plant, which had just been installed in the place, the operation of which the employees did not understand. The fire spread rapidly, burning the Waddell restaurant, the Remsburg store, a new store building just completed by Hunt & Brooks, but which had not been turned over by the contractor, and the Daly & Robertson blacksmith shop. All efforts to cope with the fire were unavailing, there being no adequate fire fighting equipment available.

STATEHOOD FOR NEW MEXICO

We favor the immediate admission of the territories of New Mexico and Arizona as separate states in the Union.—Republican National Platform.

Real Tariff Revision

The Chicago Tribune is authority for the following statement of Mr. Taft's position on the question of Tariff Revision:

Speaking of tariff revision at the Ohio Society's dinner on Wednesday, Mr. Taft said:

"Better no revision at all, better that the new bill should fail, unless we have an honest and thorough revision on the basis laid down and the principle outlined in the party platform.
"If the pledge of the party to the people were to be broken it would be better to break it by an act of open, courageous dishonesty, such as a flat denial of revision would be, than to break faith sneakily by a dishonest revision. The people would be more incensed, the tariff question would assume an uglier shape, and the consequences for the Republican party would be more serious if there should be a sham revision. Mr. Taft does not intend that that shall happen. He pledged himself during the campaign to an honest revision. He is a man who has always meant what he said and has never used phrases that were susceptible for a double meaning. Wherever he has reached and stated a conclusion he has not changed his mind.

"The consumers may rest assured that though they may have no warm friends on the ways and means committee, they will have one in the White House. Mr. Taft said at the Ohio dinner that the tariff declaration of the party did not provide for the taking of a decree pro confesso against those in the community who could not appear before a committee of Congress and be heard. There is comfort in this for the men with small wages who look to tariff revision for a cheapening of boots and shoes, clothing and many other necessities of life. They are unable to go before the ways and means committee, and only a few words have been uttered there in their behalf.

"They and their families stand in the greatest need of an honest tariff revision. Mr. Taft understands that, hence his repeated assurances to consumers that they shall not be defrauded of the effective revision promised them by the Republican platform.

An Iowa prison warden has asked the legislature for the privilege of clothing his convicts in tattered suits, "biled" shirts and patent leather shoes, with a short order menu to choose from, three times a day. Persons contemplating breaking the law are kindly requested to do so in Iowa.

A Texas paper complains that one battleship costs $9,000,000 and that it costs $17,000 to fire a broadside from its big guns. It might be well, however, to take into consideration what would happen to the enemy, before complaining of the cost.

It will take the average "kid" only a few minutes to take the new fangled toys apart and see what makes them go, but it takes fond papa and mama many anxious hours of work, to select the particular toys for the experiment.

The man who invented the "boller plate" fillers for the weekly papers, has just died, after living to be nearly 80 years old, yet some of the first plates he turned out, are still being published in country papers.

A health journal publishes a lengthy article on how to lie when asleep. If some one would now come forward with a sure receipt for how to tell the truth when awake, this old world would be worth living in.

A Tennessee judge recently sentenced a drunk man to spend thirty days in a "dry" county. The chances are that the prisoner enjoyed his captivity as the dry country was well provided with drug stores.

A German doctor is authority for the statement that the Kaiser is crazy. A recent announcement that the Kaiser was on the water wagon right in the season of Tom and Jerry loans color to the fact.

Being hard pressed for ready money at this season of the year, the Kaiser finds himself in closer touch with his subjects—or at least, that is what it will eventually amount to.

Several ranchers arbitrated their differences by using shotguns and six-shooters in El Paso yesterday. There is nothing like Texas arbitration to settle a disagreement permanently.

A woman died unmarried in New York recently, who had fifty million dollars in her own right. She was probably the most homely woman in the world or else she hated men.

The Nashville American refers to President Roosevelt as the "Setting Sun," unimpaired, perhaps, that no matter how often the sun may set, it rises again at an early hour.

Mr. Rockefeller went from New York to Cleveland to have a tooth pulled. Had he desired his leg pulled, however, he would have remained in dear little New York.

An Albuquerque young man drew a full month's pay yesterday and bought his best girl one dozen genuine ranch eggs for Christmas. Such extravagance!

One thing noticeable is that the Democratic papers are keeping mighty quiet about the revival of business in all lines since the election of Mr. Taft.

There is one admirable quality about Count Boni. He wants to have the care of his children, but he wants Mrs. Boni who was, to foot the bills.

A hen displayed in the Chicago poultry show, is valued at $10,000. She must lay several dozen fresh eggs every day, to be worth so much.

Sheep raisers in New Mexico will hear with pleasure that no change in the tariff on wool is now contemplated in the revision.

As a pre-Christmas suggestion, it would be well to darn your stockings before attaching them to the mantel over the fireplace.

The mud and dirt may be flying in Panama, all right, but there are other places where it is just as conspicuous.

The Venezuela situation appears to be about as follows: "Dear Holland—Do nothing until you hear from us"—U. S.

An Albuquerque man has inherited a million and a half dollars. That's what comes of living in Albuquerque, Next!

What the average girl would term a romance in the modern novel is considered a scandal in real life.

Our idea of predatory wealth is to have real ranch eggs for breakfast every morning.

Vote for the sewer bonds and give the city a Christmas present worth while.

Maybe Albuquerque will get a sewer system before Kansas City gets that new Union depot.

"Mr. Roosevelt is mistaken," says the New York World. "Liar!"

After all, singing to kill time is about as effective as anything.

