REPORTED AGREEMENT PLEASES ENGLISH NEWSPAPERS

They are Glad Japan and United States Have Recognized Mutual Rights

CONTRIBUTES TO WORLD'S PEACE

It is not an Entangling Alliance but one That is Good From Every Viewpoint--Freedom to be Maintained.

London, Nov. 28.—The reported agreement between the United States and Japan for the maintenance of the status quo in the Pacific and the guaranteeing of the integrity of China is given a prominent place in the afternoon papers of London, and is clearly considered of great importance.

The Pall Mall Gazette says that it will be heartily welcomed as a contribution to the security of the world's peace. It is not considered an "entangling alliance," but rather as an "agreement," and one which is "all to the good from every viewpoint" as well as a desirable complement to the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

The first article gives expression to the wish of the two governments to encourage the free and peaceful development of their commerce in the Pacific. The second is a mutual disclaimer of an aggressive design and contains also a definition of the policy of each government, both as directed to the maintenance of the existing status quo in the Pacific and the defense of the people of equal opportunity for commerce and industry in China.

TORPEDO NETWORK PIERCED BY NEW GUN.

Newport, R. I., Nov. 28.—A network of steel which proved impervious to Whitehead torpedoes in recent tests was pierced yesterday by means of the Davis torpedo gun. The gun was fired with a reduced charge, but at the distance, only 100 feet, the torpedo going an estimated speed of forty knots, passed not only through the net which is designed to protect battleships, but through a steel bulk inside of the net. Tests at a greater range are to be made later. Lieutenant Davis is the inventor of the gun.

This motley army had gathered from all parts of the land and the Shah's troops had been ordered to disperse them. Baghis Khan, a noted revolutionary, was leader of the Tabriz victory.

FIRE DESTROYED FIELD OF ALFALFA

Sparks From a Locomotive Started a Blaze on the Moore Place.

A prairie fire, which threatened to destroy the alfalfa crops of a neighboring ranch, started on the old Moore place, about five miles south of town, yesterday morning and burned for nearly three hours. Great excitement prevailed in that vicinity when the fire was discovered as a high wind was blowing and owners of land near the scene of the conflagration soon congregated. The fire is supposed to have been started by a spark from a passing locomotive and nearly sixty acres of pasture land was swept clean. No damage to surrounding ranch barns or houses was done.

EXPLOSION IN A MINE BRINGS DEATH TO 200 MINERS

Mine at Pittsburg Is Burning After an Explosion, and Death List Will be Long.

MINE INSPECTOR HAD JUST FINISHED

He had Left the Shaft After Two Days Inspection, When Explosion Occurred--Iron Cage was Blown 300 Feet.

Pittsburg, Nov. 28.—The mine of the Pittsburg-Buffalo Coal company at Marana, near here, is on fire and an explosion occurred at 11:30 this morning. Between 200 and 300 men are said to be in the mine. According to Mine Inspector Loutitt there were between 180 and 200 men in the mine when the explosion occurred and at the general offices of the company in this city it was said that there are about 100 men in the mine.

Nothing definite as to the number of fatalities can be learned, but it is believed that many men lost their lives. At 1 o'clock this afternoon dense clouds of smoke are pouring from the two shafts of the mine but not a sign of a miner is to be seen. The majority of the miners are Americans and their families are congested at the mouth of the mine, the women and children frenzied and making wild appeals that their husbands and fathers be rescued.

PRESIDENT-ELECT TAFT WILL PRESIDE OVER CONFERENCE

He has Accepted Invitation to Attend Conference to be Held at Washington.

MANY PROMINENT MEN WILL ATTEND

President Roosevelt and Other Distinguished men Will Make Addresses When the Governors Meet to Discuss Things.

Washington, Nov. 28.—President-elect Taft has accepted an invitation to preside over and address the joint conference of the national conservation commission with the governors of the several states, which is to be held in this city December 3. This conference will bring together an assemblage of the nation's leading men in commercial, financial and political activity and its importance is expected to rival the conference held by the president last May.

The joint conference will be in progress four days, President Roosevelt will deliver an address on the opening day, as will other distinguished men. In addition to the governors, J. J. Hill, John Mitchell, Andrew Carnegie and a score of others have been invited to attend, and it is probable that the assemblage will be large.

PRODUCTS OF FARM YIELDED EIGHT BILLIONS

A Colossal Sum Realized This Year From Crops of the Country.

Washington, Nov. 28.—In all the world's history you cannot read of a billionnaire. Much less have you ever heard of any group of capitalists whose combined wealth would make $20,000,000,000 and whose $20,000,000,000 would pay $8,000,000,000 a year, or 40 per cent on their capital.

A dividend of $8,000,000,000 means an income of $866,666,666 a month, or $22,000,000 a day! Talk of the fate of Midas! Any capitalist or group of capitalists who had to take care of that much money a day would have genuine convulsions in frenzied finance.

Such a capitalist, collectively, is the United States farmer. Such a dividend, collectively, does the soil of the United States yearly hand out to the farmer man. By the last census the capital invested in agriculture in the United States was twenty billions and by the forthcoming report of Secretary Wilson of the agricultural department the products of the farm for 1908 yielded a grand total of eight billions. Compare these figures to the billion dollar trust, over which the whole world went daffy a few years ago, and the magnitude of the greatness—and of the growing greatness—of agricultural interests in America becomes apparent.

In fact it would be hard to put your hand on a single department of industrial life, or constructive work in the United States, which would compare for a moment in importance to the permanent value and yearly yields of the farm. Then remember, too, that of all the manufacturing interests in the United States, 75 per cent are dependent on the farm for raw products.

MAKES LOW RATE HERE TO CHICAGO

Santa Fe Offers Inducement for Travel for the Next Month.

Albuquerque is enjoying better passenger rates to the east than ever before in the railroad history of the city. Beginning today the Santa Fe is selling a round trip ticket to Chicago for $34.46, and for some time the one way fare has been only $34.10. The round trip fare is made for the livestock convention, which is to be held there for a month. Since the enforcement of 3-cent fares in many of the eastern states, a great many people believe that they can save money by buying local tickets. This is a mistake. The one fare to Chicago at $34.10 is computed on a basis of local fares. Four cents is charged a mile in New Mexico, three cents a mile in Colorado and two cents a mile from the Kansas state line to Chicago. To get these figures one may multiply the miles distance between Albuquerque and Wynn, N. M., by four, the miles distance between Wynn and Syracuse, Kan., by three, and the remainder of the distance by two.

STATEHOOD FOR NEW MEXICO

We favor the immediate admission of the territories of New Mexico and Arizona as separate states in the Union—Republican National Platform.

A Welcome Addition

The people of Albuquerque who are always glad to see the population of the city increased by desirable citizens will hear with pleasure that Mr. A. C. Ringland, district forester who will have charge of the Southwestern National forests, has arrived here to open offices and that his many assistants, numbering between fifty and sixty, will report here for duty by December 5.

The coming of this force of forestry officials means that just that number of additional citizens, who are particularly desirable and who will add much to the business and social life of the city, are to become permanent residents of New Mexico's metropolis.

