Next Year's Session of National Association of Baseball Clubs Will Be Held in Nebraska Metropolis.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 13.—Omaha, Neb., was selected as the next meeting place at the final session of the annual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues here today. Omaha was next year's convention in a close contest with Nashville, Tenn., receiving seven votes of the thirty-two clubs cast.

There was no discussion today of the demands submitted by the baseball players' fraternity, but the national board was instructed to be ready to appear at a conference with the players' representatives. No date for the conference has been set as yet. The report of the contract committee that it would be impossible to have uniform contracts for all leagues which are parties to the national agreement, was adopted by the convention.

The delegates visited the Ohio penitentiary today. Two teams of convicts played a football game inside the walls, for the entertainment of the visitors. After the game, a minstrel show was staged. At the conclusion of the performance a collection was taken for the benefit of the prisoners.

Reports of committees were heard and passed upon and resolutions in memory of William H. Locke, late president of the Philadelphia National League club, were adopted. One change made in the association's constitution allows class AA leagues to adopt special forms of contracts. This opens up a way for the contracts of the class AA teams to be made uniform with those of the minor leagues.

Several changes in the association's rules governing the sale of players from class C and D leagues to minor leagues of higher classification, were suggested, but no definite action was taken as a change in the national agreement is involved. The matter probably will be taken up when the national meet and the national commission meet in conference. The Columbus American association team released one, Otto Dodd, who came from the Texas league. He goes to the San Antonio club.

CARL MORRIS WILL DEFEND TITLE WHICH HE HAS ASSUMED

Carl Morris, the Oklahoma giant who the other day made the interesting statement that he would now lay claim to the heavyweight championship of the world, is soon to have a chance to defend his title. Morris is announced will meet Jess Willard in New York the first week of December. They were originally matched for a bout in Milwaukee, but the fight was called off, owing to the promoters being unwilling to give the price demanded by the principals.

The reasons given by Morris and his manager are that they think the gate in New York will draw close onto $25,000, and that, even if they are forced to wait four weeks, would be a deal better than an exceedingly smaller one in the western city. Willard is at present in California, where he has been present at the inquest of Bill Young's death, but it is believed that he will start east immediately. Willard lost a twenty-round decision in Fresno several months back to Gusman Smith. Reports at the time credit the fight as being a close one, and that the loser could have hardly had less than a draw and been justly treated. This coupled with Morris' showing in his bout with the Gumbert party a few weeks back, which Morris lost on an alleged foul, looks as if the coming meeting of the heavyweights is sure to be as much of a success as any that could be staged between the present crop of boxers.

Morris, after Smith had refused to meet him under any circumstances, is reported as saying that he would claim the heavyweight title and meet all comers. Willard to be the first. While Carl's claim to the title of the most iron-clad fighter, they are about as stout as any that are being presented, and the coming scrap is sure to be of interest in the pugilistic world.

DENVER NEWSPAPER MEN TELL HOW TO SETTLE STRIKE

In Solemn Conclave They Pass Resolutions Which Only Need Sanction of Both Sides to Put an End to Trouble.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Denver, Nov. 13.—After an all day session during which both sides of the coal mine strike were presented to the editors of practically all the larger newspapers in Colorado, the newspaper men tonight adopted a resolution declaring that the present strike should be called off immediately and that the union should give up its demand of recognition by the operators, that the union should abandon its claim for higher wages, and that the operators should guarantee the miners the unprejudiced right to join the union, trade at any store, have their own check weighman, limit their hours to eight hours a day, and to the enforcement of all laws relating to the coal mine industry in this state.

In the resolutions which were almost unanimously adopted, Governor Ammons is commended for his action in sending troops to the strike zone and is requested to strengthen the state militia to the strength necessary to preserve order and peace in the state. Trial by court martial for all persons charged with violation of laws in connection with the strike is urged.

City Attorney F. N. Stevens late today notified the city commissioners that they would be acting entirely within their rights if they proceeded to buy coal by the train load and retail it, or buy or lease mine property and market the product provided the city sold at net cost, taking no profit. The request of the city commissioners, who wished to know if they could do something to alleviate the increasing cost of coal. The commissioners tomorrow will consider further action in the matter.

Practically all the afternoon session of the editorial meeting was taken up by Mr. Osgood in an arraignment of events of violence which have occurred since the strike was called.

By vote of the editors present, John McElannan, united mine worker official, was asked to tell the union side of the controversy. Mr. McElannan dwelt upon the demands of the union which are being made upon the operators and attempted to justify the union's position.

At the close of Mr. McElannan's talk, the editors went into executive session to consider a vote on resolutions which would voice the sentiments and opinions of the majority present. A committee consisting of John G. Shaffer, of the Rocky Mountain News and Denver Times; L. C. Padlock, Boulder Camera; Frank S. Hagg, Pueblo Star Journal; and H. E. Rowden, Trinidad Advertiser, was appointed to draft the resolutions which later were adopted by the editors as a basis upon which their opinions concerning the strike would be expressed.

Clarence H. Dodge, Colorado Springs Gazette; C. H. Newell, Denver Express and George Homer, Fort Morgan Herald, made their opposition to the resolutions a matter of record.

STRIKE BRINGS KENEHAN BACK TO DENVER

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 12.—Ruddy Kenehan, state auditor of Colorado, a delegate of the International Horse Showers Union to the American Federation of Labor convention, has been called to Denver on account of a controversy over payment of the militia in the coal strike district. Kenehan declares he will not issue certificates to pay the guardians until the court of last resort decides it.

"I have no right to issue certificates bearing interest in order to pay the militia for its service in putting down a strike," Kenehan said. "If the state of Colorado wants the militia paid, let the legislature make an appropriation."

