SEWER CONTRACT OPEN TO ALL BIDDERS

City Council Rescinds Action Giving Job to American Light and Water Company.

SPECIAL MEETING LATE YESTERDAY

Public Sentiment Favored System Now Adopted--Lump Sum and Percentage Will Both Be Advertised for--No Check From Kansas City Firm.

The city council at a special meeting called by the mayor last night, adopted a resolution rescinding its agreement to give the American Light and Water company, of Kansas City, a contract to build the sewer system and placed the same on record to throw the proposition open to any and all responsible bidders, if the people vote for the bond issue of $250,000, the amount estimated by the expert engineer employed by the city.

According to the resolution adopted by the council, it will call for bids in lump sum and on a percentage basis and will let the contract to the lowest bidder.

It was decided by the city attorney that no binding agreement had been made between the council and the American Light and Water company, but as the company failed to comply with one important stipulation, the depositing with the city of a certified check for $10,000 within ten days, it lost all claim and standing had the agreement been binding.

It is not known whether the American Light and Water company will enter a bid under the new arrangement or not. Rogers and Company of Los Angeles, it is expected, will enter a bid, as Mr. Rogers asked for that privilege several days ago.

However, the council will advertise for bids and the proposition will be open to anyone.

This action by the council was in response to public opinion, which favored a system of bidding, such as has now been adopted. It is believed that by rescinding the action, and leaving the proposition wide open to all, the council has done the very best thing for the interests of the city and to assure the passage of the bond issue.

The resolution, rescinding the previous action of the council was presented by Alderman John Beaven and seconded by Alderman Neustadt. These aldermen together with Alderman Auge explained their previous votes by stating that they thought the opinion of the city attorney, gave them no alternative because they at first held that the previous agreement was likely binding.

All members of the council, including Mayor Lester, expressed their earnest desire to comply with the wishes of the people and stated that they would favor anything which the people favored in the building of a sewer system.

The resolution as adopted, reads: Whereas, the American Light and Water company has failed to deposit its certified check for $10,000 with the city clerk of this city within five days from the passage of the resolution by this council accepting its proposition to construct the sewers for this city; and

Whereas, upon the advice of the city attorney there is now no question in regard to the right of the council to rescind said resolution; and

Whereas, the council is desirous of having the said work done for the least possible price by any responsible company.

Therefore, be it resolved, That the resolution heretofore passed by this council accepting the proposition of the said American Light and Water company for the construction of the said sewer be and the same is hereby rescinded, to the end that if said bonds are authorized by the qualified voters of the city, the construction of the sewer may be done by the lowest responsible bidder after advertising for bids for the same, which advertisement shall call for bids for the construction of the sewer for a lump sum and also on the percentage basis, with a guaranty of maximum cost, and that the bid most advantageous to the city shall be accepted by the council.

Hanley Asks for Commission. Alderman Hanley, after the adoption of the resolution, proposed that the council create a special citizens' commission, to supervise and offer suggestions, while the sewer was being built. Mr. Hanley suggested that the commission be composed of Ex-Mayor Frank McKee, P. F. McConna, A. B. McMillen, on J. Rankin and Ambrosio Candelario. Alderman Hanley offered his resolution to the effect that an ordinance be drawn whereby the commission would be given authority to act in conjunction with the council. He made a strong

DO NOT BELIEVE RUMOR THAT VENEZUELA WANTS WAR

Netherlands Thinks Report Grew Out of a Statement Made by President Comez.

BERLIN DISCREDITS STATEMENTS MADE

Castro Also Thinks the Situation Is Not as Bad as It Appears and Persists That His People Still Love Him.

The Hague, Dec. 18.—The foreign office here places no credence in the report originating at Bogota, Colombia, that Venezuela had declared war on the Netherlands. It is believed the only basis for the report is the statement of Acting President Gomez of Venezuela that his country was in a state of defense because Holland had captured the coast guard ships. Even should the war rumor turn out to be true, the government considers the Dutch squadron now in South American waters sufficient to meet all eventualities.

Discredit the Report. Berlin, Dec. 17.—Both the German foreign office and President Castro discredited the report that Venezuela had declared war against the Netherlands. The foreign office takes the ground that even if hostilities have been declared, the declaration cannot become effective because Venezuela is in no position to carry a campaign beyond its borders and Holland will not exceed the limits of its retaliatory course as it has already been fixed and become known.

The feeling is growing that Castro left South America, not because of illness, but in order to escape the political turmoil in his country, and that he has no intention of returning. Castro still denies that any trouble occurred at Caracas on December 14. He will be transferred to a sanatorium Sunday for a week's observation to determine whether an operation will be necessary.

WILL RESUME WORK MONDAY MORNING

New Federal Building Will Go Up With a Rush When Everything Is Ready.

Work will be resumed on the new federal building next Monday morning and but a small force of men will finish excavating and strengthening the foundation to bear the extra weight of the third story. Contractor Anson received word several days ago that his bid for the additional work had been accepted and since then material had been ordered and preparations made to push the work. A larger force will begin work after January 1 and it is expected the first story will be completed in about a month.

SENATOR KNOX MAY JOIN THE CABINET

Rumor That Pennsylvanian Will Be Secretary of State Under Taft.

Chicago, Dec. 18.—The Tribune today prints the following special under a Washington date: "Philander C. Knox, now United States senator from Pennsylvania, will be secretary of state in Taft's cabinet. The direct request has been made by Taft and Knox has consented to serve. The consent was given with reluctance as he has chosen the national legislature as the field where his abilities could be utilized to better advantage than in the executive department of the government. He feels, however, that if Taft believes him to be the right man for this high and important office, it is his duty to comply with Taft's desire."

