Telegraphic Tidings

Got Away.
PINE RIDGE, S. D., Dec. 27.—General Brooke has received a dispatch from Col. Sumner, stating that Big Foot and the Sitting Bull Indians, who surrendered to him two days ago, have escaped and are making for the Bad Lands. General Brooke at once sent a body of troops under the command of Col. Henry to intercept them, but it is feared he will not be successful. The circumstances of the escape were not stated in Col. Sumner's dispatch.

Excited Land Locators.
ARKANSAS CITY, Kas., Dec. 27.—Hordes of boomers in this city are excited over the report that the commission and the Cherokee Indians have closed negotiations for the strip, and that President Harrison will open the outlet for settlement by proclamation. The fact that the soldiers have been removed south of the city lends color to the report. Boomers everywhere are getting ready to move, only waiting for a confirmation of the report.

Will He Do It.
TOPEKA, Dec. 27.—President Polk, of the National Farmers' Alliance will call a committee meeting of the various state alliances some time in February, to discuss the advisability of calling a national conference for placing a third party in the field. The meeting will be held in Washington, but the exact date has not yet been announced. The committee was appointed at the Ocala convention, but President Polk has not yet seen fit to issue the call.

Railroad Building.
NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—In its issue of this week the Engineering News publishes summaries showing by groups of states the mileage of track laid on extensions of steam railway lines in the United States upon which regular trains are to be run to do business as common carriers of both freight and passenger traffic for the year of 1890.

According to the figures here presented the total addition to the country's railway mileage between January 1, 1890, and January 1, 1891, was nearly 5,800 miles, or about 800 miles more than was laid in 1889. The total amount of railway completed January 1, 1891, is 167,172 miles, of this amount 38,912 miles, or over 22 per cent, has been constructed during the last five years.

Come to Sunny New Mexico.
CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—Dispatches indicate a general storm of sleet and snow throughout the east and portions of the south. There are fifteen inches of snow in St. Louis. Snow blockades prevail in Pennsylvania and Ohio. At Lyons, N. Y., it is 40 degrees below zero. In New York the worst blizzard since 1888 is in progress.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 28.—The Journal's Pierre, S. D., special says: A forty-mile-an-hour chinook wind from the northwest, carrying blinding clouds of dust prevails here. It is the hardest straight wind known in the Missouri valley for years.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 28.—Another big snow storm is raging here. It has been snowing steadily for eighteen hours and there are no indications of its cessation. Between twelve and fourteen inches of snow has already fallen. Trains on all roads are severely hampered and the roads have been temporarily suspended.

Utica, N. Y.—A severe storm is being experienced throughout the Mohawk valley. The weather is quite cold, the wind is very strong and the snow is falling in large quantities. Trains on all the railroads are late and the gentlemen on the thirty miles of electric street railroads in this city is tied up, the cars being stalled on the streets and in some cases off the tracks.

A FOOL'S MOUTH.

A Lying Special Agent Talks of the Navajos to the New York Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—A special United States agent who has just returned from a trip through New Mexico and Arizona reports that preparations are being made by the Navajos for a general uprising in the spring. The agent spent several weeks among the Indians at different points in the southwest and he says that there are at least 4,000 young bucks who are spoiling for a fight. The Navajos were defeated in 1865, twenty-five years ago, and never since then have they engaged in an open rupture with the whites. The consequence is that a new generation has come up which is totally unacquainted with the evils of war, and troubles which have been brewing for years are about to be brought to the arbitrament of war. The gentleman says that the Messiah craze has nothing to do with the coming outbreak, but that the war department is kept perfectly posted concerning the proposed insurrection, and has agents in its pay who are acquainted with the secret councils of the Navajo chiefs.

During the winter all the regular troops that can be spared will be concentrated at the forts of New Mexico and Arizona, and when the outbreak comes it will be a war of extermination. The Indians are already thoroughly armed with the finest repeating rifles that are manufactured, and they know how to use them. The regular traders are not allowed to sell these arms to the redskins, but they are supplied by outsiders, who are employed for that purpose.

BY WAY OF SANTA FE.

Albuquerque and Santa Fe May Get Together on the Narrow Gauge Extension.

