CALUMET VICTIMS WHO PERISHED IN CHRISTMAS EVE PANIC BURIED

Thousands of Mourners Participate in March From City to Federation Cemetery, Two Miles Away.

WEEPING PEOPLE LINE BOTH SIDES OF STREET

Choir of Fifty Singers Chants Old Familiar Hymns as Bodies Are Borne to Graves, Near Lake Superior.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.

Calumet, Dec. 28.—The Western Federation of Miners buried its dead today. Fifty-four bodies, including those of forty-four children, were carried through the streets, down a winding country highway, and laid in graves in a small cemetery within sight of Lake Superior.

Thousands of saddened miners formed the escort of the funeral parties and passed between other thousands, who, as spectators, testified to the grief that has oppressed the community since seventy-two men, women and children were killed in the Christmas eve panic in Italian hall.

For hours the Sabbath calm was broken by the tolling of bells and the sound of voices intoning burial chants. In half a dozen churches, services were held earlier in the day, and the mourners went about the streets, passing from their homes to the churches to prepare for the last sad trip to the grave sides.

Delegations of strikers began coming into Calumet early in the day. The special train brought hundreds of federalists from the iron mines of Negamie and Ishpeming, and every town and mining locality in the copper country sent members and friends of the union to swell the ranks of the marchers in the afternoon.

By noon the union host was assembled. The marchers of experience in demonstrating their numbers by passing in single file, the men in the center carrying flags, and the women in the rear, carrying coffins, headed the procession.

The supply of coffins was inadequate and there were only fourteen of these vehicles in the van.

Then came three coffins, the last carrying three coffins, headed by a woman who acted as pallbearer for a member of the women's auxiliary of the Western Federation.

It was this woman's organization which was directed to carry the coffins of strikers when the panic broke out.

Behind the coffins was a section of the procession which brought tears and sobs from on-lookers.

Thirty-nine white coffins, their lids fastened by the men in the rear, were carried by the strikers. Four men bore each coffin and as their arms grew weary or feet stumbled on the slippery roadway, companions relieved them of their burden.

Persons drawn to Calumet solely by the curiosity of the spectator, became mourners, before the contingent passed their eyes.

Many turned away to brush tears from their cheeks. Women especially, the mothers in the crowd, sobbed openly, and dozens, unable to endure the sight, rushed to the streets, taking refuge in homes where Yuletide had not been directly shadowed by death. Fathers too, were in evidence among the toll-hardened men who carried the coffins. They bore the bodies of their companions' dead and many a man's face, the eyes of which were concealed by peaked caps drawn far forward.

Fifty singers chanted songs in the wake of the coffins. Most of these were English miners, who had been in Calumet for many years and brought this old custom to the copper country. "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," "Rock of Ages," and "Nearer My God, to Thee," came from the throats thick with emotion, but the harmonies were full and rich.

The singers turned into Pine street, which leads to the cemetery road, the open ranks of marchers wheeled into line, leaping and negamie men came first, followed by a brass band and the members of the copper country local.

The last marcher had scarcely started from Calumet before the head of the procession had reached the cemetery gates, two miles away. All but half a dozen of the burials were in common graves dug yesterday by members of the union. The ground belongs to the federation and it was stated that a monument would be erected there, the formal dedication to take place a year hence.

Only brief addresses were delivered in the cemetery. Eugene A. McNally, a local attorney, enclosed by St. Louis, Frank Atkinson, of Negamie, and other federation leaders, delivered addresses in Austrian, Finnish and Croatian.

McNally made only passing reference to the deportation of President Charles H. Meyer, of the federation, predicting that his absence, whether temporary or permanent, would result in the development of leadership as effective as his.

All the speakers termed the victims of the Christmas eve disaster martyrs to the cause of industrialism. They argued that had the mine managers not refused to recognize the union, the industrial warfare would have been settled months ago and there would have been no need for the celebration.

