LOPEZ'S DEATH BY POISONOUS GASES NOW BELIEVED CERTAIN

That No Sound Has Come From Closely Guarded Mine for Twenty-Four Hours Gives Officers Confidence.

FIVE MEN NEARLY LOSE THEIR LIVES IN TUNNEL

Two Hundred Workmen Are Idle as Result of Smudging on Lower Levels to Dispose of Murderous Desperado.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Bingham, Utah, Dec. 2.—Not a sound since last night has come from the Utah-Apex mine, in which Rafael Lopez, desperado, is confined. Today all the exits except that in the lowest level were sealed with double bulkheads, and tonight it was believed that the gas-filled mine had become the fugitive's tomb.

The tense watchfulness of seven sheriffs and over 200 deputies for a break for liberty was relaxed, although the number of guards was not lessened. It was considered impossible for Lopez to approach any of the exits without being overcome.

By one, the polyglot crowd of miners, which has stood awaiting vengeance since two of their number were killed in the underground battle Saturday, dispersed tonight. They felt satisfied that the poisonous fumes pouring from the mine since yesterday had done their work.

That the jaunty Mexican gunman, who killed a fellow countryman and five peace officers because a woman favored another, may be still alive, remains a bare possibility. The one who is known and feared by miners has been up in some distant spot against the invasion of the poisonous gases.

Before erecting the outer bulkhead in the Andy tunnel, late today, six men went to the inner bulkhead, 300 feet from the mouth, to examine it.
Shortly afterward, one of their number staggered and fell to the earth, overcome from the gas that had leaked through the partition.
Deputies rushed inside and carried out the other five, all of whom had dropped within the tunnel. The men were known and feared by miners as "black damps." Sulphur, coal tar, formaldehyde and black oil were the chief ingredients used in addition.
The fuel of the smudges was composed of coal, green wood, hay and cotton waste.

Two hundred men are out of work in the lower level as a result of the smudging operations. The leaders are said to be suffering a net loss of over $1,000 a day. They announced, however, they would gladly remain idle a month in order to bring about the death of Lopez.

The smudging will continue for twelve or twenty-four hours more.
Not before Friday night, it is thought, will the deputies be able to enter the mine.

Thousands today attended the funeral of Deputy Tom Mandrich, who was shot by Lopez Saturday. The feeling among the Mexican miners was intense and speakers at the grave reminded that the Hungarians be law-abiding.

DEMOCRATS BEGIN TO PRESS CURRENCY BILL

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Washington, Dec. 2.—Without formal action the democrats of the senate today put into operation the drastic program they have adopted for consideration of the administration currency bill.

The republicans after two hours of debate, prevented a vote on a motion calling at once for continuous sessions of the senate daily from 10 o'clock to 11 o'clock in the morning until 11 o'clock at night, with a two-hour intermission, but the majority pressed the bill forward at every opportunity and kept the senate in session tonight.

When Senator Kern presented a resolution which would have bound the senate to the proposition to sit thirteen hours a day, the republicans made a vigorous protest, declaring that such action was unnecessary and would prevent intelligent discussion of the bill. Senator Norris tried to bring about an agreement for shorter sessions with an agreement to sit on the bill by December 20, but this was defeated. The Kern resolution went over until tomorrow. The action of the republicans followed a minority conference which decided to offer formal protest against the democratic program, but agreed to make no concerted effort to prevent speedy consideration of the currency bill.

Anti-Trust Legislation in Order.
Washington, Dec. 2.—Preliminary discussion of anti-trust legislation will begin in the senate interstate commerce committee Friday. Chairman Newlands has called the meeting with the idea that methods of proceeding toward the preparation of bills may be outlined. It is believed no formal steps toward the completion of legislation will be taken until after President Wilson's trust message has been received early in the new year.

FRENCH CABINET IS FORCED TO RESIGN

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Paris, Dec. 2.—The government of Premier Barthou was defeated by a vote of 296 to 265 in the chamber of deputies this evening on the question whether the loan of $250,000,000 should be subject to taxation or immune, like the existing rentes.

As soon as the vote placing the government in the minority by twenty-five votes was read, the ministers left the chamber in a body and proceeded to Elysee Palace, where they handed their resignations to President Poincare.

The ministry, headed by J. Louis Barthou after long and vigorous defense, fell before the combined attacks of the recently reorganized radical party, under ex-Premier Caillaux, and the socialists led by M. Jaures.
The government, by a narrow margin, yesterday was victorious in a trial of strength against the opposition, the new loan being approved by a vote of 291 to 270.

The debate today was on the question of extending to the new loan the same immunity from taxation as enjoyed by the old rentes, and the government again made it a question of a vote of confidence. The opposition urged that to exempt the new rentes from taxation was to encourage exclusively in these to evade unfairly the projected income tax.

CHILDREN TO BE CARED FOR BY SOCIALISTS

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Chicago, Dec. 2.—A permanent fund for the care and protection of children in strike districts is to be maintained after the first of the year, it was announced at socialist headquarters here today. The fund will be gathered from all sources and will be non-political, non-union and non-secular, it was said.

Meetings in furtherance of the project will be held in all over the city commencing December 25. Mrs. W. E.
Frankfurter, member of the socialist national committee and director of the women's department, is in charge of the preliminary plans.

"It is not for the purpose of making this a socialist fund," she said, "or to use it in any manner to promote or aid strikes. It is solely for the prevention of suffering among children in districts where strikes take place. Its use will be impartial and directed solely to the care of children."

FRIGHTFUL LOSS OF LIFE OCCURS IN HOTEL FIRE

Score Known to Be Dead and a Large Number Are Missing in Boston Lodging House Blaze.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Boston, Dec. 2.—Fire early today destroyed the Arcadia hotel, a south end lodging house and caused a score of deaths, while a large number of men are missing. One hundred and fifty to 175 men were reported to be asleep in the hotel, and it was believed that many deaths resulted from the fire caused by semi-suffocation. Rumors of the proposed attack on the city, exaggerated by reports that the rebels
had been supplied with ammunition
from the fire ship and that the city was to be bombarded, increased the anxiety.

A citizens' committee finally was appointed to call upon General Mercado
and ask him to surrender to the republican forces. General Mercado, however, refused to do so. After a delay and in the absence of any communication with Mexico City,
General Mercado decided to flee.
Those who wished to go were given notice to gather their possessions. Over 100 men were reported to be asleep
in the hotel, and it was believed that many deaths resulted from the fire caused by semi-suffocation. Rumors of the proposed attack on the city, exaggerated by reports that the rebels
had been supplied with ammunition
from the fire ship and that the city was to be bombarded, increased the
anxiety.

Early Sunday, after the surrounding country was cleared of the rebels, General Mercado first turned toward the port of state to Senor Villa, who was directed to notify Villa that the federal troops formally surrendered. Governor Mayo issued a revolutionary proclamation declaring the capital rebel territory.

The route to Ojinaga, which the refugees were reported to have taken is about 135 miles long. General Villa said he had sent a detachment in pursuit of the federal troops and also attached the Terrazas property, but it was not believed the rebels would be able to overtake the caravan. Villa's men had been ordered not to fire on the non-combatants.

DYNAMITE OUTRAGES IN STRIKE DISTRICT

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Calumet, Mich., Dec. 2.—A charge of dynamite placed under the train for the Mineral Range railroad near Mokaw, in the copper strike district, exploded today shortly before a passenger train was due. A section of track was torn out.

The Quincy Mining company offered a large reward for each conviction in connection with the dynamite blowing of the home of a miner. The house was badly damaged although none of the family was injured.

The bomb was filled with bolts and pieces of iron which were blown through the walls of the rooms in which the members of the family were sleeping.

While fifteen deputies and mine guards were escorting men to work at the Champion mine at Balmville tonight they were fired upon by a party of about forty men. The fire was returned and many shots were exchanged. The deputies were unharmed and the members of the attacking party fled, some of them inflicting themselves in a nearby house.

Sheriff Cruz ordered a force of deputies to Painesville with orders to break into the house, disarm and arrest the men.

GRAND MOVEMENT TOWARD MEXICO CITY

Carranza's Forces Are Converging for Attack on National Capital Now in Hands of General Huerta.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Juarez, Mexico, Dec. 2.—Fleeing over the desert and pursued by rebels, thousands of refugees, including some of the richest families in northern Mexico who deserted Chihuahua City in fear of a rebel attack, tonight were reported to be nearing the United States border.

Among the refugees is Luis Terrazas, head of the wealthy Terrazas estate, who is said to have with him $3, 000,000 pesos which he withdrew from the Chihuahua banks. Other wealthy families, including some of the Crees, are known to have fled. The caravans, composed also of women and children, were described as being more than a mile long. At the head, with an escort of federal troops, is General Salvador Mercado, Huerta's deposed military governor of Chihuahua state.

Details of the evacuation of the city and the remarkable exodus of the people were brought to Juarez in official dispatches from General Mayo, who was reported to be heading the refugees. Mayo's dispatch was addressed to General Francisco Villa and it called upon the rebel leader to take possession of the city.

The fact about the downfall of the Huerta navy in the city, as transmitted by Governor Mayo, was:
For almost three weeks Chihuahua, with its 35,000 citizens, had been cut off from communication; the food supply in the hotel and city had been exhausted; many deaths resulted from starvation. Rumors of the proposed attack on the city, exaggerated by reports that the rebels had been supplied with ammunition from the fire ship and that the city was to be bombarded, increased the anxiety.

A citizens' committee finally was appointed to call upon General Mercado
and ask him to surrender to the republican forces. General Mercado, however, refused to do so. After a delay and in the absence of any communication with Mexico City,
General Mercado decided to flee.
Those who wished to go were given notice to gather their possessions. Over 100 men were reported to be asleep
in the hotel, and it was believed that
many deaths resulted from the fire caused by semi-suffocation. Rumors of the proposed attack on the city, exaggerated by reports that the rebels
had been supplied with ammunition
from the fire ship and that the city was to be bombarded, increased the anxiety.

Early Sunday, after the surrounding country was cleared of the rebels, General Mercado first turned
toward the port of state to Senor Villa, who was directed to notify Villa that the federal troops formally surrendered. Governor Mayo
issued a revolutionary proclamation
declaring the capital rebel territory.

The route to Ojinaga, which the refugees were reported to have taken is about 135 miles long. General Villa
said he had sent a detachment in pursuit of the federal troops and also attached the Terrazas property, but it was not believed the rebels would be able to overtake the caravan. Villa's men had been ordered not to fire on the non-combatants.

General Pascual Orozco, who fought with Madero in 1911, but later turned against him and supported Huerta, took 1,000 federalists into the mountains west of Chihuahua. With him is General Jose Ynez Salazar. It is understood by Villa that these federalists will attempt later to engage the rebels.

