CORPORATIONS TO BE EFFECTIVELY REGULATED BY LAWS

President and Democratic Advisers Outline Program for Curbing Trusts Through Legislation.

SMALL DEALER TO BE AFFORDED PROTECTION

Combinations Deemed "Reasonable" Are to Be Defined So That Legitimate Business May Be Protected.

Washington, Dec. 10.—The scope of President Wilson's program of anti-trust legislation became fairly well defined today at the end of a conference at the White House between the president and six democratic members of the house judiciary committee, which is to undertake the preparation of the administration bill. The measure is expected to be introduced for action at this session will aim at the following results:

Definition of the various forms of monopoly and restraint of trade which would be conclusively deemed "unreasonable" and in violation of law.

Placing upon the defendant the burden of proof to show that there is no "unreasonable" restraint of trade.

Prohibition of interlocking directorates between large corporations. Establishment of an interstate trade commission, to exercise regulatory powers, make original investigations and aid the courts in carrying out decrees of dissolution of trusts.

The details of legislation were not worked out at the White House conference nor was a complete understanding reached as to the number of bills to be pushed for action at the present session. The president made it clear, however, that he favored legislation along the general lines of the Senate bill introduced by Senator McReynolds, but which has been before congress since last June and which was designed to clear up the "willful zone" of corporation activities. This measure was the subject of much of the discussion and the members of the committee will take up its provisions for further consideration. It would define by law nearly a dozen forms of contracts, agreements, restraints, price setting and the like, the "reasonableness" of which is now left to the courts, but which would be conclusively deemed "unreasonable" and in violation of law by the new law.

President Wilson's trust conference of the last two weeks have been long talks with Attorney General McReynolds, Senator Newlands, chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee, Secretary Redfield, of the department of commerce, Representative Clayton and Joseph E. Hanna, commissioner of corporations. He is to confer again in a few days with Senator Newlands and other members of the senate committee that will handle trust legislation.

The house committee will begin work at once on the preliminary draft of trust bills, but the members will seek further discussions with the president before completing them for submission to the house.

The president emphasized in the conference today the need for legislation for business activity that will place the smaller business man on an equality with the larger and that will give to the business world in general a clear legal definition of the forms of combination of trade that are unlawful. Senator Newlands' bill for an interstate trade commission, also introduced in congress early last summer, is expected to be the basis for legislation along that line. This president is understood to favor many features of this proposed law. It would establish a commission with power to regulate corporations doing interstate business, to aid the attorney general in the prosecution of those accused of monopoly actions and to carry out the dissolution of the trusts that have been declared illegal by the courts.

Samuel Untermyer of New York, who acted as counsel for the "money trust" in the investigation of the "money trust" investigations of the "money trust," was not a member of the house interested in anti-trust legislation several times recently and is working upon bills that probably will be closely studied by the committee.

WOMEN OF CAPITAL APPROVE PRESIDENT

Washington, Dec. 10.—President Wilson received the commendation of the feminine side of the national capital yesterday for a little act of gallantry yesterday in Rock Creek park when he found little Miss Ruth Donaldson had been thrown from her horse.

It became known that when the president stepped up, helped the little girl to her feet and brushed her clothing, she asserted that she was not hurt, but exclaimed: "Where's my back comb, I wonder?"

She did not know it at the time, but the president of the United States who had been searching the high grass for several minutes, had found the comb and finally restored the all-important trifle to her.

To Prevent Pollution of Water.

Washington, Dec. 10.—One of the most important bills introduced in the house yesterday is the bill for the prevention of water pollution, which was introduced by the house committee on commerce and navigation.

HEAVY SENTENCES FOR TWO OPIUM SMUGGLERS

San Francisco, Dec. 10.—Sentences of two years and one year on two indictments to be served consecutively in San Quentin penitentiary, were imposed on John Thomas, alias Murphy, and George Poole, alias Moore, in the United States district court here today, for conspiracy to smuggle opium into this country.

The two convicted men had been following the races, ostensibly, but actually had been bringing large quantities of opium from the country from Mexico, principally from Juarez, concealed in trunks. They took $4,500 worth of opium out of Juarez and were traced by government agents to San Francisco, where they were arrested September 16, with the trunk containing the opium.

Their conviction was obtained upon circumstantial evidence. Each man has served two prison terms already for opium smuggling.

Colon, Dec. 10.—The date set for the trial of the Arctic exploration ship Fram for San Francisco has been set for Monday next. The Fram will go by way of the Straits of Magellan. The steamer has been waiting here since October 3, for passage through the canal, but as this, at the present time, is impossible, it was deemed advisable to take the long route.

If the Fram delays too long in reaching San Francisco it would mean a year lost for Captain Amundsen's expedition, as the vessel should enter the ice not later than the autumn of 1914. She must refit and take on stores at San Francisco before sailing north.

M'REYNOLDS IS NOT FAVORABLE TO OWNERSHIP

Attorney General Believes Reg- ulation of Telegraph and Telephone Is Better Than Taking Them Over

Washington, Dec. 10.—Although Postmaster General Burleson seems to favor a plan for government ownership of telegraph and telephone lines, it is said that it will not meet the immediate approval of President Wilson's cabinet. It is believed in official circles Attorney General McReynolds for one will show his aversion to such a plan if the matter is seriously taken up by the cabinet. Table in the White House.

Within the next few weeks the department of justice will announce its own plan for relief in conditions comprising interstate telephone business throughout the country. For several months the attorney general and his staff have been studying the Sherman anti-trust act, and the enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust act, have been seeking to work out with officials of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and the attorney general has figured. One suit against the Pacific coast arm of this concern is already in the United States courts and pending its determination the department has not been anxious to begin further litigation. There has been some doubt as to the applicability of the Sherman law to telephone companies and some question of just what could be done that would greatly benefit the general public if the law did apply. It is understood that the telephone business is intrastate and this could not be touched by the anti-trust act. While department officials have kept their plans a secret it has been reported that suggestions have been made that the telephone companies should be placed under the supervision of the federal government, but that some of the interstate rates should be lowered.

In his dealings in this case, Attorney General McReynolds has followed the conviction that it is better for his department to secure an agreement to his terms with the so-called trust after a few weeks of friendly conference than to take it into the courts and have to fight a long and costly battle. A decision one way or another.

Callers who have discussed questions of government regulation of trusts with Mr. McReynolds are of the opinion that he believes the Sherman act is sufficiently powerful weapon with which to better conditions. They understand his position to be that it is better to break up a combine so that there shall be competition; if that can't be done, it is better to regulate it. It is understood that if that isn't possible, then reluctantly the only thing left, acquire the offending trust and run it under the government's protecting wing.

Plates Grow Bold in China.

Hong Kong, Dec. 10.—Great unrest continues in the south. Pirates attacked today the Portuguese steamer Kwang Chou Wan and killed the captain. They looted the vessel and captured Gen. Lam Chi Kuan, who is in command at Canton. He is reported to be in the province of Kwang Si. Five cruisers have arrived off Canton and have impressed the city with the power of the republic.

Big Run on Spanish Bank.

Madrid, Dec. 10.—Runners that the Hispano-American bank was overhauled with Mexican securities was over a sharp panic on the bourse today, and the bank's stock fell eleven points in a few minutes. At the same time a run on the bank began and more than $2,000,000 was drawn out by depositors. The bank was obliged to borrow to meet the run. The bank of Spain, however, made a large advance and the Hispano-American bank will resume tomorrow.

FORMER BULLFIGHTER CAPTURED BY FEDERALS

Mexico City, Dec. 10.—Vicente Segura, a popular millionaire, who shocked Mexican society by becoming a bull fighter, has been captured at the head of a rebel band at Soledad, in his native state of Hidalgo. Segura was seized in coming after his reported to have had 500 men and was marching on Pachuca, capital of Hidalgo.

Segura abandoned bull fighting during the Madero regime for the more exciting game of rebellion and since then has invented part of his fortune in the business. His confinement of munitions of war bought by him has been for many months in New Orleans, watched by officials of the departments of state and justice at Washington. Recently Segura has been coming after his reported to have had 500 men and was marching on Pachuca, capital of Hidalgo with a music train loaded with cartridges.

Mrs. MacKenzie Gordon, another California, married to a British subject who fled herself in the same predicament, declined today to accept the same position. My fight for a right to vote, she said, "is essentially a public one. If my husband were to become an American citizen it will would avail nothing to other women." Mrs. Gordon said she had come to the United States supreme court, as the source of California have already ruled against her.

No New Haven Divisions.

New York, Dec. 10.—The directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad announced tonight that they deemed it advisable in the interest of the property not to declare a dividend at this time.

LABOR LEADERS IN DENVER GIVE BOND

Denver, Dec. 10.—Frank J. Hayes, international vice president of the United Mine Workers of America, and John H. Lawson, a member of the executive board of the organization, indicted by a federal grand at Pueblo last week, have been in the sum of $2,000 each before United States Commissioner Hunsdale, here today. The bonds were signed by former Senator Thomas M. Patterson.

Hayes was charged with conspiracy in restraint of trade, and Hayes with the same offense and with conspiracy to create a labor monopoly.

Hillsdale Senator Joseph Bank Bill.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Senator Sherman of Illinois, criticized the democratic drafts of the currency bill tonight as overcast with the "shadow of a free silver ghost." He said the house bill provided for the creation of a national bank that did not become a member bank under the proposed system.

