the early stages of his career, but subsequent events have proved him to be a fighter of the highest order. He has been guided by the best of men, and he has never been defeated. He is a fighter of the highest order, and he is a fighter of the highest order.

At Palmer for a while looked good, but he is going back, probably because of sickness and beatings he has received.

Frank Moran is good, but he is neither as clever, as good a ring general nor as hard a hitter as Smith.

Arthur Bakke, who claims recognition by reason of his defeat of Luther McCarty, is a second-rate fighter, and he has no chance.

Carl Morris has done his best and is no longer considered a possibility. Jess Willard is something of an unknown quantity. He has made some good fights and some poor ones. He appears to be an incoherent and lacks the virtue of consistency, something that is necessary in a champion.

There is much in favor of Smith. He has an astute manager who has pushed him to the front, and he has delivered the goods. He is young, strong, is still growing, and has the punch. Smith is a good fighter, does not dissipate and may be depended upon to do his best. He is an enormous eater, but assimilates his food and is putting on bone and muscle, backed by a wonderfully strong constitution. At the rate he is going now he will be at his best when weighing about 260 pounds. He is within about ten pounds of that now, though but a year ago he was fighting at about 175.

Smith is acquiring a defense, and if he succeeds in this he will be a hard man to handle. Nearly all the boxers he has faced have been able to hit him, but he has come back with harder punches and won out. He is being taught to save himself, and when he has learned to do this he will be well equipped to take care of the little among those of the "white-hoped" who are trying for it at the present time.

Smith's formidable opponents at the present time are negroes—Jack Johnson, present champion of the world; Sam Langford, Joe Jeannette and Sam McVey—but it is no more than a mere possibility that he will outlast all of them and in time be able to care for the little against either white or black.

Many good judges concede that Smith would be beaten right now by either Johnson or Langford, but give him an even chance against Jeannette or McVey. So far as Johnson is concerned, he may have a few good fights left in him, but Smith has many of them. As for Langford, it is the writer's belief that the Boston Tar Baby is nearing his end. Reports have it that this wonderful fighter is dissipating and neglecting his training. If this is true, Langford's end will come suddenly and one of the world's greatest glove fighters will pass out under a multitude of beatings from men who would have proved easy in his prime days.

If Smith remains in this country it is probable he will never be called upon to meet a negro for the title. A strong feeling of revulsion has set in with the American people against matches of this sort, and this was emphasized recently when the New York State boxing commission ruled against a prospective match between Smith and Langford, though it was to have been given in one of the foremost boxing clubs in America and to be a manager who has never broken faith with the public.

Cross-Country Run Today.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 31.—Yale and Princeton will run their annual cross-country race tomorrow morning at Princeton over a course approximately six miles in length.

VARSIITY WINS OVER ROSWELL, 9 TO 7; SWEET REVENGE

Cherry and Gray Team Takes Big Step Toward South-western Championship; Jubilation Is Held on Hill.

Although outweighed seven pounds to the man, the University of New Mexico football team defeated the New Mexico Military Institute eleven, 9 to 7, yesterday afternoon on Association park field. By turning the trick the varsity not only reversed defeat suffered at the hands of Roswell in former years, but also took a great big step toward the coveted championship of the southwest.

Last year Roswell crushed the U. N. M. team, 21 to 0. They expected to repeat yesterday, although not by so large a score. The vast improvement in the varsity team is due, more than to anything else, to the acquisition of an aggressive style of play that utterly surprised Roswell out of the game. The entire Cherry and Gray team played "win or die" football. On account of the intense rivalry between the two teams and the determination of each to win, rough tactics were employed frequently.

Yesterday, as in the game against the Indians last Saturday, varsity showed stronger on the defensive than the offense. The Cherry and Gray line held like a stone wall at the critical stages. Broadhurst, right guard, played particularly well, frequently breaking through the Roswell line and halting a kick for a loss. On the offensive, the light varsity line could do little with Roswell's heavy line. The varsity's offensive was weakened by the loss of its star player, Captain LaPrade, who was injured in the game.

While the entire varsity back field played great football, LaPrade, at quarterback, put on the strongest game of football seen on a local gridiron in years—a game which, if kept up throughout the season, will undoubtedly entitle him to a position on the all-star team. LaPrade handled the line in great shape and was in for his best game. He was in for his best game. He was in for his best game.

ROSSELL LOST GAME ON POOR JUDGMENT

After the game yesterday, Captain Broadhurst, N. M. I. coach, extended congratulations to the varsity on the result of the game and the showing made by his team. While conceding the university a fairly won victory, he said: "My team lost because of poor judgment in selecting plays. Our quarters kept playing right into the varsity's hands. We have a varied attack, but instead of shifting to an other style of play, our team seemed to use what they should have realized the other fellows would stop. When they finally changed in the last quarter it was too late, our boys can blame nothing but lack of headwork. The varsity won on aggressiveness."

HARDER JOB BEATING CRUCES, SAYS "HUTCH"

Coach Hutchinson, of the U. N. M., had a smile all over his face after the game and said: "Great, wasn't it?" But almost immediately the smile came off, for on reflection he said: "But we have to play better football to beat Crues. There is much room for improvement yet, although the boys did put up an excellent game. Our play will have to be improved a whole lot if we are to win the championship."

