MYSTERY IN THE DEATH OF STRANGER HURT ON VIADUCT

Though Only Two Small Bruises Were Made on His Body He Died in Agony.

WAS INJURED IN PECULIAR MANNER

Stepping Aside to Avoid Pedestrians He Struck Against a Board, Dying After Several Hours of Severe Pain.

Ed McNeese, the man injured on the Coal avenue viaduct at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in a manner yet undetermined by a coroner's jury, died at St. Joseph's sanitarium at 7 o'clock this morning, after a night of terrible suffering. So violent did he become that it required four men to hold him in his bed for several hours previous to 3 o'clock this morning. After that hour he became quieter until his death at 7 o'clock.

But two slight blue and red spots on the right side of the body one three and a half feet from the bottom of the foot and the other five inches higher, are the only evidences of the accident and how these were made is a mystery.

According to McNeese's own story told a few minutes after the accident, as he related it to William Graham, of the Graham Dye Works, 505 So. Second street, he was walking down the west approach of the viaduct and ran into a piece of board protruding from the railing. He said that he came in contact with the board while avoiding persons he met in the narrow passageway. The blow knocked him down with such force that he struck his head on the floor of the viaduct with great violence. He was helped off the viaduct by a young man and an old man, and remained there while the young man telephoned for an ambulance.

Graham says that he did not know the two men who were with McNeese. He believes they were both strangers to McNeese, who happened on the viaduct at the time of the accident. While waiting for the ambulance McNeese uncovered his side and showed Graham the bruised places. The latter said this morning that there was no outward evidence of serious injury, though the man complained of pains and said he feared that he had broken something.

On arriving at the hospital, McNeese was placed in the general ward but it soon became evident that he was seriously injured. He was then moved to a private room on the first floor. His pain increased and he became violent. During one of his quiet moments he said that he had a brother living at Lowell, Mass. He said that he was a Catholic and asked to see a priest. At intervals he would say something about "his valuable papers." He wrote two addresses after reaching the hospital but they are unintelligible. He talked very much at random and in an incoherent manner. The nurses said this morning that they believed his head was hurt as well as his side. He believed that he could hear it raining outside and said so repeatedly.

He Was Without Money.
McNeese took a room at Sturges' European hotel Saturday evening, registering from San Francisco. He was well dressed and carried a suitcase. Sunday morning he told the clerk that he would leave that night for the south, paid for his room and went out. He returned about 4 o'clock in the evening and got his coat and said that he was going out for a walk. He left his suitcase at the hotel. This was opened this morning and found to contain only a few clothes, including two new night gowns.

The clothing he wore had the appearance of being new, and fashionably cut. He was fully six feet tall, had dark hair and gray eyes. He was 25 years old and told the nurses at the hospital that he was born in Australia. Although he said both at the hospital and at the hotel that he was a bartender, the appearance of his hands indicates that he had done harder work. The presence of tattoo marks on his breast and on his arms indicates that he may have been a sailor at one time.

On the breast is tattooed in blue the thirteenth verse of the thirteenth chapter of Hebrews. On the right arm in red and blue is "1904" and an unfurled United States flag. On the left arm was the emblem of the Masonic order, indicating that possibly he was a Mason. He had but 35 cents in his pocket, and no valuables except a gold watch and chain.

Coroner Investigates.
Coroner W. W. McClellan this morning empaneled a coroner's jury as follows: Ben Hecht, James McCarriston, R. L. Wootton, Samuel Gordon, John Biddlecomb and Dick

SUES HAMMERSTEIN FOR $100,000

Miss Frances Lee, the opera singer, who has sued Oscar Hammerstein for $100,000 for breach of promise, is known as "The Texas Patti." She will claim that her appearance in such parts as Marguerite in "Faust" and as Gilda in "Rigoletto," coupled with the further encouragement Mr. Hammerstein is alleged to have given her, fostered her ambition and caused her to assume that she was to become a leading prima donna.

Furthermore, to prove her allegations, Miss Lee will produce sundry love missives, in number about 500, all of which she claims breathed tender love sentiments and set forth glowing prophecies of a brilliant future for her on the operatic stage. Sanches. The jury viewed the body at the hospital and visited the viaduct. The investigation lasted two hours but revealed only superficial, self-evident facts. The jury could find no place on the viaduct, according to one of their number, where they deemed it possible for a person to hurt himself as McNeese was hurt. There were several corners and points sticking out from various parts of the viaduct upon which one might receive a slight bruise, but no fatal hurt. These places were all too low to have made the bruises on McNeese as he was a very tall man. After visiting the viaduct the jury adjourned to meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow to hear the testimony of the physicians who attended the injured man and any other witnesses who might know about the case. The identity of the persons McNeese tried to avoid when hurt had not been learned at noon today. If these can be located much of the mystery will be cleared up, it is believed.

City Physician Pearce, who attended McNeese at St. Joseph's hospital immediately after the accident, says that McNeese told him he had valuable papers in his valise, which was left at the Sturges hotel, but when, when opened this morning, contained only a few pieces of clothing. The fact that McNeese had no money for valuables when taken to the hospital, yet appearing prosperous in the extreme, is another strange feature of his case.

Fred Crockett, the young man from the undertaking establishment of French & Lowber, who was in charge of the ambulance which carried McNeese from 507 South Second street to the hospital, said this morning that he saw a bundle of papers in the man's inside overcoat pocket when he picked the coat up and placed it in the ambulance. These have not been seen since. While McNeese told the nurses at the hospital that he stepped on the end of a board and it flew up and hit him, the injured man told Dr. Pearce the same story he told William Graham of 505 South Second street.

Dr. Pearce says there is no possible chance of the man having taken poison. He was struck in the side and probably smashed a kidney. An autopsy will be held this afternoon to ascertain the real cause of death.

TAFT'S BROTHER OPENS FIGHT FOR SENATORSHIP.
Cincinnati, Dec. 21.—Charles P. Taft left today for Columbus to open headquarters from which he will carry on his contest for United States senator, to succeed Foraker. Taft declared before leaving that there is no truth in the report that Roosevelt opposed his candidacy and said that the latter's denial of taking part in the contest should be accepted as final. He would not speak of the reported break between President-elect Taft and Congressman Burton.

SOLDIERS ARE POISONED.
Manila, Dec. 21.—Ten soldiers of the Eighteenth Infantry, in camp at Kethley, Mindanao, drank an acid that was served as "vino," the native beverage, in camp on December 15th, and died from the effects, some on the day following. No details of the matter are obtainable.

THE AMERICAN WIFE OF CHINAMAN DRIVEN TO SUICIDE

She Threw Herself Under a Train After Poisoning Her Four Children.

"SAVE GIRL FROM LIFE OF MISERY"

She Left a Note, Telling Her Reason for Killing Children -- Is Believed to Have Been Temporarily Insane.

Chicago, Dec. 21.—The American wife of Ah Wong, a Chinese restaurant proprietor of Plano, used desperate means and today partly succeeded in ending the lives of her four children and herself. She gave the children wood alcohol and then stabbed one of them, Ida, aged 3 years. Ida died, and the mother, who is said to have been temporarily insane, as a result of a coroner's jury verdict, drank poison and then threw herself under a moving train on the Burlington railroad.

