VILLA PREPARES TO TAKE MEXICO CITY

Constitutionalist Chieftain.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Juarez, Mex., Dec. 1.—Rather than endure starvation, the federal troops have evacuated Chihuahua City, which has been under siege for weeks according to advisers received tonight by Gen. Francisco Villa, the rebel leader. The evacuation leaves the city open to possession by the rebels.

The report received by Villa was that Salvador Mercado, military governor of the state, with 2,000 federal troops, had left on foot for Ojinaga, on the United States border near Marfa, Texas, that General Jose Ynez Salazar and Pascual Orta with more than 1,000 federals had retreated to the mountains west of the city and that hundreds of civilians, including women and children, who were on the verge of starvation, had started out to walk to the United States border.

Residing being the capital of the state, Chihuahua, with a population normally of 32,000, is the metropolis of northern Mexico. Neither in the Mexican revolution nor in the present uprising has Chihuahua been taken from the federals. Its garrison and the commanding positions for sharpshooters and machine guns, afforded by the cathedral and the public buildings, heretofore had presented a formidable barrier to the rebels. Had the rebels reached the city and the federals resisted, it was believed that a fight in the city would have resulted in great loss of life and property.

Conditions in the city were said to be such that life there was no longer endurable. The Spanish viaduct which conveyed water from the mountains was reported to have been destroyed and the food supplies exhausted.

General Villa tonight telegraphed details of the evacuation to General Carranza at Hermosillo, stating that the proposed advance of the rebels southward to Mexico City would now be expedited. The possession of the city, he said, would make rebel territory of the country straight through to Zacatecas and operations would begin about that city and at Aguas Calientes.

Among the besieged citizens at Chihuahua, who are believed to be seeking refuge elsewhere, were Juan Creel, a banker and relative of Enrique Creel, former supporter of President Diaz, and Albert Terrazas, a wealthy land owner.

General Villa said Federico Moya, a prominent merchant, had been named civil governor of Chihuahua state, his selection being based on the belief that he would be acceptable to the rebels.

"The report of the capitulation of Chihuahua is authentic," said Villa. "It came to me in an official dispatch, which said the city was evacuated on Sunday. A rebel courier at once set out and rode 130 miles northward, where he met the rebel advance guard. This was at a point called Villa Ahumada, where we have established telegraphic communication. I have transmitted the details to General Carranza, the head of the revolution."

"It is my purpose now to send a force to intercept Mercado, who is fleeing to Ojinaga and also to capture Orta and Salazar. The main rebel body probably will concentrate at Chihuahua preparatory to the advance southward. We will be near Mexico City within a month."

Five hundred thousand dollars worth of provisions and clothing and $100,000 from the Bank of Mexico were confiscated in Juarez by Villa to support the rebels. The property was taken through the refusal of merchants to accept paper money issued by the rebels. The storekeepers, most of them Spanish, appealed to United States Consul Edwards and have closed their shops and handed over the keys to the consul. Consul Edwards later returned the keys to the owners, saying he could not guarantee the safety of the property. Meantime the places were forced open and the goods and money taken. It was said the properties were insured in an English company against looting.

CULIACAN ABANDONED BY FEDERAL GARRISON

Nogales, Ariz., Dec. 1.—Information received here from American sources from Guaymas states that 1,700 men of the Culiacan federal garrison reached Guaymas by steamer after evacuating the Simola state capital to Obregon's constitutionalist forces. This number accounts for all but about 100 of the original federal garrison, so it is believed the total of killed, wounded and deserters must be covered by the latter figure.

Residents of Culiacan are quoted as saying that the evacuation was made shortly after dark and was not discovered by the constitutionalists for twelve hours, so it is supposed the retreat to the boats was made in good order.

EVACUATION OF GUAYMAS REGARDED AS PROBABLE

Hermosillo, Mexico, Dec. 1.—Although there was no information here regarding the reported evacuation of Guaymas and Mazatlan, constitutionalist officers considered it possible that the garrisons of those two west coast cities had departed by boat last night, leaving a small garrison to deceive the insurgents.

General Carranza said that two insurgent columns were marching from the south toward Tepic, a point on the west coast south of Guaymas and Mazatlan. It was considered probable that the two federal garrisons had been ordered to hasten to Manzanillo to check the constitutionalist movement which threatens still further to shut off the federal retreat from Sonora and Culiacan.

It was believed the federals had decided to mobilize the west coast federal garrisons at Guadalajara in the state of Jalisco, and a more central point, in order to meet more effectively any insurgent advance.

1,300,000 Pounds of Wool Withdrawn
Providence, R. I., Dec. 1.—A million three hundred thousand pounds of wool were withdrawn from bond today here by mill men who had been waiting for the new free list on wool to go into effect on this date.

BILLS TO REGULATE RAILROADS AND CORPORATIONS

Congressman Adamson Proposes Measures in Line
With Idea of Defining Duties in Interstate Commerce

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 1.—A trio of bills to regulate interstate railroads and other corporations were introduced today by Congressman Adamson, of the house interstate commerce committee. The bills strike at monopoly and suppression of competition by combinations of capital.

Mr. Adamson explained that his measures were in line with the idea of defining rights and duties and prescribing remedies and penalties to prevent discrimination and unfair dealing, rather than with the theory that to regulate commerce the government must take charge of and operate it.

The first bill would require railroads to publish their schedules in every county through which they run, and authorize them, after conferring with newspapers at the regular rates for advertising, to accept the receipts for freight and passenger fares.

Another would authorize more completely the regulation and supervision of the interstate commerce commission of issues of stocks and bonds, the disposition of the money obtained from them and the prevention of interlocking directorates.

The third would provide for a commercial directory, to be published by the secretary of commerce, by which an individual, partnership or corporation qualified to do business in its own state, territory or district, might do so everywhere without additional license or registration or restriction, except in compliance with police regulations.

REGULAR SESSION OF CONGRESS IN HARNESS FOR LONG TERM

Senate Begins Work on Currency Bill With Hope of

REPUBLICANS NOT TO DELAY FINAL ACTION

Proposition to Put in Extra
Time to Expedite Vote on Measure Goes Over to Give Minority Time to Consult.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 1.—Congress today closed the extraordinary session which began April 7, and settled down to the grind of the regular "long" session, expected to last well into next summer. Only the necessary formalities marked the ending of the old session and the beginning of the new.

The senate was at work practically all day and shortly after the regular session had been opened began consideration of the bill to grant San Francisco water supply rights in the Hetch Hetchy valley.

An attempt to institute the proposed drastic program of day and night sessions for the consideration of the administration currency bill failed, the democrats agreeing to allow final settlement of the program to go over until tomorrow, to give the republicans time to consider it.

Republican Leader Gallinger and Senator Reed Smoot comforted the democrats with the announcement that the republicans would make no effort to filibuster or obstruct in any way the passage of the currency legislation, and the democratic leaders tonight predicted the passage of the measure by the house.

The currency bill, as completed by the democratic conference, was printed and prepared for the senate today, and Senator Owen presented it as a substitute for the bill originally introduced by himself and the administration members of the banking and currency committee.

Senator Burton, republican, of Ohio, introduced a currency bill of his own, which would provide for the formation of a central bank to be owned by the public and operated by the government.

The house contented itself with a brief meeting, formally opening the new session. The galleries were crowded to witness the opening, but the formalities were curtailed.

The first day of bills in the house was much smaller than usual, but there are still hundreds of bills, covering nearly every conceivable form of legislation to be submitted during the session. These include many bills for trust legislation which the judiciary committee will consider. Hearings on trust legislation by this committee will be held before many weeks.