General Villa, who now assumes military command of all the north and whose authority is second only to that of General Carranza, recognized as the revolutionary provisional president, entered the revolution five months ago with only a borrowed revolver. He is a former bandit and for twenty years under Diaz was sought as an outlaw.

Related by the capture of Chihuahua without bloodshed, Villa prepared for the dispatch of more troops south. He said 10,000 troops were to be concentrated at Chihuahua as the main force by which the rebels hope completely to crush the Huerta regime. The troop movement is to be expedited as the reconstruction of the railroads permits.

Four thousand men under General Alvarado have been ordered from So-nor, almost an equal number already approaching Chihuahua and Villa is ready to proceed southward from Juarez. At Chihuahua the provisional capital will be established from which Carranza and Villa will direct further action with Chihuahua and Torreon as strongholds, the campaign by Villa will be directed against Zacatecas, the rich mining center in the heart of the republic. Villa said he would have troop trains operating to Torreon, 525 miles south of the border, within two weeks.

VILLA IS NOTIFIED BY FEDERAL COMMANDER

Rebel Leader at Juarez Is Asked to Protect Chihuahua City and Promise Clemency for People Remaining There

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Juarez, Mexico, Dec. 2.—Seven generals of the Mexican regular army are ready to surrender and the backbone of the Huerta dictatorship in the north has been broken. A peace commission arrived in Juarez tonight bearing terms of surrender.

The peace commission was headed by General Hernandez and came from Chihuahua bearing a proclamation signed by General Salvador Mercado, Huerta's military governor and commander of the federal force in all the north. The proclamation stated that the Huerta government was bankrupt and was unable to pay its soldiers.

The simultaneous evacuation of other federal strongholds in the north is believed by the rebels to be the result of a concerted decision to abandon the whole of northern Mexico.

The peace proposals were sent by General Mercado to Gen. Francisco Villa, rebel leader, through Federico Mayo, civil governor of Chihuahua, appointed ad interim. Along with it came an appeal signed by all the foreign consuls in Chihuahua calling upon Villa to give police protection to the citizens of Chihuahua City.

General Mercado's proclamation said:
"Under the circumstances which have existed in Chihuahua, it has been deemed necessary for the federal troops to evacuate. I leave it in charge of Federico Mayo, a person who is not identified with politics and who is therefore qualified to give full protection to foreigners. It is impossible to remain here longer as there is no money with which to pay the troops."

The generals who have signified themselves to surrender, but who, nevertheless, are fleeing to the United States border are: Gen. Salvador Mercado, Gen. Pascual Orozco, Gen. Jose Ynez Salazar, Gen. Marcelino Caraveo, Gen. Jose Manzanilla, Gen. Blas Ornela and Gen. Manuel Landu.

The peace commission which was selected by Governor Mayo, at General Mercado's suggestion, proposed to General Villa that all non-combatants who sought safety by fleeing to the border be permitted to go without being fired upon and that all federalists, including 200 soldiers left on police duty in Chihuahua City, be pardoned.
It also asked clemency for federal soldiers, but is thought that the federal generals will seek safety by crossing the border into the United States, possibly near Ojinaga.

The peace commission stated that before leaving Chihuahua the federals destroyed all the postage and government revenue stamps and that there existed practically no money in the city and that 3,000 citizens had left with the troops, most of them being those who were rich and feared harsh treatment by the rebels.

RIVERS AND HARBORS CONGRESS TO MEET

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Washington, Dec. 2.—Delegates from many states, particularly those of the middle west and south, were pouring into Washington by special trains tonight for the tenth annual convention of the national rivers and harbors congress, which begins a two-day session tomorrow.

President Wilson will not address the opening session as had been planned but has designated Secretary Bryan to speak for him. On account of the cholera epidemic which is ravaging the president cancelled several local speaking engagements, the rivers and harbors congress among them.

The first day's program, besides the welcoming address by Secretary Bryan includes addresses by Sen. D. D.
Gamm, the ambassador from Brazil;
John D. Hazen, minister of marine and fisheries of Canada; Representative Burgess of Topeka; Mrs. Sarah Willard Trott of Portland, Me.; Mrs.
Agnes Green Foster of Chicago; the annual report and address of Senator Randall of Louisiana, who is president of the congress and a reception in honor of Vice President and Mrs.
Marshall and Speaker and Mrs. Clark.

HUERTA'S ELIMINATION IN MEXICO NECESSARY

Plan Proposed for Abolition of National Political Conventions Favorably Received by Body of Lawmakers.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Washington, Dec. 2.—President Wilson laid before congress today the legislative abolition of the democratic administration.

For exactly twenty-eight minutes the president stood before the assembled senate and house, in the chamber of the latter, and read his first annual message. Applause marked important utterances, and when he had finished there was an enthusiastic demonstration, with handclapping and cheers. Briefly, the president outlined a program for social justice and the general welfare of the nation and proclaimed the integrity of the United States for international amity and the maintenance of constitutional government in all America.

With close, almost eager, attention, members of the two houses listened, and time and again, legislators themselves gave vent to their enthusiasm along with the crowded galleries.

Less than 3,000 words long, the message was one of the briefest and most novel of American state papers marked contrast as presented by the author today to the hithertore lengthy documents averaging 20,000 words or more, droned through by a reading clerk to an inattentive congress.

There was another contrast unexpectedly apparent. President Wilson had read three messages, fully and to the point. In the main, he liked the message today. I think everybody will recognize it as the utterance of a statesman, regardless of whether he agreed with its details.

Of the president's significance was one demonstration of applause regarded in the national capital tonight—the unmistakable approval that greeted the president's remarks.

"There can be no certain prospect of peace in America until General Huerta has surrendered his usurped authority in Mexico."

Among those who would discuss the message in congress, there was a general endorsement of the administration policy toward Mexico.
The scene of today's function was much the same as on the three previous occasions when President Wilson has addressed congress—galleries crowded with men and women of importance in public affairs, members of the cabinet, the diplomatic corps and the White House family.

Democratic leaders were enthusiastic in their comments on the message and its recommendations. They liked the emphasis placed by the president on the need of speedy action on the currency, for dealing with monopoly through anti-trust legislation, the importance of rural credit legislation to benefit the farmer of the nation; the recommendations of the government construction of railroads in Alaska; the development of the nation's resources by a conservation policy alike acceptable to the states and the federal authorities; the enactment of employers' liability legislation and the selection of presidential candidates by the primary system.

The suggestion of the president that party conventions as at present constituted, be abolished, won striking applause. As Mr. Wilson declared:
"The primary convention should be held only to ratify the verdict of preference primaries; that the personnel of the conventions should be, for the most part, chosen from those members of congress and congressional leaders who upon whom would devolve the duty of carrying out platform pledges, there was a wave of handclapping in which Secretary Bryan and members of the cabinet joined."

"It was a fine, statesmanlike speech," said Speaker Clark afterwards, "covering points I have been agitating for years, particularly presidential primaries."

"I think," said Representative Underwood, "the president's message was the address of a broad statesman, covering the scope of the necessary legislative action for the session of congress. It was in accord with the principles and policies of our party as declared in Baltimore, and I have no doubt it will meet with favorable action by the house of representatives."

For nearly all of the legislation outlined in the message, the ground work has been laid, and the president plans to speak further to congress with relation to anti-trust reforms. Alaskan railroad legislation is now before both houses. A workman's compensation act has been favorably considered in each house and bills on the other im-

REMARKABLY MILD WEATHER IN NORTHWEST

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Minneapolis, Dec. 2.—Reports today from different parts of Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota, indicate the three northwestern states are experiencing the mildest winter weather in many years. Farmers for spring crops is apparently the chief occupation for farmers in all districts at present.

At Grand Forks, N. D., dispatches said, lines are in bud and near the bursting point, trees budding and pan-icles in blossom. More than 15,000 acres have been plowed in the vicinity of that city within the past two weeks, the latest plowing season the district has ever experienced.

HINDU IMMIGRANTS CASE BEFORE COURT

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
San Francisco, Dec. 2.—Twenty-two Hindus seeking admission to this country from the Philippine islands will know their standing before the law of the land when Judge Dooling of the United States district court here hands down his decision on the final arguments submitted today. Judge Dooling reserved decision.

The case is one in which the labor union of California have shown much interest.

INDIANAPOLIS MAY BE TIED UP BY GREAT STRIKE

One Man Killed and Another Fatally Wounded; Three Others Shot By Special Police When Attack Is Made.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Indianapolis, Dec. 2.—An effort to call a general strike in sympathy with the teamsters' and chauffeurs' strike, was started at a meeting of the teamsters' union, late today. No definite action was taken, it being decided to wait until the union officers had conferred with the leaders of the central labor union. The question will come up again at tomorrow's meeting.

The first fatality of the strike which was started Sunday midnight, occurred today, when a crowd interfered with an ice wagon, in charge of its men on whose behalf police officers have been ordered. When the crowd began throwing bricks and tried to prevent the wagon moving, the special officers shot, killing Claude Lewis, a negro, and wounding four others, one fatally. The special officers were taken to police headquarters, but were released on their own recognitance.

Another crowd was fired on today by William Whorton, a negro, when he was attacked on a wagon, owned and driven by himself. Jack Long, a teamster, was wounded in the right leg. Whorton was arrested. There were several other minor disorders, but no one was seriously injured.

The police and army officers are on duty and a curfew has been issued. Mayor Walker, as soon as he heard of the plan, issued a proclamation ordering the police to stop any attempted demonstrations.
The police kept the crowd constantly on the move and did not give the crowd a chance to form.

According to employers of teamsters, more wagons were operating today than yesterday, and there was little interference. Thomas J. Farrell, general organizer of the union, contends, however, the union ranks are holding firm and more than 3,000 men still are out.

While food supplies are still plentiful, as retail merchants anticipated the strike and stocked up their stores liberally, the accumulated garbage is becoming a serious question. No garbage has been collected in the city since Saturday. Business men with horses were sworn in as the citizens' cavalry today. They volunteered to assist the mounted police. That far the regular police have been able to handle the situation without calling on the business men's reserves, numbering more than 700, who were sworn in Sunday night and Monday.

Thomas J. Farrell, late today, addressed a mass meeting of the striking teamsters. He declared he would ask that a general strike be called to protest against the shooting of the five men today and the treatment of the strikers by the police.

"If organized labor will get together and all stand together, we will put the city in darkness as a protest to this slaughter on the streets," Mr.
Farrell said. "The governor and mayor will be appealed to for faithful protection. But if those executives do not insure us justice, then I am sure it is up to the laborer to get that justice himself."

NEUTRALIZATION ONLY FRAIL ROPE OF SAND

United States Should Maintain Control Until Natives Are Educated in Knowledge of Self Government.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Boston, Dec. 2.—"Shall we make a second Mexico of the Philippine islands?"

