ELEVENS OF YALE CRIMSON WARRIORS AND HARVARD ARE READY FOR FRAY
RULE FAVORITES
OVER OLD ELIFootball Classic of Eastern College Gridirons Will Be Staged Today at Crimson
Stadium.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE)

New York, Nov. 21.—The Harvard stadium is the scene toward which all faithful football followers in the east will turn tomorrow. On the green turf of that arena surrounded by lowering walls of humanity, will come the climax of the gridiron season—the meeting of Harvard and Yale. There is the same undergraduate interest and rivalry in the Wesleyan-Trinity, Syracuse-Cattell, Army-Springfield, and Navy-New York university games, but the fame and tradition of the gridiron classic at Cambridge overshadows all other contests of the day.

Yale now believes that her team has an excellent chance of defeating the Cambridge combination. Harvard, however, goes into the game tomorrow with a season's record unmarred by defeat. Except in the contest with Princeton, played on a slippery field, the full strength of the Harvard combination has not been tested this autumn. In the eight games to date Harvard has rolled up a total of 210 points to her opponents' 15.

Compared individually the Harvard players do not appear as formidable against the Yale eleven as the teamwork and scores would seem to indicate. Of the two backfields the Crimson quartet is undoubtedly the stronger and more versatile, both on offense and defense.

In the line there is not the same advantage for the Crimson that exists in the backfield and any particular weakness that might be exposed by the savage charges of the Yale forwards will have an important bearing on the result of the game. Unless Logan, Brickett and Mahan have time to handle the ball cleanly and gain headway, their effectiveness will be greatly curtailed.

Against Princeton the Harvard line developed unexpected weakness on both offense and defense and it was only in this contest with the Tigers that the Crimson was put to a real test. The shift formations of Princeton puzzled Harvard's forwards and the team were unable to check the advance until well in the second quarter when the heavy rain and resultant slippery field robbed the Tigers of much of their speed. It was in this emergency that the secondary defense came to the fore so valiantly.

That the teams will play a hard-fought game from the opening whistle is expected. Yale is likely to attempt to upset the Harvard combination by savage attacks and tackling at the very onset of the contest. If the Crimson is to maintain its composure and deliberate machine-like play during these early onslaughts one crisis in the contest will have been safely passed, for Yale has no great respect for the slow but sure methods that have proved irresistible in all games this season with the one exception of the Princeton contest.

Aside from the Harvard-Yale game, the chief interest of eastern football enthusiasts will be centered in the showing of the Army and Navy teams, which meet one week from tomorrow.

Rival Football Teams of Yale and Harvard Fit on Eve of Clash Which Will Decide Football Honors of Year.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE)

Houston, Nov. 21.—Not in many years has this staid New England city shown the strains of excitement that prevail on the eve of the thirty-fourth game between the football elevens of Harvard and Yale universities. The question of weather conditions for the game is temporarily of far more importance than any old-fashioned football game.

Incidentally the local weather man is diffident. He coyly admits that it may be warm and clear tomorrow afternoon or cold and rainy.

Ticket speculators are receiving from $25 to $50 a pair for the few seats in their possession and every one of the 47,000 persons who expect to witness the game, appears to be anxious to water "just a trifle" on the outcome. Odds range from 7 to 10 to 1 to 2 on Harvard, with a preponderance of Crimson currency in evidence.

The Yale team and subs are spending the night at Ashburton and an air of confidence pervades the quarters.

Harvard's varsity and sub-players have hidden themselves within the domain of the Vesper club on an island in the Merrimack river, near Lowell.

The opening lineup appear to be the source of great worry, for the Yale coaches. Some doubt exists as to whether Carver or Brann will be at right end for the fullbacks, the team line football men who have Quarney or Knowles may start at right halfback. A rumor prevailed in Yale circles that a shift in formation might be expected about 2 o'clock Saturday.

WIZARD FIVE BEATS IMPERIAL LAUNDRY TEAM BY FIVE POINTS

The Wizard Five defeated the Imperial Laundry bowling team last night by the score of 2,268 pins to 2,263 pins. The bowling of DeLorimer of the Imperial team was the feature of the evening. DeLorimer rolled 205 in the second game. Both teams bowled steady games and not until after the last ball had rolled down the alley did the crowd of spectators realize that the Wizards had won the contest.

Even then it looked very doubtful as the small margin of five pins separated the two teams. The Wizard's manager, N. Palladino, expressed his desire to bowl a match with the local All Star team which was recently defeated by Helen after a hard fight. The composite score:

WIZARD FIVE	1	2	3	TOTAL

FOUR BIG FOOTBALL GAMES TODAY IN MIDDLE WEST
E GEERS FINISHES ANOTHER BIG YEAR AS RACE DRIVER

Chicago Must Defeat Wisconsin to Win Conference Title; Nebraska Plays Iowa and Missouri Meets Kansas.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE)

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Four big games will wind up the football championship campaign in the central states tomorrow. Leading in the race for the western conference title, Chicago must defeat Wisconsin to have her honor unchallenged for should Wisconsin win, she will claim an equal standing with the Maroons and Minnesota in the race. Minnesota at the same time to maintain her place next to Chicago, must win from Illinois.

Nebbraska's claim to the Missouri Valley championship depends on the outcome of the Kansas-Missouri game. Should Kansas defeat Missouri, Nebraska, by her victory over the Jay Hawks, will be entitled to presentence but if Missouri wins, her right to the title will equal the Nebraska claim. Meanwhile Nebraska has a battle on her hands with Iowa, that will go to show, in a measure, the relative strength of the conference and the Missouri Valley teams.

The annual game between Ames and Drake is an event of more than ordinary not in Iowa.

Purdue and Indiana fight their yearly battle tomorrow.

Notre Dame takes on the Christian Brothers eleven in a contest which should furnish the Hoosiers sufficient practice for their game with Texas on Thanksgiving day.

Other games tomorrow include Northwestern vs. Ohio State at Columbus and South Dakota vs. Creighton at Omaha.

CAPACITY CROWD WILL WITNESS LINCOLN GAME

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 21.—Lincoln holds a football crowd tonight of a dimension that threatens to tax the seating capacity on Nebraska field tomorrow, when the Cornhuskers and the team from the state that winds up the season for both teams.

ALBUQUERQUE FANS INTERESTED IN THE CHAVEZ-FOX MATCH

Albuquerque fans are awaiting the Thanksgiving day fifteen-round bout between Jimmy Fox, of San Francisco, and Benny Chavez, of Trinidad, which will be staged in Denver. Since Chavez recently fought twenty rounds with Eddie Campbell at Yonon, being the decision, and Fox has also fought Camp several times, beating him once, a line on the flat professes of Chavez, despite his defeat by Camp, will be furnished in the coming bout at Denver.

