PROTESTS FILED BY FOREIGN CONSULS AGAINST ACTS OF VILLA

Persecution of Spaniards and Invasion of British Vice Con-sulate Matters of International Importance.

CARRANZA ADVISED TO ASSUME CONTROL

United States Representative
Not Permitted to Send Code
Message; Many Executions Occur.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 13.—Conditions affecting foreigners and foreign property in northern Mexico at the hands of the rebels became such today that an appeal was made to the United States representative at Chihuahua, to prevent possible international complications. General Carranza was asked to join General Francisco Villa in Chihuahua City at once. The representative was made that in arbitrarily expelling Spaniards from Mexico and confiscating or shutting down their property, valued at more than $5,000,000, Villa had acted without sufficient advice and that he had incurred the displeasure of foreign interests in forcibly entering the British vice consulate to arrest Luis Terrazas, Jr., who is being held for $250,000 ransom. Complaint also was made to the United States government that Carranza had denied his usual right to send a code message to the state department when he wished to report the plight of the expelled Spaniards. The United States consul, the British vice consul and the Spaniards therefore, sent protests to their respective governments.

It was represented to the foreign governments that Villa had ignored the friendly inquiries of the consuls when they sought information as to the probable fate of Terrazas, who is a son of one of the richest men in the republic, and that Villa violated the rules of international warfare in refusing protection to Spaniards. His holding of Terrazas, a Mexican, for a ransom, was described as the act of a brigand.

Several refugees sent personal messages to the Spanish ambassador at Washington characterizing the enforced exile as "the barbarous act of savages," saying they had been insulted by Villa's troops. Similar messages were sent to King Alfonso of Spain.

The situation resulted in a conference of rebel leaders at Juarez, at which it was explained that Villa, being a military commander, rather than the head of a civil government, had acted without sufficient advice. It was decided that General Carranza should be asked to start immediately for Chihuahua, where, hereafter, he might determine the future policies of the revolution after personal conferences with Villa. The meeting decided that Villa, by his acts toward foreigners, had precipitated a serious situation. As General Carranza cannot go overland from Hermosillo to Chihuahua, in less than ten days, a messenger was dispatched to Villa with important suggestions.

These suggestions in effect were that Villa not further incite the displeasure of foreign governments by detestably discriminating as to what foreigners shall remain in Mexico. It was told that because of his attitude toward Spaniards, the American and German in Chihuahua were threatening to leave the country. In the country further south, which Villa says he will invade in his march toward Mexico City, are many more Spaniards.

led Spaniards in sending to the Spanish ambassador at Washington and to the minister of foreign relations at Madrid a protest against what they considered was an outrage of their rights.

The priests said Villa had demanded $5,000 from each of them and after they had given all they possessed Villa's army looted the cathedral and churches and the convent of all the gold and jeweled chalices and sacred vestments. One priest said he paid over to the rebels $95, which was all he had, another said he gave $115 and the monks gave all but their personal belongings.

Among the priests who vouched for the story of church looting, were Father Superior Jose Morales, of the Community of the Holy Family; Father Manuel de Francisco and the mother superior and six sisters of the Order of the Visitation.

Thomas D. Edwards, United States consul at Juarez, attempted to telegraph to Chihuahua, but was told the wires were not working. Mr. Edwards finally arranged to send a messenger by automobile.

"Before the rebel army entered the city, we thought at least the children of God would be safe," said Father Morales. "Yet the rebels had not been in possession long when we, at the cathedral were visited by an agent of the rebel leader Villa. He informed us that a general tribute was to be exacted for the revolutionary cause and that each of the priests would be expected to pay $5,000. He said if the money was not paid within two days there would be serious consequences. We told him we could not do it, that we did not have the money. At the expiration of the two days Villa's agent returned and we gave him all our worldly possessions. We were

GERMAN PRESS IS DISTRUSTFUL OF UNITED STATES

Believes Opening of Panama Canal Will See Era of Economic and Political Guardianship Over South America.

Berlin, Dec. 13.—German newspapers are deeply distrustful of the attitude of the United States toward the republics of South America. Articles are published regularly in which America is accused of cherishing the idea of eventually establishing a protectorate over all South America, and with the approach of the opening of the Panama canal their appearance is becoming more frequent. A characteristic article is published by the Tagblatt from its correspondent at Buenos Ayres. This correspondent says:

"South Americans are beginning to perceive that with the opening of the Panama canal an era of economic and political guardianship by the United States, coupled with the forcing out of Europe, will be inaugurated in all the twenty Latin-American republics. This realization gained such ground lately that it seemed necessary to the frightened Yankees to send their leading statesmen on speaking tours, in order to dispel the suspicions of their sister republics. As a result the political opponents, Roosevelt and Wilson, have united to defend the interests of the union and divert South American suspicion from Europe. Theodore Roosevelt interrupted his triumphal propaganda trip to Buenos Ayres at the de Janeiro and sent there an inspired son of praise of the Monroe doctrine. The strict upholding of which, he said, was a vital question for all South American states. True to his soothing purpose, he quickly abandoned the aggressive, imperialistic form of the doctrine as formulated by himself and said the union had no thought of territorial conquests, but had in mind only a policy of mutual trust, in the sense of a Pan-American community of interest directed against the old world. In spite of this, he claimed for the union the right to exercise the international police power against the South American republics, in other words, annexation. In case the South Americans should show themselves incapable of upholding 'civilization,' speaking further on his policy of leaving Europe in the cold, Roosevelt declared that the nineteenth century was the century of North American development, and that the twentieth belongs to South America.

Where Roosevelt confined himself to defending the union against suspicion of imperialistic purposes, President Wilson proceeded directly to the attack by picturing Europe as the real enemy of South America. His address before the commercial congress at Mobile was really directed at South America. The aim of the union, he said, had nothing to do with pecuniary considerations, but were decided solely by the demand of morals. The principal enemy of these common American morals, however, was foreign or European capital—from which the South American states must emancipate themselves. The Panama canal, he declared, was the chief link of Pan-American common interests against this European outside influence and would facilitate the emancipation of the South Americans from the foreign yoke. In this they could depend upon the aid of the union.

"In Brazil and Argentina the people are just now somewhat under the spell of Roosevelt. There is no lack, however, of important South American personalities, who see Panama canal and the Yankee friendship in their true light."

ALARMING RUMORS OF PRESIDENT'S CONDITION CALL FORTH DENIAL

Official Statement Issued by Secretary Tumulty Says Mr.
Wilson Is Suffering Only
From Aggravated Cold.

EXPECTS TO BE AT DESK IN FEW DAYS

Following Out Prearranged
Plans, He Probably Will Go
South for Extended Rest
About Last of Month.

Washington, Dec. 13.—President Wilson continued today to nurse an aggravating cold, which has kept him in his room since last Tuesday. Most of the time he had remained in bed on the advice of his physician, chiefly as a measure of precaution to insure complete rest and rapid recovery.

White house officials expect the president back at his desk the early part of next week. It had been his wish to attend the dinner of the Gridiron club tonight and he himself thought he was well enough to go but Dr. Cary T. Grayson, his physician, would not permit it, feeling that it was safer not to risk exposure just yet.

Notwithstanding very positive assurances from the White House, reports gained circulation that the president's condition was alarming to his official family. In order to dispense of these reports the following official statement was given out at the White House:

"Secretary Tumulty stated at the White House that reports of the president's condition being alarming were absolutely groundless. His condition was described as entirely normal and satisfactory, except for a cold which has caused him some discomfort, but has at no time threatened any complications. As a matter of precaution, Dr. Grayson, the attending physician, advised that the president suspend his official activities, including the receiving of visitors, in order to throw off the cold and give him an opportunity for rest and recuperation. The expectation is that the president will resume his official duties early next week. There is nothing in the president's condition to cause the slightest alarm."

The president has not been entirely well since he attended the Army-Navy football game in New York. Sitting in the open stands on a raw day, he developed a cold in the head, which, however, after a few days' confinement to his room, yielded to treatment. Last Monday he felt well enough to take a walk in the bracing air. His physician suggested warm clothing and the president scorned an overcoat, but put on a heavy woolen sweater vest. In the cold wind that was blowing that day, it is believed the president caught additional cold, and when he attended the meeting of the Red Cross on Tuesday, his voice was weak. His physician then ordered him to bed with the determination to keep the president there until he had absolutely recovered. It has been the intention of the president to take a vacation during the holiday recess of congress. This was officially announced recently with the statement that the New Year's reception would not take place, owing to the president's absence.

In view of the uncertainty of a recess of congress, in connection with the passage of the currency bill, friends of the president have been urging him to go to a southern climate, regardless of congress suspending its activities during the holidays. It has not been definitely determined when or where the president will go, but it is stated his proposed trip is the result of prearranged plans, and in no way connected with his present indisposition, although this has emphasized the need of a good rest after the strain of eight months of almost unbroken official activity.

The prevalence of varying reports during the day concerning the president's condition led to some unpleasantness at the capital until reassuring advice were given direct from the White House.

Copies of official dispatches of importance were shown the president during the day. His temperature was normal, and he sat up reading much of the time. He transacted no business but dictated a letter, expressing to the members of the Gridiron club his regret at being unable to attend the dinner.

"I'll miss you more than you will me," wrote the president.