Representative Gray, of Indiana, introduced a bill which would provide for an international conference here next fall for the purpose of agreeing to a plan for disarmament and suspension of naval construction programs. The bill would authorize an appropriation of $500,000, the United States to entertain the delegates from foreign powers.

Although the program for consideration of the currency measure was not formally adopted in the senate, the democrats succeeded in beginning work on the bill. Discussion of the Hetch Hetchy bill lagged during the afternoon, and Senator Owen called up the currency measure. At 4 o'clock, Democratic Leader Kern moved that the senate recess for two hours and sit during the evening to discuss currency. On a roll call, the motion was adopted by a 53 to 5 vote.

The senate completed the first reading of the currency bill at a short session but adjourned without a formal opening of the debate. Senator Owen announced that he expected discussion of the measure to open late tomorrow.

The senate will meet at 11 o'clock but the greater part of the day will be taken up with discussion of the Hetch Hetchy bill, which is in the special order of business.

PUBLIC LANDS MAY HAVE OIL IN THEM

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 1.—On recommendation of Secretary Lane, President Wilson has withdrawn from entry 45,720 acres of public land in southern California, believed by experts of the geological survey to be valuable for its oil contents.

The reserve thus created includes more than 2,000 acres in the Sunset district, located in the foothills of the San Emigdio mountains, forty miles west of Bakersfield, and nearly 44,000 acres in the Bridgeport Hills district, directly between two already developed oil fields.

Secretary Lane announced today that the president had restored to entry 120,000 acres of supposed coal lands in western Montana. Only a small part of the land was said to contain coal, and that was of a low character.

A supreme court grand jury, empaneled today from a list of merchants, bankers and brokers, will convene on Thursday and sit during the progress of the investigation, to consider such violations of the law as the district attorney may uncover.

CONTRACTOR TELLS OF HOLD-UP BY TAMMANY AGENTS

Startling Story of Graft Unearthed in Connection With
New York State Highway Construction.

WHITMAN'S PROBE IS UNCOVERING FACTS

Pay Could Not Be Secured for Work Done Until Victim
Agreed to Pay $1,500, Is Testimony.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
New York, Dec. 1.—Madison R. Aldrich, a Ponapekepa contractor, testified at District Attorney Whitman's John Doe inquiry today, that he had been forced to give up $1,500 as a condition to getting his pay from the state highway department for a road which he completed during the administration of Highway Commissioner C. Gordon Reel.

He paid the money in cash, in New York City, on March 31, 1912, he said, to Thomas Hassett, secretary to John A. Russell, then state engineer. Hassett, whom the district attorney is anxious to question, has disappeared.

Mr. Whitman has information that he sailed for San Domingo at about the same time that James K. McGuire, former mayor of Syracuse, now under indictment, also sailed south.

Aldrich, who is president of a construction company, said that he had given the money on Hassett's representation that Charles R. Foley, deputy highway commissioner, demanded it. Pay on his contract had at that time, he said, been held up for nearly four months.

The contract was for a road costing $100,000. It was completed, Aldrich said, in November, 1911, and he made numerous efforts during the following three months to collect the $17,000 balance due him.

On March 17, 1912, he received a telephone call from John E. Gonsaulus, an Albany contractor, who today testified that he was a collector of democratic campaign contributions from other contractors. On Gonsaulus' invitation, he went to Albany, and there saw Hassett in the office of the state engineer.

"Hassett took me out in the hall," the witness said, "and said 'We think we ought to have something on this job.' I said: 'What?' and he said that Mr. Foley thought I ought to give up 10 per cent, or $1,700. I asked him if $1,500 would do and he said that would be all right. I told him I would give him the money as soon as my pay went through."

Aldrich said he received his long-delayed pay on March 28, came to New York on March 30, and paid the $1,500 in currency to Hassett.

"Why did you pay him in cash?" asked District Attorney Whitman.

"I thought that was the way to transact that sort of business," Aldrich replied.

"The business of bribing public officials?"

"Well, if you want to put it that way, yes," was the reply.

Aldrich further testified that in 1911, he made a campaign contribution to the democratic party through Gonsaulus, which was never reported.

Gonsaulus, who agreed to waive immunity before he took the stand, developed a poor memory when questioned concerning his relations with Aldrich and Hassett. He contended that in December, 1911, he had spoken to Foley about Aldrich not getting his pay, but did not remember that he had sent Aldrich to see Hassett. He admitted that he had made collections from contractors and forwarded them to the democratic state committee, but he was unable to remember their names.

Gonsaulus, however, furnished the district attorney further evidence as to the activities of Everett P. Fowler, the alleged "Tammany bar man," now awaiting trial for extortion. He said he had introduced Fowler to state contractors and that Fowler had shown him a list of such contractors and told him that he intended to get contributions from them.

Matthew Van Alstyne, another contractor and the defeated candidate for mayor of Albany on the democratic ticket at the last election, testified that his construction concern, a corporation, had, at the solicitation of Fowler and William B. Kelly, democratic leader of Syracuse, contributed $1,000 to the democratic state committee in 1912. He had sent it in the form of a gift on New York, to Arthur A. MacLean, the democratic state treasurer, he said. This contribution, the district attorney found, was unreported.

"Did you realize," Mr. Whitman asked, "that for a corporation to give a political contribution is a violation of the law?"

"I did not," the witness said.

A supreme court grand jury, empaneled today from a list of merchants, bankers and brokers, will convene on Thursday and sit during the progress of the investigation, to consider such violations of the law as the district attorney may uncover.

ASPHYXIATION IS PROBABLE FATE OF MEXICAN BANDIT

With All Exits Carefully Guarded, Poisonous Gases Are Poured Into Utah Mine Where Rafael Lopez Is Hiding.

FUMES ISSUE FROM EVERY KNOWN EGRESS

Murderer's Death Is Believed
Certain, as Escape Is Impossible, in Opinion of Officers Conducting Siege.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Bingham, Utah, Dec. 1.—Whether Rafael Lopez, the slayer of five peace officers and a fellow Mexican, lay dead in the Utah-Apex mine, or whether, avoiding the deadly gases in the mine, he still planned a dash for liberty, was a question unanswered tonight. Knowing his resourcefulness, there was no let-up in the watchfulness at the tunnel mouth, on which searchlights were trained while the sheriff's officers of seven counties and their scores of deputies kept unrelaxed guard since early morning.

Through openings in the bulkheads, constructed at each of the tunnel mouths, poisonous gases have been directed. Tonight an automobile carrying a thousand pounds of sulphur was rushed here from Salt Lake City in order to keep the smouldering mine until a fresh supply arrived on the train tomorrow morning. In addition to sulphur, all the chemicals capable of generating poisonous gases that could be obtained here were being used in the smudges.

The only word from Lopez today came early this afternoon when he approached the bulkhead at the mouth of the Andy tunnel and called for his friend, Julio Corrello. When asked what he wanted, he called again for Corrello, but before the latter arrived he had retired back into the depths of the mountain.

On Corrello's being unable to get a response, Mike Vukovich, a native of Montenegro, and a brother-in-law of Deputy Mandrich, who was killed in Saturday's battle, broke from a crowd of spectators, and brandishing a revolver, tried to break down the bulkhead to go after Lopez. With difficulty he was led away by deputies and friends. Repeatedly since Saturday he has pleaded on his knees for the opportunity to penetrate the darkness and fight it out with the Mexican.

An night fell, while the smudges continued to pour their poison back into the heart of the mountain, the mutterings for vengeance from the never diminishing crowd of foreigners became hushed and gave way to whispered questions as to what was the secret behind the bulkheads.