Louis Newman, manager of Chavez, is anxious to match Stanley Youakum against Pierce Matthews, either at Denver or in Albuquerque. Newman says that the Iron Man has developed a knockout swing and he believes that Youakum will yet give the top-notch lightweight trouble to retain their laurels. Youakum is to fight Leo Kelly, of St. Louis, at Denver on Wednesday night, when he is expected to win one of the best lightweights in the middle west.

THIRD WARD GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM BEATS SECOND WARD

The girls' basketball team of the Third ward defeated the girls' team of the Second ward on their home grounds yesterday by the score of 23 to 3. The winners showed good form which they acquired by hard practice. The work of the guards on the Third's team was the feature of the game. An attempt is being made to form a public school basketball league and classify the teams by weight, each school having three teams, one girls' and two boys' teams.

Veteran Reinsman Retires for Winter After Winning Stakes and Purse on Grand Circuit Totalling $53,000.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 21.—Ed Geers, the grand old man of the grand circuit, has settled here for the winter and will occupy the same training quarters that he has used during the off season for several years. Geers will spend the winter of the year with which he won the grand circuit, and already several stake prospects have been shipped to him for preparation and "sampling."

During the season ending last month Geers ranked third among the money winners, taking $53,143 of the big ring purses and stakes. He is topped only by Murphy, with $71,945, and Cox, with $60,372. It was thought that at the opening last July at North Randall Geers was certain to give the man to finish first a hard run, but within a short time not a few of his stables were ready for the far end of the season. Despite this handicap, which came in the form of catarrhal fever, Geers not only finished well up, but in every respect upheld the record that has characterized his performances on the big wheel for the past score of years.

Nice about third, being led by the same two, in placing during 1912, of his times out the veteran failed to place in the moneys in only thirty-five races. He drove a winner eighteen times, finished second on ten occasions, third on twelve and received his entrance money for a fourth position seven times, having accepted a mount in all on eighty-three occasions. This, of course, does not include the times that Geers drove outside of the circuit, as during September he took Etawah, the great 3-year-old, outside and captured several events.

Geers was at the head of the list in returning the year's largest individual money winner. While not being the largest of the grand circuit, Etawah goes into winter quarters the winner of $24,662. The little blind trotter establishes a new world's record for a 3-year-old by this amount taken, topping the record of $23,800, made by Benzetta in 1904. He was campaigned by Geers in six races and took four of them handily. The little bay was out of the money only once, that in the Western Horseman stake at Indianapolis, where he showed such a lack of form that he was drawn. Horse fanciers will remember his purchase at Cleveland at the opening of the season.

Geers' most prominent performance of the year was his capturing of the Kentucky gelding, and placed in sixth position of this event to his credit.

Reusens ranks second in the Geers string with money winners, taking $12,963, and placing the veteran driver in an exclusive class, he being the only driver to place two horses above the $10,000 mark.

His trotters as money winners followed with Anvil, Doodle Archdale, Bertha Carey and Crescote.

With his pacing string, "Pop" had cut many winners in Don Denmore and The Assessor.

Another position held by a Geers horse is that of Anvil, Frank G. Jones' black stallion, that ranks fourth with an enviable trotting record of five firsts, one second, three fourths and out of the money twice, showing that there is very little difference in the stallion's standing and what would have been another first place for the veteran reinsman. Geers seemed to get away poorly at the opening and it was not until the meeting at Kalamazoo that he forged to the front with anything that marked preceding years at racing. Here he became the favorite of all eyes in the turf world when he took the main event of the Horseman future with Etawah.

During his career on the big wheel Geers has never once been under suspicion and it is a frequent thing that he is placed behind some horse from another stable. Such a thing happened the day of his victory with Reusens in the Michigan city, when he was ordered by the judge to drive a horse in any event that had not made the most impressive showing in two heats. The horse did nothing better than fourth, but the officials were satisfied.

He is bruised and battered by many accidents on the race tracks over the country, but every year brings fresh laurels to Memphis. Half of the accidents suffered by Geers would intimidate other men, but not this man. There is no hold too small for him to try so long as there is room for his bike to pass, and the thick of the fray is just where he is always found—that is, unless he is too far in front of the field for the others to catch him.

He has a mode entirely of his own both in training and driving. Many worthless horses have been turned over to him to put through the preparatory stage, and it is not an uncommon thing for the vet to come on the circuit the next year with a horse that shows a complete reversal of form to that of the preceding season.

In driving, Geers, who always has his horse keyed for a "hard leg" over the last quarter, has a style that is known throughout the turf world. He keeps his mount as well to the front as possible, but never overtaxing his horse, leaving plenty of strength for a sprint to the wire.

TORRES CONFIDENT HE CAN HUMBLE MATTHEWS

Local Lightweight Says He Is More Than Willing to Fight St. Louis Boy Thanksgiving Day.

"You can tell my friends for me that I am more than willing to fight Pierce Matthews Thanksgiving day before the New Mexico A. C. I am confident that instead of Matthews stopping me, as he has stated, I can hang the K. C. sign on him inside the ten-round limit. I believed this when I saw Harry Shafer and Matthews fight, and I satisfied myself of my convictions in this regard when Matthews and Battling Mantell boxed a week ago. I will not quibble over any fair conditions for a match here next Thursday, and will sign any time that Director Mark Levy submits articles to me for a bout with Matthews."

The foregoing is in brief a statement made last night by Jack Torres, the champion Albuquerque lightweight. Torres is a quiet sort of boy, and fans can depend on it that he means what he says and believes implicitly that he can beat Matthews—in fact, knock him out.

That a bout between Torres and Matthews for Thanksgiving at the Elsinor would draw a capacity crowd, and would furnish the fans one of the best fights ever staged here, goes without saying. Both Matthews and Torres are willing mixers and the bout would be full of action all the way.

Director Levy, who returned last night from Santa Fe, where he was called several days ago by the serious illness of his brother, Jake Levy, declared he would make both Matthews and Torres a proposition today in an endeavor to match the two boys for next Thursday night.

Capital City Players Not to Arrive Until This Morning; Automobile Ride Postponed Until This Evening.

The A. H. S. football eleven yesterday afternoon closed its training for the game to be staged this afternoon with the Santa Fe high school team, with a light workout. The local team is in its best form now, with several weeks of practice, and a rest long enough to allow injured players to get back into their uniforms.

