OFFICIAL COUNT SHOWS A BIG PUBLICAN MAJORITY

Both Houses of the Legislature This Winter are Strong for the G. O. P.

EIGHT DEMOCRATS WERE ELECTED

Three are in the Council and Five in the House—Canvass of Votes Shows Average Republican Majorities were 5,000.

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 24.—The official canvass of the votes cast in the recent election was completed yesterday by Secretary Nathan Jaffa. The returns show an average Republican majority of 5,000 and both the Council and House of the next territorial legislature are, as usual, strongly Republican. The Republicans will have nine in the Council and the Democrats three, while in the House the Republicans will have nineteen and the Democrats five. The returns show the following members elected to the legislature:

In the Council:
First District, Colfax and Union Counties—E. F. Gallagher, R.

Heavy weight pugilist, who was seriously injured in a savage bout at West End Athletic club here last night with Al Kubak, "The Michigan Giant," is in a critical condition. He is suffering from concussion of the brain and a possible fracture of the skull.

Kubak was committed to jail without bail today to await the outcome of Bradley's injuries. The other principals of the affair were held under bonds.

HEAVY WEIGHT MAY DIE FROM INJURIES

He Was Hurt in Savage Bout and His Opponent is Held in Jail

Philadelphia, Nov. 24.—Fred Bradley, the Boston heavyweight pugilist, who was seriously injured in a savage bout at West End Athletic club here last night with Al Kubak, "The Michigan Giant," is in a critical condition. He is suffering from concussion of the brain and a possible fracture of the skull.

ALBUQUERQUE WOMAN GETS A FORTUNE OF $25,000

Miner Who Died at El Paso Sunday Left His Property to Old Time Friend.

WAS FOUND DEAD IN BED AT HOTEL

He Went to Bed Friday and Was Found Sunday Morning—Was Well Known Throughout This Part of Southwest.

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 24.—Thomas Madden, a mining man from Mexico, who was found dead in the Planters hotel here Sunday, left a fortune approximated at $25,000, the bulk of which goes to Mrs. R. Greene and daughter, Ruth, of Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Madden was about 50 years old and had extensive dealings in both Mexico and New Mexico. His papers show he was a member of both the Elks and Masons, and according to the terms of his will $2,000 is to go to the Elks' lodge at Durango, Colo.; $2,000 to the Masons at Cerrillos, N. M.; $1,000 to the Western Federation of Miners and the remainder after funeral expenses are paid to Mrs. R. Greene and daughter, Ruth, Mrs. Greene, it is believed, was Madden's foster mother. The body will be taken to Cerrillos for burial.

Madden was found dead in bed shortly after 12 o'clock Sunday. There was no evidence of suicide and Justice E. A. Howard, who acted as coroner, said that Madden died from heart disease caused by a cold. Apparently Madden had tried to get a glass of water when he sank to the floor and died.

Madden was well known throughout the southwest and frequently came to El Paso. He was a bachelor, Friday night he went to his room and did not get up all the next day and as he did not get up Sunday morning the proprietor of the hotel went to his room to see him. He found Madden lying on the floor and he had apparently been dead many hours.

A search of his effects revealed $250 in his pockets and $140 in his trunk. He had papers showing him to be a member of the Elks at Durango, Colorado, but that he had transferred to the Santa Fe lodge. He was a member of the Knights Templar at Santa Fe and in good standing of the Blue and Royal Arch lodges at that place.

Madden came to El Paso the day after the election. He was at Albuquerque election day and according to report had been drinking there and continued it after arrival here.

Wichita, Kan., Nov. 24.—The Santa Fe will begin in April the construction of two great depots, one for passenger and one for freight business in Wichita. These depots and the new land just acquired for their accommodation will cost nearly $500,000.

A large passenger station to cost in the neighborhood of $150,000, will occupy the site of the present freight depots and freight tracks. The Santa Fe railroad has not had sufficient room to handle the enormous freight in Wichita for several years. Wichita is the end of the division for the Wichita & Western line of the Santa Fe and the Englewood branch. All of the freight from the Southwest to eastern points goes through Wichita. But the enormous milling jobbing and live stock industry carried on in Wichita is the cause of the crowded condition in the freight yards. With the large addition to the freight yards which the railroad company has just acquired it will be able to handle the Wichita freight cars across Douglas avenue.

CHICAGO MUST PAY ALL STRIKE DAMAGES

Courts Hold City Responsible for Trouble in 1894 Between Roads and Union.

Ottawa, Ill., Nov. 24.—Chicago taxpayers must dig up $100,000 to settle old damage claims dating back to the American Railway Union strike of 1894. The case has been fought through all courts, the Pittsburgh road suing originally for $500,000 damages to its property by "sympathizers." In the last trial damages of $100,000 were awarded, and this was affirmed by the appellate court.

HOSPITAL SHIP IS LONG OVERDUE

The Relief Should Have Arrived at Guam Four Days Ago.

Manila, Nov. 24.—Some concern is felt here regarding the safety of the American hospital ship Relief. She left here November 15, for Guam and was due there the 20th, but has been ordered to leave Guam in search for the Relief. It is feared that the Relief was badly damaged, if not destroyed, in storms.

FICH QUARTZ FOUND IN NEW ALASKA DISTRICT.

Tacoma, Nov. 24.—Nome dispatches say that specimens of quartz have arrived there from the Norton Bay section which show values in one assay amounting to $150,000 to the ton.

The discovery of quartz was made some time ago by Thomas Moon and others but was kept quiet. One of the specimens contained more gold than quartz. Miners say the specimens must have come from rich pockets.

Two new beaches have recently been discovered within a stone's throw of each other on the south slope of Irene creek, in the Nome district and are expected to bring about a revival of the former busy operations on Tundra. The discoverer is Homer Brunda, who has mined for several years in that section. Streaks have been located between what is known as the second and third beach lines.

Manila to Entertain THE AMERICAN SAILORS
Manila, Nov. 24.—The people here are greatly elated over the announcement that Admiral Sperry has decided to land his sailors and have entered enthusiastically upon the work of preparing a reception. The entertainment of the men of the American fleet will be given November 26 and will continue until November 30.

NEW RAILROAD WILL BOOM OLD MINES

Tijeras and Coyote Canyons Will Become Active When New Mexico Central is Built.

A well known mining man said this morning that the indications were that the first train over the Albuquerque branch of the New Mexico Central would see a revival in mining in Tijeras canyon. The owners of the many prospects in the canyon are already getting busy laying plans for the development of their property.

The revival, it is expected, will extend into Coyote canyon, but the new road will be of little benefit to the mines of Hell canyon, as it will be easier to haul to the Santa Fe at Abbot than to the New Mexico Central at any point along the line.

The prospects in Tijeras canyon consist mostly of copper prospects. There is one mine in the vicinity of Whitcomb Springs which produces ore rich enough to pay for hauling to the city a distance of twenty miles. This mine is about 200 feet deep. There are numerous surface indications of ore which will probably be prospected as soon as the new road is built. In the past these have been unclaimed because of the distance they were from the railroad.