METHODISTS TO SEND MISSIONARIES TO MEXICO

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Denver, Ill., Nov. 13.—That the subscription of the Methodist church will go into Mexico as soon as the present crisis is over and try to prevent further revolutions and uprisings through the workings of the Christian religion, was the decision made by the general committee of the foreign missions board of the Methodist church at its closing session here today. The final meeting was spent in making a division of the $2,400,000 appropriation among the many districts of the foreign field. The board authorized the payment of a debt of $80,000 on the Methodist church in Rome.

Within a few hours after it had been announced that the board had appropriated $19,045 in excess of the regular appropriation for Chinese missions, a check was received from an unnamed donor to apply this sum. This will leave only $4,000 of the Chinese fund to be taken care of by the undersigned if the contributions for the next year do not meet the excess appropriation.

HANDSOME WOMAN BELIEVED TO BE A DIAMOND THIEF

New York Police Claim to Have Unearthed Hundred Thousand Dollar Swindle; Had Male Confederate.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) New York, Nov. 13.—With the disappearance of a young woman who was received in fashionable homes in Fifth avenue and the discovery by the police of many diamonds in flower shops, a diamond swindle amounting to more than $100,000 is believed to have been uncovered. A woman with whom the young woman formed a partnership for the sale of diamonds on memorandum also is missing. The grand jury will begin an investigation tomorrow.

The activity of the police in the case resulted from the arrest Saturday of Francis Cocks, a diamond broker, charged with withholding diamonds entrusted to him by another broker. Cocks' explanation was that he gave the diamonds to the young woman to sell and that she had not returned them. Other brokers then told of having given the woman diamonds to sell on commission and a search of pawn shops resulted in finding about nine thousand dollars worth of the gems.

The woman, who is described as about thirty years old and handsome, began selling diamonds on memorandum in a small way two years ago and last year her sales are said to have amounted to more than $500,000. Her first dealings with the broker began by small purchases. Soon she began taking out larger stones saying that she had left them at various fashionable homes for approval. As her accounts were always paid her credit finally became unlimited.

OIL COMPANIES ARE IN PRICE SLASHING WAR

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) St. Louis, Nov. 13.—The St. Louis Republic will say tomorrow that a price-slashing war has been opened in Missouri between the Standard Oil company of Indiana and the Pierce Oil corporation of Missouri.

The latter company is the successor to the Western-Pierce Oil company, through which the Standard Oil company did business in eastern Missouri before the supreme court ordered the reorganization of those companies and banished the standard of Indiana from this state.

The price of coal oil has been cut from 8 to 7 cents a gallon and gasoline from 17 1/2 to 14 1/2 cents a gallon by the standard which, on promise of "good behavior" recently secured permission to resume business in Missouri.

The Standard sent out the first price list to the trade on November 19, cutting the prices quoted by the Pierce Oil corporation about 20 per cent. The following day the Pierce Oil corporation sent out a circular. Both companies hold large oil properties in Texas and Oklahoma. The Pierce corporation is backed by the Rothschilds of London.

INDIGESTION, GAS, DYSPEPSIA GONE

"Pape's Diapepsin" Fixes Sick, Sour, Gassy Stomachs in Five Minutes.

Wonder what ails your stomach—whether portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in revolt, if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head aches and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your food limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go off and on with a weak, disordered stomach. ## CARRANZA WILL NOT ACCEPT OFFERS OF MEDIATION

Under No Circumstances Will Constitutionalist Chief Enter Into Communication With Provisional President Huerta

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Sonora, Mexico, Nov. 13.—Internal war focused upon official Washington tonight by the actors in the exchanges between President Wilson and General Carranza, through William Haydon Hale, it was considered probable that the next step would come either in the form of an announcement from the American capital or a resumption of the negotiations in Nogales between Mr. Hale and the constitutionalist chief.

Carranza, the officers of his staff and the members of his provisional cabinet went about their routine of business today. Mr. Hale divided his time between his hotel on the American side and the American consulate, chatting with Consul Frederick Simplician and callers.

General Carranza referred to the Mexican situation only once today. "I will not enter into transactions with the Huerta government directly or indirectly," he said, "nor will I accept the mediation of anybody."

The military leaders here were cheered tonight by what they considered significant news from the south. General Pablo Gonzales, constitutionalist commander in the state of Nuevo Leon and Tamaulipas reported to General Carranza that his troops had taken twenty-one towns, routed the federalists in two decisive battles and captured two military trains with large supplies of munitions. General Gonzales said that at present his forces were marching against Victoria, capital of Tamaulipas.

Colonel Gustavo Garmentia, who was a prominent actor at the time of the Mexico City rising against Madero was killed in leading his insurgent command against Cuernavaca, according to a report generally credited here.

General Alvaro Bregon, former commander of Sonora state troops, was reported wounded slightly.

M'ANIGAL IN DETROIT ACCORDING TO NEWSPAPER

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Detroit, Nov. 13.—Orville E. McManis, dynamite, whose confession aided in sending the McNamara brothers to San Quentin prison and thirty-three other union labor officials to Leavenworth penitentiary, was in Detroit Wednesday or Thursday of this week, according to a story which will appear in the Detroit Free Press tomorrow morning. McManis was released from the county jail at Los Angeles November 3.

McManis was accompanied, it is said, by Detective Malcolm McLaren, who arrested the dynamite in this city three years ago. On a train running between Detroit and Buffalo, it is said, McManis and McLaren were joined by Detective William J. Burns, and the three men held a conference regarding McManis's future movements. It is understood McManis intended to cross the Canadian border at Buffalo and that his ultimate destination is London, England.

ROSWELL MAN SECRETARY AT GOOD ROADS MEETING

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) St. Louis, Nov. 13.—Although most of its officers and many of the delegates have departed, the United States Good Roads association voted today to continue the sessions of its annual convention through Saturday, as originally scheduled. The motion to adjourn was made by L. W. Lentz, of Monroe, Mich., who declared unless the meetings were ended at once, the last three days of the convention might prove a miserable fizzle.