WHOLESALE GRAFT IS ALLEGED BY HENNESSY

Grand Jury Hears Story of Contributions Made by Dud- ley E. Van Wirt to George M. Palmer.

New York, Dec. 10.—The grand jury listened to evidence today regarding the charges of graft against Dudley E. Van Wirt, the only witness called in the case today, furnished evidence which broadened the case to such an extent that the district attorney assisted her today by three more witnesses in order to subpoena more witnesses.

Van Wirt, who is vice president of the Flood and Van Wirt Construction & Engineering Co., of Hudson Falls, N. Y., which held state road contracts aggregating $250,000, was before the grand jury today for the first time. He repeated the testimony he gave yesterday at the John Doe inquiry that at the solicitation of Everett P. Fowler, the so-called Tammany boss, he had sent a $500 contribution to Palmer in behalf of his corporation and received back the cancelled check therefor endorsed with the signature of the state chairman. He was questioned at great length, however, it is understood in regard to other contributions which he testified at the John Doe proceedings he had sent to the democratic committee.

One of these was a $1,500 contribution which he said was solicited from him by William J. Morrissey, a former deputy superintendent of public works, in 1912, when he had a $250,000 state canal contract, over which Morrissey had supervision.

John A. Hennessy, former Governor Sulzer's graft investigator, who has produced much of the evidence in the present inquiry, promised tonight to produce another "big man" who, he declared, had collected $50,000 in unreported campaign contributions from highway contractors and whose testimony, he said, would be the most sensational that has yet been heard. He declared further that when the highway investigation was completed, he would place evidence before the district attorney that many thousands of dollars had been collected from the highway interests.

FEDERALS FORTIFY OJINAGA AGAINST ATTACK BY REBELS

Private Soldiers Said Not to Be Enthusiastic Over Prospect of Battle With Constitutionalists.

Formidable Defenses Being Constructed.

Huerta Men Call to Americans Across Line and Ask for Permission to Cross on U. S. Territory.

Presidio, Tex., Dec. 10.—Whether the battered remnants of the Mexican federal army under General Salvador Alvarado, who pursued the Huertistas, will make a last stand for supremacy at Ojinaga against the rebels advancing to that point, or whether the federalists will continue their retreat toward the state of Nuevo Leon, became the most critical question in the revolutionary movement in northern Mexico today.

Practically the entire strength of the federal army, reduced by its flight from Chihuahua, 100 miles away, and by the sally of many of its disaffected soldiers, was concentrated at the little village opposite Presidio. It was at this point that they fled in the hope of obtaining money and provisions. Toward them is marching a rebel army of about equal strength with the federalists, surrounded the town and bringing to a test whether any federalists are to remain in the north.

The rebel reports were that Gen. Francisco Villa was directing the attack from Chihuahua and the rebels were advancing in two columns, but that they would reach Ojinaga in force for probably a week. Even should the federalists decide to retreat, information from rebel sources said, they could not get away without a fight for the rebels under General Herrero, who pursued the Huertistas from Chihuahua, were within striking distance of the town.

Every indication was shown in Ojinaga that the federalists intend to build a formidable defense. Trenches were dug, guns mounted on the hills and provisions were carried across the river, General Mercado, General Orozco and General Salazar were active in directing the fortification. The active defense, begun as a matter of course on the arrival of the army, was carried on apparently with renewed energy after communication had been had with Mexico City.

For some reason the civilian refugees who accompanied the army from Chihuahua were allowed to cross to the American side, only a few at a time. Those who crossed, representing wealthy families whose lives were thought to be in danger at the hands of the rebels, went immediately to the nearest railway station at Marfa, Texas. It was said that the refugees were being held in Ojinaga in the belief that the rebels would not attack non-combatants.

That the rank of the federalists looked upon the prospect of any more fighting was determined by their attitude, although what are known as the federal volunteers, commanded by General Orozco, are in greatest fear of the rebels. The rebels have held that many men in the regular army are forced to serve while the volunteers were not.

BURNING OIL TIES UP RAILROAD TRAINS

Paula, Kan., Dec. 10.—Burning oil that flooded down a ravine near here tonight, destroyed a bridge on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad, damaged one on the Missouri Pacific and caused a delay on both railroads. The oil came from a break in a six-inch pipe line, and thousands of barrels of oil escaped before the flow was shut off. It was estimated that 2,000 barrels of oil had flowed into the ravine, which caught fire tonight. At midnight the oil was still burning fiercely. The railroads expected to resume traffic by morning.

Postoffice Clerks on Roller Skates.

Chicago, Dec. 10.—Roller skates were brought into use in the postoffice here today to accelerate the movements of the clerks in the checking room. Eight clerks donned the roller skates and were well equipped for the innovation, proving valuable. The skaters have a stack of letters to be handled a block long to cover.

HINDU FOILS EFFORTS TO REARREST HIM

Valencia, B. C., Dec. 10.—Justice Macdonald decided in the supreme court today that Hernan Singh had not properly been ordered deported because only six members of the immigration board of inquiry had dealt with his case, when the act required that the full board of seven should sit.

Just as his lordship announced this decision, Malcolm J. Reid, chief immigration officer, arose and intimated that he expected to rearrest Hernan immediately in order that the full board could handle his case. The court asked Mr. Reid to see to it, if he had any intention of this kind, that Hernan was arrested beyond the precincts of the court. Mr. Reid agreed.

Hernan Singh departed, technically a free man, but went no further than the corridor down stairs, where nearly 200 of his countrymen had gathered. After a consultation Hernan decided to sit down for a while and wait today was still waiting. The immigration officials waited near by to arrest him the moment he poked his nose out of doors.

MILITARY COURT IS PROBING MURDERS

Washington, Dec. 10.—The United States district court here today granted the application of the Keystone Watch Case company for an order to compel the Illinois Watch company to make known the full list of subscribers to its exchange in the suit brought by the government to dissolve the former company on the ground that it constitutes a watch case trust. The court, in its opinion, decided that the evidence demanded is apparently material and the exchange is ordered to open the sealed list of customers in his possession and make the contents known to counsel for the defendants.

It was brought out at the examination today that one man in the Washington district, whose name was given by the testifying strikers as Frank Fickhardt, planned and executed the ambush and had charge of the rifles and ammunition with which the strikers armed themselves to fire upon the automobile party.

The rancher's wife testified that she stood in the doorway of her home, saw the strikers drive people from the road, not permitting them to pass the place of ambush, and that the strikers opened fire upon the automobile lead of county guards and finished them before the guards had an opportunity to defend themselves.

Fickhardt was being sought by the military officials tonight. It is stated by the commission that although a sensational nature concerning the acts of violence is being taken by the press, his motive has not been disclosed.

FLOOD IS SUBSIDING IN SOUTHERN TEXAS

Houston, Tex., Dec. 10.—Although several small towns in the Brazos river delta were still overflowed tonight, the flood had run its course and by morning it was expected the river would be falling throughout its length. Work of taking tents and supplies to the refugees who will not be able to return to their homes in the bottom for some time, was pushed vigorously today. Rain added greatly to the discomfort of large camps of negro refugees.

SCHMIDT UNMOVED WHILE ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

New York, Dec. 10.—Witnesses who knew Anna Amuller and others who found portions of her body after Hans Schmidt had cut it up and cast it into the Hudson river testified for the state today at the trial of Schmidt for murder. Through all their testimony the former priest was as if he were a disinterested spectator. He at times set up every point that would support their contention that he is insane.

On a table before Schmidt lay the knife and the knife with which he had dissected her body. Nearby was a stained pillow slip in which he had placed a portion of the body before he dropped it into the river from a ferry boat and the stones with which he had weighed it down. Nearby was a small box containing a letter addressed to the state by Schmidt for the state he paid to be. He was supposed when a stenographer read the confession he made to the police and when a physician told minutely of the manner in which the victim's body had been dissected.

The only expression of interest manifested by him was shown when Anna Hett, friend of the girl Schmidt is charged with slaying, said that Anna Amuller told her Schmidt wanted to marry her.

Will get married, Schmidt told the Amuller girl, according to Miss Hett, and go to some far off country, and I will leave my car on a high hook.

By that Miss Hett said, Schmidt meant he would leave the priesthood. The witness knew of Schmidt's relations with the Amuller girl. Once Anna Amuller had asked her if she would be godmother to the child Anna was expecting.

"I told her maybe," the witness said, "I never met Schmidt, but Anna used to tell me about him. She called him the 'harlot'."

NEW MINISTRY TO SUPPORT SOCIALISTS

Paris, Dec. 10.—The ministerial declaration to be read in the chamber of deputies tomorrow has been completed and embodies the policy already outlined. It makes no reference, however, to a loan, except to say that the government will make its financial situation for the next year later when the new taxation based on democratic principles, including a tax on acquired wealth, would be submitted for consideration.

With reference to the military question, the declaration is explicit as to the government's determination to enforce the three years service previously voted by the chamber.

The only reference to the immovability of the French position which greeted the ministerial declaration, was the announcement that the government will support in the senate the chamber's income tax bill, a tax which must be levied on every source of income.

LIST OF CUSTOMERS MUST BE DISCLOSED

Philadelphia, Dec. 10.—The United States district court here today granted the application of the Keystone Watch Case company for an order to compel the Illinois Watch company to make known the full list of subscribers to its exchange in the suit brought by the government to dissolve the former company on the ground that it constitutes a watch case trust. The court, in its opinion, decided that the evidence demanded is apparently material and the exchange is ordered to open the sealed list of customers in his possession and make the contents known to counsel for the defendants.