QUANTITY OF WATER SURROUNDS WINSLOW

There Was More Dampness in Arizona Yesterday Than Ever Known Before.

I. L. Hibbard, general superintendent of the Santa Fe coast line, who arrived in the city last night from the west on one of the delayed trains, says that he never before saw as much water around Winslow, Ariz., as was there yesterday morning. The lowland north of the town was a lake. The Little Colorado river was a torrent a quarter of a mile wide in many places, with a current of fifteen miles an hour, carrying a great amount of drift wood. He says he did not know that trees as large as some of the logs which came down grew along its banks. The Santa Fe bridge east of Winslow was submerged. The structure shivered when some of the large logs struck it, but it stood the ordeal and traffic was opened at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Clear creek, a small stream a few miles from Winslow in a deep canyon was fifty-two feet deep at one time. The Santa Fe's pumping plant in the canyon was temporarily put out of commission by the flood. Mr. Hibbard says that he believes the immense volume of water came from snow being melted by a warm two days' rain.

TO GIVE GOVERNMENT RIGHT OF APPEAL IN ALL CASES

Attorney General Bonaparte Submits Annual Report to Congress Today.

CITES FAMOUS CASE OF STANDARD OIL

Department Investigated Many Cases During the Year and Is Kept Busy Watching the Big Corporations.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 18.—That the United States should have the right of appeal to the supreme court of the United States as a matter of right, whenever a conviction is reversed on appeal by the defendant to a circuit court of appeals, is the opinion expressed by Attorney General Bonaparte in his annual report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1908, submitted to Congress today. In this connection he cites the case of the reversal of the fine of more than $29,000,000 in which an application for the allowance of a writ of certiorari has been made to the supreme court. He holds that an amendment of the present statute would be appropriate in the case of all criminal proceedings but suggests that it would be especially so in connection with prosecutions where the wealth of the defendant usually renders an appeal on his or its part from any adverse judgment a matter of course. The attorney general's opinion is that in such cases there is no question of doubt as to the guilt of the defendant. The defendant from the original conviction is recognized by the undoubted weight of well considered judicial authority as a waiver of his rights in this respect and as in the absence of some special provision of law as the attorney general recommends guilty parties may escape from just punishment under the law as finally determined by the court of last resort.

Friends Are Concerned Over the Disappearance of a Dentist.

Anxiety is felt by friends concerning the whereabouts of Dr. H. G. Bohannon, a dentist formerly of Greenville, Ky., who had rooms at the boarding house of Mrs. Florence Chess, 124 South Eighth street. He left his rooms Saturday afternoon, saying that he was going to O. A. Matson's home to look after "The Clansman," at the lake theater, and that is the last trace had of him, though an acquaintance says that he saw him late that evening, walking west on Central avenue in block 100.

It is feared he has either become temporarily mentally deranged or else has met with foul play. While he never carried any large amount of money, he dressed well and wore a heavy gold watch and chain. The police have been asked to look for him.

When he left his rooms Saturday afternoon he wore a gray suit and a light soft hat. He weighed about 120 pounds, was five feet and seven inches tall, smooth shaven and has heavy black hair. He talked with a slight southern drawl. There may have been a few slight wounds on his nose and forehead, as he suffered an accident on the day previous to his disappearance, while mounting the steps to his boarding house.

FINANCE GOULD ROAD.

Chicago, Dec. 18.—The Tribune says: "It is learned that Kuhn, Loeb & Co. will likely undertake the financing and reorganization of the Western Maryland railroad. This is the link that the Goulds acquired several years ago, supposedly for the eastern outlet of their transcontinental railway system then mooted. The idea now seems wholly abandoned."

"Kuhn, Loeb & Co. have already assumed a prominent part in the affairs of the Wheeling & Lake Erie, another result of last year's experience. The understanding is also held in some quarters of Washington that the same financiers will likely undertake also financing the Wash and Goid properties. The Western Maryland, it is said in well informed circles, will develop as an independent property."

HANGED FOR MURDER.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 18.—Frank Bryant, aged 24, was hanged for the murder of Thomas Brady, aged 70, on August 26 last. After murdering Brady, Bryant rifled his trunk of a small amount of money, which he spent for a ticket to Chicago, where he visited his sweetheart. In a statement on the scaffold, Bryant thanked Sheriff Werner for the kindnesses shown him, and then said to the two hundred witnesses assembled, "Farewell to all you gentlemen." Then the trap was sprung.

San Francisco, Dec. 18.—Mrs. Ida McCormick, arrested last week for stabbing her husband and subsequently identified as the long-lost daughter of John Long, a wealthy manufacturer of this city, has been released from custody. Mrs. McCormick's father will place her in a sanatorium for treatment. It being alleged that her mental condition is not normal. McCormick has told the police that he will not prosecute the charge against his wife.

Lemans, France, Dec. 18.—Wilbur Wright, the American aviator, established a new record for heavier than air machines today when he remained in the air one hour, 53 minutes and 54 seconds, while trying for the Michelin cup. The best previous record was one hour, 31 minutes and 51 seconds, which Wright made on October 10.

ROBBERS FIGHT BATTLE WITH NEBRASKA CITIZENS

Gibson, Neb., Dec. 18.—Six robbers dynamited the safes of the Farmers' State bank of Gibson, 23 miles south of Gibson, and the Commercial bank of Gibson, engaged in a pitched battle with citizens of Gibson early today and made good their escape in an automobile with $5,500 taken from the two banks. One of the robbers was wounded and was carried off by his companions. Posses are in pursuit.