Vote the sewer bonds and help make Greater Albuquerque.

At least the worst is out—they are after the sardine trust.

PREPARING BILL TO CONSERVE WATER

It Will Follow the Lines Suggested by the President in His Message.

Washington, Dec. 23.—Practically the first steps toward a more judicious use of the water powers of the country in line with the policy of President Roosevelt to conserve the natural resources of the United States are now being taken by the House committee on interstate and foreign commerce in the preparation of a bill to regulate the construction of dams across navigable waters.

Preliminary consideration of the subject has developed the fact that there is a strong opposition in Congress to the government levying a tax on the use of the water powers of the navigable waters in spite of suggestions of the president, that such a tax be required.

Subsequent to the veto last spring by the president of the Rainey project, the interstate and foreign commerce committee of the House appointed a subcommittee to investigate the subject of new legislation in regard to the regulation of dams across navigable waters. During the summer and fall, this subcommittee went into various phases of the matter and Chairman Stevens of Minnesota is now ready to explain to the full committee the recommendations of the subcommittee. This will be the first matter considered after the return of the committee from Panama as it has been set for January 22. Members of the committee were selected to consider several constitutional questions involved, such as the power of the government to levy a tax for the use of water power of navigable streams and the disposition of the dams after the expiration of the permits granted for their construction.

All the recommendations of the president in regard to the improvement of dams for the regulation of construction of dams are agreed to by the subcommittee except the recommendation that a tax be imposed. The subcommittee will urge that the committee recommend to the House that the present laws be so amended that the secretary of war may fix charges for the privilege of constructing a dam. It will make an alternative recommendation that this money either be devoted to restoring condition of navigation to the original state before the dam was constructed, or be turned into the treasury to be applied to the improvement of navigation generally. In his message, the president pointed out that while it appeared that under the present law there was a method of forfeiture of permits when conditions were not met, owing to there being no definite imposition of the duty of declaring a forfeiture on any administrative officer, permits were not forfeited. The subcommittee will urge that this duty be imposed on the secretary of war. The committee also has accepted the recommendation of the president that there be a specific time limitation on the permits, and has fixed 30 years as the limit. This is done with a view of the public keeping control of the great waterways and of the government retaining the right to eventually remove a dam should it become an obstruction under changed conditions.

NEW MEXICO CATTLE BRING GOOD PRICES

Buyers of Stockers and Feeders Through the Market in Great Numbers.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Dec. 23.—Total cattle receipts last week were moderate, and those from the range country were confined to a few shipments received from day to day. The market closed the week without much change in prices, although the quality of killing cattle from the ranges is not as good as a few weeks ago, and sales look lower on paper. A few best steers reached $5.40, and several lots of feeders reached record figures for the season at $4.65 to $4.90, and odd head of Colorado cows and heifers $4.00 to $4.50, as high as any time previously this fall. The run of cattle today is 8,000 head, market 10 to 15 higher on cattle, 25 cents higher on calves. Purchases of stockers and feeders by country buyers are heavy and continue to be the feature of the cattle market, attendance of buyers being extraordinary for this season of the year. New Mexico stockers sold up to $4.50 recently, and as low as $2.00, and some inferior feeders from that section at $3.50 to $3.75. Calves advanced 25 cents last week, and are 25c higher today. Colorado yearlings at $7.00, heavy calves $4.00 to $5.50.

Three-fourths of last week's sheep supply of 33,000 head arrived Monday and Tuesday, and were sold on the east of the bulge in prices first of last week. After Tuesday prices broke 30 to 60 cents but warnings were sent out, and receipts have been small each day since, including today. The market has had a good chance to rest, and the 2,000 head here today are selling back almost up to the high point again, on those classes that are sufficiently represented to test the market at all fairly. Lambs sold at $7.25 today, and ewes brought $4.25, and yearlings are quotable at $5.50 to $6.75. Top ewes $4.50 to $4.80. Feeding stock sells at high prices really, some feeding yearling wethers a day at $4.75, lambs worth $5.25 to $5.75, and more orders held here for all kinds of country grades than can be filled.

The reason we do so much ROUGH work is because we do it right and at the price you cannot afford to have it done at home.

Some Reasons Why

The C

Because The Citizen is a home paper. It is either delivered by carrier at the house or is carried home by the business man where his day's work is done and it STAYS THERE. A morning paper is usually carried down town by the head of the family and hurriedly read.

The Citizen is not read hurriedly but thoroughly. It is read all day long. It gives the business man where he works his share of attention. It presents the news news a little ahead, giving the prospective purchaser time to plan a shopping tour for the next morning.

Wise advertisers patronize The Citizen because they know their advertisements are seen and read at the homes in the evening, and if they are offering something worthy of attention, their ad has accomplished its mission.

I

The Citizen has never given premiums to subscribers, but is subscribed to and paid for on its news merits, showing that its subscribers have money with which to buy what they want from legitimate merchants. These are the people The Citizen invites to your store.

Z

The Citizen employs a man whose business it is to look after your advertising wants. He will write your copy if you wish. If not, he will see that your ads are "set up" to look their best and he will attend to them from day to day.

Are you advertising in The Citizen? Your competitors are, and are profiting by it. Do you think conservative business men are spending money where they are not getting results? Get in the swim and watch your business grow.

FINE PROGRAM FOR MEETING OF TEACHERS

Lectures by Educator and Physician Will Be Features of the Session Here.

