CAPTAIN AND FOUR MEN PROBABLY PERISHED

Great Hardships Endured by Survivors, in Dories Amid Pounding Waves, Without Food or Shelter.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Portland, Me., Nov. 5.—Nine members of the crew of the Gloucester
fisher schooner, Annie M. Parker,
which was picked up Monday with all
sails set and her hold full of fish by
the British steamer Astrakhan, six miles east of Nantucket, Sunday
morning, after they had been adrift
in small boats for twenty-four hours
without food or drink, today reported that Captain Nelson, the cook, and three of the crew, had been seen
abandoned.

The men of the Annie M. Parker
were brought here by the lumber
schooner Tifton, from Jacksonville,
which picked them up in Dories, thirty
miles off Nantucket, Sunday morning,
after they had been adrift in small boats for twenty-four hours without food or drink. They reported that Captain Nelson, the cook, and three
of the crew, had been seen abandoned.

The missing, besides Captain Nelson,
were Lester Fletcher of Argyle Sound, N. S.; Ross Werther, of Pulaski Head, N. S.; and Thomas Landry,
of Arichal, C. B.

Henry Nelson of Beverly, son of the captain, was left behind in a dory
lashed to the stern of the schooner
which was picked up by the British steamer Astrakhan, six miles east of Nantucket, Sunday morning, after they had been adrift in small boats for twenty-four hours without food or drink. They reported that Captain Nelson, the cook, and three of the crew, had been seen abandoned.

They reported that the Annie M.
Parker, home from the fishing
grounds off Newfoundland with a full catch, was driven off her course by adverse winds and went around on the coast and Crown shoals off the Nantucket coast Saturday morning.

The vessel was being rocked and
pounded by heavy seas and the crew
suffered with Captain Nelson that their only hope of safety lay in getting out of the dory. So they abandoned
her. Eventually the vessel later worked
off the shoal in deep water and drifted,
uninjured, to where she was picked up.

Three boats were put over the lea-ward side. The first was smashed; the second was swamped, but the third
was floated and eight men put off in
it. Two other boats were dropped overboard safely on the western side.
The first had three men, the last contained Captain Nelson and three of his crew.

It was pitch dark and the dory
crews were lost to the view of each other almost in a moment. The last seen of the boat in which Captain Nelson left his ship was when it was tumbling the bow of the schooner.
The seamen were running high and
in one of the heaviest between the
little craft she swung around the bow
and out of sight.

The men in the other two boats did
not see each other until daylight.
When they got together it was found
that they had water or food.

They drifted about all day and the following night, apparently buffeted
by heavy seas, one of which carried
Kenny, the cook, over the stern.
Kenny fought hard to swim back to the boat, but went down before his remains could reach him. He leaves
a wife and seven children.

When they were picked up by the Tifton Sunday morning the survivors
were nearly exhausted. The supplies
aboard the Tifton were low and the
hunger-battered men took the schooner's ladder to the utmost. The Boston
fisherman, Jones and Phoebe, was sighted and hailed. The skipper had no fish on board, but he set a trap.
He pulled in a goodly catch which,
with flour and meal, was turned over
to the Tifton's captain.

Harry Nelson remained with the Jones and Phoebe in the hope that he might be able to obtain some trace of his father and three mates.

ing schooner, Anna M. Parker, picked up Monday with all sails set, her
hold filled with fish, and without a sail on board, sixty miles east of the Nantucket Lightship. There is no
trace of any of the nineteen men
comprising the schooner's crew.

In its denouement, the mystery resolved the case of the Boston brig, Marie Celeste, which was found abandoned
at sea, some forty years ago. The fate of her crew remains unknown.

The British steamer, Astrakhan,
bound from New York for France,
sighted the Parker Monday, drifting
with all sails set. Boarding the schooner, officers of the Astrakhan found four of the dories missing. Only a few barrels of bread were left
in the dories, indicating that before leaving the crew had gathered a supply of provisions.

The schooner was not leaking and
was in perfect condition, except for
the loss of one dory, but fish, valued
at about $5,000, filled the hold.

A prize crew from the Astrakhan
took charge of the Parker and turned it over to the Gresham.

From the owners of the Parker, it
was learned she sailed from Sydney,
N. S., for her home port, October 25,
after a fishing trip to the Newfoundland Grand Banks. She was in command of Captain Vincent Nelson, a veteran Gloucester skipper, and was manned by a crew of eighteen men.

The owners could offer no explanation of the abandonment of the vessel.

There is a possibility the Parker's
crew has been picked up by some sailing vessel. Had they been taken
on board a steamer, the rescue probably would have been reported by stealers.

Administration Is Awaiting Reply
From Huerta

President Wilson Takes Calm
View of Mexican Situation
and Is Not Alarmed Because of War Talk.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Washington, Nov. 5.—Waiting for
word from President Wilson's Mexican mission, the administration is awaiting a reply from Huerta. The Mexican situation was described today.
Administration officials continued to refuse to shed light on the latest
communication which conveyed to General Huerta the desire of the United States that he eliminate himself from the Mexican situation.

They took the attitude that to discuss publicly the delicate phases of the problem might defeat the ends
sought.

The feeling in the national capital
is none the less one of tense interest,
especially as to what course will be pursued if General Huerta declines to abandon his position. It was evident from those who talked with President Wilson
about the situation today that he was awaiting developments calmly. He has told his friends he would continue
to try to solve the situation by peaceful means and would not be disturbed
by predictions of armed intervention.

REBEL FORCES READY TO ATTACK PIEDRAS NEGRAS

Rio Grande, Tex., Nov. 5.—Constitutionalist forces are closing in on Piedras Negras, Mexican government
troops are sleeping on their arms tonight in anticipation of an attack.
The village of El Moral, five miles south of the border, was abandoned to
the rebels today, the federal troops
there retiring to Piedras Negras.

The constitutionalists were reported within five miles of Piedras Negras tonight, and advancing from all sides. Piedras Negras, the former provisional capital of the con-stitutionalists, was abandoned to the federalists several weeks ago.

CALERO SEEKS SAFETY
FROM HUERTA'S WRATH

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Havana, Nov. 5.—Manuel Calero,
candidate of the liberal party at the recent presidential elections in Mexico, arrived here today on the steamer Cordoba. He was accompanied by his two daughters. He is on his way to the United States, but says he will return to Mexico within
a month.

Senator Calero declared that owing to the abnormal conditions in his country he had retired from the public field and would make no statement regarding the elections except
to express the opinion that they would be annulled.

Soriano Dominguez, a brother of Senator Beltrami Dominguez, who made a speech in the Mexican senate
attacking President Huerta and later
mysteriously disappeared, was a passenger on the Cordoba. Some dis-
sentiment gave out a pamphlet entitled
"Words From a Dead Man." The pamphlet contains strong charges against General Huerta.

Lodge President of Harvard Alumni,
Boston, Nov. 5.—United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, class of '71,
has been elected president of the Harvard Alumni association for the coming year.

Mayor and Aldermen of Rome Resign.
Rome, Nov. 5.—Mayor Nathan and all the Aldermen of Rome, after a heated discussion today, decided to resign from office. This action was taken in the midst of the election of the second half of the senate elections of the two candidates in Rome
supported by the municipal "bloc."