With this question, W. Cameron Forbes, former governor general of the Philippine islands, closed an address before the city club tonight, in which he had defended the policy of the United States toward its dependency in the east and warned against premature withdrawal of control.

"President Wilson has started upon a new policy, in the islands," said Mr. Forbes. "He has given the Filipinos a majority of the commission, and appointed them to a few other places which were previously held by Americans. I believe the motive underlying these changes is a praiseworthy desire to let the Filipinos prove their merit and show what they could do, and I do not feel the experiment should be unduly criticized, but we should take the position of 'hands off' and wait with suspended judgment, to let the police have a chance to work itself out and show what the result will be."

"Looking at the situation broadly, there is one fundamental thing to which the United States has pledged itself, namely, to establish and maintain a stable government in the Phil-

MOTHER! NO USE TAKING CHANCES

If Child Is Cross, Feverish, Costive, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

If your little one's tongue is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, congested waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children need to be coated to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given to-day saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups. Beware of cheap imitations. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled!

REFORM PEOPLE IN FAVOR OF BIBLE IN SCHOOLS

Movement by Convention to Raise $25,000 to Place Scriptures in Every Place of Public Education in Nation.

Dismissing the alleged action of the board of education, limiting the reading of the Bible in the schools to the Book of Proverbs, the convention adopted resolutions calling the board's attention to the matter. At the same time, the National Reform association launched a campaign to raise $25,000 to be used in placing the Bible in every school in the United States.

It was decided to hold the next year's Christian citizenship conference in 1914, but the date and place of meeting were left to a committee of three, with instructions to report later.

Ng Poo Chew, former Chinese consul on the Pacific coast, addressed the convention of the Bible in the schools to the Book of Proverbs, the convention adopted resolutions calling the board's attention to the matter. At the same time, the National Reform association launched a campaign to raise $25,000 to be used in placing the Bible in every school in the United States.

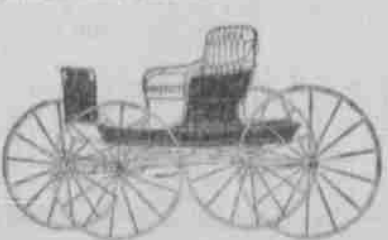

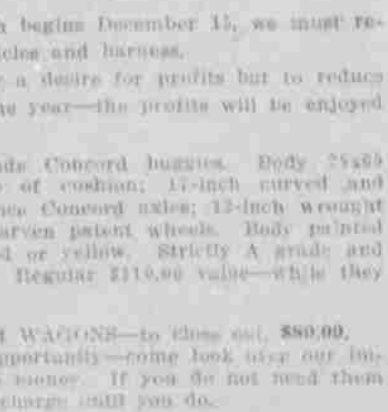

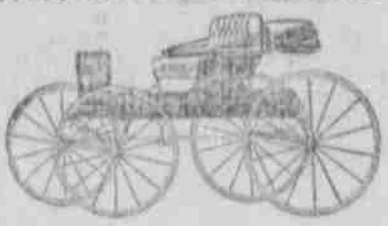

"The American government's treatment of China is that of ideal statesmanship," he declared, "but the American treatment of the Chinese immigrant is dominated by sheer bigotry. The question of immigration will not be solved until it is solved through the principle of the golden rule. When the people in this country live up to the Christian law, the question will be solved."

HIRED FRENCH COOKS AND IS INDICTED

New York, Dec. 2.—Jean Milton, chef at the Ritz-Carlton hotel, was indicted by the United States grand jury for violating the contract labor law in hiring eighty cooks through agents in France. The indictment is said to be the first of a government campaign against the importation of cooks, practiced by many of the big New York hotels and restaurants.

The hotel men have taken the ground that a French cook is an art and that by hiring them abroad, they are no more amenable to the contract labor law than the managers of grand opera when they engage their European singers.

WASHINGTON SEES OFFICIAL OF UNION SUFFRAGISTS SAY EARLY END TO HUERTARULE FURNISHED ARMS TO STRIKERS PRESIDENT HAS FLUNKED

President's References to the Mexican Situation Are Forwarded By Secretary Bryan to All Foreign Embassies.

Washington, Dec. 2.—The most important development in the Mexican situation here today was President Wilson's outline in his address to Congress of the status of affairs in the southern republic. His declaration that "Mexico at present has no government," that attempts to maintain one by General Huerta at the City of Mexico had "broken down and a mere military despotism set up, his declaration that Huerta's usurpation of power, and the prediction that the Huerta regime would soon crumble, were received with close attention and enthusiastic applause by members of Congress of all political parties.

Secretary Bryan sent to the American legations and embassies abroad copies of that part of the message relating to the Mexican policy of the administration in pursuance of the plan adopted months ago of keeping the great European governments advised in that respect.

The state department today continued its attitude of watchful attention to the development of the plans of campaign of the Mexican insurgent leaders. It was pointed out in official circles that at the present moment the constitutional party seems to be in actual possession of the country and to have more numerous armies in the field than had Madero when they received notice of the overthrow of Porfirio Diaz at president of Mexico. Consequently there is a general belief here that a crisis has almost been reached.

PEACEFUL EVACUATION OF GUAYMAS BY FEDERALS

Hermosillo, Sonora, Dec. 2.—The peaceful evacuation of Guaymas, undertaken today by the federals, was well under way according to reports received here. The constitutionalists made no effort to check the embarkation of federal troops on gunboats, which will take them to Mazatlan or Manzanillo. Rebel officers before Guaymas reported the federal artillery dismantled for shipping.

Antonio V. Caballero, a rich Colima resident, accused of complicity in a plot to cause an uprising in territory held by the constitutionalists, will be executed by a firing squad at daybreak tomorrow. The man convicted to day by a court martial of treason, under the same law by which Emperor Maximilian was executed during the French invasion.

OIL COMPANIES DEAL BLOW TO HUERTA

Mexico City, Dec. 2.—Preferring to incur the displeasure of the Huerta government to a practical manifestation of the rebel wrath, the production of oil companies of the republic today cancelled their contracts for supplying the National Railways with fuel oil. This is regarded as one of the most serious blows dealt the government, because it is likely to bring about early suspension of all railway traffic, which would interfere greatly with military operations and would strike vitally at the commerce of the country. Most of the oil used by the railways is produced in the region of Tampico and southward. This territory is overrun with rebels, directed for the most part by Gen. Cosío Aguilar.

In spite of General Aguilar's assurances to Rear Admiral Fletcher that the oil properties would not be molested, representatives of the companies have been given to understand further sale of oil to the government railroads would be regarded as too great a manifestation of friendship to the enemy of the constitutionalists.

The action of the oil companies in according to what practically amounted to a demand is likely to result in all displeasing to the Mexican railway, which is the property of a British corporation, as the cutting of the line from Tampico to San Luis Potosí has diverted nearly all shipments to Mexico City over the line from Vera Cruz and recently the management of the Mexican railway was warned the line would be cut off if it persisted in moving oil.

Practically all of the locomotives have been using oil for some years and the supply of coal will be cut off to such an extent that it will be difficult to run the line. If the Mexican railway is also barred from the use of oil, and it is assumed it will be, even ordinary passenger traffic between the capital and the coast may become irregular.

Rear Admiral Christopher Crago, commanding the British cruisers in Mexican waters, called on President Huerta this afternoon. He was accompanied by the British minister, Sir Lionel Gordon, and on his return to the legation expressed himself as highly pleased at the reception. The British admiral also called on the American charges d'affaires, Nelson C. Buchanan. He expects to leave the Mexican capital tomorrow morning for Vera Cruz.

EGG BOYCOTT HAS BECOME NATIONAL

Washington, Dec. 2.—Efforts to prevent the egg boycott to Congress are being made by leaders in the movement here. Mrs. Ellis Logan, president of the Federation of Women's clubs, who began the movement here, has asked the housewives of New York, Chicago, Kansas City, St. Paul, Detroit and other cities where a boycott has been launched, to forward their boycott pledges to Washington, that they may be presented to committees of Congress as an indication of the attitude of the housewives of the country.

Postal Banks Show Big Deposits. Washington, Dec. 2.—Postmaster General Burleson reported to Congress today that during the year ended June 30, postal savings deposits increased from $20,225,684 to $32,818,875, and the number of depositors from 248,801 to 331,096. The average deposit increased to $102.

Robert Uhlrich Confesses to Military Court Part Taken by Him in Promotion of Disorders in Coal Fields.

Trinidad, Colo., Dec. 2.—Robert Uhlrich, president of the local union of United Mine Workers of America, tonight confessed before a military commission to having supplied strikers at Ludlow last colony with arms and ammunition on October 27, 1913, the day preceding the battle of Ludlow, in which one man was killed. Announcement of this confession was made by members of the military commission late tonight, after a lengthy typewritten statement was said to have been obtained from him. Uhlrich, who has been very prominent in the conduct of the strike and in the conflicts of the union, just prior to the issuance of the strike call, told the commission that he was of German birth and an unassimilated citizen of the United States, and that he would not become naturalized because he did not approve of many things for which the American government stands.

The commission ordered Uhlrich detained indefinitely as a military prisoner. What future action may be taken in his case was not intimated by members of the commission tonight, nor would the commission tolerate any other union officials in violent activities of the strikers. Uhlrich stated that he purchased the munitions of war and gave them to the men at Ludlow for defensive purposes only, and that on the following day they used them for offensive purposes.

Uhlrich is one of those union officials who were indicted by the federal grand jury at Pueblo yesterday, charged with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law and with having conspired to restrain trade. Uhlrich further stated that he was a deserter from the German army and opposed to all forms of non-socialist governments. Adjutant General Chase, at the conclusion of tonight's session of the military commission, stated that Uhlrich would be questioned further concerning possible unlawful activities in the strike, of other union officials.

According to General Chase, seventy-three miners from outside the district were put to work under military guard, in the mines adjacent to Trinidad, and he stated that many workmen were expected in the immediate future. No trouble of any sort was reported from the strike district tonight.

RURAL CREDITS LAW REGARDED CERTAIN

Washington, Dec. 2.—Rural credits legislation, one of the features of the program submitted today by President Wilson for the regular session of Congress, will be the subject of a series of hearings to be held tomorrow by a subcommittee of the house banking and currency committee, headed by Representative Bulkley, of Ohio. There is no doubt in the minds of the leaders that a bill will be passed at this session.

VIGOROUS DEFENSE FOR DR. CRAIG PRESENTED

Attorneys Claim Physician Charged With Murder Can Prove Alibi and That Reputation Is Good.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 2.—The defense had its inning today in the trial of Dr. William B. Craig for the murder of Dr. Helene Knabe. At the morning session a vigorous argument was directed against the state's case by a subcommittee of the jury. In a three-hour address by Henry N. Spain, of counsel, for the accused man, Dr. Craig was exhibited to the jury as a persecuted man, who not only could establish a reputation for being living through the testimony of one hundred witnesses, but who also could produce other witnesses to swear he was elsewhere until a late hour on the night he is alleged to have killed Dr. Knabe in her flat.