The twenty-third annual session of the New Mexico Educational association which will be held in this city December 28, 29 and 30, promises to be one of the largest gatherings of the kind ever held in this territory. Nearly 300 teachers from all parts of New Mexico will attend. Excellent programs for all divisions and the sessions promise to be both interesting and profitable.

Circulars of general information have been freely distributed among the teachers and students of this city. The cover of the circulars bears an excellent likeness of Dr. Geo. E. Vincent of the Chicago University, who will deliver two lectures, one December 29, entitled, "Education and Efficiency," and the other on December 30, when he will speak on "The Mind of the Mob." The circular says in part:

Headquarters at Savoy hotel, half block west of station, Silver and First streets. Rooms steam heated, with electric light and running water. Rates, 50 cents each person, in groups of two or more. The Delaney cafe in same building and the Wayside Inn, one and one-half blocks west, make a special rate of 85 cents a day for meals.

Teachers' Salaries Continued—Extract from letter written by Superintendent J. E. Clark to boards of education: "Section 26, Chapter 97, Laws of 1907, provides among other things that teachers should be paid full wages during the holiday vacation not to exceed fifteen days. Under the circumstances we feel that you can strongly urge upon the teachers that they attend this meeting. Some boards of education have passed resolutions stating that it is the sense of the board that the teachers should attend the meetings of the Territorial Teachers' association. One can hardly attend such a meeting as this without profit to himself, to the children under his charge, and to the educational spirit of the community in which he works. A large attendance is expected as evidence of the professional spirit of the teaching corps of our territory."

Papers limited to 20 minutes, leaders in discussion to 10. Those who take part should arrange to leave manuscripts or resume of main points for publication with proceedings in the Journal of Education.

Some of the Good Things—A chance for fellowship and acquaintance. Membership fee is $1, which when paid, secures a badge giving free admission to all entertainments provided by the association—oral contests, lectures, etc.

A little sight-seeing trip in automobiles and conveyances to the University Pueblo buildings, the government Indian school settlement and the immense plant of the American Lumber company.

Dr. Robert Spurr's discussion of "Medical Inspection in the Schools." He has studied the subject on both continents and will give you helpful ideas.

Dr. T. W. Conway's lecture on the "Influence of Poetry on Life," will interest his hearers.

The oratorical contest in two divisions, in which several New Mexico high schools and higher institutions will be represented. At this meeting announcement will be made of the winners of the Twitchell New Mexico History Prize Essays.

An Albuquerque reception will be given to visiting educators and friends, with an informal program, when Prof. John H. Crum of the University and Miss Anna McMahon of Las Vegas high school, will be among the entertainers.

Fine music will be distributed throughout the meetings as furnished by the Wagner and Apollo Vocal Quartets of East Las Vegas high school; Miss Florence Scott of East Las Vegas public school; Mrs. C. A. Frank of Albuquerque, and others. The evening lectures of Dr. George Edgar Vincent of Chicago University, will be a genuine treat.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES

A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.

Albuquerque women know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, all tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders. Here's proof of it in an Albuquerque woman's words:

Mrs. L. J. Curd, living at 410 South Third street, Albuquerque, N. M., says: "I suffered more or less from pains in my back for a long time, and when I would over exert myself or take cold, I suffered severely. That this trouble was due to kidney disease I had no doubt; in fact, I believe it was hereditary in my case, as my father died with Bright's disease. About a year ago Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention, and taking them for a short time I was absolutely relieved of the pain in my back and felt better in every way. The merits of Doan's Kidney Pills were so plainly demonstrated to me that I can with pleasure and confidence recommend them to others."

MANY SENATORS HAVE BEEN REELECTED

Thirteen Vacancies Are to be Filled After March 4 and New Men May Enter.

Washington, Dec. 23.—While the terms of 31 senators, more than one-third of the entire body, expire on March 4, next, 18 of the number already have been re-elected or assured of re-election, either through successes in primary contests or pledges of a majority of the membership of the several state legislatures charged with the duty of electing senators before the beginning of the next Congress.

In addition to the vacancies occurring by reason of a provision of the constitution there will be a vacancy in Pennsylvania when Mr. Knox will accept the portfolio of secretary of state.

There will be a general scramble between prominent Republicans of Pennsylvania for Mr. Knox's seat, which will cause public interest equal to the interest going on now in Ohio for the seat of Senator Foraker, and in Connecticut for the seat of Senator Brandegee. That Mr. Root will be given the New York senatorship now held by Senator Platt is conceded, and a contest is not expected.

The Republican senators whose terms expire at the end of the present Congress, but who are sure of being returned, are Cummins of Iowa, now serving out the unexpired term of the late Senator Allison; Dillingham of Vermont; Gallinger of New Hampshire; Heyburn of Idaho; Hopkins of Illinois; Penrose of Pennsylvania; Perkins of California; Smoot of Utah and Stephenson of Wisconsin. Democratic senators who will be returned are Clark of Arkansas, Clay of Georgia, Gore of Oklahoma, Johnson of Alabama, McNary of Louisiana, Newlands of Nevada, Overman of North Carolina, Smith of Maryland and Stone of Missouri.

By reason of defeat in primary contests Senator Ankeny of Washington will be succeeded by Representative Wesley L. Jones, Hansbrough of North Dakota by M. N. Johnson, Kittbridge of South Dakota by Governor Coo I. Crawford and Long of Kansas by Bristow, former fourth assistant postmaster general. All of these men are Republicans and in addition, Fulton of Oregon, probably will be succeeded by Governor Chamberlain, Democrat, who was victorious in what was popularly known as the double primary system of the state. If pledges made by certain Republican members of the Oregon legislature are kept Chamberlain will come to the Senate, but if they are violated, as many leading Republicans of the state are demanding, it is possible, in fact probable, that Fulton will be chosen to succeed himself.