The new road will also make marketable a large amount of time which heretofore was too far from transportation to pay. The Manzano mountains are covered with a class of fine good in quality but too small for cutting except under the most favorable conditions.

RAINS INTERFERE WITH PANAMA CANAL

Earth Has Settled in Several Places, Causing Delay and Danger.

Colon, Nov. 24.—Owing to the exceptionally heavy rain the last three weeks the earth on the crest of Gatun dam has settled in certain places. There have been other settlements in the vicinity of the dam, and several landslides in the Culabra cut.

No Report Made.
Washington, Nov. 24.—If there has been any accident resulting in sinking of the construction work on the proposed Gatun dam on the Isthmus, caused by the recent heavy rains, as published in the Panama newspaper, no mention of it has been made by Colonel Goethals, chairman of the canal commission and engineer in chief in charge of the construction in his daily reports to the office here.

The work of constructing the dam has not been actually begun but the engineers have been at work on the retaining walls for the dredge material, which will form the dam.

HARVARD AND YALE SPORTS BET HEAVILY.
New Haven, Conn., Nov. 24.—All betting records in the east were eclipsed by the plunging on the recent Harvard-Yale football game. In one place alone Yale and Harvard backers staked $50,000 on the game, making $120,000 wagered on the outcome. It is estimated that $1,000,000 changed hands and that $250,000 was wagered in this city alone. Most of it went up in even terms but in some cases Harvard gave odds as liberal as 8 to 5.

PIONEER RESIDENT DIES IN THE EAST

Ed Quickel Came Here in the Early Days and Was Well Known in New Mexico.

Ed Quickel, well known throughout New Mexico as the senior member of the firm of Quickel & Both, proprietors of Zeiger's Cafe for eleven years, died at Cleveland, Ohio, this morning as the result of an operation for a cancer. News of his death came to his wife, who resides on Roma avenue, in a telegram sent by her son, Cortez Quickel, who was with his father when the end came.

The death of Mr. Quickel removes another pioneer of Albuquerque, several of whom have died the past few months. Mr. Quickel, with his wife, came here twenty-five years ago from New York. He immediately became identified with the hardy pioneer business of the Duke City, at that time a struggling city scarcely more than a camping place. During his connection with the firm of Quickel & Both, Mr. Quickel is said to have amassed quite a fortune and retired three years ago. It was about the time he retired from business to enjoy the fruits of his labors that a cancer appeared on his neck. He was advised to go east and have the growth removed. A week ago Mrs. Quickel received word that her husband was falling fast and the son was sent to him. The boy found his father unconscious and he died without regaining consciousness. The body will most likely be brought here for burial.

CHARGE WIFE WITH MURDER.

Rochester, Nov. 24.—Mrs. Georgiana Sampson of Palmyra, widow of Harry Sampson, nephew of the late Admiral Sampson, was arrested today charged with the murder of her husband whose death was at first said to be suicide.

KILLS HIS DAUGHTER SERIOUSLY WOUNDS SON

A Baker Opened Fire on the Family as They Sat at Breakfast Table.

New York, Nov. 24.—Returning to his home early today after an all night's absence, Carl Loose, a baker, 57 years old, opened fire upon his family at breakfast. He killed his 17-year-old daughter, Metts, and fatally wounded his 24-year-old son, Frederick, a Lutheran minister.

He was disarmed by another son, Loose did not give any reason for his act, but the cause of the shooting was the fact that Loose's wife and daughter were arranging to go with Frederick to Yale, N. D., where he was the pastor of a church and make their home with him because of late Loose had been drinking excessively and neglecting his family. Frederick was shot in the abdomen when he grappled with his father, after he had shot the daughter.

ROCKEFELLER QUILTS AND TAKES STAND

Oil Magnate Finishes Cross Examination and Answers Few Questions of His Counsel.

OWNED B.G. BLOCK OF STANDARD STOCK

Testified That When New Jersey Company Was Formed in 1899 He Had More Than Two Million Shares of the Company.

New York, Nov. 24.—John D. Rockefeller's long and trying ordeal as a witness in the governments suit to dissolve the Standard Oil company on the ground that it is a trust and operates in restraint of trade, was concluded today and the organizer of the oil business gave way to John D. Archbold, who is expected to take up the history of the company where Rockefeller left off and tell of its operations since 1882.

Throughout his examination Rockefeller has handled himself with extreme caution and when in doubt whether he should answer a question has invariably waited the advice of his counsel before replying. The cross examination of Rockefeller was concluded shortly after the afternoon session began and John M. Milburn, attorney for the Standard, then began a re-direct examination.

This was finished within a few minutes and Rockefeller then left the stand to give way to Archbold, whose direct examination is expected to take up the remainder of today's session.

During his examination this morning Rockefeller testified that at the time of the organization of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey in 1899 he owned 2,600,000 shares of its stock out of a total of 2,833,333 shares. This was the most important statement made by him during today's examination.

SAYS GERMS FROLIS AS SWEETHEARTS KISS

Anti-Kissing Crusade is Waging in Medical Circles at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Nov. 24.—"Kissing, its evils and benefits," might well be the title of the argument being waged here among members of the Woman's Medical fraternity and hospital staffs, and it is all brought about by sensational statements concerning the danger of osculation by Dr. John C. Shoemaker. Dr. Shoemaker declares that in kissing germs are carried to the mouth and thence to the lungs and stomach.

The warm advocate of the anti-kissing propaganda is Dr. Clara Scott, a homeopathic physician. "Of all forms of kissing," she says, "the kissing of babies is positively the most dangerous. Next to the evil of kissing babies comes the sweethearts' kiss. This is one of the most dangerous of all. It is the paradise of the tuberculosis germ and the diphtheria germ and other germs to numerous to count. During the long period while the sweethearts' kiss continues, one may imagine the various germs rushing backward and forward with unholy glee."

HENEY IS NOT SO WELL.

San Francisco, Nov. 24.—It is reported from Lane hospital that Francis J. Heney is not quite so well today, owing to the effect on his kidneys of the anesthetic used when the bullet fired by Morris Haas was extracted from his jaw. His temperature is slightly above the normal but no alarm is felt and a speedy improvement is expected.

CUMMINS SUCCEEDS ALLISON.

Des Moines, Nov. 24.—Governor A. B. Cummins was today elected by the Iowa legislature United States senator to succeed the late William D. Allison. The vote stood: Cummins 105; Porter, Democrat, 25. Three Republicans did not vote.

HEAVY SNOW IN UTAH.

Salt Lake, Nov. 24.—Street car traffic was completely blocked in this city today and railroad traffic in the northern part of the state is hampered by a heavy wet snow which began falling last night. About nine inches of snow have fallen.