The deputies guarding the Andy tunnel mouth believed Lopez was overcome this afternoon behind the bulkhead, until, two hours later, they heard a scraping sound followed by a cough.

Late tonight, columns of smoke were rushing out of various tunnels, showing that certain parts of the mine were already filled. At some places it was impossible for the guards to get nearer than thirty feet of the entrances. In the lowest level of the workings, smudges were placed directly beneath shafts leading up into the upper levels, where Lopez took refuge when he entered the mine, last Thursday night. Smoke was also leading through cracks on top of the mountain, showing that one of the tunnels ran very near the surface. Guards were placed at these spots.

In case Lopez does not appear, the smudging will continue for another day and night. Then twenty-four hours must elapse before the deputies can enter. Although it is believed to be slight, there is still the possibility that the fugitive may avoid asphyxiation in some far corner of the mine.

CLASSIFICATION OF HOMESTEAD LANDS

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 1.—Secretary Lane announced today that the classification of public lands, as irrigable or non-irrigable, in conformity with the administration of the 320-acre homestead laws, was being accomplished satisfactorily.

Within the last few days the secretary has designated more than 900,000 acres in various western states, for entry under the terms of the act. The designations include 300,000 acres in Arizona, 5,500 in California, 15,000 in Colorado, 27,000 in Idaho, nearly 200,000 in Montana, more than 8,000 in North Dakota, 274,000 in Oregon, 6,720 in Utah, 21,000 in Washington and 22,500 in Wyoming.

Bank Director Is Convicted.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 1.—A. L. Richmond, Jr., former director of the closed Commercial National Bank of Pittsburgh, was today, in the United States district court, found guilty of having assisted the cashier of the bank in making false entries in the institution's books. His bill was increased to $10,000 after a motion for a new trial had been filed by his attorney.

ZELAYA'S ARREST IS KNOWN IN NICARAGUA

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
San Juan Del Sur, Nic., Nov. 30.—The news of the arrest in the United States of Jose Santos Zelaya, former president of Nicaragua, has caused something of a sensation in Nicaragua. There is much speculation regarding the intentions of the government in his case, as the legislature has declared he may be tried on the charge of assassination.

The public is anxiously awaiting the outcome of the habeas corpus proceedings instituted in New York City.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS FALL OFF $4,500,000

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 1.—Customs receipts of the government for November fell off about $4,500,000, compared with November, 1912, according to the monthly treasury statement issued today. November was the first full month of operation of the new tariff and if the month was a fair test of the bill's revenue producing powers, the annual return from this source will decline more than $50,000,000.

The ordinary disbursements for November exceeded the ordinary receipts by $2,713,722, compared with an excess of receipts for the same month last year of $4,534,329.

For the fiscal year, to date, the disbursements have exceeded the receipts by $3,740,100, compared with an excess of receipts last year of $1,815,337. The receipts for November were $55,515,132. The net balance in the general fund at the close of business on Saturday was $119,466,111, and the grand total assets in the treasury, $2,946,827,201.

ZELAYA TO RETURN UNMOLESTED TO BARCELONA

Nicaragua, U. S. State Department and Former Central American Dictator Agree After Conference.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 1.—The international tangle over the presence in the United States of J. Santos Zelaya, former president of Nicaragua, apparently was solved tonight by Zelaya agreeing to return to Barcelona, Spain, from whence he came to New York a month ago.

This agreement came as the result of a day of conferences at the state department between State Department Solicitor Folk and counsel for Zelaya and the Nicaraguan government. In promising to leave the country Zelaya stipulated that he should have ample time to transact some important business matters. Speaking with his counsel, Cory M. Bladen, over the long distance telephone from New York, Zelaya said the next boat from New York to Barcelona did not sail until December 11, and he thought he could finish his business at that time.

State department officials insisted that when the former dictator departs he go direct to Barcelona and that in the interim he enter into no political intrigues involving Nicaragua. This agreement proved agreeable to Charles A. Douglas, counsel for the Nicaraguan government in the negotiations that have followed the arrest in New York. Acting upon Mr. Douglas' advice, General Chamorro, Nicaraguan minister here, tonight cabled to the Nicaraguan foreign office suggesting the cancellation of that government's request, now in the mails, for the extradition of the former president for trial for the alleged murder of two of his countrymen at Mataya, in April, 1911.

Zelaya, from the outset has maintained that the offenses alleged against him were political and that upon hearing he could prove that the two murders alleged against him were committed at different times and dates in Nicaragua and without his knowledge.

MRS. EKMAN SENT TO AN INSANE HOSPITAL

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Salt Lake City, Dec. 1.—Mrs. Augustus Ekman, who killed her 12-year-old daughter, Frances Williams, last June, today was pronounced insane by a jury in the state district court here, and committed to the insane asylum.

The body of her daughter was found in a trunk at the railway station in Ogden.

C. L. Anderson, Mrs. Ekman's first husband, who has been out on bail, was directed to have had no part in the murder and was given his liberty.

ANOTHER REBELLION AGAINST YUAN SHAI KAI

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Peking, Dec. 1.—Official telegrams received at the capital today from various provinces in south China report that the Chinese rebels are intriguing with numerous outlaw bands to form the nucleus of another rebellion against the government of President Yuan Shai Kai. The government is developing an extensive secret service and summary executions without a semblance of a court trial frequently occur.

Richard, Jr., former director of the closed Commercial National Bank of Pittsburgh, was today, in the United States district court, found guilty of having assisted the cashier of the bank in making false entries in the institution's books. His bill was increased to $10,000 after a motion for a new trial had been filed by his attorney.

GENERAL BLISS IN OFFICIAL REPORT PREDICTS MORE REVOLUTIONS

American Border Commander
Sees No Hope for Early
Peace in Mexico, He Tells Government.

WILLIAM BAYARD HALE REACHES WASHINGTON

Admiral Fletcher Informs War Department That Foreign
Interests Are Safe in Oil Fields Near Tampico.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 1.—How the American border patrol has found it well nigh impossible to enforce the embargo against the shipment of arms and ammunition into Mexico, was described in a detailed report from Brigadier General Bliss, commanding the forces on the border, made public today at the war department. Practically the entire population along the international line, the report said, is in sympathy with the Mexican rebels, and as the result large quantities of war munitions have been smuggled across in spite of the unceasing vigilance of the troops.

General Bliss complained of the vagueness of the law, saying that the instructions to the army are general and that too much of a task was imposed upon the troops and junior officers. He recommended that two of the best equipped officers of the government's legal force be sent down to travel along the line and decide questions of doubtful rights and powers.

In this connection the general referred to instructions sent to him last June to hold troops in readiness to go to the aid of the threatened American consular representative at Piedras Negras. For several days, the general pointed out, the question of possible peace or war rested entirely upon the discretion of this consular, as it was a foregone conclusion that the American soldiers would have to fight their way into Mexico if the necessity of protecting the consul had arisen.

The necessity of keeping a considerable portion of the United States army on the border for an indefinite period was forecasted in the report. General Bliss, who has been on the line since the beginning of the Mexican revolution, called attention to the fulfillment of his prediction that the breaking up of Orozco's army last year into small bands would not restore peace, because the large lawless element among the troops would not consent to return to ordinary vocations.

"This attitude," the report said, "especially characterized the leaders and forces in the state of Chihuahua. These are the forces that have always been popularly known as 'red flaggers.' Their leaders preach the distribution of land and wealth generally, and apparently have small concern with any other factor of the revolution."