Nine of those killed have not been buried. Fathers and husbands who left the copper country to seek work in Arizona and Montana have not arrived in Calumet, but it is expected that Tuesday will see the last of the funerals. Four were held yesterday.

The coroners' inquest into the circumstances of the tragedy is to continue tomorrow. According to state department of investigation for county officials, witnesses will be produced to show that the cry of "fire," which started the panic, came from near the center of the hall, instead of from the doorway as the first accounts had it.

Meyer, the man who shouted the "fire" alarm, has thus far been unsuccessful. It was intimated, however, that plans to have Meyer working out and that an arrest is something more than a remote possibility.

ATTORNEY GENERAL ASKED TO PROBE CALUMET STRIKE

Washington, Dec. 28.—Special investigation by the department of justice into conditions in the copper mine strike area in Michigan, was called for in a letter Senator Martin of New Jersey wrote to Attorney General McKeen.

Senator Martin has been inquiring into charges of lawlessness in that region and has conferred with Senator Kern and other members of the senate and house.

The department of labor has already dispatched Solicitor John H. Denmore to Calumet, and Representative MacDonald, of Michigan, who is pressing for a congressional investigation, is on the scene.

Senator Martin's letter to the attorney general reads:

"In view of the unfortunate labor troubles now and for many months existing in the copper mining districts of Michigan; and, whereas, from reliable sources, I am informed that on December 26, 1913, President Charles H. Meyer, of the Western Federation of Miners, was forcibly abducted and carried out of the state, and it is currently stated that the abduction was advised, instigated, prompted and paid for by the mine owners or their representatives; and in view of the fact that the congress of the United States is not now in session and will not be until January 12, 1914, therefore:

"As a citizen of the United States, I most respectfully pray that you appoint a special officer or officers to go to the scene and make an exhaustive inquiry into all conditions there now existing against the peace and order of our country."

Solicitor Denmore advised Secretary of Labor Wilson by wire tonight that he would attempt to locate Meyer in the morning and the rapid Michigan proceeding to Calumet tomorrow.

LABOR ORGANIZATIONS EXITE IN SYMPATHY FOR MOVING

Denver, Dec. 28.—A joint meeting of the national officers present in the United Mine Workers of America, Western Federation of Miners, and the Colorado State Federation of Labor will be held tomorrow at which resolutions will be passed condemning the action of the mine owners in the deportation and arrest of Charles H. Meyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, and offering the local Calumet organization financial and "any other assistance" to further the investigation of the alleged strike.

President John McLean, of the Western Federation, who said that a resolution would be forwarded to the congressmen from Colorado and other members of the states in which every day is present, using a congressional investigation of the strike conditions both in Michigan and Colorado.

This will be the first time the two mine organizations will have met for a common purpose of strike investigation, and the union is being impelled because of the treatment accorded the president of the Western Federation of Miners.

Resolutions also will be passed expressing sympathy of the three organizations for President Meyer.

VICTOR BERGER OFFERS TO PRINT SUPPRESSED PAPERS

Milwaukee, Dec. 28.—Former Congressman Victor Berger, leader of the Milwaukee socialists, today offered the publishers of Calumet "Typhoid" that they were welcome to use the plant of the Milwaukee socialist newspaper until the authorities would permit them to issue again their paper.

The "Typhoid" was suppressed yesterday. It was said that the paper was receiving up the agitation against mine owners and making untrue charges against them.

CHICAGO UNIONS DEMAND FEDERAL INVESTIGATION

Chicago, Dec. 28.—An appeal to congress to investigate the conditions in the copper country of Michigan, was made today by the Chicago Federation of Labor in resolutions which directly charged owners of the mines with the tragedy of Christmas eve when seventy-two children and adults lost their lives.

The resolutions also charged that Houghton strike is under a government by gunner order of the mine owners and that Charles H. Meyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners was assaulted, shot and driven out of Hancock by thugs and gunmen.

The announcement that the Western Federation of Miners will concentrate its strength on the copper strike, was made by Vance Tarnell, a member of the executive board. Every member of the board, he says, plans to go to the copper mining region next week.