Of the Democratic senators whose terms expire on March 4, Gary, South Carolina, will be succeeded by E. D. Smith and Milton, of Florida, by Duncan U. Fletcher, both of the incumbents having declined to be candidates for election.

Offsetting the Oregon situation is that of Kentucky. Former Governor W. O. Bradley, Republican, having been elected to succeed McCrory, Democrat, by reason of the failure of the Democratic majority in the Kentucky legislature to agree.

Teller of Colorado will be succeeded by Charles J. Hughes, who was endorsed by the Democratic state convention after Teller had declined to be a candidate for re-election. The legislature is Democratic and Hughes will be elected.

Contests have narrowed down to Ohio, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Indiana. In the latter state a Democrat will be elected to succeed Hemmaway, the legislature having been lost by the Republicans in the recent election. The eyes of the country are on Ohio because of the candidacy of Charles F. Taft, brother of the president-elect for the seat of Foraker, one of the most vigorous and picturesque characters in the Senate and one who has declined to abandon his place without a fight.

The relationship between Mr. Taft and the president-elect and the fact that the Cincinnati editor has been prominent in the councils of the Republican party in Ohio for many years are powerful factors in the contest he is waging for the senatorial toga. Forces opposed to Taft's election including as they do, Foraker, Representative Burton, who placed Mr. Taft in nomination for the presidency and who has been recognized as one of his principal supporters, Harry M. Daugherty and former Speaker Kefauver must be reckoned with, and especially if there should be a combination effected between the forces led by Senators Foraker and Dick and the members of the Legislature friendly to Burton. Without such an alliance the indications are that Mr. Taft would go into the fight in the lead, but astute politicians declare they would not be surprised to see Foraker withdraw in favor of Burton. At the present time the result must be conceded to be in doubt.

The official announcement that there is to be a vacancy in Pennsylvania through the resignation of Knox is of too recent date to permit of the lining up of aspirants for the Keystone senatorship. Already, however, there have appeared in the field as possible candidates Representative James Francis Burke and John Dalsell and George T. Oliver, all of Pittsburgh. For many years it has been the recognized policy in Pennsylvania to take one senator from the eastern and one from the western half of the state.

Several names have been mentioned in Connecticut in connection with the contest for the seat now occupied by Brandegee, and Representative Hill formally announced his candidacy some time ago. The legislature will decide the contest, and it is conceded to be close.

Not the least interesting of the senatorial fights is in Indiana. Chief among the aspirants are John W. Kern, candidate for vice president on the Democratic ticket; John E. Lamb of Terre Haute, former Representative Benjamin P. Shively of South Bend, and L. Earl Shack of Franklin. That Mr. Kern has more members of the Legislature pledged to his support than any other of the candidates is conceded, but it is recognized also that his pledges are still short of the number needed to elect.

No movement to unite against Kern is yet in evidence and it is probable he could be elected.

FUNNY PICTURES AT COLOMBO THEATER

Program Tonight and Tomorrow Night Will Show Some of the Best Pictures Ever Here.

Manager W. H. Moore has prepared to present an excellent program at the Colombo theater tonight and tomorrow night. The feature film tonight will be "No Petticoats for Him." This film is composed of 770 feet of French pictures showing a male cabby and a female cabby, who indulge in a variety of funny stunts. The second picture will be "The Roman Idyl," showing scenes in ancient Rome, in which takes place a romance between several young people. The landscape views are very realistic and give a fine conception of old Rome. The story told by the films is highly entertaining.

The feature pictures tomorrow night will be "Slumberland" and "Sheridan's Ride." This film tells a bit of American history that is interesting to every one. Every child of school age should see it.

SCHOOL BOARD WOULD AMEND PRESENT LAW

Several Changes Will Be Asked of Legislature by Territorial Board.

The territorial school board, which has been in session at Santa Fe, will probably ask several amendments to the present school laws. One change to be made will be the method of selecting sites for school houses, which are now selected by authority of the board of directors in each district. It is proposed that the law be changed so that school houses will be located on recommendation and petition of a majority of the voters.

Another change suggested is that a director who is not giving satisfactory service be removed on petition of a majority of the electors of a district. At present a director can be removed by a county superintendent, but this plan does not work well because of the fact that a superintendent often does not care to remove a director even though he knows the officer is not giving satisfaction.

The territorial board also made a rule that county superintendents visit the schools in their county after January 1. Schools having four months or less are to be visited once a year and schools with less are to be visited once a year and schools with terms of more than four months at least twice a year.

A HOT FINISH OF C. AND A. CONTEST

Hustlers for Gold Prizes Holding Out for a Strong Finish.

Go, but there will be a hot finish tomorrow evening, and a close one, too, unless we are poor guessers.

The great gold prize contest of the C. & A. Coffee Co. closes at 6 o'clock tomorrow evening, and unless we are badly mistaken there will be some great surprises sprung. Some of the boys and girls have been holding out big batches of tickets so as to make a big showing on the last day, and there are sure to be some names up near the top that have not before been seen above the half-way mark.

But the youngsters are not taking anybody into their confidences, and the coffee men are just as much at sea as anybody as to the winner.

Aline Truswell still holds first place with a margin that makes the $10 in gold look like a sure thing to her.