In the absence of the president and treasurer, who returned to their homes last night, S. Horton Colcock, dean of education of the University of South Carolina, presided today, and S. M. Johnson, of Roswell, New Mexico, acted as secretary.

This was "farmers' day" and the principal address was made by Thomas C. Wilson, of the Missouri state board of agriculture. He said: "Good roads and good sense go hand in hand. Good roads cost money, but they make money. They mean as much to the state and nation as to the individual. The expense, therefore, should be divided among the three."

The American Apple Growers' association will meet tomorrow in conjunction with the Good Roads conference.

REORGANIZATION OF ORIENT RAILROAD IS PLANNED

Attorneys Representing Bondholders and Stockholders Submit Proposal to Federal Judge in Kansas City

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 13.—Attorneys representing bondholders and stockholders of the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railroad, and construction and financial interests concerned with the future of that line, were here today to lay before Judge John C. Pollock, of the federal court in Kansas City, Kan., a proposal for the reorganization of the road.

The Orient was placed under a receivership in March, 1912, and is now under the direction of eleven receivers, three separate sets having been appointed to control its properties in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Mexico.

A tentative agreement was submitted to Judge Pollock, the terms of which set forth that the bondholders proposed to give the construction companies $1,000,000 in common stock, $1,500,000 in adjustment bonds in the reorganized company and to assume a debt aggregating $1,575,000.

Judge Pollock told the attorneys to secure the signatures of every one concerned in the agreement, together with the endorsement of the trustees in bankruptcy and return the agreement to him.

"No one is more anxious to end this receivership than the court," said Judge Pollock. "But the agreement must be properly signed to make it binding before I will act."

The attorneys concerned left for New York City tonight, where the formal agreement will be formulated.

The Brazilian explorer, Rondon, will accompany the party and act as guide.

CURRENCY COMMITTEE IS WORKING ON BILL

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Washington, Nov. 13.—The two wings of the senate banking and currency committee worked steadily today preparing separate currency bills to be presented to the senate. Senator Owen and the five other democratic members of the committee who have supported the administration struggled to reconcile their differences and agree on the bill which the president wants. Senator Hitchcock and the five republicans on the committee began perfecting a measure based on the amendments the committee had already adopted but which were obnoxious to the president. When the committee met this morning, the administration democrats repaired to Senator Hollis' office, leaving Senator Hitchcock and the republicans in possession of the committee room.

No program has been arranged, but a joint meeting of the two camps probably will be held Saturday and an attempt will be made to outline a course of action.

AMERICAN COLLEGE CONFERS HONORS ON SURGEONS

Exalted Pledge Is Taken by Members on Joining Organization; Eminent Foreign Physicians Are Present.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Chicago, Nov. 13.—Fellowships were conferred tonight on 1,030 of the leading surgeons of the United States at the opening of the American College of Surgeons. The surgeons were dressed in robes of scarlet and blue. They made an impressive appearance as they appeared before President J. M. T. Finney, of Baltimore, and received their degrees.

Sir Rickman J. Godlee, of London, president of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, clad in the regalia of his office, extended felicitations of the English society. A reception of fellows and guests by Sir Rickman and officers of the college followed the ceremony.

The object of the American college is to raise the standard of surgery in America. The establishment of a course in surgery in American medical universities, and legislation requiring medical men to take this course before they can be licensed to practice, will be sought.

"Recognizing that the American College of Surgeons seeks to exemplify, enforce and develop the highest traditions of our calling, I hereby pledge myself, and a condition of fellowship in the college, to live in strict accordance with its principles, declarations and conditions," reads the pledge each fellow signed.

"In particular I pledge myself to pursue the practice of surgery with thorough self-restraint and to place the welfare of my patients above all else; to advance constantly in knowledge by study of surgical literature, interchange of opinion among associates and attendance on the important societies and clinics; to regard scrupulously the interests of my judgment; to render willing help to my colleagues and give freely my services to the needy."

"I pledge myself to avoid the sins of selfishness, to shun unwarranted publicity, dishonest money-making and commercialism as disgraceful to our profession; to refuse utterly all secret money trades with consultants and practitioners; to teach the patient his financial duty to his physician and to urge the practitioner to obtain his reward from the patient openly; to make no fees commensurate with services rendered and with the patient's rights, and to avoid discrediting my associates by taking unwarranted compensation."

This was the statement brought here tonight by Lambert upon his return from the national capital and New York, where he also secured for the aviation reserve the endorsement of the board of governors of the Aero Club of America, Lambert said. Secretary Daniels, of the Navy, Gen. O. Scriven, chief of the signal corps, and Gen. After the regular session of congress convenes, Lambert will ask the military committee of the lower house for an appropriation of $5,400,000 to establish, equip and maintain an adequate aviation corps. Secretary Daniels will be Mr. Lambert's guest in St. Louis next Thursday.

COUNTY OFFICIALS OFFICER 666 WILL HAVE NO 'HOWL' PLAY TONIGHT AT SAYS GOVERNOR ELKS THEATER

State Executive Declares Auditor's Report Was Public Property When Filed at His Office.

That officials of San Miguel and Pecos counties, charged with laxity by the traveling auditor, have no "howl" was all that Gov. W. C. McDonald said to say last night—after publication. The governor did have something else to say, but he asked not to be quoted.

The governor, accompanied by James A. French, state engineer, and Adj. Gen. H. T. Herring, newly appointed, arrived here yesterday evening from Santa Fe in an automobile. The governor and Mr. French remained here to attend the New Mexico bankers' association banquet, but the adjutant general continued on to Roswell in the car.

Replying to a remark that the auditor's report had brought retorts from Eddy and San Miguel county officials, just and present, the executive said that the reports were public property when filed in his office and that reporters took them. Even if he had given them out the officials would not have any cause for complaint, he said.

The governor then abruptly ended the interview by going upstairs.