TWO TORNADOES SWEEP STATE OF ARKANSAS LAST NIGHT

Much Damage to Property Has Been Done and More Than Forty People Killed

NUMEROUS TOWNS HAVE BEEN DESTROYED

A Number of Hamlets Were Swept Away and the Storm Left a Trail of Dead and Injured—Details Are Hard to Get.

Little Rock, Nov. 24.—Relief is being hastened to the Arkansas towns which were last night reported destroyed by tornadoes. Late reports confirm former statements that damage amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars has been done and the loss of life exceeds forty.

It is impossible to secure the names of the dead. One tornado started in Missouri, going south through Terrell, Newton and Johnston counties, the heavy wind abating at the Arkansas river. Its path was half a mile wide. Bixley, Murray, Longsp, Ozark, Dale, Boston, Judeau, Trah, Omega, Dryfork, Dismore, Parthena, Mossville, Limestone, Redford and other hamlets were almost totally destroyed.

The tornado split at the head of Mulberry creek, the main storm going to Piney, where the heaviest loss of life occurred. There are probably fifty dead at Piney, Knoxville and London.

The second storm came from the direction of Louisiana, going north through Lafayette, Pike and Hempstead counties. Louisville, Lodi, Ozan, Murfreesboro and other towns are reported to have suffered heavily, with a scattering loss of life.

COUNTRY LIFE COMMISSION BUSY

Holds Session at El Paso and Members Say They are Learning Lots of Interesting Things.

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 24.—Oscar Snow, in appearing before the Country Life commission, which is investigating conditions in the southwest, took occasion yesterday to charge New Mexico politicians with doing great harm among the country people by purchasing votes. He made many charges against "public officials" but carefully avoided specific instances or persons.

Education in agricultural work, cooperation for better living, better products and better prices and sanitary surroundings were among the most important things called to the attention of the commission by a large number of speakers. The case of the native farmers and ranchers was given special attention, and it was alleged that the native farmers needed more training in farm work that they might be better farmers and make their ranches more productive and their products of better value.

Prof. Fabian Garcia of the Agricultural College at Mesilla Park, said the chief need of the native farmer was agricultural education. He characterized this as the hope of the native population in the southwest. The hearing before the commission had a number of sensational features. The commission will embody its findings in a report to the president and he will make it a feature of a special message to Congress.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC BURNS CONDEMNED FREIGHT CARS.

Sacramento, Nov. 24.—The Southern Pacific company has within the past three days burned forty-five of its freight cars. The cars were run out upon a track at Roseville, the new railroad town fourteen miles east of here, were piled full of scrap lumber that had been taken from other cars that had been repaired and the torch applied. The burning was done at night and was a spectacular sight. The cars were condemned by the railroad inspectors as being unfit for further use. Most of them were of the old type, having a capacity for only 20,000 and 30,000 pounds. They are found troublesome when mixed in trains with the present-day cars, built to carry two or three times the weight.

CHINESE MUTINY SERIOUS.

Pekin, Nov. 24.—The situation at Nanking where the mutiny of Chinese troops broke out November 19 is serious. There has been fighting in the streets and a portion of the foreign residents have taken refuge on board the British gunboat.

WOOL MARKET FIRM.

Boston, Nov. 24.—Business in the local wool market remains over the average at this time of year. Prices are firm.

A Rockefeller Lesson

As to the testimony given by John D. Rockefeller in the Standard Oil hearings, there is a diversity of opinion, but one point which Rockefeller brought out with distinctness was the life of self-denial and strict attention to business which he led while getting his start in life and launching the greatest corporation in the history of the world.

As a young man, Rockefeller led an exemplary life—at least from the standpoint of saving money and making money, both of which amount to much the same thing.

Young Rockefeller wasted no time and he spent no money. Every cent that parted company with young John bought some necessity of life and bought it just as cheaply as possible.

Young John purchased no red neckties and no hair oil. He spent no money buying candy for the prettiest girl in the village and he indulged in no cuff trousers, or whatever was the style in those days. If young John could get a suit for $2.98 he bought it in preference to one for $4, and after he had worn out his clothes he wore them in again.

If young John could earn five cents by working all evening instead of going to a dance in the town opera house, it was young John for the five cents.

If young John could smoke a pipe cheaper than he could smoke a cigar he smoked the pipe; only young John figured it out that he could get along a whole lot cheaper by not smoking either, and young John did not smoke.

Money was the object, aim and ambition of young John, and he devoted his time, efforts and energies towards getting money.

The moral of it is that young John got the money—more of it than any man before or since.

It was said once upon a time by some obscure moralist, that the way to succeed was to want a thing so badly that no sacrifice was too great to get it. Whether knowingly or not, young John used the motto, and he used it with a vengeance.

In these days of opportunity, any young man who would devote himself as assiduously to getting money as did young John, would get rich. There is no fiction about it—he simply could not fail.

When young John wanted to really dissipate—to be real wicked—he invented the sum of five cents in peppermints or peanuts and then mourned over his extravagance for several weeks to come.

That is the type of the man who is at the head of Standard Oil. He can not be fooled by the average man no more than the minister can be judged by the average man. He is a man who is a man. Their aims in life and their daily activities are too varied. Therefore, those who would essay to keep close to the lead pipe of John D. Rockefeller, must first consider all that John D. Rockefeller himself for money. If he considers the sacrifice worthy of the result, why isn't a bad man. He is only a man who has been successful in getting out of life all that life held for him, from his point of vision.

For instance, John D. and Standard Oil, however, all men are not so cheap on oil and after discovering that it was cheaper to have no light at all, they would cease burning candles.

But in thus drawing a fine point let us not forget that Standard Oil incidentally manufactures all the candles, too—so there you are, and incidentally there is John D. Rockefeller.

Now John D.? Well, not so you can notice it.

Just to prove that Taft is not like George Washington, the National Magazine credits him with the following: Justice Harlan told a story to Judge Taft of how he went out to play golf in a fog. He thought he would drive the ball, and sent it off at a "hazard." He came to the caddy and asked him to find the ball looking within a radius of 300 yards. The caddy's eyes stuck out. "I don't find that ball, Judge. It am in de hole, sure 'nough. It jest wiggled in, like." It was certainly remarkable that a drive through the fog should place a ball where the most earnest effort of two to twenty strokes may fail in broad daylight. Judge Taft responded with a fishing story, also about a fog. He went out one day in a wagon to fish and the fog came down thick. He drew up where he thought the stream ought to be, cast his line, felt a pull, and hauled in a fine trout—another bite and another, until the wagon was filled. The fog lifted, and the wagon was 300 yards from the river! There was a silence which might be felt when Judge Taft concluded, and Justice Harlan told no more fog stories.

A Berlin dispatch says that it cost the kaiser $50,000 to suppress his interview in the Century magazine. In spite of all he could do, a synopsis of the interview will appear in papers throughout the world, which ought to furnish the Reichstag a chance for a prolonged discussion about the useless expenditure of money, to say nothing of a more extended debate about the indiscretion of the emperor.