When the prosecution again resumed the aggressive at the afternoon session and began the introduction of witnesses in support of its case, the defense met the attack boldly. The hypothesis of murder on the one side was pitted against the suicide theory on the other and when the day ended, there was no testimony before the jury to show the means Dr. Knabe came to her death.

Mr. Spain declared there was nothing in the relations of his client with Dr. Knabe to furnish a motive for the crime with which Craig was charged.

Four physicians occupied the witness stand this afternoon. All of them testified they had been summoned to Dr. Knabe's apartment on the morning her body was found. Their testimony regarding the wounds and the possibilities of their infection was similar and did not favor either defense or prosecution.

Failure to Recommend Ballot for Women in His Address to Congress, Blunder of Mr. Wilson.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Dr. Anna Shaw, president of the National Woman Suffrage association, created a sensation at tonight's session of the convention, when she declared President Wilson had fallen short of the greatest opportunity he had ever had or ever will have, in failing to say a word in behalf of woman suffrage today, when he read his annual message to Congress. Her remarks provoked loud and prolonged applause. "President Wilson," she continued, "referred in his message to the fact that the time had come for an extension of greater social justice, and we women eagerly listened to this. We hoped social justice would include some measure of political justice to the women of the country."

"We feel President Wilson has fallen short of the greatest opportunity which has come to him, or ever will come to him. No other president has ever had such an opportunity. President Wilson had the opportunity of speaking a word which might ultimately have led to the enfranchisement of a large part of the human family. Even Lincoln, who by a word freed a race, had not this opportunity to release from the bonds one-half of the human family."

"I feel I must make this statement as broad as it is for the reason that we at Budapest last year realized womanhood throughout the world looked to the United States to blaze the way for the extension of universal suffrage in every quarter of this globe. President Wilson has missed one thing that might have made it possible for him never to have been forgotten. I am saying this on behalf of myself and of my fellow officers."

When Dr. Shaw concluded, the convention, amid enthusiastic cheering, adopted by acclamation the following resolution introduced by Dr. J. William Funk, of Baltimore. "Resolved, that it is the sense of this meeting that President Wilson failed to rise to the sublime heights of democracy when he failed in his message to Congress today to recommend the freedom of half of the citizens of the United States, and probably half the citizens of the civilized world."

CENTRAL TEXAS IS FLOODED BY BIG RAIN STORMS

Loss of Five Lives Is Reported and Damage to Property Runs Into Thousands of Dollars in Lone Star State.

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 2.—Central Texas river rose suddenly today as a result of heavy rains, causing more than $100,000 damage, washing out tracks, delaying trains and reaching the flood stages in the cities of Fort Worth, Waco and Austin. Loss of life was reported from Bell county, where four persons were drowned. The Trinity, Brazos and Colorado rivers, with their tributaries, caused the greatest damage.

At Austin, damage along the water front is estimated at $10,000. The Colorado river at Austin reached a forty-foot stage and threatened destruction of an almost completed $2,000,000 dam. Tonight the Colorado began falling. The nearby town of Marble Falls was marooned, but reported by telephone that it needed no assistance. Houston and Texas Central railroad service between Austin and Houston was stopped.

The Brazos river went out of its banks at Waco and tonight began washing a levee protecting part of the city on the right bank. At Fort Worth, a levee was dynamited to save one of the city's bridges over the Trinity river. Lampasas, on the edge of west Texas, reported that 200 bales of cotton had floated down. Sulphur creek today after a seven-inch rainfall, and part of the business district was inundated.

At Wharton, in extreme southeast Texas, the Colorado washed a small bridge. In northwest Texas, on the Oklahoma line, Vernon reported incessant rains, with creeks flooding the roads.

Dallas' new filtration plant, costing a quarter of a million dollars, put in operation yesterday, was stopped today when a reservoir wall caved, apparently from excessive soaking of the ground. A rainfall of over three inches was recorded here today.

ARGUMENTS CLOSE IN BECKER APPEAL

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 2.—Arguments in the case of former Lieutenant of Police Charles Becker, before the court of appeals, closed today. A decision probably will not be handed down for several weeks. Attorney Joseph Shay closed for the condemned man. The chief point he made was that much of the testimony admitted at the trial could be disproved if competent evidence were admitted. No mention was made of so-called new evidence that is alleged to have been found.

Rare Plant Collection Purchased. Boston, Dec. 2.—The purchase for $10,000 of the Vail collection of plants and other plants, reputed to be the finest collection in England, was announced by John K. ## INDIAN RENEGADES GO THROUGH HERE THIS MORNING

Deputy Marshal Galusha and General Scott Arrive at Gallup With Navajos Who Held Beautiful Mountain.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Gallup, N. M., Dec. 2.—Brigadier General Hugh L. Scott, United States army, and Deputy United States Marshal J. R. Galusha, arrived here this morning with the eight Navajos of the shiprock agency, who recently resented arrest, but later surrendered. The deputy marshal will leave early tomorrow morning, with the Indians, for Santa Fe. General Scott will return to Fort Bliss, Tex.

The officers made the trip to Gallup in four days from Beautiful Mountain, where the eight Navajos, with hundreds of their tribesmen, had entrenched themselves. They traveled in an army wagon with the prisoners. The road is practically impassable to an automobile after nearly two weeks of continued rainfall, which ceased only the latter part of last week.

The Indians now in custody are: The She, medicine man and leader of the renegades; Bega, his son; Hosh Tah, Tom Dale, Ne De Willie, Baly, Hah Tot, Le Yazzie, Ne De Willie Bega and Ait City Ne Bega. Seven surrendered after General Scott's conference with the leaders at Noel's trading post Thanksgiving day, and one had given himself up to Agent W. T. Shelton at the Shiprock agency previously.

With the surrender of these Indians, against whom United States District Attorney Sumner Burkhardt had filed information in the federal district court, all show of opposition to government authority was abandoned by the others. The Shiprock agency is as peaceful now as if the braves had never dreamed of a return to the war-path of their forefathers. The younger Navajos have returned to the agency school and the traders, who have states at isolated points on the reservation are distinctly relieved.

General Scott is expected to leave here tomorrow for Fort Bliss to rejoin his command, going by way of Albuquerque. The squadron of the Twelfth cavalry, sent to the Shiprock agency from Fort Robinson, Neb., is expected to arrive here Friday or Saturday. The troops will entrain for El Paso, also going by way of Albuquerque. Orders for their movement to the border were received while they were in the field against the Navajos.

The troops experienced difficulty in reaching the beautiful mountain country, owing to the fact that their wagon train was mired. They will return by easy marches.

SECRETARY OF WAR CONGRATULATES SCOTT

Washington, Dec. 2.—Secretary of War Garrison has sent a congratulatory telegram to Brig. Gen. Hugh L. Scott at Farmington, N. M., for that officer's work in pacifying the Navajo Indians on whose reservation an uprising was threatened by some of the renegades.

DATES ANNOUNCED FOR EXAMINATIONS OF SCHOOL TEACHERS

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 2.—The mid-winter examinations for public school teachers were set today by Superintendent of Public Instruction White for Friday and Saturday, January 22 and 23. All teachers who are teaching under permit, or those whose certificates have expired are required to take these examinations in order to be permitted to continue to teach.

Examination questions are being prepared by Chief Clerk Robert F. Asplund, who will have all the papers ready upon his return from his vacation trip to his old home near Jacksonville, Ill., and to St. Joseph, Mo., where Mrs. Asplund and daughter are visiting.

Because of an error of calculation, the apportionment rate was yesterday announced as 54 cents per person included in the school census, instead of 53 cents as it will be. Unless Luna county's census comes in, the distribution will be made on Luna county's last school census figures before the end of this week.

HDS FOR PENITENTIARY SUPPLIES

FORMER AUDITOR OF NEW MEXICO DIES AT LAS VEGAS

Demetrio Perez, Prominent in Early Days and Son of Col. Albino Perez, Military Governor, Passes Away.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Las Vegas, N. M., Dec. 2.—Demetrio Perez, a son of Col. Albino Perez, military governor of New Mexico from 1815 to 1831, and who served as auditor during the territorial days, he died holding other positions of responsibility and trust, died here today at the age of 77 years. A daughter, Mrs. Primitivo Escudero, of this city, survives him.

In 1831, Mr. Perez was appointed territorial auditor by Gov. L. Bradford Prince and he served two terms. Previous to that he served for five years as clerk and recorder of San Miguel county, and as a member of a constitutional convention held in 1839. He was descended from a pioneer New Mexican family, his father, who served as military governor, having been murdered in the revolution of 1837.

At one time Mr. Perez conducted a general merchandise store at San Antonio, Socorro county, where he prospered and amassed a comfortable fortune.

VALUABLE BOOKS ON THE ARCHAEOLOGY AND ETHNOLOGY OF STATE

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Santa Fe, Dec. 2.—Much interest attaches to several forthcoming volumes by the Bureau of American Ethnology relating directly to the archaeology and ethnology of the region tributary to Albuquerque and Santa Fe. Nine of these volumes are by the director and the staff of the School of American Archaeology and Ethnology, the results of the research work carried on under the auspices of the school. Aside from their scientific values, they are also of great benefit in the way of publicity for New Mexico.

Especially epoch-making are the results of the work of John P. Harrington. The first volume, "The Physiography of the Rio Grande Valley in Relation to Pueblo Culture," by Hewett, Henderson and Robbins, is already in press. The other volumes in press are: "The Ethnobotany of the Tewa Indians," by Harrington, Robbins and Miss Freire-Marcos; "The Ethnobotany of the Tewa Indians," by Harrington. All these volumes are beautifully illustrated.

The following are in course of preparation for publication: "An Introduction to the Study of the Maya Hieroglyphics," by Sylvanus G. Morley; "The Archaeology of the Palmaria Plateau," by Edgar L. Hewett; "The Ethnobotany of the Tewa Indians of the Rio Grande Valley," by John P. Harrington; "The Ethnobotany of the Cochiti Indians," by John P. Harrington; and "Maya Chronology," by Sylvanus G. Morley.

In addition to these, the School of American Archaeology has published twenty-three pamphlets and monographs relating in greater part to the archaeology of the southwest and embodying the result of the research work of the school.

APPEALS COURT TO PASS ON IMPORTANT LEGAL TECHNICALITY

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 2.—A constitutional question of considerable moment is to be put up to the United States circuit court of appeals by Attorney General Fred W. Clancy in the case of Benito Lobato vs. the State of New Mexico.