"A consideration of these facts is of interest, as they suggest another forecasting of the future. The conditions across the border which lead to one successful revolution unfortunately seem always to point the way to a counter revolution. If this be the case, the first reasonable hope of continued peace will come when an established government proves strong enough to crush the counter revolution. The prevalence of the present conditions means the continuation of the border by a strong force of troops. The success of the present revolution will probably mean the indefinite continuance of this occupation in anticipation of the counter revolution. When a counter revolution is thoroughly crushed at least in the northern states and the established government can occupy and hold its border towns, normal conditions will be restored and a distribution of our troops will be possible."

This was another day of inactivity for Washington, at least on the surface, in the diplomatic treatment of the Mexican situation. Rumors of the disappearance of General Huerta, later contradicted, created considerable interest in official circles.

William Hale, who had been conferring with General Carranza and his constitutionalist chiefs at Nogales, returned today and had a long talk with Secretary Bryan. He will see President Wilson on Wednesday and supplement the reports he already has made on the character and personality of the constitutionalist chiefs and the purposes of their movement.

Mr. Hale declined to discuss his mission to the border, but it is understood from authoritative quarters that he sought no formal understanding with the constitutionalists on behalf of the United States government and merely made inquiry as to what the constitutionalists intended to do in certain contingencies.

Rear Admiral Fletcher reported to the navy department today his success in ensuring protection of foreign interests in the oil fields near the gulf coast of Mexico without any irritating display of force. It was not made clear just how the American naval officer had managed to get in touch with General Aguilar, the rebel leader,

SPORT

MANAGERS SHOWN IN PENNANT RACES OF LAST SEASON

Stallings and Birmingham Pair
That Did Wonders With Matterial; Chance Laid Good
Foundation for 1914.

Standing among the foremost ranks of the successful baseball managers of the season just closed are George Stallings, of the Boston Braves, and Joe Birmingham, of the Cleveland Naps.

Although John McGraw and Connie Mack ran away with the laurels in the two big leagues, they did just about what was expected of them, while Stallings and Birmingham, entrusted with brand new commissions, performed wonders with the material in hand. The Naps were in the fight from the beginning to the end, while the Braves rose from last place, which they had occupied for years, to the top of the second division.

Six teams began the race with new managers, but only two appeared to benefit. Evers did little to change the fortunes of the Cubs, while Tinker, with the Cincinnati Reds, and Huggins, with the St. Louis Cardinals, earned no distinction. Frank Chance, of the Yankees, the only new leader in the American league aside from Birmingham, managed to lift his team out of last place by a hair, and that was all.

Two pilots who began the race bravely, fell by the wayside—Stallings, of the Boston Red Sox, and Stovall, of the St. Louis Browns. Both were supplanted in mid-season. Dahlen, Doolin and Clarke in the National league, and Callahan, Jennings and Griffith in the American league, merely marked time, showing little or no improvement over the year before.

The record of Stallings with the Boston Braves was the most brilliant in the big leagues, not excepting that of McGraw and Mack. The situation that confronted him at the beginning of the season was as hopeless as anything could be. His team had been in last place for so many years that it had become reconciled to its fate, and the material at his disposal was of less promise than that which any other manager had to work with. By securing the country for youngsters, spending money with a liberal hand and trading freely, he soon had a big league nine worthy of the name to put on the field.

King veterans like Devlin, Titus and Lord to fill the gaps, he bolstered up the team until he had developed new and faster men. Although handicapped by injuries to some of his men during the final month of the season, Stallings had got together such a reliable pitching staff that he was able to keep his grip on fifth place, the goal he had set.

It would not be surprising to see the Braves in the forefront of the fight in another year. It was Stallings who took the Yankees and lifted them from seventh place to second in one season, and his record with the Braves so far stamps him as a manager of unquestioned ability.

Joe Birmingham, who succeeded Harry Davis in the leadership of the Cleveland Naps, made a remarkable record, when all is considered, in his first year at the helm. He was about the only manager in the American league to dispute the sway of Connie Mack. For a time, when the pitchers of the Athletics were going badly, it looked as though the Naps might win the pennant.

Whenever the situation became critical, however, the Philadelphia machine rose in its might and turned back the foe. Birmingham's twirling staff suffered the same fate that every other set of pitchers has met when it attempted to stop the slingers of Connie Mack.

Twice during the middle of this campaign the Naps, by winning three out of four games in a series with the Athletics could have made the race a nip and tuck affair, but each time the terrific batting strength of the Philadelphia team turned the tide. The Cleveland pitchers could not hold up their end, even though backed by considerable hitting strength, as exemplified in Jackson and Lajoie. However, Birmingham deserves great credit for what he accomplished.

Jake Stahl was unable to put the Red Sox in the fight, even though they bore the title of world's champions. Friction which developed at the time of the series a year ago, cropped out during the campaign, and the Boston team was never a contender for the flag at any time. Handicapped by injuries to Joe Wood, the mainstay in the box the year before, the team struggled along in the second division most of the season, and it wasn't until Stahl was removed and Carigan, the catcher, put in charge, that the Red Sox managed to squeeze into the first division in the final few weeks of the campaign.

Clark Griffith, whose brilliant record the year before in bringing the Washington Senators from seventh to second place, led many to expect great things of him this season, was unable to make much of an impression. Although Walter Johnson, the keystone of the team, established the best record of his career, there was no one to help in the work and the batting strength of the team was too weak to be of much use without the big Swede in the box to prevent the opposing side from scoring.

Roughing flourished for a time, but was unable to hold the pace. The Athletics had little difficulty with the Senators whenever it came to a show down. Griffith managed to nose into second place after the race for the pennant was practically over.

SMITH AND MORRIS SHOULD MEET AGAIN, OPINION OF FANS

There is a growing demand on the part of the boxing enthusiasts that Carl E. Morris, the Oklahoma heavyweight, and "Gunboat" Smith, who by his victory over Sam Langford stepped into the front rank of the heavyweights, meet in a return match. Since the unfortunate ending of their bout in Madison Square Garden, some time ago, opinion has varied greatly as to which is the better man, and there has been much speculation as to the probable outcome of another meeting at ten rounds.

Many ring critics proclaim Morris the coming champion. They point out that in his match with Smith he showed wonderful improvement in boxing skill, and coupled with his ability to absorb punishment was the lack of hitting powerful blows. Smith's supporters declare that he was discouraged at his inability to bring the contest to a sudden close, despite the fact that he landed with full force on the tip of Morris' chin and was so tired from the body punishment that Morris dealt out that the end was bound to be only a matter of a few rounds.

Whether or not the blow which ended the bout was foul, for there are divergent opinions, the fact remains that Morris has advanced wonderfully in the last year. In all his recent bouts he has shown knowledge of the finer points of defensive boxing and hitting. Endowed by nature with tremendous strength and with his vitality unimpaired, Morris has learned to combine his recently acquired skill with his natural strength, and the result is a most formidable fighter.

At the present time Morris is camping hot on the trail of Smith, hurling challenges and demanding a return match, but as yet his defiance has been uttered to no purpose. Smith absolutely declines the issue. It is Smith's failure to accept a match, which any club in the country would promote, that has given strength to the belief that he fears Morris.

BELMONT WAS ONLY AMERICAN TO WIN MUCH ABROAD

Other Horsemen From This Side Fared Poorly During Past Racing Season on English Turf.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.
New York, Nov. 30.—With the exception of August Belmont, American owners of thoroughbreds have fared poorly on the English turf this season. American luck seems to be at a low ebb now. Belmont is the only American owner of note who has figured in the winning ranks and this has been largely due to the performance of his wonderful 4-year-old Tracery, which has won two of the richest stakes on the British turf.