"We are going to break up the organization," he said. "As soon as Mr. Meyer is able, he will be back there as the leader."

Charles H. Tanner, auditor of the Western Federation, who, with Meyer, was escorted from Hancock, stirred the crowd by being the mines.

"We have ample evidence," he said. "Half a dozen will testify that the man who called 'fire' in Italian hall was a 'citizens' alliance' button." Tanner said he was with Meyer in their hotel room when a dozen men broke in and seized them. One of them he said, struck Meyer in the back of the head with the butt of a revolver, which a moment later was discharged, shooting the federation president. The crowd, which had grown to several hundred, threatened them with hanging, should they return.

E. T. Flood, national organizer of the American Federation of Labor, who the speaker directly commended the miners.

"Meet them with their own weapons," he urged. "If it is known that the state and county departments will not give the protection guaranteed under the constitution, every man who goes to the strike region should have his own protection with him."

The resolutions related the conditions of labor in the mines, declared that representatives of both state and national government, after investigation, had found that the mine owners had a real grievance and added that the striking miners, while peacefully in their homes, were cowardly murdered in cold blood by the imported murderers, gunmen and thugs brought there by the copper mine owners to drive the striking miners back to the mines like slaves, and these imported desperadoes have also shot a part of a little girl's head off, brutally beaten up the striking miners, their women and children, abused and insulted them as part of their everyday work.

"Whereas, as a direct result of the determination of Shaw Agassiz and other owners of the copper mines to prevent the organization of their slaves for self protection, and to persecute and drive union leaders and organizers from the copper country, so many human lives were lost on Christmas eve, many of them being children of the striking copper miners; and

San Francisco Pays at Rate of Three Dollars a Day to All Who Seek Employment in Municipality.

FREE FEEDING SYSTEM PROVES UNSUCCESSFUL

Many Good Citizens on Pacific Slope in Need of Necessities of Life, and Aid Is Freely Extended.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.

San Francisco, Dec. 28.—Except in the far northwest, the problem of the unemployed on the Pacific coast seemed well in hand tonight. Local officials said it had been solved in the only possible way—by providing employment at fair wages for those who want it.

The system of free feeding, temporarily adopted in San Francisco, in preference to allowing needy workers to starve, will be replaced tomorrow morning with a job for every applicant. But in this scheme, which has been in operation for some time, the unemployed were as clean as they ever are likely to be.

Under city ordinance no man may be paid less than at the rate of three dollars per day.

Harry B. Bogart, superintendent of the city's charitable concerns, indicated that by adhering to the plan of providing every applicant with a position, at hard work, the situation would clear itself in a few days. It was reported to him that during the free feeding practice last week, Oakland charitable bodies had to hire men to get wood sawed, nobody was looking for work on that side of the bay. Others came from twenty-five miles down the peninsula to enjoy free meals. Criticisms, however, have been made of the city's action.

"This is the worst treatment I ever saw," one man said. "Maybe you haven't had much experience," Bogart suggested. The complaint was indignant.

"Young man, I've been unemployed on the Pacific coast for three years," he retorted.

Los Angeles reported only about 2,000 men in need of work and that the situation there could be handled.

In Seattle, city officials reported work for only 500 of 1,500 men applying for it, but it is possible that state assistance may be lacking, started by the sale of highway bonds.

Investigators report that many good citizens are seeking work in the larger coast cities, and that added to these are thousands of vagabonds who are ready to do any kind of menial work for a meal, while nearly all the speech making and noise is added up by professional agitators some of whom are connected with the Industrial Workers of the World.

In San Francisco, 1,000 men were invited to call upon Mayor James Rolph, Jr., and the demand for work was so great that the mayor's office was unable to handle the situation.

The procession, however, ran upon a policeman chasing a Chinaman across an intersection, and immediately broke up to see how the pursuit came out. The mayor is still waiting.