Marguerite Combs has strengthened her position today with several nice orders. Glenn Emmmons, who lost sixth place yesterday, goes up to third place today, while Arthur Lewis drops down a point. Otherwise the first division remains the same as yesterday.

But just watch for the list tomorrow, there's going to be "something doing."

Good Cough Medicine for Children.
The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care can not be used to protect the children.
A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the solireliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says: "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

A GOOD SIMPLE HOME MADE MIXTURE

Splendid Recipe to be Used in Kidney Trouble.

There are more cases of kidney trouble here now than ever before, while recent reports show that more people succumb each year to some form of kidney disease than any other cause.

When there is sickness, examine the urine. Rheumatism is only a symptom of kidney trouble. It is nothing more or less than excessive uric acid in the blood, which the sluggish, inactive kidneys have failed to sift out, leaving it to decompose and settle about the joints and muscles, causing intense suffering; frequently resulting in deformity; often reaching the heart, when death ensues.

Pains across the back, frequent painful and suppressed urination and other symptoms of weak bladder are not the only signs of kidney trouble; many cases of stomach disease, headache, pain in the heart, inactive liver, etc., are but symptoms; the cause of which can be traced to feeble, clogged kidneys.

A simple test of the urine is to void a small quantity in a bottle or glass and let it stand over night; next morning, if there is a reddish brick-dust sediment, or white fleecy substance present, either consult some reputable physician or take a good vegetable treatment. The following prescription is recommended highly in these cases, and the sufferer can mix it at home: Compound Kargon, one ounce; Fluid Extract Dandelion, one half ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

Where any of the symptoms enumerated above are present, good results are sure to follow immediately the use of this simple prescription.

GREENE MAY LOSE HIS MINERAL LANDS

His Concession in Mexico Expires in January and May Not Be Renewed.

The largest concession ever granted in the republic of Mexico, that granted Colonel W. C. Greene, will, according to the records of the mineral agent at Guerrero, expire January 13 and it is said in well informed circles that the concession will not be renewed by the Mexican government, says the El Paso Times.

Three million acres of land, much of it covered by valuable growths of timber and crossed by mineralized belts, have during the past five years, been under the control of the deceased copper magnate and with the reversion, lumbermen and prospectors will probably flock into the territory. That Colonel Greene, had he not undertaken operations of greater magnitude than his finances were adequate to handle, would have done more than any other man to develop the resources of western Chihuahua cannot be doubted. Railroads, the fundamental necessity to the development of wealth, be it agricultural, mineral or forest, he made a study of and his operations throughout the Southwest showed that he recognized in efficient transportation a primary factor in development.

His failure to comply with the terms of his concession in Chihuahua will in a large degree hold in abeyance the growth of industry in the western part of the state. The mineral zones cannot be explored until transportation is provided for the output of mines, the rich valleys will remain covered with grasses and brush awaiting the magic touch of the agriculturalist who must have a means of marketing his products and the heavily timbered hillsides will rear their pristine wealth abiding the advent of capital and energy.

Only the hardy prospector knows of the wealth locked in the mountain fastnesses of this territory. He with the puny means at his command, has scratched the surface in exploration but the real development must come with the railroad.

Just who will take hold of the immense possibilities that lie in the territory that is to revert to the government on January 12, cannot be foretold, but that New York capital will be brought into that field of investment as soon as it has been vacated has been generally predicted and the Cole-Ryan interests have been spoken of in this connection.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation is taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. It is not caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