N. M. M. I. BOYS RESUME OVER FOR VARSITY DANCE

The Roswell squad was entertained last night at the university following the game. Upon the arrival of the N. M. I. boys Thursday night it was announced that they would return to Roswell Friday night, immediately after the game. That three cold water on the plans of the student body of the university and it was thought that the informal reception and dance would result in only a big jollification party with only the varsity squad as guests of honor. However, Dr. J. H. Wright, himself, after the game and by long distance telephone told the situation before Colonel James W. Wilson, Col. and Wilson consented to allow the Roswell boys to remain over a day in order to avoid themselves of varsity's hospitality. The dance was held last night.

Varsity kicked off from north goal. Collins intercepted Roswell's forward pass. The play resulted in a punt. On line back varsity fumbled and Roswell had the ball on their own five-yard line. Roswell fumbled, but recovered ball after general scramble. Again Roswell fumbled and recovered. Roswell missed on forward pass and had to kick. It was varsity's ball on forty-yard line. Varsity kicked and as the result of a pretty run-back Roswell had the ball in the center of field. Collins intercepted forward pass by Roswell and again a fumble lost the ball for varsity. After missing forward pass Roswell kicked to LaPrade on ten-yard line. A poor pass by Gase put the ball on varsity's eight-yard line. Roswell kicked out of danger. Roswell succeeded in making downs and then tried passing again. The third attempt was intercepted by LaPrade on varsity's five-yard line. Varsity kicked. Time was called with ball in Roswell's possession on forty-yard line. Score: Varsity 9, Roswell 7.

Second Quarter.

Period opened with ball in Roswell's possession on forty-yard line, third down. Roswell kicked. LaPrade made a pretty run, returning the ball twenty yards. Varsity kicked to Roswell's twenty-yard line. On getting the ball, Roswell man tried kick-back but fumbled and varsity recovered ball. Varsity fumbled but recovered ball. Varsity intercepted forward pass but

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT BALL GAMES DURING 1913

Nearly a Third of a Million More Persons Paid Admission to Contests Past Summer Than Ever Before.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Chicago, Oct. 31.—Nearly a third of a million more persons paid to attend American league ball games this year than in 1912, according to a statement today by President Dan Johnson, of the league. Up to within the last month of the season the American league figures were more than 500,000 ahead of previous seasons, but attendance fell off sharply at the late games.

President Johnson has a new plan for post-season games that will provide for the three leaders in each league. He would have a series of games between the three leaders of each league. This plan, he said, would provide a greater stimulation for ball clubs which could not make first place and would keep interest in the game alive to the end of the season.

He said he believed a post-season series between clubs finishing second and third would prove nearly as interesting as those between first place clubs.

All the pains are gone, and I am in better health than I have been in for four years. Have gained a great deal in weight.

I still take Cardui as a tonic. My husband, as well as myself, cannot praise it too highly. I hope this letter will induce other poor, suffering women to try Cardui, for it is the best medicine in the world for women.

If you suffer from any of the numerous ailments so common to all women, why not take this lady's advice, and try Cardui? It has helped her, as well as a million other women in the past half century. Why shouldn't it do the same for you? We feel sure it will.

Reading of Mrs. Walls' helpful experience should encourage you to try what this medicine will do for you. Get a bottle of Cardui from your druggist to-day. You won't regret it.

STUDY OF CYPRESS IS INAUGURATED BY MATOON

Forest Service Official, Formerly Attached to Albuquerque Office, Assigned to Important Work in South.

A report received at the district headquarters of the forest service here is to the effect that W. R. Mattoon, formerly attached to the Albuquerque office with headquarters now at Washington, has undertaken an extensive field study of southern cypress. It is an open question among forestry experts whether it pays to maintain the species even in localities where it occurs and Mr. Mattoon's investigation is expected to furnish data.

ALBUQUERQUE MEN HONORED

Oscar C. Watson and H. O. Snyder Go Up on Mutual Life Insurance Company Roll.

OSCAR C. WATSON.

With the appointment today of Oscar C. Watson, of Pueblo, as manager of the Denver office of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, and H. O. Snyder, of this city, as his superintendent of agents, two business men, well known in Albuquerque, have been signally honored.

Mr. Watson formerly resided in this city and Mr. Snyder, though his official headquarters have been Pueblo, makes the Commercial club here, his home. The promotions are announced by George T. Dexter, second vice president of the Mutual Life of New York.

The appointment of Oscar C. Watson to one of the most important and most sought after positions in the life of the company, comes as a tribute to a business career of many years in the southwest. Coming to New Mexico from Texas at the age of 13, Mr. Watson took a course at the Agricultural College of New Mexico, at Las Cruces, which he supplemented by a business course in 1894 and 1896. He was recommended by the school for the position of stenographer to S. H. Newman, general agent of the Mutual Life at Albuquerque, in 1898, and began work on March 20 of that year at a salary of $40 per month. In six months he received an unexpected raise to $50 and Mr. Watson is authorized for the statement that never in his subsequent career did an increase of salary loom so large as this initial "$10 jump."