APPARENT FRANKNESS DISARMED SUSPICION

Great Picture Is to Be on Exhibition in Uffizi Gallery
Where It Reposed Four Centuries Ago.

Florence, Dec. 13.—Vincenzo Perugina, from whom Leonardo da Vinci's masterpiece, Mona Lisa, was received today by the police, declared absolutely to the police that he had no accomplices, either direct or indirect, in the theft of the painting from the Louvre. No body knew of his plan before its execution, nobody saw him when he abstracted the picture and nobody knew he had the picture in his possession.

"I did not take the painting through a desire for gain," he said, "but wished to accomplish a great and holy work by returning to my country one of the many treasures stolen from it."

While working in the Louvre, he continued, he was overcome with shame on hearing visitors indicate the great works as thieving. One day he took this oath:

"I will be unworthy of Italy if I do not return to her one of these masterpieces."

The idea showed him and the "Mona Lisa" was over before him. When he could delay no longer, he found he could accomplish his purpose without great difficulty, as he was already known by employees about the building. After the theft he was interrogated by the police, but his frankness and his protest that they search his room, disarmed suspicion.

Similarly when he crossed the French frontier, he readily opened his work box for the authorities that they might search it. Apparently it contained only a few rags and his tools.

Perugia declared he did not intend to sell the picture to the government, but he thought he ought to have adequate compensation for "the great service rendered Italy."

The antiquary Gori will claim the rewards offered by the French government and Paris newspapers for the recovery of the picture.

The "Mona Lisa" has been placed temporarily in the Uffizi gallery where it reposed four hundred years ago, by permission of the French government. Dr. Corrado Ricci, director-general of the department of fine arts, has decided to exhibit it for a day or two, declaring that his gallery is "its legitimate place."

London, Dec. 13.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the suffragette leader, while returning from Paris, where she had been visiting her daughter, Miss Christabel Pankhurst, was rearrested this evening by Scotland Yard detectives shortly after the train left Dover. The action of the police was so unexpected by the militants that they had made no preparations to safeguard their leader by a detachment from the recently organized suffragette army.

OBJECTABLE PARTS OF ACT ARE ANALYZED

Sharp Difference of Opinion Crops Out in Debate and Hope of Early Vote Is Once
More Abandoned.

Washington, Dec. 13.—The administration currency bill was subjected today by Senator Elihu Root of New York. He declared the measure, without statutory limitation on the issuance of the proposed new currency, could bring about an inflation of currency that "would result in a financial catastrophe." The note issue section of the bill, he said, in a dramatic denunciation, "exhibits the opinion of a great leader of the democratic party, whose financial theories have been twice repudiated by the American people."

The only check to an inflated currency, Senator Root contended, was in the hands of a federal reserve board, appointed under the same influence that put into this bill these false theories, and found to proceed in accordance with it.

The bill was defended by Senator Patterson, of Ohio, who opposed vigorously the proposals for public ownership and government control of the proposed regional banks, and declared the bill would relieve any depression now existing.

Sharp differences of opinion, appearing in the debate on the floor, and a marked disinclination to compromise, which was evident in executive conference between democratic and republican leaders, disappointed the hopes for an early vote on the bill which have prevailed for several weeks. Republican senators, who were willing to summarily end debate if they could secure the elimination of certain features of the bill, including the proposal to guarantee bank deposits and the redemption of the proposed new notes in "gold or lawful money," met little encouragement and the leaders almost gave up hope for an early vote.

Senator Root, in opposing his attack on the bill, presented an amendment calculated to place a restriction on the issue of the proposed government notes, by taxing the reserves held against the notes when they fell below fifty per cent, and to also provide for any new notes issued after $100,000,000 notes had been issued a tax of five per cent should be imposed on further issues.

He asserted that under the bill as presented by Senator Owen, it provided for new money for everybody and that anyone who could draw and sign a bill could secure currency. An inflation of credit, he said, could be prevented only by the action of the federal reserve board.

"European interests are watching closely," said Senator Root. "France will never forget her attempts to secure government money. Great Britain still remembers her inflation trouble. Long before the crash comes, the people of commerce and finance in Europe will have seen its approach. But a very little loss of confidence will not merely stop foreign investment from buying American securities, but will bring tumbling back to this country thousands of millions of our securities. They will have to be bought, at the bidding of the banks holding similar securities, and the American investor carrying his business on similar securities will go down to ruin. Europe sent back $200,000,000 American securities in 1907, and that was one of the causes of the trouble. Last September $200,000,000 were sent back. It will take but a little loss of confidence to bring this whole structure tumbling down on us. The securities would have to be bought, and the gold supply of this country would go to pay for them."

"If we enter on this course of inflation, we do it in the face of clearly discernible danger, which, if realized, will result in a financial catastrophe. Hereafter, when financial stress comes there has always been the United States government, strong to lend its aid." But this bill would, he said, put in pawn the credit of the United States and when need comes, it is the government of the United States that is to be discredited by the inflation of its demand obligations which it cannot pay.

Concerning the proposal that the government should allow a body of appointive officers the power to bring about this inflation, Senator Root said:

"This provision exhibits the opinions of a great leader of the democratic party for whom I have a strong regard, respect and admiration and in whose sincerity of purpose and good faith I believe, yet I am convinced he proposes an economic principle which is false, which has twice been repudiated by the American people and the effect of which would be injurious. And as a matter of course, we ought to assume the board which will carry out the terms of this bill would be appointed through the same unreliable influence which inserted this provision."

"A board appointed under the power that wrote this section into the bill, will be bound to proceed in accordance with the theories and financial theories which the country rejected in 1896. This bill presents the theories then rejected. The federal reserve board so appointed would have to stand for the same financial theory."

After numerous conferences of informal nature at tonight's session, a tentative agreement was reached, of being voted on the bill in its final form, December 15, next Thursday. It was stipulated, however, that the agreement should specify the legislative day, thus allowing an unlimited extension of the time in order to accommodate all senators desiring to present amendments. An agreement for a vote on the legislative day of December 15, probably will be presented for unanimous consent on the floor on Monday. Democratic leaders predicted that the bill would be passed before next Saturday.

SHIFT BOSS SEES AND TALKS WITH RAFAEL LOPEZ

Desperado Is Still in Mine and Declares He Means to Kill
Two Former Friends Before
He Dies.

Bingham, Utah, Dec. 13.—Shift boss Sam Rogers resigned his position today and left Bingham. Not for the week, he said, would he ever again enter the Utah-Alex mine, the stronghold of Rafael Lopez, underground boss.

Addressing the objectives of mine owners, the sheriff and deputies who seek the slayer of six men, after a day of silence, tonight resumed searching the workings. The process of searching a section of the mine and then bulldozing it, so as to eliminate that part from further consideration is beginning to halt mine operations, and to this the owners objected. After a legal conference, however, the company withdrew its objections late today. Rogers told early today of having talked with Lopez twice in the Andy tunnel during the last two days, and of the desperado remarking they would meet again today. But when the time came for the shift boss to enter the tunnel, he was well on his way to Salt Lake.

"I didn't see his ghost, I saw Lopez, smiling, but with eyes like coal of fire," declared Rogers, whose shoulders are bent from years in low-roofed stopes.

While others that have told of seeing Lopez were doubted, the sheriff accepted the statements of Rogers as authentic. Rogers said he had agreed to meet and talk with Lopez today, and the time when he was to enter the Andy tunnel was awaited with expectancy. Rogers said the desperado declared he would die fighting.

"I know they have me cornered in this mine," Lopez is quoted by Rogers as telling him Thursday. "This is my grave. I've made up my mind to that. I am not going to commit suicide. I am going to wait here for the end, and I shall fight whenever I have to. I could have killed more men than I have. Time and again I have followed possums in here and heard their plans for killing me. I easily could have killed every one of them. Nobody would have known I was here if it had not been for Julio Corralle and Mike Steffens, who I thought were my friends. If I could kill them I would die happy."

Rogers said he met Lopez in the Andy tunnel, where Lopez killed two deputies on November 29. He said Lopez indicated he had to fight at that time, because he was cornered. Today this section of the mine is being cut off by the use of bulldozers from tracks leading to other levels. Rogers said after first seeing Lopez, he told Frank Hocking, mine foreman of the meeting. They agreed not to tell the sheriff until Rogers had again seen Lopez, which he did yesterday.

Not a man in Bingham doubts the word of Rogers, but there are many who are willing to bet he saw a ghost. The impromptu bookmakers shifted their odds from 5 to 1 that Lopez was neither alive nor dead in the mine to 3 to 1 that he was. The dark tunnel, moaning high on the walls of the narrow canyon still remain question marks in popular opinion. Although the sheriff is convinced that the haunting Mexican, who has fought and perished at them since November 29, soon will be driven to his last stand.

The sheriff is anxious to keep all miners outside because they suspect some have been smuggling food to Lopez. They expect to precipitate an encounter in a day or two, perhaps tomorrow. Men who know that Lopez twice has stood up under a hail of bullets and coolly aimed for and found the hearts of his antagonists continue to beg for the privilege of facing him.

GUNBOATS EXECUTE DEADLY MANEUVER

Warships Start Down River

an Attempt to Escape, Permit Them to Shell Positions.

