FORMER BANDIT IS NOW MILITARY COMMANDER OF REBELS

General Francisco Villa, Who Nineteen Years Ago Flew From Chihuahua With Price on Head, Becomes Leader.

OCCUPATION OF CITY EXPECTED LAST NIGHT

Force of Twenty Thousand Constitutionalists Is Concentrating for March on Mexico City.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Albuquerque, N. M., Dec. 4.—The fifty-five hundred rebels, forming the main body of the army which Gen.
Francisco Villa, who fled from Chihuahua nineteen years ago, is now leading, are expected to enter the city of Mexico last night.

It was in this city that Villa, now in supreme command of the military forces of the revolution, said he would not start south on way of Toluca and Zacatecas in Mexico City. The report that Villa, with 50,000 men, was already on the march to the south already were in great numbers. Gen.
Francisco Villa, now in supreme command of the military forces of the revolution, said he would not start south on way of Toluca and Zacatecas in Mexico City. The report that Villa, with 50,000 men, was already on the march to the south already were in great numbers.

Already equipped with machine guns, artillery and millions of rounds of ammunition, by his victory in the north, Villa said he was no longer hampered by inability to get arms from foreign sources, but that he would readily obtain them from the rebels who are reported in the few remaining northern strongholds to be ready to evacuate. The defeat of the federalists in their retreat from Juarez is known to have placed great quantities of arms in the hands of the rebels.

The rebel advance was that Federal Mexico, the civil government of Chihuahua, had made elaborate preparations for the reception of Villa, having put in garrisons in the palace, having Villa, now a bandit, will now command and that Villa would probably occupy a house vacated by one of the military families. It was from Chihuahua that Villa, nineteen years ago, fled from the city, and he was ordered arrested on a charge of having killed an army officer. Now he is not only himself but the men who rallied around him occupying the quarters of federal officials who sought him outlaw.

Before leaving Chihuahua, General Merced, at the request of United States Consul Marion Fletcher and other consuls, left 200 federal soldiers for police duty, the promise being that the rebels on entering the city would not molest these men. The federal police, however, took flight at the rebel approach, and fled. The consuls prevailed upon citizens to do the police.

CHIHUAHUA REFUGEES ARE NEAR AMERICAN BORDER

Marfa, Tex., Dec. 4.—Five days on a desert without any more food or water than they could carry with them, the refugees from Chihuahua City, evacuated by the federalists, were today within a few miles of Ojinaga, on the border opposite Presidio, Tex. United States customs and immigration inspectors left Marfa to meet the refugees in the expectation that they would cross the border and also to meet any contingency that might arise in the event that any of the Mexican federal army officers should seek safety in this country.

At the head of the fleeing army officers is General Salvador Merced, Marfa's military commander in northern Mexico, who evacuated Chihuahua when his troops threatened mutiny because they had received no pay. Two thousand federal troops, with families of some of the richest families in Mexico, are in the caravan.

Unable to procure vehicles and equipment in short time to gather such of their portable possessions as they could, the civilians started to follow the fleeing army on foot. The route of the leader is over 100 miles of desert, without towns, railroads or water trails. That the refugees endured such hardships is thought inevitable.
Little Terman, one of the refugees, is said to have withdrawn 5,000 dollars from the banks before leaving.

Almost everyone in Marfa left for the border to witness the arrival of the refugees. Marfa is about fifty miles from Presidio and is accessible only by a wagon trail and a telephone line.

NO PROPOS TO REINFORCE GENERAL MANS AT TEXAN

Van Horn, Dec. 4.—The dispatch of troops by sea to Tampico to reinforce the command of General Mans has been suspended because there is now only a small garrison here. It is understood that General Mans has suffered losses to promote an active campaign against the rebels under General Aguilar in the oil regions.

The general's "Vera Cruz" is leading tonight with additional supplies of ammunition, machine guns and ammunition.

BATTLE RAGES NEAR OIL FIELDS IN MEXICO

Brownsville, Tex., Dec. 4.—A three-day battle near Tula, forty miles from Veracruz, Tamaulipas, in the region of important Mexican oil fields, resulted in a federal loss of 120, according to a constitutional report at Matamoros, late today, from General Aguilar, commander-in-chief in that district. The constitutional force was not stated. Late arrivals from Veracruz said the fighting had been renewed.

The battle started Tuesday night.
General Carranza, commander of the constitutionalists, who numbered 2,000, and General Hago and Atcamond led the federal force of about 1,000 men.

RURAL CREDITS BILL NOW BEING FRAMED

Washington, Dec. 4.—Consideration of rural credits legislation was begun today by a sub-committee of the house banking and currency committee of which Representative Hubert of Ohio is chairman.

Representative Hayes, of California (Republican), declared that the American people never would stand for the German "landmark" system which has been suggested as a basis for legislation. Under this system, he said, mortgages forfeited their land upon default of principal or interest. Other members of the committee voiced a similar view.

GREATER MILITANCY NOT DESIRED BY SUFFRAGISTS

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont's Proposition to Move Headquarters to Washington Was New York Is Voted Down.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Adoption of a new constitution and election of a new president today's session of the National American Woman Suffrage association, now in its fifty-fifth annual convention here, many hours of discussion preceded the final vote on the constitution.

While the new system of government does not place the finances of the association entirely on a budget basis, to which there has been violent objection, a large portion of the money needed will be raised in accordance with a budget adopted in advance each year. When it was announced at the afternoon session that $11,800 would have to be provided in pledges to complete the total of $25, it took less than an hour to secure the sum.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont of New York, made an effort to have the headquarters of the association moved to Washington. The motion was tabled without discussion. Some of the delegates declared later that Mrs.
Belmont desired to see the organization assume a more militant attitude and that she believed this might be done if the headquarters were moved to Washington, where the congressional union is located. The union was organized principally to fight for a federal constitutional amendment, giving woman suffrage, and in its ranks are many of the suffragists whose ideas are less conservative than those of the majority in the national association.

Mrs. Champ Clark told the convention today that when she was a young girl she had heard Susan B. Anthony speak on woman suffrage and that she had remained a convert to the cause ever since.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association, was re-elected for the eighth consecutive term at the annual balloting for officers. Dr. Shaw was opposed by Mrs. Harriet Taylor Spicer, of Warren, O.

Other officers elected were:

First vice president, Miss Jane Adams, of Chicago.

Second vice president, Mrs. Emma Brookshire, of Lexington, Ky.

Third vice president, Mrs. Caroline Bates, of Greenwich, Conn.

Recording secretary, Mrs. Susan Fitzgerald, of Boston.

Corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mary Ware, of New York.

Treasurer, Mrs. Katherine Foster McCormick, of Boston.

First auditor, Harriet Barton Tallow, of New York.

Second auditor, Louise De Raven-ne, of Chicago.

Mrs. Cezile Chapman Catt, in an address at tonight's session declared that the women demanded a constitutional amendment enfranchising women without unnecessary delay.

"If the constitution stands in our way," she said, "let's tear it up and make a new one."

Mrs. Harriet May Mills, of New York, in an address prophesied that the woman of her state would have the ballot by 1915.

Generous Official Pays Mothers.
Chicago, Dec. 4.—A. A. McCormick, president of the county board, with his personal check for $5,000 to the county clerk today, requesting that the money be used to meet 347 mother's pension warrants which will be due tomorrow. The county otherwise would be unable to pay.

INDICTMENT FOUND AGAINST LEADING DEMOCRATIC POLITICIANS

Arthur A. McLean, State Committee Treasurer, Charged With Receiving Contributions From Corporations.

TAMMANY BAGMAN AGAIN UNDER FIRE

Accused Men Are Subject to Fine and Imprisonment Under Laws of New York State Regulating Campaigns.

New York, Dec. 4.—Arthur A. Mc-Lean, treasurer of the democratic state committee, was indicted today on two counts for receiving campaign contributions from corporations.

Edward P. Fowler, of Kingston, the alleged Tammany "bag man" already under indictment for extortion, was today indicted, charged with assisting in a campaign contribution from a corporation.

The indictment of McLean, under the third growing out of the district attorney's investigation of John Hennessy's charges of graft in the state highway department.

The first count against McLean, whose home is in Newburgh, was based chiefly on the testimony of Matthew Van Alstine, of Albany, an former of the Shubert-Schubert company, who testified he had sent a campaign contribution of $1,000 in the form of a bank draft to McLean in October, 1912, and received therefor McLean's receipt. The other count was based on testimony of Harold V. Owens, secretary and treasurer of the Date Engineering company in Ohio, that in the same month he had sent a check for $250 to McLean as a campaign contribution for his corporation.

The new indictment against Fowler was based on Owen's testimony that Fowler had solicited the contribution from him.

Under the state laws either the collection or the acceptance of a contribution from a corporation is a misdemeanor punishable by a year's imprisonment and a fine of $1,000. No warrant was issued for McLean's arrest and it was understood that he would be given an opportunity to give himself up.

Corroborative evidence in the Van Alstine case was introduced before the jury in the form of the original $1,000 draft, and the postoffice registry receipt for the letter in which it was enclosed signed by E. J. Burke, a member in the employ of the democratic state committee. Burke was among the witnesses as were also officials of banks in New York and Albany through which the draft passed, and employees of the state highway department called to prove that Van Alstine had high rank contacts with the state.

The cancelled check of the Date Engineering company, endorsed with McLean's signature, was a part of the corroborative evidence introduced to support of the second count.

The district attorney John D.
Bourke, at which the evidence against these men under indictment was originally brought out, will be resumed tomorrow. More contractors are expected to testify.

CLAIMS EXEMPTION FROM CUSTOMS LAW

New York, Dec. 4.—Jury and verdict returned today at $100,000 the property of Mr. and Mrs. W. A.
Lund, who arrived here on the steamer Olympic, November 12, had been seized by customs inspectors. It was announced this afternoon, after the rejection of Mr. Lund's claim for exemption of duties on the ground that he was a non-resident.