Mr. French, who was programmed to give an address before the bankers last night, took advantage of the trip incidentally to inspect the Albuquerque-Santa Fe road. A force of convicts and workmen employed on the Belmarillo county road board recently have improved this stretch of road. It is one of the best pieces of roadway in New Mexico, according to the engineer.

Adjutant General Herring will return to Santa Fe in a few days to make his home there, according to the governor.

Mr. Coons will be manager in charge of the enlarged district. He will bring here from the general district offices at Phoenix, James J. Walsh, agency cashier, and Thurman Bates, assistant cashier. The Phoenix office will be reduced to a branch collecting agency.

The company's offices here will be in the rooms formerly occupied by the Montezuma Trust company, Second street and West Gold avenue. The place will be renovated.

GREAT VALUES IN USED PIANOS

Local Music House Is Showing Some Extraordinary Bargains in Instruments of the Highest Grade.

Those Albuquerque people who are allowing the question of price to interfere with their ownership of a good piano will be interested in the announcement of some really extraordinary values in used pianos—now on display in the salerooms of the Leonard-Lindemann company. These instruments, most of them of the very highest grade, have either been returned by people who had rented them for a comparatively short time or taken in exchange for player-pianos. The extraordinary character of the values offered may be suggested by the statement that square pianos may be had at from $10 up and uprights at from $100 up.

At Meeting Held in Santa Fe Resolutions Endorsing Director Are Adopted; Attacks Are Condemned.

Whereas, For the past fifteen years, the Archaeological Society of New Mexico in accordance with the aim of its founders and its declaration of purposes, has sought to preserve the historic and prehistoric remains, ancient monuments and noted landmarks of the southwest, and to promote archaeological and ethnological research, and to collaborate with the state and national governments, state institutions, scientific and educational organizations and private individuals with that end in view, and

Whereas, This society has considered carefully the recent attacks upon Dr. Edgar L. Hewett as published in the Santa Fe New Mexican and has become convinced that these attacks are unfair in manner, biased in motive and might if not contravened, result in the ultimate removal of the School of American Archaeology from Santa Fe, and

Whereas, It is our opinion that this community as a whole deprecates these attacks upon Dr. Hewett and is not in sympathy with them, either as regards their manner, motive or substance, and

Whereas, Dr. Edgar L. Hewett, director of the School of American Archaeology, has proved an indomitable leader, unwavering, loyal and with a vision and aptitude that has inspired his collaborators with enthusiasm to accomplish the purposes for which the society was founded, and may be gauged from the location in Santa Fe of the School of American Archaeology, the founding of the Museum of New Mexico, the restoration of the Palace of the Governors, the placing of exhibits that are drawing to Santa Fe the eyes of the world, the excavation of the cliff dwellings with their archaeological treasures, the reaching out of the school in its work as far south as Honduras and as far north as Alaska, thereby making invaluable contributions to the knowledge of prehistoric man in America, the acquisition for the school and museum of priceless relics and art treasures and historic sites, and

Whereas, The school and museum have been successful in training men and women for serious scientific work, in publishing to the world the result of research work in twenty-three monographs and other publications, in interesting a wide public in the sciences of archaeology and ethnology, in establishing a summer school that promises to bring to Santa Fe great throngs of earnest people, and all this primarily through the instrumentality of Dr. Hewett, and

Resolved, That the managing committee of the school are the proper authorities who should pass upon the management of the school, being entrusted therewith by the Archaeological Institute of America; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Archaeological Society of New Mexico urge upon the managing committee of the School of American Archaeology the necessity of retaining Dr. Edgar L. Hewett at the head of the school and in order that the continuity of his successful methods and plans be assured and be brought to the abundant fruition now apparent, that he be assured of a continuous tenure of office similar to that given to the director of the School of Oriental Archaeology in Jerusalem, and be it further

Resolved, That we urge upon the managing committee the desirability of locating the School of American Archaeology at Santa Fe permanently, so as to bring about the best results for the growth and prosperity of the school, and be it further

Clancy, who represents the state of New Mexico in the boundary dispute hearing before Commissioners Hovey and Baker in El Paso, has it that up to Tuesday evening only one witness had been examined and that at this rate it will take three months to get in all the testimony.

The state of New Mexico has some fifty witnesses and the state of Texas that many, too.

Lands valued at $3,000,000 are at stake in the controversy which revolves on the exact location of the Rio Grande in 1850 and the exact line of the federal survey of 1852. Felipe Madrid, an aged man who cannot speak English, was the first witness who was still on the stand on Wednesday morning.

The testimony taken will be presented direct to the United States supreme court. Attorney General Clancy has prepared a very strong case on behalf of New Mexico.

No fussy bandages, no greasy salves to turn healthy flesh "peels" and raw, no plasters that make corns bulge out. Your corns won't "pull" and hurt way up to your heart. Lay aside your knife and razor. No more digging and tugging and wheeing, no more bleeding, no more danger of blood poison. "GETS-IT" never hurts healthy flesh; it is safe, painless, quick, simple, sure. For warts, calluses and bunions, too. "GETS-IT" is sold at all druggists at 25 cents a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

To prevent disease—resist disease germs

SMALLPOX is prevented by vaccination — the injection of vaccine.
DIPHTHERIA is prevented by the injection of anti-toxin.
These enable the body to produce substances which prevent the growth of smallpox and diphtheria germs in the blood.
There are many other diseases, nearly, if not quite as dangerous, and far more common — typhoid fever, the grippe, bronchitis, pneumonia, catarrh, rheumatism, and a score of others — that can be prevented less painfully and more easily by making the body strong to resist germ infection.

Olive Oil Emulsion (With Hypophosphites)

Is designed for the prevention as well as the relief of disease — by enabling the body to overcome the germs. It, at the same time, strengthens and tones the nerves, nourishes the blood, puts the entire system into a proper healthy condition to combat and successfully resist disease.