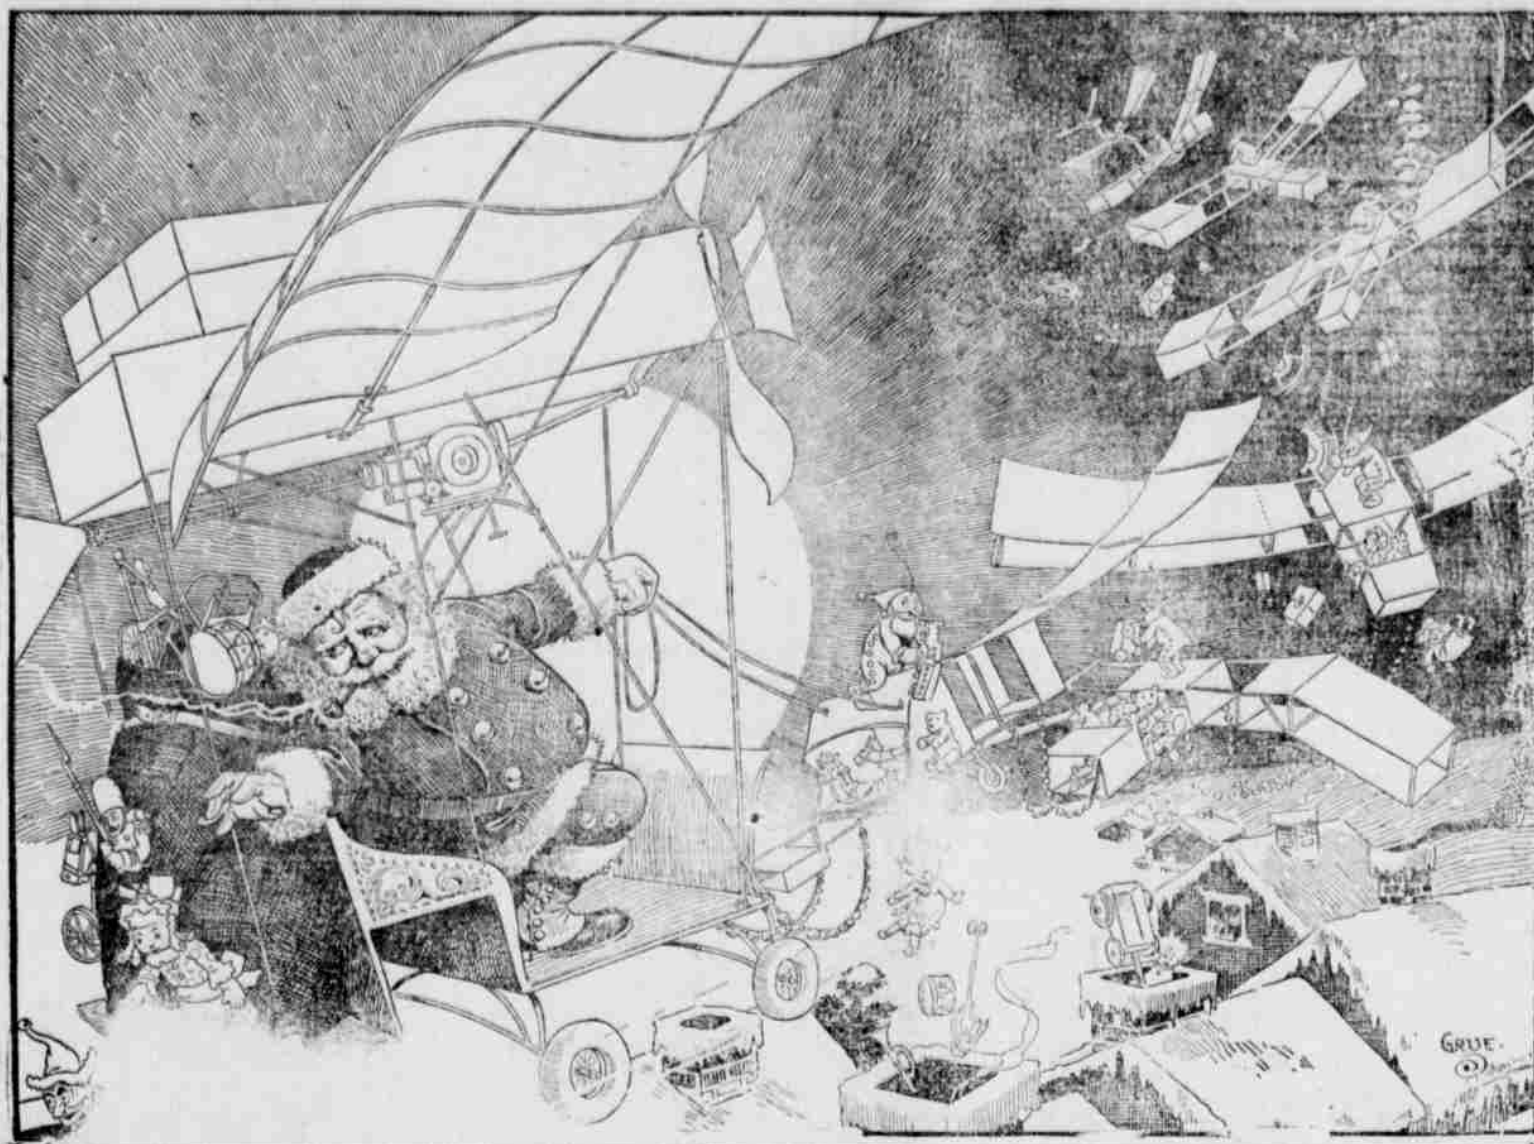

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness caused by Catarrh, that cannot be cured by Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. P. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

The rapid increase in our business is due to good work and fair treatment of our patrons. Hubbs Laundry.

MINNESOTA WAS IN NEED OF LITTLE ENGLISH LABOR PARTY GETS SET BACK

Farm Commission Found Little to Correct Among the Farmers in That State

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 23.—President Roosevelt's farm commission finds little in Minnesota that needs correction and during its all day session, attended by representative men from every section of the state, reached the conclusion that in Minnesota at least the farmer is very largely working out his own salvation and needs but little federal help. The boys, it is learned, show no marked disposition to leave the farms. Social conditions, according to testimony taken, are satisfactory, although they might be improved somewhat by better roads.

Two main needs of Minnesota were pronounced in evidence. One is a more general extension of agricultural education and the other improved highways. The sessions were held at the enormous state agricultural school, in a new building which the state erected at a cost of $250,000, but with these advantages, the farmers testified agricultural knowledge is not spreading fast enough. They asked for agricultural high schools and agricultural normal schools and practical agricultural instruction in the public schools. The consensus of opinion was that the government can assist the improvement of roads best by providing experts to act in an advisory capacity, to show how good roads may be built out of prairie dirt and materials at hand. The government's good roads train was criticized on the score that the roads it built in Minnesota were too costly to be generally applied to comparatively new districts.

The evidence taken showed a marked tendency towards the conclusion that the farmers can take care of themselves and that they will correct the present evils of farm life just as soon as they have learned how to get a maximum of value from the soil, and to maintain good bank accounts. Referring to this phase, Chairman Hayley said:

"It is my opinion that the commission will largely adopt this view in its report. The feeling manifested during the St. Paul sessions is the same we have found in forty states and territories. Our farmers are intelligent, thinking men, and are progressing fast towards better conditions of life. To a large degree their needs are educational. Many of the other needs they have indicated are such that the remedy comes more properly under the jurisdiction of the county or state, than of the federal government. Doubtless the government can be of enormous assistance in assisting the spread of exact knowledge of agriculture. It can perform a valuable function in disseminating to all a complete knowledge of what progressive agriculturists are doing in certain districts and in assisting as a clearing house for ideas along progressive lines."