During the trial the treasury department agents who investigated the case and who had been in New York for a year and were returning to occupy a residence near Garden City, L. I., for the winter. At the time he was questioned by the agents upon the Olympic's arrival, he protested that they had a permanent home in England.

Lund is a son of the late Robert Lund, founder of the hat business trading that name.

tional saving in the purchase of ma-torial for the new battleship Panmure was announced by Secretary Daniels today in connection with the award of the contract for purchase of the four steel tube shafts, which has been placed with an independent contractor. The old was out of the 24 DEAD AND LARGE FIGHT OF FRISCO PROPERTY LOSS FROM FLOODS IN TEXAS

Center of High Water Shifts Southwest and People Hurry From the Lower River Valleys.

SAN ANTONIO AND WACO HEAVY LOSERS

Drowned Horses and Cattle Are Seen Floating Down Swollen Streams; Rainfall Is Decreasing.

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 4.—The Texas flood center shifted southwest today toward the Gulf, centering from Heame to Richmond, where the flood crest of the Brazos river continued to do great damage and cause loss of life. The general flood situation improved when rains began to ease after three days continuous downpour over most of the state. The rains in north and west Texas began to fall slowly. Before relief came, the floods had overtopped five large river basins from the headwaters of the Red, in northwestern Texas, to the San Antonio river, in the southwest.

The total number of dead as a result of the floods, about early tonight at twenty-five. Estimates of property damages ranged between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000, with Waco and San Antonio the heaviest sufferers among the cities. The San Antonio loss was a matter of a million and Waco's damages was expected to be a great one.

As the water receded, floating livestock in Waco and the middle was put on duty in each. When this afternoon also reported the first fatalities when J. W. Day and C. McDonald fell from a railroad bridge into the Brazos and were seen by the drowned.

From Heame, where heavy rains were reported today in the unexpected rush of the Brazos river, it was reported that horses, mules and cattle drowned down the river. Several hundred Mexicans and negroes fled from Valley Junction to Heame when the water began flowing away from the cotton at the junction. The Brazos leave, twenty-seven miles in length, near Bryan, was reported, holding well with the water within three feet of its top. The state agricultural and mechanical college at College Station, reported that miles of farm lands bordering on the Brazos were under water in that section. At Richmond warnings were sent on every boat to leave the Brazos lowlands immediately.

San Marcos, near San Antonio, was caught in a serious flood which tested only a few hours when Panhandle creek and the San Marcos river suddenly went out of their banks early today. Considerable cotton planted near San Marcos, at Heame a ferry boat was being built today for use near the center of the city.

Austin, where Cameron and sepa-ral small towns have had no train service for two days, New Terrell, today a mile of track in the Red river bottoms on the Midland line was "anchored" to trees by means of chains.

Vernon, where small cattle carriers, reported missing at Hillsboro last night, returned safely today after being held up by high water on his route for twenty-four hours.

OFFICERS CONTINUE TO PUMP GASES INTO MINE

No Sound Since Monday Has Come From Tunnel Where Rafael Lopez Took Refuge From Pursuers.

Albuquerque, N. M., Dec. 4.—More efforts were made today to pump gas into the tunnel where Rafael Lopez took refuge a week ago, than at any time since Monday when the smelting operations began. The efforts announced that the mine would be explosion-proofed.

The use of wet powder to create the deadly mine gases was resumed today and because of its density the time before the gas could be search the workings after the day's workings are finished may be days instead of hours.

The fate of the slaves of five peace officers and a Mexican miner, remained a matter of conjecture, as of the day's work, on the day since Monday. Unhatched and however, was maintained at the tunnel mouth.

SECURE WATER RIGHT TAKES NEW TURN

California Congressman, Who Had Favored Hetch-Hetchy Bill in House, Changes to Opposition.

INTERFERENCE WITH FARMERS ALLEGED

Senator Works and Representative Church Say Great Damage Might Result to Irrigated Crop Growers.

Washington, Dec. 4.—San Francisco's fight for the right to draw its water supply from a reservoir in the Hetch-Hetchy valley, Yosemite national park, took an unexpected turn in the senate tonight, when Senator Works of California, presented a letter from Representative Church of that state, expressing the hope that the senate would defeat the pending bill.

Representative Church, who supported the measure in the house, wrote that he had done so reluctantly because of the fact that the San Joaquin valley had believed their interests were fully protected in the measure. He declared that he was now convinced that the Hetch-Hetchy bill would result in ultimate disaster to the farmers, heretofore friendly to the supply of irrigation water.

The reading of the letter provoked immediate comment. Senator Thomas, who favored the measure, in an extensive speech yesterday, declared it was a remarkable and unique thing for a member of the house who had supported a bill there to write a letter to be read in the other house opposing a bill.

"This gentleman has by the time of the writing of the letter, apparently been a supporter of this bill," he added. "The vote for it in the house and its approval in the senate before the senate committee to support it."

Senator Works insisted that non-residents had been misled by the irrigators and that the rights of the farmers had been fully protected and he said that other members of the house from California had supported the bill because Mr. Church had finally given his consent to its passage.

The passage of this bill, the representative said, would be a disaster to the farmers of the Hetch-Hetchy valley, who had been misled by the
his consent to its passage.

"I regarded it as a business and a moral matter peculiar to the people whom they represented," he added, "and I came to the conclusion that whatever was satisfactory to them, should be satisfactory to me. I regret to say that the men who represented the irrigators were deceived and their acts were repudiated. The people of their districts, as well as the farmers outside the district, are practically a unit in their opposition to the passage of the bill."

In the galleries at the same time the letter was read were a number of city officials of San Francisco, included in the criticism of the Hetch-Hetchy bill. The episode created quite a stir in the senate where feeling has been exhibited for several days between advocates and opponents of the Hetch-Hetchy bill.

Senator Thomas, of North Dakota, spoke in opposition to the measure, taking the position that San Francisco had water supplies more available than that of the Hetch-Hetchy valley.

Another letter figured in the proceedings last tonight. Senator Dillinger submitted one he had received from Tazewell Austin, an engineer of San Francisco, who said the Spring valley water system, which San Francisco was taking steps to secure, could furnish a supply adequate for the needs of the city for the next fifty years and of a better quality than was obtainable from the Hetch-Hetchy valley.

SYRIAN IMMIGRANT DANGEROUSLY INSANE

New York, Dec. 4.—Sirkis, a Syrian immigrant detained at Ellis Island for medical examination since November 15, became violently insane in the detention hospital. He attacked his guard, Vincent Stowe, morally wounded him with a knife, torn at two aged companions, bit and their ears and cheeks severely, and then made for J. E. Leblanc, a waiter. He had nearly severed the waiter's throat with his teeth before he was subdued.

ANOTHER HOTEL FIRE OCCURS IN BOSTON

Boston, Mass., Dec. 4.—The Arcadia hotel catastrophe of yesterday, in which twenty-six men lost their lives, was followed today by another incident. In the 1847 street hotel on Hannover street. The blaze broke out on the top floor of the building, but the firemen, who in minutes, had ample warning and all but one of them escaped. Edward Carroll, a fisherman, died from suffocation.

Mayor Fitzgerald, after he had completed early today a tour of several hours among the injured, houses conducted along the line of the Arcadia, said every one of them should be torn down.

"The confusion," continued the mayor, "was shameless. It is the duty of society to care for the unfortunate who are forced by such mischance for their lodging. I shall suggest the creation of hotel lodging houses by the city of Boston."

5,000 small vermillion covered metal discs as gold coins, were held in jail here today.

BANKS FAVORED BY CURRENCY BILL SAYS REED

Senator Declares Plan to Withdraw All Money From Treasury and Deposit It in Regional Reserves Is Limit.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Senator Reed reviewed the administration bill approved by the senate yesterday in the senate today. He defended the provision that the federal banks be created should be controlled by the member banks, declaring that the banks would not enter a system in which they were not given control of their own resources and capital.

"The main purpose to be accomplished," he said, "is to preserve the integrity and independence of the individual banks in this country. This would not be done under a system which would weld the banks together under a single government-owned institution."

Senator Reed pointed out that while the banks would conduct the business of regional banks under the administration plan, the final power to control the system would be with the government through the federal reserve bank.

"This bill was devised for the benefit of the banks and they ought to be receptive to it in that spirit and not as a hostile measure that is being forced upon them," he continued. "I believe we have gone to the very edge of the precipice when we have agreed to take all the money of the government and put it into these regional banks, which in turn are to be controlled by other banks. The bankers should appreciate that and should realize the full measure of benefit which this bill would confer on them."

CANADA'S PARLIAMENT CALLED TO MEET SOON

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 4.—The first session of Canada's twelfth parliament has been summoned for the "disposal of business" on January 15, next. The date was determined by the problematic session after the sitting of the cabinet today. Aside from the regular government program of legislation there is likely to be considerable tariff discussion and there are evidences that the recent appeal of the Wilfrid Laurier, the opposition leader, for "free trade" is likely to receive considerable attention. It is declared that this proposal does not appeal to the rural members of his party. There are suggestions by numerous liberals for a general downward revision of the tariff and an increase in British imports.

The conservatives, the party in power, have not announced any tariff indications.

BIGGEST SNOWFALL IN YEARS COVERS COLORADO

White Blanket, Two Feet Deep, Isolates Denver Except by Wire Service; Street Cars Completely Blocked.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)

Denver, Dec. 4.—Denver is snow-bound tonight. At 7 o'clock the United States weather bureau reported from twenty to twenty-four inches of snow had fallen in the city and suburbs with no prospect of a cessation for at least ten hours. Since mid-afternoon street car traffic has been completely blocked. Thousands were marooned in the downtown district tonight or were forced to plow their way through two feet of snow over blocks or miles of almost trackless streets.

