but democratic leaders claimed a victory.

Fulton carried New York City today, electing John Furber Mitchell mayor by approximately 75,000 plurality, and retaining control of the important board of estimates by a safe margin.

Tammany held its own for mayor, Edward L. McCort, for seven to defeat by one of the longest plurality ever given against a candidate of the organization, and it looked near midnight, as if it might not even save the New York county office out of the wreckage. The big vote for Mitchell pulled through the fusion candidates for president of the board of estimates and comptroller, George McAnany and William A. Friedman, neither whom the Independence league, as well as democratic organization candidates were running.

Apprentice, with the exception of assemblymen in the district, which usually no democratic and union officers in many of the boroughs (the exception to fusion prevailed in during only one of its members, Maurice E. Conolly, for borough president of Queens. The fusionists elected borough presidents in Brooklyn, the Bronx and Richmond, and apparently have pulled through their candidate for president of the borough of Manhattan, Marcus M. Mathis, by a small plurality over Dr. Chester Dillingham. The result thus indicated would leave Tammany but one way out of action in the board of estimates, which controls the city's purse. A fusion majority in the board of estimates, much also being desired.

In the fourth assembly district, William K. Mitchell, recently deposed as governor, was elected on the progressive ticket.

At 11 o'clock, Samuel A. Koenig, chairman of the republican county committee, claimed the election of the entire fusion ticket in the greater city and of the New York county ticket as well.

Charles P. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, followed shortly with a brief statement.

"The result speaks for itself," he said. "Mr. Mitchell has been elected as a majority in the vote. His appointment in the wish that he may have a successful administration and prove that it will be of substantial benefit to the city."

MARYLAND DEMOCRATS ARE COMPLETELY VICTORIOUS

Baltimore, Nov. 4.—Based on incomplete returns from this city, but which are regarded as a safe indication of the final result, the democratic party has been elected to the United States senate to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Thomas B. Bayne by an estimated majority of 10,000 votes.

Charles P. Murphy, democrat, was elected to congress from the third district in place of the late Representative George Keene.

The democrats were victorious all along the line, electing Emerson C. Harrington, state comptroller, Cecil C. Macgregor, clerk of the court of appeals and retaining control of the state legislature by a majority of 10,000 votes.

In the fourth legislative district, which is normally republican, the democratic candidate for the state senate was elected by a majority of 10,000 votes, a democratic victory there would mean a clean sweep of Baltimore city by the democrats.

State returns from the counties indicated democratic gains and the probability of a two-third majority for the democrats in both branches of the general assembly which would enable them to override the veto of Governor Hollister, republican.

The progressive vote appears to have fallen off heavily.

PRESIDENT PLEASED OVER DEMOCRATIC VICTORIES

Washington, Nov. 4.—Washington failed to show much enthusiasm about today's elections, but President Wilson referred to the White House waiting a good deal of satisfaction over returns from Massachusetts, Maryland, New York and New Jersey. The president watched the New Jersey returns closely for the final confirmation of the success of the democratic ticket in New Jersey, for which he has spoken and voted.

The election has almost decided the capital of independent affairs, and those who remained behind reacted the news of general democratic success with anxiety.

Secretary Huron watched the returns closely, getting the figures over the telephone at his home. It was his custom to make.

INDIANAPOLIS ELECTS ETHNIC DEMOCRATIC TICKET FOR CITY

Indianapolis, Nov. 4.—In the city election held here today, Joseph E. Ball, democrat, carried the city by a plurality of 3,355. His vote was 32,221. Dr. W. H. Johnson, progressive, received 14,545. And Charles A. Bock, republican, received 14,515.

Ball had the active support of Thomas Taggart, democratic national committeeman, and Captain Thomas Connelley, republican, who were both pulled through their candidate for president of the borough of Manhattan, Marcus M. Mathis, by a small plurality over Dr. Chester Dillingham. The result thus indicated would leave Tammany but one way out of action in the board of estimates, which controls the city's purse. A fusion majority in the board of estimates, much also being desired.

LITTLE INTEREST SHOWN IN PENNSYLVANIA ELECTIONS

Pittsburgh, Nov. 4.—Pennsylvania carried today two houses of the general assembly by a non-partisan ballot. The little interest was shown and in many districts the vote was not counted.

In Philadelphia the republican ticket was elected, but the democratic ticket was elected, which controls the city's purse. A fusion majority in the board of estimates, much also being desired.

present reform administration, re-elected Michael P. Hogan, democrat, to the city and county offices, by a large majority.

A bitter contest in Pittsburgh resulted in the election of Joseph G. Armstrong as mayor over Stephen G. Porter, a member of congress.

DEMOCRATS WIN KENTUCKY WITH INCREASED MAJORITY

Louisville, Nov. 4.—The democrats were victorious throughout Kentucky today, electing a large majority of the various city and county officers and state legislators. An increased democratic majority is secured for the next legislature. In Louisville John H. Buchanan, democrat, was elected mayor by about 2,000 over Wood E. Ayres, progressive, who tonight charged fraud and announced that he would contest the election.

INDEPENDENT CARRIES NEW JERSEY BY APPROXIMATELY 15,000

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 4.—Indications point to the election of James F. Fielder, democrat, as governor, by a plurality of about 15,000 over Edward G. Stinson, republican.

The surprising feature of the election is the high vote cast for Everett Kelly, the progressive candidate, whose vote probably will not exceed 10,000, as compared with 145,710 received a year ago by Governor Roosevelt for president.

Fielder's vote in the returns at hand is running slightly below that received by Woodrow Wilson a year ago, which was 174,230.

Stinson's vote probably will exceed 150,000 as compared with 26,288 received by Taft last year.