PUBLIC PROSECUTOR DENOUNCES HEBREWS

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Kiev, Russia, Nov. 5.—The public
prosecutor, in his speech at today's
session of the trial of Mendel Beilis,
attacked the Jews for their agitation
in connection with the trial, but promised the government would protect them, whatever the verdict might be.

He alluded sarcastically to Mendel Beilis,
a former chief of detectives, for casting suspicion on Yeshu's own relatives, rather than admit the existence
of ritual murders and accused Kra-
sinsky, former head of the Kiev police, of knowing but concealing the secret of the crime. He alluded to the attempts to incriminate Vera Tcheberak and her band, were fostered and financed by Jews, but had failed.

ROOSEVELT HAS BIG TIME IN BUENOS AYRES

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Buenos Ayres, Nov. 5.—General
Roosevelt arrived today on the Arctic president, Dr. De Las Plazas, with whom he remained for nearly an hour.
On his return to the legation he was accompanied by his two sons and accompanied by great crowds which cheered continuously for Roosevelt
and the United States. From the balcony of the legation he thanked the
people for this manifestation of sympathy with his country.

Speaking later to a group of prominent men, the ex-president declared
the American nation should show respective respect for the spirit of equality.

Colonel Roosevelt was the guest of honor tonight at a reception arranged
by the American colony.

WESTERN PACIFIC TRAIN WRECKED BY LANDSLIDE

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Oreville, Calif., Nov. 5.—Train No.
4, on the Western Pacific railroad,
known as the Panama-Pacific express,
plunged into a landslide which had
covered the tracks with tons of rock
and earth and was wrecked twenty-
three miles north of here today.

Engineer John McGraw was perhaps fatally injured and Fireman H.
A. Jones was seriously hurt. None of the passengers was injured.

The locomotive plunged into the Feather river. The engine car was smashed and six coaches were detailed.

CHILDREN FORCED TO WORK LIKE SLAVES

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Chicago, Nov. 5.—A bulletin issued
today by State Factory Inspector Nelson, declares that parents in many instances distribute force their children
to work at home under bad working conditions (that obtain in factories).

"Children, 6 and 7 years old, are pulled out of bed at 5 o'clock, shaken
into wakefulness, given a drink of strong coffee and made to stand for hours at one monotonous task. In the evenings, a child may be made to stand under conditions that have to shame our laws and battle the efforts
of our inspectors."

Frank Parks, Successor, Roddenberry.
Albany, Ga., Nov. 5.—Return early
today indicated that Frank Parks,
of Spivey, Ga., has been elected
representative for the Second district
to complete the unexpired term of the late Representative S. A. Roddenberry.

BELL COMPANY HAD WEAKER CONCERN AT ITS MERCY

Telephone Corporation Under Investigation By Federal Government Regarding Trust
Methods.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Spokane, Wash., Nov. 5.—John F.
Davis, secretary and general counsel
of the Interstate Consolidated Telephone company, testified today at
the federal inquiry into recent telephone consolidations in Rocky mountain and Pacific coast states, that Thaddeus S. Lane, president of the company, had transferred a large
block of stock in the Corporation Results Investment company, a Colorado concern, which the witness
described as a subsidiary of the Bell Telephone company.

The Interstate Consolidated company, through subsidiary companies,
various automatic and manual tele-
phones in Montana, Idaho and western Washington.

Mr. Davis said the stock transfer
was made because of the desperate financial condition of his company in January, 1912. They would have "sunk their heads" he said, to raise money, and the Bell interests
"could have placed them in the hands
of a receiver in ten minutes" had it
desired to take up its notes.

Every dollar invested in the company, the witness said, came from
the communities in which they were organized.

Asked whether the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company ever exercised exclusive contracts, Mr. Davis
said he had seen documents that purported to be exclusive contracts.

The hearing is being held before a woman—Miss Mary E. Bell, of Portland, special examiner for the United States district court.

WESTERN WORLD IN NO DANGER FROM CHINA, SAYS BISHOP

Missionary Prelate of Protestant Episcopal Church Scouts
Idea of Yellow Peril and Talks of Christian Duty.

ORIENTAL REPUBLIC TO ENDURE, HE BELIEVES

Objects to Proposed Establishment of Confucianism As State Religion for New Government at Peking.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
St. Louis, Nov. 5.—Rev. John H.
Bishop, Protestant Episcopal bishop of Kansas, China, in an address here
today, said the Western world need fear no military yellow peril from China.

"The Chinese," he said, "do not believe in military power and do not adhere to militarism. Whatever may come to China, the Chinese race will remain great and will have a part in the political life of the world without any menace to the Western world."

"Either the present republic will succeed or it will be unsuccessful, but
in order to secure peace, the foreign nations will not permit the country. I can think of no greater calamity than the partition of China
—a calamity both for China and for Europe. But I believe the republic
will succeed, because new ideas have taken root all over China. It will never again be possible for anyone
to dominate the thought of the country or the government."

"The political and intellectual revolution which China has undergone
has had a disastrous effect upon the morals of China. The old basis of thinking has been undermined, and
the young men of China are asking questions about ethical principles.
The great peril of China, as of all
the world, is that the people will not get a new moral basis to replace the old."

Bishop B. declared that a great opportunity was presented for Christianity to lay in China a new moral foundation. He said that the movement in China for the revival of Confucianism was headed by a graduate of Columbia university, who proposed
that Confucianism be made the state
religion, which would not be objectionable, but which would be supported by the state in the same manner
that Great Britain supports the Church
of England.

The danger of making Confucianism
the state religion, continued
Bishop B., is two-fold—first, such a policy might cause some of the many doctrines now open to Christianity, and
second, if the religion is established
it will lose its moral power and thus injure the Chinese people a contempt
for all religions.

"We Chinese workers want in China complete religious liberty, a free field for all and no favor."

"One of the most significant things
in China now is that the Christians
of the nation are beginning to feel a national religious consciousness and
to feel that religion should do for their nation what Christianity has done for Europe and America."

WHITE HOUSE SENDS WEDDING INVITATIONS

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Washington, Nov. 5.—White House
invitations were long today distributing invitations to the wedding on November 25, of Miss Jessie Wilson
and Francis Vernon Davis. About 400
invitations were sent, and, approximately 250 of them being directed to residents of Washington.

The invitation list is necessarily
limited to the vicinity of the capital where the wedding will take place. The ambassadors and ministers
in the diplomatic corps, members of the cabinet, supreme court of the United States and prominent officials,
constitute the greater part of the invitation list, although many personal friends of the Wilson and Davis families will be present.

MRS. PANKHURST IS PLEASED BY ELECTIONS

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Chicago, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Pankhurst
expressed today her pleasure
at the attitude of women shown
yesterday at the local anti-election in southern Illinois. About 12,000
women went to the polls and nearly 80 per cent voted against the saloons.

"It is only a question of time when
women will drive the liquor traffic
from Illinois," said Mrs. Pankhurst.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
London, Nov. 5.—By a clever stratagem, which hoodwinked the large
force of police sent to prevent her
from speaking, Miss Sylvia Pankhurst was enabled to announce tonight at the House of Commons, in the end of London, the formation of a volunteer corps, organized under command of Captain Sir Francis Yarn, a Boer war veteran, for the protection of militant suffragettes and
labor unionists.