The New Mexican is pleased to note that the people of Albuquerque are coming at last to a common sense understanding of the fact that any extension of the Colorado narrow gauge system of railway lines into New Mexico must come through Santa Fe, which already has direct communication with this system, and not through the barren canon that leads down the Rio Grande from Espanola. With Santa Fe, Cerrillos, San Pedro and Albuquerque business men pulling together on this proposition the New Mexican believes the earnest support of the people of Pueblo and Denver can be had and in this event the wider extension of the narrow gauge to Albuquerque can be prominently forced to the front during the next few months. The Albuquerque Citizen says:

As we have before stated, in discussing the proposed extension of the Denver & Rio Grande from Espanola to Albuquerque, the selection of the route by which it is to come is a matter for the company to decide, but we are inclined to believe, all things considered, that it would be much better for the interests of Albuquerque to have the road come by way of Santa Fe and Cerrillos than straight down the valley. It would make some pretty heavy grades over a part of the line, but it would strike a good deal more business on the way, and what is more, we believe that if the interests of Santa Fe, Cerrillos and Albuquerque could be united upon a proposition of this kind, the enterprise could be carried out successfully. And while a road coming in by this route would benefit us more than one coming down through White Rock canon, because it would bring us more local trade, it would also benefit Santa Fe and Cerrillos—especially the latter point, as it would open its magnificent coal fields to the markets of the world, and furnish Albuquerque with fuel at lower rates than we are now able to obtain from any other source. While it is our first duty to look out for ourselves, it is a serious matter to us, that the promotion of our own interests requires us to do anything to the detriment of our neighbors. It would be impossible for anything to occur that would benefit any of our neighboring towns, to any great extent, without in some measure benefiting us, and hence whenever we can shape the enterprise in such a way as to benefit any of our neighbors at the same time we are benefiting ourselves, it is clearly our duty and to our own interests to do so. And in this view of the case we believe, if the Denver & Rio Grande were to be extended to Albuquerque at the expense of the interests of Santa Fe and Cerrillos, we should promote our own interests by electing to have it come by way of Santa Fe and Cerrillos.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind. "I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling. I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—it took three bottles. It gave me an immense amount of good appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every Post Office in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the southwest.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 27.

No South Carolina methods will be tolerated in New Mexico; paste this in your hats and study it carefully.

The fee system must receive due and proper attention at the hands of the 29th legislative assembly. The people demand this.

There is a good deal of the proper kind of legislation necessary for the advancement and prosperity of New Mexico. Will it be had in the coming legislative assembly?

The supremacy of the law must be sustained; peace and order must be preserved; these are just about the very first things to be looked after and they will be looked after.

Under the operations of the Perea Finance bill the expenses of the territorial government have been reduced $100,000 a year; a most extraordinary and beneficial result this; the law must be kept in force.

The extension of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad from Espanola to Albuquerque via Santa Fe, Carrizosa and San Pedro would benefit the people of New Mexico and Colorado and increase the business of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad to a large and very profitable extent.

One matter of grave importance to the people and the legislative assembly, and that is that the greatest economy be practiced in the matter of the employment of extra help, and as clerks, messengers, pages, etc. The people expect this expense has been the rule; let moderation, economy and a due regard for the interests of the people be the rule during the coming session.

The least disturbance in the organization of the 29th legislative assembly or any interference with Sec. Thomas in the performance of his duty will greatly injure this territory; more than enough injury has already been done it and its material interests by the lawless course of some of the Democratic bosses in this and Taos counties. A halt had best be called by those interested, while there is yet time.

The first number of the Colfax County Courier, published at Raton, has reached this office; it is to be a paper for the people and somewhat independent; it is well gotten up and edited. The Courier says that there is plenty of room as yet within the fence and hence its appearance; let us hope so and success to it; there can not be too many decent papers in New Mexico.

This situation is somewhat murky, but it may clear up by Monday noon. Who knows?

Every man, who is shown to be elected upon the face of the returns as on file in the office of the secretary of the territory, is entitled to be sworn in as a member of the 29th legislative assembly and will be sworn in; what happens after the organization of the assembly is the business of that body. The proceedings at the organization will be orderly and peaceful; the secretary will do his duty and his full duty. Bear this in mind.

To succeed the late Mr. Justice Miller President Harrison seems to have made and excellent appointment in selecting Judge Henry Brown, of Detroit. He is a native of Massachusetts but for thirty years the west has been his home. He has always been a Republican and displayed signal ability as the presiding judge of the eastern district of Michigan to which he was appointed by President Grant in 1875. He graduated from Yale in 1856, having for his classmates, among others of national reputation, Chauncey M. Depew and Judge David Brewer.

That excellent journal, the Denver Republican, to whose management the people of New Mexico owe a debt of gratitude for its kindly sentiments toward all that tends to promote the welfare of this territory, has rather distinguished itself in issuing its Christmas number this year. The paper contained forty-four pages, eight columns to the page, making 352 columns in all. The advertisements filled 235 columns against 200 columns in the corresponding issue a year ago and 176 columns in 1883. The reading matter occupied 117 columns, containing about 180,000 words of print. It was a splendid piece of journalistic enterprise.