BIG SMELTER CONCERN WILL WAGE WAR ON GUGGENHEIM

Prominent Men Are Interested in Company for Which Plans Have Been Made

CAPITAL WILL BE HUNDRED MILLION

Standard Oil, Amalgamated Copper and Steel Trust Are Reported to Have Joined to Organize Company.

New York, Dec. 18.—The Herald this morning gives what purports to be the details of a movement under way to organize an independent smelter concern.

"Plans are well advanced for the formation of a smelting and refining organization on a large scale, in which the principal parts are to be taken by men of the Standard Oil—Amalgamated Copper group and the United States Steel corporation. John D. Ryan, of Butte, president of the Anaconda Copper company, is in charge of the promotion of the new company and with him in this preliminary work is associated Thomas F. Cole, a prominent mining man of Duluth.

"The new concern is actively to compete with the Guggenheim organization and the stock issue will be not less than $100,000,000. Western miners, it is said, have been complaining of excessive charges on the part of the existing companies and are negotiating with the men back of the new movement.

"It is believed that the new organization will take over the business of many existing concerns and it is even stated that the recent incorporation of the Phelps-Dodge interests in Arizona and New Mexico into $50,000,000 corporation may have been a preliminary step towards association with the new concern, although this is denied.

"That the Greene Cananea copper properties may be linked either directly or indirectly with the new organization is thought probable as Thomas F. Cole is the president of this corporation and John D. Ryan is a director, and both are identified with the various companies in the Greene Cananea concern. Dr. D. L. Ricketts, also of the Greene company, has been in this city recently in connection with the promotion of the new company."

TO INSTRUCT THE PUBLIC.

San Francisco, Dec. 18.—The California state board of health, acting on the suggestion of Pass-Asistant Surgeon Rucker of the United States Public Health and Marine hospital service, is to fit up a car to make a tour of the state for the purpose of illustrating sanitary methods of preventing disease.

The Southern Pacific railroad has agreed to furnish this car and both that company and the Santa Fe have agreed to transport it free of cost over their lines in the state.

The exhibit will demonstrate how typhoid fever, tuberculosis and the other common diseases could be prevented. Special attention will be paid to the smaller towns and country places, because it is the rural population that is constantly furnishing the cities with typhoid fever and with milk from tubercular cows.

MINERS MAY COMPROMISE. Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 18.—The miners and operators of the Paint Creek district, where 1,800 miners quit work because of a reduction in wages, are today considering a compromise proposition, which may end in a settlement of the trouble. The proposition has not been disclosed.

Now Vote the Bonds

Whatever may have been the merits or demerits of the proposition submitted to the city by the American Light and Power company for building a sewer system, all discussion is temporarily out of order, since the council at a special session last evening, rescinded its previous action, setting aside its agreement to give the contract to the above company.

This now leaves the matter open to all bidders and should vanish every opposition to the building of a sewer system in this city and the voting of bonds for that purpose.

Much opposition, it must be admitted, was aroused when it became known that the council expected to exclude other bidders and it is doubtful if a bond issue would have been voted, under the circumstances, despite the explanations made by Mayor Lester and others, eminently above suspicion of self-interest in such matters.

Now, however, the bone of contention is removed and it is up to the people.

The question of issuing sewer bonds to the extent of $290,000 will come before the citizens of Albuquerque for approval or rejection on January 19th, 1909, and it is unquestionably the duty of every one who has the best interests of the city and of public health at heart to vote for the bonds.

The council, by resolution last night, declared that if the bonds were voted, it would call for bids in lump sum and also on a percentage basis and let the contract to the lowest bidder. This is eminently fair and does away with criticism.

It is needless to dilate upon the necessity for properly equipping this city with a sewer system. Every resident of Albuquerque knows the need of such an improvement with the least possible delay. Every property owner knows the increased value that would come to real estate with the completion of an adequate sewer system.

While there are many who have plans to suggest as to the building of a sewer, there is no one who can advance a reason for not building a sewer.

The first step toward securing the sewerage system is to vote the bonds. We know what the sewer will cost at a maximum because the city is in possession of the plans and specifications of its engineers, fixing the amount. Therefore, a bond issue of $290,000 will cover this estimated expense and if there is a surplus by reason of a lower bid, the balance will remain in possession of the city.

The people should devote their attention now, towards securing the bond issue and then the question of letting the contract can be taken up in due time and a sewerage system constructed without delay.

Vote for the bonds and help make greater Albuquerque.

The following from the Indianapolis News might well be applied to New Mexico: The killing of an eagle is again reported. Eagles are becoming rare in this part of the country. The eagle is our national bird. Why any one should wish to destroy a living emblem is past finding out and yet whenever a man with a gun can get a shot at an eagle he never fails to fire. His next step particularly if his aim has been good, is to tell the newspapers of his wonderful feat. The dimensions of the bird "from tip to tip" of wings are reported and the hunter is much puffed up with pride. If there is anything in sentiment it would seem that it ought to extend to the American eagle; but instead of protecting it the American people seem to be determined to exterminate it. A few more years and it will be classed with the great auk and known only in the books.

As is usually the case, the people of Venezuela who pay the taxes are the ones who will now suffer. Castro escaped from the country with the funds of the treasury and Holland has besieged the coast. Some day the people will learn enough to go out and hang rascals like any other criminals, but until they do, courts of justice as demonstrated in South America will be merely tools for conspiring villains. Good Cough Medicine for Children.