The decision will set a precedent for a number of other cases begun under the territorial form of government and will also be of the same time pass on section 14 of the enabling act and add another decision, perhaps, throwing more light on the perennial question of state rights.

Lobato had been sentenced in Taos county and took his case to the territorial supreme court under the territorial form of government. Upon the admission of the territory to statehood, the case was transferred to the state supreme court and in due course, a writ of error was taken to the United States circuit court of appeals as apparently provided for in section 14 of the enabling act. But now comes the attorney general of New Mexico and moves to dismiss the writ on the ground that the United States circuit court of appeals has no jurisdiction.

The decision will be awaited with much interest, as it is declared to be anomalous, that because a litigant started suit before the state was admitted he should have rights to appeal to the federal appellate courts that are denied to those who brought suit after the admission of the state.

TWO MILLION DOLLAR CORPORATION FORMED; R. L. BACA IS AGENT

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Santa Fe, Dec. 2.—A two million dollar corporation, the San Lorenzo Land & Mining Co., of Santa Fe, today filed incorporation papers with the state corporation commission. The company intends to develop copper deposits and lands near San Acacio, Socorro county, and starts with a paid up capital of $2,000,000, and R. L. Baca, speaker of the legislative house, as statutory agent. The incorporators and directors are: R. L. Baca, 450 shares; John R. McFie, E. P. Davies, Mrs. M. H. Byrd, K. B. Patterson, each two shares, and all of Santa Fe. The capitalization is $2,000,000, divided into 200,000 shares.

JUDGE MANN WILL DELIVER MEMORIAL ADDRESS IN CAPITAL

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Santa Fe, Dec. 2.—Judge Edward A. Mann, of Albuquerque, today accepted the invitation of Santa Fe Lodge of Elks to address the annual lodge of sorrow, which will be held in the Elks' theater on Sunday. A fine musical program is being arranged for the occasion.

UNITED STATES HAS NO RECEPTION AT WHITE HOUSE NEW YEAR'S

Farmington Manufacturing Plant Forfeited to Government by Order of Judge Pope of Federal Court. President Wilson's Decision to Do Away With Fete Pleases Army and Navy Men and Those in Public Office.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Washington, Dec. 2.—This city rejoices with a good deal of equanimity the decision of President Wilson not to hold the usual New Year's reception at the White House on January 1. The official side of the city, which long has borne the brunt of these receptions, is particularly pleased, and earnest hopes are expressed by army and navy officers that the receptions have been abandoned for good. So far as the society people of the city are concerned, it has been many a year since they have participated largely in these annual affairs, and therefore the president's recent announcement does not affect them one way or the other.

Just when the president's New Year's receptions were instituted nobody knows. Colonel Crook, who was a member of the White House staff during the Lincoln administration, and is still serving there, says the receptions in Lincoln's day were far from being a novelty. He says they had been held for many years previous and that Lincoln accepted them simply because they had come down to him from the earlier days of the republic.

In Bent Perry's "Reminiscences" there is a detailed description of a New Year's reception held by President Van Buren, in whose time, also, they seem to have been well established. The description given by Mr. Perry shows that the receptions of the present day have departed little from those of the Van Buren presidency. In that early day there was the Marine band to furnish the music, the long lines of army and navy officers, of diplomats and the heads of organizations of various kinds in the District of Columbia, and the receptions continued about three hours, during all of which time the president was busy shaking the hands of the people who moved by him in rapid procession.

The difference between the receptions of the present day and those of Van Buren is a difference of degree rather than of kind. Now the receptions run along for about five hours, and while the crowd in Van Buren's time did not exceed 2,500 to 3,000, it now numbers anywhere between 7,000 and 10,000. But it is the mere crowd—the army and the navy general staffs in full dress, the judges of all the courts in the District of Columbia, including the supreme court of the United States, the members of the cabinet and their assistants, and the members of numerous civic, patriotic and military societies, the procession ending with a miscellaneous lot of citizens, most of whom are attracted by the novelty of the thing and have no special reason of being present.

These local societies of the present day embrace the oldest inhabitants' association, the members of the G. A. R. posts, the D. A. R., the Spanish war veterans, etc. The larger portion of the crowd for many years has been purely official, men being present in full dress, who, but for their official stations, would not think of attending a White House reception. The president after greeting the throng usually feels as if he had been through a long and an arduous campaign, and he is more than willing to retire.

The receptions in the opinions of men well informed here, have lost their original meaning, and it is generally hoped that the president will continue to abandon them. This done for an entire administration, it is believed, will establish a precedent that would be binding on future presidents. In the early days of the republic, when the New Year's receptions seem to have been first established, Washington was a small town of some 4,000 to 6,000 people. There were no railroads, no telegraph, and the town was dependent on itself for entertainment of all kinds. The president with his family, in such a community, inevitably made himself a part of the town life and in ways that would not now be expedient he mixed with the people, visited in their homes and was visited by them in return. It was a day when much more stress was put on the conventionalities of social intercourse than at present and especially was New Year's day set apart as a day of rejoicing and of general festivity.

MINING CONCERN HAS KICK AGAINST TWO TELEGRAPH COMPANIES

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 2.—The Lincoln Mining and Development company of Cooney, Mesquite district, Socorro county, or rather its manager in New York, today filed with the state corporation commission complaints against the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies, charging that they add a tax of 50 and 75 cents to the cost of telegrams they telegraph from Silver City to Cooney.

The complaint sets forth that it pays $120 a year to the Mountain States Telephone company, mainly for the purpose of having such telegrams telegraphed to it and that Cooney lies within the circle of telephone service at which no long distance toll is charged. It is also stated that prior to the telephone service the telegraph companies mailed the messages and were out a two-cent stamp and stationery and yet made no additional charge to the 75 cents charged for a message from New York to Silver City.

FREE DISPENSARY IS OPENED AT SANTA FE

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Santa Fe, Dec. 2.—The free dispensary of the child's welfare department of the Santa Fe Woman's club opened today at St. Vincent's hospital. The fact that there are at present four scarlet fever cases reported in Santa Fe, makes it even more imperative than at other times that even though parents are unable or unwilling to secure medical attention for their children this department look after the little ones who are ill.

POLICE ARREST FIGHTER AND GIRL AT HOTEL

Pierce Matthews and Thelma Hicks were arrested last night by Captain Pat O'Grady and Patrolman A. F. Hilder, at the American hotel. They were held on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Patrolman Hilder arrested George Wong, a Chinaman, and May Raymond, on a charge of frequenting a wine room. They were released under $25 cash bond.

SPORT

TORRES AND MATTHEWS SIGN FOR RETURN BOUT

It was announced last night by Director Mark Levy, who returned yesterday from Santa Fe, where he was called by the illness of his brother, Jack Levy, that he had signed Jack Torres, local lightweight, and Pierce Matthews, of St. Louis, for a return match here the middle of this month. Torres and Matthews fought a draw recently. The bout was one of the best ever staged here and a return battle between the two boxers is expected to prove a big drawing card. The date of the bout has not been definitely decided on.

TOMMY O'ROURKE HERE ENROUTE TO EL PASO TO BATTLE THORPE

Tommy O'Rourke, the Santa Fe boxing promoter who occasionally takes on a corner himself, was in Albuquerque for a short time last night on his way to El Paso, where he will box Fighting Thorpe, of Kansas City, last Friday night. O'Rourke, some time ago, fought a ten-round draw with Pierce Matthews at Santa Fe.

Oxford to Send Relay Team

Philadelphia, Dec. 2.—Oxford University students will send a team from England to compete at the annual relay races under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania here next April. A letter was received by Frank B. Ellis, graduate manager of the game, tonight from Arnold A. Jackson, president of the Oxford University Athletic club, accepting an invitation to participate.

Minneapolis, Dec. 2.—Mahmoud, the famous Bulgarian wrestler, reported some time ago as having been killed in a battle in the Balkan war, is alive. A letter to that effect was received from Mahmoud today.

LUNA COUNTY HAS AT LAST SUBMITTED ITS SCHOOL CENSUS

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 2.—Luna county has at last come through with its school census, reporting a total of 1,741, against 1,546 last year and making a total for the state of 102,423 as against 91,642 last year. A gain of only $13 since last year. A distribution of 33 cents per capita of school funds is to be made to each county according to the school census, as soon as Superintendent White has handed down his opinion whether the Navajo children of Santa Juan and McKinley counties should be included in the school census.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Alvan N. White today granted the following aid to school districts applying for it: Torrance, Santa Fe county, $350; No. 64, Curry county, $50; No. 18, Guadalupe county, $50; No. 27, Union county, $500; No. 24, Torrance county, $175; No. 55, Curry county, $50.

NAVAL HOLIDAY IS MUCH FAVORED BY CONGRESS

American Statesmen Propose That United States Join With Other Nations to Limit Warship Building.

Washington, Dec. 2.—The House today debated the Navy resolution to commit the United States to the Washington Conference which is to limit the construction of warships. The resolution was passed by a vote of 219 to 191.

The idea of suspending naval construction for a year, first proposed to the British parliament by the first lord of the admiralty, has since been recommended by the leaders of all parties in the American congress and by the president.

Majority Leader Underwood said on the floor of the house today the resolution probably would be passed unanimously.

Representative Hendley, of Missouri, author of the measure, in urging its adoption, pointed out that only 2 per cent of the United States revenue is devoted to the benefit of agriculture, while 60 per cent goes to the support of the navy and to the maintenance of the army.

Representative Foster, of Illinois, said the time had come when the United States should take the lead of all the world's nations in the movement of peace, to lift the burden from the people and to leave the settlement of differences to arbitration.

Representative Moore, of Pennsylvania, insisted the proposed action would inject the spirit of no battleships into consideration of the navy department's recommendation for the construction of two battleships this year.

Mr. Hendley replied that his resolution was a proposition distinct from the navy recommendation.

Representative Decker, of Missouri, declared the United States built battleships "because, forsooth, our neighbors built them," and suggested that money expended for battleships could be used to prevent devastating floods, and to build better schools, houses and roads.

Representative Holsman, of Alabama, said he preferred the opposition of the Atlantic fleet as a means of obtaining a world equilibrium and an assurance of peace.

Representative Bartholomew, of Missouri, pointed out that with an international agreement for a years naval holiday, the relative strength at the end of a year would be the same among nations, and that meantime the United States would save $50,000,000, Great Britain $60,000,000 and Germany $10,000,000.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Miss Margaret Wilson are expected to attend tomorrow a meeting for the formation of a local branch of the society for the prevention of needless giving. Mrs. Wilson, of New York, one of the founders of the "Spugs," is to make the principal address.

PRESS OF LONDON PRAISES MESSAGE OF PRESIDENT

Times Sees Early Downfall of Huerta and Says United States Will Then Take Means to Restore Order.