On the railroads, suburban trains were reported from three to eight hours late. Incoming overland trains were from four to ten hours late and early tonight no attempt was being made to send any train out of Denver.

Telephone companies, which had maintained outside communication throughout the day, were fearful that a sudden drop in temperature would seriously impair, if not entirely disrupt wire service. The local telephone company reported no serious impairment of wires but a shortage of central operators, owing to the fact that many were unable to leave their homes, made telephonic communication slow and uncertain.

Early tonight the thermometer was a trifle under freezing, where it stood ever since the last fall of snow began shortly after midnight last night. The snow, at moderate temperature, fell in a wet, heavy mass that packed easily and added to the difficulty of keeping traffic open. Through the day and early evening there was comparatively little wind, thus minimizing the damage. Only meager reports had been received from outlying cities and towns, but those showed that the record snowfall was general throughout the mountain districts and on the plains east of the Rockies.

At Colorado Springs street car traffic had been tied up since 1 o'clock this morning. Pueblo reported serious interruption of traffic and a heavy snowfall in southeastern Colorado. From Trinidad came reports that traffic in the coal mining district was completely blocked, the strikers' tent colonies and militia camps experiencing considerable inconvenience. Some of the remote tent colonies were completely isolated.

Along parts of the continental divide from thirty-six to forty-eight inches of snow was the reported fall. Advises from the cattle ranches were meager, but indicated that so far there had been no serious loss, owing to the absence of wind and the mild temperature. At Boulder, twenty inches of snowfall broke December records for twenty years.

Reports to the district weather bureau headquarters here tonight showed that Denver, with 1.5 inches, had experienced the heaviest precipitation along the western slope of the Rocky mountains as compared with Pueblo's .99 of an inch and Cheyenne's .46. Hail was falling in western Kansas and Nebraska tonight, at Sterling, La. in northeastern Colorado, and at La Junta, in the southern part of the state. The prediction tonight was for a possible drop of six to eight degrees by morning.

Unofficial reports were that the snowfall ceased at Trinidad and Pueblo, shortly before 5 o'clock. Shortly before 8 o'clock the snow, that had been piling up on the cross-arms all day, began covering the insulators and on many telegraph lines only intermittent communication could be maintained.

At midnight the storm which practically isolated Denver and Colorado from the world had not abated, but the fall of snow was increasing. The government weather bureau closed at nine o'clock and its records told of 24.4 inches of snowfall, and 1.9 inches of precipitation, within the fourteen hours that the storm had been raging here. Only two serious accidents due to the storm were reported to the police tonight.

Mrs. Nellie Foster, aged 59, was found lying in a snowdrift at Ninth and Larimer streets, by the police on patrol duty. She was taken immediately to the emergency hospital in the city hall nearby.

The roof of a building occupied by a motor car company, and the roof of the adjoining building, collapsed last night under its burden of snow. No one was injured but several automobiles were badly damaged.

Not a wheel of traffic turned in Denver after 10 o'clock tonight, and not a train arrived or left the Union depot after six o'clock, save Union Pacific passenger train No. 16, which became snowbound within twenty miles of the city limits. Train service was suspended on the Denver & Rio Grande, the Union Pacific, and the Chicago & Burlington & Quincy railroads. It is doubtful when traffic can be resumed on the roads.

Thousands of workers unable to reach their homes tonight were lodged in hotels and rooming houses, while the overflow of homeless was taken to the municipal auditorium, where cots were supplied for the night.

One thousand men tonight are working on the streets of Denver in an effort to clear the sidewalks and street car tracks, which have a heavy blanket of snow. Teams and wagons are engaged in hauling the snow to the Platte river, but the work of this army of men was scarcely noticeable tonight.

miners and a rescue party of eight have been lost in the blizzard, and other rescue parties, each consisting of eight men, have been searching for hours for the missing ones.

Wyoming reports a general snowfall of about fourteen inches throughout the state. In Cheyenne the snow has reached a depth of sixteen inches. The temperature at all points, both in Colorado and in Wyoming, was relatively mild, and the storm was not accompanied by any great degree of wind. Telephone and telegraph communication, while not demoralized, was badly crippled, and fear of a freeze which would put all lines out of commission was expressed by the Postal and Western Union Telegraph companies tonight.

SNOW AND WIND STORMS VISIT COLORADO SPRINGS

Colorado Springs, Colo., Dec. 4.—With a fall of more than eighteen inches of snow in less than ten hours, Colorado Springs tonight is practically snow-bound. A heavy wind, which has almost reached the proportions of a gale, has piled the snow into drifts from six to ten feet deep throughout the city, making traffic of any description impossible. Street railway lines are completely blocked. Several street cars are derailed and almost completely buried in drifts, between this city and Manitou. Railways, telephone and telegraph service is unharmed.

MANY ROOFS CRUSHED IN BY SNOW AT TRINIDAD

Trinidad, Colo., Dec. 4.—The greatest snowfall since November 21, 1910, was recorded here today when twenty and one-half inches covered the ground.

Many roofs have fallen in, and a severe blizzard is raging in the lower valley near Huerfano.

Traffic is completely tied up and trains from all directions are late. The large tent sheltering horses at Camp Trinidad, gave way this afternoon under the weight of the snow and tonight the horses are being sheltered at local stables.

LEADVILLE REPORTS SEVERE BLIZZARD IS RAGING

Leadville, Colo., Dec. 4.—Snow has been falling steadily for twenty-four hours, and there is no change in the conditions tonight. A blizzard has been blowing most of the evening, and the snow is heavily drifted, interfering somewhat with railroad traffic to the mines. All trains on the Colorado Midland and Rio Grande are delayed and the roads are preparing to send out snow plows.

LINCOLN MEMORIAL CONTRACT QUESTIONED

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 4.—Attorney General McReynolds has decided that the secretary of war is required by law to review the action of the Lincoln Memorial commission, headed by former President Taft, in awarding the contract for the superstructure of the memorial to be erected here to the George A. Fuller company of New York and Chicago, for $160,000. The point was raised by the Georgia congressional delegation, which sought to have George, make good for the memorial located at the more expensive Colorado stone, favored by Mr. Taft and accepted by the commission.

HIGH COST OF LIVING DUE CHIEFLY TO WASTEFULNESS

Senator Gore Tells Agricultural Conference That Farm Soils Are Being Ruined by Careless Methods.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)

Philadelphia, Dec. 4.—Wastefulness on farms and in the cities, failure to fertilize and cultivate millions of idle acres of land in the United States, inadequate means of getting products of soil from the producers to the consumers and extravagant desires of housewives, were set forth today by speakers at the agricultural conference here as contributing causes of the high price of food products. The conference, which will continue three days, was called to discuss the relation of the city and country with reference to the high cost of living.

United States Senator Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma, was the first speaker at the opening session, taking for his subject "The Inter-Relation of City and Country." In speaking of the shortage in production, he said: "Many farms have been 'ruined,' the strength of the soil has been exhausted with no attempt at fertilization and the fields abandoned. He called this treatment a national calamity and added that an agricultural bureau would change such conditions, "which together with wastefulness, both in marketing crops and in the cities, is responsible in a great measure for the cost of living."

Both the farmer and retailer were blamed for the prevailing high prices of eggs by C. L. Opperman, formerly of the United States department of agriculture. He declared that the farmer, with full knowledge, sold bad eggs to the country merchants and commission houses and that the profits were not made by the cold storage houses of the middle men, but by the retailers.

ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS HAVE INNING IN WASHINGTON

Women, and One Man, Opposing Extension of Ballot, Enter Vigorous Protests to Lower House Committee.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Women opposed to equal suffrage had their inning today before the house committee on rules to protest against the extension of the franchise to women, championed by the woman suffragists which would create a suffrage standing committee in the house of representatives. Scores of women from various parts of the country, marshalled by Mrs. Arthur Dodge of New York, appealed to the committee not to grant the suffragists' plea. Tomorrow the suffragists will be given an opportunity to answer the attack. Mrs. Catharine Waugh McColough of Chicago having been chosen to sum up the case.

Though the anti-suffrage women occupied most of the day, their argument was closed by a man, Everett P. Wheeler of New York, representing the Man Suffrage association, who sounded a battle cry against the suffragists. Holding aloft the picture of Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National American Association for Woman Suffrage, Mr. Wheeler said:

"When I saw this person here yesterday shake her clenched fist and declare: 'We demand our rights,' I said to myself, 'Clenched fists mean fight.' The manhood of this nation had been trained to respect and reverence womanhood and I claim that for American manhood today, but if we are challenged to fight this movement there will be blows to give as well as blows to take."

Mr. Wheeler paid a tribute to Miss Jane Addams who addressed the committee yesterday on behalf of equal suffrage, and declared it was "an ill day for the nation when Jane Addams diverted her attention from philanthropy to suffrage."

ALASKAN COAL LAND CLAIMS HELD NOT VALID

Holdings Taken Up Largely by Clerks and Stenographers in Employ of Millionaires, Is Alleged By Government.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)

Seattle, Dec. 4.—The register and recorder of the land office at Juneau, Alaska, handed down a decision on November 28, in the case of the United States vs. Wilbur W. McAlpine and others, recommending that twenty-one coal claims of the so-called McAlpine group of 200, on Cook Inlet, Alaska, be held for cancellation because of fraud.

The promoters of the McAlpine group, who are McAlpine, Albert H. Toehin, George W. Ross, Frank D. Andrus, Arthur L. Holmes and McCurdy C. Lebeaux, all of Detroit, Mich., and John M. Russell, of Chicago, were indicted in Detroit, March 6, 1911, for conspiracy to defraud the United States. The defendants have not yet been brought to trial.