The Santa Fe players will arrive at 10:55 o'clock this morning on Santa Fe train No. 2. They were expected to arrive last night, and owing to the change in their plans, the automobile ride which the local high school students intended to give them this morning, was postponed until this evening.

Officials have been selected for the contest. They are R. A. Johnson, referee; George Walker, umpire; Frank Shuffelberger, head linesman. The game will start at 2:50 o'clock, at Association park.

MANTELL AND HIS MANAGER LEAVE IN RETURN TO EL PASO

Battling Mantell, the classy Brooklyn lightweight, and his manager, Jack Ross, left at midnight in return to the little home at El Paso, where the latter has several prospective matches in view for the near future. Mantell, who lost a decision to Pierce Matthews, of St. Louis, here a week ago, is one of the cleverest boys to appear in an Albuquerque ring in many months and any time he is matched with a boy of his weight the fans are assured of a good bout. Both Mantell and Ross enjoyed their stay in this city and are ready to come back at any time the Brooklyn boy can secure a match here.

GENERAL CARRANZA ROASTS WILSON IN INTERVIEW

Charges President With Attempting to Influence Huerta to Appoint Lascruain His Successor in Office.

Mexico, Nov. 21.—General Carranza, head of the Mexican constitutionalists, criticized in an interview today an alleged attempt of President Wilson to influence Carranza to appoint Lascruain as minister of foreign relations with the view of Huerta's possible retirement in his favor. He expressed doubt, however, of the accuracy of the report when questioned regarding what his position would be in such an event.

"It is impossible to believe," said Carranza, "that the president of the United States, a man of such high moral personality as is shown in his words that I have read, would initiate the political methods of a man of such low morality as Huerta."

"It is impossible to believe that President Wilson intends to act in the manner attributed to him by certain press reports that have reached me. This action would be equivalent to approving the abominable political proceedings of Huerta."

"Huerta in fact attempted to hide his treason and ambition by forcing the resignation of President Madero and Vice President Pino Suarez and then elevating Lascruain to the presidency for a few brief minutes so that he, Huerta, could be named minister of foreign relations. In this position he was enabled to usurp the power of Lascruain and clear him from the presidency."

"If President Wilson now intends to commit the same crime through the person of Lascruain, the only difference between the two is that the first was a traitor and the second is a Mexican agent with the realm of internal politics. While President Wilson makes the affair one of international politics."

SHOGUNS ARE NO MORE; LAST ONE IS DEAD

Tokyo, Nov. 21.—Prince Keiki Tokugawa, the last of the Shoguns, died today. He was born at Yedo in 1837.

Keiki Tokugawa held the exalted office of Shogun in feudal times and was commander in chief of the army for ten months in 1867. He gave up his office when the late Emperor Mutsuhito issued a decree abolishing the Shoguns and appointing the emperor's "resumption" of the government.

After his abdication, Keiki went to Shiobara, where he led a life of complete seclusion, holding himself aloof not only from all political activity, but from social functions of every description.

VERTICAL CIRCLE IS DESCRIBED IN BIPLANE

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—M. Chanteloup, an aviator, described a vertical circle in a biplane today, a feat similar to that of Adolphe Pegoud, who used a monoplane. This was the first vertical circle made in a biplane, former performances in crafts of this description being known as "loops on the wing," which left short of being vertical.

Chanteloup's flight was the most astounding since Pegoud first turned in the air. He sent his machine head downward in a corkscrew and righted when only 150 feet above the ground. The aviator said afterwards that the downward corkscrew was more difficult than the loop.

REBELS GO IN PURSUIT OF FLEEING FEDERALS

San Antonio, Nov. 21.—In their flight to Matamoros the Mexican federalists were defeated last night at Cullinan are being closely pursued by insurgents under Colonel Diez, according to messages received here today by local constitutionalists. Numerous skirmishes between the federalist rear guard and the rebel advance forces were reported, and in one of these twenty-two federalists, nearly all officers, were cut off from the main column and all either killed or wounded.

On their march north the constitutionalists repaired and put in condition for operation eighty kilometers of railroad which the federalists had torn up.

It was also reported that the Sothra government had repudiated both its own issue of fiat money and Mexican government currency in payment for export taxes yesterday. No only United States money was accepted and this at the rate of one American dollar for two Mexican.

Mr. Rockefeller was accommodated and the young woman clerk who had questioned his credit was much confused. Mr. Rockefeller smilingly reassured her, however, and said she deserved approval from her employers.

POOR CHILDREN OF TWITCHELL FIXES SANTA FE WILL BE CARED FOR DATE OF ANCIENT SANTA FE MAP

Woman's Club Arranges for Opening of Free Dispensary; Will Endeavor to Reduce Child Mortality.

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 21.—The Santa Fe Woman's club has tackled the problem of reducing the high rate of mortality among the poorer children of Santa Fe. Its committee on child welfare has enlisted the substantial aid of physicians and other citizens, and especially of the Good Sisters of Charity.

As the first step in this movement, a free dispensary will be opened for the children of the worthy poor at St. Vincent's hospital on Tuesday, December 2. It is probably the first dispensary of that kind to be established in any city of this southwest. A room has been set aside in the hospital building by the sisters, has been equipped by the club women, and the physicians who are members of the medical association, have agreed to take turns giving an hour to this work on Tuesdays and Thursdays from noon to 1 o'clock. Dr. James A. Rolfe and Dr. W. E. Harrowen will have charge during December.

Another step toward improving the health of poor children, has been the free distribution of printed pamphlets by the child welfare department to mothers, instructing them in the care of infants. The pamphlets have been printed not only in English, but also in Spanish, and have been sanctioned by the physicians. The drugists of the city have joined in the work, and a sewing school is conducted under the supervision of the department on Canal road. It is already attended by twenty to thirty enthusiastic little workers, girls ranging from 6 to 15 years. A similar school will shortly be opened in Guadalupe parish.

The matter of furnishing "underfed" children attending the schools with a glass of fresh milk during the recess period, is being considered, and a sewing school is conducted under the supervision of the department on Canal road. It is already attended by twenty to thirty enthusiastic little workers, girls ranging from 6 to 15 years. A similar school will shortly be opened in Guadalupe parish.

MAN ARRESTED FOR TAKING LIQUOR ON INDIAN RESERVATION

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 21.—Higinio Gonzalez was brought here tonight from Española, to answer a charge of introducing liquor on the Santa Clara reservation. This is the ninth case in one week for that offense.