This thing of making such a fuss over the courts favoring the big corporations is getting tiresome in view of the fact that a Washington judge has ruled that a wife is not guilty of wrong doing if she takes a little spare change from the pockets of her husband's trousers after he has gone to sleep.

Among other things, the next legislature should look into the methods of the Wells Fargo Express company, which accepts packages for delivery at certain points and permits its agents to leave them most any old place but at the proper destination. The public is entitled to some consideration.

Harriman is laying so low these days that certain railroad owners are becoming anxious. Whenever Harriman retires into his shell his usual method of emerging is with another railroad or two in his possession.

Bank guarantee systems are not what the people of Albuquerque need, but the real crying necessity is the assurance that when you put a penny into the slot machine at the depot, you will get a stick of gum.

What a joy it would be if the New York World would only give us a rest. Its latest conundrum is: "What state could Bryan carry in 1912 that he could not carry in 1908?" Who ever heard of the like?

The New York papers admit it as follows: "All the hotels are full and there are no more applicants for jobs on the subway." Still, it is not yet a month after election.

The suggestion has been made that Nat Goodwin marry Lillian Russell when he gets tired of Edna. This would surely keep the divorce record in one family.

Now that Emperor Wilhelm has been made to quit talking like a war lord, they ought to trim his moustache and buy him a new suit of "hand-me-downs."

The El Paso Herald is of the opinion that cocaine and other harmful drugs are easily purchased in El Paso. That explains it at last.

The late Emperor of China apparently figured about as strongly in the spot light as the vice president.

A whole lot of people will have chrysanthemums Thursday who will owe the butcher for the turkey.

The Texas Star is certain that the pig pen is mightier than the sword. Fork chops for that editor.

Maybe after all, Miss Elkins doesn't know whether or not she is engaged to Abruzzi.

They call Wilhelm war lord, but no one ever heard of him taking part in a war.

"PARSIFAL" TONIGHT AT THE ELKS' THEATER

Recovery of the Sacred Spear—A Scene from the Famous Third Act of "Parsifal," which is at the Elks' Theater Tonight.

A theatrical announcement that demands more than ordinary attention is that of Wagner's magnificent spectacle of "Parsifal," which will be at the Elks' theater tonight. This justly celebrated play has attained a degree of unquestioned success that has seldom, if ever, been the fortune of any other production. This success has not been accomplished by any unusual or extraordinary methods, such as occasionally brings some stage celebrity or production into temporary prominence. Its success and enthusiastic reception by the better class of theater-goers everywhere it has been presented has been achieved by the drama's intrinsic merit and inherent beauty. This fact, combined with the mastery manner in which it has been staged regarding scenery, costume and cast, has been the cause of its splendid success. Nothing that would in any manner add to its value has been left undone by its management. A clever, specially selected cast of principals and an equally clever corps of auxiliaries are used in the production. This production of "Parsifal" is marked by the employment of many of the Hailreuth customs. The commencing time, however, has been modified. It has formerly been the rule to begin the evening performance at 8:30, giving an intermission of two hours for dinner. This intermission is now eliminated, and the performance will begin at 7:45 sharp. There will be but a five to eight minute wait between each act, which is required to set the stupendous scene's display. This time will be devoted to Wagner overtures and the performance will conclude at 11 o'clock. As at Hailreuth, the imperative rule of the spectators being in their seats when the curtain rises on the first act will be in force, as on account of the total darkness of the auditorium none can be seated during the action of the play. A ten minute warning before the curtain rises will be given in the lobby entrance by trumpeters who will blow the notes of the Last Supper motif.

When the Wagner wonder play of "Parsifal" is produced periodically in the little city of Hailreuth in Bavaria, the invariable custom pertaining at the Festival theater is to begin the production at 5:30 p. m. At the conclusion of the first half of the play the auditors are dismissed. They reassemble at 8:30 p. m. when they remain until the performance is finished. During the interval the vast audience is at liberty to promenade in the grounds surrounding the opera house, or partake of dinner at one of the several excellent restaurants in the grounds. At the commencement of the play, as well as at the beginning of the second part, three costumed trumpeters appear in the lobby of the theater and sound a characteristic blast upon their instruments that notifies all interested that it is time to be seated. This unique custom was also carried out in like manner in New York City at the Metropolitan theater. This rather odd procedure would scarcely pertain to advantage in the smaller cities throughout the country. The question of supper has to be taken into account on the part of the intending patrons, and the established schedule of train service in reference to the movement and arrival of the company presenting the spectacle. A happy compromise has been made by the management of the production of "Parsifal," which is to be presented here. The entire performance is to be given at one sitting, but so as to obviate the necessity of the play lasting till too late an hour, the first act will begin promptly at 7:45 p. m.

GUILTY OF ASSAULT
WITH DEADLY WEAPONJury Finds Domaciano Tafuya Guilty on Second Count.The sealed verdict of the jury which retired yesterday afternoon, after hearing the testimony in the case of the Territory versus Don-aciano Tafuya, found the defendant guilty on the second count of the indictment, which was assault upon the body of Romulo Urnabo with a deadly weapon. Judge W. C. Hen-cock appeared for Tafuya and the territory was represented by Assistant District Attorney J. Staab.Tafuya shot Urnabo during fair week in Barcelona with a pistol, the bullet striking one side and skipping across the front of the man's abdo-

Eucamacion Carajabal and Juan Car-ajabal of Alameda, who were charged jointly with shooting through a window at night with an attempt to assassinate Maria Garcia. But one bullet was fired, according to the testimony. The people rushed out of the house and saw the two defendant running away in the night.
The alleged crime was committed on June 26, 1907. Judge W. C. Hen-cock appeared for the plaintiff. The prosecuting witness was not present at the trial.Additional Cases Set.
Judge Abbott this morning set additional cases sufficient to extend the present term of court well into the month of December. No specific date was given to any one case,

You Cannot Depend Absolutely UPON YOUR MEMORY

The chances are that four or five months after you pay a bill, you forget about it. Suppose that same bill should be presented to you—possibly you could remember about paying it; but nine out of every dozen bills you pay, you forget about in six months. Some you could not recall after six weeks. Pay all bills by check—file your checks. Six years afterward you can turn to the checks. If necessary, and produce indisputable evidence for every bill paid. We will be pleased to explain other advantages of the checking account to you.

A SWEET SINGER HERE NEXT MONDAY

Richard J. Jose Heads the "Don't Tell My Wife" Company This Season.

To ears attuned to sweet harmony in music and to vocal vibrations of pure tone and quality, the coming of California's sweet singer and contralto, Richard Jose, will be more than welcome and hailed with delight by all lovers of the classic score, the sentimental songs and the simple ballads of our own and of our father's times.

No singer of the present generation has sung himself into such popular favor or touched the public heart more strongly than Jose.

As wine improves with age, Dick's voice, this season, seems to have gained, if possible, in sweetness of tone and quality, due in some measure to a recent and much needed rest the singer has taken. Be that as it may, the press and public are unanimous in agreeing that Richard Jose was never before in better voice. Certain it is, his present tour is a most flattering testimonial to his popularity and attests in encores and attendance the place he holds in the hearts of the music loving world.