The claimants were mostly clerks and stenographers employed by large corporations in Detroit, who are alleged to have signed powers of attorney and relinquishment when requested by their employers to do so.

The government alleges that the Cook Inlet Coal Fields company, which filed on the McAlpine lands soon after 1900, sold millions of dollars worth of stock in the company, among the investors being John D. Rockefeller and the late H. H. Rogers.

This company sent north the government charges, a number of grating engines, dump cars and steel cars, and built the uninhabited town of Homer, with saloons, dance halls, hotels, etc., in order that pictures might be taken for the prospectus used by sellers of stock. The machinery and other relics were brought to Seattle last week and the "town" is now entirely abandoned.

The Michigan-Alaska Development company, founded by McAlpine and his associates, bought all the property of the Cook Inlet Coal Fields company in 1901 from the recorder of the later corporation, for $10,000. McAlpine had located the coal land, for himself and associates, the previous year.

The coal on the claims is lignite of poor quality according to government experts.

Charges on the against the other McAlpine claimants allege failure to comply with the laws as to development of claims and application for patent.

Former Graft Investigator Appeals to Governor Glynn for Change of Methods of Conducting Examination.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 4.—Although the taking of testimony in the hearing of the charges against John N. Corliss, state highway commissioner, before Special Commissioner James W. O'Brien, began today, John A. Hennessy, former Governor Suiter's deposed investigator, occupied the center of the stage. He became involved in several wrangles with Corliss and the opposing attorneys and later appealed by letter to Governor Glynn in an effort to have the commissioner change the method of investigation. Hennessy desires the charges against himself and others as individuals inquired into, rather than have a general inquiry into the highway department.

Henry A. Rubino, an attorney, pressing the charges for the Warner-Quinn Asphalt company, was the special target for Hennessy's verbal onslaught. Rubino issued a statement in which he declared that "when Hennessy is under oath and he and his checkbooks are under investigation he will be able to make all his explanations."

Rubino stated that James K. McGuire, former mayor of Syracuse, and George McGuire, both of whom have figured in the John Doe investigation in New York, would, in all probability, be called as witnesses.

President of Baseball Players' Fraternity Does Not Believe Reports of Signing of Contracts by Major Stars.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.

New York, Dec. 4.—President David L. Fultz, of the Baseball Players' Fraternity, issued a statement tonight, in which he denied a report that a number of major league players, members of the fraternity, had signed contracts to play with various clubs in the Federal league in 1914. His statement on the subject follows:

"I do not believe the report that a number of the players in organized baseball have signed with the Federal league, for the reason that, 22 per cent of the players in the four major leagues have stated to me personally that they would not sign with anyone until contracts satisfactory to the fraternity were procured. As the advisory board has not yet passed upon the Federal league contract and as no agreement has yet been reached with organized ball, any player who signs a contract with either faction at the present time will be considered to have committed an act of hostility to the fraternity which may amount to cause for expulsion.

"We understand that the Federal league contract, which will be submitted to us within the next week, will comply with all our requests; if so, the fraternity will place no obstacle in the way of the players signing when the proper time comes, if they think the move a wise one."

"A few of the players may have signed already and a number more may have agreed to do so when the contract is approved, but there is not the slightest doubt in the mind of any member of the advisory board that the players with few exceptions will remain absolutely loyal to the fraternity, and will follow out the plan agreed upon several months ago."

The board of review today refused to commit to S. S. Bailey of Pleasanton, Cal., a $250 fine placed against his horse, "Frank Childs," by the Niagara Race association, on the ground that his horse had not been driven to win.

Arguments Submitted at Santa Fe in Suit to Decide Whether Jacobo Chavez Is to Retire as Commissioner.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)

Santa Fe, Dec. 4.—In the state supreme court this forenoon the case of the State of New Mexico, ex rel Jacobo Chavez, appellant, vs. William G. Sargent, auditor of the state of New Mexico, appellee, from Santa Fe county, upon which depends the further continuance of the office of insurance commissioner, was argued and submitted. The state corporation commission has assumed some of the duties of the commissioner and there is no available appropriation to pay for the continuation of the office, but the law creating the office was never specifically repealed. Jacobo Chavez is the incumbent of the office and Peter A. M. Lienau is his assistant.

The case of the State of New Mexico, ex rel Isaac B. Beach, appellant, vs. Board of Loan Commissioners of the state of New Mexico, appellee, from Santa Fe county, was also argued and submitted.

In the case of City of Tucuman, appellant, vs. D. A. Belmonte, appellee, from Quay county, the judgment of the lower court was modified and then affirmed. The case arose out of the enforcement of an ordinance forbidding the erection of frame buildings and their maintenance within prescribed fire limits of the city of Tucuman.

The first case is a judgment for violation of Section 6 of Ordinance No. 47, which prohibits wooden buildings within certain prescribed fire limits of the city, and the second case is a judgment for the violation of Section 15 of the Ordinance, which prohibits the keeping and maintaining of such buildings within such fire limits, each day they are so kept or maintained constituting a separate offense.

Syllabus by the Court.

1. The addition or omission of the suffix "jr." is immaterial in either a civil or criminal proceeding. The person so styled is presumed, in the absence of some proof to the contrary, to be the same person referred to whenever his name appears with, or without, the suffix.

2. Where, in a judgment covering several cases, by inadvertence or otherwise, one or more cases are included over which the court had no jurisdiction to render judgment, the court has jurisdiction, under Section 28 of Chapter 52 of the Laws of 1907, to modify the judgment by eliminating such case, or cases, from the judgment.

3. Where a city ordinance is not before the court, and where a judgment for violation of the same is an ordinary judgment for money, in the amount of a fine, and where no imprisonment is imposed, and where the nature of the act charged against the defendant is not criminal in character and is not punishable by any general law of the state, but relates solely to a local regulation of the city for the safety and welfare of its inhabitants, the proceedings will be treated by the court as a civil and not a criminal proceeding.

4. Where the certificate of the trial judge to an alleged bill of exceptions is not certified to by the clerk of the court, and is not shown to have been filed in the clerk's office, neither the alleged bill of exceptions to which it relates, nor the said certificate will be considered by this court.

Difficulties With Which Eastern Section of State Must Cope Typically Illustrated in Report.

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 4.—The difficulties with which the eastern plains counties must cope in maintaining public schools in sparsely settled districts are typically illustrated in the school figures for Curry county today made public by the state department of education and which are based upon the figures furnished in his annual report by County Superintendent L. C. Menzies, regarded as one of the most active and efficient of the twenty-six county superintendents in the state.

Nineteen school teachers in Curry county receive less than $300 a year; twenty-six have to be satisfied with from $200 to $300 a year; seven get $300 to $400, eight $400 to $500 and only five above $500, the highest salary being $1,012.50 a year. Of the sixty-five teachers, thirty-five are men, twenty-one are women who receive an average salary of $305.22 and forty-four women who get an average salary of $244.75. It is true, some of them teach an average of only four to ten pupils and none of them have very large classes, the average attendance out of the school population being only 540, or less than 15 per teacher. Thirty-seven teachers receive less than $50 a month, eighteen get $50, one gets $55, five get $60, two get $65, one gets $70 and one gets $112.50.

Of the sixty school districts, one has four rooms, one has three rooms and fifty-eight have only one room. There is one four-room school house, two three-room school houses, five two-room and the rest are one-room school houses. Four are described as being in excellent condition, eighteen in good condition, twenty-five as fair, and thirteen as poor. Fifty-four are owned and six rented, fifty-seven are frame, and one each adobe, stone and brick.

The average length of school terms in only 5.37 months a year. In fact seventeen districts had less than five months school, twenty-four had five months, seven had six months, four had seven months, one had seven and one-half months, nine had nine months and one had eleven months. The enrollment was 1,498, of which fifty were in the primary, 193 in the first, 135 in the second, 242 in the third, 135 in the fourth, 213 in the fifth, 154 in the sixth, 142 in the seventh, forty-two in the eighth, twenty in the ninth, eight in the tenth and none in the eleventh or twelfth. The fact that the climax of enrollment is reached in the third grade is significant of the large number of pupils who drop out after the third grade, indicating a demand for industrial training that would keep them in school.

It is remarkable that of the teachers, though poorly paid, so many hold high grade certificates, one having a professional life certificate, sixteen first grade, thirty-eight second and ten third grade certificates. It is also noteworthy that twenty-one of the schools have libraries with a total of 844 volumes valued at $474.79. Three of the schools teach agriculture, two manual training and one domestic science.

The mandate reversed the judgment of the federal district court, but the United States attorney reported the death of Felipe Sandoval, the defendant, and the case was thereupon abated.

John H. Young, of Gallup, was discharged from bankruptcy this forenoon.

The Beer of individuality and quality

From a German Medical Opinion

The intoxicating action of beer is very much less than that of wine and whiskey; and as it gradually tends to suppress the use of the latter, it accomplishes a high mission in the history of civilization. The intoxicating action of the small quantity of alcohol (in beer) is neutralized by the carbonic acid and the malt extract. Hops in small quantities stimulates the appetite and promotes evacuation, (or acts as a laxative.) Beer is very nutritious when consumed with meat, cheese and bread and it is greatly undervalued as promoting health and robustness.

INSPECTION OF NEW MEXICO NATIONAL

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 4.—Governor McDonald and Adjutant General Herring last evening inspected Company E, the regimental band and regimental headquarters in the armory. The troops were on dress parade and made a good showing, but were disappointed because so few visitors were present.

It is the desire of the military authorities that the public turn out at the inspections arranged in the future for this month so as to show some interest in the militia. Few, if any ex-servicemen of other states, are willing to give so much of their time in one month to National Guard affairs as Governor McDonald will do between December 5 and 19, when the entire guard will be inspected and during which Governor McDonald will seek to create greater interest in the organization.