Miss Sylvia Emerson of Jackson,
Mich., presided over the gathering.
Just as the meeting was called to order it was announced the residence of George Lansbury, former socialist
member of parliament and a warm
supporter of the militant suffragettes,
was surrounded by police. The crowd
rushed from the baths and found a large number of foot and mounted police around Lansbury's house, with a trench in front of the entrance.

Mr. Lansbury arrived on the scene
and was apologetically greeted as he entered his home. The report was spread that the preparations portend-
ed the arrest of Sylvia Pankhurst.

The lights in the house were extinguished and suddenly a woman
rushed from the doorway and sprang
into the ladies' which, surrounded
by mounted police, proceeded to Herald Green, then Miss Davis Lansbury,
daughter of the ex-socialist member,
stepped out, much to the discomfiture
of the police.

Meanwhile Miss Pankhurst entered
the baths practically unobserved. The only disorder was caused by an attack by the women on a few reporters whom they suspected of being detectives. Mr. Lansbury and Sir Francis Yarn followed Miss Pankhurst to the platform. The Boer veteran explained that he proposed to establish a labor training corps. Waving aloft
a huge knitted club, Sir Francis said
he was prepared to use that weapon
wherever he saw women injured or wherever the oppressed needed aid.

The general staff of the organization will be drawn from officers who have seen service. Men and women
are eligible for the ranks.

Miss Pankhurst said the plan was based on the Ulster model and she expected the same immunity from government interference enjoyed by Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster leader.

When Miss Pankhurst left the meeting she was surrounded by a
body guard of stout men and made
her escape after a lively battle with
the police, who had just returned and
who were compelled to draw their clubs. The crowd consisted with alcohol and several of the billiardiers
were injured, among them Miss Emerson, who was knocked down and bruised about the head. She too escaped arrest, being carried away by sympathizers.

After the vote on the Read amendment, the administration forces, as described to get through the administration plan for bank control and repeal of the national banks. This and will be taken up again tomorrow.

ference to consider the program being
made by the committee speeded today.

President Wilson sent for Senator
Woods of Massachusetts, republican
member of the banking and currency
committee, first discussed the program
with him for an hour tonight.

The session continued to talk of his view, but it is understood he has a preliminary plan in which he would like to see the national banks reorganized and rechartered in their entirety. The matter is still pending.

ELECTION RESULTS ARE GRATIFYING TO PRESIDENT

Constitutionalists Are Sent to Various Democrats Who Won in State Contest; Bryan Issues Statement.

TO THE EDITOR: I have just received your issue of the 4th inst. and am glad to see that the results of the election are so gratifying to the President. I am sure that the people have spoken clearly and that the results will be a great help to the President in his work.

Mr. Bryan's statement is also very gratifying. I am sure that the people will be satisfied with the results of the election.

The results of the election are a great help to the President. I am sure that the people will be satisfied with the results of the election.

Girls! Get a 25 Cent Bottle and Try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse."

After washing your hair with soap always apply a little Danderine to the scalp to invigorate the hair and prevent dandruff. Better still, use soap as sparingly as possible, and instead have a "Danderine Hair Cleanse." Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair taking one strand at a time. This will remove dust, dirt and excessive oil. In a few minutes you will be amazed, your hair will not only be clean, but

MISSOURI ELEVEN IS SHOWING UP POORLY

Columbia, Mo., Nov. 5.—The Missouri state university football team made a poor showing today in scrimmage against the freshmen. Lack of football "sense" was conspicuous.

ST. LOUIS UNIVERSITY
TEAM IN GOOD SHAPE

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 5.—With all the regulars in their places, the St. Louis University football team was given strenuous scrimmage with the freshmen today. The men are in good shape and eager for the next game.

PRINCETON LINES UP
AGAINST FRESHMEN

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 5.—The Princeton varsity and freshmen football eleven lined up against each other today in the final scrimmage before the Harvard game Saturday and the former won, 9 to 0, in a half-hour of play.

The coaches have abandoned hope of getting a punter who could hold his place primarily on his kicking ability and will depend on either Law, Borden or Captain Baker to attend to that branch of the game. Baker's kicking today averaged well up to those of both Law and Borden. Trainer Fitzpatrick said all his men were in good condition.

ROAD RACE WON
BY MEXICO MAN

J. J. Newkirk Drives 517-Mile Course in Seventeen Hours and Ten Minutes; Naquin Is Third.

PENNSYLVANIA ELEVEN
ROMPS OVER SCRUBS

Philadelphia, Nov. 5.—Six touchdowns marked the scoring power of the University of Pennsylvania varsity football eleven in the final scrimmage today. The team was victorious in the 27-mile road race, which was won by the freshmen Wilson ran the eleven at quarter in excellent form. Captain Ketchum played his new position at right end well. There was plenty of drive in the varsity attack and the defensive work showed improvement.

SOUTH DAKOTA TEAM
TO PLAY OUT SCHEDULE

Vermillion, S. D., Nov. 5.—The two teams remaining on the University of South Dakota football schedule will be played in line with a request of the student body in the final game today. The team will meet the Michigan Aggies November 15, and Creighton University on Thanksgiving day.

CREIGHTON-WASHINGTON
UNIVERSITY GAME OFF

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 5.—The athletic managers of Creighton university were tonight notified that the game with Washington University of St. Louis, scheduled for Saturday, had been cancelled. The notice did not contain the reasons, but it is stated here that Washington objected to Creighton using freshmen in the lineup.

NORTHWESTERN QUARTER
IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Greer, the Northwestern quarterback, who was operated on Monday, is in a critical condition and may not survive. Coach Greer ran the varsity through a stiff offensive scrimmage against the freshmen today, adding plays which will be tried against Chicago Saturday.

NEBRASKA TEAM LOSES
ITS STAR HALFBACK

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 5.—Just as Captain Hurd, out of the game for ten days on account of injuries, returned to the practice field, another backer, befall the Nebraska eleven today, when Rutherford, star half-

WHITE SOX TRIM
GIANTS IN GAME
AT EL PASO

Encountering Best Weather of Tour Thus Far, Two Teams Put Up Good Contest; Final Score 10 to 7.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 5.—The Chicago White Sox defeated the New York Giants by a score of 10 to 7 in the world's tour game at Washington park today. The game was interrupted for a short time in the third inning when Aviator Earl Wagner of Milwaukee, alighted on the diamond in his Wright aeroplane. Mathewson pitched the first inning for New York and was succeeded by Hearn. The players encountered the best weather of the trip at El Paso.

Score: N. Y. G. 10, C. W. S. 7. H. R. B. White Sox: 120-800-508-10-15-2. Giants: 120-100-183-7-10-7. Batteries: Scott and Schall; Mathewson, Hearn and Meyers.

WORLD'S RECORD FOR STEEPLECHASE MADE
AT PIMLICO TRACK

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 5.—A world's record for a steeplechase of two miles, 3:52 1-2, was made today at Pimlico race track by The Welling with 150 pounds on her back. The Welling is ten years old and is owned by Captain Ral Barr of Baltimore. The black mare took the lead early in the race and flying over her field hit 2:50, which had been held for 2:50. The only serious contender was George Lane, who came up with a rock at the end and not checked at the last jump.

MAKE IT "500" IS
SLOGAN OF CHICAGO
UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

Chicago, Nov. 5.—"Make it 500," is the slogan of University of Chicago students for the game with Northwestern Saturday. The Maroons have rolled up 118 points in games against the Maroons and the students would like to see it made 500. Coach Stange does not expect to roll up a large score Saturday. The team he will lead against Northwestern will be composed largely of substitutes.