Among the singer's list of songs, upon the present tour, is one composed and sung heretofore exclusively by Mme. Melba, entitled, "Two Late." Two other vocal gems which Jose will sing during his present engagement here are "Rose of My Life" and "Time and Tide."

An excellent program containing numbers rendered by well known favorites will be given and the silver-voiced tenor, who has sung his way from ocean to ocean and back again on several occasions, will delight again in new songs and in old ones.

The present tour is proving the most successful of Jose's career.

SAYS CHINESE WOULD LIKE A REVOLUTION

Albuquerque Celestial Says the World Does Not Know What Really Takes Place in the Empire.

Sam Kee, the well-known dealer in Oriental goods on South Second street, talked interestingly this morning of the situation in China. Mr. Kee, who is a graduate of the Albuquerque schools and a diligent student of politics and economic conditions around the world, is a subscriber to three Chinese papers published in San Francisco. One paper is a radical, another has a policy between radical and the conservative and the other has for its policy the policy of the Chinese royalty. Mr. Kee says that after reading the three papers one is as badly muddled over the exact state of affairs in China as the average voter was over the positions Taft and Bryan took on some questions in the recent presidential campaign. While one says one thing, another says the opposite, both claiming a statement of facts.

According to the San Francisco paper supporting the reform factions of the Chinese government the newspapers of the United States have not given the public the facts about conditions in China. The radical paper says the facts have been suppressed. It says that the indications are that the emperor died at least two weeks before the dowager empress, but that his death was suppressed until after she died. The paper hints that the emperor, who was an invalid, may have died from poison.

In China the classes are known as Moons and Hoons. The former are the royal family and the classes are the latter. The Moons are divided into political factions as well as the Hoons, and it is this condition of affairs that makes the situation critical. Yuan Shi Kai, who is now the power on the throne, was supposed to have been a reform faction of the Moons, but in reality is supported by the stronger of the conservatives, who prefer the old custom of government. The Hoons are in the majority in favor of a reform government.

Mr. Kee says that nearly all of the students are rebellious against the old regime, and would form a rebellion if they thought it could be done. Fully one-fourth of the Chinese of America are followers of the policy of the radical paper of San Francisco. All radical papers are suppressed in the kingdom and news to the outside world is sent out through the foreign offices at Hong Kong and the sea ports.

GOOD PROGRAM FOR THE CLUB SMOKER

Major Ruppe Sends Out Circular Letter to Prospective Members.

Secretary B. Ruppe, of the Army board, has mailed five hundred circular letters to citizens of Albuquerque in the hopes that when the doors of the new Army building are opened on the 30th of this month, many new members will have been added to the already large list of the Albuquerque Athletic association. The letter is as follows:

Albuquerque, N. M., Nov. 21, 1908.
Dear Sir:—The territorial law governing armories does not make appropriation for the maintenance or paying of running expenses of the same. The Army board, consisting of Colonel Dobson, Colonel Storn, Major Pearce and Major Ruppe, after due deliberation, have inaugurated The Albuquerque Athletic club, and they believe by this means they can accumulate sufficient money with which to pay the running expenses and give Albuquerque what it has long needed, an athletic club for the advancement of good, wholesome, clean sport. The membership fee of two dollars, payable monthly in advance, includes instruction in contortion, trapeze work, bag punching, etc. For boxing and wrestling an additional two dollars is charged. No limit is placed on the number of lessons, and the student can take instruction whenever a class is on the floor. Once a month a smoker will be given for the purpose of showing the progress in this club, and only bona fide members will be admitted. No tickets will be sold to these entertainments under any condition, and only membership cards which date from the 15th to the 15th of each and every month are procurable not later than two days before any smoker. There is a law on our statute books which does not allow charges to be made, admission fees charged when sparing exhibitions are on the program. This club is not organized for the purpose of violating any law, but simply to fill a long-felt want for good, clean athletic sports. The board of control is the judge of the qualification of the members of the club and will refuse membership to any one who may be guilty of infractions of rules and regulations, governing the club, conduct unbecoming a gentleman, or the constant use of profane or insulting language. An afternoon class for boys will be organized as soon as practicable, and H. W. Kennedy, formerly of Detroit, Mich., has been employed as instructor, and can be found at the armory from one in the afternoon until ten at night. The first smoker will be given on the 30th of this month, and the following is the program for the same:

1.—Bag punching exhibition, Instructor Kennedy.
2.—Fencing bout between David B. Lane and C. O. Davidson.
3.—Horizontal bar and trick rings, Simon Deschler.
4.—Wrestling match, catch as catch can, best two out of three, Bud Gillet of Albuquerque and Joe Taylor, formerly of Seattle.
5.—Six round sparring contest for points, the Creole Kid of Albuquerque, and W. Davis of Oklahoma.
6.—Fifteen round endurance boxing contest, Instructor Kennedy and Fred Levinge of California. This will be for a final decision on points.

This program is an excellent one and whenever the board of control finds it possible, better attractions will be booked for the entertainment of the members. The program will commence at 8 o'clock sharp. There is no free list, no tickets will be sold and members are obliged to show their cards at the door. Membership tickets can be purchased at Ruppe's drug store at any time before the 28th. A new basketball court, has been laid out and the board assures those interested in good, clean sport an enjoyable winter season, but you should remember that without your co-operation and assistance, nothing can be done.

Dedication services and dance, December 3, 1908. Tickets, 50 cents. Respectfully,
B. RUPPE,
Secretary of Army Board.

NAMES ADMINISTRATOR OF GOODLANDER'S ESTATE

El. Pasoa Writes Here to Learn of Debts or Assets of Dead Traveling Man.

The following letter was received yesterday by B. Ruppe of this city, from H. B. Lane of El Paso, who was recently appointed administrator of the estate of the late Joseph P. Goodlander, whose sudden death at Tucuman, N. M., was the cause of widespread sorrow among all who knew him.

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 20, 1908.
Mr. B. Ruppe, Albuquerque, N. M.
Dear Sir:—Knowing that you were one of Mr. J. P. Goodlander's warmest friends, I am taking the liberty of writing you regarding Jose's personal effects.

The probate judge at this place has appointed me administrator of his estate, and I am trying to locate all of his property and effects as fast as possible, and with that end in view, I would appreciate very much any information you may be able to give me.

His brother John wrote me to the effect that he thought Jose had left a will, and I am especially anxious to obtain it—if there is one in existence.

If any brother Elk or other friends of Jose in Albuquerque knows of any debts that Jose owed, or any moneys or other valuables that are due his estate, I would thank them to report the same to me.

I am sending under separate cover an El Paso paper containing a notice of my appointment as administrator, and, if not too much trouble to you, I should like to have the Albuquerque papers copy it, in order to show to any one that I am authorized to receive and receipt for any property belonging to the estate. Very truly yours,
H. B. LANE,
Administrator, Etc.