The war department is putting on the "screws" and unless New Mexico makes the proper showing, numbers in three more companies and recruits existing companies up to the required strength, it will not receive the federal appropriation on a regimental basis as heretofore. It therefore becomes the duty of every patriotic citizen to take part.

Governor McDonald and Adjutant General Herring expect a big turnout of the public at the inspection at Albuquerque on December 12.

NEW MEXICO-TEXAS BOUNDARY SUIT IS PROCEEDING SLOWLY

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 4.—Word received from El Paso today shows that the New Mexico-Texas boundary hearing is still dragging along. Agapito Marquez, an aged resident of La Mesa, has been on the stand for two days. Because of his advanced years he was unable to speak loudly enough for the interpreter to hear and it took an unusual amount of time to record his evidence. He wore a faded suit and a fuzzy brown sombrero and tried to describe where flowed the muddy Rio Grande fifty years ago between Alamogordo and Piedra de Amolar, but developed nothing new. E. C. Wade, Sr., has joined Attorney General Frank W. Clancy in representing New Mexico. Assistant Attorney General C. W. Taylor of Austin, represented the Lone Star state.

CONSUL GENERAL TO MRS. PANKHURST IS INVESTIGATION OF LIST OF 'DON'TS' FOR CALF BUYERS FOR PACKERS CHARGED WITH CRIME

John L. Griffiths Declares Three Presidents, Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson, Responsible for Good Service Abroad.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) London, Dec. 4.—The members of the American London club, a new organization conducting largely of business men, gave a dinner tonight in honor of the American consul general, John L. Griffiths. It was a tribute to his popularity and services.

Baron Charwood, the club's president, proposed the consul general's health and spoke of the influence he exercised in cementing English and American friendship. The American ambassador, Walter H. Page, who occupied the chair tonight, presented Mr. Griffiths in behalf of the club, with a handsome loving cup.

The consul general in responding said the club was composed of good Americans who believed that a man who was not a passionate lover of his own country was an undesirable alien in any land.

While the progressive and permanent character of the American consular service, he said, "is due to the initiative of three presidents, Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson, and the sympathetic attitude of the state department, the work of reconstruction and reform has been greatly facilitated by the intelligent recognition of the needs of the service by American living abroad. It is true of all our great services—the army, the navy, and the civil service—that they require the active cooperation and sympathy of the citizens to enable them to be most efficient."

In addition to a representative gathering of Americans there were many English guests, including Baron Shaw, of Dunfermline; Baron Emmott, parliamentary secretary of the colonial office; Edmund Combe, librarian of the house of lords, and Hilarie Helios, the author.

Militant Leader Arrested by Police on Board Liner Before Sympathizers Can Interfere in Her Behalf.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Exeter, England, Dec. 4.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, was lodged today in Exeter jail. The police who arrested her on board the Majestic on her arrival from New York outwitted the women sympathizers who had been watching to resist her arrest. After she and the officers landed from a tug at a dock on the Tamar river, they started off in the direction of London but afterwards changed their route and made direct for this city and reached their destination without encountering any obstruction.

WOMEN LEAD TO SUFFRAGE LEADER FROM OFFICERS

Plymouth, Dec. 4.—Wind and weather today helped the police evade the posse of suffragettes who had planned to prevent the re-arrest of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst under the provisions of the "cat and mouse" act. A heavy sea was running in the harbor when the steamship Majestic anchored shortly after noon. The waves, while they did not affect the powerful police tug, were too much for the little motor boat which the militant suffragettes had engaged to head off the policemen. The occupants, who included "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, and other leaders, were drenched to the skin before they reached the liner.

The Majestic, under police orders, had anchored outside the breakwater. She delayed the little suffragette warship so much that it did not arrive at the side of the big liner until the police were leading Mrs. Pankhurst down the gangway. The militants shouted to her through their megaphones: "Don't land; the cat is after you."

Mrs. Pankhurst protested against her arrest and asked to see the warrant. It was explained to her that no warrant was necessary. At her request, Mrs. Child Dorr, an American suffragist, was permitted to accompany her. Six policemen and a warship boarded the steamer to prevent any of the passengers interfering with the officers delegated to make the actual arrest.

In the meantime, the ordinary tender, on which were many suffragettes, armed with clubs, was kept standing off and the armed body guard was rendered helpless. Bodies of suffragettes were on guard outside all the prisons in the south of England to which it was thought Mrs. Pankhurst might be taken. During the night at Bristol the women who took sentry duty in relays outside the jails were attacked by a hostile crowd and several people were hurt in the struggle.

LONDON SUFFRAGISTS MAKE VIGOROUS DENUNCIATION

London, Dec. 4.—The Women's Social and Political union, the militant suffrage organization, issued the following announcement this afternoon: "The Women's Social and Political union views with great indignation the government's action in arresting Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst on her return from her triumphant tour in the United States. It denounces as a public scandal this act of injustice on the part of the government while Sir Edward Carson, Andrew Bonar Law and other men lawbreakers remain free. It demands her instant release."

At a meeting of the Women's Social and Political union, at Hayeswater tonight, Mrs. Dore-Fox said that the militants would immediately start a campaign at Exeter which she was certain would speedily result in the release of Mrs. Pankhurst, who was locked up in Exeter jail today. She added that as a protest against the arrest of Mrs. Pankhurst money had been raised to the organization from the United States.

Mrs. Dore-Fox, describing the arrest of Mrs. Pankhurst, said that when the suffragist motorboat attempted to follow the police boat, two battleships were drawn up in front to defend the chief constable and his officers from a handful of militant suffragettes.

SEARCH FOR BANDIT PROVES UNSUCCESSFUL

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Winnipeg, Man., Dec. 4.—The search for the bandit who yesterday killed the manager of the Plum Coulee branch of the bank of Montreal after robbing the bank, temporarily was abandoned tonight when the automobile squads returned to Winnipeg, ending an all-day man hunt in the vicinity of Morris, Man. It is believed the bandit made his way to Winnipeg under cover of darkness.

William Dyck who told the police he was forced to drive the bandit from the city after the robbery, was arrested tonight and $200 in silver was found beneath the seat of his automobile. The police said he told contradictory stories regarding the robbery.

Witnesses Assert Bell Company Uses Unfair Methods to Crush Out Competition of Rival Concerns.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Philadelphia, Dec. 4.—Taking of testimony in the government's suit against the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., on a charge of violating the Sherman anti-trust law was resumed here today.

C. M. Thompson, representing a telephone equipment manufacturing concern, testified that competition had forced the Bell Telephone company, which is operated by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., to lower its rates in this city.

Charles E. Bailey, superintendent of the Postal Telegraph company, stated that the treatment accorded his company by the Bell had been very unsatisfactory since the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. had assumed control of the Western Union. The Bell company, he testified, had diverted business of patrons of the Postal to the Western Union for transmission.

F. C. Redfield, of Syracuse, N. Y., formerly a clerk in the office of the general manager of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., testified that on many occasions officials of the New England company, which he declared was a subsidiary of the defendant company, had dictated the policy of newspapers by giving them advertising.

"On many occasions editorialists attacking rival telephone companies or praising their own concerns were prepared in the office of the general manager of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. Mr. Redfield testified. "They did everything possible to wipe out of existence competing telephone companies and when they had accomplished their end they advanced rates and told us they pleased."

Thousands of Welsh Miners Idle. London, Dec. 4.—Near 20,000 miners in South Wales are idle through the spread of the great western railway strike. The strike originated through the dismissal of an engine driver, and although it was not authorized by the union, the movement has developed rapidly.

"Don't purchase jewelry on the street."

NO RETURNS FROM NON-TAXABLE PERSONS

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Washington, Dec. 4.—Treasury officials have decided what they consider one of the most important questions which has arisen in connection with the collection of the income tax—whether only persons who have incomes taxable under the law shall make returns or whether every individual in the country or claiming American citizenship must certify he is, or is not, taxable.

Officials believe that they have power under the law to require every person in all the millions of Americans to make return to the revenue collector of the district to claim exemption, if entitled to it, but to make some showing. After long consideration, however, it has been decided that this power will not be exerted and that returns will be required only from persons taxable.

No details of today's disturbances have been received.

CONSUMER CAUGHT BY MIDDLEMEN SAYS EXPERT

Only Sixty-one Cents' Worth of Food Is Received for Each Dollar Expended by Purchaser.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) New York, Dec. 4.—It costs thirty-nine cents to distribute one dollar's worth of food in this city. The bureau of food supply of the New York association for improving the condition of the food has been conducting a cost of living inquiry, and made public a report today showing that sixty-one cents represents the cost of food on its arrival at the terminal markets here, while the rest of the consumer's dollar is divided between wholesaler and retailer in the process of getting the food to the consumer's kitchen.

"Every consumer," said Bailey B. Burdett, who directed the inquiry, "is amazed at the constantly diminishing quantity of food that his dollar brings to him, and every producer is equally amazed at the small proportion of the consumer's dollar that finds its way into his pocket." The remedy, the report asserts, is a reorganization of the food distribution system based on the results of careful experiments with the economic efficiency of various methods of retail distribution. These experiments, it is not forth, should be made by a group of individuals with no thought of profit.

LAVISHED STOLEN MONEY ON WOMAN

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) New York, Dec. 4.—John C. Schindler, the $13-a-week bookkeeper who recently pleaded guilty to stealing more than $20,000 from the Washburn-Crosby Flour Milling company, his employers, was sentenced today to Sing Sing prison for not less than two and one-half years nor more than four years and eight months.

Schindler admitted on the witness stand that the greater portion of the money he had stolen was spent on a young woman to whom he had given among other valuable presents, an automobile and $15,000 worth of jewelry.