A notable feature of the conference was the pronounced attitude of the Minnesota farmers on the question of the parcels post. They declared for unlimited parcels post service, expressing a willingness to accept the limited service as a stepping stone, but at the same time indicating a desire for the operation of a national parcels system ultimately.

Decision of Courts Is Hard Blow to Poor Men Who Aspire to Enter Parliament.

London, Dec. 23.—That the recent decision of the court of appeals in London that the trade union levies for the support of the labor members of parliament are illegal and must be stopped will seriously affect the whole course of British politics is widely predicted. The labor party was a growing power in the country, and it remains to be seen now, whether it will be able to survive this blow, or whether it will be forced to go out of business.

At the outset it is well to understand that the labor members are poor men. They are, in many cases, absolutely dependent on the allowance of £1,000 a year made to them by the labor party, for England does not pay her legislators, and if this allowance is cut off they cannot afford to sit in parliament. The labor party has been absolutely dependent for its funds on the trade union levies, and the question now is, "Can it raise the money in any other way?" There are two courses open to it. One is to organize volunteer associations outside the trade unions, the members of which shall contribute and the other way is to try and amend the law under which the court of appeals decision was given. The party has funds enough on hand to pay salaries until June next, and it is hoped that by that time a way will be found out of the difficulty.

The decision is a very serious blow to socialism, for at one stroke it deprives the Socialists of the control of a fund amounting to about $200,000 a year. Even if the plan for the organization of a voluntary association succeeds, they cannot expect more than half this amount, and, with a general election coming on, they will be seriously crippled.

Ramsay MacDonald, one of the leaders of the extreme Socialist section, declares that the immediate effect of the decision will be to immediately strengthen the demand for general payment of members of parliament by the state.

"There are lots of men," he said, "who will have no sympathy with us at all, who will say that this decision makes it impossible for a poor man no matter how able he may be, to enter parliament, and I shall be surprised if we do not soon see a great movement for the payment of members. On the whole, I think it will do our movement good, for it will hearten up our workers, and urge them to redoubled efforts."

GUATEMALA PAYS FOR INJURIES TO AMERICAN

Saloon Keeper Maltreated by Governor, Was Given Help of United States.

Washington, Dec. 23.—Most of the stories of Guatemala that have got into print of late have been tales of bloodshed, of torture and horrible cruelties within prison walls, or of poisoning, hanging and shooting of political prisoners. These tales are generally told by political exiles, the so-called emigrants of Guatemala who, fleeing from the wrath of President Estrada Cabrera, have forfeited all their property and rights of citizenship. Having lost their all, they have nothing more to lose by telling the truth about their country.

But not all the truth is told in these tales. Guatemala has its moments of gayety, and these moments are so far prolonged sometimes, that much of the public debt of the republic must be credited to the score of holiday fiestas.

At a time when the public exchequer is too poor to pay the interest on the national debt, to poor to pay the salaries of the public school teachers, too poor to mend the dilapidated highways or broken-down bridges, there is always money to be found for public fiestas and entertainments.

Take last year's record alone. There was the opening of the Guatemala railroad in January, establishing rail connections between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. For this purpose special delegations were invited from the United States and from other countries, all of course, at the expense of Guatemala. After their arrival fiestas followed, banquets, military reviews, balls, fireworks, picnics, and excursions, all of which champagne flowed like water. Finally, after two weeks of such fiestas, the foreign guests left the country so laden with expensive gifts that some of the party had to provide themselves with extra boxes and trunks to carry their presents.

After that came the prolonged fiesta of the Central American Medical Congress. Nothing whatever was accomplished for medicine or science, not a single original contribution was received, but no end of money was spent again for banquets, picnics, excursions, military reviews, balls, concerts and gala performances, with the usual torrents of champagne. To enliven the sessions of the medical and Italian opera company was persuaded to come to Guatemala to give a series of performances for which the government paid a subsidy of $40,000 in gold.

The medical visitors had scarcely left the country when the time arrived for the regular mid-summer fiesta of one week, with a public fair, horse races each day and an elaborate flower festival and banquet at the end of each week.

One month after this, in the middle of September, came the four fiestas days in celebration of Guatemala's Declaration of Independence, when the whole country is given up to public concerts, banquets, torch-light processions, fireworks and general drunkenness.

It is during this fiesta, at night time, that the fireworks of the public squares are enlivened by the so-called toros or bulls, that is men bearing rude frame-works resembling bulls with horns which shoot fire crackers and rockets into the dense crowd of onlookers.

One month after these celebrations, which always cost the government hundreds of thousands of dollars, come the "Minervales." They are Estrada Cabrera's pet fiestas in honor of Minerva, the goddess of wisdom. Then thousands of children of the school age are brought to the capital at the public expense and there are made to march in public parades and appear in flower drills while the proud fathers get drunk, and the government officials at public banquets pledge president Cabrera as the benefactor of the country in brimming cups of champagne.

Then about Christmas time come the bull fights, when audiences of eight and ten thousand attend, and so it goes on, year in and year out in Guatemala, until the expense for these alone runs into many millions. Hence the government, to meet its interest and to pay 14 per cent advance interest as well as 3 per cent commission in order to obtain a loan of 80 per cent, the bulk of which is furnished in the deteriorated paper currency of Guatemala. According to this one Guatemalan dollar is worth not quite six cents in our money.