2,000 PETITIONERS FOR PROHIBITION AMENDMENT

Vast Throng, Favorable to Banishment of Intoxicants by Law, Invades Grounds of National Capitol.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Under the dome of the capital 2,000 men and women, representing the Anti-Saloon League of America, and the Woman's Christian Temperance union, assembled today for a demonstration against the liquor traffic.

The men and women marched in separate lines from the downtown section of the city to the east front of the capitol. Each bore petitions demanding national prohibition by constitutional amendment. On the steps of the capitol, the petitions were received by Representative Hiramson P. Hobson, of Alabama, author of such a proposed amendment, and by Senator Morris Sheppard, of Texas.

The legislators also received from a special committee of the anti-liquor forces a copy of another resolution to forever prohibit the manufacture of sale of intoxicating liquors except for medicinal and medicinal purposes.

The anti-saloon league forces were led by Dr. J. Edgar Hoover, U. S. agent, Mrs. Lillian M. Stevens, of Maine, president of the W. C. T. U., and the women, who waved banners as they paraded down Pennsylvania avenue.

The scene at the front of the capitol and on the grounds between the main entrance and the east front was an impressive one as the hosts of prohibition arrived. Before the procession reached its destination it had been swelled by hundreds from the streets and when the ceremonies began, thousands of women, many of whom were wearing hats and carrying banners, were seen on the capitol grounds and the broad driveways. Leaders climbed the huge stone statues which stand the east entrance and led the outdoor singing of "America," "Onward Christian Soldiers," and other hymns in a mighty choir.

Representative Hobson and Senator Sheppard were cheered as they climbed to the top of that huge dome and delivered addresses to the thousands of people who had gathered on the grounds. The resolution for a national prohibition constitutional amendment which later was introduced in both houses of congress, President Taft of the Anti-Saloon league, admitted the resolution of the women, who received the resolution for a national prohibition constitutional amendment which later was introduced in both houses of congress.

There is no higher duty than to introduce in both houses of congress the resolution for a national prohibition constitutional amendment. We are against the liquor traffic because it is the worst enemy of our civilization, because we want a drunkenness republic and an untold flag.

Problem Is Up to Government.

Washington, Dec. 10.—How the department of agriculture is fighting the price of eggs was told by a house committee today by Dr. J. C. Tamm, chief of the animal industry division. While the department, he said, is experimenting to increase the egg laying capacity of the American hen, boys and girls poultry clubs are being organized throughout the states to foster poultry breeding and egg production.

Gigantic Sun Spot Discovered.

Say Jose, Calif., Dec. 10.—Palmer Joseph Hicok, of Santa Clara, discovered a sun spot today, the largest seen in years. The sun spot is in longitude 8, 17, 24, east of the central meridian. It is due to a well-defined condensation of the earth's sun, on December 7.

The sun spot has an area of 429,526,700 square miles. It is 22,912,125 miles long and 12,905,264 miles wide.

TALK OF ARMISTICE BETWEEN HUERTA AND CARRANZA IS INDULGED

State Department Officials Do Not Believe, However, That Such an Arrangement Could Be Brought About.

Rebels Insist That Dictator Be Removed.

Attack on Tampico Adds to Anxiety of Washington Administration, as Fear Is Felt for Foreigners.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Reports from Mexico City that efforts were being made by an element in the provisional government to induce General Huerta to negotiate an armistice with General Carranza, the constitutional leader, pending an election, revived interest in the Mexican situation considerably here tonight.

State department officials were without advice but were keenly interested in possible developments. There was a disposition in official quarters to doubt whether an election could be held in which the constitutionalists would agree to participate unless General Huerta withdrew from all connection with the government at the Mexican capital. This had previously been made plain to the United States government as one of the things constitutionalists would insist on before they laid down their arms. It was said, however, that Washington officials here would look with favor on any movement that would bring about a suspension of hostilities.

The attack on Tampico by the rebels added today to the anxiety of the Washington administration about Carranza and his interests. Nothing was announced from the state department about conditions at Tampico but the report that the rebel general had advised the removal of foreign residents, added greatly to the situation.

The dispatch of British ships to Mexican waters occasioned no surprise to the state department, as there had been previous indications through official channels that extra ships might be sent to look after British interests. At the state department the reported increase of British vessels was regarded as a natural act in emergencies such as might occur at Tampico and that vicinity.

Officially, it was said that the nullification by the Mexican congress of the late elections and the confirmation of Huerta's assumption of the provisional presidency would not alter the policy of the Washington government in its determination not to recognize the Huerta regime.

Conservatives Seek Peace Pending Another Election.

Mexico City, Dec. 10.—Tentative efforts were made today by the conservative element in the Mexican government to induce Provisional President Huerta to ascertain if General Carranza would be willing to cease fighting for the purpose of holding an election at which the constitutional leader would be a candidate for the presidency of the republic or would name his choice for that office.

It is assumed in political circles here that General Carranza would have an opposition in the presidential race, candidates from the capital and the provinces, and other political parties.

A troop train is reported to have been derailed north of Monterrey and the loss of life is said to be heavy. The train was on its way to Monterrey, where it was to be met by General Carranza's forces. The train was carrying a large number of soldiers and civilians. The derailed train was reported to have been derailed by the action of the rebels.

Mother and Daughter Shot by Brute.

Minneapolis, Dec. 10.—Mrs. Henry Becker was shot tonight and seriously injured when she was returning from her home to her daughter's home. The shooter was a man named "Buck" who was known to the family. The shooter was shot and killed by the police.

Men More Careful Than Employers.

New York, Dec. 10.—The nation's movement for industrial safety has been resented by the American workman because he hears himself around of the responsibility for most of the accidents, according to Dr. Lillian W. Cheney, of the Bureau of Labor and Statistics of the United States department of labor, in an address here today. Dr. Cheney defended American workmen. They are not the cause-makers in the industries, she declared; the real cause-makers are the employers.

To Prevent Emigration to U. S.

Vienna, Dec. 10.—Negotiations were begun today between the Austrian and Hungarian governments for the purpose of deciding more stringent regulations for the restriction of emigration. The existing regulations, particularly in Hungary, have proved utterly inadequate to prevent a great number of the young men from leaving military service by enrolling to the United States.

FOREIGN PROPERTY MAY BE SEIZED IN SINALOA

American Charge d'Affaires instructed to investigate Legality of Threatened Action by State Governor.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.)
Mexico City, Dec. 10.—The American charge d'affaires, Nelson C. Johnson, recently notified Washington that the property of foreign residents in the state of Sinaloa was in imminent danger of confiscation by the federal authorities as a war measure. The charge has received instructions to investigate the constitutionality of the act and if he finds that it is not sanctioned by law, to register a protest with the Mexican government.

The confiscation of property has been threatened in default of payment of a five per cent tax arbitrarily imposed by the governor of Sinaloa, whose headquarters are at Mazatlan, the only large place in the state still under government control. Foreigners generally have appealed through their consuls to the diplomatic representatives in the Mexican capital. The French minister has reported to his government asking for instructions, but the English and German ministers have advised their nationals at Mazatlan to pay the tax under protest. The American charge has prepared a memorandum for presentation to Senator Madero, the Mexican minister at foreign affairs.

The order of the governor requires the payment of a tax on all real and personal property, regardless of the nationality of the owner, and a warning is issued that unless the tax is paid by December 15, summary confiscation will ensue.

Consular reports say the governor explained the levy was absolutely necessary to raise money for the payment of the troops. Two banks and several commercial houses have already closed their doors and the condition of the people generally is becoming desperate for lack of money. The acting head of the Mazatlan department told the French minister that it was impossible for the central government to interfere, as it would be an infringement of state rights. He said, however, that he had telegraphed to the governor of Sinaloa, suggesting moderation.

Business houses, including those under foreign ownership, have already contributed $14,000 pesos ($27,000) to a fund for the troops, according to the consular officials.

A parole of 300 young women in the Mazatlan district, reflected the impoverished condition to which many of the consular agents have been reduced. ## HUERTA ASKS FOR PROHIBITION LAW FOR NATION IS FULL POWER IN REPUBLIC Authorization by Congress for Dictator to Have Lone Voice in War, Finance and Interior Departments.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.)
Mexico City, Dec. 10.—President Huerta has asked Congress to grant him full power in the departments of war, finance and the interior. A bill to this effect was introduced in the chamber today. The president has just approved a measure authorizing the formation of an interior loan of 100,000,000 pesos and a per cent to be the first of a series of five loans, and if Congress approves the president's request for power over the interior department, it will enable him to remain president without further formality.

When the country was without a congress, then that imprisoned in jail, President Huerta took to himself the arbitrary direction of the three departments, and the new congress recently approved his conduct of affairs. It being generally supposed that he would now relinquish these departments to be conducted by their own chiefs along constitutional lines.

That the revolutionary party element in congress has been induced to see things from the president's point of view is shown by a speech made in congress today by Francisco Paez Garcia, leader of the party, in which he declared that he was convinced of the necessity of the country being ruled by a dictator, but he believed that the acts of the dictator should be subject to congressional approval.

YAGUI INDIANS ARE RECRUITED BY CARRANZA

Nearly Two Thousand Warriors Join Forces With Revolutionists and Will Be Used in Guaymas Campaign.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.)
Hermosillo, Dec. 10.—Between 1,500 and 2,000 Yaqui Indians were recruited today into the constitutional army at Mazatlan, the insurgent base above Guaymas. The warriors, who had been passive until three of the chiefs decided to combat in the revolution, are expected to be of great value in the projected campaign against Guaymas and Mazatlan, the only two points on the northwest coast retained by the central government.