Conspiracy Alleged by Which Stock Growers Sold at Much Lower Figures Than Market Warranted.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Kansas City, Dec. 4.—The alleged story of how the local calf market was manipulated by buyers of three large packing companies and John H. Alken and Orlando S. Bone, of the Missouri & Kansas Cattle & Calf Co., was told at the trial of Alken and Bone today by John Eldridge, a former buyer for Morris & Co., packers, Alken and Bone are charged with embezzlement and obtaining money by trick in connection with their alleged "corner" of the market.

Eldridge declared he agreed to receive a commission of 3 cents a hundred pounds for all veal that he bought of the Missouri & Kansas Co., for his firm. He said he would go to the stock yards and bid as low on incoming consignments of calves that the commission men, representing farmers, refused to sell, thus leaving Alken and Bone, who were alleged to have had similar contracts with other packer buyers, a clear field to pick up the shipments at their own price.

The packers' representatives, Eldridge said, would then buy the calves from Alken and Bone and receive their "commission." Eldridge testified the price paid by Morris & Co. often exceeded the market price of calves from 25 to 40 cents a hundred.

By turning state's evidence, Eldridge hopes to escape prosecution. The loss sustained by the packing companies is said to exceed $200,000.

STICK TO FARM IS SPEAKER CLARK'S ADVICE

Reception Is Held by Ohio Congressional Delegation for Twelve Hundred Boy and Girl Corn Growers.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Washington, Dec. 4.—"Stick to the farm and keep out of politics," was the admonition given to some twelve hundred boy and girl corn growers from Ohio, by Speaker Champ Clark at a reception tendered the young farm experts here tonight by the Ohio congressional delegation.

Speaker Clark declared that the farm was the proper place for men and that legislators who amounted to anything in this country, were either born or brought up in rural districts.

Senator Pomeroy told the girls: "If I was a girl I would rather be able to bake a good loaf of bread than dance the tango. I would rather be able to put a good meal of victuals on the family table than be the queen of the social world."

Rites: May Become Premier.

Paris, Dec. 4.—The ministerial crisis is a step nearer settlement tonight. President Poincare, after lengthy consultations today with M. OLD MEDICINE MAN IS GLAD THAT HE SURRENDERED

Be Zho She, Leader of Navajos at Beautiful Mountain, Says He Could Not Lie to General Scott.

Be Zho She, leader of the Navajos in his defiance to federal authority, is satisfied that the breaking of the treaty of the peace between the government and his tribesmen ended in its inception.

"It is well," said the aged medicine man last night on his way to the Gallup jail. He and the six Navajos, who surrendered to Brigadier General Hugh L. Scott, and who were sentenced yesterday in Santa Fe, were taken on the Santa Fe train No. 2. Be Zho She cannot speak English. He speaks through Chief Dodge, interpreter, who accompanied Father Anselmo Weber and General Scott to Beautiful Mountain.

Be Zho She seemed to be in a somewhat mood last night when train No. 2, bound for the Santa Fe station here, it was his second ride on a train—his first having been from Gallup to Santa Fe several days ago—but he no longer seemed to mind the old medicine man would have given up. He said Be Zho She was old.

"I could not lie to him," said Be Zho She, answering a question as to why he had yielded after he was reported to have asserted he would resist until all winter.

Chief Dodge added that General Scott knew Indian manners and his knowledge gained in prairie warfare years ago stood him in good stead in dealing with the Navajos at Beautiful Mountain. Chief Dodge, who is perhaps the richest man among the Navajos, was with General Scott during the thirty-day siege of the mountain. He is a leading hunter. He tried to kill Be Zho She and the others to lay down their arms. He is a man of influence among the Navajos and it is said that he has been proffered the chieftainship of all the Navajo people, among them he is known also as "Old Medicine Man."

Be Zho She kept reiterating his respect for General Scott. The general

PLANS BREWERY IMPROVEMENTS

E. K. Beddall Arrives From New York, Where He Arranged for Larger Operations by the Southwestern Brewery & Ice Company.

Albuquerque is to have one of the largest and finest breweries in the country, with a new bottled beer which will be sold in the New York market as well as here, according to E. K. Beddall, who arrived from New York yesterday.

The Southwestern Brewery & Ice Co., of which he is a director, has just made arrangements with Otto W. Helbig, of New York, and his staff of engineers and brewery experts, to increase and improve the facilities of the local plant, so that its operations may be country-wide.

Up to this time even the local market has not been covered by the local brewery. Whether from a lack of local pride or for some other reason, residents of Albuquerque and New Mexico have been encouraging breweries from outside, in spite of the freight rates which have to be figured into the selling price and which foreign product costs more than Albuquerque beer.

Mr. Helbig tells Mr. Beddall that he is going to show the country what this means in the improved character of the beer. While a New Yorker now, Mr. Helbig is a westerner by birth and sympathy. He likes the outdoors and the freedom of the life here. He likes the sunshine and the air, and he says that he will bottle up some of the sunshine yet. With the air—the cool, clear filtered air, as he calls it, he is going to give beer as it has never been given before. It is this aging which gives it the mellowness that makes it refreshing and at once a good digestant and health giver.

Mr. Helbig is a director of the Southwestern Brewery & Ice Co., which is now in the process of being reorganized. The new company will have a capital of $1,000,000. It will have a plant of 1,000,000 gallons a day. It will have a plant of 1,000,000 gallons a day. It will have a plant of 1,000,000 gallons a day.

NO HOPE OF EARLY END TO COLORADO LABOR WAR

Secretary of Labor Wilson Abandons Efforts to Bring Peace and Will Return to Washington City.

Denver, Dec. 4.—Secretary of Labor Wilson today abandoned hope of bringing about a voluntary settlement of the strike in the southern Colorado coal fields, and left for the snow storm which prevented trains from leaving Denver, would have returned to Washington tonight.

Delegates from the Colorado state federation of labor, it is said, have been sent out among all of the affiliated trade unions to campaign for the state-wide strike which is expected will be called in Colorado after the convention of union delegates here December 14.

Governor Ammons tonight was notified that labor leaders were getting very active in the circulation of a petition for the removal of Adjutant General John Chalmers, in charge of the state militia, now stationed in the strike zone. The governor, however, denied that the petition had been presented to him, though labor men declared such had been the case.

No trouble was reported from any portion of the strike territory today. The rumor which had been given circulation during the day to the effect that the United States department of justice had virtually ordered United States District Attorney Harry Kelley to withhold issuance of warrants for the arrest of the union men indicted by the Pueblo grand jury recently, was positively denied by Washington.

DON'T SCOLD AN IRRITABLE CHILD

If Little Tongue Is Coated, Surely Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and nervous. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, constipation, gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's use; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

FOREIGNER WROTE VIENNESE OPERA, THE ROSE MAID

Bruno Granichstaedton, Man of Unpronounceable Name, Responsible for Delightful Musical Comedy.

One of the most spectacular musical personages to arrive in America last winter was Bruno Granichstaedton, the gifted Viennese composer, whose new opera, "The Rose Maid," is coming to this city on Saturday night.

He has given America a sister success to "The Spring Maid." The composer of the unpronounceable name was the first of the light opera kings of Vienna to visit this country, and he was interpreted and "written up" in every New York paper. He was found to be a most eccentric individual of ultra-aristocratic bearing, and during his stay in America, changed his clothes at least three times daily.

He visited Washington while on this side and paid his respects to the American ambassador in full evening clothes at high noon, and entertained the attaches of the embassy at the first performance of "The Rose Maid" in Baltimore a week later.

There is nothing unusual in the name of Granichstaedton, but the scope of his opera was found to be brilliant with ambitious melodies. It has wit and a touch of the comic, and "The Rose Maid" is a masterpiece of Viennese opera.

During his stay in America, Granichstaedton visited every cafe and restaurant in New York to study the character of the American customer. He himself is famous on the continent for his cabaret music, and expects to have a typical New York cabaret in his next opera scheduled for production at the Johann Strauss theater, Vienna, during the winter. Although only twenty-eight years old, Granichstaedton has two successful running abroad.

SANTA FE WOMAN POSSESSES COPY OF ANCIENT PLAY

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 4.—A complete copy of the ancient play of "The Three Kings" has been secured by Mrs. I. H. Hays of Santa Fe. She made the find in Taos recently, where she also secured the copy of the Pastoral in its original form and many years old. She will read the play to the Archaeological society at its next meeting, at which it will also be interpreted. The find was reported to the meeting of the society last evening over which Historian H. M. Reed presided.

The society formally expressed its appreciation and gratitude to Mrs. Frank Springer for his gift of a series of mural paintings that will illustrate the life of St. Francis of Assisi.

The following were admitted to membership: Alonzo Montoya, J. J. Spaulding, J. T. Hughes and Mrs. Frank Springer of Albuquerque; Miss Mary Disette, Executive; W. M. Sloan, of Las Cruces; H. H. Hamilton, of Carlsbad; Mrs. Addison Hall, of Albuquerque; Miss Montoya, of Taos; Ralph C. Ely, of Deming; Mrs. B. F. Pankey, of Collette; D. O. Murphy and Capt. J. C. Troutman, of Roswell; Thomas P. Gable, of Dawson; C. S. Cramer, of Springer; J. M. Hawkins, of Alamogordo; Mrs. Joe Lockhard, of Baton; Mrs. C. A. Haynes and Mrs. Eva Castle, of Santa Fe.

POSTMASTER GIVES RULES FOR SENDING PACKAGES

As a means of facilitating the work of handling the parcels post Christmas business, R. W. Hopkins, postmaster of Albuquerque, has prepared some suggestions for the use of patrons. They are:

In mailing articles of merchandise (parcels post packages), it is most important that senders shall observe the following instructions:

1. Pack or wrap your parcels well, placing articles in a strong cardboard or wooden box, those not easily and safely made into a bundle. Bundles should be wrapped into a compact package and covered with strong paper of several thicknesses. Write the address plainly with pen and ink. Write your return address plainly on the upper left hand corner; this is important as parcels without return address are unobtainable.