BRIDGE GUARD IS FATALLY SHOT BY STRIKERS

Two Men Are Fired on Near Trinidad, One of Whom Is Instantly Killed; Other Badly Injured By Fall.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.

Trinidad, Colo., Dec. 28.—One man was killed and another probably fatally injured today when strikers attacked guards on an Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe bridge connecting mines at Radiant, and Cokedale, in the strike district near here today. One guard died from a bullet wound and the other fell from the bridge into an arroyo below.

The two men, Ernest W. Farmer, of Colorado Springs, who was killed, and G. W. Libby, were guarding the bridge from incendiaries. It has been reported that the bridge was destroyed by fire two days ago. Armed strikers, it was reported, approached the structure carrying a man which was later found to contain oil. The guards ordered the strikers to stop, and their reply was a fusillade of shots.

Farmer was killed, while Libby, in attempting to return the fire, fell from the bridge, breaking an arm and suffering internal injuries.

The strikers ran from the bridge immediately after the shooting and upon approach of a track walker who discovered Farmer's body, and aided Libby.

The mines at Radiant had been operating with non-union miners since the strike began last September. The governor has ordered a full investigation.

APPLICATION FORMS FOR NATIONAL BANKS

Washington, Dec. 28.—Copies of the federal reserve act classification to be adopted by banks which wish to enter the system and the blanks by the organization committee for use of applicants for membership will be mailed tomorrow to every national bank in the United States.

There are 7,000 national banks in the country, and since the time limit for their entrance into the system was set by congress at sixty days, treasury officials will bend all their energy tomorrow to give them this sort of formal notification of the enactment of the law. The other 25,000 banks in the United States will be notified as soon as the national bank act has been completed. There is no time limit upon banks of the latter classification.

Springfield, Mass., Dec. 28.—In anticipation of the strike of 1,100 telegraphers employed on its lines, which probably will be called tomorrow, the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad tonight laid off indefinitely 400 telegraphers and began to transform its telegraph lines into a telephone system of railroad communication.

This action disclosed the company's plans for resisting the strike, to the amazement of the telegraphers, who are in a state of indignation. Removal of all telegraphic instruments from the company's offices began today. It is said this is the first time such a transposition of

20,000 UNEMPLOYED MEN REPORTED AT LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, Dec. 28.—A meeting of the unemployed held under the auspices of the socialist party at the auditorium here tonight, resulted in a call for a strike tomorrow night to arrange for a parade of unemployed men through the streets. Job Harriman who was one of the attorneys defending the McNamara brothers, asserted there were 20,000 unemployed in Los Angeles.

In response to a telegram sent from national headquarters of the socialist party, a resolution was passed demanding congressional investigation of the Michigan strike situation.

"I selected a text," he said, "not knowing that it would be my distinguished honor to preach before the president of the United States, but I wanted to give all of you something helpful that would remain with you in the days to come. It was the twelfth verse in the fourteenth chapter of Paul's letters to the Romans."

PRESIDENT WILSON ATTENDS CHURCH ON BIRTHDAY

Minister at Gulfport Says in Sermon Methuselah "Didn't Know Enough to Come in Out of the Wet."

Gulfport, Miss., Dec. 28.—President Wilson sat in a quiet little Presbyterian church today among a congregation of less than a hundred, and heard a remarkable sermon on the personal accountability of the individual to his maker.

The president and Mrs. Wilson, accompanied by Dr. Cary T. Grayson, came unexpectedly, avoiding a crowd, that had collected at the little church in Gulfport, eight miles away, and though the Rev. Dr. Herbert Jones, who was as surprised as any of the distinguished visitors, he varied his prepared service only slightly. Yet, in coincidence, he developed the theme that has been one of the precepts of the president himself.

NO PEACE POSSIBLE EXCEPT BY REBEL VICTORY, SAYS GEN. VILLA

Fall of Huerta and Banishment From Country Is First Essential to Restoration of Order.