Harry Payne Whitney, who has had one of the largest string in training at Newmarket, has met with comparatively little success in stakes and purses. Misfortunes hit the Whitney stable when Meeting House, the best of the Whitney 3-year-olds, broke a blood vessel. Meeting House is a big, limber colt with great depth of chest. He is by Viceroy-Nonchalant and with good luck would have been a credit to the late James R. Keene, who bred him in America.

The other prominent Americans, including Herman R. Duray, William Waldorf Astor, W. K. Vanderbilt, Charles Carroll, Clarence Mackay, James B. Haggin and Richard Croker, have not won enough stake money among them to even make a poor owner envious. When Croker's horse, Silver Roi, finished first in the Marlborough handicap at the Curragh, Ireland's most famous race course, the former Tammany chieftain could not collect the stake nor his bet because the horse was promptly objected to as not qualified to run in that race. Not only was the objection sustained, but the stewards severely reprimanded Russell, Croker's agent, for entering and starting the horse.

Louis Winans is another whose American bred horses, mostly sent over to England by John R. Madden of Lexington, have fared rather poorly this season. Among the lesser lights from the United States Emil Herz and Oscar Levinson can be mentioned as faring pretty well. Herz is a much wiser turfman now than when he entered into a partnership with Boots Durnell twelve years ago at Chicago, when they started the American turf by buying the great winning stable of Sam Hildreth, which at the time included McClelleny, Lurien, Appleby, Federal, Vulcan and other frequent winners.

BOWLING MATCH MAY BE CONDUCTED OVER LONG DISTANCE PHONE

Through a challenge issued by the Las Vegas Elks, who have a bowling league comprising several fast semi-professional teams, local bowlers have under consideration a plan proposed by Las Vegas bowlers to stage a bowling match in the near future, to be conducted over the long distance telephone.

The plan, as proposed by the Las Vegas bowlers, is to have each team play on its own alleys, the score to be compared at the end of each game. Neither team is to change players during the progress of the match, and at the end, the losing team is to pay for the telephone toll incident to the comparison of the scores during the progress of the match.

Albuquerque has several fast bowling teams. These, like the Las Vegas aggregations, are confined either to amateurs or semi-professional bowlers.

Journal, With Aid of Coaches, Chooses All-Southwestern Team

Journal's All-Southwestern Eleven

Position	Player	School
Right End	Carlisle	University of New Mexico
Right Tackle	Powers	New Mexico Aggies
Right Guard	Brashcar	University of New Mexico
Center	Jones	University of Arizona
Left Guard	J. Quisenberry	New Mexico M.I. Institute
Left Tackle	Hamilton	New Mexico Aggies
Quarterback	Hesselden	University of New Mexico
Right Halfback	Calkins	University of New Mexico
Left Halfback	Lutz	New Mexico M.I. Institute

The above All-Southwestern eleven is presented by the Journal with confidence and without apology. It is our belief not only that each man named is entitled to the position given him, judged from his play during the season just closed, but also that as a whole the combination formed would be able to defeat any other team that might be picked from the eleven comprising the Big Four of the Southwest.

Picking an "all" team will always be pretty much of a thankless job. The practice has its good and bad features. On one hand, it is merely giving honor to whom honor is due and besides it furnishes a mighty good subject for discussion after the more strenuous part of football is a thing of the past. On the other hand, there is always a chance that someone may be done an injustice. We have done everything possible to eliminate that possibility. Appreciating the narrowness of the viewpoint of one man, the Journal has adopted a system of consulting opinions. The coaches of all the schools in the Big Four—Hesselden, Aggies; Rademacher, Institute; King, Arizona; and Hutchinson, U. N. M.—were asked to submit a list of the men whom they considered most entitled to positions on the all-southwestern team. In some cases there was a marked unity of opinion; in others each man picked a different player for a position.

Only in cases where there was a balanced difference of opinion on the part of the four coaches, was it necessary to inject personal opinion, that opinion having been formed from seeing the men in action, some in several games, from reading the reports of the games and reading the school publications.

Accordingly, we say that this "Journal's All-Southwestern Eleven" is presented without apology. We are confident that it is the best and most impartial selection possible.

The Reason Why.
Ends—Hamilton and Carlisle, Hamilton, the fast Aggie end, is the first choice for this position, he having received three votes out of the possible four and Coach Rademacher, of Institute, made no selection for ends. Accordingly, Hamilton's selection may be considered unanimous. Undoubtedly, he is the best end in the Big Four. Carlisle, U. N. M., runs a close second to Hamilton. In fact the advantage is almost negligible. The big margin that these two men have over all other Big Four ends is well evidenced by the fact that only one vote was cast for another man.

Tackles—J. Quisenberry and Powers. Both tackles go to the Aggies with very little difference of opinion among the coaches, both Powers and Quisenberry receiving three out of the possible four votes. The selection of these men does not indicate their superiority over the Institute tackle Crile, he having been shifted to guard in the all-southwestern eleven in order to place the three tackles who are entitled to line positions.

Guards—Brashcar and Crile. Brashcar, of U. N. M., and Crile, of Institute, share the guard position in two out of three votes each. Crile is shifted from tackle to guard because he plays either position and is generally considered one of the four best linemen in the southwest. He plays a hard, heady game from start to finish and will be the Rowell captain next year. Brashcar turned out for practice late but quickly developed into a star guard.

Center—Jones. For center the vote was evenly divided, two for Jones, Arizona, and two for Gardner, Aggies. Jones, last year's all-southwestern center, is given the position because we consider him the more versatile man of the two.

Quarterback—Lane. There is little division on the position of quarter, Lane, the fast and diminutive Aggie man, receiving three of the four votes cast. Coach King, of Arizona, favoring his own quarter.

Halfbacks—Hesselden and Calkins. University of New Mexico men picked off these positions, but only by very slight margins. Both men received two out of four votes, more than any other halfback, but there developed a greater difference of opinion on these positions than on any others. Hesselden consistently played a more brilliant game than any other half in the Big Four, while Calkins gets the position not so much on brilliancy as on his reliability and steadiness, also his happy faculty of standing the hardest of play without being injured. Lane contenders for these positions are the Institute backs, Cooper, Lomax and Talbot, and Tuttle and Brainerd, of the Aggies.

Fullback—Lutz. The mainstay of the Institute team all season, and the best line plunger and back-up on the line in the southwest, Lutz is unquestionably the star fullback of the Big Four. He received two of three votes cast. Coach Hutchinson, of the University favoring his own fullback, Probert.

Agiess and U. N. M. Lead.
Both the Aggies and the University of New Mexico lead four of the all-southwestern positions, while the Military Institute follows with two and Arizona gets only one, Arizona has several men who are "almost but not quite," principally the guards, Clausen and Bostrum.

Two Captains Laid.
Two team captains secure positions on the all-southwestern. Fred Calkins, of the U. N. M., and J. Quisenberry, of the Aggies. That two out of four captains should be given all-star places is ample evidence that playing ability rather than school politics lands the Big Four captains.

Four Last Year "All" Men.
Only four men who were awarded positions on last year's all-southwestern eleven, succeeded in repeating this season. Calkins, U. N. M.; Hamilton, Aggies; Crile, Institute, and Jones, Arizona, were included in the Spanning all-southwestern of the season of 1912.

Coaches' Selections.
Coach Hutchinson, University of New Mexico, named the following men for positions on the Journal's all-southwestern eleven: R. E. Carlisle, U. N. M.; L. E. Hamilton, Aggies; R. T. Littell, U. N. M.; L. T. Quisenberry, Aggies; R. G. Brashcar, U. N. M.; L. G. Crile, Institute; C. Jones, Arizona; R. H. Hesselden, U. N. M.; L. H. Calkins, U. N. M.; F. B. Probert, U. N. M.; Q. Lane, Aggies.