She left a note, which was found on her mangled body. The note said: "Thank God it is over. It was horrible. I can't go on with the rest, but no one shall lead my girl the life of misery I have led. I shall not depend on poison. The way must be sure."

That part of the message, "I can't go on" is supposed to refer to her inability to undergo the horror of executing all of her children as she executed Ida.

HAMMERSTEIN WILL BUILD NEW THEATRE.
New York, Dec. 21.—Oscar Hammerstein announced today that he would build another opera-house here, and on its completion use his present Manhattan opera house for a theater. The new opera house will be on the upper west side, in the neighborhood of Central Park.

Hammerstein says it will be far better than the immense opera house which he built and opened this year in Philadelphia. He intends making it the most commodious and satisfactory opera house in the world. Work will soon begin, and Hammerstein expects to have the house completed in less than a year. If his plans are carried out it will be opened at the commencement of the opera season, in November, 1909.

BULLOCK TELLS WHY HE MADE PROPOSAL

Says He Did Not Know Whether Sewer System Would Cost Amount Proposed.

W. P. Bullock of the American Light and Water company, who proposed three weeks ago to build a sewer system for Albuquerque for 10 per cent above cost, arrived on the California limited today and will leave this evening for El Paso, Texas. Mr. Bullock seemed very much hurt that the city council should rescind the contract it made with his company without notifying him. He said that he had come back with the intention of asking them to do so, but now that it was done, he did not think he would go to the council meeting tonight. Mr. Bullock said that he did not know whether his company would bid on an open proposition or not. He would think about it.

He said that he hatched up the proposition of building the system for the city with his company's machinery on a 10 per cent profit basis because he understood that there was some question among the people whether or not the system would cost as much money as the experts had estimated. He said that he made the proposition because he believed that it would appeal to the people and represented a number of advantages which could not be had by the contract system.

WOUNDED BROKER DIES.
New York, Dec. 21.—Harry B. Suydam, the curb broker who was shot last Saturday by John C. Lumsden, an inventor, died in the hospital today. Lumsden is under arrest. The shooting, which was witnessed by hundreds of brokers on the curb market, which is directly in front of Suydam's office, is said to have been the outgrowth of a dispute over the payment for stock in a company which was organized to handle one of Lumsden's inventions.

HARRIMAN NOT ILL.
New York, Dec. 21.—The report that E. H. Harriman is ill was denied at Harriman's office today and it was stated that Harriman is in good health at his home in this city.

"FEED HIM" IS NEW PHILOSOPHY

MRS. WADE ELLIS.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 21.—"Feed him" is advice as old as the hills out to a powerful coterie of attractive young matrons in Washington, the principles of this wise precept are being applied in a manner that has gained them recognition as followers of a new feminine philosophy.

"Keep our public men amused, well fed and consequently happy."

Mrs. Wade Ellis, wife of the assistant attorney general, whom rumor names as Mr. Bonaparte's successor in the Taft cabinet, voices the sentiments they all endorse.

"I think that portion of the human race which furnishes the play, is a contributing member to the government scheme," said Mrs. Ellis. "The women give a big part when they get up the pleasant dinner, the cheerful reception, the ways and means for an agreeable evening. This keeps the men at peace with themselves and all the world, and works for the good of the nation as well as for the home."

Mrs. Ellis is from Ohio. She is spending her first winter in Washington. Before her marriage she was Miss Densie Corwin Chase, and she is a kin to great statesmen.

HERRICK MAY HAVE CHARGE OF TREASURY
Cabinet Makers Pick Ohio Man for Important Place in Administration.

Washington, Dec. 21.—The selection of Senator Knox as secretary of state in Taft's cabinet has started the "cabinet makers" to work again. Knox as secretary of state and Hitchcock as postmaster general, will probably exert some influence on the selection of the remaining cabinet officers. It is believed that Myron T. Herrick, of Ohio, is slated for secretary of the treasury, and that George T. Wickersham, of New York, will be named attorney general. The name of Governor Magoon is most prominently mentioned in connection with the position of secretary of war, and for secretary of the navy, William Loeb or Charles A. Thompson, both of New York, are talked of. Richard A. Ballinger, of Seattle, is the only man mentioned for secretary of the interior and it is regarded as probable that James M. Wilson will retain his position as secretary of agriculture. A California man, Geo. A. Knight, is mentioned for secretary of commerce and labor.

BATTLESHIP MAIN SAILS SOUTHWARD

It Is Believed the Vessel Goes to Venezuela to Protect American Interests.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 21.—A special from Portsmouth today says that the battleship Maine, flagship of the third squadron of the new Atlantic fleet, with Rear Admiral Arnold aboard, sailed today under sealed orders, for the south. She is presumably bound for Venezuela. The armored cruiser South Carolina sails today for Charleston bay and the cruiser Montana is expected to sail Wednesday to join the North Carolina.

TAFT'S MOVING DAY.
Augusta, Ga., Dec. 21.—The Taft family took possession of the Terrell cottage at noon today, moving from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, where they have been guests since their arrival here. Taft spent the morning on the golf links. He had no visitors from outside the city.

ROBBIE SUSPECT ARRESTED.
Portland, Ore., Dec. 21.—A man suspected of being one of the three robbers who held up an Oregon Railroad and Navigation company west-bound passenger train a few miles from Portland last Thursday night, was arrested here last night by a railroad detective.

COTTON PRODUCTION LARGER.
Washington, Dec. 21.—A total of 11,892,115 bales of cotton have been ginned from the crop of 1908 to December 13, as against 9,284,070 for the same period of last year, as announced by the census bureau today.

THAW MUST STAY IN THE ASYLUM

The Slayer of White Cannot Be Taken to Pittsburgh, Is Court's Decision.

Philadelphia, Dec. 21.—Harry K. Thaw, the slayer of Stanford White, who is now confined in the state hospital for the criminal insane, cannot be taken to Pittsburgh to testify in bankruptcy proceedings, according to a decision handed down today by the United States circuit court of appeals in this city. Whether the case will be taken to the United States supreme court has not yet been decided.

This decision affirms the action of Judge Young of the United States court for the western district of Pennsylvania, sitting at Pittsburgh, who quashed the writ of habeas corpus on the superintendent of Mattewan asylum.

KENTUCKY BANKER GETS ANOTHER CHANCE

Jury Could Not Agree in Case of Parrish, Who Took Money When His Bank Was Insolvent.

Hawesville, Ky., Dec. 21.—After having been out since Friday, the jury in the case of the state against James H. Parrish, the Owensboro banker who is charged with having accepted deposits for his bank after it had become insolvent, today reported that it could not agree and was discharged. An alleged liability of about a million dollars is involved.

The receivership of this bank last April affected western Kentucky, southern Indiana and Cincinnati correspondents and depositors, and was the largest failure in the history of Kentucky banks.

The specific charge is that filed by H. T. Martin, who asserted that Parrish received a deposit of $130 a few days before the bank failed.

STANDARD FILES BRIEF.
Washington, Dec. 21.—The Standard Oil attorneys Saturday filed a brief for the company in the supreme court in the case in which the government obtained a judgment and the oil company was fined $22,249,000 for accepting rebates from the Chicago and Alton railroad. The decision was reversed by the appellate court and the case is now in the supreme court on a writ of certiorari. The brief filed by the Standard attorneys maintains that the supreme court has no right to review the case.