Mexico City, Dec. 13.—A heavy and sustained bombardment by two gunboats and the federal field artillery resulted today in the complete rout of the rebels at Tampico, according to a war office report received from General Bahago tonight.

Hundreds of rebels, the report states, were killed within an hour's time and the remainder of the rebel army is reported to be in full flight towards Victoria.

General Bahago's report, as made public by the war office, states the gunboats Bravo and Zaragoza started down the river towards Arbol Grande and Dona Cecilia, which have been centers of the rebel operations for the past three days. Back in the city, General Bahago says, it had been planned to give the gunboats the cooperation of the land forces.

The rebels along the river bank appeared to believe that the gunboats were attempting to escape, as the impression given by the report, and were caught off their guard when the shelling, which swept their positions began.

The report insists that eighty men were killed before the rebels could get out of range.

As soon as the flight began General Bahago ordered his cavalry in pursuit and at midnight his troops were hanging on the rear of the fleeing rebels, whose going is described in the report as a rout. The action is said to have taken place this afternoon. Earlier reports, believed to be authentic but not official, sent from Tampico at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, said the positions on both sides had not been materially altered from yesterday and that the firing from both sides continued but was not nearly as heavy as on the preceding day.

Accurate information, unless it be that received by the government, is still meager at the capital.

Business men with interests at Tampico are eagerly running down all rumors but their correspondents there have been able to send but little news.

One persistent rumor which, however, has been denied at the British legation, was that 150 British marines and bluejackets were landed at Tampico yesterday.

The oil people and railroad men are the most vitally interested in possible property loss at Tampico since there is stored in the immediate vicinity of the combatants not less than 5,000,000 barrels of oil and other destructive property, which it is estimated is valued at not less than fifty million pesos.

Wood is the material commonly used in the building at Tampico, thus enhancing the chances of destructive fires.

WASHINGTON HEARS THE SITUATION IS UNCHANGED

Washington, Dec. 13.—With practically all foreigners out of Tampico and given temporary places of safety aboard warships in the harbor, tension over possible international complications during the fighting for possession of the oil seaport was relieved here today.

Latest dispatches received by the navy department say the American gunboat Wheeling and the cruiser Tacoma have proceeded some distance up the river to Tampico so that they are directly opposite the town. Not far behind, the coal barge Chester is stationed. Several miles away, but just outside the harbor in deeper water, the battleships Rhode Island, New Jersey and Virginia are lying at anchor. The latter two ships arrived today to afford additional refuge for foreigners. Rear Admiral Fletcher has authority to charter any vessels he can get to care for refugees but most of them have been transported to the three battleships outside the harbor. The American passenger liner Morro Castle will arrive off Tampico tomorrow to take away refugees who care to go.

According to official dispatches here, constitutional forces now are on both sides of the river for some distance inland from the harbor and approaching the city from the east. The stream runs east and west a few miles, but bends southward around the city of Tampico. Beyond the bend in the river and in close proximity to the city itself, officers on the gunboat Wheeling and the Tacoma, Rear Admiral Fletcher's flagship, can view the fighting.

Only a few male foreigners and no women remain ashore in the neutral zone, and they can be taken aboard at a moment's notice. The American officers are keeping close watch on the situation, however, because of the possible danger to foreign property.

fact, may be influenced by a desire to avoid the destruction of property, which would inevitably result from street fighting or a bombardment.The general belief is the city is in-

DEFEAT NEAR MONTEREYBrownsville, Tex., Dec. 12.—The first battle resulting from the present constitutional movement around Monterey, capital of the state of Nuevo Leon, was reported today in official advice to constitutionalist headquarters in Matamoros. The battle, it is reported, was fought Wednesday at Matamoros, twenty-five miles from Monterey. A complete victory for the rebels was claimed.According to the rebel advices, thirty-three federalists were killed in the engagement and sixty-six were captured. The federal commander, Major Jose Ariste, was executed, while four of the prisoners who pleaded they had been forced into the federal army were allowed to join the con-stitutionalists. What became of the other captured soldiers was not stated.The constitutionalists' losses were given as seven killed and four wounded. Two Mexican National railway trains, including a troop train were seized, according to the report, and the tracks for a long distance were destroyed, placing the line between Monterey and Nuevo Laredo, out of commission. The attacking force under General Andres Saucedo, it was said, was part of General Lacio Blanes' command. It numbered 2,000
men. The federalists, the report said, had but 500 men. The survivors fled in the hills.Regular meeting of Highland Lodge

told we would have to leave the country with the other Spaniards. We asked to be allowed to take with us all our sacred church vessels, but were told that this would be impossible, for the church property in the future would belong to the rebels.Some of the refugees, reported to be millionaires, were without money
when they stepped from the train.
They reported that technically, they had left their property in the hands of Harry Seobell, the British vice consul, but that really, Villa had taken possession of it. Since the rebel occupation of Chihuahua, they said, the city outwardly had been quiet, but the anxiety among foreigners was increasing and within a short time all foreigners and Americans would leave.Reports of numerous executions of Mexicans, suspected of being friendly to Villa, were brought to the refugees. They confirmed a report that Major Ramon Sanchez Alamos, chief of staff of General Salazar, of the federal army, had been executed and said various obscure persons, who dared to remain in Chihuahua after the federal evacuation, had been quietly put to death.Mr. Steyn said on leaving Chihuahua he had relinquished his duty as governor of the state. "Villa is now governor," he said. "He also is supreme military commander. Terrazas is held a prisoner in the state capital. The city was quiet when I left last night."Forty-seven federal soldiers, who had been left on police duty in Chihuahua after the evacuation and who were allowed to accompany the Spanish refugees, were arrested by General Hugh L. Scott, of the United States army, when they crossed the border.
The federalists had been stopped in Juarez. As night drew on they began to fear for their safety. An ultimatum was sent from the American side that they might seek safety in this country,
but that they would have to be arrested. Just before dark this message came from Juarez: "The federalists desire to seek asylum in the United States." They accordingly crossed and were arrested on the American side of the bridge.The substance of the protests sent to the Spanish ambassador at Washington and to the minister of foreign affairs at Madrid was:"That General Villa announced that he would protect all foreigners, including the Chinese, but excepting the Spaniards, which he threatened to kill if they did not leave the country within ten days."That as soon as he arrived in Chihuahua Villa demanded from the merchants $1,500,000 in gold, in exchange for which he would give them so-called constitutional money."That the Spaniards appealed to American Consul Marion Fletcher, who attempted to forward a cable message to Washington, but was told by Villa that men of honor do not need to send messages in code.""That Villa lectured all the stores owned by Spaniards.
The refugees in their complaints alluded to their expulsion from the country to General Salvador Merced,
the federal commander-in-chief,
whose act in expelling Chihuahua
they attributed to cowardice."BILL OF EXCEPTIONS IN CAMINETTI CASESan Francisco, Dec. 12.—The bill of exceptions in the trial of F. Drew Caminetti, convicted in the United States district court on a charge of violating the Mann white slave act, was formally filed today.The chief points of the defense in petitioning for a new trial are that in the case of Caminetti no evidence was produced to show that his violation of the law was for gain and that the Mann law was intended to deal with commercialized vice.International Healing Powder for