Every person not in perfect health has incipient germs of some distressing ailment in his or her system.
Cold weather, over-work, excesses of any kind, are liable to bring about just the conditions under which those latent disease germs will get the upper hand, and put you on your back "down sick."
You who are run-down, tired-out, nervous — You who, though not sick enough to give up, still don't feel good — You who are apparently well, and want to stay well — Take home a bottle of Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion today, and use it as a means to get well and keep well.
Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is a real nerve-food tonic.
In this it is different from most other so-called "tonics" which either have no food value and do nothing more than temporarily stimulate you, leaving you in a worse condition than before or, having food value, still are so unpleasant to take that many people can't keep them down.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is pleasant to take. The Hypophosphites it contains tone the nerves. The pure Olive Oil nourishes both nerves and blood.
Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion strengthens you, puts snap and ginger and vitality into your system. It makes you feel better and stronger. It improves your digestion and your bowel action.
It contains no alcohol nor any dangerous or habit forming drugs.
It is guaranteed to be just as represented above — to do all that is claimed above — to satisfy you in every way, or your money back without quibble or question.
Enough for full two weeks' treatment, $1.00.
Sold only at The Rexall Stores — the World's greatest Drug Stores — and always with a full guarantee of complete satisfaction, or your money back.

The president and Mr. Bryan take a very high ground and assert that Mr. Pindell's appointment is based on the merit of the man and that it can not be defeated by flamboyant publications in yellow journals.

And so, with the possible exception of the discharged employee of Senator Lewis, everybody ought to be happy.

MRS. PANKHURST'S CHANGE.

The contrast between Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst in America and Mrs. Pankhurst in England opens up an interesting field of conjecture.

Veracious reports of this lady's activities on the other side of the Atlantic have pictured her as little less than a monster in petticoats—a firebrand of anarchy and a fury of hate before whom the forces of organized society quailed in terror. Her bold assumption of responsibility for the burning of the residence of Lloyd-George and her open and repeated advocacy of lawlessness in furthering the cause of woman suffrage have gone far to strengthen this opinion of her.

Viewed in the flesh in her appearances before American audiences, Mrs. Pankhurst is seen as a gentle-mannered old lady with strong convictions and a vigorous way of expressing them, but with nothing about her suggesting the torrential, much less the foe of law and order. Nowhere have her public utterances taken an incendiary turn or been of a nature to inflame her hearers to deeds of lawlessness. She is still an agitator, but an agitator wholly within the law.

It should not be inferred from that that the free air of America has brought any change in this remarkable woman or caused her to take a different view of the methods to be pursued in the effort to gain the suffrage for her sex. Her own explanation of the apparent metamorphosis in her in perhaps about as accurate as possible. Briefly, it is about as follows: In America there is no occasion or need for militancy, for the temper of the people and the system of government afford ample opportunity for the expression of the popular will on this subject. In England, on the other hand, nothing less than the most violent measures will suffice to shock British pig-headedness and stubbornness to the point of even contemplating a change in the existing order of things.

There may be more in this view than would be apparent at first glance. Certain it is that what is known by the admirers of the British people as conservatism, and by others as blind stupidity, has been at once the blessing and the bane of that nation. The national aversion to change in the existing order of things has prevented the country from running on the rocks of ill-considered radicalism, but it has also in many instances retarded its advancement and improvement, and there is warrant for Mrs. Pankhurst's assertions in the historical fact that no great reform has ever been accomplished by the English people without bloodshed and revolution.

Why the English authorities have never permitted the question of woman suffrage to come squarely before the country as an issue in an election is a mystery. It is extremely probable that the measure would be defeated, and the issue put at rest for many years. The attitude of stern repression which is being pursued will be much more apt to hasten woman suffrage than to defeat it.

And getting back to Mrs. Pankhurst, it is very fortunate that the authorities in the United States permitted her free entry into the country and allowed her the widest liberty while here. Mrs. Pankhurst on the lecture platform preaching the doctrines of woman suffrage is much less dangerous to the peace of the nation than Mrs. Pankhurst as a martyr crying aloud for sympathy and encouragement.

OUTSIDE OF THAT—

From the sedate and ever trustworthy Associated Press we learn that recently a train was held up on the main line of the Interoceanic railroad about 100 miles from Mexico City, that "the engineer and crew were beaten, but the passengers were not mistreated to any great extent, although they were robbed of all their valuables."

This should prove a valuable advertisement for the Interoceanic railroad. Transportation companies in this country of nervous and hysterical haste are wont to boast, when they can, that they have never killed a passenger. In Mexico they do things better. The Interoceanic, which we presume is a representative corporation, will not even allow its passengers to be mistreated by bandits—outside of the small matter of having them relieved of all their valuables.

Having secured the assurance of President Wilson and Secretary Bryan that it is all right, Mr. Pindell should worry.

Puzzle: With Contractor McGuire testifying on both sides of the case, what are the chances to get an indictment against John Doe?

There is something to be said in favor of Randy Ketchikan's position. Even the militia ought not to be allowed to receive money under false pretenses.

No wonder his amateur standing was questioned. What business has a guy named Kohlmalen in the Irish-American Athletic club? Next thing we'll hear that Lowenstein is playing ball in the Epworth league.

COST TO COLLECT TAX ON INCOMES TO BE SMALL

Treasury Officials Say That Expense Will Not Exceed Two Per Cent Annually; Vast Revenue Expected.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.
Washington, Nov. 13.—It may cost the government $2,000,000, or 2 per cent a year, to collect $100,000,000, estimated as the annual revenues of the income tax. It will not cost more than that, probably will be much less, in the opinion of officials of the treasury department. This is in reply to the assertions in certain financial circles that the tax will be collected at such an extravagant expense that not more than 50 per cent will be available for public use.