LAND DISTRIBUTION REGARDED NECESSARY

Confiscation of Estates of Terrazas and Creel Families Must Be Confirmed, Declare Insurrectos.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.

Chihuahua, Mex., Dec. 28.—Nothing less than the fall of Huerta and his banishment from this country will ever be considered as a preliminary toward peace in Mexico, said General Francisco Villa today. "Any overture for a compromise would be treated with contempt by the revolutionaries."

General Villa was prompted to discuss the subject because of the publication of a report from Mexico City that General Huerta might resign in favor of a member of his cabinet. As the report also stated that General Huerta was thinking of taking the field against the rebels, it was not considered in any way as a possible peace move. The subject of peace, however, came up in General Villa's council, and the rebel leader was moved to outline the rebels' views in case future events brought them into consideration.

In substance, the terms demanded by the rebels are:

"The elimination of General Huerta and his supporters.

"The complete surrender to the constitutional cause of politicians now opposing it.

"The restoration of the constitution.

"The selection of a provisional president acceptable to the rebels and provisions for a popular election.

"Guarantee of a change in the land laws so that lands which would be made available for distribution.

"Confirmation of the confiscation by the rebels of the vast Terrazas, Creel and other estates, valued at many millions of dollars.

"Nullification of all acts of the Huerta regime."

Opponents of General Villa's advisers were that General Huerta will not resign and that the rebels must adhere to their original plan of fighting their way to Mexico City.

"Our cause has progressed to such a point that we need not treat any suggestion of a compromise with contempt," said General Villa. "We regard Huerta as a traitor who has dragged his country through blood for his personal ambitions. We have gone through as much distress for the sake of freedom that we would not now stop short of it."

"Within a few months we have won almost all of the north from the usurper. Our forces have increased from a few thousand until now they number more than 20,000. The number will grow for in every city where hundreds are ready to join us. By the time we reach the City of Mexico, we shall have enough men in arms to overthrow the federalists. And we intend to wait until there is no more fighting to do."

The idea that General Huerta might take the field against the rebels, General Villa said, caused no terror to him, although General Huerta is familiar with the north country, having commanded forces here during the Mexican revolt against Madero.

The rebels are confident that as soon as the expedition against the federalists at Chihuahua is settled, they will be in a position to advance southward without leaving the federalists in their rear.

FEDERAL FORCES PREPARED TO RESIST AT GUINAGA

Ojinaga, Chl., Dec. 28.—Officers of the Mexican federal army said today that they would resist an attack by the rebels, no matter what the outcome. Every precaution against the rebels' advance from Chihuahua under General Persim Ortega has been taken and a federal force has left this fortified village, which stands above the five-campes Presidio, Tex.

The rebels were reported to have reached a canyon known as La Mulla Pass, about eighty miles southwest of here. This canyon is so long and so tortuous that in the opinion of military experts, for soldiers might hold an army of five there for weeks, but so far no federal skirmishers have gone out to meet the advancing rebels. It was reported that 2,500 federal cavalry had reached the south end of the pass and that the entire relief force of 1,000 men were within a few days' march of Ojinaga.

General Castro, federal commander, said he would be able to resist the rebels indefinitely. The worst the federalists expected was a siege, which would not involve great hardships because the Huerta army would be able to procure supplies from Presidio.

Nogales, Ariz., Dec. 28.—That the state department at Washington intends to forward assistance granted by the Red Cross to destitute communities in Mexico, was indicated today when the local consul was authorized to draw $500 of Red Cross money as a beginning.

The money is to be used in Chio, Sinaloa, where it is reported that many people are starving on account of the war which is responsible for no crops and for the closing down of schools and other concerns which are employers of labor.

FIRM FOUNDATION

Nothing Can Undermine It in Albuquerque.

People are sometimes slow to recognize true merit, and they cannot be hurried. The experience of hundreds of Albuquerque residents, expressed publicly through newspapers and other sources, places Don's Kidney Pills on a firm foundation.