Fielder, from Hudson county, Fielder's home county, shows that Fielder has carried it by 2,000. He will have 2,000 in Monmouth, 1,500 in Middlesex and 1,000 in Union.

Stinson apparently has carried Essex county, the home of Colby, and also the home of former Governor James Smith, Jr., and former Democratic State Chairman Nugent, whom Fielder, on the stump, accused of working against him. Returns from thirty democrats in Newark, Essex county, are about 1,315. Fielder, 7,000; Colby, 133. There are six precincts in the state.

DEMOCRATS RE-ELECT HARKER MAYOR BY REDUCED PLURALITY

Cincinnati, Nov. 4.—With but ninety-thousand votes to spare, Mayor Harker, democrat, was re-elected, according to the official count tonight by a majority of about 1,000. Under the preferential system now in use Mayor Harker failed to receive a majority of first choice ballots, but the second choice ballots gave him a victory over Harry L. Davis, republican, and J. E. Kelly, socialist. Harker's majority two years ago was 10,000. The republicans made his great struggle on that head of his election. The socialist candidate received about half the vote of Harker and lost the bulk of his vote to Davis.

REPUBLICANS SWEEP CITY OF CINCINNATI COMPLETELY

Cincinnati, Nov. 4.—With three-fourths of the vote for successfully candidates running, the defeat of Harry T. Hunt, present mayor of Cincinnati, who was defeated by a large vote, was a surprise. The republican ticket, headed by Judge P. S. Spiegel, carried the city by a large vote, and the republican city ticket was elected.

Mayor Hunt made his fight on the republican city organization, formerly controlled by George B. Cox.

The city republican city ticket was elected.

DEMOCRATS SUCCEED IN INDIANA CITY ELECTIONS

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 4.—Joseph E. Ball, democrat, was elected mayor of Indianapolis today by a plurality vote of 3,355, according to unofficial returns. His vote was 32,221, while Dr. W. H. Johnson, progressive, received 14,545. Charles A. Bock, republican, received 14,515.

Ball had the active support of Thomas Taggart, democratic national committeeman, and Captain Thomas Connelley, republican, who were both pulled through their candidate for president of the borough of Manhattan, Marcus M. Mathis, by a small plurality over Dr. Chester Dillingham. The result thus indicated would leave Tammany but one way out of action in the board of estimates, which controls the city's purse. A fusion majority in the board of estimates, much also being desired.

HARVESTER PEOPLE MAKE SPIRITED REPLICATION

General Counsel in Suit for Dissolution of Trust Ridicules Contentions of Government as Presented to Court.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 4.—Edgar A. Bancroft, general counsel for the International Harvester company, took up the cudgel for the defense today in final arguments before the United States district court here in the government suit to dissolve the harvester concern under the Sherman law.

Mr. Bancroft made a sarcastic attack on the brief of the department of justice in the case. He declared there was no evidence to sustain six of the seven charges contained in the brief. He alleged five of the seven charges had been dropped out of the case and had not been mentioned.

"Surely," said Mr. Bancroft, "the fact that the suit was filed in the last of a presidential primary had nothing to do with these charges."

"Surely," he said, "the fact that similar charges had been made in the tobacco case had nothing to do with these charges."

"Surely," he said, "a trust is a very poor specimen of the tribe if the questions of prices and profits are not part of its plan."

Mr. Bancroft then reviewed the charges contained in the federal brief, and continued:

"I desire to point out that if there exists a combination of plausibility, a possible basis of fact for the government's charges, there lay before the government counsel what should have been an extremely fruitful field in which to discover instances of oppressive prices and other evidence to sustain their charges. There were 40,000 acres, with whom in a ten years period, the International Harvester company made 10,000 different annual settlements. Here was an opportunity for misunderstanding and possible 'bait doing' by some subordinate. There were more than 25,000 farmers who had bought the machines of the International Harvester company. Here was a second vast field for the government investigators to discover evidence of hardship as the result of the workings of this alleged monopoly."

"The American farmer doesn't seem to realize that this suit by the government is his deliverance. What is the matter with him? As a matter of fact, complaints cannot be found."

"The government's adjective in this case—'throttled,' coerced, oppressed, monopolized—are very good, but where are the victims?"

"The federal counsel in this case stand in the peculiar position of having recombiner or eightfold volume of evidence but no claim."

"The government in this suit has taken the position that the size of a business is what the Sherman law puts a limit to. Is 70 per cent of the total business of the country in this line good or bad 50 per cent less? That's what the government position amounts to."

"But the question is, after all, has the defendant done an injury to the trade and to the public? Is the field 'baited'? Has there been coercion?"

"I must there exists, and had existed for ten years, an absolute evidence of the harvester machine field. That field cannot be closed or monopolized."

In this connection, Mr. Bancroft traced the history of the Moline Plow company, Sears, Roebuck & Co., and a number of other concerns, which he declared had entered the harvester machine and cream separator business within the last ten years and furnished successful competition against the International Harvester company. He declared the business of the International Harvester company in certain lines had decreased while that of their competitors in the same lines had increased in the last ten years.

"Finally," said Mr. Bancroft, "I ask: Is the presumption of monopoly from the size of the business done a proof of monopoly? And is such presumption conclusive? I say that it is not."

OF BOUT RECEIVED

Several hundred fans besieged the Journal office last night, following the boxing card at Elks theatre, to await the bulletin on the Campi-Chavez fight at Verona. The fight was late in starting on the coast and it was after 11 o'clock that the flash, announcing that Campi had won, was received. The bulletin was conflicting, the Associated Press at first announcing the bout was stopped in the nineteenth in save Chavez, while a later bulletin corrected the first by stating the fight went the full distance, twenty rounds, Campi being awarded the decision over the Trinidad boy. The mix-up, no doubt was due to the fact that the crowd, urged the stopping of the bout in the nineteenth.