He was brought before United States Commissioner J. P. Dunaway. The government is determined to break up the practice of selling intoxicants to the Indians and especially the Pueblos and Navajos. The former of special Indian policemen charged with suppressing the liquor traffic among the Indians will, on December 1, be increased by the employment of C. E. Lambert, of Cimarron, who is one of the most efficient men on the state's mounted police force, which goes out of existence on the first of this month.

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 21.—Socorro county public schools make an excellent showing in their annual report to the state department of education. There are forty-nine districts, of which two have six rooms, one has four rooms, three have three rooms, six have two rooms and thirty-three have one room. Of the school houses one has six rooms, one four rooms, one has three rooms, four have two rooms and forty-nine one room each. Of the seventy teachers, thirty-three are male and thirty-seven female.

Socorro is the only county where the pay of male and female teachers averages almost the same, the average pay of male teachers being $41.12 per month, and that of female teachers $40.92, the pay of the teachers ranging from $30 to $115 a month. The annual pay is $493.37 for male teachers and $491.04 for female teachers, a rather unique state of affairs as in most other jurisdictions the male teachers get more pay. Two of the teachers have life certificates, two have five years, twenty-one have one year, seventeen have two years, twenty-one have three years, and seven teachers have merely permits.

The average school term is 6.81 months, eighteen districts having school for nine months, six for eight and a half months, eight for eight months, six for seven months, ten for six months, two for five and a half months, twelve for five months, three for four months, four for three months and one for two months. Thirty-four of the school buildings are owned by the district, eighteen are rented. Of those owned, four are frame, two are brick, one is stone and twenty-seven are adobe, twenty-nine are described as good and one as fair.

Governor McInerney, of Montana, visited Lee O. Lester of Denning and Thomas W. Hanna of Lamy, notaries public.

An application to take 1,533 acre feet out of the Dry Cimarron to irrigate 226 acres in the far northern corner of the state, in Union county, made by J. W. Wiggins of Renton, Oklahoma, just across the New Mexican line, was approved today by State Engineer French.

SANTA FE CATHEDRAL BEING REDECORATED BY CHICAGO ARTISTS

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 21.—Quietly and unostentatiously the work of decorating the interior of the Roman Catholic cathedral by Chicago artists, has been in progress for three months and will be completed before the Christmas season. Something like $10,000 is being expended, but the results achieved make it seem even more magnificent and give the archdiocese a cathedral that is the most beautiful church edifice in the southwest.

The fresco work is in Roman style and the color blending is rich as well as harmonious. Real gold leaf is being used in working out the details, reaching the climax of effort in the east of apse of the various archbishops. Above the altar, a heroic group of almost transcendent beauty has been placed, the figures being those of St. John and the Virgin and of Mary Magdalen at the foot of the Cross. Above, in the arch dome, is a figure of the Agnus Dei in a field of blue and gold arabesque.

The work is being done by Heppner Brothers of Chicago, and enhances the beauty of the interior with its stately columns and Gothic arches wonderfully.

Mysterious Charge Against Elliott. London, Nov. 21.—John Elliott, said to be a wealthy American who recently took possession of a home Georgian residence with 600 acres known as Lammewood house, in East Grinstead, Sussex, where he lived with two young daughters, was arrested today on charges preferred in a bill of complaint. The proceedings were secret and the nature of the charges against Mr. Elliott was not made public. He was taken to the Lewes jail.

SANTA FE OLD-TIMERS RECALL INDIAN SCARE

Special Dispatch to Morning Journal. Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 21.—The present Navajo excitement has brought reminiscences to old-timers of a Navajo scare in Santa Fe in the early eighties. A telegraph operator named Goff came running into town one day, wildly excited with bullet holes in his hat, crying that the Navajos had attacked him and were about to storm Santa Fe.

Violence of 5,000 bucks armed to the teeth seized the Santa Feans and every man armed himself, some even resorting to ancient arquebuses from the days of the Conquistadores. However, the Navajos failed to materialize and Goff is said to have confessed it was all a hoax and was given the deed of Santa Fe from his shoes.

But even today, such an old-timer "if the Navajos were shifted they could muster 5,000 bucks and there is nothing between the Navajo reservation and Santa Fe or Albuquerque that could stop them since the abandonment of Fort Wingate." However, no one in Santa Fe is losing any sleep over the matter.

Three New Mexico Ex-Convicts Under Arrest in Colorado. Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 21.—The mounted police today received word that three ex-convicts from the New Mexico penitentiary are in trouble in Colorado. Duke Chester has been nabbed in Denver by the United States secret service because he is said to have been an indifferent as to make money for silver dollars. He served a term for grand larceny from Benaville county. George Miller and J. B. Leabster are under the charge of erecting a safe at Fort Lupton. One served time for robbing Becker's store at Belen; the other was committed from a court county for assault with a deadly weapon, escaped from the penitentiary but was recaptured and served out his two years.

Ridgely, Tenn.—"If it had not been for Cardui, the woman's tonic," says Mrs. Jennie Erbes, of this town, "I honestly believe I would have been in my grave today. Therefore, I want to say something good for Cardui, but I can't begin in any manner."

I was sick, ailed with woman's troubles, from February until October, and was in very bad condition. I was treated three or four times a week but it did me no good. I battled between life and death, and my husband thought surely I would die.

One day I thought I would give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial. I had no confidence in it, at all, but bought a bottle. In a few days I was up and doing my household work. Now I have gained 15 pounds and feel as well as I ever felt in my life.

I advise all sick and suffering women to try Cardui. It cured me when all other medicines failed."

If you are weak, tired, worn-out, or suffer from any of the pains peculiar to weak women, such as headache, backache, pains in arm, side or limb, or any other symptoms of woman's trouble, you are urged to try Cardui, the woman's tonic. We think it will help you.

A New Method of Baking Cakes. Mrs. Nevada Briggs, the baking expert, says:

"There is just one way to make your cakes rise high and evenly—give them time to rise before a crust is formed and the batter is stiffened by cooking."

"If using a gas, gasoline or oil stove, light your oven when you put the cake in and keep the flame low until the cake has doubled in bulk; then increase the heat until it is evenly browned and will respond to the pressure of the finger. If using a coal or wood range, leave the oven door open until the cake is in; then turn on the drafts and by the time the oven is at baking temperature, the cake will have raised sufficiently."

For rich, moist, feathery cakes Mrs. Briggs always recommends

KC BAKING POWDER

It is double acting and sustains the raise. You can open and close the oven door, turn the tin around in the oven or do anything else necessary, without any danger of making the cake fall.