E. W. FEE.Former President Asserts
Great Good Has Resulted
From Awakening of People,
but Hysteria Is Aftermath.NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Modern American political theories and theories which the conservative people of the country regard as radical and anti-constitutional, are the result of hysteria and self-intoxication of a decade past, and common sense and wise experience ought to lead to their summary rejection, William H.
Taft declared here tonight in an address at the fifteenth annual dinner of the Pennsylvania society.The former president spoke to the point: "The United States," A higher constitution than that of the United States, he said, is the constitution of man, and of society whose laws cannot be violated without a responsible penalty."I am quite certain," Mr. Taft declared, adding to modern-day political theories, "that I am not a disciple of reaction, and I am far from saying that there have not been great evils from political corruption and the dangers of plutocracy in this last decade which a popular awakening has done much to minimize, and much of the unusual political doctrine that now seems controlling is only an aftermath and an excuse of a great reform.""Nor do I deny beneficial laws may do much to remove abuses, to promote justice and equality of opportunity. I quite agree the present situation is likely to result ultimately in real progress but of less pretentious character than the present progressive leaders would deem worthy of their attention.""No man can reduce more than I do in the real awakening among the people at large and the growth of the spirit of brotherhood that manifests itself in society today, and we must regard these wild theories, that common sense and wise experience
ought to lead us to reject, as the result of hysteria and self-intoxication and we must be content to await the real improvement among the individuals in society that the continued spread of this spirit will doubtless help in effect."IS CHILD CROSS,
FEVERISH, SICK
Look, Mother! If Tongue Is Coated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."Children love this "Fruit Laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.
A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is they become tightly clotted with waste, liver gets inflamed, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-crazy, feverish, don't sleep or act naturally, breath
is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhea.Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs," because it is perfectly harmless, children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach,
liver and bowels.
Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs,"
which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle.
Beware of counterfeits and buy the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.SPECULATION HELD DOWN BY TIGHT
FINANCESWeakness of Individual Stocks
Has Sympathetic Influence
on General Market Conditions.NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Speculation
was held in check this week by monetary conditions. Weakness of individual stocks had a sympathetic influence, which increased in force as one issue after another fell to the lowest point in years and evidences of liquidation became more apparent.The steel trade reported resistance to further price concessions with the cost of production nearly reached.
The addition to copper surplus came entirely from contraction of domestic deliveries. Leds freight rate increased rapidly in number in the last half of November, and the decline in railroad earnings was extended.Continuance of firm money over the turn of the year is indicated by the active demand for short term
loans.Former Governor of Missouri
Sees Little in President
Wilson's Mexican Policy
Worthy of Approval.ST. LOUIS, Dec. 12.—Doubt as to the wisdom of President Wilson's policy of "watchful waiting" in dealing with the Mexican situation and disapproval of the democratic tariff and income tax laws, were expressed by Herbert S. Hadley, of Kansas City, former governor of Missouri, in an address before the Twenty-eighth Ward Republican club of this city tonight."If the policy of the administration is such as will prevent the continuity of war," said Mr. Hadley, "then the president can be assured that we will support him to the utmost. If, through hesitating diplomacy and an attempt to impose unfamiliar moral standards upon the people of Mexico,
and to inject ideas into their imagination of public affairs which they cannot comprehend, he shall bring upon us war, the administration must answer.""I would be unwilling to see sacrificed the life of a single American boy in order to protect the oil wells and mines which may have been developed by American capital in Mexico. We are willing to approve the policy of 'watchful waiting,' if it comes out all right."Referring to the tariff, the speaker said:"Whatever may be said of the tariff law, enacted by the present congress, it is very clearly not a democratic tariff law. If the declarations of the last and other democratic platforms are to be taken as a test. Instead of following the historic position of the democratic party in favor of a tariff for revenue only, they have enacted a tariff law in which the average of ad valorem duty is 27 per cent. It is very evident that the party has had neither the courage nor the folly to carry out the promise of the democratic platform.""The disturbance in business conditions which has followed the enactment of the law, has been due to the unscrupulous, bungling, and sectional considerations which are expressed in the schedules.""To compensate for the inadequate revenue of the tariff law the party has imposed a tax upon incomes. The principle of this legislation is, in my judgment, correct."And yet the party confessedly fearful of the political results of this legislation, has provided for such exemption that it will impose burdens upon less than one-half of one per cent of all the people."Mr. Hadley then dwelt upon the possibilities of a reunion of republican and progressive forces. He said the differences that brought about the division of the republican party in 1912, were not differences over principles and policies, but differences over the question of party management and control."If our party is to endure," he said, "our national councils which determine its policies must be made truly representative of party opinion.
This can only be accomplished by changes in the political system so that the delegates selected will represent republican voters and not political or official authority."ICARILLA APACHES REPORTED STARVINGPHILADELPHIA, Dec. 12.—The treatment of the Indian by the people of the United States is a disgrace to civilization and should cause us to blush before the world," said Dr. Joseph K. Dixon, in an address last night.Dr. Dixon spent six months as head of the Redman Wamamaker expedition, visiting the various Indian tribes of the country."The condition among the majority of the Indians is deplorable and the government at Washington is kept in ignorance of it," he said. "A tribe called the Icarilla Apaches is starving to death on the top of the continental divide in New Mexico. For several months before I visited them
they had nothing to eat but moccasins and bark. There are 700 in the tribe and at the rate they are dying they will become extinct in fourteen years."Journal wants bring results because

President Taft Expected to

with that which President Taft vetoed because of its inclusion of a literacy test for immigrants, was practically ready tonight for report to the house Monday after a number of protracted stern sessions.Pacific coast members of the com-

Hayes (Cal.) and Johnson, of Washington, tried by a string of proposed amendments to insert amendments
that would effectually bar out Japanese, Chinese and Hindu labor under the term of "Asiatics," but every effort failed by a vote that ranged from 6 to 4 and 7 to 5, and sustained the original text of the bill bearing on this question.The bill as it stands puts in the class of aliens who shall be excluded from the United States "persons who cannot become citizens, under existing law, by naturalization, unless otherwise provided for by existing agreements as to passports or by treaties, conventions or agreements that may hereafter be entered into."Representative Goldfogle, of New York, and Sabath, of Illinois, attacked the literacy test provisions, but without result. The committee will meet again Monday to perfunctorily pass upon the bill and will report to the house that day.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

DUNDEE MATCHED
TO BOX WELSH
NEW YEAR'S

New York Championship Aspirant to Fight British Title-Holder in Lightweight Division at New Orleans.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 13.—Johnny Dundee of New York, and Freddie Welsh, English lightweight champion, have been matched for a ten-round bout before a local athletic club on New Year's afternoon. The decision is to rest with the newspapers.

In matching Dundee with Welsh, the famed Scotch manager of Dundee, Scotty Monteith, is believed to have put his preference in position to just as big a drawing card as the American lightweight champion, Willie Ritchie, for should Dundee beat Welsh, the chances are much in the Italian's favor in a ten-round bout, then he will have defeated the British champion, with whom Monteith recently "ran out" of a match at Vancouver. B. C. Besides, Welsh has a decision over Ritchie in a ten-round battle staged at Los Angeles two years ago, which adds to the Englishman's already acknowledged prestige. While a fast and clever fighter, Welsh is not credited with a knockout wallop. Despite his speed and cleverness, none will give Welsh credit for being the peer of Johnnie Kilbane in these respects, and it must be remembered that Kilbane was only some months ago to get a draw in a twenty-round battle at Vernon, Calif. The result of the Dundee-Welsh match January 1, will be awaited with more than ordinary interest by Dundee's Albuquerque admirers with whom he made a fight when he fought Tommy Dixon at Kansas City, in this city on July 3, last, outpointing Dixon.

The other teams finished in the following order: Peter Brobach of Boston and Alfred Mulend, of California, fourth; Francisco Verri and Maurice

Globe-Circling Motorcycle Tour

Miss Della Crew Riding Tandem

TO CIRCLE THE GLOBE on a motorcycle—that is the ambition of Miss Della Crew, of Waco, Texas. Miss Crew is one of the most enthusiastic motorcycleists in Texas. She is a member of the Federation of American Motorcycleists and is also a member of the Waco Motorcycle club. All summer, Miss Crew has spent her leisure hours riding her motorcycle over the beautiful country roads surrounding Waco. And with each day's ride has come an ever increasing desire to make a long trip on her two-wheeler. Nor will a tour of the state satisfy her. She wishes to visit other countries. And she has decided that on a motorcycle is the only way to travel if one wishes to really see the points of interest.

In preparation for her proposed world tour, Miss Crew has spent an apprenticeship in a motorcycle repair shop in order to familiarize herself with the care and repair of her two-wheeler. And she is not only planning to make her own repairs and adjustments, but expects to make all of her expenses on the trip by selling postcards.

Brooke, the Italian team, fifth; Fred Hill of Boston and Martin Ryan of Newark, sixth; Lloyd Thomas of San Francisco, and North L. Milton of Davenport, Iowa, seventh.

The leading teams had covered 2,751 miles when the track was cleared for the sprint. This bettered the record made by McFarland and Moran in 1908, by 13 miles and 9 laps. Corry and Walker and Milton and Thomas were a lap behind. The Carman and Cameron and Breton and Packebush teams withdrew early in the evening. One by one the other seven of the original starters had withdrawn at various stages of the race.

The fast pace almost constantly maintained from Monday morning until tonight, resulted in records being smashed day after day and the race was perhaps the most exciting and successful of any of the long series of these events at Madison Square Garden. Foreign riders were numerous and several of these, notably Australian and Italian crackmen, were in the final distribution of the prize money.

The prize for the winning team was $1,500, while $7,399 went to the second team, $750 to the third, $500 to the fourth, $300 to the fifth, $200 to the sixth and $250 to the seventh. The eighth place team will not be neglected in the distribution of rewards, however, and as a matter of fact the announced prizes are but a comparatively small part of the riders' winnings as there were many bonuses for good riding and various rewards for the hard working cyclists.

A big shake-up is due among the Cubs, according to Murphy. Players and money will be sacrificed to strengthen the team for the 1914 campaign and plans will be made for the changes when Manager Evers returns from Troy, N. Y., next week.

EBBETTS DENIES RUMORS FOR TRADING TINKER

New York, Dec. 13.—"There is not a word of truth in the statement that we bought Tinker to use in a trade," said President Ebbetts of the Brooklyn baseball club today. "The Brooklyn club is not being run from Chicago, but from Ebbetts' field in Brooklyn. We bought Tinker because we thought his playing ability was a good business investment. He is now on the Brooklyn roster and will undoubtedly appear in a Brooklyn uniform next season. Now that his release has been bought from Cincinnati, I will take up negotiations with him in the usual order."

TORRES TO RESUME
TRAINING AFTER A BRIEF LAY-OFF
AMERICAN LEAGUE
DOMINATED BY
BAN JOHNSON

Old Albuquerque Youth Will Get Into Grind at 3 o'Clock This Afternoon at New Mexico A. C. Gymnasium.

Jack Torres, who interrupted training last Thursday, fearing that he would become stale under the long, steady grind, will this afternoon recommence gym work preparatory to his second meeting with Berce Matthews, Wednesday night at the New Mexico A. C. gymnasium.

Lefty Floyd, who trained Torres for his first scrap with the Al. Latham—and did a good job, at that—will be the Old Albuquerque lightweight's chief sparring partner this afternoon. Torres will take on other scrappers also. Jack will devote a goodly share of his training to mauling the "bag." He will try out his haymaker, which he hopes to place in Matthews' midsection Wednesday.