"The government has no expectation that it will cost such an extravagant amount to collect the tax," said assistant secretary Williams of the treasury department, who is in charge of the internal revenue service and aiding in drawing up the income tax regulations. Mr. Williams would make no more definite statement, saying that the cost of collection could only be ascertained in practice, and was now only a matter of speculation.

For the collection of the tax during what was left of the current fiscal year from November 1 to June 30, 1914, $500,000 has been appropriated by congress. While it may be difficult to make this sum go all the way, the income tax division will expend it with care, and it is hoped that it will meet the necessities of the situation.

One of the questions involved in the interpretation of the income tax law is the status of a man who marries during the course of any year. The problem presented is whether he is entitled to exemption of $3,000 as a single man, or $4,000 as a married man—whether his exemption will be prorated according to his status when single or when married. While this question has not yet come up for consideration by the income tax division, it appears likely that the exemption of $4,000 for the entire year will be granted to a married man, whether his marriage took place during the year or before. To differentiate would be likely to complicate the task of collection, and possibly add to the expense. The simplest method it is indicated, will appeal to the interpreters of the law.

The problems arising out of the income tax law are bothering stock brokers as well as bankers, and, in fact, all who have anything to do with the current business in stocks and bonds. The daily transactions in bonds at the stock exchange as well as the business done over the counters, involve questions about which there is still a good deal of uncertainty.

As an instance, one broker pointed out the case of a man who buys a bond, the coupon on which becomes payable a few days later. In accordance with the rules regulating such a sale, the seller is allowed the accrued interest up to the day of the sale. But then a few days later, when the buyer presents the coupon to be cashed, he is called upon, unless he is exempt under the law, to pay the tax on the interest which he has not received.

How such an injustice is to be corrected is believed to be for the buyer, especially of large blocks of the bonds, to require of the seller as a preliminary to the transfer the payment of the tax. It is thought that in the case of the small buyer the amount of the tax would be such a trifling sum that it will not be considered.

There is another practical phase of the matter which relates to the payment of the tax on coupons containing the guarantee of the company insuring the bonds that there will be no deduction from the interest payment. The gas company of this city—and it is said the Capital Traction company will take the same position—holds that the income tax is not such a deduction as comes within the meaning of the guarantee given by the company; hence it refuses to pay the tax on the coupons which became due the first of the month.

The only way in which this construction of the terms of the agreement of the company with the purchaser of the bonds can be tested is by some bondholder bringing a case in court. The United States is slow company gas decided to pay the tax, but as far as the government is concerned it is said at the treasury that it does not make any difference who pays the tax, as long as the payment is made from some source.

In these and in other ways the practical workings of the law are gradually being developed, but it is quite evident to trust companies and others who act as fiscal agents, or corporations that the cost of making the interest payments will be much greater under this law than ever before, because of the additional work that will be required each interest period in seeing that each coupon is accompanied with a certificate of exemption, or the tax money is secured.

"Interest upon obligations of the United States or its possessions, or of any state, county, city or other political subdivision thereof, is not subject to income tax."

This is the text of a brief treasury decision, announced a few days ago, interpreting the income tax provisions of the tariff law. In view of this decision the following instructions to collectors of internal revenue have been issued by the internal revenue bureau:

"It has been called to the attention of this office that banks in certain sections are refusing to pay coupons for interest on bonds of state, counties, cities or other political subdivisions of the United States, when such coupons are not accompanied by certificates of the owners, without deducting the owners a sum of 1 per cent, which the law and the regulations of this department require shall be deducted at the source in paying the interest on bonds of corporations, joint stock companies, or associations and insurance companies.

"Please inform all parties interested, giving the information the widest possible publicity, that the income derived from the interest upon the obligations of a state, county, city or any other political subdivision thereof, and upon the obligations of the United States or its possessions, is not subject to the income tax, and a certificate of ownership in connection with the coupons or registered interest orders for such interest will not be required.

"The interest coupons should clearly show on their face whether they are issued by the United States or any political subdivision thereof. If, however, they do not clearly show this, then, of course, an ownership certificate should be required."

SECUNDINO ROMERO ADDRESSES LETTER TO TRAVELING AUDITOR

The Journal is in receipt of a copy of a letter addressed by Secundino Romero, former sheriff of San Miguel county, to Howell Earnest, traveling auditor, in which Mr. Romero challenges charges contained in the traveling auditor's report, following an examination of the county records. The letter follows:

ESQ. LEE VERNER, N. M., Nov. 12, 1913.
Mr. Howell Earnest, Traveling Auditor, Santa Fe, New Mexico.
Sir:—I have seen a copy of your report to the governor of New Mexico in which you charge me, as sheriff of San Miguel county, with having received $1,315.50 of public money to which I was not entitled. In other words, you officially charge that I embezzled that amount.

Your report is not based upon any facts but upon two assumptions which you have made without investigating their truth. The first assumption, which you have falsely made, is that because the county jail contains only twelve cells, therefore I could not have had more than twelve men in jail at any one time. Whether the accounts presented for board of prisoners are true or false depends entirely upon the fact of whether I had in jail the number of prisoners charged and paid for.

The second assumption falsely made by you is that the terms of the probate court for which I charged actions were not held. Whether the terms charged for were actually held is easily susceptible of ascertainment and the fact that on page 24 of your report you say that the record of the probate court showed that no sessions of that court were held from the beginning of the fourth quarter of 1912 up to and including the second quarter of 1913, a period of approximately four years is ridiculous on its face. Terms were held and there are hundreds of men in this county who have not the professional skill a man in your official capacity is presumed to have who know that they were held.

I have no doubt but that you were advised that your report, because of its official character, would not subject you to prosecution, even if it should be deliberately false and should have the effect of publishing a monstrous libel against me. This you have done under the cloak of official immunity. If you believe that as sheriff of San Miguel county I overcharged for board of prisoners or claimed fees for attendance upon the probate court which I did not earn, you will be perfectly safe if you make the same charges unofficially and as a private individual that you have made officially. I invite you as an individual and unofficially to publish in any newspaper in the state the charges that I as sheriff of this county filed accounts and received money thereon in an amount or amounts in excess of what I had earned.