SOME ONE STOLE MILLIONS.
Lisbon, Dec. 21.—The newly elected municipal court has unearthed a big scandal in the city's accounts. Over $7,000,000 has disappeared. The former monarchical councillors admit irregularities but lay the blame on the government, which they say, illegally took the city's money.

EUROPE CAN'T COMPETE WITH AMERICAN STEEL SAYS CARNEGIE

Millionaire Retiterates Statement in Magazine That Tariff Can Be Removed.

MAIN WITNESS BEFORE COMMITTEE

He Proves to be the Most Interesting Yet Called--Says Figures Would Do No Good, so Refrains From Giving Any.

Washington, Dec. 21.—Andrew Carnegie, whose published views on the tariff question caused considerable comment, took the stand before the House ways and means committee today. He testified in support of the statement he made recently in a magazine article, declaring that the steel industry needs no protection.

As a witness Carnegie proved the most interesting one that has yet appeared before the committee since the tariff hearings have begun. His testimony was interspersed with humorous and epigrammatic remarks. He was not willing to deal in figures, however.

"The more figures you get the more befogged you will be," he said. "I do not judge by figures; I judge by results."

Carnegie avoided direct replies to questions as to whether the cost of producing steel at the present time as given by Gary and Schwebel is correct.

"Schwab's estimate of the present cost is based on entirely different ideals than his estimate of the cost in 1899, was all he would say to questions."

Replying to a question, Carnegie declared that the removal of the duty on steel would not necessarily affect prices because Europe cannot successfully compete with the American product.

SAYS HAINS TRIED TO PREVENT MURDER

Flushing, N. Y., Dec. 21.—Evidence that Thornton J. Hains expressed regret for the killing of William Annis by his brother and that he had been endeavoring for some time to prevent the killing was drawn out on the cross examination of Charles Roberts, a member of the Rysdale Yacht club, today. The witness told a clear story of the killing, supplying many details that have been lacking.

WOULD BAR ABSINTHE

Washington, Dec. 21.—There is a probability that the further importation of absinthe into the United States will be prohibited. A recommendation to that effect was made by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, and the action of the secretary is awaited with interest. Dr. Wiley recently conducted some investigations in reference to the extent to which absinthe is used in this country and has discovered that, on account of the taste and effect of the drug, the habit is rapidly acquired and is a difficult one to give up.

In his recommendation Dr. Wiley points out that section eleven of the pure food and drug act prohibits the importation of articles injurious to health, and he classes absinthe as one of these. Dr. Wiley said: "The use of absinthe has caused great distress in France and the authorities have taken up the question of prohibiting its sale. The Belgian government already has passed a law prohibiting its sale in the kingdom."

SHE WAS A POPULAR GIRL

Muskogee, Ok., Dec. 21.—Because she possessed a lease which half a dozen oil companies sought, Susie Turner, a Tahlequah Cherokee Indian girl 18 years old has spent a month in jail.

Kidnaped at night on a street of Tahlequah and driven forty-five miles in a race to catch a train the young Indian girl was hustled into a Pullman stateroom on the Katy flyer, hurried out of Oklahoma, married to her sweetheart on the train, wind, dined and entertained at the expense of one of the oil companies and has just been returned to Oklahoma, 18 years old. Mrs. Turner, who also has passed the half-century mark, is defendant in the suit.

SHE TOLD HER AGE

New York, Dec. 21.—As the plaintiff in a breach of promise suit in which she demands $25,000 damages, Mrs. Annie M. Bliss was compelled to reveal, much against her will, that she is 54 years old. The question about her age was asked by the lawyer for Emil Frell, formerly one of the biggest silver bullion brokers in the city. Frell, who also has passed the half-century mark, is defendant in the suit.

STATEHOOD FOR NEW MEXICO

We favor the immediate admission of the territories of New Mexico and Arizona as separate states in the Union.—Republican National Platform.

Now is the time to ring the Christmas bells.

Socorro Chieftain: That last grand jury played the dickens with Socorro's Sunday business. The men who want a cigar, a newspaper, a toothpick, or even a loaf of bread had better stock up the day before, for those articles are forbidden fruit as far as their purchase on a Sunday in Socorro is concerned. And as for a drink on the seventh day of the week—why, the man who even smacks his lips on passing a saloon makes the proprietor dream dreams of fifteen days and the trimmings.

McKinley County Republican: After reading the articles that are appearing in some of the New Mexico papers as to changing the name from New Mexico to Lincoln, there seems to be only one conclusion to come to. That those who opposed the election of Andrews fear that the fight that he is leading for admission as a state is about to win, and they are willing to take any risk rather than see New Mexico become a state through the efforts of the man they tried so hard to defeat, and therefore they have started the fight on the name as a means of gaining their end. Nice game, ain't it?

HANDSOME SOUVENIR

SOME MEMBERS STILL FEAR PRESIDENT

He Can Do a Great Many Things in the Short Time Before He Retires.

Washington, Dec. 21.—A lot of people grow uneasy when they contemplate the things it is possible for Theodore Roosevelt to do during the less than three months that remain of his administration. Already a considerable number of Congressmen are in the slough of despond because of the executive order placing 10,000 fourth class postmasters under the protection of the civil service laws, and there is every reason to believe the order will be extended to cover the remaining 5,000 fourth class offices. And there is a disquieting report from the White House that the president has in mind the placing of some 20,000 other officers under the civil service, including deputy marshals, deputy surveyors, deputy collectors, assistant district attorneys, etc.

Already for all practical purposes consular appointments have been removed from the class of Congressional patronage, and should the president carry out the program he is reported to have under consideration senators and representatives will have left to them no more patronage than has the resident commissioner from Porto Rico, who has no say in the distribution of offices beyond the appointment of his personal secretary. Seven out of ten members of Congress then will be ready to get up and declare that "a foul outrage has been perpetrated." The other three in ten possess unbounded satisfaction at the prospect. That's because there is a difference of opinion. The seven who feel outraged hold to the belief that the patronage a member has to distribute makes him more friends than it does enemies and enables him to hold on to his seat in Congress. The other three believe a man makes more enemies than friends through the distribution of patronage and don't want to be bothered with office-seekers, anyhow. Mostly, such a case belongs to the "high brow" class of statesmen, who don't like even to send out garden seeds.

Army and navy officers of long service constitute another class who are ill at ease. The rumor is persistent in circles of the service that the president proposes wholesale retirement some time between now and March 4. Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly gone on record as favoring younger men in the higher ranks of the army and navy, and as the law provides that the president may, "in his discretion" retire an officer who has reached the age of 62 years or been 43 years in the service under a commission it is only natural to expect that while power yet remains in his hands he will do something to put his theories into practice.