SENSATIONAL SCENES IN THE "HOOLIGAN" SHOW

It Comes to the Elks' Theater Thursday Night With a Big Company.

Picturing a phase of life in a big city that cannot fail to excite the interest of all patrons of the drama, "Hooligan in New York" is full of sensational scenes, original comedy situations and thrilling climaxes. It comes to the Elks' theater on Thanksgiving night, November 26. Scenically, the production is unusually elaborate, five complete sets being carried, each one of which is a work of art.

It is said to be one of the most refreshingly original stage creations seen in many a day and abounds in humor and pathos from rise to fall of the final curtain. Besides Hooligan, who is accompanied by his famous dog Flip, a crack company of well known stage favorites will be in evidence. Many ludicrous situations are heightened by original trick properties, while an actual train of cars and other realistic touches of interesting places in New York will be shown.

The coming of "Hooligan in New York" for one night only has aroused more than usual interest among local theater goers and there is no doubt that a packed house will greet them.

How to Cure a Cold.
Be as careful as you can you will occasionally take cold, and when you do, get a medicine of known reliability one that has an established reputation and that is certain to effect a quick cure. Such a medicine is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has gained a world wide reputation by its remarkable cures of this most common ailment, and can always be depended upon. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. During the many years in which it has been in general use we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of grip having resulted in pneumonia when the remedy was used, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

FOUR HUNDRED MILLIONS ADVANCE

Since the Election Active Securities Have Gone Upward With a Bound.

New York, Nov. 24.—There has been a timely moderation of excitement in the stock exchange. The advance movement was being carried too far and was altogether too rapid. Conservative bankers, with memories of October, 1907, still fresh in mind, looked askance at the swift upward flight of prices to a level out of all proportion to the improvement in business. There had been an appreciation of more than $400,000,000 in the active securities since the election, which added to the previous big advance no doubt about discounted the property that is likely to come to us for some time ahead. Much as the return to normal was desired, no one wished to invite a repetition of the demoralizing speculation which was mainly responsible for the last panic. Fortunately the speculative leaders now recognize the wisdom of moderation, and are likely to allow the market to have at least a temporary rest from the hot pace which had been sustained without a break for several weeks.

Very able manipulation both here and through London carried the market to its present level. The men behind this movement included the strongest and ablest capitalists in the country. A year ago they stepped into the breach and arrested panic by heavy purchases of stocks, many of which they did not want but were obliged to absorb. The great bulk of these stocks they have been compelled to carry longer than expected, for while they showed a handsome profit to holders the market was not in condition to reabsorb them. During the last two months, however, large quantities of these stocks have been quietly disposed, and liquidation of this sort by heavy holders was conspicuous immediately before and after the election. That event certainly enabled these operators to materially lighten their load and unless all signs fail such operations are still incomplete, large blocks of stocks still being for sale whenever the market is ready. Skillful manipulation has so far made these unloading movements successful, and stocks have been steadily flowing from strong into weaker hands. The outside public does not seem to have thought with much freedom; but the professional and semi-professional operators, the latter a large and rapidly growing class, have been free purchasers, and to their operations much of the late activity and advance must be attributed. It is not impossible for the rise to be carried still higher, especially in view of the improving tendencies observed in various directions; but a prudent recognition of the facts just noted suggests the propriety of much caution in buying stocks at this high level, and a recognition of the fact that the most prudent course is to take a good profit when offered. Europe does not show much confidence in our advance and seems disposed to return our high priced stocks, a feature that will become more pronounced if the rise continues.

Monetary conditions are generally satisfactory. Credit is much sounder than for several years, and funds are readily obtained by all good borrowers. Interest rates may become somewhat firmer towards the close of the year, especially as the mercantile demand enlarges, but money is likely to remain abundant and cheap for months to come. These considerations are reflected in the bond market, which shows steady improvement. More than $100,000,000 in new issues have been announced this week. Large sums of money are awaiting investment, as demonstrated by the promptness with which all desirable issues are taken up, several noticeable examples having occurred during the last few weeks. During the remainder of the year and probably during the first six months of 1909 there will be considerable issues of new securities. The records show that over $1,500,000,000 in new issues have been made thus far this year, which is considerably ahead of last year's record, although allowance must be made for issues intended merely for refunding purposes. Nevertheless our railroads have been annually absorbing about $1,000,000,000 of new capital, and this rate will unquestionably be accelerated during the next few months in order to finance improvements and extensions that cannot longer be delayed. Apparently the money market is quite able to meet such demands, assuming they will be judiciously distributed; and the effect upon certain lines of industry will certainly be favorable. A better demand for iron, buildings materials, and labor is already in prospect; all of which is evidence of the various ways in which recuperative influences are actively at work.

The improvement in business affairs referred to in our previous advice continues. Comparisons made with a year ago just now would be misleading; but in numerous instances the volume of business transacted is as large as in 1906 at this time. There is still much room for improvement, and all lines of industry have not yet shared equally in the recovery; yet the progress which has taken place a year ago is simply marvelous and beyond all expectations. Fortunately, our bankers and our great industrial leaders continue in a conservative mood, and are firmly opposed to the creation of anything like a speculative boom, which our unrestrained and mercurial spirit would no doubt welcome and perhaps enjoy for a brief spell.

Our export trade continues to lag behind in a somewhat disappointing fashion. This was largely due to lessened shipments of cotton and other agricultural products. In October our exports were valued at $172,100,000, or $5,200,000 less than a year ago. Meanwhile imports were only $193,100,000, the smallest since October 1904 and $9,800,000 below last year's total. Exports exceeded imports by $20,950,000, against $63,340,000 in 1907, so that the trade balance was regarded as satisfactory, but our foreign trade is evidently still feeling the effect of business depression.

International affairs, which have been disturbing, are now more settled than for several months. The death of the emperor and dowager empress of China, fortunately produced no crisis and none is expected. The proof which has been administered to the emperor of Germany, unparalleled as it may have been, will work for the peace of the world, which more than once has been seriously threatened by his indiscreet utterances. Balkan affairs are also quiet for the time being, though disturbances there are nearly always possible. Fortunately these problems will come before the international conference, the chief purpose of which will be to maintain peace. The financial markets of Europe are in better condition than a year ago, though there has been no such recuperation on the other side as here. The United States leads not only in booms but in recoveries from panic; thus sustaining its reputation for strength and optimism.

THESE ARE THE CHILDREN OF THE HAINS BROTHERS; THEIR FATHERS ARE IN PRISON CELLS FOR MURDER

New York, Nov. 24.—The children of the Hains family, who say "grandma" to Mrs. Peter Conover Hains, mother of Captain Peter Hains and T. Jenkins Hains, have found shelter in her care. They are her sole solace in her affliction.

The children passed through New York recently with their grandparents, and are now in the home of Mrs. Hains, who is in the hospital, to Washington, where they will make their home for the present.