If you have confidence in the correctness of your assumptions you, as a man of honor, will by your official character and armor, failing so to do, I think you will stand convicted of a deliberate, reckless and wanton libel.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

On account of the changes made by the state board of equalization the tax rolls of Bernalillo county will not be available for collection of taxes on time. However, the attorney general of New Mexico has given the opinion that it is incumbent upon each individual tax payer to call at the treasurer's office on or before December 1st, and express his willingness to pay his taxes before he can be relieved from the penalty imposed by law.

Treasurer and ex-Officio Collector.

MEXICAN SITUATION IS REFLECTED IN MARKET

Upward Movement of Stocks Is Halted; New Haven and Mexican Petroleum Reach Lowest Prices Ever Quoted.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEARNER.)
New York, Nov. 13.—The upward movement in stocks was halted today. The market was under pressure and the range of prices was materially lower, until a swift upturn shortly before the close virtually cancelled the day's losses.

The varying aspects of the Mexican situation were reflected in the market's movements. Shortly before the end of the day's trading came reports from Washington of decidedly favorable developments which caused the market to rally strongly.

Several new low records were made on the early break. New Haven fell two points to 76 and Mexican Petroleum reached a similar amount to 41 3/4, in both cases the lowest prices at which these stocks have ever been quoted. On the final upturn, Mexican Petroleum was buoyant, jumping four points from the day's bottom price.

Sharp declines in a number of high grade stocks and bonds indicated that liquidation was well progressing, although selling of this nature was on a smaller scale than a few days ago. Further reductions in steel prices were reported.

The failure of H. B. Hollins & Co. was without effect on the stock market. Closing prices were:

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Estimates that more than 5,000,000 acres, one third of Argentina's wheat lands, had suffered serious crop damage, brought about a quick return today in wheat. Although much of the gain was afterward lost, prices closed steady at a gain of 1-4 to 3-8 to 1-2 net. Other leading staples, too, all finished at an advance—corn 1-4; oats 1-8 to 1-8 1/4, and provisions 10 to 10-1/2.

Wheat was reported an entire failure in the southern twelve departments of Buenos Ayres. In the central departments of Buenos Ayres and in the pampas, injury was said to be grave but not complete. The news, if reasonably accurate, was taken as meaning that the Argentine export surplus would be reduced to $9,000,000 bushels or less. Accordingly, there was a rush of buying that included brisk activity on the part of some of the leading houses in the trade.

Profit-taking was largely responsible for the bearish reaction of wheat in the last hour. There were also reports of fresh showers in Argentina. Some uncertainty developed, too, on account of the fact that Buenos Ayres quotations furnished no new evidence of anxiety.

Corn bulls received aid from the unseasonably mild weather over Illinois and Iowa. Shorts in the December option specially were nervous regarding the prospect of large shipments to be made from Chicago stocks, but pit transactions were small compared with the business in wheat.

There seemed to be an abundance of resting orders to buy oats whenever the market dipped. It was said signs showed an improved demand from the south.

Provisions rose as a result of unusually active speculative buying on the part of large interests. A big short among western packers was conspicuous in covering previous sales of lard.

AND STILL THEY HAND SCOOP "THAT SMALL TOWN" TALK.

The role of Myton Power. "The Golden God," which Mr. Fielding will essay, is probably the strongest part he has ever characterized. A composite of all the strength, fire, dignity, audacity and absolute power that has characterized the great men, leaders and rulers of the world will be incorporated in the makeup of "The Golden God," who is the result and culmination of this breed of rulers. Absolute, fearless, unchallenged power the part presents wonderful scope for Mr. Fielding's remarkable powers of characterization.

"Your Money Back If You Want It"

Irregularities in the official records of San Miguel county.

Celso Quintana, Pedro Pizarro and Pedro Moguel, natives of Old Mexico, who were arrested Wednesday morning by Station Master Ed Sinclair on a charge of having come here from Kansas City on a Santa Fe train on a pass made out to Pedro Lopez and family, yesterday morning were fined $15 and costs in police court. Their sentences were suspended as to the fine upon payment of costs. They paid their fare here from Kansas City.

C. G. Reum, national director of the Loyal Order of Moose, after a two days' visit in Albuquerque, left last night for El Paso. Mr. Reum says that cities of New Mexico, Arizona and West Texas are already making a strong fight to land the $2,000,000 Moose sanatorium to be built in one of the three states named and that Albuquerque must get busy at once to be in the running. While here, Director Reum conferred with Deputy National Organizer Wilbur MacConnell, who is to inaugurate a membership campaign for the local lodge.

MONEY MARKET NOT ALARMING, SAYS KANSAS CITY FINANCIER

ple are becoming, should I say, intoxicated, with reform. No small number go so far as to say, "To hell with our constitution—the constitution should not be permitted to prohibit any law that the majority want."

"That our judges and their decisions should be subject to recall; that ownership of land is a crime against society," are but samples. Unless we take the time to get our bearings and consider carefully what has been done and give the law recently enacted a chance to prove their efficacy we are apt to destroy or badly wreck the structures built by our forefathers.

We must not lose control of ourselves through intoxication. Admit that conditions are not what they might be, but we know that conditions of life are better today than they have ever been. We can afford to stop our mad rush and wait a bit, and as I said before, give the laws recently enacted a chance to show their efficacy. Evil results can too easily come from hasty action.

The natural evolution of things is presenting problems enough. The high cost of living, or the cost of high living, is reaching every civilized home on the globe. It is causing a constant readjustment of wages, resulting in a constant readjustment of the cost of production. Everybody is trying to live better, to enjoy more luxuries, and nobody is contented. We are permitting ourselves to get in an abnormal condition. To correct this we badly need a season of rest.