In the army two major generals, four brigadier generals and more than thirty colonels and lieutenant colonels have passed or are very close to the age of 62. All of them are subject to retirement by order of the commander-in-chief. Their retirement would furnish an opportunity for the promotion of meritorious young officers which must appeal powerfully to the president. Nor is there any certainty that these promotions would be made according to seniority. There is no law compelling the president to observe the time-honored rule of seniority, and he has ignored it in a number of very notable instances. The cases of General Wood, now commanding the department of the east and General Crozier, chief of the ordnance bureau, are illustrations. The navy does not afford so many opportunities for retirements but there are quite a number of officers eligible to involuntary relief from active duty who are not ready to quit, and they jump at every unusual noise. Prospective retirements, however, are not needed to keep the navy in hot water. The reorganization of that branch of the service which the president already has under way is sufficient to engage all the spare attention of naval officers.

That during the present session of Congress there are going to be a number of interesting exchanges between the White House and the capitol goes without saying. Theodore Roosevelt has personal and very pronounced views regarding Congress, and Congress is not without its specific and not always favorable views of Theodore Roosevelt. In the past there have been considerations, political and otherwise, which made it advisable that there be mutual restraint in the expression of these views. These considerations are now largely removed, and the country may settle down to have a good time observing the exchanges of "hot shot."

The president led off with that little paragraph in his annual message about members of Congress being afraid of the activities of the treasury secret service, and Congress was not slow to resolve upon a counter blow. As there are not likely to be any serious casualties, let the war proceed merrily.

The naval committee of Congress do not seem any more disposed than they were last winter to agree with the president upon the necessity of authorizing the construction of four battleships a year. The program is advocated again in the president's message and in the annual report of the secretary of the navy, but the veterans of the naval committee and in the Senate and House remain unimpressed.

It is true that there is today a larger number than ever before of individual members of Congress who favor a larger program of naval construction, but they are well high powerless so long as the naval committee remain as now organized.

Some Reasons Why

The C

Because The Citizen is a home paper. It is either delivered by carrier at the house or is carried home by the business man whose day's work is done and it STAYS THERE. A morning paper is usually carried down town by the head of the family and hurriedly read.

I

The Citizen is not read hurriedly, but thoroughly, so that all advertisements receive their share of attention. It presents the news news a little ahead, giving the prospective purchaser time to plan a shopping tour for the next morning.

T

Wise advertisers patronize The Citizen because they know their advertisements are seen and read at the homes in the evening, and if they are offering something worthy of attention, their ad has accomplished its mission.

I

The Citizen has never given premiums to subscribers, but is accustomed to and paid for on its news service, allowing that its subscribers have money with which to buy what they want from legitimate merchandise. These are the people The Citizen invites to your store.

Z

The Citizen employs a man whose business it is to look after your advertising wants. He will write your copy if you wish. If not, he will see that your ads are "set up" to look their best and he will attend to them from day to day.

E

Are you advertising in The Citizen? Your competitors are, and are profiting by it. Do you think conservative business men are spending money where they are not getting results? Get in the swim and watch your business grow.

TWO OFFICERS GET TWO STORE ROBBERS

Assistant Marshal and Sheriff Are Expected to Return Today.

Assistant Marshal Cooper and Sheriff Armijo, who went to San Bernardino after the two men arrested for robbing the Mitchell Bros. store here a short time ago, are expected to reach Albuquerque tonight with their prisoners. The San Bernardino Sun says:

H. J. Cooper, assistant marshal of Albuquerque, arrived here yesterday morning after the two burglars, Everett and Cardenas, who were arrested here some days ago. Sheriff Perfecto Armijo of the same city, passed through here yesterday, en route to Sacramento to get the signature of Governor Gillett to the requisition papers for taking the men back to prosecution. He will probably return here Saturday and Sunday for the return trip.

The store which the men robbed, Michael Bros., is on the outskirts of the city and not close under surveillance by the officers, so the men had plenty of time to work.

Marshal Cooper stated yesterday that they had found where the thieves had disposed of portions of the plunder in Gallup, N. M., at Winslow, Needles, and other places, and he expects to be able to recover most of it. It will be remembered that the men had shipped two suit cases of plunder from Gallup to Los Angeles, and they were brought back here after the capture of the men and will be turned over to the Albuquerque officers.

Marshal Cooper is a crack shot, and in the years past has won a number of medals for excellent marksmanship. It is expected that while he is here he will give an exhibition of his target work, which is said to be really marvelous. He went to Los Angeles last evening and will return here tonight or Saturday morning.

THE DALTON RAID IN MOVING PICTURES

Famous Kansas Robbery of Years Ago Will be Reenacted for the Public.

Coffeyville, Kan., Dec. 21.—Under the personal direction of Emmet Dalton here the Dalton raid of sixteen years ago was reenacted for a moving picture company. Nearly 2,000 feet of film were made. In the original raid in 1892 Emmet Dalton was severely wounded and three of his companions were killed. Dalton selected four companions from a theatrical company. He picked them as nearly as possible to resemble his own two brothers and his two companions in the raid. When the selections were made the five men went to the dressing rooms of the theater and selected regulation cow-boy attire. Then they mounted horses and rode to the timber. The first picture was that of the breakfast on the banks of Onion creek, just before riding into the city for the robbery. An amusing feature was the usual morning target practice. This consisted of placing an egg on a post and firing at it with a revolver. As the flash of the revolver showed in the picture the egg was broken. The shot that broke it, however, came not from the revolver, but from a shotgun fired at it from an unseen point.

The target practice was followed by a race through the country roads. In this Emmet Dalton shows very plainly. Next is seen one of the oldest houses in the city where there is an old fashioned outside stairway. The bandits rob this house in great style. Many pictures of the buildings occupied by the banks in 1892 were taken today. The interior of the banks must be shown in pictures, however, as the local banks would not listen to any proposition to be used as the scene for the repetition of the bloody battle of October 5, 1892. The moving picture battles will be fought on the stage of a theater and then be thrown on a film in connection with the actual buildings to give the picture a fairly accurate resemblance to what took place in the real raid.

There is some feeling here against Dalton for taking part in the moving picture show.

Emmet Dalton, while out on a parole prior to his pardon by Governor Hoch, said that he never expected to use the fact that he had ever been a member of an outlaw gang for personal gain.

"What I want to do," he said, "is to forget that I ever was mixed up in that sort of business in any way. I just want a chance to get out in the world and make a decent, honest living."

Dalton criticized Cole Younger for advertising his former connection with the James boys in traveling shows.

DR. WILEY TELLS ABOUT DRUG HABIT

This Country is Addicted to It
More Than Any Other In the World, He Says.

Washington, Dec. 21.—Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture, in an interview here recently makes the statement that there is perhaps no other country in the world more addicted to the use of drugs than the United States. He recommended as the best method of stamping out the evil, a monopoly on opium and other drugs by the government.

Speaking of the patent medicine epidemic, which he said was largely due to well-meaning, but mistaken amateur doctors, Dr. Wiley said: "The indiscriminate drugging of the community at their own request is a practice which the pharmacist should frown upon. As a rule there is little occasion for taking drugs for slight disturbances of health. If a person has a slight cold, the simple remedy which the physician recommends to the druggist will be quite sufficient without paying a fancy price for remedies."

"The provision of the national act that certain habit-forming drugs should have their names and quantities stated upon the label is a most excellent provision in so far as warning the consumer is concerned."

Taking up the subject of the harm to the drug business arising from the enactment of restrictive measures, he continued:

"The law controlling the traffic in drugs is not for your benefit. You need only to read the best of the food and drugs act to understand its purpose. It is true that in legislation which results in the enactment of these laws special interests receive unwarranted and reprehensible consideration."