In 1897 Mr. Watson was appointed cashier in the office of the district manager of the Mutual Life at Phoenix, Ariz. He returned to Albuquerque in 1898 as superintendent of agents under W. L. Hathaway, now manager for San Francisco.

In 1900, Mr. Watson went into the business of general insurance at Santa Fe, with Paul Wunschmann as partner. As a detail of this business he acted as district manager for the Mutual Life under Harry A. Day, now manager at Chicago. In 1905, he purchased his partner's interest and established the firm of O. C. Watson & Co., which still exists.

In August, 1907, Mr. Watson was appointed superintendent of agents for the Mutual Life for New Mexico and southern Colorado. On July 1, 1908, he succeeded Mr. E. R. Ferguson as manager at Pueblo when the latter was transferred to Charlotte, N. C.

During Mr. Watson's connection with the Pueblo office the business has steadily increased. An amount of business largely in excess of the office's assigned quota has been reported each year.

Mr. Watson is well and widely known socially and in fraternal circles. He is a life member of Santa Fe Lodge No. 469, B. P. O. E., a past exalted ruler of that lodge and a member of the grand lodge. He was a delegate to the grand lodge meetings at Denver in 1909, Los Angeles in 1909 of importance in deciding the future of the tree.

Cypress, say the forestry authorities, grows along the Atlantic coast and Gulf of Mexico from Maryland to Texas, and in the Mississippi river valley it extends as far north as Cairo, Ill., at the junction of the Mississippi and Ohio rivers. It is distinctly a tree of the swamps, and more than 90 per cent of it is found at an elevation of less than 100 feet above sea level. Extensive forests occur in the delta of the Mississippi, covering several thousand square miles, and also in some of the large swamps of Georgia and Florida, such as the Okefenokee and the great cypress swamps fringing the Everglades. In some places it is found where the soil is covered with water for weeks or months at a time, and in a few places the base of the trunk is submerged throughout the year. Usually the lower part of the trunk is heavily buttressed and numerous projections, or "knees," are sent up from the roots, probably as an aid in securing air.

Cypress wood has great durability, when adapted to its many purposes for which some other species are unsuited. Census statistics show that in 1911 over $1,000,000 worth of it was used for lumber, lath and shingles, and that in point of annual consumption it stands seventh among the various softwoods, or coniferous trees.

It is one of the few conifers which sheds its leaves each winter. It is used for a great variety of purposes, such as tanks, cisterns, columns, exterior and interior finish, railroad ties, poles, and wharf piling. It is especially valuable for greenhouse construction.

While cypress wood has many good qualities, the tree itself presents many problems to foresters. Its rate of growth, they say, is extremely slow, so that the cost of producing large-sized timber is great as compared with that of producing wood from other more rapid-growing trees. Furthermore, it does not readily reproduce itself, and there is some doubt as to whether mature stands will replace themselves after being cut. Much of the land upon which it grows is capable of high agricultural development.

Aside from the perpetration of several time-honored pranks by youths, Halloween last night was uneventful. Fences were torn down in several places, a wagon was left in front of a church and movable signs were carried away, but no serious acts of vandalism were reported to the police. The police force was increased by several extra policemen.

THIS COUNTY SHOWS GOOD INCREASE IN POPULATION

Though Bernalillo Is Smallest of Twenty-six Sub-Divisions in Area, It Is Growing the Most Rapidly.

Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 31.—Bernalillo county, though the smallest in area of the twenty-six counties, is increasing its land in population, according to the school census reports received by the department of education. It is also one of the most rapidly growing counties. The returns from the eighteen counties thus far received, prove that despite a heavy exodus from the eastern counties, New Mexico is steadily growing in population. The eighteen counties report a population of 76,859 persons of school age, against 75,676 last year, an increase of one and one-half per cent. Bernalillo county's increase, however, is eight per cent. The best losses are shown by Chaves, Quay, Santa Fe, Torrance, Roosevelt, and Trow counties. Last year the total school age population of New Mexico was 191,645 and it will probably exceed 195,000 this year which, multiplied by three and a half, a conservative estimate, would indicate a population for the state of over 360,000, and for Bernalillo county of more than 31,000.

In order of population, the eighteen counties reporting thus far would range as follows, the first figure in each case giving the school census for 1912, and the second figure for 1913:

Bernalillo	8,861	8,209
San Miguel	7,836	7,764
Santa Fe	5,875	6,034
Rio Arriba	5,455	5,539
Grant	5,477	5,629
Chaves	5,402	5,930
Coffey	4,837	4,358
Socorro	4,634	4,524
Guadalupe	4,253	3,476
Town	3,256	4,016
Valencia	3,258	3,283
Quay	3,259	2,434
Otero	3,259	2,434
Roosevelt	2,543	2,033
Torrance	2,363	2,107
Quay	2,361	2,101
Santa Fe	1,638	1,613
McKinley	1,628	1,115

It must be remembered that the census does not include the Navajo and other Indian children.