It was reported here today that Mexican business are being forced into service by the federal at Guaymas. The regular federal force is between two and three thousand. ## ALTITUDE AS A MANUFACTURING ASSET

New Brewmaster of the Southwestern Plant Says That Albuquerque's Altitude Will Be Used to Improve His Beer Output.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.)
New York, Dec. 10.—John McAlister, the California middleweight, made his first appearance in the ring here tonight in a ten-round bout with Young Mike Donovan of this city, and cleverly outpointed the local boxer throughout. McAlister weighed in at 141 pounds and Donovan at 135.

Carl Spieschka, the new brewmaster of the Southwestern Brewery & Ice Co., in enthusiastic over Albuquerque's altitude, on his arrival from New York today, he told a representative of the Morning Journal that he would use this altitude to make a better beer than he is to be found anywhere in the country.

"You have been in camp on the mountains, have you not?" Mr. Spieschka says. "And you have observed how much longer it takes to brew a pot of coffee than on a lower level. Now this long slow brewing of beer will give it a singularly fine flavor, especially so when I shall use this altitude to give unusual action and refinement to the beer. It will give just as it does, much more slowly here than in the eastern and middle western breweries where the breweries do not have this magnificent altitude to do a work men cannot do. I therefore count this altitude a valuable manufacturing asset."

Mr. Spieschka brought with him as assistants, H. A. Walters and Frank Lindorfer. Mr. Walters is the son of Mr. A. Walters, the brewmaster of the Gottfried Krueger brewery, a very large and important plant at Newark, N. J.

Asked if there is much variety in brewing methods, Mr. Spieschka explained that there is as much as in any form of cooking, and that climate and altitude play an important part. While beer is shipped from low altitudes and hot climates, it has been cooked and aged quickly, too quickly sometimes.

Mr. Spieschka comes of a family of brewmasters. He was born and bred in Germany, where he took charge of a well known brewery. He then came to New York, remaining here years and going from there to Panama. While in Panama his father died and he returned to administer the estate in Germany. The appointment by the Albuquerque plant marks his coming back to this country. He will purchase an interest in the property of which he will be identified in the management.

DECREASED VALUE OF DOLLAR HAS AFFECTED RAILROADS

Washington, Dec. 10.—Decrease in the purchasing power of a dollar has affected American railroads quite as seriously as it has the American citizen, according to statements today before the Interstate Commerce commission at a hearing of the proposed 3 per cent advance in freight rates by railroads in eastern classification territory.

It was pointed out by Charles A. Cabot, of New York, introduced by the railroad counsel as an economist and expert in monetary matters, that while the average receipts of the railroads a ton mile had declined 2.3 per cent in the last ten years, the cost of commodities had increased, in the same period, 17.6 per cent. He figured that the purchasing power of each dollar of freight revenue received by the railroads now is only 92.3 per cent of what it was a decade ago.

Statistics were submitted to the commission to show that for twenty-one of the thirty-eight railroad systems, net operating revenues had declined in the last ten years. The increase of wages alone for 1912 over 1910, amounted to more than $48,000,000, due to advance in wage scales and to changes in working conditions.

At the conclusion of today's hearing, an adjournment without definite date was taken. It was agreed that subsequent hearings should be held some time after the holidays on notice to all parties from the commission.

SUBSIDIARY DECLARES QUARTERLY DIVIDEND

Portland, Me., Dec. 10.—The directors of the Maine Central railroad, a subsidiary of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co., have declared a quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share, today.

The New Haven has a strong company, owning valuable property, real estate and securities worth many millions of dollars. Some of this real estate and the property represented by the securities and the securities themselves can, in time, be marketed and thus strengthen the cash resources of the company. It is very difficult to sell property and securities at this time and the directors believe it is unwise to attempt to do so until general conditions are better.

The New Haven began paying dividends in 1873, and for twenty years thereafter, maintained a 10 per cent rate. In 1904 it fell to 9 per cent. In 1905 it rose to 10 per cent, which it continued until the early part of this year when dividends were cut to 6 per cent on the basis of 1 1/2 per cent quarterly. A new low record for the stock was.

Michigan Citizens Demand That Law Be Enforced
About 18,000 Persons Participate in Demonstrations at Calumet and Houghton for Restoration of Order.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Calumet, Mich., Dec. 10.—About 18,000 persons participated in a demonstration today at Calumet and Houghton for the restoration of order in the copper mine district. The parades and meetings were under the auspices of the Citizens' alliance, an organization which has law enforcement for its object.

Strikers were requested to keep in the background by William Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, and no trouble occurred at Calumet or at Houghton. At the Calumet mine, strikers attacked deputy sheriffs while a division of the Houghton police was forming and three of the officers were wounded. Resolutions adopted at the mass meeting asserted the civil authorities have failed in the performance of their duties and that lawlessness has gone un punished.

The resolutions insist on the speedy indictment of officers, organizers and members of the Western Federation of Miners who are alleged to have committed or abetted crime. They also demand that the federal government take the record of the federation is one of bloodshed and that it is responsible for lawlessness, the resolutions insist that it can have no place in the community and must be eliminated.

Circuit Judge O'Brien granted an injunction today restraining the Citizens' alliance from molesting members of the Western Federation of Miners.

BROOKLYN WILLING TO PAY $25,000 FOR JOE TINKER

Philadelphia Also Is After Cincinnati Shortstop; New York Makes Bid for Koneitchy and Magee.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
New York, Dec. 10.—The offer of $25,000 by President Charles M. Ebbets of the Brooklyn club, for Joe Tinker, of Cincinnati, an offer by Philadelphia of $10,000, with other offers, Mayor of Cincinnati, pitchers for Tinker, a dicker between New York and St. Louis for the exchange of Merkle, Herzog and Snodgrass, of the Giants, for Koneitchy and Magee of the Cardinals, and the refusal of Manager Evans of Chicago to trade Bresnahan and Corridon to Cincinnati for Tinker, featured today's gossip incident to the session of the National league, which is holding its annual meeting here.

The National league club owners deferred settlement of any of the problems facing them today until they could learn the views of their newly elected president, Gov. John K. Tener of Pennsylvania, whose address on the occasion of his installation early this afternoon, contained an assurance that he would work to put the national game on a higher plane than ever in the four years of his term.

Chief among the issues the league faces is that involving the ancient demands of the Baseball Players' fraternity. This matter, it is expected, will come up in executive session tomorrow morning. After the formal ceremony of inducting Governor Tener into the presidency, the managers adjourned until tomorrow morning. It was learned that they were not idle, however, for tonight they were conferring with the league's new head regarding the players' demands, the attitude to be taken toward the Federal league and other questions.

Charles W. Murphy, president of the Chicago National league club, arrived here tonight from abroad, a passenger on the Star Olympic. He said he would give Governor Tener his hearty support. Learning that Joe Tinker had been proposed as manager of the Cincinnati club, Murphy said he would put in a bid for his former shortstop's services.

"I will bid more for Tinker than any other manager in the National league," said he, declaring it was not his fault that Tinker ever left the Cubs, but that the player was released because August Hermann wanted him as manager.

Bicycle Riders Ahead of Schedule.
New York, Dec. 11.—The relative positions of the fifteen surviving teams in the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden were practically unchanged at the end of the seventy-fifth hour at 2 o'clock this morning. The eight leaders had pedaled 1,513 miles and 6 laps. Five other riders were bunched a lap behind; the Corry, Walker combination was still another lap in the rear, while the Koppey-Keeffe team was a full six miles behind the leaders. The record for the seventy-fifth hour is 1,506 miles flat, made by Pye and Grenda, in 1912.

Mandout Outposts Drouillard.
Windsor, Ont., Dec. 10.—Joe Mandout of New Orleans and Pat Drouillard, the Windsor lightweight, stood toe to toe and battled eight vicious rounds here tonight. The popular decision gave Mandout a shade the better of the bout. Neither fighter appeared to have any advantage when they threw science to the winds and slugged, but Mandout's previous superior cleverness and generalship gave him the margin.

Yoakum Is Winner Over Leo Kelly

Denver, Dec. 10.—Leo Kelly of St. Louis, was erroneously reported to have defeated Stanley Yoakum, in their bout here Tuesday night. The necessary hero, of condensation caused accidental elimination producing reverse results.

The foregoing Associated Press dispatch is self-explanatory, and accounts for the story in the Morning Journal of yesterday in which it was reported that Yoakum was defeated in his fifteen-round bout with Leo Kelly. The Journal has always prided itself upon the absolute accuracy of its news columns, and regrets exceedingly that in this instance its readers should have been misinformed on an event of so much interest to local fight-followers. There is no news agency in the world comparable to the Associated Press in the matter of thoroughness and absolute reliability, but even the best—which in this case means even the Associated Press—will sometimes make mistakes, and the story in yesterday's paper is the result of such a mistake. It will be gratifying news to the many friends of Stanley Yoakum and his manager, Louis Newman, both of whom have a large personal following in Albuquerque, to learn that Yoakum was victorious and has climbed a step higher on the pugilistic ladder. Kelly is rated one of the best lightweights before the public today, and the result of Tuesday night's battle brings Yoakum a long stride towards the ranks of the red-top-notchers.