"There is hardly an act which relates to the public welfare which is not to some extent molded by this special influence. The sooner the manufacturer realizes the fundamental principle of this legislation the better."

"The main purpose of the drug act is, first, to see that the consumer gets the drug which the prescription calls for; second, that he is not subject to extortion through any secret manipulation falsely enhancing the prices at which the drug is sold; third, that the citizen be protected properly against the formation of the drug habit, and fourth, that the citizen who has already formed this unfortunate habit may be so restricted in his access to the 'dope' that he may be cured of his disease."

"The provisions of the national laws relating to drugs are most salutary and admirable, in so far as they extend, but they are not sufficiently far-reaching, and they are to some extent weakened by provisions which, while intended to be of a proper character, are really used as vehicles for abuses."

Speaking of the prevalence of the opium, morphine and cocaine habits, Dr. Wiley said:

"At the present time there are a number of bills pending in Congress looking to the suppression of at least a portion of the illegitimate trade in opium and a few other drugs. One of the plans which promises the greatest hopes of success is that of a government monopoly. I know this is paternalism, but paternalism is a matter of politics and necessity which has come to stay."

In the expenditure of money, time, and energy the preparations for the induction into office of President-elect William Howard Taft will exceed anything ever before attempted in Washington. No inaugural committee in the past has made such rapid progress in so short a time as has the present organization.

Hardly had the committee been announced when it became known that more than $40,000 in subscriptions toward the inaugural fund had been received. This, too, was before any formal call had been made.

D. W. Martin, chairman of the sub-committee on railroad terminal facilities, has opened offices in the east wing of the Union Station, and there members of his committee may be found working diligently over the problems of caring for the thousands of visitors who will come to Washington to attend the inaugural ceremonies.

Chairman Cuno Rudolph, of the fireworks committee, promises many new features in the pyrotechnic display. He has two sites in view for the setting off of hundreds of gigantic bombs, roman candles, rockets and other fireworks.

Frederick Owen, an architect, and chairman of a committee of citizens which has the beautifying of parks and buildings in view, has planned a novel scheme which he will present to the committee. He suggests that half of the appropriation for fireworks be put into illuminated floats emblematic of the various states.

"These floats," said Mr. Owen, "will be made to represent shields of the several states. Each float is to be manned by young women dressed in costumes emblematic of the different commonwealths. The floats will form in line and parade from the capitol to the White House."

Mr. Owen has some original ideas as to the manner in which "Old Glory" should be handled on March 4. He is opposed to making fast any of the folds of the flag, preferring to see them floating freely.

Major Sylvester is planning how to handle the crowds expected on the day of fete. In order to allow the inaugural parade, which is expected to be larger than ever this year, to have a clear way over the line of march, the chief will issue orders similar to those which were used at the inauguration of President Roosevelt.

Gen. J. Franklin Bell, chief of staff, chairman of the military committee, reports that many of the numerous organizations that will participate in the parade have been selected and the list will be made public in a few days.

The army of pacification, now in Cuba, will be in the line of march, as will the officers and blue jackets of Admiral Sperry's "around-the-world" fleet.

Cooks, N. M., Dec. 18, 1908.

Editor Citizen:
I experimented a little on raising cotton here this year, just to see the result. I enclose a sample of the product. I sent a similar sample to Washington and enclose a letter which I received, and which you may print if you wish.

Yours truly,
GEORGE L. GROVER.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 12, 1908.

Mr. Geo. L. Grover, Cooks, N. M.
Dear Sir:—Your letter of Dec. 7th enclosing sample of Egyptian cotton grown by you, has been received. I am much interested in examining this fiber, which appears to be very fine, of good strength and fair length. If it is a representative sample of what you have grown I should say that you have obtained very promising results from the seed sent you.

Very truly yours,
T. H. KEARNEY,
Physiologist in Charge.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

New Names Among the Leaders in the C. & A. Co.'s Prize Contest.

Indications point to an exciting finish in the C. & A. Co.'s prize contest for the school children, several names which appeared near the bottom of the list published in The Citizen Saturday evening, have jumped to the first position.

Alone Trusswell, who stood way down in the list with $1.00 to his credit, appears today No. 6, and lacks but 15 cents of being among the winners of money prizes.

Alone Trusswell still holds first place coming in with $2.10 of new orders this morning.

William Asken holds second place, and Marguerite Combs third, both having strengthened their position with new orders this morning.

But tomorrow may tell a different story. Several of the boys and girls who are now way down in the list claim to have "something up their sleeves" and new names may lead the list next time.

ABOUT TOWN

Mrs. Hugh Collins, who suffered an attack of appendicitis last week, is so much improved today that she may be able to return to her home tonight. She was not operated upon.

Leave your order for Christmas turkeys at the Richfield grocery.

Twenty-five discharged soldiers of Troop B, Fifth cavalry, passed through the city last evening on their way to their homes in the east. The boys have been in service in the Philippine Islands.

After almost a year and a half spent in Europe, Mrs. T. C. Lebo returned to Albuquerque last Saturday evening and while in the city will be the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hawks.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Wood of Hurley, S. D., are in the city visiting his brother, J. A. Wood and family, of the Hotel Denver. Mr. and Mrs. Wood are very favorably impressed with Albuquerque and will remain until after Christmas.

There will be four long films of up to date pictures and a song by Little Miss Alice Drummond, 5 years old, on the program at the Colombo theater tonight. The pictures will be "The One Best Bet," "A Plucky Woman," "Barbara Fritchie" and "Yons Tanson."

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Dutcher of 415 North Fourteenth street, are enjoying a visit from Mr. Dutcher's mother, Mrs. E. D. Dutcher, who arrived Saturday from Westerville, Ohio. Mrs. Dutcher expects to spend the remainder of the winter here.

Lloyd E. Russell, of the Dominion Construction company's surveying corps at San Pedro, is in the city en route to his home in Lawrence, Kan., where he will spend the Christmas holidays. Mr. Russell is accompanied by R. K. Durkin, of the same place, who is spending a few days in the city after which he will return to the camp at San Pedro.

Patrons of the Los Angeles restaurant were surprised this morning to see Soo Hoo Pong emerge from behind a table with a fork sticking in his face. Soo Hoo Pong doesn't usually wear forks in his face, so naturally the diners were surprised. It developed, however, the fork wasn't meant for decorative purposes. An old guest of the restaurant threw up his hands suddenly when Soo Hoo Pong brought in his breakfast and the fork was in one hand. It struck Soo Hoo Pong in the face and stuck. Soo Hoo Pong was not seriously injured.

H. C. BRUNLIEB DEAD AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

He Had Been a Resident of Albuquerque Eight Years and Held Much Property.

H. C. Brunlieb, for eight years a resident of this city, and a large property holder, died yesterday afternoon at 3:20 o'clock in his apartment in the Grant building, death resulting from a complication of diseases hastened by injuries received from a fall through a skylight in that building about a month ago. Mr. Brunlieb came to this city from Milwaukee eight years ago and engaged in the grocery business which trade he successfully pursued for four years. Later he became interested in the rooming apartments in the Grant building, of which he was the proprietor up to the time of his death. Previous to moving to this city he was in the livery business at Mazomania, Wis.