Try your favorite cake next time with K C Baking Powder and see how much higher it will rise. Make it just as you always do, with the same quantity of baking powder. While K C is less expensive than the old-fashioned baking powders, it has even greater leavening strength and it is guaranteed pure and healthful.

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

By Timely Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Here is her own statement.

Cary, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Cary, Maine.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

ONLY WEAK LINK IN CAMINO REAL IN THIS COUNTY

Valencia, Socorro and McKinley Representatives Urge Bernalillo to Improve Road; J. S. Beaven Gives Promise.

John S. Beaven, chairman of the Bernalillo county board of supervisors, last night at the Commercial club assured officials from McKinley, Valencia and Socorro counties that he and his colleagues would start work as soon as the Camino Real became available upon the stretch of the Camino Real between Albuquerque and Bernalillo.

The representatives of the other counties characterized this stretch as the "missing link" in the Camino Real. James A. French, state engineer, also said that from Bernalillo to Santa Fe the Camino Real was in fairly good condition with the exception of the division in the southern part of Bernalillo county and in the northern part of Socorro county.

John Becker, Jr., of Bernalillo, who was elected secretary of the meeting, to close discussion presented a resolution, requesting the Bernalillo county board to finish the Albuquerque-Bernalillo road as soon as possible. A. B. Stroup did not think this action was necessary since Mr. Beaven had stated the board's plans to proceed whenever funds were at hand. He amended the resolution, asking the board of the state highway commission. It carried unanimously.

Mayor Sellers, who presided, asked Eugene Kempenich, chairman of the board of commissioners of Valencia county, to state the purpose of the meeting. He said that McKinley and Valencia counties, under the provisions of a legislative act, had each raised $5,000 for the Camino Real with the expectation that the state would give $20,000. He said that Valencia county had made a levy of five mills for the Camino Real.

They came here not to criticize Bernalillo county, nor to plead with the county, but to induce it to improve the road south of here, he said. Tourists can get into Albuquerque from the north, and they can get out on the south, but they cannot get out very conveniently, he said. Albuquerque really is the southern terminus. The unpaved gap south of the city is off travel farther in that direction.

Mayor Sellers injected the Albuquerque-to-Gulf looking project into the discussion, since the meeting was called for a dual purpose. This highway, he said, would connect the Camino Real and Ocean-to-Ocean highway at Albuquerque, enabling tourists to travel north in summer and south in winter by way of New Mexico.

The mayor dispensed briefly upon the Lincoln highway, which runs almost in a direct line from Omaha to San Francisco, to show how this northern road project might be turned to advantage by New Mexico, Colorado and Texas.

In Utah and Nevada the Lincoln highway passes through barren country and construction between Salt Lake and Reno will consume a great part of the association's funds. He asserted. A move is under way, on this account, to run a branch from Julesburg to Denver with the plan of diverting the Lincoln highway but of diverting the travel via Denver and Albuquerque. A meeting is to be held January 15 and 16, in Colorado Springs, with this purpose in view.

Colorado and New Mexican scenery and the fact that the road through New Mexico and Arizona is open to travel eleven months in the year, ought to bring tourists this way, he believed.

The New Mexican representatives to the Colorado Springs meeting, in the opinion of the mayor, should be able to state "something definite" and he believed that the move undertaken last night was in line with the showing that New Mexico would be expected to make at that time.

Dr. C. J. Duncan, of Socorro, said that county would be glad to join in this movement.

C. N. Cotton, of Gallup, said that McKinley county had fairly passable roads.

"Automobiles haven't much trouble in getting from Grants to California," he said. "Several tourists were at Gallup recently, however, and their only complaints were about the road from Albuquerque to Bernalillo and in crossing the Rio Pecos."

Mr. Beaven said that Bernalillo county had built four miles of the Camino Real north of Albuquerque and the road board would begin work south of the Bernalillo bridge before January 1, "if it has any money." He also said that work toward the Valencia county line would continue as "long as the money held out." Mr. Beaven's statement was greeted with applause.

Mr. French briefly told of the condition of the Camino Real from Bernalillo to San Marcial. In Coconino county the road is good. It requires a little more work in Mora and the state likely will have to construct a bridge near Watrous. San Miguel county has weakened, and the commissioners there included two mills for the Camino Real in their levy. There are several bad places in the line west of Las Vegas, but they will be repaired by summer, the engineer said.

From Santa Fe to Albuquerque the road is in good shape with the exception of several arroyo crossings, which will be easily passable by next spring. From Albuquerque to Bernalillo the road "shows the serious condition of the county," he said. Valencia county made a five-mill levy. He was not informed as to just what Socorro county was doing, but from Socorro to San Marcial the road can be traversed now without any trouble.

Speaking of the western extension of the Camino Real, Mr. French said that as soon as McKinley county turned over to the state its money, he would be ready to start work.

GOOD ROADS MEAN MUCH TO GROWTH OF COUNTRY

President W. W. Finlay of Southern Railway Says They Are Essential to Prosperity and Progress.

Washington, Nov. 21.—"Nation, state and county each has a proper relation to the improvement of the country highways," is the opinion of W. W. Finlay, president of the Southern railway.

"Good country highways are so essential to the highest development of prosperity, especially in agricultural communities, that, in my opinion, the improvement of these highways in any state so directly concerns all of the citizens of the state that the state government may properly share in the work of road improvement. Generally speaking, the county is the unit in all matters of road construction and maintenance. Participation in the work by the state need not necessarily disarrange this system. On the contrary some of the states which are expending considerable sums annually on their country highways appropriate the money among the counties, which are required to make contributions bearing a fixed relation to the amount of state aid extended. The character and extent of state aid will depend in large measure upon circumstances. The best results may be attained where a direct appropriation of state funds for road construction can be made. The apportionment of this among the counties on the basis of a fixed ratio to county expenditures will stimulate the raising of funds for road improvement in each county."

"Whether direct appropriations for road work may be made by the state or not, there is a wide field for state usefulness in connection with highway improvement. There should be, I believe, in every state a highway commission charged with the general duty of promoting the improvement of the country highways of the state. Competent supervision is essential to the best results either in road construction or maintenance. If all of the money that has been spent on the country highways of our states had been wisely expended and if all the work that has been done had been most intelligently applied, we should have a much better system of highways than at present."