It has already been mentioned that the anniversary of Guatemala's Declaration of Independence is celebrated with universal drunkenness throughout the land. So is the day following it, which happens to be the independence day of Mexico, as is the day after that, because it is Independence day of Chile, and so on throughout the week.

This is the authentic story of how the commandante of Zacaapa, one General Aris, having duly celebrated his own national fiesta the day before, spent at the house of one Senor Spinola, a Mexican, employed as a station agent of the American railroad running through Zacaapa. The day was celebrated with champagne "breakfast" which lasted until ten o'clock at night. Then the whole party left the house, mounted their horses and escorted the general to his commandancia.

As they rode over the dark road between the railroad station and the town they passed a small American hotel, the bar-room of which still stood open. Some of the party reined up their horses and proposed to have another drink. "No," said the commandante, "there is plenty of drink at my house, but just the same let us dismount and have some fun with this Yankee pig."

What followed is best told in the language of those who were on the spot, whose reports formed the subject of some of the correspondence, all of which is to be found among the Guatemalan records of our state department in Washington.

"General Aris," so Senor Spinola testified afterward, "had been spending the evening at my house together with some of his officers and friends. It was the national holiday of my country—Mexico. At ten in the evening we all left my house to ride to the commandancia. As we were passing by Mr. Spinola's hotel, the commandante stopped and said let us have some fun with this American swine." The commandante dismounted and went in to the bar. Mr. Spinola was there with a friend and a Chinese servant behind the bar. General Aris asked how his place came to be opened so late. Mr. Spinola said he had a night license and turned to take it from the wall where it hung in plain view. Thereupon General Aris struck him in the face. The commandante's nephew followed this up with a blow on Spinola's face from the butt of his pistol. Then all the officers set upon Spinola and the other Americans about the place and dragged them to jail. During the melee one of the commandante's men stole the American hotel keeper's gold watch from his pocket."

Here is the testimony of another eye witness of this affair. He was George Milliken, an American, employed at the railway hospital in Zacaapa. "I was standing opposite Spinola's hotel, together with Monroe Williams, about half past ten o'clock on the night of September 16th when a party of officers rode up, pretty drunk. Williams said: 'It's the commandante. We had better get out of this and wait that he moved off.' The commandante went into Spinola's place and the next minute there was an awful blow and I could hear the sound of blows and Spinola crying 'Si Senor, Si Senor.' A Chinaman came flying out through the door with blood running down his face. I started to run but a soldier ran up and struck me in the small of my back with his rifle. I fell flat on my face. As I lay there the other Guatemalan officers and soldiers set upon me and beat me about the head and body with their guns and pistols, till I lost my senses.

"When I woke up I was lying on the cobble stones in the courtyard of the jail with my hair wet with cold blood and feeling sore all over. Nobody paid any attention to my calls for a doctor, nor would they even give me a drink of water. I was kept there for two days. At last Mr. Spinola came and I was let out, because as a fine."

"Afterward I went to Puerto Barrios to be treated by Dr. Wallis, the American marine surgeon there. I wanted to go to Livingston, across the bay, to see the American consul there. Mr. Reed, but the Guatemalan commandante at Puerto Barrios would not let me go."

Evidently, Mr. Reed, at his vice consulate across the bay in Livingston, near British Honduras, must have heard of the trouble these Americans were in, for he appears to have telegraphed a small steamer and came straight to Puerto Barrios. There in the American marine hospital he found these victims of a Guatemalan holiday laid up in bed from the brutal treatment they had received.

Milliken was the worst hurt, suffering from a scalp wound penetrating to the skull, and from concussion of the brain besides other hurts, while Spinola had bruises and contusions all over his body. Spinola told the American vice consul that he did not know what had brought this brutal attack upon him. He said he owned a small hotel in Zacaapa with a barber shop and bar room. For this last he paid a license fee of $2.50 per month with an additional license fee of $1.00 for the privilege of keeping open from 9 until 11 p. m. The commandante, he said, on that evening entered his place at 10:30 and savagely attacked him without any provocation on his part before he even had time to show him his license. After that he was dragged to jail and spent thirty-six hours there.

Matters went from bad to worse for Spinola, and still nothing happened. Finally he grew desperate and wrote a personal letter to President Roosevelt.

When this letter reached Mr. Roosevelt something happened. Telegraphic inquiries and replies flashed back and forth between the state department and the American legation at Guatemala. Mr. Reed, American charge d'affaires at that time, called upon Mr. Reed, the American consul general in Guatemala to probe this matter to the bottom. All Americans involved were summoned to Guatemala City and their depositions were taken. The charge d'affaires went to the minister of foreign affairs, Don Juan Barrios, now in Washington, and the consul general was summoned before the Guatemalan president.

The upshot of it all was that General Aris was deposed from his governorship and was recalled to Guatemala City, where he came to his death soon afterward in a tavern brawl at the hands of bravos believed to be in the pay of Estrada Cabrera.

The Guatemalan government agreed to pay $5,000 each to Messrs. Spinola and Milliken, the American citizens who had been maltreated.

Thus ended this characteristic little piece of Guatemalan diversion. The driest thing about it is that all the residents of Zacaapa, natives and foreigners, are now mourning over the loss of Governor Aris. He was a hard, as they admit, but with all his faults he was a thousand times to be preferred to the governor who came after him and is there now.