Mr. Brunlieb was a native of Germany and was in his 65th year at the time of his death. He is survived by his wife, who was at his bedside when death came, and a son and daughter, the former living in Milwaukee and the latter in Los Angeles. Though both have been notified of the death of their father, it will be impossible for them to come here and the body will be shipped to the old home in Milwaukee, where interment will be made.

In his early days Mr. Brunlieb was a sailor and spent many years on sailing vessels. He visited practically every country in the world and in later years was fond of telling his adventures as a sailor.

The body will be shipped to Milwaukee tomorrow morning.

Being prominently connected with the Masonic order, an escort composed of local Masons, will accompany the body to the train.

A SMALLPOX REMEDY.

One of the eastern magazines contains the following:
"During the smallpox epidemic in Philadelphia several years ago, Dr. Robinson, medical director of the department of health, prepared a formula based on chlorine from which was made Lettice—a material which was used by the city to the utter annihilation of the smallpox germ. There were 121 centers of contagion and the chief of the bureau of health under an emergency ordinance of the city council, literally flooded the neighborhoods, 120,000 gallons were used, but smallpox was stamped out. While it killed the germs it was taken internally without injury and to the manifest benefit of the patient."

Hair Dresser and Chiropodist
Mrs. Bambini, at her parlors opposite the Alvarado and next door to Sturges' Cafe, is prepared to give thorough scalp treatment, go hair dressing, treat corns, bunions and ingrown nails. She gives massage treatment and manicure. Mrs. Bambini's own preparation of complexion cream builds up the skin and improves the complexion, and is guaranteed not to be injurious. She also prepares hair tonic that cures and prevents dandruff and hair falling out; removes warts and spots; removes moles, warts and freckles. For any blemish of the face call and consult Mrs. Bambini.

Good furniture will be given away at auction tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. at the Greenleaf building, 120 West Silver avenue. Scott Knight, auctioneer.

BEGIN WORK TODAY ON FEDERAL BUILDING

Small Force Will Prepare for Resumption of Work in Earnest After January 1.

A small force of men was put to work this morning at the new federal building, strengthening foundations, excavating, etc., in preparation for the resumption of work after January 1, when Contractor Ansen will begin in earnest to complete the building. Additional material which was held back pending the completion of plans for the third story, is on the way now and will be here in sufficient quantity to resume work after the first of the year.

KENNEDY DEFEATED CHICAGO FIGHTER

Lively Program at Athletic Club Saturday Night Witnessed by Big Crowd.

The monthly smoker of the Albuquerque Athletic club held at the armory Saturday night gave about 100 sportsmen two hours and a half of lively entertainment. The principal go, a fifteen-round endurance contest between Prof. Kennedy of Chicago and Bob Walker of Chicago, ended in the middle of the sixth round. Walker was no match for the Albuquerque boy. Kennedy felt his man out in the first round. After one minute's fighting Walker realized that he was outclassed and sparred to the finish with hopes of making a draw of it. He was off his feet not less than ten times. It was only by clever foot work and his gameness that he got lasted as long as it did.

The preliminary between two negroes, Arizona Slim and an Albuquerque boy, ended in a draw. It went to the scheduled six rounds, and there were no dull moments from the time the gong sounded.

Medicine That is Medicine.
"I have suffered a good deal with malaria and stomach complaints, but I have now found a remedy that keeps me well, and that remedy is Electric Bitters; a medicine that is medicine for stomach and liver troubles, and for run down conditions," says W. Muscular Pains Cured.

"During the summer of 1903 I was troubled with muscular pains in the instep of my foot," says Mr. S. Pedlar, of Toronto, Ont. "At times it was so painful I could hardly walk. Chamberlain's Pain Balm was recommended to me, so I tried it and was completely cured by one small bottle. I have since recommended it to several of my friends, all of whom speak highly of it." MAJESTIC THEATER TO OPEN WEDNESDAY

Playhouse Has Been Remodeled and Now Offers Inducement to the Public.

The Majestic theater, formerly known as the Crystal, now under the management of W. C. Robertson, will open Wednesday, December 23, having been closed for the past weeks for remodeling. The new theater is modern and up to date in every particular and each afternoon and evening programs will be given.

The new theater will open with a matinee for the ladies at 3:30 Wednesday. Souvenirs will be given and the public will be given an opportunity to inspect the remodeled theater and the apparatus necessary for successfully giving a moving picture show. Opera chairs replace the chairs formerly used, accommodating 325 people; the interior and exterior of the theater has been redecorated. Improvements made in operating the moving picture machine so as to eliminate all danger. The Majestic theater now offers the best.

Each afternoon after Wednesday a matinee will be given and each evening there will be a continuous program. George Billings, a pleasing baritone, recently of Denver will sing illustrated songs; the pictures being of the "dissolving" kind. Miss Ethel Alexander will sing "spot light songs," and a three-piece orchestra, piano, violin and drum will be a new feature. Sounding effects will accompany the moving pictures. The price of admission will be ten cents.

Good Cough Medicine for Children.
The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. P. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says: "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

Albuquerque People Can Tell You Why It Is So.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure the cause of disease, and that is why the cures are always lasting. This remedy strengthens and tones up the kidneys, helping them to drive out of the body the liquid poisons that cause backache, headache and distressing kidney and urinary complaints. Albuquerque people testify to permanent cures.

T. A. Barnett, retired, living at 514 South Broadway, Albuquerque, N. M., says: "For years I have been more or less troubled with kidney complaint, the ailment becoming more pronounced than ever about two years ago. Besides having pain in my back and a general weakness extending from my hips down, my condition was so that any little exertion would tire me. There was also a too frequent action of the kidney secretions, disturbing my rest as often as ten times a night. About a year ago I had the good fortune to learn of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box. I can say that no medicine ever afforded me the benefit derived from them. They have spared me a great deal of annoyance and inconvenience and they not only give strength and tone to the kidneys, but invigorate them." For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. THE MAKING OF AN AMERICAN CITIZEN

Hawaii's Schools Does More Than Teach the Children to Read and Write.

Honolulu, Dec. 21.—Of all the various influences which in the past have contributed towards the development of the Hawaiian Islands, no one thing has probably counted for so much as the consistent scheme of education which has been maintained since the earliest New England missionaries consecrated their lives to Christianizing the barbaric aborigines upwards of a century ago. Schools were thus early established that the natives might be taught to read the Scriptures, the translation of which into the Hawaiian tongue had been the first care of the zealous workers after they had reduced to a written language the crude speech of the islanders. The results of this early work, never since remitted, is seen today in the fact that Hawaii has probably the lowest percentages of illiteracy of any state or territory of the Union, or any country in the world. The astonishing thing about this, when one stops to think about it, is the brief time which has been required to bring about these results.