The children of Captain Hains, who shot William E. Annis, and Claud A. Libby Hains, whose alleged intimacy with Annis caused the shooting, are Peter C. Hains, third, 7; Hamilton, 4 and Jack, 13 months. The daughter of Jonathan Hains is Molly. Molly's grandmother told reporters that Molly's mother is a girl and that ever since her death, the girl's affection centered in the child and he was father, mother and mate of the wee girl.

The trial of the Hains family was set for December 14 in Queens county court.

Don't expect the stomach to do work it can't do. That is unreasonable. While you need help let Kodol do it for you. Kodol digests all the food and it's the only preparation that does

There is only one way. It must have help. Don't expect it to do work it can't do. That is unreasonable. Help restore its ability to act for itself. It soon puts it in condition to do its work unaided. When that condition is reached—

You don't need help.
You don't need digester.
You don't need Kodol.

But while you do need help let Kodol do it for you. Then note the physical improvement that only comes with perfect digestion. And perfect digestion supplies sufficient nourishment.

Kodol is not a cure—Nature alone cures. But Kodol assists the stomach by doing part of its work. Then nature completes its cure. A little help from Kodol makes the burden lighter and easier to bear.

There are tonic properties in Kodol that cause the stomach and whole system to respond. That is what you want. That's what you get in Kodol.

Lack of nourishment is not generally caused by lack of food. It is because you don't assimilate what you eat and because it doesn't digest.

Don't avoid this nor that because it doesn't agree with you. That only shows the stomach needs help. If your appetite craves certain things your system requires them.

BIGGEST LUMBER PRODUCTION ON RECORD

The Year of 1907 Ranks First in the History of the Industry in America.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—The most striking feature of the statistics for 1907 is that they show the largest lumber production ever recorded in the United States—49,266,154,000 feet—having a value of $666,641,267 at the place of production. In addition, there were produced 3,663,402,000 lath, having a value of $10,342,705, and 11,824,475,000 shingles, having a value of $30,111,337, which bring the total reported value of the lumber, lath and shingle production in 1907 up to $707,095,409. If it were possible to secure absolutely complete statistics of the production of lumber, lath and shingles, it is probable that the total value of the output in 1907 would have approached $750,000,000, a much larger figure than that indicated for any previous year.

The year 1907 was an abnormal one in the lumber industry. During the early part of the year many mills in the yellow pine belt cut heavily because at that time conditions seemed to justify such operations. Later, when the financial disturbance came, they closed down, either partially or wholly; but in many cases this reduction was not sufficient to counterbalance the increased output earlier in the season, so that the total reported cut for the year was greater than that for 1906. On the Pacific coast, particularly in Washington and Oregon, a car shortage early in the year prevented the manufacturers from taking full advantage of the favorable conditions. Then came the panic, and finally the attempt by the transcontinental roads to increase freight rates, so that for the last two months of the year, and until recently, the lumber manufacturing industry of that region was almost paralyzed. A steady decline in the lumber production from year to year is taking place in the Lake states, because of the exhaustion of the white pine supply. These conditions together with the greater thoroughness which characterized the 1907 canvass, all contributed to affect the totals reported from the various states and the various species, as shown by this report. It is not probable that the actual amount of lumber manufactured in the United States in 1907 was much, if any greater than that manufactured in 1906.

As in the two previous years, Washington ranked first in lumber production in 1907, with 3,777,606,000 feet though this is a decrease of 12.3 per cent from the production in 1906, due to the causes previously mentioned. Louisiana ranked second, as before, with a small increase, while Texas advanced from eighth place in 1906 to third place in 1907, this advance being due, to a considerable extent, to the fact that reports from more than twice as many mills in that state were secured for 1907 as for 1906. Mississippi ranked fourth, as compared with fifth for the previous year, while Wisconsin dropped from third to fifth place. The total cut in these five states was over 13 billion feet, or almost one-third of that of the entire United States. These states are also the only ones reporting a product in excess of two billion feet each. Arkansas stood sixth, as in the preceding year, while Michigan dropped from fourth place in 1906 to seventh place in 1907. This is the first time in almost forty years that an annual cut of less than two billion feet has been reported from Michigan.

Notwithstanding an increase of nearly 25 per cent in the number of reports received from the Lake states (Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan) in 1907 the decrease in the reported cut was 11.7 per cent. This emphasizes strongly the constantly decreasing lumber production of the region, due to the exhaustion of the white pine supply. There was a falling off even in Minnesota, which now contains the largest amount of standing white pine timber.

The exceptionally large increase in the number of reports received from Pennsylvania accounts for the slight increase in the production shown for that state. Oregon cut practically the same amount of lumber in 1907 as in 1906. It was less seriously crippled than Washington by the freight rate complication, because a larger proportion of it is cut for coastwise or foreign shipments. Had it not been for this deterrent factor, however, it is probable that a considerable increase in the cut would have been shown.

Notable increases in production are shown for North Carolina, Virginia, and West Virginia, due largely to the increased number of reports. The total cut of New York and New England combined, 3,617,482,000 feet in 1907, exceeded that of 1906 by 10.7 per cent. Such a showing is noteworthy in view of the waning timber supply of this region and the adverse business conditions prevailing during the latter part of the year. Practically the entire output of the mills of this section unlike that of the mills in the other great timber producing regions, is marketed within its borders. The output, however, is insufficient in quantity to satisfy the normal demand, and a considerable proportion of the lumber consumed in this region is shipped in from the South and Lake states. The falling off in the demand for lumber in New York and New England in the latter part of 1907, therefore, while reflected sharply in the decreased shipments into those states, had apparently little or no effect upon their total production.

In 1907, as in previous years, yellow pine ranked first in point of production, the reported cut of that wood being 13.3 per cent greater than in 1906, and constituting 32.8 per cent of the total. Douglas fir ranked second, as in the two preceding years, although it showed a small decrease over the cut of 1906, due to adverse conditions in the producing territory. White pine, although showing a decrease of 8.5 per cent over the cut of the preceding year, ranked third, while oak displaced hemlock from fourth place. There was a marked increase in the reported production of oak, due to the much greater number of reports received from small hardwood mills while there was a slight falling off in hemlock. Spruce and western pine showed considerable increases. These seven woods, of which over a billion feet each were cut in 1907, yielded thirty-two and one-half billion feet of lumber, or four-fifths of the entire cut.

STEEL TOWN ASKS FOR BRYAN'S MULE

According to His Statement Gary, Indiana, is Entitled to the Mascot.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—To Gary, the newly built steel town amid the sand dunes of Indiana, may belong the donkey promised by William J. Bryan as a reward for the town in the United States that should in the presidential election poll the largest Democratic gain over the preceding campaign. Four years ago the site now occupied by the bustling municipality of Gary was a waste of sand. The year the town cast 535 votes for Bryan, so Mayor Thomas F. Knapp considers that the prize justly belongs there.