These officials receive pay amounting in all to between six and seven thousand dollars a month. This entire sum will be expended here and will add that much to the circulating wealth of the community.

But welcome as these forestry officials are in the city, the chief pleasure derived from their coming, is the fact that Albuquerque has been chosen as the headquarters for this district of the forestry bureau, thereby indicating that it is the logical point for business in the Southwest and the center of industrial activity.

Many places were considered before Albuquerque was finally chosen and the reasons advanced by the forestry bureau for sending the force to this city, was that Albuquerque was centrally located and possessed absolutely the best facilities for the operation of so large a force.

Albuquerque has plenty of room—plenty of fine office and business buildings of all kinds with more in process of construction, and this city is the only logical point from which to conduct business with the balance of the territory.

Albuquerque welcomes the forestry officials in the Albuquerque way, with true western hospitality and a similar welcome awaits the many enterprises which are being projected and which will locate their base of operations in the best city in the Southwest.

Prosperity Reigns

Prosperity reigns in New Mexico today—or to be more exact, it snows. Reports received by the Citizen from all parts of the territory indicate that a heavy snow has been falling since last night.

In the Estancia valley from five to eight inches of snow is reported, which assures the dry farmers of that section an abundant wheat crop. The mountains all over the territory are capped with snow to a depth of from several inches to several feet and the mountain gorges are filled with the drifted flakes. This means that there will be plenty of water in the streams for irrigation purposes next year and that the range will be in excellent condition with an abundance of water and grass.

Stock raisers and farmers alike, are rejoicing in the snow fall which means another year of prosperity in the Southwest.

The snow fell softly without wind and did little damage to live stock, most of which is already on winter range and well protected.

The Old Bugaboo

Probably the most sensible comment which has yet appeared upon the question of German invasion of England and Lord Roberts' foolish prattle, was published several days ago by the New York World, which says:

War alarmists are not noted for delicate consideration in timing their calculated hysterics. That all Europe is in a feverish condition, that a treaty has been definitely broken and that in a far corner of the Continent several hundred thousand brave men await only opportunity to fight for their national aspirations—these seem to Lord Roberts no reasons to withhold his demand for a million men armed to the home defense of Britain.

When Lord Roberts was younger he once reported that the best defense of the Anglo-Indian frontier was communication, not forts. Command of the communicating sea is today England's home defense, as it has been since "Bonaparte scares" were popular with the Roberts of a hundred years ago. That the command is secure, Prime Minister Asquith in dignified language assured his hearers at the recent Lord Mayor's banquet. How Germany could land 150,000 troops with their guns and munitions on British soil, an immense undertaking for a great fleet of transports in an interrupted week, surpasses comprehension. What France might be doing in the meantime is a consideration that would occur to the German war office, if not to a jingo lord.

The whole campaign of chauvinism is as absurd as it is wicked. When Germany is facing a constitutional crisis; when her imperial debt is growing $100,000,000 a year and she is asked to sanction an additional $17,000,000 this year for naval purposes; when in the bond markets German imperial credit ranks away below that of Italy; when the separate debt of Prussia is more than twice that of the United States and yet von Bülow demands that she shall spend millions more in forced buying of the lands of Poles and planting them with German colonists; and when the very lights that dispel the gloom of the long North German winter nights are about to be taxed, it does not seem to reasonable men an appropriate time to beat the great alarm drum on the Kentish coast and cry: "The Germans are coming!"

Already Sylvanite is itching for county seat honors, although she has not yet put up a brick building. These western towns grow fast and are not bashful about asking for what they want. Not two months old, she would just up and slice off a piece of good old Grant county, set up a court house and begin business as if she had been in existence for a century. This is the spirit that has made the west. But what will the rest of Grant county say?—El Paso Herald.

It must have been a good show. Here is what the dramatic editor of the Houston Chronicle says about it: "It was like plucking the grapes virgin from the vine with the dew of the morning still beaded upon them, like seed pearls. It was witnessing the blush of the peach at dawn, and gathering the blossoms of wit fresh from the parent tree."

That Texan who climbed a tree and shot himself out of it holds the season's hunting record. Men have often mistaken their friends for deer, and shot them, but this is the first time a man ever took himself for a squirrel and bagged his game.

Not only are the people of Albuquerque extending a welcome to the forestry officials but they are prepared to welcome the fifteen or twenty families, who will add much to the social life of the city.

The government estimates that the wealth produced by the farms of the country this year was $7,500,000,000. But what's the use of thinking that hard?

Some Reasons Why

The C

Because The Citizen is a home paper. It is either delivered by carrier at the house or is carried home by the business man when his day's work is done and it STAYS THERE. A morning paper is usually carried down town by the head of the family and hurriedly read.

The Citizen is not read hurriedly, but thoroughly, so that all advertisements receive their share of attention. It presents the store news a little ahead, giving the prospective purchaser time to plan a shopping tour for the next morning.

Wise advertisers patronize The Citizen because they know their advertisements are seen and read at the homes in the evening, and if they are offering something worthy of attention, their ad has accomplished its mission.

The Citizen has never given premiums to subscribers, but is subscribed to and paid for on its news merits, showing that its subscribers have money with which to buy what they want from legitimate merchants. These are the people The Citizen invites to your store.

The Citizen employs a man whose business it is to look after your advertising wants. He will write your copy if you wish. If not, he will see that your ads are "set up" to look their best and he will attend to them from day to day.

Are you advertising in The Citizen? Your competitors are, and are profiting by it. Do you think conservative business men are spending money where they are not getting results? Get in the swim and watch your business grow.

UNIVERSITY BOYS CAME OUT EVEN

There is No Deficit as Result of Thanksgiving Day Game.

While they lost the game, the boys of the University of New Mexico have something to be thankful for. They have no deficit in their athletic fund, despite the fact that they undertook and carried out most successfully the greatest stunt in the history of college sports in the two territories, when they brought the Arizona eleven here at an expense of close to $1,000. The receipts of the Thanksgiving game did not cover the expense, but the receipts, amounting to over $600 with the private subscriptions, were sufficient to pay all bills.

This announcement was made yesterday by Manager Lawrence Lee, with a really genuine expression of Thanksgiving. Mr. Lee said that the student body felt very grateful to the people of Albuquerque for their hearty support. The undertaking was a big one, but now that it had been handled successfully and gracefully, every one who took part in the work feels that the game was worth the chase. The success of the undertaking will encourage greater attempts at athletics another year.

Another thing that the people of Arizona and New Mexico should be thankful for, in connection with the Thanksgiving Day game, is that no student was injured. From various parts of the country as the result of hard fought Thanksgiving Day games come reports of unfortunate students who suffered broken limbs and in some instances the loss of life.

The Arizona boys testified before leaving that they had enjoyed their trip most heartily. They could not have expected more hospitality than they received at the hands of the local students. They were feasted and permitted to carry off the honors of battle. It is needless to explain here how that happened. But the New Mexico boys proved themselves good losers and are nursing their wounded feelings with hopes of recovering their lost laurels another year.