Matthews will work out tonight. At Spaulding will work with him. The evening program is scheduled to open at 8 o'clock.

The preliminary fighters have begun training already half of them in the Matthews camp and the other half in the Torres camp. Director Mark Levy made the selections for the preliminary events earlier than usual, so as to give the boys more time to train.

Isbell was a passenger on the eastbound California limited on his way to his home in Des Moines, Ia. He received an injury recently, compelling him to abandon his plans to accompany the Sox around the world.

Eighteen men are eligible to vote, but the candidates, according to custom, will take no part in the balloting.

Michigan to Play Harvard.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 13.—There are fair prospects for a football game between the University of Michigan and Harvard next autumn. The university board of control at a meeting tonight discussed the invitation for a game recently received from the Harvard authorities, and then forwarded what one of the members termed "a proposition" to Cambridge.

Recent Removal of McAleer, McRoy and Stahl From the Boston Red Sox Proof of Power of President.

New York, Dec. 13.—It is no mean thing these days to oust Ban Johnson, the mighty czar of the American League. As it is to show that he is the complete master of the organization and that the individual owners are mere puppets in his hands, the banishment of Bob McRoy, James McLeary and Jake Stahl from the Boston Red Sox has been accomplished. So great is the power of Johnson that he can blacklist an owner as easily as he can suspend a player. When Comiskey and Stahl felt his wrath what can Parrel and Naylor do? Just who will be the next to fall time alone will tell.

When McAleer left the management of the Washington Senators, where he had met with little success, and within one year bought stock in a world's championship team, much surprise was expressed at the swift changes in baseball. But his fall was just as meteoric as his rise. When evil days fell upon the club and the Red Sox dropped into the second division, Johnson himself to displace Jake Stahl, the manager who had been a sensation the year before. This happened before Ban Johnson could interfere. After censuring the Boston president in an unbecoming manner for what he termed "ingratitude" Johnson let the matter drop. But he did not forget and the heavy hand of discipline has descended.

Word came from Boston that Joseph J. Linn, a real estate operator, who bought the controlling interest, will be elected president of the Red Sox to succeed McAleer. No change will be made in the management of the team. Bill Carrigan will receive free rein to go ahead and build up another pennant winner.

This ousting of his former colleagues is only one of the many that Johnson is continually making to bring the American League into greater prestige than its rival. When Bob McRoy, former secretary of the American league under Johnson and later secretary of the Red Sox, had trouble with the Royal Rulers in the world's series a year ago it took considerable diplomacy to restore him to popularity. Then about the time that McAleer was ready to displace Stahl the Boston fans became intensely interested in George Stallmar's efforts to lift the Braves out of last place. As a result the National League rose in popularity. Then Johnson realized that stern measures were necessary to restore the former champions into favor.

The remarkably peaceable way in which Johnson topped off the heads of those he had marked, and the fact that neither Stahl nor McRoy knew that negotiations were going on, lends to the belief that they were nothing but figureheads, leading their names to the real owner of the stock. Neither McAleer, a former manager, McRoy nor Stahl were possessed of the funds to buy a controlling interest in the Red Sox from the Taylor family when the affairs of the club were at a crisis two years ago. The trio was picked up by Johnson and put in power by him. Naturally he had the weapon handy to depose them. It was rumored at the time that these three might be holding the stock for Johnson himself, but little credence was given to the report, as the president of the league with plenary powers over players would not look well. It appears as though the stock belonged to some intimate friend of Johnson's, and the persons appearing on the official list of the club are little more than figureheads.

Savings Sermonette

TO THE BOYS.

All great fortunes started with small beginnings. One dollar does not appear to be enough money to talk about, but the man who has made millions would not have acquired his wealth if that first dollar had not been saved. Moreover, the first dollar helped to earn the second, and the first and second became a strong confidence in earning the many that came afterwards.

We are always interested in the boys for the boys of today will be the business men of the future.

We want you to start a savings account with this bank with the first dollar that you can save. You will be anxious to add more to it just as fast as you can, and we will watch with interest the growth of your account. When the time comes that you can use your money to advantage or need have it for some purpose, it will be in the bank ready for you, but if you do not start an account, your money will go for one thing and another and you will not be able to accumulate enough to be of any benefit in giving you a start.

NEW PLATFORM TO BE FRAMED FOR REPUBLICANS

National Convention, if Called by Committee, Is Expected to Present Party Issues for 1914 Fight.

Washington, Dec. 13.—The Republican national committee, which meets in this city Tuesday to determine upon the calling of a convention for party reorganization, will find itself confronted with a well-defined demand that the proposed convention take up the whole question of framing a platform for the congressional election fight of 1914. Reformation of the rules of the party has been limited in the discussions of the last few months to the proposition that the number of representatives from southern states in national conventions be diminished; that primary election of delegates in different states be sanctioned; and that the national committee shall retire immediately when new members are elected, instead of holding over through the presidential campaign, as has been the custom.

Party leaders of pronounced progressive type are now demanding, however, that the republican forces prepare for the drafting of a comprehensive platform to be adopted at the proposed national convention and to form the groundwork for the republican fight of 1914 and 1916. If the national committee decides Tuesday to call the special party convention, it is expected that the proposal for a new platform will dominate party activity during the intervening weeks.

Republican committeemen are arriving in Washington in anticipation of the meeting and express confidence that a majority of the members of the national committee are favorable to their plan.

Former Governor Hadley of Missouri, will reach Washington Monday, and a meeting will be held then of the special reconciliation committee of progressive and republican appointed at Chicago last evening, which has been formed in reaching the common front for party reorganization. While this committee probably will have no representative sitting as a member of the national committee Tuesday, its views will be fully presented.

The interest surrounding the republican gathering was intensified today when Senator Gallinger, republican leader of the senate, intimated presidential politics into the discussion by bringing forth Senator Root as a presidential candidate.

CHAOTIC CONDITION NOW EXISTS IN PHILIPPINES	MILITANTS FLAUNT SUFFRAGE FLAG BEFORE KING	EARTHQUAKES HAVE ATTENTION OF SCIENTISTS

Congressman Miller, Member of House Insular Committee, Returns From Islands Disgusted With Affairs.	While Royal Party Is Attending, Theater Women Use Opportunity to Present Petitions.	Location of "Faults" to Be Discovered and Means Found for Minimizing Damage From Shocks.
---	---	--

OF BURNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
San Francisco, Dec. 13.—There is a "earthquake problem" in this country, according to President John C. Tanner of Stanford University, and it can and ought to be coped with in the same way that a business problem or a pestilence would be met. In a speech here today he spoke depressingly of the "conspiracy of silence" which, he said, had hindered a scientific and sane study of the "active forces" in the earth's crust in California which would make possible a campaign against a repetition of the disaster of 1906.

"We must study quakes, where they originate, how and why," he said.

"The crucial point of the change lies: The governor now has no vetoing power. By this is destroyed the check and balance which every nation of the world has found necessary. What state would think of not having veto power vested in the governor?"

"If we would not trust our own people, how are we going to trust a people that has never been trained in government and has no experience along these lines?"

RUSSIA'S PROPOSAL COLDLY RECEIVED

Washington, Dec. 13.—The proposal of the Russian minister to China, Wassily N. Kroupsky, that half of the international forces in Chihai province, including the American soldiers and marines, be withdrawn, was reported today in a message from American Minister Reisch, at Peking. Minister Reisch will be in London to confer with his colleagues on the dispatch of a corps representing the other nine countries. The proposed forces in China, but it is considered here as unlikely that the other governments will acquiesce in the program mapped out by Russia. It is almost certain the United States will dissent from the Russian proposal.

Officials here pointed out that Russia would have an unfair advantage should the foreign forces be withdrawn, as in the event of necessity being, Russian troops could be rushed into Chile province by the roads which bring the Russian frontier comparatively near the Chinese capital.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL
 Carlsbad, N. M., Dec. 12.—Cotton picking is still progressing, possibly one-fifth remaining to be gathered. The Carlsbad gin has made a record getting out 190 bales to date. Some 150 bales remain to be picked. The

The Carlsbad Oil & Gas Co., has leased the Standard Oil rig of the Union Oil company, and will begin using the rig to their holdings east of Carlsbad on Monday.

"We must study quakes, where they originate, how and why," he said. "Our study of the 1965 earthquake enabled us to map out the entire dimension of the fault which caused the fracture in the earth's crust which slipped and caused the minor."

There are plenty of active faults in California and we should be working now to locate them. When we know where they are, we can repair houses, bridges, dams, pipe lines or other structures off them or we can do engineering so that when the next big slip comes, the effect will be negligible.

In projecting the great high-risby, mud-and-water system

The city, Engineer Freeman asked advice as consulting geologist pointed out that near Irwin line would have to cross an active fault, which sooner or later would split and cause a break in the line. Freeman proposes to remedy this by constructing a valve above the fault and erecting a repair station nearby. In the enormously long and expensive pipe lines which Los Angeles built from Owen's valley, it has

It is impossible to avoid crossing an active fault which in time will cause a break. The city of Los Angeles has sought to minimize the danger by constructing a huge reservoir and repair facilities nearby.