Just enough of this—let us forget what might be and give our thoughts to the things that are.

First, the tariff.

In the histories of the United States that will be written in the future, the year 1913 will hold a place of ever-increasing importance. Those histories must needs be largely economic histories, and this year marks the beginning of a new economic epoch. In this new epoch, we take for granted that our manufacturers can meet foreign competition, not only abroad, but at home, and that the support of foreign rivalry will increase the effectiveness of our manufacturing plants and our selling organizations; that the presence or possibility of foreign competition will lessen the incentive to form trusts in this country, particularly trusts designed chiefly to control prices, that the artificial handicap of a tax on all materials will be removed from our industrial life.

Politically speaking, the passage of the Underwood bill has a large significance. This is the first time in fifty years that the democratic party has been securely enough in power, to pass a bill embodying the cardinal principles of its creed. The passage of the tariff bill is a better evidence of this change than the election of an administration pledged to tariff reform, for although Mr. Cleveland was elected twice, he was not able to get from congress a low tariff bill, though his administration was notable, in other ways, it made no active reforms in the tariff. In politics and economics, this bill, which is already accepted and in a large measure prepared for, is perhaps the greatest change we have made in half a century, and the ease with which it is made and the quiet with which it is accepted when compared with the ways such fundamental changes are met in Europe, is good evidence of the inherent political ability of the American people.

There will be certain problems to be considered by the banks of the country as a result of this bill, problems that many men who deal entirely with credits. The removal of the tariff on wool, on cattle, on grain and on lumber requires us to consider carefully what the future effect on values will be. The advance in prices of these commodities in recent years has been tremendous. The hope of the tariff reformers is that the new tariff will result in lower prices. If this be the case, all of us dealing with the commodities, directly or indirectly affected, must give careful consideration to the probable results and advise our customers accordingly.

An important feature of the new tariff bill is the income tax. While it places a heavy burden on the banks, making them in fact collectors of a large proportion of the tax, at the same time the questions involved are not serious. They are of a minor character, and deal mainly with details.

It has been suggested that it would be well for me to make some remarks on the new income tax law, but my experience is that no one at this time knows how to interpret it, at least, the application of it. As a practical measure, it seems to be a half-baked proposition. Authorities at Washington even are changing their instructions almost daily. At this time, the collection of the income at the source seems to be the stumbling block.

The currency bill now before the senate is one which is causing more uneasiness among financial institutions than anything that has been before the American people in a generation. Without question, the bill as passed by the house is, in the main, good, but there are some features of it which raise a serious question as to whether or not it will be workable and efficient. The most dangerous feature is the contemplated political control, the compulsory subscription to capital stock; the reserve feature.

Now as to the present condition of our money market. The situation is not alarming, but it is not comfortable. There is again an over-expansion of credits, but not so great as in 1907. The fundamental cause of this trouble is the tendency of the American of today to get away from the principle of his father; not to go too heavily in debt. The American of today feels that to make big money he should borrow large sums, hoping that circumstances will naturally develop to enable him to meet his obligations. In other words, he has developed a tendency to gamble on future probabilities.

I am more familiar with the banks of the southwest than any other section, and I know this tendency to over-expand is true in all localities. New Mexico is no exception. It is up to the banks to readjust this condition. Unfortunately, the banks of the country have permitted themselves to become contaminated with this desire to get rich quick, and too often they are entering into speculative deals outside of their banking business. The man, when he enters the banking business, should make up his mind definitely to limit his endeavors to his profession, and not be influenced to give his time or resources to outside deals, especially of a speculative nature. The bankers of the reserve cities are finding an increasing tendency among bankers to become side partners in deals which their banks are financing. Where these cases are discovered, the parties interested are being cautioned. Such methods can only result in disaster. This condition applies to the entire southwest and I can safely say that it is also applicable in some instances to the banks of New Mexico. In their desire to make large profits, bankers are taking on proposition of a non-liquid nature, are losing their loans, too often on assets that cannot be realized upon readily. As time goes on, they are adopting the policy of looking to their correspondents instead of their note files, for funds upon which to operate. This results in a general accumulation of credits, and I think largely that is the basis of our present troubles. I believe I am safe in saying that the reserve cities today are carrying more redemptions from their correspondents than ever in the country's history. This is a dangerous situation, and must be corrected.

The American people of the present generation operate on borrowed capital. If you tell a man he is borrowing too much money he laughs at you. That condition applies not only to the individual but to our municipalities and our large corporations also. The market to a certain extent is unstable, the securities are undecimated, but I am satisfied that these things will soon work themselves out. I do not feel there is any extreme cause for alarm, but I think that we should all work together. We should be careful and get our business in order, take hold of things and eliminate the dangers.

WIFE ASKS DIVORCE; SAYS HUSBAND IS EX-CONVICT

In Complaint Filed in District Court Mrs. Altagracia Nuanes Alleges Spouse Was Convicted of Felony.

Her husband, Procopio Nuanes, served a term in the New Mexico state penitentiary, alleges Mrs. Altagracia Nuanes in a complaint filed yesterday in the district court, asking for divorce. Nuanes has been discharged from prison, but she has not lived with him since the "commission of the felony," she says.

Nuanes according to his wife's complaint, was convicted at the September 1909, term of the district court here of assault upon another woman and sentenced to serve three and one-half years at Santa Fe.

FATHER OF MANUEL U. VIGIL NAMED AS TRINIDAD POSTMASTER

Press dispatches yesterday carried the nomination of J. U. Vigil to be postmaster at Trinidad, Colo. The new appointee is the father of Manuel U. Vigil, district attorney of Bernalillo county, and is well known here, having participated in the state campaign here in 1911, doing valiant work for the democratic state and county ticket.

Mr. Vigil is one of the leading citizens of Trinidad and his appointment to be postmaster of that city is a merited one.