MILLION MEN TO DEFEND ENGLAND

Lord Robert's Speech Creates Adverse Criticism in Great Britain

Berlin, Nov. 28.—Field Marshal Lord Roberts' speech in the British House of Lords recently, in which, hinting at a possible German invasion of England, he said that a million men were needed on shore to protect England from such a contingency has provoked much comment here. The most complete reserve, however, is maintained in official quarters, where the discussion of the strength of the British army in England is regarded as a purely internal affair upon which there is no call for foreign comment.

The point of view of the British Parliament that armaments, both at sea and on land, are questions to be settled by the country itself concerned without reference to foreign desires or opinions, finds a strong echo here. It is pointed out that Germany always has followed and will continue to pursue a similar course in developing her army and navy in accordance with her own views of the requirements of the situation, uninfluenced by opinion elsewhere.

Lord Roberts' resolution to the effect that "the defense of the island necessitates the immediate attention of the government to make provision for such a strong and efficient army that the most formidable foreign nation will hesitate before making an attempt at landing" was adopted by a vote of 74 to 32, and in this vote certain newspapers see an evidence of an antagonistic feeling in certain classes in England, but they do not conclude that the entire British nation agrees therewith.

At the same time they consider that Lord Roberts could have chosen a better time than the present to further the propaganda for his favorite idea—the introduction of universal military service in England—because efforts are now being made to bring about less distrustful relations between the two countries and these might suffer from the emphasis laid upon the necessity of British armaments against a possible invasion.

It is suggested that suspicion in England against Germany would become relaxed were England strongly defended by land forces, or it would give a consciousness of security and make it possible for the navy to be employed at a distance.

UNITED STATES LEADS ALL IN DIVORCES

Statistics Show That Separation of Man and Wife
Is Prevalent.

Washington, Nov. 28.—A total of 2,437 divorces were granted in New Mexico from 1887 to 1906 as compared with 255 for the twenty year period previous to 1887, according to a report of marriages and divorces in the United States, which has been prepared by the census bureau. In 1880 the divorce rate per 100,000 population was twelve while in 1900 the rate was 73. The census bureau report says in part:

The total number of marriages recorded during the twenty years from 1887 to 1906, inclusive, was 12,432,444. The number annually reported increased from 483,069 in the year 1906. The increase year by year was by no means uniform. The marriage rate is quickly responsive to changes in economic conditions. A small increase shown for 1903 and an actual decrease in the succeeding year reflect the influence of the panic of 1902 and normal conditions do not appear to have been restored in the matrimonial market until the year 1905. It is computed that if the average annual increase in marriages during the five years ending with 1892 had continued for the next six years, the aggregate number of marriages contracted during the latter period would have been greater than it was by 259,813. It is to be presumed that a considerable number of persons in this large total never contracted marriage. This suggests a loss to the community heretofore little considered in connection with periods of financial depression.

Marriage Rate.

The marriage rate in the United States in the year 1900 was 93 per 10,000 population. Based upon the adult unmarried (single) widowed or divorced population, the rate becomes 221 per 10,000, indicating that in each year something over 2 per cent of the unmarried adult population marry. The marriage rate based on the total population is higher in the United States than in any other country for which reliable statistics are available. But taking the marriageable population as the base—that is, the population which is of marriageable age but not married—the rate in the United States is not as high as it is in Hungary, is about the same as it is in Saxony, but is still higher than in any of the other countries included in the comparison.

Nearly One Million Failures.

The total number of divorces reported for the twenty years, 1887 to 1906, inclusive, was 945,625. For the earlier investigation, covering the 20 years, 1867 to 1886, inclusive, the number reported was 328,716, or hardly more than one-third of the number recorded in the second twenty years. At the beginning of the forty-year period covered by the two investigations, divorces occurred at the rate of 10,000 a year; at the end of that period the annual number was about 66,000. This increase, however, must be considered in connection with increase in population. An increase of 30 per cent in population between the years 1870 to 1890 was accompanied by an increase of 79 per cent in the number of divorces granted. In the next decade, 1890 to 1900, the population increased 25 per cent and divorces 70 per cent, and in the following decade, 1900 to 1906, an increase of 21 per cent in population was accompanied by an increase of 66 per cent in the number of divorces. In the six years from 1900 to 1906, population, as estimated, increased 10.5 per cent and divorces 25.3 per cent.

It thus appears that at the end of the forty-year period divorces were increasing about three times as fast as population, while in the first decade (1870 to 1880) they increased only about two and two-thirds as fast. The divorce rate per 100,000 population increased from 29 in 1870 to 52 in 1905. In the former year there was one divorce for every 3,441 persons and in the latter year one for every 1,218. Since it is only married people who can become divorced, a more significant divorce rate is that which is based, not upon total population, but upon the total married population. The rate per 100,000 married population was $1 in the year 1870 and 200 in the year 1900. This comparison indicates that divorce is at present two and one-half times as common, compared with married population, as it was forty years ago. A divorce rate of 200 per 100,000 married population is equivalent to 2 per 1,000 married population. Assuming that 1,000 married people represent 500 married couples, it follows that in each year four married couples out of every 1,000 secure a divorce.

This does not mean that only four marriages out of 1,000 are terminated by divorce. The rate, it will be noted, is an annual rate, continuously operative, and comes far short of measuring the probability of ultimate divorce. The available data indicate, however, that not less than one marriage in twelve is ultimately terminated by divorce.

Divorce rates appear to be much higher in the United States than in any of the foreign countries for which statistics relating to this subject have been obtained.

UNION PACIFIC HAS WIRELESS SERVICE

Is Testing New Invention to be used in Communicating With Trains on the go.

Omaha, Nov. 28.—Actual control of running trains by wireless telegraphy took a long step forward when the Union Pacific railroad last week equipped one of its main line locomotives with a wireless device by which a train dispatcher may sit at his desk and send an order right into the cab of any locomotive on the line of the road within "talking distance" of his machine. And since "talking distance" is governed only by the strength of the current and can be lengthened at will, it will be seen that the new discovery of the railroad's wireless expert, Dr. Frederick Millner, will forever put an end to those accidents that have often resulted when some telegraph operator failed to deliver a train order, which had been sent him. In an emergency of this kind, the train dispatcher will now simply touch a telegraph key and far out on the railroad line, in the cab of the locomotive which is in danger, a song will begin ringing and before the eyes of the engineer a red light will flash while a miniature semaphore, painted red, will rise to the "danger" position and both the engineer and fireman will know there is deadly peril ahead for themselves and their train.

As yet only the one locomotive has been equipped with the wireless apparatus, but so well does this operate and so satisfactory is its work, that it is only a question of a short time until every locomotive on the system is fitted with the safety device.

With wireless sending stations every hundred miles along the main line, Dr. Millner says the dispatchers will be in absolute touch with every engineer on the road at every minute and will be able to communicate with them should it become necessary to do so.

The instruments are simple and compact. The sending apparatus which is placed in the shops of the Union Pacific in Omaha, occupies less space than any wireless sending apparatus ever built. The current, generated by a dynamo, goes into an interrupter at 220 volts and there is transformed and transferred into between 700,000 and 800,000 volts. Franklin plates are used as conductors. A Massey cooling device is used to keep the disruptive discharge points cool. In the tuning coil the alternating current is charged into a high voltage oscillating alternating current, from which it is conducted to ground and anchor gap and thence to the antenna, where it is discharged into the air.