In the Panama Canal Zone there is a glaring example of the need of gathering earthquake data. At present

It is evident that there is no in-gent study and the engineers are king in the dark.
This whole problem should be un-government supervision. Economy, it should be a part of the duties
the weather bureau. In due time comparison and tabulation of information on all quakes would give working knowledge of all menging faults and we could guard against their damaging effects."

ESCAPED CONVICTS SUPPOSED TO BE ON WAY HERE

Deputy Sheriff Abileno Lucero of Bernalillo and Deputies Follow Trail From Algodones in This Direction.

Officers and men armed with rifles started from here up the Algodones trail, and yesterday evening, having followed the trail of the men in a desert valley near Algodones yesterday morning. The men who left their homes in the night and were going toward Bernalillo and the officers started back in that direction.

The men who left their homes in the night and were going toward Bernalillo and the officers started back in that direction.

They found fresh tracks at Intervale and they were within a few miles of Bernalillo. They believe the convicts made a detour, to avoid passing through the town and risking identification by the townspeople.

The sensational escape of Candelaria and his associates, who were serving life terms for various crimes, has caused much excitement in the community. The convicts are now being sought by the authorities.

that it was the escaped prisoners they had been trailing and who, finding themselves pressed closely, mounted the horses and galloped ahead.

A fact reported by the Bernalillo county sheriff's office as strange is that no one had reported seeing them answering the description of the two fugitives. Neither had Sheriff Lucero received any report of anyone sighting two men riding the horses away from their place.

Searching parties last night covered the country east of Bernalillo, believing that the prisoners might turn that way to get into the mountains or perhaps cross the border. It was found that the fugitives had been in the Mexican border. This route to the Mexican border has been attempted by other fleeing convicts. They were denied access to the border by the Mexican authorities.

The belief is current in this expression that the prisoners must have found shelter not far from the penitentiary—at least, not more than a day's journey off. They would not have been able to live in the open from the time of their dash until yesterday, without food and in the cold at night.

The fact that Candelaria and his associates, when seen of their associates, appeared to be in a state of panic, and galloped off in the face of the pursuing guards, who were armed with rifles, in the opinion of officers, is the evidence that it was they who took the horses from Garcia's place yesterday.

DONA ANA SPENDING $50,000 ON 23 MILES OF ROAD

State Engineer J. A. French Says Southern County Is Building One of Finest Highway Systems in New Mexico

The Dona Ana county road board is building one of the finest county highway systems in New Mexico, said James A. French, state engineer, here last night. Mr. French arrived at 6:20 o'clock on train No. 310 from San Marcel and left at 8:15 p. m. on train No. 3 for Santa Fe.

The Dona Ana road board's plan is, after grading a stretch of road, to spread a layer of screened gravel on the clay, to sprinkle the gravel surface with water and then to roll it with a steam roller. This gives a surface as hard and smooth as a paved street, according to Mr. French.

More than 600 men are employed on road work in Dona Ana county now and all of them are on the pay roll. There are no convict road camps in that county.

On one twenty-three mile stretch of road Dona Ana is spending $50,000. This is between Las Cruces and Algodones, part of the road between El Paso and Las Cruces. Dona Ana will have to improve only twenty-three miles of this highway. The rest of the route is in Texas.

Mr. French stopped at San Marcel on his return trip to inspect the two convict camps there. Dr. G. V. Hackney started to drive Mr. French to one of the camps in his automobile. Twelve miles from the first, they found that the gasoline tank was empty and the physician and state engineer were forced to walk six miles to the nearest ranch house. Mr. French did not have his overcoat. The night was cold.

From the ranch house a horseman was sent to the nearest telephone, six miles further, and sent a message for aid to San Marcel. Another automobile took gasoline to the doctor. He and Mr. French returned to San Marcel late at night.

Santa Fe Society Notes

By Nan O'Neil

THE TANGO pictures at the movies, Tuesday night, suggested an informal dance for the following evening, when the new stars were tried out. Miss Laila Gallaher was hostess at the home of Mrs. Leslie Gillette, on Santa Fe avenue, and a dozen or more of her friends danced the hours away until a dainty supper suited for a recess at midnight. The new dips and turns and more or less intricate steps of "El Tango Argentino" were taught by "those who know" to the uninitiated.

San Diego Exhibit

THE DECORATIVE WORK for the San Diego exposition, which is being completed in Santa Fe by Mrs. Jean Bernan Smith and Carlos Vierra, was exhibited yesterday at the School of American Archaeology.

Mrs. Smith's exhibit consists of six small panels, which are the studies for the nine-by-three feet panels which will form part of the decorations of the California building, and give two of the strange customs of the Mayan peoples. The first three represent the sacrifice of the Virgins in the Holy well and the oracular powers of one Virgin who is rescued each year. The second series is full of action and shows the sacred game of ball as it is played by the Mayans in their wonderful ball courts. Those who were fortunate enough to

Club Meetings

THE FIFTEEN CLUB met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Esther Thomas. After the roll call, which was answered with quotations, Mrs. Marsh read a historical sketch of Australia, followed with a reading from "My Pilgrimage to the Wise Men of the East" by Mrs. Thomas. Current events closed the meeting. Mrs. Frank P. Newhall presided.

The study class in archaeology of the art and literature department of the Woman's club, met Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the Palace of the Governors. Mrs. Harry L. Wilson, leader of the class, presided at the meeting. Egypt and its archaeology was the topic for the afternoon.

Miss Conrad read the first paper, on the geography and city sites, and made it very clear and interesting by the use of a map showing Egypt in relation to the other surrounding countries. She showed where the pyramids of the Santa Fe club was held last night and was a decided success. Fifty or more club members and their guests were present and made the most of the monthly social evening.

The Victrola orchestra, in the Hilarium, attracted most of the young people, where the Argentine Tango, hesitation waltz and one-step were in progress all evening.

Santa Fe Club Social

THE DECEMBER open house of the Santa Fe club was held last night and was a decided success. Fifty or more club members and their guests were present and made the most of the monthly social evening. The Victrola orchestra, in the Hilarium, attracted most of the young people, where the Argentine Tango, hesitation waltz and one-step were in progress all evening.

the hieroglyphic writing on the monuments, and said that it had remained unchanged for five thousand years. The finding of the Rosetta stone has made it possible for us to read these monuments and learn of the life of the Nile thousands of years ago. Mrs. Wilson showed the class pieces of papyrus, green porphyry and bone carved with an inscription, and pictures showing the monuments as they stand today. Mrs. I. H. Rapp closed the afternoon with an able paper on the development of the idea of religion with the Egyptians. She said that religion was inherent with all peoples and that in Egypt it developed into a polytheistic idea, one god representing a vice or virtue. On this account, there was much superstition and a firm belief in magic spells and evil eyes even going so far as to have recipes for curses.

The members of the class were delighted with this first study meeting, and decided to lengthen the meeting to an hour and a half, instead of an hour. The next meeting will take place on January 23, with "The Levant" as the topic of the afternoon. Mrs. Welmer will read a paper on the "Geography and Commerce of Phoenicia." Mrs. McElie, "Family Life in Palestine," and Miss Moseley will discuss the "Art and Religion of Chaldea and Assyria."

The Saturday Bridge club met yesterday with Mrs. Levi A. Hughes.

Mrs. Chester Wells was hostess Friday afternoon to the members of the Vierra club.

The Thirteen club was entertained Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Alfred Grimshaw.

An Informal Bridge

MRS. L. R. MERCHANT, of Carlsbad, was the guest of honor at an informal afternoon at cards, Wednesday night, which was given by Mrs. Edward H. Wright, at her new home on Galisteo road. Bridge was played at two tables and the prize for the highest score was won by Mrs. A. H. Henderson. At 6 o'clock the bridge games stopped and a dainty collation was served.

WOMEN BATTLE TO GET POSSESSION OF 10-YEAR-OLD CHILD

Hearing of Habeas Corpus Proceedings for Custody of Wallace Peters Begins in District Court Saturday.

BOY'S OWN CHOICE MAY CONTROL DECISION

With Dry Eyes, but Trembling With Emotion, Mother and Foster Mother Tell Their Stories to Judge Reynolds.

"I feel sorry for Mrs. Munger—very sorry. But I can't help being sorry for myself. I've my child and I want him."

With dry eyes, but in a voice trembling with suppressed feeling, Mrs. Mary J. Peters, mother of ten-year-old Wallace Peters, yesterday summed up her case in these words. "He's my child, and I want him." That told the whole story.

Four hours lawyers examined and cross-examined witnesses, told what they knew of the boy and perhaps more things that they didn't. The battle for the fair-haired kiddie, who sat by himself and listened solemnly in the big words spoken by the attorneys, ended formally during the entire afternoon. At the end no body could tell who was won, for the judge himself was not certain in his mind and wanted to hear arguments and get more light. It will be the middle of next week, perhaps later, before Judge Wallace Peters will know what is to become of him.

The child himself may have the deciding voice in the matter. It was suggested to Judge Reynolds that he take the lad into his office and have a heart-to-heart talk with him for the purpose of making up his mind just where the child's best interests lie. The judge stated that he probably would do this before deciding the case, but deferred acting upon the suggestion until some more convenient time.