WILLIE RITCHIE AND TOMMY MURPHY FAIL TO FIGHT

Slight Operation Performed on Champion Results in Promoter Calling Off Bout at San Francisco.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
San Francisco, Dec. 10.—A nasal abscess, which necessitated an operation today on Willie Ritchie, light-weight champion, resulted in the calling off of the scheduled twenty-round fight tonight of Ritchie and Harlem Tommy Murphy.

The two fighters met tonight with their managers and went through the formalities of weighing in to conform with the forfeit agreement. Both tipped the scales at 135 pounds. Before the fighters and managers met, Ritchie announced he had been operated on, but in spite of this fact and a drizzling rain, he was willing that the fight should proceed.

The promoter, however, declared the fight off altogether.

FAST BASKET BALL IS ANTICIPATED TOMORROW

Teams From Silver City Normal Will Tie Up With Local Bunch in Games That Will Furnish Real Excitement.

Indications are that the basketball games to be played in the armory tomorrow night between the teams of the Albuquerque Business college and those representing the Silver City Normal school will furnish the fastest sport that has been seen in Albuquerque in a long time and will be witnessed by a record-breaking crowd.

Coch Ellis has announced the line-up of the boys' team to represent the local college as follows: Blake, more and Zeigler, forwards; Kober (captain), center; Loeble and Miller, guards; Barth, Zihut and Oleson, substitutes. The girls' team will be announced later.

The boys' team as announced is sure to put up a strong game, being composed of players of skill and experience. Everyone of the regulars have played on teams in times past and are sure to give a good account of themselves. Barth and Oleson, of the substitutes, are new men, but have come to the front rapidly and are recognized as high-class players.

The Silver City teams have splendid records, and come with a feeling of confidence that they will take the locals into camp. While little is known locally of the performance of the normal school players, it is safe to say that they will put up an interesting battle and that good, fast playing will be witnessed by the spectators. The visitors will arrive tomorrow morning on the El Paso train.

The teams deserve a big turnout of local fans. Aside from the excellence of the sport that will be presented, the local contingent has gone to an expense of three hundred dollars to bring the normal school players here, and it is up to the pride of Albuquerque supporters of the game to see that they are not out of pocket for their efforts to furnish clean athletic entertainment for the Albuquerque public.

MIKE GIBBONS STOPS WILD CAT FERNS IN THE SECOND ROUND

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)

New Orleans, Dec. 10.—"Wild Cat" Ferns of Kansas City, Mo., was practically knocked out by Mike Gibbons of St. Paul here tonight in the second round of what was to have been a ten-round bout. Floored three times for the count in early in the round, Ferns was wobbly and the referee stopped the fight with probably a minute's remaining of the round. Gibbons started the second round with a left hook to the jaw that floored Ferns. Ferns rose before the last count, but a second later went down again from another hook to the jaw. He rose slowly at the count of nine and Gibbons' short hook ended the fight. They weighed in at the welterweight limit.

CHARLEY BENNETT BRILLIANT STAR IN BASEBALL

Old-Time Catcher, Who Flourished Between 1874 and 1894 as Backstop, Peer of Professionals.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)

Pittsburgh, Dec. 10.—Considering the great number of backstops in the ranks of baseball since the inception of the game, the really first class catchers can be counted on the fingers of both hands. Among them stands Charley Bennett, who flourished between 1874 and 1894. He was not only a great catcher, but a clever batsman and a good all around player. He took good care of his physical makeup and of his personal reputation. He never dissipated and no one ever heard of him making a game on that account. He was a domestic man and after the close of the season went home and stayed there during the winter except for two weeks or a month, which he spent with friends, hunting in the west, generally in the state of Kansas. He was on one of those trips during the winter of 1892-94 with John Clarkson, the noted pitcher. On their way from Kansas City to Williamsburg, Bennett, on January 9, 1894, got off at Wellsville, Kan., to speak to a friend and when he attempted to board the moving train, he fell under the wheels and had both his legs cut off. This put an end to his baseball career and took one of the brightest stars out of the game.

For fifteen seasons, one at Milwaukee, one at Worcester, eight at Detroit and five at Boston, he caught in the National league, and in ten of these he was the champion catcher. Bennett was born in Newcastle, Pa., on November 23, 1856, and began his baseball life with the Nesheanock team of that town as catcher and third baseman. He was with the Nesheanocks in 1874-75-76 and near the end of the latter season joined the Rhea team at Detroit. In 1877 he was given a trial by the Athletics of Philadelphia, but after playing one game was let go and signed with the Milwaukee team. The team in 1877 was an independent organization, although connected with the League Alliance. But in 1878 Milwaukee entered the National league and Bennett remained a member of the team. It was the first, last and only year that Milwaukee had a team in the National league and its team finished sixth, or last, in the race, there being only six clubs in the organization. The pitcher of the team was famous Buck Weaver and among other noted players were Johnny Peters, Abner Dalrymple and Jake Goodman. Dalrymple that year led the National league batters, with a percentage of .356.

In 1879, Frank C. Bancroft, at present business manager of the Cincinnati Reds, placed an independent team in Worcester, Mass. In 1880 he entered his team in the National league, taking the place of the disbanded Syracuse club. Bancroft in 1879 engaged Bennett as catcher, along with Al Bushong. One of the pitchers of the Worcester team that year was Lee Richmond, a left-hander, and the first twirler to shut out a team without a hit or run. Bancroft arranged a game with the Chicago National league team and it took place at Worcester on June 2. Arthur Irwin was then playing with the Our Boys, an amateur team in Boston, and Bancroft added him to his list of players. He also engaged the battery of Brown university, Richmond and Winslow. The college pitcher had the White Stockings completely at his mercy, the Worcester's winning by 11 to 9 and the Chicagoans not seeing even so much as a scratch hit. Only one man reached first base. This fact caused much surprise in the baseball world and much jubilation in Worcester. The fans there called attention to the fact that it was performed not only against one of the strongest batting teams in the country, headed by the redoubtable Anson, but in a foul bound rule, which gave batsmen more chances at bat and so increased the batting.

It was the first year that the rule requiring the fielder to catch a foul on the fly to put out a batsman was in vogue. In previous years a batsman was out if a foul ball was caught on the first bound. In the following year, 1880, Worcester then being a member of the National league, Richmond repeated the performance of 1879 by shutting out the Cleveland 1 to 0, not a man reaching first base. Worcester withdrew from the National league after the season of 1882 and Richmond withdrew from the game and began the practice of a physician in Cleveland.

Bancroft began his baseball career in 1877 at New Bedford, where he organized a team and arranged exhibition games with all the strong teams of that day. This penchant for exhibition games still clings to him and there is hardly an open date in his schedule of the Cincinnati Reds which Bancroft does not fill by games with minor league teams. In 1879 after the close of the regular season he took a team to Cuba and on its return toured the cities of the south. In 1881 he left Worcester to become the manager of the Detroit team, that city enrolling itself on the National league list. He took with him Charley Bennett, George Wood and Alonzo Knight, who, with the addition of Ed Hanlon, Joe Gerhardt and George Washington Bradley, made quite a formidable aggregation. Bancroft remained with Detroit in 1881 and then took charge of the Cleveland team for one year. In 1884 he was at the head of the Providence team.

Bennett, however, played in Detroit eight years, the length of Detroit's membership in the National league. After the close of the season of 1888 the Detroit club withdrew from the league, but not before disposing of its best players, Bennett, Charley Gansel, Dan Brouthers and (Hagley)

Boston club and Ed Hanlon, Deacon White, Jack Rowe and Peter Conway by the Pittsburgh club.

This broke up the famous Big Four—Brouthers, Richardson, White and Rowe—whose services were purchased by Detroit from the Buffalo club in 1886 and who helped to win the championship in 1887, the only pennant won by the Detroit club in the National league.

At Boston, under the management of Jim Hart, Bennett found pitchers Charley Radbourn, John Clarkson, Mike Madden and William Sowers. Radbourn joined the Boston team in 1886, coming from the famous Providence team, which disbanded after the season of 1885. His last year with the Boston team was 1889. He jumped to the Boston Players' league team in 1890, and in 1891 pitched for the Cincinnati team. Then he dropped out of baseball and died in Bloomington, Ill., on February 5, 1897.

The year before Bennett joined, 1893, the Boston club purchased the services of John Clarkson from the Chicago club for $10,000. Sowers belonged to a family which gave the world four baseball players—Len, William, John and Dave. All were pitchers except Len, who was an outfielder. William and John broke into fast company, William with Boston and Pittsburgh, and John, a left-hander, with the Brooklyn Players' league club. Len died on November 22, 1888, at Indianapolis, their home, but his three brothers continued in the game and, singularly enough, the records show that all three died of the same cause in 1893, William with Terre Haute, John with Spokane and Dave with Quincy.

In 1890 the revolt of players occurred, but Bennett was loyal to the Boston club, as also were Clarkson and Sowers. To fill the places of the jumping pitchers, Radbourn and Madden, the club secured Kid Nichols and Charles Getson. Bennett and Gansel divided the work behind the bat. Bennett remained with the Boston team until the awful accident to him. Gansel continued a member of the team until the close of the season of 1897.

Bennett is still living, his home being in Detroit, where he conducts a cigar and tobacco business, respected by all who come in contact with him.

MEXICAN REFUGEES GIRL RESIDENT OF 35 STUDENTS ARE BIG REDUCTION IN ARE INVITED TO THE RED LIGHT SUSPENDED FOR AUTOMOBILE ALBUQUERQUE TAKES POISON EATING PINONS TIRES

Commercial Club Proffers Hospitality of City and Urges Fleeing Citizens to Make Their Home Here.