VENICE ABOLISHES
PRIZE FIGHTING
BY CLOSE VOTE

Preponderance of Feminine Vote Brought Result; Training Camps Also Placed Under Ban.

Venice, Italy, Nov. 5.—Prize fighting in all its phases, was abolished here today, by a majority of seventy-five votes, in an election especially called to settle the question and in which 500 voters participated. Boxing matches, and even the maintenance of training quarters for pugilists who did not elsewhere, are prohibited.

MATTHEWS ANXIOUS TO FIGHT SHAFER
WINNER TAKE ALL

While Pierce Matthews accepted the referee's decision in his bout with Harry Shafer with philosophic resignation, indicative of the fact that he has met local favorites before, he broke silence yesterday just to say he is willing to fight the local welterweight on a winner-take-all basis. Matthews is indifferent as to the time, and he said, he doesn't care if Shafer "weighs a ton." Matthews is anxious not to appear as a knocker. He has nothing at all to say about Shafer's being awarded a draw with him. He simply wants to fight again.

MICHIGAN VOTES DOWN PROPOSITION
DEFENDS TITLE AS
WRESTLING CHAMPION

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 5.—By an overwhelming majority, students, faculty and Ann Arbor alumni of the University of Michigan have voted against a resumption of athletic relations with the Western Intercollegiate conference. There were 2,448 votes against resumption and 869 for it.

Three Boxers Sign for Tour.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Eddie McElroy, Ray Brennan and Young Raynor, boxers today signed a contract for a tour through Australia, during which they are to "meet all comers." They are to sail from San Francisco November 15.

Declare War on Colds.

A crusade of education which aims "that common colds may become uncommon within the next generation" has been begun by prominent New York physicians. Here is a list of the "don'ts" which the doctors say will prevent the annual visitation of the cold:

"Don't sit in a draughty car."
"Don't sleep in hot rooms."
"Don't avoid the fresh air."
"Don't stuff yourself at meal time."
"Over-eating reduces your resistance."
"To which we would add—when you take a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. To accomplish that you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy most excellent. Sold by all dealers."

AMERICAN LEAGUE
NOT TO RECOGNIZE
NEW FRATERNITY

Baseball Players' Organization Will Be Ignored by Magazines; Decision Announced By Ban Johnson.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—The American league will not consider the demands of the ball players' fraternity at its annual meeting tomorrow. President Johnson said today that the league has never been asked formally by the fraternity to grant any reforms or to make any changes in the contracts, and that while the national committee had referred to each club owner a synopsis of the changes desired by the men, the protest of the meeting called for no discussion of it. The commission probably will take first action upon the demands ahead of either the American or National leagues, if any action is taken, according to Johnson.

Magnates of the league were slow in gathering today and the opening of some of its members caused postponement of the board of directors' meeting until tomorrow. It will precede the league meeting which is to be held in the afternoon.

The National and American league seasons will open April 14, next year, according to President Johnson. Mr. Johnson has communicated with Barney Dreyfus, president of the Philadelphia club, and the National league officials have agreed to a later date than has been customary for starting the season.

The last start will not prevent the world's series from beginning on October 1, as in the past, according to the plan. President Johnson said there were several open dates in the 1913 schedule which were used for exhibition games. He stated that the number of open dates in the 1914 schedule would be reduced to make up for the late start.

NATIONAL COMMISSION TO ACCORD HEARING

New York, Nov. 5.—Under certain conditions, David L. Fultz will receive a hearing before the national commission as president of the baseball players' fraternity, when the players' demands for changes in contracts with terms are presented, according to President Lynch, of the National league.

Although Chairman Herrmann, of the commission, declared some time ago that Fultz, as an outsider, would not be treated as the men's representative, President Lynch expressed a different view. "The demands framed by Fultz in behalf of the fraternity are not unfair, taking them as a whole," said Mr. Lynch, "and I believe everything can be adjusted satisfactorily if the fraternity will send a committee of players to confer with the commission. If Fultz is a member of the committee, I see no reason why he should not be heard. In a general discussion, the players themselves will learn at first hand what the commission is willing to do."

GOVERNOR TENER IS TO BECOME PRESIDENT
OF NATIONAL LEAGUE

Cincinnati, Nov. 5.—It was reported here tonight that John K. Tener, governor of Pennsylvania, had been selected to succeed Thomas J. Lynch as president of the National league. Governor Tener receives $15,000 a year salary. The presidency of the National league pays $15,000 yearly.

JACK JOHNSON IS ELIMINATED AS
A CHAMPION

International Boxing Union Declares World's Heavyweight Title Vacant as Result of Negro's Conviction.

Paris, Nov. 5.—At a meeting of the International boxing union at Paris tonight, the world's heavyweight championship was declared vacant on the grounds of Jack Johnson's conviction in the American courts and his repeated refusal to fight. Declared from the United States, Belgium, Switzerland and France, were present and the action taken had the approval of the English section of the union.

ELIMINATION SERIES
MUST NOW BE HELD

With the elimination of Johnson as the world's heavyweight champion, it will be necessary to hold a series of bouts, the ultimate winner to be declared champion of this class of fighters.

Prominent among the present contenders and claimants will be Gusman Smith, Carl Morris, Frank Moran, Arthur Pelkey and Jess Willard, all white men, and Sam McVey, negro. However, it is safe to assume that never again will white men and negroes meet in bouts to decide the title, and it is certain that the referees will not be permitted to participate in the elimination series to decide a new champion. Doubtless there will be a white heavyweight cham-

FRIEDMANN WINS
CONFIDENCE OF
CAPITALISTS

Company Composed of German Rich Men to Manufacture Alleged Tuberculosis Cure and Market It.

Official correspondence to Morning Journal. Berlin, Nov. 5.—It is learned that such German capitalists are in the line to confer with local managers in regard to the formation of a big company for the manufacture and exportation of Dr. F. J. Friedmann's tubercular cure, which aroused so much controversy in the United States during the Friedmann case last year.

Certain influential newspaper editors in Berlin and Frankfurt are said to be personally interested in the business aspect of Dr. Friedmann's cure, which may account for the comparatively lenient treatment Dr. Friedmann and his serum now are receiving in the German press.

Friedmann, himself, for the first time, answered through the columns of the Berlin Clinical Weekly, the ingredients of his medicine, which consists of mixing tuberculous matter with tubercular bacilli, which even in the latest doses is entirely harmless for either human or warm-blooded animals. The serum will be sold in four strengths to be injected in four different ways in the muscles and veins. Physicians are to be supplied with detailed instructions how to apply the serum, which if properly used is guaranteed to have no deleterious effects.

M'FARLAND LEADER
AS MASTER RING
GENERAL

Best of Any Boxer Since Joe Gans Was in His Prime; He Knows Every Fine Point of Game, Says Expert.

New York, Nov. 5.—Barney McFarland, of Chicago, the wizard of the boxer arena, is considered the most finished fighter of all classes in the ring today, at least by Barney White, the veteran referee. White, who has refereed many of the most important ring battles in this country, and who is perhaps the keenest judge of pugilistic ability known, was asked when he considered the last man boxing today. "Without hesitation I answered, 'McFarland.'"