Mr. St. Ruffalo, retired merchant, 1114 R. Wallace Pl., Albuquerque, N. M., says: "I first used Don's Kidney Pills eight or ten years ago when I was living in southern Texas. I was in the mercantile business there, and sold Don's Kidney Pills. I had been subject to attacks of kidney complaint for some time. At night my back was painful, often the attacks were so bad that in order to get up, I had to get a hold of something for support. The kidney troubles passed so frequently both day and night, I often had dizziness and could not see for a few minutes. Being in that part of the country was no help to me. Don's Kidney Pills proved to be just the medicine I needed. I attribute my getting rid of kidney complaint through using this medicine. I am glad to say that the cure made was permanent."

JAPAN'S HOSTILITY.
Pelle Diaz gave out an interview
from Havana, a few days ago, in which he gave the "inside" of the break between him and Provisional President Madero. The statement by Diaz is backed up with letters and cablegrams from the Huerta government ordering him to proceed from Paris to Japan and there take measures to arouse the hostility of the Japs toward the United States and secure aid for Mexico.
Diaz declined to be party to the scheme and therefore became persona non grata with Huerta, though from the beginning almost there had been friction between the two men who overthrew Madero. The first break is said to have occurred because of the murder of Madero, Diaz having urged upon Huerta the necessity for prosecuting the former president from harm.
The revelations by Diaz are significant in view of the tremendous ovation accorded de la Barra by the militado and the political and business interests of Japan since the arrival of the Mexican envoy to Tokyo.
Also, those demonstrations are valuable because they reveal, as nothing else has done, the deep hostility of the Japs toward the United States.
During the acute stages of the California alien bill negotiations, there were constant protestations of friendship for the United States conveyed through diplomatic channels, and we were foolish enough to believe them.
Had it not been for the friendship of England for this nation and the influence she brought to bear upon her brown ally, we would have awaited
some fine morning with the cable story that the Japs had landed at a dozen different points in the Philippines and that American warships in Manila bay had been surprised and destroyed. The declaration of war by Japan would have arrived a few hours later, having been "delayed in transmission."

WOODROW WILSON'S BIRTHDAY.
President Wilson was fifty-seven years old yesterday. Still comparatively a young man, he has gone forward in a little town of Virginia, with no important family or financial backing, through brain power alone he has gone by rapid gradations to the presidency of the greatest nation of the world.
Eleven years ago Woodrow Wilson became president of Princeton university, an honorable position, but not a great one except as it might be made great by the occupant of it.
Eight years later he was elected governor of the state of New Jersey. A governorship is not much unless the governor has ability to honor the position rather than be honored by it,
as usually is the case.
Two years from the time he was elected governor, and only ten years from the time he became a national figure, Mr. Wilson was elected president of the United States. The elevation to the presidency, it was feared
by many, would be marked by disaster to the country. It was felt that his vocation as educator had unfitted
rather than fitted him for a position
so intensely practical as that of chief executive of the nation.
But President Wilson has made good, though he has been in office
only a little more than nine months.
He has been practically the whole thing. The two great bills passed—the tariff and the currency—have been the work of the president. Both houses of congress have been as puffy in his hands. He has known what to do and how to do it. Let alone congress had neither the knowledge of what should be done nor the ability to pass bills framed for it.
With the same practical sense, it is now apparent that President Wilson will be able to solve the trust question and eliminate it from politics.
With the passage of the "new singers," the work of Woodrow Wilson,

as governor of New Jersey, was finished. During the more than three years before him in the presidency,
President Wilson will have ample time to finish his work there. He is doing it rapidly. Should he live through 1915, it is probable that he will have no important tasks before him, and he probably is too wise to risk the anti-climax of a second term.