That Albuquerque will receive an important accession to its population from the citizens of Chihuahua who are fleeing towards the American border to escape from the rebel army of Francisco Villa was rendered extremely probable yesterday when Secretary Thomas Egan, on behalf of the Commercial club, telegraphed Amador Chavez, who is now in El Paso, asking him to extend to the refugees a cordial invitation to come to this city and make it their home as long as they desire to remain.

The refugees who are now fleeing before the victorious rebel number some of the wealthiest and most distinguished citizens of Mexico, among them being Governor Luis Terrazas, until recently federal governor of Chihuahua. Many of them will never return to their native land, but will make their future home in the United States. As a class they are the flower of Mexico, and to gain them for permanent citizens of Albuquerque would be a distinct acquisition for the city.

It is expected that the refugees from Chihuahua will be in El Paso within the next few days. Mr. Chavez is personally acquainted with many of them, and will extend to them the invitation of the Commercial club to come to Albuquerque. As a number of these refugees have friends and relatives in this city it is believed that there will be quite a general acceptance of the invitation.

The telegram by the Commercial club to Mr. Chavez was as follows: "In behalf of the Commercial club of Albuquerque we ask you to extend to Governor Terrazas and his friends a cordial invitation to come to this city and make it their home as long as they wish. They have friends and relatives here who would be glad to take for their stay as pleasant and comfortable as possible."

SKIN ERUPTIONS

Evidence of Impure Blood and a Run-Down Condition.

When the blood becomes thin, poor, destitute of nature cries out through each external evidence for help, and the safest, surest and most helpful remedy we know is Vinol.

This is because it is a combination of the two most potent elements of cod liver oil without the oil, and tonic for the blood. Vinol strengthens the digestive organs, creates a hearty appetite, purifies and enriches the blood, creates strength.

Mrs. Helen Wilmate, St. Louis, Mo., says: "I was in very poor health, nervous and run-down, and nothing in the way of medicine did me any good until my druggist recommended Vinol. It built up my health, restored strength and I feel that I owe my life to Vinol. I cannot praise it too highly."

We say positively there is nothing like Vinol to purify and enrich the blood and build up weak, run-down people. If it should fail in your case we will return your money. Butta's, Inc., Druggists, Albuquerque, N. M.

DELAYED BY SNOW BLOCKADE, ARRIVES BEFORE BROTHER DIES

Charles E. Creighton, 42 years old, died at 7:30 o'clock yesterday evening at his home, 519 South Walter street, soon after the arrival of his sister, Mrs. James Richards, of Covington, Ky., who was delayed on the way by snowbound trains.

Mr. Creighton was a prominent business man in Chicago at one time. He had been in Albuquerque about four years. He is survived by a widow and three daughters, besides his sister.

Mrs. Creighton and Mrs. Richards today will accompany the body to Covington, Ky., for burial.

City Physician Uses Stomach Pump in Attempt to Save Tossie Allen; Her Recovery Is Problematical.

Tossie Allen, 19 years old, a demimondaine, swallowed ricinoleide of Third street at 12 o'clock last night. Her condition was pronounced dangerous by Dr. L. G. Rice, city physician, who refused to say whether she probably would recover.

The girl evidently had been drinking, according to Dr. Rice, and he could not determine whether she had attempted to commit suicide. She admitted taking the poison. If successful her intent, other residents of the district were unable to supply a motive.

Dr. Rice, summoned soon after the condition of the girl was discovered, used the stomach pump, but whether this treatment saves her depends upon how long before her arrival she took the tablets. He said early this morning that her condition was precarious, and that he could not tell with certainty whether she would recover.

The Allen girl came here a short time ago from Douglas, Ariz.

Following Disciplining of Few of Their Number, High School Boys Confess and Receive Same Dose.

Following the suspension of school-mates for eating pinons in class, several high school students yesterday confessed to Miss Nancy Hewitt, principal, that they were just as guilty. They also were suspended. This brought the total list of boys under suspension from the high school to thirty-five.

A student, as the story goes, was "fired" two days ago. The time of his ostracism from classes was fixed at two days and was reinstated yesterday. Three more were told to go the next day, and they are eligible for reinstatement today.

Those who were "fired" yesterday probably will be allowed to return to school Friday. They were "sentenced" to two days' absence from the class room.

Students believe that the board of education will not take a hand in the disciplining of the pinon eaters as long as no one has been suspended for more than two days.

M. E. Hickey, president of the board, said last night that he did not know anything about the wholesale suspension.

FACTS AND FICTION

Experiences of Albuquerque Citizens Are Easily Proven to Be Facts.

The most superficial investigation will prove that the following statement from a resident of Albuquerque is true. Read it and compare evidence from Albuquerque people with testimony of strangers living so far away you cannot investigate the facts of the case. Many taken Doctors of Albuquerque endorse Doan's Kidney Pills.

H. B. Schuster, 2006 S. 10th street, Albuquerque, N. M., says: "In my work it is frequently necessary to do some heavy lifting. This constant strain began to tell on me. I had sharp twinges in the small of my back. I had headaches and dizzy spells and was in bad shape. I had often heard Doan's Kidney Pills recommended and I gave them a trial. The first box strengthened my kidneys and drove away all the aches and pains. Since then, I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills when I have needed a good kidney medicine, and they have never failed me."

PROMPT COLLECTION OF TAXES ORDERED BY TRAVELING AUDITOR

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 10.—The traveling auditor's office today reversed itself in instructing county treasurers, in that it asks in these instructions that the letters sent out by the office on December 1, advising county treasurers that twenty to thirty days might be allowed after receipt of assessment books, before taxes should be considered delinquent, should be ignored. The new instructions declare that no good reason exists for any delay in the collection of taxes in any county except in Chaves, Gadsden and San Miguel, in which the assessors were restrained by injunctions from completing their books.

G. W. Gillespie, assessor of the county of Colfax, in transmitting his assessment books to the traveling auditor, called attention to an injunction against Colfax county, which shows on its tax books $173,831 in bonds, coupons and notes, while the other twenty-five counties taken together, report only $4,863.

TEN CONVICTS ARE RECOMMENDED FOR PAROLE FROM PRISON

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 10.—The board of penitentiary commissioners this forenoon let the contracts for the supplies for the institution for the next six months. It also recommended the parole of ten convicts, who had applied for clemency. Because the publication of the names would embarrass the men in their efforts to regain foothold in active life, they are withheld. The board found conditions at the penitentiary under Warden John B. McManus in excellent condition.

Cut of Almost 20 Per Cent Is Made to Consumer; Read the Details of How It All Happened.

It is a well known fact that three concerns control practically two-thirds of the output of tires manufactured in the United States, and a gentlemen's agreement decides the price at which they shall be sold from year to year.

There was to have been a general reduction on tires, January 1, 1914, of about 1-2 per cent, but a fourth manufacturer got busy about thirty days ago and the other tire people thought him a little bit previous, and they decided to make a cut worth while and one that would make all tire manufacturers take notice. This reduction cannot last, as it is only the result of warfare between the manufacturers. Tire prices will advance March 1, to within 1-2 per cent of what they have been since last April.

We now have on hand one of the most complete stocks ever shipped into Albuquerque, all sizes and three makes—Goodyear, Lee and U. S. If you are in need of tires, now is the time to buy. If you will need them next summer or spring, now is the time to place your order. We will accept orders from now until March 1, for tires to be delivered any time until June 30, next year.

HOME RULE FOR IRELAND.

In the name of the Irish people and for Ireland, John Redmond demanded integral and autonomous admission to the empire. In one of the greatest speeches ever delivered in the British House, speaking at Newcastle, Redmond said:

"We, the Irish Nationalists, stand today at the door of the Empire, and we ask for admission. We pledge you our faith as a nation and our loyalty as men. We seek to blot out the memory of ancient wrongs and ancient injuries and ancient causes of heart-burning and discontent. We ask to-day to be allowed to cross the threshold into an empire—ours, remember, by right of service as much as yours—where the genius of our people, the valor of our soldiers, and the fidelity of our race might possibly prove to be one of the greatest assets in the vicissitudes and dangers of an unknown future."

Aside from the United States, of the north of Ireland, and their unionist sympathizers in England and Scotland, there is no opposition to the just demands of the people of the Emerald Isle for self government under the British crown.

Ireland has been one of the main props of the British empire. Irish homes lie with English bones in India, in Africa, in every zone British arms have won. Irish blood was poured out like water with English blood in the struggle against Napoleon in Spain and on the field of Waterloo. The Irish, with the English and the Scotch, fought and died before Sebastopol. Two of Great Britain's soldiers of whom she is proudest—Wellington and Kitchener—sprang from the Irish race. Irish brains and Irish daring have contributed to the creation of this empire, which is a wonder of history, and in those great self-governing colonies, that are the unique glory of the British empire, men of Ireland live as brothers with men of England, Scotland and Wales.

For long years, the Irish have aspired for an Irish parliamentary government. Their ambition has had the support of England's greatest statesmen, but not even Gladstone was powerful enough to overcome the prejudices of the English landholders and the protestants of Ulster and their English and Scotch sympathizers.

Great Britain not only now has opportunity to heal the lesion, caused largely by the brutality of Cromwell and the succeeding parceling out of Irish lands to English lords, but has the duty of doing justice to a patriotic and wonderfully efficient people who have remained loyal to the British crown under almost unthinkable oppression. Failure to accord home rule now would be an error comparable only with the blunder made by King George prior to 1776, when the American colonies were driven to revolt.