The antenna on the cab of the locomotive picks up the current, carries it down into the cab and into the receiving instruments within a brass box not unlike a fire alarm box. On the front of this box is the big gong whose ringing can be heard above any noise that can be made by the locomotive. Just above this gong and on the face of the box, is the little red semaphore and the red danger signal and when the gong sounds the semaphore goes to "danger" and the red light flashes.

A curious arrangement within the receiving box prevents any locomotive, except the identical one for which the signal is sent, from receiving the wireless waves. Thus, should it become necessary to send out a signal to the Overland limits, the tap of the telegraph key is given and the box in the locomotive cab of the Overland No. 1 responds. Two taps of the key brings a response from No. 2, six taps will tell the engineer of No. 6 that something is wrong, etc. This portion of the device is being kept strictly a secret and will not be given out until a patent is applied for and granted. In the meantime, however, the equipping of the different locomotives and the building of the sending stations along the system, will probably be begun as soon as the shops can turn out the necessary parts.

DISTRICT FORESTER AR-RIVES TO BEGIN
HIS WORKA. C. Ringland Here From Washington to Organize District Headquarters.A. C. Ringland, district forester of Washington, D. C., arrived in Albuquerque last night to assume charge of the forestry officials and the forestry headquarters of this district which will be in active operation before the first of the year. Mr. Ringland is one of the men chosen by Forester Pin-chot to head a western division of the bureau because of his pleasant address, his tact, his executive ability and his thorough knowledge of the policies and purposes of the department of government which he represents.A number of Albuquerqueans called upon the forester this morning, at his headquarters in the Luna and Stock-ler building on North Second street, where the bureau of forestry has rented all the offices on the second floor. A complete list of the forestry officials who will be stationed in this city, was published Thursday in the Citizen. Those who are already here in addition to Mr. Ringland, are:E. H. Chapp, assistant district forester, who is accompanied by his wife; U. H. Mattson, chief of service, who is also accompanied by his wife; A.
G. Peck, chief of planting; C. J. Neils, clerk to the chief of operation; W. B.
Buntun, chief of maintenance; Hugh
H. Harris, chief of occupancy; Lee H.
Harris, land examiner."The other officials—some fifty or sixty in all, will leave Washington, D.
C., Tuesday, December 1, and are under orders to report here by Friday, December 5, at which time we will commence to actively organize our forces and get ready for work," said Mr. Ringland, to a Citizen reporter today."A number of those who have been ordered here from Washington are well known in New Mexico as they have been previously stationed here.
Those who are not known desire to become known as soon as possible, and we will be pleased to have the people call upon us at any time. We are here for the express purpose of getting in closer touch with the people and of rendering the bureau more accessible to those who have business before it. We want to assure the people of our district that they will always receive prompt and courteous treatment at our hands and that we will always be at their service."Asked regarding the number of people who would be brought to Albuquerque, Mr. Ringland said:"I should say there are about sixty officials, about fifteen of whom have families, bringing the total number of people to between seventy-five and one hundred. Not all will bring their families next week, because it will be necessary for them to secure residences, ship their furniture, etc.
Our force will have a pay roll of about $5,000 a month or more, of which will be expended in Albuquerque, thereby adding that much to the income of Albuquerque.""I have not had much time yet to look about, but I am very favorably impressed with Albuquerque, and especially appreciate the courtesies shown me by the people here. I believe that the establishment of these forestry headquarters will do much towards bringing the forestry officials in closer touch with the actual conditions and will materially aid in the administration of national forests to the best interests of the present and future generations.""Much of the furnishing for the offices of the forestry bureau, such as desks, files, maps, documents, records, etc., has already arrived and a force of men was busy today installing them in the spacious offices. The business-like manner in which the officials are getting to work indicates that the prediction made by Mr. Ringland that the office would be in good running order by the first of the year would prove correct."D. D. Bronson, forest inspector who was stationed here until recently, is now in Douglas, Ariz., where he will remain for some time. He will later return here and eventually will be returned to Washington.

TO PRESENT MEDALS

New York, Nov. 23.—At a banquet to be held in this city under the auspices of the Aero club of America early next year, gold medals will be presented to the Wright brothers, Orville and Wilbur, in recognition of their achievements as aviators.
Designs for the two medals are now under way and a committee has been appointed to collect subscriptions.

PLAN NEW RAILROAD.

Another railroad is proposed to run to the coal fields of Northern New Mexico. To build a railway from Enid, Okla., to Ochtiree, Texas, in the purpose of a company which was organized in Enid during the past week, to be known as the Enid, Ochtiree & Southwest Railroad company. The projected line is routed directly west from Enid, through Major, Woodward and Ellis counties, in Oklahoma, and through the Texas Panhandles counties of Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Hansford, Sherman and DeWitt, thence into the New Mexico coal fields. The line, as routed, penetrates a country practically without railroads at the present time, both in Oklahoma and Texas. Lipscomb county has but one town with a railroad and Ochiltree and Hansford have none.

HEAVY FINES FOR JAPANESE POACHERS

They Are Given the Limit by Alaskan Judge Who Found Them Guilty.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 28.—Word has been received here that a fine of $35,400 and the costs of the case, which will run into the thousands, was imposed by Judge Reid upon the Japanese seal poachers recently convicted of killing fur seals at Pribilof, Alaska. There are fifty-nine Japanese in each of the two crews seized and the fine was $300 for each man found guilty. In default of payment the men must serve 300 days in jail at Valdez.

The convicted crew of the Kinzai Maru has given notice of appeal. This is the first conviction in the history of Alaska where pelagic poachers have been arrested and there has been a conviction. The vessels of the United States government have seized alleged Japanese poachers twice, but no convictions were secured.

Some of the men seized in the last raid had been prisoners on other vessels and through secret service men employed by the government as guards understood the Japanese language, and they overheard the conversation of the imprisoned men.

The seizure of the Japanese vessels occurred early in August. One of them was fitted up to appear like a revenue cutter. While a heavy fog was on in Behring sea the cutters approached the island and, although the Japanese tried to tow their vessels out with small boats, they were seized, as were also the seals and the pelts taken.

ROYAL HIGHLANDERS ENTERTAIN BIG CROWD

Music, Recitations, Refreshments and Dancing Formed the Program Last Night.

Last night in the Elks' hall, the Royal Highlanders gave another of their series of free entertainments and dance to their many members and their friends. To say that the program was an enjoyable one would be putting it mildly. The early part of the evening from 8:30 to 10 o'clock, was devoted to musical selections, solos and recitations while the Leonard and Lindemann Boys' band, recently annexed as an auxiliary of the Highlanders and under the able directorship of Prof. F. K. Ellis, played several numbers, which were well received. A slide trombone solo by Director Ellis which brought forth much applause from the large crowd of listeners was next on the program and was followed by several vocal solos by Miss Alice Alexander, a Kansas City girl, whose singing was exceptionally pleasing. Miss Alexander is the possessor of a beautifully cultivated soprano voice and her selections last evening were received with tremendous applause. The singer was accompanied on the piano by Miss Dunn.