2. Parcels post packages, unless sealed and prepaid at the first-class rates (2 cents per ounce or fraction), cannot be sent by registered mail, but may be sent by insured mail, which practically is the same. The fee for insurance is 3 cents up to $25 valuation; above $25 and not to exceed $50, above $50 and not to exceed $100.

3. The department has established terminals at the important offices throughout the country and taken every precaution to promote the efficiency of the service and to guard against congestion, but three patrons by all means to mail their Christmas parcels early. Don't wait to mail your packages until such time as you think they will barely have time to reach the destination office on Christmas day, but mail them not later than December 20. Those going to the more remote parts of the country should be mailed a few days earlier than this.

4. If patrons will observe these suggestions they will assist materially in relieving the congestion.

HARWOOD SCHOOL IS INSPECTED BY DR. E. D. FORSYTHE

Dr. E. D. Forsythe, superintendent of the Denver district of the Methodist Episcopal church and special agent of the educational society of this denomination, spent yesterday in Albuquerque, inspecting the Harwood mission school here. Dr. Forsythe looked into local conditions with a view to re-opening the school on a larger scale, conducting both the high school and theological departments, and also placing under cultivation the school farm. While here Dr. Forsythe was the guest of Dr. Thomas Harwood and Rev. S. Alonzo Bright. The visitor left yesterday afternoon in return to his headquarters at Denver. He seemed favorably impressed with Albuquerque and it is believed he will make a favorable report on the re-opening of the school.

They say that some of our Albuquerque young men are expert lovers. If you don't believe it, see them in Pinafore, December 11.

SENATOR CUMMINS' LAMENT.

It begins to look as if the democrats of the senate, together with such republicans as may agree with their views on the subject, will have to pass the currency bill without having the advantage of a public expression from Senator Cummins.

"The bill has been considered and passed elsewhere," declared the Iowa senator yesterday. "There will be no real debate in this chamber; it will be simply a farce. I hesitate to participate in it, for I do not want to give it before the country the color of actual deliberation. And," he concludes with becoming solemnity, "I cannot believe the American people will for a long period tolerate this legislation by caucus."

This is an awful warning, but we apprehend that it will fall on deaf ears. Senator Cummins' protest against the passage of the currency bill—his lament for the sacrifice of the rights of the countrymen—is not convincing. His conversion is too recent. It has been too short a while ago that he himself participated in and received the benefit of the actions of a party caucus. Somehow, his words fail to ring true.

And, what is more to the point, there is no evidence that these tragic protests from Senator Cummins and those who express similar sentiments have disturbed in the least the tranquillity of the American people. After all, it is largely a question of whom is fooled. Legislation by caucus will be tolerated just so long as it accomplishes the results for which the men who compose the caucus were put in office. When the caucus begins to do things that are not pleasing to the men behind the ballot, the caucus will have to go.

As was pointed out by the New York World in a recent editorial, the talk of President Wilson being a "causer" is the veriest humbug. The American people are the cause who are dictating the present procedure in congress, and there will be few to deny that this sort of caucus is easily to be preferred to the kind that was exercised by the unimpeached Aldrich.

We shall hate to miss the debate which Senator Cummins threatens not to make, but under the circumstances we shall have to get along as best we can.

CURING THE LAW'S DEFECTS.

Senator Walsh, of Montana, has a bill before the senate by which he hopes to cure the defects of the Revolutionary amendment to the constitution by which provision is made for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

Before putting Koko and his friends to death for the crime of unwittingly compassing the death of the heir apparent to the throne of Japan, the Mikado consoles them with the remark: "It's the sleeveless way our laws are drawn. I'd have it altered at the next session." Then he ordered the execution to go on.

While the comic opera is burlesque always, the Mikado was based on truth, else it would not have been so deliciously satirical. How often our courts are called on to witness the law from the jaws of ambiguous phrases, put into the acts by our lawmakers.

In the seventeenth amendment, there are two conflicting clauses which already have put the senatorial succession in both Alabama and Maryland in doubt. One of them provides that the amendment shall not affect the election or term of any senator chosen before it became valid. The other provision requires governor's to issue writs of election whenever vacancies occur.

The difficulty in Alabama is to fill out the unexpired term of the late Senator Johnston. The governor, acting under the first provision, appointed Representative Clayton, but the senate showed unmistakable signs that it would not recognize the appointment as valid. It was intimated that the governor should have issued a writ for an election. But the legislature of Alabama not having met since the amendment passed, no provision had been made for holding such an election. At the request of President Wilson, Mr. Clayton withdrew and the governor named a democratic editor of Birmingham for the position.
 But the senate gives no sign of recognizing the act as valid.

The governor of Maryland, in a similar contingency, ordered an election and Blair Lee had a large majority of the vote cast. Now there is an opinion in Washington that his election cannot be recognized.

The framers of the amendment wanted to have it applicable in all states where the legislature had provided the necessary election machinery, and yet they didn't want to disturb the old order in other states until the present senatorial terms had expired.

The Walsh bill proposes to iron out the difficulties and permit elections to be held under the machinery already in operation in the various states of the union. But the amendment itself affords ample evidence of the necessity for the creation of a bill-drawing bureau.

OUR FOREIGN POLICY.

A writer in the Century Magazine intimates that President Wilson is really interested in the domestic affairs of the nation and is trying to have them properly administered. On the other hand, it is intimated that Mr. Wilson knows little of and cares nothing about our foreign relations, therefore he has used the state department to pay political debts, including the appointment of the secretary.

There has been considerable criticism of the character of the diplomatic service abroad. In some quarters it is intimated that the two Pages—Walter Hines Page at London, and Thomas Nelson Page at Rome—are about the only members of the diplomatic service to whom we may point with pride.

The writer in the Century has mistaken a symptom for the real disease.
 The trouble is that we have no foreign policy, consistent with itself from one administration to another. If we had such policy, it would develop an efficient diplomatic service. As it is, not only has Mr. Wilson used foreign posts to pay political debts, but the same policy has been pursued by all presidents preceding him. Until the country develops a real foreign policy, it is useless to deplore the kind of material sent abroad to represent this country.

The speech of Colonel Roosevelt at Buenos Ayres indicates that he has a fairly adequate idea of what the country needs in that respect. But as with many other things, the colonel was the diplomatic service now in a different way from that in which he acted while he had the power.

Since the civil war, this nation has had four real secretaries of state—Blaine, Olney, Hay and Root. The others have been mere makeshifts named usually, as in the case of William Jennings Bryan, because some political end was served thereby.

So long as we pursue the foreign policy that has marked practically all administrations since the civil war, which is to have no policy, it is a matter of small concern whether this or that man is sent to a foreign capital, assuming, of course, that he is rich enough to pay the bills which this nation refuses to foot and has brains enough not to make the country ridiculous.

THE LAW'S DELAY.

The court of appeals of New York soon will have the case of former Police Lieutenant Becker and the convicted gunmen before it. There has been a delay of about a year since the conviction of those men, and following the custom of the court where the cases now are to be heard, the country will appreciate the observation of Mr. Dooley, who said: "The judge puts on his black cap and says, 'The jury having found you guilty of murder in the first degree I now sentence you to the court of appeals for the rest of your natural life, and may God have mercy on your soul!'"

Poultry experts say the hens should be amused if best results are to be obtained. The best way we can suggest for the amusement of the hens would be to have them watch the antics of the city man when he tries to break the high price of eggs from five hens and a rooster.

Miss Wilson listened, the other day, to a long debate in the senate on the currency measure. It is safe to say that she told papa that it didn't amount to much.

When President Wilson refused to sign Owen Armour, it is possible that he understood Secretary Tumulty to say that it was a man with a meat bill.

When the republic of Colombia thinks of the Panama canal incident and of Roosevelt, it must sympathize with the republican party.

It is said that President Wilson heaved a sigh of relief when Vice President Marshall returned to the capital.

American Marines Again in Forefront

PROBABLY every naval or military activity in which the United States has engaged, whether it has been a matter of actual warfare or merely the reaching out of a helping hand to some smaller republic, has caused some readjustment in the estimate of the value of the defensive forces of the country. In one instance the importance of speedy battleships may have been shown; in another the need of a plentiful supply of army transports; or again, the important importance of the cavalry as a unit of a modern army.

At the present moment, when movement of vessels and troops is taking place in connection with the Mexican situation, attention is being directed to the marine corps, which probably would be among the first called on should the protection of Americans in that country be deemed necessary, and who in this case would be taking a leading part in carrying out the policy of the United States towards its neighbor.

When a great nation is called upon to render its protection or aid to a small and distant country, it does not rely upon the sending of many ships or the marching of a military force overland. Its first expression of vigorous good will usually takes the form of landing parties or garrisons drafted from the marine corps.
 For this reason one sometimes thinks of the marine corps and the marine corps of the United States at the same time, and therein lies the reason for the opinion that the growing intimacy between the countries of North and South America may allow this branch of the service to reveal more fully its value.

That the marines have not been able to establish definitely their position before has been due to the varying modes of warfare and the anomalous position that they have ever occupied as half soldier and half sailor. From the time of the marine's first official appearance on shipboard he has been the object of more or less scorn on the part of the sailors and more or less indifference on the part of the soldiers. In the days of square riggers, when the deck was a place of battle and carnage, he was held in respect on the deck of a vessel. The fact that his martial knowledge in the use of his shipmates, while his duty as a ship policeman, a strenuous task in those turbulent days, did not always help the situation.

Although the honorable and distinguished services rendered by the marine corps again and again have wiped out any imaginary stigma of inferiority yet the feeling that the corps is out of place on a battleship has not been fully eradicated, and even within the last two or three administrations there have been put on foot movements to cause them to be permanently stationed on land.