The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care can not be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. P. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says: "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

Some Reasons Why

The C

Because The Citizen is a home paper. It is either delivered by carrier to the home or is carried home by the business men when his day's work is done and it STAYS THERE. A morning paper is usually carried down town by the hand of the family and hurriedly read.

The Citizen is not read hurriedly, but thoroughly, so that all advertisements receive their share of attention. It presents the store news in a plain, giving the prospective purchaser time to plan a shopping tour for the next morning.

Wise advertisers patronize The Citizen because they know their advertisements are seen and read at the homes in the evening, and if they are offering something worthy of attention, their ad has accomplished its mission.

The Citizen has never given premiums to subscribers, but is subscribed to and paid for on the news merits, showing that its subscribers have money with which to buy what they want from legitimate merchants. These are the people The Citizen invites to your store.

The Citizen employs a man whose business it is to look after your advertising wants. He will write your copy if you wish. If not, he will see that your ads are "set up" to look their best and he will attend to them from day to day.

Are you advertising in The Citizen? Your competitors are, and are profiting by it. Do you think conservative business men are spending money where they are not getting results? Get in the swim and watch your business grow.

ROUGH RIDERS WILL HAVE A REUNION

Steps Will Be Taken to Arrange for the Event at New York City Sometime Soon.

Members of the famous Rough Riders of the Spanish-American war, who live in New Mexico, have received notice that a reunion of the regiment will probably be held at New York sometime in the near future. There are about 100 members of the organization in this territory and if the reunion is held a number of them will probably attend. The notice came in an invitation to a dinner which was given at New York last Sunday in honor of General Wood, and which said:

"You are cordially invited to attend a small dinner to be given to Major General Leonard Wood, U. S. army, by the Rough Riders on Sunday evening, December 13, at the Union League club, New York City, at seven o'clock.

"As this is in the nature of a welcoming dinner to the old colonel of our regiment and also a celebration of the tenth anniversary of the Santiago campaign it is hoped that you will make a special point to attend. The time to arrange for this meeting being so short it was decided to hold merely a small dinner, hoping that steps would be taken at this meeting to arrange for a regular reunion to be held in this vicinity in the near future."

THE YAQUIS ARE RESERVATION WILLING TO SCHOOLS QUIT IS BEST

They Will Become Good Citizens of Mexico Next Month by an Agreement.

Tucson, Dec. 18.—According to an arrival in Tucson from Sonora final arrangements have been made for the complete surrender of the hostile Yaqui Indians on January 20. Ex-Governor Yabael, Sonora, who has been in charge of the peace negotiations with the Yaquis, is now in the City of Mexico making the peace arrangements with President Diaz.

The Yaquis have asked that the women and children who have been deported to Yucatan be sent back to them and that they be allotted certain land for agricultural purposes. In return for these concessions, they will lay down their arms, abandon their mountain strongholds, and will live in peace and will no longer wage war. They ask to be treated as any other citizens of the republic, stating that they will do their part in the payment of taxes and will be loyal citizens.

The general opinion is that President Diaz will grant the concessions asked by the Indians and will do his part to end the long drawn out and expensive war. The Indians of late have been coming in small numbers to the cities of Sonora and giving up their arms, and have been allowed to go away unmolested by the officials or soldiers. The greater number of hostile warriors are still out in the mountain camps which are located in the most inaccessible places. These Indians have for the past month or more kept to their camps and committed no depredations, pending the final settlement of the peace negotiations. In turn the soldiers who are in the field against the hostiles have not made an aggressive campaign against the Yaquis since arrangements for peace were inaugurated by the officials of the state and federal government.

Ex-Governor Yabael has visited the Indians, has met delegations from the Indian camps and has been very successful in bringing the negotiations to a conclusion. He made the arrangements for the surrender on the 20th of January, at which date the hostile Yaquis will abandon their strongholds in the mountains and come down into the valleys and assume their places as peaceable citizens of the Mexican republic.

Leupp Says Indians Should Not be Taken Away From Home to be Taught.

Washington, Dec. 18.—Is Uncle Sam's non-reservation Indian school system a failure? Have the millions expended annually in its support been merely wasted?

I asked these questions of United States Indian Commissioner Francis E. Leupp, and his answer was "Yes."

Mr. Leupp ought to be pretty well informed on the subject, too. He receives a big salary for being in charge of Uncle Sam's Indian population of 300,000, of which there is an enrollment of 9,485 students in the twenty-six non-reservation schools of the country.

The Indian commissioner does not consider his admission a reflection on his Indian management. He has done all he could to convince Congress the present system of educating Indians is wrong, and that the money set aside—$3,925,830 was the amount appropriated last year—for the maintenance of Indian colleges away from reservations is practically wasted.

"The government's purpose in educating the Indian," Commissioner Leupp explained, "is to make the race, not the individual Indian, self-supporting. The school off of the reservation does not do this."

At the schools every comfort is provided. The students become accustomed to a life of idleness. When they graduate they feel above the uneducated Indians on the reservation, and instead of returning home and allowing their fellow tribesmen to associate with them and get some of the benefit of their education, strike off for the city.

Indians soon find employers of clerical help are prejudiced against them. Not 5 per cent of the Indians that go to large cities are able to make good.

With his pride injured, the educated Indian soon returns home. He feels the white man has not treated him right in educating him as a white man, and then refusing to associate with him in a business way.

Once home, there is only hard farm work at hand. The educated Indian sulks, becomes bitter, then worthless.