"All work should be planned and carried out under the supervision of skilled highway engineers. I think that wherever it is practicable each county should employ a competent road engineer, under whose direction all of the work done on all of the roads in the county should be carried on. For planning and supervising a macadam road or any other type of highly improved highway the services of such an engineer are essential to securing the best results. I believe, however, that we may also render valuable service to the improvement and maintenance of these roads which are not immediately to be improved. In all of this work the county engineer should keep in touch with the state highway commission and its engineers, and should have the benefit of their advice and co-operation. In counties of limited resources the expense of the employment of a competent engineer might be such as to use up an unduly large proportion of the money available for road work and the amount of work to be done might not be sufficient to take up all of his time."

In situations such as these the engineers of the state highway commission might, under some suitable financial arrangement with the counties, directly take charge of planning and supervising road construction and maintenance. It is better that the working gangs in charge of efficient foremen a single state engineer would probably be able efficiently to supervise the work in a group of such counties."

For planning and supervising a macadam road or any other type of highly improved highway the services of such an engineer are essential to securing the best results. I believe, however, that we may also render valuable service to the improvement and maintenance of these roads which are not immediately to be improved. In all of this work the county engineer should keep in touch with the state highway commission and its engineers, and should have the benefit of their advice and co-operation. In counties of limited resources the expense of the employment of a competent engineer might be such as to use up an unduly large proportion of the money available for road work and the amount of work to be done might not be sufficient to take up all of his time."

In situations such as these the engineers of the state highway commission might, under some suitable financial arrangement with the counties, directly take charge of planning and supervising road construction and maintenance. It is better that the working gangs in charge of efficient foremen a single state engineer would probably be able efficiently to supervise the work in a group of such counties."

GOOD ROADS MEAN MUCH TO GROWTH OF COUNTRY

President W. W. Finlay of Southern Railway Says They Are Essential to Prosperity and Progress.

Washington, Nov. 21.—"Nation, state and county each has a proper relation to the improvement of the country highways," is the opinion of W. W. Finlay, president of the Southern railway.

"Good country highways are so essential to the highest development of prosperity, especially in agricultural communities, that, in my opinion, the improvement of these highways in any state so directly concerns all of the citizens of the state that the state government may properly share in the work of road improvement. Generally speaking, the county is the unit in all matters of road construction and maintenance. Participation in the work by the state need not necessarily disarrange this system. On the contrary some of the states which are expending considerable sums annually on their country highways appropriate the money among the counties, which are required to make contributions bearing a fixed relation to the amount of state aid extended. The character and extent of state aid will depend in large measure upon circumstances. The best results may be attained where a direct appropriation of state funds for road construction can be made. The apportionment of this among the counties on the basis of a fixed ratio to county expenditures will stimulate the raising of funds for road improvement in each county."

"Whether direct appropriations for road work may be made by the state or not, there is a wide field for state usefulness in connection with highway improvement. There should be, I believe, in every state a highway commission charged with the general duty of promoting the improvement of the country highways of the state. Competent supervision is essential to the best results either in road construction or maintenance. If all of the money that has been spent on the country highways of our states had been wisely expended and if all the work that has been done had been most intelligently applied, we should have a much better system of highways than at present."

"All work should be planned and carried out under the supervision of skilled highway engineers. I think that wherever it is practicable each county should employ a competent road engineer, under whose direction all of the work done on all of the roads in the county should be carried on. For planning and supervising a macadam road or any other type of highly improved highway the services of such an engineer are essential to securing the best results. I believe, however, that we may also render valuable service to the improvement and maintenance of these roads which are not immediately to be improved. In all of this work the county engineer should keep in touch with the state highway commission and its engineers, and should have the benefit of their advice and co-operation. In counties of limited resources the expense of the employment of a competent engineer might be such as to use up an unduly large proportion of the money available for road work and the amount of work to be done might not be sufficient to take up all of his time."

In situations such as these the engineers of the state highway commission might, under some suitable financial arrangement with the counties, directly take charge of planning and supervising road construction and maintenance. It is better that the working gangs in charge of efficient foremen a single state engineer would probably be able efficiently to supervise the work in a group of such counties."

HUERTA AND NAPOLEON.

Since General Huerta has, with that shrinking modesty that always characterizes true greatness, drawn a comparison between himself and Napoleon Bonaparte as a justification of some of his recent official acts, one may be pardoned for following the comparison still further and reflecting upon other points where the lines of these two geniuses touch.

Napoleon was small of stature—no is Huerta.

Napoleon on occasion set his own wit above all law and constituted authority—Huerta has done the same thing, and so have many imitators of penal institutions who failed to "get by with it."

Beyond this it is difficult to find a single point of analogy.

Napoleon found France in a state of chaos and established a firm and stable government. Huerta plunged Mexico into chaos from which the civilized nations of the earth are now trying to rescue her.

Napoleon changed the map of Europe. Huerta is engaged in a desperate effort to prevent the map of Mexico from being changed.

Napoleon held at bay the armies of the world and challenged the respect and fear of all Europe. Huerta can not even check the ragged rebellion of his own countrymen and is held in contempt by every self-respecting government on earth.

Napoleon gave to France a large measure of civil and religious liberty. Huerta threw into prison all members of the constitutionally created law-making body who refused to do his bidding.

Napoleon, besides being the world's greatest soldier, was one of its greatest statesmen. Huerta—

The first class in history will continue the comparison.

THE PULLMAN PORTER.

Considerable levity has been indulged by the press on account of the recent pronouncement of the California railroad commission regarding the petty extortions of Pullman porters and the fact that they are paid inadequate wages with the expectation that they will supplement their legitimate income with tips from the public.

The subject is naturally inviting to the paragrapher and the folksmith, but there is a serious side to it that will appeal to a large number of people whose worldly life takes them on the highways of travel and keeps them there.

The petty annoyances of life cause in the aggregate more real suffering than plague, pestilence and famine. They throw a man off his normal stride. They put him out of humor. They take his appetite. They make it impossible for him to do his best work. They "get his goat."

And there can be no denying that for ways that are dark and tricky that are vain the Pullman company and its porters are in a class all by themselves. The unscrupled quarter that the porter gets for performing services that are supposed to have been compensated by the company is in itself an insult to the porter. Add to that the contemptuous neglect—the withering scorn that is visited by this raiment "servant" upon the passenger who does not tip or whose tips are considered as insufficient, and the wonder is that there are not more anarchists in the world than there are.

Perhaps some day we will come to realize how utterly snobbish and un-American tipping is. So far, all the speeches, resolutions, cries and regulations in the world have not been sufficient to check the evil. Laws have been passed on the subject without avail. Only public sentiment can provide the remedy, and on this subject public sentiment seems to be remarkably doubtful.

Anyhow, the California railroad commission has our sincere support in its fight, even if there is small chance for it to win.