By outboxing and outfighting Harry Shafer in two of the ten rounds of their battle at Elks theatre last night, Pierce Matthews, the St. Louis lightweight, earned a decision over Shafer, for the local lightweight had two rounds to his credit and three were even. However, Referee George Hodge called the bout a draw amidst shouts for Matthews and Shafer at the close. That he made a poor decision was proven by the post-mortem discussion of the bout.

Shafer, a top-heavy favorite with the audience at the beginning, looked like a winner in the first round, but in the second Matthews began to evolve the local boy's style of milling and evaded up matters.

In the third round, Shafer by a succession of right and left swings to head and body and a right uppercut delivered in the clinches, appeared to have Matthews in distress, though the St. Louis boxer fought back gamely. In the fourth round, Shafer dropped Matthews to one knee with an uppercut to the stomach, but he was up almost at once.

A punishing left jab, which badly damaged Shafer's face and appeared to have partially closed one eye, varied with a right cross which staggered him whenever it landed. Shafer relied entirely on a haymaker with either left or right, though he used his uppercut to good advantage. Shafer contented himself in covering a good part of the time and when he did open up and exchange with Matthews, the latter appeared more than willing to swap punches with the local boxer.

During the exchanges, Matthews was forced to hold the pace to their feet, since a knockout appeared imminent for either fighter several times during the bout. Each slipped and fell during the fight.

Summed up the fight was as follows: Shafer led in the first and third by a wide margin; Matthews had the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and ninth, while the second, eighth and tenth were even.

The tenth and last round was fought at a whirlwind pace, both boys displaying science and fighting nearly toe and toe. In this round, though both landed telling blows to face and stomach, neither had any advantage. Matthews appeared the fresher at the bell.

At the close of the bout, Matthews had no kick to make on the verdict, being willing to abide by the referee's decision. However, he declared he was more than anxious to meet Shafer again, believing he can beat him by a knockout next time, since he now is onto Shafer's style of fighting. He said he had heard much of Shafer's "kick," but that Shafer didn't display a "kick" product of his night.

Shafer must be given credit for an exhibition of gameness last night, for it cannot be denied he took a severe lashing. He had expected to stop Matthews in two or three rounds and on the fight went on and his chances became less promising for victory, he swung wildly in an endeavor to slip over a haymaker or lucky punch.

The preliminaries were good while they lasted. Young Chavez and Kid Bayona fought six rounds to a draw; Harry Starkton, of Clarks, laid down to Barney Kurtz in the second round of their six-round go, while Jimmy Duran lost on a foul to Barney Carson in the fourth round of a scheduled eight-round contest. The foul was a palpable one and sent Carson to the canvas writhing in agony. The blow was inexcusable from a spectator's point of view, since Duran was practically out when it was delivered.

MATTHEWS HITS THE HARDEST BLOW, HODGE

According to Referee Hodge, a draw was the only possible verdict from his standpoint. While admitting Matthews struck the hardest and cleanest blows, he said that Shafer was the aggressor and exhibited unusual gameness. "I could see no material advantage for either man in the entire ten rounds," said Hodge after the bout.

"FUNNY LITTLE FELLOW" SINGS AT FIGHT CARD

Joe Lee, who is appearing at the Orpheum theatre, after an uneventful last night for Director Mark Levy of the New Mexico A. C. In the interval between the semi-final and the final bout Lee sang a parody on the song, "Where the River Shannon Flows," and although he was forced to warble without a piano accompaniment, he was applauded loudly. Lee then gave a clever monologue until Shafer and Matthews appeared in the ring.

BICYCLE RIDERS
MAKING FAST TIME
IN SIX-DAY RACE

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.
Boston, Nov. 4.—After sixteen hours of riding, all but two of the teams in the six-day bicycle race at the Arena had covered 479 miles at 10 o'clock tonight. Willie Colburn, of Newark, teamed with Clarence Carman, of New York, and Fred Keefe, of Australia, teamed with Joe Kopyak, of New York, struggled in vain to make up the lost yesterday. An exciting split in which Grenada, Hyman, Lawrence, Cavanaugh, Carman and Foster figured, resulted in nothing more serious than bruises and scratches.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.

Davis' time officially was 18 hours and 50 minutes, or average of 30 miles an hour, or two miles an hour better than the former record across the desert.

Gay Ball took second with a Marmon, with a running time of 21:47.2 from Los Angeles. The third car was Louis Nikrent's truck, time 21 hours and 55 minutes out of Los Angeles.

SPINDLER'S DOG
WON FIRST PRIZE
AT BENCH SHOW

To the Morning Journal:

The report of the winnings made at the Denver Dog show by Albuquerque does was hardly correct in all of its particulars. The report of the winnings of special prizes by Dr. Pettit's collies is not correct, and does not do those excellent dogs justice, but as Dr. Pettit is quoted as having made the report I shall leave it to him to make the correction where it refers to his own dogs, and shall only make correction where reference is made to my own dog, and dogs handled by me.

The statement that my Akita was a second prize is not correct. The Akita "Hedrae Crack," owned and exhibited by me, won no second prize. He did win first in American breed class, first in open class, and reserve winners. In the American breed and open classes he met and defeated "Roy Rebel," the latest sensation in Akita in and around Chicago, and which had had an unbroken career of winning throughout the middle-west. He also defeated the crack dog of the northwest, "Mountainview Volcano," and the crack dog of Colorado, "Pike's Peak Dan," and a host of "also rans."