"The Indian school that will be really beneficial," says Leupp, "is the little red school right on the reservation. Without plunging into an entirely unnatural sphere, the children may go to school from their own homes in the morning and return in the evening. The parents are quick to pick up things from the children. And the children will not be spoiled for life. Learning under such conditions will become contagious. It is the only solution, and the expense of maintaining reservation schools will not be one-fifth the expense of maintaining non-reservation schools."

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

J-WS WILL OBSERVE THE FEAST OF LIGHTS

Beginning Today They Commemorate Remarkable Victory of An Army.

Beginning this evening and continuing for eight days, the lights of small waxen tapers will glisten and glitter from the windows of the homes of Jewish residents. One taper will be ignited the first night, the second, and so on until the eighth night, when eight will be ignited.

This holiday is known as Chanukah, or the Feast of Lights, the Feast of the Maccabees or the Feast of Dedication. The first day of the festival dates from the 25th day of the Hebrew month of Kislev. Chanukah is the anniversary of one of the most remarkable victories ever achieved by an army. The holiday was instituted about 163 years before the Christian era, following the victory of Judas Maccabeus and his brothers over the Syrian army. The legendary part of this historic event is the discovery by the priests of one small cruse of oil, unspoiled, which miraculously lasted eight days, or until a new supply could be obtained; hence the lighting of the waxen tapers for a period of eight days.

In commemoration of this remarkable victory over the Syrian army by Judas Maccabeus and his brothers, services are held in the temples and homes of adherents of the Jewish faith all over the world and the services at Temple Albert, Rabbi C. M. Chapman in the pulpit, will take place this evening. During his sermon, Dr. Chapman will relate the facts of the historical event and special traditional music has been prepared for the occasion. The subject of the sermon for this evening will be "Memorial of a special program is now being prepared by the children of the various classes of Temple Albert, which will be heard at the temple on the last night of the Feast of Lights next Sunday evening.

FUNDS ARE LACKING FOR FUNERAL EXPENSES

Only Small Amount Has Been Subscribed for the Burial of Confederate Soldier.

As there was no fund available for the expense incident to the burial of an aged confederate soldier yesterday, subscription was asked of the public generally. So far little response has been made, only $14 having been collected, and of that amount but $4 was given by people of southern birth. Anyone who cares to subscribe can leave money with Frank McKee at the First National bank.

Speaking of the fund, a well known citizen said today:

"It seems very strange that the patriotic people do not come up with a little money to help in the burial of a Confederate soldier. Only $14 has been put up and nearly all of that from people of the north. This is a chance for a southern man to show that he believes in the cause for which he fought. Call in today and pay your dollar and save your reputation."

THE YOUNG ORATORS WORRIED JUDGES

Contest Last Night Was So Close That Difficulty Was Experienced in Awarding Honors.

Before an audience of parents and friends, the eleven participants in the fourth annual oratorical contest last night delivered their orations in a manner which far exceeded the average attempts of students of even higher institutions. The efforts of the students were commendable and the subjects which they had chosen proved interesting as well as instructive.

So cleverly were the subjects handled and so well were the orations delivered that the judges on delivery—
George S. Klock, A. J. Maloy and Professor R. F. Asplund, had much difficulty in awarding the cash prizes, donated by Simon Stern. After due consideration, the first prize was awarded to Fred M. Calkins, who had chosen for the subject of his oration,
"The Average Man." Mr. Calkins' oration was a splendid effort and besides being a well constructed composition, was delivered in an excellent manner, bringing forth much applause from the audience. In addition to the honor of winning first place in this contest and the cash prize of $25, Mr. Calkins is further honored with the privilege of representing the local high school in the coming territorial oratorical contest, which will be held in this city December 28th, when representatives of the various high schools throughout New Mexico will participate for territorial honors.

The matter of second prize was even a harder matter for the judges to decide than was the first and the prize was then won by David Rosenwald and William Colburn Cook. Mr. Rosenwald's oration was entitled "Ch'ld Labor," while Mr. Cook selected for his subject, "The Ideality of the Jew." So well were both subjects handled as to thought and composition, as well as delivery, that the judges were at a loss to know which was entitled to the honor of second place. The matter was finally decided by awarding each a cash prize of $15, the extra $5 being donated by Attorney Klock, who acted as one of the judges on delivery. Miss Mary David had the distinction of being the only young lady to receive a share of the prize money and to her was awarded the fourth prize of $5.

Vocal selections by Misses Viola Buecher, Miss Lola Neher and Miss Charlotte Pratt during the intermediums added much to the evening's entertainment.

The event was the most successful of the kind ever attempted in this city and should the Albuquerque representative, Mr. Calkins, appear at as good advantage in the territorial contest this city will have the prize winner.

MASK CARNIVAL AT THE RINK TONIGHT

Usual Program Will Be Followed by Special Stunts.

Don't miss the grand mask carnival at the rink tonight, as elaborate preparation has been made to make this the banner event of the holiday season. Every civilized, half civilized and uncivilized country on the face of the globe will be represented in costume there tonight, as well as the hobo, Little Bo-Peep, Santa Claus, Satan and all the rest, vying with one another for first prize for artistically ludicrous make-up. The excellent bill of moving pictures of last night will be repeated tonight, and the Duke
City band will furnish the music.

On Monday night "The Burstelles," America's greatest exponents of physical culture, will begin a series of entertainments, in addition to the rink's regular moving picture and illustrated song program. These people are certainly the perfection of muscular development, and their marvelous feats of strength are not accomplished by any sleight of hand or leger-maines, but are actual demonstrations of fully developed muscular tissues, the exhibitions being of a highly educational character. On Monday evening "The Burstelles" will give a free exhibition in front of the rink.