IMPROVE THE IRRIGATION LAW.

Through the operations of the California irrigation law the largest contract for laying water pipes ever let in the United States has just been closed in what is known as the Alessandro irrigation district. The contract calls for the placing of forty miles of vitrified pipe, the first installment of 300 miles of water pipes to be laid in the district, and the trenches for the same are now being excavated by a machine that digs one mile per day. These are enterprises that a wise and just irrigation law brings to a community, and in this connection we can not refrain from again calling the attention of the assembling law makers of New Mexico to the wisdom of enacting some such law at the approaching session of the legislature. The Californians have given more earnest thought to this subject, probably than any other people. They have had all sorts of laws on the subject, and these have been revised, amended, overhauled many times and all have been finally repealed, and in their stead the existing law has been adopted, authorizing the land owners of any certain locality to organize "districts," somewhat after our present system of school districts, and these land owners to tax themselves and issue bonds for carrying out any irrigation scheme that might be proposed by a permanent water supply for the irrigation of their lands. Some such law if enacted at the present session of the legislature would very greatly advance the prosperity of New Mexico. The "district" method is simple in its operations, and from the fact that the people are already familiar with its workings as applied to schools, it ought to be generally popular. Again it gives the land owner quite as much freedom as he now enjoys under our system of annually electing water overseers. It also leaves the whole matter in the hands of the land owners themselves; there is nothing compulsory about it, for if they chose to adhere to the old system they could do so, while the more enterprising communities could adopt the new system and co-operate with one another to improve their water service and advance their community interests. Let us be abreast of the times in this essential matter.

Anglo-American free traders to the following wall from one of their allies beyond the Atlantic. The Financial Times of London, England, of a recent date says: "The McKinley bill continues to bear fruit of a somewhat Dead Sea order by inducing British manufacturers to start establishments in the states. A large firm of gingham manufacturers in Scotland is negotiating for a factory site in Westport, Conn." Thus is the lie direct given by the free traders in England to their coadjutors in America. England is held up to our gaze as the very paradise of free trade (by your more or less esteemed Democratic contemporaries) which we Americans ought to hasten to imitate, and yet one of the leading (English) financial journals announces that the McKinley bill which was to bring ruin and bankruptcy on our industries has the very opposite effect already and that large British manufacturers are fleeing from free trade England to protected America. How can our free traders account for this state of affairs? But they will not try to account keep up the old parrot cry, "The tariff is a tax."
But suppose that one single manufactory of the smallest class was transferred from America to England; the most startling head lines would be used by every Democratic organ in the union, and every free trade orator would quote the fact as an absolutely convincing proof of the ruinous effects of protection and the superiority of English free trade. We need not wonder at this as the largest part of the stock in trade of the free traders consists of depreciation of American industry and appreciation of everything English, you know.

HISTORICAL.

Santa Fe, the city of the Holy Faith of St. Francis, is the capital of New Mexico, trade center, sanitary, archiepiscopal see, and also the military headquarters. An Indian pueblo had existed on the site previous to the 15th century. Its name was Uga-poh-phe, but it had been abandoned long before Coronado's time. The Spanish town of Santa Fe was founded in 1605, it is therefore the second oldest European settlement still extant in the United States. In 1804 came the first venturesome American trader—the forerunner of the great line of merchants who have made traffic over the Santa Fe world-wide in its celebrity.

THE CLIMATE.

Of New Mexico is considered the finest on the continent. The high altitude insures dryness and purity (especially adapted to the permanent cure of pulmonary complaints, as hundreds will be witness), and by traveling from point to point almost any desired temperature may be enjoyed. The altitude of some of the principal points in the territory is as follows: Santa Fe, 7,047; Coitilla, 7,774; Tierra Amarilla, 7,455; Glorieta, 7,587; Taos, 6,950; Las Vegas, 6,452; Cimarron, 6,489; Bernalillo, 5,704; Albuquerque, 4,918; Socorro, 4,855; Las Cruces, 3,844; Silver City, 5,946; Ft. Stanton, 5,800. The mean temperature at the government station at Santa Fe, for the years named was as follows: 1874, 48.9 degrees; 1875, 48.5 degrees; 1876, 48.1; 1877, 48.3; 1878, 47.6; 1879, 50.6; 1880, 46.6; which shows an extraordinary uniformity. For tubercular diseases the death rate in New Mexico is the lowest in the union, the ratio being as follows: New England, 25; Minnesota, 14; Southern States, 6; and New Mexico, 3.