AS TO ROOSEVELT.
We publish elsewhere a communication from Mr. Bert Haskett, of Flintstaff, Ariz., in which he expresses surprise that the Journal should have commended the work of former President Roosevelt in South America.
It seems to require an unnecessarily long time for some readers of the Journal to understand that it is an independent newspaper, printing what it believes to be true, and censuring
where, in its opinion, censure
should be given.
Because the Journal believes Colonel Roosevelt the most dangerous
man in American politics today, is no reason for refusing to recognize and commend good things when done by him. He is a man of tremendous force and has done much good as well
as much harm.
Referring to Colonel Roosevelt's advocacy of the recall of judicial decisions, Mr. Haskett says, "there are many people in the country who, with the colonel, hold that judges are not handed down from heaven and hence are not above mistakes and criticism."
Quite correct. But there are also many of us who know that the mob is not handed down from heaven and hence its decisions are not above criticism.
Laws may be passed by legislative bodies within the limits allowed them by the constitution. Interpretation of the constitution is the province of the judiciary. Also, the judges must find out what our ills drawn laws really mean after they are placed on the statute books.
That there are incompetent and corrupt judges, goes without saying,
but would a referendum of a judicial decision be more likely to square with justice?
If judicial decisions are to be submitted to the people for approval or rejection, the people must have means of familiarizing themselves with the facts in each case. The only way of doing that, so far as we can conceive, would be through campaign committees with speakers and literature and precinct organization. Do we need to go further in the way of reducing an absurdity?

A GOOD SHOWING.
The report of the New Mexico fair commission, headed by President Ralph C. Ely, shows $1,875.19 balance in the treasury, more than three times as much as ever was saved from any former New Mexico fair.
Let it be understood that the saving
was not made by scripping the fair.
For the first time in history, it became to assume the proportions of a real exposition for the promotion of the industries of the state. Its pre-sumptions were small, but it had an exhibition of livestock, farm products
and poultry that would have done
credit to older and more populous commonwealths.
The fair this year was only a beginning of what is planned by the commission. Without neglecting the features purely for the entertainment of visitors, the exhibits are to be made better for the purpose of stimulating and inspiring the people to become better farmers, raisers of better
sheep, cattle, hogs, horses and poultry,
of better grades of corn and wheat and alfalfa, and more to the acre. It is hoped to inspire manufacturing and aid in making it successful.
The field for improvement is great and the state fair is a place where ideas may be secured and exchanged for the betterment of conditions in the state. As the new state fair idea grows among the people, the attendants will increase with resulting benefits for a larger number of people.
The Duke of Bedford has sold nineteen acres for thirty-three million dollars. That is a little higher than current prices on Central avenue.

THEORY MUSTN'T BE QUESTIONED.
A Richmond negro preacher said to his congregation, "My brethren, when God first man, Adam, was created, he was made of wet clay, and set up again de fire-place to dry."
"Do you say?" said one of the congregation, rising to his feet, "dat Adam was made of wet clay, an' set up agin de fire-place to dry?"
"Yes, say I do," said the preacher.
"Den who made de fire-place?"
"Set down, say," said the preacher.
"Which doctrine questions as dat
would upset any system of theology."

company will be held in the office of

First Fair Under State Auspices Is Splendid Success Financially

The first New Mexico fair, held under state auspices, was a splendid success financially, according to the tabulated statement of receipts and disbursements, filed for record by Assistant Manager Thomas F. Binkert, acting for Manager Frank A. Stoltz, who is ill in a hospital at St. Louis.
The report reflects credit upon President Ralph C. Ely, of the state fair commission, upon Vice President Charles A. Schuchert, and upon Assistant Secretary-Treasurer of the commission, H. H. Harrod, of special credit to Frank A. Stoltz and Thomas F. Binkert, who as manager and assistant manager, respectively, had charge of the major part of the arduous detail work necessary for the success of the annual state-wide exposition.
Perhaps the most gratifying part of the report is in the summing up, a balance above all expenses being shown of $1,875.19. This is three times the amount of any balance shown in a similar fair in the past six years. However, this fact largely was made possible by the $5,000 appropriation by the state, which, added to the contributions of Albuquerque business men and citizens, gave a substantial total with which to stage the fair.
Albuquerque and the whole state
can well be proud of the showing
made by the state fair this year,
which will lend encouragement to a unity of purpose for next year's annual exposition in this city. It is said that the balance left in the fair fund will be used as the nucleus for the new state fair grounds to be constructed on the mesa east of Albuquerque, temporary plans for which already have been prepared at the direction of President Ely.
The tabulated report, printed hereafter, shows for every cent received and shows how it was expended. The