London, Dec. 2.—The Times which has devoted great attention to the Mexican situation is publishing a fresh series of dispatches from Mexico City calling serious attention to the desperate situation developing in consequence of the attitude of the United States and declaring that if the American tactic of "watchful waiting" continues to be pursued "there are no words too strong to paint the disastrous results which will ensue."

In an editorial on these dispatches and President Wilson's message, the Times says:

We are convinced that these dangers are realized as fully at Washington as at Mexico City. Presidents, like other rulers, are not given to betraying the secrets of their policy in public utterances. We shall be surprised if when General Huerta is got rid of, President Wilson is not found to have thought out and to be ready to apply a plan for restoring order and decent government in Mexico.

The other London morning papers note and commend the brevity of the President's message. The Standard and Daily Graphic see no reason to doubt that the president's policy will achieve the initial success of removing Huerta.

The Morning Post editorially expresses the opinion President Wilson is too sanguine in assuming the downfall of Huerta would solve the problem, and asks what will he do should Mexico continue to be the prey of adventurous generals and politicians.

The Daily Mail says the message gains in clarity by conciseness. "President Wilson's policy of watchful waiting," adds the paper, "has disarmed critics who sought to attribute predatory aims to the Washington cabinet."

TEACHERS WILL BE GIVEN CREDITS FOR SUMMER SCHOOL WORK

San Francisco, Dec. 2.—The state board of education has appointed a committee consisting of Dr. F. H. H. Roberts of Los Angeles, Professor Jones of San Francisco, and Superintendent Alvan N. White to recommend action regarding the granting of credits to teachers for attendance at the summer session of the school of American Archaeology.

The board also adopted a motion to give credits not to exceed two points to be added to the general average for any grade of certificate for reading circle work and two points for industrial branches, and when one industrial subject is offered for optional subject for first grade certificate, no credit shall be given for that subject on the general average.

The board also filed itself up against the prevailing financial dearth, for the legislature made no provision for the expenses of the board's meetings and for its publications, while the attorney general in a recent opinion held that the per diem mileage and expenses can no longer be paid from the state current school funds.

It was therefore resolved that henceforth a fee of one dollar be charged to each applicant for each examination for a certificate or a professional certificate or for each county certificate extended, renewed or granted on credits, that a territorial professional certificate may be changed to a state professional certificate upon payment of $2.50, and that the following fees be charged for professional certificates: Three years, $3.00; five years, $5.00; life, $10.00.

APPROVES MINERAL SURVEY OF GROUP OF MINING CLAIMS

San Francisco, Dec. 2.—Although there has been very little mine development of late in New Mexico except in Grant and Socorro counties, Secretary General John W. Marsh, this forenoon approved the mineral survey of the Organ group in the Organ mountains. The group consists of the Organ, Michigan and Easy Picking mines.

The survey is approved preliminary to the granting of the mineral rights to the Organ group. The survey was made by the Organ group in the Organ mountains. The group consists of the Organ, Michigan and Easy Picking mines.

In the case of Carrie M. Childers vs. Adolph J. Latham, a mining case from Lincoln county, a motion to dismiss was filed this forenoon in the state supreme court on the ground that the motion was not served.

The motion was filed by Attorney John Y. Mewitt and E. C. Wade, Jr.

CLOSING CHAPTER IS ABOUT TO BE WRITTEN IN BANKRUPTCY CASE

San Francisco, Dec. 2.—In the federal court today an order was entered referring the petition for the discharge of J. N. Broyles, of San Marcos, as a bankrupt, to the federal court at San Marcos.

The petition was filed by the National Surety company, which was brought against the surety company, which had gone on the bond of the defendant.

The judgment of the lower court against the estate is conclusive as against the surety company.

Another case against the National Surety company, but by the bond of trustees of the town of Los Cruces, was today, upon stipulation, ordered tried without a jury. The suit is for $5,000, upon a bond of contractors who had the contract for a paving and sewer system at Los Cruces.

The suit was brought by the town of Los Cruces, which was brought against the surety company, which had gone on the bond of the defendant.

POLITICAL BERTHS WORTH $900,000 DISTRIBUTED

Since President Wilson Assumed Office He Has Filled Many Federal Positions Within Appointive Power.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Between March 4 and November 1, President Wilson has distributed political patronage to the extent of $900,000, that sum representing the annual payroll value of the places he has filled. The offices taken into account in this compilation include district attorneys, United States marshals, district judgeships, customs and revenue collectors, postmasters, etc.

The totals show that a considerable proportion of the whole has gone to New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, but there has been no serious criticism, the president not being required to divide patronage evenly between the several states. It is known, also, that he has viewed the question of patronage as a whole rather than by states, and has sought in all cases to find the best equipped men for certain places, regardless of their abode. It so happens that in the list of patronage thus far the eleven states of the old south have not fared as well as certain states of the north and west, but here again there is no disposition to charge that the president has been aiming to discriminate against the south. Here is the tabulation by states, as taken from the official records:

Alabama, $10,000; Arizona, nothing; Arkansas, $2,500; California, $47,500; Colorado, $15,000; Connecticut, $7,000; Delaware, $4,000; Florida, nothing; Georgia, $17,000; Idaho, nothing; Illinois, $17,200; Indiana, $11,000; Iowa, $22,500; Louisiana, $12,000; Maine, $10,000; Maryland, $11,000; Massachusetts, $5,000; Michigan, $5,000; Minnesota, nothing; Mississippi, $14,000; Missouri, $60,000; Montana, $15,000; Nebraska, $25,000; Nevada, $7,000; New Hampshire, $7,000; New Jersey, $57,500; New Mexico, $50,000; New York, $50,000; North Carolina, $25,000; North Dakota, $5,000; Ohio, $10,000; Oklahoma, $10,000; Oregon, $4,000; Pennsylvania, $57,500; Rhode Island, nothing; South Carolina, $25,000; South Dakota, nothing; Tennessee, $15,000; Texas, $47,000; Utah, nothing; Vermont, nothing; Virginia, $15,000; Washington, $4,000; West Virginia, $10,000; Wisconsin, $25,000; Wyoming, $5,000; District of Columbia, $15,000.

TRAIN CONNECTIONS AT DEMING IMPROVED UPON

San Francisco, Dec. 2.—The state corporation commission, which has been playing tag with the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe lines at Deming, has at last succeeded in securing an adjustment through which travelers from Silver City and tributary mining camps on the Santa Fe can make free connection for Dulles, Douglas and other southern Arizona towns.

Efforts to do this have been made for some time, but no sooner had the Santa Fe adjusted its time card to meet the Southern Pacific train at Deming, than the latter would get a change in its time table and to miss the Santa Fe train by five minutes or by an hour or two. No sooner had the Southern Pacific been reasoned with and convinced of the error of its way when some official at Deming took it into his head to switch the time on the Santa Fe. But now, since the rearrangement of traffic between the Southern Pacific and the El Paso & Southern Railway, the railroad's entire power of persuasion is to bring this about.

As usual, the two trains missed each other by five minutes but at last an order has been secured, which will go into effect next Sunday, under which train No. 1 will not depart from Deming until 9:55 a. m. or five minutes after the Santa Fe train arrives from Silver City.

What that innovation means to a long suffering traveling public can be gauged from the tenor of the complaints that have reached the corporation's headquarters from time to time during the past year, during which it tried to have the two trains get within tooting distance of each other.

Sleep Producing Bomb Invented.

THREE MEN BURIED—THOUSAND FEET DEEP

Cripple Creek, Colo., Dec. 2.—Thirty hours after it started, the slide in the Golden Cycle mine tonight continued hurling hundreds of tons of rock down some 200 feet to the depth of the mine, a thousand feet below, snapping twelve-inch timbers like toothpicks, under the terrific battering.

The interior of the mine trembles with increasing shocks and the rumbling and cracking of the ground in and out of the mine is incessant.

Somewhere in the depths of the mine, one thousand feet below where they were working when the slide started, are the bodies of Frank M. Ward, shift boss, Samuel Sorenson, and Patrick Kevany, buried under thousands of tons of rock, a grave mound that is heaping higher hourly.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

The address of President Wilson to the first regular session of congress is a notable and intensely interesting state paper. Popular participation was centered in what might be said regarding the relations between this nation and Mexico.

But the topic which will have voluminous and continued discussion by the American people is the recommendation that presidential nominations be made by primaries in the future and that party conventions be held only for the purpose of declaring and accepting the verdict of the primaries and formulating the platform of the parties.

The president recommends that "these conventions should consist not of delegates chosen for this single purpose, but of the nominees for congress, the nominees for cabinet seats in the senate of the United States, the senators whose terms have not yet expired, the national committee, and candidates for the presidency themselves, in order that platforms may be framed by those responsible to the people, for carrying them into effect."

The plan suggested has many elements of merit in it. Probably it would be the best for the country, but we cannot believe that even the great influence of the president will be able to secure its enactment into law.

The southern democrats will oppose it because of the race question. Under the plan of the president federal laws would control nominating primaries and the holding of elections. At present there are few republican candidates for office in the southern states. In South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Florida, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas, negroes do not go to the polls.

Should the recommendations of the president become law all of this would be changed, sooner or later, and United States, instead of state, officers would hold federal elections.

The system suggested of delegates to national conventions would stimulate complete republican organization in the southern states with candidates for the lower house in each congressional district and candidates for the United States senate in each state.

These things are not wanted in any southern state, and it would be surprising if the southerners in congress permit the plan to become effective. But the fact that the president has so strongly recommended it indicates that a fight will be made for it.

Regarding Provisional President Huerta the address is one of emphatic disapproval, not to say scathing denunciation. The president says: "We shall not, I believe, be obliged to alter our policy of watchful waiting," and "by a little every day life (Huerta's) power and prestige are crumbling and the collapse is not far away."

The measure continues on that point: "And then, when the end comes, we shall hope to see constitutional order restored in distressed Mexico by the concert and energy of such of her leaders as prefer the liberty of their people to their own ambitions."

The significant utterance are those in which the president expresses belief that we shall not be compelled "to alter our policy of watchful waiting," and that this nation will take such action as may be dictated by "our own honor and our obligations to the peace of the world."

While the president pursues his usual policy of cryptic utterance, no one can mistake his purpose to have order restored in Mexico and to recognize no government there not founded on reasonable constitutional title. When other means are exhausted force will be employed.

The other pertinent suggestions in the message relate to the currency bill, better facilities by which farmers may be enabled to finance their operations, recommending that the farmer is "servant of the economy" and that "nature determines how long he must wait for his crops, and will not be hurried in her processes."

The address announces determination to break down private monopoly and to relieve business men of all uncertainties of law with regard to their enterprises and investments and that a clear path shall be "indicated which they can travel without anxiety."