STYLES IN JEWELRY

For several years the idea in jewelry wearing has been to wear something so inconspicuous that it could hardly be seen.

There has now come a change, a reversion to the old idea that jewelry was made for ornament, to set off other articles of apparel.

The new necklaces are heavy chains of gold with toggles, such as your grandmother used to wear, supporting a large cameo pendant, yet with all, not loud or gaudy, but rich and refined. Ladies arriving from New York are wearing large festoons across their breasts.

So it is in rings, bracelets and brooches large sets of jade, Egyptian scarabs and matrix predominate.
Though if you prefer the very dainty kinds, we have lots of those.

If style and low prices with high quality are to be popular with the people, we will now and hereafter be the foremost of New Mexico's jewelers.

TO INVESTIGATE TELEGRAPH RATES

Government May Take up
Work of Supervising Companies Next Year.

Washington, Dec. 15.—That the time has come for telegraph companies to be brought under government supervision and control is the conclusion reached in a report soon to be sent to Congress by Labor Commissioner Neill. As to whether the department of justice will move against the companies for violation of the Sherman act has not yet been determined.

By a resolution passed last May Congress authorized the inquiry by the bureau of corporations and the department of labor into the telegraph companies. The resolution suggested as subjects for investigation such questions as whether a monopoly prevails, due to a combination between the Postal and Western Union companies, over capitalization, excessive charges and the oppressive treatment by the companies of their employees. The investigation has also extended to such matters as the unfair discrimination resulting from a wholesale distribution of franchises, special contracts and rebates to press associations and the extension of the business of the companies to include the sale of alleged sporting and market news covered by their charters.

The report has gone into the question of the increase in rates which both companies made about a year ago, and which, it is claimed, was the result of an agreement between the two supposedly competing companies. This increase, it is said, amounted to more than 20 per cent of the gross receipts, seems to have no other excuse than a desire to recoup through the public the losses in the recent strike.

A considerable portion of the report, it is understood, will discuss with two subjects of over-capitalization and the wages paid to employees. Ample data shows that wages paid to telegraph operators today practically what they were 20 years ago. The profits of the men at the top are indicated by a few statements like the following:

In 1858 the capital stock of the Western Union Telegraph Co. was $385,700. The stock dividends declared between 1858 and 1864, amounted to $17,810,146, and the stock issued for new lines was $1,927,950, so that the capital stock on July 1, 1866, was $20,133,590. In 1866 new stock was created to the amount of $20,450,590, so that the total capital of the Western Union on the first of July, 1867, was $40,584,180.

These figures will give some idea of the way the water was poured into the capital stock in the early years of the company's history. But, in spite of water, the dividends were enormous. Up to 1874 the largest dividend declared by the company was 14 per cent. On one occasion a stock dividend of $10,000,000 was handed out. There was a period of seven years before 1874 when the dividends on the average capital were above 100 per cent.

But, in spite of stock dividends and other inflations of capital, the earnings piled up, until at one time there was in the treasury $15,000,000 cash reserve. It has been figured out that the investment of a thousand dollars in Western Union stock in 1855 would have earned up to 1890 dividends amounting to $150,000, or 300 per cent a year.

The Western Union plant meantime could, it is estimated, today be duplicated for less than $27,000,000. Its present capitalization is somewhere between $87,000,000 and $100,000,000.

The results of this very brief inquiry promise to be much more startling than was anticipated when the resolution was passed last May. The commissioner of corporations is believed to favor a further investigation, but it is understood that Senator LaFollette is of the opinion that further probing would be merely a waste of time, and that the facts at hand are sufficient to warrant prompt action of a legislative character.

SHOWS HOW MOVING PICTURES ARE MADE

The Colombo Has An Educational Film to be Shown Tonight.

The new film at Colombo theater tonight will be an educational picture showing how moving pictures are made.

Of the thousands who daily witness moving picture exhibitions the number who have any conception of the manner of making a picture is comparatively small. Therefore, to the majority this picture will prove a genuine novelty. It opens in the private office of the Vitaphone company, where the manuscript is being carefully considered. The studio directors enter, receive their instructions, proceed to the studio, get out the cameras, give orders about scenery, props, etc. Then we get a view of the Vitaphone actors and actresses making up for their different characters. All preparations finished, the Vitaphone automobiles line up, the performers get in and proceed to the scene of operation, which happens to be, in this instance, a busy city thoroughfare. A trolley is help up, numerous little by-plays, not in the lines, occur to add variety and interest to the picture. This scene over all hands return to the studio, where we see a stupid actor being put through his work. Next a view is given of the quick lunch counter in the Vitaphone plant. Following this, the studio scenes are rehearsed and photographed, showing all the necessary paraphernalia for the different effects required, as well as the rapidity with which scenes are struck and made ready by the stage hands. The picture finally finished is taken to the testing room, where we see it projected.

"Antony and Cleopatra" is another film, one of the best ever shown here. The program tonight is unusually good.

PEARL HARBOR A SECOND MALTA

United States Is Fortifying Ha-wallian Islands on a Large Scale.

Honolulu, Dec. 15.—The metamorphosis of Honolulu has begun. A year ago commercial problems, social activities, and the coming and goings of tourists, occupied the minds of the forty thousand or more inhabitants; but today a decidedly martial chord runs through the harmony of Hawaiian affairs, growing ever more dominant.