SILVER SERVICE GIVEN TO RABBI SILBER BY
TEMPLE ALBERT, SUNDAY

As a testimonial of the high regard in which he is held by the congregation of Temple Albert, which he has served for the last three years and a half, Dr. Mendel Silber was yesterday presented with a handsome silver service by the members of the congregation.

The presentation took place at the temple, where arrangements had been made for a special service for the children of the Sunday school. Dr. Silber, in a very touching talk to the children, bade them good-bye and he spoke, these were many anxious eyes turned to him as he spoke.

WATER COMMITTEE WILL MEET WITH
CITY COUNCIL.

Citizens Who Will Assist Aldermen in Deliberations Upon Waterworks Matter to Hold First Session Tonight.

The citizens' committee which hereafter will confer with the council upon the question of municipal ownership of the waterworks, will hold its first meeting tonight at the city hall. Mayor Seligson has called a meeting of the council for the same time, and the two bodies will hold a joint session.

Although the committee was appointed by the mayor and council two weeks ago, the members were unable to get together before tonight, chiefly because of the fact that the majority of them, being business men, could not leave their stores and offices until after the Christmas trade started. A full attendance, however, is expected tonight. At last the councilmen know all the members of the committee are in the city.

The committee will organize tonight. After this step the committee men and aldermen will draft plans for the committee's work. The first task in which the council probably will ask the committee's assistance will be to determine the feeling of taxpayers toward municipal ownership and afterward, if they believe the majority favors the plan, whether the acquisition of the water supply company's property, or the building of an entirely new plant would satisfy the greater number.

The selection of the committee and its organization, necessarily slow, have interrupted for the last few weeks any action upon this question. Now that the council has the cooperation of the fifteen citizens the matter probably will be brought to a close without undue loss of time.

The members of the committee are: Emil H. Field, M. L. Stern, W. E. Lee, W. A. George, W. W. Strong, J. T. McLaughlin, Alex. Craig, A. W. Hayden, Dr. W. G. Hope, Simon Stern, F. J. Wilson, W. P. Metcalf, W. Bryce, P. F. McCanna, United States Attorney Summers, Harkness.

COMPLETE SYSTEM OF BLOCK SIGNALS FOR
THE COAST LINES

It is officially announced that the Santa Fe will expend approximately $1,000,000 for automatic block signal systems on its main line from Chicago to the coast during the coming year. More than half of this authorized expenditure will be for the coast lines from Albuquerque to San Bernardino and up the valley division to Richmond.

The plans in detail are to put 125 additional miles of track under block signal operation and erect six main-line interlocking plants. One of these will be with thirty-six levers at the crossing of the Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric at Arcadia. The two latter roads will participate in the installation cost. A sixty-lever interlocking plant is also to be installed at Oakland, while one of the largest interlocking plants in the world, a 224-lever affair, will be installed at Joliet, Ill., jointly with the Rock Island, Michigan Central & Alton.

The block signals, just made public by Santa Fe officials, contemplate perhaps the largest expenditure yet announced for the new year along the "safety-first" line by any one road.

The completion of the work will put nearly 80 per cent of the Santa Fe's main-line under block signal and interlocking operation.

According to W. H. Brower, assistant to General Manager Wells, of the coast lines, the stretches of track to be block signaled have not yet been definitely picked out.

CAID OF THANKS.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to those who extended sympathy and assistance to us in our recent bereavement, and for the beautiful flowers. May you receive the same kind attention if ever in need of our sincere prayer.

MRS. J. S. HOITON, SON AND DAUGHTER.