For the past twenty years the Hawaiian educational department has had more than simply the teaching of elementary studies to the children of a docile race of natives. Industrial needs in a little more than a quarter of a century has changed the character of the population until at present it is one of the most cosmopolitan on earth, and the native Hawaiians are far in the minority. Chinese first, to be followed later by thousands of Japanese, Portuguese, Spaniards, Koreans, Porto Ricans and a dozen other races in lesser numbers, have brought a hank to the schools of the territory that scarcely any other place was ever called upon to cope with. At the present time the pure blood Hawaiians enrolled in the schools of the territory, form less than 20 per cent of the total enrollment. This percentage is exceeded by Japanese enrollment, which is 23 1/2 per cent of the total, and equalled by the Portuguese pupils.

The 23,595 children are taught in 154 public schools, by 476 teachers; and in 51 private institutions with 218 instructors. The teachers of Hawaii's schools show as great a diversity in the matter of race, as do the pupils except that in the public schools there are to be found no Japanese or Korean teachers. The proportions among the teachers are, however, by no means similar, for of the total of 694 teachers employed, 313 are American born. There are 136 part Hawaiian teachers and 83 native Hawaiians. Forty-six British born and 44 Portuguese come next in order and no other race counts as many as twenty representatives on the staff of instructors.

It is doubtful if any state in the Union has a more efficient and up to date educational system. All the public schools in the territory (and every section is well provided) is directly under the supervision of the territorial department of public instruction consisting of a superintendent and six commissioners, appointed by the governor. Two high schools do college preparatory work, and a normal school of the highest grade is maintained in Honolulu. Several private schools date back to early missionary days and have enrollments of 600 or more. In the early days of California, and even during the Mexican regime on the Pacific coast, it was common for children to be sent to Hawaii, or the "Sandwich Islands" as they were then known, to be educated.

Hawaii has frequently been called a Social Laboratory, or a Social Experiment station, and the titles are apt. The problem of welding such a mixture of heterogeneous racial elements into American citizens, has certainly never been attempted anywhere else in the world. The results attained in Hawaii may well be watched and studied with closest interest by the mainland of the United States, for the island territory is confronting situations which may have to be met on a national scale in the future. One thing that Hawaii has already demonstrated, is the possibility of peoples of world-wide diversity of traditions and conditions, forming one community under the most amicable conditions. The divergence of Oriental and Occidental minds, which although not to be considered bridged, has not prevented a full appreciation by either party of the superior characteristics of the other. As regards the Chinese, however, time has demonstrated that the territory has gained, in the younger generation born on Hawaiian soil, a class of citizens of high intelligence and patriotism, and of whom only the best things are expected. They are largely the product of the Hawaiian public school system.

These same schools enumerate today among their best teachers, seventeen young women of Chinese blood. The large preponderance of Japanese in the territory (numbering about 80,000 out of a total population of about 220,000) has been the subject of some disquietude on the part of some. While under the law these aliens cannot be naturalized as citizens, nor can they own real estate, and are thus no factor politically, their children born on Hawaiian soil are citizens by birth, and in fifteen or twenty years will probably have considerable weight. The Japanese have not been in Hawaii in numbers long enough for many of their children to have attained their majority, nor will they have been for some years yet, but their birth rate during the past year was greater than all the other races in the territory combined, by a good majority.

However, for upwards of a year there has been a close restriction placed by Japan on the emigration of her subjects to Hawaii, so that our problem will lay largely with those that remain here and their children; and here is where the public schools come in making American citizens in fact as well as under the law.

Every child in the territory between the ages of 6 and 15 years is required by law to attend school for ten months each year. In the public schools English is the only language employed, and the department of public instruction has general supervision over all private schools and will allow such of these to be substituted for the public schools as employ English as the language of instruction, and conform to other regulations. Americanism is inculcated into the little foreign minds at every step of their education, by song and precept. The spirit of the islands is American in everything, and the mode of life, even in the Japanese communities, with American standards in vogue, is a broader life and outlook than would be possible in Japan. There seems little probability that the Japanese children, reared under these conditions, can or will be anything but American in feeling, just as has been so admirably demonstrated in case of the Chinese.

SANTA FE TO USE
MANY MOTOR CARS

They Will Replace Old-Fashioned Hand Cars for the Section Men.

Atchison, Kan., Dec. 21.—About the first of the year the Santa Fe will adopt a gasoline motor car for the use of the section men over the entire system. H. W. Jacobs, assistant superintendent of Santa Fe motive power, has sent word to Atchison that he believes the motor cars made by the Atchison Tool and Specialty company will be the one chosen by the Santa Fe. It is now said that the ordinary hand car which is in common use today has reached the end of its usefulness. It is only a question of time when all section men will be supplied with some form of gasoline motor car. The Santa Fe has just been making tests of the principal designs of motor cars for track use. These tests have been carried on during the past three weeks under the direction of the assistant general manager, mechanical engineer and chief electrician, and were the most complete ever undertaken. Four other cars besides the Atchison car were tested. The Atchison car was constructed according to the design of H. W. Jacobs. These cars are quite different from each other in construction, method of transmitting power, weight and in other details. Each car is given a road test by a run to Atchison and back to Topeka. The tests included pulling, hill climbing and general ability. In some particulars the Atchison car was outdone by the other cars, but the Atchison car established the best average, according to H. W. Jacobs. Although the findings of the Santa Fe committee have not been announced, the Atchison Railway Tool and Specialty company believes that its car will be chosen. In case the Atchison car is chosen the Atchison company will undoubtedly receive instructions to manufacture 1,000 of the cars, as the Santa Fe will probably need that many.

GOLD, SILVER, COPPER, FROM NEW MEXICO

Government Report for 1907 Shows Decrease in Production of Minerals.

New Mexico produced in 1907, a total of 16,964 fine ounces of gold, having a value of $330,000; a total of 599,600 fine ounces of silver, valued at $395,700, and 10,140,140 pounds of copper, or 1.17 per cent of the total production of copper in the United States for that year. These figures are contained in a government report made public today.

The total production of gold for the year was 4,374,827 fine ounces, valued at $90,436,700—a decrease, when compared with the production in 1906, of 190,506 fine ounces, worth $3,033,100.

The production of silver in 1907 amounted to 56,514,709 fine ounces, with a commercial value of $37,299,700. As compared with the production in 1906 this is a decrease in quantity of 3,200 fine ounces and in value of $956,700.

Of the 22 states and territories contributing to the total gold output, 12 showed decreases in production in 1907. The greatest losses were shown by Alaska, $2,875,700; South Dakota, $2,466,700; Colorado, $2,036,800; California, $1,979,400, and Montana, $1,049,400. In no other state or territory did the decrease reach $100,000.

000. Ten states and territories increased their production of gold in 1907, but in only one—Nevada—was the increase of great importance. The gain in this state was $6,132,400, a strikingly large amount which almost counterbalanced the losses in California, Colorado and South Dakota. Idaho increased its output by $220,200 and Washington by $159,300, but in no other state did the increase reach $100,000.

The production of silver in 1907 was contributed by 25 states and territories, of which only nine showed a decrease as compared with the production of 1906.

The production of copper in the United States for 1907 amounted to 568,996,491 pounds. The production in 1906 compiled on the same basis, was 517,805,882 pounds and that of 1905 was 538,584,267 pounds. From the record production of 1906 the output for 1907 shows a decrease of 48,809,191 pounds, or 9.3 per cent. This is the largest actual decrease ever recorded and is the largest relative decrease since 1886, when the percentage of decrease was 5.5. In 1907, for the first time since 1901 the production was smaller than that of the preceding year, and for the first time since 1872 the production was smaller than for the second preceding year.