With some generalities as to "social justice" the address closes after expression of gratification for the happy results brought about by closer relations, which now exist between the executive and the law making body. The address is clear in thought and happily phrased and points clearly to the fact that congress has many months of hard work before it if it is to make even a reasonable number of the reforms recommended.

YOUNG PREACHERS.

The Rev. Billy Sunday, who is just beginning a revival in Pittsburgh, says: "The poorest stick you ever saw for the saving of souls is the young preacher just out of the seminary."

Mr. Sunday seems to forget that even preachers have to be young sometimes. The graduate of the seminary enters the pulpit, at first, shy of the deeper knowledge of human nature which comes with age and experience, but which Mr. Sunday ascribed on the baseball field. But it does not follow that a preacher cannot get over being young, though Mr. Sunday never has got over being a baseball player of the most pronounced business advertising type.

Nine-tenths of our young preachers are enthusiastic, fervent in their work and devoted to the cause in which they have enlisted their lives. With no complaint, they endure hardships and meager incomes from rural village congregations. They live on next to nothing and do not count their loss in money.

In fact, the young preacher is about the only purely consecrated creature of our times, and it comes with your grace for a rampant vulgarism like Billy Sunday to throw a stone at him.

MONEY PAID FOR IN BLOOD.

John Hays Hammond denounces the administration because it will not plunge this country into a useless and bloody war and thereby incur the animosity of the Latin-Americans for a century to come. Mr. Hammond wants the mining investments of Americans in Mexico protected so they may go on exploiting their concessions. How many lives may be lost in the process is of no moment to him and those like him.

It will be remembered that Mr. Hammond took an important part in the raid on the Boers by Dr. Jameson and others of the well paid staff of the diamond and gold exploiters of South Africa. The result was that the mines were drenched with British blood and treasure and childless mothers and income tax payers of Great Britain still curse him for his part in bringing on the Boer war.

Because men of the Hammond type favor it, is one of the chief reasons why there should be no armed intervention in Mexico until every peaceful means of bringing order to that country has been exhausted.

In the language of Grover Cleveland, we have congress on our hands with little prospect of getting it off soon. But we are thankful that the legislature of New Mexico is not to begin action again for more than a year. We can be thankful for great as well as for small favors.

Secretary Garrison receives with a grain of salt the story of the number of troops engaged in the battle south of Juarez. A reporter who went out to find the graves of the hundreds of the slaughtered could find only two. Possibly Villa's press agent is a liar.

The Chicago woman who is going to adopt fifteen children of different nationalities and, so far as possible, colors, would do well to engage a competent referee early in the season.

Colonel Lopez objected to wasting ammunition. With seven shots he killed six men. They would have made him a general in Mexico.

Nomination of Presidential Candidates By Direct Primaries, Wilson's Plan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—President Wilson today delivered in person his message before a joint session of the two houses of congress at the beginning of the second session of the thirty-third congress. The message of the president follows in full:

In pursuance of my constitutional duty to "give to the congress information of the state of the union," I take the liberty of addressing you on several matters which ought, it seems to me, particularly to engage the attention of your honorable bodies, as of all who study the welfare and progress of the nation.

I ask your indulgence if I venture to depart in some degree from the usual custom of setting before you in formal review the business of the past year, which have engaged the attention and raised for the action of the several departments of the government or which look to them for early treatment in the future, because the list is long, very long, and would suffer in the objectivity to which I should have to subject. I shall submit to you the reports of the heads of the several departments, in which these subjects are set forth in careful detail and beg that they may receive the thoughtful attention of your committee and of all members of the congress who may have the leisure to study them. Their obvious importance, as constituting the very substance of the business of the government, makes comment and emphasis on my part unnecessary.

The country, I am thankful to say, is at peace with all the world, and many happy manifestations multiply about us of a growing cordiality and sense of community of interest among the nations, foreshadowing an age of settled peace and good will. More than this, which should be our first and most earnest desire, the nations manifest their willingness to bind themselves by solemn treaty to the processes of peace, the processes of frankness and fair concession. So far the United States has stood at the front of such negotiations, and we have happily and confidently believed, give fresh proof of her sincere adherence to the cause of international friendship by ratifying the several treaties of arbitration awaiting renewal by the senate. In addition to these, the United States has been the champion of state to gain the consent, in principle, of no less than thirty-one nations, representing four-fifths of the population of the world, to the regulations of treaties by which it shall be agreed that no ever differences of interest or policy shall be resolved by the ordinary processes of diplomacy; they shall be publicly analyzed, discussed, and reported upon by a tribunal chosen by the parties before either party determines its course of action.

There is only one possible standard by which to determine controversies between the United States and other nations, and that is compounded of these two elements: Our own honor and our obligations to the world. A test so compounded could easily be made to govern both the establishment of new treaty obligations and the interpretation of those already assumed.

There is but one cloud upon our horizon. That has shown itself to the south of us, and hangs over Mexico. There can be no certain prospect of peace in America until General Huerta has surrendered his usurped authority in Mexico; until it is understood on all hands, indeed, that such pretended government is not to be countenanced or dealt with by the government of the United States. We are the friends of constitutional government in America; we are more than our friends, we are its champions; because in no way can we afford to withhold from them the would wish every way to make proof of our friendship, work out their development in peace and liberty. Mexico has no government. The attempt to maintain one at the City of Mexico has been a failure, and a more military despotism has been set up which has hardly more than the semblance of national authority. It originated in the usurpation of Victoriano Huerta, who, after a brief attempt to play the part of constitutional president, has at last made even the pretense of legal right and declared himself dictator. As a consequence a condition of affairs now exists in Mexico which has made it doubtful whether we should not consider elementary and fundamental rights of her own people or of the citizens of other countries can long be successfully safeguarded, and which threatens, if long continued, to imperil the interests of peace, order, and tolerable life in the Latin American to the south of us. Even if the usurper had succeeded in his purposes, in despite of the constitution of the republic and the rights of its people, he would have set up a hateful and a hateful power, which could have lasted but a little while, and whose eventual downfall would have left the country in a more deplorable condition than ever. But he has not succeeded. He has forfeited the support and the moral support even of those who were at one time willing to see him succeed. Little by little he has been completely isolated. By a little every day his power and prestige are crumbling and the collapse is not far away. We shall not, I believe, be obliged to alter our policy of watchful waiting. And then, when the end comes, we shall hope to see constitutional order restored in distressed Mexico by the concert and energy of such of her leaders as prefer the liberty of their people to their own ambitions.

I turn to matters of domestic concern. You already have under consideration a bill for the reform of our system of banking and currency, for which the country waits with impatience, and a bill for the reorganization of the whole business life and necessary to set credit free from arbitrary and artificial restraints. I need not say how earnestly I hope for its early enactment into law. I take leave to say that the country is waiting for the enactment of the bill for the reorganization of the senate by concentrating upon it all the matter is successfully disposed of. And yet I feel that the request is not needed—that the members of that great house need no urging in this service responsive to the people's carrying them into effect.

These are all matters of vital domestic concern, and besides them, outside the charmed circle of our own national life in which our affections are so deeply centered, are the responsibilities which we have toward the people of our domestic affairs. No doubt we shall successfully enough bind Porto Rico and the Hawaiian Islands to ourselves by ties of justice and interest and affection, but the performance of our duty toward the Philippines is a more difficult and delicate matter. We can satisfy the obligations of general justice toward the people of Porto Rico by giving them the ample and familiar rights and privileges accorded our own citizens in our own territories and our obligations toward the people of Hawaii by perfecting the provisions for self-government already granted them, but in the Philippines we must go further. We must hold steadily in view their ultimate independence, and we must move toward the time of that independence as steadily as the way can be cleared and the foundations thoughtfully and permanently laid.

Acting under the authority conferred upon the president by congress, I have already accorded the people of the islands a majority in both houses of their legislative body by appointing five senators and five members to the membership of the commission. I believe that in this way we shall make proof of their capacity in counsel and their sense of responsibility in the exercise of political power, and that the success of this step will be sure to clear our way for the steps which are to follow. Step by step we should extend and perfect the system of self-government in the islands, making test of them and modifying them as experience discloses their success and their failures; that we should more and more put under control of the native citizens of the archipelago the essential instruments of their life—their local instrumentalities of government, their schools, all the common interests of their communities, and as by counsel and experience set up a government which all the world will see to be suitable to a people whose affairs are under their own control. At last, I hope and believe, we are beginning to gain the confidence of the Filipino people. By their counsel and experience, rather than by our own, we shall learn how best to serve them and how soon it will be possible and wise to withdraw our supervision. Let us once find the path and set out with firm and confident tread, and we shall not wonder from it or lose our way.

A duty faces us with regard to Alaska which seems to me very pressing and very imperative; perhaps I should say a double duty, for it concerns both the political and the material development of the territory. The people of Alaska should be given the full territorial form of government, and Alaska, as a storehouse, should be unlocked. One key to it is a system of railways. These the government should itself build and administer, and the ports and terminals should itself control in the interest of all who wish to use them for the service and development of the country and its people.

But the construction of railways is only the first step; it is only thrusting in the key to the storehouse and opening the door. How the tempting resources of the country are to be exploited is another matter, to which I shall take the liberty of from time to time calling your attention, for it is a policy which must be worked out by well-considered stages, not upon theory, but upon lines of practical expediency. It is part of our general problem of conservation. We have a freer hand in working out the problem in Alaska than in the states of the union, and the principle and object are the same, wherever we touch it. We must use the resources of the country, not lock them up. There need be no conflict of jealousy as between state and federal authorities, for their object is not to deprive the people of the nation at large, whose heritage these resources are. We must benefit our counsels to this end. A common purpose ought to make agreement easy.

Three or four matters of special importance and significance I beg that you will permit me to mention in closing.

Our bureau of mines ought to be equipped and empowered to render even more effective service than it renders now in improving the conditions of mine labor and making the mines more economically productive, as well as more safe. This is an all-important part of the work of conservation, and the conservation of human life and energy lies even nearer to our interest than the preservation from waste of our material resources.

We owe it, in mere justice to the railway employees of the country, to provide for them a fair and effective employers' liability act; and a law

Remedy Used By Three Generations

Mothers Who Took It When Children Now Giving It to Their Children.

WM. ROSWELL TAYLOR

There must be genuine merit in an article that has stood the test of two generations of users. In the field of medicine none has had greater success, nor retained that success to a greater degree, than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is now being used by three generations of people. In use in families is constantly becoming more general. The reason, primarily, is that it has merit. It is what it represents itself to be, a laxative-tonic; it does not make exaggerated claims nor use coarse language to set forth its virtues. It is a medicine, but so mild and gentle a medicine that thousands of mothers give it to tiny infants, and yet, in a slightly larger dose, it is equally effective for grown-ups. It is for any disorder of the stomach, liver or bowels, for constipation no matter how chronic, for dyspepsia no matter how severe, for biliousness, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, headaches, drowsiness after eating and similar complaints arising from a clogged-up condition of the bowels. It is pleasant to the taste and does not gripe. It can be used with safety and good results by anyone at any age or in any condition of health, and that person's health will improve. Every druggist sells it and the price is only fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. Thousands of families throughout the country are never without Syrup Pepsin in the house, among them Mrs.