"Boxers know more about the finer points of boxing and fighting than any other man. I have known since Joe Gans was in the heyday of his power," said White. "I have watched him perform time and again, and he uses more of the real inside work of boxing than any of them."

"His defense is practically impregnable, and if he starts to be back and forth, which he rarely does, it is because the power of one man to hit him or beat him into leaving an opening. When McFarland begins boxing it is a race mixture of instinctive ability and the automatic control of his muscles that has brought about the perfect fighting man."

"His moves around in a bout more than the average fighter thinks, but he does it in such a way, stuffing and sliding, that no one but the man who is boxing him appreciates just how often he shifts the center. Moreover, he moves to either side with equal ease and swiftness, and so can avoid a punch that many another man would be forced to take."

"In the attack McFarland shows off his best. He is a straight puncher and fights after the style of Gans and other famous men of the last decade. Coming out of a slip in that city where 'barney' had met some success, I heard a man say, 'I can't understand him now, he shows it. He never seemed to move. His inside more than his outside.'"

"That is just why McFarland gets the results. He starts his blows right from position and never pulls his hands back in 'telegraphic' as it is called in the ring. This style of straight hitting enables him to land the average fighter in the punch."

"Seldom if ever has McFarland been known to swing a punch, but he goes along better without swinging. So would other boxers if they realized it. Every swing leaves an opening for a counter, and while men are looked out after missing motions that in any other way."

"The New York enthusiasts had a chance to see McFarland really work the night he fought with White in Madison square garden. 'Barney' looked as calm as an old-fashioned welter, looking as then lightest-weight champion of Great Britain, from one corner of the ring to the other. McFarland on that night was the living example of perfect position. From start to finish, he swung a direct, piston war on White, driving him before him as well as driven by the wind. Lead after lead 'Barney' shot out, but even in the heat of battle he never for a moment lost a dangerous opening."

'Barney' looked as calm as an old-fashioned welter, looking as then lightest-weight champion of Great Britain, from one corner of the ring to the other. McFarland on that night was the living example of perfect position. From start to finish, he swung a direct, piston war on White, driving him before him as well as driven by the wind. Lead after lead 'Barney' shot out, but even in the heat of battle he never for a moment lost a dangerous opening."

FRIEDMANN WINS
CONFIDENCE OF
CAPITALISTS

Company Composed of German Rich Men to Manufacture Alleged Tuberculosis Cure and Market It.

Official correspondence to Morning Journal. Berlin, Nov. 5.—It is learned that such German capitalists are in the line to confer with local managers in regard to the formation of a big company for the manufacture and exportation of Dr. F. J. Friedmann's tubercular cure, which aroused so much controversy in the United States during the Friedmann case last year.

Certain influential newspaper editors in Berlin and Frankfurt are said to be personally interested in the business aspect of Dr. Friedmann's cure, which may account for the comparatively lenient treatment Dr. Friedmann and his serum now are receiving in the German press.

Friedmann, himself, for the first time, answered through the columns of the Berlin Clinical Weekly, the ingredients of his medicine, which consists of mixing tuberculous matter with tubercular bacilli, which even in the latest doses is entirely harmless for either human or warm-blooded animals. The serum will be sold in four strengths to be injected in four different ways in the muscles and veins. Physicians are to be supplied with detailed instructions how to apply the serum, which if properly used is guaranteed to have no deleterious effects.

M'FARLAND LEADER
AS MASTER RING
GENERAL

Best of Any Boxer Since Joe Gans Was in His Prime; He Knows Every Fine Point of Game, Says Expert.

New York, Nov. 5.—Barney McFarland, of Chicago, the wizard of the boxer arena, is considered the most finished fighter of all classes in the ring today, at least by Barney White, the veteran referee. White, who has refereed many of the most important ring battles in this country, and who is perhaps the keenest judge of pugilistic ability known, was asked when he considered the last man boxing today. "Without hesitation I answered, 'McFarland.'"

"Boxers know more about the finer points of boxing and fighting than any other man. I have known since Joe Gans was in the heyday of his power," said White. "I have watched him perform time and again, and he uses more of the real inside work of boxing than any of them."

"His defense is practically impregnable, and if he starts to be back and forth, which he rarely does, it is because the power of one man to hit him or beat him into leaving an opening. When McFarland begins boxing it is a race mixture of instinctive ability and the automatic control of his muscles that has brought about the perfect fighting man."

"His moves around in a bout more than the average fighter thinks, but he does it in such a way, stuffing and sliding, that no one but the man who is boxing him appreciates just how often he shifts the center. Moreover, he moves to either side with equal ease and swiftness, and so can avoid a punch that many another man would be forced to take."

"In the attack McFarland shows off his best. He is a straight puncher and fights after the style of Gans and other famous men of the last decade. Coming out of a slip in that city where 'barney' had met some success, I heard a man say, 'I can't understand him now, he shows it. He never seemed to move. His inside more than his outside.'"

"That is just why McFarland gets the results. He starts his blows right from position and never pulls his hands back in 'telegraphic' as it is called in the ring. This style of straight hitting enables him to land the average fighter in the punch."

"Seldom if ever has McFarland been known to swing a punch, but he goes along better without swinging. So would other boxers if they realized it. Every swing leaves an opening for a counter, and while men are looked out after missing motions that in any other way."

"The New York enthusiasts had a chance to see McFarland really work the night he fought with White in Madison square garden. 'Barney' looked as calm as an old-fashioned welter, looking as then lightest-weight champion of Great Britain, from one corner of the ring to the other. McFarland on that night was the living example of perfect position. From start to finish, he swung a direct, piston war on White, driving him before him as well as driven by the wind. Lead after lead 'Barney' shot out, but even in the heat of battle he never for a moment lost a dangerous opening."

MAN OF 84 MARRIES GIRL OF 60 SUMMERS

THE MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE. Chicago, Nov. 5.—Edward Cooper, a wealthy fruit grower, 84 years old, of Santa Barbara, Cal., and Mrs. Adeline W. Fleming, 60 years old, of Denver, were married today.

The wedding will be a complete surprise to relatives, they said. This first met in Santa Barbara last April.

"I knew she was the one, when I met her at Santa Barbara," Cooper said. "Every one has an aura which extends about three feet from the body. When the auras of two persons are positive, they will marry."

The galvanism makes this impossible. This is also true of plants, which I have studied for many years."

Mr. Cooper said that he has "kept young on olive oil," and that he was confident he would live many years longer. He is the author of several books on horticulture. He has three married children, living at Monticello and Napa, Cal., and Mrs. Cooper has one daughter, who resides in Chicago.

Mr. Cooper announced that he and his bride would make a trip around the world.

MEXICAN POLICY OF WILSON FEARED BY OWN PARTY

Leaders Afraid That President Is Merely Substituting Dictators; Big Business Is at Helm.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL. Denver, Nov. 5.—Edward R. Clark, Washington correspondent of the Denver News, in a special to this paper, has the following interesting story on President Wilson's Mexican policy.

Democratic members of both houses of congress are fearful of the outcome of President Wilson's Mexican policy. They do not know just what to make of it, and they are free enough privately, that while the majority of the president's plan is all right, the result is likely to be a contribution to the political instability in Mexico, with a last condition as bad as the first.

Beliefs, democrats do not seem to think that the president with a mere insistence on morality will be able to produce stable conditions south of the Rio Grande.