SHE IS CHAMPION BAKER OF CAKES

Missouri Woman Uses 100 Eggs In One Layer of Enormous Cake.

An enormous cake, five feet in circumference and tall enough to reach from the table to the chandelier, is a recent product of the culinary skill of Mrs. Nellie Woodson Reese, whose home is at Proctor Station, on the Independence electric line, a short distance from Independence, says the Kansas City Star. Mrs. Reese truly may be styled the champion cake baker of the world, as nothing approaching the size and texture of her cakes ever has been recorded in this or any other period, so far as her acquaintances know. One might well open his eyes in wonder to hear of a cake in which 100 eggs were used, but in the first loaf of a layer cake which Mrs. Reese recently baked that number of eggs had a place. In the second layer of the same cake fifty eggs were used. In the third loaf thirty eggs and in the fourth twenty eggs. This layer cake of five loaves was tall enough to touch the chandelier.

And that is not to be the end of it. Mrs. Reese is planning to bake a cake in which 300 eggs will be used. The size of her oven is all that in the past has prevented her from undertaking this ambitious feat. One of the 100-egg cakes which she baked is enough to supply 300 to 400 persons each with an ordinary slice apiece. Each slice from such a cake makes six ordinary slices.

Mrs. Reese is a good type of the "old time" southern society woman. She is a member of one of the oldest and most prominent Missouri families, and the daughter of Judge Simon H. Woodson, deceased, of Independence. She lives in the old Woodson home just north of the Proctor station, built thirty-five years ago. She is a member of the Colonial Dames and is a daughter of the Confederacy. Her father was on the bench in Jackson county sixty years ago when the first court house was built at Independence. Her husband, B. Ernest Reese, died seven years ago.

While she may be justly proud of her family history and of the esteem in which she is held in the community, she also is very proud of her accomplishments as the champion cake baker. While her cakes are very much in demand at weddings and church festivals and while frequently she accepts commissions for such occasions, she does no baking for her own profit. It costs $27.50 to obtain one of the 100-egg cakes she bakes.

but the profits of the baking go to the church of which Mrs. Reese is a member. It matters not whether the cake is sold to be used at a church festival or a wedding. Mrs. Reese says she gives the profits of the baking to the church just the same. Recently she baked a very large layer cake in which 200 eggs were used, for friends in Denver. It required a day to prepare the material, one day to bake. On the third she prepared and applied the white frosting. For this cake she received $27.50. It required a very large, specially made box in which to pack this cake for shipment to Denver. It arrived there safely and the Denver papers commented on it as being the largest cake ever seen in the state and probably the largest cake in the world.

"I began baking cakes for church socials three years ago," Mrs. Reese said of her cake-baking accomplishments. "My friends praised my cakes so highly it inspired me to do wonderful things in cake baking. At her death Mrs. Judge Sawyer gave me her very large baking range, and this enabled me to bake unusually large cakes. Soon my cakes became very much in demand at weddings, and those who can afford it want the very large ones. I am making preparations to bake one in which 300 eggs will be used."

"I began three years ago by baking a fourteen-egg cake for the church. The very large cakes I bake for weddings are decorated with bridal roses, icing and doves, while the top in a draped arch is a miniature bride and groom."

No, I have never heard of a cake that would approach in size the ones I have baked," Mrs. Reese said, with much pride. "I have clippings from prominent papers in all parts of the United States, and some in Canada, telling about my cakes, and all agree they are the largest ever heard about. During the past few years I have made more than $1,000 from baking cakes."

The church of which Mrs. Reese is a member and which profits by her artistic baking is the First Presbyterian Church of Independence.

Marked for Death. "Three years ago I was marked for death. A graveyard cough was tearing my lungs to pieces. Doctors failed to help me, and hope had fled, when my husband got Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. A. C. Williams, of Rac, Ky. "The first dose helped me and improvement kept on until I had gained 58 pounds in weight and my health was fully restored." This medicine holds the world's healing record for coughs and colds and lung and throat diseases. It prevents pneumonia. Sold under guarantee at all druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

ISLAND AFFAIRS ARE IN GOOD CONDITION

Chief of Bureau Makes Annual Report, Showing Progress in Philippines and Cuba

Washington, Dec. 21.—The Philippine scouts are highly commended, the bill to amend the Philippine tariff act now pending in the senate is endorsed, encouraging progress in the Philippines and the maintenance of peace and order in Cuba throughout the year are announced in the annual report of Brigadier General Clarence R. Edwards, chief of the bureau of insular affairs, which was made public today. General Edwards says the Philippine scouts are an important factor in the education of the Filipino people and in the creation of a higher standard of living in the islands as well as in the extension of American influence. The report recounts the settlement of the Catholic church claims, and refers to the bill which passed the House at the last session but was still pending in the Senate before committee when Congress adjourned, to provide free entry into the United States of Philippine products, with certain exemptions, and free entry of United States products to the Philippines without exemptions after April 11, 1909. The report says the friends of the measure are entirely agreeable to the inclusion of a clause limiting Philippine sugar to be admitted under its provisions to 400,000 tons annually. This the sugar people admit would be sufficient to restore some of the former prosperity to the sugar interests in the islands. A reduction of the present duties on tobacco, the report suggests would afford the moral encouragement of which producers in the islands now stand so seriously in need. The other principal products in the Philippine islands, hemp, copra and rice, have the advantages over sugar of not requiring such enormous capital for development and of not entering into competition with interests of this country.

The passenger outlook is especially bright on the railroads of these islands. The average density of population in the different provinces compares very favorably with some of the countries of Europe. In Cuba it is greater than the density of Japan, Italy, Germany or France. The Visayan lines, according to the report, should pay fair interest on the investment above the four per cent guaranteed by the Philippine government for they should develop an increasing freight traffic from the fertile country. The postal saving bank, part of the bureau of posts shows a steady increase of business and the institution has been well received by all classes. Of the 60 post offices fifty per cent are American and forty Philippine. The separate deposits range from a few centavos to over five thousand pesos.

The excess of insular expenditure over revenues during the past fiscal year was $570,524, and the excess of receipts over expenditure in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1908, was $1,288,677. The work of the Philippine students in this country has been on an average very good and in one or two cases of an exceptionally high order. The value of the movement as a whole to the Philippine government and people, says General Edwards, must still be left to the future to disclose, but every sign points to its immense importance.

The expenditures of the republic of Cuba on account of American intervention from October 1, 1906 to June 30, last, were $757,343, these expenditures being made from the funds allotted by the provisional government from time to time for army expenditures due directly to the army service in Cuba. The statement of extraordinary expenditures on account of the army of pacification in Cuba which under congressional legislation are to be reimbursed from the Cuban treasury, shows a total of $5,311,322, of which $3,276,735 was from October 1, 1906 to June 30, 1907 and the balance from then until June 30, last.

The settlement of the Dominican debt, the steadily widening activities in the Philippines and the administrative control of Cuba continuing to bring up important questions of law, making the demand upon the law officer of the bureau constant and serious legislation for retirement of certain civil employees of the Philippine government on part pay, after ten or more years of satisfactory service are among other matters discussed.