Coach King, University of Arizona, made the following selections: R. E. Crawford, Arizona; L. E. Carlisle, U. N. M.; R. T. Powers, Aggies; L. T. MacIntosh, Arizona; R. G. Clausen, Arizona; L. G. Bostrum, Arizona; C. Jones, Arizona; R. H. Hesselden, U. N. M.; L. H. Calkins, U. N. M.; F. B. Probert, U. N. M.; Q. Lane, Aggies.

Captain Rademacher, Military Institute coach, felt unable to select a complete eleven, but submitted the following as a partial team: R. T. Powers, Aggies; L. T. Quisenberry, Aggies; R. G. Brashcar, U. N. M.; L. G. Crile, Institute; C. Gardner, Aggies; R. H. Cooper, Institute; E. B. Lutz, Institute; Q. Lane, Aggies.

Coach Hesselden, of Agricultural college, instead of submitting a complete team, named only the men on his eleven whom he considered worthy of a position on the all-southwestern, as follows: R. E. Hamilton, R. T. Powers, L. T. Quisenberry, C. Gardner, R. H. Tuttle, L. H. Brainerd, Q. Lane.

MAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE IN MAGDALENA HOTEL

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL.
Magdalena, N. M., Dec. 1.—J. G. Loucks, who came here about a week ago from El Paso, Tex., tried to commit suicide at the Wilson hotel here today, by severing the arteries of his wrists. Loucks lost a large quantity of blood before employees of the hotel, attracted by his moans, discovered his predicament. It is said Loucks had been drinking heavily since Thanksgiving, and this, together with the fact that he was practically without funds and despondent, is believed to have been the motive for the attempted suicide. Loucks, until a short time ago, lived at San Antonio, this country. He is said to be well connected in the east. A relative has wired that he will come and take charge of Loucks, who is being cared for at a local hospital.

ALBUQUERQUE HAS BIG LEAD OVER OTHER CITIES

State School Census Figures Show It Is Entitled to Claim as the Metropolis of New Mexico.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL.
Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 1.—The state school census throws considerable light on the relative population standing of New Mexico cities. It discloses, for instance, that Santa Fe has outgrown East Las Vegas and West Las Vegas together, and that Albuquerque, without counting Old Albuquerque and other suburbs, is so far ahead of other New Mexico towns that they are completely outdistanced. The drop in relative rank of Clovis among New Mexico population centers is also rather remarkable. The following is the school census of the principal towns:

A WORD ABOUT CHRISTMAS PRICES

Old Established Ideas Smashed to Flinders

Since the beginning of time, the general public has formed the idea that all merchants boost prices just before Christmas.

This may be true in a few isolated cases, and as we had news travelers faster than good news, has no doubt given rise to this popular conception.

There is one firm in Albuquerque, however, that believes in modern merchandising to the last degree. They not only leave all prices marked in plain figures, but in marked all through the year, but they go farther. For several years now this firm has held a before Christmas sale—something unheard of outside of Albuquerque, and for this annual sale, sweeping reductions are made on all goods.

John Lee Clarke has just announced his ninth annual sale, which begins tomorrow, Wednesday morning. Everything in the store goes at the liberal discount of thirty-three and one-third per cent. In addition, there will be many special bargains, giving everyone the happy opportunity of buying holiday gifts at less than usual wholesale prices, and, best of all, this sale comes at a time when everyone wants to make their money go farthest.

Don't fail to carefully look over this immense stock of attractive and seasonable gift goods. Hundreds of new Navajo blankets and pillow tops; beautiful beadwork; moosehide; native and Mexican jewelry; leather goods, and artistic novelties, are among the good things on display.

Andrews, Glimmer, Falkenberg, Henderson, Trotter! What an array! We know they can sing as well as act, and they are all in the Pinaflore cast.

MOTION TO DISMISS IMPORTANT SUIT IS OVERRULED BY POPE

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL.
Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 1.—Federal Judge W. H. Pope this forenoon overruled the defendant's motion to dismiss in the important and very interesting case of the United States vs. Eugene Van Patten, a case involving title to the famous Dripping Springs in the Organ mountains near Las Cruces, and which has been fought all the way through the federal land office, and before the general land commissioner and secretary of the interior, who sustained contention of Van Patten for a patent to the famous springs and the land upon which he built a resort, which Van Patten filed upon as a homestead. But the attorney general of the United States ordered suit filed to set the patent aside on the charge of misrepresentation. The value of the property involved, the standing of Major Van Patten, who is a New Mexico pioneer, and the persistence with which the case has been fought, make it a remarkable one.

Jury Commissioner Marcelino Garcia and Court Clerk Harry F. Lee this forenoon in the presence of the court added 197 names to the federal jury list in anticipation of the special term of court to be held at Roswell in February.

In the bankruptcy court the final report was filed this forenoon in the case of Charles E. Spader of Bernalillo, Sandoval county, thus closing the case.

SCHOOL CHILDREN WILL SELL RED CROSS SEALS

Dr. Leroy S. Peters Distributes
Thirty Thousand Stamps
in New Mexico; Albuquerque Pupils Get 10,000.

New Mexico is expected to contribute only $200 to tuberculosis work through the sale of Red Cross stamps to place on Christmas packages. Dr. Leroy S. Peters, manager of the Short's sanatorium, received 30,000 stamps for distribution in the state.

Of this amount Dr. Peters expects Albuquerque to sell 10,000 stamps. The rest he has already sent to other cities in the state. The stamps he received for sale here have been distributed among the school children, who will begin the sale of the stamps at once.

Dr. Peters believes this plan of asking pupils to aid in the sale of stamps will enable him to dispose of the entire amount given him by the national society. Previously the stamps have been placed in stores for sale and consequently in the Christmas rush of trade no effort was made to "push" the sale of the seals. Storekeepers could not afford to.

Dr. Peters' plan is to offer a prize of $5 to the pupil who sells the greatest number of stamps. This plan will be practiced not only in Albuquerque, but in every other city in the state, according to the physician. The children already have received stamps and they may begin selling whenever they wish. They probably will not begin to vend them actively, however, until schools close for Christmas.

Dr. Peters, who before he came to Albuquerque a short time ago, was in charge of the college sanatorium at Silver City. He is actively interested in the phthisis question, and in recognition of his efforts in this line he was placed in charge of the sale of Red Cross stamps for the state.

Ministers in Albuquerque, and throughout the United States, next Sunday will speak upon the "White Plague." It will be "tuberculosis," Sunday, and the sermons preached in nearly every church here undoubtedly will aid in the sale of the stamps.

We have heard what a furor Phasere created when it first came out. It is just as funny and clever as it ever was.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS FOR NOVEMBER ARE PRESENTED TO COUNCIL

Reports of city officers, submitted to the council last night, showed all departments to be in excellent condition, although none of them contained any salient features.

The city clerk collected $2,796.75 in November, according to his report. Of this, $161.25 came from occupation taxes, $348.50 from miscellaneous sources, $2,250 from rental of houses, and $31 from dog tax.

The police collected 1595 fines for the month, according to Chief McMullin's report. They made 168 arrests. The jail served 474 meals.

Street Commissioner M. S. Tierney reported that his department had graded two and one-third blocks of streets.

The fire department responded to six alarms. The amount of insurance involved was $200; the loss, $370; the insurance paid, $105. These figures are from Chief Klein's report.

The balance in the city treasury at the close of the month was $4,232.58. The balance November 1, was $6,492.41.

PROTEST AGAINST PAYING PAVING COMPANY MADE

City Engineer Explains That Increased Amount Is Due to Assessment of Cost of Intersections.