The simple statement that Mr. Ringland's greyhound, "Hunchback Jack," won a second prize, does not do that good dog justice. "Hunchback Jack's" winnings were first American breed, first first, second open and reserve winners. The dog that defeated him in open class was "Thunderbolt," which won the cup for the best in the show of any breed, R. S. SPINDLER.

Many landlords and tenants first met through the want columns of The Journal.

Fastest Man in Baseball Says Umpire O'Day.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Eight Cubs have performed for the last time in World side games, according to a statement by President Charles W. Murphy of the local National league club. Mr. Murphy declared himself through an interview in which he pointed out during the winter and took a peek at his 1914 machine.

The old touring car which went on numerous joy rides through National league rivals in previous years will undergo a thorough overhauling between now and the time the going for the 1914 getaway is sounded, but no body is going to do so much as touch a tool in it except Mr. Murphy. The boss was particularly careful to emphasize this feature of the renovation. He emphasized the fact that Manager Evers will not have power to monkey with the slightest detail of the work, except as he is directed by the owner of the machine.

Mr. Murphy refused to go into particulars regarding the dismantling of the worn-out parts of the vehicle. He merely made a sweeping statement that eight—count 'em—eight athletes who reported the splendor of his club during the past summer would occur in alien pastured next season. The club executive said he had some thirty odd men on his roster at present, and he was satisfied at least eight weren't up to his idea of a Chicago National league player.

The overhauling is to be done when Mr. Murphy returns from his trip abroad. He is scheduled to sail from New York Wednesday, and while he has not made known the length of his stay on the other side of the pond, he declared he would not return in time for the National league meeting in December. Manager Evers is to attend this meeting, but in view of the boss' ultimatum, Johnny will not be able to deliver even for the exchange of a couple of bats.

"Why, I wouldn't let my own brother try his hand at trading any of the Cubs," Mr. Murphy declared, just to show how firm he was in his determination to do all of his own dandling. "I will put in most of my time after I return to this country looking over the Cubs roster and making up my mind as to who shall be kept. Already I've figured eight men are not desired. There is all probability will be sold outright, as I believe I have an unusually strong substitute and recruit list to draw from. At any rate, there will be no trading until after New Year. If at that time I think I need a man I will go after him and swap if I can't secure him for cash."

Manager Evers has left for Escalante Springs where he will put in two weeks learning the ancient game of golf. Upon his return he will hike outward, as he intends to spend a week in Troy, his former home, before going to Gotham and minding with the National league managers. Evers declared that he was not to represent Mr. Murphy at this meeting, as he is not a stockholder in the club, and is therefore ineligible. Harry Ackerman will in all probability look after the West Siders' interests at the meeting.

Schick, who was set down as one of the players most to be feared by the Cubs was missing the last two feet of the field.

It is the belief of Evers that Johnston will be a sensation in the National league if he can do the things he is said to accomplish. If he can swing on a curve ball in his principal field he ought to outshine some of the regulars who also have an aversion to the curve-ball art and can't do the things Johnston is accomplishing almost every day of his baseball life.

Experience will help Johnston remain in the big leagues, since Evers, who hopes to make a star major leaguer of the fellow who has set the Coast league record of 114 set by Myers in the Pacific Coast league a year or so ago. By differing two bases in one game Johnston's mark shot to the 113 figure. It is predicted he will pass the 125 mark before the Coast league season is closed.

In a field day at San Francisco yesterday centered in Johnston and the authorizer made good by winning the prize for erasing the bases and the seventy-five-yard dash. Johnston made the circuit of the bases in 14:2.5. This was within three-fifths of a second of the world's record for ball players. Time Loney holds the record. His mark, made at Cincinnati October 12, 1910, still stands. The record is 13:4.5.

Johnston won the seventy-five-yard dash in 2:5. Loney of the Oakland team won second place.

Tony Lloyd Deal Is Chosen.
Chicago, Nov. 4.—Anthony (Tony) Deal, for more than twenty years one of the best known figures on western and southern race tracks, died today at his home in this city. Before becoming an owner of race horses, Tony had the fruit stand privilege at the principal tracks in the west and south. Loney was known as the "Watermelon man" to many of his associates.

His opinion of Johnston is shared by Manager Evers of the Cubs, who confesses, however, that he never has seen Johnston in a game. Evers was much interested in various opinions on Johnston and kept up with him in a foot race around a regulation diamond, said O'Day. "He has the speed of a deer and runs wild like a cat," Speaker, Collins and other speed boys, because he is willing to take the chance."

This opinion of Johnston is shared by Manager Evers of the Cubs, who confesses, however, that he never has seen Johnston in a game. Evers was much interested in various opinions on Johnston and kept up with him in a foot race around a regulation diamond, said O'Day. "He has the speed of a deer and runs wild like a cat," Speaker, Collins and other speed boys, because he is willing to take the chance."

Every inquirer about Johnston's faults and wanted to know what his principal weakness seemed to be.

"He is said to be weak on a curve ball," was the answer to this query.

"Well, if that's all that ails him, I guess he will just outgrow it," replied the Cub manager.

"When one looks what is the fault of a player, invariably one hears the answer: 'He is weak on a curve ball.' That is a big joke quite often."

"You can take it from me that most all of us are weak on a good curve ball. That is just what I like to hear about Johnston, for if that is all that ails him he will qualify with flying colors."

"I have been told that Johnston is one of the fastest fellows who ever broke into the game; that he is a great fielder who goes farther after a fly ball than almost any other fielder, that he steals his opponents' base, and that he is a good water and an effective lastman."

"Then when one asks, 'For the love of Mike, what is the matter with this speed king?' the answer is, 'He is weak on a curve ball.'"