The mayor to-day addressed a letter to Bryan, reminding him of his promise to donate the donkey. It is the purpose of the mayor to enter the animal in the municipal stable and provide him during his life with the best provender that money can buy. Candidate Bryan made the offer when making a speech in Gary on one of his campaigning tours.

TWENTY BILLION DOLLARS LOST EVERY YEAR

Loss to Farmers by Soil Erosion Every Year Would Pay National Expenses.

Denison, Texas, Nov. 24.—The farmers of the United States lose each year in soil washed from their land enough to pay the entire expenses of the national government at Washington, declares Congressman J. T. Watkins of Louisiana in an address before the Congressional Red River improvement association, which is holding its second annual convention in this city. Mr. Watkins made a strong plea for forest preservation and waterway improvement and advanced some startling figures regarding the rate at which the national resources are being exhausted.

"From the soil which is washed from the land and the saving of the river banks one billion tons of silt accumulate in our river basins annually," he said. "This silt is the most fertile part of the land and it is lost for all practical purposes, but forms an impediment to navigation in making sand bars, catching logs and filling up the channel of the stream, often causing it to go entirely dry."

"While millions of dollars' worth of levees have been washed into the river, this does not constitute the main expense of this soil wash. It is usually the virgin soil which first washes into the streams. This virgin soil usually produces more abundantly than commercial fertilizers. If commercial fertilizers are worth $20 a ton and we should estimate this soil which is washed off the land at the same value, we see that there is lost twenty billion dollars every year. If the value should be divided by twenty the loss would still be one billion dollars—enough to pay the entire expenses of the national government, including the executive, the legislative and the judicial departments."

"When a man puts a ton of commercial fertilizer on a piece of land and it is washed away by a single freshet, he realizes his loss and begins measures to circumvent a recurrence. But when the surface of his soil is being gradually destroyed by erosion, he neither plants shrubs or terraces his land to prevent it. There has been a time when he could move his new ground from field to field, simply by clearing it, but that time has passed. The primitive settler had 160 acres of land given to him by the government for a home. His four children each inherited forty acres of this from him. But his grandchildren will not have enough of land on which to make a living and the public lands of the government are practically exhausted at least so far as they are adapted to agricultural pursuits. It becomes necessary for each land owner to conserve in every possible way all the land which he owns."

"One of the great problems before the American people today is the 'Conservation of Our National Resources.' In solving these problems the question of reservoirs at the head waters of our streams will play an important part. When these reservoirs are constructed the stream flow will be so regulated as to enable the marsh lands to be more readily drained. That these lands will eventually be reclaimed there can be no doubt, as it is evident that our population will increase to two hundred million within fifty years and enterprises of all kinds, having for their object the development of our national resources will be inaugurated, and these lands, when reclaimed, will add millions of wealth to our national resources. 'The water courses of this country are capable of producing energy sufficient to generate thirty million horse power of electrical force. This force can be distributed over the entire area of this country. When our timber is exhausted for the purposes of fuel and our coal is gone we must look to our streams to supply motive power in the form of electricity with which to propel our engines and furnish light and heat, and while our forests are being renewed we must look to our vanishing supply of iron to perform many of those functions now performed by wood."

"No individual, no local or state government can utilize our navigable streams for profit to the detriment of navigation. The national government will not improve them except for purposes of navigation, and as the growing forests, the building of levees, drainage and re-ventments will tend to improve navigation, it is evident that we must look to the national government to protect our streams from destruction, as an incident to this protection, locks and dams are necessary, and through them the electrical power will be generated, which generations now unborn will enjoy, when the oil, gas and coal will be no more."

COMPASS WITHOUT MAGNETIC NEEDLE

Charlottenburg, Germany, Nov. 24.—At a meeting of the League of German Naval Architects yesterday, Dr. Anschuetzempfe of Kiel, exhibited a compass without a magnetic needle, which has just been invented. It is in the form of a gyroscope, which, when suspended in a certain way, always adjusts itself parallel to the earth's axis. The invention is regarded as of great importance to iron clads, where the compass needle frequently is deflected by adjacent metal.

EAT SAUSAGES OR EVEN NEW BREAD

Or Any Other Food You Like Without Dread of Indigestion or Other Stomach Misery.

If your meals don't tempt you, or you feel bloated after eating and you believe it is the food which fills you. If what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, eruptions of sour food and acid, heartburn, brash or a belching of gas you can make up your mind that you need something for a sour stomach and indigestion.

To make every bite of food you eat aid in the nourishment and strength of your body, you must rid your stomach of poisons, excessive acid and stomach gas which sour your entire meal—interfere with digestion and causes so many sufferers of dyspepsia, sick headache, nervousness, breath, and stomach trouble of all kind; putrefying the intestines and distending canal, causing such misery as biliousness, constipation, griping, etc. Your case is no different—you are a stomach sufferer, though you may call it by some other name; your real and only trouble is that you eat food that does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Pape's Diapensin will cost fifty cents at any pharmacy here, and will convince any stomach sufferer five minutes after taking one Triangule that fermentation and sour stomach is causing the misery of indigestion.

No matter if you call your trouble catarrh of the stomach, nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that a certain cure is waiting at your pharmacist any time you decide to begin the use.

Pape's Diapensin will purify the sourest and most acid stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly, without any fuss or discomfort of any kind of food you could eat.

SHOULD WATCH FOR SAN JOSE SCALE

Fruit Growers Are Warned to Take Action Before the Pest Has Time to Work.

(New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, Bulletin.)

During recent years the increase of injurious insects throughout the territory has attracted considerable attention and this has caused a corresponding demand upon this station for information from farmers about these insects. In order to meet the demands for information the department of horticulture has just issued Bulletin No. 68 entitled "Injurious Insects." A short life history of each insect is given, and in most cases an enlarged picture of the insect accompanies the description. The eating habits of the different insects are discussed as well as to their manner of passing the winter. These points are of great importance to the plant grower since a knowledge of them alone very materially in the use of the proper insecticide and the proper time to apply it. Fighting injurious insects is now about as important a farm or orchard operation as cultivation, irrigation, and many other farm practices. In order to produce satisfactory results it is oftentimes necessary to repeat the operation and to combine the insecticides with the preventive measures. Special attention is given to the different remedies and preventive measures that have been tried and that are recommended by the different authorities throughout the country. Every gardener and fruit grower in the territory should have a copy of the bulletin. Those to whom it may not be sent can get it by writing to the Agricultural college, New Mexico, for a copy.

Along this line it is also timely to again call the attention of fruit growers in the territory to the matter of getting to work on the San Jose scale if they have it in their trees. The scale can be destroyed by the use of the lime sulphur wash applied once or twice during the winter or spring. This wash is given in bulletin 68. It is time now to be making preparations as it usually takes longer to get ready and to do the work than we expect. One should first ascertain if the trees are infested with the scale. In case you are not certain that the scale is present send a few twigs to the horticultural department for identification of the insect. If you have it then get the spray pump ready, prepare the spraying solution, and spray thoroughly once or twice.