Property owners of South Second street in a petition presented to the council last night charged the Texas Bitulithic company with attempting to collect more for the pavement on that street than notices served by the city specified the cost to each would be. The matter was referred to the city attorney.

City Clerk H. C. Roehl afterward read a typewritten statement from City Engineer J. N. Gladding, explaining that the increase was due to the fact that in the original estimate half of the cost of paving intersections was assessed against owners on intersecting streets. The intersecting streets, however, were not paved, and this threw the cost of the intersections entirely upon residents of South Second street, according to the engineer.

The petition follows:

"We, the undersigned property owners, owning property on South Second street, between the north line of Silver avenue and the north line of Coal avenue, respectfully petition your honorable body to instruct the city clerk or any other city officer you may designate to accept and receipt for the amounts we are indebted to you for the improvement by paving of the above prescribed limits. We having had no business relations with the Texas Bitulithic company, we therefore believe it has no legal right to present any bills to us for payment whatever. The governing body of the city (see section 6 of the general paving laws) has the power to fix a lien on such property and issue assignable certificates. We believe they should be the parties to issue receipts to us for our payments and therefore we refuse to recognize any persons presenting any bills until we receive a report from your body on this petition.

We also further state that the Texas Bitulithic agent is trying to collect an advance of 40 cents per lineal foot of entire frontage more than the amount set down opposite our names in a notice served legally upon us and under process of law over the signature of the mayor and city clerk, passed by the city council June 23, 1913, and served personally on us by Pablo Lujan, a police officer, July 1, 1913, and we ask your honorable body to investigate the reasons for said increase and inform us of the same."

T. J. Passmore, one of the signers, in a talk reiterated part of the petition. F. V. Latham, of the Texas Bitulithic company, answering him, said: "Mr. Passmore can use a rule as well as anyone else. The company doesn't want pay for any pavement that has not been laid."

The clerk then read the city engineer's statement. It follows:

"Attached please find a corrected estimate for assessment of street pavement on South Second street, between north side of Silver avenue and north side of Coal avenue, including that portion abutting the south 33 feet of block 24, lot 22, Original Townsite."

"When the original estimate was made, it was assumed that Silver and Coal avenues were to be paved. In fact, we were informed that petitions were written for these two streets and half the cost of intersections was to be charged on these streets. However, these petitions were never presented to the council and work was not done on the streets this summer. Therefore it is necessary to reassess the cost of paving on this street and charge all the improvement on Second street."

"This is what we have done on this assessment."

The original estimate gives the cost of the paving as $6,750.82.

Full weight and satisfaction guaranteed when ordered from the New State Coal and Wood Yard. Phone 35. C. E. Kunz, Proprietor.

REV. T. L. DYER ACCEPTS CALL TO CALIFORNIA

Popular Pastor of Congregational Church Will Leave January 1 for Saticoy, Where He Will Locate.

Rev. T. L. Dyer, pastor of the Congregational church for the past two years, and one of the best known clergymen in Albuquerque, will leave January 1, for Saticoy, Calif., where he has accepted a call to become pastor of the Congregational church there.

Rev. Mr. Dyer, who is popular with his congregation here, presented his resignation several weeks ago, and it was accepted with much reluctance by the church.

Following a short service at the church next Sunday morning, a congregational business meeting will be held, at which time the name of a candidate to succeed the retiring pastor will be presented for consideration.

ADVISORY BOARD TO REMAIN A SECRET WITH COUNCIL

Mayor Sellers After Executive Session Says Appointees Will Be Asked to Serve Before Names Are Published.

The personnel of the citizens' committee, which is to advise the council in dealing with the waterworks matter, will not be made known generally until the next meeting of the aldermanic body. Mayor D. K. H. Sellers made this statement at the close of a long executive session last night.

The mayor's assertion carried the inference that the council had appointed the citizens' committee. The committee is understood to consist of about ten prominent citizens in whom the taxpayers repose confidence. At least that is presumed to be one of the reasons that recommended their appointment to the commission.

The desire for secrecy was inspired by the council's desire to learn whether or not the citizens whom they honored would serve on the committee before it announced their names. The appointees will be visited by Mayor Sellers or his assistant, before the next meeting, who will ascertain whether they will serve. The list of those who have accepted will be made public within two weeks.

JUDGE ROSE ASKS CITY TO BUILD A CREMATORY

Judge John F. Rose, as representative of a crematory company, advised the council to erect a plant for the city. A $4,500, 100-horsepower plant would be large enough for Albuquerque, he said. The judge quoted readily the number of dead horses, cattle and dogs it would consume in a few hours. Sixteen tons in twenty-four hours is its capacity.

Mayor Sellers asked the judge to present this proposition to the board of health.

Mayor Sellers refused to allow City Clerk Roehl to read a communication signed "Taxpayer." No anonymous letters will be read in the council meetings, he said.

"From your druggist get two ounces of Glysterine and half an ounce of Olive Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine). Take these two ingredients home and put them into a half pint of good whiskey. Shake well. Take one or two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bed time. Smaller doses to children according to age." This is said to be the quickest cough and cold cure known to the medical profession. Be sure to get only the genuine Olive Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine). Each half ounce bottle comes in a tin screw-top sealed case. If your druggist is not of such stock, he will quickly get it from his wholesale house. Don't fool with uncertain mixtures. It is risky. For the past six years this has had a wonderful demand.

For Indigestion—Mix one ounce of Olive Pine Compound, two ounces of Compound of Peppermint, three ounces of Ginger. Take one or two teaspoonfuls after meals. This is said to have no equal. Calumet is that new compound any druggist has it or will get it. Published by the Olive Pine Pharmaceutical Laboratories of Chicago.

THE ROSE MAID TO BE OPERA EVENT OF THE SEASON

It Is Something More Than Frivolous Comedy, Because It Has Delightful Romance
as Its Plot.

One of the newest and most fascinating operas that set all New York to whistling its "vachy" melodies is "The Rose Maid" announced for Saturday night of this week at the Elks theatre. This charming work is something more than frivolous musical comedy because it has a delightful romance culminated with a score of brilliant numbers that have placed it in a class with the best imported musical pieces in recent years.

In the first act there is atmosphere of gay life in London with a story of the penniless Duke of Barchester and the little Rose girl who gives the opera its name. In the second act the scene shifts to Belgium's famous pleasure resort at Ostend, where the plot thickens in true story book fashion and where the duke and his friends are enmeshed in a situation that must lead to his ruin, but for the tender love and devotion of the Rose maid.

The hook of the opera makes no other pretense than to relate the doings of a coterie of friends and enemies of the young duke. But the simple manner in which the story is told is intensely dramatic and might have been employed in building an absorbing play had not the gifted Bruno Granichstedt, which is the unpronounceable name of the Viennese composer, set it to music.

Although this is his first opera to be seen in America, this writer of delicious rhythms in one short season has won lofty favor with music lovers the country over. The popular song hits from "The Rose Maid" such as the "Rose Song," "Moon Song" and "Sweetheart, Wives and Good Folks" are now being played and sung wherever there is a person with an ear for music.

Granichstedt is also noted for his tuneful cabaret songs and the variations of the Tango and Turkey Trot music which he has employed in "The Rose Maid" gave the phenomenal impetus to this style of dancing that took New York by storm last winter and spread quickly over the country.

With its score of dancing girls and a quintette of comedians who revel in its high-provoking lines, "The Rose Maid" is one of the choicest offerings as well as one of the newest on our stage. Backed by a solid six months' popular success on Broadway and produced by a select company that includes last season's favorites in their respective roles an unusual treat is offered for every lover of fun and music. The opera will be staged here with all the beautiful scenery, costumes and extravagant effects that marked its New York success, there being only this one "Rose Maid" company in town.