"That curve-ball racket is being overworked. Why, when Mordell Brown was at his best he could tell a batter that he would pitch a curve ball, go through with it and the batter would miss the sphere a foot."

"The great curve-ball pitchers are always hard to hit. There are Bender of the Athletics and Scott of the White Sox. Bender is seldom hit hard when his curve ball is working right, and Scott is said to be able to stop any of the heavy hitters in the American league when he is right. Both are current exponents of the curve-ball delivery."

"Did you notice how far some of the White Sox batters were missing the ball that day Humphries pitched his great game, holding the South Side batters to a few scattered hits?"

EVANGELIST BRAY PREDICTS END OF TURK EMPIRE

Declares That Truce Now Existing in Balkan States Is Only Calm Before Mighty Struggle.

"Take a calm that precedes the fiercest tempest, so the present lull in the region of the Balkan states is a truce that is to be followed by a mighty military struggle involving the end of the Turkish empire, and eventually culminating in the great battle of Armageddon."

With these words, Evangelist Bray, in a lecture last night at 215 South Second street, spoke of the outcome of "The Eastern Question."

The speaker further said: "The antecedent of the present, 'the' is the 'king of the north,' of verse 13, and this is the government that occupies the territory that comprised the northern part of the ancient empire of Alexander the Great, when it was divided among his four generals."

This empire, which has ever since preserved its identity, being known as Syria, then Eastern Rome, and since the year 1453 A. D. as the Ottoman empire, when the Turks captured Constantinople.

"The city of Constantinople, the capital of Turkey, occupies a very strategic position on the map of Europe, as is shown by Napoleon's statement that 'whoever possesses Constantinople holds the key of the supremacy of Europe.'"

"Ever since the days of Peter the Great, Russia's policy has been to gain the possession of this coveted city, because it guards her outlet to the Black sea. At the same time, the powers of western Europe are determined that Russia shall not have it, and twice in the last sixty years they have matched it from her when she had it all but in her grasp, once in the Crimean war and later in A. D. 1878."

"Thus it can be clearly seen that when Turkey is forced to leave Constantinople and goes to Jerusalem (the holy mountain) and comes to her end with none to help her, every nation will have its own interest to enter in the disposition of her territory."

Mr. Bray connected these probable events with the drying up of the river Euphrates to prepare the way of the king of the east so they can come to Armageddon, as is mentioned in the Apocalypse.

He said: "These kings of the east are the great heathen nations of Asia that the prophet Joel describes as 'wicked and unprepared themselves for war,' and shall come to the valley of Jehoshaphat or Armageddon near Jerusalem."

The speaker closed by saying that the ancient Moab of the Bible was modern Russia, and that the prophet Ezekiel spoke of a time when he would lead the nations of the north and east against the land of Palestine. He also said that Christians could see in the present events a sign of the nearness of the setting up of the kingdom of Jesus Christ.

Subject tonight will be "The Signs of the Times."

HERE! MEN OF MODERATE HAIR

Read This

You will often see a man who fulfills your ideal of a man in almost every particular. He may have a good head, fine physique, perfect manners, an interesting personality and bear himself with the distinguished air of a gentleman. His hair is immaculate and his clothes faultless as to cut and material. But all the pleasant first impressions are ruined when you discover the collar and shoulders of his coat covered with loose hair and flakes of dandruff.

This is an indication of personal carelessness, not to say uncleanliness. You feel like telling him to get a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, and if you are a real friend to him you will tell him. This remarkable remedy would in a short time remove every trace of dandruff from his head, stop his hair from falling and prevent him from becoming bald. Bald-headed men always look odd, whether they are or not.

Dandruff is due to a germ which causes the scale-like accumulation. Newbro's Herpicide, used intelligently, checks this accumulation, prevents the hair from falling out and stops that frightful itching of the scalp almost instantly. It has a most delightful odor.

Herpicide is the Original Remedy that destroys dandruff. There is nothing in the world just like it, nothing that is "just as good."

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

Applications obtained at the good barber shops.
Send for in postage for a sample bottle and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

NEW MEXICO HAS OVER 3,000 MILES OF RAILROAD LINES

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.
Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 4.—There has been a decided lull in railroad building in New Mexico for years, but nevertheless, the total mileage in the state is 3,969.56 according to figures compiled today by the state corporation commission which has just completed the copy for a railroad map of New Mexico to be printed in Chicago. The map will show each railroad in different color, the distance between each station and also the distance between division points. There has been a persistent demand for such a map and the commission will have two sizes printed, one for the wall and the other for the pocket.

FORTHCOMING LAND SALE ATTRACTING MUCH INTEREST

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.
Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 4.—That the state land sale at Deming on December 8 will be the biggest public land sale in the history of the state is indicated by the inquiries received regarding it by Land Commissioner R. P. Ervin, from every part of the United States but particularly from Kansas, Iowa, Oklahoma, Texas, Illinois and other middle western states, and especially from California. It is surprising how many people on the Pacific coast are looking towards the lands of New Mexico as a desirable investment. At the same time, a dozen thousand acres will be offered in various tracts, a few of them with well and windmill. The lands are mostly public school lands.

SULZER ELECTED BY TAKE SALTS TO SMALL PLURALITY TO ASSEMBLY

Deposed Governor of New York Issues Statement Severely Criticizing Murphy and Impeachment Court.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
New York, Nov. 4.—William Sulzer, ousted from the governorship of New York last month by a verdict of a high court of impeachment was elected to the state assembly today from the Sixth district. He ran on the progressive ticket and was victor by a narrow margin, but at 10:30 his success was conceded by opponents. His old neighbors on the East Side rallied strongly to his support.