THE EARLY SHOPPING IDEA.

The slogan of the retail merchants of Albuquerque, calling upon their customers to do their Christmas shopping early, has a particular force this year. In view of the admonition of the postoffice department that in order to be sure of satisfactory deliveries by parcels post it is necessary to intrust Christmas packages to the mails much earlier than usual this year. Of course, a large percentage of holiday purchases are not intended for out-of-town delivery and so the "early" warning of the government has no bearing upon shopping for domestic gift making. Nevertheless, the reasons for early Christmas shopping that have been urged upon the people of Albuquerque in recent years are as strong as ever. People should shop early because in the first place they get better results and are more comfortable in their holiday buying; in the second place because they contribute thereby to relieving the tremendous burden upon the salespeople, who are entitled to sympathetic consideration.

The merchants of Albuquerque, alive to the importance of encouraging early shopping during the Christmas season, offer to their customers fully as complete and attractive stock as during the last week of the holiday buying season. In point of fact the early shopper has an advantage in that the stocks from which he makes his selection are fresher than those offered later. He has an undeniable advantage also in the better service that he receives in the stores if he shops while the stores are comparatively free and the counters are not closely surrounded by buyers. He can get more helpful attention from the clerks and he has more time to consider his purchases. Thus the request of the merchants that their customers do their Christmas shopping now is not altogether selfish, although there is no disposition on their part to deny that they are benefited by the enterprise of the early shoppers. This is a case where everybody's interest is served by compliance with a very sensible suggestion.

Remedy as Bad as the Disease.

"On the seventh of February I contracted a severe cold followed by a cough and final loss of voice. I tried many remedies none of which did me any good. I then went to my family doctor and he gave me a prescription of six times with some abominable stuff. I think it was beneficial but the remedy was as bad as the disease. At last the thought struck me—why not try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did so and this morning my voice is fairly good and is gradually growing better," writes H. C. M'COMBS CAN'T SEE SLEEPY CONDITION BULL MOOSE AS CONTENDER

Believes the Donkey and the Elephant Will Fight It Out in 1916; Has Lunch With President Wilson.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Washington, Nov. 21.—William R. McCombs, chairman of the democratic national committee, after a conference today with President Wilson, announced that he believed the republican party would be the chief contender with the democratic party for the presidency in 1916.

The president, who was in the White House today, said Mr. McCombs, "I have had since the last national election that much of the progressive party would be absorbed either by the democratic or republican parties."

Mr. McCombs and his wife, who was Miss Dorothy Williams, of Washington, took luncheon with President Wilson today. After luncheon, the president had a conference with Mr. McCombs on politics.

Practical Suggestions—Furnished Irrigators

PROFESSOR F. K. KNORR, who has charge of the large demonstration farm on the North Platte project in Nebraska, furnishes the following helpful hints to irrigators which may prove valuable to farmers on all projects.

It is a common fallacy among farmers that grains should be watered the ground before the first irrigation is attempted in order to prevent baking of the soil. Professor Knorr's experiments have shown that whenever the soil shows that it is getting dry the crop should be irrigated regardless of its stage of growth. Whenever the soil will not adhere together in a lump when pressed in the hand, irrigation should be applied.

The growth of corn should not be forced by early irrigation. Corn should be planted in moist ground, which can be accomplished by irrigating before planting. Thus planted, it will generally carry through without further irrigation until it tassels and silks. After that one or two irrigations are usually sufficient to mature the crop to a good shape.

Wheat should never be allowed to get dry because it is a crop which shows the effect of drought more quickly and because it has less power to recover than any of the small grains. It should be carefully watched for indications of lack of moisture.

While wheat and oats will stand more drought than barley, both should be watered when needed. Oats will recover more from drought than any other crop. Care should be exercised to prevent leaving water on the surface ground for any considerable length of time. Experiments show that after water has run in a furrow one and a half hours it will soak down to the subsoil, running water for an hour in the same furrow usually does no more good than a run of one and a half hours, but increases the subsoil moisture, augmenting the seepage supply and the damages resulting therefrom.

Potatoes grow best in soil which is kept moist. An interesting experiment with Early Ohio potatoes was as follows:

One plot of ground was watered three times during the season at such intervals that the land needed water rather badly each time before irrigation was applied. The second plot was kept continually in a moist condition. On plot No. 1 the yield was 140 bushels per acre; on the second plot, 160 bushels per acre. The crop was marketed. Plot No. 2 gave 175 bushels per acre and 11 per cent were culls.

For sugar beets excessive irrigation is certain to produce large tops and small beets. Careful and regular irrigation produced two tons per acre more than was grown on over-irrigated land.

In alfalfa growing, Professor Knorr experimented on different plots with three, four, five and six irrigations. The last two plots yielded two-tenths tons less alfalfa per acre than the others. A comparison of yields cut three and four times showed that the latter yielded four and nine-tenths tons per acre, while three cuttings produced five and six-tenths tons. He concludes that three cuttings give not only more tonnage, but also a better quality of hay.

He finds that it is not advisable to grow alfalfa for a very long period as the roots become so heavy they will not rot on the ground, making the cultivation more difficult and causing a loss in fertility to the soil. In turning under alfalfa he recommends shallow plowing.

SANDOVAL COUNTY SCHOOLS MAKE ONLY ORDINARY SHOWING

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 21.—Sandoval county public schools make rather an ordinary showing in the report made to the state department of education. Of twenty-one school houses in the county only ten are owned by the district, eleven are rented and two are loaned.

Every school house in the county is of adobe and only three are reported to be excellent, while eighteen are called in good condition and two in poor condition. Only two districts have libraries. Of the school districts, one has four rooms, two have two rooms and seventeen only one room each.

The average school term is 6.96 months. The average salary of the women school teachers is only $275.50 a year, of the men teachers $412.45, or but a little more than that of a shoemaker who gets his supplies thrown into the bargain. Of the teachers, three have life certificates, eight have first grade certificates, eight have second grade and thirteen, or just one half, are third grade teachers.

Seven districts have ten months school, three eight months, seven have six months and nine have five months school. The school census shows 1,887 persons of school age, but the average attendance is only 779 and the enrollment 1,255.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Wheat closed weak and 3-8-12 net lower today, mainly on official figures largely reducing the loss in Argentina; forecast for better weather caused an easy close in corn, with prices at a net decline of 5-8-12 to 7-1-2; affected by other grains, oats finished at 1-4-0 net lower; provisions weakened a shade to 2-10 on a drop at the yards.