In one respect the trial was unique. During the entire four hours that witnesses were being examined, not a tear was shed. Touching remembrances were gone over—intimate details concerning the bringing up of a bright little boy—the sorrow story of a wife maltreated and neglected by a drunken husband—but not once did either of the two women who are struggling to gain the legal right to rear Wallace Peters lose their composure, or show otherwise than by a quaver of the voice the deep feeling that stirred them.

Summing up the story told by the witnesses yesterday was about as follows: When a little over two years old, Wallace Peters, whose parents had been divorced by a Missouri court, was kidnapped by his father who, under the decree of court, had no legal right to his custody. When next heard from the child was in Telluride, Colo., and the father, an impenetrable and imprudent man who at that time was employed in one of the mines near the Colorado mining town. Unable properly to take care of the child, the father made a bargain with Mrs. Munger to take care of the baby, agreeing to pay her a certain monthly sum for his board.

The payments were made according to the agreement for about two years, and then ceased. Then Mrs. Munger moved to Albuquerque and took the child with her, with the consent of the father. Mrs. Munger knew that the parents of the child were living separate, but knew nothing of the unlawful manner in which the father had gotten possession of him. She had come to love the little fellow and to consider him as her own child.

With the passing of the years this affection grew stronger. Mrs. Munger wanted the boy for her very own, so that nobody could take him away from her. She wrote to Peters and a desultory correspondence on the subject was continued for some time. Finally, Peters failed to answer her letters. Then she undertook to get in touch with other relatives of the boy, but without success, and then, in January, 1915, she petitioned the probate court of Bernalillo county for articles of adoption, which were granted.

In the meantime, the mother of the boy, who subsequently had married again, was vainly endeavoring to ascertain the whereabouts of her baby. The search extended over Texas, Colorado—in fact everywhere that there seemed the slightest possibility that he might be. By chance she learned that he was in New Mexico, and her present husband made a trip to this state not spring, partly for the purpose of looking for work and partly to look for his wife's child by a former husband.

At this time the boy, with his foster mother, was living in Katonah, and his father's stepfather went in search of him. Little Wallace, afraid that he would be taken away from the good woman who had been the only mother he ever knew, had to be dragged into the presence of the stranger. He didn't want to leave Mrs. Munger—he even refused to write a postcard to his mother in Missouri.

Mrs. Peters, afraid that the boy would be spirited away, and also not being in a position then to look after him, wrote eagerly to Mrs. Munger, apparently acquiescing in everything that had been done, but always with the intention of doing what was necessary to get her child back. Finally the opportunity came. Her husband, who had been discharged from his position as railroad conductor on account of a collision, was reinstated, passed were obtained to New Mexico, they came to Albuquerque and the present proceedings were instituted.

On one matter all were agreed: Since being with Mrs. Munger little Wallace has been as well cared for—as carefully and tenderly reared—as he could possibly have been had he been with his parents. The best of attention has been given to his physical and moral well-being, and he has grown up to be, as his fond foster-mother expressed it, "a perfect little gentleman."

When the trial began, a few minutes after 2 o'clock, Attorney Jamison, for the plaintiff, made a motion to strike several paragraphs of the answer filed by Mrs. Munger. The court reserved decision on this motion, and Mrs. Peters was then placed on the stand.

At the beginning of Mrs. Peters' evidence, a technical point came up which may have an important bearing on the final decision of the case. Mr. Jamison had his client identify a certified copy of the decree of the Missouri court, granting her a divorce from her first husband and awarding her the custody of the children of the marriage. Objection was made to the introduction of this document on the ground that it was not properly authenticated. The court sustained this objection, and Mr. Jamison asked for time in which to cure the defects in the certification of the paper. Pending the securing of the proper certificate, the court directed that the parties proceed with the taking of evidence.

Mrs. Peters told of her domestic troubles with her first husband, of the divorce, of the theft of little Wallace by his father, and of the fruitless search that she had conducted for many years to find him. It was at the last of her testimony, and not in reply to any direct question, that she expressed her sympathy for Mrs. Munger and told of the heart-hunger which caused her to want her child.

Mr. Peters, the plaintiff's husband, then told of his efforts to locate the child, of how he finally found him in the possession of Mrs. Munger at Katonah, and of Mrs. Munger telling him that she would protect the boy "with her own life." The witness seemed rather reluctant to give credit to Mrs. Munger for the lad's prepossessing appearance and gentlemanly demeanor. "It was born in him," he declared, but on cross-examination he admitted that there had been no effort apparent to "get it out of him."

So, Benjamin, John Meyer and H. A. Brachvogel, all of them scandalized for many years with Mrs. Munger and with Wallace Peters, testified to the excellent character of the child's foster-mother, and each of them declared that it would be impossible for the boy to be in better hands.

One of the most interesting witnesses of the day was Mrs. John P. Farman, herself an adopted daughter of Mrs. Munger. Neatly attired in a suit of blue cloth, Mrs. Farman's vivacity of expression and fresh, youthful beauty, brightened an otherwise gloomy scene. With evident feeling, Mrs. Farman paid tribute to the sweet motherliness of Mrs. Munger and told how she had been taken at the tender age of two and had been given a home of happiness and pleasure. She also told how, at Mrs. Munger's expense, she had been given a musical, scholastic and business education and is now happily married.

Mrs. Farman told of how little Wallace Peters came into the possession of Mrs. Munger at Telluride. At the time, she said, the boy showed the lack of care and attention. He was clad in overalls, his face was dirty and his hair badly in need of cutting. Mrs. Munger had cared for him as her own child, and there was no difference between the treatment he received before and after the payments made by his father ceased.

Mrs. Munger, like Mrs. Peters, testified with suppressed emotion, but always with perfect self-control. Once or twice it seemed that her voice would break and that tears would come when she told of tender little incidents in the life of "her boy," but always she managed to restrain herself, and in the simple dignity

STOREY SLATED TO SUCCEED RIPLEY ON RETIREMENT

Though Santa Fe President and Friends Deny Rumors of Resignation, New Chief Is Already Decided On.

Despite the denial, both by officials of the Santa Fe system and by friends of the road's venerable president, of the forthcoming retirement of E. P. Ripley as president of the Atchison system, it is generally admitted in railroad circles that when Mr. Ripley does retire his successor will be Vice President W. B. Storey, Jr., now in all intents and purposes the active directing head of the Santa Fe lines.

The Chicago Evening Post a few days ago had the following to say regarding the Ripley-Storey rumors: "According to persistent but quiet rumors which are being circulated, W. B. Storey, Jr., has been selected as the next president of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad to take the place of E. P. Ripley, who has long occupied that position."

"Mr. Ripley is getting along in years and according to advice which emanates from the west feels that he should soon retire. Mr. Storey has for several years been a vice president of the corporation in charge of both the construction and operation departments. His main office is in this city."

"At the time Mr. Storey was placed in charge of these departments, he was the recipient of many favorable comments in that he was the first official of the company to be placed in charge of two such responsible branches and it is stated now that he has made an enviable record in both. As a railroad constructor and engineer in the west he is generally ranked in ability and achievements with John F. Stevens, William Hood and Virgil G. Bogue. The latter built the Western Pacific and now maintains engineering offices in New York. Stevens has long been a noted engineer with the James J. Hill people, and Hood is a well known Southern Pacific official."

"Mr. Storey began active life under Hood. He resigned early in the '90s to build the Valley railroad from Point Richmond via Stockton to Parkersfield. This road was purchased by the Santa Fe, and Storey entered the employ of the latter because of the interest taken in his work by E. P. Ripley and his assistant on the west coast, Capt. A. P. Payson of Oakland, Calif."

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't stay Gray! Here's an Old-Time Recipe That Anybody Can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wet's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant.

THE FILIPINO PROBLEM.

Representative Jones, of Virginia, chairman of the house committee on insular affairs, is anxious to press to the front his bill fixing a date for granting independence to the Philippines. In view of the troubles in Cuba, twice composed since independence, by the landing of American forces on the island, in Guantamo, Nicaragua and Santo Domingo, and now in Mexico, it would seem that the sentimentality of the democratic party who are longing to get somebody "free" that is not in prison, would pause to think for a while before going to extremes in the Philippines.

The New York Times, democratic in its leanings, calls attention to the fact that when at this time former President Taft was saying that the Philippines would not be ready for self-government for at least two generations, Francis Marion Harrison was listening to a petition from Filipinos for the continuation of American administration to Manila. Those Filipinos treated native rule, those patches, published yesterday morning, carried the information that General Wood had been relieved of command in Manila and that the military affairs of that island would be directed hereafter from Manila.

The conclusion of opposition to the insular policy will continue to multiply, both in the United States and in the Philippines, but it is probable that the administration will continue to encourage the demand among the Filipino politicians for immediate independence and it is not unlikely that the Jones bill or legislation will pass both houses and have the approval of the president.

The Filipinos are not enslaved. On the contrary, they are enjoying all the wealth of life incident to the mild and equable rule of a people who have undertaken an altruistic task at their own expense. In their present state of development, the Filipinos could not possibly be better off. They have only to show proper development in order to realize their ambition for self-government.

In the circumstances, it is wise for American administration to continue for a time in the Philippines, not only for an object lesson in government to the Filipinos, but for the assistance it will be to the new republic of China, now struggling in a vague sort of way for civil liberty.