There was jubilation unbounded in the former governor's headquarters as the right began to record his victory. Sulzer himself was all smiles. He regarded his triumph as a personal vindication, he said, and issued a statement thanking his supporters and scoring Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall. He declared Murphy had been condemned for the vote that gave the district William Sulzer as its representative at Albany.

"The people of the Sixth district," said Sulzer in his statement, "think better of me than Mr. Murphy. They know why Mr. Murphy removed me from the governorship; they know when Mr. Murphy asked me to do wrong I refused to do wrong; they know when Mr. Murphy tried to bribe me I refused to be bribed; they know that when Mr. Murphy threatened me I defied his threats. The voters have condemned Mr. Murphy, reversed the judgment of his high court of inquiry, as indicated by the verdict of the polls, which, in the last analysis, is the opinion of mankind."

"From Mr. Murphy's court of inquiry I appealed to the higher court of public opinion. Mr. Murphy said there was no appeal from his court, but Mr. Murphy was mistaken; and he knows now that the judgment of the people can reverse the judgment of any court."

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if You Feel Backache or Have Bladder Trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which clogs and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's urinous waste go about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then not find it difficult to dispose of your uric acid and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

STRIKERS PREPARE TO FIGHT ON IN MICHIGAN

Union Stores Are Opened in Many Camps and Wood Supply for Winter Is Being Laid In by Idle Men.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Calumet, Mich., Nov. 4.—With no hope of a settlement of the copper strike in sight, the strikers began preparations today to carry their fight for recognition of the union through the winter.

Stores have been opened at Hancock and Red Jacket by the Western Federation of Miners and others will be started at Laurium, Ahmeek and South Range.

These stores will be stocked with necessities of life contributed by strike sympathizers and labor unions, and will be the distributing centers in their respective districts. Large quantities of clothing are expected from Butte and other metal mining regions. Three carloads of coal arrived in the South Range district today and strikers are cutting their winter's supply of wood.

Leaders declare there is no suffering among the strikers. Donations of money are being received from organizations affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

The Calumet & Hecla is the only mining company which has brought its output almost to normal through the employment of imported men, but other companies are adopting a similar course to break the strike. Present production is about one-fifth of normal for the district.

The injunction against picketing by strikers will remain in force at least until November 15, the date set for the oral argument by attorneys for the operators and for the Western Federation of Miners before the state supreme court. The answer in mandamus proceedings was filed at Lansing today.

Circuit Judge O'Brien overruled today a motion to continue the cases of six deputy sheriffs, charged with the murder of two strikers in the South Range district in August. The trial will open November 25.

Many landlords and tenants first met through the want columns of The Journal.

YESTERDAY'S ELECTIONS.

The conclusion from the elections of yesterday in different parts of the country is that, to the present time, there has been no decided change in the temper of the American people.
In the nature of things, hardly anything else was to be expected. The Wilson administration has followed generally the program to which it was pledged, and too short a time has elapsed for the country to determine definitely whether that program is a wise one or not. It will be impossible to tell before the congressional election next year what the political effect of the democratic legislation is to be.

In New York, the situation was no highlighted with local issues that very little national significance attaches to the result. Mitchell, the successful candidate for mayor, had the support of President Wilson, but he also had the support of the republicans and the solid backing of the progressives. It was the old fight of Tammany against the field, in which almost all advocates of decency in politics sided against Tammany. In view of the bitterness of the campaign in New York City, it is not surprising that the republicans should have made a fight for control of the legislature that seems to have been successful.

It is hard to see that the progressive party has gained any very distinct ground by reason of this campaign. In Massachusetts, where they had a strong candidate for governor in the field, they ran well. In New Jersey, where their candidate was not so favorably known, their showing was a distinct disappointment. No other proof is needed that the progressive fight is one of personalities rather than of principles.

At the hour of writing, indications are that the vote in New Jersey will be close. This can hardly be taken as a rebuke to President Wilson. The old feud between the president and "Jim" Smith has never abated. Smith is a relentless foe, and while the chief executive has been busy with national affairs in Washington he has had ample time and opportunity to prepare for a fight against him at home. Even if New Jersey should show a republican majority, in view of the general democratic drift in other parts of the country there is no reason why Mr. Wilson should feel that there has been any revolution against his policies.

THE NEWER AND BETTER WAY.

Officially it is not denied either in Mexico City or at Washington that an ultimatum has been delivered to Huerta demanding that he vacate the position he now holds as dictator of the southern republic. There is little doubt that some such ultimatum has been given. Present strained relations cannot go on forever.

The opposition of Europe, raising again the issue of the Monroe doctrine, makes it imperative for this government to act decisively, but with caution, in a most delicate situation.
Let there be no misunderstanding. It is said that the powers of Europe seek in Mexico the same ends of peace, order and stability of government that we do. For the most part they are willing to leave methods to the United States, but they differ from the Wilson administration as to standards.
They put protection of property first, if not alone. They care nothing for what bloody tyranny and usurpations may be employed to bring it about.
President Wilson, on the contrary, insists upon a government of decent morality and constitutional law. Such action as he may take, or such declaration as he may make as to policy, has that end in view.

When the course of the Washington administration is fully developed, it will not be for the United States alone, or even first. It will be in the spirit and for the interest of all the Latin American countries. The moral force of all civilized peoples of North and South America will stand behind it. It would strengthen if all those nations could join in making it. That should be brought about easily and quickly. The time is opportune to face the European continent with an American concert of powers.

The spirit of such concert is in the following sentence from the able address delivered by the president to the Southern Commercial congress at Mobile:

"We dare not turn from the principle that morality and not expediency is the thing that must guide us and that we will never condone iniquity because it is most convenient to do so."