It is still understood that the European powers will be asked to enforce definitely Wilson's plans. The president's policy seems apparently to be to get rid of Huerta and to avoid the clothing with power of any man bent on an administration like that of the present Mexican chief.

The democratic officials are asking if the administration's "too" will be moved by action which simply will eliminate Huerta and keep one of his immediate chiefs from office. They believe, apparently, that an election in Mexico will be a real election, and that one man who is chosen will be indebted to the present controlling interests for his advancement. So the reasoning is that the conditions following Wilson's morality propaganda will be those which exist today.

The state department knows well enough that what England, France, Germany and the rest of the countries desire in Mexico is a reign of order which will enable business to go on and keep their mercantile and mining interests safe, at least temporarily.

The great European powers on the surface of things are strong for morality, but under the surface they are strong for anything which will enable their subjects to make money out of their Mexican holdings and to go about their business without fear for some Mexican who has an ambition to climb.

The belief is still strong in the capital that Wilson finally will find some way of removing Huerta from the center of the stage, but belief is also strong that his place will be taken by some man entirely under his control, although the strings of such movement may be secret. Such a happening may do the "peace" for the administration, but it will leave things just where they were. Democratic members of congress are asking one another if such an outcome will be sufficient to make just a president's claim for the triumph of a policy.

The administration has been trying to find out if it is not possible that Mexico, if its affairs are properly directed at this time from without, can become a real republic with governmental order and business stability moving hand in hand. The reports which are received are all of a kind to give a negative answer.

Confessionally most of the men who say no to the query are those who have business interests in Mexico, and who would prefer a dictator to a weak kind of true democratic principle. Representatives of big business in Mexico say that the constitutionalist leaders are little better than bandits, and that all they want is loot, and that if one of them should get into power he would just run with the other leaders of his kind within twenty-four hours, and that the laws would be all over again.

The chief fault which the democrats are finding with the president's Mexican policy is that it will tend simply to move things round in a circle back to the point of starting. They say that nothing is to be gained by getting rid of one man simply to have another man of the same kind put into his place.

Of course it is admitted that Huerta has ruined the American administration and must be displaced, but the feeling is that something far more than this should be done in order to make sure that Mexico itself rather than the foreigner is to benefit.

As things are today, it seems likely that President Wilson will succeed eventually in keeping Huerta and any one of his immediate cronies from the presidential chair, but it also is believed that the man who comes into the seat will be of the same general stripe, and that he will be confronted by the same array of rebellious subjects that defied Huerta.

If a man of iron gets into the presidential chair and brings about the order, even at the sacrifice of the real liberties of the Mexican people, the American administration probably must appear to be satisfied. From the point of view of democracy in Washington, order must be brought about in Mexico in some way, to give substance to the president's plans.

The European governments will be satisfied with order in Mexico, even if it is induced by the hard hand of a dictator. There is not much sentiment in business. Will the present administration feel a sense of triumph at having brought about order to the sacrifice in Mexico of those things which the world knows are the principles of democracy?

MINE OWNERS END INSPECTION TOUR IN NEW MEXICO

D. C. Jackling, C. M. MacNeill, Charles Haydon and Spencer Penrose Here After Trip to Santa Rita and Hurley.

D. C. Jackling, one of the largest mining men in the United States, passed through Albuquerque yesterday morning with a party of mine operators, on his way to Salt Lake City from Santa Rita and Hurley. He was traveling in the private car of the Santa Fe.

Those traveling with Mr. Jackling were C. M. MacNeill, president of the Utah and Idaho Copper companies, Charles Haydon, of the Hayden Stone Brokerage company, of New York, and Spencer Penrose, a mining man and a brother of Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania. The party is returning from an inspection trip of the mines under their control and have found these properties producing most successfully. The mines with which these men are interested are now practically developed and consequently the output is steady.

Mr. Jackling is connected with all the mines that were visited by this party. He is directing manager and vice president of the Utah Copper company, at Santa Rita, and is also connected in practically the same capacity with the Utah Copper company, the Butte and Superior mines, and several Alaska gold mines. Mr. Jackling and his party have been on the road visiting these mines for the past five days.

BRONCHITIS CONQUERED

Royersford, Pa. Man Tells How.
At this season of the year with such sudden changes, it is so easy to take cold, and almost before one is aware there is inflammation in the bronchial tubes—a hard cough and untold troubles may result.

Townsend Young of Royersford, Pa. says: "A severe bronchial trouble contracted caused me many difficulties about breathing. My chest felt clogged up and there was considerable soreness. I tried different remedies without help, but I am glad to say that Vinol cured my bronchial trouble which had lasted for three months. My breathing is all right and the soreness entirely gone from my chest."

Vinol contains the purest, healing principles of fresh cod liver fish oil and tonic iron. We guarantee it to be delicious in taste and to give you with its medicinal effects. Dr. J. Druggist, Albuquerque, N. M. If you have any skin trouble try Saxon Salve. We guarantee it.

Cream Cake

Inquiries among a large number of women using "The Cook's Book" showed that to be their favorite cake recipe. It is easy to make, suitable for all occasions. K. C. Baking Powder is used and may be put together with almost any filling or icing.

K C Cream Cake

By Mrs. Janet McKenney Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine.
One-half cup butter; 1 cup sugar; 2 eggs; 1 cup milk; 1 cup sifted flour; 1 level teaspoonful K. C. Baking Powder; 1 cup cold water; 1/2 cup cold water; 1/2 cup cold water.

Cream the butter; add the sugar, yolks of eggs and water; then the flour, sifted three times with the baking powder; lastly the whites of eggs. Bake in two or three layers, put these together with cream filling, and dredge the top with confectioner's sugar.

Cream Filling

One-fourth cup sifted flour; 1 teaspoonful salt; 1 cup hot milk; 1 egg; 1/2 cup cold water; 1 level teaspoonful vanilla extract; 1/2 cup cold water.

Mix flour and salt with a very little cold milk; stir into the hot milk and cook ten minutes; add the egg and stir until it is melted and evenly blended with the flour mixture, then beat in the egg mixed with the sugar, and finally the vanilla.

You need the K. C. Cook's Book, containing thousands of other delicious recipes—just five open pages of the colored certificate packed in every 25-cent can of K. C. Baking Powder. Send to the James H. Co., Chicago.

How to Make Better Cough Syrup than
You Can Buy
A Family Supply, Saving $2
and Fully Guaranteed.

A full pint of cough syrup—as much as you could buy for $2.50—can easily be made at home. You will find nothing that takes hold of the ordinary cough more quickly, usually relieving it in less than 24 hours. It is made of the purest ingredients, including cod liver oil, and is absolutely safe for all ages.

This is just laxative enough to help relieve a cough. Also stimulates the appetite, which is usually lost by a cough. The taste is pleasant.
The effect of this and other syrups on the inflamed membranes is well known. It is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in vitamin and other natural healing elements. Other preparations will not work in this combination. This Flax and Sugar Syrup remedy has often been imitated, but the old successful mixture has never been equalled. It is now used in more homes than any other cough remedy.

A quantity of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Flax, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Flax Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

TWENTY THOUSAND SHEEP FIGURE IN ROSWELL SALE

Yellow Lake Ranch Purchases Several Thousand Head While Armstrong and Maddox Sell Flocks and Ranch.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Roswell, N. M., Nov. 5.—More than 20,000 head of sheep have changed hands in the last few days in the district surrounding Roswell, but none of them are to leave the vicinity. The flock ranged from $2.50 to $4.00—a good price despite the depressing of many that the fairer reductions would put a glut on the sheep industry in the Pecos valley.