Responsible Filipinos, who are not asking office, would not exchange their present sheltered state for the stormy voyage of independence. At some time they will have to embark for their own good, but they require long training in sailing the ship of state first.

Governor McDonald stands by the six Miguel county report of his traveling auditor. Let the matter be settled by an independent audit so there will be no question of who is to blame and how much.

MARCH OF RADICALISM.

In France and Great Britain, the ministry is responsible to the parliamentary governments. In Russia, America, Germany and Japan the ministry is responsible solely to the crown. In Italy in France, the deputies represented by a small majority the policy of the cabinet and a new cabinet has been formed. If at any time, a majority of the commonsense fall to endorse a policy of the liberal government, a new prime minister in harmony with the majority will be selected at once and a new minister will be formed.

But the recent five to one vote in the Reichstag in repudiation of the policy of the German cabinet was merely an expression of opinion, since the ministry is responsible only to the Kaiser. Similarly, a year ago the Japanese ministry was responsible merely to the emperor, but a paper revolution set in and the Katsura ministry became responsible for the first time in history to the parliament.

The sort of change that occurred suddenly in Japan is approaching in Germany. The radical party is the largest single one in the German parliament. It is resisted by the military and naval party, as was the case in Japan. It is supported in both countries by all parties weary of taxation for the support of the soldier and the sailor who do nothing except make a display of power.

SPANISH- SPEAKING PUPILS FEW IN ROOSEVELT

Out of School Population of 2,606 but Five Are Other Than English; County Leads in Enrollment.

Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.
Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 11.—Roosevelt county appears to be the most English-speaking county in the state as out of an enrollment of 2,606 in its public schools, only five are Spanish-Americans. Roosevelt county also leads in the enrollment in proportion to school census, for out of 2,624 persons between the ages of five and twenty-one years all but 437 are enrolled in the public schools. The average daily attendance is also much higher than in any other county, being 1,779. Of the enrolled pupils, 728 are in the first grade, 319 are in the second, 343 in the third, 314 are in the fourth, 279 in the fifth, 196 are in the sixth, 209 in the seventh, 134 are in the eighth and 123 are in the high school.

Of the twenty-one districts, one has eleven rooms, two have three rooms, one has two rooms and sixty-seven have one room. Of the seventy-eight schools, one has nine rooms, two have three rooms, two have two rooms and seventy-three have one room. Seventy-four are owned, three rented and one loaned. Seventy-five are frame and one each are stone, concrete and adobe, respectively. Two are claimed as excellent, thirty-three as good, thirty as fair and thirteen as poor. Five have school libraries with 264 volumes valued at $206.54.

Of the teachers, thirty-seven are men who receive an average annual salary of $126.55, with an average monthly salary of $10.55, and fifty-four are women who receive an average annual salary of $126.73 or $10.56 a month. The average school term is 6.1 months. Of the teachers, four have life certificates, one a five-year professional, twenty-three first grade, forty second grade, fifteen third grade certificates, while eight teachers are on permit. Nine teachers receive less than $200 a year, which explains why so many of them have desert claims on the side. Nine get $200 a year, forty-five get $200 to $250, eight get $250 to $300, ten get $300 to $350, five get $350 to $400, four get $400 to $450, four get $450 to $500, four get $500 to ## SOCIETY

Club Dinner Postponed

THE DINNER planned by the members of the Wednesday Sewing club, at which the ladies were to entertain their husbands, was postponed owing to the illness of several of the members of the society. It is now expected to give it some evening the latter part of the coming week.

"The Rosary"

"THE ROSARY" was produced at the Elks' theater on Tuesday evening. It was not very well attended. The play which continues to be a favorite with many, has been seen here to much better advantage in the past, being handled by more able companies. The performance of last week was with the exception of the work of one or two characters, lacking in dramatic interest and power.

Arnot Reception

THE GEORGE ARNOT residence was the scene this week of one of the most pretentious and elaborate receptions in the social annals of the city and one of the most delightful dances enjoyed by the younger set this season.

On Tuesday afternoon, from 2 to 4 o'clock, Mrs. Arnot and Mrs. James Horner were joint hostesses at a brilliant reception which was an affair of surprising beauty. Invitations were issued to two hundred and fifty guests, of whom over two hundred responded with their presence. The Arnot home was a veritable bower of loveliness for the occasion. The decorations were most elaborate and extremely artistic. The entire lower floor was lavishly adorned with pink and white and red and white carnations whose sweetest fragrance filled the air. The dining room was a perfect picture. From the chandelier to the corners of the beautiful table, streamers of southern silk were drawn, entwined in which were tiny incandescent lights of red and white. Similar lights were also to be seen peeping from the masses of greenery which surrounded an immense basket of sweet peas that graced the center of the table. The red and white Christmas color scheme was followed in the delightful collation which was served.

During the afternoon the guests were entertained with sweet strains of music from the Cavanaugh orchestra, which mingled with their happy conversation. Assisting Mrs. Arnot and Mrs. Horner were the following ladies, whose beautiful white hair struck one of the most lovely and artistic notes in this ultra-artistic affair, and carried out the Christmas thought in a unique manner: Mrs. Jarrett, Mrs. Kent, Mrs. Mahoy, Mrs. Schickler, Mrs. Hope, Mrs. Klock, Mrs. Chaves, Mrs. Anne Hanning and Mrs. James Arnot, and a group of younger girls who gave a graceful suggestion of spring in the midst of winter's loveliness, with their sweet smiles and airy frocks. They included Annette Weinman, Rebecca Turner, Carrie Horner and Elizabeth Arnot. A number of beautiful gowns were observed. The reception was from every standpoint an affair whose memory will long be treasured by the guests who were so fortunate as to be present.

In the evening of the same day, Elizabeth Arnot and Rebecca Horner gave a charming little dance to about forty members of the younger set. The young hostesses were assisted in extending the hospitality of the occasion by Miss Helen Hope, Miss Elsie Kempenich and Miss Jean Arnot. The dance was a very pretty and most delightful affair, and was greatly enjoyed. The guests at the event included: Louise Bell, Annie Crispy, Pauline Borradaile, Gladys Hayden, Le Claire Cavanaugh, Adele Carr, Grace Stortz, Margaret Flournoy, Hazel Hawkins, Cleora Lightfoot, Reba Conner, Euphine Cobb, Florence Weiler, Annette Weinman, Lillian Kempenich, Louise Treffenhuf, Irene Fee, Flora Chase, Helen Rutherford, Lois Ferguson, Rebecca Horner, Elizabeth Arnot, Robert Putney, Lillian Putney, George White, Edward Crispy, Robert Hopewell, Willard Hopewell, James Chase, Hugh Cooper, George Arnot, Bill Horner, Albert James, Harold Bickendorf, Chaves Arnsio, Charles Hays, Harold Perry, Floyd Lee, Donald Wilson, J. B. Herndon, McLean Fenton, Laman Thacker, James Blair, Maxwell Ferguson, Herbert Hickey, Bill Arnot, Lester Hild.

Late in the evening delightful refreshments were served, after which the guests departed for their homes with many expressions of the festivity and the jolly time they had enjoyed.

Tri-Alpha Dance

THE DANCE given by the Alpha Tri-Alpha fraternity to members of the fraternity and a number of their friends, at the Masonic temple, on Friday night, was an extraordinarily brilliant and delightful affair. An effective arrangement of red and black decorations, combined with countless pom-poms, transformed the hall into a scene of unusual attractiveness, and a splendid display of the fraternity's seal entirely screened the orchestra from view.

The dance programs were ultra modern concocts of red and black, and a look forth. The dance started rather late, owing to the formal banquet, which several of the guests attended, and continued till a correspondingly late hour.

The scene at the height of the gaiety was one to delight the eye of the beholder. The beautiful gowns of the ladies and the severe black worn by the men, gliding in and out of the flures of the dance, presented a picture suggesting the work of a fairy weaver fashioning a lovely piece of tapestry to grace a modern palace. And the picturesque of the occasion was fully matched by the happy spirits of the guests.

The guests included a large number of students of the U. N. M., friends of the fraternity members among the young people of Albuquerque and outside points, and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Alger, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coors, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Holt and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hesseleden. The dance was chaperoned by several of the members of the U. N. M. faculty and their wives. The affair was beyond question one of the most charming and thoroughly enjoyable variety events ever given in the city.

Dinner to Varsity Players

THE FOOTBALL TEAM of the U. N. M. were honor guests at a brilliant banquet in Ball hall, the Alvarado, on Friday evening, at which the university students, the members of the athletic association and alumni of the U. N. M. were hospitable hosts. Among the guests were also a number of representatives of other colleges and universities. Covers were laid for forty.

The appointments of the dinner were beautiful. Red and white carnations were used in the table decorations. Professor Barton was hostmaster. In his introductory remarks he explained the two-fold purpose of the banquet, which was to honor the team for its successful work, and to confer upon them the recognition of the insignia of the team. Alumni of other colleges also spoke on the meaning of the insignia of their schools. Dr. Boyd

MAYOR SELLERS LOSES

We have the pleasure to announce that we have one of the best lighted establishments in this city, and in order that you may have more time for your CHRISTMAS PURCHASES we will remain open evenings from now until December 25th.

It's a consideration of your wishes and a desire to serve you well that prompts us to work long hours.

A visit to the LIVE CLOTHING HOUSE will interest you in Men's and Boys'