Let us see and hear our own young people in Pinaturo, and renew our youth.

FILING CERTIFICATES OF DEATHS AND BIRTHS TO TAKE SOME TIME

County Clerk A. E. Walker and his office force will be busy for several months, recording the delinquent death and birth certificates filed last Saturday. The clerk's force can give only spare time to this work, or the recording would not take so long. No one in his office will get a respite in office hours for several months—until the six years' accumulation of birth and death records are filed.

The certificates were numbered yesterday. There are 2,465 death certificates and 1,166 birth certificates. Each certificate must be copied in the clerk's record book. Then each slip must receive the clerk's seal and signature.

AFTER COUGHING TWO YEARS

Waycross, Ga., Woman Found Relief in Vinol.

Did you ever cough for a week? Then just think how distressing it must be to have a cough hang on for two years.

Mrs. D. A. McGee, Waycross, Ga., says: "I had a very heavy cold which settled into a chronic cough which kept me awake nights for fully two years, and felt tired all the time. The effect of taking your cod liver and iron remedy, Vinol, is that my cough is gone. I can now get a good night's rest and I feel much stronger in every way. I am 74 years old."

It is the combined action of the medicinal elements of the cod liver added by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonics which makes Vinol so efficient for chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis—at the same time building up the weakened, run-down system.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Burt's, Inc., Druggists, Albuquerque, N. M.

MAY HELP YOU IF LUNGS ARE AFFECTED

Proper diet, fresh air and temperate habits are beneficial to persons suffering from Lung Trouble, but in a great many instances reports show that the addition of a medicine for this affliction has markedly helped in bringing about recovery. For more than fifteen years Eckman's Alternative, a medicine for Throat and Lung Trouble, has accomplished good results. Read what it did in this case.

Madison Lake, Minn. "Gentlemen: In December, 1908, March, 1909, and September, 1909, I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs which cost me several weeks, each time to my bed. My doctor advised me to go West. In November, I started for Denver. On my arrival I met Michael Brady, who upon learning of my condition, urged me to take Eckman's Alternative. I kept on taking the medicine and improved fast. In March, 1910, I returned home. I am entirely well, have a good appetite and sleep well. When I left Denver my weight was 100 pounds. I now weigh 165, my normal weight. I thank God and your Alternative for my health."

(ADVERT.) PAUL L. PASNACHT, (Above abbreviated; more on request.) Eckman's Alternative has been proved by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Afflictions. Streptococci, Rheumatism, Stomach, Colds and in unquenching the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Sold by Highland Pharmacy and leading druggists. Write the Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet telling of recoveries and additional evidence.

Money Conditions Unsatisfactory and Railroad Showings Are Far From Promising to Investors.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER)
New York, Dec. 1.—Although the stock market was confronted today with a variety of factors undeniably hostile, it maintained a fair degree of steadiness. In the forenoon, prices of the favorite shares were marked up slightly, and in later trading they developed an easy tendency in spots. In the afternoon the market was motionless for long periods.

The monetary situation was unfavorable for speculation. Call money opened at 8 per cent and time rates were firmer. Call funds relaxed later, but in view of the poor Saturday's bank statement and the shipment of $2,500,000 gold today to San Francisco, the prospect for easy money in the immediate future was none too good. December is always a month of uncertainty, owing to preparations for heavy disbursements at the beginning of the year.

The dissolution proceedings against the American Can company caused a sharp decline in Can common and preferred, but was of little influence on the market as a whole, as the suit had long been expected. Traders are withholding judgment as to the effect of the present administration of the government's policy towards corporations until they obtain a better idea of the present administration's probable procedure. The regular session of congress having begun, it is believed that the administration's policy will soon be made known definitely.

October railroad statements of some of the large eastern systems were poor. Pennsylvania's operating income decreased $2,019,000. New York Central reported a decrease in net of $3,352,000.

SCHOOL BOARD ASKS THAT ASSESSOR BE MANDAMUSED

Wants Property in Districts
Outside Corporate Bounds
That Send Children to City
Schools Subject to Its Tax.

The issuance of a writ of mandamus to Fred E. Horn, county assessor, directing him to enforce the school levy against property in the territory outside the corporate limits, but alleged to have been annexed to Albuquerque "for school purposes," is asked in a petition filed yesterday in the district court by Summers Burkhardt and H. G. Coors, Jr., attorneys. They were authorized by the board of education, recently to institute this action.

The plaintiff's contention is that territory in Precincts Nos. 1, 5 and 26 was annexed to the city of Albuquerque for school purposes in 1901, but that the county assessor did not require taxpayers in those districts to pay the assessments made by the board of education, although they probably paid the levy made by the directors in their districts for the district schools.

The board of education is said not to seek the payment of taxes in this territory for former years, but asks in the application for a writ of mandamus that the assessor place property in the rural districts which send pupils to school in the city upon the 1912 rolls as subject to the city school tax.

CITY ATTORNEY AND WATER COMPANY HEAD RETURN FROM SANTA FE

"Believe me when I say I'll never again argue four cases in one day," asserted City Attorney John C. Lewis, upon his return last night from Santa Fe. He and A. B. McMillen, president of the Water Supply company, and also its attorney, yesterday argued before the state supreme court at the capital, cases instituted by the city attorney to test the legality of alleged practices of the corporation under its present franchise.

The supreme tribunal heard arguments in the four cases, from 9 o'clock yesterday morning until 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with a brief intermission only for lunch at noon. The court's decision is expected within two months.

MUELLER HABEAS CORPUS CASE SET FOR SATURDAY

W. C. Hancock yesterday was notified that the hearing of the Mueller habeas corpus case, at El Paso, had been continued until Saturday. William Mueller is under indictment in Bernalillo county on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Mr. Hancock is special attorney for the state in this case.

The delay in the hearing at El Paso, Mr. Hancock learned, was due to the illness of Joseph M. Nealon, attorney for Mr. Mueller. The hearing probably will be held Saturday, as Mr. Hancock was informed that another attorney probably would take the place of Mr. Nealon if he had not recovered by that time.

EDWARD LEACH AND PARTY TO VISIT CITY FRIDAY

Grand Exalted Ruler of B. P. O. Elks, Together With Grand Secretary, Will Spend
12 Hours in Albuquerque.

Members of Albuquerque Lodge No. 461, B. P. O. Elks, have begun preparations for the entertainment of Grand Exalted Ruler Edward Leach, Grand Secretary Robinson and other members of the party, who, it was definitely announced yesterday, will arrive in Albuquerque from the east on the California limited Friday morning at 11:25 and remain here until No. 9 departs the same night, or approximately twelve hours.

Plans under way include a big reception committee composed of members of the local Elks' lodge and visiting brothers, together with their wives and ladies, to meet Mr. Leach and party on the arrival of the limited, Friday. The party will be entertained at luncheon by local Elks and during the afternoon by Albuquerque Elks who are personal friends of the distinguished visitors. At night at the Alvarado hotel, beginning at 9 o'clock, a brilliant banquet will be tendered Mr. Leach, Mrs. Leach who accompanies him, Grand Secretary Robinson and others of the party. The banquet will be held in the main dining room, and following it, there will be a brilliant ball. Tickets for the banquet and ball will be $2 for each person, and all Elks are urged to attend, with their ladies.

It is not often that Albuquerque has the opportunity to entertain the head of this great American order and for this reason Albuquerque Elks are especially anxious to do themselves proud on the coming occasion.

All Elks who will participate in the banquet and ball are requested to have their names at Mason's today by noon, at the latest, as it is necessary to give the hotel management definite figures that special provisions may be made for the banquet.