W. A. Taylor, 717 Lincoln Ave., Be-loft, Wis. She has five children and gives Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to all of them as needed. Little William used to cry half the night with cramps and pain, but since being given Syrup Pepsin he does so no longer. The use of this remedy will teach you to avoid cathartics, salts, purgatives and physics generally, as they are entirely too harsh. Syrup Pepsin cures gradually, but the cure is comfortable, safe and permanent.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it promptly by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 319 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

that we can stand by in this matter will be no less to the advantage of those who administer the railroads of the country than to the advantage of those whom they employ. The experience of a large number of the states proves that.

We ought to devote ourselves to meeting pressing demands of plain justice like this as earnestly as a bottle of the accomplishment of political and economic reforms. Social service comes first. Law is the machinery for its realization and is vital only as it expresses and embodies it.

An international congress for the discussion of all questions that affect safety at sea is now sitting in London at the suggestion of our own government. So soon as the conclusions of that congress can be learned and considered we ought to address our selves, among other things, to the prompt alleviation of the very unsafe, unjust, and burdensome conditions which now surround the employment of sailors and render it extremely difficult to obtain the services of spirited and competent men such as every ship needs if it is to be safely handled and brought to port.

May I not express a very real pleasure I have experienced in co-operating with this congress and sharing with it the labor of common service to which it has devoted itself so unreservedly during the past seven months of uncomplaining concentration upon the business of legislation?
Surely it is a proper and pertinent part of my report on "the state of the union" to express my admiration for the diligence, the good temper, and the full comprehension of public duty which has already been manifested by both houses; and I hope that it may not be deemed an impertinent intrusion of my part into the picture if I say with how much and how constant satisfaction I have availed myself of the privilege of putting my time and energy at their disposal alike in counsel and action.

DECLARED ACTIVITY SHOWN ON STOCK EXCHANGE

President Wilson's Address to Congress Has No Perceptible Effect, Brokers Waiting for Trust Message.

New York, Dec. 2.—More business was done in the first hour of today's stock market than during yesterday's entire session. All during the forenoon the market, led by coalers, displayed a degree of strength and activity such as has not been seen often of late. In the afternoon, trading became quiet and gains were scaled down. Traders worked more confidently today on the long side and the success of their efforts drove the shorts to cover and brought in some outside buying. Boston houses bought largely of steel and Amalgamated.

There was no important change in conditions to explain increased activity on the long side. Additional railroad reports for October were received, showing decreases in earnings. The November record of business failures disclosed an increase in number and liabilities. The market was called upon to absorb moderate offerings for London account.

President Wilson's message to Congress was read after the vigorous upward movement of the day had come to an end and the market made little response to it, although the tendency thereafter was steadily downward. Wall Street interest in the message as a market factor was lessened by the fact that discussion of the trust question was reserved for a subsequent time.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Black rust in Argentina and grain bugs in Texas brought about a bulge today in the wheat market. Only a part of the effect, however, was lasting, the close being weak at an advance of 1-8 to 1-4 cent. Corn finished unchanged to 1-8 higher and oats the same as last night to 1-2@3-8 up, but provisions were off 1-2 to 1-4.

One of the largest houses in the wheat trade had direct cables telling of a spread of black rust in the central section of Argentina. The pest was said to be general in that region. Damage from green bugs in Texas was declared to be manifesting itself in some of the largest producing counties. Besides, there were increased complaints of Russian fly danger in Illinois, Michigan and Ohio.

Despite bullish reactions, especially one shortly after the opening and another just before the close, wheat prices at one time went under last night's figures. Export sales had a sustaining influence and so also did a tightening on the holdings of soft winter grades in all winter crop countries. In addition, crop advices from India were adverse, receipts northward of here were exceptionally small and the world's available supply showed a substantial falling off.

Soft weather delaying receipts tended to lift the price of corn. Advancing quotations at Missouri river points and at Liverpool aided the bulls. Profit taking by longs, however, served to restrict the advance. Elevator interests were after oats. The method pursued, the buying of December and selling of May, was not thought of as a disturbing character. A weakness of provisions proved larger than expected, and a break in hog prices acted also as a weight on the market. Covering by shorts resulted in only a slight rally.

shorts resulted in only a slight rally.
 Closing prices:
 Wheat—Dec., 87c; May, 90½¢ @ 90 7/8c.
 Corn—Dec., 70½¢; May, 70 5/8c.
 Oats—Dec., 28 1-8¢ @ 28 1-4¢; May, 28 1-8¢ @ 28 1-4¢.
 Pork—Jan., $21.12 1-2; May, $21.05.
 Beef—Jan., $10.82 1-2¢ @ 10.85; May, $11.10.
 Lard—Jan., $11.05; May, $11.25.

LONDON WOOL AUCTION.

London, Dec. 2.—A miscellaneous assortment of 13,000 bales caused spirited competition at today's wool sales. Prices generally were firm. The finest grades of scouring merinos often sold at an advance of 5 per cent. Americans bought sparingly.

Congress That Prevent Sleep.

These things are wearing and if they "hang on" can run one down physically and lower the vital resistance to disease. Mr. Bob Ferguson, 315 Pine St., Green Bay, Wis., writes: "I was greatly troubled with a bad cold that kept me awake nights. Two small bottles of Foley's Kidney and Bladder Pills completely cured me. This medicine is easily got for every one, whooping cough, measles, croup, and for the chronic coughs of elderly people. It is soothing and healing and stops itching throat. For sale by Butts, Inc."

C. G. MARDORF NEW MEDICAL DIRECTOR OF EQUITABLE IS VISITING CITY

Organization Will Ask State to Make Loan to County Highway Board So Work Will Not Be Stopped.

The Albuquerque Good Roads local last night, at the Commercial club, elected C. G. Mardorf president, to succeed E. C. Butler, who held the office for the last year. David R. Lane was elected secretary, to succeed E. L. Grose, and A. B. Stroup, treasurer. The association previously did not boast of a treasurer, but with the work planned for the next year, members decided they would need someone to handle the funds.

The association will make an effort to induce the state to lend the Bernillo road board enough money to keep up work on roads until tax payments are available. Unless the state consents, members of the local believe the road board would have to sell its teams and return the convicts now at work in this county to the state penitentiary at Santa Fe.

The association went on record in a resolution which was adopted unanimously, in favor of aiding in the up-keep of the Gulf-to-Pacific highway, from Albuquerque to Amarillo, Tex. The local will place signs, directing travelers, along the route, and organize a patrol, which will be expected to report to the officers of the local any bad places in the road.

A committee was appointed to collect unpaid subscriptions in Albuquerque to the Albuquerque-Jemez Springs road fund. The state highway commission has sent assurances to the retaining officers that it will be ready to begin work this month and to reach the project to completion. Giving to the fact that only $6,000 is available, however, it will be used in improving the worst places in the route between here and the springs. This committee consists of Judges John Barron, J. D. Coleman and E. L. Grose.

Another committee was appointed to draft a program of work to be started by the local next year. E. L. Grose, D. J. Rankin and A. B. Stroup are the members of this committee. The local decided to meet regularly the third Monday of every month.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

Funeral of Mrs. Gertie.

The body of Mrs. E. A. Gertie, wife of Edward Gertie, was laid to rest in Fairview cemetery yesterday afternoon. Funeral services were held at the family home, 408 West Coal avenue, Rev. Thomas L. Dyer, pastor of the Congregational church officiating. Charles J. Anderson sang "One Swallow's Solemn Thought" and "Abide With Me." The funeral was private, only the family attending. The floral remembrances were beautiful and completely covered the casket, showing the esteem in which Mrs. Gertie was held by those who knew her. The pallbearers were M. L. Schott, W. W. Strong, H. E. Rogers, C. O. Cushman, T. N. Linsville and H. P. Hollinberry. Mrs. Gertie was born in Mansfield, O. June 4, 1874, and was married November 12, 1901. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spanier, three brothers and three sisters, all of Mansfield, O., and the beloved husband and one son, Kenneth. Beloved by all who knew her, Mrs. Gertie will be sadly missed by her large number of friends, to whom she had endeared herself by her beautiful character.

John Kennair.

John Kennair died yesterday morning at his apartments in the Highlands. He had been in Albuquerque only a short time. Before coming here he was a resident of Pueblo, Colo. The body is held at Thomas Baker's undertaking rooms until relatives in Pittsburgh, Pa., who have been notified, signify their wishes in regard to the funeral arrangements.

Funeral of Namberto Chavez.

Funeral services for Namberto Chavez, 60 years old, who died from pneumonia Monday night at his home, 1212 South Broadway, will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at Fred Crockett's chapel. Burial will be in San Jose cemetery. Mr. Chavez is survived by a widow and a large number of relations.

Funeral of Prather Johnson.

Funeral services for Prather Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Johnson, who died Monday night, were held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home, 204 North Broadway, by the Rev. H. P. Williams. Burial was in Fairview cemetery.

YOUTHFUL BICYCLIST, ON JOURNEY AROUND WORLD, ARRIVES HERE

J. May, 18 years old, who started from New York to ride around the world on his bicycle, arrived here yesterday afternoon. He slept last night at the police station. May said according to the conditions under which he is making the trip, he cannot earn money, so he asked the police for a place to sleep. He will ask Chief McMillin to sign his record today and continue. He is anxious to get into Arizona before severe weather comes.

Dr. T. H. Rockwell, of New York, Stops Off in Albuquerque While Returning East From Coast.

Dr. T. H. Rockwell, medical director of the Equitable Life Assurance society, with headquarters in New York City, arrived in Albuquerque on the eastbound limited last night and will remain here until this evening, the guest of W. S. Patterson, general agent in New Mexico for the Equitable.

Dr. Rockwell is touring the west for the purpose of investigating health conditions in the various states. He is much pleased with what he has seen in New Mexico and especially with the moderate climate he has experienced here at this season of the year.

As is well known, the Equitable society has a conservation of health department, to which much attention is being devoted with a view to promoting longevity. It issues a monthly publication, the Human Factor, which sets forth the aims and purposes of this department.

A. W. CHASE IS DEAD IN KANSAS CITY, REPORT

A. W. Chase, manager of the Ranch Supply company at Magdalena, N. M., died Monday in Kansas City, according to word received yesterday by his friends here. Mr. Chase went to Kansas City to undergo an operation and became ill with pneumonia, which caused his death.