A recitation by Mrs. Bertha Swan, a noted local elocutionist, was then listened to. If applause is to be taken as a sign of appreciation her number was one of the best numbers of the evening. A violin solo by Master Ira Pixley, a youth of but 11 years of age, was among the many pleasant musical numbers of the evening. Following the musical program, President Raitt introduced C. E. Davis, state manager of the Highlanders, who made a few appropriate remarks.

From 10 to 12 o'clock, the floor was turned over to those desiring to dance and with music furnished by Miss Jennie Craig on the piano and the Boys' band, dancing was the order until after midnight. At 10:30 the refreshment committee consisting of Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Mercer, Mrs. Gooch, Mr. W. A. Randall and Mrs. Frank Winn, served to the entire crowd of 325 people dainty refreshments in the Elks' banquet hall. The order is enjoying a prosperous growth and its membership is ever increasing with each meeting.

SUES RAILROAD FOR TEAM AND WAGON

Whitney Company Brings Suit Against Santa Fe for $600 Damages.

The Whitney company yesterday brought suit against the Santa Fe to recover damages for the destruction of a team of mules and a light wagon run down by the California limited near the Rio Grande Woolen mills two years ago last March. The plaintiff alleges damages to the extent of $600.

The filing of this suit brings to the minds of many people of Albuquerque the sad death of Charles Paxton, an employee of the Whitney company, who lost his life in the accident. It was a bright, warm day and it was believed at the time that Paxton was suffering from the laziness that comes with spring when he drove on the track in front of the train. The train struck the rig in the middle, totally wrecking the wagon and throwing the mules fifty yards, killing them instantly.

FIELD SECRETARY FOR BAPTISTS HERE

Rev. Barnes Will Attend Convention at Roswell Tuesday—Tells of Work Being Done by His Church.

Rev. L. C. Barnes, field secretary of the American Baptist Home Mission society, is in the city and intends leaving Monday for Roswell, N. M., to attend the territorial Baptist convention, which will be held in that city December 2-6. The field which Mr. Barnes covers represents the entire United States as well as the adjacent islands and throughout this vast expanse the motto of the church is: "North America for Christ" has been spread before followers of this democratic body of worshippers. While the headquarters of Mr. Barnes is in New York, a secondary office is located in Chicago from which place he has come to this city before proceeding to Roswell. Tomorrow Mr. Barnes will deliver two addresses at the local Baptist church, one in the morning and the other in the evening. The organization which the Rev. Mr. Barnes represents, numbers over fifteen hundred missionaries scattered throughout the country, most of which are in the west. He is now on his way from the Navajo Indian reservation. When seen this morning Mr. Barnes said:

"The American Baptist Home Mission society, of which I have the honor of being field secretary, represents over one million Baptists in the northern states for the prosecution of home missions. The convention which is to be held at Roswell beginning December 2nd, meets mainly to discuss the planting of churches in destitute communities. The churches of the territories contribute for this territorial aggressive work. It may be an interesting fact to know that the first Baptist church in this city last year contributed about $50 for this territorial mission work."

"The Home Mission society adds to the local funds on a fixed ratio, being in the newer states and territories of the country several times the amount raised in those states. Rev. W. A. Nicholas and Rev. John A. Shaw will attend the convention as delegates from this city while the latter will deliver the annual sermon before the assembly gathered at Roswell next week. I will also deliver a short address and my tour of the country at the present time is merely to note the progress of the work and to direct future movements in the interests of our society. Rev. Mr. Longfellow, of New York, is the executive officer."

CLUB MOURNS LOSS OF MANY BLACK BASS

The Fish Sent by the Government Died, But the Catfish Live On.

There is grief and sadness and a fishy smell about the members of the Rio Grande Club. Yesterday at meal hours the thirty black bass sent to the club for the duck ponds by the government were planted in various graves with the usual prayers.

The fish came in Thursday night on train No. 1 and left thirty bass and seventy-five catfish. Mr. Campbell, who was in charge of the club, said that the fish could be kept until yesterday before being put in the ponds, if they were placed in running water. A member of the club put the fish in running water, but yesterday morning all were dead. They were about eight inches long and large enough to have spawned this year and their loss is deeply felt by the club. The catfish lived and were placed in the lakes yesterday.

MRS. MITCHELL WILL PROBABLY GET WELL

Physician Believes Wound Inflicted by Her Husband Will Not Prove Fatal.

Mrs. Lily Mitchell, who was shot in the head by her husband Thanksgiving night, may recover. Dr. Reidy said today that her chances for life were much better today than yesterday. She spent a good night last night and was brighter today, indicating an increase of strength. She had not been told at noon that her husband was dead, and the news will be kept from her if possible until she is beyond danger. No one but the physicians and the nurses are admitted to her room.

Undertaker Borders received a telegram this morning from the 14-year-old daughter of James Mitchell, the suicide. The telegram said to embalm and hold the body for further instructions. It is very probable that it will be shipped to Dallas, Texas, for burial.

C. F. Vandegrift, of the publicity department of the Santa Fe, who arrived in the city this morning, was born at Keokuk, Iowa, the birthplace of Mitchell. He says that he knew Mitchell as a boy and had seen him frequently all his life. Mitchell left Keokuk in 1878 and as a boy began working for the Harvey system, beginning at St. Louis in the old union depot hotel. He has two uncles living at Keokuk. One of them is a blacksmith and well and favorably known. Mitchell was trusted implicitly by the Harvey system.

ATHLETIC SOCIETY SMOKES UP MONDAY

The First of a Series Will Be Given and Promises to Be Worth the Money.

The first smoker of the newly organized athletic club will take place at the armory Monday night, and there is no longer any doubt about it being a sporty one. The program has been completed.

Major B. Ruppe, of the armory board, said this morning that it had come to him that a number of people were under the impression that they had to be national guardsmen or of certain classes to belong to the club. This is not the case. Anyone who can pay for a membership card, costing $2, will be admitted and the card will entitle him to the use of the gymnasium and the baths for one month, including instructions in a number of sports.

A piano has been purchased by the armory board and another stove has been added to the heating apparatus. This makes three stoves, which are believed sufficient to heat the hall comfortably. The first smoker promises some good sport.

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Richmond have returned to their home at 810 Park avenue, after a several weeks' absence from the city. They visited at Pittsburgh, New York and other eastern cities.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Sims left the fore part of the week for a several weeks' trip through the east. They will spend some time at Chicago, Ill., visiting friends, and later continue on their trip east.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Grunsfeld of 1015 West Central avenue, returned this week from the City of Mexico, where they have been on a short visit. They also visited other points of interest in the south during their trip.

Owing to the inclement weather of yesterday and the absence of their leader, the members of the Woman's club postponed the meeting until next week Friday, when the program prepared for yesterday will be given.

Mrs. M. O. Chadbourne of 596 West Tijeras avenue, entertained Tuesday afternoon of this week at the first of a series of bridge parties which she will give this winter. The appointments of the afternoon were informal, three tables at bridge being featured.

The dance given last Thursday evening in the new armory building by the local company of the National Guard was a success. The officers in charge were Major E. R. Rupp, Lieutenant Lane and W. S. Garvin. The party was the first of a series to be given during the winter.