Official figures indicated that the wheat loss in Argentina would be only 5 per cent on an area of a million and a quarter acres. In addition to this weakening news, the market was depressed by prospects of large world shipments for the week. Some strength was shown early because of active buying of December wheat, as a sequel to the activity in that option yesterday, but the uplift was short and of unimportant proportions. Some of the pit leaders threw wheat in plenty on the market, attracted by the feverish buying and the resultant easing of values was aggravated by reports of good rains over night in Kansas and the consequent depression of southwest quotations.

Heavy selling of corn by one of the leading shippers took place on predictions of better weather than was expected to facilitate movement of the crop. Prospects of increased arrivals at Kansas City and continued large receipts at Omaha were especially prominent among the bear arguments.

Oats continued weak and the market was narrow all day, nothing occurring to offset the depressing effect of the ease in other grain pits.

The drop in hog prices at the yards was followed by heavy selling on the part of influential houses who were said to be waiting for local packers. January pork was the only option to show temporary strength, but early buyers became sellers and at the close pork led in the decline.

DUN'S WEEKLY REVIEW.

New York, Nov. 21.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

Trade conditions are reflected in the unusually light demand for money, especially in the east. In the south and west there is a little more activity in the money market, but steel is more pronounced than in previous weeks.

Current demands from the railroads are disappointing, and the falling off in consumption has also extended to less important lines, while there has been no check to the declining tendency in quotations. In copper, the situation continues one of extreme outliness and substantial concessions are offered from the values previously prevailing.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.

New York, Nov. 21.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Mixed characteristics are presented in the week's trade news. Thus, unseasonably mild weather has hampered retail trade over a wide area. Conservation as regards future buying is in evidence, money for time accommodation is rather tight and collections seem to be hardest to make.

On the other hand, activity in holiday trade has tended to close up some of the gaps caused by mild weather. Winter wheat is in fine shape over a record area, railway traffic is being conducted with relative ease, farmers appear to be prosperous, and country banks report a rather heavy demand for loans.

Wheat, including flour exports from the United States and Canada for the week aggregate 6,119,022 bushels, against 6,144,557 bushels last year.

ARIZONA HAS MORE BIG TOWNS THAN NEW MEXICO

Postal Receipts for Past Fiscal Year More Than Double in Sister State; Some Interesting Comparisons.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 21.—Although Arizona has only two-thirds of the population of New Mexico, yet it has more large towns than this state, as is indicated by the postal receipts for the past fiscal year just made public by the postoffice department. Of nine cities whose receipts exceed $20,000 a year, six are located in Arizona. Arizona postoffices in that class had more than double the receipts of New Mexico postoffices above the $20,000 mark, totaling $247,473, as against $113,738 in New Mexico. The twenty postoffices with receipts of more than $10,000 a year in the two states rank as follows and at the same time indicate the twenty largest towns:

State	Town	Receipts
Phoenix	Phoenix	$90,569
Albuquerque	Albuquerque	$82,298
Tucson	Tucson	$45,890
Flagstaff	Flagstaff	$32,583
Prescott	Prescott	$28,483
Glendale	Glendale	$26,417
Santa Fe	Santa Fe	$25,916
Yuma	Yuma	$23,855
El Paso	El Paso	$23,734
Kingman	Kingman	$16,550
East Las Vegas	East Las Vegas	$14,782
Silver City	Silver City	$14,613
Clifton	Clifton	$12,170
Deming	Deming	$12,092
Yuma	Yuma	$11,553
Flagstaff	Flagstaff	$11,502
Glendale	Glendale	$11,153
Alma	Alma	$11,151
Tomball	Tomball	$10,483
Las Cruces	Las Cruces	$10,458

The receipts are the money derived from the sale of stamps only.
In other words, Albuquerque has grown to be three times the size of Santa Fe, Tucson twice the size and Phoenix more than four times the size of the oldest city of them all, which thirty years ago was the largest town in the two commonwealths, and had a greater population than either El Paso or Colorado Springs or than both when together, while forty years ago it was larger than Los Angeles and fifty years ago larger than Denver, and there was a day when it was the largest town in what is now United States and Canada.

PROGRESS IN FORESTRY DEPENDS ON THE PUBLIC

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Washington, Nov. 21.—Progress in forestry depends more upon what the public permits than upon what foresters and lumbermen perform. This is a conclusion of the forestry committee as expressed at the conservation congress today.
"As a consequence," the committee goes on to say, "public education is of prime importance, and the best method of educating the public depends upon the character of the forest. Since no one else has the interest or the requisite forestry knowledge, foresters and lumbermen must learn this trade of profession in addition to their own."
"It is not forests, but the use of forests, which we seek to perpetuate and therefore to be sound and convincing education must include a knowledge of the lumber business."
An interesting scene of the educational device the committee recommended particularly the booklet given out by various forest fire protection associations. Another device is a paper drinking cup to be folded by children, each fold telling a pictured story of the growth of a forest fire, and of the evils of its effects. Still another is a match box legend which points out that while a match has a head it cannot think for itself but is dependent on the thought of the user to keep it from doing harm in the woods.

AZTEC TO DECIDE LIQUOR QUESTION ON DECEMBER NINE

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Aztec, N. M., Nov. 21.—Upon petition of fifty-three taxpayers, the town board of Aztec at its last meeting called an election for December 9, 1913, on the question of the prohibition within the town of the sale of intoxicating liquor. This election is called under the provisions of Chapter 25, laws of New Mexico, 1913.
A similar election was held at Farmington last month, by petition of the provision element, but the election resulted in a majority of twenty-three for prohibition. In Aztec the temperance people are calling the election and there is no doubt but they will carry it by a large majority.

The voting of the only incorporated town in San Juan county "dry" will be followed, say the temperance advocates, by a general county election on the prohibition question. In event that the county votes "dry" the operations of the United States law known as the Webb law will become operative. It is claimed, and no intoxicating liquor can be shipped into this county. The Webb law, however, makes a provision that the state laws must prohibit the sale of liquor before the government law will operate. If this is the case, New Mexico will have to go "dry" before San Juan county can claim aid from the United States in enforcing its prohibitory law.
At the present time the drug stores in both Aztec and Farmington are said to do a thriving business in liquor, despite the fact that ordinances compel registration of every sale, with name of buyer, amount bought, and for what amount, together with the name of a licensed physician who must prescribe. In Aztec not more than one pint of whiskey can be legally sold by the drug stores to anyone at one time, but the drug stores claim in Aztec bottles by the box and barrel without interference by the town authorities.

Report to County Commis-

The county commissioners yesterday