In the Roosevelt administration the president made a determined effort to remove the marines from the battleships, an effort which received the approval and co-operation of prominent naval officers, but failed to do so.
 It was said at the time that this failure was due partly to the close identification of the marine corps with the social and official life in Washington. But the argument was freely advanced at the time that there was no longer any practical use for this branch of the service. Under the Taft administration this factional conflict was again in evidence, and the navy view, which is against the employment of marines on board ship, was again freely aired.

Recently the navy department of the United States seems to have lent its approval to the high opinion held by many of the value of the corps. No longer is it to be scattered about in small detachments among the navy yards and assigned merely to police and sentry duty. It is to be concentrated in battleship posts and given full opportunity for education and advancement in service efficiency.

It is noted that in this respect there is a tendency to follow the methods of European countries, which use their marines for coast defense and as garrison for forts and colonies. It is not the custom to use them as complements for sea-going ships, but as a purely military force. The inadequacy of the United States marine corps in its present strength to provide a sufficient coast defense force at home when military expeditions are absent from the country is the latest phase of the marine situation which has been brought out by this by the commandant of the corps, Major General Fiddle in his recent report.

Use and Abuse of Automobile Cutout

(Christian Science Monitor.)

EVERY invention, innovation, accepted improvement brings its problems. The railroad, the telephone, even the phonograph, each in its turn, has introduced one thing or another as a side issue that has not been entirely welcome to all of us;
 why should the automobile be an exception? It is not. Quite the con-
 the automobile, attached to the auto-
 and use of the automobile, that its
 best friends, would gladly see sepa-
 too far into details, and without stepping on too many friends at one time, there is the muffler cutout, for instance. The automobile gas machine, as everybody knows, is essentially an explosive affair. To explode
 easily it explodes the more satisfac-

LIGHT SENTENCES ARE IMPOSED ON RENEGADES

Eight Indians Concerned in Recent Incipient Uprising on Navajo Reservation Given Terms in Jail at Gallup.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL.
 Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 4.—Judge William H. Pope, this afternoon in the United States district court, passed sentence upon the eight renegade Navajos, who recently participated in an incipient outbreak on the Navajo reservation in northwestern New Mexico.

Chief De Zho Shu, alleged ringleader, and one other Indian, were sentenced to thirty days in jail, while the six remaining recalcitrants received sentences of fifteen days each in jail. The court instructed that the Indians be incarcerated in the county jail at Gallup. Deputy Marshal Bacon left tonight on Santa Fe train No. 7 for Gallup, with the prisoners in charge.

When arraigned, the Indians appeared thoroughly subdued. Plans for leniency were made to the court by Father Anselmo Weber, of St.
 Michaels, Ariz., who has lived on the reservation for many years, and by Special Indian Attorney Francis C.
 Wilson of this city.

Each of the prisoners solemnly promised Judge Pope that they would obey the laws of the Great White Father in the future and declared that hereafter their conduct would be exemplary.

The Indians appeared extremely grateful to the court for the lightness of the sentences imposed upon them.

COLORADO CAPITALISTS LOOKING OVER PROJECT IN SAN JUAN COUNTY

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.
 Arden, N. M., Dec. 4.—Denver and Colorado Springs capitalists have been looking over the Hammond irrigation project, located south of the San Juan river near Bloomfield. F. M.
 McMahon of Colorado Springs, and Thomas A. Dines and Engineer M. C.
 Hindert, of Denver, comprise the party. The Hammond project is one that involves the crossing of Largo canon with a flume, and has already about 2,200 acres of fine land that has been in cultivation, fenced, improved with houses and orchards. But the landowners were unable to keep a flume across Largo canon, and the Hammond ditch has not been running for about three years. Partly owing to about 2,000 to 4,000 acres of land that would be watered by an extension of the present Hammond ditch, have been trying to interest capitalists in financing the project, and it looks very favorable that the above named men will take hold of the Hammond and complete it.

Cedar Hill bridge contract was let to a local bridge company and matterial has been ordered and work will start at once. The bridge will be a steel span of 100 feet, set on concrete abutments, four feet higher than the highest water has ever reached. The approaches will be stone work reinforced with concrete. The bridge will be fourteen feet wide. It will replace the one washed away by the floods of 1911.

The Trouble.
 "Why is it that you have never married?"
 "When I was a boy my father and others who possessed the benefit of experience advised me not to marry until I had saved up at least $10,000."
 "Haven't you ever been able to save that much?"
 "Yes; but a fellow learns such a lot while he is saving $10,000."—Chicago Record-Herald.

(Christian Science Monitor.)

 problems. The railroad, the tele-
 been entirely welcome to all of us;
 why should the automobile be an exception? It is not. Quite the con-
 chine, as everybody knows, is essentially an explosive affair. To explode
 easily it explodes the more satisfac-
 that prevents the engine from exploding so easily. It is a device that prevents the engine from exploding so easily.

Muffling them has the effect, however, of reducing in some degree the engine's power. Therefore, when a high hill is to be climbed, and especially if it is an abruptly high or a long hill, it is customary, and entirely proper, for the operator to use the muffler cutout. That is why those living upon a hill incline have the explosion and the automobile indissolubly associated in their thought.
 When the automobile reaches the top of the hill the muffler is resorted to and the engine again breathes almost noiselessly. But there are numerous operators who use the muffler cutout on the slightest provocation, and frequently without any provocation at all. The law has taken cognizance of these, but even the law cannot be everywhere, and people are annoyed and neighborhoods are disturbed simply by a wanton abuse of the attachment. There are operators who make no secret of the fact that they use the muffler cutout simply for the pleasure they derive from hearing the explosions.

W. S. Gilbreath of Indianapolis, secretary of the Hoosier Motor club, has given the use and abuse of the muffler cutout a great deal of careful investigation. He is set positively against the abuse of it. One conclusion he arrives at is that the free use of the muffler cutout "is either thoughtless or deliberate breaking of the law." But before leaving the matter here he opens up a possible means of escape in this recital: "When asked by the writer why his company did not put a muffler cutout on their cars, the engineer of a famous automobile factory said: 'You have been demanding for years a noiseless engine; you want quiet, and now you come to me for an attachment to make more noise than a dozen cars without it.'" The inference to be drawn from this is that it is possible to accomplish all that the muffler cutout is now supposed to do—without it. The concluding conclusion is to be drawn, therefore, is that it will be done. In which event the operator who is now so passionately fond of letting loose gasoline explosions will be forced to turn his attention to something else, and it is to be hoped, to something better.

A LOVELY FACE—BUT UGLY HAIR

How often you see an otherwise lovely face spoiled by homely hair—a face that would be most charmingly beautiful if she only had prettier hair. What a pity!—and how foolish!
 Because of such ugly hair, straggly, dull, lifeless-looking though it may be, can be made as glossy, soft, silky and beautiful as the heart could desire if only taken proper care of.

Harmony Hair Beautifier is just what it is named—a hair beautifier. It is not a hair dye or hair oil—it is just a dairy, rose-perfumed liquid dressing to give the hair its natural gloss and brightness, its natural wavy softness, its natural rich beauty. Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing.
 It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

"Red" Sperry and Joe Mahlbach, charged with jay driving, yesterday morning were discharged by Police Judge Craig. Sperry said he was teaching a woman to drive an automobile and that she had hold of the steering wheel when he turned at Second street and Central avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Reichardt, for the past two years residents of this city, will leave this afternoon at 4:45 o'clock for Georgetown, Ohio, their former home, where Mr. Reichardt will become manager and chief engineer of the municipal electric light and power plant. For several months Mr. Reichardt has been in the employ of the American Lumber company here.

A few days ago George D. Cox and W. H. Miles purchased the Richelieu grocery store from F. P. Trotter. Mr. Cox has gone to his home at Tethuma, Tex., where he will dispose of his interests in that state, and then take up his permanent residence here. It has been reported that Mr. Trotter will go to southern California to live, but he denies this rumor, saying that "Albuquerque is good enough for him."

ANOTHER CREAMERY TO BE BUILT IN THIS CITY

It is understood that another creamery is going to be built in Albuquerque and from reliable information, the Journal is informed that the next three or six days will see ground broken adjoining the railroad track for a complete establishment. It will probably be a matter of several months before machinery, etc., is installed, and when completed and in running order it will be the best equipped creamery in the southwest.

PROGRESS ON CITY GRAND OFFICERS OF ELKS WILL VISIT CITY TODAY

When Concrete Pouring Is Resumed Today, Work Will Not Be Halted Until First Floor Is Finished.

Concrete workers, after several delays since the arrival of the last car of steel, will renew work today or tomorrow, on the city hall. By yesterday evening workers had nearly completed the steel network reinforcement for the first floor.

As soon as the steel work is finished, City Engineer J. N. Gladding will give the signal for the mixer to start the elevator will carry its first load up the ninety-foot tower and dump the material into the large funnel. The pouring of concrete for the first floor will take only a few days. When the carpenters and iron workers are ready the actual pouring does not take long.

In case the pouring of the first floor, which is to be a solid block of concrete, is halted, the engineer plans to attach an extension to the trough which carries the mixture from the funnel on the tower and run the concrete into the forms already set for the walls of the first station on the south side of the hall. This will save stopping the concrete mixer, once it is started, until the floor is finished.

With the first floor poured and the walls of the first station finished as high as the first floor of the hall, carpenters will begin work again, building forms for the walls up to the second floor. Work will continue on the hall without interruption, save on account of cold weather, until the roof is in place. The roof will be poured concrete like the floors.

Work has not lagged on the city hall since the arrival of the last consignment of steel from the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co. A good-sized force has been bending the heavier steel beams of the floor and weaving the network of lighter rods which will be the reinforcement for the floor.