Will C. Lawrence, manager for the Yellow Lake ranch company, has just closed a deal for 2,500 ewes from Ross Adams, out in the plains country, delivery to be made the 15th of the month, though the sheep will not be moved to the Yellow Lake ranch until about December 15. Mr. Lawrence will also buy 2,500 head more to run on the ranch property, making two herds.

A. W. Whitaker, who recently came here from Kentucky, has bought 4,000 head of ewes from C. M. Farnsworth, and will run them northwest on the city on the Farnsworth ranch. John and Joe Ditt have bought the ranch and 5,000 head of sheep from Maddox and Armstrong. This is their mountain ranch and is not the ranch property or sheep east of Dexter, on which place they are breeding 1,100 Easter lambs.

John-Fraser company have bought 7,000 head from Erton & Lennox. Dr. George T. Vail has bought from Elva White and the Rhea brothers, known as the Pecos Sheep company, 2,000 head of ewes, and will run them around Pinocha.

Many more small deals have been made. Sheep men report fairly good range and lots of water to go through the winter with.

EIGHTY-SIX VOLUMES OF PERIODICALS BOUND

Eighty-six bound volumes of periodicals have recently been placed upon the shelves of the library. This is a splendid start towards preserving the valuable material found in magazines for reference work, and the public is invited at all times to use the books for that purpose. The sets are not quite complete. In some cases only one or two volumes are missing. If any of the patrons of the library can supply a few of the missing numbers it will aid greatly in filling out these sets. They include:

FORMER ROSWELL POLICE CHIEF FACES CHARGE OF BRIBERY

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Roswell, N. M., Nov. 5.—Dore Allison, formerly chief of the Roswell police, was indicted today by the grand jury, charged with accepting a $500 bribe to aid the women of this county win their fight against the sheepmen. Allison was selected several months ago by the sheepmen to investigate charges that the women were poisoning sheep of the county with sulphur. His report was favorable to the women. No women are yet indicted for giving the bribe.

ARCHAEOLOGY SOCIETY ELECTS NEW MEMBERS

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 5.—Dr. E. J. Allen of Albuquerque, and the Rev. and Mrs. Lansing B. Bloom of Jemez, were elected elected members of the Archaeological Society of New Mexico, among thirty-seven others who included the following out-of-town candidates: Don H. Kadzie, Louisville; E. H. Bernbaum, Miami; W. J. Wilkinson, Roswell; J. N. Livingston, Carlsbad; N. C. Frazier, Las Cruces; J. S. Hayes, Lovington; Mr. and Mrs. George P. Moneys, Gulfport; Miss Kewla C. Crumpton, Baton Rouge; E. Morrison, Prescott, Ariz.; Walter Velden, Cynthia, Miss; Mrs. W. M. Rapp, Trinidad, Colo.

The society directed its secretary to have the School of American Archaeology re-opened at the New Mexico Educational meeting at Albuquerque this month.

It being brought to the attention of the society that there is a possibility of the school being taken from Santa Fe, Arthur Schuyler, Dr. James A. Tull, Rupert P. Asplund, Mrs. N. R. Laughlin and Mrs. J. H. Rapp were appointed a committee to address resolutions to the managing board of the school to forestall the removal of the institution from Santa Fe.

Harrison B. M. Read addressed the society at the founding of Santa Fe, looking to prove with original documents he had at hand, that Santa Fe and not Santa Fe is the oldest city in the United States.

Conservative Gowns at Autumn Weddings

A New Negligee, Inaccurately Named the Smoking Robe; Novel Lingerie for Trousseau

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Much interest has recently focused upon several fashionable weddings. It has become the custom to linger later and later out of town each season, and the sense of such of these notable functions was a well known country estate. Nature is truly at her best in early November, and the better parties attendant upon these events were in every instance voted a big success. The air had just enough snap to it to make the glowing wood fire a magnet, and to render appropriate-colored Valenciennes lace. The skirt was a simple four-panel affair, quite innocent of drapery, worn with a crushed girdle of the black satin.

Speaking of weddings, one naturally recalls to the bridesmaids, and this calls to mind some of the wonderfully lovely negligees brought out this season. Two distinct types are noticeable in these more intimate garments of the feminine wardrobe. First, the fairy-like robes for strictly boudoir wear, which are the ultimate of exquisite daintiness, and then the somewhat daring dress in which midday shepherds her tea or afternoon's church call.

To the first class belong sets of bonnet, jacket, cap, and petticoat of pink and blue forget-me-nots, and trimmed with exquisite Valenciennes lace. Gownlike negligee jackets are another novelty. One we saw recently showed a gray pompadour design, cut on the lines of the loose Italian jacket we have had this summer. It was belted below the waist with black ribbon velvet, and had a narrow black velvet band outlining the V-shaped neck.

A negligee, which in its effective simplicity evidenced a stroke of genius, was cut after the fashion of a choirboy's surplice. It was made of shimmering ivory satin, high in the neck but with sleeves, as in the surplice, coming just to the elbow. The only ornamentation was a wreath of small, many-colored, made silk roses, with their green leaves encircling the neck.

Of more formal garments for interior wear the novelty of the season is the so-called "smoking gown," and many women, who from motives of morals or manners frown upon the cigarette, do not hesitate to include in their wardrobe an effective toilette of this kind. The smoking gown is not unlike the bridge gown of several seasons past, ordinarily it is made of some rather striking fabric of simple texture, such as printed crepe or silk brocade. An interesting model was of the former fabric showing a bold design in the blue against an olive background. Over a somewhat scanty skirt extending almost to the knees, it was long at sleeves, high at neck, but collarless, and untroubled save for an old gold piping outlining the neck, sleeve edge and front closing, which was fastened with gold cloth buttons and loops. A Cossack cap of the crepe, finished with a dull gilt tassel, went with the outfit.

In lingerie, too, a number of interesting innovations have appeared, all designed along the line of elimination. It really seems as though the final state had been reached in a negligee brought out, "the garb of the night." It was made up in its entirety of a single piece of shiffron ruffle, sometimes with an oversize of lace and sometimes without, attached to the "common or garden variety" of silk garter. This, if you please, is the lot of the petticoat.

Quite practical, however, and delightfully pretty are new lingerie combinations. The chemise-pantalon, which consists of a single muslin garment to be worn under the corset, has quite the wearing of short-skirted negligees.

The gowning, while extremely elegant, was on the whole, marked by conservatism. It is an acknowledged fact that the well-dressed woman does not, except in isolated instances, accept literally the extremes of fashion; rather, she modifies and individualizes the most pronounced features. One in a while one encounters someone on the type of Mrs. Arthur Scott Burden, perhaps, who possesses the stature and personality to wear striking gowns without being over-sensational; but such exceptions only prove the rule.

On the majority of women known for their good taste in dress we saw no drapery, voluminous, many times; but owing to the softness of the material in which it is expressed, seldom bulky; times frequently full and a trifle flaring, but not often exaggerated; pinnings more times simulated by the folds of the skirt than actually an over-drapery.