Miss Grace Borradaile of West Gold avenue, left Friday for Los Lunas, where she will be entertained at the home of her friend, Miss Lolita Hunning. Miss Hunning returned home this week after a short visit with friends in Albuquerque. She also attended the Commercial club ball last Wednesday evening.

The party at which the 'Varsity' entertained Tuesday evening of this week complimentary to the University of Arizona football team, was one of the pleasant social successes of the week. The party was given in the Elks' ball room and was attended by the students of the 'Varsity' and their friends.

Miss Mercedes Winslow of Monrovia, Cal., arrived in Albuquerque the early part of the week for a few weeks' visit with her friend, Miss Bessie Baldridge of 108 South Arno street. Miss Winslow was a guest at the Commercial club ball this week, and will take an active part in social circles during her visit in Albuquerque. Miss Winslow and Miss Baldridge were classmates at Stanford university.

Mrs. David Stewart of 402 South Edith street, entertained the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at its regular semi-monthly meeting on Tuesday afternoon of this week. A large attendance was present, and several matters of business, among which was the bazaar to be given by the union next Monday, were discussed.

Miss May Harker of Muscatine, Ia., and Dr. John Davies of Heaton, N. M. were married Wednesday afternoon of this week at the residence of Rev. Fletcher Cook, rector of St. John's Episcopal church. Dr. Davies is very well known in New Mexico, and is physician and surgeon for the American Fuel company's hospital at Heaton.

The Albuquerque Woman's club will give a bazaar and sale at its club rooms on Friday, November 13. While the arrangements are as yet incomplete, a pleasant feature which has been decided upon is an auction sale of hand-painted china, which will be held in connection with the bazaar. During the summer Mrs. E. H. Harsch has conducted a class in hand-painting and water colors, and each member has donated her third article to the club. Some of the pieces are exceptionally beautiful and will be sold at the bazaar. A meeting of the committee is to be held during the coming week to complete arrangements.

Commercial Club Party.
The Thanksgiving ball given Wednesday evening by the Albuquerque Commercial club was one of the pleasing features of the week. The appointments were elaborate. Mrs. Cavanaugh's special orchestra furnished excellent music and in addition to punch served during the evening, a delightful turkey lunch was served about midnight. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Felix Lester, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. O'Reilly, Mr. and Mrs. Mandell, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Steen, Mrs. Shaw, Miss Grace Borradaile, Miss Lisa Lieckmann, Miss Dolores Hunning, Mr. and Mrs. C. White, Miss Ruth Goss, Miss Adell Goss, Miss Bessie Baldridge, Miss Bessie Traylor, Miss Mercedes Winslow of Monrovia, Cal., Miss Julia Nusbaum, Miss Hetting.

Party.
Little Miss Norrine Switzer entertained last Monday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Switzer, of 819 Fifth street, in honor of her thirteenth birthday. The guests were entertained at various games after which refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake, were served. The guests were Miss Irene Starr, Miss Reba Starr, Miss Stella Kline, Miss Jennie Kline, Miss Isabel Benson, Miss Lucy Baca, Miss Bertha Thibon, Miss Martha Bullard, Miss Pearl Denney, Miss Irma Lix, Miss Ruth Andrus, Miss Helen Goetz, Miss Lottie Westerfield, Miss Mabel Phillips, Miss Anna Meyers, Miss Hortense Switzer, Master Arthur Westerfield, Joe Letarte, Alfred Letarte, Jack Goss, Joe Walton, Harold Sellers, William Bullard, Bowman Williams and George Meyers.

The Bazaar.
What promises to be one of the most pleasant social affairs of the coming week is the bazaar given by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union next Monday afternoon and evening, in the Sunday school rooms of the Presbyterian church. An excellent musical program will be given, some of the features of which are several violin solos by the pupils of Miss Valick, Miss Clara Davis, an accomplished reader, and a graduate of the Columbia School of Expression, will give a reading, as will also Mrs. Benadum and Miss Lillian Elwood and her pupils will assist in the musical part of the program. The booths will be arranged characteristic of the seven days of the week, and will be in charge of the following: Monday booth, wash day, necessities, Mesdames LeBreton and Davis; Tuesday booth, ironing day conveniences, Mrs. Morse and Miss Morse; Wednesday booth, fancy work, suitable for gifts, Mesdames Strumquist and Nicholas; Thursday booth, mending and darning conveniences, Mesdames Nutter and Shadrack; Friday booth, dusting armor and tools, Mesdames Pearce, Britt and Rizer; Saturday booth, home cooking, (like grandmother's), Mesdames Palmer and Perkins; Sunday, "rest booth," with coffee and Bibles, Mrs. Vaughn and Mrs. Johnson; Lunch counter, Mesdames Halsted and Brown; Fish pond, Mrs. Leaming; Candy booth, lemonade, French confections, Misses Lena Sterling and Lama Cartwright.

Garden Party.
One of the most brilliant social events of the season and a distinct novelty in the way of parties, was the "German" given Monday evening of this week in the skating pavilion by Mr. and Mrs. Felix Lester, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Merritt and Mr. and Mrs. Charles White. Nearly 300 guests were entertained and each was clad in characteristic German or Dutch costume. The center of the rink was overhung by a handsomely decorated canopy, on which were festooned pretzels, wieners, wursts and other edible emblems of Germany. Here an elaborate German lunch was served, accompanied by plenty of corn-cob pipes, which were given for the entertainment of the gentlemen. The regular rink was reserved for those desiring to skate. A number of the guests were entertained at dancing, for which music was furnished by the Duke City band.

A number of very amusing features characterized the evening, among which was a race between Mr. Ernest Landolf, without skates, and another member of the party, an accomplished roller skater. Mr. Roach and Mr. Landolf also assisted in the program with a number of well rendered songs. The regular moving picture program was given. Especially clever were the two German hands one of which was made up of the younger members of the party, clad in German costumes and led by Mr. Ernest Landolf. The instruments were of German origin, and each was painfully tuned to a different key. Mr. J. H. O'Reilly, in the garb of John Phillip Sousa, was in charge of the band. Mr. Melville Summers, armed with a feather duster, assisted as drum major. The other members were Mr. Frank McKee, Mr. Ivan Grunsfeld, Mr. Harry Lee and Mr. A. B. McGaffey. Some of the costumes worn by the ladies were exceptionally handsome and appropriate, while others were equally clever and ridiculous. The affair was one of the cleverest arranged and most successful ever given in Albuquerque.

NEW COMBINE TO SAVE MORSE LINES

Forty Million Dollar Corporation to Operate Steamship Companies Left by Banker

Boston, Nov. 13.—The incorporation at Portland, Me., of a $40,000,000 company to be known as the Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies Steamship Lines, with Henry R. Mallory of New York, as president, and a substantial backing by Boston bankers, was in line with a plan formulated to save from complete wreck the consolidated Steamship company, promoted by Charles W. Morse, of New York.

The lines to be taken over by the new corporation are those operating from New York southward. The Boston men among the incorporators are Henry Hornblower of the banking firm of Hornblower & Weeks, and Galen L. Stone of the banking firm of Hayden, Stone & Co.