It is said that this declaration was heard with surprise and delight by a group of Latin American diplomatic representatives present. Their governments are sure to endorse such principles of international relations.
It would be a wise move for this government to invite them to join in such concert.

This nation has too long spoken alone to Europe in the name of America. Strong and constitutional governments exist in Brazil, Argentina and Chile. They are already in practical alliance. They would draw after them the smaller republics, as Germany, France and England draw the rest of Europe.

A joint declaration of these nations with the United States would be a broader and higher interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine. It would put the moral sentiment of the Americas behind our Mexican policy. It would make for law and order in all the Latin American countries tormented by revolution and anarchy. It would lead the American moral law to European greed. It would raise immensely the standard and level of civilization from the Rio Grande to Cape Horn.

A CONTINUOUS CONGRESS.

The extra session of congress will end within four weeks because, under the law, the regular session begins the first of December. With the growth of the nation and the cum-bersomeness of legislation, owing to the unwieldy size of the lower house with its 435 members, and the archaic rules of the senate, it takes more and more time for congress to pass the necessary and unnecessary bills to keep the machinery of government going.

Long sessions of congress formerly ended in June or early in July. Then times of business stretched the sessions into September. But that was not enough. The Taft and Wilson administrations have seen three extra sessions running right through the hot Washington summers and merging into the regular.

This is not pleasant for congressmen. They prefer to spend the summer home. They want to consult the wishes of their constituents and get their ears to the ground occasionally for the sound of coming changes in the popular mind. Some of them want to go on the lecture platform during the Chautauqua and Ivesum seasons. Living in Washington is expensive and graft has become dangerous.

But the huge governmental machine overrides their dearest desires. The extra sessions have become necessities, because the regular sessions can do little more than perfect the appropriation bills.

President Wilson succeeded in getting his tariff bill through the extra session. That was a great achievement. At least it would have been so considered by any former president. But he followed up the tariff legislation with a currency bill which brought before congress and the country even more delicate and complicated questions than were presented in the revision of the tariff.

The president was forced to the extreme course because after the tariff and the currency, an ambitious program of reform is in contemplation. He must try out his ideas on trusts. He has formulated a Philippines policy. He must work out the Mexican problem. Foreign and domestic questions fairly batter at the door of the White House. Few of them can be handled without the cooperation of congress.
Congress, therefore, seems doomed to sit continuously, with new and then a vacation of a week or two.
This is the penalty for service a gigantic and continually growing government machine. Those who do not like to work will tire of the grind.
By and by, it will develop into a government of experts that no more politicians whose chief claim to position is ability to be good fellows with their constituents.

Santa Fe Railway Is One of the Best Managed Systems in the United States
(Railway Age Gazette.)

THE Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe is in many respects typical of the better managed railroads of the west. Operating 10,750 miles of road, it earns between ten and eleven thousand dollars per mile. It operates on a 66 per cent basis and within the system are comprised all the varieties of western railroad conditions. It has its heavy traffic densities, its lines built with the highest modern standards and worked most effectively. It has its lines with almost no local traffic but with heavy through business, which in their present condition, are also being worked about to capacity. In addition, it has its full share of branch line mileage on which the present service is probably more adequate than could be justified entirely by present earning capacity.

In 1912 total operating revenue amounted to $114,500,000, which is the largest revenue in the history of the company and is greater than the 1912 revenue by more than $9,000,000.
On the other hand, expenses amounted to $77,500,000, or about $36,999,999 more than in 1912, and of the increase, all but about $1,400,000 was in maintenance.

The Atchison is a conservatively capitalized property with an unusually high credit. It passed through a reconstruction in 1906 and since then has been both well managed and conservatively financed. The fact that control is held by one group of capitalists, that its securities are widely distributed among conservatively small investors, that the price of its securities has never been open to the suspicion of being juggled, and that it has been managed solely in the interest of all the security holders, has made the Atchison credit high and on an unusually broad stable base.

The property has not, like the Southern Pacific, had a long, unbroken record of huge amounts of money taken from profit and put in as further investment, but the Southern Pacific is not typical of American railroads, any more than the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western is.

The operating gains in the effective use of the plant have not been as striking over a series of years on the Santa Fe as they have on the Southern Pacific. The average train load in 1912 on the Santa Fe, including company freight, was 449 tons. This is an increase over 1908 of 6 per cent, and compares with the average train load on the Southern Pacific of 436 tons, in the strike year of 1912, an increase over 1908 of 13 per cent. On the other hand, the gains made on the Santa Fe in 1912 over 1911 are particularly good. The average train load was over 6 per cent greater in 1912 than in 1911. Car loading increased 3.24 per cent; and while total mileage of freight increased 9.82 per cent, freight car mileage increased 5.48 per cent and freight and mixed train mileage 2.56 per cent. The Santa Fe has always stood for progress, although possibly at times this progress took the form of experiment, which was not wholly successful. If one could spend two or three days with every superintendent on the Santa Fe it is not too much to say that he would get an almost overwhelming idea of the needs of the property. It is characteristic of American railroad superintendents to always keep a pet project or two ahead for their division; but on the Santa Fe these pet projects for betterments have been accumulating for years, notwithstanding the fact that very large sums have been and are being spent for betterments that cannot be justified. In other words, high expenditures have been and are being made for betterments that have not been worth the cost.

President Ripley strikes a solemn note of warning in the Atchison report for the fiscal year ended, June 30, 1913, which is well worth the most serious consideration. Mr. Ripley says:

"The growth of the business of your company, and also the increased efficiency are due principally to the very large expenditures (over $270-000,000) which have been made in the extension and improvement of the property since January 1, 1912. In order to make such expenditures your company has raised since 1906 over $215,000,000 of 'new money' by the sale of bonds which are now outstanding or which (in the case of many of the convertible bonds issued) are represented by common stock now outstanding."