A very effective black velvet toilette was worn by an attractive western woman. It is shown in our first sketch. The skirt was very short in front, but came down long in the back. Its folds were held in place for three-quarters of the circumference of the waist by a broad, shirring belt. Collar and cuffs were made of one of the prettiest novelty velvets we have yet seen. The ground was changeable blue and green, on which appeared splashes of gray-orange, dull green and red, so arranged as to form an indefinite plaid.

The recent, three-piece skirt of black velvet was trimmed with two wide bias bands of the plaid. With this gown was worn a very charming hat, having a tall "tom" crown and a large side being of trimmed silver lace. A soft green and orange feather fancy was placed at the right side-back. Quite "in the picture" was her big black velvet bag, swung by a heavy silver chain.

Another interesting costume, less dressy in type, is shown in the second sketch. Soft purplish-colored dainty striped with coral blue and the body fabric. It had a little black satin waistband and a flat collar of sprayed dried coral blue to match the skirt. In the fabric, the line was of the dainty, with a hint of the blue for framing the face and a blue and purple-colored, stick-up collar, which was at the left side. With this was worn a delicate vest of pleated net and

LARGER HOMESTEAD LAW OUTLINED BY SECRETARY LANE

Head of Department of Interior Tells of Methods of Procedure for Entrymen and Legal Requirements.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Washington, Nov. 5.—The 320-acre homestead law, or as it is often called, the enlarged homestead law, has made possible the entry of many millions of acres of dry land in the western states in tracts double the size allowed under the original homestead law. Only land which has been "designated" by the secretary of the interior as "non-irrigable" can be entered under this act. More than 200,000,000 acres have been thus designated, but petitions and sworn statements requesting further designations are constantly being received.

In an interview just given out Secretary Lane calls attention to the fact that there appears to be considerable misunderstanding among western homesteaders as to the procedure necessary in order that enlarged homestead designations may be made. The secretary states that only the simplest and most direct action by the settler is required, and that it is wholly unnecessary for him to incur the charges now made by attorneys who draw up formal petitions that are in fact no more effective than the homesteader's own letter would be. On this account a brief statement of the essential facts relative to the enlarged homestead law is timely.

The first enlarged-homestead act was approved February 18, 1909, and is later amended provisions that in the states of Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming any person who is qualified to make entry under the homestead laws may enter as much as 320 acres of public land which is reasonably compact body, and is non-irrigable, non-forestable, non-mineral, and unsuited for other purposes. The land must be designated by the secretary of the interior as not being, in his opinion, susceptible of agricultural irrigation at a reasonable cost from any known source of water supply.

The work of classifying the lands and determining what areas may be considered non-irrigable has been assigned to Secretary Lane to the United States Geological Survey. Although, under the present rules of the secretary, large areas may be designated as non-irrigable without raising the question whether the land is in other respects suitable for homestead entry, the work of examining and classifying these large areas is actually proceeding rather slowly. In addition to these "classified" "blacker" designations, therefore, designations of smaller areas are made as rapidly as their non-irrigable character is determined, including areas whose designation has been requested by individual settlers. But enlarged homestead entry for additional entry on tracts adjacent to their present improved homestead entries.

No definite form of petition is required, but such application should be limited as far as possible to the specific tract desired for entry, and should contain a description by location, township, and range, of the applicant's original homestead entry and the date of this entry, as well as a description, also by local subdivisions, of the land desired for additional entry. Information as to the possibility of irrigating the land should also be furnished and should include the distance and direction of the nearest stream or existing or proposed irrigation canal, the elevation of the lowest point of the land above such source of water supply, the depth at which water can be reached by wells sunk on the land, and all available information concerning attempts to obtain water by this method. The general character of the land, both of the homesteader's original entry of he has made one) and of the land desired for additional entry, should also be described, to aid the survey in reaching a decision as to the non-irrigability.

This information should be enclosed in a letter sent to the director, United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C. A formal petition drawn up in a notary or an attorney is not at all necessary, and will result in an unnecessary expenditure of the matter that will be given if the applicant writes personally. Action will be taken on every request as promptly as is consistent with a proper regard to other requests that are pending, and the applicant will be promptly notified when a final decision has been reached.

Because he is more interested in his practice than he should be, Dr. Arthur's wife writes from him and is nearly lost to him by the treachery of a supposed friend. He is called to Africa to assist in the typhoid work of his regiment and is there taken with the fever. His wife makes a heroic dash to meet him. When she finds him, he is near death. She nurses him gradually back to health. They are brought into the realization of their true love for each other and a stronger bond is established between them.

This notable drama has an inexplicable something about it which holds the interest of the spectator from beginning to end and brings home very convincingly the strong moral which it contains.

REQUISITION FOR FORMER CLOVIS BANKER DENIED

Governor Cruce Refuses to Honor Papers for Return to This State of L. C. West; Gives Reasons Therefor.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Albuquerque, N. M., Nov. 5.—Following a hearing held here, Governor Cruce denied the requisition issued by Governor W. C. McDonald, of New Mexico, for the return to that state of L. C. West, former president of the defunct American Bank & Trust Co., of Clovis, West having been indicted on a charge of violating the New Mexico banking law.

Governor Cruce denied the requisition on the advice of Special Counsel C. E. Ames, acting for the attorney general, who is a brother of the deceased banker. Attorney Ames held that West was not a fugitive from justice, inasmuch as he was not in New Mexico at the time the indictment alleged the offense was committed.

Sheriff D. L. Moye, of Curry county, New Mexico, came here last week with the requisition papers, and the hearing extended over several days.

West is now engaged in the banking business at Mountainview, Okla.

NATIONAL GUARD IS TO BE TRAINED IN MARKSMANSHIP

New System of Firing Will Be Followed in Rifle Practice Based on Actual Conditions of Warfare.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Washington, Nov. 5.—Hereafter every soldier of the regular army and every member of the National Guard who is armed with the government rifle, will engage in practice that simulates actual warfare. Silver cruises will be issued by Uncle Sam for proficiency to all making the necessary record.

The official rifle practice season for outdoor shooting, not only in the army but in the organized militia, closed last week, and its ending virtually sounded the knell of the system of firing used in recent years.

After January 1, the new firing regulations will become effective. To meet the conditions, it will be necessary to remodel every rifle range in the country.

The old position of standing upright and shooting "off hand" at the short range of 200 yards is now a thing of the past. The kneeling, sitting and lying positions of the old Indian fighting days will be used in the new methods.

Furthermore, every man who fires a military rifle in the future must know its mechanism before he is allowed to fire a "dummy" cartridge on an indoor gallery range.

He will be required to practice and qualify on the indoor range before attempting to shoot outdoors, and to gain this permission he must have a certificate from his instructor of small arms practice.

Once on the outdoor range, he will be obliged to classify on the short range and when the proper figure of classification is attained, he will be permitted to shoot at greater distances.

There will be three sets of scores for each rifleman. His indoor qualification, outdoor classification and outdoor qualification. On the open-air range, he will be limited to rapid and timed fire at given ranges, and, with a scratch run eliminated, it will probably make the task of every rifleman easier.

There will be two courses of firing under the new rules, one for the regular army and another for the National Guard. The army course will be the most difficult. It will not be imposed on the guardsmen, as they will be limited to their own qualifications as a minimum, but any officer or enlisted man of the guard who can make any rifle qualification score will be rewarded with one of the silver medals.