The opposition to the Asquith policy is backed in part by religion, but more by business concerns, similar to those who favored war with the colonies. In one of his letters, speaking of the foolishness of the policy of the British government in the colonies, Horace Walpole said:

"I forget to tell you that the town of Birmingham has petitioned the parliament to enforce the American act that is, make war; for they have a manufacture of swords and muskets."

How similar is the demand for intervention in Mexico where by the loss of a few thousand American lives and the expenditure of a billion dollars of the taxpayers' money, certain individuals would be able to make fortunes by annexation of that republic!

WELCOME THE REFUGEES.

It is unjust to Mexico to assume that all of the people of that republic are without sense of what the people of that country require to make them happy and prosperous.

Chihuahua was a city of about thirty-five thousand. A large proportion of the population had property and education. The payroll there was large, and those who had ambition had opportunity to gratify it as a rule. When it became apparent, a short time ago, that the city could not be held by the federalists and that little money would be shown the property owners by Villa, seven generals and the army decided to evacuate. They were accompanied across the desert to the American border by about two thousand men, and the refugees were men of Mexico and for a long time governor of Chihuahua state. The civilians, as a rule, were people of property and responsibility. They did not want to wait and be looted and probably lined up against blank walls in front of firing squads to make a Mexican holiday for Villa's soldiers. Hence their remarkable flight to safety.

Those people are law abiding, intelligent, many of them well educated. They must remain in the United States for a long time, and the people of Albuquerque should extend to them a cordial welcome, should they desire to make this city headquarters, as they have been invited to do by the Commercial club.

NATIONAL PROHIBITION.

There was a great prohibition demonstration in Washington City yesterday. Speeches were made by distinguished men and women and thousands marched to the national capitol and were greeted there by Richmond Pearson Hobson, for the house, and Senator Morris Sheppard, of Texas, for the senate. Mr. Hobson was in his glory, as he always is when he can be the center of attraction, large or small.

The prohibitionists are demanding a national constitutional amendment for the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of liquor as a beverage. There really is little excuse for proposing such amendment. The states have the right to enact prohibitory laws, in some form, that will be effective with the aid of the Webb-Kenyon law which has been held by the federal courts to be constitutional, though it has not been passed on by the supreme court of the United States, where it will find its way in time.

For instance, Arkansas is to have complete prohibition. The legislature of that state passed a bill, effective January 1, which makes it unlawful for any court, town or city council to issue a liquor license except on petition of a majority of the adult white population within the incorporated limits of the town or city where the license is to be used. The law further provides that the county shall have voted for license at the preceding general election. The petition must include the names of the municipality in question.

This pretty well shuts out the possibility of a saloon in any part of the state. Tennessee has a law by which no saloon can be operated within fifteen miles of a church or schoolhouse, which also is effective except where the sentiment of the majority of the people is opposed to prohibition, as in Nashville and Memphis.

There must be an end to the extension of the federal authority over matters that are purely within the province of the states to control. Under the interstate laws, nearly anything can be done now. Certainly enough can be done to correct any evil which may be promoted by the crossing of interstate lines.

The schools and science generally, are bringing temperance—more than temperance, total abstinence from the use of alcoholic liquors. Professor Toay Lattinen spent six years studying the results of the use and the non-use of liquor in five thousand families. He found a marked superiority in the children of those who do not drink over the children of persons who drink, even in moderation. This fact developed, is a thousand times better than any prohibition law which could be written on the statute books of state or nation.

Science and the demands by employers for the highest degree of efficiency of employees, is bringing real temperance from the inside, where it must begin if it is ever to be worth while to the people of this or any other country.

A drunken man went to a perfectly solvent bank in Omaha and wanted his check cashed for one thousand dollars. The bank officials refused because they thought he was not in fit condition to handle such a sum of money. He went away and talked. A run resulted and the bank had to pay out $100,000 to frightened depositors the first day. Yesterday the run was continued, and the bank may become seriously embarrassed in consequence. Next time, it will not undertake to be guardian for a man full of whiskey.

It takes a tactful man to avoid talking about the weather we have in Albuquerque. It is so pleasant it causes the eastern tourist to ask constantly if it can last. It has been lasting for many years and shows no signs of decadence.

Governor Blease, of South Carolina, has pardoned 890 convicts since the first of 1911. It has become pretty hard for a man to find a place to spend the winter in that state.

Because a thoughtless faculty demanded too much study in the classes, the football team of New York University failed to score a single time during the season.

MURDERERS MAKE GET-AWAY FROM PENITENTIARY

Two Convicts Take Advantage of Train Switching Within Enclosure to Scale High Wall to Freedom.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL.)

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 10.—At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon two convicts at the state penitentiary, both of them murderers, made a successful break for liberty. They were both working in the yard and their escape was facilitated by the noise of a switching train, which also cut off the view from the rest of the yard and enabled the two convicts to climb the wall unseen and get away. A reward of $100 is offered for the recapture and return of each of the men.

One of them is Margarito Candelaria, whose conviction at Albuquerque, for murder on October 22, 1910, is still fresh in the minds of many people. He had been sentenced from ten to fifteen years. Candelaria is twenty-two years of age, and a native of Bernadillo county. He has dark brown hair, brown eyes, light complexion, is stocky and has a scar one inch long on the back of the head. He weighs 115 pounds and is five feet eight inches tall.

The other escaped convict is Hilario Ruiz, a native of Mexico, sentenced from Valencia county, to serve ninety-nine years for second degree murder. He is twenty-six years of age, of medium height, five feet eight inches tall and weighs 157 pounds. He has dark hair, brown eyes, a pale complexion, good teeth, a large out near in the center of the forehead and also a scar on the right side of the head.

It is believed that both convicts are trying to make their way to Bernadillo county, where they have friends. The penitentiary bloodhounds and poodles were out tonight searching for the fugitive convicts.

HUSBAND CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER; WIFE IS ACQUITTED

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL.)

Roswell, N. M., Dec. 10.—Frank McKnight was found guilty of manslaughter and his wife, held as accessory in the crime of killing Claude Sweazea, was acquitted, this morning by the jury which for a week had been hearing evidence in the case.

McKnight was recommended to the clemency of the court. Judge McCleure has not yet announced sentence.

The case, growing out of the shooting of Sweazea on the plains early in October this year, attracted one of the largest crowds in local court circles, over sixty witnesses being put on the stand. The defense centered on the unwritten law of self-defense.

GOVERNOR M'DONALD AGAINST A SPECIAL SESSION OF ASSEMBLY

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL.)

Deming, N. M., Dec. 10.—That he would not call an extra session of the state legislature to consider the New Mexico tax question, unless such a step became absolutely necessary, was the statement made here today by William C. McDonald, governor of New Mexico, addressing the chamber of commerce and a number of state officials and members of the assembly. That the governor does not regard the situation such as to warrant calling an extra session at this time was the understanding of his hearers. Litigation in three courts over the collection of taxes due December 1, has resulted in a temporary shortage in public funds, but the governor expressed no concern over the outcome.

POSTHUMOUS SON IS BORN TO WIDOW OF GENERAL A. S. BROOKES

Mrs. Brookes is the daughter of Col. George C. Bushnell, commanding officer at Fort Bayard, where the United States military sanatorium is located.

TAOS COUNTY HAS LARGEST STANDS OF WHITE PINE IN MINNESOTA

However, the Women Receive More Wages Per School Year Than the Men; Luna County's Showing Good.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 10.—Taos county employs more than twice as many male teachers as women teachers but pays its women teachers more by the year and by the month than it does its male teachers, which by the way is characteristic of most of the Spanish-American countries, but it is most unusual in any other jurisdiction in the United States.

Taos has thirty-six school districts that held school last year and two districts that have just been organized and therefore had no school. One district has seven rooms, one has four rooms, ten have two rooms and twenty-three have one room, but there is only one school house in the county that has more than one room and that has two rooms only.

Forty-four of the school houses are rented, thirty-eight are owned, forty-eight are of adobe, four of frame, twenty-three are designated as good, twenty as fair and nine as poor.

There are thirty-six male teachers employed, and sixteen women teachers of these, two have life certificates, four have first class, sixteen second class, thirty-one third class certificates. The average salary is $151.51 per month for men, and $154.11 for women, $194.21 per year for men and $184.93 for women.

The school census shows 4,915 persons of school age. Of these 2,330 are enrolled, 3,521 being Spanish-American and 159 English-American children. Eighty and the kindergarten, 1,887 are in the first grade and there comes a tremendous drop, for there are only 611 in the second grade, 349 in the third, 148 in the fourth, ninety-five in the fifth, fifty-three in the sixth, ten in the seventh and six in the eighth grade.

Luna county makes an excellent showing for its average school term is 8.67 months and the average monthly salary of its teachers runs up to $73, and for the year to $882. The county employed twenty-five women teachers and eight men teachers, of whom four hold professional, twenty-two hold first grade and seven hold second grade certificates. There are nine school libraries with 266 volumes valued at $473. The school census is 1,544 and the enrollment 1,224.

WILL INCORPORATE STATE INSTITUTE OF SCIENCE

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 10.—Judge E. H. Wright is drawing up incorporation papers for the New Mexico Institute of Science, which is the result of recommendations adopted by the chamber of commerce after a special committee had considered the subject of establishing a chautauque at Santa Fe. The committee decided not to establish a chautauque, because Mountair had already pre-empted that field, nor a summer school, such as would compete with the summer schools at Silver City, Albuquerque and East Las Vegas, but decided to co-operate with the School of American Archaeology in broadening and popularizing the branches taught by it during its August session so as to invite teachers, especially in the higher grades, besides others interested in scientific research work as well as the higher culture and arts.