And for the future? Another year promises to see the entire atmosphere of Honolulu changed, from more or less placid civilian life, to that surrounding a great military encampment. Five years from now it is more than likely than an old time resident returning to his island home, will find himself in a strange city.

Within six months, Uncle Sam has shown the Hawaiians that if it did take him forty years to make up his mind to fortify the islands, he is not so slow when he once gets started. Work is being rushed on the construction of three great fortification works; a corps of engineers has surveyed and located the site for the great naval station on Pearl Harbor, eight miles from the city, and bids for the dredging of the channel into the great land-locked basin were opened in Washington only last week.

A company of army engineers arrived by the last transport from the mainland, for the purpose of making a detailed military survey of the entire island of Oahu, locating defenses at strategic points, and planning other works. Yesterday condemnation suits were filed by the government against a hundred or more citizens to acquire possession of some sixty acres of land on the famous Waikiki Beach, for fortification and garrison purposes (this in addition to eight or ten acres of the waterfront acquired a year or more ago, and including half a dozen seaside homes of Honolulu's aristocracy.)

On this tract of land will soon be erected great batteries of the latest type of 12-inch coast defense rifles, on disappearing carriages, a portion of which equipment has already arrived. Most of the palatial homes which are doomed to give way to military requirements, have already been vacated by their late owners, and now form temporary officers' quarters for the newly arrived engineer company, while the enlisted men are encamped in tents on the spacious lawns.

On January 5th, there will sail from San Francisco two squadrons (eight troops) of the Fifth U. S. cavalry, with regimental staff and band, as a part of the permanent garrison for the island. On the 4th of the present month arrived Captain J. C. Castner, U. S. A., constructing quartermaster, and a number of other officers, with full authority to construct quarters for the coming troops on the beautiful 14,000-acre tract on the plateau 1,000 feet above the sea, and fifteen miles from Honolulu, which was reserved for military purposes at the time of annexation. A part of the quarters, at present being rushed with all possible expedition, are of temporary character, but the stables and some of the buildings are being built on the most up-to-date models, and will form a part of a great permanent military post which will garrison 3,000 officers and men when completed. This force will include one complete regiment of cavalry, one of field artillery, one of infantry, a signal corps detachment, one of engineers, and a full brigade hospital and hospital corps. The command of this post, as well as the minor garrisons on the island, will be in a brigadier general, who will have quarters here with full staff.

All this is authentic. Captain Castner has $50,000 on deposit for his work, in one of the local banks, and between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000 are available for the post which will be exceeded by only Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, in size of garrison maintained. A portion of the troops to be assigned to this new post are already selected, and the remainder probably will have been before this appears in print. Moreover these forces are exclusive of the men required to man the great guns of the several forts belting the coast from Diamond Head on the east to beyond Pearl Harbor on the west, nor does it take account of the big force of civilian employees, mechanics and skilled laborers which will be required at the Pearl Harbor naval station.

The effect which such an influx must have on the character of Honolulu may be imagined when it is remembered that the present white population of the city, including all nationalities, is probably not over 5,000, while the troops and others which the army and navy will bring here will equal or exceed this number.

The island of Oahu, however, is the only one of the group which will directly feel this addition to the population, inasmuch as it is the only one which will be fortified.

While the army is making good progress in its chain of fortification works, the navy is also rushing the development of its navy yard and dry dock at Pearl Harbor. The big job of dredging of over five millions yards of material from the channel, will probably be awarded to a Hawaiian company, inasmuch as its bid of $3,560,000 was much the lowest. This work must be finished within three years. It is probable that during January bids will be asked for the construction of the great dry dock, an appropriation for which $2,000,000 was made by the last Congress, and the plans for which have lately been approved.

First Photograph of Mme. Steinhilf, Paris' Sensational Murderess

Paris, Dec. 16.—Mme. Steinhilf, who is accused of the murder of her husband and Mme. Japy last spring, is still in prison and her case continues to be the sensation of the hour. The public believes, however, that in order to hush up the exposures that threaten, the authorities will bargain to let her off with a light sentence, providing that she keeps silent and disappears when her imprisonment is over.

Mme. Steinhilf has said that if she chose to talk she could create a scandal which would include half the most prominent people in France and shock the world. The story of President Faure's death in her apartment, his fingers clutched in a tight grasp in her hair, has been published over and over again in Paris during the past two weeks, until every possible and impossible, gruesome detail has been brought out.

TAFT WILL FACE PERPLEXING PROBLEM

Increasing Cost of Government One of the Most Serious He Will Have.

Washington, Dec. 18.—The Taft administration, at the very outset, will be brought face to face with what is perhaps the most serious and important question that has confronted an administration in this country since Civil war times.

It is the question of rapidly increasing national expenditures and practically stationary revenues.

Mr. Taft already has given this question careful consideration, according to gentlemen who have talked to him, and frankly confesses that the problem which the question presents is one of exceeding difficulty. Since Mr. Roosevelt became president the federal government has been reaching out in various directions and assuming, or saying it is willing to assume, certain functions heretofore discharged by the several states.

The assumption carries with it the expenditure of vast sums of money, and while many if not all of the projects concerned are in themselves praiseworthy, the men who are responsible for federal legislation are wanting to know where the money to pay for them is coming from.

The broad policy of conservation of natural resources, inviting as it is, and deserving of all praise, is one of the projects referred to.

The proposed improvement of the inland waterways of the country, so commendable and much to be desired, is another.

The Appalachian forest reserve policy, which also has its strong points, is still another. And to the list may be added, among other things, the Davis bill providing for federal aid in the establishment and maintenance of rural schools.