"The statement emphasizes the striking fact that the earnings on the entire investment are now not much in excess of 5 per cent per annum and continue on that basis withstanding the increase in efficiency and the increase in the volume of traffic.
It may be explained that the ability of your company under such circumstances to pay 6 per cent on the common stock is due to the fact that it pays an average substantially less than 5 per cent on its bonded debt, and, indeed, much of the bonded debt was created when money could be borrowed at or near 4 per cent."

"The very moderate return which is realized upon the investment, especially when considered in connection with the increased rates which must now be paid for new capital, indicates that in order to preserve and strengthen the credit of even the most successful railroad companies, to the end that they may be able to develop and improve their property so as to promote the public safety and the public convenience, the government ought to increase, rather than to reduce still further, the rates for transportation and ought to be exceedingly slow about increasing still further the costs of operation. It is very clear that the mere growth of business and the more increase in efficiency will not afford adequate protection against further reductions in rates for transportation and further increases in costs, especially in view of the increasing rates demanded for the use of money."

A warning such as this, coming from the president of one of the greatest American railroad systems, who represents no group of capitalists, who has no interests but the interests of his company, its security holders and its patrons to serve, who has managed this great property in such a way that Atchison credit abroad has a reputation enjoyed by few other American railroads, and in such a way that Santa Fe passenger service is known pretty well all over the world, merits a very careful consideration both by the interstate commerce commission and by the president of the United States.
The Atchison is in a strong position as regards cash. There are no bills or loans payable and the company has on hand $30,000,000 cash.

SOCIALIST FIGHT IN FEDERATION OF LABOR

Same Old Question Is to Come Up at Annual Convention
Which Is to Begin in Seattle Next Monday.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Seattle, Wash., Nov. 4.—The general officers and a large number of elected delegates to the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor arrived here tonight. Samuel Gompers, who is in poor health, will attend the convention, which will begin next Monday, but will accept no outside invitations. Secretary of Labor Wilson will arrive Sunday.

It is intimated that the strife between the rival national unions of electrical workers has been ended and that the warring bodies will unite during the federation sessions.
The fight of the socialist element to convert the federation to a socialist party will come up again this year, led, as before, by former Congressman Victor Berger and Max Hayes.

DOUGLAS BANK GOES INTO RECEIVER'S HANDS

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 4.—State Bank Examiner J. C. Callaghan took charge today of the Arizona Bank and Trust company and the institution did not open for business. With a capital of $20,000, a surplus of $7,500 and $110,000 deposits, the bank is said to have had loans in excess of $117,000 outstanding. A reorganization is planned.

Horrible Hazing.

"Have you heard what Mabel's determined to do?"
"They have terrible initiations, I understand."

"That's what. They ordered her to tell her mother with the fishes for a month."

Good Company.
"Mrs. Womble says she loves to commune with nature."
"I'm not surprised at that. Nature will let you do all the talking, and that makes an awful lot with her."

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL.
Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 4.—Former Sheriff Sylvester Roybal and County Commissioner Jose Gregorio Lobato testified in the disbarment proceedings against Alois B. Renahan, a prominent Santa Fe attorney. This afternoon United States Senator felt himself grossly deceived in certain legal transactions at issue in the case.

TRAIN GOES THROUGH RIO GRANDE TRESTLE

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.
Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 4.—A freight train of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad went through a trestle near buckman, late yesterday afternoon just after the passenger train for Santa Fe from Antonio had passed.
The locomotive of the freight train had crossed the trestle structure, but the cars, excepting the caboose plunged into the dry arroyo beneath.
Fortunately, none of the train crew was injured.

HARD LUCK.
I never won in all my life.
A dollar on a bet but what some creditor stood by and grabbed it for a debt!

A Novel Idea.
"I've thought of a way to improve our pork and beans," said the head restaurant man.
"What is that?" inquired the Junior partner.
"We'll serve pork with 'em."

DAWSON, N. M., Nov. 4.—Coal dust was the predominant factor in the explosion that wrecked mine No. 2 of the State Canyon Fuel company here October 22, and resulted in the death of 263 men, according to a statement issued today by Rees H. Beddow, state mine inspector.

It has not been determined what caused the dust. The statement discussed that was played very little, if any part in the explosion; that a week before the explosion he had taken samples of air, which were analyzed by the United States bureau of mines at Pittsburgh, and showed only pure nitrogen and oxygen in one per cent of methane. This, the inspector points out, is very low for a mine of that character.

He says that in the last ten days experts have been searching for gas, but have not found enough anywhere in the mine to show in a safety lamp test.

Inspector Beddow's statement follows:

Gas played very little part in the explosion of the Dawson mine. The mine was the best ventilated mine in the state. There was from 12,000 to 15,000 cubic feet of air traveling through the mine per minute. This air was divided into many different spells, going into all parts of the mine, thus preventing any accumulation of gas. For the past ten days many of the best gas experts and mining men of the country have been examining the mine and hunting for gas, but not enough has been found anywhere to show in a safety lamp test.

A week previous to the explosion I took samples of the main return air and had it analyzed by the United States bureau of mines at Pittsburgh, Pa. The analysis of the air showed only nineteen one-hundredths of one per cent of methane, CH<sub>4</sub>, which is very low for a mine of this character.

"Coal dust was the predominant factor that precipitated the explosion throughout all the mine, and is the most serious and difficult problem the coal operators have to contend with in operating their mines. What stirred up and ignited the coal dust has not been determined up to the present.
This may be revealed later on when some of the rooms and pillars which are now inaccessible have been cleared out and in which further investigation will be made."