The Palace of the Governors and the laboratories of the School of American Archaeology will be the plant for the proposed Institute of Science and arrangements are already under way to have the normal teachers' institute of Santa Fe, Taos and Rio Arriba counties held in Santa Fe at the same time so that the teachers may have the benefit of some of the courses, such as that to be given by Col. R. E. Twitchell on the History of the Southwest and those by eminent scientists who come here each August to lecture at the sessions of the Archaeological school.

The following will be the incorporators of the New Mexico Institute of Science:

Judge William H. Pope, Judge John H. McFee, David R. Boyd, Superintendent of Instruction A. N. White, Paul A. F. Walter, J. Wight Gliddings, Mrs. R. J. Palen, Edgar L. Mewell, Nathan Jaffa, R. F. Asplund, Dr. F. H. H. Roberts, Jose D. Bera, Brother Edward, Arthur Seligman, Judge E. R. Wright, Dr. Frank Mera, Mrs. N. R. Laughlin, Mrs. Jacob Walther, L. A. Hughes, Col. R. E. Twitchell, Prof. J. H. Wagner, Dr. C. M. Light, Jose Montaner, Prof. H. S. Coughlin, Secretary of State Antonio Lucero, Ralph C. Ely.

Arrangements are also pending for special courses for teachers in the Indian schools. Many of the teachers in Oklahoma have already signified their intention of attending the proposed institute next summer. An attendance of 500 is assured for the first session and a tent city is to be erected to accommodate those who do not wish to take quarters in the hotels and lodging houses.

There will be several excursions in connection with the course, including one to the Santo Domingo corn dance, another to the cliff dwellings and a third to the mission churches near Mountair. Those especially interested in archaeological work will spend several weeks in field operations among the cliff dwellings and pueblo ruins.

The Longworth Rifles have been organized. It is now likely that President

TAOS COUNTY HAS LARGEST STANDS OF WHITE PINE IN MINNESOTA

However, the Women Receive More Wages Per School Year Than the Men; Luna County's Showing Good.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)

Washington, Dec. 10.—The largest remaining virgin stands of white pine in the United States are found in Minnesota, according to a state report recently published. These, in addition to the stands of Norway and Jack pine, spruce, tamarack, and balsam fir, add much to the state's timber wealth and make it contain some of the most valuable timber resources east of the Rockies.

The report which gives these facts deals with the wood-using industries of the state and is the result of co-operation between the state and federal authorities. The field investigations were conducted by members of the United States forest service. Certain statistics on present and future supplies of Minnesota's timber were contributed by W. T. Cox, state forester, who brings out the diminishing timber resources of the state, and advocates measures for conserving them.

Twenty different wood-using industries are reported, not counting sawmills, shingle mills, cooperage, and pulp works, which are not included in an investigation covering only manufactured commodities.

The wood-using industries require forty-five kinds of wood, of which twenty grow in Minnesota, and all but three are native to the United States. Two are furnished wholly from within the state—aspens and balsam of Gilead. In all, Minnesota uses nearly one billion feet of material in these industries, and supplies seven-eighths of this quantity from within its own borders.

Thirty-five million feet of Pacific coast softwoods, or seven times as much as from the north, competes with the coniferous forests of Minnesota. This Pacific coast material

The Man Worth While Is the Man Worth Money

—not always but ninety-nine times out of a hundred that's so. It takes mentality to make money. It requires manhood to save money.

The man who will take only a little of the money his mentality—his ability has earned for him and will save it, will get on! Ask any man ten years older than you. Ask him how much he regrets saving so little as ten cents a day for the last ten years. Ask him how much less he thinks of himself than men of affairs think of fellowmen who have saved regularly during the last ten years.

The moral? SAVE! Deposit your savings in a safe institution—such as this bank. And above all—begin to save NOW!

comes 2,000 miles by land transportation, and is 1,000 miles farther away than southern pine, of which Douglas fir from the northwest is an active competitor. Similarly, the report says, Sitka spruce is a rival of eastern spruce, western white pine a rival of the eastern species, and western hemlock of the hemlock which grows in the lake states.

The largest industry makes planing mill products, such as flooring, siding, and ceiling; more than half of the material used is white pine. This product is turned out by eighty-three mills. The sash, door, and millwork industry comes second, and here again white pine furnishes more than half of the material. The box and crate industry comes next, followed in order by car building, woodware, furniture, fixtures, vehicles, paving blocks, agricultural implements, gates and portable fences, coffins, silos, and handles.

The sawmills of the state turn out each year 50 per cent more material than is demanded by the wood-using industries.

SALAZAR VIOLATED
NEUTRALITY LAWS
IS CHARGED

Clerk of United States District Court Issues Warrant for Mexican General and Delivers It to Texas Marshal.

Harry F. Lee, clerk of the United States district court, at Santa Fe, Tuesday issued a warrant upon the Principles of United States District Attorney Summers Burkhardt, for Gen.
Jose Luis Salazar of the federal army, charging him with violation of the neutrality laws. The warrant was mailed to the United States marshal of Texas, who will make an attempt to arrest Salazar if he finds him on Texas territory.

Salazar was indicted by a United States grand jury in New Mexico October 15, 1913, on a charge of conspiracy to import munitions of war into Mexico. He was arrested upon this charge soon afterward, but forfeited bond.

GIRL SCOUTS WILL HAVE REHEARSAL AT CHURCH THIS AFTERNOON

At 5 o'clock this afternoon the Albuquerque Girl Scouts will have a rehearsal of the entertainment which is to be given by the members tomorrow night. The rehearsal will be at the Presbyterian church, Fifth and Silver, and a full attendance is especially desired, as in addition to the work of rehearsal, tickets will be distributed and others assigned for the entertainment.

The advance sale of seats for the entertainment indicates that there will be a gratifying attendance, and it is believed that a handsome sum will be raised for the charitable purpose for which the affair is being given.
Tickets are on sale at the Williams
Drug company, the Highland Pharmacy and Matson's.

Those desiring to make contributions to the Girl Scouts are requested to send or bring their donations to the Presbyterian church tomorrow evening, when the entertainment will be held.

MAIL CAR CAPACITY IS INCREASED BY THE SANTA FE

Trains No. 3 and No. 9 Now Haul Sixty-Foot Cars to Handle Usual Pre-Holiday Congestion.

The first preparation for handling the ante-holiday congestion of mails by the railway mail service, apparent locally, was the substitution on trains
No. 3 and No. 9 of sixty-foot mail cars for compartment cars, which have been in use since the close of the 1911 holiday season.

This change was made yesterday. At that it was not made too soon. The sixty-foot car on train No. 9, which arrived at 11:30 o'clock last night, was loaded to its capacity, indicating that the service will have to increase its mail carrying facilities again before Christmas.

LITERARY AND MUSICAL PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN BY MENAUL STUDENTS

The students of Menaul school will render an exceedingly interesting literary and musical program tonight at the First Presbyterian church, and it is expected that a large audience will be present to witness the evidence of the progress that has been made by the school. Recitations and vocal and instrumental selections will be given, and those who are familiar with the high standard set by this institution do not need to be told that a pleasant and instructive evening is in store.

HEAD OF EXPOSITION COMMISSION OF
INDIANA HERE

Lieutenant Governor William
P. O'Neill and Mrs. O'Neill
Stop on Way From Frisco to Indianapolis.

Lieutenant Governor William P.
O'Neill of Indiana, and Mrs. O'Neill were in Albuquerque for a brief stay yesterday afternoon on their way from San Francisco to Indianapolis.
They were met here by L. W. Black, cousin of Mrs. O'Neill.

The lieutenant governor is chairman of the Indiana Panama-Pacific Exposition commission, and went to San Francisco a week ago with Homer Cook, speaker of the Indiana house, and State Senator W. H. Wood of Indiana, members of the commission.
They met former Vice President
Charles W. Fairbanks, vice chairman of the commission, at San Francisco.
The site for the Indiana building had been selected, and the commission approved the selection. J. T.
Johnson, an Indianapolis architect, accompanied the lieutenant governor and other members of the party to San Francisco and remained there.

The state of Indiana appropriated $50,000 for its building at San Francisco, according to Lieutenant Governor O'Neill. All of this money is to be expended at the San Francisco exposition.

CHURCH FEDERATION OF
NEW MEXICO HOLDS
INTERESTING SESSION

The second annual session of the New Mexico Church Federation, an organization composed of representatives of all the Protestant churches of the state, was held yesterday in the First Presbyterian church.

An interesting program was rendered, the general discussion being participated in by Rev. Hugh A.
Cooper, Rev. C. O. Beckman, Rev.
H. P. Williams, Dr. S. A. Bright and
Dr. J. H. Heald. Rev. Thomas L.
Dyer also read a paper on "Church
Federation: What It Means and What It Is to Be Attained by It." The reports of committees showed the organization to be in a healthy and growing condition and indicated that gratifying progress had been made during the last year.

The election of officers resulted in the election of Dr. J. H. Heald, of the Congregational church, as president, and Rev. S. E. Allison, of the Central Avenue Methodist church, South, as secretary.

The next meeting of the federation will be held in Albuquerque in October, 1914, at the same time that the State Sunday School convention, of which Judge William H. Pope is president, is in session. It is probable that Albuquerque will hereafter be the permanent city of the organization.