The Morse corporation practically controlled the steam water transportation facilities of the Atlantic coast when Morse was caught in the panic of 1907. On February 4 it passed into the hands of a receiver. Expert financiers have been working almost day and night upon the reorganization plan.

Takes in Four More Lines.
The new company has a capital of $20,000,000, and the same amount in common stock, as well as $17,000,000 in 5 per cent bonds. It will be a holding company for four of the six lines which Morse brought under the consolidated company, the Ward, Clyde, Mallory and New York and Porto Rico. The Eastern, running east from this city, and the Metropolitan, between this city and New York, will remain under separate management, for a time at least.

The reorganization committee found that there was outstanding $62,000,000 of 4 per cent bonds of the Consolidated Steamship company, held by more than 1,000 companies, firms and individuals, who must consent to a reorganization before the courts would permit a transfer of the property of the company. The committee also found a floating debt of $2,400,000, which had to be financed. It obtained the approval of 97 per cent of the old bondholders, representing $50,885,000, in bonds.

The reorganization plan provides that the old bondholders shall receive for their holding 25 per cent in the 5 per cent bonds of the new company, 25 per cent in the preferred stock, and 12 1/2 per cent in common stock, the balance 37 1/2 per cent being a total loss. The bondholders, however, put their original holdings of stock in the subsidiary company on a basis of 25 cents on the dollar, so that their loss will not be large.

The non-assenting bondholders will be paid in cash at a price to be fixed by the court.

Starts With a Clear Sheet.
The new company starts off with no floating debt and no interest charges until 1919. The old floating debt of $2,400,000 is taken care of by the issuance of short time notes, which become due semi-annually, and of the total amount $600,000 have been taken by the bondholders and the balance by Boston banks and bankers.

ATTRACTIONS COMING.

"DON'T TELL MY WIFE."

The popularity of "Dick" Jose as a ballad singer is akin to that of Caruso in Italian grand opera. At the American theater in San Francisco not long ago he gave variety to the regular performance of "The Girl From Paris," by singing one new ballad after another until there were loud cries from the crowd for "Silver Threads." When his admirers finally permitted him to retire he had been singing a half hour lacking two minutes. Jose is now with the "Don't Tell My Wife" company which will play here one night Monday November 30 at the Elks' theater.

The usual period of time covered by a single act of a play does not exceed twenty-five minutes, yet "Dick" Jose, the popular ballad singer, once held the stage, or rather was held on the stage, for exactly twenty-eight minutes. This occurred at the American theater, San Francisco, during the performance. His audience simply would not be satisfied. After he had sung his regular program of new ballads, cries came for "Silver Threads." After this they yelled for "Dolly Gray" and then for "The Blue and the Gray." The house would have kept him there singing until morning had he not literally torn himself away.

"THE OLD SEXTON."
Says the El Paso Times of "The Old Sexton," which comes to the Elks' theater Tuesday, December 1: "With every seat occupied, the curtain at the Crawford theater, when raised last night, revealed one of the best plays ever seen at a local play

FREAKISH FANCIES RULE THE MOST ELABORATE GOWN STYLES

SATINS IN DULL COLORS PREDOMINATE THIS FALL IN RECEP-TION AND VISITING GOWNS.

Lucille was sitting in the window seat when Marie returned from the reception, still flushed with the excitement of it all and aglow with the memory of elaborate gowns.

"Oh, Lucille," she cried, "you should have been there. I can't begin to describe the overpowering elegance of some of those gowns. I am simply helpless."

"Well, get your breath, girlie," and try," Lucille advised, calmly. "I'm depending upon you, you know."

Marie laughed. "Of course, I can tell you in a way, but I cannot do

The Old Sexton is a quaint and lovable old man, who has been minister and sexton of the only church in a little village for years, the same as his father and grandfather before him. He preaches the Sunday sermon; marries the young; buries the dead. He loves fun. His unique position is his by inheritance; he could not lead a different life. He grows old as the village increases in size and importance, and is asked to resign—the old must make way for the young. His farewell words are spoken; his life is crushed. The new minister arrives; he is the Old Sexton's own son, who left home a wayward boy, and has returned—a man again—joy and happiness.

In this simple homely tale is woven more dramatic interest, humor and original sweet music than is found in the general present-day play.

The scenery that is used was especially painted and designed for this production and is all beautiful, and presents a most natural effect.

The Old Sexton will be produced every night during the week.

Ladies admitted free Tuesday night when accompanied by one 50 cent paid ticket.

CHICAGO AND "THE CLANSMAN."

The splendid verdict for "The Clansman" rendered by both press and public in Chicago is still the talk of the town in the Windy city. In the chorus of newspaper praise there were but few strains of dissonance. Amy Leslie in the News, said: "The Clansman" palpitates with bold, dynamic truths." W. L. Hubbard in the Tribune: "Unparalleled in the history of melodrama in Chicago." O. L. Hall in the Journal: "The Clansman" is a sensation. It has these elements that make for its great success. No other play of the year has so quickly leaped into popularity." Forrest Arden in the Examiner: "Dramatically striking, a splendid company." J. D. McArde in the Chronicle: "The Clansman" must be classed as a melodrama of exceptional strength." Percy Hammond them justice. The handsomest gowns were of heavy, supple satins in dull shades, with long coats nearly always plain white, the gowns showing large designs of self-color or mild contrast, with background to match the coat. The trimmings were lace, braids and buttons. There was one—and for fifteen minutes she described it in the most minute detail.

"You're a woman to the core, Marie," mused Lucille finally. "Fifteen minutes' babble of dress and not a word of whom you met."

And Marie bounced out in high dudgeon.

In the Post: "It can give odds to most of the plays seen hereabouts in the effective assembling and arrangement of the elements which interest and the steady sweep of the action to the proper ending."

A remarkable record is held by James Forbes' comedy, "The Traveling Salesman," now playing at the Gaiety theater, New York. Although it is now in its fourth month, the length of time required to give a performance has not varied one minute. None of the company have missed a single performance, nor have they missed a "cue" or left out a single word of the text.

Henry B. Harris has signed contracts with David Kessler, the eminent Yiddish actor, for the American rights for the Yiddish stage, of Charles Klein's famous play, "The Lion and the Mouse." It will be presented at the Thalia theater by Mr. Kessler in the near future. Mr. Kessler is now at work translating the play from English into Yiddish. Its production on the Jewish stage marks the sixth language in which this play will have been presented: English, French, German, Italian, Norwegian and Yiddish.

"Honeymoon Trail," the successful musical comedy which scored for over 200 nights last year at the LaSalle theater, Chicago, is making new records on the road with Harry Stone, the well known comedian, in the featured role. As Perkins, in that musical play, Mr. Stone is duplicating the success he made while playing the leading part in the newspaper play, "A Stolen Story" under the direction of Henry W. Savage, and later as comedian with the "Soul Kiss" with Mile, Genoe, under the management of Klav & Erlanger.