There are various other projects of a similar character, most of them heartily supported by President Roosevelt, but enough are here mentioned to give the casual reader an impression as to their character and scope.

The question is, if the government is to embark on these new enterprises, where is it to get the money with which to finance them?

Experts of the treasury department have been telling Congress for some time that the government now has to raise revenue through indirect taxation, meaning a tariff. They also have been saying that if the various projects now before Congress are to be adopted it will almost certainly be necessary for Congress to impose upon the country some form of direct taxation, of which this generation has had a taste in the stamp taxes which financed the Spanish war.

Either these new ideas of federal expansion must be abandoned, or the stamp duties must be reimposed, unless we can get revenues from a postal savings bank law or an inheritance tax.

This question of revenue is particularly pertinent at this time, when Congress is preparing to revise the tariff by reducing numerous duties.

The treasury statement shows a deficit of about $45,000,000 at the end of the first three months of the present fiscal year.

It is predicted that this deficit will amount to at least $125,000,000 by the time the fiscal year closes, next June 30.

As a result of the better times, now beginning, it is probable that there will be an increase during the winter and spring of the internal revenue taxes, but there will probably be no increase from customs revenues.

Big importers, until the new tariff law has been enacted, will import their foreign purchases in bond, using from time to time only such portions of them as are needed for immediate consumption.

After a new tariff law has become operative, the imports will increase very rapidly, and it is quite likely, therefore, that the excess revenue of the next fiscal year will about offset the deficit for the present year. But the point the treasury is making is that under no tariff act will it be possible for the government to raise sufficient money to finance the big projects which have been recommended by the Roosevelt administration, and which, in a large way, the people are demanding.

This being the case, what is Congress to do?

It is the duty of the president to recommend legislation to Congress, and it is the duty of Congress to weigh these recommendations carefully, having the future as well as the present in mind, and with an eye on the federal revenues. Because Congress has been unable to see where it is to get the money with which to pay the cost of some of the projects recommended by the president, it has failed to write these projects into the statutes.

During the larger portion of the Roosevelt administration the friction between the White House and the capital has been acute, largely but not wholly because of the refusal of Congress to look at the recommendations of this class as the president looked at them.

Mr. Roosevelt will go out of office with the situation here outlined unchanged. His various bills looking to the extension of the federal authorities will not be enacted into law.

Mr. Taft, as president, will be handicapped to cope with the situation. What he will do about it nobody knows, probably not even the president-elect, at this time.

SIMS TO FIGHT THE CHICAGO PACKERS

Will Wage War to Prevent Sale of Cold Storage Food In Windy City.

Chicago, Dec. 18.—The adulterators of food and dealers in embalmed poultry, fish and meats have indicated their intention to use the fourteenth amendment of the constitution as a shield to protect them against the authorities. Undiscovered by the recent United States supreme court decision upholding the municipality of Chicago in its destruction of 4,000 pounds of cold storage chicken, adulterators of foods are preparing to again raise the point that seizure of condemned foods is "confiscatory and equivalent to seizure of property without due process of law."

U. S. Atty. Sims of the northern district of Illinois has just begun a crusade against sellers of "misbranded, adulterated and deleterious foods." In view of his intention he has filed informations against five wholesale firms of Chicago, charging them with violation of the pure food law adopted by Congress June 30, 1906. These firms, among the wealthiest and most reputable of the United States, sold olive oils, drugs, maple syrups and other goods bearing the inscription, "Inspected and Certified to be Pure by the Bureau of Chemistry of the United States." This false label in each case bore the formal signature of the firm together with its guarantee. In one instance the "maple syrup" was found to be composed of saccharine, glucose and oil of honey; in another "Standard Lemon Juice" was discovered to be acetic acid and vinegar with a little oil of lemon.

The four thousand pounds of chicken were fair samples of the kind of food cold storage houses enable speculators to put on the market. The chickens were being eaten daily in Chicago restaurants and many persons made sick thereby. One man, after eating a chicken sandwich, had convulsions and most died of pneumonia. The offense was so grave that the board of health seized the putrid fowl, which were principally embalmed feet, feathers and entrails, and removed them from the cold storage where they had reposed in frozen putrescence for two years. Despite the protests of the corporation, the chickens were destroyed. The company sued the city for their value, and the case was taken to the supreme court, where the municipality was sustained. Alarmed at that time at the prospect of perhaps having to pay for all the spoiled foods the city seized, its officers returned carloads of unfit canned goods. It later developed that a millionaire fish firm, which failed, had hundreds of thousands of pounds of fish in cold storage.

In the cold storage houses of Chicago are millions of pounds of meat, poultry, fish, eggs and other edibles, held by speculators to create scarcity and an increase of prices. When the food becomes decomposed and can no longer be kept, it will be sold for consumption. S. Water street dealers say the packers of Chicago hold 20,000,000 pounds of butter in storage. Trade journals under their control announce "a scarcity of butter, eggs, turkeys and other holiday foods," just before Christmas each year, so the packers may sell their cold storage goods at extortionate prices.

At the stockyards, carcasses of cattle with tubercular infection and lumpy jaw are passed into the market after the worst infected portions are cut out. Some of this diseased meat is put into cold storage and the germs rendered dormant by freezing.

Heretofore the municipalities have not had the power to authorize the destruction of adulterated, poisoned, and putrid food. The case just decided by the United States supreme court has strengthened the hands of the authorities. It remains to be seen if the influence of wealthy dealers in poison food will procure the discharge