DISTANCES.

Santa Fe is distant from Kansas City 1,116 miles; from Denver, 338 miles; from Trinidad, 216 miles; from Albuquerque, 85 miles; from Deming, 316 miles; from El Paso, 340 miles; from Los Angeles, 1,032 miles; from San Francisco, 1,281 miles.

ELEVATIONS.

The base of the monument in the Plaza is, according to latest correct measurements, 7,019.5 feet above the level of the sea; Bald mountain, toward the northeast and at the extreme northern end of the Santa Fe mountains, 12,901 feet above sea level; Lake Peak, to the north where the Santa Fe creek has its source, is 12,045 feet high; the divide (Tosque road) 7,171; Agua Fria, 6,480; Cieneguilla (west), 6,025; La Bajada, 5,514; mouth of Santa Fe creek (north of Pena Blanca), 5,225; Santa mountains (highest point), 10,008; Old Pecos, 6,801; Los Hornos mountains (south), 5,584 feet in height.

POINTS OF INTEREST.

There are some forty various points of more or less historic interest in and about the ancient city. The adobe palace stands on the spot where the old Spanish palace had been erected shortly after 1605. That ancient structure was destroyed in 1880 and the present one was constructed between 1897 and 1916.

The chapel of San Miguel was built between 1638 and 1680. In the latter years the Indians destroyed it. Fully restored in 1711, it had been religiously and, after 1893, been the only Spanish chapel in Santa Fe. It still remains the oldest church in use in New Mexico.

The walls of the old cathedral date in part from 1622; but the edifice proper is from the fort century. Old Fort Marcy was first recognized as a place of strategic military point by the Spanish Indians when they revolted against Spanish rule in 1680 and drove out the enemy after besieging the city for nine days. The American army under Kearney constructed old Fort Marcy in 1846.

Fort Marcy of the present day is garrisoned by two companies of the 10th U. S. Infantry, under command of Col. Snyder, and here at 9 a. m. daily occurs guard mounting, a feature of military maneuvering of interest to the tourist. Other points of interest to the tourist are: The historical society's rooms; the "cave" of the military quarter; chapel and cemetery of Our Lady of the Rosary; the church museum at the new cathedral; the archbishop's gardens; church of Our Lady of Guadalupe with its rare old works of art; the soldiers' monument, monument to the Pioneer, Kate Richmond, the Carson, erected by the U. S. A. of New Mexico; St. Vincent hospital, conducted by Sisters of Charity, and the Orphan's industrial school; the Indian training school; Loreto Academy and the chapel of Our Lady of Light.

The sight-seer here may also take a vehicle and enjoy a day's outing with both pleasure and profit. The various spots of interest to be visited are Tesuque pueblo, asking in the divide en route; Monument rock, up in picturesque Santa Fe canon; the Aztec mineral springs; Nambe pueblo; Agua Fria village; the turquoise mines; place of the association of Governor Perez; San Ildefonso pueblo; or the ancient cliff dwellers, beyond the Rio Grande.

THE CITY OF SANTA FE is making a steady modern growth; has now a population of 8,000, and may expect assurance of becoming a beautiful modern city. Her people are liberal and enterprising, and stand ready to foster and encourage any legitimate undertaking having for its object the building up and betterment of the place. Among the present needs of Santa Fe, and for which liberal bonuses in cash or lands could undoubtedly be secured, may be mentioned a cannery factory; a wool scouring plant and a tannery. Skilled labor of all kinds is in demand at good wages. The cost of living is reasonable, and the real property both inside and outside, is a ready investment in value.

The laws of health are taught in the schools; but not in a way to be of much practical benefit and are never illustrated by living examples, which in many cases might easily be done. If some scholar, who had just contracted a cold, was brought before the school, so that all could hear the dry, loud cough and know its significance; see the thin white coating on the tongue and later, as the cold developed, see the profuse watery expectoration and thin watery discharge from the nose, not one of them would ever forget what the first symptoms of a cold were. The scholar should then be given Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Freely that all might see that even a severe cold could be cured in one or two days, or at least greatly mitigated, when properly treated as soon as the first symptoms appear. This remedy is famous for its cures of coughs, colds and croup. It is made especially for these diseases and is the most prompt and most reliable medicine known for the purpose. This railway passes through twelve states and territories, and having no lands of its own to sell has no object in advancing the interests of any special locality, or in giving any other than absolutely reliable information. It realizes that the prosperity of the farmers of the great southwest is its own prosperity, and it is therefore naturally willing to aid the immigrant as much as possible.