Miss Ethel Barrymore is receiving cordial if belated credit for very notable acting in "Lady Frederick." The excellence of Miss Barrymore's Lady Frederick Berolles is its spontaneity. The brilliant high tessellated epigrammatic lines Mr. Maugham has put into the lady's mouth are spoken by Miss Barrymore with ease and naturalness that give them the air of bright sayings that have just popped into her head. Perhaps that is the difference between a natural and an acting actor—one speaks his lines as if he had just thought them, the other as if he had just memorized them.

A COMMUNITY MAKES THE WEALTH

Therefore Divide Your Wealth With the Community. Says Andrew Carnegie.

New York, Nov. 28.—Andrew Carnegie has written a new book, in which he tells of the various ways men have accumulated fortunes and his ideas of how those fortunes should be spent. "Millionaires who laugh are rare," he says, and if any one knows it ought to be Carnegie. Extracts from the book are published in the "World Work" for December, and a part of what Carnegie says is as follows:
After making a full allowance for differences in men, it still remains true that contrasts in their wealth are infinitely greater than those existing between them in their different qualities, abilities, education and, except the supreme few, their contributions to the world's work. It should be remembered, always, that wealth is not chiefly the product of the individual under present conditions, but largely the joint product of the community.
Imagine an honest, hard-working farmer who finds himself able to give each of his sons a farm. The sons find farms, the younger in the center of Manhattan Island, the older beyond the Harlem. A few hundred dollars buy the farms and the loving brothers set out for themselves. They are respected by all, loved by their intimates. They are equally industrious, cultivate their farms equally well and in every respect are equally good citizens of the state. Their children grow up and are educated together.
The growth of New York city made the children of the younger millionaires, while those of the older, remain simple farmers in comfortable circumstances.
Now, who or what made this difference in wealth? Not labor, not skill. No, nor superior ability, sagacity or enterprise, nor greater public service. The community created the millionaire's wealth. While he slept it grew as fast as when he was awake. It would have arisen exactly as it did had he been on the Manhattan farm.
When these children die, who have neither toiled nor spun, what canon of justice would be violated were the nation to step in and say what, since the aggregation of their fellow men called the "community," created decedents, it is entitled to a large portion of it as they pass away?

It would be unwise to interfere with the working bees; better allow them to continue gathering honey during their lives. When they die the nation should have a large portion of the honey remaining in the hives; it is immaterial at what date collection is made so that it comes to the national treasury at last.
(Here Mr. Carnegie tells of five brothers, the first seeing the great possibilities in railroads, investing largely in them, becoming a great organizer and dies a multimillionaire. His children are all left millionaires. An expanding population was mostly responsible for all their millions, Mr. Carnegie continues.)
Now while the founder of the family must be credited with remarkable ability, and with having done the state some service in his day and generation, it cannot be denied that the chief creators of his wealth were the increasing communities along the railroads, which gave the traffic that lifted these lines into dividend payers upon a capital far beyond their actual cost.
In the work and its profits the nation was an essential partner, and is equally entitled with the individual to share in the dividends.
A second son went to Pittsburg and into the steel business. Much of his great wealth came from minerals that were once public property, and the rest of it from the demand of an expanding population engaged in settling a new continent.
A third son went to Chicago, became a millionaire meat packer and his wealth, too, came from the community. A fourth son became a copper and silver king. An expanding population gave value to his once worthless stones. A fifth remained in New York and he was a stock gambler. His ill gotten gold, Mr. Carnegie says, should be levied upon by the state at the highest rate of all. The writer continues:
It is difficult to understand why at the death of its possessors, great wealth, gathered or created in any of these or in any other forms should not be shared by the community which has been the most potent cause or partner of all in its creations. Where wealth accrues honorably the people are always silent partners.
Those who have not had opportunity to study the operation of wealth in the world are naturally led astray. They see its possessors in their palaces surrounded with every luxury, their gorgeous carriages in the park; they read of their extravagant balls, of riotous living and inordinate expenditure and worse than this, of gambling at cards and upon horses. Signs naturally hard to bear by those suffering for the necessities of life.
The writer has no desire to minimize this sad contrast nor to say one word in its defense. It is one of the saddest and most indefensible of all contrasts presented in life; but when we proceed to trace the work of wealth as a whole, it is soon found that even those extravagances absorb but a small fraction of it. The millionaire's funds are all at work. Only a small sum lies in banks subject to checks.

Whatever impression the workers may receive of the wealthier classes, the fact is indisputable that their surplus money, minus a small fraction, must augment the wage fund and in some line or other benefit those who labor.

When the Socialist therefore speaks of all wealth going back to the state, he proclaims no great change in its mission. The state, sole owner, would use it just as the owners now use all but a fraction of it; that is, invest it in some of the multifarious ways leading to the reward of labor.

Let this be noted by the workmen: None of the professions regard great wealth as the chief prize. Its acquisition is their aim, and these men are quite right, for beyond a competence for old age, which need not be great and may be very small, wealth lessens rather than increases human happiness.

Millionaires who laugh are rare. The most miserable of men, as old age approaches, are those who have made money-making their God; like flies on the wheel; these unfortunate fondly believe they were really driving it, only to find, when tired and craving rest, that it is impossible for them to get off, and they are lost—plenty to retire upon; but nothing to retire to.

We may all learn the great truth that only competence is desirable, almost necessary, wealth non-essential, and when it does come it is only a sacred trust to be administered only for the general good.

When this lesson is truly learned the thirst for wealth will lessen, and it will cease to be the object of keen pursuit by men in general, which it never has been with professional classes. People will soon see that it does not bring happiness to its possessors and is generally injurious to their children. The wise man engaged in business will seek only a moderate competence and then devote himself to public affairs, laboring for the good of others, especially in his own community.

How to Cure a Cold
Be as careful as you can you will occasionally take cold, when you do, get a medicine of known reliability one that has an established reputation and that is certain to effect a quick cure. Such a medicine is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has gained a world wide reputation by its remarkable cures of this most common ailment, and can always be depended upon. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. During the many years in which it has been in general use we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of grip having resulted in pneumonia when the remedy was used, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

VERY FIRST TO WEAR OUT WITH AGE

This Prescription Is Valued by Elderly People who Suffer.

The great majority of men and women at the age of 50 years begin to feel the first signs of advancing age in some form of kidney trouble and bladder weakness. Few are entirely free from that torturous disease rheumatism, which is not a disease in itself, but a symptom of deranged function of the kidneys, which have become clogged and sluggish, failing in their duty of sifting and straining the poisonous waste matter, uric acid, etc., from the blood, permitting it to remain and decompose, settling about the joints and muscles, causing intense pain and suffering.

The bladder, however, causes the old folks the most annoyance, especially at night and early morning. Hundreds of readers who suffer will find the following, which is known as the Dandelion mixture, the most harmless and effective treatment to chain the system of rheumatic poisons, remove irritation of the bladder and relieve urinary difficulties of the old people. It is a true vitalizing tonic to the entire kidney and urinary structure, reinvigorating the entire system.

The Dandelion mixture consists of the following simple prescription, the ingredients of which can be obtained from any good pharmacy at small cost: Compound Kargon, one ounce; Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup Sassafras, three ounces; Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and upon going to bed, also drink plenty of water.

This prescription, though simple, is always effective in the diseases and afflictions of the kidneys and bladder and rheumatism.
